em bas sy (em'bə sē), 1. ambassador and his staff of assistants. An embassy ranks next above a legation. 2. the official residence, offices, etc., of an ambassador in a foreign country. 3. position or duties of an ambassador. 4. person or group officially sent to a foreign government with a special errand. 5. a special errand; important mission; official message. n., pl. em bas sies.

em bat tle¹ (em bat'l), prepare for battle; form into battle order. v., em bat tled, em bat tling.

em bat tle² (em bat'l), provide with battlements; fortify. v., em bat tled, em bat tling.

em bay (em bā'), 1. put or bring into a bay for shelter; force into a bay. 2. shut in; surround. v.

em bed (em bed'), 1. put in a bed: He embedded the bulbs in a box of sand. 2. fix or enclose in a surrounding mass: Precious stones are found embedded in rock. v., em bed ded, em bed ding. Also, imbed.

em bel lish (em bel'ish), 1. decorate; adorn; ornament: We embellished our room with new rugs, lamps, and pictures. 2. make more interesting by adding real or imaginary details; elaborate: He embellished the old stories, so that they sounded new. v.

em bel lish ment (em bel'ish mən), 1. decoration; adornment; ornament. 2. detail, often imaginary, added to make a story, account, etc., more interesting. n.
em ber¹ (em'ber), piece of wood or coal still glowing in the ashes of a fire. n.
embers, ashes in which there is still some fire.
em ber² (em'ber), having to do with the Ember Days. adj.
Ember days, three days set apart for fasting and prayer by the Roman Catholic, Anglican, and some other churches. They come once in each of the four seasons of the year.
em bez zle (em bez'zle), steal (money, securities, etc., entrusted to one's care): The cashier embezzled $50,000 from the bank and ran away. v., em bez zled, em bez zling. —em bez zler, n.
em bez zle ment (em bez'zle mən), theft of money, securities, etc., entrusted to one's care. n.
em bit ter (em bit'ar), make bitter; make more bitter: The old man was embittered by the loss of his money. v.
em bla zon (em blā'zon), 1. display conspicuously; picture in bright colors. 2. decorate; adorn: The knight's shield was emblazoned with his coat of arms. 3. praise highly; honor publicly; make known the fame of: King Arthur's exploits were emblazoned in song and story. v. —em bla'zon er, n. —em bla'zon ment, n.
em bla zon ry (em blā'zon rē), 1. brilliant decoration; adornment; conspicuous display. 2. display of coats of arms, etc.; heraldic decoration. n., pl. em bla zons.
em blem (em'bləm), 1. object or representation that stands for an invisible quality, idea, etc., by some connection of thought; sign of an idea; symbol: The dove is an emblem of peace. The Stars and Stripes and the eagle are national emblems. 2. a heraldic device. n.
em blem at ic (em'blə mat'ik), used as an emblem; symbolical: The Cross is emblematic of Christianity. adj.
em blem at i cal (em'blə mat'ə kl), emblematic. adj.
em bod i ment (em bod'ē mən), 1. an embodying. 2. a being embodied. 3. that in which something is embodied; person or thing symbolizing some idea, quality, etc.: Lincoln was an embodiment of democracy. 4. something embodied. n.
em bod y (em bod'ē), 1. put into visible form; express in definite form: The building embodied the idea of the architect. 2. bring together and include in a single book, law, system, etc.; organize: The Boy Scouts' "Handbook for Boys" embodies the information that a boy needs to become a good Scout. 3. make part of an organized book, law, system, etc.; incorporate: The new engineer's suggestions were embodied in the revised plan of the bridge. v., em bod ied, em bod y ing.
em bold en (em bōld'n), make bold; encourage. v.
em bo lism (em'bō liz əm), obstruction of a blood vessel by a clot, a bit of fat, or other obstacle carried there by the blood. n.
em bon point (än bōn pwan'), French. plumpness. n. em bos om (em bōz'əm), 1. surround; enclose; envelop: trees embosoming a house. 2. embrace; cherish. v.
em boss (em bōs'), 1. decorate with a design, pattern, etc., that stands out from the surface: Our coins are embossed with letters and figures. 2. cause to stand out from the surface: He ran his finger over the letters to see if they had been embossed. v.
em boss ment (em bōs'mən), 1. an embossing. 2. figure carved or molded in relief. 3. part that sticks out; bulge. n.
em bou chure (äm'bū shūr'), 1. mouth of a river. 2. widening of a river valley into a plain. 3. mouthpiece of a wind instrument. n.
em bow er (em bou'ər), enclose in a shelter of leafy branches. v.
em brace (em brās'), 1. clasp or hold in the arms to show love or friendship; hug. 2. hug one another: The two girls embraced. 3. take up; take for oneself; accept: She eagerly embraced the chance to make a trip to Europe. Those Indians have embraced the Christian religion. 4. include; contain: The cat family embraces cats, lions, tigers, and similar animals. 5. surround; enclose: Vines embraced the hut. 6. an embracing; a hug. 1-5 v., em braced, em bracing; 6 n. —em brace/a ble, adj.

Embrasure for a gun

em bra sure (em brā'zhər), 1. an opening in a wall for a gun, with sides that spread outward to permit the gun to swing through a greater arc. 2. a slanting off of the wall at an oblique angle on the inner sides of a window or door. n.
em broi der (em broi'dər), 1. ornament (cloth, leather, etc.) with a design, pattern, etc., of stitches. 2. make (a design, pattern, etc.) on cloth, leather, etc., with stitches: She embroidered silver stars on her blue dress. 3. do embroidery. 4. add imaginary details to. v.
em broi der y (em broi'dər ē), 1. art of working raised and ornamental designs in cloth, leather, etc., with a needle; embroidering. 2. embroidered work or material. n., pl. em broi der ies.

em broil (em broil'), 1. involve (a person, country, etc.) in a quarrel: Many Americans did not wish to become embroiled in European disputes. 2. throw (affairs, etc.) into a state of confusion. v. —em broil/ment, n.

Embryo (def. 2)

em bry o (em'brē ō), 1. animal during the period of its growth from the fertilized egg until its organs have developed so that it can live independently. A chicken within an egg is an embryo. A human embryo more than three months old is usually called a fetus. 2. an undeveloped plant within a seed. 3. embryonic; undeveloped; not mature: an embryo idea. 1, 2 n., pl. em bry os; 3 adj. in embryo, in an undeveloped stage.

em bry o log ic (em'brē ə lōj'ik), embryological. adj.
em bry o log i cal (em'brē ə lōj'ə kl), of or having to do with embryology. adj.

em bry ol o gist (em'brē ol'ə jist), person trained in embryology. n.

em bry ol o gy (em'brē ol'ə jē), branch of biology that deals with the formation and development of embryos. n.

em bry on ic (em'brē on'ik), 1. of the embryo. 2. undeveloped; not mature. adj.

em cee (em'sē'), U.S. Informal. 1. master of ceremonies. 2. act as master of ceremonies of. 1 n., 2 v., em ceed, em cee ing. Also, M.C.

e mend (i mend'), suggest changes to free (a faulty text, document, etc.) from errors; correct. v.

e men date (ē'men dāt), emend. v., e men dat ed, e men dat ing.

e men da tion (ē'men dā'shən), 1. correction; improvement. 2. a suggested change to free a faulty text, document, etc., from errors. n.

em er ald (em'ər əld), 1. a bright-green precious stone; transparent green beryl. 2. bright green. 1, 2 n., 2 adj.

Emerald Isle, Ireland.

e merge (i mērj'), come out; come up; come into view: The sun emerged from behind a cloud. Many facts emerged as a result of the investigation. v., e merged, e merg ing.

e mer gence (i mēr'jəns), act or fact of emerging; a coming into view. n.

e mer gen cy (i mēr'jən sē), 1. a sudden need for immediate action: I keep a fire extinguisher in my car for use in an emergency. 2. for use in time of sudden need. 1 n., pl. e mer gen cies; 2 adj.

e mer gent (i mēr'jənt), emerging. adj.

e mer i tus (i mēr'ə təs), honorably discharged; retired from active service, but still holding one's rank and title: At the age of seventy, Professor Arnold became professor emeritus. adj.

e mer sion (i mēr'zhən), an emerging. n.

Em er son (em'ər sn), Ralph Waldo, 1803-1882, American essayist, poet, and philosopher. n.

emery (em'ər ē), a hard, dark mineral used for grinding, smoothing, and polishing. n.

emet ic (i met'ik), 1. causing vomiting. 2. medicine that causes vomiting. 1 adj., 2 n.

E.M.F. or e.m.f., electromotive force.

emigrant (em'ə grənt), 1. person who leaves his own country or region to settle in another. 2. leaving one's own country or region to settle in another. 1 n., 2 adj.

emigrate (em'ə grāt), leave one's own country or region to settle in another. v., emigrat ed, emigrat-ing.

emigration (em'ə grā'shən), 1. leaving one's own country or region to settle in another: There has been much emigration from Italy. 2. body of emigrants: One of the largest emigrations to the United States in a single year was that of 1907. n.

émigré (em'ə grā; French ā mē grā'), French. 1. emigrant. 2. a royalist refugee from France during the French Revolution. 3. refugee from Russia during and after the Russian Revolution. n., pl. e mi grés (-grāz; French -grā').

em inence (em'ə nəns), 1. rank or position above all or most others; high standing; greatness; fame: Edison won eminence as an inventor. 2. a high place; lofty hill. n.

Em inence (em'ə nəns), title of honor given to a cardinal in the Roman Catholic Church. n.

em inent (em'ə nənt), 1. distinguished; exalted: Washington was eminent both as general and as President. 2. conspicuous; noteworthy: The judge was a man of eminent fairness. 3. high; lofty. 4. prominent; projecting. adj.

eminent domain, right of the government to take private property for public use. The owner must be paid for the property taken.

em inent ly (em'ə nənt lē), in an eminent degree; so as to be conspicuous and distinguished from others. adv.

e mir (ə mir'), 1. an Arabian chief, prince, or military leader. 2. title of the descendants of Mohammed. 3. title of certain Turkish officials. n.

em is sar y (em'ə ser'ē), 1. person sent on a mission or errand. 2. a secret agent; spy. n., pl. em is sar ies.

e mis sion (i mish'ən), 1. act or fact of emitting: the emission of light from the sun. 2. thing emitted. n.

e mis sive (i mis'iv), emitting. adj.

e mit (i mit'), 1. give off; send out; discharge: The sun emits light and heat. Volcanoes emit lava. The trapped lion emitted roars of rage. 2. put into circulation; issue. v., e mit ted, e mit ting.

Em man uel (i man'yū əl), Christ. n. Also, Immanuel.

em met (em'it), Archaic. ant. n.

e mol lient (i mol'yənt), 1. softening; soothing. 2. something that softens and soothes: Cold cream is an emollient for the skin. 1 adj., 2 n.

e mol u ment (i mol'yə mənt), profit from a job, office, or position; salary; fee. n.

e mote (i mōt'), Informal. 1. act, especially in an exaggerated manner. 2. show emotion. v., e mot ed, e mot ing.

e mo tion (i mō'shən), a strong feeling. Fear, anger, love, joy, and grief are emotions. n.

e mo tion al (i mō'shən l), 1. of the emotions. 2. showing emotion. 3. appealing to the emotions: The speaker made an emotional plea for money to help crippled children. 4. easily affected by emotion: Emotional people are likely to cry if they hear sad music or read sad stories. adj. —e mo'tion al ly, adv.

e mo tion al ism (i mō'shən liz'əm), 1. emotional quality or character. 2. appeal to the emotions. 3. tendency to display emotion too easily. n.

e mo tive (i mō'tiv), 1. showing or causing emotion. 2. having to do with the emotions. adj.

em pan el (em pan'l), impanel. v., em pan eled, em pan el ing or esp. Brit. em pan elled, em pan el ling. em per or (em'pər ər), man who is the ruler of an empire. n.

em pha sis (em'fə sis), 1. special force; stress; importance: My high school puts much emphasis on studies that prepare its students for college. 2. special force given to particular syllables, words, or phrases: A speaker puts emphasis on important words. n., pl. em pha ses (-sēz).

em pha size (em'fə siz), 1. give special force to; stress; make important: He emphasized that word by saying it very loudly. 2. call attention to: The great number of automobile accidents emphasizes the need for careful driving. v., em pha sized, em pha siz ing.

em phat ic (em fat'ik), 1. spoken or done with force or stress; strongly expressed: Her answer was an emphatic "No!" 2. speaking with force or stress; expressing oneself strongly: The emphatic speaker often pounded the table and shouted. 3. attracting attention; very noticeable; striking: The club made an emphatic success of their party. adj.

em phat i cal ly (em fat'ik lē), in an emphatic manner; to an emphatic degree. adv.

em pire (em'pir), 1. group of countries or states under the same ruler or government, one country having some measure of control over the rest: The British Empire consisted of many separate territories and different peoples. 2. country ruled by an emperor or empress: the Japanese Empire. 3. absolute power; supreme authority. n.

Empire Day, a British holiday in honor of Queen Victoria's birthday, May 24.

Empire State, New York State.

em pir ic (em pir'ik), 1. person who lacks theoretical or scientific knowledge and relies entirely on practical experience. 2. person without regular or proper training; quack. 3. empirical. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

em pir i cal (em pir'ə kl), 1. based on experiment and observation: Chemistry is largely an empirical science. 2. based entirely on practical experience, without regard to science or theory: The quack doctor had only an empirical knowledge of medicine. adj. —em-pir'i cal ly, adv.

em pir i cism (em pir'ə siz əm), 1. use of methods based on experiment and observation. 2. undue reliance upon experience; unscientific practice; quackery. n.

em pir i cist (em pir'ə sist), 1. person who uses methods based on experiment and observation; experimenter. 2. person who relies too much upon mere experience; quack. n.

em place ment (em plās'mənt), 1. space or platform for a heavy gun or guns. 2. an assigning to a place; locating. n.

em ploy (em ploi'), 1. use the services of; give work and pay to: That big factory employs many workers. 2. being employed; service for pay; employment: There are many workers in the employ of the government. 3. use: You employ a knife, fork, and spoon in eating. 4. engage the attention of; keep busy; occupy: Instead of wasting time, she employed herself in reading. 1,3,4 v., 2 n. —em ploy'a ble, adj.

em ploy e or em ploy é (em ploi'ē), employee. n.

em ploy ee (em ploi'ē), person who works for some person or firm for pay. n.

em ploy er (em ploi'ər), 1. person or firm that employs one or more persons. 2. user. n.

em ploy ment (em ploi'mənt), 1. an employing or being employed. 2. what a person is doing; work. 3. use. n.

em po ri um (em pō'rē əm), 1. center of trade; market place. 2. a large store selling many different things. n., pl. em po ri ums, em po ri a (-rē ə).

em pow er (em pou'ər), 1. give power or authority to: The secretary was empowered to sign certain contracts.

2. enable; permit: Man's erect position empowers him to use his hands freely. v. Also, empower.

em press (em'pris), 1. wife of an emperor. 2. woman who is the ruler of an empire. n.

em prise or em prize (em'priz'), Archaic. 1. adventure; daring undertaking. 2. knightly daring. n.

emp ty (emp'tē), 1. with nothing or no one in it: The birds had gone and their nest was empty. 2. pour out or take out the contents of; make empty: Empty the box of rubbish into the fire. 3. become empty: The hall emptied as soon as the concert was over. 4. flow out; discharge: The Mississippi River empties into the Gulf of Mexico. 5. not real; meaningless: An empty promise is insincere. 6. Informal. hungry. 7. Informal. something that is empty; empty container, freight car, etc. 1,5,6 adj., emp ti er, emp ti est; 2-4 v., emp tied, emp ty ing; 7 n., pl. emp ties. —emp'ti ly, adv. —emp'ti ness, n.

empty of, having no.

emp ty-hand ed (emp'tē han'did), having nothing in the hands; bringing or taking nothing. adj.

emp ty-head ed (emp'tē hed'id), silly; stupid. adj.

em pur pled (em pər'pld), made purple; colored with purple. adj.

em py re al (em pir'ē əl or em'pə rē'əl), of the empyrean; celestial, heavenly. adj.

em py re an (em'pə rē'an), 1. the highest heaven; region of pure light. 2. sky; firmament; vault of the heavens. 3. empyreal. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

e mu (ē'mū), a large Australian bird resembling an ostrich but smaller. Emus cannot fly, but they can run very fast. n.

em u late (em'yə lāt), try to equal or excel: The proverb tells us to emulate the industry of the ant. v., em u lat ed, em u lat ing.

em u la tion (em'yə lā'shən), imitation in order to equal or excel; ambition or desire to equal or excel. n.

em u la tive (em'yə lā'tiv), 1. tending to emulate. 2. of or caused by emulation. adj.

em u la tor (em'yə lā'tər), person who emulates. n.

em u lous (em'yə ləs), wishing to equal or excel. adj.

—em'u lous ly, adv. —em'u lous ness, n.

e mul si fi ca tion (i mul'sə fə kā'shən), 1. an emulsifying. 2. a being emulsified. n.

e mul si fy (i mul'sə fi), make into an emulsion. v., e mul si fied, e mul si fy ing. —e mul'si fi'er, n.

e mul sion (i mul'shən), 1. liquid that is a mixture of liquids that do not dissolve in each other. In an emulsion one of the liquids contains minute droplets of the other, which are evenly distributed throughout. 2. a milky liquid containing very tiny drops of fat, oil, etc. Cod-liver oil is made into an emulsion to improve its taste. 3. a coating on a camera film, plate, etc., that is sensitive to light. n.

en a ble (en ā'bl), give ability, power, or means to; make able: Airplanes enable people to travel through the air. v., en a bled, en a bling.

en act (en akt'), 1. pass (a bill) giving it validity as law; make into a law. 2. decree; order. 3. play the part of; act out; play: The famous actor had enacted many characters from Shakespeare in his time. v.

en act ment (en akt'mənt), 1. an enacting. 2. being enacted. 3. a law. n.

e nam el (i nam'l), 1. a glasslike substance melted and then cooled to make a smooth, hard surface. Different colors of enamel are used to cover or decorate metal, pottery, etc. 2. paint or varnish used to make a smooth, hard, glossy surface. 3. the smooth, hard, glossy outer layer of the teeth. 4. cover or decorate with enamel. 5. thing covered or decorated with enamel. 6. any smooth, hard, shiny coating or surface. 7. form an enamellike surface upon. 8. adorn with various colors; decorate as if with enamel. 1-3,5,6 n., 4,7,8 v., e nam eled, e nam el ing or esp. Brit. e nam elled, e nam el ling. —e nam'el er, esp. Brit. e nam'el ler, n.

Emu (6 ft. tall)

e nam el ware (i nam'l wār'), pots, pans, etc., that are made of metal coated with enamel. n.

en am or (en am'ər), arouse to love; charm: Her beauty enamored the prince. v.

en am ored (en am'ərd), very much in love; very fond; charmed: The enamored prince gave up his throne to marry the beautiful peasant girl. adj.

enamored of, in love with; very fond of; charmed by.

en bloc (en blok'), all together; in one lump.

en camp (en kəmp'), 1. make a camp: It took the soldiers only an hour to encamp. 2. stay in a camp: They encamped all night. 3. put in a camp: They were encamped in tents. v. —en camp'ment, n.

en case (en kās'), incase. v., en cased, en cas ing.

-ence, suffix meaning:

1. act, fact, quality, or state of ____ing, as in abhorrence, dependence, indulgence. -ence is often added to verbs to form nouns.

2. quality or state of being ____ent, as in absence, confidence, competence, independence, prudence. -ence is the noun suffix often corresponding to the adjective suffix -ent. See also -ency.

en ce phal ic (en'sə fal'ik), of or having to do with the brain. adj.

en cep ha li tis (en sef'ə lī'tis), inflammation of the brain caused by injury, infection, poison, etc. Sleeping sickness is one kind of encephalitis. n.

en cep ha lon (en sef'ə lon), the brain. n.

en chain (en chān'), 1. put in chains; fetter. 2. attract and fix firmly; hold fast: The speaker's earnestness enchained the attention of his audience. v.

en chant (en chant'), 1. use magic on; put under a spell: The witch enchanted the princess. 2. delight greatly; charm: The music enchanted us all. v. —en chant'er, n.

en chant ing (en chan'ting), 1. very delightful; charming. 2. bewitching. adj.

en chant ment (en chant'mənt), 1. use of magic; putting under a spell. 2. condition of being put under a magic spell. 3. a magic spell: In the Greek story, Circe turned men into pigs by her enchantments. 4. delight; rapture. 5. thing that delights or charms; great delight; charm. n.

en chan tress (en chan'tris), 1. a woman who enchants; witch. 2. a very delightful, charming woman. n.

en chase (en chās'), 1. engrave: His initials were engraved on the back of the watch. 2. ornament with engraved designs; decorate with gems, inlay, etc.: The shield was enched with gold and silver. 3. place in a setting; mount; frame. v., en chased, en chas ing.

en chi la da (en'chi lā'də), in the SW United States, a tortilla rolled around a filling of meat, cheese, etc., served with a peppery sauce. n.

en cir cle (en sēr'kl), 1. form a circle around; surround: Trees encircled the pond. 2. go in a circle around: The moon encircles the earth. v., en cir cled, en cir cling.

en cir cle ment (en sēr'kl mənt), an encircling. n.

en clave (en'klāv), country or district surrounded by territory of another country. n.

en close (en klōz'), 1. shut in on all sides; surround. 2. put a wall or fence around. 3. put in an envelope along with a letter, etc. 4. contain: a letter enclosing a check. v., en closed, en clos ing. Also, inclose.

en clo sure (en klō'zhər), 1. an enclosing or being enclosed. 2. an enclosed place: Those cages are enclosures for the monkeys. 3. thing that encloses. A wall or fence is an enclosure. 4. thing enclosed: The envelope contained a letter and $5 as an enclosure. n. Also, inclosure.

en co mi ast (en kō'mē ast), writer or speaker of encomiums; eulogist. n.

en co mi um (en kō'mē əm), an elaborate expression of praise; high praise; eulogy. n., pl. en co mi ums, en co mi a (-mē ə).

en com pass (en kum'pəs), 1. surround completely; shut in on all sides; encircle: The atmosphere encompasses the earth. 2. enclose; contain. v. —en com'pass ment, n.

en core (äng'kôr or än'kôr), 1. once more; again. 2. demand by the audience for the repetition of a song, etc., or for another appearance of the performer or performers. 3. repetition of a song, etc., in response to such a demand. 4. an additional song, etc., given in response to such a demand. 5. call for a repetition of (a song, etc.); call for an encore from (a performer, etc.) by applauding: The audience encored the singer. 1 interj., 2-4 n., 5 v., en cored, en cor ing.

en coun ter (en koun'tar), 1. meet unexpectedly: I encountered an old friend on the train. 2. a meeting; unexpected meeting. 3. meet with (difficulties, opposition, etc.). 4. meet as an enemy; meet in a fight or battle. 5. a meeting of enemies; fight; battle. 1,3,4 v., 2,5 n.

en cour age (en kër'ij), 1. give courage to; increase the hope or confidence of; urge on: Success encourages you to go ahead and do better. 2. be favorable to; help; support: High prices for farm products encourage farming. v., en cour aged, en cour ag ing. —en cour'ag er, n., —en cour'ag ing ly, adv.

en cour age ment (en kër'ij mënt), 1. an encouraging. 2. being or feeling encouraged. 3. thing that encourages. n.

en croach (en kröch'), 1. go beyond proper or usual limits: The sea encroached upon the shore and submerged the beach. 2. trespass upon the property or rights of another; intrude: He is a good salesman and will not encroach upon his customer's time. v.

en croach ment (en kröch'mënt), 1. an encroaching: The cliff is being worn back by the encroachments of the sea. 2. thing taken by encroaching. n.

en crust (en krust'), incrusted. v.

en cum ber (en kum'bar), 1. hold back (from running, doing, etc.); hinder; hamper: Heavy shoes encumber anybody in the water. 2. make difficult to use; fill; obstruct: Rubbish and old boxes encumbered the fire escape. 3. weigh down; burden: Mother is encumbered with household cares. The farm was encumbered with a heavy mortgage. v. Also, incumber.

en cum brance (en kum'brans), 1. anything that encumbers; hindrance; obstruction; burden. 2. a dependent person; child. 3. claim, mortgage, etc., on property. n. Also, incumbrance.

-ency, suffix meaning:

1. act, fact, quality, or state of—ing, as in dependency. 2. quality or state of being—ent, as in clemency, frequency.

3. other meanings, as in agency, currency. See also -ence.

ency, or encyc-, encyclopedia.

en cyc li cal (en sik'lə kl), 1. letter about the general welfare of the church from the Pope to his clergy.

2. intended for wide circulation. 1 n., 2 adj.

en cy clo pe di a or en cy clo pæ di a (en sī'klə-pē'dē ə), 1. book or series of books giving information, usually arranged alphabetically, on all branches of knowledge. 2. book treating one subject very thoroughly, with its articles arranged alphabetically. n.

en cy clo pe dic or en cy clo pæ dic (en sī'klə-pē'dik), 1. covering a wide range of subjects; possessing wide and varied information. 2. having to do with an encyclopedia. adj.

en cy clo pe dist or en cy clo pæ dist (en sī'klə-pē'dist), person who makes or compiles an encyclopedia. n.

en cyst (en sist'), enclose or become enclosed in a cyst or sac. v. —en cyst'ment, n.

end (end), 1. the last part; conclusion: He read to the end of the book. 2. place where a thing begins or where it stops: Drive to the end of this road. 3. bring or come to an end; stop; finish: Let us end this fight. 4. form the end of; be the end of. 5. purpose; object: The end of work is to get something done. 6. result; outcome: It is hard to tell what the end will be. 7. death; destruction. 8. destroy; kill. 9. part left over; remnant; fragment. 10. player at either end of the line in football. 1,2,5-7, 9,10 n., 3,4,8 v.

at loose ends, 1. not settled or established. 2. in confusion or disorder.

make both ends meet, 1. spend no more than one has. 2. just manage to live on what one has.

no end, Informal. very much; very many.

put an end to, stop; do away with; destroy; kill.

en dan ger (en dān'jər), cause danger to; expose to loss or injury: Fire endangered the hotel's guests, but no lives were lost. v.

en dear (en dir'), make dear: Her kindness endeared her to all of us. v.

en dear ment (en dir'mënt), 1. an endearing. 2. thing that endears. 3. act or word showing love or affection; caress. n.

en deav or (en dev'ər), 1. try hard; attempt earnestly; make an effort; strive: A runner endeavors to win a race. 2. an earnest attempt; effort. 1 v., 2 n.

en deav our (en dev'ər), Esp. Brit. endeavor. v., n.

en dem ic (en dem'ik), 1. regularly found in a particular people or locality: Cholera is endemic in India. 2. an endemic disease. 1 adj., 2 n.

en dés ha bil lé (än dā zā bē yā'), French. partly or carelessly dressed.

En di cott or En de cott (en'də kot), John, 1588?-1665, first English colonial governor of the Massachusetts Bay Colony at Salem. n.

end ing (en'ding), 1. the last part; end. 2. death. 3. letter or syllable added to a word or stem to change its meaning or to show how it is used in relation to other words. The common plural ending in English is s or es, as in kings, dresses. n.

en dive (en'div), U.S. 1. kind of chicory with finely divided curly leaves, used for salads. 2. kind of chicory that looks like very smooth white celery, also used for salads. n.

end less (end'lis), 1. having no end; never stopping; lasting or going on forever. 2. with the ends joined for continuous action: The chain that turns the rear wheel of a bicycle is an endless chain. adj. —end'less ly, adv. —end'less ness, n.

end most (end'möst), nearest to the end; last; farthest. adj.

en do carp (en'dō kārپ), the inner layer of a fruit or ripened ovary. A peach stone is an endocarp. n.

en do crine (en'dō krīn or en'dō krin), 1. producing secretions that pass directly into the blood or lymph instead of into a duct. The thyroid is an endocrine gland. 2. of or having to do with the endocrine glands. 3. an endocrine gland. 4. its secretion. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

endocrine gland, any of various glands that produce secretions that pass directly into the blood stream or lymph. They secrete hormones that influence other organs in the body.

en do derm (en'dō dërm), the inner layer of cells formed during development of animal embryos. The lining of the organs of the digestive system develops from endoderm. n.

en dog e nous (en doj'ə nəس), growing from the inside; originating within. adj.

en do plasm (en'dō plaz əم), the inner portion of the cytoplasm of a cell. n.

en dor se (en dōrs'), 1. write one's name, comment, etc., on the back of (a check or other document): He had to endorse the check before the bank would cash it. 2. approve; support: Parents heartily endorsed the plan for a school playground. v., en dorsed, en dors ing. Also, indorse. —en dōrs'er, n.

en dor see (en dôr'sē/), person to whom a check, note, or other document is assigned by endorsement. n.

Also, indorsee.

en dorse ment (en dôrs'mənt), 1. act of writing on the back of a check or other document. 2. name, comment, or other writing written on the back of a check or other document. 3. approval; support. n. Also indorsement.

en do skel e ton (en'dô skel'ə tn), the internal skeleton characteristic of vertebrates and allied forms. n.

en do sperm (en'dô spĕrm), nourishment for the embryo enclosed with it in the seed of a plant. See embryo for picture. n.

en dow (en dou/), 1. give money or property to provide an income for: The rich man endowed the college he had attended. 2. furnish from birth; provide with some ability, quality, or talent: Nature endowed her with both beauty and brains. v.

en dow ment (en dou'mənt), 1. an endowment. 2. money or property given to provide an income: This college has a large endowment. 3. gift from birth; ability; talent: A good sense of rhythm is a natural endowment. n.

end product, the last stable member of a series of isotopes, each produced by the radioactive decay of the preceding isotope.

en due (en dü/ or en dū/), 1. provide with a quality or power; furnish; supply: The wisest man is not endowed with perfect wisdom. 2. put on. 3. clothe. v., en dued, en du ing. Also, indue.

en dur ance (en dūr'əns or en dyūr'əns), 1. power to last or keep on: A man must have great endurance to run 30 miles in a day. 2. power to put up with, bear, or stand: His endurance of the pain was remarkable. 3. act or instance of enduring pain, hardship, etc. 4. duration. n.

en dure (en dūr/ or en dyūr/), 1. keep on; last: A gold ring will endure for a thousand years. 2. undergo; bear; tolerate: Those Indians endured much pain. v., en dured, en dur ing. —en dur'a ble, adj.

en dur ing (en dūr'ing or en dyūr'ing), lasting; permanent. adj.

end ways (end'wāz/), 1. on end; upright. 2. with the end forward; in the direction of the end. 3. lengthwise. 4. end to end. adv.

end wise (end'wīz/), endways. adv.

En dym i on (en dim'ē ən), in Greek legend, a beautiful youth loved by the goddess of the moon. n.

E.N.E. or ENE, east-northeast.

en e ma (en'ə mā), injection of liquid into the rectum to flush the bowels. n., pl. en e mas.

en e my (en'ə mē), 1. person or group that hates and tries to harm another. 2. a hostile force, nation, army, fleet, or air force; person, ship, etc., of a hostile nation. 3. of an enemy. 4. anything harmful: Frost is an enemy of plants. 1,2,4 n., pl. en e mies; 3 adj.

en er get ic (en'ər jət'ik), full of energy; eager to work; full of force; active: Cool autumn days make us feel energetic. adj.

en er get i cal ly (en'ər jət'ik lē), with energy. adv.

en er gize (en'ər jīz), give energy to; make active; Ambition energizes men. v., en er gized, en er gize ing. —en'er gi'zer, n.

en er gy (en'ər jē), 1. active strength or force; healthy power; vigor: Young men have more energy than old people. 2. strength; force; power: All our energies were used in keeping the fire from spreading. 3. capacity for doing work, such as lifting or moving an object. Energy is measured in ergs. n., pl. en er gies.

en er vate (en'ər vāt), lessen the vigor or strength of; weaken: A hot, damp climate enervates people who are not used to it. v., en er vat ed, en er vat ing. —en'er va'tion, n.

en fee ble (en fē'bl), make feeble; weaken. v., en-fee bled, en fee bling. —en fee'ble ment, n.

en fi lade (en'fā lād/), fire guns at (a line of troops or the position held by them) from the side. v., en fi lad ed, en fi lad ing.

en fold (en fôld/), infold. v. —en fold'er, n.

en force (en fôrs/), 1. force obedience to; put into force: Policemen and judges enforce the laws. 2. force; compel: The robbers enforced obedience to their demand by threats of violence. 3. urge with force: The teacher enforced the principle by examples. v., en forced, en-forc ing. —en force'a ble, adj. —en forc'er, n.

en force ment (en fôrs'mənt), an enforcing; putting into force: Strict enforcement of the laws against speeding will reduce automobile accidents. n.

en fran chise (en fran'chiz/), 1. give the right to vote: The 19th amendment to the Constitution enfranchised American women. 2. set free; release from slavery or restraint. v., en fran chised, en fran chis ing. —en-fran'chis er, n.

en fran chise ment (en fran'chiz mənt), 1. an enfranchising. 2. being enfranchised. n.

Eng., 1. England. 2. English.

eng., 1. engineer. 2. engineering. 3. engraving.

en gage (en gāj/), 1. bind oneself; promise; pledge: I will engage to be there on time. 2. promise or pledge to marry: John and Mary are engaged. 3. keep busy; occupy: Work engages much of his time. 4. keep oneself busy; be occupied; be active; take part: He engages in politics. 5. hire; employ; take for use or work; reserve (seats, rooms, a cab, etc.): She engaged a cook for the summer. 6. catch and hold; attract: Bright colors engaged the baby's attention. 7. fit into; lock together. The teeth of one gear engage with the teeth of another. The teeth engage each other. 8. start a battle with; attack: Our soldiers engaged the enemy. v., en gaged, en gage ing. —en gag'er, n.

en gaged (en gāj'd/), 1. promised or pledged to marry: The engaged girl had a diamond ring. 2. busy; occupied: Engaged in conversation, they did not see us. 3. taken for use or work; hired. 4. fitted together. 5. involved in a fight or battle. adj.

en gage ment (en gāj'mənt), 1. act of engaging. 2. fact or condition of being engaged. 3. promise; pledge: An honest person fulfills all his engagements. 4. promise to marry. 5. a meeting with someone at a certain time; appointment. 6. period of being hired; time of use or work. 7. fight; battle. n.

en gag ing (en gāj'ing), very attractive; pleasing. charming: an engaging smile. adj. —en gag'ing ly, adv. —en gag'ing ness, n.

en gen der (en jen'dər), bring into existence; produce; cause: Filth engenders disease. v.

en gine (en'jən), 1. machine that applies power to some work; especially, a machine that can start others moving. 2. machine that pulls a railroad train. 3. machine; device; instrument: Those big guns are engines of war. n.

en gi neer (en'jə nir/), 1. man who runs an engine. 2. person who plans, builds, or manages engines, machines, roads, bridges, canals, railroads, forts, etc.; expert in engineering. 3. member of a group of men who do engineering work in the army or navy. 4. plan, build, direct, or work as an engineer. 5. manage cleverly; guide skillfully: Although many opposed his plan, he engineered it through to final approval. 1-3 n., 4,5 v.

en gi neer ing (en'jə nir'ing), science, work, or profession of an engineer; planning, building, or managing engines, machines, roads, bridges, canals, railroads, forts, etc. n.

en gine ry (en'jən rē), engines; machines. n.

Eng land (ing'glənd), the largest division of Great Britain, in the S part. 43,070,000 pop.; 50,874 sq. mi. Capital: London. n.

Eng lish (ing'glīsh), 1. of or having to do with England, its people, or their language. 2. the people of England collectively. 3. the English language, including Old English or Anglo-Saxon (before 1100), Middle English (about 1100-1500), and Modern English (from about 1500). English is also spoken in the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and many other places. 4. translate into English; express in plain English. 1 adj., 2 n., pl., 3 n. sing., 4 v.

Cogwheels engaged

Eng lish or eng lish (ing'glɪʃ), U.S. a spinning motion given to a ball by hitting on one side of its center. n.

English Channel, strait between England and France, 20-100 mi. wide.

English horn, a wooden musical instrument resembling an oboe, but larger and having a lower tone.

Eng lish man (ing'glɪʃ mən), 1. man who is a native or inhabitant of England. 2. one whose ancestry is English. Canadians and Australians sometimes call themselves Englishmen. n., pl. Eng lish men.

English setter, a long-haired, black-and-white hunting dog, sometimes having tan spots. It is trained to hunt with its nose pointed toward game.

English sparrow, a small brownish-gray bird, a European finch now very common in America. See sparrow for picture.

English walnut, 1. a walnut tree from Asia, cultivated in Europe and North America. 2. its edible nut, used in candy, cakes, etc.

Eng lish wom an (ing'glɪʃ wʊm'ən), 1. woman who is a native or inhabitant of England. 2. one whose ancestry is English. n., pl. Eng lish-wom en.

en gorge (en gôrj'), 1. swallow greedily. 2. glut; gorge. 3. feed greedily. 4. congest with blood. v., en gorged, en gorg ing.

en graft (en græft'), 1. insert or graft (a shoot from one tree or plant) into or on another: Peach trees can be engrafted upon plum trees. 2. add permanently; implant: Honesty and thrift are engrafted in his character. v. Also, ingraft.

en grave (en grāv'), 1. cut in; carve artistically; decorate by engraving: The jeweler engraved the boy's initials on the back of the watch. 2. cut in lines on a metal plate, block of wood, etc., for printing. 3. print from such a plate, block, etc. 4. impress deeply; fix firmly: His mother's face was engraved on his memory. v., en graved, en grav ing.

en grav er (en grāv'ər), person who engraves metal plates, blocks of wood, etc., for printing. n.

en grav ing (en grāv'ing), 1. art of an engraver; cutting lines in metal plates, blocks of wood, etc., for printing. 2. picture printed from an engraved plate, block, etc. 3. an engraved plate, block, etc. n.

en gross (en grōs'), 1. occupy wholly; take up all the attention of: She was engrossed in a story. 2. copy or write in large letters; write a beautiful copy of. v. —en gross'ment, n.

en gulf (en gulf'), swallow up; overwhelm; submerge: A wave engulfed the small boat. v. Also, ingulf.

en hance (en hans'), make greater; add to; heighten: The gardens enhanced the beauty of the house. v., enhanced, en hanc ing. —en hance'ment, n.

EN I AC (en'ē ak), Trademark. an electronic brain used by the United States Army. n.

e nig ma (i nig'mə), 1. a puzzling statement; riddle: To most of the audience the philosopher seemed to speak in

Man playing an English horn

English setter (22 in. tall)

Shoot from one tree engrafted into branch of another enigmas. 2. a baffling or puzzling problem, situation, person, etc.: The queer behavior of the child was an enigma even to her parents. n.

en ig mat ic (en'ig mat'ik), enigmatical. adj.

en ig mat i cal (en'ig mat'ə kl), like a riddle; baffling; puzzling; mysterious. adj. —en'ig mat'i cal ly, adv.

En i we tok (en'ē wē'tok), atoll in the Marshall Islands; site of United States atomic bomb tests which started in 1948. n.

en join (en join'), 1. order; direct; urge: Parents enjoin good behavior on their children. 2. issue an authoritative command. Through an injunction a judge may enjoin a person to do (or not do) some act. v.

en joy (en joi'), 1. have or use with joy; be happy with; take pleasure in. 2. have as an advantage or benefit: He enjoyed good health. v.

enjoy oneself, be happy; have pleasure; have a good time.

en joy a ble (en joi'ə bl), capable of being enjoyed; giving enjoyment; pleasant. adj. —en joy'a bly, adv.

en joy ment (en joi'mənt), 1. an enjoying. 2. thing enjoyed. 3. joy; happiness; pleasure. 4. having as an advantage or benefit; possession; use: Laws protect the enjoyment of our rights. n.

en kin dle (en kin'dl), 1. arouse; excite; stir up. 2. light up; brighten. v., en kin dled, en kin dling.

en lace (en lās'), 1. wind about; encircle; infold. 2. twine together; interlace. v., en laced, en lac ing.

en large (en lārj'), make or become larger; increase in size. v., en larged, en larg ing —en larg'er, n.

enlarge on, talk or write more about.

en large ment (en lārj'mənt), 1. an enlarging or being enlarged. 2. anything that is an enlarged form of something else. An enlargement is often made from a small photograph. 3. thing that enlarges something else; addition. n.

en light en (en lit'n), give the light of truth and knowledge to; free from prejudice, ignorance, etc. v.

en light en ment (en lit'n mənt), an enlightening or being enlightened. n.

en list (en list'), 1. join the army, navy, or some other branch of the military service. 2. enroll in some branch of the military service. 3. induce to join in some cause or undertaking; secure the help or support of: The mayor enlisted the churches and schools of the city to work for more parks. 4. join in some cause or undertaking; give help or support. v. —en list'er, n.

enlisted man, Esp. U.S. member of the armed forces who is not a commissioned officer or cadet.

en list ment (en list'mənt), 1. an enlisting. 2. a being enlisted. 3. time for which a person enlists. n.

en liv en (en liv'ən), make lively, active, gay, or cheerful: The preacher enlivened his sermon with humor. v.

en masse (en mas'), in a group; all together.

en mesh (en mesh'), catch in a net; enclose in meshes; entangle. v.

en mi ty (en'mə tē), the feeling that enemies have for each other; hate. n., pl. en mi ties.

en no ble (en nō'bl), 1. give a title or rank of nobility to; raise to the rank of nobleman. 2. raise in the respect of others; dignify; exalt: A good deed ennobles the person who does it. 3. make finer or more noble in nature: His character had been ennobled through suffering. v., en nobled, en no bling. —en no'ble ment, n.

en nui (än'wē), a feeling of weariness and discontent from lack of occupation or interest; boredom. n.

E noch (ē'nək), 1. the father of Methuselah. Genesis 5:18-24. 2. the eldest son of Cain. Genesis 4:17, 18. n.

e nor mi ty (i nōr'mə tē), 1. extreme wickedness; outrageousness: The cruel murderer was put to death for the enormity of his crime. 2. an extremely wicked crime; outrageous offense. n., pl. e nor mi ties.

e nor mous (i nôr'mas), 1. extremely large; huge: Long ago enormous animals lived on the earth. 2. extremely wicked; outrageous. adj. — enor'mous ness, n.

e nor mous ly (i nôr'məs lē), in or to an enormous degree; extremely; vastly; beyond measure. adv.

e nough (i nuf'), 1. as much or as many as needed or wanted: Buy enough food for the picnic (adj.). I have had enough to eat (n.). Have you played enough? (adv.) 2. quite; fully: He is willing enough to take a tip. 3. rather; fairly: She talks well enough for a baby. 4. stop! no more! 1 adj., n., 1-3 adv., 4 interj.

en quire (en kwir'), inquire. v., en quired, en quiring.

en quir y (en kwir'ē or en'kwə rē), inquiry. n., pl. en quir ies.

en rage (en rāj'), put into a rage; make very angry; make furious. v., en raged, en rag ing.

en rap port (än rä pör'), French. in sympathy; in agreement.

en rapt (en rapt'), rapt; filled with great delight. adj.

en rap ture (en rap'chər), fill with great delight; entrance: The audience was enraptured by the singer's beautiful voice. v., en rap tured, en rap tur ing.

en rich (en rich'), 1. make rich or richer: An education enriches your mind. Decorations enrich a room. Fertilizer enriches soil. 2. raise the nutritive value of (a food) by adding vitamins and minerals in processing. v.

en rich ment (en rich'mənt), 1. an enriching. 2. being enriched. 3. thing that enriches. n.

en roll or en rol (en röl'), 1. write in a list: The secretary enrolled our names. 2. have one's name written in a list. 3. make a member. 4. become a member. 5. enlist: Dick enrolled in the Navy. v., en rolled, en roll ing.

en roll ment or en rol ment (en röl'mənt), 1. an enrolling. 2. number enrolled: The school has an enrollment of 200 students. n.

en route (än rüt'), on the way: He is en route to California by way of the Panama Canal.

en san guine (en sang'win), stain with blood. v., en san guined, en san guin ing.

en sconce (en skons'), 1. shelter safely; hide: The soldiers were ensconced in strongly fortified trenches. 2. settle comfortably and firmly: The cat ensconced itself in the armchair. v., en sconced, en sconcing.

en sem ble (än sām'bl), 1. all the parts of a thing considered together; general effect. 2. a united performance of the full number of singers, musicians, etc.: After the solo all the singers joined in the ensemble. 3. group of musicians, or the musical instruments used, in taking part in such a performance: Two violins, a cello, and a harp made up the string ensemble. 4. a complete, harmonious costume. n.

en shrine (en shrin'), 1. enclose in a shrine: A fragment of the Cross is enshrined in the cathedral. 2. keep sacred; cherish: Memories of happier days were enshrined in the old beggar's heart. v., en shrined, en shrin ing.

en shrine ment (en shrin'mənt), 1. an enshrining. 2. anything that enshrines or surrounds. n.

en shroud (en shroud'), cover; hide; veil: Fog enshrouded the ship, but we could hear its whistle. v.

en sign (en'sin or en'sən for 1, 3, 4; en'sən for 2), 1. flag; banner: The ensign of the United States is the Stars and Stripes. 2. U.S. a navy officer ranking next below a lieutenant, junior grade. An ensign is the lowest commissioned officer in the navy. 3. a former British army officer whose duty was carrying the flag. 4. sign of one's rank, position, or power; symbol of authority. n.

en si lage (en'sl ij), 1. preservation of green fodder by packing it in a silo or pit. 2. green fodder preserved in this way. Ensilage is used to feed cattle in winter. n.

en slave (en slāv'), make a slave or slaves of; take away freedom from. v., en slaved, en slav ing.

en slave ment (en slāv'mənt), 1. an enslaving. 2. being enslaved. n.

en snare (en snār'), catch in a snare; trap. v., en snared, en snar ing. Also, insnare.

en sue (en sü'), 1. come after; follow: The ensuing year means the next year. 2. happen as a result: In his anger he hit the man, and a fight ensued. v., en sued, en su ing.

en sure (en shür'), 1. make sure or certain: Careful planning and hard work ensured the success of the party. 2. make sure of getting; secure: A letter of introduction will ensure you an interview. 3. make safe; protect: Proper clothing ensured us against suffering from the cold. v., en sured, en sur ing.

-ent, suffix often added to a verb to form an adjective or a noun:

1. —ing, as in absorbent, indulgent, coincident.
2. one that —s, as in correspondent, president, superintendent.
3. other meanings, as in competent, confident.

en tail (en täl'), 1. impose; require: Owning an automobile entailed greater expense than he had expected. 2. limit the inheritance of (property, etc.) to a specified line of heirs so that it cannot be left to anyone else. An entailed estate usually passes to the eldest son. 3. an entailing. 4. an entailed inheritance. 5. order of descent specified for an entailed estate. 1, 2 v., 3-5 n.

en tail ment (en täl'mənt), 1. an entailing. 2. being entailed. n.

en tan gle (en tang'gl), 1. get twisted up and caught; tangle: Loose string is easily entangled. 2. get into difficulty; involve: The villain tried to entangle the hero in an evil scheme. 3. perplex; confuse. v., en tangled, en tan gling.

en tan gle ment (en tang'gl mənt), 1. an entangling. 2. being entangled: Washington warned the new republic against entanglement with foreign countries. 3. thing that entangles: The trenches were protected by barbed wire entanglements. n.

en tente (än tänt'), French. 1. an understanding; agreement between two or more governments. 2. parties to an understanding; governments that have made an agreement. n.

en tente cor diale (än tänt' kôr dyäl'), French. a friendly understanding or agreement.

en ter (en'tər), 1. go into; come into: He entered the house. 2. go in; come in: Let them enter. 3. become a part or member of; join: The men entered the army. 4. cause to join or enter; obtain admission for: Parents enter their children in school. 5. begin; start: After years of training, the doctor entered the practice of medicine. 6. write or print in a book, list, etc.: A dictionary enters words in alphabetical order. 7. put in regular form; record: The injured man entered a complaint in court. v.

enter into, 1. take part in; form a part of: to enter into a debate. 2. consider; discuss: Let's enter into the subject of gardening.

enter on or upon, 1. begin; start. 2. take possession of.

en ter prise (en'tər priz'), 1. an important, difficult, or dangerous undertaking. 2. an undertaking; project: a business enterprise. 3. readiness to start projects; courage and energy in starting projects: Benjamin Franklin showed great enterprise. 4. carrying on enterprises; taking part in enterprises. Private enterprise is the business of a person, company, etc., of making and selling things, as contrasted with government control. n.

en ter pris ing (en'tər priz'ing), ready to try new, important, difficult, or dangerous plans; courageous and energetic in starting projects. adj.

en ter tain (en'tər tain'), 1. interest; please; amuse: The circus entertained the children. 2. have as a guest: She entertained ten people at dinner. 3. have guests; provide entertainment for guests: She entertains a great deal. 4. take into the mind; consider: I refuse to entertain such a foolish idea. 5. hold in the mind; maintain: Even after failing twice, we still entertained a hope of success. v.

en ter tain er (en'tər tain'ər), 1. person who entertains. 2. singer, musician, reciter, etc., who takes part in public entertainments. n.

en ter tain ing (en'tər tain'ing), very interesting; pleasing; amusing. adj. — en'ter tain'ing ly, adv.

en ter tain ment (en'tər tăn'mənt), 1. an entertaining. 2. a being entertained. 3. thing that interests, pleases, or amuses. A show or play is an entertainment. 4. treatment of guests; hospitality. n.

en thrall or en thrall (en thrōl'), 1. captivate; fascinate; charm: The explorer enthralled the audience with the story of his exciting adventures. 2. make a slave of; enslave. v., en thralled, en thralling. Also, in thrall. —en thrall'ment, n.

en throne (en thrōn'), 1. set on a throne. 2. place highest of all; exalt: Washington is enthroned in the hearts of his countrymen. 3. invest with authority, especially as a sovereign or as a bishop. v., en throned, en throning. Also, in throne. —en throne'ment, n.

en thus (en thūz'), U.S. Informal. 1. show enthusiasm. 2. fill with enthusiasm. v., en thused, en thus-ing.

en thu si asm (en thū'zē az əm), eager interest; zeal: The great leader filled his followers with enthusiasm. n.

en thu si ast (en thū'zē ast), 1. person who is filled with enthusiasm. 2. person who is carried away by his feelings for a cause. n.

en thu si as tic (en thū'zē as'tik), full of enthusiasm; eagerly interested. adj.

en thu si as ti cal ly (en thū'zē as'tik lē), with enthusiasm. adv.

en tice (en tis'), tempt by arousing hopes or desires; attract by offering some pleasure or reward: The robber enticed his victims into a cave by promising to show them a gold mine. v., en ticed, en ticing. —en tic'er, n. —en tic'ing ly, adv.

en tice ment (en tis'mənt), 1. an enticing. 2. a being enticed. 3. thing that entices: Enticements of milk and meat induced the frightened cat to come down from the tree. n.

en tire (en tīr'), 1. having all the parts or elements; whole; complete. 2. not broken; in one piece; having an unbroken outline. adj.

en tire ly (en tīr'lē), 1. wholly; completely; fully. 2. solely. adv.

en tire ty (en tīr'tē), 1. wholeness; completeness. 2. a complete thing; the whole. n., pl. en tire ties. in its entirety, wholly; completely.

en ti tle (en tī'tl), 1. give the title of; call by the name of: A book that explains words is entitled a dictionary. 2. give a claim or right to; provide with a reason to ask or get something: Their age and experience entitle old people to the respect of young people. v., en ti tled, en ti tling. Also, intitle.

en ti ty (en tī'tē), 1. something that has a real and separate existence either actually or in the mind; anything real in itself: Persons, mountains, languages, and beliefs are distinct entities. 2. being; existence. n., pl. en ti ties.

en tomb (en tūm'), place in a tomb; bury. v. Also, intomb. —en tomb'ment, n.

en to mol o g i cal (en'tə mol'ə kl), of or having to do with entomology. adj.

en to mol o gist (en'tə mol'ə jist), person skilled in entomology. n.

en to mol o gy (en'tə mol'ə jē), branch of zoology that deals with insects. n.

en tou rage (än'tū räzh'), group of attendants or people usually accompanying a person. n.

en trails (en'trälz or en'trəlz), 1. the inner parts of a man or animal. 2. intestines; bowels. 3. any inner parts. n.pl.

en train (en trăn'), 1. get on a train. 2. put on a train: The soldiers were entrained at night. v.

en trance¹ (en'trans), 1. act of entering: The actor's entrance was greeted with applause. 2. place by which to enter; door, passageway, etc. 3. freedom or right to enter; permission to enter: The prince had entrance to the best society. n.

en trance² (en trans'), 1. put into a trance. 2. fill with joy; delight; charm. v., en tranced, en tranc ing. —en tranc'ing ly, adv.

en trance ment (en trans'mənt), 1. an entrancing. 2. a being entranced. 3. thing that entrances. n.

en trance way (en'trans wā'), place by which to enter. n.

en trant (en'trant), 1. person who enters. 2. a new member in a profession, club, association, etc. 3. person who takes part in a contest. n.

en trap (en trap'), 1. catch in a trap. 2. bring into difficulty or danger; deceive; trick: By clever questioning, the lawyer entrapped the witness into contradicting himself. v. en trapped, en trap ping.

en treat (en trēt'), ask earnestly; beg and pray; implore: The captives entreated the savages not to kill them. v., Also, intreat.

en treat y (en trēt'ē), an earnest request; prayer: The savages paid no attention to their captives' entreaties for mercy. n., pl. en treat ies.

en tree or en trée (än'trā), 1. freedom or right to enter; access. 2. U.S. the main dish of food at dinner or lunch. 3. dish of food served before the roast or between the main courses at dinner. n.

en trench (en trench'), 1. surround with a trench; fortify with trenches: Our soldiers were entrenched opposite the enemy. 2. establish firmly: Exchanging gifts at Christmas is a custom entrenched in people's minds. 3. trespass; encroach; infringe: Do not entrench upon the rights of others. v. Also, intrench.

en trench ment (en trench'mənt), 1. an entrenching. 2. entrenched position. 3. defense consisting of a trench and a rampart of earth or stone. n. Also, intrenchment.

en tre pre neur (än'trə prə nēr'), person who organizes and manages a business or industrial enterprise, taking the risk of not making a profit and getting the profit when there is one. n.

en trust (en trust'), 1. charge with a trust; trust: The club entrusted the newly elected treasurer with all of its money. 2. give the care of; hand over for safekeeping: They entrusted their children to a nurse. v. Also, intrust.

en try (en'trē), 1. act of entering. 2. place by which to enter; way to enter. A vestibule is an entry. 3. thing written or printed in a book, list, etc. Each word explained in a dictionary is an entry. 4. person or thing that takes part in a contest. 5. in law, the act of taking possession of lands or buildings by entering or setting foot on them. n., pl. en tries.

en twine (en twīn'), 1. twine together. 2. twine around: Roses entwined the little cottage. v., en twined, en twining.

E nu gu (e nü'gü), capital of Biafra. 72,000. n.

e nu mer ate (i nü'mär ät or i nü'mär ät), 1. name one by one; give a list of: He enumerated the capitals of the 50 States. 2. count. v., e nu mer at ed, e nu mer at ing. —e nu'mer a'tor, n.

e nu mer a tion (i nü'mär ä'shən or i nü'mär ä'shən), 1. an enumerating; a listing; a counting. 2. list. n.

e nu mer a tive (i nü'mär ä'tiv or i nü'mär ä'tiv), that enumerates; having to do with enumeration. adj.

e nun ci ate (i nun'sē ät), 1. pronounce (words): He is a well-trained actor and enunciates very distinctly. 2. state definitely; announce: After performing many experiments the scientist enunciated a new theory. v., e nun ci at ed, e nun ci at ing. —e nun'ci a'tor, n.

e nun ci a tion (i nun'sē ä'shən), 1. manner of pronouncing words. 2. a definite statement; announcement. n.

Entrenchment (def. 3)

en vel op (en vel'əp), 1. wrap; cover: The baby was so enveloped in blankets that we could hardly see its face. 2. surround: Our soldiers enveloped the enemy and captured them. 3. hide; conceal: Fog enveloped the village. 4. envelope. 1-3 v., en vel oped, en vel op ing; 4 n.

en ve lope (en'və lōp or ăn'və lōp), 1. a paper cover in which a letter or anything flat and fairly thin can be mailed, filed, etc. It can usually be folded over and sealed by wetting a gummed edge. 2. covering; wrapper. 3. bag that holds the gas in a balloon or airship. n.

en vel op ment (en vel'əp mēnt), 1. an enveloping. 2. a being enveloped. 3. thing that envelops; wrapping; covering. n.

en ven om (en ven'am), 1. make poisonous. 2. fill with bitterness, hate, etc.: The wicked boy envenomed his father's mind against his half brother. v.

en vi a ble (en'vī ə bl), to be envied; desirable; worth having: She has an enviable school record. adj. —en'vi a ble ness, n. —en'vi a bly, adv.

en vi ous (en'vī ə s), full of envy; feeling or showing envy: The weak are often envious of the strong. adj. —en'vi ous ly, adv. —en'vi ous ness, n.

en vi ron (en vī'rən), surround; enclose. v.

en vi ron ment (en vī'rən mēnt), 1. all of the surrounding conditions and influences that affect the development of a living thing. A person's character is influenced by his environment. Differences in environment often account for differences in plants of the same kind. 2. surroundings. 3. act or fact of surrounding. n.

en vi ron men tal (en vī'rən men'tl), having to do with environment. adj.

en vi rons (en vī'rən z), surrounding districts; suburbs: We visited Boston and its environs. n.pl.

en vis age (en viz'ij), form a mental picture of: The architect looked at the plans and envisaged the finished house. v., en vis aged, en vis ag ing.

en voy (en'voi), 1. messenger. 2. diplomat ranking next below an ambassador and next above a minister. n.

en vy (en'vī), 1. discontent or ill will at another's good fortune because one wishes it had been his; dislike for a person who has what one wants: All the boys were filled with envy when they saw Tom's new bicycle. 2. the object of such feeling: She was the envy of the younger girls in the school. 3. feel envy toward: Some people envy the rich. 4. feel envy because of: James envied his friend's success. 1,2 n., pl. en vies; 3,4 v., en vied, en vy ing.

en wrap (en rap'), wrap. v., en wrapped, en wrapping. Also, inwrap.

en wreath (en rē'θ), wreath around; encircle. v., en wreathed, en wreath ing. Also, inwreath.

en zyme (en'zim), a chemical substance, produced in living cells, that can cause changes in other substances within the body without being changed itself. Pepsin is an enzyme. n.

e o lith ic (ē'ə lith'ik), having to do with a very early stage of human culture, characterized by the use of the most primitive stone instruments. adj.

e on (ē'an), a very long period of time; many thousands of years: Eons passed before life existed on the earth. n. Also, aeon.

ep au let or ep au lette (ep'ə let), ornament on the shoulder of a uniform. Epaulets are usually worn only by officers in the army and navy. n.

e phed rine (i fed'rīn, ef'ə drēn, or ef'ə drīn), drug used to relieve hay fever, asthma, head colds, etc. It is a plant alkaloid. n.

e phem er al (i fem'ər əl), lasting for only a day; lasting for only a very short time; very short-lived. adj.

e phem er id (i fem'ər id), May fly, a type of insect living a day or two in the adult form but from one to three years in the immature stage. n.

E phe sian (i fē'zhən), 1. of Ephesus or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Ephesus. 1 adj., 2 n.

E phe si ans (i fē'zhən z), book of the New Testament written in the name of the Apostle Paul to the Christians at Ephesus. n.

Epaulet

Eph e sus (ef'ə səs), an ancient Greek city in W Asia Minor. Its ruins are near Smyrna. n.

eph od (ef'od), vestment worn by Hebrew priests in performing sacred duties. n.

ep ic (ep'ik), 1. a long poem that tells of the adventures of one or more great heroes. An epic is written in a dignified, majestic style, and often gives expression to the ideals of a nation or race. The Iliad, the Aeneid, and Paradise Lost are epics. 2. any writing having the qualities of an epic. 3. story or series of events worthy of being the subject of an epic. 4. of or having to do with an epic. 5. like an epic; grand in style; heroic: epic deeds. 1-3 n., 4,5 adj. —ep'i cal ly, adv.

ep i carp (ep'ə kărp), the outer layer of a fruit or ripened ovary of a plant. The skin of a pear is its epicarp. n.

ep i cen ter (ep'ə sen'tər), point from which earthquake waves seem to go out. It is situated directly above the true center of the earthquake. n.

ep i cure (ep'ə kyūr), person who has a refined taste in eating and drinking and cares much about foods and drinks. n.

ep i cu re an (ep'ə kyūr rē'an), 1. like an epicure; fond of pleasure and luxury. 2. fit for an epicure: an epicurean banquet. 3. person fond of pleasure and luxury; epicure. 4. of Epicurus or his philosophy. 1,2,4 adj. 3 n.

Ep i cu rus (ep'ə kyūr'əs), 342?-270 B.C., Greek philosopher who taught that pleasure is the highest good and that virtue alone produces pleasure. n.

ep i dem ic (ep'ə dem'ik), 1. the rapid spreading of a disease so that many people have it at the same time: All the schools in the city were closed because of an epidemic of scarlet fever. 2. the rapid spread of an idea, fashion, etc. 3. affecting many people at the same time; widespread. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

ep i der mal (ep'ə dēr'ml), of or having to do with the epidermis. adj.

ep i der mis (ep'ə dēr'mis), the outer layer of the skin. n.

ep i glot tis (ep'ə glot'is), a thin, triangular plate of cartilage that covers the entrance to the windpipe during swallowing, so that food, etc., does not get into the lungs. n.

ep i gram (ep'ə gram), 1. a short, pointed or witty saying. Example: "Speech is silver, but silence is golden." 2. a short poem ending in a witty or clever turn of thought. Example:

"Here lies our Sovereign Lord the King, Whose word no man relies on,
Who never said a foolish thing, Nor ever did a wise one." n.

ep i gram mat ic (ep'ə grə mat'ik), 1. of epigrams; full of epigrams. 2. like an epigram; terse and witty. adj. —ep'i gram mat'ic al ly, adv.

e pig ra phy (i pig'rə fē), 1. inscriptions. 2. branch of knowledge that deals with the deciphering and interpretation of inscriptions. n.

ep i lep sy (ep'ə lep'sē), a chronic nervous disease whose attacks cause convulsions and unconsciousness. n.

ep i lep tic (ep'ə lep'tik), 1. of epilepsy. 2. having epilepsy. 3. person having epilepsy. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

ep i logue or ep i log (ep'ə lōg), 1. concluding section added to a novel, poem, etc., and serving to round out or interpret the work. 2. speech or poem after the end of a play. It is addressed to the audience and is spoken by one of the actors. n.

E piph a ny (i pīf'ə nē), January 6, the anniversary of the coming of the Wise Men to Christ at Bethlehem. n.

Section showing layers of the skin epiphyte (ep'ə fīt), any of various plants that grow on other plants for support, but not for nourishment. Many mosses, lichens, and orchids are epiphytes. n.

Epirus (i pī'rəs), ancient country in the W part of the Balkan peninsula. Part of it is now in Greece and part in Albania. See Thessaly for map. n.

Epis. or Episc., Episcopal.

episcopacy (i pis/kə pə sē), 1. government of a church by bishops. 2. bishops as a group. 3. position, rank, or term of office of a bishop; episcopate. n., pl. e pisc op a cies.

Episcopal (i pis/kə pl), of or having to do with the Church of England, or certain Protestant churches of the United States, such as the Protestant Episcopal Church or the Methodist Episcopal Church. adj.

episcopal (i pis/kə pl), 1. of or having to do with bishops. 2. governed by bishops. adj.

Episcopalian (i pis/kə pāl'yən), 1. member of the Protestant Episcopal Church. 2. Episcopal. 1 n., 2 adj.

episcopate (i pis/kə pit or i pis/kə pāt), 1. position, rank, or term of office of a bishop. 2. district under the charge of a bishop; bishopric. 3. bishops as a group. n.

episode (ep'ə sōd), 1. incident or experience that stands out from others: The year in France was an important episode in his life. 2. set of events or actions separate from the main plot of a novel, story, etc. 3. a similar digression in a musical composition. n.

episodic (ep'ə sōd'ik), like an episode; incidental; occasional. adj.

epistle (i pis'l), letter. Epistles are usually long, instructive letters written in formal or elegant language. n.

Epistle (i pis'l), 1. letter written by one of Christ's Apostles. The Epistles make up 21 books of the New Testament. 2. selection from one of these, read as part of the service of Holy Communion. n.

epistolary (i pis'tə lər'ē), 1. carried on by letters; contained in letters. 2. of letters; suitable for writing letters. adj.

epitaph (ep'ə taf), a short statement in memory of a dead person, usually put on his tombstone. n.

epithelial (ep'ə thē'lē əl), of the epithelium. adj.

epithelium (ep'ə thē'lē əm), a thin layer of cells forming a tissue that covers surfaces and lines hollow organs. n., pl. ep i the li ums, ep i the li a (-lē ə).

epithet (ep'ə thet), a descriptive expression; adjective or noun, or even a clause, expressing some quality or attribute: In "crafty Ulysses" and "Richard the Lion-Hearted" the epithets are "crafty" and "the Lion-Hearted." n.

epitome (i pit'ə mē), 1. a condensed account; summary. An epitome contains only the most important points of a literary work, subject, etc. 2. some thing or part that is typical or representative of the whole: Solomon is often spoken of as the epitome of wisdom. n.

epitomize (i pit'ə mīz), make an epitome of; summarize. v., e pit o mized, e pit o mizing.

epizootic (ep'ə zō ot'ik), 1. temporarily prevalent among animals. 2. an epizootic disease. 1 adj., 2 n.

pluribus unum (ē plūr'ə bəs ū'nəm), Latin. out of many, one; the motto on the official seal of the United States. It was once the official motto of the United States, but since 1956 the official motto has been "In God We Trust."

epoch (ep'ək), 1. period of time; era. 2. period of time in which striking things happened: The years from 1860 to 1865 were an epoch in the history of our country. 3. the starting point of such a period: The invention of the steam engine marked an epoch in the evolution of industry. n.

epochal (ep'ək l), 1. having to do with an epoch. 2. epoch-making. adj.

epoch-making (ep'ək māk'ing), beginning an epoch; causing important changes. adj.

eponym (ep'ō nim), person from whom a nation, tribe, place, etc., gets or is reputed to get its name: Romulus is the eponym of Rome. n.

eponymous (ep on'ə məs), giving one's name to a nation, tribe, place, etc. adj.

Epsom (ep'səm), town in SE England, near London. 68,000. n.

Epsom Downs, track where England's famous horse race, the Derby, is run.

Epsom salts, a bitter, white, crystalline powder taken in water to move the bowels.

equability (ek'wə bil'ə tē), equable condition or quality. n.

equable (ek'wə bl), changing little; uniform; even; tranquil: equable temperature, an equable disposition. adj. —eq'ua bly, adv.

equal (ē'kwəl), 1. the same in amount, size, number, value, degree, rank, etc.; as much; neither more nor less: Ten dimes are equal to one dollar. 2. person or thing that is equal: In spelling she had no equal. 3. be equal to: Four times five equals twenty. 4. make or do something equal to: Our team equaled the other team's score, and the game ended in a tie. 5. the same throughout; even; uniform. 6. Archaic. just; fair. 1,5,6 adj., 2 n., 3,4 v., e qualed, e qual ing or esp. Brit. e qualled, e qual ing.

equal to, able to; strong enough for; brave enough for; etc.: One horse is not equal to pulling a load of five tons.

equality (i kwəl'ə tē), being equal; sameness in amount, size, number, value, degree, rank, etc. n., pl. e qual i ties.

equalization (ē'kwəl ə zā'shən), 1. an equalizing. 2. being equalized. n.

equalize (ē'kwəl īz), 1. make equal. 2. make even or uniform. v., e qual ized, e qual iz ing. —e'qual-iz'er, n.

equally (ē'kwəl ē), in an equal manner; in or to an equal degree; so as to be equal: The sun shines equally on all. The two sisters are equally pretty. adv.

equanimity (ē'kwə nim'ə tē or ek'wə nim'ə tē), evenness of mind or temper; calmness: A wise man bears misfortune with equanimity. n.

equate (i kwāt'), 1. state to be equal; put in the form of an equation. 2. consider, treat, or represent as equal. 3. make equal. v., e quat ed, e quat ing.

equation (i kwā'zhən), 1. statement of equality between two quantities. Examples: $(4 \times 8) + 12 = 44$. $C = 2\pi r$. 2. expression using chemical formulas and symbols showing the substances used and produced in a chemical change. Example: $HCl + NaOH = NaCl + H_2O$. 3. an equating or being equated. n.

equator (i kwā'tər), 1. the great circle around the middle of the earth, halfway between the North Pole and the South Pole. 2. a similarly situated circle on any heavenly body. 3. a great circle (celestial equator) of the celestial sphere, the plane of which is perpendicular to the axis of the earth. n.

equatorial (ē'kwə tō'rē əl or ek'wə tō'rē əl), 1. of, at, or near the equator. 2. like conditions at or near the equator: The heat this week was almost equatorial. adj.

equerry (ek'wər ē), 1. officer of a royal or noble household who has charge of the horses or who accompanies his master's carriage. 2. attendant on a royal or noble person. n., pl. eq uer ries.

equestrian (i kwes'trē ən), 1. of horsemen or horsemanship; having to do with horseback riding: Cavalry should have equestrian skill. 2. on horseback; mounted on horseback: An equestrian statue shows a person riding a horse. 3. rider or performer on horseback. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

equestrienne (i kwes'trē ən'), a woman rider or performer on horseback. n.

equiangular (ē'kwə əng'gə lər), having all angles equal: A square is equiangular. adj.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

e qui dis tant (ē'kwə dis'tənt), equally distant: All points of the circumference of a circle are equidistant from the center. adj. —e'qui dis'tant ly, adv.

e qui lat er al (ē'kwə lat'ər əl), 1. having all sides equal. 2. figure having all sides equal. 1 adj., 2 n. —e'qui lat'ər al ly, adv.

e qui li brate (ē'kwə lī'brāt), balance. v., e qui li brat ed, e qui li brat ing.

e qui li bra tion (ē'kwə lī brā'shən), a balancing evenly; being balanced evenly. n.

e qui lib ri um (ē'kwə lib'rē əm), 1. state of balance; condition in which opposing forces exactly balance or equal each other: The acrobat in the circus maintained equilibrium on a tightrope. Scales are in equilibrium when the weights on each side are equal. 2. mental poise: She is a sensible person and will not let little annoyances upset her equilibrium. n.

e quine (ē'kwīn), 1. of horses; like a horse; like that of a horse. 2. a horse. 1 adj., 2 n.

e qui nox tial (ē'kwə nok'shəl), 1. having to do with either equinox. Equinoctial points are the two imaginary points in the sky where the sun crosses the celestial equator. 2. occurring at or near the equinox: equinoctial gales. 3. storm occurring at or near the equinox. 4. at or near the earth's equator: Borneo is an equinoctial island. 1,2,4 adj., 3 n.

equinoctial line, celestial equator. See equator (def. 3).

e qui nox (ē'kwə noks), either of the two times in the year when the center of the sun crosses the celestial equator, and day and night are of equal length all over the earth, occurring about March 21 and September 22. n.

e quip (i kwip'), furnish with all that is needed; fit out; provide: The soldiers equipped the fort with guns, bullets, and food. v., e quipped, e quip ping.

eq ui page (ek'wə pij), 1. carriage. 2. carriage with its horses, driver, and servants. 3. equipment; outfit. n.

e quip ment (i kwip'mənt), 1. act of equipping. 2. state of being equipped. 3. what a person or thing is equipped with; outfit; furnishings; supplies. 4. knowledge or skill; ability. n.

e qui poise (ē'kwə poiz or ek'wə poiz), 1. state of balance. 2. a balancing force; counterbalance. n.

eq ui ta ble (ek'wə tə bl), 1. fair; just: Paying a person what he has earned is equitable. 2. having to do with or dependent upon equity; valid in equity, as distinguished from common law and statute law. adj. —eq'ui ta ble ness, n. —eq'ui ta bly, adv.

eq ui ta tion (ek'wə tā'shən), horseback riding. n.

eq ui ty (ek'wə tē), 1. fairness; justice. 2. what is fair and just. 3. system of rules and principles based on fairness and justice. Equity supplements common law and statute law by covering cases in which fairness and justice require a settlement not covered by law. In the United States, law and equity are usually administered by the same court. 4. claim or right according to equity. 5. Informal. amount that a property is worth beyond what is owed on it. n., pl. eq ui ties.

e quiv a lence (i kwiv'ə ləns), a being equivalent; equality in value, force, significance, etc. n.

e quiv a lent (i kwiv'ə lənt), 1. equal in value, measure, force, effect, meaning, etc.: Nodding your head is equivalent to saying yes. 2. having the same extent: A triangle and a square of equal area are equivalent. 3. something equivalent. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —e quiv'a-lent ly, adv.

e quiv o cal (i kwiv'ə kl), 1. having two or more meanings; intentionally vague or ambiguous: His equivocal answer left us uncertain as to his real opinion. 2. undecided; uncertain: The result of the experiment was equivocal and proved nothing. 3. questionable; rousing suspicion: The stranger's equivocal behavior made it unlikely that anyone would trust him. adj. —e quiv'o-cal ly, adv.

e quiv o cate (i kwiv'ə kāt), use expressions of double meaning in order to mislead: When asked if he had finished his arithmetic, Jack equivocated by saying, "I was working on that an hour ago." v., e quiv o cat ed, e quiv-o cat ing. —e quiv'o ca'tor, n.

e quiv o ca tion (i kwiv'ə kā'shən), 1. use of equivocal expressions in order to mislead. 2. an equivocal expression. n.

-er¹, suffix often added to a noun or a verb to form a noun.

1. person or thing that —s: Admirer=a person who admires. Burner=thing that burns.

2. person living in —: New Yorker=a person living in New York. Villager=a person living in a village.

3. person that makes or works with —: Hatter=a person who makes hats.

4. person or thing that is or has —: Six-footer=a person who is six feet tall.

-er², suffix meaning: person or thing connected with, as in officer.

-er³, suffix forming the comparative degree:

1. of adjectives, as in softer, smoother.

2. of adverbs, as in slower.

Er, erbium.

e ra (ir'ə), 1. a historical period distinguished by certain important or significant happenings; an age in history: The years from 1817 to 1824 in United States history are often called the Era of Good Feeling. 2. period of time starting from some important or significant happening, date, etc. 3. system of reckoning time from some important or significant happening, given date, etc. The Christian era is the period of time reckoned from about four years after the birth of Christ. 4. one of five very extensive periods of time in geological history. n.

e rad i ca ble (i rad'ə kə bl), that can be eradicated. adj.

e rad i cate (i rad'ə kāt), 1. get entirely rid of; destroy completely: Yellow fever has been eradicated in the United States. 2. pull out by the roots: eradicate weeds from a garden. v., e rad i cat ed, e rad i cat ing. —e rad'i ca'tor, n.

e rad i ca tion (i rad'ə kā'shən), an eradicating; complete destruction. n.

e rase (i rās'), 1. rub out; scrape out: He erased the wrong answer and wrote in the right one. 2. remove all trace of; blot out: The blow on his head erased from his memory the details of the accident. v., e rased, e ras ing. —e ras'a ble, adj.

e ras er (i rās'ər), implement for erasing marks made with pencil, ink, chalk, etc. Erasers are usually made of rubber or felt. n.

E ras mus (i rāz'məs), 1466?-1536, Dutch scholar and humanist, a leader of the Renaissance movement. n.

e ra sure (i rā'shər), 1. an erasing. 2. an erased word, letter, etc. 3. place where a word, letter, etc., has been erased. n.

er bi um (ēr'bē əm), a rare metallic element of the yttrium group. Symbol: Er n.

ere (ār), 1. before: He will come ere long. 2. sooner than; rather than. 1 prep., 1,2 conj.

Er e bus (er'ə bəs), in Greek mythology, a dark, gloomy place through which the dead passed on their way to Hades. n.

e rect (i rekt'), 1. straight up; upright: A chimney stands erect. 2. put straight up; set upright: They erected the flagpole in ten minutes. The pole was erected on a firm base. 3. build; put up: That house was erected forty years ago. 4. put together; set up: When the missing parts arrived we erected the machine. 5. raised; bristling: The cat faced the dog with fur erect. 1,5 adj., 2-4 v. —e rect'ly, adv. —e rect'ness, n. —e rec'tor, n.

e rec tion (i rek'shən), 1. an erecting: The erection of the tent took only a few minutes. 2. being erected. 3. thing erected; building or other structure. n.

ere long (ār'lŏng'), before long; soon. adv.

er e mite (er'ə mīt), hermit. n.

ere while (ār'hwil'), Archaic. a while before; a short time ago. adv.

erg (èrg), unit for measuring work or energy. It is the amount of work done by one dyne acting through a distance of one centimeter. n.

er go (ér'gō), Latin, therefore. adv., conj.

er got (ér'gət), 1. disease of rye and other cereals in which the grains are replaced by blackish fungus growths. 2. medicine made from these growths, used to stop bleeding and to contract muscles. n.

Er hard (är'härt), Ludwig, born 1897, German statesman; chancellor of West Germany, from 1963 to 1966. n.

Er ic son (er'ik sən), Leif, Viking chieftain and son of Eric the Red. He probably discovered North America about 1000 A.D. n.

Er ics son (er'ik sən), 1. John, 1803-1889, Swedish inventor and engineer in America. He built the first ironclad warship, the Monitor. 2. See Ericson. n.

Er ic the Red (er'ik), born 950? A.D., Viking chief who discovered Greenland about 982 A.D.

Erie (ir'ē), 1. Lake, one of the five Great Lakes, between the United States and Canada. 240 mi. long; 9940 sq. mi. 2. city in NW Pennsylvania on Lake Erie. 138,000. 3. member of a tribe of American Indians formerly living along the S and E shores of Lake Erie. n.

Erie Canal, a canal in New York State between Buffalo on Lake Erie and Albany on the Hudson River. Parts of it are now abandoned, but most of it is included in the New York State Barge Canal System.

Er in (er'ən), Poetic. Ireland. n.

Er in y es (i rin'ē ēz), in Greek mythology, the Furies, three female spirits with snaky hair who avenged unpunished crimes. n.pl.

Er i tre a (er'ə trē'ə), a former Italian colony on the Red Sea in NE Africa, now part of Ethiopia. n.

Er i van (er'ə vān'), city in southern Soviet Union. It is the capital of the republic of Armenia. 509,000. n.

er ling (er'ling'), in German and Scandinavian legend, a spirit or personification of natural forces, such as cold, storm, etc., that does harm, especially to children. n.

er mine (er'mən), 1. any of several kinds of weasel of northern climates which are brown in summer, but white with a black-tipped tail in winter. 2. the soft, white fur of the winter phase, used for women's coats, trimming, etc. The official robes of English judges are trimmed with ermine as a symbol of purity and fairness. 3. position, rank, or duties of a judge. n., pl. er mines or (esp. collectively) er mine.

Ermine (total length 15 in.)

e rode (i rōd'), 1. eat into; eat or wear away gradually: Running water erodes soil and rocks. 2. form by a gradual eating or wearing away: The stream eroded a channel in the solid rock. v., e rod ed, e rod ing.

E ros (ir'os or er'os), the Greek god of love, the son of Aphrodite, identified by the Romans with Cupid. n.

e ro sion (i rō'zhən), 1. a gradual eating or wearing away by glaciers, running water, waves, or wind: Trees help prevent the erosion of soil by running water. 2. being eaten or worn away. n.

e ro sive (i rō'siv), eroding; causing erosion. adj.

e rot ic (i rot'ik), of or having to do with sexual love. adj. —e rot'i cal ly, adv.

err (èr or er), 1. go wrong; make mistakes. 2. be wrong; be mistaken or incorrect. 3. do wrong; sin. v.
er rand (er'ənd), 1. a trip to do something: The little boy goes to the stores and runs other errands for his parents. 2. what one is sent to do: She did ten errands in one trip. 3. purpose or object of a trip. n.

er rant (er'ənt), 1. traveling in search of adventure; wandering; roving. 2. wrong; mistaken; incorrect. adj.

er ra ta (ə rā'tə), pl. of erratum. n.

er rat ic (ə rat'ik), 1. not steady; uncertain; irregular: An erratic mind jumps from one idea to another. 2. queer; odd; erratic behavior. adj.

er rat i cal ly (ə rat'ik lē), in an erratic manner. adv.
er ra tum (ə rā'təm), error or mistake in writing or printing. n., pl. er ra ta.

er ro ne ous (ə rō'nē əs), wrong; mistaken; incorrect: the erroneous belief that the earth is flat. adj. —er ro'ne ous ly, adv.

er ror (er'ər), 1. something wrong; what is incorrect; mistake: A false belief is an error. I failed my test because of errors in spelling. 2. condition of being wrong, mistaken, or incorrect: You are in error; your idea is false. 3. wrongdoing. 4. a faulty play in baseball that permits the batter to remain at bat or allows a runner who should have been put out to advance. n.

er satz (er'zäts), substitute. adj., n.

erst while (èrst'hwil'), 1. Archaic. some time ago; in time past; formerly. 2. former; past. 1. adv., 2. adj.

er u dite (er'ü dīt or er'yü dīt), scholarly; learned. adj. —er'u dite'ly, adv.

er u di tion (er'ü dish'ən or er'yü dish'ən), acquired knowledge; scholarship; learning. n.

e rupt (i rupt'), 1. burst forth: Hot water erupted from the geyser. 2. throw forth: The volcano erupted lava and ashes. 3. break out in a rash: Her skin erupted when she had measles. 4. break through the gums: When the baby was 7 months old, his teeth started to erupt. v.

e rup tion (i rup'shən), 1. a bursting forth. 2. a throwing forth of lava, etc., from a volcano or of hot water from a geyser. 3. a breaking out in a rash. 4. red spots on the skin; rash: Scarlet fever causes an eruption on the body. 5. breaking through the gums: The eruption of teeth made the baby fretful. 6. outbreak; outburst: Wise men fear eruptions of race or national hatred. n.

e rup tive (i rup'tiv), 1. bursting forth; tending to burst forth. 2. causing the skin to break out: Measles is an eruptive disease. 3. of or formed by volcanic eruptions. adj.

-ery, suffix added to another noun, a verb, or an adjective to form a noun:

1. place for—ing, as in cannery, hatchery.
2. place for—s, as in muntery.
3. occupation or business of a—, as in cookery.
4. state or condition of a—, as in slavery.
5. qualities, actions, etc., of a—, as in knavery.
6. —s as a group, as in machinery.

er y sip e las (er'ə sip'l əs), an acute infectious disease caused by streptococcus bacteria and characterized by a fever and a deep-red inflammation of the skin. n.
Es, einsteinium.

E sau (ē'sō), the older son of Isaac and Rebecca, who sold his birthright to his brother Jacob. Genesis 25:21-34. n.

es ca drille (es'kə dril'), a small fleet of airplanes or warships, together with the equipment and men needed to keep them in use. n.

es ca late (es'kə lāt), increase by stages: Small battles may escalate into major wars. v., es ca lat ed, es ca lat ing.

es ca la tor (es'kə lā'tər), a continuous moving stairway. Many department stores have escalators to carry the customers from one floor to another. n.

es cal lop (es kol'əp), bake in a cream sauce. v.

hat, äge, cäre, fär; let, bē, tērm; it, ice; hot, gō, örder; oil, out; cup, püt, rüle, üse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; th, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

es ca pade (es'kəpād), a breaking loose from rules or restraint; wild adventure or prank. n.

es cape (es kăp'), 1. get free; get out and away: The soldier escaped from the enemy's prison. 2. get free from: He thinks he will never escape hard work. 3. keep free or safe from; avoid: We all escaped the measles. He escaped being killed in the blast because he had not gone to work. 4. avoid capture, trouble, etc.: The thief has escaped. 5. an escaping. 6. way of escaping. 7. providing a way of escape or avoidance. 8. come out of without being intended: A cry escaped her lips. 9. fail to be noticed or remembered by: The pin escaped my eye. I knew his face, but his name escaped me.

10. relief from boredom, trouble, etc.: find escape in mystery stories. 11. outflow or leakage of gas, water, etc. 1-4,8,9 v., es caped, es caping; 5,6,10,11 n., 7 adj.

es cape ment (es kăp'mənt), 1. device in a timepiece by which the motion of the wheels and of the pendulum or balance wheel are accommodated to each other. One tooth of the wheel escapes at each swing of the pendulum. 2. mechanism that controls the movement of a typewriter carriage. n.

es cap ism (es kăp'iz əm), a habitual avoidance of unpleasant realities by recourse to imagination or to entertainment, such as motion pictures. n.

es ca role (es'kə rōl), a kind of endive that has broad leaves, used for salads. n.

es carp ment (es kărp'mənt), 1. a steep slope; cliff. 2. ground made into a steep slope as part of a fortification. n.

es chew (es chü'), avoid; shun; keep away from: A wise person eschews bad company. v.

es cort (es'kōrt for 1,2; es kōrt' for 3), 1. one or a group going with another to give protection, show honor, etc.: an escort of ten airplanes. Her escort to the party was a tall young man. 2. act of going with another as an escort. 3. go with as an escort: Warships escorted the troopship. 1,2 n., 3 v.

es crow (es'krō or es krō'), deed, bond, or other written agreement put in charge of a third person until certain conditions are fulfilled by two other parties. n. in escrow, held by a third party in accordance with an agreement.

es cu do (es kŭ'dō), 1. a unit of Portuguese gold money worth about 3 cents in 1964; 100 centavos. 2. coin worth 100 centavos. 3. a former gold or silver coin of Spain, Portugal, and their colonies, worth about $2. n., pl. es cu dos.

es cu lent (es'kyə lənt), suitable for food; edible. adj.

es cutch eon (es kuch'ən), shield or shield-shaped surface on which a coat of arms is put. n.

-ese, suffix often added to a noun to form an adjective or a noun:

1. of or having to do with: She admires Japanese art. 2. native or inhabitant of (a country): The Portuguese colonized Brazil. 3. language of: Can you read Chinese? E.S.E. or ESE, east-southeast.

Es ki mo (es'kə mō), member of a race living on the arctic shores of North America and NE Asia. Eskimos are short and stocky, and have broad, flat faces, yellowish skin, and black hair. n., pl. Es ki mos or Es ki mo.

Eskimo dog, a strong dog used by the Eskimos to pull their sleds.

Two forms of escapement

Escutcheon

Eskimos

e soph a gus (ē sof'ə gəs), passage for food from the mouth to the stomach; gullet. n.

es o ter ic (es'ə ter'ik), 1. understood only by the select few; intended for an inner circle of disciples, scholars, etc. 2. private; secret; confidential. adj. —es'o ter'i cal ly, adv.

esp., especially.

es pe cial (es pesh'əl), special; particular; exceptional: my especial friend, of no especial value. adj.

es pe cial ly (es pesh'əl ē), particularly; chiefly; unusually: This book is designed especially for junior high-school students. adv.

es pi al (es pī'əl), 1. act of spying. 2. act of watching. 3. discovery. n.

es pi o nage (es'pē ə nij or es'pē ə nāzh), use of spies; especially, the use of spies by one country to find out the military, political, etc., secrets of another; spying. n.

es pla nade (es'plə nād' or es'plə nād'), 1. any open, level space used for public walks or drives. 2. an open space separating a fortress from the houses of a town. n.

es pous al (es pouz'l), 1. an espousing; adoption (of a cause, etc.). 2. ceremony of becoming engaged or married. n.

es pouse (es pouz'), 1. marry. 2. take up or make one's own: Late in life he espoused a new religion. v., es poused, es pous ing.

es prit (es prē') lively wit; spirit. n.

es prit de corps (es prē' də kōr'), French. a sense of union and of common interests and responsibilities in some group: The regiment had a strong "esprit de corps."

es py (es pī'), see; spy. We usually say "espy" only if the thing is hard to see because it is far away, or small, or hidden. v., es pied, es py ing.

Esq. or Esqr., Esquire: Harry A. Kinne, Esq.

Es qui mau (es'kə mō), Eskimo. n., pl. Es qui maux (mō or mōz).

es quire (es kwir' or es'kwir), 1. in the Middle Ages, a young man of noble family who attended a knight until he himself was made a knight. 2. Englishman ranking next below a knight. 3. Archaic. an English country gentleman; squire. n.

Es quire (es kwir' or es'kwir), title of respect placed after a man's last name instead of Mr. before the name: John Jones, Esquire = Mr. John Jones. n. ess (es), the 19th letter of the alphabet (S, s). n.

-ess, suffix meaning: — female, as in heiress, hostess, lioness.

es say (es'ā for 1; e sā' for 2; es'ā or e sā' for 3), 1. a literary composition on a certain subject. An essay is usually shorter and less methodical than a treatise. 2. try; attempt. 3. a try; an attempt. 1,3 n., 2 v.

es say ist (es'ā ist), writer of essays. n.

Es sen (es'n), city in West Germany. 728,000. n.

es sence (es'ns), 1. that which makes a thing what it is; necessary part or parts; important feature or features: Kindness is the essence of politeness. 2. any concentrated substance that has the characteristic flavor, fragrance, or effect of the plant, fruit, etc., from which it is obtained. Atropine is the essence of the belladonna plant. 3. solution of such a substance in alcohol. Essence of peppermint is oil of peppermint dissolved in alcohol. 4. perfume. n.

es sen tial (ə sen'shəl), 1. needed to make a thing what it is; necessary; very important: Good food and enough rest are essential to good health. 2. an absolutely necessary element or quality; fundamental feature: Learn the essentials first; then learn the details. 3. of, like, or constituting the essence of a substance. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

es sen tial ly (ə sen'shəl ē), in essence; in essentials; in an essential manner. adv.

essential oil, a volatile oil that gives a plant, fruit, etc., its characteristic flavor, fragrance, or effect. It is used to make perfume and flavoring.

-est, suffix forming the superlative degree:

1. of adjectives, as in warmest.

2. of adverbs, as in slowest.

est., 1. established. 2. estate. 3. estuary.

es tablish (es tab'lish), 1. set up permanently: establish a business. The English established colonies in America. 2. settle in a position; set up in a business: A new doctor has established himself on this street. 3. bring about permanently; cause to be accepted: establish a custom. 4. show beyond dispute; prove: establish a fact. 5. make (a church) a national institution recognized and supported by the government. v.

established church, church that is a national institution recognized and supported by the government.

es tablish ment (es tab'lish mēnt), 1. an establishing. 2. a being established. 3. thing established. A household, business, church, or army is an establishment. 4. recognition by the state of a church as the official church. n.

es tate (es tāt'), 1. a large piece of land belonging to a person; landed property: He has a beautiful estate with a country house and a swimming pool on it. 2. that which a person owns; property; possessions. Land and buildings are real estate. When a person dies, his estate is divided up among those to whom he has left it. 3. condition or stage in life: A boy attains man's estate at 21. 4. class or group of people in a nation. n. the three estates, the noblemen, clergymen, and common people.

es teem (es tēm'), 1. have a very favorable opinion of; regard highly: We esteem courage. 2. a very favorable opinion; high regard: Courage is held in esteem. 3. think; consider: Men have often esteemed happiness the greatest good. 1,3 v., 2 n.

es ter (es'tər), compound in which the acid hydrogen of an acid is replaced by a hydrocarbon radical. Animal and vegetable fats and oils are esters. n.

Es ther (es'tər), 1. the Jewish wife of a Persian king, who saved her people from massacre. 2. book of the Old Testament that tells her story. n.

es thete (es'thēt), aesthete. n.

es thet ic (es thet'ik), aesthetic. adj.

es thet i cal ly (es thet'ik lē), aesthetically. adv.

es thet ics (es thet'iks), aesthetics. n.

Es tho ni a (es thō'nē ə or es tō'nē ə), Estonia. n.

es ti ma ble (es'tə mə bl), 1. worthy of esteem; deserving high regard. 2. capable of being estimated or calculated. adj. —es'ti ma bly, adv.

es ti mate (es'tə mit or es'tə māt for 1,3; es'tə māt for 2,4), 1. judgment or opinion about how much, how many, how good, etc.: My estimate of the length of the room was 15 feet; it actually measured 14 feet, 9 inches. 2. form a judgment or opinion about (how much, how many, how good, etc.): Father estimated that it would take four hours to weed the garden. 3. statement of what certain work will cost, made by one willing to do the work: The painter's estimate for painting the house was $500. 4. fix the worth, size, amount, etc., especially in a rough way; calculate approximately. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., es ti mat ed, es ti mat ing.

—es'ti ma'tor, n.

es ti ma tion (es'tə mā'shən), 1. judgment; opinion: In my estimation, your plan will not work. 2. esteem; respect. 3. act or process of estimating. n.

es ti vate (es'tə vāt), of animals, spend the summer in a dormant or torpid condition. Some snakes estivate. v., es ti vat ed, es ti vat ing. Also, aestivate.

Es to ni a (es tō'nē ə), a Soviet republic in N Europe, on the Baltic Sea. 1,196,000 pop.; 18,353 sq. mi. Capital: Tallinn. n. Also, Esthonia. —Es to'ni an, adj., n.

es top (es top'), 1. in law, prevent from asserting or doing something contrary to a previous assertion or act. 2. Archaic. stop; bar; obstruct. v., es topped, es top ping.

es trange (es trānj'), 1. turn (a person) from affection to indifference, dislike, or hatred; make unfriendly; separate: A quarrel had estranged him from his family. 2. keep apart; keep away. v., es tranged, es trang ing.

es trange ment (es trānj'mēnt), 1. an estranging. 2. being estranged: A misunderstanding between the two friends had caused their estrangement. n.

es tu ary (es'chū er'ē), 1. a broad mouth of a river into which the tide flows. 2. inlet of the sea. n., pl. es tu aries.

et al., 1. and others. 2. and elsewhere.

etc., et cetera.

et cet er a (et set'ər ə), and others; and the rest; and so forth; and so on; and the like.

et cet er as (et set'ər əz), extra things. n.pl.

etch (ech), 1. engrave (a drawing or design) on metal, glass, etc., by means of acid. When filled with ink, the lines of the design will reproduce a copy on paper. 2. engrave a drawing or design on by means of acid: The artist etched only a few copper plates. 3. make drawings or designs by this method. v. —etch'er, n.

etch ing (ech'ing), 1. picture or design printed from an etched plate. 2. an etched plate; etched drawing or design. 3. art of an etcher; process of engraving a drawing or design on metal, glass, etc., by means of acid. n.

e ter nal (i tēr'nl), 1. without beginning or ending; lasting throughout all time. 2. always and forever the same. 3. seeming to go on forever; occurring very frequently. adj.

the Eternal, God.

Eternal City, Rome.

e ter nal ly (i tēr'nl ē), 1. without beginning or ending; throughout all time. 2. always and forever. 3. constantly; incessantly. adv.

e ter ni ty (i tēr'nə tē), 1. time without beginning or ending; all time. 2. eternal quality; endlessness. 3. the endless period after death; future life. 4. a seemingly endless period of time. n., pl. e ter ni ties.

e ter nize (i tēr'niz), make eternal; perpetuate; immortalize. v., e ter nized, e ter niz ing.

eth ane (eth'ān), a colorless, odorless, inflammable gas present in natural gas and coal gas. n.

e ther (ē'thər), 1. a colorless, strong-smelling liquid that burns and evaporates readily. Its fumes cause unconsciousness when deeply inhaled. Ether is used as a solvent for fats and resins. 2. the upper regions of space beyond the earth's atmosphere; clear sky; aether. 3. an invisible, elastic medium formerly supposed to be distributed evenly through all space and to conduct light waves, electric waves, etc.; aether. n.

e the re al (i thir'ē əl), 1. light; airy; delicate: Her ethereal beauty made her seem more like a spirit than a human being. 2. not of the earth; heavenly. 3. of or having to do with the upper regions of space. 4. of or having to do with the ether diffused through space. adj. Also, aethereal. —e the're al ly, adv.

e the re al ize (i thir'ē əl īz), make ethereal. v., e the re al ized, e the re al iz ing.

eth i cal (eth'ə kl), 1. having to do with standards of right and wrong; of ethics or morality. 2. in accordance with formal or professional rules of right and wrong: It is not considered ethical for a doctor to repeat a patient's confidences. adj. —eth'i cal ly, adv.

eth ics (eth'iks), 1. study of standards of right and wrong; that part of science and philosophy dealing with moral conduct, duty, and judgment. 2. book about ethics. 3. formal or professional rules of right and wrong; system of conduct or behavior: Medical ethics do not permit doctors and surgeons to advertise. 1,2 n.sing., 3 n.pl.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

Ethiopia (ē'thē ō'pē ə), 1. an ancient region in NE Africa, south of Egypt. 2. country in E Africa; Abyssinia. 20,000,000 pop.; 395,000 sq. mi. Capital: Addis Ababa. n.

Ethiopian (ē'thē ō'pē ən), 1. of or having to do with Ethiopia or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Ethiopia. 3. Negro. 1,3 adj., 2,3 n.

ethnic (eth'nik), 1. having to do with the various races of people and the characteristics and customs of each; of, having to do with, or peculiar to a race. 2. heathen; pagan; not Christian; not Jewish. adj.

ethnography (eth nog'rə fē), the scientific description and classification of the various races of people. n.

ethnologic (eth'nə loj'ik), ethnological. adj.

ethnological (eth'nə loj'ə kl), having to do with ethnology. adj.

ethnologically (eth'nə loj'ik lē), from the point of view of ethnology. adv.

ethnologist (eth nol'ə jist), person trained in ethnology. n.

ethnology (eth nol'ə jē), science that deals with the various races of people, their origin, distribution, characteristics, customs, institutions, and culture. n.

Ethyl (eth'əl), Trademark. 1. a poisonous, colorless lead compound used in gasoline to reduce knocking. 2. gasoline containing this. n.

ethyl alcohol, ordinary alcohol, made by the fermentation of grain, sugar, etc.

ethylene (eth'ə lēn), a colorless, inflammable gas with an unpleasant odor, used as an anesthetic, in making organic compounds, and for coloring and ripening citrus fruits. n.

etiology (ē'tē ol'ə jē), 1. an assigning of a cause. 2. science that deals with origins or causes. 3. theory of the causes of disease. n.

etiquette (et'ə ket), 1. conventional rules for conduct or behavior in polite society: Etiquette requires a man to rise when a woman enters the room. 2. formal rules or conventions governing conduct in a profession, official ceremony, etc.: medical etiquette. n.

Etna (et'nə), Mount, volcano in NE Sicily. 10,758 ft. n. Also, Aetna, Mount.

Eton (et'n), a famous English school for boys, at Eton, a town near London. n. Boy wearing Eton jacket, a short, black coat with an Eton jacket broad lapels. The jacket comes to the waist and is not made to button.

Etruria (i trū'rē ə), an ancient country in W Italy. n. —Etrurian, adj., n.

Etruscan (i trus'kən), 1. of or having to do with Etruria, its people, their language, art, or customs. 2. native or inhabitant of Etruria. 3. language of Etruria. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

et seq., and the following; and that which follows.

-ette, suffix often added to a noun to form a new noun:

1. little, as in kitchenette, statuette.
2. female, as in farmerette, suffragette.
3. substitute for, as in leatherette.
4. various other meanings.

étude (ā tūd' or ā tūd'), 1. study. 2. piece of music intended to develop skill in technique. n.

etymologic (et'ə mə loj'ə kl), having to do with the origin and history of words. adj.

etymologically (et'ə mə loj'ik lē), according to etymology; by etymology; with respect to origin and history. adv.

etymologist (et'ə mol'ə jist), person skilled in etymology. n.

etymology (et'ə mol'ə jē), 1. the derivation of a word. 2. account or explanation of the origin and history of a word. 3. study dealing with linguistic changes, especially with individual word origins. n., pl. etymologies.

Eu, europium.

Eu boe a (ū bē'ə), the largest island in the Aegean Sea, near Greece and belonging to it. 165,000 pop.; 1586 sq. mi. n. —Eu boe'an, n., adj.

euca lyptus (ū'kə lip'təs), a very tall tree that grows in Australia and elsewhere. It is valued for its timber and for an oil made from its leaves. n., pl. euca lyptus es, euca lypti (-tī).

Eucha rist (ū'kə rist), 1. sacrament of the Lord's Supper; Holy Communion. 2. the consecrated bread and wine used in this sacrament. n.

Eucha rist ic (ū'kə ris'tik), having to do with the Eucharist. adj.

eu chre (ū'kər), 1. a simple card game for two, three, or four players, using the 32 (or 28, or 24) highest cards in the pack. 2. defeat (the side that declared the trump) at euchre. 1 n., 2 v., eu chred, eu chring.

Euclid (ū'klid), Greek mathematician who wrote a book on geometry about 300 B.C. n.

eugen ic (ū jen'ik), 1. having to do with improvement of the race; improving the offspring produced; improving the race. 2. coming of good stock. adj.

eugen ical ly (ū jen'ik lē), in a eugenic manner; with respect to racial improvement. adv.

eugen ics (ū jen'iks), 1. science of improving the human race by a careful selection of parents in order to develop healthier, more intelligent, and better children. 2. science of improving offspring. n. sing. or pl.

eu lo gist (ū'lə jist), person who eulogizes. n.

eu lo gist ic (ū'lə jis'tik), praising highly. adj. —eu'lo gist'ical ly, adv.

eu lo gist ic al (ū'lə jis'tə kl), eulogistic. adj.

eu lo gize (ū'lə jiz), praise very highly. v., eu lo gized, eu lo gizing. —eu'lo gize' er, n.

eu lo gy (ū'lə jē), speech or writing in praise of a person, action, etc.; high praise: He pronounced a eulogy upon the hero. n., pl. eu lo gies.

Eumeni des (ū men'ə dēz), in Greek mythology, the Furies; Erinyes. Literally, the kindly (goddesses), a name for the Furies used to avoid offending them. n. pl.

eu nuch (ū'nək), 1. a castrated man. 2. a castrated man in charge of a harem or the household of an Oriental ruler. n.

eu pep si a (ū pep'sē ə), good digestion. n.

eu pep tic (ū pep'tik), 1. having good digestion. 2. aiding digestion. adj.

eu phe mism (ū'fə miz əm), 1. use of a mild or indirect expression instead of one that is harsh or unpleasantly direct. 2. a mild or indirect expression used in this way: "Pass away" is a common euphemism for "die." The name "Eumenides" for the Furies was a euphemism. n.

eu phe mist (ū'fə mist), person who uses euphemisms. n.

eu phe mis tic (ū'fə mis'tik), of or showing euphemism; containing a euphemism. adj.

eu phe mis ti cal ly (ū'fə mis'tik lē), by way of euphemism; using euphemism. adv.

eu phon ic (ū fon'ik), 1. having to do with euphony. 2. euphonic. adj.

eu pho ni ous (ū fō'nē əs), sounding well; pleasing to the ear; harmonious. adj. —eu pho'ni ous ly, adv. —eu pho'ni ousness, n.

eu pho ni um (ū fō'nē əm), a brass musical instrument like a tuba that has a loud, deep tone. n.

eu pho ny (ū'fə nē), 1. agree- Man playing a euphonium ableness of sound; pleasing effect to the ear; agreeableness of speech sounds as uttered or combined in utterance. 2. tendency to change sounds so as to favor ease of utterance. n., pl. eu pho nies.

euphorbia (ū fôr'bē ə), any of a genus of plants with acid, milky juice and small, inconspicuous flowers; spurge. Some euphorbia resemble cacti. n.

euphoria (ū fôr'rē ə), a feeling of well-being. n.

Euphrates (ū frā'tēz), river in SW Asia, flowing from E Turkey into the Persian Gulf. It joins the Tigris River in Iraq. 1700 mi. n.

euphuism (ū'fū iz əm), any affected, elegant style of writing; flowery, artificial language. n.

Eurasia (yūr ā'zhə), Europe and Asia. n.

Eurasian (yūr ā'zhən), 1. of or having to do with Eurasia or its people. 2. person of mixed European and Asiatic parentage. 3. of mixed European and Asiatic parentage. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

Euratom (yūr at'əm), group of six European countries (France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg) organized for atomic research. n.

euureka (yū rē'kə), I have found it! (the motto of California). interj.

Euripides (yū rip'ē dēz), 480?-406? B.C., one of the three greatest Greek tragic poets. n.

Euro pa (yū rō'pə), in Greek mythology, a Phoenician princess loved by Zeus. He took the form of a white bull and carried her off on his back to Crete. n.

Euro pe (yūr'əp), continent west of Asia. 575,000,000 pop.; 3,750,000 sq. mi. n.

Euro pean (yūr'ə pē'ən), 1. of or having to do with Europe or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Europe. 1 adj., 2 n.

European Free Trade Association, Outer Seven. n.

Euro pe an ize (yūr'ə pē'ən iz), make European in appearance, habit, way of life, etc. v., Euro pe an ized, Euro pe an iz ing.

eu ro pi um (yū rō'pē əm), a rare metallic element of the same group as cerium. Symbol: Eu n.

Eurydice (yū rid'ə sē), in Greek legend, the wife of Orpheus. He freed her from Hades by the charm of his music, but lost her again because he disobeyed the orders of Pluto and turned back to see if she were following. n.

Eustachian tube (ū stā'kē ən or ū stā'shən), a slender canal between the pharynx and the middle ear. It equalizes the air pressure on the two sides of the eardrum. See ear for diagram.

eu tha na sia (ū'thə nā'zhə), 1. an easy, painless death. 2. a painless killing, especially to end a painful and incurable disease. n.

eu then ics (ū then'iks), science or art of improving the environment or living conditions. n.

e vac u ate (i vak'yū āt), 1. leave empty; withdraw from: After surrendering, the soldiers evacuated the fort. 2. withdraw; remove: Efforts were made to evacuate all foreign residents from the war zone. 3. make empty. v., e vac u at ed, e vac u at ing. —e vac'u a'tor, n.

e vac u a tion (i vak'yū ā'shən), 1. a leaving empty; withdrawal from occupation or possession; act or process of evacuating. 2. removal. 3. a making empty. 4. discharge. n.

e vac u ee (i vak'yū ē), one who is removed to a place of greater safety. n.

e vade (i vād'), 1. get away from by trickery; avoid by cleverness: The thief evaded his pursuers and escaped. 2. avoid the truth by indefinite or misleading statements: When Father asked who broke the window, Lulu evaded the question by saying, "I wonder who!" v., e vad ed, e vad ing.

e vader (i vād'ər), one who evades. n.

e val u ate (i val'yū āt), find the value or the amount of; fix the value of: An expert will evaluate the old furniture in this house. v., e val u at ed, e val u at ing.

e val u a tion (i val'yū ā'shən), 1. an evaluating.

2. an estimated value; valuation. n.

ev a nesce (ev'ə nes'), disappear gradually; fade away; vanish. v., ev a nes ced, ev a nes cing.

ev a nes cence (ev'ə nes'ns), 1. gradual disappearance; fading away; vanishing. 2. tendency to disappear or fade away; inability to last long. n.

ev a nes cent (ev'ə nes'nt), tending to disappear or fade away; able to last only a short time. adj.

e van gel (i van'jəl), 1. Gospel; good news of the saving of mankind through Christ. 2. good news. 3. evangelist. n.

Evan gel (i van'jəl), one of the four Gospels; Matthew, Mark, Luke, or John. n.

e van gel ic (ē'van jel'ik), evangelical. adj.

e van gel i cal (ē'van jel'ə kl), 1. of, concerning, or according to the four Gospels or the New Testament. 2. of or having to do with the Protestant churches that emphasize Christ's atonement and salvation by faith as the most important parts of Christianity. Methodists and Baptists are evangelical; Unitarians and Universalists are not. 3. evangelistic. adj. —e'van gel'i cal ly, adv.

e van gel i cal ism (ē'van jel'ə kl iz'əm), 1. doctrines of an evangelical church. 2. adherence to such doctrines. n.

e van gel ism (i van'jə liz əm), 1. a preaching of the Gospel; earnest effort for the spread of the Gospel. 2. work of an evangelist. 3. belief in the doctrines of an evangelical church or party. n.

e van gel ist (i van'jə list), 1. preacher of the Gospel. 2. a traveling preacher who stirs up religious feeling in revival services or camp meetings. n.

Evan gel ist (i van'jə list), writer of one of the four Gospels; Matthew, Mark, Luke, or John. n.

e van gel is tic (i van'jə lis'tik), 1. of the Evangelists. 2. of or by evangelists. adj.

e van gel ize (i van'jə liz), 1. preach the Gospel to. 2. convert to Christianity by preaching. v., e van gel ized, e van gel iz ing. —e van'gel i za'tion, n.

Ev ans ton (ev'ən stən), city in NE Illinois, near Chicago. 79,000. n.

Ev ans ville (ev'ənz vil), city in SW Indiana, on the Ohio River. 142,000. n.

e vap o rate (i vap'ə rāt), 1. change from a liquid or solid into a vapor: Boiling water evaporates rapidly. Some solids, such as moth balls and Dry Ice, evaporate without melting. 2. remove water or other liquid from: Heat is used to evaporate milk. 3. give off moisture. 4. vanish; disappear: His good resolutions evaporated soon after New Year's. v., e vap o rat ed, e vap o rat ing.

evaporated milk, a thick, unsweetened, canned milk, prepared by evaporating some of the water from ordinary milk.

e vap o ra tion (i vap'ə rā'shən), 1. a changing of a liquid or solid into vapor: Wet clothes on a line become dry by evaporation. 2. a being changed into vapor. 3. removal of water or other liquid. n.

e vap o ra tor (i vap'ə rā'tər), apparatus for evaporating water or other liquid: an evaporator for drying paints. n.

e va sion (i vā'zhən), 1. a getting away from something by trickery; an avoiding by cleverness: Evasion of one's duty is contemptible. 2. an attempt to escape an argument, a charge, a question, etc.: The prisoner's evasions of the lawyer's question convinced the jury he was guilty. 3. means of evading; trick or excuse used to avoid something. n.

e va sive (i vā'siv), tending or trying to evade: "Perhaps" is an evasive answer. adj. —e va'sive ly, adv. —e va'sive ness, n.

eve (ēv), 1. evening or day before a holiday or some other special day: Christmas Eve. 2. time just before: Everything was quiet on the eve of the battle. 3. Poetic. evening. n.

Eve (ēv), in the Bible, the first woman, Adam's wife. n.

e ven¹ (ē'vən), 1. level; flat; smooth: Even country has no hills. 2. at the same level; in the same plane or line: The snow was even with the window. 3. always the same; regular; uniform: An even motion does not change. 4. equal: They divided the money in even shares. 5. make even; make level or equal: She evened the edges by trimming them. 6. leaving no remainder when divided by 2: 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10 are even numbers. 7. neither more nor less; exact: Twelve apples make an even dozen. 8. owing nothing: When he paid all of his debts, he was even. 9. not easily disturbed or angered; calm: A person with an even temper is seldom excited. 10. not favoring one more than another; fair: Justice is even treatment. 11. in an even manner. 12. just; exactly: She left even as you came. 13. indeed: He is ready, even eager, to go. 14. fully; quite: He was faithful even unto death. 15. though one would not expect it; as one would not expect: Even the least noise disturbs her. 16. still; yet: You can do even better if you try. 1-4, 6-10 adj., 5 v., 11-16 adv.

—e'ven er, n. —e'ven ly, adv. —e'ven ness, n.

be even, 1. owe nothing. 2. have revenge.

break even, Slang. have equal gains and losses.

even if, in spite of the fact that; although.

get even, 1. owe nothing. 2. have revenge.

e ven² (ē'vən), Poetic. evening. n.

e ven-hand ed (ē'vən han'did), impartial; fair; just. adj.

e ve ning (ēv'ning), 1. the last part of day and early part of night; time between sunset and bedtime. 2. the last part: Old age is the evening of life. 3. in the evening; of the evening; for the evening. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

evening star, a bright planet seen in the western sky after sunset. Venus is often the evening star.

e ven song (ē'vən sŏng'), 1. a church service said or sung in the late afternoon or early evening; vespers. 2. Archaic. evening. n.

e vent (i vent'), 1. happening; important happening: The discovery of America was a great event. 2. result; outcome: We made careful plans and awaited the event. 3. item or contest in a program of sports. n.

at all events or in any event, in any case; whatever happens.

in the event of, in case of; if there is; if there should be.

e ven-tem per ed (ē'vən tem'pərd), not easily disturbed or angered; calm. adj.

e vent ful (i vent'fəl), 1. full of events; having many unusual events: World War II was an eventful period in history. 2. having important results; important. adj. —e vent'ful ly, adv.

e ven tide (ē'vən tid'), Poetic. evening. n.

e ven tu al (i ven'chū əl), 1. coming in the end; final: After several failures, his eventual success surprised us. 2. depending on uncertain events; possible. adj.

e ven tu al i ty (i ven'chū əl'ə tē), a possible occurrence or condition; possibility: We hope for peace, but are ready for all the eventualities of war. n., pl. e ven tu al i ties.

e ven tu al ly (i ven'chū əl ē), in the end; finally. adv.

e ven tu ate (i ven'chū āt), come out in the end; happen finally; result. v., e ven tu at ed, e ven tu at ing.

ev er (ev'ər), 1. at any time: Is she ever at home? 2. at all times; always: ever at your service. 3. at all; by any chance; in any case: What did you ever do to make him so angry? adv.

ever so, very: The ocean is ever so deep.

for ever and a day, always.

Ev er est (ev'ər ist), Mount, peak in the Himalayas in S Tibet, the highest in the world. 29,028 ft. n.

ev er glade (ev'ər glād), U.S. a large tract of low, wet ground partly covered with tall grass; large swamp or marsh. n.

Ev er glades (ev'ər glādz), a swampy region in S Florida. 140 mi. long; 50 mi. wide. n.pl.

ev er green (ev'ər grēn'), 1. having green leaves all the year. 2. an evergreen plant. Pine, spruce, cedar, ivy, box, rhododendrons, etc., are evergreens. 1 adj., 2 n.

evergreens, evergreen twigs or branches used for decoration, especially at Christmas.

ev er last ing (ev'ər las'ting), 1. lasting forever; never ending or stopping. 2. lasting a long time. 3. lasting too long; repeated too often; tiresome: his everlasting quibbles. 4. eternity. 5. flower that keeps its shape and color when dried. 1-3 adj., 4,5 n. —ev'er last'ing-ly, adv.

the Everlasting, God.

ev er more (ev'ər mŏr'), always; forever. adv., n.

ev ery (ev'rē), 1. all, regarded singly or separately; each and all: Every written word is made of letters. 2. all possible: We showed him every consideration. adj.

ev ery now and then, from time to time; again and again.

ev ery other, each first, third, fifth, etc., or second, fourth, sixth, etc.

ev ery which way, Informal. in all directions.

ev ery bod y (ev'rə bud'ē or ev'rē bod'ē), every person; everyone: Everybody likes the new minister. pron.

ev ery day (ev'rē dā'), 1. of every day; daily: Accidents are everyday occurrences. 2. for every ordinary day; not for Sundays or holidays: She wears everyday clothes to work. 3. not exciting; usual: Nan had only an everyday story to tell. adj.

ev ery one or ev ery one (ev'rē wun), every person; everybody: Everyone took his purchases home. pron.

ev ery thing (ev'rē thing), 1. every thing; all things: Nan does everything she can to help her mother. 2. something extremely important; very important thing: This news means everything to us. 1 pron., 2 n.

ev ery where (ev'rē hwār), in every place; in all places: We looked everywhere for our lost dog. adv.

e vict (i vikt'), expel by a legal process from land, a building, etc.; eject (a tenant): The tenant was evicted by the sheriff for not paying his rent. v.

e vic tion (i vik'shən), an evicting or being evicted; expulsion. n.

ev i dence (ev'ə dəns), 1. whatever makes clear the truth or falsehood of something: The evidence showed that he had not been near the place. 2. facts established and accepted in a court of law. Before deciding a case, the judge or jury hears all the evidence given by both sides. 3. indication; sign: A smile gives evidence of pleasure. 4. make easy to see or understand; show clearly; prove: His smiles evidenced his pleasure. 1-3 n., 4 v., ev i denced, ev i denc ing.

in evidence, easily seen or noticed.

ev i dent (ev'ə dənt), easy to see or understand; clear; plain: He has brought Betty a kitten, to her evident joy. adj.

ev i dent ly (ev'ə dənt lē), plainly; clearly. adv.

e vil (ē'vl), 1. morally bad; wrong; sinful; wicked: an evil life, an evil character. 2. something bad; sin; wickedness. 3. causing harm or injury: an evil plan. 4. thing that causes harm or injury. 5. unfortunate. 6. due to bad character or conduct: an evil reputation. 1,3,5,6 adj., 2,4 n. —e'vil ly, adv. —e'vil ness, n.

e vil do er (ē'vl dū'ər), person who does evil. n.

e vil do ing (ē'vl dū'ing), doing evil. n.

evil eye, power that some people are supposed to have of causing harm or bringing bad luck to others by looking at them.

e vil-mind ed (ē'vl mīn'did), having an evil mind; wicked; malicious. adj.

e vince (i vins'), 1. show clearly: The dog evinced its dislike of strangers by growling. 2. show that one has (a quality, trait, etc.). v., e vined, e vinc ing.

e vis cer ate (i vis'ər āt), 1. remove the bowels from; disembowel. 2. deprive of something essential. v., e vis cer at ed, e vis cer at ing. —e vis'cer a'tion, n.

ev o ca tion (ev'ō kā'shən), an evoking. n.

evoke (i vōk'), call forth; bring out: A good joke evokes a laugh. v., e voked, e vok ing.

evolution (ev'ə lū'shən), 1. any process of formation or growth; gradual development: the evolution of the modern steamship from the first crude boat. 2. something evolved; product of development; not a sudden discovery or creation. 3. theory that all living things developed from a few simple forms of life or from a single form. 4. movement of ships or soldiers, planned beforehand. 5. movement that is a part of a definite plan, design, or series: A clumsy person could never achieve the graceful evolutions of that ballet dancer. 6. a releasing; giving off; setting free: the evolution of heat from burning coal. n.

evolutionary (ev'ə lū'shən er'ē), 1. having to do with evolution or development. 2. in accordance with the theory of evolution. 3. performing evolutions; having to do with evolutions. adj.

evolutionist (ev'ə lū'shən ist), student of, or believer in, the theory of evolution. n.

evolve (i volv'), 1. develop gradually; work out: The boys evolved a plan for earning money during their summer vacation. 2. develop by a process of growth and change to a more highly organized condition. 3. release; give off; set free. v., e volved, e volving.

evolve ment (i volv'mənt), 1. an evolving. 2. a being evolved. n.

ewe (ū), a female sheep. n.

ewer (ū'ər), a wide-mouthed water pitcher: The ewer and basin are on the washstand. n.

ex (eks), 1. the 24th letter of the alphabet (x, X). 2. anything shaped like an X. n.

ex-, prefix meaning:
1. out of; from; out, as in exclude, exit, export.
2. utterly; thoroughly, as in excruciating, exasperate.
3. former; formerly, as in ex-member, ex-president, ex-soldier.

Ex., Exodus.

exacerbate (eg zas'ər bāt), 1. make worse; aggravate (pain, disease, anger). 2. irritate (a person's feelings). v., ex ac er bat ed, ex ac er bat ing.

exacerbation (eg zas'ər bā'shən), 1. aggravation. 2. irritation. n.

exact (eg zakt'), 1. without any error or mistake; strictly correct; accurate; precise: an exact measurement, the exact amount. 2. strict; severe; rigorous. 3. characterized by or using strict accuracy: A scientist should be an exact thinker. 4. demand and get; force to be paid: If he does the work, he can exact payment for it. 5. call for; need; require: A hard piece of work exacts effort and patience. 1-3 adj., 4, 5 v. —ex act'ness, n.

exact ing (eg zakt'ing), 1. requiring much; making severe demands; hard to please. 2. requiring effort, care, or attention: Flying an airplane is exacting work. adj.

exaction (eg zakt'shən), 1. an exacting; a demanding and getting; a forcing to be paid: The ruler's exactions of money left the people very poor. 2. thing exacted. Taxes, fees, etc., forced to be paid are exactions. n.

exactitude (eg zakt'tə tüd or eg zakt'ta tüd), exactness. n.

exactly (eg zakt'lē), 1. in an exact manner; accurately; precisely. 2. just so; quite right. adv.

exact science, science in which facts can be accurately observed and results can be accurately predicted. Mathematics and physics are exact sciences.

exaggerate (eg zaj'ər āt), 1. make (something) greater than it is; overstate: He exaggerated the dangers of the trip in order to frighten them into not going. 2. increase or enlarge abnormally. 3. say or think something is greater than it is; go beyond the truth: He always exaggerates when he tells about things he has done. v., ex ag ger at ed, ex ag ger at ing. —ex ag'ger a'tor, n.

Ewer and basin exaggeration (eg zaj'ər ā'shən), 1. an exaggerating or being exaggerated. 2. an exaggerated statement; overstatement: It is an exaggeration to say that you would rather die than touch a snake. n.

exalt (eg zōlt'), 1. raise in rank, honor, power, character, quality, etc.: We exalt a man when we elect him President of our country. 2. fill with pride, joy, or noble feeling: An exalted mood is one in which we think noble thoughts. 3. praise; honor; glorify: God shall be exalted. v.

exaltation (eg zōlt tā'shən), 1. an exalting. 2. a being exalted. 3. lofty emotion; rapture. n.

exam (eg zam'), Informal. examination. n.

exam in a tion (eg zam'ə nā'shən), 1. an examining or being examined: The doctor made a careful examination of my eyes. 2. test of knowledge or qualifications; list of questions; test: The teacher gave us an examination in arithmetic. 3. answers given in such a text. n.

exam ine (eg zam'ən), 1. look at closely and carefully. 2. test the knowledge or qualifications of; ask questions of; test. v., ex am ined, ex am in ing. —ex-am'in er, n.

ex ample (eg zam'pl), 1. one taken to show what others are like; case that shows something; sample: New York is an example of a busy city. 2. person or thing to be imitated; model; pattern: Washington is a good example for boys to follow. 3. problem in arithmetic, etc. 4. warning to others: The captain made an example of the soldiers who shirked by making them clean up the camp. n.

set an example, behave so that others may imitate; be a model or pattern of conduct.

without example, with nothing like it before.

exasperate (eg zas'pər āt), irritate very much; annoy extremely; make angry: The child's endless questions exasperated her father. v., ex as per at ed, ex as per at ing.

exasperation (eg zas'pər ā'shən), extreme annoyance; irritation; anger. n.

Excalibur (eks kal'ə bər), the magic sword of King Arthur. n.

ex cathedra (eks kə thē'drə), 1. with authority; from the seat of authority. 2. spoken with authority.

excavate (eks'kə vāt), 1. make hollow; hollow out. 2. make by digging; dig: The tunnel was excavated through solid rock. 3. dig out; scoop out: Steam shovels excavated the dirt. 4. get or uncover by digging: They excavated an ancient buried city. v., ex ca- vat ed, ex ca vat ing.

excavation (eks'kə vā'shən), 1. a digging; a digging out or up. 2. hole or hollow made by digging. n.

excavator (eks'kə vā'tər), person or thing that excavates. A steam shovel is an excavator. n.

exceed (ek sēd'), 1. go beyond; be more or greater than; do more than; surpass: The sum of 5 and 7 exceeds 10. 2. To lift a heavy trunk exceeds a girl's strength. 2. be more or greater than others. v.

exceeding (ek sēd'ing), 1. surpassing; very great; unusual; extreme: Helen is a girl of exceeding beauty. 2. Archaic. exceedingly. 1 adj., 2 adv.

exceedingly (ek sēd'ing lē), more than others; very greatly; unusually; extremely. adv.

excel (ek sel'), 1. be better than; do better than: He excelled his class in history. 2. be better than others; do better than others: Solomon ex-celled in wisdom. v., ex-cel led, ex cel ling.

excellence (ek'sl əns), unusually good quality; being better than others; superiority: The inn was famous for the excellence of its food. n.

excellency (ek'sl ən sē), excellence. n., pl. ex-cel len cies.

Excavator

Ex cel len cy (ek'slən sē), title of honor used in speaking to or of a president, governor, ambassador, bishop, etc. n., pl. Ex cel len cies.

ex cel lent (ek'slən t), unusually good; better than others: Excellent work deserves high praise. adj. —ex'cel lent ly, adv.

ex cel si or (ek sel'sē ōr for 1; ek sel'sē or for 2), 1. Latin. ever upward; higher: "Excelsior" is the motto of New York State. 2. short, fine, curled shavings of soft wood used as a stuffing for cushions and mattresses, and as a packing material. 1 adj., 2 n.

ex cept (ek sept'), 1. leaving out; but; other than: every day except Sunday. 2. take out; leave out; exclude: Those who passed the first test were excepted from the second. 3. make objection; object. 4. Archaic. unless. 1 prep., 2,3 v., 4 conj.

ex cept ing (ek sep'ting), 1. except; leaving out; other than. 2. Archaic. unless. 1 prep., 2 conj.

ex cep tion (ek sep'shən), 1. a leaving out: I like my studies, with the exception of German. 2. person or thing left out: She praised them all, with two exceptions. 3. an unusual instance; case that does not follow the rule. 4. objection. n.

take exception. 1. object. 2. be offended.

ex cep tion a ble (ek sep'shən ə bl), liable to exception; objectionable. adj.

ex cep tion al (ek sep'shən l), out of the ordinary; unusual: This warm weather is exceptional for January. Mary is an exceptional student. adj. —ex cep'tion al ly, adv.

ex cer pt (ek'serpt for 1; ek sērpt' for 2), 1. a selected passage; quotation; extract: The doctor read excerpts from several medical books. 2. take out; select (passages) from; quote; make extracts from. 1 n., 2 v.

ex cess (ek ses' for 1,2,4,5; ek'ses or ek ses' for 3), 1. more than enough; part that is too much: Pour off the excess. 2. amount or degree by which one thing is more than another: The excess of 7 over 5 is 2. 3. extra: excess baggage on a train. 4. action that goes beyond what is necessary or just: The soldiers burned and robbed houses and committed other excesses. 5. eating or drinking too much; overindulgence; intemperance: His excesses shortened his life. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 adj.

in excess of, more than.

to excess, too much.

ex ces sive (ek ses'iv), too much; too great; going beyond what is necessary or right: Wise people will not buy when prices are excessive. Mary spends an excessive amount of time telephoning. adj.

ex ces sive ly (ek ses'iv lē), too much; too greatly. adv.

excess-profits tax, a government tax on all business profits above a certain average for a specified term of years, or above a certain percentage of capital.

ex change (eks chānj'), 1. give (for something else): She would not exchange her house for a palace. 2. give in trade for something regarded as equivalent: I will exchange two dimes for twenty pennies. 3. give and receive (things of the same kind): exchange letters. 4. replace or have replaced (a purchase): We can exchange no yard goods. 5. an exchanging; giving and taking: Ten pennies for a dime is a fair exchange. 6. what is exchanged. 7. place where things are exchanged. Stocks are bought, sold, and traded in a stock exchange. 8. a central office. A telephone exchange handles telephone calls. 9. system of settling accounts in different places by exchanging bills of exchange that represent money instead of exchanging money itself. 10. a changing the money of one country into the money of another. 11. fee charged for settling accounts or changing money. 12. rate of exchange; varying rate or sum in one currency given for a fixed sum in another currency. 1-4 v., ex changed, ex chang ing; 5-12 n.

ex change a bil i ty (eks chān'jə bil'ə tē), being exchangeable. n.

ex change a ble (eks chān'jə bl), capable of being exchanged. adj.

ex cheq uer (eks chek'ər), 1. treasury of a state or nation. 2. treasury. 3. Informal. finances; funds. n.

Ex cheq uer (eks chek'ər), 1. department of the British government in charge of its finances and the public revenues. 2. offices of this department of the British government. 3. funds of the British government. n.

ex cise (ek'siz or ek siz'), tax on the manufacture, sale, or use of certain articles made, sold, or used within a country: There is an excise on tobacco. n.

ex cise (ek siz'), cut out; remove: The editor excised passages from the book. v., ex cised, ex cis ing.

ex ci sion (ek sizh'ən), a cutting out; removal. n.

ex cit a bil i ty (ek sit'ə bil'ə tē), quality of being easily excited. n.

ex cit a ble (ek sit'ə bl), capable of being excited; easily excited. adj., —ex cit'a ble ness, n. —ex cit'a bly, adv.

ex ci ta tion (ek'si tā'shən), 1. an exciting. 2. a being excited. 3. production of magnetic field by means of electricity. n.

ex cite (ek sit'), 1. stir up the feelings of: The news of war excited everybody. 2. arouse: Her new dress excited envy. 3. stir to action; stimulate: Do not excite the dog; let him keep still. 4. produce electricity or magnetism in. v., ex cit ed, ex cit ing, —ex cit'er, n.

ex cit ed (ek sit'id), stirred up; aroused. adj. —ex cit'ed ly, adv.

excited atom, an atom having a higher energy level than is normal.

ex cite ment (ek sit'mənt), 1. an exciting; arousing: The excitement of nations to war is wicked and foolish. 2. state of being excited: The baby's first step caused great excitement in the family. 3. thing that excites. n.

ex cit ing (ek sit'ing), arousing; stirring. adj.

ex claim (eks klām'), say or speak suddenly in surprise or strong feeling; cry out: "Here you are at last," exclaimed Jack's mother. v.

ex cla ma tion (eks'klə mā'shən), 1. an exclaiming. 2. thing exclaimed. Ah! and oh! are exclamations. n.

exclamation mark or exclamation point, mark (!) of punctuation used after exclamations. The exclamation mark is also used, within parentheses, to suggest that some statement or situation is remarkable, absurd, or the like: "The poet John Milton was born in Connecticut" (!).

ex clam a to ry (eks klām'ə tō'rē), using, containing, or expressing exclamation. adj.

ex clude (eks klüd'), 1. shut out; keep out: Curtains exclude light. The government excludes certain immigrants. 2. drive out and keep out; expel: Perfect faith excludes doubt. v., ex clud ed, ex clud ing. —ex clud'er, n.

ex clu sion (eks klū'zhən), 1. an excluding. 2. a being excluded: Amy's exclusion from the club hurt her feelings. n.

to the exclusion of, so as to shut out or keep out.

ex clu sive (eks klū'siv), 1. each shutting out the other. "Tree" and "animal" are exclusive terms; a thing cannot be both a tree and an animal. 2. shutting out all or most: This school is exclusive; only very bright children can go to it. 3. not divided or shared with others; single; sole: An inventor has an exclusive right for a certain number of years to make what he has invented and patented. 4. very particular about choosing friends, members, patrons, etc.: an exclusive club. adj. —ex clu'sive ness, n.

exclusive of, excluding; leaving out; not counting or considering: There are 26 days in that month, exclusive of Sundays.

ex clu sive ly (eks klū'siv lē), 1. with the exclusion of all others: That selfish girl looks out for herself exclusively. 2. with the exclusion of the part or parts specified. adv.

ex com mu ni cate (eks'kə mū'nə kāt), cut off from membership in a church; expel formally from the fellowship of a church; prohibit from participating in any of the rites of a church. v., ex com mu ni cat ed, ex com mu ni cat ing.

ex com mu ni ca tion (eks'kə mū'nə kā'shən), 1. formal expulsion from the fellowship of a church; prohibition from participating in any of the rites of a church.

2. the formal, official statement announcing this. n.
ex co ri ate (eks kô'rē āt), 1. strip or rub off the skin of; make raw and sore. 2. denounce violently. v., ex co ri at ed, ex co ri at ing. — ex co'ri a'tion, n.
ex cre ment (eks'krə mēnt), waste matter that is discharged from the body, especially from the bowels.
ex cres cence (eks kres'ns), 1. an unnatural growth; disfiguring addition: Warts are excrescences on the skin. 2. a natural outgrowth: Fingernails are excrescences. n.
ex cres cent (eks kres'nt), forming an unnatural growth or a disfiguring addition. adj.
ex crete (eks krēt'), discharge (waste matter) from the body; separate (waste matter) from the blood or tissues: The skin excretes sweat. v., ex cret ed, ex cret ing.
ex cre tion (eks krē'shən), 1. discharge of waste matter from the body; separation of waste matter from the blood or tissues. 2. the waste matter discharged from the body; waste matter separated from the blood or tissues: Sweat is an excretion. n.
ex cre to ry (eks'krə tō'rē), of excretion; that excrete: The kidneys are excretory organs. adj.
ex cru ci at ing (eks krū'shē āt'ing), very painful; torturing; causing great suffering. adj.
ex cul pate (eks'kul pāt), free from blame; prove innocent. v., ex cul pat ed, ex cul pat ing.
ex cul pa tion (eks'kul pā'shən), 1. a freeing from blame; a proving innocent. 2. vindication; proof of innocence; excuse. n.
ex cur sion (eks kēr'zhən), 1. a short journey made with the intention of returning; pleasure trip: Our club went on an excursion to the mountains. 2. trip on a train, ship, etc., at lower fares than are usually charged. 3. group of people who go on an excursion. n.
ex cur sion ist (eks kēr'zhən ist), person who goes on an excursion. n.
ex cur sive (eks kēr'siv), off the subject; wandering; rambling. adj. — ex cur'sive ly, adv.
ex cuse (eks küz' for 1-5; eks kūs' for 6-8), 1. overlook (a fault, etc.); pardon; forgive: This time he excused my carelessness in upsetting the ink. 2. give a reason or apology for; try to clear of blame: She excused her own faults by blaming others. 3. be a reason or explanation for; clear of blame: Sickness excused his absence from school. 4. free from duty or obligation; let off: Those who passed the first test are excused from the second one. 5. not demand or require; dispense with: We will excuse your presence. 6. a real or pretended reason or explanation: He had many excuses for coming late. 7. apology given. 8. act of excusing. 1-5 v., ex cused, ex cus ing; 6-8 n. — ex cus'a ble, adj.
excuse oneself, ask to be pardoned.
ex e cra ble (ek'sə krə bl), abominable; detestable. adj. — ex'e cra bly, adv.
ex e crate (ek'sə krāt), 1. abhor; loathe; detest. 2. curse. v., ex e crat ed, ex e crat ing.
ex e cra tion (ek'sə krā'shən), 1. abhorrence; loathing; detestation. 2. a cursing. 3. a curse: The mob shouted angry execrations. 4. person or thing execrated. n.
ex e cute (ek'sə kūt), 1. carry out; do: The nurse executed the doctor's orders. 2. put into effect; enforce: Congress makes the laws; the President executes them. 3. put to death according to law: The murderer was executed. 4. make according to a plan or design: An artist executes a painting or statue. 5. perform or play (a piece of music). 6. make (a deed, lease, contract, will, etc.) legal by signing, sealing, or doing whatever is necessary. v., ex e cut ed, ex e cut ing.
ex e cu tion (ek'sə kū'shən), 1. a carrying out; a doing; a performing. 2. a putting into effect; an enforcing. 3. way of carrying out or doing; skill. 4. manner of performing or playing a piece of music. 5. a putting to death according to law. 6. a making according to a plan or design. 7. a making legal by signing, sealing, or doing what is necessary. 8. a written order from a court directing a judgment to be carried out. n.

do execution, have a destructive effect; have an effective action.
ex e cu tion er (ek'sə kū'shən ər), person who puts criminals to death according to law. n.
ex ec u tive (eg zek'yə tiv), 1. having to do with carrying out or managing affairs: The head of a school has an executive position. 2. person who carries out or manages affairs: The president of a company is an executive. 3. having the duty and power of putting the laws into effect: The President of the United States is the executive head of the government. 4. person, group, or branch of government that has the duty and power of putting the laws into effect. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n. — ex ec'u tive ly, adv.
Executive Mansion, U.S. 1. the official residence of the President of the United States; the White House in Washington, D.C. 2. in some States, the official residence of the governor.
ex ec u tor (eg zek'yə tər for 1; ek'sə kū'tər for 2), 1. person named in a will to carry out the provisions of the will. 2. person who performs or carries out things. n.
ex ec u trix (eg zek'yə trik), a woman executor. n.
ex em plar (eg zem'plər), 1. person or thing worth imitating; model; pattern: Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes was the exemplar of the humane jurist. 2. a typical case; example. n.
ex em pla ry (eg zem'plə rē), 1. worth imitating; being a good model or pattern: exemplary conduct. 2. serving as a warning to others: exemplary punishment of the ringleaders. 3. serving as an example; typical. adj.
ex em pli fi ca tion (eg zem'plə fə kā'shən), 1. a showing by example; a being an example. 2. example. n.
ex em pli fy (eg zem'plə fi), show by example; be an example of: The knights exemplified courage and courtesy. v., ex em pli fied, ex em pli fy ing.
ex empt (eg zempt'), 1. make free (from a duty, obligation, rule, etc.); release: Students who get very high marks will be exempted from the final examination. 2. freed from duty, obligation, rule, etc.; released: The school property is exempt from taxes. 3. an exempt person. 1 v., 2 adj., 3 n.
ex emption (eg zemp'shən), 1. act of exempting. 2. freed from a duty, obligation, rule, etc.; released: Churches have exemption from taxes. n.
ex er cise (ek'sər siz), 1. active use to give practice and training or to cause improvement: Exercise of the body is needed for health. 2. give exercise to; train. 3. take exercise. 4. thing that gives practice and training or causes improvement: Study the lesson, and then do the exercises at the end. 5. active use: Safety requires the exercise of care. 6. use actively: Exercise care in crossing streets. 7. carry out in action; perform: The mayor exercises the duties and powers of his office. 8. have as an effect: What others think exercises a great influence on most of us. 9. occupy the attention of. 10. make uneasy; worry; trouble; annoy: When her plan failed, she was greatly exercised. 11. ceremony: the opening exercises in a Sunday school. 1,4,5,11 n., 2,3,6-10 v., ex er cised, ex er cis ing. — ex'er cis'er, n.
ex ert (eg zert'), use; use actively; put into action: A clever fighter exerts both strength and skill. A ruler exerts authority. v.
ex ert oneself, make an effort; try hard; strive.
ex er tion (eg zēr'shən), 1. effort: The exertions of the firemen kept the fire from spreading. 2. a putting into action; active use; use: exertion of authority. n.
ex ha la tion (eks'hə lā'shən), 1. an exhaling: Breathing out is an exhalation of air. 2. something exhaled; air, vapor, smoke, odor, etc. n.

ex hale (eks hāl'), 1. breathe out: Exhale air from the lungs. 2. give off (air, vapor, smoke, odor, etc.). 3. pass off as vapor; rise like vapor: Sweet odors exhale from the flowers. 4. change into vapor; evaporate. v., exhaled, ex haling.

ex haust (eg zōst'), 1. empty completely: exhaust a well. 2. use up; exhaust one's money. 3. tire very much: The climb up the hill exhausted us. 4. drain of strength, resources, etc.: The long war exhausted the country. 5. draw off: exhaust the air in a jar. 6. leave nothing important to be found out or said about; study or treat thoroughly: Her book about tulips exhausted the subject. 7. the escape of used steam, gasoline, etc., from a machine. 8. means or way for used steam, gasoline, etc., to escape from an engine. 9. the used steam, gasoline, etc., that escapes. 10. be discharged; go forth: Steam exhausts. Gases from an automobile exhaust through a pipe. 1-6, 10 v., 7-9 n.

exhausted (eg zōs'tid), 1. used up. 2. worn out; very tired. adj.

exhaustibility (eg zōs'tə bil'ə tē), quality of being exhaustible; capability of being exhausted. n.

exhaustible (eg zōs'tə bl), capable of being exhausted. adj.

exhaustion (eg zōs'chən), 1. an exhausting. 2. a being exhausted. 3. extreme fatigue. n.

exhaustive (eg zōs'tiv), leaving out nothing important; thorough; comprehensive: The students were given an exhaustive examination. adj. —exhaustively, adv.

exhaustless (eg zōst'lis), that cannot be exhausted. adj.

exhibit (eg zib'it), 1. show; display: He exhibits interest whenever you talk about dogs. 2. show publicly: You should exhibit your roses in the flower show. 3. thing or things shown publicly: Their exhibit of corn products won the prize. 4. a public show; small exhibition; part of an exhibition. 5. show in court as evidence; submit for consideration or inspection. 6. thing shown in court as evidence. 1,2,5 v., 1,3,4,6 n.

exhibition (ek'sə bish'ən), 1. a showing; display: Such an exhibition of bad manners I never saw. 2. a public show: The art school holds an exhibition every year. 3. thing or things shown publicly; exhibit. n.

exhibitionism (ek'sə bish'ən iz əm), 1. an excessive tendency to show off one's abilities. 2. tendency to show what should not be shown. n.

exhibitionist (ek'sə bish'ən ist), person who tends to show what should not be shown. n.

exhibitor or exhibiter (eg zib'ə tər), person, company, or group that exhibits. n.

exhilarate (eg zil'ə rāt), make merry or lively; put into high spirits; stimulate: The joy of Christmas exhilarates us all. v., exhilarated, exhilarating.

exhilaration (eg zil'ə rā'shən), 1. an exhilarating. 2. a being or feeling exhilarated; high spirits; stimulation. n.

exhort (eg zōrt'), urge strongly; advise or warn earnestly: The preacher exhorted his congregation to live better lives. v. —exhorter, n.

exhortation (eg zōr tā'shən or ek'sōr tā'shən), 1. strong urging; earnest advice or warning. 2. speech, sermon, etc., that exhorts. n.

exhumation (eks'hū mā'shən), an exhuming. n.

exhume (eks hūm'), 1. take out of a grave or ground; dig up. 2. reveal. v., exhumed, exhuming.

exigency (ek'sə jən sē), 1. an urgent need; demand for immediate action or attention: The exigencies of business kept him from leaving town. 2. situation demanding immediate action or attention; urgent case: The lamp upset, but Mrs. Smith proved equal to the exigency and put out the flames with a heavy rug. n., pl. exigencies.

exigent (ek'sə jənt), 1. demanding immediate action or attention; urgent: The exigent pangs of hunger sent him on a search for food. 2. demanding a great deal; exacting: A busy doctor has an exigent occupation. adj.

exile (eg'zīl or ek'sīl), 1. force (a person) to leave his country or home; banish: Many people were exiled from the country. 2. a being exiled; banishment: Napoleon's exile to Elba was brief. 3. an exiled person: He has been an exile for ten years. 4. any prolonged absence from one's own country. 1 v., exiled, exiling; 2-4 n.

exist (eg zist'), 1. have actual existence; be; be real: The world has existed a long time. Do fairies exist or not? 2. continue to be; live; have life: A man cannot exist without air. 3. be present; occur: Cases exist of persons who cannot smell anything. v.

existence (eg zis'təns), 1. real or actual being; being: come into existence. Most people do not now believe in the existence of ghosts. 2. continued being; living; life: Many aviators lead a dangerous existence. 3. occurrence; presence. 4. all that exists. 5. thing that exists. n.

existent (eg zis'tənt), 1. existing. 2. existing now; of the present time. adj.

existentialism (eg'ziz ten'shəl iz əm), philosophy stressing the need for personal decision in a world lacking purpose. n.

exit (eg'zit or ek'sit), 1. way out: The theater had six exits. 2. a going out; departure: When the cat came in, the mouse made a hasty exit. 3. act of leaving the stage: The actor made a graceful exit. 4. goes out; departs; leaves (stage direction for an actor to leave the stage). 1-3 n., 4 v.

ex libris (eks lī'bris), Latin. 1. from the library (of). 2. inscription or device in or on a book to indicate the owner; bookplate.

Exod., Exodus.

exodus (ek'sə dəs), a going out; departure: Every summer there is an exodus from the city. n.

Exodus (ek'sə dəs), 1. departure of the Israelites from Egypt under Moses. 2. the second book of the Old Testament, containing an account of this departure. n.

ex officio (eks ə fish'ē ō), because of one's office: The Vice-President is, ex officio, the presiding officer of the Senate.

exogenous (eks oj'ə nəs), 1. having stems that grow by the addition of layers of wood on the outside under the bark. 2. originating from the outside; caused by external conditions. adj.

exonerate (eg zon'ər āt), free from blame; prove or declare innocent: Witnesses of the accident completely exonerated the driver of the truck. v., exonerated, exonerating.

exonerating (eg zon'ər ā'shən), 1. an exonerating. 2. being exonerated. n.

exorbitance (eg zōr'bə təns), a being exorbitant. n.

exorbitant (eg zōr'bə tənt), exceeding what is customary, proper, or reasonable; very excessive: Two dollars is an exorbitant price for a dozen eggs. adj.

exorbitantly (eg zōr'bə tənt lē), 1. extravagantly. 2. in an excessive degree or amount; beyond reasonable limits. adv.

exorcise (ek'sōr sīz), 1. drive out (an evil spirit) by prayers, ceremonies, etc. 2. free (a person or place) from an evil spirit. v., exorcised, exorcising. —exorciser, n.

exorcism (ek'sōr siz əm), 1. an exorcising. 2. the prayers, ceremonies, etc., used in exorcising. n.

exorcist (ek'sōr sist), person who exorcises. n.

exorcize (ek'sōr siz), exorcise. v., exorcized, exorcizing.

exoskeleton (ek'sō skel'ə tn), any hard, external, protective covering or structure, such as the shells of turtles and lobsters. n.

exotic (eg zot'ik), 1. foreign; strange; not native: We saw many exotic plants at the flower show. 2. anything exotic. 1 adj., 2 n. —exotically, adv.

expand (eks pand'), 1. increase in size; enlarge; swell: The balloon expanded as it was filled with air. Heat expanded the metal. Our country expanded by adding new territory. 2. spread out; open out; unfold; extend: As the plant grew, its leaves and flowers gradually expanded. A bird expands its wings before flying. 3. express in fuller form or greater detail: The writer expanded one sentence into a paragraph. v.

expanse (eks pans'), a large, unbroken space or stretch; wide, spreading surface: The Pacific Ocean is a vast expanse of water. n.

expansibility (eks pan'sə bil'ə tē), capacity for expanding. n.

expansible (eks pan'sə bl), capable of being expanded. adj.

expansile (eks pan'sl), capable of expanding; such as to expand; having to do with expansion. adj.

expansion (eks pan'shən), 1. an expanding: Heat caused the expansion of the gas. 2. a being expanded; increase in size, volume, etc.: The expansion of the factory made room for more machines. 3. amount or degree of expansion. 4. an expanded part or form. n.

expansive (eks pan'siv), 1. capable of expanding; tending to expand. 2. wide; spreading. 3. taking in much or many things; broad; extensive. 4. showing one's feelings freely and openly; unrestrained; effusive. adj. —expansively, adv. —expansiveness, n.

expatriate (eks pā'shē āt), write or talk much (with one): She expatiated on the thrills of her trip. v., expatriated, expatriating. —expatriator, n.

expatriation (eks pā'shē ā'shən), 1. writing or talking much. 2. an extended talk, description, etc. n.

expatriate (eks pā'trē āt for 1, 2; eks pā'trē it or eks pā'trē āt for 3, 4), 1. banish; exile. 2. withdraw (oneself) from one's country; renounce one's citizenship: Some Americans expatriate themselves and live in Europe. 3. expatriated. 4. an expatriated person; exile. 1, 2 v., expatriated, expatriating; 3 adj., 4 n.

expect (ekspekt'), 1. look forward to; think likely to come or happen: We expect hot days in summer. 2. look forward to with reason or confidence; desire and feel sure of getting. 3. count on as necessary or right. 4. Informal. think; suppose; guess. v.

expectancy (ekspekt'ən sē), expectation. n., pl. expectancies.

expectant (ekspekt'tant), 1. having expectations; expecting. An expectant mother is soon to have a baby. 2. showing expectation. 3. person who expects something. 1, 2 adj., 3 n. —expectantly, adv.

expectation (ekspekt'ā'shən), 1. an expecting or being expected; anticipation. 2. thing expected. 3. ground for expecting something; prospect: He has expectations from a rich uncle. n.

expectorate (ekspekt'ə rāt), cough up and spit out (phlegm, etc.); spit. v., expectorated, expectorating.

expectoration (ekspekt'ə rā'shən), 1. act of expectorating. 2. expectorated matter. n.

expediency (eks pē'dē əns), expediency. n.

expediency (eks pē'dē ən sē), 1. usefulness; suitability for bringing about a desired result; desirability or fitness under the circumstances: Consider expediency as well as truth in what you say. 2. personal advantage; self-interest: The crafty lawyer was influenced more by expediency than by the love of justice. n., pl. expediences.

expedient (eks pē'dē ənt), 1. fit for bringing about a desired result; desirable or suitable under the circumstances: It is expedient to be friendly and pleasant if you want to have friends. 2. means of bringing about a desired result: Having no ladder or rope, the prisoner tied sheets together and escaped by this expedient. 3. giving or seeking personal advantage; based on self-interest. 1, 3 adj., 2 n. —expediently, adv.

expedite (eks pē'dit), 1. make easy and quick; speed up: If everyone will help, it will expedite matters. 2. do quickly. 3. issue officially. v., expedited, expediting.

expediter (eks pē'dit'ər), 1. person who is responsible for supplying raw materials or delivering finished products on schedule. 2. person who issues official statements and decisions. n.

expedition (eks pē'dish'ən), 1. journey for some special purpose. A voyage of discovery or a march against the enemy is an expedition. 2. group of people, ships, etc., that make such a journey. 3. efficient and prompt action; speed. n.

expeditionary (eks pē'dish'ən er'ē), of, concerning, or making up an expedition. adj.

expeditious (eks pē'dish'əs), quick; speedy; efficient and prompt. adj. —expeditiously, adv.

expel (eks pel'), 1. force out; force to leave: When the gunpowder exploded, the bullet was expelled from the gun. 2. put out; dismiss permanently: A bad boy may be expelled from school. v., expelled, expelling.

expend (eks pend'), spend; use up. v. —expender, n.

expendable (eks pen'də bl), 1. that may be expended or used up. 2. in military use, normally used up in service. 3. worth giving up or sacrificing to the enemy or to destruction for strategic reasons. adj.

expendables, expendable persons or things.

expenditure (eks pen'də chūr or eks pen'də chər), 1. a spending; a using up: Such a large piece of work requires the expenditure of much money, time, and effort. 2. amount of money, etc., spent; expense: Limit your expenditures to what is necessary. n.

expense (eks pens'), 1. cost; charge: The expense of the trip to John was slight. He traveled at his uncle's expense. We had many a laugh at his expense. 2. cause of spending: Running an automobile is an expense. 3. an expending; a paying out money; outlay: A boy at college puts his father to considerable expense. 4. loss; sacrifice. n.

at the expense of, 1. so as to be paid for by. 2. with the loss or sacrifice of.

expenses, 1. charges incurred in doing something. 2. money to repay such charges: The salesman gets expenses besides his salary.

expensive (eks pen'siv), costly; high-priced: He had a very expensive knife which cost $30. adj. —expensively, adv. —expensiveness, n.

experience (eks pir'ē əns), 1. what has happened to one; what is or has been met with or felt; anything or everything observed, done, or lived through: We had several pleasant experiences on our trip. 2. an observing, doing, or living through things: People learn by experience. 3. skill, practical knowledge, or wisdom gained by observing, doing, or living through things: Have you had any experience in this kind of work? 4. have happen to one; meet with; feel; live through: Visiting Washington was the greatest thrill I ever experienced. 1-3 n., 4 v., experienced, experiencing.

experienced (eks pir'ē ənst), 1. having had experience. 2. taught by experience. 3. skillful or wise because of experience: an experienced teacher, an experienced nurse. adj.

experiential (eks pir'ē ən'shəl), having to do with experience; based on or coming from experience. adj.

experiment (eks per'ə mənt for 1; eks per'ə mənt for 2, 3), 1. try in order to find out; make trials or tests: That man is experimenting with dyes to get the color he wants. 2. test or trial to find out something: a cooking experiment. 3. a conducting of such tests or trials: Scientists test out theories by experiments. 1 v., 2, 3 n. —experimentally, adv.

experimental (eks per'ə mən'tl), 1. based on experiments: Chemistry is an experimental science. 2. used for experiments: an experimental room. 3. based on experience, not on theory or authority. 4. testing; trying out: This trip will be only experimental. adj.

experimentalism (eks per'ə mən'tl ē), 1. by making experiments. 2. as an experiment. adv.

ex per i men ta tion (eks per'ə men tā'shən), an experimenting: A cure for the disease was found by experimentation on animals. n.

ex pert (eks'pért for 1; eks pért' or eks'pért for 2,3), 1. a very skillful person; person who knows a great deal about some special thing. 2. very skillful; knowing a great deal about some special thing: He is an expert chemist. 3. from an expert; requiring or showing knowledge about some special thing. 1 n., 2,3 adj. —ex pert'ly, adv. —ex pert'ness, n.

ex pi ate (eks'pē āt), make amends for (a wrong, sin, etc.); atone for: The thief expiated his theft by giving back the amount stolen and by reforming. v., ex pi ated, ex pi at ing.

ex pi a tion (eks'pē ā'shən), 1. a making amends for a wrong, sin, etc.; atonement: He made a public apology in expiation of his error. 2. amends; means of atonement. n.

ex pi ra tion (ek'spə rā'shən), 1. a coming to an end: the expiration of a lease. 2. a breathing out: the expiration of used air from the lungs. n.

ex pi ra to ry (ek spīr'ə tō'rē), having to do with breathing out air from the lungs. adj.

ex pire (ek spīr'), 1. come to an end: You must obtain a new automobile license when your old one expires. 2. die. 3. breathe out: expire used air from the lungs. v., ex pired, ex pir ing.

ex plain (eks plān'), 1. make plain or clear; tell how to do: The teacher explained long division to the class. 2. tell the meaning of; interpret. 3. give reasons for; account for: Can somebody explain Maud's absence? 4. give an explanation. v. —ex plain'a ble, adj.

explain oneself, 1. make one's meaning plain or clear. 2. give reasons for one's behavior.

ex pla na tion (eks'plə nā'shən), 1. an explaining: Bill did not understand the teacher's explanation of long division. 2. thing that explains. n.

ex plan a to ry (eks plan'ə tō'rē), explaining; serving or helping to explain: Read the explanatory part of the lesson before you try to do the problems. adj.

ex ple tive (eks'plə tiv), 1. filling out a sentence or line of verse; completing. 2. something that fills out a sentence or line. In "There is a book on the table," there is an expletive. 3. oath or meaningless exclamation. "Damn" and "My goodness" are expletives. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

ex pli ca ble (eks'plə kə bl or eks plik'ə bl), capable of being explained. adj.

ex pli cate (eks'plə kāt), 1. develop (a principle, doctrine, etc.). 2. explain. v., ex pli cat ed, ex pli cat ing.

ex pli ca tion (eks'plə kā'shən), explanation. n.

ex pli ca to ry (eks'plə kə tō'rē), that explains. adj.

ex plic it (eks plis'it), 1. clearly expressed; distinctly stated; definite: He gave such explicit directions that everyone understood them. 2. not reserved; frank; outspoken. adj. —ex plic'it ly, adv. —ex plic'it ness, n.

ex plode (eks plōd'), 1. blow up; burst with a loud noise: The building was destroyed when the defective boiler exploded. 2. cause to explode: Many boys explode firecrackers on the Fourth of July. 3. burst forth noisily: The speaker's mistake was so funny the audience exploded with laughter. 4. cause to be rejected; destroy belief in: Columbus helped to explode the theory that the earth is flat. v., ex plod ed, ex plod ing. —ex plod'er, n.

ex plo it (eks'plo it for 1; eks plo it' for 2,3), 1. a bold, unusual act; daring deed: Old stories tell about the exploits of famous heroes. 2. make use of; turn to practical account: A mine is exploited for its minerals. 3. make unfair use of; use selfishly for one's own advantage: Nations sometimes exploit their colonies, taking as much wealth out of them as they can. 1 n., 2,3 v. —ex plo it'a ble, adj. —ex plo it'er, n.

ex plo i ta tion (eks'plo i tā'shən), 1. use. 2. selfish or unfair use. n.

ex plo ra tion (eks'plə rā'shən), 1. a traveling in little known lands or seas for the purpose of discovery. 2. a going over carefully; a looking into closely. n.

ex plor a tive (eks plōr'ə tiv), 1. exploratory. 2. inclined to make explorations. adj.

ex plor a to ry (eks plōr'ə tō'rē), having to do with exploration; for discovery. adj.

ex plore (eks plōr'), 1. travel in (little known lands or seas) for the purpose of discovery: Byrd explored around the South Pole. 2. go over carefully; look into closely; examine: The surgeon explored the wound. v., ex plo red, ex plor ing.

ex plor er (eks plōr'ər), person who explores. n.

ex plo sion (eks plō'zhən), 1. a blowing up; a bursting with a loud noise: the explosion of a bomb. 2. a loud noise caused by this: People five miles away heard the explosion. 3. a noisy bursting forth; outbreak: explosions of anger, an explosion of laughter. n.

ex plo sive (eks plō'siv), 1. of or for explosion; tending to explode: Gunpowder is explosive. 2. an explosive substance. Explosives are used in making fireworks. 3. tending to burst forth noisily: The irritable old man had an explosive temper. 1,3 adj., 2 n. —ex plo'sive ly, adv. —ex plo'sive ness, n.

ex po nent (eks pō'nənt), 1. person or thing that explains, interprets, etc. 2. person or thing that stands as an example, type, or symbol of something: Lincoln is a famous exponent of self-education. 3. index or small number written above and to the right of an algebraic symbol or quantity to show how many times the symbol or quantity is to be used as a factor. Examples: $2^2 = 2 \times 2$; $a^3 = a \times a \times a$. n.

ex port (eks pōrt' or eks'pōrt for 1; eks'pōrt for 2,3), 1. send (goods) out of one country for sale and use in another: The United States exports automobiles. 2. article exported: Cotton is an important export of the United States. 3. an exporting; exportation. 1 v., 2,3 n.

ex por ta tion (eks'pōr tā'shən), 1. an exporting. 2. article exported; export. n.

ex port er (eks pōr'tər or eks'pōr tər), person or company whose business is exporting goods. n.

ex pose (eks pōz'), 1. lay open; leave unprotected; uncover: The soldiers in the open field were exposed to the enemy's gunfire. His foolish actions exposed him to ridicule. 2. show openly; display: expose goods for sale in a store. 3. make known; show up; reveal: He exposed the plot to the police. 4. abandon; put out without shelter: The ancient Spartans used to expose babies that they did not want. 5. allow light to reach and act on (a photographic film or plate). v., ex posed, ex pos ing. —ex pos'er, n.

ex po sé (eks'pō zā'), a showing up of crime, dishonesty, fraud, etc. n.

ex posed (eks pōzd'), 1. left unprotected; uncovered. 2. open to view; not concealed. adj.

ex po si tion (eks'pə zish'ən), 1. a public show or exhibition. A world's fair is an exposition. 2. a detailed explanation. 3. speech or writing explaining a process or idea. n.

ex pos i tor (eks poz'ə tər), person or thing that explains; expounder; interpreter. n.

ex pos i to ry (eks poz'ə tō'rē), explaining; serving or helping to explain. adj.

ex post facto (eks'pōst' fak'tō), made or done after something, but applying to it. An ex post facto law applies to actions done before the law was passed.

ex pos tu late (eks pos'chə lāt), reason earnestly with a person, protesting against something he means to do or has done; remonstrate: The father expostulated with his son about the foolishness of leaving school. v.

ex pos tu lat ed, ex pos tu lat ing. —ex pos'tu la'tor, n.

ex pos tu la tion (eks pos'chə lā'shən), earnest protest; remonstrance: The teacher's expostulations failed, and he resorted to threats. n.

ex pos tu la to ry (eks pos'chə lə tō'rē), of or containing expostulation. adj.

ex po sure (eks pō'zhər), 1. an exposing: The exposure of the real criminal cleared the innocent man. Anyone would dread public exposure of all his faults. 2. a being exposed: Exposure to the rain has spoiled this machinery.

3. position in relation to the sun and wind: A house with a southern exposure is open to sun and wind from the south.
4. time during which light reaches and acts on a photographic film or plate.
5. part of a photographic film for one picture.
6. a putting off without shelter; abandoning. n.

ex pound (eks pound'), 1. make clear; explain; interpret: The teacher expounds each new principle in arithmetic to the class. 2. set forth or state in detail. v.

ex-pres i dent (eks'prez'ə dənt), a former president; living person who once was president, but no longer is. n.

ex press (eks pres'), 1. put into words: Express your ideas clearly. 2. show by look, voice, or action; reveal: A smile expresses joy. 3. show by a sign, figure, etc.; indicate: The sign X expresses multiplication. 4. clear; plain; definite: It was his express wish that we should go without him. 5. special; for a particular purpose: She came for the express purpose of seeing you. 6. exact: He is the express image of his father. 7. a special messenger or message sent for a particular purpose. 8. a quick or direct means of sending things. Packages and money can be sent by express in trains or airplanes. 9. system or company for sending parcels, money, etc. 10. having to do with express: An express agency or company is in the express business. 11. things sent by express. 12. U.S. send by express. 13. by express; directly. 14. traveling fast and making few stops: an express train. 15. train, bus, elevator, etc., doing this. 16. for fast traveling: an express highway. 17. press out; squeeze out: The juice is expressed from grapes to make wine. 1-3, 12, 17 v., 4-6, 10, 14, 16 adj., 7-9, 11, 15 n., 13 adv.

express oneself, say what one thinks.

ex press i ble (eks pres'ə bl), capable of being expressed. adj.

ex pression (eks presh'ən), 1. a putting into words: His clear expression of the plan made it easier for us to understand. 2. word or group of words used as a unit: "Swell guy" is a slang expression. 3. a showing by look, voice, or action: A sigh is the expression of sadness. 4. indication of feeling, spirit, character, etc.; look that shows feeling: A grin is a happy expression. 5. a bringing out the meaning or beauty of something read, spoken, played, sung, etc.: Try to read with more expression. 6. a showing by a sign, figure, etc. 7. a pressing out: the expression of oil from plants. n.

ex pression less (eks presh'ən lis), without expression: an expressionless face, an expressionless voice. adj.

ex pres sive (eks pres'iv), 1. serving as a sign or indication; expressing: "Alas" is a word expressive of sadness. 2. full of expression; having much feeling, meaning, etc.: "His skin hung on his bones" is a more expressive sentence than "He was very emaciated." adj.
—ex pres'sive ly, adv. —ex pres'sive ness, n.

ex press ly (eks pres'lē), 1. clearly; plainly; definitely: You are expressly forbidden to touch it. 2. specially; on purpose: She came expressly to see you. adv.

ex press man (eks pres'mən), person who works in the express business, especially one who collects or delivers articles. n., pl. ex press men.

ex press way (eks pres'wā'), an express highway. n.

ex pro pri ate (eks prō'prē āt), 1. take (land, etc.) out of the owner's possession; especially, take for public use. A city can expropriate land for a public park. 2. put (a person) out of possession; dispossess. v., ex pro pri ate, ex pro pri at ing. —ex pro'pri a'tion, n.

ex pul sion (eks pul'shən), 1. an expelling; forcing out: expulsion of air from the lungs. 2. a being expelled or forced out: Expulsion from school was his punishment for bad behavior. n.

ex pul sive (eks pul'siv), expelling; forcing out. adj.

ex pun ge (eks punj'), remove completely; blot out; erase: The secretary was directed to expunge certain accusations from the record. v., ex pun ged, ex pun g ing.

ex pur gate (eks'pər gāt), remove objectionable passages or words from (a book, letter, etc.); purify. v., ex pur gat ed, ex pur gat ing. —ex'pur ga'tor, n.

ex pur ga tion (eks'pər gā'shən), the removing or removal from a book, etc., of something that seems objectionable. n.

ex qui site (eks'kwiz it or eks kwiz'it), 1. very lovely; delicate: Those violets are exquisite flowers. 2. sharp; intense: exquisite pain. 3. of highest excellence; most admirable: She has exquisite taste and manners. 4. keenly sensitive: an exquisite ear for music. adj. —ex'qui-site ly, adv. —ex'qui site ness, n.

ex-serv ice (eks'sēr'vis), having formerly served in the army, navy, or air force. adj.

ex tant (eks'tənt or eks tant'), still in existence: Some of Washington's letters are extant. adj.

ex tem po ra ne ous (eks tem'pə rā'nē əs), 1. spoken or done without preparation; offhand: an extemporaneous speech. 2. made for the occasion: an extemporaneous shelter against a storm. adj. —ex tem'po ra'ne ous ly, adv. —ex tem'po ra'ne ous ness, n.

ex tem po re (eks tem'pə rē), 1. on the spur of the moment; without preparation; offhand: Each pupil will be called on to speak extempore. 2. made, done, or said on the spur of the moment; impromptu. 1 adv., 2 adj.

ex tem po rize (eks tem'pə rīz), 1. speak, play, sing, or dance, composing as one proceeds: The pianist was extemporizing. 2. compose offhand; make for the occasion: The campers extemporized a shelter for the night. v., ex tem po rized, ex tem po rizing. —ex tem'po ri-za'tion, n.

ex tend (eks tend'), 1. stretch out: extend your hand. 2. be continued in time, space, or direction: The beach extends for miles in both directions. The conference extends from Wednesday to Saturday. 3. straighten out. 4. lengthen. 5. widen; enlarge. 6. give; grant: extend help to poor people. v.

ex tend ed (eks ten'did), 1. extensive; widespread. 2. stretched out; prolonged. 3. widened. 4. spread out; outstretched. adj.

ex ten sile (eks ten'sl), capable of being stuck out: extensile claws. adj.

ex ten sion (eks ten'shən), 1. an extending: the extension of one's arm. 2. a being extended: The university extension opens courses to students not able or wishing to take work on the campus. 3. an extended part; addition: The new extension to the old school will make room for more students. 4. range; extent. n.

ex ten sive (eks ten'siv), 1. of great extent; wide; broad; large: an extensive park. 2. far-reaching; affecting many things; comprehensive: extensive changes. 3. depending on the use of large areas: extensive agriculture. adj. —ex ten'sive ly, adv. —ex ten'sive ness, n.

ex ten sor (eks ten'sər), muscle that extends or straightens out a limb or other part of the body. n.

ex tent (eks tent'), 1. size, space, length, amount, or degree to which a thing extends: Railroads carry people and goods through the whole extent of the country. The extent of a judge's power is limited by law. 2. something extended; extended space: a vast extent of prairie. n.

ex ten u ate (eks ten'yū āt), 1. make (guilt, a fault, offense, etc.) seem less; excuse in part: His foreign upbringing extenuates his faulty pronunciation. 2. make thin or weak. v., ex ten u at ed, ex ten u at ing.

ex ten u a tion (eks ten'yū ā'shən), 1. an extenuating: The lawyer pleaded his client's youth in extenuation of the crime. 2. something that lessens the seriousness of guilt, a fault, an offense, etc.; partial excuse. n.

ex te ri or (eks tī'rē or), 1. an outer surface or part; outward appearance; outside: The exterior of the house was of brick. The gruff old man has a harsh exterior but a kind heart. 2. on the outside; outer: The skin of an apple is its exterior covering. 3. coming from without; happening outside: exterior influences. 1 n., 2, 3 adj.

ex ter mi nate (eks tēr'mə nāt), destroy completely: This poison will exterminate rats. v., ex ter mi nated, ex ter mi nating.

ex ter mi na tion (eks tēr'mə nā'shən), complete destruction: This poison is useful for the extermination of rats. n.

ex ter mi na tor (eks tēr'mə nā'tər), 1. person or thing that exterminates. 2. person whose business is exterminating fleas, lice, bedbugs, rats, etc. n.

ex ter nal (eks tēr'nl), 1. on the outside; outer. 2. an outer surface or part; outside. 3. to be used on the outside of the body: Liniment and rubbing alcohol are external remedies. 4. entirely outside; coming from without. 5. having existence outside one's mind. 6. having to do with outward appearance or show; superficial: Going to church is an external act of worship. 7. having to do with international affairs; foreign: War affects a nation's external trade. 1,3-7 adj., 2 n.

externals, clothing, manners, outward acts, or appearances: He judges people by mere externals.

ex ter nal ly (eks tēr'nl ē), in an external manner; on the outside. adv.

ex tinct (eks tingkt'), 1. no longer in existence: The dinosaur is an extinct animal. 2. no longer active; extinguished: an extinct volcano. adj.

ex tinc tion (eks tingk'shən), 1. an extinguishing: The sudden extinction of the lights left the room in darkness. 2. a being extinguished; extinct condition. 3. suppression; a doing away with completely; wiping out; destruction: The war caused the extinction of many pacifist organizations. n.

ex tin guish (eks ting'gwish), 1. put out; quench: Water extinguished the fire. 2. put an end to; do away with; wipe out; destroy: One failure after another extinguished her hope. 3. eclipse or obscure by superior brilliancy. v. —ex tin'guish a ble, adj. —ex tin'guish er, n. —ex tin'guish ment, n.

ex tir pate (eks'tər pāt), 1. remove completely; destroy totally: Kidnaping must be extirpated. 2. tear up by the roots. v., ex tir pat ed, ex tir pat ing.

ex tir pa tion (eks'tər pā'shən), 1. complete removal; total destruction. 2. a tearing up by the roots. n.

ex tol or ex toll (eks tōl'), praise highly; commend: The newspapers extolled our brave soldiers. v., ex tolled, ex tol ling.

ex tort (eks tōrt'), obtain (money, a promise, etc.) by threats, force, fraud, or illegal use of authority: Black-mailers try to extort money from their victims. v. —ex-tort'er, n.

ex tor tion (eks tōr'shən), 1. an obtaining of money, a promise, etc., by threats, force, fraud, or illegal use of authority: Very high interest on loans is considered extortion and is forbidden by law. 2. money, promise, etc., obtained in this way. n.

ex tor tion ate (eks tōr'shən it), 1. characterized by extortion: extortionate demands. 2. much too great: an extortionate price. adj. —ex tor'tion ate ly, adv.

ex tor tion er (eks tōr'shən ər), person who is guilty of extortion. n.

ex tor tion ist (eks tōr'shən ist), extortioner. n.

ex tra (eks'trə), 1. more, greater, or better than what is usual, expected, or needed: extra pay, extra favors. 2. something in addition to what is usual, expected, or needed: Her bill for extras was $30. 3. an additional charge. 4. a special edition of a newspaper: Every paper in town came out with extras when the news came through of the end of the war. 5. person who is employed by the day to play minor parts in motion pictures. 6. an additional worker. 7. more than usually: extra fine quality. 1 adj., 2-6 n., 7 adv.

ex tract (eks trakt' for 1-5,8; eks'trakt for 6,7), 1. pull out or draw out, usually with some effort: extract a tooth, extract a confession. 2. obtain by pressure, suction, etc.: extract oil from olives. 3. deduce: extract a principle from a collection of facts. 4. derive: extract pleasure from a situation. 5. take out; select (a passage) from a book, speech, etc. 6. something drawn out or taken out; passage taken from a book, speech, etc.

7. a concentrated preparation of a substance. Vanilla extract, made from vanilla beans, is used as flavoring.

8. calculate or find (the root of a number). 1-5,8 v., 6,7 n. —ex trac'tor, n.

ex trac tion (eks trak'shən), 1. an extracting: the extraction of a tooth. 2. a being extracted. 3. descent; origin: Miss Del Rio is of Spanish extraction. n.

ex trac tive (eks trak'tiv), extracting. adj.

ex tra cur ric u lar (eks'trə kə rik'yə lər), outside the regular course of study: Football and debating are extracurricular activities in our high school. adj.

ex tra dite (eks'trə dīt), 1. give up or deliver (a fugitive or prisoner) to another nation or legal authority for trial or punishment: If an escaped prisoner of the State of Ohio is caught in Indiana, he can be extradited from Indiana to Ohio. 2. obtain the extradition of (such a person). v., ex tra dit ed, ex tra dit ing.

ex tra di tion (eks'trə dish'ən), surrender of a fugitive or prisoner by one state, nation, or legal authority to another for trial or punishment. n.

ex tra le gal (eks'trə lē'gl), beyond the control or influence of law. adj.

ex tra ne ous (eks trā'nē əs), from outside; not belonging; foreign: Sand or some other extraneous matter had got into the butter. adj.

ex traor di nar i ly (eks trōr'də ner'ə lē), in an extraordinary manner; to an extraordinary degree; most unusually. adv.

ex traor di nar y (eks trōr'də ner'ē; eks'trə ōr'də ner'ē esp. for 2), 1. beyond what is ordinary; most unusual; very remarkable: Seven feet is an extraordinary height for a person. 2. outside of, additional to, or ranking below the regular class of officials; special. An envoy extraordinary is one sent on a special mission; he ranks below an ambassador. adj.

ex tra ter ri to ri al (eks'trə ter'ə tō'rē əl), outside the laws of the country that a person lives in. Any ambassador to the United States has certain extraterritorial privileges. adj.

ex trav a gance (eks trav'ə gəns), 1. careless and lavish spending; wastefulness: His extravagance kept him always in debt. 2. a going beyond the bounds of reason; excess: The extravagance of the salesman's claims caused us to doubt the worth of his product. 3. an extravagant action, idea, purchase, etc. n.

ex trav a gant (eks trav'ə gənt), 1. spending carelessly and lavishly; wasteful: An extravagant person usually has extravagant tastes and habits. 2. beyond the bounds of reason; excessive: People laughed at the inventor's extravagant praise of his invention. He refused to buy the ring because of the extravagant price. adj. —ex trav'a gant ly, adv.

ex trav a gan za (eks trav'ə gən'zə), a fantastic play, piece of music, literary composition, etc. Musical comedies having elaborate scenery, gorgeous costumes, etc., are extravaganzas. n.

ex tre me (eks trēm'), 1. much more than usual; very great; very strong: extreme love for one's country. 2. very severe; very violent. 3. at the very end; farthest possible; last. 4. something extreme; one of two things as far or as different as possible from each other: Love and hate are two extremes of feeling. 5. an extreme degree: Joy is happiness in the extreme. 6. the first or last term in a proportion or series: In the proportion, 2 is to 4 as 8 is to 16, 2 and 16 are extremes; 4 and 8 are the means. 1-3 adj., ex trem er, ex trem est; 4-6 n. —ex tre me'ness, n.

go to extremes, do or say too much.

ex tre me ly (eks trēm'lē), much more than usual; very. adv.

extreme unction, sacrament of the Roman Catholic Church, given by a priest to a dying person or one in danger of death.

ex trem ist (eks trēm'ist), 1. person who goes to extremes. 2. person who has extreme ideas or favors extreme measures. n.

ex trem i ty (eks trem'ə tē), 1. the very end; farthest possible place; last part or point. 2. extreme need, danger, suffering, etc.: In their extremity the people on the sinking ship bore themselves bravely. 3. an extreme degree: Perfect bliss is the extremity of happiness. 4. an extreme action: The soldiers were forced to the extremity of firing their rifles to scatter the angry mob. n., pl. ex trem i ties.

extremities, hands and feet.

ex tri ca ble (eks'trə kə bl), capable of being extricated. adj.

ex tri cate (eks'trə kāt), set free (from entanglements, difficulties, embarrassing situations, etc.); release: Tom extricated his younger brother from the barbed-wire fence. v., ex tri cat ed, ex tri cat ing. —ex'tri ca tion, n.

ex trin sic (eks trin'sik), 1. not essential or inherent; caused by external circumstances. 2. being outside of a thing; coming from without; external. adj.

ex trin si cal ly (eks trin'sik lē), in an extrinsic manner; from without; externally. adv.

ex tro ver sion (eks'trə vēr'zhən), tendency to be more interested in what is going on around one than in one's own thoughts and feelings. n.

ex tro vert (eks'trə vèrt), person more interested in what is going on around him than in his own thoughts and feelings; person tending to act rather than think. n.

ex trude (eks trüd'), 1. thrust out; push out. 2. stick out; protrude. v., ex trud ed, ex trud ing.

ex tru sion (eks trü'zhən), 1. an extruding. 2. a being extruded. n.

ex u ber ance (eg zü'bər əns), fact, quality, state, or condition of being exuberant; great abundance; luxurious growth: exuberance of shrubbery. n.

ex u ber an cy (eg zü'bər ən sē), exuberance. n., pl. ex u ber an cies.

ex u ber ant (eg zü'bər ənt), 1. very abundant; overflowing; lavish: exuberant health, good nature, or joy; an exuberant welcome. 2. profuse in growth; luxuriant: the exuberant vegetation of the jungle. adj. —ex u'ber ant ly, adv.

ex u da tion (eks'ū dā'shən), 1. an exuding. 2. something exuded, such as sweat. n.

ex u de (eg züd' or eks ūd'), 1. come or send out in drops; ooze: Sweat exudes from the pores in the skin. 2. give forth: Some successful men exude self-confidence. v., ex ud ed, ex ud ing.

ex ult (eg zult'), be very glad; rejoice greatly: The winners exulted in their victory. v. —ex ult'ing ly, adv.

ex ult ant (eg zult'ənt), rejoicing greatly; exulting; triumphant: He gave an exultant shout. adj. —ex ult'ant ly, adv.

ex ul ta tion (eg'zul tā'shən or ek'sul tā'shən), act of exulting; great rejoicing; triumph: There was exultation over the army's victory. n.

-ey, suffix meaning: full of; containing; like, as in clayey, skyey, etc. -ey is often added to nouns to form adjectives.

eye (ī), 1. organ of the body by which people and animals see; organ of sight. 2. the colored part of the eye; iris. 3. region surrounding the eye: The blow gave him a black eye. 4. any organ that is sensitive to light. 5. sense of seeing; vision; sight. 6. ability to see small differences in things: A good artist must have an eye for color. 7. look; glance. 8. a watchful look. 9. look at; watch: The dog eyed the stranger. 10. way of thinking or considering; view; opinion; judgment: Stealing is a crime in the eye of the law. 11. thing

Diagram of the eye of a man shaped like, resembling, or suggesting an eye. The little spots on potatoes, the relatively quiet center of a hurricane, the hole for thread in a needle, and the loop to fasten a hook are all called eyes. 1-8,10,11 n., 9 v., eyed, ey ing or eye ing.

an eye for an eye, punishment as severe as the injury. catch one's eye, attract one's attention.

have an eye to, look out for; pay attention to.

in the public eye, 1. often seen in public. 2. widely known.

keep an eye on, look after; watch carefully: Keep an eye on the baby.

make eyes at, look at with liking or love.

open a person's eyes, make him see what is really happening.

see eye to eye, agree entirely; have exactly the same opinion.

set eyes on, see; look at.

shut one's eyes to, refuse to see or consider.

eye ball (ī'bōl'), the ball-shaped part of the eye without the lids and bony socket. n.

eye brow (ī'brou'), 1. arch of hair above the eye. 2. the bony ridge that it grows on. n.

eye cup (ī'kup'), a small cup with a rim shaped to fit over the eye, used in washing the eyes or putting medicine in them. n.

eye ful (ī'fūl), 1. as much as the eye can see at one time. 2. Informal. a good look. 3. Slang. a good-looking girl or woman. n.

eye glass (ī'glas'), 1. a glass lens to aid poor vision. 2. eyecup. 3. eyepiece. n.

eyeglasses, pair of glass lenses to help vision.

eye hole (ī'hōl'), 1. the bony socket for the eyeball.

2. hole to look through. 3. a round opening for a pin, hook, rope, etc., to go through. n.

eye lash (ī'lash'), 1. one of the hairs on the edge of the eyelid. 2. fringe of such hairs. n.

eye less (ī'lis), without eyes; blind. adj.

eye let (ī'lit), 1. a small, round hole for a lace or cord to go through. 2. a metal ring around such a hole to strengthen it. 3. hole to look through. 4. a small, round hole with stitches around it, used to make a pattern in embroidery. n.

eye lid (ī'lid'), the movable fold of skin over the eye. n.

eye opener, Slang. a surprising happening or discovery; startling piece of information.

eye piece (ī'pēs'), lens or set of lenses nearest to the eye of the user in a telescope, microscope, etc. n.

eye shot (ī'shot'), range of vision. n.

eye sight (ī'sit'), 1. power of seeing; sight. 2. range of vision; view. n.

eye socket, the bony cavity in which the eyeball is set.

eye sore (ī'sôr'), thing unpleasant to look at: A garbage heap is an eyesore. n.

eye spot (ī'spot'), the simplest kind of organ for seeing in many low animals. n.

eye strain (ī'strān'), a tired or weak condition of the eyes caused by using them too much, reading in a dim light, etc. n.

eye tooth (ī'tūth'), either of the two pointed, upper teeth between the incisors and the bicuspids; upper canine tooth. n., pl. eye teeth.

eye wink er (ī'wingk'ər), eyelash. n.

eye wit ness (ī'wit'nis), person who actually sees or has seen some act or happening, and thus can give testimony concerning it. n.

ey rie or ey ry (ār'ē or ir'ē), aerie. n., pl. ey ries.

E ze ki el (i zē'kē əl), 1. a Hebrew prophet in the sixth century B.C. 2. book of the Old Testament. n.

Ez ra (ez'rə), 1. a Hebrew scribe who led a revival of the religion of Judaism. 2. book of the Old Testament. n.

F

F or f (ef), the sixth letter of the alphabet. n., pl. F's or f's.

F, fluorine.

F., 1. Fahrenheit. 2. Friday. 3. February.

f., 1. female. 2. feminine.

fa (fä), the fourth note of the musical scale. See do: for diagram. n.

Fa bi an (fä/bē ən), using stratagem and delay to wear out an opponent; cautious; slow. adj.

fa ble (fä/bl), 1. story made up to teach a lesson. Fables are often about animals who can talk, such as The Hare and the Tortoise and The Fox and the Crow. 2. an untrue story; falsehood. 3. legend; myth. 4. tell or write fables. 1-3 n., 4 v., fa bled, fa bling.

fa bled (fä/bld), 1. told about in fables, legends, or myths. 2. having no real existence; made up; fictitious. adj.

fabric (fab/rik), 1. woven or knitted material; cloth. Velvet, canvas, linen, and flannel are fabrics. 2. texture, whether smooth or rough, loose or close, etc.: suits and dresses made of cloths of different fabric. 3. structure; thing constructed of combined parts; framework: Unwise loans weakened the financial fabric of the bank. n.

fab ri cate (fab/rä kät), 1. build; construct; manufacture. 2. make by fitting together standardized parts: Automobiles are fabricated from parts made in different factories. 3. make up; invent (stories, lies, excuses, etc.). v., fab ri cat ed, fab ri cat ing.

fab ri ca tion (fab/rä kă/shən), 1. manufacture; fabricating. 2. something fabricated; story, lie, excuse, etc. n.

Fab ri koid (fab/rä koid), Trademark. a waterproof fabric made to look like leather, used for bindings of books, for traveling bags, etc. n.

fab u lous (fab/yə ləs), 1. not believable; amazing: That antique shop asks fabulous prices. 2. of or belonging to a fable; imaginary: The phoenix is a fabulous bird. 3. like a fable. adj., —fab'u lous ly, adv. —fab'u lous ness, n.

fa çade (fä säd'), 1. the front part of a building. 2. any side of a building that faces a street or other open space. n.

face (fäs), 1. the front part of the head. 2. look; expression: His face was sad. 3. an ugly or peculiar look made by distorting the face: Lulu made a face at me. 4. outward appearance. 5. the front part; right side; surface: the face of a clock, the whole face of the earth. 6. have the face (toward); be opposite (to): The house faces the street. The picture faces page 60 in my book. 7. turn the face (toward). 8. cause to face. 9. meet face to face; stand before. 10. meet bravely or boldly; oppose and resist: Soldiers must face the enemy. 11. present itself to: A crisis faced us. 12. Informal. boldness; impudence: Lulu had the face to insult a policeman. 13. personal importance; dignity; self-respect: Face is very important to Oriental peoples. 14. the stated value: The face of the note was $100, but $73 was all that anybody would pay for it. 15. cover with a different material: She faced the sleeves with silk. A wooden house is sometimes faced with brick. 16. smooth the surface of (stone, etc.). 1-5, 12-14 n., 6-11, 15, 16 v., faced, fac ing.

face to face, 1. with faces toward each other. 2. in the actual presence. in the face of, 1. in the presence of. 2. in spite of. lose face, lose dignity or self-respect; be humiliated.

Façade (def. 1) of a church pull a long face, look sad, unhappy, or disapproving. set one's face against, oppose and resist.

to one's face, 1. in one's presence. 2. openly; boldly.

face card, king, queen, or jack of playing cards.

fac et (fas'it), 1. any one of the small, polished surfaces of a cut gem. 2. anything like the facet of a gem. 3. cut facets on. 1, 2 n., 3 v., fac et ed, fac et ing or esp. Brit.

fac et ed, fac et ing.

fa ce tious (fä sē/shəs), 1. having the habit of joking. 2. said in fun; not to be taken seriously: facetious remarks. adj. —fa ce/- tious ly, adv. —fa ce'tious ness, n.

face value, 1. value stated on a bond, check, note, bill, etc. 2. apparent worth, meaning, etc.

fa cial (fä/shäl), 1. of the face. 2. for the face. 3. Informal. massage or treatment of the face. 1, 2 adj., 3 n.

fac ile (fas'l), 1. easily done, used, etc.: a facile task, facile methods. 2. moving, acting, working, etc., with ease: a facile hand, a facile tongue, a facile pen.

3. of easy manners or temper; agreeable; yielding: Her facile nature adapted itself to any company. adj.

—fac'ile ly, adv.

fa cil i tate (fä sil'ə tāt), make easy; lessen the labor of my housework. v., fa cil i tat ed, fa cil i tat ing.

fa cil i ty (fä sil'ə tē), 1. absence of difficulty; ease:

The boy ran and dodged with such facility that no one could catch him. The facility of communication is far greater now than it was a hundred years ago. 2. power to do anything easily, quickly, and smoothly. 3. something that makes an action easy; aid; convenience: Ropes, swings, and sand piles are facilities for play. 4. easy-going quality; tendency to yield to others. n., pl.

fa cil i ties.

fac ing (fäs'ing), 1. a covering of different material for ornament, protection, etc.: A wooden house some- times has a brick facing. 2. material applied inside or outside, along an edge of a garment to protect or trim it. n.

fac ings, cuffs, collar, and trimmings of a military coat.

fac sim i le (fak sim'ə lē), 1. an exact copy or likeness; perfect reproduction. 2. process for transmitting printed matter and photographs by radio and reproducing them on paper at the receiving set. 3. make a facsimile of. 1, 2 n., 3 v., fac sim i led, fac sim i le ing.

in facsimile, exactly.

fact (fakt), 1. thing known to be true or to have really happened: scientific facts. 2. what is true or has really happened; truth; reality: The fact of the matter is, I did not go. 3. thing said or supposed to be true or to have really happened: We doubted his facts. 4. deed; act. n.

in fact, truly; really.

in point of fact, truly; really.

fac tion (fak/shən), 1. group of people in a political party, church, club, etc., acting together or having a common end in view. 2. a selfish or unscrupulous group:

A faction in our club tried to use it for their own purposes. 3. strife or quarreling among the members of a political party, church, club, etc. n.

fac tion al (fak/shən l), having to do with factions; causing faction; partisan. adj.

fac tious (fak/shəs), 1. fond of causing faction. 2. of or caused by faction. adj. —fac'tious ly, adv. —fac'- tious ness, n.

fac ti tious (fak tish'əs), developed by effort; not natural; forced; artificial: Extensive advertising can cause a factitious demand for an article. adj. —fac ti'tious ly, adv.

fac tor (fak'tər), 1. element, condition, quality, etc., that helps to bring about a result: Endurance is an important factor of success in sports. 2. any of the Cut gem showing facets numbers, algebraic expressions, etc., that produce a given number or quantity when multiplied together: 5, 3, and 4 are factors of 60. 3. separate into such factors. 4. person who does business for another; agent. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

fac to ry (fak'tə rē), 1. building or group of buildings where things are manufactured. 2. a trading post in a foreign country. n., pl. fac to ries.

fac to tum (fak tō'təm), person employed to do all kinds of work. n.

fac tu al (fak'chü əl), concerned with fact; consisting of facts. adj. —fac'tu al ly, adv.

fac ul ty (fak'əl tē), 1. power of the mind or body: the faculty of hearing, the faculty of memory. Old people sometimes lose their faculties. 2. power to do some special thing, especially a power of the mind: Nell has a great faculty for arithmetic. 3. teachers of a school, college, or university. 4. department of learning in a university: the faculty of theology, of law, of medicine. 5. members of a profession: The medical faculty is made up of doctors, surgeons, etc. n., pl. fac ul ties.

fad (fad), 1. something everybody is very much interested in for a short time; craze; rage: Crossword puzzles became a fad several years ago. 2. hobby: Collecting stamps is a good fad. n.

fad dist (fad'ist), person devoted to a fad; person who takes up new fads. n.

fade (fād), 1. lose color or brightness: My colored dress faded when it was washed. 2. lose freshness or strength; wither: Th flowers in her garden faded at the end of the summer. 3. die away; disappear: The sound faded after the train went by. 4. cause to fade: Sunlight faded my new dresses. v., fad ed, fad ing.

fade in, slowly become more distinct or louder.

fade out, slowly become less perceptible.

fade-out (fād'out'), 1. scene in a motion picture that slowly disappears. 2. a gradual disappearance. n.

fa er ie (fā'ər ē or fār'ē),

1. Archaic. fairyland. 2. fairy. 1,2 n., pl. fa er ies; 2 adj.

Faer oe Islands (fār'ō), group of Danish islands in the N Atlantic, between Great Britain and Iceland. 32,000 pop.; 540 sq. mi. Also, Faroe Islands.

fa ery (fā'ər ē or fār'ē), faerie. n., pl. fa er ies; adj.

fag (fag), 1. work hard or until wearied: Tom fagged away at his arithmetic. 2. tire by work: The horse was fagged. 3. Brit. hard, uninteresting work. 4. person who does hard work; drudge. 5. boy who waits on an older boy in English schools. 6. act as a fag. 1,2,6 v., fagged, fag ging; 3-5 n.

fag end, 1. the last and poorest part of anything; remnant. 2. the coarse, unfinished end of a piece of cloth. 3. an untwisted end of rope.

fag got (fag'ət), Esp. Brit. fagot. n., v.

Fa gin (fā'gən), criminal in Dickens' novel Oliver Twist who trained boys to be thieves. n.

fag ot (fag'ət), 1. bundle of sticks or twigs tied together: He built the fire with fagots. 2. bundle of iron rods or pieces of iron or steel to be welded. 3. tie or fasten together into bundles; make into a fagot. 4. ornament with fagoting. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

Fahr en heit (fār'ən hīt), of, based on, or according to the Fahrenheit scale for measuring temperature, on which 32 degrees marks the freezing point of water and 212 degrees the boiling point. adj.

Fahrenheit thermometer, thermometer marked off according to the Fahrenheit scale. See thermometer for diagram.

fai ence (fī āns'), a glazed earthenware or porcelain, usually of fine quality. n.

fail (fāl), 1. not succeed; be unable to do or become what is wanted, expected, or attempted; come out badly: After a long drought, the crops failed. 2. not do; neglect: He failed to follow our advice. 3. be of no use or help to: When we needed him, he failed us. 4. be lacking or absent; be not enough; fall short: When our supplies failed, we had no food. 5. lose strength; become weak; die away: The sick man's heart was failing. 6. be unable to pay what one owes: That company will fail. 7. be unsuccessful in an examination, etc.; receive a mark of failure. 8. Informal. give the mark of failure to (a student). v.

fail of, be unable to have or get; lack.

without fail, without failing to do, happen, etc.; surely; certainly.

failing (fāl'ing), 1. failure. 2. fault; weakness; defect. 3. in the absence of; lacking; without: Failing good weather, the party will be held indoors. 1,2 n., 3 prep.

faile (fil or fāl), a soft, ribbed silk or rayon cloth. n.

fail ure (fāl'yər), 1. being unable to do or become; failing. 2. a not doing; neglecting. 3. being lacking or absent; being not enough; falling short: failure of crops. 4. losing strength; becoming weak; dying away: failure of eyesight. 5. being unable to pay what one owes. 6. person or thing that has failed: The picnic was a failure because it rained. n.

fain (fān), Archaic and Poetic. 1. by choice; gladly; willingly. 2. willing, but not eager; forced by circumstances. 3. glad; willing. 4. eager; desirous. 1 adv., 2-4 adj.

faint (fānt), 1. not clear or plain; dim: faint colors. 2. weak; feeble: a faint voice. 3. done feebly or without zest: a faint attempt. 4. condition in which a person lies for a time as if asleep and does not know what is going on around him. 5. lose consciousness temporarily. 6. ready to faint; about to faint. 7. Archaic. grow weak; lose courage: "Ye shall reap, if ye faint not." 1-3,6 adj., 4 n., 5,7 v. —faint'ly, adv. —faint'ness, n.

feel faint, feel ready to faint.

faint heart (fānt'hārt'), a faint-hearted person. n.

faint-hearted (fānt'hār'tid), lacking courage; cowardly; timid. adj. —faint'-heart'ed ly, adv. —faint'-heart'ed ness, n.

fair (fār), 1. not favoring one more than the other or others; just; honest: a fair judge. He is fair even to people he dislikes. 2. according to the rules: fair play. 3. pretty good; not bad; average: There is a fair crop of wheat this year. 4. favorable; likely; promising: He is in a fair way to succeed. 5. not dark; light: A blond person has fair hair and skin. 6. not cloudy or stormy; clear; sunny: The weather will be fair today. 7. pleasing to see; beautiful: a fair lady. 8. civil; courteous: fair words. 9. without spots or stains; clean: She made a fair copy of her essay. 10. easily read; plain: fair handwriting. 11. not blocked up; open: a fair view of the ocean. 12. seeming good at first, but not really so: His fair promises proved false. 13. in a fair manner; honestly: fair-spoken, to play fair. 14. directly; straight: The stone hit him fair in the head. 15. Archaic. woman; sweetheart. 1-12 adj., 13,14 adv., 15 n. —fair'ness, n.

bid fair, seem likely; have a good chance.

fair and square, Informal. just; honest.

fair (fār), 1. display of goods, products, etc.: At the county fair last year, prizes were given for the best farm products and livestock. 2. a gathering of people to buy and sell, often held in a certain place at regular times during the year. 3. entertainment and sale of articles: Our church held a fair to raise money. n.

fair ball, a batted ball in baseball that is not a foul.

Fair Deal, name given by President Harry S. Truman to his domestic policy, particularly during and after the 1948 Presidential campaign.

fair game, 1. animals or birds that it is lawful to hunt. 2. a suitable object of attack.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, ĭce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus:

fair ground (fär'ground'), place out of doors, usually with equipment for exhibitions and entertainment, where fairs are held. n.

fair-haired (fär'härd'), having light-colored hair. adj.

fair ish (fär'ish), fairly good, well, or large. adj.

fair ly (fär'lē), 1. in a fair manner. 2. to a fair degree. 3. justly; honestly. 4. rather; somewhat: A fairly good pupil is neither bad nor very good. 5. actually. 6. clearly. adv.

fair-mind ed (fär'min'did), not prejudiced; just; impartial. adj. —fair/mind'ed ness, n.

fair sex, women.

fair-spo ken (fär/spō'kən), speaking smoothly and pleasantly; civil; courteous. adj.

fair way (fär'wä'), 1. an unobstructed passage or way. The fairway in a harbor is the channel for ships. 2. the part in a golf course between the tee and putting green where the grass is kept short. n.

fair-wealth er (fär'weH'ər), 1. of or fitted for fair weather. 2. weakening or failing in time of need. adj.

Fair wealth er (fär'weH'ər), Mount, mountain in SE Alaska. 15,292 ft. n.

fair y (fär'ē), 1. a supernatural being with magic powers and able to help or harm human beings. In recent legend, fairies have been pictured as very small, and sometimes very lovely and delicate. In medieval story, however, fairies were often of full human size. 2. of fairies. 3. like a fairy; lovely; delicate. 1 n., pl. fairies; 2,3 adj.

fair y land (fär'ē land'), 1. imaginary place where the fairies live. 2. an enchanting and pleasant place. n.

fairy ring, circle formed on the grass by certain fungi. People used to think the fairies made it when dancing.

fairy tale, 1. story about fairies or other beings with magic powers. 2. an untrue story; falsehood; lie.

fait ac com pli (fe tā kōn plē'), French. thing done and no longer worth opposing.

faith (fäth), 1. a believing without proof; trust; confidence; reliance: We have faith in our friends. 2. belief in God, religion, or spiritual things. 3. what is believed. 4. religion: the Methodist faith, the Catholic faith. 5. a being faithful; loyalty: Good faith is honesty of intention; bad faith is intent to deceive. 6. truly; indeed. 1-5 n., 6 interj.

in faith, truly; indeed.

in good faith, honestly; sincerely.

keep faith, keep one's promise.

faith ful (fäth'fəl), 1. worthy of trust; doing one's duty; keeping one's promise; loyal: a faithful friend, a faithful servant. 2. true; accurate: a faithful account of what happened. 3. full of faith. adj. —faith'ful ly, adv. —faith'ful ness, n.

the faithful, 1. true believers. 2. loyal followers or supporters.

faith less (fäth'lis), 1. unworthy of trust; failing in one's duty; breaking one's promise; not loyal: A traitor is faithless. 2. not reliable. 3. without faith; unbelieving: He was a faithless unbeliever. adj. —faith'less ly, adv. —faith'less ness, n.

fake (fäk), 1. make to seem satisfactory; falsify; counterfeit: The picture was faked by pasting together two photographs. 2. fraud; deception: The beggar's limp was a fake. 3. intended to deceive; false: The firm forbids its salesman to use fake testimonials. 4. intentionally give a false appearance of; simulate: fake an illness. 1,4 v., faked, fak ing; 2 n., 3 adj. —fak'er, n.

fä kir (fä kir' or fä'kər), 1. a Moslem holy man who lives by begging. 2. a Hindu ascetic. Some fakirs lie on nails. n.

fal chion (föH'chən), 1. a broadsword with an edge that curves to a point. 2. Poetic. any sword. n.

Falchion (def. 1)

fal con (föH'kən, fal'kən, or föH'kən), 1. hawk trained to hunt and kill birds and small game. In the Middle Ages, hunting with falcons was a popular sport. 2. a swift-flying hawk having a short, curved, notched bill and long claws and wings. n.

fal con er (föH'kən ər or föH'kən ər), 1. man who hunts with falcons.

2. breeder and trainer of falcons. n.

fal con ry (föH'kən rē or föH'kən rē), 1. sport of hunting with falcons. 2. the training of falcons to hunt. n.

fal de ral (fal'də ral), 1. a flimsy thing; a trifle. 2. nonsense; rubbish.

3. a meaningless refrain in songs. n.

Falk land Islands (föH'länd), group of islands in the S Atlantic, east of the Strait of Magellan, administered by Great Britain but claimed also by Argentina. 2250 pop.; 4618 sq. mi. Capital:

Stanley.

fall (föH), 1. drop or come down from a higher place:

The snow falls fast. Leaves fall from the trees. 2. a falling; dropping from a higher place: The fall from his horse hurt him. 3. amount that falls: We had a heavy fall of snow last winter. 4. distance that anything falls: The fall of the river here is two feet. 5. a fall of water.

6. come down suddenly from an erect position: He fell on his knees. 7. a coming down suddenly from an erect position: The child had a bad fall. 8. hang down: Her curls fell upon her shoulders. 9. a hanging down; a dropping. 10. droop: She blushed, and her eyes fell.

11. become bad or worse: He was tempted and fell. 12. a becoming bad or worse: Adam's fall. 13. lose position, power, dignity, etc.; be taken by any evil: The President fell from the people's favor. 14. be captured, overthrown, or destroyed: The fort fell to the enemy. 15. capture; overthrow; destruction. 16. drop wounded or dead; be killed: Many men fell in battle.

17. pass into a certain condition: He fell asleep. The rent falls due on Monday. 18. come as if by dropping: When night falls, the stars appear. 19. come by chance or lot: Our choice fell on him. 20. come to pass; happen; occur: Christmas falls on Sunday this year. 21. come by right; be put properly: The money fell to the only son.

22. proper place: the fall of an accent. 23. become lower or less: Prices fell sharply. The water in the river has fallen two feet. 24. a lowering; a becoming less: a fall in prices, the fall of the tide. 25. be divided: The story falls into five parts. 26. look sad or disappointed: His face fell at the news. 27. slope downward: The land falls gradually to the beach. 28. a downward slope. 29. be directed: The light falls on my books. 30. Esp. U.S. season of the year between summer and winter; autumn. 31. of autumn; coming in the autumn. 32. a being thrown on one's back in wrestling. 33. contest in wrestling. 1,6,8,10,11,13,14,16-21,23,25-27,29 v., fell, fall en, fall ing; 2-5,7,9,12,15,22,24,28,30,32,33 n., 31 adj.

fall back, retreat; go toward the rear.

fall back on, 1. go back to for safety. 2. turn to for help or support.

fall behind, fail to keep up.

fall in, 1. take a place in line. 2. meet. 3. agree.

fall off, drop; become less.

fall on, attack.

fall out, 1. leave a place in line. 2. quarrel; stop being friends. 3. happen; turn out.

falls, 1. waterfall; cataract; cascade: Niagara Falls.

2. apparatus used in lowering and raising a ship's boat.

fall through, fail: His plans fell through.

fall to, 1. begin. 2. begin to attack, eat, etc. 3. go into place; close by itself.

fall under, belong under; be classified as.

fall upon, attack: The pirates fell upon the city.

the Fall, the sin of Adam and Eve in yielding to temptation and eating the forbidden fruit.

Falcon (17 in. long) fal la cious (fə lā'ʃəs), 1. deceptive; misleading. 2. logically unsound; erroneous: It is fallacious reasoning to base a general rule on just two or three instances. adj. —fal la'cious ly, adv. —fal la'cious ness, n.

fal la cy (fal'ə sē), 1. a false idea; mistaken belief; error: It is a fallacy to suppose that riches always bring happiness. 2. mistake in reasoning; misleading or unsound argument. n., p. fal la cies.

fall en (fōl'ən), 1. pp. of fall. Much rain has fallen. 2. dropped. 3. on the ground; down flat. 4. degraded. 5. overthrown; destroyed. 6. dead. 1 v., 2-6 adj.

fallen angel, any one of the angels who were cast out of heaven when Satan rebelled against God.

fal li bil i ty (fal'ə bil'ə tē), fallible quality or nature. n.

fal li ble (fal'ə bl), 1. liable to be deceived or mistaken; liable to err. 2. liable to be erroneous, inaccurate, or false. adj.

falling star, meteor.

fall out (fōl'out'), the radioactive particles or dust that fall to the earth after an atomic explosion. n.

fall ow (fal'ō), 1. plowed and left unseeded for a season or more; uncultivated; inactive. 2. land plowed and left unseeded for a season or more. 3. the plowing of land without seeding it for a season in order to destroy weeds, improve the soil, etc. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

fallow deer, a small European deer with a yellowish coat that is spotted with white in the summer.

Fall River, city in SE Massachusetts. 100,000.

false (fōls), 1. not true; not correct; wrong: false statements, false testimony. 2. not truthful; lying: a false witness. 3. not loyal; not faithful: a false friend. 4. used to deceive; deceiving: false weights. 5. in music, not true in pitch: a false note. 6. not real; artificial: false diamonds. 7. based on wrong notions; ill-founded: False pride kept the poor man from accepting money from his rich brothers. 8. improperly called or named. The false acacia is really a locust tree. 9. in a false manner. 1-8 adj., fals er, fals est; 9 adv. —false'ly, adv. —false'ness, n.

play false, deceive; cheat; trick; betray.

false bottom, bottom of a trunk or drawer that forms a secret or a supplementary compartment.

false colors, 1. flag of another country. 2. false pretenses.

false face, a funny or ugly mask; mask.

false hood (fōls'hūd), 1. quality of being false; falsity. 2. something false. 3. a making of false statements; lying. 4. a false statement; lie. n.

false pride, pride based on mistaken ideas.

false ribs, ribs not attached to the breastbone. Human beings have five pairs of false ribs.

false step, 1. stumble. 2. blunder; mistake.

fal set to (fōl set'ō), 1. an unnaturally high-pitched voice, especially in a man. 2. person who sings with a falsetto. 3. of or for a falsetto; that sings in a falsetto. 4. in a falsetto. 1,2 n., pl. fal set tos; 3 adj., 4 adv.

fal si fi ca tion (fōl'sə fə kă'shən), a falsifying or being falsified. n.

fal si fy (fōl'sə fī), 1. make false; change in order to deceive; misrepresent. 2. make false statements; lie. 3. prove to be false; disprove. v., fal si fied, fal si fy ing. —fal'si fī'er, n.

fal si ty (fōl'sə tē), 1. a being false; incorrectness: Education showed him the falsity of his superstitions. 2. untruthfulness; deceitfulness. n., pl. fal si ties.

Fal staff (fōl'staf), a fat, jolly, swaggering soldier, brazen and without scruples, in three of Shakespeare's plays. n.

Fallow deer (3 ft. high at the shoulder) fal ter (fōl'tər), 1. lose courage; draw back; hesitate; waver: The soldiers faltered for a moment as their captain fell. 2. move unsteadily; stumble; totter. 3. speak in hesitating, broken words; stammer: Greatly embarrassed, he faltered out his thanks. 4. come forth in hesitating, broken sounds: His voice faltered. 5. act of faltering; faltering sound. 1-4 v., 5 n. —fal'ter er, n.

fame (fām), 1. being very well known; having much said or written about one: the fame of George Washington. 2. what is said about one; reputation. n.

famed (fāmd), made famous; celebrated; well-known. adj.

fa mil iar (fə mil'yər), 1. well-known; common: French is as familiar to him as English. A knife is a familiar tool. 2. well-acquainted: He is familiar with French. 3. close; personal; intimate: Familiar friends know each other very well. 4. a familiar friend or acquaintance. 5. not formal; friendly. 6. too friendly; presuming; forward: His manner is too familiar. 7. spirit or demon supposed to serve a particular person. A black cat was thought to be a witch's familiar. 1-3,5,6 adj., 4,7 n. —fa mil'iar ly, adv.

fa mil iar i ty (fə mil'yar'ə tē), 1. close acquaintance. 2. freedom of behavior suitable only to friends; lack of formality or ceremony. 3. instance of such behavior: She dislikes such familiarities as the use of her first name by people that she has just met. n., pl. fa mil iar i ties.

fa mil iar ize (fə mil'yar'iz), 1. make well acquainted: Before playing the new game familiarize yourself with the rules. 2. make well known: Radio has familiarized the word "broadcast." v., fa mil iar ized, fa mil iar iz ing. —fa mil'iar i za'tion, n.

fam i ly (fam'lē), 1. father, mother, and their children. 2. children of a father and mother. 3. group of people living in the same house. 4. all of a person's relatives. 5. group of related people; tribe. 6. Esp. Brit. good or noble descent; descent. 7. group of related or similar things. 8. group of related animals or plants ranking below an order and above a genus. Lions, tigers, and leopards belong to the cat family. n., pl. fam i lies.

family name, the last name of all the members of a certain family; surname.

family skeleton, cause of shame that a family tries to keep secret.

family tree, 1. diagram showing the relationships and descent of all the members and ancestors of a family; genealogical chart. 2. all the members of a family line.

fam ine (fam'ən), 1. starvation. 2. lack of food in a place; time of starving: Many people died during the famine in India. 3. a very great lack of anything: a coal famine. n.

fam ish (fam'ish), be or make extremely hungry; starve. v.

fa mous (fā'məs), 1. very well-known; noted: a famous general. 2. Informal. first-rate; excellent. adj. —fa'mous ly, adv.

fan¹ (fan), 1. instrument or device to make a current of air. It causes a cooling breeze, blows dust away, etc. One kind of fan spreads out into part of a circle when opened; another kind turns round and round very fast. 2. make a current of (air) with a fan, etc. 3. direct a current of air toward with a fan, etc.: Fan the fire to make it burn faster. 4. drive away with a fan, etc.: She fanned the flies from the sleeping child. 5. stir up; arouse: Bad treatment fanned their dislike into hate. 6. thing spread out like an open fan. 7. spread out like an open fan. 8. winnow. 9. a winnowing machine. 10. Slang. strike out in baseball. 1,6,9 n., 2-5,7,8,10 v., fanned, fan ning. —fan'like, adj. —fan'ner, n.

fan² (fan), Informal. 1. person extremely interested (in baseball, motion pictures, radio, etc.). 2. admirer of an actor, writer, etc. n.

fa nat ic (fə nat'ik), 1. person who is carried away beyond reason by his feelings or beliefs: My friend was such a fanatic about fresh air that he would not stay in any room with the windows closed. 2. enthusiastic or zealous beyond reason. 1 n., 2 adj.

fa nat i cal (fə nat'ə kl), unreasonably enthusiastic; extremely zealous. adj. —fa nat'i cal ly, adv.

fa nat i cism (fə nat'ə siz əm), unreasonable enthusiasm; extreme zeal. n.

fan cied (fan'sēd), imagined; imaginary. adj.

fan ci er (fan'sē ə), person who is especially interested in something: A dog fancier is interested in breeding and raising dogs. n.

fan ci ful (fan'sē fəl), 1. showing fancy; quaint; odd: a fanciful decoration. 2. influenced by fancy; imaginative: Hans Christian Andersen was a fanciful writer. 3. suggested by fancy; imaginary; unreal: A story about a trip to the moon is fanciful. adj. —fan'ci ful ly, adv. —fan'ci ful ness, n.

fan cy (fan'sē), 1. power to imagine; imagination: Dragons, fairies, and giants are creatures of fancy. 2. thing imagined: Is it fancy, or do I hear a sound? 3. imagine: Can you fancy yourself in fairyland? 4. thing supposed; idea; notion. 5. suppose; have an idea or belief: I fancy she is about forty. 6. a liking; fondness: They took a great fancy to each other. 7. a liking that lasts only a short time. 8. like; be fond of: I fancy the idea of having a picnic. 9. made or arranged specially to please; valued for beauty rather than use: fancy dress. 10. decorated; ornamental. 11. requiring much skill: fancy skating. 12. costing extra to please the fancy or one's special taste, etc.: fancy fruit, a fancy price. 13. bred for special excellence. 1,2,4,6,7 n., pl. fan cies; 3,5,8 v., fan cied, fan cy ing; 9-13 adj., fan ci er, fan ci est.

fan cy work (fan'sē wərk'), ornamental needlework; embroidery, crocheting, etc. n.

Fan euil Hall (fan'f), an old market building and hall in Boston, Massachusetts. It was a meeting place for American patriots during the Revolutionary period.

fan fare (fan'fār), 1. a short tune or call sounded by trumpets, bugles, hunting horns, etc. 2. a loud show of activity, talk, etc.; showy flourish. n.

fang (fang), 1. a long, pointed tooth of a dog, wolf, snake, etc. Poisonous snakes have hollow or grooved fangs for injecting venom. 2. a long, slender, tapering part of anything, such as the root of a tooth or the prong of a fork. n.

Fangs of a snake fan mail, the mail received by a celebrity from fans.

fan tail (fan'tāl'), 1. tail, end, or part spread out like an open fan. 2. pigeon whose tail spreads out like an open fan. n.

fan-tan (fan'tan'), 1. a Chinese gambling game played by betting on the number of coins under a bowl. 2. a card game in which the player who gets rid of his cards first wins the game. n.

Fan tail (def. 2)

fan ta si a (fan tā'zhē ə or fan-tā'zē ə), a musical composition following no fixed form or style. n.

fan tas tic (fan tas'tik), 1. very odd or queer; wild and strange in shape; showing unrestrained fancy: The firelight cast weird, fantastic shadows on the walls. 2. very fanciful; capricious; eccentric; irrational: The idea that machines could be made to fly seemed fantastic a hundred years ago. 3. existing only in the imagination; unreal: Superstition causes fantastic fears. adj. —fan tas'ti cal ly, adv.

fan tas tic al (fan tas'tə kl), fantastic. adj.

fan ta sy (fan'tə sē), 1. play of the mind; imagination; fancy. 2. a wild, strange fancy. 3. picture existing only in the mind; queer illusion. Fantasies seem real to a delirious person. 4. caprice; whim. 5. a fantasia. n., pl. fan ta sies. Also, phantasy.

fan wise (fan'wiz'), spread out like an open fan. adv. far (fār), 1. distant; not near: a far country. 2. more distant: the far side of the hill. 3. a long way off in time or space. 4. very much: It is far better to be overcautious than to be careless in driving. 1,2 adj., far ther, farthest; 3,4 adv.

by far, very much.

far and away, very much.

far and near, everywhere.

far and wide, everywhere; even in distant parts.

go far, 1. last long. 2. tend very much. 3. get ahead.

how far, to what distance, point, or degree.

so far, 1. to this or that point. 2. until now or then.

far ad (fār'əd), a unit of electrical capacity. It is the capacity of a condenser that, when charged with one coulomb, gives a pressure of one volt. n.

far a way (fār'ə wā'), 1. distant. 2. dreamy: A far-away look in her eyes showed that she was thinking of something else. adj.

farce (färs), 1. play intended merely to make people laugh, full of ridiculous happenings, absurd actions, and improbable situations. 2. kind of humor found in such plays; broad humor. 3. ridiculous mockery; absurd pretense: The trial was a mere farce. n.

far ci cal (fār'sə kl), of or like a farce; ridiculous; absurd; improbable. adj. —far'ci cal ly, adv.

far cry, a long way.

fare (fār), 1. sum of money paid to ride in a train, car, bus, etc. 2. passenger on a train, car, bus, etc. 3. food provided or eaten: dainty fare. 4. eat food; be fed: We fared very well at Grandmother's. 5. get along; do: If you fare well, you have good luck or success. 6. turn out; happen: It will fare hard with the thief if he is caught. 7. Archaic. go; travel: to fare forth on a journey. 1-3 n., 4-7 v., fared, far ing. —far'er, n.

Far East, China, Japan, and other parts of E Asia.

fare well (fār'wel'), 1. expression of good wishes at parting. 2. good-by; good luck. 3. departure; leave-taking. 4. of farewell; parting; last: The singer gave a farewell performance. 1,2 interj., 1,2,3 n., 4 adj.

Fare well (fār'wel'), Cape, cape at the southern end of Greenland. n.

far-fetched (fār'fetched'), not coming naturally; forced; strained. adj.

far-flung (fār'flung'), covering a large area. adj.

Far go (fār'gō), city in SE North Dakota. 38,000. n.

fa ri na (fə rē'nə), 1. flour or meal made from grain, potatoes, beans, nuts, etc. 2. starch. 3. a coarse, white corn meal. n.

far i na ceous (fār'ə nā'shəs), consisting of flour or meal; starchy; mealy. Cereals, bread, and potatoes are farinaceous foods. adj.

farm (färm), 1. piece of land used to raise crops or animals. 2. raise crops or animals on a farm: Mary's father farms for a living. 3. cultivate (land): He farms forty acres. 4. thing like a farm. A sheet of water for cultivating oysters is an oyster farm. 5. let the labor or services of (a person) for hire. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v.

farm bloc, group in Congress from different political parties that favors laws to help the farmers.

farm er (fär'mər), 1. person who raises crops or animals on a farm. 2. person who takes a contract for the collection of taxes by agreeing to pay a certain sum to the government. n.

farm hand, man who works on a farm.

farm house (färm'hous'), house on a farm. n.

farm ing (fär'ming), 1. business of raising crops or animals on a farm; agriculture. 2. practice of letting out the collection of a public revenue. 3. condition of being let out at a fixed sum. n.

farm stead (färm'sted), Esp. Brit. farm with its buildings. n.

farm yard (färm'yärd'), yard connected with the farm buildings or enclosed by them. n.

far o (fär'ō), a gambling game played by betting on the order in which certain cards will appear. n.

Faroe Islands (fär'ō), Faeroe Islands.

far-off (fär'ōf'), distant. adj.

Far ragut (fär'ə gət), David Glasgow, 1801-1870, American admiral on the Union side during the Civil War. n.

far-reaching (fär'rēch'ing), having a wide influence or effect; extending far. adj.

farrier (fär'ē ə), Esp. Britl. 1. blacksmith who shoes horses. 2. a horse doctor; veterinarian. n.

far row (fär'ō), 1. litter of pigs. 2. give birth to a litter of pigs. 3. give birth to (pigs). 1 n., 2, 3 v.

far-see ing (fär'sē'ing), 1. able to see far. 2. looking ahead; planning wisely for the future. adj.

far-sight ed (fär'sit'id), 1. able to see far. 2. seeing distant things more clearly than near ones. 3. looking ahead; planning wisely for the future. adj. —far-sight'ed ly, adv. —far-sight'ed ness, n.

farther (fär'fhər), comparative of far. 1. more distant: Three miles is farther than two. 2. at or to a greater distance: Go no farther. 3. at or to a more advanced point: He has investigated the subject farther than any other man. 4. in addition; also. 5. more, additional: Do you need farther help? 1, 5 adj., 2-4 adv.

farther most (fär'fhər mōst), most distant; farthest. adj.

farthest (fär'fhist), superlative of far. 1. most distant. 2. to or at the greatest distance. 3. most. 4. longest. 1, 4 adj., 2, 3 adv.

far thing (fär'fhing), a former British coin worth a fourth of a British penny. n.

far thin gale (fär'fhing gāl), a hoop skirt or framework for expanding a woman's skirt, worn in England from about 1550 to about 1650. n.

fas ces (fas'ēz), bundle of rods or sticks containing an ax with the blade projecting, carried before a Roman magistrate as a symbol of authority. n. pl. of fas cis (fas'is).

fas ci cle (fas'ə kl), 1. a small bundle. 2. a close cluster of flowers, leaves, etc. See the picture below. n.

fas ci nate (fas'ə nāt), 1. attract very strongly; enchant by charming qualities: The actress's beauty and cleverness fascinated everyone. 2. hold motionless by strange power, terror, etc.: Snakes are said to fascinate small birds. v., fas ci nat ed, fas ci nat ing.

fas ci nat ing (fas'ə nāt'ing), captivating; enchanting; charming. adj. —fas'ci-nat'ing ly, adv.

fas ci na tion (fas'ə nā'shən), 1. a fascinating or being fascinated. 2. very strong attraction; charm; enchantment. n.

fas ci na tor (fas'ə nā'tər), person or thing that fascinates. n.

fas cine (fa sēn'), bundle of sticks tied together, used to line trenches, strengthen earthworks, etc. n.

Fas cism (fash'iz əm), 1. a strongly nationalistic movement in favor of government control of industry and labor and opposed to radical socialism and communism. Fascism seized control of the Italian government in 1922 under the leadership of Mussolini and has appeared in other countries since then. 2. doctrines, principles, or methods of the Fascists. n.

fas cism (fash'iz əm), 1. Fascism. 2. any system of government in which property is privately owned, but

Farthingale

Ancient Roman holding fasces

Fascicles (def. 2) of flowers of the mallow all industry and business is regulated by a strong national government. n.

Fas cist (fash'ist), 1. person who favors and supports Fascism. 2. of Fascism or the Fascists. 1 n., 2 adj.

fas cist (fash'ist), 1. person who favors and supports fascism. 2. of fascism or fascists. 1 n., 2 adj.

fash ion (fash'ən), 1. manner; way: walk in a peculiar fashion. 2. the prevailing style; current custom in dress, manners, speech, etc.: She likes to read about the latest fashions. 3. polite society; fashionable people. 4. make; shape; form: He fashioned a whistle out of a piece of wood. 1-3 n., 4 v.

after or in a fashion, in some way or other; not very well.

set the fashion, fix the fashion, method, etc., for others to follow.

fash ion a ble (fash'ən ə bl), 1. following the fashion; in fashion; stylish. 2. of, like, or used by people of fashion. adj. —fash-ion a ble ness, n.

fash ion a bly (fash'ən ə blē), in a fashionable manner. adv.

fast¹ (fast), 1. quick; rapid; swift: a fast runner. 2. quickly; rapidly, swiftly: Airplanes go fast. 3. indicating a time ahead of the correct time: My watch is fast. 4. too gay; wild; not restrained in pleasures: He led a fast life, drinking and gambling. 5. firm; secure; tight: a fast hold on a rope. 6. firmly; securely; tightly: He held fast as the car went on down the hill. The fox was caught fast in the trap. 7. loyal; faithful: They have been fast friends for years. 8. that will not fade easily: Good cloth is dyed with fast color. 9. thoroughly; completely; soundly: He was fast asleep. 1, 3-5, 7, 8 adj., 2, 6, 9 adv.

fast² (fast), 1. go without food; eat little or nothing; go without certain kinds of food. Members of some churches fast on certain days. 2. a fasting. 3. day or time of fasting. 1 v., 2, 3 n.

fast day, day observed by fasting, especially a day regularly set apart by a church.

fas ten (fas'n), 1. fix firmly in place; tie; lock; shut: fasten a dress, fasten a door. 2. attach; connect: He tried to fasten the blame upon his companions. 3. direct; fix: The dog fastened his eyes on the stranger. v.

fasten on or upon, take hold of; seize.

fas ten er (fas'n ə), 1. person who fastens. 2. attachment, device, etc., used to fasten a door, garment, etc. n.

fas ten ing (fas'n ing), thing used to fasten something. Locks, bolts, clasps, hooks, buttons, etc., are all fastenings. n.

fas tid i ous (fas tid'ē əs), hard to please; extremely refined or critical; easily disgusted. adj. —fas tid'i-ous ly, adv. —fas tid'i-ous ness, n.

fast ness (fast'nis), 1. a strong, safe place; stronghold: The bandits hid in their mountain fastness. 2. a being fast. n.

fat (fat), 1. a type of white or yellow, oily substance formed in the bodies of animals. Fat is also found in plants, especially in some seeds. 2. animal tissue mainly composed of such a substance. 3. any of a class of organic chemical compounds of which the natural fats are mixtures. 4. consisting of or containing fat; oily: fat meat. 5. abounding in some element; fertile: fat land. 6. yielding much money; profitable: a fat office. 7. affording good opportunities. 8. plentifully supplied; plentiful. 9. fleshy; plump; well-fed: a fat boy, a fat pig. 10. thick; broad. 11. dull; stupid. 12. make fat; become fat. 13. too fat; corpulent; obese. 1-3 n., 4-11, 13 adj., fat ter, fat test; 12 v., fat ted, fat ting. —fat'-like, adj. —fat'ly, adv. —fat'ness, n.

the fat of the land, the best of everything.

fa tal (fā'tl), 1. causing death: fatal accidents. 2. causing destruction or ruin: The loss of all our money was fatal to our plans. 3. important; decisive; fateful: At last the fatal day for the contest arrived. 4. influencing fate. The three goddesses who controlled the fate of mankind were called the fatal sisters. adj.

fa tal ism (fā'tl iz əm), 1. belief that fate controls everything that happens. 2. submission to everything that happens as inevitable. n.

fa tal ist (fā'tl ist), believer in fatalism. n.

fa tal is tic (fā'tl is'tik), 1. of or having to do with fatalism. 2. believing that fate controls everything; accepting things and events as inevitable. adj. —fa'tal is ti cal ly, adv.

fa tal i ty (fā'tal'ē tē), 1. a fatal accident or happening; death: Automobiles cause thousands of fatalities every year. 2. a fatal influence or effect; deadliness: Doctors are trying to reduce the fatality of diseases. 3. liability to disaster. 4. condition of being controlled by fate; inevitable necessity: We struggle against fatality in vain. n., pl. fa tal i ties.

fa tal ly (fā'tl ē), 1. in a manner leading to death or disaster: He was fatally wounded. 2. according to fate. adv.

fate (fāt), 1. power supposed to fix beforehand and control everything that happens. Fate is beyond any person's control: He does not believe in fate. 2. what is caused by fate. 3. one's lot or fortune: He deserved a better fate. History shows the fate of many nations. 4. what becomes of a person or thing: The jury settled the fate of the accused. 5. death; ruin. n.

fat ed (fāt'id), 1. controlled by fate. 2. destined; predestined. adj.

fate ful (fāt'fəl), 1. controlled by fate. 2. determining what is to happen; important; decisive: a fateful battle. 3. showing what fate decrees; prophetic: fateful words. 4. causing death, destruction, or ruin; disastrous. adj. —fate'ful ly, adv. —fate'ful ness, n.

Fates (fāts), in Greek and Roman mythology, the three goddesses supposed to control human life. One spun the thread of life, one decided how long it should be, and one cut it off. n.pl.

fa ther (fā'thər), 1. a male parent. 2. be the father of. 3. take care of as a father does; act as a father to. 4. person who is like a father. 5. a male ancestor; forefather: the customs of our fathers. 6. person who helped to make something; founder, leader, inventor, author, oldest member, etc.: George Washington is called the father of his country. 7. make; originate: Edison fathered many inventions. 8. acknowledge oneself as the father of. 9. title of respect used in addressing priests or other clergymen. 10. clergyman having this title. 11. title of respect to an old man. 1,4-6,9-11 n., 2,3,7,8 v. the Father, God.

the fathers, the chief writers and teachers of the Christian Church during the first six centuries A.D.

fa ther con fess or, 1. priest to whom one confesses. 2. person to whom one confides everything.

fa ther hood (fā'thər hūd), condition of being a father. n.

fa ther-in-law (fā'thər in lō'), father of one's husband or wife. n., pl. fa thers-in-law.

fa ther land (fā'thər lənd'), one's native country; land of one's ancestors. n.

fa ther less (fā'thər lis), 1. without a father living. 2. without a known father. adj.

fa ther ly (fā'thər lē), 1. of a father. 2. like a father; kindly. adj. —fa'ther li ness, n.

fath om (fāth'əm), 1. a unit of measure equal to 6 feet, used mostly in measuring the depth of water and the length of ships' ropes, cables, etc. 2. measure the depth of. 3. get to the bottom of; understand fully: I can't fathom what you're driving at. 1 n., pl. fath oms or (esp. collectively) fathom; 2,3 v.

fath om a ble (fāth'əm ə bl), 1. that can be measured. 2. understandable. adj.

fath om less (fāth'əm lis), 1. too deep to be measured. 2. impossible to be fully understood: the fathomless middle of the universe. adj.

fa tigue (fā tēg'), 1. weariness. 2. cause fatigue in; weary. 3. task or exertion producing weariness: The doctor has not yet recovered from the fatigues of the epidemic. 4. a weakening (of metal) caused by long-continued use or strain. 5. weaken by much use or strain. 6. fatigue duty. 7. having to do with fatigue. 1,3,4,6 n., 2,5 v., fa tigue d, fa ti guing; 7 adj.

fatigue duty, nonmilitary work done by soldiers.

fat ten (fat'n), make fat; become fat. v.

fat ty (fat'ē), 1. of fat; containing fat. 2. like fat; oily; greasy. adj., fat ti er, fat ti est. —fat'ti ness, n. fa tu i ty (fā tū'ē tē or fā tū'ē tē), self-satisfied stupidity; folly; silliness. n., pl. fa tu i ties.

fat u ous (fach'ū əs), stupid but self-satisfied; foolish; silly. adj. —fat'u ous ly, adv. —fat'u ous ness, n.

fau cet (fō'sit), device containing a valve for controlling the flow of water or other liquid from a pipe, tank, barrel, etc., by opening or closing. n.

faugh (fō), exclamation of disgust. interj.

fault (fōlt), 1. something that is not as it should be: Sloppiness is his greatest fault. Her dog has two faults: it eats too much and it howls at night. 2. mistake. 3. cause for blame; responsibility: Whose fault was it? 4. a break in a mass of rock with the segment on one side of the break pushed up or down. 5. failure to serve the ball into the right place in tennis and similar games. n.

find fault, pick out faults; complain. find fault with, object to; criticize.

fault find er (fōlt'fin'dər), person who finds fault; complainer. n.

fault find ing (fōlt'fin'ding), finding fault; complaining; pointing out faults. n., adj.

fault less (fōlt'lis), without a single fault; free from blemish or error; perfect. adj., —fault'less ly, adv.

—fault'less ness, n.

fault y (fōlt'ē), having faults; containing blemishes or errors; wrong; imperfect. adj., fault i er, fault i est. —fault'i ness, n.

faun (fōn), a minor Roman deity that helped farmers and shepherds. A faun is represented as looking like a man, but with the ears, horns, tail, and sometimes the legs, of a goat. n.

fauna (fō'nə), animals of a given region or time: the fauna of Australia. n.

Faust (foust), in German legend, a man who sold his soul to the devil in return for having everything that he wanted on earth. n.

faux pas (fō'pā' or fō'pā'), slip in speech, conduct, manners, etc.; breach of etiquette; blunder. pl. faux pas (fō'pāz' or fō'pāz').

fa vor (fā'vər), 1. act of kindness: Will you do me a favor? 2. show kindness to; oblige: Favor us with a song. 3. liking; approval: They will look with favor on your plan. 4. condition of being liked or approved: A fashion in favor this year may be out of favor next year. 5. like; approve: We favor John's plan. 6. more than fair treatment; too great kindness. 7. give more than fair treatment to: The teacher favors you. 8. be on the side of; support. 9. be to the advantage of; help. 10. gift; token: The knight wore his lady's favor on his arm. 11. a small token given to every guest at a party, dinner, etc. 12. letter; note: your favor of the 15th. 13. treat gently: The dog favors his sore foot when he walks. 14. look like: The girl favors her mother. 1,3,4, 6,10-12 n., 2,5,7-9,13,14 v.

in favor of, 1. on the side of; supporting. 2. to the advantage of; helping. 3. to be paid to.

in his favor, for him; to his benefit.

Section showing displacement by a fault (def. 4). A and A were once a continuous mass of rock.

Faun

fa vor a ble (fā'vər ə bl), 1. favoring; approving: a favorable answer. 2. being to one's advantage; helping: a favorable wind. 3. boding well; promising: It was a favorable time for our trip, since business was light. adj. —fa'vor a ble ness, n.

fa vor a bly (fā'vər ə blē), with consent or approval; kindly. adv.

fa vored (fā'vərd), 1. treated with favor. 2. having special advantages; talented. 3. having a certain appearance. adj.

fa vor ite (fā'vər it), 1. liked better than others; liked very much: What is your favorite flower? 2. one liked better than others; person or thing liked very much: Dick is a favorite with everybody. 3. person treated with special favor. 4. person, horse, etc., expected to win a contest. 1 adj., 2-4 n.

fa vor it ism (fā'vər ə tiz'əm), 1. a favoring of one or some more than others; having favorites. 2. state of being a favorite. n.

fa vour (fā'vər), Esp. Bril. favor. n.

fawn¹ (fōn), 1. deer less than a year old. 2. light, yellowish brown. 1,2 n., 2 adj. —fawn'-like', adj.

fawn² (fōn), 1. cringe and bow; act slavishly: Many flattering relatives fawned on the rich old man. 2. of dogs, etc., show fondness by crouching, wagging the tail, licking the hand, etc. v. —fawn'er, n.

fay (fā), fairy. n.

faze (fāz), U.S. Informal. disturb; worry; bother: Nothing we said fazed her—she did just as she pleased. v., fazed, fazing.

FBI, Federal Bureau of Investigation.

FCC or F.C.C., Federal Communications Commission.

F clef, the bass clef in music. See clef for diagram.

Fe, iron.

fe al ty (fē'al tē), 1. loyalty and duty owed by a vassal to his feudal lord: The nobles swore fealty to the king. 2. loyalty; faithfulness; allegiance. n., pl. fe al ties.

fear (fir), 1. being afraid; feeling that danger or evil is near; dread: The knight felt no fears in the midst of battle. 2. feel fear. 3. feel fear of: Our cat fears big dogs. Those small monkeys fear big snakes. Our baby brother fears loud noises. 4. cause for fear; danger; chance: There is no fear of our losing. 5. an uneasy feeling; anxious thought; concern: fear for one's life. 6. have an uneasy feeling or anxious thought; feel concern: He fears that the children will be sick. 7. awe; reverence. 8. have awe or reverence for. 1,4,5,7 n., 2,3,6,8 v.

Fear (fir), Cape, cape in SE North Carolina. n.

fear ful (fir'fəl), 1. causing fear; terrible; dreadful: a fearful dragon. 2. full of fear; afraid: fearful cries. 3. showing fear; caused by fear: fearful of the dark. 4. Informal. very bad, unpleasant, ugly, etc. adj. —fear'ful ly, adv. —fear'ful ness, n.

fear less (fir'lis), without fear; afraid of nothing; brave; daring. adj. —fear'less ly, adv. —fear'less ness, n.

fear some (fir'səm), 1. causing fear; frightful: a fearsome sight. 2. timid; afraid: She was fearsome of danger. adj. —fear'some ly, adv. —fear'some ness, n.

fea si bil ity (fē'zə bil'ə tē), quality of being easily done or carried out. n.

fea si ble (fē'zə bl), 1. capable of being done or carried out easily; practicable: The committee selected the plan that seemed most feasible. 2. likely; probable: The witness's explanation of the accident sounded feasible. 3. suitable; convenient: The road was too rough to be feasible for travel by automobile. adj. —fea'si bly, adv. —fea'si ble ness, n.

Fawn of the Virginia deer feast (fēst), 1. an elaborate meal prepared for some special occasion and for a number of guests: We went to the wedding feast. 2. an unusually delicious or abundant meal. 3. have a feast. 4. provide with a feast: The king feasted his friends. 5. thing that gives pleasure or joy. 6. give pleasure or joy to: We feasted our eyes on the beautiful picture. 7. a religious festival or celebration: Christmas and Easter are the most important Christian feasts. 1,2,5,7 n., 3,4,6 v. —feast'er, n.

feat (fēt), a great or unusual deed; act showing great skill, strength, etc. n.

feath er (fēth'ər), 1. one of the light, thin growths that cover a bird's skin. Because feathers are soft and light, they are used to fill pillows. 2. something like a feather in shape or lightness. 3. supply or cover with feathers. 4. grow like feathers. 5. move like feathers. 6. turn (an oar) after a stroke so that the blade is flat and keep it that way until the next stroke begins. 7. act of feathering an oar. 8. turn (the blade of an airplane propeller) to decrease wind resistance. 1,2,7 n., 3-6,8 v. —feath'er like', adj.

feather in one's cap, thing to be proud of.

feather one's nest, take advantage of chances to get rich.

in feather, covered with feathers.

feath er-bed ding (fēth'ər bed'ing), U.S. the practice on the part of some labor unions of forcing employers to hire more men than are needed for a particular job. n.

feath er brained (fēth'ər brānd'), silly; foolish; weak-minded. adj.

feath ered (fēth'ərd), 1. having feathers; covered with feathers. 2. swift; rapid. adj.

feath er edged (fēth'ər ejd'), having a very thin edge. adj.

feath er weight (fēth'ər wāt'), 1. a very light thing or person. 2. boxer who weighs less than 126 pounds and more than 118 pounds. 3. very light. 4. of or having to do with featherweights. 5. an unimportant person or thing. 6. unimportant. 1,2,5 n., 3,4,6 adj.

feath ery (fēth'ər ē), 1. having feathers; covered with feathers. 2. like feathers; soft. 3. light; flimsy. adj.

feat ly (fēt'lē), Archaic. 1. nimbly; skillfully. 2. suitably; properly. 3. neatly; elegantly. adv.

fea ture (fē'chər), 1. part of the face. The eyes, nose, mouth, chin, and forehead are features. 2. a distinct part or quality; thing that stands out and attracts attention: Your plan for the picnic has many good features and some bad ones. The main features of southern California are the climate and the scenery. 3. a long motion picture. 4. a special article, comic strip, etc., in a newspaper. 5. be a feature of. 6. Informal. make a feature of. 7. be like in features. 1-4 n., 5-7 v., fea-tured, fea tur ing.

features, the face.

fea tured (fē'chərd), 1. Informal. made a feature of; given prominence to. 2. having a certain kind of features: hard-featured. adj.

fea ture less (fē'chər lis), without features; not interesting or impressive. adj.

Feb., February.

fe brile (fē'brəl), 1. of fever; feverish. 2. caused by fever. adj.

Feb ru ar y (fēb'rū er'ē), the second month of the year. It has 28 days except in leap years, when it has 29. n., pl. Feb ru ar ies.

fe cal (fē'kl), having to do with feces. adj.

fe ces (fē'sēz), 1. waste matter discharged from the intestines. 2. dregs; sediment. n.pl.

feck less (fek'lis), futile; ineffective. adj.

fe cund (fē'kənd or fek'ənd), fruitful; productive; fertile: Edison had a fecund mind. adj.

fe cun di ty (fē kun'də tē), fruitfulness; productiveness; fertility. n.

fed (fed), pt. and pp. of feed. We fed the birds. Have they been fed today? v.

fed er al (fed'ər əl), 1. formed by an agreement between groups establishing a central organization to handle their common affairs while the parties to the agreement keep control of local affairs: The American Federation of Labor is a federal organization of labor unions. 2. of or having to do with the central government formed in this way: Congress is the federal law-making body of the United States. 3. of or having to do with the central government of the United States. adj.

Fed er al (fed'ər əl), 1. of or having to do with the central government of the United States. 2. of or having to do with the Federal Party. 3. supporting the central government of the United States during the Civil War. 4. U.S. supporter or soldier of the central government of the United States during the Civil War. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

Federal Bureau of Investigation, bureau of the Department of Justice established to investigate Federal crimes and safeguard national security.

fed er al ism (fed'ər əl iz'm), federal principle of government. n.

fed er al ist (fed'ər əl ist), person who favors the federal principle of government. n.

Fed er al ist (fed'ər əl ist), member of the Federal Party in the United States. n.

fed er al ize (fed'ər əl iz), 1. unite into a federal union. 2. put under the control of the federal government. v., fed er al ized, fed er al iz ing.

Federal Party, a political party in the United States that favored the adoption of the Constitution and a strong central government. It existed from about 1791 to about 1816.

fed er ate (fed'ər āt for 1; fed'ər it for 2), 1. form into a federation. 2. formed into a federation. 1 v., fed er at ed, fed er at ing; 2 adj.

fed er a tion (fed'ər ə'shən), 1. union in a league; formation of a political unity out of a number of separate states, etc.: The United States is a federation. 2. league; union by agreement, often a union of states or nations: a federation of students. n.

fed er a tive (fed'ər ə'tiv), of or having to do with a federation; like a federation; forming a federation. adj.

fe do ra (fi dō'rə), a man's soft felt hat with a curved brim. The crown is creased lengthwise. n.

fee (fē), 1. sum of money asked or paid for a service or privilege; charge: Doctors and lawyers get fees for their services. 2. a small present of money; tip. 3. give a fee to. 4. right to keep and use land; fief. 5. an inherited estate in land. 6. ownership. 1,2,4-6 n., 3 v., feed, fee ing.

hold in fee, own.

fee ble (fē'bl), weak; ineffective: a feeble old man, a feeble mind, a feeble cry, a feeble attempt. adj., fee bler, fee blest. —fee/ble ness, n. —fee/bly, adv.

fee ble-mind ed (fē'bl min'did), weak in mind; lacking normal intelligence. adj., —fee/ble-mind/ed ly, adv. —fee/ble-mind/ed ness, n.

feed (fed), 1. give food to: We feed a baby who cannot feed himself. 2. eat. 3. food for animals; allowance of food for an animal: Give the chickens their feed. 4. Informal. meal for a person. 5. supply with material: feed a machine. 6. a supplying with material. 7. the material supplied. 8. part of a machine that supplies material. 9. satisfy; gratify: Praise fed his vanity. 10. nourish: He fed his anger with thoughts of revenge. 1,2,5,9,10 v., fed, feed ing; 3,4,6-8 n.

feed back (fed'bak'), the return of part of the output of an electronic system or device to its input. n.

feed er (fed'ər), 1. person or thing that feeds. 2. thing that supplies something else with material. A brook is a feeder for a river. A branch that brings traffic to the main line is a feeder. n.

feel (fēl), 1. touch: Feel this cloth (v.). I like the feel of silk (n.). 2. try to find or make (one's way) by touch: He felt his way across the room when the lights went out. 3. test or examine by touching: feel a person's pulse, feel a child's forehead to see if he has a fever. 4. search by touch; grope: He felt in his pockets for a dime. 5. find out by touching: Feel how cold my hands are. 6. be aware of: feel the cool breeze. 7. have the feeling of being; be: She feels sure. 8. give the feeling of being; seem: The air feels cold. 9. have in one's mind; experience: He feels joy. 10. have pity or sympathy: She feels for all who suffer. 11. be influenced or affected by: The ship feels her helm. 12. think; believe; consider: I feel that we shall win. 13. feeling: Wet soap has a greasy feel. 14. the sense of touch. 1-12 v., felt, feel ing; 1,13,14 n.

feel out, find out about in a cautious way.

feel er (fēl'ər), 1. a special part of an animal's body for touching. An insect's antennae are its feelers. 2. suggestion, remark, hint, question, or the like, made to find out what others are thinking or planning. n.

feel ing (fēl'ing), 1. act or condition of one that feels. 2. sense of touch: By feeling we tell what is hard from what is soft. 3. being conscious; awareness; sensation: She had no feeling of heat, cold, or pain. 4. emotion: Joy, sorrow, fear, and anger are feelings. 5. full of feeling; sensitive, emotional: a feeling heart. 6. pity; sympathy. 7. opinion; sentiment: Her feeling was that right would win. 1-4,6,7 n., 5 adj. —feel'ing ly, adv.

feelings, sympathies; susceptibilities: hurt one's feelings.

fee simple, ownership of land with the right to sell or give it to anyone.

feet (fēt), pl. of foot. n.

carry off one's feet, 1. make very enthusiastic. 2. impress.

sit at one's feet, be a pupil or admirer of.

stand on one's own feet, be independent.

feign (fān), 1. put on a false appearance of; make believe; pretend: Some animals feign death when in danger. 2. make up to deceive; invent falsely: feign an excuse. 3. imagine: The phoenix is a feigned bird. v.

feint (fānt), 1. a false appearance; pretense: The boy made a feint of studying hard, though actually he was listening to the radio. 2. movement intended to deceive; pretended blow; sham attack. 3. make a pretended blow or sham attack: The fighter feinted with his right hand and struck with his left. 1,2 n., 3 v.

feld spar (feld'spär'), any of several crystalline minerals composed mostly of aluminum silicates. n.

fe lic i tate (fē lis'ə tāt), formally express good wishes to; congratulate: John's friends felicitated him on his engagement to marry. v., fe lic i tat ed, fe lic i tat ing.

fe lic i ta tion (fē lis'ə tā'shən), a formal expression of good wishes; congratulation. n.

fe lic i tous (fē lis'ə tās), 1. well chosen for the occasion; unusually appropriate: The poem was full of striking and felicitous similes. 2. having a gift for apt speech. adj. —fe lic'i tous ly, adv. —fe lic'i tous ness, n.

fe lic i ty (fē lis'ə tē), 1. happiness; bliss. 2. good fortune; blessing. 3. a pleasing aptness in expression; appropriateness; grace: The famous writer phrased his ideas with felicity. 4. a happy turn of thought; well-chosen phrase. n., pl. fe lic i ties.

fe line (fē'lin), 1. of or belonging to the cat family. 2. any animal belonging to the cat family. Lions, tigers, leopards, and panthers are felines. 3. catlike; stealthy; sly: The Indian stalked the deer with noiseless feline movements. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

fell¹ (fel), pt. of fall. Snow fell last night. v.

fell¹ (fel), 1. cause to fall; knock down: One blow felled him to the ground. 2. cut down (a tree). 3. all the trees cut down in one season. 4. turn down and stitch one edge of (a seam) over the other. 5. seam made by felling. 1,2,4 v., 3,5 n.

fell² (fel), 1. cruel; fierce; terrible: a fell blow. 2. deadly; destructive: a fell disease. adj.

fell³ (fel), skin or hide of an animal. n.

fel lah (fel'ə), peasant or laborer in Egypt and other Arabic-speaking countries. n., pl. fel la him (fel'ə hēn').

fell er (fel'ər), 1. person or thing that falls. 2. Slang. fellow. n.

fel loe (fel'ō), the circular rim of a wheel into which the outer ends of the spokes are inserted. n. Also, felly.

fel low (fel'ō; for defs. 2 and 4, often fel'ə), 1. man; boy: Never mind, old fellow. Poor fellow! 2. Informal. a young man courting a young woman; beau. 3. dog, horse, etc., addressed in a friendly way. 4. a worthless person. 5. companion; comrade; associate: He was cut off from his fellows. 6. I or me: Have pity on a fellow. 7. one of the same class or rank; equal: The world has not his fellow. 8. the other one of a pair; mate: I have the fellow of your glove. 9. belonging to the same class; united by the same work, interests, aims, etc.; being in the same or a like condition: fellow citizens, fellow sufferers. 10. a graduate student who has a fellowship in a university or college. 11. an honored member of a learned society. 1-8, 10, 11 n., 9 adj.

hai fellow well met, very friendly.

fellow feeling, sympathy.

fel low ship (fel'ō ship), 1. companionship; friendliness. 2. a taking part with others; sharing: I have enjoyed my fellowship with you in this club. 3. group of people having similar tastes, interests, etc.; brotherhood; corporation. 4. position or sum of money given to a graduate student in a university or college to enable him to go on with his studies. n.

fellow traveler, person sympathizing with a political movement or party, especially the Communist Party, though not a member.

fel ly (fel'ē), fellow. n., pl. fel lies.

fel on (fel'ən), 1. person who has committed a serious crime; criminal: Murderers and thieves are felons. 2. wicked; cruel. 1 n., 2 adj.

fel on (fel'ən), a very painful infection on a finger or toe, usually near the nail. n.

fe lo ni ous (fə lō'nē əs), 1. that is a felony; criminal. 2. very wicked; villainous. adj. —fe lo'ni ous ness, n.

fel o ny (fel'ə nē), crime more serious than a misdemeanor. Murder and burglary are felonies. n., pl. fel o nies.

felt¹ (felt), pt. and pp. of feel. He felt the soft fur of the cat. Things are felt with the hands. v.

felt² (felt), 1. cloth not woven, but made by rolling and pressing together wool, hair, or fur, used to make hats, slippers, and pads. 2. thing made of felt. 3. made of felt: a felt hat. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

fem., feminine.

fe male (fē'māl), 1. woman or girl. 2. of or having to do with women or girls. 3. belonging to the sex that brings forth young. 4. animal belonging to this sex. 5. in botany, noting or having to do with any reproductive structure that produces or contains elements that need fertilization from the male element; having pistils. 6. flower having a pistil or pistils and no stamens. 7. plant bearing only flowers with pistils. 8. designating some part of a machine, connection, etc., into which a corresponding part fits. 1, 4, 6, 7 n., 2, 3, 5, 8 adj.

fem i nine (fem'ə nin), 1. of women or girls: Jewelry and lace are mostly feminine belongings. 2. like a woman; womanly; weak; gentle. 3. like that of a woman; not suited to a man. 4. of or belonging to the female sex. 5. of the gender to which names of females belong. Actress, queen, and cow are feminine nouns. 6. the feminine gender. 7. word or form in the feminine gender. 1-5 adj., 6, 7 n.

fem i nin i ty (fem'ə nin'ə tē), 1. feminine quality or condition. 2. women. n.

fem i nism (fem'ə niz əm), doctrine that favors more rights and activities for women. n.

fem i nist (fem'ə nist), person who believes in or favors feminism. n.

fe mur (fē'mər), the thighbone. See fibula for picture. n., pl. fe murs, fem o ra (fem'ə rə).

fen (fen), Brit. marsh; swamp; bog. n.

fence (fens), 1. railing, wall, or other means of enclosing a yard, garden, field, farm, etc., to show where it ends or to keep people or animals out or in. 2. put a fence around; enclose with a fence; keep out or in with a fence. 3. fight with swords or foils. 4. art of doing this; fencing. 5. skill or adroitness in argument or repartee. 6. parry; evade. 7. defend; protect. 8. person who buys and sells stolen goods. 9. place where stolen goods are bought and sold. 1, 4, 5, 8, 9 n., 2, 3, 6, 7 v., fenced, fenc ing.

fence with, avoid giving a direct answer to.

on the fence, U.S. Informal. not having made up one's mind which side to take; doubtful; hesitating.

fenc er (fen'sər), 1. person who knows how to fight with a sword or foil. 2. person who makes or mends fences. n.

fenc ing (fen'sing), 1. art of fighting with swords or foils. 2. material for fences. 3. fences. n.

Girls fencing

fend (fend), defend; resist. v.

fend for oneself, Informal. provide for oneself; get along by one's own efforts.

fend off, ward off; keep off: to fend off blows with one's arm.

fend er (fen'dər), 1. anything that keeps or wards something off. 2. guard or protection over the wheel of an automobile, motorcycle, etc.; mudguard. 3. Esp. Brit. a metal frame on the front or rear of a locomotive, streetcar, etc., to lessen damage in case of collision. 4. cowcatcher or other device at the front of a locomotive, etc., to reduce injury should an animal or person be struck. 5. a metal guard, frame, or screen in front of a fireplace to keep hot coals and sparks from the room. 6. a rope pad or cushion, log, etc., to prevent damage to the side of a ship when docking. n.

Fender (def. 5)

fen nel (fen'l), a tall, perennial plant with yellow flowers. Its aromatic seeds are used in medicine and cooking. n.

FEPC, Fair Employment Practices Committee.

fe ral (fir'əl), 1. wild; untamed. 2. brutal; savage. adj.

fer-de-lance (fär'də lāns'), a large, poisonous snake of tropical America. n.

Fer di nand V of Castile (fērd'n and), 1452-1516, Spanish king who ruled from 1474 to 1516. He and his queen, Isabella I, encouraged Christopher Columbus in his voyages.

fer ment (fər ment' for 1, 2, 4, 5; fēr'ment for 3, 6), 1. undergo a gradual chemical change, giving off bubbles of gas, and changing in character. Vinegar is formed when cider ferments. 2. cause this chemical change in. 3. substance causing fermentation. Yeast is a ferment. 4. cause unrest in; excite; agitate. 5. be excited; seethe with agitation or unrest. 6. excitement; agitation; unrest: Rumors of war caused national ferment. 1, 2, 4, 5 v., 3, 6 n.

fer men ta tion (fēr'men tā'shən), 1. act or process of fermenting. Fermentation causes milk to sour and bread to rise. 2. excitement; agitation; unrest. 3. a chemical change caused by a ferment. n.

Fer mi (fēr'mē), Enrico, 1901-1954, American physicist, born in Italy. He was director of the first nuclear reactor. n.

fer mi um (fēr'mē am), a rare, radioactive, artificial element, produced as a by-product of nuclear fission. Symbol: Fm n.

fern (fēr'n), any of a group of plants that have roots, stems, and leaves, but no flowers, and reproduce by spores instead of seeds. Maidenhair, adder's-tongue, bracken, club mosses, etc., are ferns. n.

fern y (fēr'nē), 1. of ferns. 2. like ferns. adj.

fer o cious (fērō'shəs), savagely cruel; fierce. adj. —fer o'cious ly, adv.

fer o ci ty (fērōs'ə tē), savage cruelty; fierceness. n., pl. fe ro ci ties.

Fer ra ra (fēr'rā'rə), city in NE Italy. 135,000. n.

fer rate (fēr'āt), a salt of ferric acid. n.

fer ret (fēr'it), 1. a white or yellowish-white weasel used for killing rats, hunting rabbits, etc. 2. hunt with ferrets. 3. hunt; search: The detectives ferreted out the criminal. 1 n., 2, 3 v.

fer ric (fēr'ik), of or containing iron, especially iron with a valence of three. adj.

Fer ris wheel (fēr'is), a large, revolving wheel with seats hanging from its rim, used in carnivals, amusement parks, etc.

fer rous (fēr'əs), of or containing iron with a valence of two. adj.

fer rule (fēr'əl or fēr'ül), a metal ring or cap put around the end of a cane, wooden handle, umbrella, etc., for strength and protection. n. Also, ferule.

fer ry (fēr'ē), 1. place where boats carry people and goods across a river or narrow stretch of water. 2. the boat used; ferryboat. 3. carry (people and goods) in a boat back and forth across a river or narrow stretch of water. 4. go across in a ferryboat. 5. carry back and forth across a wide stretch of water in an airplane. 6. fly an airplane to a destination for delivery. 7. system for flying airplanes to a destination for delivery. 1, 2, 7 n., pl. fer ries; 3-6 v., fer ried, fer ry ing.

fer ry boat (fēr'ē bōt), boat used for ferrying. n.

fer ry man (fēr'ē mən), 1. man who owns or has charge of a ferry. 2. man who works on a ferry. n., pl. fer ry men.

fer tile (fēr'tl), 1. able to produce much; rich in things that aid growth, development, etc.: Fertile soil produces good crops. Einstein had a fertile mind. 2. capable of reproduction; able to produce seeds, fruit, young, etc. 3. capable of developing into a new individual; fertilized: Chicks hatch from fertile eggs. adj. —fer'tile ness, n.

Fertile Crescent, a fertile, crescent-shaped strip of land on the E shore of the Mediterranean. See Babylonia for map.

fer til i ty (fēr til'ə tē), being fertile. n.

fer til i za tion (fēr'tl ə zā'shən), 1. a fertilizing or being fertilized. 2. the union of male and female reproductive cells to form a cell that will develop into a new individual. n.

fer til ize (fēr'tl iz), 1. make fertile; make able to produce much: A crop of alfalfa fertilized the soil by adding nitrates to it. 2. put fertilizer on. 3. unite with (an egg cell) in fertilization; impregnate. v., fer til ized, fer til izing.

fer til izer (fēr'tə līz'ər), 1. substance put on land to make it able to produce more. Manure is a common fertilizer. 2. person or thing that fertilizes. n.

fer ule (fēr'əl or fēr'ül), 1. stick or ruler used for punishing children by striking them, especially on the hand. 2. punish with a stick or ruler. 1 n., 2 v., fer uled, fer ul ing.

fer ule (fēr'əl or fēr'ül), ferrule. n.

fer ven cy (fēr'vən sē), warmth of feeling; great earnestness. n.

fer vent (fēr'vənt), 1. showing warmth of feeling; very earnest: a fervent plea. 2. hot; glowing. adj. —fer-vent ly, adv.

fer vid (fēr'vid), 1. showing great warmth of feeling; intensely emotional: a fervid orator. 2. intensely hot. adj. —fer'vid ly, adv.

fer vor (fēr'vər), 1. great warmth of feeling; intense emotion: The patriot's voice trembled from the fervor of his emotion. 2. intense heat. n.

fer vour (fēr'vər), Esp. Brit. fervor. n.

fes cue (fes'kū), 1. a tough grass used for pasture. 2. a small stick, straw, etc., for pointing out the letters in teaching a child to read. n.

fes tal (fes'tl), of a feast, festival, or holiday; gay; joyous; festive: A wedding or a birthday is a festal occasion. adj.

fes ter (fes'tər), 1. form pus: The neglected wound festered and became very painful. 2. sore that forms pus; small ulcer. 3. cause pus to form. 4. cause soreness or pain; rankle: Resentment festered in his mind. 5. decay; rot. 1, 3-5 v., 2 n.

fes ti val (fes'tə vl), 1. day or special time of rejoicing or feasting, often in memory of some great happening: Christmas and Easter are two festivals of the Christian church. 2. celebration; entertainment: Every year the city has a music festival during the first week in May. 3. merrymaking; revelry. 4. having to do with a festival. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

fes tive (fes'tiv), of or for a feast, festival, or holiday; gay; joyous; merry: A birthday or wedding is a festive occasion. adj. —fes'tive ly, adv.

fes tiv i ty (fes tiv'ə tē), 1. festive activity; thing done to celebrate: The festivities on the Fourth of July included a parade and fireworks.

2. gaiety; merriment. 3. festival. n., pl. fes tiv i ties.

fes toon (fes tūn'), 1. a hanging curve of flowers, leaves, ribbons, etc.: The flags were hung on the wall in colorful festoons. 2. decorate with festoons: The Christmas tree was festooned with tinsel. 3. form into festoons; hang in curves: Draperies were festooned over the window. 1 n., 2, 3 v.

Festoon

fe tal (fē'tl), of a fetus. adj. Also, foetal.

fetch (fēc), 1. go and get; bring: Please fetch me my glasses. 2. cause to come; succeed in bringing. 3. be sold for: These eggs will fetch a good price. 4. Informal. attract; charm. 5. Informal. hit; strike. v.

fetch ing (fēc'ing), Informal. attractive; charming: She wore a fetching hat. adj.

fete or fête (fāt), 1. festival; entertainment; party: A large fete was given for the benefit of the town hospital. 2. honor with a fete; entertain: The engaged couple were feted by their friends. 1 n., 2 v., fêted, feting or fêt ed, fêt ing.

fet id (fet'id), smelling very bad; stinking. adj. —fet'id ly, adv. —fet'id ness, n.

fe tish (fē'tish or fet'ish), 1. any material object supposed to have magic power. 2. anything regarded with unreasonable reverence or devotion: Some people make a fetish of style. n.

Fetish (def. 1) from Africa fe tish ism (fē'tish iz em or fet'ish iz əm), belief in fetishes; worship of fetishes. n.

fet lock (fet'lok), 1. tuft of hair above a horse's hoof on the back part of the leg. 2. part of a horse's leg where this tuft grows. n.

fet ter (fet'ər), 1. chain or shackle for the feet to prevent escape. 2. bind with fetters; chain the feet of. 3. anything that shackles or binds; restraint. 4. bind; restrain. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v.

fet tle (fet'tl), condition; trim: The horse is in fine fettle and should win the race. n.

fe tus (fē'təs), an animal embryo during the later stages of its development in the womb or in the egg. n. Also, foetus.

feud (fūd), 1. a long and deadly quarrel between families, tribes, etc., often passed down from generation to generation. 2. continued strife between two persons, groups, etc. 3. quarrel. n.

HOCK

CANNON BONE

FETLOCK

feud² (fūd), a feudal estate; fief. n.

feudal (fū/dl), 1. of or having to do with feudalism. 2. of or having to do with fiefs. adj.

feudalism (fū/dl iz əm), the social, economic, and political system of Europe in the Middle Ages. Under this system vassals held land on condition of giving military and other services to the lord owning it in return for the protection and the use of the land. n.

feudalist (fū/dl is'tik), 1. of or having to do with feudalism. 2. tending toward feudalism; favoring feudalism. adj.

feudal system, feudalism.

feudatory (fū/də tō'rē), 1. owing feudal services to a lord. 2. a feudal vassal: The duke summoned his feudatories to aid him in war. 3. holding or held as a feudal estate or fief. 4. a feudal estate; fief. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n., pl. feudatories.

feudist (fūd'ist), person engaging in a feud. n.

fever (fē/vər), 1. an unhealthy condition of the body in which the temperature is higher than normal. 2. any of various diseases that cause fever and make the heart beat fast, such as scarlet fever and typhoid fever. 3. an excited, restless condition: When gold was discovered the miners were in a fever of excitement. 4. affect with fever; heat. 5. become feverish. 6. current fad or enthusiasm for something or for some person. 1-3,6 n., 4,5 v. —feverless, adj.

fevered (fē/vərd), 1. having fever. 2. excited; restless. adj.

feverfew (fē/vər fū), a perennial plant of the same family as the aster, with small, white, daisylike flowers. n.

feverish (fē/vər ish), 1. having fever. 2. having a slight degree of fever. 3. causing fever. 4. infested with fever: a feverish swamp. 5. excited; restless. adj. —feverishly, adv. —feverishness, n.

feverous (fē/vər əs), feverish. adj.

feverroot (fē/vər rūt'), a coarse plant whose roots are sometimes used for medicine. n.

fever sore, a cold sore.

few (fū), 1. not many: There are few men more than six feet tall. 2. a small number: Winter in New England has not many warm days, only a few. 1 adj., 2 n. —fewness, n.

the few, the minority.

quite a few, Informal. a good many.

fez (fēz), a felt cap, usually red, ornamented with a long, black tassel. It was formerly the national headdress of the Turks. n., pl. fez zes.

Fez (fēz), city in N Morocco. 180,000. n.

ff., 1. and the following pages, sections, etc. 2. fortissimo. 3. folios.

FHA, Federal Housing Administration.

fi an cé (fē'ān sā'), man to whom a woman is engaged to be married. n.

fi an cée (fē'ān sā'), woman to whom a man is engaged to be married. n.

fi as co (fē'as kō), failure; breakdown. n., pl. fi as cos or fi as coes.

fi at (fī'ət or fī'at), 1. an authoritative order or command; decree. 2. sanction. n.

fiat money, U.S. paper currency made legal tender by decree of the government, but not based on or convertible into coin.

fib (fib), lie about some small matter. n., v., fibbed, fibbing. —fibber, n.

fi ber (fī'bər), 1. a threadlike part; thread. A muscle is made up of many fibers. 2. substance made up of threads or threadlike parts: Hemp fiber can be spun into rope or woven into a coarse cloth. 3. texture: cloth of coarse fiber. 4. character; nature: A person of strong moral fiber can resist temptation. 5. a slender, threadlike root of a plant. n.

fi ber board (fī'bər bōrd'), a building material made by compressing fibers, especially of wood, into flat sheets. n.

fi bre (fī'bər), fiber. n.

fi bril (fī'brəl), 1. a small or very slender fiber. 2. one of the hairs on the roots of some plants. n.

fi brin (fī'brən), 1. a tough, elastic, yellowish protein formed when blood clots. 2. gluten in plants. n.

fi brous (fī'brəs), made up of fibers; having fibers; like fiber. adj.

fib u la (fīb'yə lə), 1. the outer and thinner of the two bones in the human lower leg. It extends from knee to ankle.

2. a similar bone in the hind leg of animals. 3. in archaeology, a clasp or brooch, often highly ornamented. n., pl. fib u lae (-lē) or fib u las.

fib u lar (fīb'yə lər), of or having to do with the fibula. adj.

fich u (fish'ü), a three-cornered piece of muslin, lace, or other soft material worn by women about the neck, with the ends drawn together or crossed on the breast. n.

fick le (fik'l), likely to change without reason; changing; not constant: fickle fortune, a fickle lover. adj. —fickle ness, n.

fic tion (fik'shən), 1. novels, short stories, and other prose writings that tell about imaginary people and happenings. 2. what is imagined or made up: The explorer exaggerated so much in telling about his adventures that it was impossible to separate fact from fiction. 3. an imaginary account or statement; made-up story. n.

fic tion al (fik'shən l), of or having to do with fiction. adj. —fiction ally, adv.

fic ti tious (fik tish'əs), 1. not real; imaginary; made-up: Characters in novels are usually fictitious. 2. assumed in order to deceive; false: The criminal used a fictitious name. adj. —fic ti'tiously, adv. —fic ti'tiousness, n.

fid dle (fid'l), 1. Informal. violin. 2. Informal. play on a violin. 3. make aimless movements; play nervously; toy: The embarrassed boy fiddled with his hat. 4. trifle: He fiddled away the whole day doing absolutely nothing. 1 n., 2-4 v. fid dled, fid dling. —fid'dler, n.

fit as a fiddle, in excellent physical condition.

play second fiddle, take a secondary part.

fiddler crab, a small, burrowing crab common along the Atlantic coast of the United States.

fid dle stick (fid'l stik'), 1. a violin bow. 2. a mere nothing; trifle. n.

fid dle sticks (fid'l stiks'), nonsense! rubbish! interj.

fi del i ty (fī del'ə tē or fə del'ə tē), 1. faithfulness to a trust or vow; steadfast faithfulness; loyalty. 2. accuracy; exactness as in a copy, or in reproduction of sound by a radio transmitter or receiver. n., pl. fi del i ties.

fidg et (fij'it), 1. move about restlessly; be uneasy: A child fidgets if he has to sit still a long time. 2. make uneasy. 3. condition of being restless or uneasy. 4. person who moves about restlessly. 1,2 v., 3,4 n. the fidgets, fit of restlessness or uneasiness.

fidgety (fij'ə tē), restless; uneasy. adj.

fi du ci ar y (fə dū'shē er'ē or fə dū'shē er'ē), 1. held in trust: fiduciary estates. 2. holding in trust. A fiduciary possessor is legally responsible for what belongs to another. 3. trustee. 4. of a trustee; of trust and confidence: A guardian acts in a fiduciary capacity. 1,2,4 adj., 3 n., pl. fi du ci aries.

Fichu

Fez

Fiddler crab (life size)

fi (fi), for shame! shame!; Fie upon you! interj.

fief (fēf), piece of land held on condition of giving military and other services to the lord owning it in return for protection and the use of the land. n.

field (fēld), 1. land with few or no trees: They rode through forest and field. 2. piece of land used for crops or pasture. 3. piece of land used for some special purpose: a baseball field. 4. land yielding some product: the coal fields of Pennsylvania, the gold fields of South Africa. 5. place where a battle is or has been fought. 6. battle. 7. region where military or other operations are carried on. 8. a flat space; broad surface: A field of ice surrounds the North Pole. 9. surface on which some emblem is pictured or painted: the field of a coat of arms. 10. range of opportunity or interest; sphere of activity or operation: Many great discoveries have been made in the field of science. 11. in physics, the space throughout which a force operates. A magnet has a magnetic field around it. 12. space or area in which things can be seen through a telescope, microscope, etc., without moving it. 13. the entire screen area occupied by a television image. 14. all those in a game, contest, or outdoor sport. 15. all those in a game or contest except one or more specified: bet on one horse against the field. 16. stop or catch and return (a ball) in baseball, cricket, etc. 17. act as a fielder in baseball, cricket, etc. 1-15 n., 16, 17 v.

take the field, begin a battle, campaign, game, etc.

Field (fēld), 1. Cyrus West, 1819-1892, American capitalist who planned the first telegraph cable across the Atlantic. 2. Eugene, 1850-1895, American journalist and poet. n.

field artillery, artillery mounted on carriages for easy movement by armies in the field.

field battery, set of guns mounted on carriages for use in the field.

field day, 1. day for athletic contests and outdoor sports. 2. day when soldiers perform drills, mock fights, etc. 3. day of unusual activity or display.

field er (fēl'dər), 1. a baseball player who is stationed around or outside the diamond to stop the ball and throw it in. See baseball for diagram. 2. a similar player in a game of cricket. n.

field glass, a small binocular telescope.

Field glasses

field goal, a goal in football counting 3 points, made by a drop kick or a place kick.

field gun, cannon mounted on a carriage for use in the field.

field hospital, a temporary hospital near a battlefield.

field house, building near an athletic field, used for storing equipment, dressing rooms, etc., for the use of athletes.

field magnet, a magnet used for the production and maintenance of a magnetic field, especially a magnet on a dynamo or electric motor.

field marshal, an army officer ranking next to the commander in chief in the British and some other armies.

field mouse, any variety of mouse living in fields and meadows.

field officer, an army officer ranking above a captain and below a brigadier general. Colonels, lieutenant colonels, and majors are field officers.

field of fire, area a gun or battery covers effectively.

field test, test of a new product under conditions of actual use.

field trip, trip to give students special opportunities for observing facts.

field work (fēld'wərk'), a temporary fortification for defense made by soldiers in the field. n.

field work, scientific or technical work done in the field by surveyors, geologists, etc.

fiend (fēnd), 1. an evil spirit; devil. 2. a very wicked or cruel person. n. —fiend'like', adj.

the Fiend, the Devil.

fiend ish (fēn'dish), very cruel or wicked; devilish: fiendish tortures, a fiendish yell. adj. —fiend'ish ly, adv. —fiend'ish ness, n.

fierce (firs), 1. savage; wild: a fierce lion. 2. raging; violent: a fierce wind. 3. very eager or active; ardent: fierce efforts to get ahead. adj., fierc er, fierc est. —fierce'ly, adv. —fierce'ness, n.

fier y (fir'ē), 1. consisting of fire; containing fire; burning; flaming. 2. like fire; very hot; flashing; glowing. 3. full of feeling or spirit; ardent: a fiery speech. 4. easily aroused or excited: a fiery temper. 5. inflamed: a fiery sore. adj., fier ier, fier iest. —fier'ily, adv. —fier'i ness, n.

fies ta (fēs'tə), 1. a religious festival; saint's day. 2. holiday; festivity. n.

fife (fif), 1. a small, shrill musical instrument like a flute. Fifes and drums are used to make music for marching. 2. play on a fife. 1 n., 2 v., fifed, fif ing. —fif'er, n.

Boy playing a fife fif teen (fif'tēn'), five more than ten; 15. n., adj.

fifteenth (fif'tēnth'), 1. next after the 14th; last in a series of 15. 2. one of 15 equal parts. adj., n.

fifth (fifth), 1. next after the fourth; last in a series of 5. 2. one of 5 equal parts. 3. a musical tone on the 5th degree from a certain tone. 4. interval between such tones. 5. combination of such tones. 1, 2 adj., 1-5 n.

fifth column, persons within a country who secretly aid its enemies.

fifth columnist, member of the fifth column.

fifth ly (fifth'lē), in the fifth place. adv.

fifth wheel, a person or thing that is not needed.

fif ti eth (fif'tē ith), 1. next after the 49th; last in a series of 50. 2. one of 50 equal parts. adj., n.

fif ty (fif'tē), five times ten; 50. n., pl. fif ties, adj.

fif ty-fif ty (fif'tē fif'tē), Informal. half-and-half; in or with equal shares. adv., adj.

Figs

fig (fig), 1. a small, soft, sweet fruit that grows in warm regions. Figs are sometimes eaten fresh or canned, but usually are dried like dates and raisins. 2. tree that figs grow on. 3. a very small amount: I don't care a fig for your opinion. n.

fig., figure.

fight (fit), 1. struggle; battle; conflict; combat; contest. 2. an angry dispute. 3. take part in a fight. 4. take part in a fight against; war against: fight disease. 5. carry on (a fight, conflict, etc.). 6. get or make by fighting. 7. cause to fight. 8. power or will to fight: There is fight in the old dog yet. 1, 2, 8 n., 3-7 v., fought, fight ing.

fight it out, fight until one side wins.

fight shy of, keep away from; avoid.

show fight, resist; be ready to fight.

fight er (fit'ər), 1. one who or that which fights. 2. a professional boxer. 3. a highly maneuverable and heavily armed airplane used mainly for attacking enemy airplanes or strafing ground forces. n.

fighter plane, fighter (def. 3).

fig ment (fig'mənt), something imagined; made-up story. n.

fig ur a tion (fig'yər ā'shən), 1. form; shape. 2. a forming; shaping. 3. representation by a likeness or symbol. n.

fig ur a tive (fig'yər ə tiv), 1. using words out of their literal meaning to add beauty or force. 2. having many figures of speech. Much poetry is figurative.

3. representing by a likeness or symbol: Baptism is a figurative ceremony; it represents cleansing by religion.

adj. —fig'ur a tive ly, adv. —fig'ur a tive ness, n.

figure (fig'yər), 1. symbol for a number. 1, 2, 3, 4, etc., are figures. 2. use figures to find the answer to a problem; reckon; compute; show by figures. 3. amount or value given in figures: The price is too high; ask a lower figure. 4. form; shape: In the darkness she saw dim figures moving. 5. form enclosing a surface or space: Circles, triangles, squares, cubes, and spheres are all geometrical figures. 6. person; character: George Washington is a great figure in American history. 7. human form; way in which a person looks or appears: The poor old woman was a figure of distress. 8. be conspicuous; appear: The names of great leaders figure in the story of human progress. 9. image; likeness. 10. picture; drawing; diagram; illustration: This book has many figures to help explain words. 11. show by a figure; represent in a diagram. 12. design; pattern: Cloth or wallpaper often has figures on it. 13. decorate with a figure or pattern. 14. outline traced by movements: figures made by an airplane. 15. set of movements in dancing or skating. 16. expression in which words are used out of their ordinary meaning to add beauty or force; figure of speech. 17. think; consider. 1,3-7,9,10,12,14-16 n., 2,8, 11,13,17 v., figured, fig'ur ing. —fig'ur er, n.

Ornamental figure (def. 12)

figure on, Informal. 1. depend on; rely on. 2. consider as part of a plan or undertaking.

figure out, 1. find out by using figures. 2. think out; understand.

figured (fig'yərd), 1. decorated with a design or pattern; not plain. 2. shown by a figure, diagram, or picture. adj.

figure head (fig'yər hed'), 1. person who is the head in name only, and has no real authority or responsibility. 2. statue or carving decorating the bow of a ship. n.

figure of speech, expression in which words are used out of their literal meaning or in exceptional combinations to add beauty or force. Similes and metaphors are figures of speech.

figurine (fig'yər ĕn'), a small ornamental figure made of stone, pottery, metal, etc.; statuette. n.

fig wort (fig'wərt'), 1. a tall, coarse plant with small, greenish-purple or yellow flowers that have a disagreeable odor. 2. any similar plant. n.

Fiji (fē'jē), 1. Fiji Islands. 2. native of these islands. 3. a British colony including these islands. 385,000 pop.; 7055 sq. mi. n.

Fijian (fē'jē ən), 1. of or having to do with the Fiji Islands or their people. 2. their language. 1 adj., 2 n.

Fiji Islands, group of islands in the S Pacific composing the British colony of Fiji, north of New Zealand. See Australasia for map.

filament (fil'əmənt), 1. a very fine thread; very slender, threadlike part. The wire that gives off light in an electric light bulb is a filament. 2. the stalklike part of a stamen that supports the anther. n.

filbert (fil'bərt), a cultivated hazelnut. n.

filch (filch), steal in small quantities; pilfer: He filched pencils from the teacher's desk. v. —filch'er, n.

Artist painting a design for a figured glass window

Figurehead (def. 2)

FILAMENT

file (fil), 1. place for keeping papers in order. 2. set of papers kept in order. 3. put away (papers etc.) in order. 4. line of people or things one behind another: a file of soldiers, or ships sailing in file. 5. march or move in a file. 6. a small detachment of soldiers. 7. make application. 1,2,4,6 n., 3,5,7 v., filed, fil'ing. —fil'er, n.

on file, in a file; put away and kept in order.

file (fil), 1. a steel tool with many small ridges or teeth on it. Its rough surface is used to smooth or wear away hard substances. 2. smooth or wear away with a file. 1 n., 2 v., filed, fil'ing. —fil'er, n.

File²

file clerk, person whose work is taking care of the files in an office.

fillet (fil'lā' or fil'ā), 1. net or lace having a square mesh. 2. fillet; slice of fish, meat, etc., without bones or fat. n.

filial (fil'ē əl), of a son or daughter; due from a son or daughter: The children treated their parents with filial respect. adj. —fil'i al ly, adv.

filibuster (fil'ə bus'tər), 1. U.S. member of a legislature who deliberately hinders the passage of a bill by long speeches or other means of delay. 2. U.S. deliberately hinder the passage of a bill by long speeches or other means of delay. 3. U.S. the deliberate hindering of the passage of a bill by such means. 4. person who fights against another country without the authorization of his government; freebooter. 5. fight against another country without the authorization of one's government; act as a freebooter. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v. —fil'i bus'ter er, n.

filigree (fil'ə grē), 1. very delicate, lacelike ornamental work of gold or silver wire. 2. lacy, delicate, or fanciful pattern in any material: The frost made a beautiful filigree on the windowpane. n.

Filigree around a gem filings (fil'ingz), small pieces removed by a file. n.pl.

Filipine (fil'ə pēn), Philippine. adj.

Filipino (fil'ə pē'nō), 1. native of the Philippines. 2. Philippine. 1 n., pl. Filipinos; 2 adj.

fill (fil), 1. make full; put into until there is room for no more: fill a cup. 2. become full: The hall filled rapidly. 3. take up all the space in: The crowd filled the hall. 4. enough to fill something. 5. satisfy the hunger or appetite of. 6. supply what is needed for: A store fills orders, prescriptions, etc. Can John fill the office of class president? 7. all that is needed or wanted: Eat and drink your fill; there is plenty for all of us. 8. stop up or close by putting something in: A dentist fills decayed teeth. 9. something that fills. 10. hold and do the duties of (a position, office, etc.). 11. supply a person for or appoint a person to (a position, office, etc.). 1-3,5,6,8, 10,11 v., 4,7,9 n.

fill in, 1. fill with something put in. 2. complete by filling. 3. put in to complete something.

fill out, 1. make larger; grow larger; swell. 2. make rounder; grow rounder. 3. complete by filling.

fill the bill, come up to requirements.

fill up, fill; fill completely.

filler (fil'ər), 1. person or thing that fills. 2. thing put in to fill something. A pad of paper for a notebook, a preparation put on wood before painting it, and the tobacco inside of cigars are all fillers. n.

fillet (fil'it; usually fil'lā' or fil'ā for 4,5), 1. a narrow band, ribbon, etc., put around the head to keep the hair in place or as an ornament. 2. a narrow band or strip of any material. 3. bind or decorate with a narrow band, ribbon, strip, etc. 4. slice of fish, meat, etc., without bones or fat; filet. 5. cut (fish, meat, etc.) into fillets. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v.

filling (fil'ing), 1. thing put in to fill something. A dentist puts a filling in a decayed tooth. 2. threads running from side to side across a woven fabric. 3. a making full; a becoming full. n.

filling station, place where gasoline and oil for automobiles are sold.

fil lip (fil'əp), 1. strike with the fingernail as it is snapped quickly from the end of the thumb. 2. toss or cause to move by striking in this way: He filliped a coin into the beggar's cup. 3. a quick, light blow given by striking with the fingernail as it is snapped quickly from the end of the thumb. 4. thing that rouses, revives, or stimulates: Relishes serve as fillips to the appetite. 5. rouse; revive; stimulate. 1,2,5 v., 3,4 n.

Fill more (fil'môr), Millard, 1800-1874, the 13th president of the United States, from 1850 to 1853. n.

fil ly (fil'ē), 1. a female colt; young mare. 2. Slang. a lively girl. n., pl. fil lies.

film (film), 1. a very thin layer, sheet, surface, or coating: Oil poured on water will spread and make a film. 2. cover or become covered with a film: Her eyes filmed with tears. 3. roll or sheet of thin, flexible material, such as cellulose nitrate or cellulose acetate, used in making photographs. This roll or sheet is coated with an emulsion that is sensitive to light. 4. a motion picture. 5. make a motion picture of: They filmed the scene three times. 6. photograph or be photographed for motion pictures. 1,3,4 n., 2,5,6 v. —film'like', adj.

film y (fil'mē), 1. of or like a film; very thin. 2. covered with a film. adj., film i er, film i est. —film'i ness, n.

fil ter (fil'tər), 1. device for straining out substances from a liquid or gas by putting it slowly through felt, paper, sand, charcoal, etc. A filter is used to remove impurities from drinking water. 2. felt, paper, sand, charcoal, or other porous material used in such a device. 3. device for controlling certain light rays, electric currents, etc. Putting a yellow filter in front of a camera lens causes less blue light to reach the film. 4. pass through a filter; strain: We filter this water for drinking. 5. act as a filter for: The charcoal filtered the water. 6. pass or flow very slowly: Water filters through the sandy soil and into the well. 7. remove or control by a filter: Filter out all the dirt before using this water. 1-3 n., 4-7 v. —fil'ter er, n.

fil ter a ble (fil'tər ə bl), 1. that can be filtered. 2. capable of passing through a filter which arrests bacteria: a filterable virus. adj.

filth (filth), 1. foul, disgusting dirt: The alley was littered with garbage and other filth. 2. obscene words or thoughts; vileness; moral corruption. n.

filth i ness (fil'thē nis), a filthy state or condition. n.

filth y (fil'thē), 1. disgustingly dirty; foul. 2. vile. adj., filth i er, filth i est. —filth'i ly, adv.

fil tra ble (fil'trə bl), filterable. adj.

fil trate (fil'trät), 1. liquid that has been passed through a filter. 2. pass through a filter. 1 n., 2 v., fil trat ed, fil trat ing.

fil tra tion (fil trā'shən), 1. a filtering. 2. being filtered. n.

fin (fin), 1. a movable wing-like part of a fish's body. Moving the fins enables the fish to swim, guide, and balance itself in the water. 2. thing shaped or used like a fin. Some airships have fins to help balance them in flight. n. —fin'less, adj. —fin'like', adj.

fi na gle (fə nā'gl), Informal. 1. manage craftily or cleverly. 2. cheat. v., fi na gled, fi na gling. —fi na'gler, n.

fi nal (fi'nəl), 1. at the end; last; with no more after it: The last day of school each year is the final one for graduating seniors. 2. deciding; settling the question; not to be changed: A decision of the Supreme Court is final. 3. something final. The last examination of a school term is a final. 4. having to do with purpose. 1,2,4 adj., 3 n.

finals, the last or deciding set in a series of contests examinations, etc.

fi na le (fə nā'lē), 1. the last part of a piece of music or a play. 2. the last part; end. n.

fi nal ist (fi'nəl ist), person who takes part in the last or deciding set in a series of contests, etc. n.

fi nal i ty (fi nal'ə tē), 1. being final, finished, or settled: John recognized the finality of his father's decision. 2. something final; final act, speech, etc. n., pl. fi nal i ties.

fi nal ly (fi'nəl ē), 1. at the end; at last. 2. so as to decide or settle the question. adv.

fi nance (fə nans' or fi'nans), 1. money matters: The millionaire boasted of his skill in finance. 2. management of large sums of public or private money. Management of government revenue and expenditure is called public finance. 3. provide money for: His friends helped him finance a new business. 4. manage the finances of. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., fi nanced, fi nanc ing.

finances, money matters; money; funds; revenues.

fi nan cial (fə nan'shəl or fi nan'shəl), 1. having to do with money matters: His financial affairs are in bad condition. 2. having to do with the management of large sums of public or private money. adj.

fi nan cial ly (fə nan'shəl ē), in relation to finances; in respect to money matters. adv.

fin an cier (fin'an sir' or fi'nən sir'), 1. person skilled in finance. Bankers are financiers.

2. person who is active in matters involving large sums of money. n.

fin back (fin'bak'), a kind of whale having a fin on its back; rorqual. n.

finch (finch), any of a group of small songbirds that have cone-shaped bills. Sparrows, buntings, grosbeaks, canaries, and cardinals are finches. n.

find (find), 1. come upon; happen on; meet with: He found a dime in the road.

2. look for and get: Please find my hat for me. 3. discover; learn: We found that he could not swim. 4. see; know; feel; perceive: He found that he was growing sleepy. 5. get; get the use of: Can you find time to do this? 6. arrive at; reach: Water finds its level. 7. decide and declare: The jury found the accused man guilty. 8. provide; supply: find food and lodging for a friend. 9. a finding. 10. thing found. 1-8 v., found, find ing; 9,10 n.

find oneself, learn one's abilities and how to make good use of them.

find out, learn about; come to know; discover.

find er (fin'dər), 1. person or thing that finds. 2. a small extra lens on the outside of a camera that shows what is being photographed. n.

find ing (fin'ding), 1. discovery. 2. thing found. 3. decision reached after an examination or inquiry. The verdict of a jury is its finding. n.

find ings (fin'dingz), tools, materials, supplies, etc., provided by a worker. n.pl.

fine¹ (fin), 1. of very high quality; very good; excellent: a fine sermon, a fine view, a fine scholar. 2. very small or thin: fine wire. 3. sharp: a tool with a fine edge. 4. not coarse or heavy; delicate: fine linen. 5. refined; elegant: fine manners. 6. subtle: The law makes fine distinctions. 7. too highly decorated; showy: fine language or writing. 8. good-looking: a fine young man. 9. clear; bright: fine weather. 10. without impurities. Fine gold is gold not mixed with any other metal. 11. having a stated proportion of gold or silver in it. A gold alloy that is $\frac{925}{1000}$ fine is 92.5% gold. 12. Informal. very well; excellently. 1-11 adj., fin er, fin est; 12 adv. —fine'ly, adv.

fine² (fin), 1. sum of money paid as a punishment. 2. cause to pay a fine: The judge fined Mr. Vick ten dollars. 1 n., 2 v., fin ed, fin ing.

in fine, 1. finally. 2. in a few words; briefly.

fi ne's (fē'nā), end; a direction marking the end of a musical passage that has to be repeated. n.

House finch
(6 in. long)

Fins: C, caudal; D, dorsal;
P, pectoral; V, ventral.

fine arts, arts depending upon taste and appealing to the sense of beauty; painting, drawing, sculpture, and architecture. Literature, music, dancing, and acting are also often included in the fine arts.

fine-drawn (fin'drôn'), 1. drawn out until very small or thin. 2. very subtle: Fine-drawn distinctions are difficult to understand. adj.

fine-grained (fin'gränd'), having a fine, close grain. Mahogany is a fine-grained wood. adj.

fine ness (fin'nīs), 1. thinness: the fineness of a line, thread, needle, or wire. 2. sharpness: the fineness of an edge or point. 3. degree of purity: the fineness of a metal. 4. clearness: the fineness of the weather. 5. fine quality; perfection: the fineness of materials. n.

fin er y (fin'ər ē), showy clothes, ornaments, etc., n., pl. fin er ies.

fine-spun (fin'spun'), 1. spun or drawn out until very small or thin. 2. very subtle. adj.

fi nesse (fə nes'), 1. delicacy of execution; skill: That artist shows wonderful finesse. 2. the skillful handling of a delicate situation to one's advantage; craft; stratagem: A shrewd diplomat must be a master of finesse. 3. use finesse. 4. bring or change by finesse. 5. attempt to take a trick in bridge, whist, etc., with a lower card while holding a higher card, in the hope that the card or cards between may not be played. 6. make a finesse with (a card). 1,2,5 n., 3-6 v., fi nessed, fi ness ing.

fin ger (fing'gər), 1. one of the five end parts of the hand, especially the four besides the thumb. 2. part of a glove that covers a finger. 3. anything shaped or used like a finger. 4. touch or handle with the fingers; use the fingers on. 5. perform or mark (a passage of music) with a certain fingering. 6. breadth of a finger; $\frac{3}{4}$ inch. 7. length of a finger; $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches. 8. pilfer; filch; steal. 1-3,6,7 n., 4,5,8 v.

finger bowl, a small bowl to hold water for rinsing the fingers after or during a meal.

fin ger ing (fing'gər ing), 1. a touching or handling with the fingers; way of using the fingers. In playing certain musical instruments the fingering is important. 2. signs marked on a piece of music to show how the fingers are to be used in playing it. n.

fin ger ling (fing'gər ling), 1. a small fish no longer than a finger. 2. something very small. n.

fin ger nail (fing'gər nāl'), a hard layer of horn at the end of a finger. n.

fin ger print (fing'gər print'), 1. an impression of the markings on the inner surface of the last joint of a finger or thumb. A person's fingerprints can be used to identify him. 2. take the fingerprints of. 1 n., 2 v.

fin i cal (fin'ə kl), too dainty or particular; too precise; fussy. adj. —fin'i cal ly, adv.

fin ick y (fin'ə kē), finical. adj.

fi nis (fī'nīs or fin'is), end. n.

fin ish (fin'ish), 1. bring (action, speech, etc.) to an end; end. 2. an end: to fight to a finish. 3. bring (work, affairs, etc.) to completion; complete: He started the race but did not finish it. 4. come to an end: There was so little wind that the sailing race didn't finish until after dark. 5. use up completely: finish a spool of thread. 6. Informal. overcome completely; My answer finished him. 7. Informal. destroy; kill: finish a wounded animal. 8. perfect; polish. 9. polished condition or quality; perfection: the finish of a person's manners. 10. prepare the surface of in some way: finish cloth with nap. 11. way in which the surface is prepared: a smooth finish on furniture. 12. thing used to finish something. 1,3-8,10 v., 2,9,11,12 n. —fin'ish er, n.

finish off, 1. complete. 2. overcome completely; destroy; kill.

finish up, 1. complete. 2. use up completely.

finish with, 1. complete. 2. stop being friends with.

fin ished (fin'isht), 1. ended. 2. completed. 3. perfected; polished; most excellent. adj.

finishing school, a private school that prepares young women for social life rather than for business or a profession.

Fin is terre (fin'is tār'), Cape, cape at the westernmost point of N Spain. n.

fi nite (fī'nīt), 1. having limits or bounds; not infinite: Death ends man's finite existence. 2. what is finite; something finite. 3. having definite grammatical person, number, and tense; not an infinitive or participle. In "To write the letter seemed a tiresome task," the finite verb is "seemed." 1,3 adj., 2 n.

Fin land (fin'lənd), 1. country in northern Europe. 4,434,000 pop.; 117,935 sq. mi. Capital: Helsinki. See Lapland for map. 2. Gulf of, part of the Baltic Sea, south of Finland. 260 mi. long. n.

Finn (fin), 1. native or inhabitant of Finland. 2. member of those races that speak a language similar to Finnish. n.

fin nan had die (fin'ən had'ē), smoked haddock.

Finn ish (fin'ish), 1. of or having to do with Finland, its people, or their language. 2. language of Finland. 1 adj., 2 n.

fin ny (fin'ē), 1. abounding with fish. The sea is sometimes called the finny deep. 2. having fins. 3. like a fin. adj.

fiord (fyōrd), a long, narrow bay of the sea between high banks or cliffs. Norway has many fiords. n. Also, fjord.

fir (fēr), 1. an evergreen tree that belongs to the same family as the pine. 2. its wood. n.

fire (fir), 1. flame, heat, and light caused by burning.

2. something burning. 3. destruction by burning. 4. preparation that will burn: Red fire is used in signaling. 5. cause to burn. 6. begin to burn; burst into flame. 7. fuel burning or arranged so that it will burn quickly: A fire was laid in the fireplace. 8. supply with fuel; tend the fire of: fire a furnace. 9. dry with heat; bake: Bricks are fired to make them hard. 10. something that suggests a fire because it is hot, glowing, brilliant, or light: the fire of lightning, an insane fire in his eye, the fire in a diamond. 11. grow or make hot, red, glowing, etc. 12. any feeling that suggests fire; passion, fervor, enthusiasm, excitement, etc.: Their hearts were full of patriotic fire. 13. arouse; excite; inflame: Stories of adventure fire the imagination. 14. fever; inflammation; burning pain: the fire of a wound. 15. severe trial or trouble. 16. the shooting or discharge of guns, etc.: The soldiers advanced under the enemy's fire. 17. discharge (a gun, bomb, gas mine, etc.): He fired his gun four times. 18. shoot: The soldiers fired from the fort. The hunter fired small shot at the birds. 19. Informal. dismiss from a job, etc. 1-4,7,10,12,14-16 n., 5,6,8,9,11,13,17-19 v., fired, fir ing. —fir'er, n.

between two fires, attacked from both sides.

catch fire, begin to burn.

fire away, Informal. begin; start; go ahead.

fire up, start a fire in a furnace, boiler, etc.

hang fire, be slow in going off. 2. be slow in acting, 3. be delayed.

lay a fire, build a fire ready to be lit.

miss fire, 1. fail to go off. 2. fail to do what was attempted.

on fire, 1. burning. 2. full of a feeling or spirit like fire.

play with fire, meddle with something dangerous.

set fire to, cause to burn.

set on fire, 1. cause to burn. 2. fill with a feeling or spirit like fire.

under fire, 1. exposed to shooting from the enemy's guns. 2. attacked; blamed.

Fiord

fire alarm, 1. signal that a fire has broken out. 2. device that gives such a signal.

fire arms (fir'armz'), guns, pistols, and other weapons to shoot with, usually such as a man can carry. n.pl.

fire ball (fir'bôl'), 1. the great billowing mass of fire produced by an atomic explosion. 2. a very fast pitch to the batter in baseball. n.

fire boat (fir'bôt'), boat equipped with apparatus for putting out fires. n.

fire box (fir'boks'), place for the fire in a furnace, boiler, etc. n.

fire brand (fir'brand'), 1. piece of burning wood. 2. person who arouses angry feelings in others. n.

fire brick (fir'brik'), brick that can stand great heat, used to line furnaces and fireplaces. n.

fire bug (fir'bug'), U.S. Informal. person who purposely sets houses or property on fire. n.

fire clay, clay capable of resisting high temperatures, used for making crucibles, firebricks, etc.

fire crack er (fir'krak'ər), a paper roll containing gunpowder and a fuse. It explodes with a noise. n.

fire damp (fir'damp'), methane, a gas formed in coal mines, dangerously explosive when mixed with certain proportions of air. n.

fire dog (fir'dôg'), andiron. n.

fire drill, drill for firemen, a ship's crew, pupils in a school, etc., to train them for duties or for orderly exit in case of fire.

fire-eat er (fir'ēt'ər), 1. entertainer who pretends to eat fire. 2. person who is too ready to fight or quarrel. n.

fire engine, machine for throwing water, chemicals, etc., to put out fires.

fire escape, stairway, ladder, etc., in or on a building, to use in case of fire.

fire extinguisher, container filled with chemicals which, when sprayed upon fire, extinguish it.

fire fly (fir'flī'), a small beetle that gives off flashes of light when it flies at night; lightning bug. n., pl. fire flies.

fire less (fir'lis), without a fire. adj.

fireless cooker, container that stays hot a long time without heat from outside, used to cook food or keep it hot.

fire light (fir'līt'), light from a fire. n.

fire lock (fir'lok'), an old type gun, fired by a spark falling on the gunpowder. n.

fire man (fir'mən), 1. man whose work is putting out fires. 2. man whose work is taking care of the fire in a furnace, boiler, locomotive, etc. n., pl. fire men.

fire place (fir'plās'), place built in the wall of a room or out of doors to hold a fire. n.

fire plug, hydrant.

fire pow er (fir'pou'ər), ability to deliver fire; the amount of fire delivered by a military unit or by a particular weapon. n.

fire proof (fir'prüf'), 1. that will not burn; almost impossible to burn: A building made entirely of steel and concrete is fireproof. 2. make fireproof. 1 adj., 2 v.

fire screen, screen to be placed in front of a fire as protection against heat or flying sparks.

fire side (fir'sid'), 1. space around a fireplace or hearth. 2. home. 3. home life. 4. beside the fire: fire-side comfort. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

fire trap (fir'trap'), 1. building hard to get out of when it is on fire. 2. building that will burn very easily. n.

fire ward en (fir'wôrd'n), official whose duty is preventing and putting out fires in forests, camps, etc. n.

fire wa ter (fir'wô'tər), strong alcoholic drink. The American Indians called whiskey, gin, rum, etc., fire-water. n.

fire wood (fir'wud'), wood to make a fire. n.

fire works (fir'wëks'), 1. firecrackers, bombs, rockets, etc., that make a loud noise or a beautiful, fiery display at night. 2. display of these things. n.pl.

firing line, 1. line where soldiers are stationed to shoot at the enemy. 2. soldiers on such a line. 3. the foremost position in a controversy, campaign for a cause, etc.

fir kin (fër'kən), 1. quarter of a barrel, used as a measure of capacity. 2. a small wooden cask for butter, etc. n.

firm¹ (fërm), 1. not yielding easily to pressure or force; solid; hard: firm flesh, firm ground. 2. not easily moved or shaken; tightly fastened or fixed: a tree firm in the earth. 3. not easily changed; determined; resolute; positive: a firm purpose, voice, character, or belief. 4. not changing; staying the same; steady: a firm price. 5. make or become firm. 1-4 adj., 5 v. —firm²*ly*, adv. —firm³*ness*, n.

firm² (fërm), a business company or partnership. n.

fir ma ment (fër'mə mənt), arch of the heavens; sky. n.

fir man (fër'mən), order issued by an oriental ruler. n.

first (fërst), 1. before all others; before anything else: John is first in his class (adj.). The good die first (adv.).

2. before some other thing or event: First bring me the chalk. 3. for the first time: when I first visited Italy.

4. person, thing, place, etc., that is first. 5. the winning position in a race, etc. 6. beginning: At first John did not like school. 7. rather; sooner: I'll go to jail first.

8. highest in musical pitch. 9. playing or singing the part highest in musical pitch: first violin, first soprano.

1.8,9 adj., 1-3,7 adv., 4-6 n.

at first, in the beginning.

first and last, taking all together.

firsts, articles of the best quality.

from the first, since the beginning.

first aid, emergency treatment given to an injured person before a doctor comes. —first¹*-aid*², adj.

first-born (fërst'bôrn'), 1. born first; oldest. 2. the first-born child. 1 adj., 2 n.

first-class (fërst'klas'), 1. of the highest class or best quality; excellent. 2. on a first-class ship, train, etc.: to travel first-class. 1 adj., 2 adv.

first finger, finger next to the thumb.

first fruits, 1. the earliest fruits of the season. 2. the first products or results.

first-hand (fërst'hənd'), from the original source; direct: first-hand information. adj., adv.

first lady, U.S. the wife of the President of the United States or of the governor of a State.

first lieutenant, U.S. army officer ranking below a captain and above a second lieutenant.

first ling (fërst'ling), 1. the first of its kind. 2. the first product or result. 3. the first offspring of an animal. n.

first ly (fërst'lē), in the first place; first. adv.

first person, form of a pronoun or verb used to refer to the speaker and those he includes with himself.

I, me, my and we, us, our are pronouns of the first person.

first quarter, period between new moon and first half moon after new moon.

first-rate (fërst'rāt'), 1. of the highest class. 2. Informal. excellent; very good. 3. Informal. excellently; very well. 1,2 adj., 3 adv.

first sergeant, U.S. a master sergeant in direct charge of a company or similar unit under the commissioned officer in command.

firth (fërth), a narrow arm of the sea; estuary of a river. n.

fis cal (fis'kl), 1. financial.

2. having to do with a treasury or exchequer: Important changes were made in the government's fiscal policy.

3. a public prosecutor in some countries. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

fiscal year, time between one yearly settlement of financial accounts and another.

The fiscal year of the United States government ends June 30.

Firefly (½ in.
long)

fish (fish), 1. vertebrate that lives in water and has gills instead of lungs for breathing. Fish are usually covered with scales and have fins for swimming. Some fishes lay eggs in the water; others produce living young. 2. flesh of fish used for food. 3. catch fish; try to catch fish. 4. try to catch fish in. 5. try for something as if with a hook: Tom fished with a stick for his watch which had fallen through a grating. 6. search: She fished in her purse for a coin. 7. find and pull: He fished the map from the back of the drawer. 8. Informal. person; fellow. 9. a long strip of iron, wood, etc., used to strengthen a joint, etc. 1,2,8,9 n., pl. fishes or (esp. collectively) fish; 3-7 v. —fish/like, adj.

Fish (fish), Hamilton, 1808-1893, American statesman. n.

fisher (fish'ər), 1. fisherman. 2. animal that catches fish for food. 3. a slender mammal like a weasel but larger; marten of North America. 4. its dark-brown fur. n.

Fisher (about 2 ft. long, without the tail) fisherman (fish'ər mən), 1. man who fishes for a living or for pleasure. 2. ship used in fishing. n., pl. fishermen.

fishery (fish'ər ē), 1. business or industry of catching fish. 2. place for catching fish. n., pl. fisheries.

fish hawk, a large bird that feeds on fish; osprey.

fish hook (fish'hūk'), hook used for catching fish. n.

fish ing (fish'ing), the catching of fish for a living or for pleasure. n.

fishing ground, place where fish are plentiful.

fishing tackle, rods, lines, hooks, etc., used in catching fish.

fish monger (fish'mung'gər), Esp. Brit. dealer in fish. n.

fish story, Informal. an exaggerated, unbelievable story.

fish tail (fish'tāl'), like a fish's tail in shape or action. adj.

fish wife (fish'wif'), woman who sells fish. Fishwives are said to use coarse and abusive language. n., pl. fish wives.

fish y (fish'ē), 1. like a fish in smell, taste, or shape. 2. of fish. 3. full of fish. 4. Informal. doubtful; unlikely; suspicious. 5. without expression or luster; dull. adj., fish i er, fish i est. —fish'ily, adv. —fish'i ness, n.

fish ile (fis'l), 1. easily split. 2. capable of nuclear fission. adj.

fission (fish'ən), 1. a splitting apart; division into parts. 2. the splitting that occurs when the nucleus of an atom under bombardment absorbs a neutron. Nuclear fission releases tremendous amounts of energy when heavy elements, especially plutonium and uranium, are involved. n.

fission a ble (fish'ən ə bl), capable of nuclear fission. adj.

fission bomb, atomic bomb that derives its force solely from the splitting of atoms. The original atomic bombs were fission bombs; the newer hydrogen bombs are fusion bombs.

fish ure (fish'ər), 1. split or crack; long, narrow opening: a fissure in a rock. 2. a splitting apart; division into parts. 3. split apart; divide into parts. 1,2 n., 3 v., fishured, fishur ing.

fit (fit), 1. hand closed tightly. 2. Informal. hand. 3. Informal. handwriting. 4. symbol (fit) used in printing. n. —fit/like, adj.

fit ic (fis'tik), Informal. having to do with fighting with the fists; done with the fists. adj.

fit i cuffs (fis'tə kufs'), 1. fight with the fists. 2. blows with the fists. n.pl.

fis tu la (fis'chū lə), a tubelike sore. n., pl. fis tu las, fis tu lae (-lē).

fit lar (fis'chū lər), 1. tubelike; tubular. 2. made up of tubelike parts. 3. having to do with a fistula. adj.

fit (fit), 1. having the necessary qualities; suitable: Grass is a fit food for cows; it is not fit for men. 2. right; proper. 3. be fit; be fit for. 4. have the right size or shape; have the right size or shape for: The dress fitted Mary. 5. cause to fit; make fit: Father was fitting new seat covers on our car. 6. manner in which one thing fits another: the fit of a coat, a tight fit. 7. thing that fits: This coat is a good fit. 8. ready; prepared: fit for active service. 9. make ready; prepare. 10. in good health; in good physical condition: He is now well and fit for work. 11. supply with what is needed; equip. 12. suit: to fit the action to the word. 1,2,8,10 adj., fit ter, fit test; 3-5,9,11,12 v., fit ted, fit ting; 6,7 n. —fit'ness, n. fit out or up, supply with what is needed; equip. see or think fit, decide.

fit (fit), 1. a sudden, sharp attack of disease: a fit of colic. 2. a sudden attack characterized by loss of consciousness or by convulsions: a fainting fit, a fit of epilepsy. 3. a sudden, sharp attack: In a fit of anger he hit his friend. 4. a short period of doing one thing. n. by fits and starts, irregularly; starting, stopping, beginning again, and so on.

fitch (fich), 1. polecat of Europe. 2. its fur, yellowish with dark markings. n.

fitch et (fich'it), fitch. n.

fit ful (fit'fəl), going on and then stopping awhile; irregular: a fitful sleep, a fitful conversation. adj. —fit'fully, adv. —fit'fulness, n.

fit ly (fit'li), 1. in a suitable manner. 2. at a proper time. adv.

fit ter (fit'ər), 1. person who fits. 2. person who fits dresses, suits, etc., on people. 3. man who adjusts parts of machinery. 4. man who supplies and fixes anything necessary for some purpose: A gas fitter sells and puts in place gas fixtures, stoves, etc. n.

fit ting (fit'ing), 1. right; proper; suitable. 2. a trying on of unfinished clothes to see if they will fit. 1 adj., 2 n. —fit'ingly, adv.

fit tings (fit'ingz), furnishings; fixtures: Desks, chairs, and files are office fittings. n.pl.

five (fiv), 1. one more than four; 5. 2. team of five basketball players. 1,2 n., 1 adj.

five fold (fiv'föld'), 1. five times as much or as many. 2. having five parts. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

Five Nations, confederacy of Iroquois Indian tribes, consisting of the Mohawks, Oneidas, Onondagas, Cayugas, and Senecas.

fix (fiks), 1. make firm; become firm; fasten tightly; be fastened tightly: We fixed the post in the ground. The boy fixed the spelling lesson in his mind. 2. settle; set: He fixed the price at one dollar. 3. direct or hold (eyes, attention, etc.) steadily; be directed or held steadily. 4. make or become rigid: eyes fixed in death. 5. put definitely: She fixed the blame on the leader. 6. treat to keep from changing or fading. A dye or photograph is fixed with chemicals. 7. mend; repair: to fix a watch. 8. U.S. Informal. put in order; arrange: to fix one's hair. 9. Informal. position hard to get out of; awkward state of affairs: The boy who cried "Wolf" got himself into a bad fix. 1-8 v., fixed or fixt, fix ing; 9 n. —fix'a ble, adj. fix on or upon, decide on; choose; select.

fix up, Esp. U.S. Informal. 1. mend; repair. 2. put in order; arrange.

fix a tion (fiks ā'shən), 1. act of fixing or condition of being fixed. 2. treatment to keep something from changing or fading: the fixation of a photographic film. 3. a morbid attachment or prejudice. n.

fix a tive (fik'sə tiv), 1. substance used to keep something from fading or changing. 2. that prevents fading or change. 1 n., 2 adj.

fixed (fikst), 1. not movable; firm. 2. settled; set; definite: fixed charges for taxicabs. 3. steady; not moving. 4. made stiff or rigid. 5. Informal. prearranged privately or dishonestly: a fixed horse race. adj.

fix ed ly (fik'sid lē), in a fixed manner; without change; intently. adv.

fix ed ness (fik'sid nis), being fixed; intentness. n.

fixed star, star whose position in relation to other stars appears not to change.

fix ings (fik'singz), Informal. furnishings; trimmings. n.pl.

fix i ty (fik'skō tē), 1. fixed condition or quality; permanence; steadiness; firmness. 2. something fixed. n., pl. fix i ties.

fixt (fikst), fixed, a pt. and a pp. of fix. v.

fix ture (fiks'chər), 1. thing put in place to stay: bathroom fixtures, electric-light fixtures. 2. person or thing that stays in one place, job, etc. n.

fiz (fiz), fizz. v., fizzed, fiz zing; n.

fizz (fiz), 1. make a hissing sound. 2. a hissing sound. 3. a bubbling drink, such as champagne, soda water, etc. 1 v., 2,3 n.

fiz zle (fiz'l), 1. hiss or sputter weakly: The firecracker fizzled instead of exploding with a bang. 2. a hissing; sputtering. 3. Informal. fail. 4. Informal. failure. 1,3 v., fiz zled, fiz zling; 2,4 n.

fizzle out, end in failure.

fizz y (fiz'ē), that fizzes. adj., fizz ier, fizz i est.

fjord (fyōrd), fiord. n.

Fl, fluorine.

fl., 1. fluid. 2. flourished.

Fla., Florida.

flab ber gast (flab'ər gast), Informal. amaze. v.

flab by (flab'ē), lacking firmness or force; soft; weak: flabby cheeks. adj., flab bi er, flab bi est. —flab'bi ly, adv. —flab'bi ness, n.

flac cid (flak'sid), limp; weak: flaccid muscles, a flaccid will. adj.

flac cid i ty (flak sid'ə tē), flaccid quality or condition. n.

fla con (flā kōn'), a small bottle with a stopper, used for perfume, smelling salts, etc. n.

flag¹ (flag), 1. piece of cloth with a color or pattern that stands for some country, city, party, club, etc., or which gives some information or signal: the flag of the United States, the white flag of truce, the red flag showing danger, weather flags to let people know what kind of weather is coming. 2. something that suggests a flag. The tail of a deer or of a setter dog is a flag. 3. thing like a flag. 4. a large cloth used to keep lights from interfering with a television camera. 5. put a flag or flags over or on; decorate with flags. 6. stop or signal by a flag: flag a train. 7. communicate by a flag: flag a message. 1-4 n., 5-7 v., flagged, flag ging.

flag² (flag), 1. iris with blue, purple, yellow, or white flowers and sword-shaped leaves. 2. the sweet flag, a plant with a sweet-smelling rootstock. 3. the flower of either of these plants. 4. the leaf of either of these plants. n.

flag³ (flag), get tired; grow weak; droop: After you do the same thing for a long time, your interest flags. v., flagged, flag ging.

Flag Day, June 14, the anniversary of the day in 1777 when the Continental Congress adopted the Stars and Stripes as the flag of the United States.

flag el lant (flaj'ə lənt), 1. person who whips. 2. a religious fanatic who whips himself for religious discipline or for penance. n.

flag el late (flaj'ə lāt), whip; flog. v., flag el lat ed, flag el lat ing.

flag el la tion (flaj'ə lā'shən), a whipping; flagging. n.

fla gel lum (flā jel'əm), 1. a long, whiplike tail or part, which is an organ of locomotion in certain cells, bacteria, protozoa, etc. 2. whip. 3. runner of a plant. n., pl. fla gel la (flā jel'lə) or fla gel lums.

Flagellum (def. 1)

flag eo let (flaj'ə let'), a small wind instrument somewhat like a flute, with a mouthpiece at one end, six main finger holes, and sometimes keys. n.

flag ging (flag'ing), drooping; tired; weak. adj.

fla gi tious (flā jish'əs), scandalously wicked; shamefully vile. adj. —fla gi'tious ly, adv. —fla gi'tious ness, n.

flag man (flag'mən), 1. person who has charge of or carries a flag. 2. person who signals with a flag or lantern at a railroad crossing, etc. n., pl. flag men.

flag officer, a naval officer entitled to display a flag on his ship indicating his rank or command. An admiral, vice-admiral, rear admiral, or officer in command of a fleet or squadron is a flag officer.

flag of truce, a white flag used as a sign of surrender or of a desire to confer with the enemy.

flag on (flag'ən), 1. container for liquids, usually having a handle and a spout, and often a cover. 2. a large bottle, holding about two quarts. n.

flag pole (flag'pōl'), pole from which a flag is flown. n.

fla gran cy (flā'grən sē), flagrant nature or quality. n.

fla grant (flā'grənt), notorious; outrageous; scandalous. adj. —fla'grant ly, adv.

flag ship (flag'ship'), ship that carries the officer in command of a fleet or squadron and displays his flag. n.

flag staff (flag'staf'), pole from which a flag is flown. n.

flag stone (flag'stōn'), a large, flat stone, used for paving walks, etc. n.

flail (flāl), 1. instrument for threshing grain by hand. A flail consists of a wooden handle with a short, heavy stick fastened at one end by a thong. 2. strike with a flail. 3. beat; thrash. 1 n., 2,3 v.

flair (flār), 1. keen perception: That trader had a flair for bargains. 2. natural talent: The poet had a flair for making clever rhymes. n.

flak (flak), gunfire from the ground against airplanes. n.

flake (flāk), 1. a small, light mass; soft, loose bit: a flake of snow. 2. a thin, flat piece or layer: flakes of rust, flakes of ice floating on the pond. 3. come off in flakes; take off, chip, or peel in flakes: Dirty, gray spots showed where the paint had flaked off. 4. break or separate into flakes. 5. cover or mark with flakes; make spotted. 6. form into flakes. 1,2 n., 3-6 v., flaked, flak ing.

flak y (flāk'ē), 1. consisting of flakes: Mica is a flaky substance. 2. easily broken or separated into flakes. adj., flak i er, flak i est. —flak'i ness, n.

flam beau (flam'bō), 1. a flaming torch. 2. a large, decorated candlestick. n., pl. flam beaux (-bōz) or flam beaus.

flam boy ance (flam boi'əns), flamboyant nature or quality. n.

flam boy ant (flam boi'ənt), 1. gorgeously brilliant; flaming: flamboyant colors. 2. very ornate; excessively decorated: flamboyant architecture. 3. having wavy lines or flamelike curves: flamboyant designs. adj. —flamboy'ant ly, adv.

Man playing a flagolet

Flagstone path

Man using a flail. The blows of the flail loosen the grain from the stalks.

Window decorated with flamboyant design (def. 3) flame (flām), 1. one of the glowing, red or yellow tongues of light that shoot out from a blazing fire: The house burst into flames. 2. a burning gas or vapor. 3. burn with flames; blaze. 4. a burning with flames; a blaze: The dying fire suddenly burst into flame. 5. thing or condition that suggests flame. 6. grow hot, red, etc.: Her cheeks flamed. 7. a bright light. 8. shine brightly; give out a bright light. 9. a burning feeling. 10. have or show a burning feeling. 11. burst out quickly and hotly; be or act like a flame. 12. Slang. sweetheart. 1,2,4,5,7,9,12 n., 3,6,8,10,11 v., flamed, flam ing. —flame/like', adj.

flame out (flām/out'), the sudden failure of a jet engine to function, especially while the aircraft containing it is in flight. n.

flame thrower, weapon that throws a spray of oil that ignites in the air.

flam ing (flām/ing), 1. burning with flames. 2. like a flame; very bright; brilliant. 3. showing or arousing strong feeling; violent; vehement. adj.

fla min go (flā ming/gō), a tropical wading bird with very long legs and neck, and feathers that vary from pink to scarlet. n., pl. fla-min gos or fla min goes.

flam ma ble (flām/ə bl), easily set on fire. adj.

Flan ders (flan/dərz), district in W Belgium, N France, and SW Netherlands. n.

flange (flanj), a projecting edge, rim, collar, etc., on an object for keeping it in place, attaching it to another object, strengthening it, etc. Railroad cars and locomotives have wheels with flanges to keep them on the track.

flank (flangk), 1. side of an animal or person between the ribs and the hip. See beef for diagram. 2. piece of beef cut from this part. 3. side of a mountain, building, etc. 4. be at the side of: High buildings flanked the dark, narrow alley. 5. the far right or left side of an army, fleet, etc. 6. get around the far right or left side of. 7. attack from or on the side. 1-3,5 n., 4,6,7 v. —flank/er, n.

flan nel (flan/l), 1. a soft, warm woolen cloth. 2. made of flannel. 3. flannelette. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

flannels, 1. clothes made of flannel. 2. woolen underwear.

flan nel ette (flan/let'), a soft, warm cotton cloth with a fuzzy nap, that looks somewhat like flannel. n.

flap (flap), 1. swing or sway about loosely and with more or less noise: Curtains flapped in the wind. 2. move (wings, arms, etc.) up and down. 3. fly by moving wings up and down: The bird flapped away. 4. a flapping motion. 5. noise caused by flapping. 6. strike noisily with something broad and flat. 7. blow from something broad and flat: a flap from a whale's tail. 8. a broad, flat piece fastened at one edge only: His coat had flaps on the pockets. 9. a hinged section on an airplane wing, which can be moved to assist a take-off or a landing. 1-3,6 v., flapped, flapping; 4,5,7-9 n.

flap jack (flap/jak'), griddlecake. n.

flapper (flap/or), 1. something broad and flat to strike with. 2. a broad, flat, hanging piece; flap. 3. a young bird just able to fly. n.

flare (flār), 1. flame up briefly or unsteadily, sometimes with smoke: A gust of wind made the torches flare. 2. a bright, unsteady light or blaze that lasts only a short time: The flare of a match showed us his face.

Red flamingo (about 4½ ft. tall from head to toe)

Flanges

3. a dazzling light that burns for a short time, used for signaling, lighting up a battlefield, etc. 4. signal by lights: The rockets flared a warning. 5. a sudden outburst. 6. spread out in the shape of a bell: The sides of a ship flare from the keel to the deck. 7. a spreading out into a bell shape. 8. part that spreads out: the flare of a skirt. 1,4,6 v., flared, flaring; 2,3,5,7,8 n. flare up or out, flame up; burst out into anger, violence, etc.

flare-up (flār/up'), 1. outburst of flame. 2. Informal. a sudden outburst of anger, violence, etc. n.

flar ing (flār/ing), 1. flaming. 2. gaudy. 3. spreading gradually outward in form. adj.

flash (flash), 1. a sudden, brief light or flame: a flash of lightning. 2. give out such a light or flame: The lighthouse flashes signals twice a minute. 3. come suddenly; pass quickly: A bird flashed across the road. 4. cause to flash. 5. a sudden, brief feeling or display: a flash of hope, a flash of wit. 6. a very brief time; instant: It all happened in a flash. 7. give out or send out like a flash. 8. communicate by flashes; send by telegraph, radio, etc. 9. message sent by telegraph, radio, etc. 10. flashy. 11. a showy display. 12. Informal. show off. 1,5,6,9,11 n., 2-4,7,8,12 v., 10 adj. —flash/er, n.

flash in the pan, a sudden, showy attempt or effort that fails.

flash bulb, a portable electric device used to make bright flashes for taking photographs.

flash burn, a severe burn caused by instantaneous thermal radiation, such as from an atomic bomb.

flash flood, a very sudden, violent flooding of a river, stream, etc.

flash i ness (flash/ē nis), flashy quality. n.

flashing (flash/ing), pieces of sheet metal used to cover and protect the joints and angles of a building to make them watertight. n.

flash light (flash/lit'), 1. light that flashes, used in a lighthouse or for signaling. 2. a portable electric light, operated by batteries. 3. preparation that makes a very bright flash of light, used for taking photographs indoors or at night. n.

flash y (flash/ē), 1. very bright for a short time; flashing. 2. showy; gaudy: He tries to impress people by wearing flashy socks and jackets. adj., flash i er, flash i est. —flash/i ly, adv.

flask (flask), 1. any bottle-shaped container. Flasks of thin glass are used in chemical laboratories for heating liquids. 2. a small glass or metal bottle with flat sides, made to be carried in the pocket. n.

flat (flat), 1. smooth and level; even: flat land. This floor is flat. 2. spread out; at full length: The storm left the trees flat. 3. not very deep or thick: A plate is flat. 4. with little air in it: A nail or sharp stone can cause a flat tire. 5. something flat. 6. flatboat. 7. a shallow box or basket. 8. flatcar. 9. a piece of theatrical scenery. 10. Informal. a tire with little air in it. 11. a flat part: The front of an open hand is the flat. 12. flat land. 13. land covered with shallow water; marsh; swamp. 14. positive; not to be changed: A flat refusal is complete. A flat rate has no extra charges. 15. without much life, interest, flavor, etc.; dull: flat food, a flat voice. 16. not shiny or glossy: a flat yellow. 17. not clear or sharp in sound. 18. below the true pitch in music: to sing flat. 19. one half step or half note below natural pitch in music. 20. such a tone or note: music written in B flat. 21. sign (b) that shows such a tone or note in music. 22. in a flat manner: Bill fell flat on the floor. 23. make or become flat. 1-4,14-19 adj., flat ter, flat test; 5-13,20,21 n., 18,22 adv., 23 v., flat ted, flat ting. —flat/ly, adv. —flat/ness, n.

fall flat, fail completely; have no effect or interest.

flat (flat), apartment or set of rooms on one floor. n.

flat boat (flat/bōt'), a large boat with a flat bottom, often used for carrying goods on a river or canal. n.

flat-bot tomed (flat/'bot/əmd), having a flat bottom. adj.

flat car (flat/'kär'), U.S. a railroad freight car without a roof or sides. n.

flat fish (flat/'fish'), any of a group of fishes with flat bodies, and with both eyes on the side kept uppermost when lying flat. Halibut, flounder, and sole are flatfishes. See flounder for picture. n., pl. flat fish es or (esp. collectively) flat fish.

flat foot (flat/'füt'), 1. foot with a flattened arch. 2. condition in which the feet have flattened arches. 3. Slang, policeman. n., pl. flat feet.

flat-foot ed (flat/'füt'id), 1. having feet with flattened arches. 2. Informal. not to be changed or influenced; firm; uncompromising. adj. —flat/foot'-ed ness, n.

Flat head (flat/'hed'), 1. member of a tribe of American Indians in W Montana. 2. Chinook Indian. n.

flat i ron (flat/'i/ərn), iron with a flat surface, which, when heated, is used for smoothing wrinkles out of cloth. n.

flat ten (flat/'n), make or become flat. v. flatten out, spread out flat.

flat ter (flat/'ər), 1. praise too much or beyond what is true; praise insincerely. 2. show to be better looking than what is true: This picture flattens her. 3. try to please or win over by flattering. 4. cause to be pleased or feel honored. v. —flat/ter er, n. —flat/ter ing ly, adv.

flatter oneself, be pleased to know or think.

flat ter y (flat/'ər ē), 1. act of flattering. 2. words of praise, usually untrue or overstated. n., pl. flat ter ies.

flat tish (flat/'ish), somewhat flat. adj.

flat top (flat/'top'), U.S. Informal. an aircraft carrier. n.

flat u lence (flach/'ə lens), 1. gas in the stomach or intestines. 2. pompous speech or behavior; vanity; emptiness. n.

flat u lent (flach/'ə lənt), 1. having gas in the stomach or intestines. 2. causing gas in the stomach or intestines. 3. pompous in speech or behavior; vain; empty. adj.

flat ways (flat/'wāz'), with the flat side forward, upward, or touching. adv.

flat worm (flat/'wərm'), worm with a flat body, that lives in water or as a parasite on some animal. Tapeworms and planarians are flatworms. n.

flaunt (flənt), 1. show off: She flaunts her riches before her friends. 2. wave proudly: banners flaunting in the breeze. 3. a flaunting. 1,2 v., 3 n. —flaunt/ing ly, adv.

flau tist (flō/'tist), flutist. n.

fla vor (flā/'vər), 1. taste, especially a characteristic taste: Chocolate and vanilla have different flavors. 2. give an added taste to; season: We use salt, pepper, and spices to flavor food. 3. thing used to give a certain taste to food or drink; flavoring. 4. a characteristic quality: Stories about ships and sailors have a flavor of the sea. 5. give a characteristic quality to: Many exciting adventures flavor an explorer's life. 6. aroma; odor. 1,3, 4,6 n., 2,5 v. —fla/vor less, adj.

fla vor ing (flā/'vər ing), thing used to give a certain taste to food or drink: vanilla flavoring, chocolate flavoring. n.

fla vour (flā/'vər), Esp. Brit. flavor. n., v.

flaw (flō), 1. a defective place; crack: A flaw in the dish caused it to break. 2. fault; defect: a flaw in a man's character. 3. make or become defective; crack. 1,2 n., 3 v.

flaw less (flō/'lis), perfect; without a flaw. adj. —flaw/less ly, adv. —flaw/less ness, n.

flax (flaks), 1. plant with small, narrow leaves, blue flowers, and slender stems about two feet tall. Linseed oil is made from its seeds. 2. the threadlike fibers into which the stems of this plant separate. Flax is spun into linen thread and made into linen cloth. n.

Flatirons; P, plain; E, electric flax en (flak/'sn), 1. made of flax. 2. like the color of flax; pale-yellow: flaxen hair. adj.

flax seed (flaks/'sed'), seed of flax; linseed. It is used to make linseed oil and in medicine. n.

flay (flā), 1. strip off the skin or outer covering of. 2. scold severely; criticize without pity or mercy. 3. rob; cheat. v. —flay/er, n.

Flea. Line shows actual length.

flea (flē), a small, wingless, jumping insect that lives as a parasite on animals, sucking their blood. n.

fleck (flek), 1. spot or patch of color, light, etc.: Freckles are brown flecks on the skin. 2. a small particle; flake. 3. sprinkle with spots or patches of color, light, etc.; speckle: Sunlight coming through the branches flecked the shadow cast by the tree. 1,2 n., 3 v.

flecked (fлект), sprinkled with spots or patches of color, light, etc.; speckled. adj.

flec tion (flek/'shən), 1. a bending: Every flection of his arm caused the muscles to bulge. 2. a bent part; bend. n.

fled (fled), pt. and pp. of flee. The clouds fled before the wind. v.

fledge (flej), 1. grow the feathers needed for flying. 2. bring up (a young bird) until it is able to fly. 3. provide or cover with feathers. v., fledged, fledg ing.

fledg ling or fledge ling (flej/'ling), 1. a young bird just able to fly. 2. a young, inexperienced person. n.

flee (flē), 1. run away; try to get away by running. 2. run away from; try to get away from by running. 3. go quickly; move swiftly: The clouds are fleeing before the wind. 4. pass away; cease; vanish: The shadows flee as day breaks. v., fled, flee ing. —flee/er, n.

fleece (flēs), 1. wool that covers a sheep or similar animal. 2. quantity of wool cut from a sheep at one time. 3. cut the fleece from. 4. strip of money or belongings; rob; cheat. 5. something like a fleece: a fleece of hair, the fleece of new fallen snow. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., fleece, fleece ing. —fleece/er, n.

fleec y (flēs/'ē), 1. like a fleece; soft and white: Fleecy clouds floated in the blue sky. 2. covered with fleece. 3. made of fleece. adj., fleec ier, fleec iest. —fleece/-i ness, n.

fleet (flēt), 1. group of warships under one command; navy. 2. any group of ships or boats sailing together: a fleet of fishing boats. 3. group of airplanes, automobiles, etc., moving or working together. n.

fleet (flēt), 1. swift; rapid: a fleet horse. 2. pass swiftly; move rapidly. 1 adj., 2 v. —fleet/ly, adv. —fleet/-ness, n.

fleet ing (flēt/'ing), passing swiftly; moving rapidly; soon gone. adj. —fleet/ing ly, adv.

Flem ing (flem/'ing), 1. native of Flanders. 2. a Belgian whose native language is Flemish. 3. Sir Alexander, 1881-1955, Scottish bacteriologist who discovered penicillin. n.

Flem ish (flem/'ish), 1. of or having to do with Flanders, its people, or their language. 2. people of Flanders. 3. their language. 1 adj., 2 n.pl., 3 n.sing.

flesh (flesh), 1. the soft substance of the body that covers the bones and is covered by skin. Flesh consists mostly of muscles and fat. 2. tissue of muscles. 3. fatness. 4. meat. 5. body, not the soul or spirit. 6. the bad side of human nature. 7. the human race; people as a group. 8. all living creatures: All flesh must die. 9. family or relatives by birth. 10. the soft part of fruits or vegetables; the part of fruits that can be eaten. 11. color of a white person's skin; pinkish white with a little yellow. n. —flesh/less, adj.

flesh and blood, 1. family or relatives by birth; child or relative by birth. 2. a human body.

in the flesh, 1. alive. 2. in person.

flesh-col ored (flesh/'kul'ərd), pinkish-white with a tinge of yellow. adj.

flesh fly, fly whose larvae feed on decaying flesh.

flesh ly (flesh/'lē), 1. of the flesh; bodily. 2. sensual. adj., flesh li er, flesh li est. —flesh/li ness, n.

flesh pots (flesh/'potz/), good food and living; luxuries. n. pl.

flesh wound, wound that merely injures the flesh; slight wound.

flesh y (flesh/'ē), 1. having much flesh; fat. 2. of flesh; like flesh. 3. pulpy. adj., fleshier, fleshiest. —flesh/i ness, n.

fleur-de-lis (fler/'dā lē/), 1. design or device used in heraldry representing a lily. 2. the royal coat of arms of France. 3. the iris flower or plant. n., pl. fleurs-de-lis (fler/'dā lēz/).

Fleur-de-lis design flew (fli/), pt. of fly¹. The bird flew high in the air. v.

flex (fleks), bend: He flexed his stiff arm slowly. v.

flex i bility (flek'sə bil'ə tē), flexible quality. n.

flex i ble (flek'sə bl/), 1. easily bent; not stiff; bending without breaking: Leather, rubber, and wire are flexible. 2. easily adapted to fit various uses, purposes, etc.: The actor's flexible voice accommodated itself to every emotion. 3. easily managed; willing to yield to influence or persuasion. adj. —flex/i bly, adv.

flex ure (flek'shər), 1. a bending; curving. 2. bend; curve. n.

flick (flik), 1. a quick, light blow; sudden, snapping stroke: By a flick of his whip, he drove the fly from the horse's head. 2. the light, snapping sound of such a blow or stroke. 3. strike lightly with a quick, snapping blow: He flicked the dust from his shoes with a handkerchief. 4. make a sudden, snapping stroke with: The boys flicked wet towels at each other. 5. flutter; move quickly and lightly. 6. streak; splash; fleck. 1,2,6 n., 3-5 v.

flick er¹ (flik'ər), 1. shine with a wavering light; burn with an unsteady flame: A dying fire flickered on the hearth. 2. a wavering, unsteady light or flame. 3. a brief flame; spark. 4. move quickly and lightly in and out or back and forth: The tongue of a snake flickers. 5. a quick light movement: the flicker of an eyelash. 1,4 v., 2,3,5 n.

flick er² (flik'ər), woodpecker of North America with golden-yellow feathers on the underside of the wings, and feathers with yellow shafts in the wings and tail; yellowhammer. n.

Flicker² (about 12 in. long) fl i er (fli'ər), 1. person or thing that flies. 2. aviator. 3. a very fast train, ship, bus, etc. 4. U.S. Slang. a reckless financial venture. 5. a small handbill. n. Also, flyer.

flight¹ (flit), 1. act or manner of flying: the flight of a bird through the air. 2. distance a bird, bullet, airplane, etc., can fly. 3. group of things flying through the air together: flight of six birds. 4. U.S. a tactical unit of the Air Force consisting of two or more airplanes. 5. trip in an airplane or airship. 6. a swift movement. 7. a soaring above or beyond what is ordinary: a flight of fancy. 8. set of stairs or steps between landings or stories of a building. n.

Flight (def. 8)

flight² (flit), act of fleeing; running away. n.

put to flight, force to flee.

take to flight, flee.

flight less (flit/lis), unable to fly. adj.

flight y (flit'ē), 1. likely to have sudden fancies; full of whims; frivolous. 2. slightly crazy; light-headed. adj., flight i er, flight i est. —flight/i ly, adv. —flight/i ness, n.

flim flam (flim/'flam/), Informal. 1. nonsense; rubbish. 2. deception; low trick. 3. cheat (a person) out of money; trick. 1,2 n., 3 v., flim flammed, flim-flaming.

flim sy (flim/'zē), 1. light and thin; frail: Muslin is too flimsy to be used for sails. 2. lacking seriousness or sense; trivial: a flimsy excuse. 3. a thin paper used by reporters. 4. a newspaper report on this paper. 1,2 adj., flim si er, flim si est; 3,4 n., pl. flim sies. —flim/si ly, adv. —flim/si ness, n.

flinch (flinch), 1. draw back from difficulty, danger, or pain; shrink: The baby flinched when he touched the hot radiator. 2. a drawing back. 3. game played with cards bearing numbers from 1 to 14. 1 v., 2,3 n.

flin der (flin/'dər), a small piece; fragment; splinter: The box was smashed into flinders. n.

fling (fling), 1. throw; throw with force: fling a stone. 2. a sudden throw. 3. rush; dash: She flung out of the room. 4. plunge; kick. 5. put suddenly or violently: Fling him into jail. 6. time of doing as one pleases: He had his fling when he was young; now he must work. 7. a lively Scottish dance. 1,3-5 v., flung, fling ing; 2,4,6,7 n.

have a fling at, 1. try; attempt. 2. make scornful remarks about.

flint (flint), 1. a very hard, gray or brown stone that makes a spark when struck against steel. It is a kind of quartz. 2. piece of this used with steel to light fires, explode gunpowder, etc. 3. anything very hard or unyielding. n.

Flint (flint), city in SE Michigan. 197,000. n.

flint lock (flint/'lok/), 1. gunlock in which a flint striking against steel makes sparks that explode the gunpowder. 2. an old-fashioned gun with such a gunlock. n.

Gun showing flintlock flint y (flin'tē), 1. consisting of flint; containing flint. 2. like flint; very hard; unyielding. adj., flint i er, flint i est. —flint/i ness, n.

flip¹ (flip), 1. toss or move with a snap of a finger and thumb: He flipped a coin on the counter. 2. jerk: She flipped her fan shut. The branch flipped back. 3. flick: The driver flipped at a fly with his whip. 4. a smart tap; snap: The cat gave the kitten a flip on the ear. 5. a sudden jerk. 6. Informal. flippant. 1-3 v., flipped, flip ping; 4,5 n., 6 adj., flip per, flip pest.

flip² (flip), a hot drink containing beer, ale, cider, or the like, with sugar and spice. n.

flip pan cy (flip'an sē), being flippant. n., pl. flip-pancies.

flip pant (flip'ənt), smart or pert in speech; not respectful: a flippant answer. adj. —flip/pant ly, adv.

flip per (flip'ər), a broad, flat limb especially adapted for swimming. Seals have flippers. n.

FLIPPERS

firt (flert), 1. make love without meaning it. 2. person who makes love without meaning it. 3. trifle; toy: He flirted with the idea of going to Europe, though he couldn't afford it. 4. move quickly; flutter: She flirted her fan impatiently. 5. a quick movement or flutter: With a firt of its tail, the bird flew away. 6. toss; jerk. 1,3,4,6 v., 2,5,6 n.

fir ta tion (fler tā'shən), 1. a making love without meaning it. 2. a love affair that is not serious. n.

fir ta tious (fler tā'shəs), 1. inclined to flirt. 2. having to do with flirtation. adj. —fir ta'tious ly, adv. —fir ta'tious ness, n.

flit (flit), 1. fly lightly and quickly; flutter: Birds flitted from tree to tree. 2. pass lightly and quickly: Many idle thoughts flitted through his mind as he lay in the sun. 3. a light, quick movement. 1,2 v., flit ted, flit ting; 3 n.

flitch (flich), side of a hog salted and cured; side of bacon. n.

flit ter (flit'ər), flutter. v., n.

fliv ver (fliv'ər), Slang. a small, cheap automobile. n.

float (flōt), 1. stay on top of or be held up by air, water, or other liquid. A cork will float, but a stone sinks. 2. move with a moving liquid; drift: The boat floated out to sea. 3. rest or move in a liquid, the air, etc. 4. cause to float. 5. cover with liquid; flood. 6. set going as a company. 7. sell (securities): float an issue of stock. 8. anything that stays up or holds up something else in water, such as a raft. 9. a cork on a fish line. 10. an air-filled organ that supports a fish. 11. a hollow, metal ball that regulates the level, supply, or outlet of a liquid. 12. a flat board of a water wheel or paddle wheel. 13. a low, flat car that carries something to be shown in a parade. 1-7 v., 8-13 n. —float/a ble, adj.

float er (flōt'ər), 1. person or thing that floats. 2. Informal. person who often changes his place of living, working, etc. 3. person who votes illegally in several places. n.

float ing (flōt'ing), 1. that floats. 2. not fixed; not staying in one place; moving around. 3. in use or circulation; not permanently invested. adj.

floating ribs, ribs not attached to the breastbone; last two pairs of ribs.

floc cu lent (flok'yə lənt), 1. like bits of wool. 2. made up of soft, woolly masses. 3. covered with a soft, woolly substance. adj.

flock (flok), 1. group of animals of one kind keeping, feeding, or herded together, especially sheep, goats, or birds. 2. a large group; crowd. 3. go or gather in a flock; come crowding: Sheep usually flock together. The children flocked around the Christmas tree. 4. people of the same church group; band; company. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

floe (flō), 1. field or sheet of floating ice. 2. a floating piece broken off from such a field or sheet. n.

flog (flog), whip very hard; beat with a whip, stick, etc. v., flogged, flog ging. —flog'ger, n.

flood (flud), 1. flow of water over what is usually dry land. 2. flow over: The river flooded our fields. 3. fill much fuller than usual; fill to overflowing: A wave flooded the holes I had dug in the sand. 4. put much water on. 5. a large amount of water; ocean; sea; lake; river. 6. a great outpouring of anything: a flood of light, a flood of words. 7. pour out or stream like a flood: Sunlight flooded into the room. 8. fill, cover, or overcome like a flood: The rich man was flooded with requests for money. The room was flooded with moonlight. 9. flow like a flood. 10. a flowing of the tide toward the shore; rise of the tide. 1,5,6,10 n., 2-4,7-9 v.

the Flood, the water that covered the earth in the time of Noah. Genesis 7.

flood control, the practice of attempting to prevent or lessen damage caused by floods by the use of dams, levees, dikes, extra outlets, reforestation, etc.

flood gate (flud'gāt'), 1. a gate in a canal, river, stream, etc., to control the flow of water. 2. thing that controls any flow or passage. n.

flood light (flud'lit'), 1. lamp that gives a broad beam of light. 2. a broad beam of light from such a lamp. 3. illuminate by a floodlight. 1,2 n., 3 v.

flood plain, plain bordering a river and made of soil deposited by floods.

flood tide, flowing of the tide toward the shore; rise of the tide.

floor (flōr), 1. the inside bottom covering of a room. 2. put a floor in or over: We will floor this room with oak. 3. story of a building: Five families live on the fourth floor. 4. a flat surface at the bottom: They dropped their net to the floor of the ocean. 5. part of a room or hall where members of a lawmaking body, etc., sit and from which they speak. 6. right or privilege to speak in a law-making body, etc. The chairman decides who has the floor. 7. knock down. 8. Informal. defeat. 9. Informal. confuse; puzzle. 1,3-6 n., 2,7-9 v.

floor ing (flōr'ing), 1. floor. 2. floors collectively. 3. material for making floors. n.

floor leader, U.S. member of a lawmaking body chosen to direct the members who belong to his political party.

floor show, an entertainment consisting of music, singing, dancing, etc., presented at a night club, hotel, etc.

floor walk er (flōr'wōk'ər), person employed in a large store to oversee sales, direct customers, etc. n.

flop (flop), 1. move loosely or heavily; flap around clumsily: The fish flopped helplessly on the deck. 2. fall, drop, throw, or move heavily or clumsily: He flopped down into a chair. 3. a flopping. 4. sound made by flopping. 5. change or turn suddenly. 6. Informal. failure. 7. Informal. fail. 1,2,5,7 v., flopped, flop ping; 3,4,6 n. —flop'per, n.

flop py (flop'ē), Informal. flopping; tending to flop. adj., flop pi er, flop pi est. —flop/pi ness, n.

flora (flō'rā), plants of a particular region or time: The desert of Sahara has a scanty flora. n.

floral (flō'ral), 1. of flowers; having to do with flowers: floral decorations. 2. resembling flowers. adj.

floral emblem, flower or plant used as a symbol of a country, state, city, etc.

Flor ence (flōr'əns), city in central Italy. 391,000. n.

Flor en tine (flōr'ən tēn), 1. of or having to do with Florence. 2. native or inhabitant of Florence. 1 adj., 2 n.

flo res cence (flō res'ns), 1. act of blossoming. 2. condition of blossoming. 3. period of blossoming. n.

flo res cent (flō res'nt), blossoming. adj.

flo ret (flō'rit), a small flower. n.

flo ri cul ture (flō'rə kul'chər), cultivation of flowers. n.

flor id (flōr'id), 1. highly colored; ruddy: a florid complexion. 2. elaborately ornamented; flowery; showy; ornate: florid language, florid architecture. adj. —flor'id ly, adv. —flor'id ness, n.

Flor i da (flōr'ə dā), a State in the extreme SE part of the United States. 4,952,000 pop.; 58,560 sq. mi.

Florida Keys, chain of small islands south of Florida.

Florida Strait, strait between Florida and the Bahamas and Cuba.

flor in (flōr'on), 1. an English silver coin worth 2 shillings. 2. a gold coin issued at Florence in 1252. 3. any of various gold or silver coins used in different countries of Europe since then. n.

flo rist (flō'rist), person who raises or sells flowers. n.

floss (flōs), 1. short, loose silk fibers. 2. a shiny, untwisted silk thread made from such fibers. It is used for embroidery. Waxed floss is used for cleaning between the teeth. 3. soft, silky fluff or fibers. Milkweed pods contain white floss. n.

floss y (flōs'ē), 1. of floss. 2. like floss. adj., floss-ier, floss i est.

flo ta tion (flō tā'shən), 1. a floating or launching. 2. a getting started or established. 3. a selling or putting on sale. n.

flo til la (flō til'ə), 1. a small fleet. 2. fleet of small ships. n.

flot sam (flot'səm), wreckage of a ship or its cargo found floating on the sea. n.

flotsam and jetsam, 1. wreckage or cargo found floating on the sea or washed ashore. 2. odds and ends; useless things. 3. people without steady work or permanent homes.

flounce¹ (flouns), 1. go with an angry or impatient fling of the body: She flounced out of the room in a rage. 2. an angry or impatient fling of the body. 3. twist; turn; jerk. 1,3 v., flounced, flounc ing; 2,3 n.

flounce² (flouns), 1. a wide strip of cloth, gathered along the top edge and sewed to a dress, skirt, etc., for trimming; a wide ruffle. 2. trim with a flounce or flounces. 1 n., 2 v., flounced, flounc-ing.

floun der¹ (floun'dər), 1. struggle awkwardly without making much progress; plunge about: Men and

Girl wearing a dress with flounces horses were floundering in the deep snowdrifts. 2. be clumsy or confused and make mistakes: The frightened girl could only flounder through her song. 3. a floundering movement or action. 1,2 v., 3 n.

floun der (floun/dər), flatfish that has a large mouth. n., pl. floun ders or (esp. collectively) floun der.

Flounder (1 ft. long) flour (flour), 1. a fine, powdery substance made by grinding and sifting wheat or other grain. 2. any fine, soft powder. 3. cover with flour. 1,2 n., 3 v.

flour ish (flər/ish), 1. grow or develop with vigor; thrive; do well: His newspaper business grew and flourished. 2. be in the best time of life or activity. 3. wave (a sword, stick, arm, etc.) in the air: John flourished the letter when he saw us. 4. a waving in the air: The donkey gave a flourish of his heels. 5. a showy decoration in writing. 6. a showy trill or passage in music. 7. a showy display: The agent showed us about the house with much flourish. 8. make a showy display. 1-3,8 v., 4-7 n. —flour/ish ing ly, adv.

R. E. Avery

Flourishes in handwriting flour mill, 1. machine for grinding wheat or other grain into flour. 2. place or establishment where there is such a machine or machines.

flour y (flour/ē), 1. of or like flour. 2. covered or white with flour. adv.

flout (flout), 1. treat with contempt or scorn; mock; scoff at: The foolish boy flouted his mother's advice. 2. show contempt or scorn; scoff. 3. a contemptuous speech or act; insult; mockery; scoffing. 1,2 v., 3 n. —flout'er, n. —flout/ing ly, adv.

flow (flo), 1. run like water; move in a current or stream. 2. pour out; pour along. 3. move easily or smoothly; glide: a flowing movement in a dance, flowing verse. 4. hang loosely and waving: flowing robes, a flowing tie. 5. be plentiful; be full and overflowing. 6. act or way of flowing: a flow of blood. 7. any continuous movement like that of water in a river: a rapid flow of speech. 8. rate of flowing. 9. thing that flows; current; stream: There is a constant flow of water from the spring. 10. the flowing of the tide toward the shore; rise of the tide. 11. flow in; rise. 1-5,11 v., 6-10 n.

flow er (flou/ər), 1. part of a plant that produces the seed; blossom. A flower is a shortened branch with modified leaves called petals. 2. plant grown for its blossoms. 3. any of several kinds of reproductive structures in lower plants, such as the mosses. 4. have flowers; produce flowers. 5. cover or decorate with flowers. 6. the finest part: The flower of the land would be killed by a war. 7. time of being at one's best. 8. be at one's best. 1-3,6,7 n., 4,5,8 v. —flow'er less, adj. —flow'er like, adj.

in flower, flowering.

flow ered (flou/ərd), 1. having flowers. 2. covered or decorated with flowers. adj.

flow er et (flou/ər it), a small flower. n.

flow er ing (flou/ər ing), having flowers. adj.

flow er pot (flou/ər pot'), pot to hold dirt for a plant to grow in. n.

flow er y (flou/ər ē), 1. having many flowers. 2. containing many fine words and fanciful expressions: a flowery speech. adj., flow er ier, flow er i est. —flow'er i ness, n.

flow ing (fō/ing), 1. moving in a current or stream: flowing water. 2. moving easily or smoothly: flowing words. 3. hanging loosely: flowing robes. adj.

flown (flōn), pp. of fly. The bird has flown. The flag is flown on all national holidays. v.

flu (flū), Informal, influenza. n.

flub (flub), Informal, do (something) very clumsily; make a mess of. v., flubbed, flubbing.

fluc tu ate (fluk/chū āt), 1. rise and fall; change continually; vary irregularly: The temperature fluctuates from day to day. 2. move in waves. v., fluc tu ated, fluc tu at ing.

fluc tu a tion (fluk/chū ā/shən), 1. a rising and falling; continual change; irregular variation. 2. a wave-like motion. n.

flue (flū), 1. tube, pipe, or other enclosed passage for conveying smoke, hot air, etc. A chimney often has several flues. 2. a flue pipe in an organ. 3. the air passage in such a pipe. n.

flu en cy (flū/ən sē), 1. a smooth, easy flow: The orator had great fluency of speech. 2. easy, rapid speaking or writing. n.

fluent (flū/ənt), 1. flowing smoothly or easily: Long practice enabled the American to speak fluent French. 2. speaking or writing easily and rapidly: He is a fluent lecturer. adj. —flu/ent ly, adv.

flue pipe, an organ pipe in which the sound is made by a current of air striking the mouth or opening in the pipe.

fluff (fluf), 1. soft, light, downy particles: Woolen blankets often have fluff on them. 2. a soft, light, downy mass: The little kitten looked like a fluff of fur. 3. shake or puff out (hair, feathers, etc.) into a soft, light, downy mass. 4. become fluffy. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

fluff y (fluf/ē), 1. soft and light like fluff: Whipped cream is fluffy. 2. covered with fluff; downy: fluffy baby chicks. adj., fluff ier, fluff i est. —fluff'i ness, n.

flu id (flū/īd), 1. any liquid or gas; any substance that flows. Water, mercury, air, and oxygen are fluids. 2. in the state of a fluid; like a fluid; flowing: She poured the fluid mass of hot candy into a dish to harden. 3. of or having to do with fluids. 4. changing easily; not fixed. 1 n., 2-4 adj. —flu/īd ly, adv.

fluid dram, one eighth of a fluid ounce.

flu id i ty (flū īd'ē tē), fluid condition or quality. n.

fluid ounce, measure for liquids. In the U.S., 16 fluid ounces = 1 pint.

flake¹ (flūk), 1. either of the two triangular points of an anchor that catch in the ground. 2. the barbed head or barb of an arrow, harpoon, etc. 3. either half of a whale's tail. n.

Anchor showing flukes flake² (flūk), Informal. 1. a lucky shot in billiards or pool. 2. make or hit by a lucky shot in billiards or pool. 3. a lucky chance; fortunate accident. 4. get by chance or accident. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., fluked, fluk ing.

flake³ (flūk), 1. flatfish. 2. a parasitic flatworm shaped somewhat like a flatfish; trematode. n.

flume (flūm), 1. a deep, narrow valley with a stream running through it. 2. a large, inclined trough or chute for carrying water. Flumes are used to transport logs or to furnish water for power. n.

Flume (def. 2)

flung (flung), pt. and pp. of fling.

The boy flung the ball. The paper was flung away. v.

flunk (flungk), U.S. Informal. 1. fail in school work: He flunked his chemistry examination but passed all the others. 2. cause to fail. 3. mark or grade as having failed. 4. failure. 5. give up; back out. 1-3,5 v., 4 n. flunk out, Informal, dismiss or be dismissed from school, college, etc., for inferior work.

flunk ey (flungk/ē), flunky. n., pl. flunk eys.

flunk y (flungk/ē), 1. a manservant who wears livery; footman. 2. a flattering, fawning person. n., pl. flunk-ies.

flu o resce (flū'ə res'), give off light by fluorescence. v., flu o resc ed, flu o resc ing.

fluorescence (flü'ə res'ns), 1. a giving off of light from a substance that continues as long as the substance is exposed to certain rays (X rays and ultraviolet rays). 2. property of a substance that causes this. It is an ability to transform light so as to emit rays of a different wave length or color. 3. light given off in this way. n.

fluorescent (flü'ə res'nt), that gives off light by fluorescence. Fluorescent substances glow in the dark when exposed to X rays. adj.

fluorescent lamp, an electric lamp usually comprised of a cathode-ray tube containing a gas or vapor which produces light (fluorescent light) when electric current is introduced.

fluoric (flü ör'ik), of, having to do with, or obtained from fluorite or fluorine. adj.

fluoridate (flür'ə dāt), add small amounts of fluorine to drinking water, especially to decrease tooth decay in children. v., fluoridated, fluoridating.

fluoridation (flür'ə dā'shən), act or process of fluoridating. n.

fluoride (flü'ə rīd), compound of fluorine and another element or radical. n.

fluorine (flü'ə rin), fluorine. n.

fluorine (flü'ə rēn), a poisonous, greenish-yellow gas that is a very active element similar to chlorine. Symbol: F or Fl. n.

fluorite (flü'ə rīt), a transparent, crystalline mineral that occurs in many colors; calcium fluoride. It is used for fusing metals, making glass, etc. n.

fluoroscope (flür'ə sköp), device containing a fluorescent screen for examining objects exposed to X rays or other radiations. The parts of the object not penetrated by the rays cast shadows on the screen. n.

flurry (flēr'ē), 1. a sudden gust: A flurry of wind upset the small sailboat. 2. a sudden, gusty shower or snowfall. 3. sudden excitement, confusion, or disturbance. 4. excite; confuse; disturb: Noise in the audience flurried the actor so that he forgot his lines. 1-3 n., pl. flurries; 4 v., flurried, flurrying.

flush¹ (flush), 1. blush; glow: The girl flushed when they laughed at her (v.). The flush of sunrise was on the clouds (n.). 2. cause to blush or glow: Exercise flushed his face. 3. rush suddenly; flow rapidly: Embarrassment caused the blood to flush to her cheeks. 4. a sudden rush; rapid flow. 5. wash or cleanse with a rapid flow of water: The city streets were flushed every night. 6. excite; make joyful and proud: The team was flushed with its first victory. 7. an excited condition or feeling; sudden rush of joyous pride, etc. 8. a sudden, fresh growth: April brought the first flush of grass. 9. glowing vigor; freshness: the first flush of youth. 10. fit of feeling very hot. 11. even; level: The edge of the new shelf must be flush with the old one. 12. evenly; so as to be level. 13. well supplied; having plenty: The rich man was always flush with money. 14. abundant; plentiful: Money is flush when times are good. 15. liberal; lavish. 16. prosperous. 17. glowing; ruddy. 18. direct; square. 19. directly; squarely: The fighter hit him flush on the nose. 20. fly or start up suddenly. 21. cause to fly or start up suddenly: The hunter's dog flushed a partridge in the woods. 1-3, 5, 6, 11, 20, 21 v., 1, 4, 7-10 n., 11, 13-18 adj., 12, 19 adv. —flush'er, n.

flush² (flush), in cards, a hand all of one suit. n.

fluster (flus'tər), 1. make nervous and excited; confuse. 2. nervous excitement; confusion. 1 v., 2 n.

flute (flüt), 1. a long, slender, pipelike musical instrument, played by blowing across a hole near one end. Different notes are made by opening and closing holes along the tube with the fingers. 2. play on a flute. 3. sing or whistle so as to sound like a flute. 4. a long, round groove. Some pillars have flutes. 5. make long, round grooves in. 1, 4 n., 2, 3, 5 v., fluted, fluting.

Man pl. ying a flute

fluted (flüt'id), having long, round grooves. adj.

fluting (flüt'ing), decoration made of long, round grooves. n.

flutist (flüt'ist), person who plays a flute. n.

Also, flautist.

flutter (flüt'ər), 1. wave back and forth quickly and lightly: The flag fluttered in the breeze. 2. flap the wings; flap: The chickens fluttered excitedly when they saw the dog.

3. come or go with a fluttering motion: The young birds fluttered to the ground. 4. move restlessly. 5. tremble; move quickly and unevenly: Her heart fluttered. 6. beat feebly and irregularly: Her pulse fluttered. 7. a fluttering. 8. confuse; excite. 9. a confused or excited condition. 1-6, 8 v., 7, 9 n. Also, flitter. —flut'ter'er, n. —flut'ter'ing ly, adv.

fluvial (flü'vē al), of, found in, or produced by a river: A delta is a fluvial deposit. adj.

flux (fluks), 1. a flow; a flowing. 2. a flowing in of the tide. 3. continuous change: New words and meanings keep the English language in a state of flux. 4. an unnatural discharge of blood or liquid matter from the body. 5. cause such a discharge in; purge. 6. substance used to help metals or minerals melt together. Rosin is used as a flux in soldering. 7. melt together; heat with a substance of this kind. 8. rate of flow of a fluid, heat, etc., across a certain surface or area. 1-4, 6, 8, n., 5, 7 v.

fluxion (fluks'hən), 1. a flowing; flow. 2. discharge. n.

fly¹ (flī), 1. housefly. 2. any of a large group of insects that have two wings, including houseflies, mosquitoes, gnats, etc. 3. any insect with transparent wings, such as a May fly. 4. fishhook with feathers, silk, tinsel, etc., on it to make it look like an insect. Some fishermen make their own flies. n., pl. flies.

fly in the ointment, a small thing that spoils something else or lessens its value.

fly² (flī), 1. move through the air with wings: These birds fly long distances. 2. float or wave in the air: Our flag flies every day. 3. cause to fly: Our boys are flying kites. 4. travel through the air in an airplane or airship. 5. travel over in an airplane or airship. 6. manage (an airplane or airship). 7. carry in an airplane or airship. 8. move swiftly; go rapidly: The ship flies before the wind. 9. run away; flee; flee from; shun. 10. flap to cover buttons on clothing. 11. flap forming the door of a tent. 12. piece of canvas forming an extra, outer top for a tent. 13. Brit. a light, public carriage for passengers. 14. baseball hit high in the air with a bat. 15. hit a baseball high in the air with a bat. 1-9, 15 v., flew, flown, fly ing for 1-9, flied, fly ing for 15; 10-14 n., pl. flies.

fly at, attack violently.

fly in the face of, disobey openly; defy.

fly off, leave suddenly; break away.

let fly, 1. aim; shoot; throw: The hunter let fly an arrow. 2. say violently.

on the fly, while still in the air.

fly a way (flī'ə wā'), 1. fluttering; streaming. 2. frivolous; flighty. adj.

fly blown (flī'blōn'), 1. tainted by the eggs or larvae of flies. 2. spoiled. adj.

fly-by-night (flī'bī nīt'), 1. not reliable; not to be trusted. 2. Informal. person who avoids paying his debts by leaving secretly at night. 1 adj., 2 n.

flycatcher (flī'kach'ər), any of a family of songless, perching birds having small, weak feet, short necks, and large heads with broad, flattened bills hooked at the tip. The kingbird, phoebe, and crested flycatcher are common examples. n.

flyer (flī'ər), flier. n.

Fluting

Flycatcher (about 7½ in. long) fly ing (fli'ing), 1. that flies; moving through the air. 2. floating or waving in the air. 3. swift. 4. short and quick; hasty. adj.

flying boat, airplane that can float on water; seaplane.

flying buttress, an arched support or brace built against the wall of a building to resist outward pressure.

flying colors, success; victory.

flying fish, a tropical sea fish that has winglike pectoral fins which help it to glide for some distance through the air after leaping from the water. See the picture below.

flying fortress, a large, armored bomber used by the United States in World War II.

flying jib, a small, triangular sail set in front of the regular jib.

flying machine, 1. airplane. 2. airship.

flying saucer, an unidentified, often disklike object, reported seen in the sky over many different countries, especially since about 1947.

flying squirrel, squirrel that can make long, gliding leaps through the air. Its front and hind legs are connected by winglike folds of skin. See the picture below.

fly leaf (fli'lēf'), a blank sheet of paper at the beginning or end of a book, pamphlet, etc. n., pl. fly leaves.

fly pa per (fli'pā'pər), sticky paper to catch flies. n.

fly speck (fli'spek'), a tiny spot left by a fly. n.

fly trap (fli'trap'), plant that traps insects. n.

fly weight (fli'wāt'), boxer who weighs not more than 112 pounds. n.

fly wheel (fli'hwēl'), a heavy wheel attached to machinery to keep the speed even. n.

Fm, fermium.

FM or F.M., frequency modulation.

fm., fathom.

foal (fōl), 1. a young horse, donkey, etc.; colt or filly. 2. give birth to (a foal). 1 n., 2 v.

foam (fōm), 1. mass of very small bubbles. 2. form or gather foam. 3. cause to foam. 4. break into foam: The stream foams over the rocks. 1 n., 2-4 v. —foam/-less, adj. —foam/like, adj.

foam rubber, a type of soft, spongy rubber used for mattresses, cushions, etc.

foam y (fōm'ē), 1. covered with foam; foaming. 2. made of foam. 3. like foam. adj., foam i er, foam i est. —foam/i ly, adv. —foam/i ness, n.

fob¹ (fob), 1. a small pocket in trousers or breeches to hold a watch, etc. 2. a short watch chain, ribbon, etc., that hangs out of a watch pocket. 3. ornament worn at the end of such a chain, ribbon, etc. n.

fob² (fob), trick; deceive; cheat. v., fobbed, fob bing. fob off, 1. put off or deceive by a trick. 2. palm off or get rid of by a trick.

f.o.b. or F.O.B., free on board. The price $850, f.o.b. Detroit, means that the $850 does not pay for freight or other expenses after the article has been put on board a freight car at Detroit.

fo cal (fō'kl), of a focus; having to do with a focus. The focal length of a lens is the distance of its focus from the optical center of the lens. adj.

fo cal ize (fō'kl iz), 1. focus. 2. bring into focus. v., fo cal ized, fo cal iz ing. —fo/cal i za'tion, n.

fo ci (fō'si), focuses. n. pl. of focus.

Flying fish of the Atlantic coast (about 8 in. long)

Flying squirrel (about 5 in. long, without the tail) fo cus (fō'kəs), 1. point where rays of light, heat, etc., meet, appear to meet, or should meet after being bent by a lens, curved mirror, etc. 2. bring (rays of light, heat, etc.) to a point: The lens focused the sun's rays on a piece of paper and burned a hole in it. 3. distance of this point from the lens, curved mirror, etc.: A near-sighted eye has a shorter focus than a normal eye. 4. correct adjustment of a lens, the eye, etc., to make a clear image: If the camera is not brought into focus, the photograph will be blurred. 5. adjust (a lens, the eye, etc.) to make a clear image: A near-sighted person cannot focus accurately on distant objects. 6. make (an image, etc.) clear by adjusting a lens, the eye, etc. 7. the central point of attention, activity, disturbance, etc.: The focus of a disease is the part of the body where it is most active. 8. concentrate: When studying, he focused his mind on his lessons. 1,3,4,7 n., pl. fo cus es or fo ci; 2,5,6,8 v., fo cused, fo cus ing or esp. Brit. fo cussed, fo cus ing.

fod der (fod'ər), coarse food for horses, cattle, etc. Hay and cornstalks with their leaves are fodder. n.

foe (fō), enemy. n.

foe man (fō'mən), Archaic. enemy. n., pl. foe men.

foe tal (fō'tl), fetal. adj.

foe tus (fō'təs), fetus. n.

fog (fog), 1. cloud of fine drops of water just above the earth's surface; thick mist. 2. cover with fog. 3. a darkened condition; dim, blurred state. 4. darken; dim; blur: Something fogged six of our photographs. 5. a confused or puzzled condition. 6. confuse; puzzle. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,6 v., fogged, fog ging.

fog bank, a dense mass of fog.

fog bound (fog'bound'), kept from sailing by fog. adj.

fo gey (fō'gē), foggy. n., pl. fo geys.

fog gy (fō'gē), 1. having much fog; misty. 2. not clear; dim; blurred. 3. confused; puzzled. adj., fog-gi er, fog gi est. —fog/gi ly, adv. —fog/gi ness, n.

fog horn (fō'hörn), 1. horn that warns ships in foggy weather. 2. a loud, harsh voice. n.

fo gy (fō'gē), person who is slow and lacks enterprise; one who is behind the times. n., pl. fo gies.

foi ble (foi'bl), a weak point; weakness: Talking too much is one of her foibles. n.

foil¹ (foil), prevent from carrying out (plans, attempts, etc.); get the better of; turn aside or hinder: The hero foiled the villain. v.

foil² (foil), 1. metal beaten, hammered, or rolled into a very thin sheet: Candy is sometimes wrapped in tin foil to keep it fresh. 2. anything that makes something else look or seem better by contrast: The green pillow was a foil for Kate's red hair. n.

foil³ (foil), a long, narrow sword with a knob or button on the point to prevent injury, used in fencing. n.

foils, fencing.

foist (foist), 1. palm off as genuine; impose slyly: The dishonest clerk foisted inferior goods on his customers. 2. put in secretly or slyly: The author discovered that the translator had foisted passages into his book. v.

fold¹ (fōld), 1. bend or double over on itself: You fold a letter or your napkin. 2. layer of something folded. 3. a hollow place made by folding. 4. bring together with the parts in or around one another. 5. bring close to the body: You fold your arms. A bird folds its wings. 6. put the arms around and hold tenderly: A mother folds her child to her breast. 7. wrap; enclose: He folded the pills in a blue paper. 8. in geology, a bend in a layer of rock. 1,4-7 v., 2,3,8 n.

fold up, 1. make or become smaller by folding. 2. Slang. fail.

fold¹ (fôld), 1. pen to keep sheep in. 2. sheép kept in a pen. 3. put or keep (sheep) in a pen. 4. church group; church. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

-fold, suffix meaning:

1. times as many; times as great, as in tenfold.

2. formed or divided into —parts, as in manifold.

fold er (fôl'dər), 1. a person or thing that folds.

2. holder for papers, made by folding a piece of stiff paper. 3. a small book made of one or more folded sheets. n.

fo li a ceous (fô'lē ā'shə), 1. leaflike; leafy. 2. made of leaflike plates or thin layers. adj.

fo li age (fô'lē ij), 1. leaves. 2. decoration made of carved or painted leaves, flowers, etc. n.

fo li ate (fô'lē it or fô'lē āt for 1; fô'lē āt for 2, 3), 1. having leaves; covered with leaves. 2. put forth leaves. 3. decorate with leaflike ornaments. 1 adj., 2,3 v., fo li at ed, fo li at ing.

fo li a tion (fô'lē ā'shən), 1. a growing of leaves; putting forth of leaves: foliation of trees in the spring. 2. a being in leaf. 3. decoration with leaflike ornaments or foils. n.

fo li o (fô'lē ō), 1. a large sheet of paper folded once to make two leaves, or four pages, of a book, etc. 2. book of the largest size, having pages made by folding large sheets of paper once (that is, with four pages to each sheet); volume having pages of the largest size. A folio is usually any book more than 11 inches in height. 3. of the largest size; made of large sheets of paper folded once: The encyclopedia was in twenty volumes folio. 4. in printing, a page number of a book, etc. 5. leaf of a book, manuscript, etc., numbered on the front side only. 1,2,4,5 n., pl. fo li os; 3 adj.

in folio, of folio size or form.

folk (fôk), 1. people. 2. tribe; nation. 3. of or having to do with the common people, their beliefs, legends, customs, etc.: folk tales, folk songs. 1,2 n., pl. folk or folks; 3 adj.

folks, 1. people. 2. Informal. members of one's own family; one's relatives: How are all your folks?

folk dance, 1. dance originating and handed down among the common people. 2. music for it.

folk lore (fôk'lôr'), beliefs, legends, customs, etc., of a people, tribe, etc. n.

folk music, music originating and handed down among the common people.

folk song, 1. song originating and handed down among the common people. 2. song imitating a real folk song: "Old Black Joe" is a folk song.

folk tale, story or legend originating and handed down among the common people.

folk way (fôk'wā'), custom or habit that has grown up within a social group and is very common among the members of this group. n.

fol li cle (fôl'ə kl), a small cavity, sac, or gland. Hair grows from follicles. n.

fol low (fôl'ō), 1. go or come after: Night follows day. He leads; we follow. 2. result from; result: Misery follows war. If you eat too much candy, a stomach ache will follow. 3. go along: Follow this road to the corner. 4. go along with; accompany: My dog followed me to school. 5. pursue: The dogs followed the fox. 6. act according to; take as a guide; use; obey: Follow her advice. 7. keep the eyes or attention on: I could not follow that bird's flight. 8. keep the mind on; keep up with and understand: Try to follow the President's speech. 9. take as one's work; be concerned with: He expects to follow the profession of lawyer. 10. act of following. 1-9 v., 10 n.

follow out, carry out to the end.

follow through, continue a stroke or motion through to the end.

follow up, 1. follow closely and steadily. 2. carry out to the end. 3. increase the effect of by further action.

fol low er (fôl'ō ə), 1. person or thing that follows. 2. person who follows the ideas or beliefs of another. 3. attendant; servant. n.

fol low ing (fôl'ō ing), 1. followers; attendants. 2. that follows; next after: That was Sunday, then the following day must have been Monday. 1 n., 2 adj.

the following, persons, things, items, etc., now to be named, related, described, etc.

fol ly (fôl'ē), 1. being foolish; lack of sense; unwise conduct. 2. a foolish act, practice, or idea; something silly. 3. a costly but foolish undertaking. n., pl. fol lies.

fo ment (fô ment'), 1. promote; foster (trouble, rebellion, etc.). 2. apply warm water, hot cloths, etc., to (a hurt or pain). v. —fo ment'er, n.

fo men ta tion (fô'men tā'shən), 1. stirring up; instigation; encouragement. 2. application of moist heat. 3. a hot, moist application. n.

fond (fond), 1. liking: fond of children. 2. loving: a fond look. 3. loving foolishly or too much. 4. cherished. adj. —fond'ly, adv. —fond'ness, n.

fon dle (fon'dl), pet; caress. v., fon-dled, fon dling. —fon'dler, n.

fon due (fon'dü or fon dü'), a dish made of melted cheese, eggs, butter, etc. n.

font¹ (font), 1. basin holding water for baptism. 2. basin for holy water.

3. fountain; source. n.

font² (font), in printing, a complete set of type of one size and style. n.

Fon taine bleau (fon'tän blö), forest and palace near Paris, France. n.

Foo chow (fü'chou'), seaport in SE China. 500,000. n.

food (fûd), 1. what an animal or plant takes in to enable it to live and grow. 2. what is eaten: Give him food and drink. 3. a particular kind or article of food. 4. what helps anything to live and grow. 5. what sustains or serves for consumption in any way: food for thought. n.

food stuff (fûd'stuf'), material for food: Grain and meat are foodstuffs. n.

fool (fûl), 1. person without sense; unwise or silly person. 2. clown formerly kept by a king or lord to amuse people; jester. 3. act like a fool for fun; play; joke. 4. make a fool of; deceive; trick. 5. person who has been deceived or tricked; dupe. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v.

fool around, Informal. waste time foolishly.

fool away, Informal. waste foolishly.

fool with, Informal. meddle foolishly with.

fool ery (fûl'ər ē), foolish action. n., pl. fool er ies.

fool har dy (fûl'här'dē), foolishly bold; rash. adj.

fool har di er, fool/har di est. —fool/har'di ness, n.

fool ish (fûl'ish), 1. like a fool; without sense; unwise; silly. 2. ridiculous. adj. —fool'ish ly, adv. —fool'ish ness, n.

fool proof (fûl/prûf'), Informal. so safe or simple that even a fool can use or do it. adj.

fools cap (fûlz'kap'), 1. writing paper in sheets from 12 to 13½ inches wide and 15 to 17 inches long. 2. fool's cap. n.

fool's cap, cap or hood worn by the fool or jester of a king or lord. It usually had bells on it.

fool's gold, mineral that looks like gold; iron pyrites or copper pyrites.

foot (fût), 1. the end part of a leg; part that a person, animal, or thing stands on.

2. part near the feet; end toward which the feet are put. 3. the lowest part; bottom; base: the foot of a column, the foot of a hill, the foot of a page. 4. part that covers the foot. 5. make or renew the foot of (a stocking, etc.). 6. soldiers that go on foot; infantry. 7. walk: The boys footed the whole ten miles. 8. dance. 9. measure of length, twelve inches. 3 feet = 1 yard. 10. one of the parts into which a line of poetry is divided. This line has four feet: "The boy | stood on | the burn | ing deck." 11. add: Foot this column of numbers. 12. Informal. pay (a bill, etc.): Father foots the bill. 1-4,6,9,10 n., pl. feet; 5,7,8,11,12 v.

on foot, 1. standing or walking. 2. going on.

Font (def. 1)

Fool's cap

under foot, 1. in the way. 2. in one's power; in subjection.

foot age (füt'ij), length in feet. n.

foot-and-mouth disease, a dangerous, contagious disease of cattle and some other animals, causing blisters in the mouth and around the hoofs.

foot ball (füt'bôl'), 1. game played with a large, inflated, leather ball by two teams of eleven players each on a field with a goal at each end. 2. ball used in this game. 3. any game or ball like this. n.

foot board (füt'bôrd'), 1. board or small platform to be used as a support for the feet. 2. an upright piece across the foot of a bed. n.

foot bridge (füt'brij'), bridge for people on foot only. n.

foot-can dle (füt'kan'dl), unit for measuring illumination. It is the amount of light produced by a standard candle at a distance of one foot. n.

foot ed (füt'id), having a certain kind or number of feet: a four-footed animal. adj.

foot fall (füt'fôl'), sound of steps coming or going. n.

foot gear (füt'gēr'), shoes, boots, etc. n.

foot hill (füt'hil'), a low hill at the base of a mountain or mountain range. n.

foot hold (füt'hôld'), 1. place to put the feet; support for the feet; surface to stand on: He climbed the steep cliff by getting footholds in cracks in the rock. 2. a firm footing or position: It is hard to break a habit after it has a foothold. n.

foot ing (füt'ing), 1. a firm placing or position of the feet: He lost his footing and fell down on the ice. 2. place to put the feet; support for the feet; surface to stand on: The steep cliff gave us no footing. 3. a firm place or position: The newly rich family struggled for a footing in society. 4. condition; position; relationship: The United States and Canada are on a friendly footing. 5. an adding. 6. amount found by adding; sum; total. 7. act of moving on the feet; walking, dancing, etc. n.

foot less (füt'lis), 1. without a foot or feet. 2. without support; not substantial. 3. Informal. awkward; helpless; inefficient. adj.

foot lights (füt'lits'), 1. row of lights at the front of a stage. 2. profession of acting; stage; theater. n.pl.

foot loose (füt'lüs'), Informal. free to go anywhere or do anything. adj.

foot man (füt'mæn), 1. a male servant who answers the bell, waits on the table, goes with an automobile or carriage to open the door, etc. Footmen usually wear special clothes. 2. foot soldier. n., pl. foot men.

foot note (füt'nôt'), 1. note at the bottom of a page about something on the page. 2. something added as an explanation, reference, or comment. n.

foot pad (füt'pad'), a highway robber who goes on foot only. n.

foot path (füt'path'), path for people on foot only. n.

foot-pound (füt'pound'), quantity of energy needed to raise a weight of one pound to a height of one foot. n.

foot print (füt'print'), mark made by a foot. n.

foot rest (füt'rest'), support to rest the feet on. n.

foot rule, a wooden or metal ruler one foot long.

foot soldier, soldier who fights on foot; infantryman.

foot sore (füt'sôr'), having sore feet from much walking. adj.

foot step (füt'step'), 1. a person's step. 2. distance covered in one step. 3. sound of steps coming or going. 4. mark made by a foot; footprint. 5. step on which to go up or down. n.

follow in one's footsteps, do as another has done.

foot stool (füt'stül'), a low stool to put the feet on when sitting. n.

foot way (füt'wä'), path for people on foot only; sidewalk. n.

foot wear (füt'wār'), shoes, slippers, stockings, gaiters, etc. n.

foot work (füt'wêrk'), way of using the feet. Footwork is important in boxing and dancing. n.

foot worn (füt'wôr'n'), 1. worn by feet: a footworn path. 2. having tired feet. adj.

fop (fop), a vain man who is very fond of fine clothes and has affected manners; empty-headed dandy. n.

fop per y (fop'ər ē), foppish behavior; fine clothes, affected manners, etc., suitable for a fop. n., pl. fopperies.

fop pish (fop'ish), 1. of a fop; suitable for a fop. 2. vain; empty-headed; affected. adj.

for (fôr; unstressed fər), 1. in place of: We used boxes for chairs. 2. in support of; in favor of: He voted for Roosevelt. 3. representing; in the interest of: A lawyer acts for his client. 4. in consideration of: These apples are twelve for a dollar. 5. with the object or purpose of: He went for a walk. 6. in order to become, have, keep, etc.: The navy trains men for sailors. She seeks for happiness. He ran for his life. 7. in search of: She is hunting for her cat. 8. in order to get to: He has just left for New York. 9. meant to belong to or be used with; suited to: a box for gloves, books for children. 10. because of; by reason of: He was punished for stealing. 11. because: We can't go, for it is raining. 12. in honor of: A party was given for her. 13. with a feeling toward: She has an eye for beauty. We longed for home. 14. with respect or regard to: It is warm for April. Eating too much is bad for one's health. 15. as far or as long as; throughout; during: We walked for a mile. He worked for an hour. 16. as being: They know it for a fact. 17. in spite of: For all his faults, we like him still. 18. in proportion to: For one poisonous snake there are many harmless ones. 19. to the amount of: His father gave him a check for $20. 1-10, 12-19 prep., 11 conj.

for one to, that one will, should, must, etc.: A secretary writes letters for her employer to sign. It is time for us to go.

O! for, I wish that I might have.

for age (fôr'ij), 1. food for horses, cattle, etc. 2. supply with food; feed. 3. hunt or search for food: Rabbits forage in our garden. 4. get by hunting or searching about. 5. hunt; search about: The boys foraged for old metal. 6. get or take food from. 7. plunder: The soldiers foraged the villages near their camp. 1, 3 n., 2-7 v., foraged, for ag ing. —for'ag er, n.

for as much as (fôr'əz much' az), in view of the fact that; because; since.

for ay (fôr'ā), 1. a raid for plunder. 2. plunder; lay waste; pillage. 1 n., 2 v.

for bade or for bad (fər bəd'), pt. of forbid. The doctor forbade the sick boy to leave his bed. v.

for bear: (fôr bār'), 1. hold back; keep from doing, saying, using, etc.: The boy forbore to hit back because the other boy was smaller. 2. be patient; control oneself. v., for bore, for borne, for bear ing. —for bear'ing ly, adv.

for bear: (fôr'bār), forbear; ancestor. n.

for bear ance (fôr bār'əns), 1. act of forbearing. 2. patience; self-control. n.

for bid (fər bīd'), 1. order (one) not to do something; make a rule against; prohibit. 2. keep from happening; prevent: God forbid! 3. command to keep away from; exclude from: I forbid you the house. v., for bade or for bad, for bid den or for bid, for bid ding.

for bid den (fər bīd'n), 1. not allowed; against the law or rules: Eve ate the forbidden fruit. 2. a pp. of forbid. My father has forbidden me to go swimming in that river. 1 adj., 2 v.

for bid ding (fər bīd'ing), causing fear or dislike; looking dangerous or unpleasant: The coast was rocky and forbidding. adj. —for bid'ding ly, adv.

for bore (fôr bôr'), pt. of forbear. He forbore from showing his anger. v.

for borne (fôr bôr'n'), pp. of forbear. We have forbore from vengeance. v.

force (fôrs), 1. strength; power. 2. strength used against a person or thing; violence: We had to use force to get into the house. 3. power to control, influence, persuade, convince, etc.; effectiveness; vividness: He writes with force. 4. use force on. 5. make or drive by force: Give it to me at once, or I will force you to. 6. get or take by force: Tom forced his way in. 7. put by force. 8. break open or through by force: to force a door. 9. urge to violent effort. 10. make by an unusual or unnatural effort; strain. 11. hurry the growth or development of. 12. compel (a baseball player) to leave one base and try in vain to reach the next. 13. group of people working or acting together: our office force. 14. group of soldiers, sailors, policemen, etc. 15. cause that produces, changes, or stops the motion of a body: the force of gravitation, electric force. 16. meaning. 1-3, 13-16 n., 4-12 v., forced, forc ing. —forc'er, n.

forces, army, navy, etc.

in force, 1. in effect or operation; binding; valid. 2. with full strength.

forced (fôrst), 1. made, compelled, or driven by force:

The work of slaves is forced labor. 2. made by an unusual or unnatural effort; strained; not natural: She hid her dislike with a forced smile. adj.

forced march, an unusually long, fast march.

force ful (fôrs/fəl), full of force; strong; powerful; vigorous; effective. adj. —force'fully, adv. —force'fulness, n.

for ceps (fôr'seps), small pincers or tongs used by surgeons, dentists, etc., for seizing, holding, and pulling. n., pl. for ceps.

for ci ble (fôr'sə bl), 1. made or done by force; using force: a forcible entrance into a house. 2. having or showing force; strong; powerful; effective; convincing: a forcible speaker. adj. —for'ci bly, adv.

ford (fôrd), 1. place where a river or other body of water is not too deep to cross by walking through the water. 2. cross (a river, etc.) by walking or driving a team or automobile through the water. 1 n., 2 v.

Ford (fôrd), Henry, 1863-1947, American automobile manufacturer. n.

fore (fôr), 1. at the front; toward the beginning or front; forward. 2. the forward part; front. 3. in golf, a shout of warning to persons ahead who are liable to be struck by the ball. 1 adj., adv., 2 n., 3 interj.

to the fore, 1. into full view; into a conspicuous place or position. 2. at hand; ready; alive.

fore—, prefix. 1. front; in front; at or near the front, as in forecastle, foremost. 2. before; beforehand, as in foreknown, foresee.

fore-and-aft (fôr'ənd aft'), lengthwise on a ship; from bow to stern; placed lengthwise. A fore-and-aft-rigged ship has the sails set lengthwise. adj.

fore and aft, 1. at or toward both bow and stern of a ship. 2. lengthwise on a ship; from bow to stern; placed lengthwise.

fore arm¹ (fôr'ärm'), that part of the arm between the elbow and wrist. n.

fore arm² (fôr'ärm'), prepare for trouble ahead of time; arm beforehand. v.

fore bear (fôr'bär), ancestor. n. Also, forbear.

fore bode (fôr'böd'), 1. give warning of; predict: Black clouds forebode a storm. 2. have a feeling that something bad is going to happen. v., fore bod ed, fore bod ing. —fore bod'er, n.

fore bod ing (fôr'böd'ing), 1. prediction; warning. 2. a feeling that something bad is going to happen. n.

fore brain (fôr'brän'), the front section of the brain. It consists of the cerebrum, the pituitary gland, and the pineal body. n.

Forceps used by surgeons

Fore-and-aft-rigged ship fore cast (fôr'kast'), 1. prophesy; predict: Cooler weather is forecast for tomorrow. 2. prophecy; prediction. 3. be a prophecy or prediction of. 4. foresee; plan ahead. 5. a planning ahead; foresight. 1,3,4 v., fore cast or fore cast ed, fore cast ing; 2,5 n. —fore'cast'er, n.

fore cas tle (fök'sl or fôr'kas'l), 1. the upper deck in front of the foremast. 2. the sailors' quarters in a merchant ship, formerly in the forward part of the ship. n.

fore close (fôr klöz'), 1. shut out; prevent; exclude. 2. take away the right to redeem (a mortgage). When the conditions of a mortgage are not met, the holder can foreclose and have the property sold to satisfy his claim. v., fore closed, fore clos ing.

fore clo sure (fôr klöz'zhər), the foreclosing of a mortgage. n.

fore doom (fôr düm'), doom beforehand. v.

fore fa ther (fôr'fä'thər), ancestor. n.

fore fend (fôr fend'), forfend. v.

fore fin ger (fôr'fing'gər), finger next to the thumb; first finger; index finger. n.

fore foot (fôr'füt'), 1. one of the front feet of an animal having four or more feet. 2. the forward end of a ship's keel. n., pl. fore feet.

fore front (fôr'frunt'), place of greatest importance, activity, etc.; foremost part. n.

fore gath er (fôr gath'ər), forgather. v.

fore go¹ (fôr gō'), forgo. v., for went, fore gone, fore go ing. —fore go'er, n.

fore go² (fôr gō'), precede; go before. v., fore went, fore gone, fore go ing. —fore go'er, n.

fore go ing (fôr'gō'ing), preceding; previous: There have been many pictures in the foregoing pages. adj.

fore gone (fôr'gôn), 1. that has gone before; previous. 2. pp. of forego. 1 adj., 2 v.

foregone conclusion, fact that was almost surely known beforehand.

fore ground (fôr'ground'), part of a picture or scene nearest the observer; part toward the front. n.

fore hand (fôr'hand'), 1. made with the palm of the hand turned forward. 2. stroke made with the palm of the hand turned forward. 3. position in front or above; advantage. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

fore hand ed (fôr'han'ed'),

1. providing for the future; prudent; thrifty. 2. done beforehand; early; timely. adj. —fore'hand'ed ness, n.

fore head (fôr'id or fôr'hed'),

1. part of the face above the eyes. 2. a front part. n.

for eign (fôr'an), 1. outside one's own country: She has traveled much in foreign countries. 2. of, characteristic of, or coming from outside one's own country: a foreign ship, a foreign language, foreign money. 3. having to do with other countries; carried on or dealing with other countries: foreign trade. 4. not belonging; not related: Sitting still is foreign to a healthy boy's nature. adj.

foreign affairs, a country's relations with other countries.

for eign-born (fôr'an bôrn'), born in another country. adj.

for eign er (fôr'an ər), person from another country; alien. n.

foreign legion, part of an army made up largely of soldiers who are volunteers from other countries.

foreign office, Brit. the government department in charge of foreign affairs.

fore judge (fôr'juj'), judge beforehand. v., fore-judged, fore judg ing.

Forehand stroke

fore knew (fôr nû' or fôr nû'), pt. of foreknow. v.
fore know (fôr nō'), know beforehand. v., fore knew, fore known, fore know ing.
fore knowledge (fôr'nol'ij), knowledge of a thing before it happens. n.
fore known (fôr nōn'), pp. of foreknow. v.
fore land (fôr'land'), cape; headland; promontory. n.
fore leg (fôr'leg'), one of the front legs of an animal having four or more legs. n.
fore lock (fôr'lok'), lock of hair that grows just above the forehead. n.
take time by the forelock, act promptly.
fore man (fôr'mæn), 1. man in charge of a group of workers or of some part of a factory. 2. chairman of a jury. n., pl. fore men.
fore mast (fôr'mast'; Nautical fôr'mæst), mast nearest the bow of a ship. n.
fore most (fôr'möst), 1. first: I am foremost in line (adj.). He stumbled and fell head foremost (adv.). 2. chief; leading; most notable. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.
fore name (fôr'nām'), first name. n.
fore noon (fôr'nün'), 1. time between early morning and noon. 2. between early morning and noon. 1 n., 2 adj.
forensic (færen'sik), 1. of or suitable for a law court or public debate. 2. a spoken or written exercise in argumentation, as in a college or high-school class in speech or rhetoric. 1 adj., 2 n.
fore or dain (fôr'ôr dān'), ordain beforehand; predestine. v.
fore or di na tion (fôr'ôr dā nā'shən), an ordaining beforehand; predestination. n.
fore part (fôr'pärt'), the front part. n.
fore paw (fôr'pō'), a front paw. n.
fore quar ter (fôr'kwôr'tər), a front leg, shoulder, and nearby ribs of beef, lamb, pork, etc.; front quarter. n.
fore run ner (fôr'run'ər), 1. person that goes before or is sent before to show that another or something more is coming; herald. 2. sign or warning of something to come: Black clouds are forerunners of a storm. 3. predecessor; ancestor. n.
fore sail (fôr'sāl'; Nautical fôr'sl), 1. the principal sail on the foremast of a schooner. 2. the lowest sail on the foremast of a square-rigged ship. n.
fore saw (fôr sō'), pt. of foresee. Mother put up a big picnic lunch, because she foresaw how hungry we would be. v.
fore see (fôr sē'), see or know beforehand: We didn't take our bathing suits, because we could foresee that the water would be cold. v., fore saw, fore seen, fore see ing. —fore see'a ble, adj.
fore seen (fôr sēn'), pp. of foresee. Nobody could have foreseen how cold it would be. v.
fore shad ow (fôr shad'ō), indicate beforehand; be a warning of: Black clouds foreshadow a storm. v.
fore shank (fôr'shank'), meat on the upper part of the forelegs of cattle. See beef for diagram. n.
fore sheet (fôr'shēt'), one of the ropes used to hold a foresail in place. n.
fore sheets (fôr'shēts'), space in the forward part of an open boat. n.pl.
fore short en (fôr shōrt'n), represent (lines, etc.) in a drawing or painting as of less than true length in order to give the proper impression to the eye. v.
fore sight (fôr'sīt'), 1. power to see or realize beforehand what is likely to happen. 2. careful thought for the future; prudence. 3. a looking ahead; view into the future. n.
fore sight ed (fôr'sīt'id or fôr'sīt'id), having or showing foresight. adj. —fore'sight'ed ness, n.
fore skin (fôr'skin'), fold of skin that covers the end of the penis. n.

Foreshortening of lines in a cube for est (fôr'ist), 1. a large area of land covered with trees; thick woods; woodland. 2. the trees themselves. 3. of a forest; in a forest; forest fires. 4. plant with trees; change into a forest. 1,2 n., 3 adj., 4 v. —for'est- less, adj.

fore stall (fôr stōl'), 1. prevent by acting first: The mayor forestalled a riot by having the police ready. 2. deal with (a thing) in advance; anticipate; be ahead of. 3. buy up (goods, etc.) in advance in order to increase the price. v. —fore stall'er, n.
for est a tion (fôr'is tā'shən), the planting or taking care of forests. n.
fore stay (fôr'stā'), rope or cable reaching from the top of a ship's foremast to the bowsprit. The forestay helps to support the foremast. n.
for est er (fôr'is tər), 1. a person in charge of a forest who looks after the trees and guards against fires. 2. person who lives in a forest. n.
forest preserve, forest protected by the government from wasteful cutting, fires, etc.
for est ry (fôr'is trē), 1. the science of planting and taking care of forests. 2. art of making and managing forests. n.
fore taste (fôr'tāst' for 1; fôr tāst' for 2), 1. a preliminary taste; anticipation: The boy got a foretaste of business life by working during his vacation. 2. taste beforehand; anticipate. 1 n., 2 v., fore tast ed, fore-tast ing.
fore tell (fôr tel'), tell or show beforehand; predict; prophesy: Who can foretell what a baby will do next? v., fore told, fore tell ing.
fore thought (fôr'thōt'), 1. previous thought or consideration; planning. 2. careful thought for the future; prudence; foresight: A little forethought will often save you much trouble afterwards. n.
fore to ken (fôr tō'kən for 1; fôr'tō'ken for 2), 1. indicate beforehand; be an omen of. 2. indication of something to come; omen. 1 v., 2 n.
fore told (fôr tōld'), pt. and pp. of foretell. He foretold the war. The Weather Bureau had foretold the cold wave. v.
fore top (fôr'top'; Nautical fôr'təp), platform at the top of the foremast. n.
fore-top gal lant (fôr'top gal'ənt; Nautical fôr'təgal'ənt), next above the fore-topmast; of or belonging to the mast, sails, yards, etc., next above the fore-topmast. The fore-topgallant mast is the third mast from the deck of the ship. adj.
fore-top mast (fôr'top'mast'; Nautical fôr'top'mæst), mast next above the foremast. n.
fore-top sail (fôr'top'sāl'; Nautical fôr'top'sl), sail set on the fore-topmast and next above the foresail. n.
for ev er (fôr ev'ər), 1. for always; without ever coming to an end. 2. all the time; always. adv.
for ev er more (fôr ev'ər mōr'), forever. adv.
fore warn (fôr wōrn'), warn beforehand. v.
fore went (fôr went'), pt. of forego. v.
fore word (fôr'wōrd'), introduction; preface. n.
for feit (fôr'fit), 1. lose or have to give up as a penalty for some act, neglect, fault, etc.: He forfeited his life by his careless driving. 2. thing lost or given up because of some act, neglect, or fault; penalty; fine: A headache was the forfeit he paid for staying up late. 3. lost or given up as a penalty. 4. loss or giving up of something as a penalty. 1 v., 2,4 n., 3 adj. —for'feit er, n.
for fei ture (fôr'fi char), 1. loss or giving up of something as a penalty; a forfeiting. 2. thing forfeited; penalty; fine. n.
for fend (fôr fend'), Archaic. ward off; avert; prevent. v. Also, forefend. for gat (fær gat'), Archaic. forgot, a pt. of forget. v.
for gath er ((fôr gaθ'ər), 1. gather together; assemble; meet. 2. meet by accident. 3. be friendly; associate. v. Also, foregather.

for gave (fər gāv/), pt. of forgive. She forgave my mistake. v.

forge¹ (fōrj), 1. place with fire where metal is heated very hot and then hammered into shape. A blacksmith uses a forge. 2. a blacksmith's shop; smithy. 3. heat (metal) very hot and then hammer into shape: The blacksmith forged a bar of iron into a big strong hook. 4. place where iron or other metal is melted and refined. 5. make; shape; form. 6. make or write (something false). 7. sign (another's name) falsely to deceive. 1,2, 4 n., 3,5-7 v., forged, forg ing. —for'ger, n.

forge² (fōrj), move forward slowly but steadily: One runner forged ahead of the others and won the race. v., forged, forg ing.

for ger y (fōr'jər ē), 1. act of forging a signature, etc. 2. something made or written falsely to deceive: The painting was a forgery. The signature on the check was not mine but a forgery. n., pl. for ger ies.

for get (fər get/), 1. let go out of the mind; fail to remember; be unable to remember. 2. omit or neglect without meaning to. v., for got or (Archaic) for gat, for got ten or for got, for get ting.

forget oneself, 1. not think of oneself and one's interests; be unselfish. 2. fail to consider what one should do or be; say or do something improper.

for get ful (fər get'fəl), 1. apt to forget; having a poor memory. 2. heedless. 3. Poetic. causing to forget. adj. —for get'ful ly, adv.

for get ful ness (fər get'fəl nis), 1. a forgetting; poor memory. 2. neglect; lack of attention. n.

for get-me-not (fər get'mē not/), any of several small plants of the same family as the borage, with hairy leaves and clusters of small, blue or white flowers. n.

for give (fər giv/), 1. give up the wish to punish or get even with; pardon; excuse; not have hard feelings at or toward: She forgave her mother for breaking her doll. Please forgive my mistake. 2. give up all claim to; not demand payment for: forgive a debt. v., for gave, for giv en, for giv ing. —for giv'a ble, adj.

for giv en (fər giv'en), pp. of forgive. Your mistakes are forgiven. v.

for give ness (fər giv'nis), 1. act of forgiving; pardon. 2. willingness to forgive. n.

for giv ing (fər giv'ing), that forgives; willing to forgive. adj. —for giv'ing ly, adv. —for giv'ing ness, n.

for go (fər gō/), do without; give up: for go the movies to study. v., for went, for gone, for go ing. Also, forego.

for gone (fər gōn/), pp. of for go. v.

for got (fər got/), a pt. and a pp. of forget. Tom forgot to do his homework. v.

for got ten (fər got'n), a pp. of forget. He has forgotten much of what he learned. v.

fork (fōrk), 1. instrument with a handle and two or more long, pointed parts at one end. A small fork is used to lift food. A much larger fork, called a pitchfork, is used to lift and throw hay. See pitchfork for picture. Another kind is used for digging. 2. lift, throw, or dig with a fork. 3. make in the shape or form of a fork. 4. anything shaped like a fork. The place where a tree, road, or stream divides into branches is a fork. 5. one of the branches into which anything is divided. 6. have a fork or forks; divide into branches: There is a garage where the road forks. 1,4,5 n., 2,3,6 v. —fork'like/, adj.

forked (fōrkt; Archaic and Poetic fōr'kid), 1. having a fork or forks; divided into branches. 2. zigzag: forked lightning. adj.

for lorn (fōr lōrn/), 1. left alone; neglected; deserted: The lost kitten, a forlorn little animal, was wet and dirty. 2. wretched in feeling or looks; unhappy. 3. hopeless; desperate. 4. bereft (of): forlorn of hope. adj. —for-lorn'ly, adv. —for lorn'ness, n.

forlorn hope, 1. a desperate enterprise. 2. undertaking almost sure to fail. 3. party of soldiers engaged in a very dangerous job.

form (fōrm), 1. shape; appearance apart from color or materials: John learned that circles and triangles are sim- ple forms. 2. shape of body; body of a person or animal.

3. thing that gives shape to something. A mold is a form. 4. give shape to; make: The cook formed the dough into loaves. 5. be formed; take shape: Clouds form in the sky. 6. become: Water forms ice when it freezes. 7. make up; compose: Parents and children form a family. 8. organize; establish: We formed a club. 9. develop: Form good habits while you are young. 10. arrange in some order: The soldiers formed themselves into lines. 11. an orderly arrangement of parts. The effect of a work of literature, art, or music comes from its form as well as its content. 12. way of doing something; manner; method: He is a fast runner, but his form in running is bad. 13. a set way of doing something; set way of behaving according to custom or rule; formality; ceremony: Shaking hands is a form. Many forms have little or no real meaning.

14. a set order of words. A written agreement to buy, sell, or do something follows a certain form. 15. document with printing or writing on it and blank spaces to be filled in: To get a license you must fill out a form.

16. way in which a thing exists, takes shape, or shows itself; condition; character; manifestation: Water appears also in the forms of ice, snow, and steam. 17. kind; sort; variety: Heat, light, and electricity are forms of energy. 18. good condition of body or mind: Athletes exercise to keep in form. 19. any of the ways in which a word is spelled or pronounced to express different ideas and relations. Boys is the plural form of boy. Saw is the past form of see. My and mine are the possessive forms of I. 20. Brit. grade in school: Fred is now in the fifth form. 21. a long seat; bench. 22. type fastened in a frame ready for printing or making plates. 1-3,11-22 n., 4-10 v.

bad form, behavior contrary to accepted customs.

good form, behavior in accord with accepted customs.

for mal (fōr'ml), 1. with strict attention to outward forms and ceremonies; not familiar and homelike; stiff: A judge has a formal manner in a law court. 2. according to set customs or rules. 3. done with the proper forms; clear and definite: A written contract is a formal agreement to do something. 4. very regular; symmetrical; orderly. 5. having to do with the form, not the content. 6. of language, conforming to established convention in grammar, syntax, and pronunciation. adj. —for'mal ly, adv.

form al de hyde (fōr mal'də hīd), a colorless gas with a sharp, irritating odor. It is used in solution as a disinfectant and preservative. n.

for mal lin (fōr'mə lin), solution of formaldehyde in water. n.

for mal ism (fōr'ml iz əm), strict attention to outward forms and ceremonies. n.

for mal is tic (fōr'ml is'tik), of formalism. adj.

for mal i ty (fōr mal'ē tē), 1. procedure required by custom or rule; outward form; ceremony: The formalities of a wedding or a funeral. 2. attention to forms and customs: Visitors at the court of a king are received with formality. 3. stiffness of manner, behavior, or arrangement: The formality of the party made Amy shy. n., pl. for mal i ties.

for mal ize (fōr'ml īz), 1. make formal. 2. give a definite form to. v., for mal ized, for mal iz ing.

for mat (fōr'mat), shape, size, and general arrangement of a book, magazine, etc. n.

for ma tion (fōr mā'shən), 1. a forming or being formed: Heat causes the formation of steam from water. 2. way in which a thing is arranged; arrangement; order: troops in battle formation. 3. thing formed: Clouds are formations of tiny drops of water in the sky. 4. series of layers or deposits of the same kind of rock or mineral. n.

form a tive (fōr'mə tiv), 1. having to do with formation or development; forming; molding: Home and school are the chief formative influences in a child's life. 2. used to form words. Words are made from other words by adding formative endings, such as -ly and -ness. adj.

for mer (fôr'mər), 1. first of two: Canada and the United States are in North America; the former country lies north of the latter. 2. earlier; past; long past: In former times cooking was done in fireplaces instead of stoves. adj.

for mer ly (fôr'mər lē), in the past; some time ago: Mrs. Edmondson was formerly known as Miss Drummond. adv.

form fit ting (fôrm'fit'ing), fitting closely to the shape: a formfitting sweater. adj.

For mi ca (fôr mī'kə), Trademark. a plastic covering resistant to water, heat, and most chemicals, used on kitchen and bathroom surfaces, tables, etc. n.

for mic acid (fôr'mik), a colorless liquid that is irritating to the skin. It occurs in ants, spiders, nettles, etc.

for mi da ble (fôr'mə də bl), hard to overcome; hard to deal with; to be dreaded: A long examination is more formidable than a short test. adj. —for'mi da-bly, adv.

form less (fôrm'lis), without definite or regular form; shapeless. adj. —form' less ly, adv. —form'less-ness, n.

For mo sa (fôr mō'sə), Taiwan. n.

for mu la (fôr'myə lə), 1. a set form of words, especially one which by much use has partly lost its meaning: "How do you do?" is a polite formula. 2. a statement of religious belief or doctrine: The Apostles' Creed is a formula of Christian faith. 3. rule for doing something, especially as used by those who do not know the reason on which it is based. 4. recipe; prescription: a formula for making soap. 5. expression showing by chemical symbols the composition of a compound: The formula for water is H₂O. 6. expression showing by algebraic symbols a rule, principle, etc.: $(a+b)^2 = a^2 + 2ab + b^2$ is an algebraic formula. n., pl. for mu las or for mu lae.

for mu lae (fôr'myə lē), pl. of formula. n.

for mu lar y (fôr'myə ler'ē), 1. collection of formulas. 2. a set form of words; formula. 3. having to do with formulas. 1,2 n., pl. for mu lar ies; 3 adj.

for mu late (fôr'myə lāt), 1. state definitely; express in systematic form. 2. express in a formula; reduce to a formula. v., for mu lat ed, for mu lat ing. —for-mu la'tor, n.

for mu la tion (fôr'myə lā'shən), 1. a definite statement; expression in systematic form. 2. expression in a formula. n.

for sake (fôr'sāk'), give up; leave alone; leave; abandon: Ben ran away, forsaking his home and friends. v., for sook, for sak en, for sak ing.

for sak en (fôr'sāk'ən), 1. pp. of forsake. That girl has forsaken her old friends. 2. deserted; abandoned; forlorn. 1 v., 2 adj.

for sook (fôr'sūk'), pt. of forsake. He forsook his family. v.

for sooth (fôr'süth'), Archaic. in truth; indeed. adv.

for swear (fôr'swär'), 1. renounce on oath; swear or promise solemnly to give up: The coach asked the team to forswear smoking. 2. deny solemnly or on oath. 3. be untrue to one's sworn word or promise; perjure (oneself). v., for swore, for sworn, for swear ing.

for sworn (fôr'swôr'), pt. of forswear. v.

for sworn (fôr'swôr'), 1. untrue to one's sworn word or promise; perjured. 2. pp. of forswear. Harry has forsworn his bad habits. 1 adj., 2 v.

for syth i a (fôr'sith'ē ə), shrub having many bell-shaped, yellow flowers in early spring before its leaves come out. n.

fort (fôrt), a strong building or place that can be defended against an enemy. n.

hold the fort, 1. make a defense. 2. carry on.

Fort-de-France (fôr'də frāns'), capital of Martinique. 61,000. n.

forte (fôrt), something a person does very well;

strong point; special ability: Cooking is her forte. n.

for te (fôr'tā), in music, loud. adj., adv.

forth (fôrt), 1. forward; onward: From that day forth he lived alone. 2. into view or consideration; out: The sun came forth from behind the clouds. 3. away. adv. and so forth, and so on; and the like.

Forth (fôrt), Firth of, a deep inlet of the North Sea, in SE Scotland. 48 mi. long. See firth for map. n.

forth com ing (fôrt'h'kum'ing), 1. about to appear; approaching: The forthcoming week will be busy. 2. appearance; approach. 3. ready when wanted: She needed help, but none was forthcoming. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

forth right (fôrt'h'rit' for 1; also fôrt'h'rit' for 2, 3), 1. frank and outspoken; straightforward; direct: Mr. Jones made forthright objections to the proposal. 2. straight ahead; directly forward: The soldiers marched forthright to battle. 3. at once; immediately. 1 adj., 2,3 adv. —forth'right'ness, n.

forth with (fôrt'h'with' or fôrt'h'with'), at once; immediately. adv.

for ti eth (fôr'tē ith), 1. next after the 39th; last in a series of 40. 2. one of 40 equal parts. adj., n.

for ti fi ca tion (fôr'tə fə kă'shən), 1. a fortifying. 2. thing used in fortifying; fort, wall, ditch, etc. 3. a fortified place. 4. the enriching of foods with vitamins and minerals. n.

for ti fy (fôr'tə fī), 1. build forts, walls, etc.; strengthen against attack; provide with forts, walls, etc. 2. give support to; strengthen. 3. enrich with vitamins and minerals: fortify bread. v., for ti fied, for ti fy ing.

for tis si mo (fôr'tis'ə mō), in music, very loud. adj., adv.

for ti tude (fôr'tə tūd or fôr'tə tūd), courage in facing pain, danger, or trouble; firmness of spirit. n.

Fort Lamy (lā mē'), capital of the Republic of Chad, in the S part. 44,000.

Fort Lauderdale (fôr'chān dāl), city in SE Florida. 84,000.

fort night (fôr'nīt), two weeks. n.

fort night ly (fôr'nīt lē), 1. once in every two weeks. 2. appearing or happening once in every two weeks. 1 adv., 2 adj.

for tress (fôr'tris), a fortified place; fort. n.

Fort Smith, city in W Arkansas. 53,000.

for tu i tous (fôr'tü'ə təs or fôr'tü'ə təs), happening by chance; accidental: a fortuitous meeting, a fortuitous acquaintance. adj. —for tu'i tous ly, adv.

for tu i ty (fôr'tü'ə tē or fôr'tü'ə tē), chance; accident. n., pl. for tu i ties.

for tu nate (fôr'chə nit), 1. having good luck; lucky. 2. bringing good luck; having favorable results. adj. —for'tu nate ly, adv.

for tune (fôr'chən), 1. a great deal of money or property; riches; wealth: Henry Ford made a fortune. 2. what is going to happen to a person; fate: Gypsies often claim that they can tell people's fortunes. 3. good luck; prosperity; success. 4. what happens; luck; chance: Fortune was against us; we lost. n.

fortune hunter, person who tries to get a fortune by marrying someone rich.

for tune tell er (fôr'chən tel'ər), person who claims to be able to tell what will happen to people. n.

Fort Wayne (wān), city in NE Indiana. 162,000.

Fort Worth (wërth), city in N Texas. 356,000.

for ty (fôr'tē), four times ten; 40. n., pl. for ties, adj.

For ty-Nin ers (fôr'tē nin'ərz), people who went to California to seek gold in 1849. It had been discovered there in 1848. n.pl.

forty winks, a short nap.

fo rum (fô'rəm), 1. the public square or market place of an ancient Roman town. The forum in Rome was used for public assemblies and business. 2. assembly for discussing questions of public interest. 3. a law court; tribunal. n.

for ward (fôr'wârd), 1. ahead; onward: They marched forward. 2. toward the front: come forward (adv.), the forward part of a ship (adj.). 3. advanced; far ahead: A child four years old that can read is forward for his age. 4. out; into view or consideration: In his talk he brought forward several new ideas. 5. send on further: Please forward my mail to my new address. 6. help along: He forwarded his friend's plan. 7. ready; eager: He knew his lesson and was forward with his answers. 8. pert; bold: Don't be so forward. 9. player whose position is in the front line in certain games. 1,2,4 adv., 2,3,7,8 adj., 5,6 v., 9 n. —for'ward er, n.

for ward ness (fôr'wârd nis), 1. readiness; eagerness. 2. pertness; boldness. n.

forward pass, throwing a football to a player on the same team in the direction of the opponents' goal.

for wards (fôr'wârdz), forward. adv.

for went (fôr went'), pt. of for go. v.

fosse (fôs or fos), ditch; trench; canal; moat. n.

foss il (fôs'li), 1. the hardened remains or traces of animals or plants of a former age. Fossils of ferns are found in coal. 2. forming a fossil; of the nature of a fossil. 3. a very old-fashioned person, set in his ways. 4. belonging to the outworn past: fossil ideas. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj. —fôs'sil like', adj.

foss il if er ous (fôs'li if'or əs), containing fossils. adj.

foss il ize (fôs'li iz), 1. change into a fossil; turn into stone. 2. make or become antiquated, set, stiff, or rigid. v., foss il ized, foss il iz ing.

foster (fôs'tər), 1. help the growth or development of; encourage: Ignorance fosters superstition. 2. care for fondly; cherish. 3. bring up; rear. 4. in the same family, but not related by birth: a foster brother. 1-3 v., 4 adj.

Foster (fôs'tər), Stephen Collins, 1826-1864, American composer who wrote "My Old Kentucky Home" and other popular songs. n.

foster brother, boy brought up with another boy or girl of different parents.

foster child, child brought up by a person who is not his parent.

foster father, man who brings up another person's child.

foster mother, woman who brings up another person's child.

foster parent, person who brings up another person's child; foster father or foster mother.

foster sister, girl brought up with another girl or boy of different parents.

fought (fôt), pt. and pp. of fight. He fought bravely yesterday. A battle was fought. v.

foul (foul), 1. very dirty; nasty; smelly; containing filth; covered with filth: Open the windows, and let out the foul air. 2. make or become dirty; soil; defile; disgrace: Mud fouls things. 3. very wicked; vile: Murder is a foul crime. 4. unfair; against the rules. 5. in football, basketball, etc., unfair play; thing done contrary to the rules. 6. make a foul; make a foul against. 7. baseball hit so that it falls outside the base lines. 8. hit (a baseball) in this way. 9. hit against: One boat fouled the other. 10. hitting against: One boat was foul of the other. 11. get tangled up with; catch: The rope fouled the anchor chain. 12. tangled up; caught: The sailor cut the foul rope. 13. clog up: Grease fouled the drain. 14. clogged up: The fire will not burn because the chimney is foul. 15. cover (a ship's bottom) with seaweed, barnacles, etc. 16. of a ship, having the bottom covered with seaweed, barnacles, etc. 17. unfavorable; stormy: Foul weather delayed the ship. 18. contrary: a foul wind. 1,3,4,10,12,14,16-18 adj., 2,6,8,9, 11,13,15 v., 5,7 n. —foul'ly, adv. —foul'ness, n.

foul lard (fû lârd'), a soft, thin fabric made of silk, rayon, or cotton, usually with a printed pattern. It is used for neckties, dresses, etc. n.

foul line, in baseball, either the line from home to first base, or from home to third base, with their marked continuations.

foul play, 1. unfair play; thing or things done against the rules. 2. treachery; violence.

found¹ (found), pt. and pp. of find. We found the treasure. The lost child was found. v.

found² (found), 1. establish; set up: The Pilgrims founded a colony at Plymouth. 2. rest for support; base: He founded his claim on facts. v.

found³ (found), melt and mold (metal); make of molten metal; cast. v.

foun da tion (foun dâ'shən), 1. part on which the other parts rest for support; base: the foundation of a house. 2. a founding or establishing: The foundation of the United States began in 1776. 3. a being founded or established. 4. institution founded and endowed. 5. fund given to support an institution. n.

foun der¹ (foun'dər), 1. fill with water and sink: The ship foundered in the storm. 2. break down; go lame; stumble: His horse foundered. 3. become worn out; fail. 4. cause (a horse) to break down, fall lame, etc. v.

found er² (foun'dər), person who founds or establishes something. n.

found ling (found'ling), baby or child found deserted. n.

found ry (foun'drē), 1. place where metal is melted and molded; place where things are made of molten metal. 2. melting and molding metal; making things of molten metal. n., pl. found ries.

fount (fount), 1. fountain. 2. source. n.

foun tain (fount'n), 1. stream of water rising into the air. 2. pipes through which the water is forced and the basin that receives it. 3. spring of water. 4. place to get a drink: a drinking fountain, a soda fountain. 5. source; origin: Solomon was a fountain of wisdom. 6. container to hold a steady supply of ink, oil, etc. n.

foun tain head (fount'n hed'), 1. source of a stream. 2. an original source. n.

fountain pen, pen for writing that has a reservoir to give a steady supply of ink.

four (fôr), one more than three; 4. n., adj.

on all fours, 1. on all four feet. 2. on hands and knees.

four-flush er (fôr'flush'ər), Slang. person who pretends to be more or other than he really is; bluffer. n.

four fold (fôr'fôld'), 1. four times as much or as many. 2. having four parts. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

four-foot ed (fôr'fût'id), having four feet. adj.

four freedoms, freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear; set forth by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1941.

four-handed ed (fôr'han'did'), 1. having four hands. 2. for four players. adj.

Four-H clubs or 4-H clubs, U.S. a national system of clubs to teach children in rural sections agriculture and home economics. Their purpose is the improvement of head, heart, hands, and health.

four hundred, the most fashionable or exclusive social set.

four-in-hand (fôr'in hand'), 1. a necktie tied in a slip knot with the ends left hanging. 2. carriage pulled by four horses driven by one person. 3. team of four horses. n.

four-o'clock (fôr'ə klok'), a small plant with red, white, or yellow trumpet-shaped flowers that open late in the afternoon and close in the morning. n.

four pence (fôr'pens), 1. four British pennies. 2. a former British silver coin worth four British pennies. n.

four pen ny (fôr'pen'ē or fôr'pən ē), 1. fourpence. 2. worth fourpence; costing fourpence. 1 n., pl. four-pen nies; 2 adj.

four score (fôr'skôr'), four times twenty; 80. adj., n.

four seas, waters bounding Great Britain.

four some (fôr'səm), 1. group of four people. 2. game played by four people, two on each side. 3. the players. n.

four square (fôr'skwâr' for 1-3; fôr'skwâr' for 4), 1. square. 2. frank; outspoken. 3. not yielding; firm. 4. a square. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

four teen (fôr'tēn'), four more than ten; 14. n., adj.
fourteenth (fôr'tēnth'), 1. next after the 13th; last in a series of 14. 2. one of 14 equal parts. adj., n.

fourth (fôrh), 1. next after the third; last in a series of 4. 2. one of 4 equal parts. 3. the musical tone on the fourth degree from a given tone that is counted as the first. 4. interval between such tones. 5. combination of such tones. 1,2 adj., 1-5 n.

fourth dimension, dimension in addition to length, width, and thickness. Time has been thought of as a fourth dimension.

fourthly (fôrh'lē), in the fourth place. adv.

Fourth of July, U.S. holiday in honor of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776.

four-wheeled (fôr'hwēld'), having four wheels; running on four wheels. adj.

fowl (foul), 1. any bird. 2. any of several kinds of large birds used for food, such as the hen, rooster, and turkey. 3. flesh of a fowl used for food. n., pl. fowls or (esp. collectively) fowl.

fowler (foul'ər), person who hunts, shoots, catches, or traps wild birds. n.

fowling piece, a light gun for shooting wild birds.

fox (foks), 1. a wild animal somewhat like a dog. Foxes are sly and crafty. 2. its fur. 3. a sly, crafty person. 4. Informal. trick by being sly and crafty. 5. discolor; stain. 1-3 n., 4,5 v. —fox'-like', adj.

fox glove (foks'gluv'), plant with tall stalks having many bell-shaped flowers. Digitalis is obtained from its leaves and seeds. n.

fox hole (foks'hōl'), hole in the ground for protection against enemy fire. n.

fox hound (foks'hound'), a hound with a keen sense of smell, bred and trained to hunt foxes. n.

fox tail (foks'tāl'), 1. tail of a fox. 2. grass with soft, brushlike spikes of flowers. n.

fox terrier, a small, active dog of a breed once trained to drive foxes from their holes. Fox terriers are white with brown or black spots and may have smooth or rough coats.

fox trot, 1. dance with short, quick steps. 2. music for it.

fox-trot (foks'trot'), dance the fox trot. v., fox-trot ted, fox-trot ting.

fox y (fok'sē), like a fox; sly; crafty. adj., fox i er, fox i est. —fox'ily, adv. —fox'iness, n.

foyer (foi'ər), 1. an entrance hall used as a lounging room in a theater or hotel; lobby. 2. an entrance hall. n.

Fr, francium.

Fr., 1. France. 2. French. 3. Father. 4. Friday.

fra cas (frā'kas), a noisy quarrel or fight; disturbance; uproar; brawl. n.

frac tion (frak'shən), 1. one or more of the equal parts of a whole: $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{3}{4}$, $\frac{5}{8}$, and $\frac{7}{10}$ are fractions. 2. a very small part, amount, etc.; fragment. 3. breaking. n.

frac tion al (frak'shən l), 1. having to do with fractions. 2. forming a fraction: 440 yards are a fractional part of a mile. 3. small by comparison; insignificant. adj.

frac tious (frak'shəs), 1. cross; fretful; peevish. 2. hard to manage; unruly. adj. —frac'tious ly, adv. —frac'tious ness, n.

frac ture (frak'chər), 1. break; crack: The boy fell from a tree and fractured his arm. 2. a break; crack. 3. a breaking or being broken. 4. a breaking of a bone or cartilage. 5. surface of a freshly broken mineral. 1 v., frac tured, frac tur ing; 2-5 n.

frag ile (frāj'əl), easily broken, damaged, or destroyed; delicate; frail. adj. —frag'ile ly, adv.

fra gil i ty (frā jil'ə tē), fragile quality. n.

frag ment (frag'mənt), 1. a broken piece; part broken off. 2. an incomplete or disconnected part: He could hear only fragments of the conversation. 3. part of an incomplete or unfinished work. n.

frag men tar y (frag'mən ter'ē), made up of fragments; incomplete; disconnected: fragmentary remains of a temple, fragmentary evidence, a fragmentary account. adj.

frag men ta tion (frag'mən tā'shən), having to do with a bomb, grenade, etc., that throws bits of metal in all directions as it bursts. adj.

fra grance (frā'grəns), a sweet smell; pleasing odor. n.

fra grant (frā'grənt), having or giving off a pleasing odor; sweet-smelling. adj. —fra'grant ly, adv.

frail (frāl), 1. slender and not very strong; weak: a frail child. 2. easily broken, damaged, or destroyed: Be careful; those branches are a very frail support. 3. morally weak; liable to yield to temptation. adj. —frail'ness, n.

frail ty (frāl'tē), 1. a being frail. 2. moral weakness; liability to yield to temptation. 3. fault or sin caused by moral weakness. n., pl. frail ties.

frame (frām), 1. support over which something is stretched or built: the frame of a house. 2. body: a man of heavy frame. 3. skeleton. 4. way in which a thing is put together. 5. an established order; plan; system. 6. shape; form. 7. put together; plan; make. 8. border in which a thing is set: a window frame, a picture frame. 9. one of the individual pictures on a strip of motion-picture film. 10. one image transmitted by television. 11. put a border around: to frame a picture. 12. Slang. pre-arrange falsely; make seem guilty. 13. one turn at bowling. 1-6,8-10,13 n., 6,7,11,12 v., framed, fram ing. —fram'er, n.

frame house, a wooden house.

frame of mind, way of thinking or feeling; mood.

frame-up (frām'up'), U.S. Slang. 1. a secret and dishonest arrangement made beforehand. 2. arrangement made to have a person falsely accused. n.

frame work (frām'wërk'), 1. support over which a thing is stretched or built; stiff part that gives shape to a thing: A bridge often has a steel framework. 2. way in which a thing is put together; structure; system. n.

franc (frangk), 1. unit of money in France, Belgium, and Switzerland. 2. coin worth one franc. n.

France (frans), 1. country in western Europe. 45,355,000 pop.; 212,659 sq. mi. Capital: Paris. 2. Anatole, 1844-1924, French author. n.

fran chise (fran'chíz), 1. privilege or right granted by a government: The city granted the company a franchise to operate buses on the city streets. 2. right to vote: The United States granted the franchise to women in 1920. n.

Francis (fran'sis), Saint, 1181?-1226, Italian founder of the Franciscan order. n.

Francis can (fran sis'kən), 1. member of a religious order founded by Saint Francis in 1209. 2. of this religious order. 1 n., 2 adj.

fran ci um (fran'sē əm), a rare radioactive element. Symbol: Fr n.

Franc co (frang'kō), Francisco, born 1892, Spanish military leader and politician. n.

fran gi ble (fran'jə bl), breakable. adj.

Red fox (about 3½ ft. long, including the tail)

English foxhound (about 2 ft. high at the shoulder)

Fox terrier (15 in. high at the shoulder)

Part of the frame of a house

frank (frangk), 1. free in expressing one's real thoughts, opinions, and feelings; not hiding what is in one's mind; not afraid to say what one thinks. 2. clearly manifest; undisguised; plain: frank mutiny. 3. send (a letter, package, etc.) without charge. 4. mark to show that a letter, package, etc., is to be sent without charge. 5. right to send letters, packages, etc., without charge. 6. letter, package, etc., sent without charge. 1,2 adj., 3 v., 4-6 n. —frank/ly, adv. —frank/ness, n.

Frank (frangk), 1. member of a group of German tribes that conquered N Gaul in the sixth century A.D. 2. a Greek and Moslem name for any European. n.

Frankenstein (frangk'en stin), 1. man in a story, who creates a monster that he cannot control. 2. thing that causes the ruin of its creator. n.

Frankfort (frangk'fört), 1. capital of Kentucky, in the N part. 18,000. 2. Frankfort on the Main. n.

Frankfort on the Main (mān), city in West Germany, on the Main River, headquarters of the American occupation forces after World War II. 658,000.

frankfurt (frangk'fört), frankfurter. n.

frankfurter (frangk'fört), a reddish sausage made of beef and pork. n.

frank in cense (frangk'in sens), a fragrant resin from certain Asiatic or African trees. It gives off a sweet, spicy odor when burned. n.

Frankish (frangk'ish), of or having to do with the Franks. 2. the language of the Franks (def. 1). 1 adj., 2 n.

Franklin (frangk'län), 1. Benjamin, 1706-1790, American statesman, author, scientist, and inventor. 2. Sir John, 1786-1847, English explorer of N Canada. 3. district in N Canada that includes Baffin Island and several arctic peninsulas and islands. n.

frantic (fran'tik), very much excited; wild with rage, fear, pain, grief, etc. adj. —fran/ti cally, adv.

frappé (fra pä'), U.S. 1. iced; cooled. 2. fruit juice sweetened and frozen. 3. any frozen or iced food or drink. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Fraser (frä'zər), river in SW Canada, flowing into the Pacific. 695 mi. n.

fraternal (frä'tər'nəl), 1. brotherly. 2. having to do with a fraternal order. 3. of twins, coming from two separately fertilized egg cells, as distinguished from identical twins. adj. —fra ter'nal ly, adv.

fraternity (frä'tər'nə'tē), 1. U.S. group of men or boys joined together for fellowship or for some other purpose; society. There are student fraternities in many American colleges. 2. group having the same interests, kind of work, etc. 3. fraternal feeling; brotherhood. n., pl. fra ter ni ties.

fraternalize (frä'tər'nīz), 1. associate in a brotherly way; be friendly. 2. associate in a friendly way with the citizens of a hostile nation during occupation of their territory. v. —frat er nized, frat er nizing. —frat'er ni za'tion, n.

fratricidal (frä'trə'sid'l), 1. having to do with fratricide. 2. having to do with the killing of relatives or fellow citizens: A civil war is a fratricidal struggle. adj.

fratricide (frä'trə'sid), 1. act of killing one's own brother or sister. 2. person who kills his own brother or sister. n.

frau (frou) Slang. wife. n., pl. fraus (frouz).

Frau (frou), German. a. Mrs. b. wife. n., pl. Frauen (frou'en).

fraud (fröd), 1. deceit; cheating; dishonesty: Any intent to deceive is proof of fraud. 2. a dishonest act, statement, etc.; something done to deceive or cheat; trick. 3. Esp. U.S. Informal. person who is not what he pretends to be. n.

fraudulence (fröj'ə'ləns), being fraudulent. n.

fraudulent (fröj'ə'lənt), 1. deceitful; cheating; dishonest. 2. intended to deceive. 3. done by fraud; obtained by trickery. adj. —fraud'u lent ly, adv.

fraught (fröt), loaded; filled: A battlefield is fraught with horror. adj.

fräulein (froi'lin), Slang. a young, unmarried German woman. n., pl. fräuleins.

Fräulein (froi'lin), German. a. Miss. b. an unmarried woman; young lady. n., pl. Fräulein.

fray (frä), a noisy quarrel; fight. n.

fray (frä), 1. separate into threads; make or become ragged or worn along the edge: Long wear had frayed the collar and cuffs of his old shirt. 2. wear away; rub. v.

frazzle (fraz'l), Esp. U.S. 1. tear to shreds; fray; wear out. 2. tire out; weary. 3. Informal. frazzled condition. 1,2 v., fraz zled, fraz zling; 3 n.

freak (fræk), 1. something very queer or unusual: A green leaf growing in the middle of a rose would be called a freak of nature. 2. very queer or unusual. 3. a sudden change of mind without reason; odd notion or fancy. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

freakish (fræk'ish), full of freaks; very queer or unusual. adj.

freckle (frek'l), 1. a small, light-brown spot on the skin. 2. cover with freckles. 3. become marked or spotted with freckles. 1 n., 2,3 v., freck led, freck ling.

freckly (frek'lē), covered with freckles. adj.

Fredricksburg (fred'ər iks bərg'), city in NE Virginia. The Confederate army under General Robert E. Lee defeated the Union army there in 1862. 12,000. n.

Fredricton (fred'ər ik tən), capital of New Brunswick, Canada. 18,000. n.

free (frē), 1. not under another's control; having liberty; able to do, act, or think as one pleases: a free life, free speech. 2. showing liberty; caused by liberty. 3. not held back, fastened, or shut up; released; loose. 4. not hindered; easy: a free step. 5. clear; open. 6. open to all: a free port. 7. without cost or payment: These tickets are free. 8. without paying a tax or duty. 9. giving or using much. 10. abundant. 11. not following rules, forms, or words exactly; not strict. 12. saying what one thinks; frank. 13. not restrained enough by manners or morals. 14. not combined with something else: Oxygen exists free in air. 15. relieve from any kind of burden, bondage, or slavery; make free. 16. let loose; release. 17. clear: He will have to free himself of this charge of stealing. 18. in a free manner. 1-14 adj., free er, free est; 7,18 adv., 15-17 v., freed, free ing. —free/ly, adv. —free/ness, n.

free and easy, paying little attention to rules and customs.

free from or of, without; having no; lacking: free from fear, air free of dust.

free with, giving or using much.

make free with, use as if one had complete rights.

set free, make free; let loose; release.

free board (frē'bōrd'), part of a ship's side between the water line and the deck or gunwale. n.

freebooter (frē'büt'ər), pirate; buccaneer. n.

freebooting (frē'büt'ing), piracy; buccaneering. n.

freeborn (frē'börn'), 1. born free, not in slavery. 2. of or suitable for people born free. adj.

free city, city forming an independent state.

freed man (frēd'mən), man freed from slavery. n., pl. freed men.

free dom (frē'dəm), 1. state or condition of being free. 2. not being under another's control; power to do, say, or think as one pleases; liberty. 3. free use: We give a guest the freedom of our home. 4. lack of restraint; frankness. 5. ease of movement or action. n.

freed woman (frēd'wum'ən), woman freed from slavery. n., pl. freed women.

free-for-all (frē'fər ol'), 1. open to all. 2. fight, race, etc., open to all. 1 adj., 2 n.

free hand (frē'hand'), done by hand without using instruments, measurements, etc. adj.

free handed (frē'han'did), generous; liberal. adj.

free hold (frē'höld'), 1. piece of land held for life or with the right to transfer it to one's heirs. 2. the holding of land in this way. n.

freeholder (frē'höl'dər), person who has a freehold. n.

free lance, 1. writer, artist, etc., who sells his work to anyone who will buy it. 2. soldier in the Middle Ages who fought for any person, group, or state that would pay him. 3. person who fights or works for any cause that he chooses.

free-lance (frē'lans'), work as a free lance writer, artist, etc. v., free-lanced, free-lancing.

free man (frē'man), 1. person who is not a slave or a serf. 2. person who has civil or political freedom; citizen. n., pl. free men.

Free mason (frē'mā'sn), member of a world-wide secret society; Mason. The purpose of the society of Freemasons is mutual aid and fellowship. n.

free on board, delivered free of charge on a train, ship, etc. Abbrev.: f.o.b. or F.O.B.

free port, 1. port open to traders of all countries on the same conditions. 2. port where no taxes or duties must be paid.

free press, a press not censored or controlled by the government.

free sia (frē'zhā), plant of the same family as the iris, that has clusters of fragrant white or yellow flowers. Freesias are grown from bulbs. n.

free silver, the free coinage of silver; making silver into coins for anybody who brings it to the mint.

Free-Soil Party, an American political party that was opposed to extending slavery into Territories not yet admitted as States. It existed from 1848 to 1856.

free-spo ken (frē'spō'kən), speaking freely; saying what one thinks; frank. adj.

free stone (frē'stōn'), 1. stone, such as limestone or sandstone, that can easily be cut without splitting. 2. having a fruit stone that is easily separated from the pulp. 3. fruit having a stone that is easily separated from the pulp. Certain kinds of peaches and plums are freestones. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

free think er (frē'think'ər), person who forms his religious opinions independently of authority or tradition. n.

free thought, religious opinions formed independently of authority or tradition.

Free town (frē'toun), seaport and capital of Sierra Leone, in the W part. 100,000. n.

free trade, trade unrestricted by taxes, imposts, or differences of treatment; especially, international trade free from protective duties and subject only to tariff for revenue. England had free trade for many years.

free trad er (frē'trad'ər), person who favors the system of free trade. n.

free verse, poetry not restricted by the usual rules about meter, rhyme, etc.

free will (frē'wil'), of one's own accord; voluntary: a freewill offering to the Red Cross. adj.

free will, will free from outside restraints; voluntary choice; freedom of decision.

free world, in the mid-20th century, the non-Communist nations. —free-world', adj.

freeze (frēz), 1. turn into ice; harden by cold. 2. make very cold. 3. become very cold. 4. kill or injure by frost. 5. be killed or injured by frost. 6. cover or become covered with ice; clog with ice. 7. fix or become fixed to something by freezing. 8. a freezing or being frozen. 9. period during which there is freezing weather. 10. make or become stiff and unfriendly. 11. chill or be chilled with fear, etc. 12. become motionless. 13. fix (a price) at a definite amount, usually by governmental decree. 14. make (funds, bank balances, etc.) unusable and inaccessible by governmental decree. 1-7, 10-14 v., froze, fro zen, freez ing; 8, 9 n.

freeze out, U.S. Informal, force out; get rid of.

freez er (frēz'ər), 1. machine to freeze ice cream. 2. a refrigerator cabinet (for frozen foods, ice cream, etc.) within which a temperature 20 to 50 degrees below the freezing point is maintained. n.

freezing point, temperature at which a liquid freezes. The freezing point of water at sea level is 32 degrees Fahrenheit or 0 degrees centigrade.

Frei burg (fri'bērg; German fri'bürk), city in S West Germany. 129,000. n.

freight (frāt), 1. load of goods carried on a train, ship, etc. 2. the carrying of goods on a train, ship, etc.: He sent the box by freight. 3. charge for this. 4. train for carrying goods. 5. load with freight. 6. carry as freight. 7. send as freight. 8. load; burden. 1-4, 8 n., 5-8 v.

freight er (frāt'ər), ship or aircraft for carrying freight. n.

Fré mont (frē'mont), John Charles, 1813-1890, American explorer, general, and political leader. n.

French (french), 1. of or having to do with France, its people, or their language. 2. people of France. 3. their language. 1 adj., 2 n.pl., 3 n.sing.

French and Indian War, war in America between France and England from 1754 to 1763.

French Community, the French Republic and six member states which were former French colonies in Africa. 58,098,000 pop.; 1,710,257 sq. mi.

French Equatorial Africa, former French colony comprising the present countries of Central African Republic, Chad, Congo (Brazzaville), and Gabon.

French Guiana, a French overseas department in N South America. 30,000 pop.; 34,740 sq. mi. Capital: Cayenne. See South America for map.

French Guinea, a former French colony in W Africa, now the country of Guinea.

French horn, a brass wind instrument that has a mellow tone.

French India, former French possessions, now part of India.

French Indochina, former French territory in SE Asia, comprising the present countries of Cambodia, Laos, North Vietnam, and South Vietnam.

French leave, act of leaving without ceremony, permission, or notice; secret or hurried departure.

French man (french'man), native or inhabitant of France. n., pl. French men.

French Oceania, former name of French Polynesia.

French Polynesia, an overseas territory of France in the E part of the South Pacific, including the Society Islands, Marquesas Islands, and other island groups. 77,000 pop.; 1520 sq. mi. Capital: Papeete.

French Revolution, revolution in France from 1789 to 1799, which changed France from a monarchy to a republic.

French Somaliland, a French territory in E Africa. 69,000 pop.; 8492 sq. mi. Capital: Djibouti.

French Sudan, a former French colony in northwest Africa, now the country of Mali.

French toast, slices of bread dipped in a mixture of egg and milk and then fried in very little fat.

French West Africa, former group of French colonies comprising the present countries of Guinea and seven members of the French Community: Dahomey, Ivory Coast, Mali, Mauritania, Niger, Senegal, and Upper Volta.

French West Indies, French islands in the West Indies. They include Guadeloupe, Martinique, and lesser islands. 535,000 pop.; 1112 sq. mi.

fre net ic (frē'net'ik), 1. frenzied. 2. insane. adj. Also, phrenetic.

fren zied (fren'zēd), greatly excited; frantic. adj.

fren zy (fren'zē), brief fury; near madness; very great excitement. n. pl. fren zies.

fre quen cy (frē'kwən sē), 1. rate of occurrence: The flashes of light came with a frequency of three per minute. 2. a frequent occurrence. 3. number of complete cycles

Man playing a French horn per second of an alternating current. Different radio stations broadcast at different frequencies so that their signals can be heard distinctly. n., pl. frequen cies.

frequency modulation, 1. a deliberate modulation of the frequency of the transmitting wave in broadcasting. 2. a broadcasting system, relatively free of static, using this method of modulation.

frequent (frē'kwənt for 1,2; frikwent' for 3), 1. occurring often, near together, or every little while: In my part of the country storms are frequent in March. 2. doing (the act specified) often; regular; habitual: He is a frequent caller at our house. 3. go often to; be often in: Frogs frequent ponds, streams, and marshes. 1,2 adj., 3 v.

frequent er (fri kwent'tər), a habitual visitor. n.

frequent ly (frē'kwənt lē), often; repeatedly; every little while. adv.

fresco (fres'kō), 1. act or art of painting with water colors on damp, fresh plaster. 2. picture or design so painted: Beautiful frescoes covered the walls and ceiling of the cathedral. 3. paint in fresco. 1,2 n., pl. frescoes or frescos; 3 v., frescoes, frescoing.

fresh (fresh), 1. newly made, arrived, or obtained: fresh footprints. 2. not known, seen, or used before; new; recent: Is there any fresh news from home? 3. additional; further; another: After her failure she made a fresh start. 4. not salty: Rivers are usually fresh water. 5. not spoiled; not stale: Is the milk fresh? 6. not artificially preserved. 7. not wearied; vigorous; lively: Put in fresh horses. 8. not faded or worn; bright. 9. looking healthy or young. 10. pure; cool; refreshing: a fresh breeze. 11. fairly strong; brisk: A fresh wind is more than a breeze. 12. not experienced. 13. Slang. too bold; impudent. adj. —fresh'ly, adv. —fresh'ness, n.

fresh en (fresh'ən), make fresh; become fresh. v.

fresh et (fresh'it), 1. flood caused by heavy rains or melted snow. 2. rush of fresh water flowing into the sea. n.

fresh man (fresh'mən), 1. student in the first year of high school or college. 2. of first-year high-school or college students: the freshman team. 3. beginner. 1,3 n., pl. freshmen; 2 adj.

fresh-water (fresh'wō'tər), 1. of or living in water that is not salty: The catfish is a fresh-water fish. 2. not used to sailing on the sea. adj.

Fres no (frez'nō), city in central California. 134,000. n.

fret (fret), 1. be peevish, unhappy, discontented, or worried: A baby frets in hot weather. Don't fret about your mistake. 2. make peevish, unhappy, discontented, or worried: Lola's failures fretted her. 3. peevish complaining; worry; discontented condition. 4. eat away; wear; rub. 5. roughen; disturb. 1,2,4,5 v., fretted, fretting; 3 n. —fret'ter, n.

fret (fret), 1. an ornamental pattern made of straight lines bent or combined at angles. 2. decorate with fretwork. 1 n., 2 v., fretted, fretting.

fret (fret), any of a series of ridges of wood, ivory, or metal on a guitar, banjo, etc., to show where to put the fingers in order to produce certain tones. n.

fret ful (fret'fəl), apt to fret; peevish; unhappy; discontented: My baby brother is fretful because he is cutting his teeth.

adj. —fret'ful ly, adv. —fret'ful ness, n.

fret saw, saw with a long, slender blade and fine teeth, used to cut thin wood into patterns.

fret work (fret'werk'), ornamental open-work or carving. n.

Freud (froid), Sigmund, 1856-1939, Austrian physician who developed a theory and technique of psychoanalysis. n.

Freud ian (froid'ē-ən), 1. of or having to do with Freud or his teachings. 2. person who believes in Freud's teachings or follows his technique of psychoanalysis. 1 adj., 2 n.

Fret saw

Fretwork

Frey (frā), the Norse god of love, peace, and plenty, and giver of wealth. n.

Frey a (frā'ə), the Norse goddess of love and beauty. n.

Fri., Friday.

fri a bil ity (fri'ə bil'ə tē), being friable. n.

fri a ble (fri'ə bl), easily crumbled: Dry soil is friable. adj.

fri ar (fri'ər), member of certain religious orders of the Roman Catholic Church. The Franciscans, Dominicans, Carmelites, and Augustinians are the four great orders of friars. n.

fric as see (frik'ə sē'), 1. meat cut up, stewed, and served in a sauce made with its own gravy. 2. prepare (meat) in this way. 1 n., 2 v., fricassee, fricasseeing.

fric tion (frik'shən), 1. a rubbing of one object against another; rubbing: Matches are lighted by friction. 2. resistance to motion of surfaces that touch: A sled moves more easily on smooth ice than on rough ground because there is less friction. 3. conflict of differing ideas, opinions, etc.; disagreement: Constant friction between the two nations finally caused a war. n.

fric tion al (frik'shən l), having to do with friction; caused by friction. adj.

Fri day (fri'dē), 1. the sixth day of the week, following Thursday. 2. servant of Robinson Crusoe. 3. any faithful servant or devoted follower. n.

fried (frid), 1. cooked in hot fat. 2. pt. and pp. of fry. I fried the ham. Are the potatoes fried? 1 adj., 2 v.

friend (frend), 1. person who knows and likes another. 2. person who favors and supports: She was a generous friend to the poor. 3. person who belongs to the same side or group. n.

Friend (frend), member of the Society of Friends, a religious group opposed to war and to taking oaths; Quaker. The Friends favor simplicity in clothes and manners. n.

friend less (frend'lis), without friends. adj.

friend ly (frend'lē), 1. of a friend; having the attitude of a friend; kind: a friendly greeting. 2. like a friend; like a friend's. 3. on good terms; not hostile: friendly relations between countries. 4. wanting to be a friend: a friendly dog. 5. favoring and supporting; favorable. 6. in a friendly manner; as a friend. 1-5 adj., friend li er, friend li est; 6 adv. —friend'li ness, n.

Friendly Islands, Tonga Islands.

friend ship (frend'ship), 1. state of being friends.

2. a liking between friends.

3. friendly feeling or behavior. n.

Fries land (frēz'lənd), district in N Netherlands. n.

frieze (frēz), 1. a horizontal band of decoration around a room, building, mantel, etc. 2. a horizontal band, often ornamented with sculpture, between the cornice and architrave of a building. n.

frieze (frēz), a thick woolen cloth with a shaggy nap on one side. n.

frig ate (frig'it), a fast, three-masted, sailing warship of medium size, much used from 1750 to 1850. n.

frigate bird, a strong-flying, tropical sea bird that steals other birds' food.

Frigg (frig), wife of Odin, and Norse goddess of the sky. n.

Frig ga (frig'ə), Frigg. n.

fright (frit), 1. sudden fear; sudden terror. 2. Informal. person or thing that is ugly, shocking, or ridiculous. 3. Poetic. frighten. 1,2 n., 3 v.

fright en (frit'n), 1. fill with fright; make afraid; scare. 2. become afraid. v.

Frigate

Frigate bird (40 in. long) fright ened (frīt'nd), filled with fright; afraid. adj.

fright ful (frīt'fəl), 1. that should cause fright; dreadful; terrible. 2. ugly; shocking. 3. Informal. disagreeable; unpleasant. 4. Informal. very great. adj.
—fright/ful ly, adv. —fright/ful ness, n.

frigid (frij'id), 1. very cold: a frigid climate. 2. cold in feeling or manner; stiff; chilling: a frigid bow, frigid conversation. adj. —frigid/ly, adv. —frigid/ness, n.
frigid ity (frij'id'ə tē), being frigid. n.

Frigid Zone, region within the Arctic or the Antarctic Circle. See zone for diagram.

frijol (frē'hōl), kind of bean much used for food in Mexico and SW United States. n., pl. frijoles (frē'holz or fri hō'lēz).

frijole (frē'hōl or fri hō'lē), frijol. n., pl. frijoles (frē'hōlz or fri hō'lēz).

frill (fril), 1. a ruffle. 2. decorate with a ruffle; adorn with ruffles. 3. Informal. thing added merely for show; useless ornament; affectation of dress, manner, speech, etc. 4. fringe of feathers, hair, etc., around the neck of a bird or animal. 1,3,4 n., 2 v.

Fringes (def. 1)

fringe (frinj), 1. border or trimming made of threads, cords, etc., either loose or tied together in small bunches. 2. anything like this; border: A fringe of hair hung over her forehead. 3. anything thought of as marginal rather than central: He belongs to the radical fringe of the labor movement. 4. make a fringe for. 5. be a fringe for: Bushes fringed the road. 6. of the border or outside. 7. apart from the main purpose; secondary: In their last conference the union leaders discussed fringe benefits, such as rest periods and safety precautions, rather than higher wages for the workers. 1-3 n., 4,5 v., fringed, fring ing; 6,7 adj.

frip per y (frīp'ər ē), 1. cheap, showy clothes; gaudy ornaments. 2. a showing off; foolish display; pretended refinement: Affectations of manner and speech are mere frippery. n., pl. fripper ies.

Fris co (fris'kō), Informal. San Francisco. n.

frisk (frisk), 1. run and jump about playfully; skip and dance joyously; frolic. 2. Slang. search (a person) for concealed weapons, stolen goods, etc., by running a hand quickly over his clothes. 3. Slang. steal from (a person) in this way. v.

frisk y (fris'kē), playful; lively. adj., frisk i er, frisk i est. —frisk/i ly, adv., —frisk/i ness, n.

frit ter¹ (frit'ər), 1. waste little by little. 2. cut or tear into small pieces; break into fragments. 3. a small piece; fragment. 1,2 v., 3 n. —frit/ter er, n.

frit ter² (frit'ər), a small cake of batter, sometimes containing fruit or other food, fried in fat: corn fritters. n.

fri vol i ty (fri vol'ə tē), 1. being frivolous. 2. a frivolous act or thing. n., pl. fri vol i ties.

friv o lous (friv'ə ləs), 1. lacking in seriousness or sense; silly: Frivolous behavior is out of place in church. 2. of little worth or importance; trivial: He wasted his time on frivolous matters. adj. —friv/o lous ly, adv. —friv/o lous ness, n.

friz or frizz (friz), 1. form into small, crisp curls; curl. 2. hair curled in small, crisp curls or a very close crimp. 1 v., frizzed, friz zing; 2 n., pl. friz zes.

friz zle¹ (friz'l), 1. form into small, crisp curls; curl. 2. a small, crisp curl. 1 v., friz zled, friz zing; 2 n.

friz zle² (friz'l), 1. make a hissing, sputtering noise when cooking; sizzle. 2. a hissing, sputtering noise; sizzle. 3. fry or broil until crisp. 1,3 v., friz zled, friz zling; 2 n.

friz zly (friz'lē), full of small, crisp curls; curly. adj., friz zli er, friz zli est.

friz zy (friz'ē), frizzly. adj., friz zi er, friz zi est.

fro (frō), from; back. adv.

to and fro, first one way and then back again;

back and forth: A rocking chair goes to and fro.
Fro bish er (frō'bish'ər), Sir Martin, 1535?-1594, English navigator. n.

frock (frok), 1. gown; dress. 2. a loose outer garment. 3. robe worn by a clergyman. 4. clothe in a frock. 1-3 n., 4 v.

frog (frog), 1. a small, leaping animal with webbed feet, that lives in or near water. 2. animal like this. A tree frog lives in trees. 3. arrangement of a rail where a railroad track crosses or branches from another. 4. pad of horny substance in the middle of the bottom of a foot of a horse, donkey, etc. n.

Frog

frog in the throat, slight hoarseness caused by soreness or swelling in the throat.

frog (frog), an ornamental fastening for a coat or dress. n.

frog man (frog'man), a person trained and equipped with aqualungs for underwater operations of various kinds. Most of the world's navies now have frogmen. n., pl. frog men.

F, frogs on a cloak frol ic (frol'ik), 1. a gay prank; fun. 2. a merry game or party. 3. play; have fun; make merry. 4. full of fun; gay; merry. 1,2 n., 3 v., frolicked, frolick ing; 4 adj. —frol/ick er, n.

frol ic some (frol'ik səm), full of fun; gay; merry. adj.
from (from or frum; unstressed frəm), 1. out of: a train from New York. 2. out of the control or possession of: Take the book from her. 3. starting at; beginning with: from that time forward. 4. caused by; because of; by reason of: act from a sense of duty. 5. as being unlike: Anyone can tell apples from oranges. prep.

frond (frond), a divided leaf of a fern, palm, etc. n.

front (frunt), 1. the first part; foremost part. 2. part that faces forward. 3. thing fastened or worn on the front. 4. place where fighting is going on; line of battle. 5. broad activity combining different groups in a political or economic battle. 6. the forces fighting for some political or social aim. 7. land facing a street, river, etc. 8. of, on, in, or at the front. 9. have the front toward; face: Helen's house fronts the park. 10. be in front of. 11. meet face to face; defy; oppose. 12. manner of looking or behaving. 13. Informal. an outward appearance of wealth, importance, etc. 14. Informal. person appointed to add respectability or prestige to an enterprise. 15. Informal. person or thing that serves as a cover for illegal activities. 16. forehead. 17. face. 18. the dividing surface between two dissimilar air masses. 1-7,12-18 n., 8 adj., 9-11 v. in front of, before.

Frond of maidenhair fern front age (frun'tij), 1. front of a building or of a lot. 2. length of this front. 3. direction that the front of a building or lot faces. 4. land facing a street, river, etc. 5. land between a building and a street, river, etc. n.

frontage road, a road paralleling an expressway or freeway to provide access to local residents.

front al (frun'tl), 1. of, on, in, or at the front: a frontal attack. 2. of the forehead: frontal bones. 3. a bone of the forehead. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

front tier (frun'tir'), 1. U.S. the farthest part of a settled country, where the wilds begin. 2. part of a country next to another country; border. 3. an uncertain or undeveloped region: the frontiers of science. 4. of or on the frontier. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

frontiers man (frun tîrz'mən), a man who lives on the frontier. n., pl. frontiers men.

frontis piece (frun'tis pēs), 1. picture facing the title page of a book or of a division of a book. 2. pediment over a door, gate, etc. n.

front let (frun'tlit), 1. band or ornament worn on the forehead. 2. forehead of an animal. n.

front-page (frun'tpāj'), suitable for the front page of a newspaper; important. adj.

frost (frōst), 1. freezing condition; very cold weather; temperature below the point at which water freezes. 2. feathery crystals of ice formed when water vapor in the air condenses at a temperature below freezing: frost on the grass. 3. cover with frost. 4. cover with anything that suggests frost: The cook frosted the cake. 5. kill or injure by frost. 6. coldness of manner or feeling. 7. Slang. failure. 1,2,6,7 n., 3-5 v. —frost/-less, adj. —frost/like', adj.

frost bite (frōst'bit'), 1. injury to a part of the body caused by severe cold. 2. injury (a part of the body) by severe cold. 1 n., 2 v., frost bit, frost bit ten, frost biting.

frost bit ten (frōst'bit'n), 1. injured by severe cold. 2. pp. of frostbite. My ears were frostbitten. 1 adj., 2 v. frost ed (frōs'tid), 1. covered with frost: a frosted window. 2. having a surface like frost: frosted glass. 3. iced: a frosted cake. 4. frozen. adj.

frost ing (frōs'ting), 1. mixture of sugar and some liquid, with or without the whites of eggs, flavoring, etc., to cover a cake. 2. a dull finish on glass, metal, etc. n.

frost y (frōs'tē), 1. cold enough for frost; freezing: a frosty morning. 2. covered with frost: The glass is frosty. 3. covered with anything like frost. 4. cold in manner or feeling; unfriendly: a frosty greeting. 5. hoary; gray. 6. of or like old age. adj., frost i er, frost i est. —frost/i ly, adv. —frost/i ness, n.

froth (frōth), 1. foam: There was froth on the mad dog's lips. 2. give out froth; foam. 3. cover with foam. 4. cause to foam by beating, pouring, etc. 5. something light and trifling; trivial notions, unimportant talk, etc. 1,5 n., 2-4 v.

frothy (frōth'ē), 1. of or like froth; foamy: frothy soapsuds. 2. light; trifling; shallow; unimportant: frothy conversation. adj., froth i er, froth i est. —froth/i ness, n.

frou-frou (frū'frū'), a swishing; rustling. n.

fro ward (frō'wərd), not easily managed; willful; contrary. adj. —fro'ward ness, n.

frown (froun), 1. a drawing together of the brows, usually in deep thought or in strong feeling. 2. any expression or show of disapproval. 3. draw the brows together; look with disapproval: The teacher frowned when the boy came in late. 4. look displeased or angry. 5. express by frowning. 1,2 n., 3-5 v. —frown/-ing ly, adv.

frows y (frouz'ē), frowzy. adj., frows i er, frows i est. frowz y (frouz'ē), 1. slovenly; dirty; untidy. 2. smelling bad. adj., frowz i er, frowz i est. —frowz/i ly, adv. —frowz/i ness, n.

froze (frōz), pt. of freeze. The water in the pond froze. v.

fro zen (frō'zn), 1. turned into ice; hardened by cold: a river frozen over, frozen pudding. 2. very cold. 3. killed or injured by frost. 4. covered or clogged with ice. 5. cold and unfeeling: a frozen heart. 6. too frightened or stiff to move: frozen to the spot in horror. 7. made temporarily impossible to sell or exchange: frozen assets. 8. pp. of freeze. The water has frozen to ice. 1-7 adj., 8 v. frt., freight.

fructi fic a tion (fruk'tə fə kās'hən), 1. a forming or bearing of fruit. 2. the fruit. n.

fruc ti fy (fruk'tə fi), 1. bear fruit. 2. make fruitful; fertilize. v., fruc ti fied, fruc ti fy ing.

fruc tose (fruk'tōs), a sugar occurring in three optically different forms, the best known being fruit sugar or levulose. n.

frugal (frū'gl), 1. avoiding waste; saving; tending to avoid unnecessary spending: A frugal housekeeper buys and uses food carefully. 2. costing little; barely sufficient: He ate a frugal supper of bread and milk. adj. —fru'gal ly, adv.

fru gal i ty (frū gal'ə tē), thrift; avoidance of waste; tendency to avoid unnecessary spending. n., pl. fru-gal i ties.

fruit (früt), 1. product of a tree, bush, shrub, or vine that is good to eat. Apples and oranges are fruits. 2. in botany, the part of a plant that contains the seeds. A fruit is the ripened ovary of a flower and the tissues connected with it. Pea pods, acorns, grains of wheat, etc., are fruits. 3. the useful product of plants: the fruits of the earth. 4. product; result: His invention was the fruit of much effort. 5. have or produce fruit. 1-4 n., 5 v. —fruit/like', adj.

fruit age (früt'ij), 1. a having or producing fruit. 2. fruit; crop of fruit. 3. product; result. n.

fruit cake, a rich cake containing raisins, currants, spices, etc.

fruit cup, mixed fruits served in a cup or glass as an appetizer.

fruit er (früt'ər), 1. ship for carrying fruit. 2. tree that produces fruit. 3. grower of fruit. n.

fruit er er (früt'ər ər), dealer in fruit. n.

fruit fly, a small fly whose larvae feed on decaying fruits and vegetables.

fruit ful (früt'fəl), 1. producing much fruit. 2. producing much of anything. 3. having good results; bringing benefit or profit: A successful plan is fruitful. adj. —fruit/ful ly, adv. —fruit/ful ness, n.

fru i tion (frū ish'ən), 1. condition of having results; fulfillment; attainment: After years of hard work his plans came to fruition. 2. pleasure that comes from possession or use. 3. condition of producing fruit. n.

fruit less (früt'lis), 1. having no results; useless; unsuccessful. 2. producing no fruit; barren. adj. —fruit/-less ly, adv.

fruit sugar, levulose.

fruit tree, tree whose fruit is good to eat.

fruit y (früt'ē), tasting or smelling like fruit. adj., fruit i er, fruit i est.

fru men ty (frū'mən tē), hulled wheat boiled in milk and flavored with sugar, cinnamon, etc. n.

frump ish (frump'ish), shabby and out of style in dress. adj.

Frun ze (frün'zə), capital of Kirghiz republic of the Soviet Union. 217,000. n.

frus trate (frus'trät), 1. bring to nothing; make useless or worthless; foil; defeat: Heavy rain frustrated our plans for a picnic. 2. thwart; oppose: The great artist had never been frustrated in his ambition to paint. v., frus trat ed, frus trating.

frus tra tion (frus trā'shən), a frustrating or being frustrated. n.

frus tum (frus'təm), 1. part of a cone-shaped solid left after the top has been cut off by a plane parallel to the base. 2. part of a solid between two cutting planes. n., pl. frus tums, frus ta (-tə).

fry¹ (fri), 1. cook in hot fat.

2. fried food; dish of fried meat, fish, etc. 3. U.S. an outdoor social gathering at which food, usually fish, is fried and eaten. 1 v., fried, fry ing; 2,3 n., pl. fries.

fry² (fri), 1. the young of fish. 2. small adult fish living together in large groups. 3. young creatures; offspring; children. n., pl. fry.

small fry, 1. children. 2. people or things having little importance.

fry er (fri'ər), chicken intended for frying. n.

frying pan, a shallow pan with a long handle, used for frying food.

out of the frying pan into the fire, direct from one danger or difficulty into a worse one.

ft., 1. foot. 2. feet. 3. fort.

FTC, Federal Trade Commission.

fuch sia (fū/shə), shrub with handsome pink, red, or purple flowers that droop from the stems. n.

fud dle (fud/1), 1. make stupid with drink; intoxicate. 2. confuse; muddle. v., fud dled, fud dling.

fudge (fuj), 1. a soft candy made of sugar, milk, butter, etc. 2. nonsense. 3. nonsense! bosh! 4. put together in a clumsy or dishonest way; fake. 1,2 n., 3 interj., 4 v., fudged, fudging.

Fueh rer (fy'rər), Führer. n.

fu el (fū/əl), 1. thing that can be burned to make a fire. Coal, wood, and oil are fuels. 2. thing that keeps up or increases a feeling: His insults were fuel to her hatred. 3. supply with fuel. 4. get fuel. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., fu elled, fu el ling.

fu gi tive (fū/jə tiv), 1. person who is fleeing or who has fled: The murderer became a fugitive from justice. 2. fleeing; having fled; runaway: a fugitive slave. 3. lasting only a very short time; passing swiftly. 4. dealing with subjects of temporary interest. 5. roving; shifting. 1 n., 2-5 adj. —fu/gi tive ness, n.

fugue (fūg), a musical composition based on one or more short themes in which different voices or instruments repeat the same melody with slight variations. n.

Füh rer (fy'rər), German. title given to Hitler. Führer means leader. n.

Fu ji (fū/jē), Fujiyama. n.

Fu ji ya ma (fū/jē yā'mə), a beautiful mountain in S Japan, near Tokyo. 12,395 ft. n.

Fu ku o ka (fū/kū ō'kā), city in SW Japan. 550,000. n.

-ful, suffix meaning:

1. full of, as in cheerful.
2. having; characterized by, as in careful, thoughtful.
3. having a tendency to, as in harmful, mournful.
4. enough to fill, as in cupful, handful.
5. other meanings, as in manful, useful.

ful crum (fūl'krəm), support on which a lever turns or is supported in moving or lifting something. n., pl. ful crums, ful cra (-krə).

ful fill or ful fīl (fūl'fīl), 1. carry out (a promise, prophecy, etc.); cause to happen or take place. 2. do or perform (a duty); obey (a command, law, etc.): Ruth fulfilled all the teacher's requests. 3. satisfy (a requirement, condition, etc.); serve (a purpose). 4. finish; complete. v., ful filled, ful fill ing.

ful fil ment or ful fil ment (fūl'fīl'mənt), a fulfilling; completion; performance; accomplishment. n.

full (fūl), 1. filled; able to hold no more; with no empty space: a full cup. 2. complete; entire: a full supply. 3. completely; entirely: Fill the pail full. 4. of the greatest size, amount, extent, volume, etc.: He ran a full mile. 5. the greatest size, amount, extent, volume, etc.: He satisfied his ambition to the full. 6. more than enough to satisfy; well supplied; abundant. 7. plump; round; well filled out: a full face. 8. made with wide folds or much cloth: a full skirt. 9. make with wide folds or much cloth. 10. strong, sonorous, and distinct: An orator should have a full voice. 11. straight; directly: The blow hit him full in the face. 1,2,4,6-8,10 adj., 3,11 adv., 5 n., 9 v.

at the full, at the time or point of fullness.

full of, 1. filled with. 2. absorbed; completely taken up with.

full many, very many.

full well, very well.

in full, 1. to or for the complete amount. 2. written or said with all the words; not abbreviated or shortened.

to the full, completely; entirely.

full back (fūl'bak'), player whose position is farthest behind the front line in football and other games. See halfback for diagram. n.

full blast, Informal. in full operation; at highest speed or largest capacity.

full-blood ed (fūl'blud'id), 1. of pure race, breed, or strain; thoroughbred. 2. vigorous; hearty. adj.

full-blown (fūl'blōn'), 1. in full bloom. 2. completely developed or matured. adj.

full-bod ied (fūl'bod'id), having considerable strength, flavor, etc. adj.

full dress, the formal clothes worn in the evening or on important occasions.

full er (fūl'ər), person whose work is cleaning and thickening cloth. n.

fuller's earth, a soft, claylike mixture used for removing grease from cloth and for purifying oil.

full-fledged (fūl'flejd'), 1. fully developed. 2. of full rank or standing: John is now a full-fledged Boy Scout. adj.

full-grown (fūl'grōn'), fully grown; mature. adj.

full house, a poker hand made up of three cards of one kind and two of another, such as three sixes and two kings.

full moon, the moon seen as a whole circle.

full ness (fūl'nis), being full: The bag bulged because of its fullness. n. Also, fulness.

full-rigged (fūl'rigd'), 1. completely equipped with masts and sails. 2. completely equipped. adj.

full sail, 1. with all sails set. 2. with all possible power and energy.

full swing, full operation; vigorous activity or movement.

ful ly (fūl'ē), 1. completely; entirely. 2. abundantly; plentifully. 3. quite; exactly. adv.

ful mi nate (fūl'mə nāt), 1. thunder forth (censure, threats, decrees, etc.): The churches and the newspapers fulminated against the crime wave. 2. denounce violently; censure strongly. 3. explode violently. 4. a violent explosive. 1-3 v., ful mi nat ed, ful mi nat ing; 4 n.

ful mi na tion (fūl'mə nā'shən), 1. a violent denunciation; strong censure. 2. a violent explosion. n.

ful ness (fūl'nis), fullness. n.

ful some (fūl'səm), so much as to be disgusting; offensive. adj. —ful/some ly, adv. —ful/some ness, n.

Ful ton (fūlt'n), Robert, 1765-1815, American inventor who built the steamboat Clermont and ran it successfully on the Hudson River in 1807. n.

fum ble (fum'bl), 1. grope awkwardly: He fumbled about in his pockets for the ticket. 2. handle awkwardly. 3. an awkward groping or handling. 4. fail to catch and hold (a ball). 5. failure to catch and hold a ball. 1,2,4 v., fum bled, fum bling; 3,5 n. —fum/bling ly, adv.

fume (fūm), 1. vapor, gas, or smoke, especially if harmful, strong, or odorless: The strong fumes of the acid nearly choked him. 2. give off fumes: The candle fumed and sputtered. 3. pass off in fumes. 4. fit of anger; angry or irritable mood. 5. make angry complaints; show anger or irritation: Mr. Smith always fumed about the slowness of the trains. 6. treat with fumes: fumed oak. 1,4 n., 2,3,5,6 v., fumed, fum ing. fumed oak, oak darkened and colored by exposure to ammonia fumes.

fu mi gate (fū'mə gāt), disinfect with fumes; expose to fumes: They fumigated the building to kill the vermin. v., fu mi gat ed, fu mi gat ing. —fu/mi ga'tion, n.

fu mi ga tor (fū'mə gā'tər), 1. person who fumigates. 2. apparatus for fumigating. n.

fun (fun), playfulness; merry play; amusement; joking. n.

Man wearing full dress

Man lifting a stone with lever resting on a fulcrum. The closer the fulcrum is to the stone, the more lift he gets by pushing down on the lever at the other end.

make fun of or poke fun at, laugh at; ridicule.

func tion (fungk/'shən), 1. proper work; normal action or use; purpose: The function of the stomach is to digest food. 2. work; be used; act: Mary functioned as teacher. My new pen does not function very well. 3. a formal public or social gathering for some purpose, such as a wedding. 4. a mathematical quantity whose value depends on, or varies with, the value given to one or more related quantities: The volume of a sphere is a function of the radius. 1,3,4 n., 2 v.

func tion al (fungk/'shən l), 1. having to do with a function or functions. 2. having a function; working; acting. 3. useful in many ways; adaptable: functional furniture. adj. —func'tion al ly, adv.

func tion ar y (fungk/'shən er'ē), official. n., pl. func-tion aries, adj.

fund (fund), 1. sum of money set aside for a special purpose: The school has a fund of $1000 to buy books with. 2. stock or store ready for use; supply: There is a fund of information in a dictionary. 3. set aside a sum of money to pay the interest on (a debt). 4. change (a debt) from a short term to a long term. 1,2 n., 3,4 v. funds, 1. money ready to use. 2. money.

fun da men tal (fun'də men'tl), 1. of the foundation or basis; forming a foundation or basis; essential. 2. principle, rule, law, etc., that forms a foundation or basis; essential part. 3. having to do with the lowest note of a chord in music. 4. the lowest note of a chord in music. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n. —fun'da men'tal ly, adv.

fun da men tal ism (fun'də men'tl iz əm), 1. the belief that the words of the Bible were inspired by God and should be believed and followed literally. 2. movement in certain churches upholding this belief. n.

fun da men tal ist (fun'də men'tl ist), person who believes in fundamentalism. Fundamentalists refuse to accept any teaching which conflicts with the Bible. n.

Fun dy (fun'dē), Bay of, a deep inlet of the Atlantic, between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, Canada. n.

fu ner al (fū'nər əl), 1. ceremonies performed when a dead person's body is buried or burned. A funeral usually includes a religious service and taking the body to the place where it is buried or burned. 2. procession taking a dead person's body to the place where it is buried or burned. 3. of a funeral; suitable for a funeral: A funeral march is very slow. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

fu ner ar y (fū'nər er'ē), of a funeral or burial. A funerary urn holds the ashes of a dead person's body. adj.

fu ne re al (fū nir'ē əl), 1. of or suitable for a funeral. 2. sad; gloomy; dismal. adj. —fu ne're al ly, adv.

fun gi (fun'jī), pl. of fungus. n.

fun gi cid al (fun'jə sīd'l), that destroys fungi. adj.

fun gi cide (fun'jə sīd), any substance that destroys fungi. n.

fun goid (fung/'goid), resembling a fungus; having spongy, unhealthful growths. adj.

fun gous (fung/'gəs), 1. of a fungus or fungi; like a fungus; spongy. 2. growing or springing up suddenly, but not lasting. 3. caused by a fungus. adj.

fun gus (fung/'gəs), 1. any of a group of plants without flowers, leaves, or green coloring matter. Mushrooms, toadstools, molds, smuts, and mildews are fungi. 2. something that grows or springs up rapidly like a mushroom. 3. a diseased, spongy growth on the skin. 4. fungous. 1-3 n., pl. fun gi or fun gus es; 4 adj.

Fungus (def. 1) growing on a tree fu nic u lar (fū nik/'yə lər), of a rope; hanging from a rope. A funicular railway is a railway system in which the cars are moved by cables. adj.

funk (fungk), Informal. 1. fear; panic. 2. be afraid of. 3. frighten. 4. shrink from; shirk. 1 n., 2-4 v.

fun nel (fun'l), 1. a small, tapering tube with a wide, cone-shaped mouth. A funnel is used to prevent spilling in pouring liquids, powder, etc., into containers with small openings. 2. anything shaped like a funnel. 3. a round metal chimney; smokestack: The steamship had two funnels. See the picture below. 4. flue. 5. pass or feed through a funnel. 1-4 n., 5 v., fun neled, fun nel ing or esp. Brit. fun nelled, fun nel ling.

Funnel for pouring fun nies (fun'ēz), U.S. 1. comic strips. 2. section of a newspaper devoted to them. n.pl.

fun ny (fun'ē), 1. causing laughter; amusing: The funny little man and his funny little children kept our neighborhood smiling. 2. Informal. strange; queer; odd. 3. U.S. having to do with the part of a newspaper containing comic strips. adj., fun ni er, fun ni est. —fun'ni ly, adv. —fun'ni ness, n.

Funnels (def. 3) on a steamship fun ny bone, part of the elbow over which a nerve passes. When it is struck, a sharp, tingling sensation is felt in the arm and hand.

fur (fēr), 1. the soft hair covering the skin of certain animals. 2. skin with such hair on it. Fur is used to make, cover, trim, or line clothing. 3. garment made of fur. 4. make, cover, trim, or line with fur. 5. a coating of foul or waste matter like fur. A sick person often has fur on his tongue. 6. coat with foul or waste matter like fur. 7. put furring on. 1-3,5 n., 4,6,7 v. furred, fur ring. —fur'less, adj.

fur., 1. furlong. 2. furnished.

fur be low (fēr'bə lō), 1. bit of elaborate trimming: There were many frills and furbelows on her dress. 2. trim in an elaborate way. 1 n., 2 v.

fur bish (fēr'bish), 1. brighten by rubbing or scouring; polish: He furbished up the rusty sword. 2. restore to good condition; make usable again: Before going to France, he furbished up his half-forgotten French. v.

Fu ries (fyūr'ēz), in Greek and Roman mythology, the three spirits of revenge. n.pl.

fu ri ous (fyūr'ē əs), 1. intensely violent; raging: a furious storm. 2. full of wild, fierce anger. 3. of unrestrained energy, speed, etc.: furious activity. adj.

—fu'ri ous ly, adv. —fu'ri ous ness, n.

furl (fēr'l), 1. roll up; fold up: furl a sail, furl a flag. 2. act of furling. 1 v., 2 n. —fur'ler, n.

fur long (fēr'lōng), measure of distance equal to one eighth of a mile. n.

fur lough (fēr'lō), 1. leave of absence, especially for a soldier. 2. give leave of absence to. 1 n., 2 v.

fur nace (fēr'nis), 1. an enclosed structure to make a very hot fire in. Furnaces are used to heat buildings, melt metals, make glass, etc. 2. a very hot place. 3. a severe test. n.

fur nish (fēr'nish), 1. supply; provide: The sun furnishes heat. 2. supply (a room, house, etc.) with furniture, equipment, etc.: We furnished the living room. v. —fur'nish er, n.

fur nish ings (fēr'nish ingz), 1. furniture or equipment for a room, house, etc. 2. accessories of dress; articles of clothing: That store sells men's furnishings. n.pl.

fur ni ture (fēr'nə chər), 1. movable articles needed in a room, house, etc. Beds, chairs, tables, and desks are furniture. 2. articles needed; equipment. The harness and ornamental coverings for a horse were called furniture in the Middle Ages. n.

fu ror (fyūr'ör), 1. outburst of wild enthusiasm or excitement. 2. craze; mania. 3. fury; madness; frenzy. n.

furred (fêrd), 1. having fur. 2. made, covered, trimmed, or lined with fur. 3. wearing fur. 4. coated with foul or waste matter. 5. with furring on it. adj.
furrier (fêr'ē ar), 1. dealer in furs. 2. person whose work is preparing furs or making and repairing fur coats, etc. n.

fur ring (fêr'ing), 1. fur used to make, cover, trim, or line clothing. 2. a coating of foul or waste matter like fur. 3. thin strips of wood fastened to beams, walls, etc., to make a level support for laths, etc., or to provide air spaces. n.

fur row (fêr'ō), 1. a long, narrow groove or track cut in the ground by a plow. 2. plow. 3. any long, narrow groove or track: Heavy trucks made deep furrows in the muddy road. 4. make furrows in. 5. wrinkle: a furrow in one's brow (n.). The old man's face was furrowed with age (v.). 1,3,5 n., 2,4,5 v.

F, furrow; P, plow.

fur ry (fêr'ē), 1. of fur; consisting of fur. 2. covered with fur; wearing fur. 3. looking or feeling like fur. adj., fur ri er, fur ri est. —fur'ri ness, n.

fur ther (fêr'ṭhər), 1. farther; more distant: on the further side. 2. at or to a greater distance: Seek no further for happiness. 3. to a greater extent: Inquire further into the matter. 4. more: Have you any further need of me? 5. also; besides: say further. 6. help forward; promote: Let us further the cause of peace. 1,4 compar. adj., 2,3,5 compar. adv., superl. fur thest (fêr'ṭhist); 6 v.

fur ther ance (fêr'ṭhər əns), act of furthering; helping forward; advancement; promotion. n.

fur ther more (fêr'ṭhər mōr), moreover; also; besides. adv.

fur ther most (fêr'ṭhər mōst), furthest. adj.

fur thest (fêr'ṭhist), 1. farthest; most distant. 2. most. 1 superl. adv., 1,2 superl. adj.

fur tive (fêr'tiv), 1. done stealthily; secret: a furtive glance into the forbidden room. 2. sly; stealthy; shift: The thief had a furtive manner. adj. —fur'tive ly, adv. —fur'tive ness, n.

fu run cle (fyūr'ung kl), boil; inflammatory sore. n.
fu ry (fyūr'ē), 1. wild, fierce anger; rage. 2. violence; fierceness: the fury of a hurricane. 3. a raging or violent person. n., pl. fu ries.

like fury, Informal. violently; very rapidly.

Fu ry (fyūr'ē), in Greek mythology, any one of the three spirits of revenge. n., pl. Fu ries.

furze (fêrz), gorse, a low, prickly, evergreen shrub with yellow flowers, common on waste lands in Europe. n.

fuse¹ (fūz), 1. part of an electric circuit that melts and breaks the connection when the current becomes dangerously strong; fuze. 2. a slow-burning wick or other device to detonate a shell, bomb, etc. n.

fuse² (fūz), 1. melt; melt together: The wax from the two candles fused as they burned. 2. blend; unite. v., fused, fusing.

fu see (fū zē'), a large-headed match that will burn in a wind. n.

fu se lage ((fū'zə lāzh or fū'zə lij), framework of the body of an airplane that holds passengers, cargo, etc. The wings and tail are fastened to it. See airplane for picture. n.

fu sel oil (fū'zl), an acrid, oily liquid that occurs in alcoholic liquors when they are not distilled enough.

fu si bil i ty (fū'zə bil'ə tē), being fusible. n.

fu si ble (fū'zə bl), that can be fused or melted. adj.

fu sil (fū'zl), a light flintlock musket. n.

fu sil ier or fu sil eer (fū'zl ir'), 1. soldier belonging to a regiment wearing tall fur hats called busbies. 2. formerly, a soldier armed with a light flintlock musket. n.

fu sil lade (fū'zl ād'), 1. discharge of many firearms. 2. attack or shoot down by a fusillade. 3. something that resembles a fusillade: The reporters greeted the mayor with a fusillade of questions. 1,3 n., 2 v., fu sil lad ed, fu sil lad ing.

fu sion (fū'zhən), 1. a melting; melting together; fusing: Bronze is made by the fusion of copper and tin. 2. a blending; union: A third party was formed by the fusion of independent Republicans and Democrats. 3. a fused mass. 4. in nuclear physics, the combining of two nuclei to create a nucleus of greater mass. The fusion of atomic nuclei releases tremendous amounts of energy which can be used in such things as the hydrogen or fusion bomb. n.

fusion bomb, hydrogen bomb.

fu sion ist (fū'zhən ist), person taking part in a union of political parties or factions. n.

fuss (fus), 1. much bother about small matters; useless talk and worry. 2. make a fuss: Nervously she fussed about her work. 3. make nervous or worried; bother. 1 n., 2,3 v. —fuss'er, n.

fuss y (fus'ē), 1. inclined to fuss; hard to please; very particular: A sick person is likely to be fussy about his food. 2. much trimmed; elaborately made: Some girls like fussy dresses. 3. full of details; requiring much care. adj., fuss ier, fuss iest. —fuss'ily, adv. —fuss'i-ness, n.

fus tian (fus'chən), 1. a coarse, heavy cloth made of cotton and flax. Fustian was used for clothing in Europe throughout the Middle Ages. 2. a thick cotton cloth like corduroy. 3. pompous, high-sounding language. n.

fust y (fus'tē), 1. having a stale smell; musty; moldy; stuffy. 2. old-fashioned; out-of-date. adj., fust ier, fust iest. —fust'ily, adv. —fust'i-ness, n.

fu tile (fū'tl), 1. not successful; useless: Many persons have made futile attempts to swim from England to France. 2. not important; trifling. adj. —fu'tile ly, adv.

fu til i ty (fū til'ə tē), 1. uselessness. 2. unimportance. 3. futile action, event, etc. n., pl. fu til i ties.

fut tock (fut'ək), one of the curved timbers that form the middle of a rib in a ship. n.

fu ture (fū'chər), 1. time to come; what is to come; what will be. 2. coming; that is to come; that will be: We hope your future years will all be happy. 3. chance of success or prosperity: a young man with a future. 4. expressing or indicating time to come. Shall go or will go is the future tense of go. 5. a future tense or verb form. 1,3,5 n., 2,4 adj.

futures, things bought or sold to be received or delivered at a future date.

future life, life after death.

future tense, a verb form that expresses occurrence in time to come.

fu tur ism (fū'chər iz əm), movement in art, literature, music, etc., that opposes traditional methods and tries to express the life of the present and future in new ways. n.

fu tur ist (fū'chər ist), person who favors futurism. n.

fu tu ri ty (fū tūr'ə tē or fū tyūr'ə tē), 1. future. 2. a future state or event. 3. quality of being future. n., pl. fu tu ri ties.

fu ze (fūz) *fuse*¹. n.

fuzz (fuz), 1. loose, light fibers or hairs; down. Caterpillars and peaches are covered with fuzz. 2. make fuzzy. 3. become fuzzy. 4. fly out in fuzz. 1 n., 2-4 v.

fuzz y (fuz'ē), 1. of fuzz. 2. like fuzz. 3. covered with fuzz. 4. blurred; indistinct. adj., fuzz ier, fuzz iest. —fuzz'ily, adv. —fuzz'i-ness, n.

-fy, suffix meaning:

1. make; cause to be; change into, as in simplify, intensify.

2. become, as in solidify.

3. other meanings, as in modify, qualify.

G

G or g (jē), the seventh letter of the alphabet. n., pl. G's or g's.

G, 1. German. 2. gravity. 3. Gulf.
g., 1. gram. 2. guinea. 3. genitive. 4. gender.
Ga, gallium.

Ga., Georgia.

gab (gab), Informal. 1. chatter; gabble; idle talk. 2. talk too much; chatter; gabble. 1 n., 2 v., gabb, gabbing.

gab ar dine or gab er dine (gab'ər dēn), 1. a closely woven, woolen, cotton, or rayon cloth having small, diagonal ribs on its surface, used for raincoats, suits, etc. 2. a man's long, loose, outer garment or cloak. Gabardines were worn by the Jews in the Middle Ages. n.

gab ble (gab/bl), 1. talk rapidly with little or no meaning; jabber. 2. rapid talk with little or no meaning. 3. make rapid, meaningless sounds: The geese gabbled. 1,3 v., gab-bled, gab bling; 2 n. —gab'bler, n.

gab by (gab'ē), Informal. very talkative. adj., gab bi er, gab bi est.

Ga be ro nes (gā'bə rō'nēz), capital of the Republic of Botswana, in the SE part. 5000. n.

ga ble (gā/bl), 1. end of a ridged roof, with the three-cornered piece of wall that it covers. 2. an end wall with a gable. 3. a triangular ornament or canopy over a door, window, etc. n.

ga bled (gā/bld), built with a gable or gables; having or forming gables. adj.

Ga bon (gā bōn'), republic in central Africa on the Atlantic, a member of the French Community. 421,000 pop.; 102,000 sq. mi. Capital: Libreville. n.

Ga bri el (gā'brē əl), archangel who acts as God's messenger. In the Bible he is the angel of comfort and good news. n.

gad (gad), move about restlessly; go about looking for pleasure or excitement. v., gad ded, gad ding.

gad a bout (gad'ə bout'), Informal. person who wanders about looking for pleasure or excitement; person fond of going from place to place. n.

gad fly (gad/flī), fly that stings cattle, horses, etc. The horsefly and botfly are two kinds. n., pl. gad flies.

gad get (gaj'it), Informal. a small mechanical device or contrivance; any ingenious device. n.

gad o lin i um (gad'ə lin'ē əm), a rare metallic element. Symbol: Gd n.

Gads den (gadz'dən), city in NE Alabama. 58,000. n.
Gadsden Purchase, an agreement between Mexico and the United States in 1853 by which the United States obtained 45,000 square miles of land (now in southern Arizona and New Mexico) from Mexico.

Gael (gāl), 1. a Scottish Highlander. 2. Celt born or living in Scotland or the Isle of Man, or in Ireland. n.

Gaelic (gāl'ik), 1. of or having to do with the Gaels or their language. 2. language of the Gaels. 1 adj., 2 n.

gaff (gaf), 1. a strong hook or barbed spear for pulling large fish out of the water. 2. hook or pull (a fish) out of the water with a gaff. 3. a sharp, metal spur fastened to the leg of a gamecock. 4. spar or pole extending along the upper edge of a fore-and-aft sail. 1,3,4 n., 2 v.

stand the gaff, U.S. Slang. hold up well under strain or punishment of any kind.

Gabardine (def. 2)

Gables (def. 1)

Gaff

gaffer (gaf'ər), an old man. n.

gaff top sail (gaf'top'sāl'; Nautical gaf'top'səl), top-sail set above a gaff. n.

gag (gag), 1. something thrust into a person's mouth to keep him from talking, crying out, etc. 2. put a gag into; keep from talking, crying out, etc., with a gag: The bandits tied the watchman's arms and gagged his mouth. 3. anything used to silence a person; restraint or hindrance to free speech. 4. force to keep silent; restrain or hinder from free speech. 5. choke or strain in an effort to vomit. 6. cause to choke or strain in an effort to vomit. 7. Slang. joke; amusing trick: The comedian's gags made the audience laugh. 8. in a legislative body, a law or ruling designed to prevent discussion on a particular subject. 1,3,7,8 n., 2,4-6 v., gagged, gag ging. —gag'ger, n.

gage (gāj), 1. pledge to fight; challenge: The knight threw down his gauntlet as a gage of battle. 2. pledge; security. 3. Archaic. offer as a pledge or security; wager. 1,2 n., 3 v., gaged, gag ing.

gage (gāj), gauge. n., v., gaged, gag ing. —gag'-er, n.

Gage (gāj), Thomas, 1721-1787, British general in America at the time of the American Revolution. n. gai e ty (gā'ə tē), 1. being gay; cheerful liveliness; merriment: Her gaiety helped the party. 2. gay entertainment. 3. bright appearance; showiness; finery: gaiety of dress. n., pl. gai e ties. Also, gayety.

gaily (gā'lē), 1. as if gay; happily; merrily. 2. brightly; showily: Nell was gaily dressed. adv. Also, gayly.

gain (gān), 1. get; obtain; secure: The king gained possession of more lands. 2. act of gaining or getting anything. 3. what is gained; increase; addition; advantage; profit. 4. get as an increase, addition, advantage, or profit: How much did I gain by that? 5. getting wealth: Greed is love of gain. 6. make progress; advance; improve: The sick child is gaining and will soon be well. 7. win; be the victor in: The stronger army gained the battle. 8. get to; arrive at; reach: The swimmer gained the shore. 1,4,6-8 v., 2,3,5 n.

gain on, come closer to; get nearer to: One boat is gaining on another.

gain over, persuade to join one's side.

gains, profits; earnings; winnings.

gain er (gān'ər), 1. one that gains. 2. a fancy dive in which the diver turns a back somersault in the air. n.

gain ful (gān'fəl), bringing in money or advantage; profitable. adj. —gain'fully, adv.

gain said (gān'sed'), a pt. and a pp. of gainsay. v.

gain say (gān'sā'), deny; contradict; dispute. v., gain said or gain sayed, gain say ing. —gain'say'er, n.

gainst or 'gainst (genst), Poetic. against. prep., conj.

gait (gāt), kind of steps used in going along; way of walking or running: He has a lame gait because of an injured foot. A gallop is one of the gaits of a horse. n.

gait ed (gāt'id), having a certain gait: a gaited horse, heavy-gaited oxen. adj.

gait er (gāt'ər), 1. a covering for the lower leg or ankle, made of cloth, leather, etc. 2. shoe with an elastic strip in each side. n.

gal., gallon; gallons.

ga la (gā'lə or gal'ə), 1. a festive occasion; festival. 2. of festivity; for a festive occasion; with festivities: In our family, Christmas and the Fourth of July are gala days. 1 n., 2 adj.

ga lac tic (gə lak'tik), 1. of or having to do with the Milky Way. 2. of milk; obtained from milk. adj.

Gal a had (gal'ə had), 1. Sir, son of Lancelot and Elaine, the noblest and purest knight of King Arthur's Gaiters (def. 1)

Round Table. He was the only knight to find the Holy Grail. 2. man as noble and pure as Galahad. n.

Ga lá pa gos Islands (gə lá'pə gəs or gə lá'pə gōs), group of islands in the Pacific, 600 mi. west of, and belonging to, Ecuador. 1900 pop.; 3028 sq. mi.

Gal a te a (gal'ə tē'ə), in Greek legend, an ivory statue of a maiden, carved by Pygmalion. He fell in love with the statue, and Aphrodite gave it life. n.

Gal la tia (gə lá'shə), an ancient country in central Asia Minor that later became a Roman province. n.

—Ga la'tian, adj., n.

Ga la tians (gə lá'shənz), book of the New Testament, written by the Apostle Paul. n.

gal ax y (gal'ək sē), a brilliant or splendid group: The queen was followed by a galaxy of brave knights and fair ladies. n., pl. gal axes.

Gal ax y (gal'ək sē), Milky Way, the faintly luminous band of countless stars that stretches across the sky. n.

gale¹ (gāl), 1. a very strong wind. 2. wind with a velocity of 25 to 75 miles per hour. 3. Poetic. breeze. 4. a noisy outburst: gales of laughter. n.

gale² (gāl), shrub with fragrant leaves that grows in marshy places. n.

gal e na (gə lē'nə), a metallic, gray ore containing much lead sulfide. It is the most important source of lead. n.

Gal i cia (gə lish'ə), region in central Europe, now divided between Poland and the Soviet Union. n. —Ga li'-cian, adj., n.

Gal i le an (gal'ə lē'ən), 1. of or having to do with Galilee or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Galilee. 1 adj., 2 n. the Galilean, Jesus.

Gal i lee (gal'ə lē), 1. region in N Israel that was a Roman province in the time of Christ. 2. Sea of, a freshwater lake in NE Israel. 14 mi. long. Also, Sea of Tiberias. n.

Gal i le o (gal'ə lē'ō or gal'ə-lā'ō), 1564-1642, Italian astronomer who was the first to use the telescope and prove that the earth goes round the sun. His full name was Galileo Galilei. n.

gall¹ (gōl), 1. a bitter yellow, brown, or greenish liquid secreted by the liver and stored in the gall bladder; bile of animals. 2. gall bladder. 3. anything very bitter or harsh. 4. bitterness; hate. 5. U.S. Slang. too great boldness; impudence. n.

gall² (gōl), 1. make or become sore by rubbing: The rough strap galled the horse's skin. 2. a sore spot on the skin caused by rubbing. 3. annoy; irritate. 4. cause of annoyance or irritation. 1,3 v., 2,4 n.

gall³ (gōl), lump or ball that forms on the leaves, stems, or roots of plants where they have been injured by insects or fungi. The galls of oak trees contain tannic acid, used in making ink, in medicine, etc. n.

gal lant (gal'ənt for 1-5,7,9; gal'ənt or gə lant' for 6,8), 1. noble; brave; daring: King Arthur was a gallant knight. 2. a spirited or courageous man. 3. grand; fine; stately: A ship with all of its sails spread is a gallant sight. 4. gay; showy: Our garden was a gallant sight. 5. man who is gay or wears showy clothes; man of fashion. 6. very polite and attentive to women. 7. man who is very polite and attentive to women. 8. amorous. 9. lover. 1,3,4,6,8 adj., 2,5,7,9 n. —gal'lant ly, adv. —gal'lant ness, *n.

gal lant ry (gal'ən trē), 1. noble spirit or conduct; bravery; dashing courage. 2. great politeness and attention to women. 3. a gallant act or speech. 4. Archaic. gay appearance; showy display. n., pl. gal-lant ries.

Gal la tin (gal'ə tin), Albert, 1761-1849, American statesman, secretary of the treasury from 1801 to 1813. n.

gall bladder, sac attached to the liver, in which excess gall or bile is stored until needed.

gal le on (gal'ē ən), a large, high ship, usually with three or four decks, formerly used by the Spaniards and others. n.

gal lery (gal'ər ē), 1. a long, narrow platform or passage projecting from the wall of a building. 2. a projecting upper floor in a church, theater, or hall with seats or room for part of the audience; balcony. 3. the highest floor of this kind in a theater. 4. people who sit there. 5. group of people watching or listening. 6. a long, narrow room or passage; hall. 7. a covered walk or porch. 8. an underground passage. 9. room or building where works of art are shown. 10. collection of works of art. 11. room or building where photographs are taken, shooting is practiced, etc. n., pl. gal leries.

gal ley (gal'ē), 1. a long, narrow ship of former times having oars and sails. Galleys were often rowed by slaves or convicts. 2. a large rowboat. 3. kitchen of a ship. 4. in printing, a long, narrow tray for holding type that has been set. n., pl. gal leys.

galley slave, 1. person compelled or condemned to row a galley. 2. drudge.

gall fly (gōl'fī'), insect that causes galls on plants. n., pl. gall flies.

Gal lic (gal'ik), 1. of or having to do with Gaul or its people. 2. French. adj.

gal lic acid (gal'ik), acid obtained especially from galls on plants, used in making ink, dyes, etc.

Gal li cism or gal li cism (gal'ə siz əm), a French idiom or expression. n.

gal li na ceous (gal'ə nā'shəs), belonging to a large group of birds that nest on the ground and fly only short distances. Chickens, turkeys, pheasants, grouse, partridges, etc., are gallinaceous birds. adj.

gall ing (gōl'ing), that galls; chafing; irritating. adj.

gal li nule (gal'ə-nūl or gal'ə nūl), any of certain long-toed wading birds of the same family as the rail. n.

Gal lip o li (gə lip'ə-lē), peninsula in NW Turkey, forming the N shore of the Dardanelles. 60 mi. long. n.

gal li pot (gal'ə pot), a small pot or jar of glazed earthenware used especially by druggists to hold medicine, salve, etc. n.

gal li um (gal'ē əm), a shining, white metal with a low melting point. It is an element similar to mercury. Symbol: Ga n.

gal li vant (gal'ə vant), go about seeking pleasure; gad about. v.

gal l nut (gōl'nut'), a nutlike gall on plants. n.

gal lon (gal'ən), a measure for liquids, equal to 4 quarts. The United States gallon equals 231 cubic inches. The British gallon equals 277.274 cubic inches. n.

gal lop (gal'əp), 1. a fast gait of the horse or other four-footed animal. In a gallop, all four feet are off the ground together once in each stride. 2. ride at a gallop. 3. go at a gallop. 4. cause to gallop: John galloped his horse down the road. 5. go very fast; hurry. 1, 2 n., 2-5 v. —gal'lop er, n.

Galleon

Galley (def. 1)

gal lows (gal'loz), 1. a wooden frame made of a cross-bar on two upright posts, used for hanging criminals. 2. hanging as a punishment. n., pl. gallowses or gal lows.

gall stone (gôl'stôn'), a pebblelike mass that sometimes forms in the gall bladder or its duct. When one or more gallstones stop the flow of bile, a painful illness results. n.

ga lore (gə lôr'), in abundance: Every town has automobiles galore. adv.

ga losh (gə losh'), a rubber overshoe covering the ankle, worn in wet or snowy weather. n.

gal s., gallons.

gal van ic (gal van'ik), 1. producing an electric current by chemical action. 2. of or caused by an electric current. 3. affecting or affected as if by galvanism; startling. adj.

gal va nism (gal'və niz əm), 1. electricity produced by chemical action. 2. branch of physics dealing with this. 3. use of such electricity for medical purposes. n.

gal va ni za tion (gal'və nə zə'shən), 1. a galvanizing. 2. being galvanized. n.

gal va nize (gal'və niz), 1. apply an electric current to. 2. arouse suddenly; startle: The whole country was galvanized by the bombing of Pearl Harbor. 3. cover (iron or steel) with a thin coating of zinc to prevent rust. v. gal va nized, gal va nizing.

gal vanized iron, iron covered with a coating of zinc. gal va nom e ter (gal'və nom'ə tər), instrument for detecting, measuring, and determining the direction of an electric current. n.

Gal ves ton (gal'vəs tən), a seaport in southeastern Texas. 67,000. n.

Gam bi a (gam'bē ə), 1. a country in W Africa, a member of the British Commonwealth. 289,000 pop.; 4005 sq. mi. Capital: Bathurst. 2. river flowing from NW Africa into the Atlantic. 500 mi. n.

gam bit (gam'bit), way of opening a game of chess by purposely sacrificing a pawn or a piece to gain some advantage. n.

gam ble (gam'bl), 1. play games of chance for money. 2. take a risk; take great risks in business, speculation, etc. 3. Informal. a risky venture or undertaking. 4. bet; wager. 5. lose or squander by gambling. 1, 2, 4, 5 v., gam bled, gam bling; 3 n.

gam bler (gam'blər), 1. person who gambles a great deal. 2. person whose occupation is gambling. n.

gam bling (gam'bling), 1. playing of games of chance for money. 2. betting; wagering; taking great risks in business, speculation, etc. n.

gam bol (gam'bl), 1. a running and jumping about in play; caper; frolic. 2. frisk about; run and jump about in play: Lambs gambled in the meadow. 1 n., 2 v., gam boled, gam bol ing or esp. Brit. gam balled, gam bol ling.

gambrel roof (gam'brəl), roof having two slopes on each side. The lower slope is steeper than the upper one.

Gambrel roof game (gām), 1. way of playing; pastime; amusement: a game of tag, a game with bat and ball. 2. things needed to play a game: This store sells games. 3. contest with certain rules. One person or side tries to win it. 4. a single round in a game: The winner won three games out of five. 5. condition of the score in a game: At the end of the first period the game was 6 to 3 in our favor. 6. number of points required to win. 7. a particular manner of playing: He plays a good game. 8. activity or undertaking that is carried on like a game: the game of diplomacy. 9. plan; scheme: He tried to trick us, but we saw through his game. 10. what is hunted or pursued. 11. wild animals, birds, or fish hunted or caught for sport or for food. 12. flesh of wild animals or birds used for food. 13. having to do with game, hunting, or fishing: Game laws protect wild life. 14. brave; plucky: The losing team put up a game fight. 15. having spirit or will enough: The explorer was game for any adventure. 16. gamble. 1-12 n., 13-15 adj., gam er, gam est; 16 v., gamed, gam ing. —game'ly, adv. —game'ness, n.

die game, die fighting; die bravely.

make game of, make fun of; laugh at; ridicule.

play the game, Informal. follow the rules; be a good sport.

The game is up. The plan or scheme has failed.

game (gām), Informal. lame; crippled; injured. adj.

game bag, bag for carrying game that has been killed.

game bird, bird hunted for sport or food.

game cock (gām'kok'), rooster bred and trained for fighting. n.

game fish, fish that fights to get away when hooked.

game fowl, fowl of a breed trained for fighting.

game keep er (gām'kēp'ər), person whose work is taking care of the wild animals and birds on an estate and preventing anyone from stealing them or killing them without permission. n.

game law, law to protect wild animals, birds, and fish by restricting hunting and fishing to certain seasons and by limiting the size and number of animals, birds, and fish that can be killed or caught.

game of chance, game depending on luck, not skill.

game some (gām'səm), full of play; sportive; ready to play. adj. —game'some ly, adv.

game ster (gām'star), gambler. n.

gam ete (gam'ēt or gə mēt'), a reproductive cell capable of uniting with another to form a fertilized cell that can develop into a new plant or animal. n.

game warden, official whose duty it is to enforce the game laws in a certain district.

gam in (gam'ən), a neglected boy left to roam about the streets. n.

gam ing (gām'ing), the playing of games of chance for money; gambling. n.

gam ma (gam'ə), 1. the third letter of the Greek alphabet (Γ, γ = English G, g). 2. the third in any series or group. n.

gamma glob u lin (glob'yə lin), a constituent of the human blood. Gamma globulin contains antibodies which are used against infantile paralysis and other diseases.

gamma rays, penetrating electromagnetic radiations of very high frequency given off by radium and other radioactive substances, that are like X rays, but have a shorter wave length. Deadly gamma rays are emitted by the nuclei of excited atoms in atomic explosions.

gam mer (gam'ər), an old woman. n.

gam mon (gam'ən), Brit. Informal. nonsense; humbug. n.

gam mon (gam'ən), 1. the lower end of a side of bacon. 2. a smoked or cured ham. n.

gam ut (gam'ət), 1. the whole series of recognized musical notes. 2. the major scale. 3. the entire range of anything: In one minute I ran the gamut of feeling from hope to despair. n.

gam y (gām'ē), 1. having a strong taste or smell like the flesh of wild animals or birds. 2. abounding in game. 3. brave; plucky. adj. gam i er, gam i est. —gam'i ly, adv. —gam'i ness, n.

gan der (gan'dər), a male goose. n.

Gan dhi (gān'dē or gan'dē), 1. Indira, born 1917, prime minister of India since 1965. 2. Mohandas K., 1869-1948, Hindu political, social, and religious leader. n.

Gamecock (about 1½ ft.
from head to toe)

gang (gang), 1. group of people acting or going around together: Criminals often form gangs. 2. group of people working together under one foreman: Two gangs of workmen were mending the road. 3. set of similar tools or machines arranged to work together. 4. Informal. form a gang. 5. Informal. attack in a gang. 6. Scottish. go; walk. 1-3 n., 4-6 v.

Ganges (gan'jēz), river flowing across N India into the Bay of Bengal. It is regarded as sacred by the Hindus. 1550 mi. n.

gan gli a (gang'glē ə), pl. of ganglion. n.

gan gling (gang'gling), awkwardly tall and slender; lank and loosely built. adj.

gan gli on (gang'glē ōn), 1. a mass or group of nerve cells forming a nerve center, especially outside of the brain or spinal cord. 2. center of force, activity, etc. n., pl.

gan gli a or gan gli ons.

gan gly (gang'glē), gangling.

adj.

gang plank (gang'plangk'), a movable bridge used by persons or animals in getting on and off a ship, etc. n.

gang plow, a set of plows arranged to work together.

gan gre ne (gang'grēn), 1. decay of a part of a living person or animal when the blood supply is interfered with by injury, infection, freezing, etc. 2. cause gangrene in; be or become affected with gangrene; decay: The wounded leg gangrened and had to be cut off. 1 n., 2 v., gan grened, gan gren ing.

gan gre nous (gang'grē nəs), of or having gangrene; decaying. adj.

gang ster (gang'stər), Informal. member of a gang of criminals, roughs, etc. n.

gang way (gang'wā'), 1. passageway. 2. passageway on a ship. 3. gangplank. 4. Get out of the way! Stand aside and make room! 1-3 n., 4 interj.

gan net (gan'it), a large, fish-eating sea bird somewhat like a pelican, but with long, pointed wings and a shorter tail. See booby for picture. n.

gan oid (gan'oid), 1. of fishes, having hard scales of bone overlaid with enamel. 2. a ganoid fish. Sturgeons and gar pikes are ganoids. 1 adj., 2 n.

gant let (gōnt'lit or gant'lit), a former military punishment in which the offender had to run between two rows of men who struck him with clubs or other weapons as he passed. n. Also, gauntlet.

run the gantlet, 1. pass between two rows of men each of whom strikes the runner as he passes. 2. be exposed to unfriendly attacks, criticism, etc.

gant let (gōnt'lit or gant'lit), gauntlet. n.

Gan y mede (gan'ə mēd), in Greek and Roman mythology, a beautiful youth, cupbearer to the gods of Olympus. n.

gaol (jāl), Brit. jail. n.

gaoler (jāl'ər), Brit. jailer. n.

gap (gap), 1. a broken place; opening. 2. an empty part; unfilled space; blank: The record is not complete; there are several gaps in it. 3. a wide difference of opinion, character, etc. 4. a pass through mountains. n.

gape (gāp), 1. open wide: A deep hole in the earth gaped before us. 2. a wide opening. 3. open the mouth wide; yawn. 4. act of opening the mouth wide; a yawning. 5. stare with the mouth open: The savages gaped when they saw an airplane for the first time. 6. an open-mouthed stare. 1,3,5 v., gaped, gaping; 2,4,6 n. —gap'er, n.

the gapes, 1. fit of yawning. 2. disease of poultry.

gar (gär), garfish. n., pl. gars or (esp. collectively) gar.

G.A.R., Grand Army of the Republic, an organization of men who served in the United States army or navy during the Civil War, founded in 1866.

ga rage (gə'rāzh'), 1. place where automobiles are kept. 2. shop for repairing automobiles. 3. put or keep in a garage. 1,2 n., 3 v., ga raged, ga rag ing.

garb (gärb), 1. way one is dressed. 2. clothing.

3. clothe. 4. outward covering, form, or appearance. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

gar bage (gär'bij), waste animal or vegetable matter from a kitchen, store, etc. n.

gar ble (gär'bl), make unfair or misleading selections from (facts, statements, writings, etc.); omit parts of, often in order to misrepresent: Foreign newspapers gave a garbled account of the President's speech. v., gar-bled, gar bling. —gar'bler, n.

Gar ci a (gär sē'ä), Carlos P., born 1896, president of the Philippines after death of Ramón Magsaysay in 1957. n.

gar çon (gär sōn'), French. 1. a young man; boy.

2. servant. 3. waiter. n., pl. gar çons (-sōn').

gar den (gärd'n), 1. piece of ground used for growing vegetables, herbs, flowers, or fruits. 2. take care of a garden; make a garden; work in a garden. 3. growing or grown in a garden; for a garden. 4. park or place where people go for amusement or to see things that are displayed. 5. a fertile and delightful spot; well-cultivated region. 6. common; ordinary. 1,4,5 n., 2 v., 3,6 adj. —gar'den like', adj.

gar den er (gärd'nər), 1. person whose occupation is taking care of a garden, lawn, etc. 2. person who makes a garden or works in a garden. n.

gar de nia (gär dēn'ya), 1. a fragrant, roselike, white flower with waxy petals. 2. shrub having these flowers. n.

Gar eth (gär'ith), knight of the Round Table and nephew of King Arthur. n.

Gar field (gär'fēld), James A., 1831-1881, the 20th president of the United States, in 1881. n.

gar fish (gär'fish'), an edible fish with a long, slender body covered with thin scales, and long, narrow jaws. n., pl. gar fishes or (esp. collectively) gar fish.

Gar gan tu a (gär gan'chü ə), a good-natured giant in a satire by Rabelais. He was a tremendous eater and drinker. n.

Gar gan tu an (gär gan'chü ən), gigantic; huge. adj.

gar gle (gär'gl), 1. wash or rinse (the throat) with a liquid kept in motion by the breath. 2. liquid used for gargling. 1 v., gar gled, gar-gling; 2 n.

gar goyle (gär'goil), 1. spout for carrying off rain water, ending in a grotesque head that projects from the gutter of a building. 2. projection or ornament on a building resembling a gargyle. n.

Gargyle (def. 1)

Gar i bal di (gar'ə bōl'dē), Giuseppe, 1807-1882, Italian patriot and general who helped make Italy a united nation. n.

gar ish (gär'ish), unpleasantly bright; glaring; showy; gaudy. adj. —gar'ish ly, adv. —gar'ish ness, n.

gar land (gär'länd), 1. wreath of flowers, leaves, etc. 2. decorate with garlands. 1 n., 2 v.

gar lic (gär'lik), 1. plant like an onion whose strong-smelling bulb is composed of small sections called cloves. 2. bulb or clove of this plant, used to season meats, salads, etc. n.

garment (gär'mənt), 1. article of clothing. 2. an outer covering. 3. clothe. 1,2 n., 3 v. —gar'ment-less, adj.

gar ner (gär'nər), 1. gather and store away: Wheat is cut and garnered at harvest time. 2. storehouse for grain. 3. a store of anything. 1 v., 2,3 n.

Gar ner (gär'nər), John Nance, born 1869, vice-president of the United States from 1933 to 1941. n.

gar net (gär'nit), 1. a deep-red, transparent precious stone. It is a variety of a hard, vitreous silicate mineral. 2. deep red. 1,2 n., 2 adj. —gar'net like, adj.

gar nish (gär'nish), 1. something laid on or around food as a decoration: The turkey was served with a garnish of cranberries and parsley. 2. decorate (food). 3. decoration; trimming. 4. decorate; trim. 1,3 n., 2,4 v. —gar'nish er, n.

gar nish ee (gär'nish ē'), attach (money or property) by legal authority in payment of a debt. If a creditor garnishees a debtor's salary, a certain portion of the salary is withheld and paid to the creditor. v., gar'nish eed, gar nish ee ing.

gar ni ture (gär'nə chər), decoration; trimming; garnish. n.

ga rotte (gə rot' or gə rōt'), garrote. n., v., ga rot ted, ga rot ting. —ga rot'ter, n.

gar pike, garfish.

gar ret (gär'it), space in a house just below a sloping roof; attic. n.

gar ri son (gär'ə sn), 1. soldiers stationed in a fort, town, etc., to defend it. 2. place that has a garrison. 3. station soldiers in (a fort, town, etc.) to defend it. 4. occupy (a fort, town, etc.) as a garrison. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

Gar ri son (gär'ə sn), William Lloyd, 1805-1879, American editor and reformer who opposed Negro slavery. n.

gar rote (gə rot' or gə rōt'), 1. a Spanish method of executing a person by strangling him with an iron collar. The collar is fastened to a post and tightened by a screw. 2. the iron collar used for this. 3. execute by garroting. 4. robbery done by strangling the victim. 5. strangle and rob; strangle. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v., gar rot ed, gar rot ing. —gar rot'er, n.

gar rotte (gə rot' or gə rōt'), garrote. n., v., gar rot ted, gar rot ting. —gar rot'ter, n.

gar ru li ty (gə rü'lə tē), being garrulous. n.

gar ru lous (gär'ə ləs), 1. talking too much about trifles. 2. using too many words. adj. —gar'ru-lous ly, adv. —gar'ru lous ness, n.

gar ter (gär'tər), 1. band or strap to hold up a stocking or sock. It is usually elastic. 2. fasten with a garter. 1 n., 2 v.

Gar ter (gär'tər), 1. Order of the, oldest and most important order of knighthood in Great Britain, established about 1344. 2. badge of this order. 3. membership in it. n.

garter snake, a small, harmless, brownish or greenish snake with long yellow stripes.

Gar y (gär'ē), city in NW Indiana, on Lake Michigan. 178,000. n.

gas (gas), 1. any fluid substance that can expand without limit; not a solid or liquid. Oxygen and nitrogen are gases. 2. any gas or mixture of gases except air. 3. any mixture of gases that can be burned, obtained from coal and other substances. Gas was once much used for lighting, but is now used for cooking and heating. 4. any gas used as an anesthetic, such as nitrous oxide or laughing gas. 5. supply with gas. 6. treat with gas; use gas on. Some kinds of seeds are gassed to hasten sprouting. 7. give off gas. 8. in mining, an explosive mixture of firedamp with air. 9. substance used in warfare that vaporizes and then poisons, suffocates, or stupefies, such as mustard gas, tear gas, etc. 10. attack with gas in warfare; injure or kill by poisonous gas. 11. U.S. Informal. gasoline. 12. Informal. supply with gasoline. 13. Slang. empty or boasting talk. 14. Slang. talk idly; take part in an empty or boasting way. 1-4,8,9,11,13 n., pl. gas es; 5-7,10,12,14 v., gassed, gas sing. —gas/less, adj.

Gas con (gas'kən), 1. native of Gascony. Gascons were noted for their boastfulness. 2. of Gascony or its people. 1 n., 2 adj.

gas con (gas'kən), 1. boaster. 2. boastful. 1 n., 2 adj.

Gas co ny (gas'kə nē), region, formerly a province, in SW France. n.

gas engine, 1. an internal-combustion engine run by illuminating gas, natural gas, or other gas supplied from without. 2. any internal-combustion engine.

gas eous (gas'ē əs), in the form of gas; of or like a gas: Steam is water in a gaseous condition. adj.

gash (gash), 1. a long, deep cut or wound. 2. make a long, deep cut or wound in. 1 n., 2 v.

gas jet, 1. a small nozzle of a gas fixture where gas comes out. 2. flame of gas.

gas ket (gas'kit), 1. ring or strip of rubber, metal, plaited hemp, etc., packed around a piston, pipe joint, etc., to keep steam, gas, etc., from escaping. 2. cord or small rope used to secure a furling sail on a yard. n.

gas mask, helmet or mask that covers the mouth and nose and is supplied with a filter containing chemicals to neutralize poisons. The wearer breathes only filtered air.

gas o line or gas o lene (gas'ə lēn), a colorless liquid consisting of a mixture of hydrocarbons. Gasoline evaporates and burns very easily, and is made by distilling petroleum. It is used as a fuel, solvent, cleansing agent, etc. n.

gasp (gasp), 1. a catching of the breath with open mouth, as if out of breath or surprised. 2. catch the breath with difficulty; breathe with gasps. 3. utter with gasps: "Help! Help!" gasped the drowning man. 1 n., 2,3 v.

at the last gasp, about to die.

gas station, place that sells gasoline and oil and sometimes makes minor repairs, etc.

gas sy (gas'ē), 1. full of gas; containing gas. 2. like gas. adj., gas si er, gas si est.

gas tric (gas'trik), of or near the stomach. adj.

gastric juice, the digestive fluid secreted by glands in the lining of the stomach. It contains pepsin and other enzymes and hydrochloric acid.

gas tri tis (gas trī'tis), inflammation of the stomach, especially of its mucous membrane. n.

gas tro nom ic (gas'trə nom'ik), of or having to do with gastronomy. adj.

gas tron o my (gas tron'ə mē), art or science of good eating. n.

gas tro pod (gas'trə pod), 1. any of a group of mollusks that have a disklike organ of locomotion on the ventral surface of their bodies. Snails, slugs, and whelks are gastropods. 2. of such mollusks. 1 n., 2 adj.

gat¹ (gat), Archaic. got, a pt. of get. v.

gat² (gat), Slang. gun; revolver; pistol. n.

gate (gāt), 1. a movable part or frame to close an opening in a wall or fence. It turns on hinges or slides open and shut. 2. an opening in a wall or fence where a gate is; gateway. 3. way to go in or out; way to get something. 4. door, valve, etc., to stop or control the flow of water in a pipe, dam, lock, etc. 5. number of people who pay to see a contest, exhibition, etc. 6. the total amount of money received from them: The two teams divided a gate of $3250. n. —gate/less, adj. —gate/like, adj.

gate crasher, person who attends parties, gatherings, etc., without an invitation; uninvited guest.

gate house (gāt'hous'), a house at or over a gate, used as the keeper's quarters. n.

Gas jet

Gasket (def. 2)

gate post (gāt'pōst'), post on either side of a gate.

A swinging gate is fastened to one gatepost and closes against the other. n.

Gates (gāts), Horatio, 1728-1806, general in the American army during the American Revolution. n.

gate way (gāt'wā'), 1. an opening in a wall or fence where a gate is. 2. way to go in or out; way to get to something: A college education is one of the gateways to success. n.

gather (gath'ər), 1. bring into one place or group: He gathered his books and papers and started to school. 2. come together; assemble: A crowd gathered at the scene of the accident. 3. get together from various places or sources, or gradually: gather sticks for a fire. 4. form a mass; collect: Tears gathered in her eyes. 5. pick and collect; take: Farmers gather their crops. 6. get or gain little by little: The train gathered speed as it left the station. 7. collect (oneself, one's strength, energies, thoughts, etc.) for an effort. 8. put together in the mind; conclude; infer: I gathered from his words that he was really much upset. 9. pull together in folds; wrinkle: She gathered her brows in a frown. 10. pull together in little folds and stitch: The skirt is gathered at the waist. 11. one of the little folds between stitches when cloth is gathered. 12. come to a head and form pus: A boil is a painful swelling that gathers under the skin. 1-10, 12 v., 11 n.

be gathered to one's fathers, die and be buried.

gather up, 1. pick up and put together. 2. pull together; bring into a smaller space.

gather ing (gath'ər ing), 1. act of one that gathers. 2. that which is gathered. 3. meeting; assembly; party; crowd. 4. swelling that comes to a head and forms pus. n.

Gat ling gun (gat'ling), an early type of machine gun consisting of a revolving cluster of barrels around a central axis.

Ga tun (gā tūn'), 1. town in N Panama Canal Zone. 2. a large dam near there. 1½ mi. long. 3. an artificial lake formed by Gatun Dam. 164 sq. mi. n.

gauche (gōsh), awkward; clumsy; tactless. adj. —gauche'ly, adv. —gauche'ness, n.

gau che rie (gō'shā rē' or gō'shā rē), 1. awkwardness; tactlessness. 2. an awkward or tactless movement, act, etc. n.

gau cho (gou'chō), cowboy of mixed Spanish and Indian descent in the S plains of South America. n., pl. gau chos.

gaud (gōd), a cheap, showy ornament; trinket: Savages like beads, mirrors, and such gauds. n.

gaud y (gōd'ē), too bright and gay to be in good taste; cheap and showy: She would be attractive if she did not wear such gaudy jewelry. adj., gaud ier, gaud iest. —gaud'ily, adv. —gaud'iness, n.

gauge (gā), 1. standard measure; scale of standard measurements; measure. There are gauges of the capacity of a barrel, the thickness of sheet iron, the diameter of a shotgun bore, wire, etc. 2. instrument for measuring. A steam gauge measures the pressure of steam. 3. measure accurately; find out the exact measurement of with a gauge. 4. estimate; judge: It is difficult to gauge the character of a stranger. 5. means of estimating or judging. 6. size; capacity; extent. 7. distance between railroad rails or between the right and left wheels of a wagon, automobile, etc. Standard gauge between rails is 56½ inches. 8. position of one sailing ship with reference to another and to the wind. A ship having the weather gauge of another is to the windward of it. 1, 2, 5-8 n., 3, 4 v., gauged, gaug ing. Also, gag e.

gauge a ble (gāj'ə bl), that may be gauged. adj.

Gauge for measuring wire gauger (gāj'ər), 1. person or thing that gauges. 2. official who measures the contents of barrels of taxable liquor. 3. collector of excise taxes. n. Also, gager.

Gaul (gōl), 1. an ancient country in W Europe. It included France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and parts of Switzerland, Germany, and N Italy. 2. one of the Celtic inhabitants of ancient Gaul. 3. Frenchman. n.

gaunt (gōnt), 1. very thin and bony; with hollow eyes and a starved look: Hunger and suffering make people gaunt. 2. looking bare and gloomy; desolate; forbidding; grim: the gaunt slopes of a high mountain in winter. adj. —gaunt'ly, adv. —gaunt'ness, n.

gaunt let (gōnt'lit), 1. a stout, heavy glove, usually of leather covered with plates of iron or steel, that was part of a knight's armor. 2. a stout, heavy glove with a wide, flaring cuff. 3. the wide, flaring cuff. n. Also, gantlet.

take up the gauntlet, 1. accept a challenge. 2. take up the defense of a person, opinion, etc.

throw down the gauntlet, challenge.

gaunt let (gōnt'lit), gantlet. n.

Gau ta ma (gō'tə mə or gōu'tə mə), 563?-483? B.C., Buddha. n. Also, Gotama.

gau ze (gōz), 1. a very thin, light cloth, easily seen through. 2. a thin haze. n. —gauze'like, adj.

gau zy (gōz'ē), like gauze; thin and light as gauze. adj., gau zier, gau ziest. —gauz'iness, n.

gave (gāv), pt. of give. He gave me some candy. v.

gav el (gav'l), a small mallet used by a presiding officer to signal for attention or order, or by an auctioneer to announce that the bidding is over. n.

Judge holding a gavel ga vi al (gā'vē əl), a large crocodile of India that has a long, slender snout. n.

Ga wain (gā'win or gā'wān), knight of the Round Table and nephew of King Arthur. n.

gawk (gōk), 1. an awkward person; clumsy fool. 2. Informal. stare rudely or stupidly. 1 n., 2 v.

gawk y (gōk'ē), awkward; clumsy. adj., gawk ier, gawk iest. —gawk'ily, adv. —gawk'iness, n.

gay (gā), 1. happy and full of fun: The gay young people were merry as they decorated the gym for the dance. 2. bright-colored; showy. 3. fond of pleasures. adj., gay er, gay est. —gay'ness, n.

gay e ty (gā'ə tē), gaiety. n., pl.

gay e ties.

gay ly (gā'lē), gaily. adv.

Ga za (gā'zə), town in W Palestine, once an important city of the Philistines. A strip of land (the Gaza Strip) including Gaza was occupied by Egypt in 1949. 38,000. n.

gaze (gāz), 1. look long and steadily: For hours he sat gazing at the stars. 2. a long, steady look. 1 v., gazed, gazing; 2 n. —gaz'er, n.

ga zelle (gəzel'), a small, graceful antelope of Africa and Asia that has soft, lustrous eyes. n.

Gazelle (about 2 ft. high at the shoulder) ga zette (gə zet'), 1. newspaper: the "Emporia Gazette." 2. an official government journal containing lists of appointments, promotions, etc. 3. publish, list, or announce in a gazette. 1,2 n., 3 v., ga zet ted, ga zet ting.

gaz et teer (gaz'ə tir'), 1. dictionary of geographical names. Names of places, seas, mountains, etc., are arranged alphabetically. 2. writer for a gazette. 3. official appointed to publish a gazette. n.

G.C.D. or g.c.d., greatest common divisor.

G clef, in music, the treble clef. See clef for diagram.

Gd, gadolinium.

Gdy nia (gə din'yə), seaport in N Poland. 144,000. n.

Ge, germanium.

gear (gir), 1. wheel having teeth that fit into the teeth of another wheel of the same kind. If the wheels are of different sizes, they will turn at different speeds. See cogwheel for picture. 2. connect by gears. An automobile moves when the motor is geared to the rear wheels. 3. fit or work together; mesh: The cogs gear smoothly. 4. arrangement of fixed and moving parts for transmitting or changing motion; mechanism; machinery: The car ran off the road when the steering gear broke. 5. working order; adjustment: His watch got out of gear and would not run. 6. equipment needed for some purpose. Harness, clothes, household goods, tools, tackle, and rigging are various kinds of gear. 7. provide with gear; equip; harness. 8. make subordinate to in order to serve: The steel industry was geared to the needs of war. 1,4-6 n., 2,3,7,8 v.

in gear, connected to the motor, etc.

out of gear, disconnected from the motor, etc.

shift gears, change from one set of gears to another; connect a motor, etc., to a different set of gears.

gear ing (gir'ing), set of gears, chains, etc., for transmitting motion or power; gears. n.

gear shift (gir'shift'), device for connecting a motor, etc., to any of several sets of gears. n.

gecko (gek'ō), a small, harmless, insect-eating lizard with suction pads on its feet so that it can walk on ceilings, walls, etc. n., pl. geck os or geck oes.

Gecko (about 1 ft. long) gee (jē), 1. command to horses, oxen, etc., directing them to turn to the right. 2. turn to the right. 3. exclamation or mild oath. 1,3 interj., 2 v., geed, gee ing.

geese (gēs), pl. of goose. n.

Ge hen na (gə hen'ə), 1. hell. 2. place of torment or misery. n.

Gei ger counter (gi'gər), device which detects and counts ionizing particles. It is used to measure radioactivity, test cosmic-ray particles, etc.

Gei gers (gi'gərz), Informal. radioactive particles and radiation collectively. n.

gei sha (gā'shə or gē'shə), a Japanese singing and dancing girl. n., pl. gei sha or gei shas.

gel a tin or gel a time (jel'ət n), 1. an odorless, tasteless substance obtained by boiling animal tissues, bones, hoofs, etc. It dissolves easily in hot water and is used in making jellied desserts, camera film, glue, etc. 2. any of various vegetable substances having similar properties. 3. preparation or product in which gelatin is the essential constituent. n.

ge lat i nous (jə lat'n əs), 1. jellylike; of the consistency of jelly. 2. of gelatin; containing gelatin. adj.

geld (geld), remove the male glands of (a horse or other animal); castrate. v., geld ed or gelt, geld ing.

geld ing (gel'ding), a gelded horse or other animal. n.

gel id (jel'id), cold as ice; frosty. adj.

gelt (gelt), gelded, a pt. and a pp. of geld. v.

gem (jem), 1. a precious stone; jewel. Diamonds and rubies are gems. 2. person or thing that is very precious, beautiful, etc.: The gem of his collection was a rare Persian stamp. 3. set or adorn with gems, or as if with gems: Stars gem the sky. 4. a kind of muffin made of coarse flour. 1,2,4 n., 3 v., gemmed, gem ming. —gem'like, adj.

gem i nate (jem'ə nāt for 1; jem'ə nit or jem'ə nāt for 2), 1. make or become double; combine in pairs. 2. combined in a pair or pairs; coupled. 1 v., gem i nated, gem i nat ing; 2 adj. —gem'i na'tion, n.

Gem i ni (jem'ə nī), 1. a northern constellation containing two bright stars. 2. Castor and Pollux, the twin sons of Zeus. n.pl.

gems bok (gemz'bok'), a large antelope of South Africa, having long, straight horns and a long, tufted tail. n.

-gen, suffix meaning: producing; born; produced, as in antigen, nitrogen.

Gen., 1. General. 2. Genesis.

gen., 1. gender. 2. general. 3. genitive.

gen dar me (zhän'därm), policeman in France and several other European countries who has had military training. n., pl. gen dar mes (-därmz).

gen der (jen'dar), 1. in many languages, the grouping of nouns into a series of classes, such as masculine, feminine, neuter, etc. In English, except in pronouns (him—her) and a few nouns with endings such as -ess (actress), trix (aviatrix), gender is now indicated only by the meaning of the word: man—woman, nephew—niece, rooster—hen. 2. one of such classes. 3. Informal. sex. n.

Gemsbok (about 4 ft. high at the shoulder) gene a log i cal (jē'nē ə loj'ə kl or jen'ē ə loj'ə kl), having to do with genealogy. A genealogical table or chart shows the descent of a person or family from an ancestor. adj. —ge'ne a log'i cal ly, adv.

gene al o gist (jē'nē al'ə jist or jen'ē al'ə jist), person who traces genealogies; person who makes a study of genealogies. n.

gene al o gy (jē'nē al'ə jē or jen'ē al'ə jē), 1. account of the descent of a person or family from an ancestor or ancestors. 2. descent of a person or family from an ancestor; pedigree; lineage. 3. the making or investigation of accounts of descent; study of pedigrees. n., pl. ge ne al o gies.

gen er a (jen'ər ə), a pl. of genus. n.

gen er al (jen'ər əl), 1. of all; for all; from all: A government takes care of the general welfare. 2. common to many or most; not limited to a few; widespread: There is a general interest in sports. 3. not special; not limited to one kind, class, department, or use: A general reader reads different kinds of books. 4. not detailed; sufficient for practical purposes: general instructions. 5. indefinite; vague: She referred to her trip in a general way. 6. a general fact, idea, principle, or statement. 7. of or for all those forming a group: "Cat" is a general term for cats, lions, and tigers. 8. in chief; of highest rank: The Postmaster General is the head of the Post Office Department. 9. a high army officer in command of many soldiers: Washington was a famous general. 10. in the United States Army, an officer ranking next below General of the Army and next above lieutenant general. 11. any officer ranking above a colonel and entitled to command a force larger than a regiment, such as a lieutenant general, a major general, etc. 12. a British army officer ranking next below a field marshal and next above a lieutenant general. 13. head of a religious order. 14. Archaic. people as a group; the public. 1-5,7,8 adj., 6,9-14 n. in general, 1. referring to all those mentioned. 2. usually; for the most part.

General Assembly, 1. legislature of certain States of the United States. 2. the legislative body of the United Nations.

General Court, legislature of Massachusetts or New Hampshire.

gen er al is si mō (jen'ər əl is'ə mō), 1. commander in chief of all the military forces of a country. 2. commander in chief of several armies in the field. n., pl. gen er al is si mos.

gen er al i ty (jen'ər əl'ə tē), 1. a general statement; word or phrase not definite enough to have much meaning or value: The candidate spoke only in generalities; not once did he mention definite laws that he and his party would try to pass. 2. a general principle or rule: "Nothing happens without a cause" is a generality. 3. the greater part; main body; mass: The generality of people must work for a living. 4. general quality or condition: A rule of great generality has very few exceptions. n., pl. gen er al i ties.

gen er al i za tion (jen'ər əl ə zā'shən), 1. act or process of generalizing: Don't be hasty in generalization; be sure you have the necessary facts first. 2. a general idea, statement, principle, or rule. n.

gen er al ize (jen'ər əl iz), 1. make into one general statement; bring under a common heading, class, or law. 2. infer (a general rule) from particular facts: If you have seen cats, lions, leopards, and tigers eat meat, you can generalize and say, "The cat family eats meat." 3. state in a more general form; extend in application: The statement that $5+3=8$ and $50+30=80$ can be generalized to the form $5a+3a=8a$. 4. talk indefinitely or vaguely; use generalities: The commentator generalized because he knew no details. 5. make general; bring into general use or knowledge. 6. make general inferences. v., gen er al ized, gen er al izing.

gen er ally (jen'ər əl ē), 1. in most cases; usually: He is generally on time. 2. for the most part; widely: It was once generally believed that the earth is flat. 3. in a general way; without giving details; not specially: Generally speaking, our coldest weather comes in January. adv.

General of the Army, U.S. general of the highest rank.

gen er al ship (jen'ər əl ship'), 1. ability as a general; skill in commanding an army. 2. skillful management; leadership. 3. rank, commission, authority, or term of office of a general. n.

general staff, group of high army officers who make plans for war or national defense.

gen er ate (jen'ər āt), 1. produce; cause to be: Rubbing generates heat. Steam can be used to generate power or electricity. 2. produce (offspring). 3. in mathematics, form (a line, surface, figure, or solid) by moving a point, line, etc. v., gen er ated, gen er at ing.

gen er a tion ((jen'ər ā'shən), 1. all the people born about the same time. Your parents and their friends belong to one generation; you and your friends belong to the next generation. 2. time from the birth of one generation to the birth of the next generation; about 30 years. 3. one step or degree in the descent of a family: The picture showed four generations—great-grandmother, grandmother, mother, and baby. 4. production of offspring. 5. production; causing to be; generating: Steam and water power are used for the generation of electricity. n.

gen er a tive (jen'ər ā'tiv), 1. having to do with the production of offspring. 2. having the power of producing. adj.

gen er a tor (jen'ər ā'tər), 1. machine that changes mechanical energy into electrical energy; dynamo. See dynamo for picture. 2. apparatus for producing gas or steam. 3. person or thing that generates. n.

gen er ic (jə ner'ik), 1. having to do with or characteristic of a genus of plants or animals: Cats and lions show generic differences. 2. having to do with a class or group of similar things; inclusive; not specific: Liquid is a generic term. 3. applied to, or referring to, a group or class; general; not special. adj. —gen er' i cally, adv.

gen er os i ty (jen'ər ɔs'ə tē), 1. being generous; willingness to share with others; unselfishness. 2. nobleness of mind; absence of meanness. 3. a generous act. n., pl. gen er os i ties.

gen er ous (jen'ər əs), 1. willing to share with others; unselfish. 2. having or showing a noble mind; willing to forgive; not mean. 3. large; plentiful: A quarter of a pie is a generous piece. 4. fertile: generous fields. 5. rich and strong: a generous wine. adj. —gen'er ous ly, adv. —gen'er ous ness, n.

Gen e sis (jen'ə sis), the first book of the Old Testament. Genesis gives an account of the creation of the world. n.

gen e sis (jen'ə sis), origin; creation; coming into being. n., pl. gen e ses (-sēz).

gen et ic (jə net'ik), 1. having to do with origin and natural growth. 2. of or having to do with genetics. adj.

gen et i cally (jə net'ik lē), 1. with respect to genesis or origin. 2. according to the laws of genetics. adv.

gen et i cist (jə net'ə sist), person trained in genetics. n.

gen et ics (jə net'iks), branch of biology dealing with the principles of heredity and variation in animals and plants of the same or related kinds. n.

Gene va (jə nē'və), 1. city in SW Switzerland. 170,000. 2. Lake of, a long, narrow lake in SW Switzerland and E France. 45 mi. long; 225 sq. mi. n.

Geneva Convention, agreement between nations providing for the neutrality of the members and buildings of the medical departments on battlefields.

gen i al (jēn'yəl), 1. smiling and pleasant; cheerful and friendly; kindly: a genial welcome. 2. helping growth; pleasantly warming; comforting: genial sunshine. adj. —gen'ial ly, adv. —gen'ial ness, n.

gen i al i ty (jē'nē əl'ə tē), genial quality. n.

gen ie (jē'nē), spirit; jinni: When Aladdin rubbed his lamp, the genie came and did what Aladdin asked. n.

gen i i (jē'nē ī), a pl. of genius. n.

gen i tal (jen'ə təl), having to do with reproduction or the sex organs. adj.

gen i tals (jen'ə tlz), the external sex organs. n.pl.

gen i tive (jen'ə tiv), 1. case in certain languages showing possession, source, origin, etc. The genitive corresponds in part to the possessive case in English. 2. word or construction in this case. 3. of this case; in this case; having to do with its forms or constructions. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

gen i us (jēn'yəs), 1. very great natural power of mind. 2. person having such power: Shakespeare was a genius. 3. great natural ability of some special kind: A great actor has a genius for acting. 4. the special character or spirit of a person, nation, age, language, etc. 5. a guardian spirit of a person, place, institution, etc. 6. either of two spirits, one good and one evil, supposed to influence a person's fate. 7. person who powerfully influences another. 8. spirit; jinni. n., pl. gen i us es for 1-4,7, ge ni i for 5,6,8.

Gen o a (jen'ō ə), seaport in NW Italy. 740,000. n.

gen o cid al (jen'ə sīd'l), having to do with genocide. adj.

gen o cide (jen'ə sīd), systematic measures for the extermination of a cultural or racial group. n.

Gen o ese (jen'ō ēz'), 1. of Genoa or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Genoa. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. Gen o ese.

gen re (zhān'rə), kind; sort; style: Poe was the originator of a genre of detective story. n.

Gent. or gent., gentleman; gentlemen.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ꞥH, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

gen teel (jen tēl'), 1. belonging or suited to polite society. 2. polite; well-bred; fashionable; elegant. 3. trying to be aristocratic, but not really being so. adj. —gen teel/ly, adv. —gen teel/ness, n.

gen tian (jen/shən), any of a large family of plants with funnel-shaped flowers, stemless leaves, and bitter juice. Gentians have blue, white, red, or yellow flowers. n.

gen tile or Gen tile (jen/tīl), 1. person who is not a Jew. 2. not Jewish. 3. heathen; pagan. 4. among Mormons, a person who is not a Mormon. 5. among Mormons, of or having to do with those outside of the Mormon community. 1,3,4 n., 2,3,5 adj.

gen til i ty (jen tīl'ə tē), 1. gentle birth; membership in the aristocracy or upper class. 2. good manners. 3. refinement. 4. pretended refinement. n., pl. gen til i ties.

gen tile (jen/tīl), 1. not severe, rough, or violent; mild: a gentle tap. 2. soft; low: a gentle sound. 3. moderate: a gentle heal, a gentle slope. 4. kindly; friendly: a gentle disposition. 5. easily handled or managed: a gentle dog. 6. of good family and social position; wellborn. 7. honorable; good; superior. 8. Archaic. noble; gallant: a gentle knight. 9. refined; polite. adj., gen tler, gentlest.

gen tile folk (jen/tīl fōk'), people of good family and social position. n.pl.

gen tile man (jen/tīl mən), 1. man of good family and social position. 2. man who is honorable and well-bred. 3. a polite term for any man. n., pl. gen tile men. —gen'tile man like', adj.

gentleman in waiting, man of good family who attends a king or prince.

gen tile man ly (jen/tīl mən lē), like a gentleman; suitable for a gentleman; polite; well-bred. adj. —gen'tile man li ness, n.

gentleman's agreement or gentlemen's agreement, an informal agreement. Because it is not written, the people or countries that make it are bound only by their promise to keep it.

gen tile ness (jen/tīl nis), being gentle. n.

gen tile wom an (jen/tīl wūm'an), 1. woman of good family and social position. 2. a well-bred woman; lady. 3. formerly, a woman attendant of a lady of rank. n., pl. gen tile wom en. —gen'tile wom'an ly, adj.

gen tly (jen/tīl), 1. in a gentle way; tenderly; softly. 2. gradually: a gently sloping hillside. adv.

gen try (jen/trē), 1. people of good family and social position. The English gentry are next below the nobility. 2. people of any particular class. n.

gen u flect (jen/yū flect), bend the knee as an act of reverence or worship. v.

gen u flection (jen/yū flek/shən), a bending of the knee as an act of reverence or worship. n.

gen u ine (jen/yū ən), 1. actually being what it seems or is claimed to be; real; true: The table is genuine mahogany, not wood stained to look like it. 2. without pretense; sincere; frank: genuine sorrow. adj. —gen'u ine ly, adv. —gen'u ine ness, n.

ge nus (jē'nəs), 1. kind; sort; class. 2. group of related animals or plants ranking below a family and above a species. The scientific name of an animal or plant consists of the genus written with a capital letter and the species written with a small letter. n., pl. gen er a or ge nus es.

geo-, word element meaning: earth; land, as in geocentric.

ge o cen tric (jē'ō sen'trik), 1. as viewed or measured from the earth's center. 2. having or representing the earth as a center. adj. —ge'o cen'tri cally, adv.

ge od e sy (jē'od'ə sē), branch of applied mathematics dealing with the shape and dimensions of the earth, the determination of the shape and area of large tracts on its surface, variations in terrestrial gravity, and the exact position of geographical points. n.

ge o det ic (jē'ə det'ik), having to do with geodesy. adj. —ge'o det'i cally, adv.

ge og ra pher (jē'og'rə fər), person trained in geography. n.

ge o graph ic (jē'ə graf'ik), geographical. adj.

ge o graph i cal (jē'ə graf'ə kl), of geography; having to do with geography. adj.

ge o graph i cal ly (jē'ə graf'ik lē), 1. in geographical respects. 2. according to geography. adv.

geographical mile, about 6080 feet.

ge og ra phy (jē'og'rə fē), 1. study of the earth's surface, climate, continents, countries, peoples, industries, and products. 2. the surface features of a place or region. 3. book about geography. n., pl. ge og ra phies.

geol., 1. geology. 2. geologic.

ge o log ic (jē'ə loj'ik), geological. adj.

ge o log i cal (jē'ə loj'ə kl), of geology; having to do with geology. adj.

ge o log i cal ly (jē'ə loj'ik lē), 1. in geological respects. 2. according to geology. adv.

ge ol o gist (jē'ol'ə jist), person trained in geology. n.

ge ol o gy (jē'ol'ə jē), 1. science that deals with the earth's crust, the layers of which it is composed, and their history. 2. features of the earth's crust in a place or region; rocks, rock formation, etc., of a particular area. 3. book about geology. n., pl. ge ol o gies.

geom., 1. geometry. 2. geometric.

ge o met ric (jē'ə met'rik), 1. of geometry; according to the principles of geometry: geometric proof. 2. consisting of straight lines, circles, triangles, etc.; regular and symmetrical: a geometric design. adj.

ge o met ri cal (jē'ə met'rə-kl), geometric. adj.

Geometric design

ge om e tri cian (jē'om'ə trish'ən or jē'ə mə trish'ən), person trained in geometry. n.

geometric progression, series in which each following number is obtained by multiplying the preceding number by the same factor. 2, 4, 8, 16, and 32 form a geometric progression. So also do 3125, 625, 125, 25, 5, 1, $\frac{1}{5}$, and $\frac{1}{25}$.

ge om e trid (jē'om'ə trid), any of a group of gray or greenish moths with slender bodies, whose larvae are called measuring worms or inchworms. Geometrids move by bringing the rear end of the body forward, thus forming a loop, and then advancing the front end. n.

ge om e try (jē'om'ə trē), 1. branch of mathematics that deals with lines, angles, surfaces, and solids. Geometry includes the definition, comparison, and measurement of squares, triangles, circles, cubes, cones, spheres, etc. 2. book about geometry. n., pl. ge om e tries.

ge o po lit i cal (jē'ō pə lit'ə kl), having to do with or involved in geopolitics. adj.

ge o pol i ti cian (jē'ō pol'ə tish'ən), person who has special skill in, or knowledge of, geopolitics. n.

ge o pol i tics (jē'ō pol'ə tiks), study of government and its policies as affected by physical geography. n.

George (jôrj), 1. Saint, died 303? A.D., Christian martyr, the patron saint of England. 2. Lake, lake in E New York State. 36 mi. long. n.

George I, 1660-1727, king of England from 1714 to 1727. He was the first king of the house of Hanover.

George II, 1683-1760, king of England from 1727 to 1760.

George III, 1738-1820, king of England from 1760 to 1820. He was the grandson of George II.

George IV, 1762-1830, king of England from 1820 to 1830. He was the son of George III.

George V, 1865-1936, king of England from 1910 to 1936. He was the son of Edward VII.

George VI, 1895-1952, king of England from 1936 to 1952. He was the son of George V and brother of Edward VIII.

George town (jôrj'toun), seaport and capital of Guyana. 73,000. n.

Geor gette (jôr jet'), a thin, fine, transparent, silk cloth with a slightly wavy surface, used for dresses, etc. n.

Geor gia (jôr'jə), 1. a Southern State of the United States. 3,943,000 pop.; 58,876 sq. mi. Capital: Atlanta. Abbrev.: Ga. 2. a republic in the SE part of the Soviet Union in Europe, between the Black and Caspian seas. It was an independent kingdom from about 300 B.C. until the 15th century. 4,049,000 pop.; 26,911 sq. mi. Capital: Tiflis. n.

Geor gian (jôr'jən), 1. of Georgia or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Georgia. 1 adj., 2 n.

Georgian Bay, the northeastern part of Lake Huron, in southeastern Canada.

ge o trop ic (jē'ə trop'ik), affected by geotropism; responding to gravity. adj.

ge ot ro pism (jē ot'rə piz əm), response to gravity. n.

Ger., 1. German. 2. Germany.

Ge raint (jə rānt'), knight of the Round Table. n.

ge ra ni um (jə rā'nē əm), 1. a cultivated plant having large clusters of showy flowers or fragrant leaves. It is often grown as a window plant. 2. a wild plant having pink or purple flowers, deeply notched leaves, and long, pointed pods. n.

ger fal con (jēr'fōl'kən or jēr'fō'kən), any of various large falcons of the arctic. n. Also, gyrfalcon.

ger i at rics (jer'ē at'riks), science which deals with the study of old age and its diseases. n.

germ (jərm), 1. a microscopic animal or plant that causes disease: the germ of scarlet fever. 2. the earliest form of a living thing; seed; bud. 3. beginning of anything; origin: Counting was the germ of arithmetic. n. —germ/-less, adj. —germ/like, adj.

Gerfalcon
(nearly 2 ft. long)

German (jēr'mən), 1. of Germany, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Germany. 3. language of Germany, especially that used in literature, on the radio, etc. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

ger man (jēr'mən), 1. having the same parents. Children of the same father and mother are brothers-german or sisters-german. 2. being a child of one's uncle or aunt. A cousin-german is a first cousin. adj.

ger mane (jēr măn'), closely connected; to the point; pertinent. adj.

Ger man ic (jēr man'ik), 1. German. 2. Teutonic. adj.

ger ma ni um (jēr mā'nē əm), a rare metallic element with a grayish-white color. Its compounds resemble those of tin. Symbol: Ge n.

German measles, a contagious disease resembling measles, but much less serious.

German shepherd, a large, intelligent dog of a breed developed in Germany, often trained to work with soldiers and police, to guide the blind, etc.; police dog.

German silver, a white alloy of copper, zinc, and nickel, used for ornaments, utensils, wire, etc.

Ger man town (jēr'mən toun), the northwestern section of Philadelphia, formerly a separate town. The British defeated Washington there in 1777, in the Revolutionary War. n.

Ger ma ny (jēr'mə nē), country in central Europe. Germany was divided after World War II into four zones occupied by the Soviet Union, Great Britain, France, and the United States. The Soviet zone is usually called East Germany, the rest West Germany. Military occupation of West Germany (now a republic) was officially ended in 1955. 72,500,000 pop.; 136,471 sq. mi. Capitals: Bonn (for West Germany) and Berlin (for East Germany). n.

germ cell, cell that can produce a new individual, usually after union with another cell of the opposite sex; egg or sperm cell.

ger mi cid al (jēr'mə sīd'l), killing germs. adj.

ger mi cide (jēr'mə sīd), any substance that kills germs, especially disease germs. Carbolic acid is a part of many germicides. n.

ger mi nal (jēr'mə nl), 1. of germs or germ cells. 2. like germs; like that of germs or germ cells. 3. in the earliest stage of development. adj.

ger mi nate (jēr'mə nāt), start growing or developing; sprout: Seeds germinate in the spring. Warmth and moisture germinate seeds. v., ger mi nated, ger mi nat ing. —ger'mi na'tor, n.

ger mi na tion (jēr'mə nā'shən), a starting to grow or develop; a sprouting: Germination takes place when seeds are warm and moist. n.

germ plasm, substance in germ cells that transmits hereditary characteristics to the offspring.

germ warfare, the spreading of germs to produce disease among the enemy in time of war.

ger on tol o gy (jer'on tol'ə jē), branch of science dealing with the phenomena and problems of old age. n.

Ger ry (ger'ē), Elbridge, 1744-1814, vice-president of the United States from 1813 to 1814. n.

ger ry man der (ger'ē man'dər or jēr'ē man'dər), U.S. 1. arrangement of the political divisions of a State, county, etc., made to give one political party an unfair advantage in elections. 2. arrange the political divisions of (a State, county, etc.) to give one political party an unfair advantage in elections. 3. manipulate unfairly. 1 n., 2, 3 v.

ger und (jer'ənd), a verb form used as a noun. n. In English, gerunds end in -ing, having the same form as present participles, but differing in use.

Gerund: "Running" a hotel appealed to him.

Participle: "Running" around the corner, he bumped into a policeman.

ge run di al (jə run'dē əl), 1. of a gerund. 2. used as a gerund. adj.

Ge sta po (gə stā'pō or gə štā'pō), an official organization of secret police and detectives in Germany under Hitler. n.

ges ta tion (jes tā'shən), 1. act or period of carrying young in the uterus from conception to birth; pregnancy. 2. formation and development of a project, etc., in the mind. n.

ges tic u late (jes tik'yə lāt), 1. make or use gestures. 2. make or use many vehement gestures: The speaker gesticulated by raising his arms, pounding the desk, and stamping his foot. v., ges tic u lat ed, ges tic u lat ing. —ges tic'u la'tor, n.

ges tic u la tion (jes tik'yə lā'shən), 1. act of gesticulating. 2. gesture. n.

ges tic u la tive (jes tik'yə lā'tiv), making or using gestures. adj.

ges ture (jes'chər), 1. movement of the hands, arms, or any part of the body, used instead of words or with words to help express an idea or feeling: A speaker often makes gestures with his hands or arms to stress something that he is saying. 2. any action for effect or to impress others: Her refusal was merely a gesture; she really wanted to go. 3. make or use gestures. 1, 2 n., 3 v., ges tured, ges tur ing.

get (get), 1. come to have; obtain; receive; gain: I got a new coat yesterday. He got first prize in the spelling contest. 2. reach: I got home early last night. Your letter got here yesterday. 3. catch; get hold of: I have got a bad cold. 4. cause to be or do: He got his hair cut yesterday. They got the fire under control. 5. Informal. be obliged: We have got to win. 6. become: get sick. 7. be: Don't get nervous when you have to take the test. 8. go; come: His boat got in yesterday. 9. persuade; influence: Try to get Jack to come, too. 10. prepare: Jane helped her mother get dinner. 11. usually of animals, beget. 12. Slang. hit; strike: The bullet got the soldier in the arm. 13. Informal. kill. 14. Informal. puzzle; annoy. 15. U.S. Slang. understand: I don't get you. v., got or (Archaic) gat, got or (esp. U.S.) got ten, get ting.

get about, 1. go from place to place. 2. spread; become widely known.

get across, Informal. 1. make clear. 2. succeed.

get along, 1. go away. 2. advance. 3. manage. 4. succeed; prosper. 5. agree.

get around, 1. go from place to place. 2. become widely known; spread. 3. overcome. 4. deceive; trick. get at, 1. reach. 2. find out. 3. Informal. tamper with; influence with money or threats.

get away, 1. go away. 2. escape. 3. start.

get away with, Informal. succeed in taking or doing something and escaping safely.

get back, 1. return. 2. recover. 3. Slang. get revenge.

get by, Informal. 1. pass. 2. not be noticed or caught.

get in, 1. go in. 2. put in. 3. arrive. 4. become friendly or familiar.

get into, 1. find out about. 2. get control of.

get off, 1. come down from or out of. 2. take off. 3. escape. 4. help to escape. 5. start. 6. put out; issue. 7. say or express (a joke). 8. deliver (a speech).

get on, 1. go up on or into. 2. put on. 3. advance. 4. manage. 5. succeed. 6. agree.

get out, 1. go out. 2. take out. 3. go away. 4. escape. 5. help to escape. 6. become known. 7. publish. 8. find out.

get over, 1. recover from. 2. overcome.

get together, Informal. 1. bring or come together; meet; assemble. 2. come to an agreement.

get up, 1. get out of bed, etc. 2. stand up. 3. prepare; arrange. 4. dress up. 5. go ahead.

get a way (get'ə wā'), Informal. 1. act of getting away; escape. 2. start of a race. n.

Geth sem a ne (geth sem'ə nē), in the Bible, a garden near Jerusalem, the scene of Jesus' agony, betrayal, and arrest. Matthew 26:36. n.

get-togeth-er (get'tū geth'ər), Informal. an informal social gathering or party. n.

Get tys burg (get'ez bērg), town in S Pennsylvania. One of the important battles of the Civil War was fought there July 1, 2, and 3, 1863. n.

get-up (get'up'), Informal. 1. way a thing is put together; arrangement; style. 2. dress; costume. n.

gew gaw (gū'gō), 1. showy trifle; gaudy, useless ornament or toy; bauble. 2. showy but trifling. 1 n., 2 adj.

geyser (gī'zər), a spring that sends a column of hot water and steam into the air at intervals. n.

G-force (jē'fōrs'), the force exerted on a person or object by gravitation, or by reaction to acceleration or deceleration when an aircraft, rocket, etc., changes speed or direction. n.

Gha na (gā'nā), country in W Africa, a member of the British Commonwealth. It includes Togoland and most of the former Gold Coast. 6,691,000 pop.; 91,843 sq. mi. Capital: Accra. n.

ghast ly (gast'lē), 1. horrible: Murder is a ghastly crime. 2. like a dead person or ghost; deathly pale: The sick man's face was ghastly. 3. Informal. shocking: a ghastly failure. 4. in a ghastly manner. 1-3 adj., ghast li er, ghast li est; 4 adv. —ghast/li ness, n.

Ghats (gōts), mountain ranges along the E and W coasts of S India. n.pl.

Geyser

ghee (gē), in India, a liquid butter, clarified by boiling, made from the milk of buffaloes and cows. n.

Ghent (gent), city in NW Belgium, on the Scheldt River. 160,000. n.

gher kin (gēr'kən), 1. a small, prickly cucumber often used for pickles. 2. a young, green cucumber used for pickles. n.

ghet to (get'ō), 1. formerly, part of a city where Jews were required to live. 2. part of a city where any racial group lives. n., pl. ghet tos.

ghost (gōst), 1. spirit of a dead person. It is supposed to live in another world and appear to living people as a pale, dim, shadowy form. 2. anything pale, dim, or shadowy like a ghost; a faint image; slightest suggestion: a ghost of a smile, not a ghost of a chance. 3. Informal. ghost writer. 4. be a ghost writer for. 5. a secondary or multiple image resulting from the reflection of a transmitted television signal. 6. designating a habitation, town, etc., that is deserted: a ghost town. 1-3, 5 n., 4 v., 6 adj. —ghost/like', adj.

give up the ghost, die.

ghost ly (gōst'lē), 1. like a ghost; pale, dim, and shadowy: In the darkness he seemed to see ghostly forms. 2. spiritual; religious. adj., ghost li er, ghost li est. —ghost/li ness, n.

ghost writer, person who writes something for another who pretends to be the author.

ghoul (gūl), 1. a horrible demon in Oriental stories, believed to feed on corpses. 2. person who robs graves or corpses. 3. person who enjoys what is revolting, brutal, and horrible. n.

ghoul ish (gūl'ish), like a ghoul; revolting, brutal, and horrible. adj. —ghoul/ish ly, adv.

G.H.Q., General Headquarters.

G.I. or GI (jē'ī'), 1. government issue: G.I. shoes, G.I. socks. 2. Informal. conforming to regulations; standard: G.I. uniform. 3. Informal. an enlisted soldier in the United States Army; serviceman. 1, 2 adj., 3 n., pl. G.I.'s, GI's, or GIs (jē'iz').

giant (jī'ənt), 1. an imaginary being having human form, but larger and more powerful than a man. 2. person or thing of unusual size, strength, importance, etc. 3. like a giant; unusually big and strong; huge. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

giant ess (jī'ən tis), a woman giant. n.

giant panda, panda (def. 1).

gib ber (jīb'ər or gib'ər), 1. chatter senselessly; talk rapidly and indistinctly: The monkeys gibbered angrily at each other. 2. senseless chattering; rapid, indistinct talking. 1 v., 2 n.

gib ber ish (jīb'ər ish or gib'ər ish), senseless chatter; rapid, indistinct talk; jargon. n.

gib bet (jīb'it), 1. an upright post with a projecting arm at the top, from which the bodies of criminals were hung after execution. 2. hang on a gibbet. 3. hold up to public scorn or ridicule. 4. gallows. 5. put to death by hanging. 1, 4 n., 2, 3, 5 v.

gib bet ed, gib bet ing.

gib bon (gib'ən), a small, long-armed ape of SE Asia and the East Indies, that lives in trees. n.

gib bous (gib'əs), curved out; humped. A gibbous moon is more than half full but less than full. adj.

gibe (jīb), jeer; scoff; sneer. v., gibed, gib ing; n. Also, jibe. —gib/-er, n. —gib/ing-ly, adv.

gib lets (jīb'lets), the heart, liver, and gizzard of a fowl. n.pl.

Gibbon
(about 30 in. tall)

Phases of the moon: 1. crescent moon; 2. gibbous moon; 3. full moon.

Gi bral tar (jə bról'tər), 1. seaport and fortress on a high rock at the southern tip of Spain. It is a British colony. 25,000 pop.; 17½ sq. mi. 2. Rock of, the large rock on which this fortress stands. 3. any strongly fortified place; impregnable stronghold. 4. Strait of, strait between Africa and Europe, connecting the Mediterranean Sea with the Atlantic. 8½ to 23 mi. wide. n.
gid dy (gid'ē), 1. having a confused, whirling feeling in one's head; dizzy: It makes me giddy to go on a merry-go-round. 2. likely to make dizzy; causing dizziness: The couples whirled and whirled in their giddy dance. 3. rarely or never serious; living for the pleasure of the moment; flighty; heedless: Nobody can tell what that giddy girl will do next. adj., gid di er, gid di est. —gid'di ly, adv. —gid'di ness, n.

Gide'on (gid'ē'ən), in the Bible, a hero of Israel who defeated the Midianites and was a judge of Israel for forty years. Judges 6 and 7. n.

gift (gift), 1. thing given; present: a Christmas gift. 2. act of giving: The house came to him by gift from an uncle. 3. power or right of giving: The office is within his gift. 4. natural ability; special talent: a gift for painting. n.
gift ed (gift'id), having natural ability or special talent: a gifted musician. adj.

gig¹ (gig), 1. a light, two-wheeled carriage drawn by one horse.

Gig (def. 1)

2. a long, light ship's boat moved by oars or sails. n.
gig² (gig), 1. a fish spear; harpoon. 2. spear (fish) with a gig. 1 n., 2 v., gigged, gig ging.

gi gan tic (jī gan'tik), like a giant; unusually big; huge; enormous. adj. —gi gan'ti cal ly, adv.

gig gle (gig'l), 1. laugh in a silly or undignified way. 2. a silly or undignified laugh. 1 v., gig gled, gig gling; 2 n. —gig'gler, n. —gig'gling ly, adv.

gig gly (gig'lē), having the habit of giggling. adj.

Gila (hē'lā), river flowing from SW New Mexico across S Arizona into the Colorado River. 630 mi. n.

Gila monster
(1½ ft. long)

Gila monster, a large, poisonous lizard of Arizona and New Mexico having a short, stumpy tail and a heavy, clumsy body covered with beadlike orange-and-black scales.

Gil bert (gil'bart), 1. Sir Humphrey, 1539?-1583, English navigator who explored the coast of Newfoundland. 2. Sir William Schwenck, 1836-1911, English humorist who wrote the words for most of the operas for which Sir Arthur Sullivan wrote the music. n.

Gilbert and Ellice Islands (el'is), a British colony in the central Pacific which includes a large number of small islands near the equator. Colonial headquarters are on Tarawa. 44,000 pop.; 374 sq. mi.

gild¹ (gild), 1. cover with a thin layer of gold or similar material; make golden. 2. make (a thing) look bright and pleasing. 3. make (a thing) seem better than it is. v., gild ed or gilt, gild ing.

gild² (gild), guild. n.

gild ing (gil'ding), 1. a thin layer of gold or similar material with which a thing is gilded. 2. thing gilded. n.

Gil e ad (gil'ē'əd), 1. region in ancient Palestine, east of the Jordan River. 2. Mount, mountain in NW Jordan, northeast of the Dead Sea. 3596 ft. n.

gill¹ (gil), part of the body of a fish, tadpole, crab, etc., arranged for breathing in water. n.

gills, 1. the fine, thin, leaflike structures on the underside of a mushroom. 2. flesh under a person's jaws.

3. the red, hanging flesh under the throat of a fowl.

gill² (jil), measure for liquids, equal to one fourth of a pint. n.

gil lie (gil'ē), 1. man who goes with and helps a hunter or fisherman in the Scottish Highlands. 2. follower; servant. n.

gil ly (gil'ē), gillie, n., pl. gil lies.

gil ly flow er (jil'ē'flou'ər), any of various flowers that have a spicy fragrance, such as the wallflower, stock, and clove pink. n.

gilt (gilt), 1. a pt. and a pp. of gild¹. 2. gilded. 3. a thin layer of gold or similar material with which a thing is gilded. 1 v., 2 adj., 3 n.

gilt-edged (gilt'ejd'), 1. having gilded edges. 2. of the very best quality. adj.

gim crack (jim'krak'),

1. a showy, useless trifle.

2. showy but useless. 1 n., 2 adj.

gim let (jim'lit), a small tool with a screw point, for boring holes. n.

gim let-eyed (jim'lit id'), having eyes that are sharp and piercing. adj.

gim mick (jim'ik), U.S.

Slang. any small device, especially one used secretly or in a tricky manner. n.

gin¹ (jin), a strong alcoholic drink, usually flavored with juniper berries. n.

gin² (jin), 1. machine for separating cotton from its seeds. 2. separate (cotton) from its seeds. 3. trap; snare. 1,3 n., 2,3 v., ginned, gin ning. —gin'ner, n.

gin ger (jin'jər), 1. spice made from the root of a tropical plant, used for flavoring and in medicine.

2. the root, often preserved in syrup or candied. 3. the plant. 4. Informal. liveliness; energy. 5. light, reddish or brownish yellow. 1-5 n., 5 adj.

ginger ale, a nonalcoholic, bubbling drink flavored with ginger.

ginger beer, drink similar to ginger ale, but made with fermenting ginger.

gin ger bread (jin'jər bred'), 1. cake flavored with ginger and sweetened with molasses. 2. something showy and elaborate, but not in good taste, such as cheap carvings glued on furniture; tasteless and useless ornamentation of a building. 3. showy; gaudy. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

gin ger ly (jin'jər lē), with extreme care or caution.

adv., adj. —gin'ger li ness, n.

gin ger snap (jin'jər snap'), a thin, crisp cookie flavored with ginger. n.

gin ger y (jin'jər ē), 1. like ginger; hot and sharp; spicy. 2. light reddish- or brownish-yellow. adj.

ging ham (ging'əm), 1. a cotton cloth made from colored threads. Its patterns are usually stripes, plaids, or checks. 2. made of gingham: a gingham dress. 1 n., 2 adj.

gink go (ging'kō or jing'kō), a large, ornamental tree of China and Japan with fan-shaped leaves and edible nuts. n., pl. gink goes.

gin seng (jin'seng), 1. a low plant with a thick, branched root. 2. this root, used in medicine by the Chinese. n.

Gip sy (jip'sē), Esp. Brit. Gypsy. n.,

pl. Gipsies.

gip sy (jip'sē), Esp. Brit. gypsy. n.,

pl. gipsies; adj.

gipsy moth, gypsy moth.

gi raffe (jə raf'), a large African mammal with a very long neck and legs and a spotted skin. Giraffes are the tallest of living animals. n.

gird¹ (gərd), 1. put a belt or girdle around. 2. fasten with a belt or girdle.

Gimlet. It works like an auger but is used with one hand instead of two.

Giraffe
(about 18 ft.
tall)

3. surround; enclose. 4. get ready for action: The soldiers girded themselves for battle. 5. clothe; furnish; endue. v., girt or gird ed, gird ing.

gird (gêrd), jeer; sneer; scoff. v., n.

gird er (gêr'dər), a main supporting beam. The weight of a floor is usually supported by girders. A tall building or big bridge often has steel girders for its frame. n.

GIRDER

girdle (gêr'dl), 1. belt, sash, cord, etc., worn around the waist.

2. anything that surrounds or encloses: a girdle of trees around the pond. 3. support like a corset worn about the hips or waist.

4. form a girdle around; encircle: Wide roads girdle the city. 5. cut away the bark so as to make a ring around (a tree, branch, etc.). 6. put a girdle on or around. 1-3 n., 4, 5 v., girdled, girdling.

girl (gêrl), 1. a female child. 2. a young, unmarried woman. 3. a female servant. 4. Informal. sweetheart. n.

girl hood (gêrl'hüd), 1. time or condition of being a girl. 2. girls as a group: the girlhood of the nation. n.

girlie (gêr'lî), Informal. a little girl. n.

girl ish (gêr'lish), 1. of a girl. 2. like that of a girl. 3. proper or suitable for girls. adj., —girl'ish ly, adv.

—girl'ish ness, n.

girl scout, member of the Girl Scouts.

Girl Scouts, organization for girls that seeks to develop health, character, and a knowledge of homemaking. It was formed in 1912 at Savannah, Georgia.

girt (gêrt), 1. a pt. and a pp. of gird: The knight girt himself for a battle. 2. put a belt, girdle, or girth around; gird. 3. fasten with a belt, girdle, or girth. v.

girth (gêrth), 1. the measure around anything; a man of large girth, the girth of a tree. 2. measure in girth. 3. strap or band that keeps a saddle, pack, etc., in place on a horse's back. 4. fasten with a strap or band. 5. girdle. 1, 3, 5 n., 2, 4, 5 v.

gist (jist), the essential part; real point; main idea; substance of a longer statement: The gist of his long speech was that we should build a new school. n.

git tern (git'ørn), an old musical instrument with wire strings, somewhat like a guitar. n.

Rider fastening the girth on a horse give (giv), 1. hand over as a present: My brother gave me his watch. 2. hand over; deliver: give a person into custody, give one's word. Please give me a drink. 3. hand over in return for something: I gave it to him for $5. 4. let have; cause to have: Give me permission to leave. 5. deal; administer: Some boys give hard blows, even in play. 6. offer; present: This newspaper gives a full story of the game. 7. put forth; make; do; utter: He gave a cry of pain. 8. furnish; supply: give aid to the enemy. 9. produce; deliver: give a lecture. 10. yield to pressure or force: The lock gave when he pushed hard against the door. 11. a yielding to force or pressure; elasticity. 1-10 v., gave, gив en, giving; 11 n. —giv'er, n.

give and take, exchange evenly or fairly.

give away, Informal. 1. give as a present. 2. hand over (a bride) to a bridegroom. 3. cause to be known; reveal; betray.

give back, return.

give in, 1. stop fighting and admit defeat; yield. 2. hand in.

give off, send out; put forth.

give out, 1. send out; put forth. 2. distribute. 3. make known. 4. become used up or worn out.

give over, 1. hand over; deliver. 2. stop.

give up, 1. hand over; deliver; surrender. 2. stop having or doing. 3. stop trying. 4. have no more hope for. 5. devote entirely.

give-and-take (giv'ənd tāk'), 1. an even or fair exchange. 2. good-natured banter. n.

give a way (giv'ə wā'), Informal. 1. an unintentional revelation; exposure; betrayal. 2. a radio or television show in which the contestants participate and receive prizes. n.

giv en (giv'ən), 1. stated; fixed; specified: You must finish the test in a given time. 2. inclined; disposed; having a fondness or habit: A boastful person is given to boasting. 3. assigned as a basis of calculating, reasoning, etc.: Given that the radius is 4 ft., find the circumference. 4. pp. of give. That book was given to me. 1-3 adj., 4 v.

given name, name given to a person in addition to his family name. John is the given name of John Smith. Gi za or Gi zeh (gē'zə), town in NE Egypt, near Cairo, the Pyramids, and the Sphinx. 177,000. n.

giz zard (giz'ərd), a bird's second stomach, where the food from the first stomach is ground up fine. n.

Gl, glaucinum.

glac é (glā sā'), 1. covered with sugar, frosting, or icing. 2. frozen. 3. finished with a glossy surface. adj.

glac ial (glā'shəl), 1. of ice or glaciers; having much ice or many glaciers: During the glacial period, much of the Northern Hemisphere was covered with great ice sheets. 2. relating to a glacial epoch or period. 3. made by the action of ice or glaciers. 4. like ice; very cold; icy. adj.

—glac'ial ly, adv.

glacial epoch, 1. any of the times when much of the earth was covered with glaciers. 2. the most recent time when much of the Northern Hemisphere was covered with glaciers.

glacial period, period that includes the glacial epochs; ice age.

glac i ate (glā'shē āt), 1. cover with ice or glaciers.

2. act on by ice or glaciers. v., glac i at ed, glac i at ing. —glac'ia tion, n.

glac i er (glā'shər), a large mass of ice formed from snow on high ground wherever winter snowfall exceeds summer melting. It moves very slowly down a mountain or along a valley. n.

glad (glād), 1. happy; pleased: She is glad to be well again. 2. bringing joy; pleasant: The glad news made her happy. 3. bright; gay. adj., glad der, glad dest. —glad'ness, n.

glad den (glād'n), make or become glad. v.

glade (glād), 1. an open space in a wood or forest.

2. a marshy tract of low ground covered with grass. n.

glad i a tor (glād'ē ā'tər), 1. slave, captive, or paid fighter who fought at the public shows in ancient Rome. 2. person who argues, fights, wrestles, etc., with great skill. n.

glad i a to ri al (glād'ē ā tō'rē əl), of gladiators; having to do with gladiators. adj.

glad i o la (glād'ē ō'lə), gladiolus. n.

glad i o lus (glād'ē ō'ləs), kind of iris that grows from bulblike underground stems and has spikes of large, handsome flowers in various colors. n., pl. glad i o li (-li) or glad i o lus es.

glad ly (glād'lî), in a glad manner; cheerfully; with gladness. adv.

glad some (glād'səm), 1. glad; joyful; cheerful. 2. causing gladness; pleasant; delightful. adj.

glave (glāv), Archaic. sword; broadsword. n.

glam or (glām'ər), glamour. n.

glam or ize (glām'ər iz), make (someone or something) glamorous. v., glam or ized, glam or iz ing.

glam or ous (glām'ər əs), full of glamour; fascinating; charming. adj. —glam'or ous ly, adv.

glam our (glām'ər), 1. mysterious fascination; alluring charm: The glamour of Hollywood draws many young people there every year. 2. a magic spell or influence; enchantment. n.

glam our ous (glām'ər əs), glamorous. adj.

Gladiolus

glance (glans), 1. a quick look: I gave him only a glance. 2. look quickly. 3. a flash of light; gleam. 4. flash with light; gleam. 5. hit and go off at a slant: The spear glanced against the wall and missed him. 6. a glancing off; deflected motion; swift, oblique movement. 7. make a short reference and go on to something else. 8. a passing reference; brief allusion. 1,3,6,8 n., 2,4,5,7 v., glanced, glanc ing.

gland (gland), organ in the body by which certain substances are separated from the blood and changed into some secretion for use in the body, such as bile, or into a product to be discharged from the body, such as sweat. The liver, the kidneys, the pancreas, and the thyroid are glands. n.

glan ders (glan'dərz), a serious contagious disease of horses, mules, etc., accompanied by swellings beneath the lower jaw and a profuse discharge from the nostrils. n.

glan du lar (glan'jə lər or glan'dyə lər), of or like a gland; having glands; made up of glands. adj.

glare¹ (glār), 1. a strong, bright light; light that shines so brightly that it hurts the eyes. 2. give off a strong, bright light; shine so brightly as to hurt the eyes. 3. a fierce, angry stare. 4. stare fiercely and angrily. 5. express by a fierce, angry stare. 6. too great brightness and showiness. 7. be too bright and showy. 1,3,6 n., 2,4,5,7 v., glared, glar ing.

glare² (glār), 1. a bright, smooth surface. 2. bright and smooth. 1 n., 2 adj.

glar ing (glār'ing), 1. very bright; shining so brightly that it hurts the eyes; dazzling. 2. staring fiercely and angrily. 3. too bright and showy. 4. very easily seen; conspicuous. adj.

Glas gow (glas'gō or glas'kō), the largest city and chief seaport in Scotland, on the Clyde River. 1,079,000. n.

glass (glas), 1. a hard, brittle substance that is usually transparent, made by melting sand with soda, potash, lime, or other substances. Windows are made of glass. 2. thing to drink from made of glass. 3. as much as a glass holds: to drink a glass of water. 4. something made of glass. A piece of glass for a picture frame, a window-pane, a mirror, a watch crystal, a lens to correct defective eyesight, a telescope, a thermometer, a barometer, or an hourglass is a glass. 5. things made of glass. 6. made of glass: a glass dish. 7. with glass put in it; covered with glass. 8. put glass in; cover or protect with glass. 9. reflect. 1-5 n., 6,7 adj., 8,9 v.

glasses, 1. pair of lenses to correct defective eyesight; eyeglasses; spectacles. 2. field glasses; binoculars.

glass blowing, art or process of shaping glass by blowing while it is still hot and soft.

glass ful (glas'ful), as much as a glass holds. n., pl. glass fuls.

glass snake, a legless, snakelike lizard of the S United States. Its tail breaks off very easily.

glass ware (glas'wār'), articles made of glass. n.

glass wort (glas'wərt'), plant with juicy, leafless stems that grows in salt-water marshes. Its ashes were formerly used as a source of soda in making glass. n.

glassy (glas'ē), 1. like glass; smooth; easily seen through. 2. having a fixed, stupid stare. adj., glass-i-er, glass i-est. —glass'i-ly, adv. —glass'i-ness, n.

glau co ma (glō kō'mə or glou kō'mə), disease of the eye, characterized by hardening of the eyeball and gradual loss of sight. n.

glau cous (glō'kəs), 1. light bluish-green. 2. covered with whitish powder as plums and grapes are. adj.

glaze (glāz), 1. put glass in; cover with glass. Pieces of glass cut to the right size are used to glaze windows and picture frames. 2. a smooth, glassy surface or glossy coating: the glaze on a china cup, a glaze of ice. 3. substance used to make such a surface or coating on things. 4. make a smooth, glassy surface or glossy coating on (china, food, etc.). 5. become smooth, glassy, or glossy. 1,4,5 v., glazed, glaz ing; 2,3 n.

glazier (glā'zhər), person whose work is putting glass in windows, picture frames, etc. n.

gleam (glēm), 1. a flash or beam of light: We saw the gleam of headlights through the rain. 2. to flash or beam with light. 3. a short or faint light. 4. shine with a short or faint light. 5. a short appearance; faint show: After one gleam of hope, all was discouraging and dark. 6. appear suddenly; be shown briefly. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,6 v.

glean (glēn), 1. gather (grain) left on a field by reapers. 2. gather little by little or slowly. v. —glean'-er, n.

glebe (glēb), 1. Poetic. soil; earth; field. 2. portion of land assigned to a clergyman as part of his living. n.

glee (glē), 1. joy; delight; mirth. 2. song for three or more voices singing different parts, usually without instrumental accompaniment. n.

glee club, group organized for singing songs.

glee ful (glē'fəl), filled with glee; merry; joyous. adj. —glee'ful ly, adv. —glee'ful ness, n.

glee man (glē'mən), Archaic. a singer; minstrel. n., pl. glee men.

glee some (glē'səm), gleeful. adj.

glen (glēn), a small, narrow valley. n.

Glen dale (glēn'dāl), city in SW California, near Los Angeles. 119,000. n.

glen gar ry (glēn'gar'ē), a Scottish cap with straight sides and a creased top, often having short ribbons at the back. n., pl. glen gar ries.

glib (glīb), 1. speaking or spoken smoothly and easily: A glib salesman sold her a set of dishes that she did not want. 2. speaking or spoken too smoothly and easily to be sincere: No one believed his glib excuses. adj., glib ber, glib best. —glib'ly, adv. —glib'ness, n.

glide (glīd), 1. move along smoothly, evenly, and easily. Birds, ships, dancers, skaters, etc., glide. 2. a smooth, even, easy movement. 3. pass gradually, quietly, or imperceptibly: The years glided past. 4. come down slowly at a slant without using a motor. Under favorable circumstances, an airplane can glide about a mile for every thousand feet that it is above the ground. 5. of an airplane, a coming down slowly at a slant without using a motor. 6. slur in music. 1,3,4 v., glid ed, glid ing; 2,5,6 n.

glid er (glīd'ər), 1. aircraft resembling an airplane without a motor. Rising air currents keep it in the air. 2. person or thing that glides. n.

glim (glīm), Slang. 1. light; lamp; candle. 2. eye. n.

glim mer (glīm'ər), 1. a faint, unsteady light. 2. shine with a faint, unsteady light: The candle glimmered and went out. 3. a vague idea; dim notion; faint glimpse: The doctor's report gave us only a glimmer of hope. 4. appear faintly or dimly. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

glim mer ing (glīm'ər'ing), 1. a faint, unsteady light; glimmer. 2. a vague idea; dim notion; faint glimpse. n.

glimpse (glīmps), 1. a short, quick view: I caught a glimpse of the falls as our train went by. 2. catch a short, quick view of. 3. look quickly; glance. 4. a short, faint appearance. 1,4 n., 2,3 v., glimpsed, glimps ing.

glint (glīnt), gleam; flash. v., n.

glis san do (gli sän'dō), in music: 1. performed with a gliding effect. A pianist plays a glissando passage by running one finger rapidly over the white keys on a piano. 2. a gliding effect; glissando passage. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. glis san di (-dē).

glis ten (glis'n), sparkle; glitter; shine. v., n.

Glengarry

Glider

glit ter (glit'ər), 1. shine with a bright, sparkling light: Jewels and new coins glitter. 2. a bright, sparkling light. 3. be bright and showy. 4. brightness; showiness. 1,3 v., 2,4 n.

glit ter y (glit'ər ē), glittering. adj.

gloom ing (glōm'ing), evening twilight; dusk. n.

gloat (glōt), gaze intently; ponder with pleasure; stare: The miser gloated over his gold. v. —gloat'er, n. —gloat'ing ly, adv.

glob al (glōb'l), 1. of the earth as a whole; worldwide. 2. shaped like a globe. adj. —glob'al ly, adv.

globe (glōb), 1. anything round like a ball; sphere. 2. earth; world. 3. sphere with a map of the earth or sky on it. 4. anything rounded like a globe. An electric light bulb is a globe. 5. gather or form into a globe. 1-4 n., 5 v., globed, glob ing.

globe fish (glōb'fish'), fish that can make itself nearly ball-shaped by drawing in air. n., pl. globe fish-es or (esp. collectively) globe fish.

globe flow er (glōb'flou'ər), plant of the same family as the buttercup, with globe-shaped, yellow flowers. n.

globe trot ter (glōb'trot'ər), person who travels widely over the world for sightseeing. n.

glob u lar (glob'yələr), 1. shaped like a globe or globule; round; spherical. 2. consisting of globules. adj.

glob ule (glob'ül), a very small ball; tiny drop: globules of sweat. n.

glock en spiel (glok'an spēl'), a musical instrument consisting of a series of small, tuned bells, metal bars, or tubes mounted in a frame and struck by two little hammers. n.

gloom (glüm), 1. darkness; deep shadow; dimness. 2. be or become dark, dim, or dismal. 3. low spirits; sadness. 4. be in low spirits; feel miserable. 5. a dejected or sad look. 6. look sad or dismal. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,6 v.

gloom y (glüm'ē), 1. dark; dim. 2. in low spirits; sad; melancholy. 3. causing low spirits; discouraging; dismal. adj. gloom i er, gloom i est. —gloom'i ly, adv. —gloom'i ness, n.

glo ri a (glō'rē ə), 1. song of praise to God, or its musical setting. 2. halo. 3. fabric made of silk and some other material, used for umbrellas. n.

Glo ri a (glō'rē ə), one of three songs of praise to God, beginning "Glory be to God on high," "Glory be to the Father," and "Glory be to Thee, O Lord." n.

glo ri fi ca tion (glō'rə fə kā'shən), 1. a glorifying. 2. a being glorified. 3. Informal. celebration; festivity. n.

glo ri fy (glō'rə fī), 1. give glory to; make glorious. 2. praise; honor; worship: We sing hymns to glorify God. 3. make more beautiful or splendid: Sunset glorified the valley. 4. exalt to the glory of heaven. v., glo ri fied, glo ri fy ing. —glo'ri fi'er, n.

glo ri ous (glō'rē əs), 1. having or deserving glory; illustrious. 2. giving glory. 3. magnificent; splendid. adj. —glo'ri ous ly, adv.

glo ry (glō'rē), 1. great praise and honor; fame; renown. 2. that which brings praise and honor; source of pride and joy: America's great men are her glory. 3. adoring praise and thanksgiving. 4. be proud; rejoice. 5. radiant beauty; brightness; magnificence; splendor. 6. condition of magnificence, splendor, or greatest prosperity. 7. splendor and bliss of heaven; heaven: the saints in glory. 8. halo. 1-3,5-8 n., pl. glo ries; 4 v., glo ried, glo ry ing.

gloss (glōs), 1. a smooth, shiny surface; luster: Varnished furniture has a gloss. 2. put a smooth, shiny surface on. 3. an outward appearance or surface that covers wrong underneath. 4. smooth over; make seem right: gloss over a mistake. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

gloss (glōs), 1. explanation; comment. 2. comment on; explain. 3. glossary. 1,3 n., 2 v. —gloss'er, n.

glos sa ry (glos'ə rē), list of special, technical, or difficult words with explanations or comments: a glossary to Shakespeare's plays, a glossary of terms used in chemistry. Textbooks sometimes have glossaries at the end. n., pl. glos sa ries.

gloss y (glōs'ē), smooth and shiny. adj. gloss i er, gloss i est. —gloss'i ly, adv. —gloss'i ness, n.

glot tis (glot'is), an opening at the upper part of the windpipe, between the vocal cords. n.

Gloucester (glos'tər or glōs'tər), 1. seaport in NE Massachusetts. 26,000. 2. city in SW England, on the Severn River. 67,000. n.

glove (gluv), 1. a covering for the hand, usually with separate places for each of the four fingers and the thumb. 2. a boxing glove. 3. cover with a glove; provide with gloves. 4. serve as a glove for. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., gloved, glov ing. —glove'less, adj. handle with gloves, treat gently.

glov er (gluv'ər), person who makes or sells gloves. n.

glow (glō), 1. shine from something that is red-hot or white-hot; similar shine. 2. shine as if red-hot or white-hot. 3. brightness: the glow of sunset. 4. a warm feeling or color in the body: the glow of health on his cheeks. 5. show a warm color; look warm; be red or bright. 6. be hot; burn. 7. an eager look on the face: a glow of interest or excitement. 8. be eager or animated. 1,3,4,7 n., 2,5,6,8 v.

glow er (glou'ər), 1. stare angrily; scowl: The fighters glowered at each other. 2. an angry or sullen look. 1 v., 2 n. —glow'er ing ly, adv.

glow ing (glō'ing), 1. shining from something that is red-hot or white-hot. 2. bright: glowing colors. 3. showing a warm color: glowing cheeks. 4. eager; animated: a glowing description. adj. —glow'ing ly, adv.

glow worm (glō'wərm'), any insect larva or worm-like insect that glows in the dark. Fireflies develop from glowworms. n.

glox in ia (glok sin'ē ə), a cultivated plant with large, white, red, or purple, bell-shaped flowers. n.

gloze (glōz), 1. smooth over; explain away: His friends glozed over his faults. 2. talk speciously or flatteringly. v., glozed, gloz ing.

glu ci num (glü sē'nəm), former name of beryllium. Symbol: Gl n.

glu cose (glü'kōs), 1. kind of sugar occurring in fruits. It is about half as sweet as cane sugar. 2. syrup made from starch. n.

glue (glü), 1. substance used to stick things together, often made by boiling the hoofs, skins, and bones of animals in water. 2. any similar sticky substance: Glues are stronger than pastes. 3. stick together with glue. 4. fasten tightly; attach firmly. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., glued, glu ing.

glue y (glü'ē), 1. like glue; sticky. 2. full of glue; smeared with glue. adj. glu i er, glu i est.

glum (glum), gloomy; dismal; sullen. adj. glum-mer, glum mest. —glum'ly, adv.

glut (glut), 1. fill full; feed or satisfy fully: A year of war glutted his appetite for adventure. 2. a full supply; great quantity. 3. fill too full; supply too much for: The prices for wheat dropped when the market was glutted with it. 4. too great a supply. 1,3 v., glut ted, glut-ting; 2,4 n.

glu ten (glüt'n), a tough, sticky substance that remains in flour when the starch is taken out. n.

glu te nous (glüt'n əs), 1. like gluten. 2. containing much gluten. adj.

glu ti nous (glüt'n əs), sticky. adj.

glut ton (glüt'n), 1. a greedy eater; person who eats too much. 2. person who never seems to have enough of something. n.

glut ton (glüt'n), a clumsy, heavily built mammal of northern regions; wolverine. See wolverine for picture. n.

glut ton ous (glüt'n əs), greedy about food; having the habit of eating too much. adj. —glut'ton ous-ly, adv.

glut ton y (glüt'n ē), greediness about food; habit of eating too much. n., pl. glut ton ies.

glyc er in or glyc er ine (glis'ər in), a colorless, syrupy, sweet liquid obtained from fats and oils, used in lotions, antifreeze solutions, and explosives. n.

glycerol (glis'ər ōl), glycerin. n.

glycogen (glī'kə jən), a starchlike substance in the liver and other animal tissues that is changed into sugar when needed. n.

gm., gram; grams.

G-man (jē'man'), Informal. a special agent of the United States Department of Justice; agent of the FBI. n., pl. G-men.

gnarl (nārl), knot in wood; hard, rough lump. Wood with gnarls is hard to cut. n.

gnarled (nārl'd), covered with knots or hard, rough lumps; knotted; twisted; rugged: The farmer's gnarled hands grasped the plow firmly. adj.

gnash (nash), 1. strike or grind (the teeth) together; grind together. 2. bite by gnashing the teeth. v.

gnat (nat), 1. any of various small, two-winged insects or flies. Most gnats are bloodsucking and make bites that itch. 2. Brit. mosquito. n.

strain at a gnat, object to some small or very trifling thing.

gnaw (nô), 1. bite at and wear away. 2. make by biting: A rat can gnaw a hole through wood. 3. wear away; consume; corrode. 4. torment. v., gnawed, gnawed or gnawn, gnawing. —gnaw'er, n.

gnawn (nôn), gnawed, a pp. of gnaw. v.

gneiss (nīs), rock like granite, but with flatter crystals in more nearly parallel layers. n.

gnome (nôm), dwarf supposed to live in the earth and guard treasures of precious metals and stones. n.

gnomic (nō'mik or nom'ik), full of maxims or instructive sayings; aphoristic; sententious. adj.

G.N.P. or GNP, gross national product.

gnu (nū or nû), a large, African antelope with an oxlike head, curved horns, and a long tail; wildebeest. n., pl. gnus or (esp. collectively) gnu.

go (gō), 1. move along: Go straight home. 2. move away; leave: It is time to go. 3. be in motion; act; work; run: Does your watch go well? 4. get to be; become: go mad. 5. be habitually; be: go hungry. 6. proceed; advance: go to New York. 7. be current: A rumor went through the town. 8. be known: She went under a false name. 9. put oneself: Don't go to any trouble for me. 10. extend; reach: His memory does not go back that far. 11. pass: Vacation goes quickly. 12. be given: First prize goes to you. 13. be sold: The painting goes to the highest bidder. 14. tend; lead: This goes to show that you must work harder. 15. turn out; have a certain result: How did the game go? 16. have its place; belong: This book goes on the top shelf. 17. make a certain sound. 18. have certain words; be said: How does that song go? 19. refer; appeal: go to court. 20. stop being; be given up, used up, or lost: His eyesight is going. 21. die: His wife went first. 22. break down; give way: The engine in the old car finally went. 23. Informal. put up with; stand: I can't go tea. 24. act of going. 25. Informal. spirit; energy. 26. Informal. state of affairs; way that things are. 27. Informal. fashion; style; rage. 28. Informal. try; attempt; chance. 29. something successful. 1-23 v., went, gone, going; 24-29 n., pl. goes. —go'er, n.

as people or things go, considering how others are.

go about, 1. be busy at; work on. 2. move from place to place. 3. turn around; change direction.

go around, 1. move from place to place. 2. be enough to give some to all.

go at, attack.

Gnat. Line shows actual length.

Gnu (about 4 ft. high at the shoulder) go back of, Informal. investigate.

go back on, Informal. not be faithful or loyal to.

go behind, investigate the real or hidden reasons for. go by, 1. pass. 2. be guided by; follow. 3. be controlled by. 4. be known by.

go down, 1. descend; decline; sink. 2. be defeated; lose.

go for, Informal. 1. try to get. 2. favor; support. 3. be taken or considered as. 4. attack.

go in for, Informal. try to do; take part in; spend time and energy at.

go into, 1. be contained in. 2. investigate.

go in with, join; share with.

go it, Informal. go fast.

go off, 1. leave; depart. 2. be fired; explode. 3. take place; happen.

go on, 1. go ahead; go forward. 2. manage. 3. behave. go out, 1. stop being; end. 2. go to parties, etc.

3. give sympathy. 4. go on strike.

go over, Informal. 1. look at carefully. 2. do again. 3. read again. 4. succeed.

go through, 1. go to the end of; do all of. 2. undergo; experience. 3. search. 4. be accepted or approved: The new schedule did not go through.

go through with, complete; carry out to the end.

go together, keep steady company as lovers.

go under, 1. be overwhelmed or sunk. 2. be ruined; fail.

go up, 1. ascend; rise. 2. increase.

go with, 1. accompany. 2. be in harmony with.

go without, do without the thing stated or implied.

let go, 1. allow to escape. 2. give up one's hold.

3. give up. 4. fail to keep in good condition.

let oneself go, 1. give way to one's feelings or desires.

2. fail to keep oneself in good condition.

no go, Informal. not to be done or had; useless; worthless.

on the go, Informal. always moving or acting.

Go a (gō'ə), former Portuguese colony on the SW coast of India, now a part of India. n.

goad (gōd), 1. a sharp-pointed stick for driving cattle, etc.; gad. 2. anything that drives or urges one on.

3. drive or urge on; act as a goad to: Hunger goaded him to steal a loaf of bread. 1,2 n., 3 v.

go-a-head (gō'ə hed'), Informal. 1. action of going forward; ambition; spirit. 2. authority to proceed. 3. disposed to push ahead. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

goal (gōl), 1. place where a race ends. 2. place to which players try to advance a ball, etc., in certain games. 3. act of advancing a ball, etc., to this place. 4. score or points won by advancing a ball, etc., to this place. 5. goalkeeper. 6. thing for which an effort is made; thing wanted: The goal of his ambition was to be a great doctor. n. —goal/less, adj.

goalie (gōl'ē), goalkeeper. n.

goal keeper (gōl'kēp'ər), player who tries to prevent the ball, etc., from reaching the goal in certain games. n.

goal line, line marking the goal in a game.

goal post, one of a pair of posts with a bar across them, forming a goal in football and soccer.

goat (gōt), 1. a cud-chewing mammal with hollow horns and long, usually straight hair, closely related to the sheep. Goats are stronger, less timid, and more active than sheep. 2. U.S. Slang. person made to take the blame or suffer for the mistakes of others; scapegoat. n., pl. goats or (esp. collectively) goat. —goat/like', adj.

get one's goat, U.S. Slang. make a person angry or annoyed; tease him.

Goat

goat ee (gō tē'), a pointed beard on a man's chin.

See the picture just below. n.

goat herd (gōt'hērd'), person who tends goats. n.

goat skin (gōt'skīn'), 1. skin of a goat.

2. leather made from it. n.

goat sucker (gōt'suk'ər), bird with a flat head, wide mouth, and long wings that flies at night and feeds on flying insects. A whippoorwill is a goatsucker. n.

gob¹ (gob), Slang, sailor in the United States Navy. n.

gob² (gob), Informal, lump; mass. n.

gob ble¹ (gob'l), eat fast and greedily; swallow quickly in big pieces. v., gob bled, gob-bling.

gobble up, U.S. Informal, seize upon eagerly.

gob ble² (gob'l), 1. make the throaty sound that a turkey does. 2. the throaty sound that a turkey makes. 1 v., gob bled, gob bling; 2 n.

gob ble dy gook or gob ble de gook (gob'l dē-gūk'), Informal, speech or writing that is hard to understand because technical terminology, involved sentences, and big words have been used too much. n.

gob bler (gob'lər), a male turkey. n.

go-be tween (gō'bi twēn'), person who goes back and forth between others with messages, proposals, suggestions, etc.; intermediary. n.

Go bi (gō'bē), desert in E Asia. Most of it is in Mongolia. 500,000 sq. mi. n.

gob let (gob'lit), 1. a drinking glass with a base and stem. 2. Archaic, a hollow dish to drink from that has no handle. n.

gob lin (gob'lən), a mischievous sprite or elf in the form of an ugly-looking dwarf. n.

go by (gō'bē), a bony fish living near sea-coasts. The ventral fins of gobies are united to form a cup-shaped suction pad with which they cling to rocks. n., pl. go bies or (esp. collectively) go by.

go-by (gō'bī'), Informal, a going by; casting off; intentional neglect: give one the go-by. n.

go cart (gō'kärt'), 1. a low seat on wheels to take a small child around on. 2. a small framework with casters in which children sometimes learn to walk. 3. a light carriage. n.

God (god), the maker and ruler of the world; Supreme Being. n.

god (god), 1. a being thought of as superior to nature and to human beings and considered worthy of worship. 2. a male god. 3. image of a god; idol. 4. person intensely admired and respected. n.

god child (god'child'), child for whom a grown-up person takes vows at its baptism. n., pl. god child ren.

god daugh ter (god'dō'tər), a female godchild. n.

god dess (god'is), 1. a female god. 2. a very beautiful or charming woman. n.

god fa ther (god'fā'thər), man who takes vows for a child when it is baptized. n.

god for sak en (god'fər sāk'ən), forlorn, desolate, or miserable. adj.

God-giv en (god'giv'ən), 1. given by God. 2. very welcome and suitable. adj.

God head (god'hed), God. n.

god head (god'hed), divine nature; divinity. n.

god hood (god'hüd), divine character; divinity. n.

god less (god'lis), 1. not believing in God; not religious. 2. wicked; evil. adj. —god'less ness, n.

god like (god'lik'), 1. like God or a god; divine. 2. suitable for God or a god. adj.

god ly (god'lē), 1. obeying God's laws; religious; pious; devout. 2. Archaic, of or from God; divine. adj., god-li er, god li est. —god'li ness, n.

god moth er (god'mu'th'ər), woman who takes vows for a child when it is baptized. n.

god par ent (god'pär'ənt), godfather or godmother. n.

god send (god'send'), something unexpected and very welcome, as if sent from God: The chance to go to a warm climate was a godsend to the sick man. n.

Goatee

Goblet
(def. 1)

god ship (god'ship), character of a god; divinity. n.

god son (god'sun'), a male godchild. n.

God speed (god'spēd'), wish of success to a person starting on a journey or undertaking. n.

Godt haab (gōt'hōp), capital of Greenland. 1389. n.

goes (gōz), the third person singular, present indicative of go. He goes to school. v.

Goe the (gō'tē), Johann Wolfgang von, 1749-1832, German poet, prose writer, and dramatist. n.

go-get ter (gō'get'ər), U.S. Slang, an energetic person who gets what he is after. n.

gog gle (gog'l), 1. roll one's eyes; stare with bulging eyes. 2. roll; bulge: The children's eyes goggled as the magician pulled a rabbit out of the empty hat. 3. rolling; bulging: A frog has goggle eyes. 1,2 v., gog gled, gog-pling; 3 adj.

goggles, large, close-fitting spectacles to protect the eyes from light, dust, etc.

gog gle-eyed (gog'l'id'), having rolling, bulging, or staring eyes. adj.

Gogh (gō), Vincent van, 1853-1890, Dutch painter. n.

go ing (gō'ing), 1. a going away; leaving: His going was sudden. 2. moving; acting; working; running: The clock is going. 3. condition of the ground or road for walking, riding, etc.: The going is bad on a muddy road. 4. that goes; that can or will go. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

be going to, will; be about to: I am going to call you up from San Francisco when I get there.

going on, almost; nearly: It is going on four o'clock.

go ings on (gō'ingz), actions; behavior; conduct.

goi ter or goi tre (goi'tər), 1. disease of the thyroid gland, that often causes a large swelling in the neck, usually caused by a diet with too little iodine. 2. the swelling. n.

gold (gōld), 1. a shiny, bright-yellow, precious metal, used for making coins and jewelry. Gold is a chemical element. Symbol: Au 2. coins made of gold. 3. money in large sums; wealth; riches. 4. a bright, beautiful, or precious thing or material: a heart of gold. 5. made of gold. 6. of or like gold. 7. bright yellow. 1-4,7 n., 5-7 adj.

gold brick, Informal, anything that looks good at first, but turns out to be worthless.

gold-brick (gōld'brik'), Informal, 1. pretend illness to avoid duties. 2. person, especially in the army or navy, who avoids duty or shirks work. 1 v., 2 n.

Gold Coast, a region in W Africa, former British colony, now largely included in Ghana.

gold en (gōld'n), 1. made or consisting of gold: golden dishes. 2. containing or yielding gold. 3. shining like gold; bright-yellow: golden hair. 4. very good; most excellent; extremely favorable, valuable, or important: a golden opportunity. 5. very happy; joyous; flourishing: the golden hours of one's youth. 6. having to do with the fiftieth year or event in a series: a golden wedding anniversary. adj.

Golden Age, a legendary and imaginary age, long past, of perfect human happiness and innocence.

golden age, the finest or most flourishing period.

golden calf, 1. in the Bible, an idol made of gold, set up by the Israelites in the wilderness. 2. wealth thought of too highly.

golden eagle, a large eagle with golden-brown feathers on the back of its neck.

Golden Fleece, in Greek legend, a fleece of gold taken from a ram. It was guarded by a dragon until Jason and the Argonauts carried it away with the help of Medea.

Golden Gate, entrance to San Francisco Bay.

golden glow, a tall garden plant with showy, double yellow flowers and a yellow center.

Golden Horn, the inner harbor of Istanbul, Turkey.

golden mean, avoidance of extremes; safe, sensible way of doing things; moderation.

gold en rod (gōld'n rod'), plant of the same family as the aster, that blooms in the autumn and has many small yellow flowers on tall, branching stalks. n.

golden rule, rule of conduct set forth by Jesus: "All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." Matthew 7:12.

golden wedding, the 50th anniversary of a wedding.

gold-filled (göld/'fild'), made of cheap metal covered with a layer of gold. adj.

gold finch (göld/'finch'), 1. a small American songbird. The male is yellow marked with black. 2. a European songbird with yellow on its wings. n.

American goldfinch (5 in. long) gold fish (göld/'fish'), a small, reddish-golden fish. Goldfish are often kept in garden pools or glass bowls. n., pl. gold fish es or (esp. collectively) gold fish.

gold i locks (göld/'dē loks'), 1. person with yellow hair. 2. plant with many small yellow flowers. n.

gold leaf, gold beaten into very thin sheets.

gold mine, 1. mine where ore yielding gold is obtained. 2. source of something of great value.

gold rush, a sudden rush of people to a place where gold has just been found.

gold smith (göld/'smith'), man whose work is making articles of gold. n.

Gold smith (göld/'smith'), Oliver, 1728-1774, British poet, novelist, and dramatist. n.

gold standard, use of gold as the standard of value for the money of a country. A nation's unit of money value is declared by the government to be equal and exchangeable for a certain amount of gold.

golf (golf), 1. an outdoor game played with a small, hard ball and a set of long-handled clubs having wooden or iron heads. The player tries to hit the ball into a series of holes with as few strokes as possible. 2. play this game. 1 n., 2 v. —golfer, n.

golf club, 1. one of the set of long-handled clubs having wooden or iron heads that is used in playing golf. 2. group of people joined together for the purpose of playing golf. 3. buildings, land, etc., used by such a group.

golf links, place where golf is played, containing tees, greens, and fairway.

Gol go tha (gol/'gə tha), 1. place of Christ's crucifixion; Calvary. 2. place of burial. n.

Go li ath (gə lī/'əth), in the Bible, a giant whom David killed with a stone from a sling. n.

Go mor rah or Go mor rha (gə mōr/'ə), 1. in the Bible, a wicked city destroyed, together with Sodom, by fire from heaven. Genesis 18 and 19. 2. any extremely wicked place. n.

Gom pers (gom/'pərz), Samuel, 1850-1924, American labor leader. n.

gon ad (gon/'ad or gō/'nad), organ in which reproductive cells develop. Ovaries and testes are gonads. n.

gon do la (gon/'də lə), 1. a Gondola

long, narrow boat with a high peak at each end, used on the canals of Venice. 2. U.S. a large, flat-bottomed river boat with pointed ends. 3. U.S. a freight car that has low sides and no top. 4. car that hangs under a dirigible and holds the motors, passengers, etc. n.

gon do lier (gon/'də līr'), man who rows or poles a gondola. n.

gone (gōn), 1. moved away; left. 2. lost: a gone case. 3. dead. 4. used up. 5. failed; ruined. 6. weak; faint: a gone feeling. 7. pp. of go. He has gone far away. 1-6 adj., 7 v.

far gone, much advanced; deeply involved.

gone on, Informal. in love with.

gon er (gōn/'ər), Informal. person or thing that is dead, ruined, past help, etc. n.

gong (gōng), 1. a metal disk with a turned-up rim, that makes a loud noise when struck. 2. bell shaped like a shallow bowl or saucer. n.

gon or rhe a or gon or rhoe a (gon/'ə rē/'ə), a contagious venereal disease that causes inflammation of the genital and urinary organs. n.

goo ber (gū/'bər), Informal. in the southern United States, a peanut. n.

good (gūd), 1. having the right qualities; admirable; desirable: a good book, a good game. 2. as it ought to be; right; proper: Do what seems good to you. 3. well-behaved: a good boy. 4. kind; friendly: Say a good word for me. 5. doing right: a good king. 6. honorable; worthy: my good friend. 7. reliable; dependable: good judgment. 8. real; genuine: It is hard to tell counterfeit money from good money. 9. agreeable; pleasant: Have a good time. 10. beneficial; advantageous; useful: drugs good for a fever. 11. benefit; advantage; use: work for the common good. 12. satisfying; enough; full: a good meal. 13. skillful; clever: a good manager, be good at arithmetic. 14. fairly great; more than a little: a good while. 15. that which is good: find the good in people. 16. a good thing. 17. good people. 18. that is good! 1-10, 12-14 adj., bet ter, best; 11, 15-17 n., 18 interj. as good as, almost the same as; almost; practically. feel good, Informal. feel well or elated.

for good or for good and all, forever; finally; permanently.

good for, 1. able to do, live, or last. 2. able to pay. 3. worth.

make good, 1. make up for; give or do in place of; pay for. 2. fulfill; carry out. 3. succeed in doing. 4. succeed. 5. prove.

to the good, on the side of profit or advantage; in one's favor.

good-by (gūd/'bī'), farewell: We say "Good-by" to a friend when he goes away. interj., n., pl. good-bys.

good-bye (gūd/'bi'), good-by. interj., n., pl. good-byes.

good cheer, 1. feasting and merrymaking. 2. good food. 3. courage.

good day, form of greeting or farewell.

good deal, much; many.

good English, language that is effective for a particular communication, that is appropriate to the subject and situation, to the listener or reader, and to the speaker or writer.

good evening, form of greeting or farewell in the evening.

good-for-noth ing (gūd/'fər nuth/'ing), 1. worthless; useless. 2. person who is worthless or useless. 1 adj., 2 n.

Good Friday, Friday before Easter, observed in commemoration of Christ's crucifixion.

good-heart ed (gūd/'hār/'tid), kind and generous. adj. —good/-heart/ed ly, adv. —good/-heart/ed-ness, n.

Good Hope, Cape of, cape near the SW tip of Africa.

good humor, a cheerful, pleasant disposition or mood.

good-hu mored (gūd/'hū/'mærd or gūd/'ū/'mærd), cheerful; pleasant. adj. —good/-hu/mored ly, adv.

good ish (gūd/'ish), 1. pretty good. 2. Esp. Brit. fairly great; considerable. adj.

good-look ing (gūd/'lūk/'ing), having a pleasing appearance; handsome. adj.

good looks, handsome or pleasing personal appearance.

good ly (gūd/'lē), 1. pleasant; excellent; fine: a goodly land. 2. good-looking: a goodly youth. 3. considerable: a goodly quantity. adj., good li er, good li est. —good/-li ness, n.

good man (gūd/'mən), Archaic. 1. master of a household; husband. 2. title for a man ranking below a gentleman: Goodman Brown. n., pl. good men.

good morning, form of greeting or farewell in the morning.

good nature, a pleasant or kindly disposition; cheerfulness; agreeableness.

good-na-tured (gŭd'nā'chərd), pleasant; kindly; cheerful; agreeable. adj. —good-na'tured ly, adv. —good-na'tured ness, n.

good ness (gŭd'nis), 1. quality or state of being good. 2. excellence; virtue: His goodness is shown by the many good deeds he does. 3. kindness; friendliness. 4. valuable quality; best part. 5. exclamation of surprise. 1-4 n., 5 interj.

good night, form of farewell said at night.

goods (gŭdz), 1. personal property; belongings: He gave half of his goods to the poor. 2. thing or things for sale; wares. 3. U.S. material for clothing; cloth. 4. U.S. Slang. what is needed to do something. 5. Brit. freight. n.pl.

Good Samaritan, 1. in the Bible, a traveler who rescued another traveler who had been beaten and robbed by thieves. Luke 10:30-37. 2. person who is unselfish in helping others.

good-sized (gŭd'sizd'), large; somewhat large. adj.

good speed, farewell expressing a wish for success or good luck.

goods train, Brit. freight train.

good-tempered (gŭd'tem'pard), easy to get along with; cheerful; agreeable. adj. —good'-tem'peredly, adv.

good turn, a kind or friendly act; favor.

good wife (gŭd'wif'), Archaic. 1. mistress of a household. 2. title for a woman ranking below a lady: Goodwife Brown. n., pl. good wives.

good will, 1. kindly or friendly feeling. 2. cheerful consent; willingness. 3. reputation and steady trade that a business has with its customers.

good y¹ (gŭd'ē), Informal. 1. something very good to eat; piece of candy or cake. 2. exclamation of pleasure: Are we going? Oh, goody! 3. making too much of being good; weakly good. 1 n., pl. good ies; 2 interj., 3 adj.

good y² (gŭd'ē), an old woman of humble station. n., pl. good ies.

Good year (gŭd'yir), Charles, 1800-1860, American who invented vulcanized rubber. n.

good y-good y (gŭd'ē gŭd'ē), 1. making too much of being good; weakly good. 2. person who makes too much of being good. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. good y-good ies.

goon (gŭn), U.S. Slang. 1. thug hired to disrupt labor disputes. 2. a stupid person. n.

goose (gŭs), 1. a wild or tame web-footed swimming bird, like a duck but larger and having a longer neck. 2. a female goose. 3. flesh of a goose used for food. 4. a silly person. 5. a tailor's smoothing iron that has a long, curved handle like a goose's neck. n., pl. geese for 1-4, gooses for 5. —goose-like, adj.

cook one's goose, ruin one's reputation, plan, chances, etc.

The goose hangs high. All is well. Prospects are good.

Goose Bay, air base in Labrador, built in World War II and now important in transatlantic air service.

goose berry (gŭs'ber'ē), 1. a small, sour berry somewhat like a currant but larger, used to make pies, tarts, jam, etc. 2. the thorny bush that it grows on. n., pl. goose berries.

goose flesh, a rough condition of the skin caused by cold or fear.

goose foot (gŭs'fŭt), plant with coarse leaves, clusters of very small flowers, and dry, seedlike fruits. Beets and spinach are goosefoots. n., pl. goose foots.

goose pimples, goose flesh.

goose step, a marching step in which the leg is swung high with straight, stiff knee.

Wild goose of North America (about 3 ft. long)

G.O.P., Grand Old Party; the Republican Party in the United States.

go pher (gŏ'fər), 1. a burrowing, ratlike rodent with large cheek pouches. 2. ground squirrel. n.

Gor di an knot (gŏr'dē ən).

cut the Gordian knot, find and use a quick, easy way out of a difficulty.

gore¹ (gŏr), blood that is shed; thick blood; clotted blood. n.

gore² (gŏr), wound with a horn or tusk: The savage bull gored the old bullfighter to death. v., gored, gor ing.

gore³ (gŏr), 1. a long, triangular piece of cloth put or made in a skirt, sail, etc., to give greater width or change the shape. 2. put or make a gore in. 1 n., 2 v., gored, gor ing.

Gor gas (gŏr'gās), William Crawford, 1854-1920, American army physician and sanitation expert. n.

gorge (gŏrj), 1. a deep, narrow valley, usually steep and rocky. 2. eat greedily until full; stuff with food. 3. fill full; stuff. 4. a gorging; glutinous meal. 5. contents of a stomach. 6. feeling of disgust, indignation, resentment, or the like. 7. a narrow rear entrance from a fort into an outwork or outer part. 8. mass stopping up a narrow passage: An ice gorge blocked the river. 9. Archaic. throat. 1, 4-9 n., 2, 3 v., gorged, gorg ing. —gorg'er, n.

gor geous (gŏr'jəs), richly colored; splendid: a gorgeous sunset. adj. —gor'-geous ly, adv. —gor'-geous ness, n.

gor get (gŏr'jit), 1. piece of armor for the throat. 2. covering for neck and breast, formerly worn by women. n.

Gor gon (gŏr'gən), in Greek legend, any of three horrible sisters who had snakes for hair and whose look turned the beholder to stone. n.

gor gon (gŏr'gən), a very ugly or terrible woman. n.

go ril la (gŏr'il'ə), 1. a very large, fierce, powerful manlike ape of Africa. 2. Slang. a strong and brutal man. n.

Gor ki (gŏr'kē), city in W central Soviet Union, on the Volga River. 942,000. n.

gorse (gŏrs), Esp. Brit. furze. n.

gor y (gŏr'ē), bloody. adj., gor-ier, gor i est. —gor'i ly, adv.

—gor'i ness, n.

gosh (gosh), exclamation or mild oath. interj.

gos hawk (gos'hŏk'), a powerful, short-winged hawk, formerly much used in falconry. n.

Go shen (gŏ'shən), 1. in the Bible, a fertile part of Egypt where the Israelites were permitted to live. Exodus 8:20-22. 2. land of plenty and comfort. n.

gos ling (goz'ling), a young goose. n.

gos pel (gos/pl), 1. the teachings of Jesus and the Apostles. 2. Informal. anything earnestly believed or taken as a guide for action: Drink plenty of water; that is my gospel.

3. the absolute truth: They take her words for gospel. n.

Gos pel (gos/pl), 1. any one of the first four books of the New Testament, by Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John. 2. part of one of these books read during a religious service. n.

Gopher (def. 1) (about 9 in. long, including the tail)

Gorge (def. 1)

G. gorget (def. 1)

Gorilla (standing height of male 6 ft.)

Goshawk (2 ft. long)

gos sa mer (gos/ə mər), 1. film or thread of cobweb. 2. a very thin, light cloth. 3. a thin, light, waterproof cloth or coat. 4. like gossamer; very light and thin; filmy. 5. anything very light and thin. 1-3,5 n., 4 adj.

gos sip (gos/ɪp), 1. idle talk, not always true, about other people and their affairs. 2. repeat what one knows, or the idle talk that one hears, about other people and their affairs. 3. person who gossips a good deal. 4. Archaic. friend. 5. Archaic. godparent. 1,3-5 n., 2 v., gos siped, gos sip ing. —gos/sip er, n.

gos sip y (gos/ɪp ē), 1. fond of gossip. 2. full of gossip. adj.

gos soon (go sūn/), 1. boy. 2. a male servant. n. got (got), a pt. and a pp. of get. We got the letter yesterday. We had got tired of waiting for it. v.

Go ta ma (gō/tə mə), Gautama. n.

Gö te borg (yø/tə börg/), seaport in SW Sweden. 401,000. n.

Goth (goth), 1. member of a Teutonic tribe that overran the Roman Empire in the third, fourth, and fifth centuries A.D. The Goths settled in S and E Europe. 2. an uncivilized person; barbarian. n.

Goth am (goth/-əm for 1; got/əm for 2), 1. New York City. 2. an English village, proverbial for the foolishness of its inhabitants. n.

Goth ic (goth/ik), 1. a style of architecture using pointed arches and high, steep roofs, developed in W Europe during the Middle Ages from about 1150 to 1550. 2. of this kind of architecture. 3. of the Goths or their language. 4. language of the Goths. 5. uncivilized; crude; barbarous. 6. medieval. 7. U.S. kind of type used in printing. This sentence is in Gothic. 1,4,7 n., 2,3,5,6 adj.

Got land (got/land), a Swedish island in the Baltic between Sweden and Latvia. 58,000 pop.; 1225 sq. mi. n.

got ten (got/n), a pp. of get. It has gotten to be quite late. v.

gou ge (gouj), 1. chisel with a curved blade. Gouges are used for cutting round grooves or holes in wood. 2. cut with a gouge. 3. groove or hole made by gouging. 4. dig out; tear out; force out. 5. U.S. Informal. trick; cheat; swindle. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,5 v., gouged, goug ing.

gou lash (gū/ləsh), stew made of beef or veal and vegetables, usually highly seasoned. n.

gourd (gōrd or gūrd), 1. the hard-shelled fruit of certain vines. Gourds are dried and hollowed out to be used as cups, bowls, etc. 2. vine that gourds grow on. 3. bowl, bottle, etc., made from a dried shell of a gourd. 4. any plant of the family to which cucumbers, pumpkins, and muskmelons belong. n.

gour de (gūrd), unit of money of Haiti, worth about 20 cents in 1964. n.

gour mand (gūr/mənd), person who is fond of good eating. n.

gour met (gūr/mā), person who is expert in judging and choosing fine foods, wines, etc.; epicure. n.

gout (gout), 1. a painful disease of the joints, often characterized by a painful swelling of the big toe. 2. drop; splash; clot: gouts of blood. n.

gout y (gout/ē), 1. diseased or swollen with gout. 2. of gout; caused by gout. 3. causing gout. adj., gout ier, gout iest. —gout/i ness, n.

gov. or Gov., governor.

gov ern (guv/ər n), 1. rule; control; manage. 2. exercise a directing or restraining influence over; determine: the motives governing a person's decision. 3. hold back; restrain; check. 4. be a rule or law for: the principles governing a case. 5. in grammar, require (a word) to be in a certain case or mood; require (a certain case or mood). v. —gov/ern a ble, adj.

gov ern ance (guv/ər nəns), government; rule; control. n.

gov ern ess (guv/ər nis), woman who teaches children in a private house. n.

gov ern ment (guv/ər n mənt), 1. rule or authority over a country, state, district, etc.; direction of the affairs of state. 2. person or persons ruling a country, state, district, etc.; administration. 3. system of ruling: republican government. 4. country, state, district, etc., ruled. 5. rule; control: self-government. 6. in grammar, the influence of one word in determining the case or mood of another. n.

gov ern men tal (guv/ər n mənt/əl), of or having to do with government. adj. —gov/ern men/tal ly, adv.

gov er nor (guv/ər nər), 1. the official elected as the executive head of a State of the United States. 2. official appointed to govern a province, city, fort, etc. 3. person who manages or directs a club, society, institution, etc. A club often has a board of governors. 4. an automatic device that controls the supply of steam, gas, etc., and keeps a machine going at a certain speed. 5. Esp. Brit. Slang. one's father. n.

governor general, governor who has subordinate or deputy governors under him. pl. governors general.

gov er nor ship (guv/ər nər ship/), position or term of office of governor. n.

Governors Island, a small fortified island in upper New York Bay, belonging to the United States government.

govt. or Govt., government.

gown (goun), 1. a woman's dress. 2. a loose outer garment. Judges, clergymen, members of a university, and students graduating from college wear gowns to show their position, profession, etc. 3. nightgown or dressing gown. 4. put a gown on; dress in a gown. 5. members of a university. 1-3,5 n., 4 v.

gowns man (gounz/mən), person who wears a gown to show his position, profession, etc.; judge, lawyer, clergyman, or member of a university. n., pl. gowns men.

Gr., 1. Greek. 2. Grecian. 3. Greece.

gr., 1. gram; grams. 2. grain; grains. 3. gross.

grab (grab), 1. seize suddenly; snatch: The dog grabbed the meat and ran. 2. a snatching; a sudden seizing. 3. that which is grabbed. 4. a mechanical device for firmly holding something that is to be lifted or raised. 1 v., grabbed, grab bing; 2-4 n. —grab/ber, n.

grace (grās), 1. beauty of form, movement, or manner; pleasing or agreeable quality. 2. give or add grace to; set off with grace. 3. favor; good will: I wonder if I am in the teacher's good graces or bad graces. 4. mercy; pardon. 5. God's free and undeserved favor to and love for mankind; influence of God operating in man to improve or strengthen. 6. a short prayer of thanks before or after a meal. 7. favor shown by granting a delay. 8. allowance of time: The bank gave him three days' grace. 9. do a favor or honor to: The queen graced the ball with her presence. 10. virtue; merit; excellence. 11. behavior put on to seem attractive: Do you like that girl's little airs and graces? 12. note or group of notes not essential

Cathedral in the Gothic style

Gouge

Gourds (def. 1)

Gown of college graduate to the harmony or melody in music, added for ornament.

13. add such notes to. 1,3-8,10-12 n., 2,9,13 v., graced, gracing.

have the grace, show a sense of what is right or proper. in the bad graces of, disfavored or disliked by.

in the good graces of, favored or liked by.

with bad grace, unpleasantly; unwillingly.

with good grace, pleasantly; willingly.

Grace (grās), title used in speaking to or of a duke, duchess, or archbishop: May I assist Your Grace? n.

grace ful (grās'fl), having or showing grace; beautiful in form, movement, or manner; pleasing; agreeable: A good dancer must be graceful. She thanked him with a graceful speech. adj. —grace/ful ly, adv. —grace/ful ness, n.

grace less (grās'lis), 1. without grace. 2. not caring for what is right or proper: That boy is a graceless rascal. adj. —grace/less ly, adv. —grace/less ness, n.

grace note, note or group of notes not essential to the harmony or melody in music, added for ornament.

Graces (grās'iz), three Greek sister goddesses controlling beauty and charm in people and in nature. n.pl.

gracious (grā'shəs), 1. pleasant; kindly; courteous: She welcomed her guests in a gracious manner that made them feel at ease. 2. pleasant, kindly, and courteous to people of lower social position: The queen greeted the crowd with a gracious smile.

3. merciful; kindly. 4. exclamation of surprise. 1-3 adj.,

4 n. —gracious ly, adv.

—gracious ness, n.

grackle (grak'l), kind of blackbird that has black feathers with a metallic luster. n.

grada tion (grā dā'shən),

1. a change by steps or stages; gradual change: Our acts show gradation between right and wrong. 2. step, stage, or degree in a series: There are many gradations between poverty and wealth. The rainbow shows gradations of color. 3. act or process of grading. n.

grade (grād), 1. any one division of a school arranged according to the pupils' progress: the seventh grade.

2. step or stage in a course or process. 3. degree in a scale of rank, quality, value, etc.: Grade A milk is the best milk. 4. group of people or things having the same rank, quality, value, etc. 5. place in classes; arrange in grades; sort: These apples are graded by size. 6. be of a particular grade or quality. 7. U.S. number or letter that shows how well one has done.

8. U.S. give a grade to: The teacher graded the papers.

9. slope of a road, railroad track, etc.: a steep grade.

10. amount of slope. 11. make more nearly level: The road up the steep hill was graded. 12. change gradually; go through a series of steps, stages, or degrees: Red and yellow grade into orange. 1-4,7,9,10 n.,

5,6,8,11,12 v., grad ed, grad ing.

at grade, on the same level.

down grade, 1. going down. 2. getting worse.

make the grade, 1. ascend a steep slope. 2. overcome difficulties.

the grades, U.S. elementary school; grammar school.

up grade, 1. going up. 2. getting better.

grade crossing, place where a railroad crosses a street or another railroad on the same level.

grader (grād'ər), 1. person or thing that grades. 2. Orig. U.S. person who is in a certain grade at school. n.

grade school, elementary school; grammar school.

gra di ent (grā'dēnt), 1. rate at which a road, railroad track, etc., rises. 2. the sloping part of a road, etc. 3. rate at which temperature or pressure changes.

4. going up or down gradually. 5. moving by taking steps; walking. 1-3 n., 4,5 adj.

grad u al (graj'ū əl), by degrees too small to be separately noticed; little by little. adj. —grad/u al ly, adv.

Grackle (1 ft. long) grad u ate (graj'ū āt for 1,2,6,8,9; graj'ū it for 3-5,7),

1. finish a course of study at a school, college, or university and receive a diploma or paper saying so: Mary's brother graduated from the University last year. 2. give a diploma to for finishing a course of study. 3. person who has graduated. 4. that is a graduate: a graduate student. 5. of or for graduates: a graduate school.

6. mark with degrees for measuring: A thermometer is graduated. 7. container marked with degrees for measuring. 8. arrange in regular steps, stages, or degrees: An income tax is graduated so that people who make more money pay a higher rate of taxes. 9. change gradually. 1,2,6,8,9 v., grad u ated, grad u ating;

3,7 n., 4,5 adj. —grad/u a'tor, n.

grad u a tion (graj'ū ā'shən), 1. a graduating from a school, college, or university. 2. ceremony of graduating; graduating exercises. 3. a marking with degrees for measuring.

4. mark or set of marks to show degrees for measuring.

5. arrangement in regular steps, stages, or degrees. n.

graft¹ (graft), 1. insert (a shoot, bud, etc.) from one tree or plant into a slit in another so that it will grow there permanently. 2. shoot, bud, etc., used. 3. place on a tree or plant where the shoot, bud, etc., is inserted. 4. tree or plant that has had a shoot, bud, etc., grafted on it. 5. act of grafting.

6. produce or improve (fruit, flower, etc.) by grafting. 7. do grafting on. 8. transfer (a piece of skin, bone, etc.) from one part of the body to another so that it will grow there permanently. 9. piece of skin, bone, etc., so transferred. 1,6-8 v., 2-5,9 n. —graft'er, n.

graft² (graft), U.S. 1. the taking of money dishonestly in connection with city or government business; political dishonesty, corruption, etc. 2. method of getting money dishonestly. 3. money dishonestly taken or obtained. 4. Informal. make money dishonestly through one's job, especially in political positions. 1-3 n., 4 v. —graft'er, n.

gra ham (grā'həm), made from whole-wheat flour. Graham flour is wheat flour that has not been sifted. adj.

Gra il (grāl), cup or dish supposed to have been used by Christ at the Last Supper, in which one of His followers received the last drops of blood from Christ's body on the cross; Holy Grail. n.

grain (grān), 1. a single seed or seedlike fruit of wheat, corn, oats, and similar cereal grasses. 2. seeds or seedlike fruits of such plants in the mass. 3. plants that these seeds or seedlike fruits grow on. 4. a tiny, hard particle of sand, salt, sugar, etc. 5. form into grains. 6. the smallest unit of weight. One pound avoirdupois equals 7000 grains; one pound troy equals 5760 grains. 7. the smallest possible amount; tiniest bit: a grain of truth. 8. arrangement or direction of fibers in wood, layers in stone, etc. Wood and stone split along the grain. 9. little lines and other markings in wood, marble, etc.: That mahogany table has a fine grain. 10. paint in imitation of the grain in wood, marble, etc. 11. the rough surface of leather. It is on the side of the skin from which the hair has been removed. 12. remove the hair from (a skin or skins); roughen the surface of (leather). 13. natural character; disposition: Bad luck goes against the grain. 1-4,6-9,11,13 n., 5,10,12 v. —grain/less, adj.

grain alcohol, ethyl alcohol, often made from grain.

grained (grānd), 1. having little lines and markings. 2. painted in imitation of the grain in wood, marble, etc. 3. roughened on the surface. adj.

grain elevator, a building for storing grain.

grain field (grān'feld'), field in which grain grows. n.

gram (gram), unit of weight in the metric system. Twenty-eight grams weigh about one ounce avoirdupois. n. Also, Britl. gramme.

Process of grafting a bud into a slit in a branch gra mer cy (grə mēr'sē), Archaic. 1. many thanks; thank you. 2. exclamation of surprise. interj.

gram mar (gram'ər), 1. scientific study and classification of the classes, forms, sounds, and uses of words of a particular language. 2. systematic study comparing the forms and constructions of two or more languages. 3. systematic study comparing present with past forms and usage of a language. 4. a treatise or book on one of these subjects. 5. manner of speech or writing with reference to conformity to established usage. 6. statements about the use of words. 7. the elements of any subject: grammar of painting. n.

gram mar i an (grə mār'ē ən), expert in grammar. n.

grammar school, 1. a public school in the United States having the grades between primary school and high school. 2. a secondary school in England in which Latin and Greek are important subjects.

gram mat i cal (grə mat'ə kl), 1. according to correct use of words: Our French teacher speaks grammatical English but has a French accent. 2. of grammar: "Between you and I" is a grammatical mistake. adj.

gram mat i cally (grə mat'ik lē), according to the principles and rules of grammar; as regards grammar. adv.

gramme (gram), Brit. gram. n.

Gram pian Hills (gram'pē ən), Grampians.

Gram pi ans (gram'pē ənz), low mountains across central Scotland. They divide the Highlands from the Lowlands. The highest peak, Ben Nevis, is 4406 feet. n.pl.

gram pus (gram'pəs), 1. a large, fierce dolphin; killer whale. 2. a sea mammal somewhat like a whale. 3. Informal. person who breathes loudly. n.

Gra na da (grə nā'də), 1. district in S Spain. See Castile for map. 2. its chief city, the last stronghold of the Moors in Spain. 145,000. n.

gran a ry (gran'ə rē or grān'ə rē), 1. place or building where grain is stored. 2. region having much grain. n., pl. gran a ries.

Gran Cha co (grān' chā'kō), a low-lying plain in central South America. It extends over parts of Bolivia, Paraguay, and N Argentina. 300,000 sq. mi.

grand (grand), 1. large and of fine appearance: grand mountains. 2. fine; noble; dignified; stately; splendid: a very grand palace, grand music, a grand old man. 3. highest or very high in rank; chief: grand jury, grand duke. 4. great; important; main: the grand staircase. 5. complete; comprehensive: grand total. 6. Informal. very satisfactory. 7. in names of relationship, in the second degree of ascent or descent: grandmother, grandson. 8. Slang. a thousand dollars. 1-7 adj., 8 n. —grand'ness, n.

gran dam (gran'dam), 1. grandmother. 2. an old woman. n.

gran dame (gran'dām), grandam. n.

grand aunt (grand'ant'), aunt of one's father or mother; great-aunt. n.

Grand Bank or Grand Banks, shoal off SE Newfoundland. It is important for cod fishing. 300 mi. long.

Grand Canal, 1. canal in E China connecting the cities of Tientsin and Hangchow. 850 mi. long. 2. the principal canal in Venice, Italy.

Grand Canyon, 1. a deep gorge of the Colorado River, in N Arizona. 217 mi. long; over 1 mi. deep. 2. a national park including the Grand Canyon and the surrounding region. 1009 sq. mi.

grand child (grand'child'), child of one's son or daughter. n., pl. grand chil dren.

grand chil dren (grand'chil'drən), pl. of grand-child. n.

Grand Cou lee (kū'lē), a large dam on the Columbia River, in E Washington.

grand daugh ter (grand'dō'tər), daughter of one's son or daughter. n.

gran dee (gran dē'), 1. a Spanish or Portuguese nobleman of the highest rank. 2. person of high rank or great importance. n.

gran deur (gran'jər), greatness; majesty; nobility; dignity; splendor. n.

grand fa ther (grand'fā'thər), 1. father of one's father or mother. 2. forefather. n.

grand fa ther ly (grand'fā'thər lē), 1. of a grandfather. 2. like or characteristic of a grandfather. adj.

grandfather's clock, clock in a tall, wooden case.

Grand Forks, city in E North Dakota. 34,000.

gran dil o quence (gran dil'ə kwəns), use of lofty or pompous words. n.

gran dil o quent (gran dil'ə kwənt), using lofty or pompous words. adj. —gran dil'o quent ly, adv.

gran di ose (gran'dē ōs), 1. grand in an imposing or impressive way; magnificent. 2. grand in an affected or pompous way; trying to seem magnificent. adj. —gran'di ose ly, adv.

grand jury, jury of from 12 to 23 persons chosen to investigate accusations of crime and bring an indictment against the person accused if there is enough evidence for a trial in court before an ordinary jury.

Grand Lama, Dalai Lama.

grand larceny, theft in which the value of the property taken equals or is more than a certain amount.

grand ly (grand'lē), in a grand manner. adv.

grand ma (grand'mā' or gram'ə), Informal. grandmother. n.

grand march, ceremony at a ball in which the guests march around the ballroom together.

Grand Master, head of an order of knighthood, a lodge, etc.

grand moth er (grand'muθ'ər), 1. mother of one's father or mother. 2. ancestress. n.

grand moth er ly (grand'muθ'ər lē), 1. of a grandmother. 2. like or characteristic of a grandmother. adj.

grand neph ew (grand'nef'ū), son of one's nephew or niece. n.

grand niece (grand'nēs'), daughter of one's nephew or niece. n.

grand opera, a musical drama in which all the speeches are sung to the accompaniment of an orchestra.

grand pa (grand'pā' or gram'pə), Informal. grandfather. n.

grand par ent (grand'pār'ənt), grandfather or grandmother. n.

grand piano, a large, harp-shaped piano with horizontal strings.

Grand Pré (grān prā'), village in NW Nova Scotia, on an inlet of the Bay of Fundy. It was the home of the heroine of Longfellow's Evangeline.

Grand Rapids, city in SW Michigan. 177,000.

grand sire (grand'sir'), Archaic. 1. grandfather. 2. forefather. 3. an old man. n.

grand slam, winning all the tricks in a hand of bridge.

grand son (grand'sun'), son of one's son or daughter. n.

grand stand (grand'-stand'), the principal seating place at an athletic field, race track, etc. n.

grand un cle (grand'ung'kl), uncle of one's father or mother; great-uncle. n.

grange (grānj), farm with its buildings. n.

Grange (grānj), U.S. 1. organization of farmers for the improvement of their welfare, founded in 1867. 2. a local branch of this organization. n.

granger (grān'jər), farmer. n.

Granger (grān'jər), U.S. member of the Grange. n.

Grandstand

granite (gran'it), a hard igneous rock made of grains of other rocks, chiefly quartz and feldspar. Granite is much used for buildings and monuments. n.

granite ware (gran'it wär'), ironware covered with gray enamel. n.

gran ny or gran nie (gran'ē), Informal. 1. grandmother. 2. an old woman. 3. a fussy person. n., pl. gran nies.

granny knot, knot differing from a square knot in having the ends crossed the wrong way.

grant (grant), 1. give what is asked; allow: grant a request, grant permission. 2. admit to be true; accept without proof; concede: I grant that you are right. 3. bestow or confer (a right, etc.) by formal act; transfer or convey (the ownership of property), especially by deed or writing. 4. thing granted, such as a privilege, right, sum of money, or tract of land. 5. act of granting. 1-3 v., 4,5 n. —grant'a ble, adj. —grant'er, n.

take for granted, assume to be true; use as proved or agreed to.

Grant (grant), Ulysses Simpson, 1822-1885, American general, 18th president of the United States, from 1869 to 1877. n.

gran u lar (gran'yə lər), 1. consisting of or containing grains or granules. 2. resembling grains or granules. adj. —gran'u lar ly, adv.

granular eyelids, eyelids roughened inside by disease.

gran u late (gran'yə lāt), 1. form into grains or granules. 2. roughen on the surface. 3. become granular; develop granulations. Wounds granulate in healing. v., gran u lat ed, gran u lat ing.

gran u lat ed (gran'yə lāt'id), 1. formed into grains or granules: granulated sugar. 2. roughened on the surface. 3. having granulations. adj.

gran u la tion (gran'yə lā shən), 1. formation into grains or granules. 2. roughening on the surface. 3. a granule on a roughened surface. n.

gran u le (gran'ül), 1. a small grain. 2. a small bit or spot like a grain. n.

gran u lose (gran'yə lös), that part of a starch granule on which diastase and saliva act. n.

grape (gräp), 1. a small, round fruit that grows in bunches on a vine. Grapes are eaten raw or made into raisins and wine. There are red, purple, or pale-green grapes. 2. grapevine. n. —grape/like', adj.

grape fruit (gräp'früt'), a pale-yellow, roundish, citrus fruit like an orange, but larger and sourer. n.

grape shot (gräp'shot'), cluster of small iron balls formerly used as a charge for cannon. n.

grape sugar, sugar formed in all green plants, but especially in grapes; dextrose.

grape vine (gräp'vîn'), 1. vine that bears grapes. 2. U.S. Informal. way in which reports are mysteriously spread. 3. U.S. Informal. a baseless report. n.

graph (graf), 1. line or diagram showing how one quantity depends on or changes with another. 2. any line or lines representing the mathematical relations of equations or functions. 3. draw (such a line or diagram); draw a line representing (some change, equation, or function). 1,2 n., 3 v.

—graph, word element meaning:

1. make a picture, draw, or write, as in photograph.

2. machine that makes a picture, draws, or writes, as in seismograph.

3. drawn or written, as in autograph.

4. something drawn or written, as in lithograph.

graph ic (graf'ik), 1. lifelike; vivid: a graphic account of a battle. 2. of or about diagrams and their use. 3. shown by a graph: a graphic record of school attendance for a month. 4. of or about drawing, painting, engraving, or etching: the graphic arts. 5. of or used in handwriting: graphic symbols. 6. written; inscribed. adj.

graph i cal ly (graf'ik lē), by a diagram or pictures; vividly. adv.

graphic arts, drawing, painting, engraving, etching, etc.

graph ite (graf'it), a soft, black form of carbon with a metallic luster, used for lead in pencils, for lubricating machinery, etc. n.

grap nel (grap'nəl), 1. instrument with one or more hooks for seizing and holding something. 2. a small anchor with three or more hooks. n.

grap ple (grap'l), 1. seize and hold fast; grip or hold firmly. 2. a seizing and holding fast; firm grip or hold. 3. struggle; fight. 4. an iron bar with hooks at one end for seizing and holding fast an object; grappling iron; grapnel. 5. use a grappling iron; search with a grappling iron. 1,3,5 v., grap pled, grap pling; 2,4 n. —grap'pler, n.

grappling iron, grapnel.

grasp (grasp), 1. seize and hold fast by closing the fingers around. 2. a seizing and holding tightly; clasp of the hand. 3. power of seizing and holding; reach: Success is within his grasp. 4. control; possession. 5. understand. 6. understanding: He has a good grasp of mathematics. 1,5 v., 2-4,6 n. —grasp'a ble, adj. —grasp'er, n.

grasp at, 1. try to take hold of. 2. accept eagerly.

grasp ing (gras'ping), eager to get all that one can; greedy. adj. —grasp'ing ly, adv.

grass (gras), 1. any of various plants that cover fields, lawns, pastures, etc. Horses, cows, and sheep eat grass. 2. land covered with grass; pasture. 3. cover with grass. 4. feed on growing grass; graze. 5. any of a group of plants that have jointed stems and long, narrow leaves. Wheat, corn, sugar cane, and bamboo are grasses. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v. —grass/less, adj. —grass/like', adj.

go to grass, 1. graze; go to pasture. 2. take a rest. let the grass grow under one's feet, waste time; lose chances.

grass hop per (gras'hop'ər),

1. a kind of insect with wings and strong hind legs for jumping. 2. a small airplane used for scouting and for directing fire from artillery units. n.

grass land (gras'land'), land with grass on it, used for pasture. n.

grass roots, the ordinary citizens of a region or State considered all together: Senator Tompkins is sure he will get support from the grass roots.

grass snake, a harmless grayish-green snake living in marshy places.

grass widow, woman divorced or separated from her husband.

grassy (gras'ē), 1. covered with grass. 2. of grass. 3. like grass. adj., grass i er, grass i est. —grass/i ness, n.

grate (grät), 1. framework of iron bars to hold a fire. A furnace has a grate. 2. framework of bars over a window or opening; grating. 3. furnish with a grate or grating. 1,2 n., 3 v., grat ed, grat ing. —grate/like', adj.

grate (grät), 1. have an annoying or unpleasant effect: His rude manners grate on me. 2. make a grinding sound; sound harshly. 3. rub with a harsh sound: The door grated on its old, rusty hinges. 4. wear down or grind off in small pieces: grate cheese. 5. Archaic. wear away by rubbing. v., grat ed, grat ing.

grate ful (grät'fəl), 1. feeling gratitude; thankful. 2. pleasing; welcome: A breeze is grateful on a hot day. adj. —grate/ful ly, adv. —grate/ful ness, n.

Grapnel (def. 2)

Graph of the temperature of a winter day for 12 hours

Grasshopper
(2 to 3 in. long)

Grate for a fire

grat er (grāt'ər), 1. one that grates. 2. instrument with a rough surface for rubbing off small particles. n. grat i fi ca tion (grat'ə fə kā'shən), 1. a gratifying: The gratification of every wish of every person is not possible. 2. a being gratified. 3. something that satisfies or pleases: John's success was a great gratification to his parents. 4. reward; fee. n.

grat i fy (grāt'ə fī), 1. give pleasure or satisfaction to; please: Flattery gratifies a vain person. 2. satisfy; indulge: A drunkard gratifies his craving for liquor. 3. Archaic. give a fee to; reward. v., grat i fied, grat i fy ing. —grat i fi er, n. —grat i fy ing ly, adv.

grat ing¹ (grāt'ing), framework of bars over a window or opening. Windows in a prison, bank, or ticket office usually have gratings over them. n.

grat ing² (grāt'ing), 1. unpleasant; annoying; irritating. 2. harsh or jarring in sound. adj.

grat is (grāt'is or grāt'is), for nothing; free of charge. adv., adj.

grat i tude (grāt'ə tūd or grāt'ə tūd), kindly feeling because of a favor received; desire to do a favor in return; thankfulness. n.

gra tu i tous (grə tū'ə təs or grə tū'ə təs), 1. freely given or obtained; free. 2. without reason or cause; unnecessary; uncalled-for. adj. —gra tu i tous ly, adv. —gra tu i tous ness, n.

gra tu i ty (grə tū'ə tē or grə tū'ə tē), 1. present of money in return for service; tip. Gratuities are given to waiters, porters, servants, etc. 2. present; gift. n., pl. gra tu i ties.

grat u la tion (grach'ə lā'shən), 1. congratulation. 2. rejoicing; joy. n.

grave¹ (gräv), 1. hole dug in the ground where a dead body is to be buried. 2. mound or monument over it. 3. any place that becomes the receptacle of what is dead: a watery grave. 4. death. n.

grave² (gräv), 1. important; weighty; momentous: grave cares. 2. serious; threatening: grave questions, doubts, symptoms, news. 3. dignified; sober; solemn: a grave face, a grave ceremony. 4. somber: grave colors. 5. low in pitch; not acute. 6. having a particular accent (˘) that may indicate pitch, quality of sound (as in French père), or syllabic value (as in belovèd). 7. the grave accent. 1-6 adj., grav er, grav est; 7 n. —grave ly, adv. —grave ness, n.

grave³ (gräv), 1. engrave; carve; sculpture. 2. impress deeply; fix firmly. v., graved, graved or grav en, grav ing. —grav er, n.

grave dig ger (gräv'dig'ər), person whose work is digging graves. n.

grav el (grav'l), 1. pebbles and rock fragments coarser than sand. Gravel is much used for roads and walks. 2. lay or cover with gravel. 3. small, hard substances formed in the bladder and kidneys. 4. disease causing them. 5. puzzle; perplex. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v., grav eled, grav el ing or esp. Brit. grav elled, grav el ling.

grav el ly (grav'l ē), 1. having much gravel. 2. consisting of or like gravel. adj.

grav en (gräv'ən), 1. engraved; carved; sculptured. 2. deeply impressed; firmly fixed. 3. a pp. of grave³. Figures were graven in the rock. 1,2 adj., 3 v.

graven image, 1. statue. 2. idol.

grave stone (gräv'stōn'), stone that marks a grave. n.

grave yard (gräv'yärd'), place for burying the dead; cemetery; burial ground. n.

grav i tate (grav'ə tā), 1. move or tend to move by gravitation. 2. settle down; sink; fall: The sand and dirt in the water gravitated to the bottom of the bottle. 3. tend to go; be strongly attracted: The attention of the crowd gravitated to the new jet airplane. v., grav i tated, grav i tat ing.

grav i ta tion (grav'ə tā'shən), 1. the fact that the earth pulls any object toward it and that the sun, moon, stars, and other such bodies in the universe do the same; the force or pull that makes bodies in the universe tend to move toward one another. 2. a moving or tendency to move caused by this force. 3. a settling down; sinking; falling. 4. a natural tendency toward some point or object of influence: the gravitation of population to the cities. n.

grav i ta tion al (grav'ə tā'shən l), of gravitation; having to do with gravitation. adj.

grav i ty (grav'ə tē), 1. the natural force that causes objects to move or tend to move toward the center of the earth. Gravity causes objects to have weight. 2. the natural force that makes objects move or tend to move toward each other; gravitation. 3. heaviness; weight: He balanced the long pole at its center of gravity. 4. seriousness; solemnity; earnestness: The gravity of the child playing nurse was amusing in one so small. 5. serious or critical character; importance: The gravity of the situation was greatly increased by threats of war. 6. lowness of pitch. n., pl. grav i ties.

gray vy (grä'vē), 1. juice that comes out of meat in cooking. 2. sauce for meat, potatoes, etc., made from this juice. n., pl. gray vies.

gray (grä), 1. color made by mixing black and white. 2. having this color: Ashes and lead are gray. 3. make or become gray. 4. gray cloth or clothing. 5. a gray horse. 6. something gray. 7. having gray hair. 8. old; ancient. 9. dark; gloomy; dismal. 1,4-6 n., 2,7-9 adj., 3 v. Also, esp. Brit. grey. —gray ly, adv. —gray ness, n.

gray beard (grä'bird'), old man. n. Also, esp. Brit. greybeard.

Gray Friar, Franciscan friar.

gray-head ed (grä'hed'id), having gray hair. adj.

gray hound (grä'hound'), greyhound. n.

gray ish (grä'ish), somewhat gray. adj. Also, esp. Brit. greyish.

gray lag (grä'lag'), a wild, gray goose that is common in Europe. n.

gray ling (grä'ling), 1. a fresh-water fish somewhat like a trout, but having a longer and higher dorsal fin. 2. a gray-and-brown butterfly. n.

gray market, the buying and selling of products at prices considered exorbitant.

gray matter, 1. the grayish tissue in the brain and spinal cord that contains nerve cells and some nerve fibers. 2. Informal. intelligence; brains.

Gray's Inn, one of four legal societies that determine who may practice law in English courts.

graze¹ (grāz), 1. feed on growing grass. Cattle and sheep graze. 2. put (cattle, sheep, etc.) to feed on growing grass or a pasture. 3. tend or look after (cattle, sheep, etc.) while they are grazing. v., grazed, graz ing. —graz er, n.

graze² (grāz), 1. touch lightly in passing; rub lightly (against): The car grazed the garage door. 2. scrape the skin from: The bullet grazed his shoulder. 3. a grazing. 4. a slight wound made by grazing. 1,2 v., grazed, graz ing; 3,4 n.

graz ing (grāz'ing), growing grass that cattle, sheep, etc., feed on; pasture. n.

Gr. Br. or Gr. Brit., Great Britain.

grease (grēs), 1. soft animal fat. 2. any thick, oily substance. 3. smear with grease; put grease on or in: Please grease my car. The teacher explained that many Indians greased their bodies. 4. cause to run smoothly by greasing. 5. Slang. give money to as a bribe or tip. 6. in hunting, the fat or fatness of game, with reference to the season for killing. 7. shorn, uncleaned wool. 1,2,6,7 n., 3-5 v., greased, greas ing.

grease wood (grēs'wūd'), a stiff, prickly shrub with narrow leaves, growing in alkaline regions in the W United States. n.

greasy (grēs/ē), 1. smeared with grease; having grease on it. 2. containing much grease. 3. like grease; smooth; slippery. adj., greasier, greasier. —greasily, adv. —greasiness, n.

great (grāt), 1. big; large: a great house, a great crowd. 2. more than usual; much: great ignorance. 3. important; remarkable; famous: a great composer. 4. most important; main; chief: the great seal. 5. noble; generous. 6. much in use; favorite: That is a great habit of his. 7. very much of a: a great talker. 8. Informal. very good; fine: We had a great time at the party. 9. in names of relationship, of the next generation before or after: great-grandmother, great-grandson. adj. —greatly, adv. —greatness, n.

great-aunt (grāt/ant'), aunt of one's father or mother; grandaunt. n.

Great Barrier Reef, a coral reef in the S Pacific, along the NE coast of Australia. 1250 mi. long.

Great Basin, region in the W United States in which rivers and lakes have no outlet to the ocean. It includes most of Nevada and parts of Utah, California, Oregon, and Idaho. 210,000 sq. mi.

Great Bear, the constellation Ursa Major, containing the seven bright stars forming the Big Dipper.

Great Bear Lake, lake in NW Canada. 11,800 sq. mi.

Great Britain, England, Scotland, and Wales. It is the largest island of Europe. 50,963,000 pop.; 88,745 sq. mi.

great circle, any circle on the surface of a sphere having its plane passing through the center of the sphere. The equator is one of the great circles of the earth.

great coat (grāt/kōt'), Esp. Brit. a heavy overcoat. n.

Great Dane, one of a breed of large, powerful, short-haired dogs.

Great Divide, the Rocky Mountains of North America.

Greater Antilles, Cuba, Hispaniola, Puerto Rico, and Jamaica, the largest islands in the West Indies.

Great Falls, city in central Montana. 55,000.

great-grand child (grāt/grand/child'), grandchild of one's son or daughter. n., pl. great-grand children.

great-grand daughter (grāt/grand/dōtər), granddaughter of one's son or daughter. n.

great-grand father (grāt/grand/fā'thər), grandfather of one's father or mother. n.

great-grand mother (grāt/grand/mu'thər), grandmother of one's father or mother. n.

great-grand son (grāt/grand/sun'), grandson of one's son or daughter. n.

great-hearted (grāt/hār'tid), 1. noble; generous. 2. brave; fearless. adj. —great-heartedness, n.

great horned owl, a North American owl that has two hornlike tufts of feathers on its head.

Great Lakes, a series of lakes between the United States and Canada; lakes Ontario, Erie, Huron, Michigan, and Superior. 94,700 sq. mi.

greatly (grāt/lē), 1. in a great manner. 2. much. adv.

Great Mogul, the title of the emperor of a large part of India from 1526 until 1857.

Great Plains, a semiarid region just east of the Rocky Mountains in the United States and SW Canada.

Great Dane (2½ to 3 ft. high
at the shoulder)

Great Lakes

Great Salt Lake, a shallow lake in NW Utah. Its water is much saltier than ocean water. 80 mi. long; 2300 sq. mi.

great seal, the most important seal of a country or state, stamped on official documents as proof of their approval by the government.

Great Slave Lake, lake in Northwest Territories, in NW Canada. 300 mi. long; 10,700 sq. mi.

Great Smoky Mountains, part of the Appalachian Mountains in Tennessee and North Carolina. A national park is located there. The highest peak is 6642 feet.

Great Spirit, deity worshiped by certain tribes or groups of American Indians.

great-uncle (grāt/ung'kl), uncle of one's father or mother; granduncle. n.

Great Wall of China, a huge, stone wall on the boundary between N and NW China and Mongolia. 1500 mi. long.

Great War, World War I, from 1914 to 1918.

greave (grēv), armor for the leg below the knee. n.

grebe (grēb), 1. a diving bird like a loon, having feet not completely webbed and a pointed bill. 2. its breast feathers, used to trim hats, etc. n.

Grebe
(about 19 in. long)

Grecian (grē'shən), 1. Greek.

2. person who is thoroughly familiar with the Greek language or literature. 1 adj., 1,2 n.

Greco-Roman (grē'kō rō'mən), Greek and Roman. adj.

Greece (grēs), country in S Europe, on the Mediterranean Sea. 8,216,000 pop.; 50,147 sq. mi. Capital: Athens. n.

greed (grēd), quality of wanting more than one's share; extreme or excessive desire: a miser's greed for money. n.

greedy (grēd/ē), 1. wanting to get more than one's share. 2. having a very great desire to possess something. 3. wanting to eat or drink a great deal in a hurry; piggyish. adj., greedier, greediest. —greedily, adv. —greediness, n.

Greek (grēk), 1. of Greece, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Greece. 3. language of Greece. Ancient or classical Greek was the language until about 200 A.D.; modern Greek is the language from about 1500 on. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

It's Greek to me. I can't understand it.

Greek cross, cross whose four arms are of the same length and form right angles.

Greek
cross

Greek fire, substance easily set on fire whose flames could not be put out by water.

It was used in warfare in ancient and medieval times.

Greek Orthodox Church, 1. the Christian church of the countries in communion or doctrinal agreement with the patriarchs of Constantinople, Alexandria, Antioch, and Jerusalem; Eastern Church. 2. part of this church that constitutes the established church in Greece.

Greeley (grē/lē), Horace, 1811-1872, American journalist, politician, and antislavery leader. n.

green (grēn), 1. color of most growing plants, grass, and leaves; color in the spectrum between yellow and blue. 2. having this color. 3. make or become green. 4. green coloring matter, dye, paint, etc. 5. green cloth or clothing. 6. covered with growing plants, grass, leaves, etc.: green fields. 7. characterized by growing grass, etc.: a green Christmas. 8. grassy land or a plot of grassy ground. 9. a putting green of a golf course. 10. full of life and strength: green old age. 11. not dried, cured, seasoned, or otherwise prepared for use: green tobacco. 12. not ripe; not fully grown: green apples. 13. not trained or experienced; not mature in age, judgment, etc.: He was a green boy in the business. 14. easily fooled; easy to trick or cheat.

15. recent; fresh; new: a green wound. 16. having a pale, sickly color because of fear, jealousy, or sickness. 1,4,5,8,9 n., 2,6,7,10-16 adj., 3 v. —green'ness, n. greens, 1. green leaves and branches used for decoration. 2. leaves and stems of plants used for food.

green back (grēn'bak'), piece of United States paper money having the back printed in green. n.

Green Bay, 1. inlet of Lake Michigan extending into NE Wisconsin. 90 mi. long. 2. port in E Wisconsin at the head of this bay. 63,000.

green brier (grēn'brī'ər), a climbing smilax with prickly stems and green leaves. n.

green corn, Indian corn, especially the ears in the milky stage; roasting ears. It is eaten as a vegetable.

Greene (grēn), Nathanael, 1742-1786, American general in the American Revolution. n.

green ery (grēn'ər ē), 1. green plants, grass, or leaves; verdure. 2. place where green plants are grown or kept. n., pl. green eries.

green-eyed (grēn'id'), 1. having green eyes. 2. jealous. adj.

green grocer (grēn'grō'sər), Brit. person who sells fresh vegetables and fruit. n.

green horn (grēn'hörn'), Informal. 1. person without experience. 2. person easy to trick or cheat. n.

green house (grēn'hous'), building with a glass roof and glass sides kept warm for growing plants; hothouse. n.

green ish (grēn'ish), somewhat green. adj.

Green land (grēn'lænd or grēn'land'), the largest island in the world, belonging to Denmark. It lies northeast of North America. 30,000 pop.; 839,782 sq. mi. Capital: Godthaab. n.

green light, Informal. official permission to proceed on a particular task or undertaking.

Green Mountains, part of the Appalachian Mountains extending north and south through Vermont. The highest peak is 4393 feet.

Green River, river flowing from W Wyoming into the Colorado River in SE Utah. 730 mi.

Greensboro (grēnz'bēr'ō), city in N North Carolina. 120,000. n.

green sward (grēn'swōrd'), green grass; turf. n.

green tea, tea whose leaves have been withered by steam.

green thumb, a remarkable ability to grow flowers, vegetables, etc., especially as a hobby: When Aunt Mary saw our garden she said Mother must certainly have a green thumb.

Green ville (grēn'vil), city in NW South Carolina. 66,000. n.

Green wick (grin'ij, grin'ich, or gren'ich), borough in SE London, England. It had a famous observatory, which has been moved outside of the city. Longitude is measured east and west of Greenwich. 91,000. n.

Green wick Village (gren'ich), section of New York City, famous as a district where artists, writers, etc., live.

green wood (grēn'wūd'), forest in spring and summer when the trees are green with leaves. n.

greet (grēt), 1. speak or write to in a friendly, polite way; address in welcome. 2. address; salute: She greeted him with words of hate. 3. receive: His speech was greeted with cheers. 4. present itself to; meet: A strange sight greeted her eyes. v. —greet'er, n.

greet ing (grēt'ing), act or words of a person who greets another; welcome. n.

greetings, friendly wishes on a special occasion: Christmas greetings.

gre gar i ous (grə gār'ē əs), 1. living in flocks, herds, or other groups: Sheep and cattle are gregarious. 2. fond of being with others: Man is a gregarious animal. 3. of or having to do with a flock or crowd. adj. —gre-gar'i ous ly, adv. —gre gar'i ous ness, n.

Gre go ri an (grə gō'rē ən), 1. of or having to do with Pope Gregory I. 2. of or introduced by Pope Gregory XIII. adj.

Gregorian calendar, calendar now in use in the United States and most other countries, introduced by Pope Gregory XIII in 1582. According to this calendar, the ordinary year has 365 days, and leap year has 366 days. It is a correction of the calendar of Julius Caesar.

Greg o ry I (greg'ə rē), Saint, 540?-604 A.D., pope from 590 to 604 A.D. He was called "Gregory the Great."

Gregory XIII, 1502-1585, pope from 1572 to 1585. He introduced the present form of the calendar.

grem lin (grem'lən), an imaginary elf that troubles the pilots of airplanes. n.

Gre na da (grə nā'də), one of the Windward Islands, in the West Indies. 89,000 pop.; 133 sq. mi. Capital: St. George's. n.

gre nade (grə nād'), 1. a small bomb, usually thrown by hand: The soldiers threw grenades into the enemy's trenches. 2. a round, glass bottle filled with chemicals that scatter as the glass breaks. Fire grenades are thrown on fires to put them out. n.

gren a dier (gren'ə dir'), 1. originally, a soldier who threw grenades. 2. later, a very tall foot soldier. 3. now, a member of a special regiment of guards in the British army. n.

gren a dine (gren'ə dēn or gren'ə dēn'), a thin, openwork fabric used for women's dresses. n.

gren a dine (gren'ə dēn or gren'ə dēn'), syrup made from pomegranate or currant juice. n.

Gren fell (gren'fel), Sir Wilfred Thomason, 1865-1940, English physician and missionary in Labrador. n.

Gre no ble (grə nō'bl), city in SE France. 116,000. n.

Gret na Green (gret'nə), village in S Scotland where many runaway couples from England were married.

grew (grü), pt. of grow. It grew cold. v.

grew some (grü'səm), gruesome. adj.

grey (grā), Esp. Brit. gray. n., adj., v. —grey'ly, adv. —grey'ness, n.

grey beard (grā'bird'), Esp. Brit. graybeard. n.

grey-head ed (grā'hed'id), gray-headed. adj.

grey hound (grā'hound'),

1. one of a breed of tall, slender, swift dogs. 2. a swift ship. n.

Also, grayhound.

grey ish (grā'ish), Esp. Brit. grayish. adj.

grid (grid), 1. framework of parallel iron bars; grating; gridiron. 2. the lead plate in a storage battery. 3. electrode in a vacuum tube that controls the flow of current between the filament and the plate. n.

grid dle (grid'l), a heavy, flat plate of metal or soapstone, used for cooking griddlecakes, etc. n.

grid dle cake (grid'l-kāk'), a thin, flat cake of batter cooked on a griddle; pancake; flapjack. n.

grid i ron (grid'ī-ərən), 1. a cooking utensil consisting of a framework of parallel iron bars or wires, usually with a handle. It is used to hold meat, fish, etc., for broiling. 2. any framework or network that looks like a gridiron. 3. a football field. 4. a structure above the stage of a theater, from which scenery that is hung, etc., is manipulated. n.

grief (grēf), 1. deep sadness caused by trouble or loss; heavy sorrow. 2. cause of sadness or sorrow. n.

come to grief, have trouble; fail.

Greyhound (about 28 in. high at the shoulder)

Gridiron (def. 1)

Grieg (grēg), Edvard, 1843-1907, Norwegian musical composer. n.

grievance (grēv'əns), a real or imagined wrong; reason for being angry or annoyed; cause for complaint. n.

grieve (grēv), 1. feel grief; be very sad. 2. cause to feel grief; make very sad; afflict. v., grieved, grieving. —griev'er, n. —griev'ing ly, adv.

grievous (grēv'əs), 1. hard to bear; causing great pain or suffering: grievous cruelty. 2. flagrant; atrocious: Wasting food when people are starving is a grievous wrong. 3. causing grief. 4. full of grief; showing grief: a grievous cry. adj. —griev'ous ly, adv. —griev'ous ness, n.

grif fin (grif'ən), a mythical creature with the head, wings, and forelegs of an eagle, and the body, hind legs, and tail of a lion. n.

grill (gril), 1. a cooking utensil consisting of a framework of parallel iron bars for broiling meat, fish, etc.; gridiron. 2. broil. 3. dish of broiled meat, fish, etc. 4. restaurant or dining room that specializes in serving broiled meat, fish, etc. 5. torture with heat. 6. U.S. question severely and persistently: The detectives grilled the prisoner until he finally confessed. 1,3,4 n., 2,5,6 v. —grill'er, n.

grille (gril), an openwork, metal structure or screen, used as a gate, door, or window; grating. n.

grilse (grils), a young salmon that has returned from the sea to the river for the first time. n., pl. grilse.

grim (grim), 1. without mercy; stern; harsh; fierce. 2. not yielding; not relenting: a grim resolve. 3. looking stern, fierce, or harsh: Father was grim when he heard about the six broken windows. 4. horrible; ghastly: He made grim jokes about death and ghosts. adj., grim mer, grim mest. —grim'ly, adv. —grim'ness, n.

grime (grā mās' or grim'is), 1. a twisting of the face; ugly or funny smile: a grime caused by pain. 2. make grimaces. 1 n., 2 v., grime, grime ing. —grime'er, n.

grim al kin (grā mal'kən), 1. cat. 2. an old female cat. 3. a spiteful old woman. n.

grime (grim), 1. dirt rubbed deeply and firmly into a surface: the grime on a coal miner's hands. 2. cover with grime; make very dirty. 1 n., 2 v., grimed, grime ing.

Grimm (grim), 1. Jakob, 1785-1863, German philologist and collector of fairy tales. 2. his brother, Wilhelm, 1786-1859, German philologist and collector of fairy tales. n.

grimy (grim'e), covered with grime; very dirty. adj., grimier, grimiest. —grim'ily, adv. —grim'iness, n.

grin (grin), 1. smile broadly. 2. a broad smile. 3. show, make, or express by smiling broadly: He grinned approval. 4. draw back the lips and show the teeth in anger, pain, scorn, etc.: A snarling dog grins. 5. act of showing the teeth in anger, pain, scorn, etc. 1,3,4 v., grinned, grin ning; 2,5 n. —grin'ner, n.

grind (grind), 1. crush into bits or into powder: Your back teeth grind food. 2. crush by harshness or cruelty: The slaves were ground down by their masters. 3. sharpen, smooth, or wear by rubbing on something rough: An ax is ground on a grindstone. 4. rub harshly (on, into, against, or together): grind one's heel into the earth. 5. grind one's teeth in anger. 6. work by turning a crank; produce by turning a crank: A man grinds a hand organ to grind out music. 7. act of grinding. 8. Informal. long, hard work or study. 9. Informal. work or study long and hard. 10. Informal. person who works long and hard at his studies. 1-5,8 v., ground or (Rare) grind ed, grinding; 6,7,9 n.

grinder (grin'dər), 1. person or thing that grinds. 2. man or machine that sharpens tools. 3. a back tooth for grinding food; molar. n.

grind stone (grind'stən'), a flat, round stone set in a frame and turned by a crank, treadle, etc. It is used to sharpen tools, such as axes and knives, or to smooth and polish things. n.

have, keep, or put one's nose to the grindstone, work long and hard.

grin go (gring'gō), among Spanish Americans, an unfriendly term for an American or Englishman. n., pl. grin gos.

grip (grip), 1. a firm hold; seizing and holding tight; tight grasp. 2. take a firm hold on; seize and hold tight: The dog gripped the stick. 3. power of gripping. 4. thing for gripping something. 5. part to take hold of; handle. 6. special way of shaking hands. 7. U.S. a small suitcase; handbag. 8. firm control. 9. mental grasp. 10. get and keep the interest and attention of: An exciting story grips you. 11. a sudden, sharp pain. 12. gripe; influenza. 1,3-9, 11,12 n., 2,10 v., gripped or gript, grip ping. —grip'less, adj. —grip'per, n.

come to grips, fight hand to hand; struggle close together.

gripe (grip), 1. clutch; pinch. 2. oppress; distress. 3. cause pain in the bowels. 4. U.S. Informal. complain. 5. a fast hold; gripping; clutch. 6. grasp; control: The empire held small nations in its gripe. 7. U.S. Informal. complaint. 1-4 v., griped, grip ing; 5-7 n.

gripes, pain in the bowels; colic.

grippe (grip), a contagious disease like a very severe cold with fever; influenza. It is very dangerous and exhausting. n.

grip ping (grip'ing), that grips; especially, that catches and holds the attention or interest. adj.

gript (gript), gripped, a pt. of grip. v.

Gri sel da (grā zel'də), 1. heroine of an old romance famed for her patience when cruelly ill-treated by her husband. 2. a very meek, patient woman. n.

gris ly (griz'lē), frightful; horrible; ghastly. adj., gris li er, gris li est. —gris'li ness, n.

grist (grist), 1. grain to be ground. 2. grain that has been ground; meal or flour. n.

grist to one's mill, source of profit to one.

gristle (gris'l), cartilage; firm, tough elastic tissue. Babies have gristle instead of bone in some parts of the skull. n.

gris tly (gris'lē), of, containing, or like gristle. adj., gris tli er, gris tli est.

grist mill, mill for grinding grain.

grit (grit), 1. very fine gravel or sand. 2. a coarse sandstone. 3. U.S. Informal. courage; pluck. 4. grate; grind: He gritted his teeth and plunged into the cold water. 1-3 n., 4 v., grit ted, grit ting.

grits (grits), 1. coarsely ground corn, oats, etc., with the husks removed. 2. U.S. coarse hominy. n.pl.

grit ty (grit'tē), 1. of or containing grit; like grit; sandy. 2. U.S. Informal. courageous; plucky. adj., grit ti er, grit ti est. —grit'ti-ness, n.

griz zled (griz'ld), 1. grayish; gray. 2. gray-haired. adj.

griz zly (griz'lē), 1. grayish; gray. 2. gray-haired. 3. grizzly bear. 1,2 adj., griz zli er, griz zli-est; 3 n., pl. griz zlies.

grizzly bear, a large, fierce, gray or brownish-gray bear of W North America.

groan (grōn), 1. a deep-throated sound expressing grief, pain, or disapproval; deep, short moan: We heard the groans of the wounded men. 2. give a groan or groans. 3. be loaded or overburdened: The table groaned with food. 4. express by groaning. 5. suffer greatly. 1 n., 2-5 v. —groan'er, n.

groat (grōt), 1. an old English silver coin worth fourpence. 2. a very small sum. n.

Man using a grindstone

Grilles

Grizzly bear (about 8 ft. long) groats (grōts), hulled and crushed grain. n.pl.

grocer (grō'sər), person who sells food and household supplies. n.
grocer y (grō'sər ē), 1. U.S. store that sells food and household supplies. 2. business of a grocer. n., pl. groceries.
groceries, food and household supplies sold by a grocer.
grog (grog), Esp. Brit. 1. drink made of rum or any other strong alcoholic liquor, diluted with water. 2. any strong alcoholic liquor. n.
groggy (grog'ē), Informal. 1. shaky; unsteady. 2. drunk; intoxicated. adj., groggi er, groggi est.
—groggi ly, adv. —groggi ness, n.
groin (groin), 1. the hollow on either side of the body where the thigh joins the abdomen. 2. a curved line where two vaults of a roof cross. 3. form or build with groins. 1,2 n., 3 v.
Gro my ko (grō mē'kō), Andrei Andreievich, born 1909, Russian diplomat. n.
Gro ning en (grō'ning ən), city in N Netherlands. 144,000. n.
groom (grüm), 1. man or boy who has charge of horses. 2. feed and take care of (horses); rub down and brush. 3. take care of the appearance of; make neat and tidy: He was grooming himself for the party. 4. prepare (a person) to run for a political office. 5. man just married or about to be married; bridegroom. 6. any of several officers of the English royal household. 7. Archaic. manservant. 1,5-7 n., 2-4 v. —groom'er, n.
grooms man (grümz'mən), man who attends the bridegroom at a wedding. n., pl. grooms men.
groove (grüv), 1. a long, narrow channel or furrow, especially one cut by a tool: The plate rests in a groove on the rack. 2. any similar channel; rut: Wheels leave grooves in a dirt road. 3. make a groove in: The sink shelf is grooved so that the water will run off. 4. a fixed way of doing things: It is hard to get out of a groove. 1,2,4 n., 3 v. grooved, grooving.
in the groove, Slang. 1. in music, playing or played smoothly and with great skill. 2. perfect; perfectly.
grope (gröp), 1. feel about with the hands: He groped for a flashlight when the lights went out. 2. search blindly and uncertainly: The detectives groped for some clue to the murder. 3. find by feeling about with the hands; feel (one's way) slowly: The blind man groped his way to the door. v., groped, groping. —grop'ing ly, adv.
gros beak (grōs'bēk'), finch with a large, stout, cone-shaped bill. n.
gro schen (grō'shən), Informal. 1. a small silver coin formerly used in Germany. 2. a small nickel coin used in Germany, worth 10 pfennigs. n., pl. gro schen.
gros grain (grō'grän'), a closely woven silk or rayon cloth with heavy cross threads and a dull finish. n.
gross (grōs), 1. with nothing taken out; whole; entire. Gross receipts are all the money taken in before costs are deducted. 2. whole sum; total amount. 3. unit consisting of twelve dozen; 144. 4. very bad; easy to see: She makes gross errors in pronouncing words. 5. coarse; vulgar: Her manners are too gross for a lady. 6. too big and fat; overfed. 7. thick; heavy; dense: the gross growth of a jungle. 1,4-7 adj., 2,3 n., pl. gross-es for 3. —gross'ly, adv. —gross'ness, n.
in the gross, 1. as a whole; in bulk. 2. wholesale.
gross national product, the total monetary value of all the goods and services produced in a nation during a certain period of time.

A, Medieval groins (def. 2).

Red-breasted grosbeak (about 8 in.
long)

gross ton, 2240 pounds.

gro tesque (grō tesk'), 1. odd or unnatural in shape, appearance, manner, etc.; fantastic; queer: The book had pictures of hideous dragons and other grotesque monsters. 2. ridiculous; absurd: The monkey's grotesque antics made the children laugh. 3. painting, sculpture, etc., combining designs, ornaments, figures of persons or animals, etc., in a fantastic or unnatural way. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —gro tesque'ly, adv. —gro tesque'ness, n.

grot to (grōt'ō), 1. cave. 2. an artificial cave made for coolness or pleasure. n., pl. grot toes or grot tos. grouch (grouch), U.S. Informal. 1. be sulky or ill-tempered; complain. 2. a sulky person. 3. a sulky, discontented feeling. 1 v., 2,3 n.

grouch y (grouch'ē), U.S. Informal. sulky; sullen; discontented. adj., grouchi er, grouchi est. —grouch'i ly, adv. —grouch'i ness, n.

ground (ground), 1. the solid part of the earth's surface. 2. soil; dirt. 3. of, on, at, or near the ground; living or growing in, on, or close to the ground: the ground floor of a building. 4. put on the ground; cause to touch the ground. 5. run aground; hit the bottom or shore: The boat grounded in shallow water. 6. a particular piece of land; land for some special purpose: The West was his favorite hunting ground. 7. foundation for what is said, thought, claimed, or done; basis; reason: There is no ground for complaining of his conduct. On what ground do you say that is true? 8. put on a firm foundation or basis; establish firmly. 9. instruct in the first principles or elements: The class is well grounded in grammar. 10. underlying surface; background: The cloth has a blue pattern on a white ground. 11. furnish with a background. 12. connection of an electrical conductor with the earth. 13. connect (an electric wire or other conductor) with the earth. 14. connection in a radio for the conductor that leads to the ground. 1,2,6,7,10,12,14 n., 3 adj., 4,5,8,9, 11,13 v.

grounds, 1. land or area for some purpose or special use. 2. land, lawns, and gardens around a house. 3. small bits that sink to the bottom of a drink such as coffee or tea; dregs; sediment. 4. foundation; basis.

above ground, alive.
break ground, 1. dig; plow. 2. begin building.
cover ground, 1. go over a certain distance or area. 2. travel. 3. do a certain amount of work, etc.
cut the ground from under one's feet, spoil a person's defense or argument by meeting it in advance.
fall to the ground, fail; be given up.
from the ground up, completely; entirely; thoroughly. gain ground, 1. go forward; advance; progress. 2. become more common or widespread.

give ground, retreat; yield.
hold one's ground, keep one's position; not retreat or yield.

lose ground, 1. go backward; retreat; yield. 2. become less common or widespread.

on the ground of, because of; by reason of.

run into the ground, Informal. overdo.

shift one's ground, change one's position; use a different defense or argument.

stand one's ground, keep one's position; refuse to retreat or yield.

ground (ground), pt. and pp. of grind. The wheat was ground to make flour. v.

ground crew, U.S. the nonflying personnel responsible for conditioning and maintenance of airplanes.

ground er (groun'dar), baseball hit or thrown so as to bound or roll along the ground. n.

ground floor, U.S. the best position in relation to a business deal, etc.

ground hog, woodchuck. Ground hogs grow fat in summer and sleep in their holes in the ground all winter. The ground hog is supposed to come out of his hole on February 2. If the sun is shining and he sees his shadow, he goes back in his hole for six more weeks of winter.

ground less (ground/'lis), without foundation, basis, or reason. adj., —ground/less ly, adv. —ground/less ness, n.

ground ling (ground/'ling), 1. plant or animal that lives close to the ground. 2. fish that lives at the bottom of the water. 3. spectator or reader who has poor taste. n.

ground nut (ground/'nut'), 1. any of various plants having edible underground parts, such as the peanut. 2. the edible tuber, pod, or the like, of such a plant. n.

ground plan, 1. plan of a floor of a building. 2. first or fundamental plan.

ground sel (ground/'sl), plant with small heads of yellow flowers. The seeds of some kinds are used for bird food. n.

ground squirrel, any one of various burrowing rodents belonging to the same family as the squirrel; especially, the chipmunk.

ground swell, broad, deep waves caused by a distant storm, earthquake, etc.

ground wire, wire connecting electric wiring, a radio, etc., with the ground.

ground work (ground/'wérk'), foundation; basis. n.

ground zero, the exact point where a bomb strikes the ground or, in an atomic explosion, the area directly beneath the core of radiation.

group (grüp), 1. number of persons or things together: A group of children were playing tag. 2. number of persons or things belonging or classed together: Wheat, rye, and oats belong to the grain group. 3. form into a group: The children grouped themselves at the monkey's cage. 4. put in a group: 5. arrange in groups. 6. an air-force unit smaller than a wing and larger than a squadron, corresponding to an infantry regiment. 1,2,6 n., 3-5 v.

group er (grüp/'är), a large food fish of warm seas. n., pl. group ers or (esp. collectively) group er.

group ing (grüp/'ing), placing or manner of being placed in a group or groups. n.

grouse¹ (grous), a game bird with feathered legs. The prairie chicken, sage hen, and ruffed grouse of the United States are different kinds. n., pl. grouse.

grouse² (grous), Slang. 1. grumble; complain. 2. complaint. 1 v., groused, grous ing; 2 n. —grous/-er, n.

grove (grōv), group of trees standing together. n.

grov el (gruv/'l or grov/'l), 1. lie face downward, crawl at someone's feet; humble oneself: The frightened slaves groveled before their cruel master. 2. enjoy low, mean, or contemptible things. v., grov eled, grov el ing or esp. Brit. grov elled, grov el ling. —grov/el esp, Brit. grov/el ler, n.

grow (grō), 1. become bigger by taking in food, as plants and animals do: a tree growing only in the tropics. 2. exist; sprout; spring; arise. 3. become greater; increase: His fame grew. 4. become gradually attached or united by growth: The vine has grown fast to the wall. 5. become: grow cold, grow rich. 6. cause to grow; produce; raise: grow corn. 7. allow to grow: grow a beard. 8. develop. v., grew, grown, grow ing.

grow on or upon, have an increasing effect or influence on: The habit grew on me.

grow up, 1. advance to or arrive at full growth. 2. come into being; be produced; develop.

grow er (grō/'är), 1. person who grows something: a fruit grower. 2. plant that grows in a certain way: a quick grower. n.

growl (groul), 1. make a deep, low, angry sound: The dog growled at the tramp. 2. a deep, low, angry sound; deep, warning snarl. 3. express by growling. 4. complain angrily. 5. angry complaint. 6. rumble. 1,3,4,6 v., 2,5,6 n.

Ruffed grouse
(about 17 in. long)

growler (groul/'är), 1. person or animal that growls. 2. Slang. pail or pitcher to get beer in. n.

grown (grōn), 1. arrived at full growth: A grown man is an adult. 2. covered with a growth. 3. pp. of grow: This flower has grown very tall. 1,2 adj., 3 v.

grown-up (grōn/'up'), 1. adult. 2. characteristic of or suitable for adults. 1,2 adj., 1 n.

growth (grōth), 1. process of growing; development. 2. amount of growing or developing; increase: one year's growth. 3. what has grown or is growing: A thick growth of bushes covered the ground. 4. an unhealthy mass of tissue formed in or on the body. Cancer causes a growth. n.

grub (grub), 1. a wormlike form or larva of an insect. A grub is usually the smooth, thick larva of a beetle. 2. dig: Pigs grub for roots. 3. root out of the ground; dig up: It took the farmer weeks to grub the stumps on his land. 4. rid (ground) of roots, etc. 5. drudge. 6. Slang. food. 1,5,6 n., 2-5 v., grubbed, grub bing. —grub/-ber, n.

grub by (grub/'ē), 1. dirty; grimy. 2. infested with grubs. adj., grub bi er, grub bi est. —grub/bi ness, n.

grub stake (grub/'stāk'), U.S. Informal. 1. food, outfit, money, etc., supplied to a prospector on the condition of sharing in whatever he finds. 2. supply with a grubstake. 1 n., 2 v., grub staked, grub staking. —grub/stak'er, n.

grudge (gruj), 1. ill will; sullen feeling against; dislike of long standing. 2. feel anger or dislike toward (a person) because of (something); envy the possession of: He grudged me my little prize even though he had won a bigger one. 3. give or let have unwillingly: The mean man grudged his horse the food that it ate. 1 n., 2,3 v., grudged, grudg ing.

bear a grudge, have and keep a grudge.

grudg ing ly (gruj/'ing lē), unwillingly. adj.

gruel (grü/'äl), 1. a thin, almost liquid food made by boiling oatmeal, etc., in water or milk. Gruel is often given to those who are sick or old. 2. Informal. tire out completely; exhaust. 1 n., 2 v., gru eled, gru el ing or esp. Brit. gru elled, gru el ling.

gru el ing or gru el ling (grü/'äl ing), Informal. 1. exhausting; very tiring: a grueling contest. 2. an exhausting or very tiring experience. 1 adj., 2 n.

grue some (grü/'səm), horrible; frightful; revolting. adj. —grue/some ly, adv. —grue/some ness, n.

gruff (gruf), 1. deep and harsh; hoarse: a gruff voice. 2. rough; rude; unfriendly; bad-tempered. adj. —gruff/-ly, adv. —gruff/ness, n.

grum ble (grum/'bl), 1. mutter in discontent; complain in a bad-tempered way. 2. mutter of discontent; bad-tempered complaint. 3. express by grumbling. 4. rumble. 1,3,4 v., grum bled, grum bling; 2,4 n. —grum/bler, n.

grumpy (grump/'ē), surly; ill-humored; gruff: The grumpy old man found fault with everything. adj., grump i er, grump i est. —grump/i ly, adv. —grump/i ness, n.

Grun dy (grun/'dē), Mrs., social censorship of manners and morals. n.

grunt (grunt), 1. the deep, hoarse sound that a hog makes. 2. sound like this: The old man got out of his chair with a grunt. 3. make the deep, hoarse sound of a hog. 4. say with this sound: The sullen boy grunted his apology. 5. an edible sea fish that grunts when taken out of the water. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v. —grunt'er, n.

Gt. Br. or Gt. Brit., Great Britain.

Gua da la ja ra (gwäd/'l ə hä/'rə), a city in SW Mexico. 734,000. n.

Gua dal ca nal (gwä/'dl kə näl'), one of the Solomon Islands in the Pacific. The Japanese were defeated here by United States forces in 1942 and 1943. n.

Gua dal quiv ir (gwä/'dl kwiv/'är; Spanish gwä'thāl-kē vē'r'), river in S Spain. 374 mi. n.

Gua de loupe (gwäd/'l ūp'), a French island in the West Indies. 268,000 pop.; 583 sq. mi. Capital: Basse-Terre. n.

Guam (gwām), island in the W Pacific, east of the Philippines. Guam belongs to the United States. 67,000 pop.; 209 sq. mi. Capital: Agaña. n.

gua na co (gwä nä'kō), a wild South American mammal like a small camel without a hump. Llamas and alpacas are thought to have been domesticated from guanacos. n., pl. gua na cos.

gua no (gwä'nō), 1. manure of sea birds, found especially on islands near Peru. Guano is an excellent fertilizer. 2. an artificial fertilizer made from fish. n., pl. gua nos.

Guan tā na mo Bay (gwän tä'nä-mō), inlet of the Caribbean Sea in SE Cuba. A United States naval station is located there.

guar an tee (gar'an tē'), 1. a promise to pay or do something if another fails; pledge to replace goods if they are not as represented; backing. 2. person who so promises. 3. one to whom such a pledge is made. 4. stand back of; give a guarantee for; assure genuineness or permanence of; answer for fulfillment of (a contract, etc.): This company guarantees its clocks for a year. The father guaranteed his son's future behavior. 5. undertake to secure for another: He will guarantee us possession of the house by May. 6. secure (against or from): His insurance guaranteed him against money loss in case of fire. 7. engage (to do something): I will guarantee to prove every statement I made. 8. engage that (something) has been or will be: The advance payment of money guarantees the good faith of the purchaser. The new naval compact is supposed to guarantee peace between Great Britain and the United States. 1-3 n., 4-8 v.

guar an teed, guar an tee ing.

guar an tor (gar'an tōr), one who makes or gives a guarantee. n.

guar an ty (gar'an tē), 1. act or fact of giving security. 2. pledge or promise given as security; security. 3. guarantee. 1,2 n., pl. guar an ties; 3 v., guar an tied, guar an ty ing.

guard (gärd), 1. keep safe; watch over carefully; defend; protect: The dog guarded the child day and night. 2. keep in check; prevent from getting out; hold back: Guard the prisoners. Guard your tongue. 3. person or group that guards. A soldier or group of soldiers guarding a person or place is a guard. 4. take precautions (against). 5. anything that gives protection; contrivance or appliance to protect against injury, loss, etc. 6. careful watch: A soldier kept guard over the prisoners. 7. defense; protection. 8. position of defense in boxing, fencing, or cricket. 9. arms or weapons held in a position of defense. 10. person who opens and closes the doors or gates on a train; brakeman. 11. player at either side of the center in football. 12. either of two players defending the goal in basketball. 1,2,4 v., 3,5-12 n. —guard'er, n.

guards, certain groups of soldiers in the British army. on guard, ready to defend or protect; watchful.

guard ed (gär'did), 1. kept safe; carefully watched over; protected. 2. careful; cautious: "Maybe" is a guarded answer to a question. adj. —guard'ed ness, n.

guard ed ly (gär'did lē), in a guarded manner. adv.

guard house (gärd'hous'), 1. building used as a jail for soldiers. 2. building used by soldiers on guard. n.

guard i an (gär'dē an), 1. person who takes care of another or of some special thing. 2. person appointed by law to take care of the affairs of someone who is young or cannot take care of them himself. 3. protecting: a guardian angel. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

guard i an ship (gär'dē an ship'), position or care of a guardian. n.

guard rail (gärd'räl'), rail or railing for protection. n.

guard room (gärd'rüm'), 1. room used by soldiers on guard. 2. room used as a jail for soldiers. n.

Guanaco
(about 4 ft. high
at the shoulder)

guards man (gärdz'män), 1. guard. 2. U.S. soldier who belongs to the National Guard. n., pl. guards men.

Gua te ma la (gwä'tä mä'la), 1. country in NW Central America. 3,759,000 pop.; 42,042 sq. mi. 2. its capital. 383,000. See Central America for map. n. —Gua'te ma'lan, adj., n.

gua va (gwä'vä), 1. a tropical American tree or shrub with a yellow or red, round or pear-shaped fruit. 2. the fruit, used for jelly, jam, etc. n.

Guava

Guay a quil (gwä'ä kēl'), seaport in W Ecuador. 410,000. n.

gua yu le (gwä'ü'lä), a small shrub growing in Mexico and Texas. Rubber is obtained from its juice. n.

gu ber na to ri al (gü'bär nä tō'rē al or gü'bär nä-tō'rē al), Esp. U.S. of a governor; having to do with a governor. adj.

gudg eon (guj'an), 1. a small European fresh-water fish that is easy to catch and is often used for bait. 2. minnow. 3. person easily fooled or cheated. n.

guer don (gërd'n), Poetic. reward. n., v.

gue ril la (gä'rill'a), guerrilla. n.

Guern sey (gërn'zē), 1. a British island in the English Channel. 45,000 pop.; 25 sq. mi. See Channel Islands for map. 2. any of a breed of dairy cattle resembling the Jersey, but somewhat larger. n., pl. Guern seys.

guer ril la (gä'rill'a), 1. fighter in a war carried on by independent bands. Guerrillas harass the enemy by sudden raids, ambushes, plundering supply trains, etc. 2. of or by guerrillas. 1 n., 2 adj.

guess (ges), 1. form an opinion (of) without really knowing: guess the height of a tree. 2. opinion formed without really knowing: My guess is that it will rain tomorrow. 3. get right by guessing: guess a riddle. 4. Esp. U.S. think; believe; suppose: I guess he is really sick after all. 1,3,4 v., 2 n. —guess'er, n.

guess work (ges'wërk'), work, action, or results based on guessing; guessing. n.

guest (gest), 1. person who is received and entertained at one's home, club, etc.; person who is not a regular member; visitor. 2. person staying at a hotel, boarding house, etc. n.

guf faw (gu fō'), 1. a loud, coarse burst of laughter. 2. laugh loudly and coarsely. 1 n., 2 v.

Gui a na (gē'an'ə or gē'ä'nə), region in N South America, including Guyana (former British Guiana), Surinam (former Dutch Guiana), and French Guiana. n.

guid ance (gid'ns), 1. a guiding; leadership; direction: Under her mother's guidance, Nan learned how to cook. 2. thing that guides. n.

guide (gid), 1. show the way; lead; conduct; direct: The Indian guided the hunters. 2. manage; control; regulate. 3. person or thing that shows the way, leads, conducts, or directs: Tourists and hunters sometimes hire guides. 4. part of a machine for directing or regulating motion or action. 5. guidebook. 1,2 v., guid ed, guiding; 3-5 n. —guid'er, n. —guide'less, adj.

guide board (gid'bōrd'), board or sign with directions for travelers, often attached to a guidepost. n.

guide book (gid'bük'), book of directions and information, especially one for travelers, tourists, etc. n.

guided missile, projectile that can be guided accurately often for great distances and usually by means of transmitted electronic impulses.

guide post (gid'pōst'), post with signs and directions on it for travelers. A guidepost where roads meet tells travelers what places each road goes to and how far it is to each place. n.

guide word, word put at the top of a page as a guide to the contents of the page.

gui don (gid'n or gi'don), 1. a small flag or streamer carried as a guide by soldiers, or used for signaling.

2. in the United States army, a flag, streamer, or pennant of a company, regiment, etc. 3. soldier who carries the guidon. n.

guild (gild), 1. society for mutual aid or for some common purpose: the Ladies' Auxiliary Guild of the Church. 2. in the Middle Ages, a union of the men in one trade to keep standards high and to look out for the interests of their trade. n. Also, gild.

guilder (gil'dər), 1. a silver coin or unit of money in the Netherlands, worth 27.7 cents in United States money. 2. a gold or silver coin formerly used in the Netherlands, Germany, or Austria. n. Also, guilder.

guild hall (gild'hôl'), 1. hall in which a guild meets. 2. Brit. a town hall; city hall. n.

guilds man (gildz'mæn), member of a guild. n., pl. guilds men.

guile (gil), crafty deceit; craftiness; sly tricks: A swindler uses guile; a robber uses force. n.

guile ful (gil'fəl), crafty and deceitful; sly and tricky. adj. —guile/ful ly, adv. —guile/ful ness, n.

guile less (gil'lis), without guile; honest; frank; sincere. adj. —guile/less ly, adv. —guile/less ness, n.

guil le mot (gil'ə mot), any of several arctic diving birds of the same family as the auk, with narrow bills. n.

guil lo tine (gil'ə tēn for 1; gil'ə-tēn' for 2), 1. machine for beheading persons by means of a heavy blade that slides down between two grooved posts. The guillotine was used during the French Revolution. 2. behead with this machine. 1 n., 2 v., guil lo timed, guil lo tin ing. —guil/lo tin'er, n.

Guillotine

guilt (gilt), 1. fact or state of having done wrong; being guilty; being to blame: The evidence proved Ray's guilt. 2. guilty action or conduct; crime; offense; wrongdoing. n.

guilt less (gilt'lis), not guilty; free from guilt; innocent. adj.

guilt y (gil'tē), 1. having done wrong; deserving to be blamed and punished: The jury pronounced the prisoner guilty of murder. 2. knowing or showing that one has done wrong: The one who did the crime had a guilty conscience and a guilty look. adj., guilt i er, guilt i est. —guilt/i ly, adv. —guilt/i ness, n.

Girl wearing a guimpe under her dress guimpe (gimp or gamp), blouse worn under a dress and showing at the neck or at the neck and arms. n.

guinea (gin'ē), 1. amount equal to 21 shillings, used in England in stating prices, fees, etc. 2. a former English gold coin worth 21 shillings, so called because originally made of gold from Guinea. 3. guinea fowl. n.

Guin ea (gin'ē), 1. a republic in W Africa on the Atlantic, between Portuguese Guinea and Sierra Leone. 2,600,000 pop.; 95,218 sq. mi. Capital: Conakry. 2. Gulf of, a large gulf of the Atlantic in W Africa. n.

Guinea fowl (about 1½ ft. long, from bill to tip of tail) guinea fowl, a domestic fowl somewhat like a pheasant, having dark-gray feathers with small, white spots.

guinea hen, 1. guinea fowl. 2. a female guinea fowl.

guinea pig, 1. a short-eared animal like a big, fat, harmless rat. Guinea pigs make good pets and are often used for laboratory experiments. 2. any person or thing serving as a subject for experiment or observation.

Guinea pig (about 6 in. long)

Guin e vere (gwin'ə vir), King Arthur's queen. n.

guise (giz), 1. style of dress; garb: The soldier went in the guise of a monk and was not recognized. 2. external appearance; aspect; semblance:

His theory is nothing but an old idea in a new guise. 3. assumed appearance; pretense: Under the guise of friendship he plotted treachery. n.

gui tar (gə tār'), a musical instrument having six strings, played with the fingers. n.

Man playing a guitar gulch (gulch), U.S. a deep, narrow ravine with steep sides, especially one marking the course of a stream or torrent. n.

gul den (gūl'dən), guilder. n., pl. gul dens or gul den.

gules (gūlz), red. n., adj.

gulf (gulf), 1. a large bay; arm of an ocean or sea extending into the land: The Gulf of Mexico is between Florida and Mexico. 2. a very deep break or cut in the earth. 3. any wide separation: The quarrel left a gulf between the old friends. 4. something that swallows up; whirlpool. n. —gulf/like', adj.

Gulf States, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida.

Gulf Stream, current of warm water in the Atlantic. It flows north from the Gulf of Mexico along the United States coast to Newfoundland and then northeast toward the British Isles. 50 mi. wide.

Gull¹ (about 18 in. long) gulf weed (gulf'wēd'), an olive-brown seaweed having many berry-like sacs that keep it afloat. n.

gull¹ (gul), a graceful gray-and-white bird with long wings, webbed feet, and a thick, strong beak, living on or near large bodies of water. n.

gull² (gul), 1. deceive; cheat. 2. person who is easily deceived or cheated. 1 v., 2 n.

gul let (gul'it), 1. passage for food from the mouth to the stomach; esophagus. 2. throat. n.

gul li bil i ty (gul'ə bil'ə tē), a being gullible; tendency to be easily deceived or cheated. n.

gul li ble (gul'ə bl), easily deceived or cheated. adj. —gul/li bly, adv.

gul ly (gul'ē), 1. a narrow gorge; small ravine; ditch made by running water. 2. make gullies in. 1 n., pl. gul lies; 2 v., gul lied, gul ly ing.

gulp (gulp), 1. swallow eagerly or greedily. 2. act of swallowing. 3. amount swallowed at one time; mouthful. 4. keep in; choke back; repress: The disappointed boy gulped down a sob. 5. gasp; choke. 1, 4, 5 v., 2, 3 n.

gum¹ (gum), 1. a sticky juice, obtained from or given off by certain trees and plants, that hardens in the air and dissolves in water. Gum is used to make candy, medicine, and mucilage. 2. any similar secretion, such as resin, gum resin, etc. 3. preparation of such a substance for use in industry or the arts. 4. chewing gum. 5. substance on the back of a stamp, the flap of an envelope, etc.; mucilage; glue. 6. rubber. 7. gum tree; eucalyptus. 8. smear, stick together, or stiffen with gum. 9. give off gum; form gum. 10. make or become sticky; clog with something sticky: Bill's pocket was all gummed with candy. 1-7 n., 8-10 v., gummed, gum ming.

gums, rubber overshoes.

gum² (gum), flesh around the teeth. n.

gum ammoniac, a natural mixture of gum and resin, used in medicine.

gum arabic, gum obtained from acacia trees, used in making candy, medicine, mucilage, etc.

gum bo (gum'bō), 1. the okra plant. 2. its sticky pods. 3. soup thickened with okra pods. 4. soil found in the southern and western parts of the United States that contains much silt and becomes very sticky when wet. n., pl. gum bos.

gum boil (gum'boil'), a small abscess on the gums. n. gum drop (gum'drop'), U.S. a stiff, jellylike piece of candy made of gum arabic, gelatin, etc., sweetened and flavored. n.

gum my (gum/ē), 1. sticky like gum. 2. covered with gum. 3. giving off gum. adj., gum mi er, gum mi est. —gum/mi ness, n.

gump tion (gump/shən), Informal. 1. initiative; energy. 2. common sense; good judgment. n.

gum resin, a natural mixture of gum and resin, obtained from certain plants.

gum shoe (gum/shū), 1. a rubber overshoe. 2. U.S. Slang. detective. 3. U.S. Slang. go around quietly and secretly. 1,2 n., 3 v., gum shoed, gum shoe ing.

gumshoes, sneakers.

gum tree, tree that yields gum. The sweet gum, sour gum, and eucalyptus are gum trees.

gum wood (gum/wūd'), wood of a gum tree. n.

gun (gun), 1. weapon with a long metal tube for shooting bullets, shot, etc. A rifle or cannon is a gun. Pistols and revolvers are called guns in ordinary speech. 2. anything resembling a gun in use or shape. 3. the shooting of a gun as a signal or salute. 4. shoot with a gun; hunt with a gun. 5. Slang. put at high speed; accelerate: The pilot of the airplane gunned his engine for a sharp climb. 1-3 n., 4,5 v., gunned, gun ning. spike one's guns, make a person powerless; defeat him.

stick to one's guns, keep one's position; refuse to retreat or yield.

gun boat (gun/bōt'), a small warship that can be used in shallow water. n.

gun carriage, structure on which a gun is mounted or moved and on which it is fired.

gun cot ton (gun/kot'n), explosive made by treating cotton with nitric and sulfuric acids. n.

gun fire (gun/īr'), the shooting of a gun or guns. n.

gun lock (gun/lok'), part of a gun by which the charge is fired. n.

gun man (gun/man), U.S. man who uses a gun to rob, kill, etc. n., pl. gun men.

gun metal, 1. a dark-gray alloy used for chains, buckles, handles, etc. 2. a dark gray. 3. kind of bronze formerly used for making guns. —gun'-met'al, adj.

gun nel (gun/l), gunwale. n.

gun ner (gun/ər), 1. man trained to fire artillery; soldier who handles and fires cannon. 2. a naval officer in charge of a ship's guns. 3. person who hunts with a gun. n.

gun ner y (gun/ər ē), 1. art and science of constructing and managing big guns. 2. use of guns; shooting of guns. 3. guns collectively. n.

gun ning (gun/ing), shooting with a gun; hunting with a gun. n.

gun ny (gun/ē), 1. a strong, coarse fabric used for sacks, bags, etc. 2. sack, bag, etc., made of this. n., pl. gun nies.

gun powder (gun/pou'dər), powder that explodes with force when brought into contact with fire. Gunpowder is used in guns, fireworks, and blasting. One kind of gunpowder is made of saltpeter, sulfur, and charcoal. n.

gun shot (gun/shot'), 1. shot fired from a gun. 2. the shooting of a gun: We heard gunshots. 3. distance that a gun will shoot: The deer was within gunshot. n.

gun smith (gun/smith'), person whose work is making or repairing small guns. n.

gun stock (gun/stok'), the wooden support or handle to which the barrel of a gun is fastened. n.

gun wale (gun/l), the upper edge of a ship's or boat's side. n. Also, gunnel.

gup py (gup/ē), a very small, brightly colored fish of tropical fresh water. The female bears young instead of producing eggs. n., pl. gup pies.

gur gle (ger/gl), 1. flow or run with a bubbling sound: Water gurgles when it is poured out of a bottle or flows over stones. 2. a bubbling sound. 3. make a bubbling sound: The baby gurgled happily. 4. express with a gurgle. 1,3,4 v., gur gled, gur gling; 2 n.

gush (gush), 1. rush out suddenly; pour out. 2. rush of water or other liquid from an enclosed place: If you get a deep cut, there usually is a gush of blood. 3. talk in a silly way about one's affections or enthusiasms. 4. Informal. silly, emotional talk. 5. give forth suddenly or very freely. 1,3,5 v., 2,4 n.

gush er (gush/ər), 1. Esp. U.S. an oil well that gives oil in large quantities without pumping. 2. a gushy person. n.

gush ing (gush/ing), 1. that gushes. 2. effusive. adj.

gush y (gush/ē), showing silly feeling; effusive; sentimental. adj., gush i er, gush i est.

—gush'i ness, n. gus set (gus/it), a triangular piece of material inserted to give greater strength or more room. n.

gust (gust), 1. a sudden, violent rush of wind: A gust upset the small sailboat. 2. a sudden burst of rain, smoke, sound, etc. 3. outburst of anger, enthusiasm, etc.: Gusts of laughter greeted the clown. n.

gus ta to ry (gus/tə tō'rē), of the sense of taste; having to do with tasting. adj.

Gus ta vus V (gus tā'vəs or gus tā'vəs), 1858-1950, king of Sweden from 1907 to 1950.

Gustavus VI, born 1882, king of Sweden since 1950.

gus to (gus/tō), 1. keen relish; hearty enjoyment: The hungry boy ate his dinner with gusto. 2. liking or taste. n., pl. gus tos.

gust y (gus/tē), 1. coming in gusts; windy; stormy. 2. marked by outbursts: gusty laughter. adj., gus ti er, gus ti est. —gust'i ly, adv. —gust'i ness, n.

gut (gut), 1. intestine. 2. a tough string made from the dried and twisted intestines of sheep or other animals; catgut. Gut is used for violin strings and tennis rackets. 3. remove the entrails of; disembowel. 4. plunder or destroy the inside of: Fire gutted the building and left only the brick walls standing. 5. a narrow channel or gully. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., gut ted, gut ting.

guts, 1. Slang. pluck; courage; endurance. 2. entrails; bowels.

Gu ten berg (güt'n bērg), Johann, 1398?-1468, German printer. He is supposed to have been the first European to print from movable type. n.

gut ta-per cha (gut'ə pēr'chə), substance resembling rubber, obtained from the thick, milky juice of certain tropical trees, used in dentistry, in insulating electric wires, etc. n.

gut ter (gut/ər), 1. channel or ditch along the side of a street or road to carry off water; low part of a street beside the sidewalk. 2. channel or trough along the lower edge of a roof to carry off rain water. 3. channel; groove. 4. form gutters in. 5. flow or melt in streams: A candle gutters when the melted wax runs down its sides. 6. become channeled.

7. a low, poor, or wretched place: a child of the gutter. 1-3,7 n., 4-6 v.

gut ter snipe (gut'ər snīp'), Informal. gamin that lives in the streets. n.

gut tur al (gut'ər əl), 1. of the throat. 2. formed in the throat; harsh: The man spoke in a guttural voice. 3. formed between the back of the tongue and the soft palate. The g in go is a guttural sound. 4. sound formed between the back of the tongue and the soft palate. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —gut'tur al ly, adv.

guy (gi), 1. rope, chain, wire, etc., attached to something to steady or secure it. 2. steady or secure with a guy or guys: The mast was guyed by four ropes. 1 n., 2 v., guyed, guy ing.

guy² (gī), 1. Slang. fellow; chap. 2. a queer-looking person. 3. Informal. make fun of; tease. 1,2 n., 3 v., guyed, guying.

Guy an a (gī'ən'ə), a country in N South America, a member of the British Commonwealth, formerly the colony of British Guiana. 561,000 pop.; 89,480 sq. mi. Capital: Georgetown. See South America for map. n.

guz zle (guz'l), drink greedily; drink too much. v., guz zled, guz zling. —guz'zler, n.

gym (jim), gymnasium. n.

gym na si a (jim nā'zē ə), a pl. of gymnasium. n.

gym na si um (jim nā'zē əm), room, building, etc., fitted up for physical exercise or training and for indoor athletic sports. n., pl. gym na si ums or gym na si a.

gym nast (jim'nast), expert in gymnastics. n.

gym nas tic (jim nas'tik), having to do with bodily exercise or activities. adj. —gym nas'ti cal ly, adv.

gym nas tics (jim nas'tiks), physical exercises for developing the muscles. n.pl.

gym no sperm (jim'nə spērm), any of a large group of plants having the seeds exposed. The pine, fir, and spruce, which bear seeds on the surface of cone scales instead of in pods, are gymnosperms. n.

gyp (jip), U.S. Slang. 1. cheat; swindle. 2. a cheat; swindler. 1 v., gypped, gyp ping; 1,2 n. —gyp'per, n.

gyp sum (jip'səm), mineral used for making plaster of Paris, fertilizer, etc.; hydrated calcium sulfate. Alabaster is one form of gypsum. n.

Gyp sy (jip'sē), 1. person belonging to a wandering group of people having dark skin and black hair, who probably came from India originally. 2. language of the Gypsies. n., pl. Gyp sies. Also, esp. Brit. Gipsy.

gyp sy (jip'sē), 1. a Gypsy. 2. U.S. person who looks or lives like a Gypsy. 3. of the Gypsies: a gypsy girl, gypsy music. 4. resembling a Gypsy or gypsy. 1,2 n., pl. gyp sies; 3,4 adj. Also, esp. Brit. gipsy.

gypsy moth, a brownish or white moth whose larvae eat the leaves of trees. Also, gipsy moth.

gy rate (jī'rāt), move in a circle or spiral; rotate: A top gy rates. v., gy rat ed, gy rat ing. —gy ra'tor, n.

gy ra tion (jī rā'shən), circular or spiral motion; whirling; rotation. n.

gy ra to ry (jī'rə tō'rē), gyrating. adj.

gyr fal con (jēr'fōl'kən or jēr'fō'-kən), gerfalcon. n.

gy ro com pass (jī'rō kum'pəs), compass using a motor-driven gyroscope instead of a magnetic needle to point to the north. It points to the geographic North Pole instead of to the magnetic pole. n.

gy ro scope (jī'rə skōp), a heavy wheel or disk mounted so that its axis can turn freely in one or more directions. A spinning gyroscope tends to resist change in the direction of its axis. It is used to keep ships and airplanes balanced. n.

gy ro scop ic (jī'rə skop'ik), having to do with a gyroscope. adj.

gy ro sta bi liz er (jī'rō stā'bē-līz'ər), device for stabilizing a sea-going vessel by counteracting its rolling motion. n.

gyve (jīv), fetter; shackle. n., v., gyved, gyv ing.

Gyroscope. It is mounted on very accurately made bearings and will stay in the same plane no matter how much the support is tilted and will rotate in the same direction regardless of magnetic forces. Thus stabilizers and compasses can be regulated by it.

H

H or h (āch), the eighth letter of the alphabet. n., pl. H's or h's.

H, hydrogen.

ha (hā), 1. exclamation of surprise, joy, triumph, etc.: "Ha! I've caught you!" cried the giant to Jack. 2. sound of a laugh: "Ha! ha! ha!" laughed the boys. interj.

Haa kon VII (hō'kūn), 1872-1957, king of Norway from 1905 to 1957, in exile 1940-1945.

Haar lem (hār'ləm), city in W Netherlands, near Amsterdam. 169,000. n.

Ha ba na (ā vā'nā), Spanish name of Havana. n.

ha be as cor pus (hā'bē əs kōr'pəs), writ or order requiring that a prisoner be brought before a judge or into court to decide whether he is being held lawfully. The right of habeas corpus is a protection against unjust imprisonment.

hab er dash er (hab'ər dash'ər), 1. U.S. dealer in men's furnishings, such as hats, ties, shirts, socks, etc. 2. dealer in small articles, such as buttons, needles, trimmings, etc. n.

hab er dash er y (hab'ər dash'ər ē), 1. articles sold by a haberdasher. 2. shop of a haberdasher. n., pl. hab er dash er ies.

hab er geon (hab'ər jən), 1. a short coat of mail without sleeves; haubergeon. 2. hauberk. n.

ha bil i ment (hā bil'ə mēt), 1. articles of clothing. 2. dress; attire. n.

hab it (hab'it), 1. tendency to act in a certain way or to do a certain thing; usual way of acting; custom; practice: the habit of brushing your teeth. 2. the distinctive dress or costume worn by members of a religious order. Monks and nuns wear habits. 3. a woman's riding dress. 4. put a habit on; dress. 5. condition of body or mind: The runner was of lean habit. 6. the characteristic form, mode of growth, etc., of an animal or plant: The woodbine is of a twining habit. 1-3,5,6 n., 4 v.

hab it a ble (hab'ə tə bl), fit to live in. adj.

hab it ant (hab'ə tənt for 1; hab'ə tənt, French ā bē-tān' for 2), inhabitant. 2. farmer of French descent in Canada or Louisiana. n.

hab i tat (hab'ə tat), 1. place where an animal or plant naturally lives or grows: The jungle is the habitat of tigers. 2. place of living; dwelling place. n.

hab i ta tion (hab'ə tā'shən), 1. place to live in. 2. an inhabiting: Is this house fit for habitation? n.

ha bit u al (hə bich'ū əl), 1. done by habit; caused by habit: a habitual smile, habitual courtesy. 2. being or doing something by habit: A habitual reader reads a great deal. 3. often done, seen, or used; usual; customary: Ice and snow are a habitual sight in arctic regions. adj. —ha bit'ū al ly, adv.

ha bit u ate (hə bich'ū āt), make used (to); accustom: Lumbermen are habituated to hard work. v., ha-bit u at ed, ha bit u at ing. —ha bit'ū a'tion, n.

ha bit u é (hə bich'ū ə'), person who has the habit of going to any place frequently: a habitué of the theater. n.

Habs burg (haps'bērg; German hāps'būrk), Hapsburg. n.

ha ci en da (hā'sē en'də), Spanish American. a large ranch; landed estate; country house. n.

hack¹ (hak), 1. cut roughly or unevenly; deal cutting blows: He hacked the box apart with a dull ax. 2. a rough cut. 3. tool or instrument for hacking or cutting, such as an ax, pick, hoe, etc. 4. give short dry coughs. 5. a short dry cough. 1,4 v., 2,3,5 n. —hack'er, n.

hack² (hak), 1. U.S. carriage for hire: Hacks were waiting at the railroad station. 2. Informal. taxi. 3. Brit. horse for hire. 4. an old or worn-out horse. 5. horse for ordinary riding. 6. ride on horseback over roads. 7. Informal. drive a taxi. 8. person hired to do routine literary work; drudge. 9. working or done merely for money; hired; drudging. 1-5,8 n., 6,7 v., 9 adj.

hack a more (hak'ə mōr), U.S. halter (def. 1); rope, strap, etc., for leading or tying an animal. n.

hack ber ry (hak'ber'ē), 1. tree related to the elm, that has small, cherrylike fruit. 2. the fruit. n., pl. hack ber ries.

hack le¹ (hak'/l), 1. comb used in dressing flax, hemp, etc. 2. comb (flax, hemp, etc.) with a hackle. 3. one of the long slender feathers on the neck of certain birds. 4. the neck plumage of certain birds. 5. a wingless artificial fly used by fishermen. 1,3-5 n., 2 v., hack led, hack ling.

hack le² (hak'/l), cut roughly; hack; mangle. v., hack led, hack ling.

hack man (hak'mən), driver of a hack or carriage for hire. n., pl. hack men.

hack ney (hak'nē), 1. horse for ordinary riding. 2. carriage for hire. 3. hired; let out, employed, or done for hire: a hackney coach. 4. use too often; make commonplace. 1,2 n., pl. hack neys; 3 adj., 4 v., hackneyed, hack ney ing.

hack neyed (hak'nēd), used too often; commonplace: "While as snow" is a hackneyed comparison. adj.

hack saw (hak'sō'), saw for cutting metal, consisting of a narrow, fine-toothed blade fixed in a frame. n.

HACKSAW

had (had; unstressed həd or əd), pt. and pp. of have. She had a party. A fine time was had by all who came. v.

had dock (had'ək), a food fish of the N Atlantic, somewhat like a cod, but smaller. n., pl. had docks or (esp. collectively) had dock.

Ha des (hā'dēz), 1. in Greek mythology, the home of the dead, below the earth. 2. in Greek mythology, the ruler of the lower world; Pluto. 3. Informal. hell. n. had n't (had'nt), had not.

Ha dri an (hā'drē ən), 76-138 A.D., Roman emperor from 117 to 138 A.D. n.

hadst (hadst), Achaic. 2nd person singular pt. of have. had. "Thou hadst" means "you had." v.

haf ni um (haf'nē əm), a rare metallic element somewhat like zirconium. Symbol: Hf n.

haft (haft), 1. handle (of a knife, sword, dagger, etc.). 2. furnish with a handle or hilt; set in a haft. 1 n., 2 v.

hag (hag), 1. a very ugly old woman, especially one who is vicious or malicious. 2. witch. n.

Ha gar (hā'gār or hā'gar), in the Bible, a slave of Abraham's wife Sarah. She and her son were driven into the desert because of Sarah's jealousy. Genesis 16. n.

Ha gers town (hā'gərz toun), city in N Maryland. 37,000. n.

hag fish (hag'fish'), a small salt-water fish shaped like an eel. Hagfish attach themselves to other fish by their round mouths and bore into them with their horny teeth. n., pl. hag fishes or (esp. collectively) hag fish.

Hag ga dah or Hag ga da (hə gā'də), 1. story or legend in the Talmud that explains the law. 2. the legendary part of the Talmud. 3. the religious rites for the first two nights of the Jewish Passover. n., pl. Hag ga doth (-dōth).

Hag ga i (hag'ē ī or hag'ī), 1. a Hebrew prophet. 2. book of the Old Testament. n.

hag gard (hag'ərd), looking worn from pain, fatigue, worry, hunger, etc.; gaunt; careworn. adj. —hag'-gard ly, adv. —hag'-gard ness, n.

hag gis (hag'is), Scottish. heart, lungs, and liver of a sheep mixed with suet and oatmeal and boiled in the stomach of the animal. n.

hag gle (hag'l), 1. dispute about a price or the terms of a bargain; wrangle. 2. mangle in cutting; hack. v., hag gled, hag gling. —hag'-gler, n.

hag rid den (hag'rid'n), worried or tormented, as if by witches; harassed. adj.

Hague (hāg), The, city in SW Netherlands. The World Court is located there. 606,000. n.

hah (hā), ha. interj.

Hai fa (hī'fə), seaport in NW Israel. 170,000. n.

hail¹ (hāl), 1. greet; cheer; shout in welcome to: The crowd hailed the winner. 2. greeting; cheer; shout of welcome. 3. Poetic. greetings! welcome!: Hail to the winner! 4. greet as; call: They hailed him leader. 5. call loudly to; shout to: The captain hailed the passing ship. 6. a loud call; shout: The ship moved on without heeding our hails. 1,4,5 v., 2,6 n., 3 interj. —hail'er, n. hail fellow well met, very friendly.

hail from, come from.

within hail, near enough to hear a call or shout.

hail² (hāl), 1. small, roundish pieces of ice coming down from the clouds in a shower; frozen rain: Hail fell with such violence that it broke windows. 2. come down in hail: Sometimes it hails during a summer thunderstorm. 3. a shower like hail: A hail of bullets met the soldiers. 4. pour down in a shower like hail: The angry mob hailed blows on the thief. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

Hai le Se las sie (hī'lē sə las'ē), born 1890, emperor of Ethiopia from 1930 to 1936 and since 1941.

hail stone (hāl'stōn'), a small, roundish piece of ice coming down from the clouds. n.

hail storm (hāl'stōrm'), storm with hail. n.

hair (hār), 1. a fine, threadlike growth from the skin of people and animals. 2. mass of such growths. 3. a fine, threadlike growth from the outer layer of plants. 4. made of or with hair. 5. a very small space or thing; least degree. 1-3,5 n., 4 adj. —hair'/like', adj.

not turn a hair, not show any sign of being disturbed or embarrassed.

split hairs, make too fine distinctions.

hair breadth (hār'bredth'), 1. very narrow; extremely close: a hairbreadth escape. 2. a very narrow space; very small distance. 1 adj., 2 n.

hair cloth (hār'klōth'), cloth made of horsehair or camel's hair, used to cover furniture, stiffen garments, etc.: The hermit wore haircloth shirts as a penance. n.

hair cut (hār'kut'), act or manner of cutting the hair. n.

hair do (hār'dü'), way of arranging the hair. n., pl. hair dos.

hair dress er (hār'dres'ər), person whose work is taking care of people's hair or cutting it. n.

hair less (hār'lis), without hair. adj.

hair line (hār'lin'), a very thin line. n.

hair pin (hār'pin'), pin, usually a U-shaped piece of wire, shell, etc., used by women to keep the hair in place. n.

hair-raising (hār'rāz'ing), Informal. making the hair stand on end; terrifying. adj.

hair's-breadth or hairs breadth (hār'z'bredth'), hairbreadth. adj., n.

hair shirt, a rough shirt or girdle made of horsehair, worn as a penance.

hair split ting (hār'split'ing), making too fine distinctions. n., adj.

hair spring (hār'spring'), a fine, hairlike spring that regulates the motion of the balance wheel in a watch or clock. n.

hair trigger, trigger that operates by very slight pressure.

hair y (hār'ē), 1. covered with hair; having much hair: hairy hands, a hairy ape. 2. of or like hair. adj., hair-i er, hair i est. —hair'i ness, n.

Hai ti (hā'tē), 1. a former name of Hispaniola. 2. a republic in the W part of this island. 3,505,000 pop.; 10,714 sq. mi. Capital: Port-au-Prince. See West Indies for map. n.

Hai ti an (hā'tē ən or hā'shən), 1. of or having to do with Haiti or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Haiti. 3. the native language of Haiti, a dialect of French. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

hake (hāk), a sea fish related to the cod but slenderer and inferior as food. n., pl. hakes or (esp. collectively) hake.

ha kim¹ (hə kēm'), in Arabia, Pakistan, and other Moslem countries: 1. a wise or learned man. 2. a doctor. n.

ha kim² (hā'kim), in Arabia, Pakistan, and other Moslem countries, a ruler; judge; governor. n.

Ha ko da te (hā'kō dā'tā), seaport in N Japan. 243,000. n.

hal berd (hal'bərd), weapon that is both a spear and a battle-ax, used in warfare in the 15th and 16th centuries. n.

hal berdier (hal'bər dir'), soldier armed with a halberd. n.

hal bert (hal'bərt), halberd. n.

hal cy on (hal'sē ən), 1. calm; peaceful; happy. 2. Archaic or Poetic. bird that was supposed to calm the waves; kingfisher. 1 adj., 2 n.

hale¹ (hāl), strong and well; healthy. adj., haler, hal est.

hale² (hāl), 1. drag by force. 2. compel to go. v., haled, haling.

Hale (hāl), 1. Edward Everett, 1822-1909, American author. 2. Nathan, 1755-1776, American patriot hanged as a spy by the British. n.

Ha le a ka la (hā'lā ä'kā lā'), an extinct volcano on the island of Maui, Hawaii, that has the largest crater in the world. 19 sq. mi.; 10,032 ft. high. n.

half (haf), 1. one of two equal parts: A half of 4 is 2. 2. forming a half; being or making half of. 3. to half of the full amount or degree: half cooked, a glass half full of milk. 4. one of two equal periods in certain games. 5. one of two nearly equal parts: Which is the bigger half? 6. not complete; being only part of: A half-truth is often no better than a lie. 7. partly: She spoke half aloud. 8. almost: The beggar was half dead from hunger. 1,4,5 n., pl. halves; 2,6 adj., 3,7,8 adv. by half, by far.

not half bad, fairly good.

half-and-half (haf'ənd haf'), 1. half one thing and half another. 2. not clearly one thing or the other.

3. in two equal parts. 4. U.S. mixture of milk and cream. 5. Brit. beverage of two mixed liquors, especially ale and porter. 1,2 adj., 3 adv., 4,5 n.

half back (haf'bak'), player whose position is behind the forward line in football. n.

half-baked (haf'bak't), 1. not cooked enough. 2. Informal. not fully worked out; incomplete. 3. Informal. not experienced; showing poor judgment. adj.

half-blood (haf'blud'), 1. half-breed. 2. person related to another person through one parent only. n.

half blood, relationship between persons who are related through one parent only.

half-blood ed (haf'blud'id), 1. having parents of different races. 2. related through only one parent. adj.

half boot, boot reaching about halfway to the knee.

half-breed (haf'brēd'), person whose parents are of different races. n.

half brother, brother related through one parent only.

half-caste (haf'kast'), 1. child of one European parent and one Hindu or Mohammedan parent. 2. half-breed. n.

half crown, a British silver coin worth two shillings and sixpence. It is worth about 35 cents in United States money (1964).

Halberdier

Half hitch

Half note

Half-timbered house half dollar, a silver coin of the United States and Canada, worth 50 cents.

half-heart ed (haf'hār'tid), lacking courage, interest, or enthusiasm. adj. —half-heart'ed ly, adv. —half'heart'ed ness, n.

half hitch, knot formed by passing the end of a rope under and over its standing part and then inside the loop.

half-hour (haf'our'), 1. thirty minutes. 2. the halfway point in an hour. 3. of a half-hour; lasting a half-hour. 1,2 n., 3 adj. —half-hour'ly, adv.

half-life (haf'lif' or hāf'lif'), time in which half of the original radiant energy of an element is given off, used in nuclear physics as a measurement of radio-activity. n.

half-mast (haf'mast'), position halfway or part way down from the top of a mast, staff, etc. A flag is lowered to half-mast as a mark of respect for someone who has died, or as a signal of distress. n.

half moon, 1. moon when only half of its surface appears bright. 2. something shaped like a half moon or crescent.

half note, a musical note held half as long as a whole note.

half pence (hā'pəns), a pl. of halfpenny. n.

half pen ny (hā'pə nē), 1. a British bronze coin worth half a penny. It is worth half a cent in United States money. 2. worth only a halfpenny. 3. having little value; trifling. 1 n., pl. half pen nies (hā'pə niz or hā'pə niz) or half pence; 2,3 adj.

half sister, sister related through one parent only.

half step, difference in pitch between two adjacent keys on a piano; half tone.

half-tim bered

(haf'tim'bərd), built with a timber frame with the spaces filled by plaster, stone, or brick. adj.

half-tone (haf'tōn'), 1. a process in photoengraving for making pictures for books and magazines. 2. picture made by this process. 3. in paintings, a tone between the high light and deep shades. n.

half tone, an interval equal to half a musical tone on the scale; half step.

half-track or half track (haf'trak'), U.S. an army motor vehicle that has wheels in front and short tracks in the rear for driving, used to carry personnel and weapons. n.

half way (haf'wā'), 1. half the way: a rope reaching only halfway. 2. midway: a halfway house between two towns. 3. not going far enough; incomplete: halfway prevention of fires. 1 adv., 2,3 adj.

go or meet halfway, do one's share to agree or be friendly with.

half-wit (haf'wit'), 1. a feeble-minded person. 2. a stupid, foolish person. n.

half-wit ted (haf'wit'id), 1. feeble-minded. 2. very stupid; foolish. adj.

hal i but (hal'ə bət), a large flat fish much used for food, often weighing several hundred pounds. n., pl. hal i but s (or esp. collectively) hal i but.

Hal i car nas sus (hal'ə kār nas'əs), an ancient city in southwestern Asia Minor. The Mausoleum was built there. n.

hal ide (hal'id or hā'lid), 1. any compound of a halogen with another element or radical. Sodium chloride is a halide. 2. haloid. 1 n., 2 adj.

Hal i fax (hal'ə faks), seaport in SE Canada, the capital of Nova Scotia. 90,000. n.

hal i to sis (hal'ə tō'sis), bad or offensive breath. n.

hall (hól), 1. U.S. way to go through a building; passageway: A hall ran the length of the upper floor of the house. 2. passageway or room at the entrance of a building: Leave your umbrella in the hall. 3. a large room for holding meetings, parties, banquets, etc.: No hall in town was large enough for the crowd gathered to hear the famous singer. 4. building for public business: The mayor's office is in the town hall. 5. building of a school, college, or university. 6. residence of an English landowner. n.

Hal le (hál'ə), city in East Germany. 279,000. n.

hal le lu jah or hal le lu iah (hal'ə lū'yə), 1. praise ye the Lord! 2. song of praise. 1 interj., 2 n. Also, alleluia.

Hal ley (hal'ē), Edmund, 1656-1742, English astronomer. He was the first to predict correctly the return of a comet. n.

Halley's comet, comet that Halley predicted could be seen about every 75 years. It was last seen in 1910.

hal liard (hal'yārd), halyard. n.

hall mark (hól'mārk'), 1. an official mark indicating standard of purity, put on gold and silver articles. 2. mark or sign of genuineness or good quality: Courtesy and self-control are hallmarks of a gentleman. 3. put a hallmark on. 1,2 n., 3 v.

hal lo (hə lō'), 1. call or shout to attract attention. 2. call of greeting or surprise. 3. shout; call. 1,2 interj., 1-3 n., pl. hal los; 3 v., hal loed, hal lo ing.

hal loa (hə lō'), hallo. interj., n., v.

hal loo (hə lū'), 1. shout to make hounds run faster. 2. call or shout to attract attention. 3. shout; call. 1,2 interj., 1-3 n., pl. hal loos; 3 v., hal loed, hal lo ing.

hal low¹ (hal'ō), 1. make holy; make sacred. 2. honor as holy or sacred. v.

hal low² (hə lō'), halloo. interj., n., v.

hal lowed (hal'ōd; in worship, often hal'ō'id), 1. made holy; sacred; consecrated: A churchyard is hallowed ground. 2. honored or observed as holy. adj.

Hal low een or Hal low e'en (hal'ō ēn'), evening of October 31. The next day is Allhallows or All Saints' Day. n.

Hal low mas (hal'ō mäs), a former name of the church feast of Allhallows or All Saints' Day, observed on November 1. n.

hal lu ci na tion (hə lū'sn ā'shən), 1. a seeing or hearing things that have no basis outside a person's brain. A person alone in a perfectly quiet room suffers from hallucination if he sees people around him or hears voices. 2. thing seen or heard when there is no external cause for it. n.

hall way (hól'wā'), 1. U.S. way to go through a building; passageway; corridor. 2. passageway or room at the entrance of a building. n.

ha lo (hə lō'), 1. ring of light around the sun, moon, or other shining body. 2. a golden circle or disk of light represented about the head of a saint, etc., in pictures, etc. 3. glory or glamour that surrounds an idealized person or thing: A halo of romance surrounds King Arthur and his knights. 4. surround with a halo. 1-3 n., pl. ha los or ha loes; 4 v., ha loed, ha lo ing.

hal o gen (hal'ə jən), any one of the chemical elements iodine, bromine, chlorine, fluorine, and astatine, that combine directly with metals to form salts. The halogens are the most active elements. n.

hal oid (hal'oid or hā'loid), 1. of or like a salt. 2. formed from a halogen. 3. halide. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

Hals (hāls), Frans, 1580?-1666, Dutch painter of portraits and scenes of everyday life. n.

halt¹ (hólt), 1. stop for a time; stop: The soldiers halted and rested from their march. The policeman halted the speeding car. 2. a stop for a time. 1 v., 2 n. call a halt, order a stop.

halt² (hólt), 1. be in doubt; hesitate; waver: Shyness made her halt as she talked. 2. be faulty or imperfect: A poor argument halts. 3. lame; crippled; limping. 4. be lame or crippled; limp. 5. Archaic. lameness; crippled condition; limping walk. 1,2,4 v., 3 adj., 5 n. —halt/ing ly, adv.

hal ter (hól'tər), 1. rope, strap, etc., for leading or tying an animal. 2. put a halter on; tie with a halter. 3. rope for hanging a person; noose. 4. death by hanging. 5. an abbreviated shirt for women which fastens behind the neck and across the back. 1,3-5 n., 2 v.

Halter (def. 1)

halve (hav), 1. divide into two equal parts; share equally: The knight halved his bread with the beggar. 2. reduce to half: The new machine halves the time of doing the work. v., halved, halv ing.

halves (havz), pl. of half. n.

by halves, 1. not completely; partly. 2. in a half-hearted way.

go halves, share equally.

hal yard (hal'yārd), rope or tackle used on a ship to raise or lower a sail, yard, flag, etc. n. Also, haliard.

ham (ham), 1. salted and smoked meat from the upper part of a hog's hind leg. 2. the upper part of an animal's hind leg, used for food. 3. back of the thigh; thigh and buttock. 4. part of the leg back of the knee. 5. Slang. a poor actor or performer. 6. Slang. an amateur radio operator. n.

Ham (ham), in the Bible, the second son of Noah, supposed by legend to be the ancestor of African races. n.

ham a dry ad (ham'ə drī'əd), in Greek mythology, a wood nymph supposed to live and die with the tree she dwelt in; dryad. n.

Ha man (hā'mən), in the Bible, an enemy of the Jews who was hanged on a gallows about 75 feet high. Esther 7. n.

ham burg (ham'bèrg), hamburger. n.

Ham burg (ham'bèrg; German hām'bürk), city in N West Germany, on the Elbe River. 1,824,000. n.

ham burg er (ham'bér gər), 1. ground beef, usually shaped into round, flat cakes and fried or broiled. 2. Informal. sandwich made with this meat. n.

hame (hām), either of two curved pieces on either side of the collar in a horse's harness. The traces are fastened to the hames. n.

Ha mil car Bar ca (hə mil'kār bār'kə), died 228? B.C., Carthaginian general, father of Hannibal.

Ham il ton (ham'ɪ tən), 1. Alexander, 1757-1804, American statesman, the first secretary of the treasury. 2. city in SE Canada, near the W end of Lake Ontario. 271,000. 3. city in SW Ohio. 72,000. 4. capital of Bermuda. 3000. 5. Mount, mountain in W California, near San Francisco. 4209 ft. n.

ham let (ham'lit), a small village; little group of houses in the country. n.

Ham let (ham'lit), 1. one of Shakespeare's greatest tragedies, first printed in 1603. 2. the principal character in this play. n.

Ham mar skjöld (ham'ər shēld'), Dag, 1905-1961, Swedish statesman, Secretary General of the United Nations, 1953-1961. n.

ham mer (ham'ər), 1. tool with a metal head and a handle, used to drive nails and beat metal into shape. 2. thing shaped or used like a hammer. The hammer of a gun explodes the charge. 3. drive, hit, or work with a hammer. 4. beat into shape with a hammer: The metal was hammered into ornaments. 5. fasten by using a hammer. 6. hit again and again. 7. force by many efforts: Arithmetic has to be hammered into that dull boy's head. 8. work out with much effort. 1,2 n., 3-8 v. —ham/mer er, n. —ham/mer like, adj.

hammer and tongs, with all one's force and strength.

Halo about the head of Joan of Arc hammer away, keep working hard.

hammer out, 1. beat into shape with a hammer.

2. flatten or spread with a hammer. 3. remove with a hammer. 4. work out with much effort. 5. make clear by much thinking or talking.

hammer and sickle, symbol of a sickle and hammer crossed, used on the flag of the Soviet Union since 1923. The two elements represent the farmer and the laborer.

Ham mer fest (häm'ər fest'), seaport in N Norway. It is the northernmost town in Europe. 4000. n.

ham mer head (ham'ər-hed'), a fierce shark whose wide head looks somewhat like a double-headed hammer. n.

Hammerhead
(about 14 ft. long)

ham mer less (ham'ər lis), having no hammer or no visible hammer. A hammerless pistol has its hammer covered. adj.

hammer lock, a hold used in wrestling, in which an opponent's arm is twisted and held behind his back.

ham mock (ham'ək), a hanging bed or couch made of canvas, netted cord, etc. n.

Ham mond (ham'ənd), city in Indiana. 112,000. n.

ham per (ham'pər), hold back; hinder: A lame leg and a heavy bundle hampered Joe. v.

ham per (ham'pər), a large basket, usually with a cover: a picnic hamper. n.

Hamp shire (hamp'shir), 1. county in S England that includes Southampton and the Isle of Wight. 2. New Hampshire. n.

Hamp ton (hamp'tən), Wade, 1818-1902, Confederate general and United States senator. n.

Hampton Roads (hamp'tən), a southern extension of Chesapeake Bay at the mouth of the James River in SE Virginia. The battle between the Merrimac and the Monitor took place there in 1862.

ham ster (ham'stər), a small, short-tailed rodent with large cheek pouches, often kept as a pet. n.

ham string (ham'string'), 1. one of the tendons at the back of the knee in man. 2. the great tendon at the back of the hock of a four-footed animal. 3. cripple by cutting the hamstring. 4. cripple; disable; destroy the activity, efficiency, etc., of. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 v., ham-strung or (Rare) ham stringed, ham string ing.

ham strung (ham'string'), pt. and pp. of hamstring. Our building plans have been hamstringing by the bad weather. v.

Han (hän), river in central China, flowing into the Yangtze River at Hankow. 900 mi. n.

Han cock (han'kok), John, 1737-1793, American statesman, the first signer of the Declaration of Independence. 2. Winfield Scott, 1824-1886, Union general during the Civil War. n.

hand (hand), 1. the end part of an arm; part that a person grasps and holds things with. 2. end of any limb that grasps, holds, or clings. We call a monkey's feet hands. 3. something resembling a hand in shape, appearance, or use: The hands of a clock or watch show the time. 4. a hired worker who uses his hands: a factory hand, a farm hand. 5. give with the hand; pass; pass along: Please hand me the butter. 6. help with the hand: The polite boy handed the lady into her car. 7. possession; control: The property is no longer in my hands. 8. part or share in doing something: He had no hand in the matter. 9. side: At her left hand stood two men. 10. source: She heard the story at second hand. 11. style of handwriting: He writes in a clear hand. 12. a person's signature. 13. skill; ability: The artist's work showed a master's hand. 14. person, with reference to action, skill, or ability: She is a great hand at thinking up new games. 15. round of applause or clapping: The crowd gave the winner a big hand. 16. promise of marriage. 17. measure used in giving the height of horses, etc.; breadth of a hand; 4 inches: This horse is 18 hands high. 18. cards held by a player in one round of a card game.

19. one round of a card game. 20. player in a card game. 21. of, for, by, or in the hand. 1-4, 7-20 n., 5, 6 v., 21 adj. —hand/like', adj.

all hands, 1. all sailors of a ship's crew. 2. Informal. all members of a group.

at hand, 1. within reach; near; close. 2. ready.

bear or give a hand, help.

by hand, by using the hands, not machinery.

change hands, pass from one person to another.

eat out of one's hand, follow one's ideas, leadership, etc.; submit to one's authority.

force one's hand, 1. make a person do something.

2. make a person show what he is going to do.

from hand to mouth, without providing for the future.

hand and glove, intimate; in close relations.

hand down, pass along.

hand in, give; deliver.

hand in glove, intimate; in close relations.

hand in hand, 1. holding hands. 2. together.

hand on, pass along.

hand out, give out; distribute.

hand over, give to another; deliver.

hand to hand, close together.

have one's hands full, be very busy; be able to do no more; have all one can do.

in hand, 1. under control. 2. in possession. 3. going along; being done.

in one's hands, in one's care or charge.

join hands, 1. become partners. 2. marry.

keep one's hand in, keep up one's skill; keep in practice.

lay hands on, 1. seize; take; get. 2. arrest. 3. attack; harm. 4. bless by touching with the hands.

lend a hand, help.

off one's hands, out of one's care or charge.

on hand, 1. within reach; near; close. 2. ready.

3. U.S. present.

on one's hands, in one's care or charge.

on the other hand, considering the other side; from the opposite point of view.

out of hand, 1. out of control. 2. at once. 3. finished; done with.

take in hand, 1. bring under control. 2. consider; deal with. 3. attempt.

tie one's hands, make one unable to do something.

to hand, 1. within reach; near; close. 2. in one's possession.

turn one's hand to, work at.

wash one's hands of, have no more to do with; refuse to be responsible for.

hand bag (hand'bag'), 1. a woman's small bag for money, keys, cosmetics, etc. 2. a small traveling bag to hold clothes, etc. n.

hand ball (hand'bōl'), 1. game played by hitting a small ball against a wall with the hand. 2. ball used in this game. n.

hand bill (hand'bil'), a printed announcement, advertisement, etc., to be handed out to people. n.

hand book (hand'būk'), 1. a small book of reference on some field of study; manual: a handbook of engineering. 2. guidebook for tourists. 3. book for recording bets. 4. place where bets are taken. n.

hand breadth (hand'bredth'), breadth of a hand, used as a measure. It varies from 2½ to 4 inches. n.

hand cart (hand'kärt'), a small cart pulled or pushed by hand. n.

hand cuff (hand'kuf'), 1. device to keep a person from using his hands, usually one of a pair of metal clasps joined by a short chain and fastened around the wrists. 2. put handcuffs on. 1 n., 2 v.

Handcuffs and key

Han del (han'dl), George Frederick, 1685-1759, German musical composer. n.

hand ful (hand'ful), 1. as much or as many as the hand can hold: a handful of candy. 2. a small number or quantity: A handful of men could defend this pass against hundreds. 3. Informal. person or thing that is hard to manage. n., pl. hand fuls.

hand i cap (han'dē kap), 1. race, contest, game, etc., in which the better contestants are given certain disadvantages, or the poorer ones certain advantages, so that all have an equal chance to win. 2. disadvantage or advantage given: A runner with a 5-yard handicap in a 100-yard race has to run either 105 yards or 95 yards. 3. give a handicap to. 4. something that puts a person at a disadvantage; hindrance: A sore throat is a handicap to a singer. 5. put at a disadvantage; hinder: The pitcher was handicapped by a lame arm. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v., hand i capped, hand i cap ping. —hand'i cap'per, n.

hand i craft (han'dē kraft), 1. skill with the hands. 2. trade or art requiring skill with the hands. n.

hand i work (han'dē wèrk'), 1. work done with the hands. 2. work that a person has done himself. 3. result of a person's action. n.

hand ker chief (hang'kər chif), 1. a soft, usually square piece of cloth used for wiping the nose, face, eyes, etc. 2. piece of cloth worn over the head or around the neck; kerchief. n.

han dle (han'dl), 1. part of a thing made to be held or grasped by the hand. Spoons, pitchers, hammers, and pails have handles. 2. touch, feel, hold, or move with the hand; use the hands on: Don't handle that book until you wash your hands. 3. manage; direct; control: The captain handles his soldiers well. 4. behave or act when handled: This car handles easily. 5. deal with; treat: The cruel boy handled his kitten roughly. 6. deal in; trade in: That store handles meat and groceries. 7. chance; opportunity; occasion: Don't let your conduct give any handle for gossip. 1,7 n., 2-6 v., han dled, han dling, fly off the handle, Slang. get angry or excited; lose one's temper or self-control.

handle to one's name, Informal. title.

handle bars, the bars, usually curved, in front of the rider, by which a bicycle, etc., is guided.

han dler (han'dlər), 1. person or thing that handles. 2. person who helps to train a boxer, or who acts as his second during a boxing match. n.

hand made (hand'mād'), made by hand, not by machinery; not machine-made. adj.

hand maid (hand'mād'), 1. a female servant. 2. a female attendant. n.

hand maid en (hand'mād'n), hand-maid. n.

hand organ, a large music box that is made to play tunes by turning a crank. See hurdy-gurdy for another picture.

hand out (hand'out'), U.S. Slang.

1. portion of food handed out: The tramp was given a handout. 2. a news story or piece of publicity issued to the press by a business organization, government agency, etc. n.

hand-picked (hand'pikt'), 1. picked by hand. 2. carefully selected. 3. unfairly selected. adj.

hand rail (hand'rāl'), railing used as a guard or support on a stairway, platform, etc. n.

hand saw (hand'sō'), saw used with one hand. n.

hand sel (hand'sl), gift made at New Year's or on entering a new job, house, etc. n.

hand shake (hand'shāk'), a clasping and shaking each other's hands in friendship. n.

hand some (han'səm), 1. good-looking; pleasing in appearance. We usually say that a man is handsome, but a woman is pretty or beautiful. 2. fairly large; considerable: Ten thousand dollars is a handsome sum of money. 3. generous: Each year he gave the servants a handsome gift of one hundred dollars. adj., hand som er, hand som est. —hand'some ly, adv. —hand'some-ness, n.

Man playing a hand organ hand spike (hand'spik'), bar used as a lever, especially on a ship. n.

hand spring (hand'spring'), spring or leap in which a person turns his heels over his head while balancing on one or both hands. n.

hand-to-hand (hand'tə hand'), close together; at close quarters: a hand-to-hand fight. adj.

hand-to-mouth (hand'tə mouth'), not providing for the future; not thrifty. adj.

hand work (hand'wèrk'), work done by hand, not by machinery. n.

hand writ ing (hand'rit'ing), 1. writing by hand; writing with pen, pencil, etc. 2. manner or style of writing: He recognized his mother's handwriting on the envelope. n.

hand y (han'dē), 1. easy to reach or use; saving work; useful; convenient. 2. skillful with the hands: Ross is handy with tools. 3. easy to handle or manage. adj., hand i er, hand i est. —hand'i ly, adv. —hand'i-ness, n.

handy man, man who does odd jobs.

Han ford (han'fərd), community in S Washington, important industrial center for atomic research. n.

hang (hang), 1. fasten or be fastened to something above: Hang your cap on the hook. The swing hangs from a tree. 2. fasten or be fastened so as to swing or turn freely: hang a door on its hinges. 3. put to death by hanging with a rope around the neck. 4. die by hanging. 5. cover or decorate with things that hang: hang a window with curtains. The walls were hung with pictures. 6. bend down; droop: He hung his head in shame. 7. fasten in position. 8. attach (paper, etc.) to walls. 9. depend. 10. hold fast; cling. 11. be doubtful or undecided; hesitate; waver. 12. keep (a jury) from making a decision or reaching a verdict. One member can hang a jury by refusing to agree with the others. 13. way that a thing hangs: She changed the hang of her skirt. 14. U.S. Informal. way of using or doing: Riding a bicycle is easy after you get the hang of it. 15. U.S. Informal. idea; meaning: After studying an hour he finally got the hang of the lesson. 16. loiter; linger. 17. hover. 18. a trifle: not care a hang. 1-12, 16, 17 v., hung or (esp. for execution or suicide) hanged, hang ing; 13-15, 18 n.

hang back, be unwilling to go forward; be backward.

hang it! expression of annoyance.

hang on, 1. hold tightly (to). 2. be unwilling to let go, stop, or leave. 3. depend on. 4. consider or listen to very carefully.

hang over, 1. be about to happen to; threaten. 2. Informal. remain from an earlier time or condition.

hang together, stick together.

hang up, 1. put on a hook, peg, etc. 2. put a telephone receiver back in place. 3. hold back.

hang ar (hang'ər), 1. shed for airplanes or airships. 2. shed. n.

hang bird (hang'bèrd'), any bird that builds a hanging nest, especially the Baltimore oriole. n.

Hang chow (hang'chou'), seaport in E China. 518,000. n.

hang dog (hang'dōg'), ashamed; sneaking. adj.

hang er (hang'ər), 1. person who hangs things. A paper hanger puts on wallpaper. 2. tool or machine that hangs things. 3. thing on which something else is hung: a coat hanger. 4. a loop, ring, etc., attached to something to hang it up by. 5. kind of short sword. n.

hang er-on (hang'ər on'), 1. follower; dependent.

2. an undesirable follower. 3. person who often goes to a place. n., pl. hang ers-on.

hang ing (hang'ing), 1. death by hanging with a rope around the neck. 2. deserving to be punished by hanging. 3. thing that hangs from a wall, bed, etc. Curtains and draperies are hangings. 4. fastened to something above. 5. leaning over or down. 6. located on a height or steep slope. 1,3 n., 2,4-6 adj.

hang man (hang/'mæn), man who puts criminals to death by hanging them. n., pl. hang men.

hang nail (hang/'næl'), bit of skin that hangs partly loose near a fingernail. n.

hang out (hang/'out'), Slang. 1. place one lives in or goes to often. 2. rendezvous, especially for criminals. n.

hang over (hang/'ōvər), U.S. Informal. something that remains from an earlier time or condition. n.

hank (hangk), 1. coil; loop. 2. skein. 3. skein of yarn containing a definite number of yards. There are 840 yards in a hank of cotton yarn, and 560 yards in a hank of worsted yarn. n.

han ker (hang/'kər), wish; crave. v.

han ker ing (hang/'kər ing), longing; craving. n.

Han kow (han/'kou'), city in E China, on the Han and Yangtze rivers. 642,000. n.

Han na (han/'ə), Marcus Alonzo, 1837-1904, American capitalist and politician. n.

Han ni bal (han/'ə bl), 247-183? B.C., Carthaginian general who invaded Italy. n.

Ha noi (hā noi'), capital of North Vietnam. Hanoi was formerly the capital of French Indochina. 298,000. n.

Han o ver (han/'ō vər), city in N West Germany. 571,000. n.

han som (han/'səm), a two-wheeled cab for two passengers, drawn by one horse. The driver sits on a seat high up behind the cab, and the reins pass over the roof. n.

Ha nuk kah (hā/'nū kā or Hā/'nū kā), the yearly Jewish festival celebrating the rededication of the temple in Jerusalem after the victory of the Jews over the Syrians in 165 B.C. n.

hap (hap), Archaic. 1. chance; luck. 2. happen. 1 n., 2 v., happed, hap ping.

hap haz ard (hap/'haz'ərd for 1; hap/'haz'ərd for 2,3), 1. chance. 2. random; not planned: Haphazard answers are usually wrong. 3. by chance; at random. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 adv. —hap/haz'ard ly, adv.

hap less (hap/'lis), unlucky; unfortunate. adj.

hap ly (hap/'lē), Archaic. perhaps; by chance. adv.

hap pen (hap/'ən), 1. take place; occur: Nothing interesting happens here. 2. be or take place by chance: Accidents will happen. 3. have the fortune; chance: I happened to sit by Mary. 4. be done (to): Something has happened to this lock; the key won't turn. v. happen on, 1. meet. 2. find.

hap pen ing (hap/'ən ing), 1. event: the happenings of the day. 2. an occurring: the happening of an event. n.

hap pi ly (hap/'ə lē), 1. in a happy manner; with pleasure, joy, and gladness: She lives happily. 2. luckily; fortunately: Happily I saved you from falling. 3. aptly; appropriately. adv.

hap pi ness (hap/'ē nis), 1. being happy; gladness. 2. good luck; good fortune. 3. aptness. n.

hap py (hap/'ē), 1. feeling or showing pleasure and joy; glad; pleased; contented: a happy smile. 2. lucky; fortunate: By a happy chance, I found the lost money. 3. clever and fitting; apt; successful and suitable: a happy way of expressing an idea. adj., hap pi er, hap pi est.

hap py-go-luck y (hap/'ē gō luk/'ē), taking things easily; trusting to luck: Those people are certainly happy-go-lucky. adj.

Haps burg (haps/'bērg; German hāps/'bürk), a German princely family, prominent since about 1100. The Hapsburgs were rulers of the Holy Roman Empire from 1438 to 1806, of Austria from 1804 to 1918, of Hungary from 1526 to 1918, and of Spain from 1516 to 1700. n. Also, Habsburg.

har a-kar i (har/'ə kar/'ē), hara-kiri. n.

har a-ki ri (har/'ə kir/'ē), suicide by ripping open the abdomen with a knife, the national form of honorable suicide in Japan. n. Also, hari-kari.

ha rangue (hə rang'), 1. a noisy speech. 2. a long, pompous speech. 3. address in a harangue. 4. deliver a harangue. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., ha rangued, ha ranguing.

har ass (har/'əs or hərəs'), 1. trouble by repeated attacks; harry: Pirates harassed the villages along the coast. 2. disturb; worry; torment. v.

har ass ment (har/'əs mənt or hərəs/'mənt), 1. a harassing. 2. a being harassed; worry. 3. something that harasses. n.

Har bin (hār/'bēn' or hār/'bin), city in central Manchuria. 1,163,000. n.

har bin ger (hār/'bin jər), 1. one that goes ahead to announce another's coming; forerunner: The robin is a harbinger of spring. 2. announce beforehand; announce. 1 n., 2 v.

har bor (hār/'bər), 1. place of shelter for ships and boats: Many yachts are in the harbor. 2. any place of shelter. 3. give shelter to; give a place to hide: The dog's shaggy hair harbors fleas. 4. take shelter or refuge. 5. keep or nourish in the mind: Don't harbor unkind thoughts. 1,2 n., 3-5 v. —har/bor less, adj.

har bor age (hār/'bər ij), 1. shelter for ships and boats. 2. any shelter. n.

harbor master, officer who has charge of a harbor or port and enforces the rules respecting it.

har bour (hār/'bər), Brit. harbor. n., v.

hard (hård), 1. solid and firm to the touch; not soft: hard rocks. 2. so as to be hard, solid, or firm: frozen hard. 3. firmly formed; tight: a hard knot. 4. firmly; tightly: hold hard. 5. difficult; needing much ability, effort, or time: a hard problem, a hard job, a hard lesson, a hard man to get on with. 6. with difficulty: breathe hard. 7. severe; causing much pain, trouble, care, etc.: a hard illness. 8. harshly; severely; so as to cause trouble, pain, care, etc.: It will go hard with the murderer if he is caught. 9. stern; unfeeling: He was a hard father. 10. not pleasant; harsh: a hard face, a hard laugh. 11. acting or done with energy, persistence, etc.: a hard worker. 12. with effort or energy: Try hard. 13. vigorous; violent: a hard storm, a hard run. 14. with vigor or violence: hit hard. 15. close; near: The house stands hard by the bridge. 16. fully; to the extreme limit. 17. containing mineral salts that interfere with the action of soap: hard water. 18. U.S. containing much alcohol: hard liquor. 19. made with a puff of breath. The c and g in corn and gel are "hard"; in city and gem they are "soft." 1,3,5,7,9-11,13,17-19 adj., 2,4,6,8,12,14-16 adv. —hard/-ness, n.

hard and fast, that cannot be changed or broken; strict.

hard of hearing, somewhat deaf.

hard put to it, in much difficulty or trouble.

hard up, Informal. needing money or anything very badly.

hard-bit ten (hård/'bit'n), stubborn; unyielding. adj.

hard-boiled (hård/'boild'), 1. boiled until hard. 2. Slang. not easily influenced by the feelings; tough; rough. 3. Slang. hard; stiff. adj.

hard cider, fermented cider, containing alcohol.

hard coal, anthracite.

hard en (hård'n), 1. make or become hard. 2. make or become capable of endurance. 3. make or become unfeeling or pitiless. v.

hard-head ed (hård/'hed'id), 1. not easily excited or deceived; practical; shrewd. 2. stubborn; obstinate. adj. —hard/-head/ed ly, adv. —hard/-head/ed ness, n.

hard-heart ed (hård/'hār'tid), without pity; cruel; unfeeling. adj. —hard/-heart/ed ness, n.

har di hood (hār/'dē hūd), boldness; daring. n.

har di ness (hār/'dē nis), 1. endurance; strength. 2. hardihood. n.

Har ding (hār/'ding), Warren Gamaliel, 1865-1923, the 29th president of the United States, from 1921 to 1923. n.

hard ly (hård/'lē), 1. only just; barely: We hardly had time for breakfast. 2. not quite: hardly strong enough. 3. probably not: He will hardly come now. 4. with trouble or effort: money hardly earned. 5. in a hard manner; harshly; severely: deal hardly with a person. adv.

hard pan (hård'pan'), 1. hard, firm, underlying earth. 2. U.S. a solid foundation; hard, underlying reality. n.

hard ship (hård'ship), something hard to bear; hard condition of living: Hunger, cold, and sickness are hardships. n.

hard tack (hård'tak'), a very hard, dry biscuit, eaten by sailors. n.

hard top (hård'top'), a passenger car with a non-folding metal top but maximum window space, comparable to that of a convertible. n.

hard ware (hård'wår'), articles made from metal. Locks, nails, screws, knives, etc., are hardware. n.

hard wood (hård'wud'), 1. any hard, compact wood. 2. in forestry, any tree that has broad leaves or does not have needles. 3. wood of such a tree. Oak, cherry, maple, etc., are hardwoods; pine and fir are softwoods. n.

hardy (hård'dē), 1. able to bear hard treatment, fatigue, etc.; strong; robust. 2. able to withstand the cold of winter in the open air: hardy plants. 3. bold; daring. 4. too bold; rash. adj., har di er, har di est. —har'di ly, adv.

hare (hår), a gnawing animal very much like a rabbit but larger. It has long ears, long hind legs, a short tail, and a divided upper lip. n., pl. hares or (esp. collectively) hare. —hare/like', adj.

hare bell (hår'bel'), a slender plant with blue, bell-shaped flowers; bluebell. n.

hare brained (hår'brånd'), giddy; heedless; reckless. adj.

hare lip (hår'lip'), deformity caused when parts of the lip fail to grow together before birth. n. —hare/lipped', adj.

har em (hår'əm), 1. part of a Moslem house where the women live. 2. its occupants; the wives, female relatives, female servants, etc., of a Moslem household. n.

Har greaves (hår'grēvz), James, died 1778, Englishman who invented the spinning jenny. n.

har i cot (har'ə kō), string bean. n.

har i-kar i (har'ē kar'ē), hara-kiri. n.

hark (hårk), listen. v.

hark back, go back; turn back.

hark en (hår'kən), hearken. v.

Har lem (hår'ləm), part of New York City where many Negroes live. n.

Har le quin (hår'lə kwin or hår'lə kin), character in comedy and pantomime who is usually masked, has a costume of varied colors, and carries a wooden sword. n.

har le quin (hår'lə kwin or hår'lə kin), 1. a mischievous person; buffoon. 2. varied in color; many-colored. 1 n., 2 adj.

har lot (hår'lət), prostitute. n.

harm (hårn), 1. hurt; damage. 2. evil; wrong. 3. damage; injure; hurt: An unkind and untrue story harmed his reputation. 1, 2 n., 3 v.

harm ful (hårn'fəl), causing harm; injurious; hurtful. adj. —harm/ful ly, adv. —harm/ful-ness, n.

harm less (hårn'lis), causing no harm; that would not harm anyone or anything. adj. —harm/less ly, adv. —harm/less-ness, n.

har mon ic (hår mon'ik), 1. having to do with harmony in music. 2. having to do with fainter and higher tones heard along with the main tones. 3. musical. 4. a fainter and higher tone heard along with the main tone; overtone. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

har mon i ca (hår mon'ə kə), a small, oblong musical instrument with metal reeds, played by the mouth; mouth organ. n.

har mon ics (hår mon'iks), science of musical sounds. n.

har mo ni ous (hår mō'nē əs),

Harmonica

1. agreeing in feelings, ideas, or actions; getting along well together: The children played together in a harmonious group. 2. arranged so that the parts are orderly or pleasing; going well together: A beautiful picture has harmonious colors. 3. sweet-sounding; musical. adj. —har mo'ni ous ly, adv.

har mo ni um (hår mō'nē əm), a small organ with metal reeds. n.

har mo nize (hår'mə niz), 1. bring into harmony or agreement. 2. be in harmony or agreement: The colors in the room harmonized. 3. add tones to (a melody) to make successive chords in music. v., har mo nized, har mo niz ing. —har'mo niz'er, n.

har mo ny (hår'mə nē), 1. agreement of feeling, ideas, or actions; getting along well together: The two brothers lived and worked in perfect harmony. 2. an orderly or pleasing arrangement of parts; going well together: In a beautiful picture there is harmony between the different colors. 3. sounding together of musical notes in a chord. 4. study of chords in music and of relating them to successive chords. 5. sweet or musical sound; music. 6. grouping of passages on the same subject from different stories or accounts, showing their points of agreement: a harmony of the Gospels. n., pl. har mo nies.

har ness (hår'nis),

1. a combination of leather straps, bands, and other pieces used to connect a horse or other animal to a carriage, wagon, plow, etc. 2. put harness on: Harness the horse. 3. cause to produce power. Water in a stream is harnessed by building a dam and putting in machinery for the water to turn. 4. Archaic. armor for a knight, soldier, or horse. 5. Archaic. put armor on. 1, 4 n., 2, 3, 5 v. in harness, at one's regular work.

Har ney Peak (hår'nē), the highest mountain in the Black Hills, in W South Dakota. 7242 ft.

harp (hårp), 1. a musical instrument with strings set in a triangular frame, played by plucking the strings with the fingers. 2. play on a harp. 1 n., 2 v. —harp'er, n.

harp on, keep on tiresomely talking or writing about; refer continually to.

Har pers Ferry (hår'pərz), town in NE West Virginia. John Brown's raid on a government arsenal was made there in 1859.

harp ist (hår'pist), person who plays the harp. n.

har poon (hår'pūn),

1. a barbed spear with a rope tied to it, used for catching whales and other sea animals. 2. strike, catch, or kill with a harpoon. 1 n., 2 v. —har poon'er, n.

Horse's harness

Woman playing a harp

Harpoon on a modern whaling ship. It is shot at the whale from a gun. Formerly, harpoons had to be thrown at the whale from small boats at very close range.

Hare (about 2 ft. long)

Harlequin

harp si chord (härp'sə kōrd), a stringed musical instrument like a piano, used especially from about 1550 to 1750. It had a weak and tinkling sound because the strings were plucked by leather or quill points instead of being struck by hammers. n.

Har py (här'pē), in Greek legend, any of several filthy, greedy monsters having women's heads and birds' bodies, wings, and claws. n., pl. Har pies.

har py (här'pē), a very greedy person; person who preys upon others. n., pl. har pies.

har que bus (här'kwə bəs), an old form of portable gun used before muskets were invented. n. Also, arquebus.

har ri dan (här'ə dən), a bad-tempered, disreputable old woman. n.

har ri er (här'ē ər), 1. a small hound of the kind used to hunt hares. 2. a cross-country runner. n.

har ri er (här'ē ər), 1. person who harries. 2. hawk that preys on small animals. n.

Har ris (här'is), Joel Chandler, 1848-1908, American writer, author of the Uncle Remus stories. n.

Har ris burg (här'is bērg), capital of Pennsylvania, in the S part. 80,000. n.

Har ri son (här'ə sn), 1. Benjamin, 1833-1901, the 23rd president of the United States, from 1889 to 1893. 2. his grandfather, William Henry, 1773-1841, American general and ninth president of the United States, in 1841. n.

har row (här'ō), 1. a heavy frame with iron teeth or upright disks. Harrows are drawn over plowed land to break up clods, cover seeds, etc. 2. draw a harrow over (land, etc.). 3. hurt; wound. 4. arouse uncomfortable feelings in; distress; torment: He harrowed us with a tale of ghosts. 1 n., 2-4 v. —har'-row er, n.

Harrow

har ry (här'ē), 1. raid and rob with violence: The pirates harried the towns along the coast. 2. keep troubling; worry; torment: Fear of losing his job harried the clerk. v., har ried, har ry ing.

harsh (härsh), 1. rough to the touch, taste, eye, or ear; sharp and unpleasant: a harsh voice, a harsh climate. 2. without pity; cruel; severe: a harsh man. adj. —harsh'ly, adv. —harsh'ness, n.

hart (härt), a male deer; stag. A hart is usually a male deer after its fifth year. n., pl. harts or (esp. collectively) hart.

har te beest (här'tə bēst' or här'tbēst'), a large, swift African antelope with ringed, curved horns bent backward at the tips. n., pl. har te beests or (esp. collectively) har te beest.

Hartebeest (about 4 ft. high at the shoulder)

Hart ford (härt'fōrd), capital of Connecticut, in the central part. 162,000. n.

harts horn (härts'hōrn'), 1. ammonia dissolved in water. 2. smelling salts; sal volatile. n.

har um-scar um (här'əm skär'əm), 1. reckless; rash. 2. recklessly; wildly. 3. a reckless person. 1 adj., 2 adv., 3 n.

Ha run al-Ra shid (hä rün' äl rä shēd'), 763?-809 A.D., caliph of Bagdad from 786 to 809 A.D. Many stories are told about his adventures incognito.

har vest (här'vist), 1. a reaping and gathering in of grain and other food crops, usually in the late summer or early autumn. 2. time or season when grain, fruit, etc., are gathered in. 3. gather in and bring home for use: harvest wheat. 4. one season's yield of any natural product; crop: The oyster harvest was small this year. 5. result; consequences: He is reaping the harvest of his mistakes. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 v.

har vest er (här'vis tər), 1. person who works in a harvest field; reaper. 2. machine for harvesting crops, especially grain. n.

har vest man (här'vist mən), 1. man who harvests. 2. daddy-longlegs. n., pl. har vest men.

harvest moon, the full moon at harvest time or about September 23.

Har vey (här'vē), William, 1578-1657, English physician who discovered the circulation of the blood. n.

has (haz; unstressed həz or əz), 3rd person singular present indicative of have. Who has my book? v.

has-been (haz'bin'), Informal. person or thing whose best days are past. n.

hash (hash), 1. mixture of cooked meat, potatoes, etc., chopped into small pieces and fried or baked. 2. chop into small pieces. 3. mixture; jumble. 4. mess; muddle. 1,3,4 n., 2,4 v.

settle one's hash, Informal. subdue or silence one completely; put an end to one.

hash ish or hash eesh (hash'ēsh), the dried flowers, top leaves, and tender parts of Indian hemp prepared for use as a narcotic. In the Orient, hashish is smoked or chewed for its intoxicating effect. n.

has n't (haz'nt), has not.

hasp (hasp), clasp or fastening for a door, window, trunk, box, etc., especially, a hinged metal clasp that fits over a staple or into a hole and is fastened by a peg, padlock, etc. n.

Hasp on a door has sle (has'l), struggle; contest. n.

has sock (has'ək), 1. a thick cushion to rest the feet on, sit on, or kneel on. 2. tuft or bunch of coarse grass. n.

hast (hast), Archaic. 2nd person singular present indicative of have. have. "Thou hast" means "you have." v.

haste (hāst), 1. a trying to be quick; hurrying: The king's business required haste. 2. quickness without thought or care: Haste makes waste. 3. Poetic. hasten. 1,2 n., 3 v., hast ed, hast ing.

in haste, 1. in a hurry; quickly. 2. without careful thought; rashly.

make haste, hurry; be quick.

has ten (häs'n), 1. cause to be quick; speed; hurry: hasten everyone off to bed. 2. be quick; go fast: hasten to explain. v.

Has tings (häs'tingz), seaport in SE England. William the Conqueror defeated the Saxons near there in 1066. 65,000. n.

hasty (häs'tē), 1. hurried; quick: a hasty visit. 2. not well thought out; rash: His hasty decisions caused many mistakes. 3. easily angered; quick-tempered. adj., hast ier, hast iest. —hast'ily, adv. —hast'iness, n.

hasty pudding, 1. U.S. mush made of corn meal. 2. Brit. mush made of flour or oatmeal.

hat (hat), 1. a covering for the head, usually with a brim. 2. a red head covering worn by a cardinal of the Roman Catholic church. 3. dignity or office of a cardinal. 4. cover or furnish with a hat. 1-3 n., 4 v., hat ted, hat ting. —hat'less, adj. —hat'like', adj. pass the hat, take up a collection.

hat band (hat'band'), band around the crown of a hat, just above the brim. n.

hatch (hach), 1. bring forth (young) from an egg or eggs: A hen hatches chickens. 2. keep (an egg or eggs) warm until the young come out: The heat of the sun hatches turtles' eggs. 3. come out from the egg: Three chickens hatched today. 4. develop to be young animals: Not all eggs hatch properly. 5. act of hatching. 6. the brood hatched: There are twelve chickens in this hatch. 7. arrange; plan. 8. plan secretly; plot: The robbers were hatching an evil scheme. 1-4,7,8 n., 5,6 n. —hatch'er, n.

hatch (hach), 1. an opening in a ship's deck through which the cargo is put in. 2. opening in the floor or roof of a building, etc. 3. a trap door covering such an opening. 4. the lower half of a divided door. n.

Hatch (def. 2)

hatch (hach), 1. draw, cut, or engrave fine parallel lines on: With a sharp pencil the artist hatched certain parts of the picture to darken and shade them. 2. one of such a set of lines. 1 v., 2 n.

hatch er y (hach'ər ē), place for hatching eggs of fish, hens, etc. n., pl. hatch er ies.

hatch et (hach'it), 1. a small ax with a handle about a foot long, for use with one hand. 2. tomahawk. n. bury the hatchet, make peace. dig up the hatchet, make war.

hatch ing (hach'ing), fine, parallel lines drawn, cut, or engraved close together. See crosshatch for picture. n.

hatch way (hach'wā'), 1. an opening in the deck of a ship to the lower part. 2. a similar opening in a floor, roof, etc. n.

hate (hāt), 1. dislike very strongly: Do good to them that hate you. 2. a strong dislike. 3. dislike: I hate to study. 4. object of hatred. 1,3 v., hated, hating; 2,4 n.

hate ful (hāt'fəl), 1. causing hate; to be hated: hateful behavior. 2. feeling hate; showing hate: a hateful comment. adj. —hate'ful ly, adv. —hate'ful ness, n.

hat er (hāt'ər), one who hates. n.

hath (hath), Archaic. 3rd person singular present indicative of have. has. "He hath" means "he has." v.

hat pin (hat'pin'), a long pin used by women to fasten a hat to the hair. n.

hat rack (hat'rak'), rack, shelf, or arrangement of hooks or pegs to put hats on. n.

ha tred (hā'trid), very strong dislike; hate. n.

hat ter (hat'ər), person who makes or sells hats. n.

hat ter as (hat'ər əs), Cape, end of an island off E North Carolina. n.

hau ber geon (hā'bər jən), habergeon (def. 1). n.

hau berk (hō'bər'k), a long coat of mail. See mail for picture. n.

haugh ti ness (hō'tē nis), being haughty; arrogance; looking down on other people. n.

haugh ty (hō'tē), 1. too proud of oneself and too scornful of others: A haughty girl is always unpopular. 2. showing too great pride of oneself and scorn for others: a haughty smile. adj., haugh ti er, haugh ti est. —haugh'ti ly, adv.

haul (hōl), 1. pull or drag with force: The logs were hauled to the mill by horses. 2. act of hauling; hard pull. 3. load hauled: Powerful trucks are used for heavy hauls. 4. distance that a load is hauled. 5. amount won, taken, etc., at one time; catch: The fishing boats made a good haul today. 6. change the course of (a ship). 7. change; shift: The wind hauled around to the east. 1,6,7 v., 2-5 n. —haul'er, n.

haul off, 1. turn a ship away from an object. 2. draw away; withdraw. 3. draw back one's arm to give a blow.

haul on or to the wind, sail closer to the direction of the wind.

haul up, 1. turn a ship nearer to the direction of the wind. 2. change the course of (a ship).

haunch (hōnch), 1. part of the body around the hip; the hip. 2. a hind quarter of an animal: A dog sits on his haunches. 3. leg and loin of a deer, sheep, etc., used for food. n.

haunt (hōnt), 1. go often to; visit frequently: People say ghosts haunt that old house. 2. place frequently gone to or often visited: The swimming pool was the favorite haunt of the boys in the summer. 3. be often with; come often to: Memories of his youth haunted the old man. 4. Dialect. ghost. 1,3 v., 2,4 n. —haunt'ing ly, adv.

haunt ed (hōn'tid), visited by ghosts. adj.

haut boy (hō'boi), oboe. n.

haut teur (hō'tēr'), haughtiness; haughty manner or spirit. n.

Ha van a (hə van'ə), 1. capital of Cuba, on the NW coast. 785,000. Also, Spanish Habana. 2. cigar made from Cuban tobacco. n.

have (hav; unstressed həv or əv), 1. hold: I have a club in my hand. 2. possess; own: He has a big house and farm. 3. cause (somebody to do something or something to be done): Please have the boy bring my mail. She will have the car washed for me. 4. be obliged: Men have to eat. 5. obtain; receive; take; get: Have a seat. 6. show by action: have the courage to. 7. experience: have a pain, have fear. They had trouble with this engine. 8. engage in; carry on; perform: Have a talk with him. 9. allow; permit: Ann won't have any noise while she is reading. 10. maintain; assert: They will have it so. 11. keep; retain: He has the directions in mind. 12. know; understand: He has no Latin. 13. hold in the mind: have an idea. 14. be in a certain relation to: She has three brothers. 15. Informal. hold an advantage over: You have him there. 16. Slang. outwit or cheat. 17. become the father or mother of. 18. Have is used with past participles to express completed action (the perfect tense): They have come. She had gone before. I have called her. They will have seen her by Sunday. v., pres. 1 have, 2 have or (Archaic) hast, 3 has or (Archaic) hath, pl. have; pt. and pp. had; ppr. hav ing.

have at, attack; hit.

have done, stop; be through.

have it in for, Informal. have a grudge against.

have it out, fight or argue until a question is settled.

have to do with, 1. be connected with; be related to.

2. be a companion, partner, or friend of; associate with.

to have and to hold, to keep and possess.

have lock (hav'lok), a white cloth covering for a cap. It falls over the back of the neck and gives protection against the sun. n.

ha ven (hā'vən), 1. harbor; port. 2. place of shelter and safety: The cabin was a welcome haven to the weary soldiers. 3. shelter in a haven. 1,2 n., 3 v.

have-not (hav'not'), Informal. person or country that has little or no property or wealth. n.

have n't (hav'ənt), have not.

hav er sack (hav'ər sak), bag used by soldiers and hikers to carry food. n.

hav oc (hav'ək), very great destruction or injury: Tornadoes, severe earthquakes, and plagues create widespread havoc. n.

play havoc with, injure severely; ruin; destroy.

Ha vre (hā'vrə or hā'vrə), Le Havre, seaport in NW France. 140,000. n.

haw¹ (hō), 1. the red berry of the hawthorn. 2. hawthorn. n.

haw² (hō), 1. a stammering sound between words. 2. make this sound; stammer. 1 interj., n., 2 v.

haw³ (hō), 1. word of command to horses, oxen, etc., directing them to turn to the left. 2. turn to the left. 1 interj., n., 2 v.

Ha wai i (hə wī'ē), 1. a group of islands in the N Pacific, the 50th State of the United States. 633,000 pop.; 6424 sq. mi. Capital: Honolulu. 2. the largest of the Hawaiian Islands. 61,000 pop.; 4030 sq. mi. n.

Ha wai ian (hə wī'yən), 1. of or having to do with Hawaii, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Hawaii. 3. language of Hawaii. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Hawaiian Islands, an island group in the N Pacific, a State of the United States.

Haversack on a hiker hawk¹ (hōk), 1. bird of prey with a strong hooked beak, large curved claws, short rounded wings, and a long tail. 2. bird of prey like a hawk; buzzard or kite. 3. hunt with trained hawks. 4. person who preys on others. 5. Informal. person who is eager for war; warmonger. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 v. —hawk/like', adj.

hawk² (hōk), 1. carry (goods) about for sale as a street peddler does. 2. spread (a report) around. v.

hawk³ (hōk), 1. clear the throat noisily. 2. a noisy effort to clear the throat. 1 v., 2 n.

hawker¹ (hōk'ər), person who carries his wares around and offers them for sale by shouting; peddler. n.

hawker² (hōk'ər), person who hunts with a hawk. n.

hawk-eyed (hōk'id'), having sharp eyes. adj.

hawking (hōk'ing), hunting with hawks; falconry. n.

hawks bill turtle (hōks'bil'), a sea turtle whose mouth is shaped like a hawk's beak.

hawse (hōz), 1. part of a ship's bow having holes for hawsers or cables to pass through. 2. one of these holes. 3. space between the bow of a ship at anchor and her anchors. n.

hawser (hō'zər), a large rope or small cable. Hawsers are used for mooring or towing ships. n.

haw thorn (hō'thörn), a thorny shrub or tree with clusters of white, red, or pink blossoms and small, red berries called haws. n.

Haw thorne (hō'thörn), Nathaniel, 1804-1864, American author of novels and short stories. n.

hay (hā), 1. grass, alfalfa, clover, etc., cut and dried for use as food for cattle, horses, etc. 2. cut and dry grass, alfalfa, clover, etc., for hay. 3. supply with hay. 1 n., 2,3 v.

make hay, cut and dry grass, alfalfa, clover, etc., for hay.

Hay (hā), John, 1838-1905, American statesman, diplomat, and author. n.

hay cock (hā'kok'), Esp. Brit. a small, cone-shaped pile of hay in a field. n.

Hay dn (hīd'n), Franz Joseph, 1732-1809, Austrian composer of symphonies and other music. n.

Hayes (hāz), Rutherford B., 1822-1893, the 19th president of the United States, from 1877 to 1881. n.

hay fever, disease like a cold, caused by the pollen of ragweed and other plants. It is an allergy that affects the respiratory tract and the eyes.

hay field (hā'fēld'), field where grass, alfalfa, clover, etc., is grown or cut for hay. n.

hay loft (hā'lōft'), place in a stable or barn where hay is stored. n.

hay maker (hā'māk'ər), 1. person who tosses and spreads hay to dry after it is cut. 2. Slang. a hard, swinging, upward blow with the fist in boxing. n.

hay mow (hā'mou'), 1. place in a barn where hay is stored; hayloft. 2. heap of hay stored in a barn. n.

hay rack (hā'rak'), 1. rack or frame for holding hay to be eaten by cattle, horses, etc. 2. framework on a wagon used in hauling hay, straw, etc. 3. wagon and framework together. n.

hay rick (hā'rik'), Esp. Brit. haystack. n.

hay seed (hā'sēd'), 1. grass seed, especially that shaken out of hay. 2. small bits of chaff, etc., of hay. 3. U.S. Slang. person from the country; farmer. n.

hay stack (hā'stak'), a large pile of hay outdoors. n.

hay wire (hā'wir'), 1. wire used to tie up bales of hay. 2. Slang. out of order; wrong. 3. Slang. crazy; insane. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

hazard (haz'ərd), 1. risk; danger; peril: The life of an aviator is full of hazards. 2. chance. 3. take a chance with; risk; venture: I would hazard my life on his

Red-tailed hawk
(about 2 ft. long)

Hawse

honesty. 4. any obstruction on a golf course. 5. a dice game. 6. expose to risk. 1,2,4,5 n., 3,6 v.
at all hazards, whatever the risk; in spite of great danger or peril.

hazardous (haz'ər dəs), dangerous; risky; perilous. adj. —hazardous ly, adv. —hazardous ness, n.

haze¹ (hāz), 1. a small amount of mist, smoke, dust, etc., in the air: A thin haze veiled the hills. 2. vagueness of the mind; slight confusion. n.

haze² (hāz), in schools, universities, etc., force to do unnecessary or ridiculous tasks; bully: The freshmen resented being hazed by the sophomores. v., hazed, hazing. —haz'er, n.

hazel (hā'zəl), 1. shrub or small tree of the same family as the birch, whose light-brown nuts are good to eat. 2. light brown. 1,2 n., 2 adj.

hazel nut (hā'zəl nut'), nut of a hazel. n.

hazy (hā'zē), 1. full of haze; misty; smoky: hazy air. 2. rather confused; vague; obscure: hazy ideas. adj.

hazier, haziest. —hazily, adv. —haziness, n.

H-bomb (āch'bom'), hydrogen bomb. n.

H.C.F. or h.c.f., highest common factor.

hdqrs., headquarters.

he (hē; unstressed ē or i), 1. boy, man, or male animal spoken about or mentioned before: He works hard, but his work pays him well. 2. boy; man; male animal. 3. anyone: He who hesitates is lost. 1,3 pron., nom., he; poss., his; obj., him; pl. nom., they; poss., theirs, their; obj., them; 2 n., pl. he's.

He, helium.

head (hed), 1. the top part of the human body where the eyes, ears, and mouth are. 2. the corresponding part of an animal's body. 3. the top part of anything: the head of a pin, the head of a page. 4. the foremost part or end of anything; the front: the head of a procession. 5. at the head, top, or front: the head division of a parade. 6. be or go at the head, top, or front of: head a parade. 7. coming from in front: a head wind. 8. cause to move or face in a certain direction: head a boat toward shore. 9. move or go in a certain direction: It's getting late, we'd better head for home. 10. chief person; leader; commander; director. 11. position of head; chief authority; leadership; command; direction. 12. chief; leading; commanding; directing. 13. be the head or chief of; lead; command; direct: head a business. 14. person: Kings and queens are crowned heads. 15. one or ones; individual or individuals: Ten cows are ten head of cattle. 16. anything rounded like a head: a head of cabbage or lettuce. 17. a cluster of flowers in which the flowers are small and do not have individual stems, but grow close together from the main stem: a head of clover. 18. part of a boil or pimple where pus is about to break through the skin. 19. the striking part of a tool or implement: the head of a hammer. 20. piece of skin stretched tightly over the end of a drum, etc. 21. either end of a barrel. 22. put a head on; furnish with a head. 23. form a head; come to a head. 24. cut off the head of. 25. mind; understanding; intelligence; intellect: The old man has a wise head. 26. topic; point: He arranged his speech under four main heads. 27. crisis; conclusion; decisive point: His sudden refusal brought matters to a head. 28. strength or force gained little by little: As more people joined, the movement gathered head. 29. pressure of water, steam, etc. 30. source of a river or stream. 31. foam; froth. 1-4,10,11,14-21,25-31 n., 6,8,9,13,22-24 v., 5,7,12 adj. —head/like', adj.

heads, the top side of a coin.

eat one's head off, 1. eat very much. 2. cost more to feed than one is worth.

give one his head, let him go as he pleases.

go to one's head, 1. affect one's mind. 2. make one dizzy. 3. make one conceited.

hang one's head, be ashamed and show that one is.

head off, get in front of and turn back or aside.

head over heels, 1. in a somersault. 2. hastily; rashly.

3. completely; thoroughly.

hide one's head, be ashamed and show that one is.

keep one's head, not get excited; stay calm.

keep one's head above water, 1. stay afloat. 2. avoid failure, loss, defeat, death, etc.

lay heads together, 1. confer; consult. 2. plot; conspire.

lose one's head, get excited; lose one's self-control.

make head, move forward; make progress; advance.

make head or tail of, understand.

off or out of one's head, Informal. crazy; insane.

on or upon one's head, on one's responsibility.

over one's head, 1. beyond one's power to understand. 2. to a person higher in authority.

put heads together, 1. confer; consult. 2. plot; conspire.

take it into one's head, 1. get the idea. 2. plan; intend.

turn one's head, 1. affect the mind. 2. make one dizzy. 3. make one conceited.

head ache (hed/'ak'), 1. pain in the head. 2. U.S. Slang. thing, situation, etc., that is the cause of great bother, annoyance, etc. n.

head cheese (hed/'chēz'), a jellied loaf formed of parts of the head and feet of hogs cut up, cooked, and seasoned. n.

head dress (hed/'dres'), 1. a covering or decoration for the head. 2. way of wearing or arranging the hair. n.

head er (hed/'ər), 1. person, tool, or machine that puts on or takes off heads of grain, barrels, pins, nails, etc. 2. Informal. a plunge or dive headfirst. 3. brick or stone laid with its length across the thickness of a wall. 4. beam forming part of the framework around an opening in a floor or roof, placed so as to fit between two long beams and support the ends of short ones. n.

head first (hed/'fērst'), 1. with the head first. 2. hastily; rashly. adv.

head fore most (hed/'fōr'mōst'), headfirst. adv.

head gate, 1. an upstream gate of a lock in a canal or river. 2. floodgate of a race, sluice, etc.

head gear (hed/'gir'), 1. covering for the head; hat, cap, etc. 2. harness for an animal's head. n.

head-hunt er (hed/'hun'tər), member of a savage tribe who tries to get the heads of his enemies as a sign of victory, manhood, etc. n.

head ing (hed/'ing), 1. part forming the head, top, or front. 2. something written or printed at the top of a page. 3. title of a page, chapter, etc.; topic. n.

head land (hed/'lənd), point of land jutting out into water; cape. n.

head less (hed/'lis), 1. having no head. 2. without a leader. 3. without brains; stupid. adj.

head light (hed/'lit'), 1. a bright light at the front of an automobile, streetcar, locomotive, etc. 2. light at a masthead. n.

head line (hed/'lin'), 1. words printed at the top of an article in a newspaper indicating what it is about. 2. line printed at the top of a page giving the running title, page number, etc. 3. furnish with a headline. 1,2 n., 3 v., head lined, head lin ing.

head long (hed/'lōng), 1. headfirst: to plunge headlong into the sea. 2. with great speed and force: to rush headlong into the crowd. 3. in too great a rush; without stopping to think: The boy ran headlong at the bull. 4. rash; rashly. adv., adj.

head man (hed/'man'), chief; leader. n., pl. head-men.

head mas ter (hed/'mas'tər), person in charge of a school, especially of a private school; principal. n.

Headdress worn about 1395

Header (def. 4)

head most (hed/'mōst), first; most advanced. adj.

head-on (hed/'on'), with the head or front first. adj.

head phone (hed/'fōn'), a telephone or radio receiver held on the head, against the ears. n.

head piece (hed/'pēs'), 1. piece of armor for the head; helmet. 2. hat, cap, or other covering for the head. 3. headphone. 4. head; mind; intellect. 5. decoration at the head of a page, chapter, etc. n.

head quar ters (hed/'kwōr'tərz), 1. place from which the chief or commanding officer of an army, police force, etc., sends out orders. 2. center from which any organization is controlled and directed; main office. n. pl. or sing.

head ship (hed/'ship), position of head; chief authority. n.

heads man (hedz/'mən), a man who puts criminals to death by cutting off their heads. n., pl. heads men.

head stall (hed/'stōl'), the part of a bridle or halter that fits around a horse's head. n.

Headstall

head stone (hed/'stōn'), 1. stone set at the head of a grave; tombstone. 2. principal stone in a foundation; cornerstone. n.

head stream (hed/'strēm'), stream that is the source of a larger stream. n.

head strong (hed/'strōng'), 1. rashly or foolishly determined to have one's own way; hard to control or manage; obstinate. 2. showing rash or foolish determination to have one's own way. adj.

head wait er (hed/'wāt'ər), man in charge of the waiters in a restaurant, hotel, etc. n.

head wa ters (hed/'wō'tərz), sources or upper parts of a river. n. pl.

head way (hed/'wā'), 1. motion forward: The ship could make no headway against the strong wind and tide. 2. progress with work, etc. 3. a clear space overhead in a doorway or under an arch, bridge, etc.; clearance. 4. interval of time between two trains, streetcars, ships, etc., going in the same direction over the same route. n.

head wind, wind blowing straight against the front of a ship, etc.

head y (hed/'ē), 1. hasty; rash. 2. apt to affect the head and make one dizzy; intoxicating. adj., head i er, head i est. —head'i ness, n.

heal (hēl), 1. make whole, sound, or well; bring back to health; cure (a disease or wound). 2. become whole or sound; get well; return to health; be cured. 3. free from anything bad. 4. get rid of (anything bad). v. —heal'er, n.

health (helth), 1. a being well; freedom from sickness. 2. condition of body or mind: She is in poor health.

3. drink in honor of a person with a wish that he may be healthy and happy: We all drank a health to the bride. n.

health ful (helth/'fəl), 1. giving health; good for the health: healthful exercise, a healthful diet. 2. having good health. adj. —health/ful ly, adv. —health/ful ness, n.

health y (hel/'thē), 1. having good health: a healthy baby. 2. showing good health: a healthy appearance. 3. healthful. adj., health i er, health i est. —health'i ly, adv. —health'i ness, n.

heap (hēp), 1. pile of many things thrown or lying together: a heap of stones, a sand heap. 2. form into a heap; gather in heaps. 3. Informal. a large amount. 4. give generously or in large amounts. 5. fill full or more than full: heap a plate with food. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 v.

hear (hir), 1. perceive by the ear: hear sounds, hear voices. 2. be able to perceive by the ear: He cannot hear well. 3. listen to: hear a person's explanation. 4. listen. 5. give a chance to be heard; give a formal hearing to, as a king, a judge, a teacher, or an assembly does. 6. find out by hearing: hear news. 7. be told; receive news or information: Have you heard from your friend?

8. listen to with favor: Lord, hear my prayer. v., heard, hear ing. —hear'er, n.
hear! hear! Esp. Brit. shouts of approval; cheering.
 will not hear of it, will not listen to, think of, agree to, or allow it.

heard (hêrd), pt. and pp. of hear. I heard the noise. The gun was heard a mile away. v.

hear ing (hîr'ing), 1. sense by which sound is perceived: The old man's hearing is poor. 2. act or process of perceiving sound: Hearing the good news made him happy. 3. a formal or official listening: The judge gave both sides a hearing in court. 4. chance to be heard: Give us a hearing. 5. distance that a sound can be heard: be within hearing of the baby, talk freely in the hearing of others. n.

heark en (hâr'kən), listen; listen attentively. v. Also, harken.

hear say (hîr'sā'), common talk; gossip. n.

hearse (hêrs), automobile, carriage, etc., for carrying a dead person to his grave. n.

Heart (hêrst),

William Randolph, 1863-1951, American editor and newspaper publisher. n.

heart (hârt), 1. a hollow, muscular organ that pumps the blood throughout the body by contracting and dilating. 2. feelings; mind; soul: She has a kind heart. 3. source of the emotions, especially of love: give one's heart. 4. person loved or praised: group of stout hearts. 5. kindness; sympathy: have no heart. 6. spirit; courage; enthusiasm. 7. the innermost part; middle; center: in the heart of the forest. 8. the main part; vital or most important part: the very heart of the matter. 9. figure shaped somewhat like the picture. 10. a playing card with one or more red, heart-shaped figures. n.

Diagram of human heart

after one's own heart, just as one likes it; pleasing one perfectly.

at heart, in one's deepest thoughts or feelings; really: He is kind at heart, though he appears to be gruff.

break the heart of, crush with sorrow or grief.

by heart, 1. by memory. 2. from memory.

eat one's heart out, feel great sorrow, grief, or worry.

from one's heart, with deepest feeling; sincerely.

get to the heart of, find out the secret or hidden meaning of.

have one's heart in one's boots or mouth, be very frightened.

have one's heart in the right place, mean well; have good intentions.

heart and soul, with all one's affections and energies.

hearts, 1. suit of playing cards with red designs like hearts on them. 2. game in which the players try to get rid of cards of this suit.

in one's heart of hearts, in one's deepest thoughts or feelings; really.

lay to heart, 1. keep in mind; remember. 2. think seriously about.

near one's heart, of great value or interest to one.

take heart, be encouraged.

take to heart, think seriously about; be deeply affected by; grieve over.

wear one's heart on one's sleeve, show one's feelings too plainly.

with all one's heart, 1. sincerely. 2. gladly.

heart ache (hârt'āk'), sorrow; grief. n.

heart beat (hârt'bēt'), pulsation of the heart, including one complete contraction and dilation. n.

heart break (hârt'brāk'), a crushing sorrow or grief. n.

heart break ing (hârt'brāk'ing), crushing with sorrow or grief. adj.

heart broken (hârt'brō'kən), crushed with sorrow or grief. adj. —heart'bro'ken ly, adv.

heart burn (hârt'bêrn'), 1. a burning feeling in the stomach, often rising to the chest and throat. 2. envy; jealousy. n.

heart burn ing (hârt'bêr'ning), a feeling of envy or jealousy. n.

heart ed (hâr'tid), having a heart (of the kind mentioned): good-hearted, sad-hearted. adj.

heart en (hârt'n), encourage; cheer up: Good news heartens you. v.

heart felt (hârt'felt'), sincere; genuine. adj.

hearth (hârth), 1. floor of a fireplace. 2. home; fireside: The soldiers longed for their own hearths. n.

hearth side (hârth'sid'), 1. side of a hearth. 2. home. n.

hearth stone (hârth'stôn'), 1. stone forming a hearth. 2. home; fireside. n.

heart ily (hâr'tə lē), 1. sincerely; genuinely; in a warm, friendly way: express good wishes very heartily. 2. with enthusiasm; with a good will; vigorously: set to work heartily. 3. with a good appetite. 4. very; completely; thoroughly. adv.

heart i ness (hâr'tē nis), being hearty. n.

heart less (hârt'lis), 1. without kindness or sympathy; unfeeling; cruel. 2. without courage, spirit, or enthusiasm. adj. —heart'less ly, adv. —heart'less-ness, n.

heart-rend ing (hârt'ren'ding), causing mental anguish; very distressing. adj. —heart'-rend'ing ly, adv.

hearts ease or heart's-ease (hârts'ēz'), 1. peace of mind. 2. pansy. n.

heart sick (hârt'sik'), sick at heart; very much depressed; very unhappy. adj.

heart sore (hârt'sôr'), feeling or showing grief; grieved. adj.

heart-strick en (hârt'strik'ən), struck to the heart with grief; shocked with fear; dismayed. adj.

heart strings (hârt'stringz'), deepest feelings; strongest affections. n. pl.

heart-to-heart (hârt'tə hârt'), without reserve; frank; sincere. adj.

heart wood (hârt'wüd'), the hard, central wood of a tree. n.

heart y (hâr'tē), 1. warm and friendly; genuine; sincere: a hearty welcome. 2. strong and well; vigorous: The old man was still hale and hearty. 3. full of energy and enthusiasm; not restrained: He burst out in a loud, hearty laugh. 4. with plenty to eat; nourishing: A hearty meal satisfied his hunger. 5. requiring or using much food: a hearty eater. 6. a fellow sailor; brave and good comrade. 1-5 adj., heartier, heartiest; 6 n., pl. heart ies.

heat (hêt), 1. hotness; high temperature. 2. degree of hotness; temperature. 3. sensation or perception of hotness or warmth. 4. in physics, a form of energy that consists of the motion of the molecules of a substance. The rate at which the molecules move determines the temperature. 5. make hot or warm; become hot or warm. 6. hot weather: the heat of summer. 7. warmth or intensity of feeling; anger; violence; excitement; eagerness; ardor. 8. fill with strong feeling; inflame; excite; become excited. 9. the hottest point; most violent or active state: In the heat of the fight he lost his temper. 10. Slang. pressure; coercion; torture. 11. one trial in a race: He won the first heat, but lost the final race. 12. one operation of heating in a furnace or a forge. 1-4, 6, 7, 9-12 n., 5, 8 v.

heat barrier, point of speed beyond which the wings and fuselage of a plane are made dangerously hot as a result of friction with the atmosphere. The heat barrier is being pushed upward from about 1200 miles per hour by the use of new designs and metals.

heat ed ly (hêt'id lē), in a vigorous, angry, or excited manner. adv.

heat er (hē'tər), thing that gives heat or warmth, such as a stove, furnace, or radiator. n.

heath (hēth), 1. Brit. open, waste land with heather or low bushes growing on it; moor. It has few or no trees. 2. a low bush growing on such land. Heather is one kind of heath. n.

one's native heath, place where one was born or brought up.

hea then (hē'thən), 1. person who does not believe in the God of the Bible; person who is not a Christian, Jew, or Moslem. 2. people who are heathen. 3. of or having to do with the heathen; not Christian, Jewish, or Moslem. 4. an irreligious or unenlightened person. 5. irreligious; unenlightened. 1,2,4 n., pl. hea thens or hea then; 3,5 adj.

hea then dom (hē'thən dəm), 1. heathen worship or ways. 2. heathen lands or people. n.

hea then ish (hē'thən ish), 1. having to do with the heathen. 2. like the heathen. adj.

hea then ism (hē'thən iz əm), 1. heathen worship or ways. 2. lack of religion or culture; barbarism. n.

heather (he'thər), a low, evergreen shrub with stalks of small, rosy-pink, bell-shaped flowers, covering many heaths of Scotland and northern England. n.

heath ery (he'th'ər ē), 1. of or like heather. 2. covered with heather. adj.

heating element, part of an electrical heating device that gets hot.

heat lightning, flashes of light without any thunder, seen near the horizon, especially on hot summer evenings.

heat stroke (hē't'strōk'), collapse or sudden illness caused by too much heat. n.

heat wave, a long period of very hot weather.

heave (hēv), 1. lift with force or effort: He heaved the heavy box into the wagon. 2. lift and throw: The sailors heaved the anchor overboard. 3. pull with force or effort; haul: They heaved on the rope. 4. give (a sigh, groan, etc.) with a deep, heavy breath. 5. rise and fall alternately: Waves heave in a storm. 6. breathe hard; pant. 7. try to vomit; vomit. 8. move in some direction; move. 9. rise; swell; bulge. 10. act or fact of heaving. 1-9 v., heaved or (esp. Naut.) hove, heaving; 10 n. —heav'er, n.

heave ho! sailors' cry when pulling up the anchor, etc.

heave in sight, come into view.

heaves, disease of horses characterized by difficult breathing, coughing, and heaving of the flanks: Heaves is difficult to cure.

heave to, stop a ship; stop.

heav en (hev'ən), 1. in Christian use, the place where God and the angels live. 2. place or condition of greatest happiness. 3. sky; upper air. n.

for heaven's sake or good heavens! exclamation of surprise or protest.

Heaven, God; Providence.

heavens, sky; upper air.

move heaven and earth, do everything possible.

heav en ly (hev'ən lē), 1. of or in heaven; divine; holy: God is our heavenly Father. 2. like heaven; suitable for heaven; very happy, beautiful, or excellent: a heavenly spot, heavenly peace. 3. of or in the heavens; in the sky or upper air: The sun, moon, stars, planets, and comets are heavenly bodies. adj. —heav'en li ness, n.

heav en ward (hev'ən wərd), toward heaven. adv., adj.

heav en wards (hev'ən wərdz), heavenward. adv.

Heav i side layer (hev'ē sid), the ionosphere's second layer, which reflects radio waves of frequencies produced in short-wave broadcasting.

heavy (hev'ē), 1. hard to lift or carry; of great weight: a heavy load, heavy responsibilities. 2. having much weight for its size: heavy metal. 3. of more than usual weight for its kind: heavy silk. 4. of great amount, force, or intensity; greater than usual; large: a heavy vote, heavy strain, heavy sea, heavy sleep, heavy rain, heavy meal, heavy crop. 5. being such in an unusual degree: a heavy buyer, heavy smoker. 6. hard to bear or endure: heavy taxes. 7. hard to deal with; trying or difficult in any way: A heavy road is hard to travel over because it is muddy, sandy, etc. A heavy slope is a steep one. Heavy food is hard to digest. Heavy soil is hard to work. 8. weighted down; laden: air heavy with moisture, eyes heavy with sleep. 9. sorrowful; gloomy: heavy news. 10. grave; serious; sober; somber: a heavy part in a play. 11. cloudy: a heavy sky. 12. broad; thick; coarse: a heavy line, heavy features. 13. clumsy; sluggish; slow: a heavy walk. 14. ponderous; dull: heavy reading. 15. loud and deep: the heavy roar of cannon. 16. in military use, heavily armed or equipped. 17. in military use, of large size: heavy artillery. 18. not risen enough: heavy bread. 19. among isotopes, indicating one possessing a greater atomic weight. 20. pregnant. 21. a heavy person or thing. 22. in a heavy manner; heavily. 23. Informal. villain in a play. 1-20 adj., heav i er, heav i est; 21,23 n., pl. heav ies; 22 adv. —heav'ily, adv. —heav'i ness, n.

hang heavy, pass slowly and uninterestingly.

heavy-armed (hev'ē ārm'd'), equipped with heavy weapons or armor. adj.

heavy-hearted (hev'ē hār'tid), sad; gloomy; in low spirits. adj.

heavy hydrogen, deuterium. Symbol: H² or D heavy water, water formed of oxygen and heavy hydrogen. Heavy water is much like ordinary water, but is about 1.1 times as heavy and has a higher freezing point. It occurs in very small amounts in ordinary water.

heavy weight (hev'ē wāt'), 1. person or thing of much more than average weight. 2. boxer or wrestler who weighs 175 pounds or more. 3. Informal. person who has much intelligence or importance. n.

He be (hē'bē), the Greek goddess of youth. Hebe was the cupbearer to the gods before Ganymede was given that duty. n.

He bra ic (hi brā'ik), of or having to do with the Hebrews or their language or culture; Hebrew. adj.

He brew (hē'brū), 1. Jew; Israelite. 2. the ancient language of the Jews, in which the Old Testament was recorded. 3. Jewish. 4. the present-day language of Israel. 1,2,4 n., 3 adj.

He brews (hē'brüz), book of the New Testament. n.

Heb ri des (heb'ra dēz), group of Scotch islands off NW Scotland. 80,000 pop.; 2900 sq. mi. n.pl.

He bron (hē'brən), in the Bible, a town near Jerusalem. It is now in Jordan. 36,000. n.

Hec a te (hek'ə tē), the Greek goddess of the moon, earth, and infernal regions. She was later associated with magic and witchcraft. n.

hec a tomb (hek'ə tōm), 1. sacrifice of 100 oxen at one time. 2. any great slaughter. n.

heck le (hek'l), harass and annoy (a speaker, etc.) by asking many bothersome questions, etc. v., heck-led, heck ling. —heck'ler, n.

hec tare (hek'tār), measure of area in the metric system, equal to 100 ares, 10,000 square meters, or 2.471 acres. n.

hec tic (hek'tik), 1. flushed. 2. a flush. 3. feverish. 4. a fever. 5. Informal. much excited. 6. Informal. very exciting. 7. showing the signs of tuberculosis; consumptive. 1,3,5-7 adj., 2,4 n.

hec to gram or hec to gramme (hek'tə gram), weight in the metric system, equal to 100 grams, or 3.527 ounces. n.

hec to li ter or hec to li tre (hek'tə lē'tər), measure of capacity in the metric system, equal to 100 liters, 2.8378 bushels, or 26.4 United States gallons. n.

hec to me ter or hec to me tre (hek'tə mē'tər), measure of length in the metric system equal to 100 meters, one-tenth kilometer, or 328.08 feet. n.

Hec tor (hek'tər), in the Iliad, a son of Priam and the bravest of the Trojans. Hector was killed by Achilles. n.

hec tor (hek'tər), 1. a bragging, bullying fellow. 2. bluster; bully. 3. tease. 1 n., 2, 3 v.

he'd (hēd; unstressed ēd, id, or hid), 1. he had. 2. he would.

hedge (hej), 1. a thick row of bushes or small trees, planted as a fence or boundary. 2. any barrier or boundary. 3. put a hedge around: to hedge a garden. 4. enclose or separate with a hedge. 5. avoid giving a direct answer; evade questions; avoid taking a definite stand. 6. act of hedging. 7. protect oneself from losing money on (a bet, risk, etc.) by an opposite bet, risk, etc. 1, 2, 6 n., 3-5, 7 v., hedged, hedg ing.

hedge in, 1. hem in; surround on all sides. 2. keep from getting away or moving freely.

hedge hog (hej'hog'), 1. any of a group of small European mammals that have spines on the back. When attacked, hedgehogs roll up into a bristling ball. 2. porcupine of America. 3. in military use, an X-shaped portable obstacle, usually laced with barbed wire. 4. an area defended by pillboxes, mines, and lanes for machine-gun fire. n.

hedge-hop (hej'hop'), fly an airplane very low. v., hedge-hopped, hedge-hop ping. —hedge/-hop/er, n.

hedge-hop ping (hej'hop'ing), flying an airplane very low. n.

hedge row (hej'rō'), a thick row of bushes or small trees forming a hedge. n.

he don ism (hēd'n iz əm), doctrine that pleasure or happiness is the highest good. n.

heed (hēd), 1. give careful attention to; take notice of: Now heed what I say. 2. careful attention; notice: She pays heed to her clothes. 1 v., 2 n. —heed'er, n.

heed ful (hēd'fəl), careful; attentive. adj. —heed/-ful ly, adv. —heed/ful ness, n.

heed less (hēd'lis), careless; thoughtless. adj. —heed/-less ly, adv.

heed less ness (hēd'lis nis), carelessness; thoughtlessness. n.

hee haw (hē'hō'), 1. the braying sound made by a donkey. 2. make the braying sound of a donkey. 3. a loud coarse laugh. 4. laugh loudly and coarsely. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v.

heel¹ (hēl), 1. the back part of a person's foot, below the ankle. 2. part of a stocking or shoe that covers the heel. 3. part of a shoe or boot that is under the heel or raises the heel. 4. part of the hind leg of an animal that corresponds to a person's heel. 5. follow too closely. 6. put a heel or heels on. 7. touch the ground or floor with the heel. 8. anything shaped, used, or placed at an end like a heel, such as an end crust of bread, the rind of cheese, the rear end of a ship's keel, or the lower end of a mast. 1-4, 8 n., 5-7 v. —heel/less, adj.

at heel, near the heels; close behind.

down at the heel or heels, 1. with the heel of the shoe worn down. 2. shabby. 3. slovenly.

kick one's heels, 1. be kept waiting for a very long time. 2. wait impatiently.

lay by the heels, put in prison or in stocks.

out at the heels, 1. with the heel of the stocking or shoe worn through. 2. shabby. 3. slovenly.

show a clean pair of heels, run away.

take to one's heels, run away.

to heel, near the heels; close behind.

heel² (hēl), 1. lean over to one side; tilt; tip: The ship heeled as it turned. 2. act of heeling. 1 v., 2 n.

heel³ (hēl), U.S. Informal. a hateful person. n.

heeled (hēld), U.S. Slang. provided with money. adj.

heft (heft), Informal. 1. weight; heaviness. 2. judge the weight or heaviness of by lifting. 3. lift; heave.

Hedge (def. 1)

European hedgehog (about 10 in. long)

4. U.S. the greater part; bulk. 1, 4 n., 2, 3 v.

heft y (hef'tē), Informal. 1. weighty; heavy. 2. big and strong. adj., heft i er, heft i est.

he gem o ny (hi jem'ə nē), political domination; especially, the leadership or domination of one state in a group; leadership. n., pl. he gem o nies.

Heg i ra (hi jī'ra), flight of Mohammed from Mecca to Medina in 622 A.D. The Moslems use a calendar reckoned from this date. n. Also, Hejira.

he gi ra (hi jī'ra), departure; flight. n. Also, hejira.

Hei del berg (hi'dl bērg), city in S West Germany. A famous university is located there. 128,000. n.

heif er (hef'ər), a young cow that has not had a calf. n.

heigh (hī or hā), sound used to attract attention, give encouragement, express surprise, etc. interj.

heigh-ho (hī'hō' or hā'hō'), sound made to express surprise, joy, sadness, or weariness. interj.

height (hīt), 1. measurement from top to bottom; how high a thing is; elevation above ground, sea level, etc.: the height of a mountain. 2. a fairly great distance up: rising at a height above the valley. 3. a high point or place; hill: on the mountain heights. 4. the highest part; top. 5. the highest point; greatest degree: Being reckless in an automobile is the height of folly. 6. high rank; high degree. n.

height en (hīt'n), 1. make or become higher. 2. make or become stronger or greater; increase. v.

heil (hīl), German. hail! interj.

hei nous (hā'nəs), very wicked; extremely offensive; hateful. adj. —hei/nous ly, adv. —hei/nous ness, n.

heir (ār), 1. person who receives, or has the right to receive, someone's property or title after the death of its owner; person who inherits property. 2. person who inherits anything; person who receives or has something from someone before him. n.

heir apparent, person who will be heir if he lives longer than the one holding the property or title: The king's oldest son is heir apparent to the throne. pl. heirs apparent.

heir ess (ār'is), 1. heir who is a woman or girl. 2. woman or girl inheriting great wealth. n.

heir loom (ār'lūm'), possession handed down from generation to generation: This clock is a family heirloom. n.

heir presumptive, person who will be heir unless a nearer relative is born. pl. heirs presumptive.

heir ship (ār'ship), position or rights of an heir; right of inheritance; inheritance. n.

Hej i ra (hi jī'ra), Hegira. n.

he ji ra (hi jī'ra), hegira. n.

held (held), pt. and pp. of hold¹. Mary held the baby. The swing is held by strong ropes. v.

Hel e na (hel'ə nə), capital of Montana, in the W part. 20,000. n.

Helen of Troy (hel'ən), in Greek legend, a very beautiful Greek woman, the wife of King Menelaus of Sparta. Her abduction by Paris caused the Trojan War.

hel i cal (hel'ə kl), having to do with, or having the form of, a helix; spiral. adj.

hel i ces (hel'ə sēz), a pl. of helix. n.

Hel i con (hel'ə kon), Mount, mountain in S Greece. The ancient Greeks considered it sacred to the Muses. 5738 ft. n.

hel i con (hel'ə kon), a large bass tuba. n.

hel i cop ter (hel'ə kop'tər or hē'lə kop'tər), an aircraft lifted from the ground and kept in the air by horizontal propellers. n.

he li o cen tric (hē'lē ō sen'trik), 1. viewed or measured from the center of the sun. 2. having or representing the sun as a center. adj.

he li o graph (hē'lē ə graf'), 1. device for signaling by means of a movable mirror that flashes beams of light to a distance. The flashes of the mirror represent the dots and dashes of the Morse code. 2. communicate or signal by heliograph. 3. apparatus for taking photographs of the sun. 1, 3 n., 2 v.

He li os (hē'lē'os), the sun god of ancient Greece who drove his chariot across the sky. The Romans called him Sol. n.

he li o trope (hē'lē'ə trōp), 1. plant with clusters of small, fragrant, purple or white flowers. 2. pinkish purple. 3. bloodstone. 1-3 n., 2 adj.

he li ot ro pism (hē'lē'ot'rə piz əm), an involuntary response to the sun's rays; tendency that makes a plant turn itself toward the light. n.

hel i port (hel'ə pōrt), airport designed for use by helicopters. Heliports may be built on the tops of buildings or in other small areas in large cities. n.

he li um (hē'lē'əm), a very light, inert gas that will not burn, much used in balloons and dirigibles. Helium is a rare element, first discovered in the sun's atmosphere. Symbol: He n.

he lix (hē'liks), 1. spiral. A screw thread or a watch spring is a helix. 2. a spiral ornament. 3. rim of the outer ear. n., pl. helices or the lix es.

Helices in a Corinthian capital hell (hel), 1. in Christian use, a place where wicked persons are punished after death. 2. the powers of evil. 3. the persons in hell. 4. abode of the dead; Hades. 5. any place or state of wickedness, torment, or misery. n.

he'll (hēl; unstressed hil), 1. he will. 2. he shall.

Hel las (hel'æs), Greece. n.

hell bend er (hel'ben'dər), a large salamander that is common in the Ohio River and its tributaries. n.

Hellbender (1 to 2 ft. long) hell cat (hel'kat'), 1. a mean, spiteful woman. 2. witch. n.

hel le bore (hel'ə bōr), 1. a European plant of the same family as the buttercup, with showy flowers that bloom before spring. One kind is called black hellebore. 2. cathartic made from the roots of black hellebore. 3. a tall plant with clusters of purple or white flowers. One kind is called white hellebore. 4. insecticide made from the roots of white hellebore. 5. a cardiac medicine made from the roots of white hellebore. n.

Hel lene (hel'ēn), Greek. n.

Hel len ic (hel'ən'ik), 1. Greek. 2. of Greek history, language, or culture from 776 B.C. to the death of Alexander the Great in 323 B.C. adj.

Hel les pont (hel'is pont), an ancient name of the Dardanelles. n.

hell fire (hel'fir'), fire of hell; punishment in hell. n.

Hell Gate, a narrow passage in the East River in New York City.

hell gram mite (hel'grə mīt), larva of a dobson fly, often used for fish bait. n.

hell lion (hel'yən), Informal. a mischievous, troublesome person. n.

hell ish (hel'ish), 1. fit to have come from hell; devilish; fiendish. 2. of hell. adj. —hell'ish ly, adv. —hell'ish ness, n.

hel lo (hē'lō or hə'lō'),

1. exclamation to attract attention or express greeting. 2. exclamation of surprise. 3. call of greeting or surprise. 4. call to attract attention. 5. shout; call. 1,2 interj., 3,4 n., pl. hel los; 5 v., hel loed, hel lo ing. Also, hullo.

helm¹ (helm), 1. handle or wheel by which a ship is steered. 2. position of control or guidance. n. —helm'less, adj.

Sailor at the helm of a ship helm² (helm), Archaic. 1. helmet. 2. put a helmet on. 1 n., 2 v.

hel met (hel'mit), a covering to protect the head. Knights wore helmets as part of their armor. Soldiers wear steel helmets; firemen wear leather helmets. n.

Modern Soldiers' helmets Medieval hel minth (hel'minth), an intestinal worm, such as the tapeworm, roundworm, etc. n.

helms man (helmz'mən), man who steers a ship. n., pl. helmsmen.

hel ot (hel'ət or hē'lət), slave; serf. n.

help (help), 1. provide with what is needed or useful: help a person with one's money. 2. thing done or given in helping. 3. aid; assist: help someone with his work. 4. give aid or assistance: We could finish the job faster if he would help. 5. aid; assistance. 6. person or thing that helps; helper. 7. a hired helper or group of hired helpers. 8. make better; relieve: This medicine will help your cough. 9. means of making better; remedy. 10. prevent; stop: It can't be helped. 11. means of preventing or stopping. 12. avoid; keep from: He can't help yawning. 13. give food to; serve with food: Help her to some cake. 14. helping. 1,3,4,8,10,12,13 v., helped or (Archaic) holp, helped or (Archaic) hol pen, help ing; 2,5-7,9,11,14 n.

help but, avoid; fail to.

help oneself to, take when one wants.

help out, help; help in doing or getting.

so help me God! solemn oath that I am telling the truth.

help er (hel'pər), 1. person who helps; assistant; supporter. 2. thing that helps. n.

help ful (help'fəl), giving help; useful. adj. —help'fully, adv. —help'ful ness, n.

help ing (hel'pɪŋ), portion of food served to a person at one time. n.

help less (help'lis), 1. not able to help oneself; weak. 2. without help, protection, etc. adj. —help'less ly, adv.

help less ness (help'lis nis), being helpless: the helplessness of a little baby. n.

help mate (help'māt'), companion and helper; wife or husband. n.

help meet (help'mēt'), helpmate. n.

Hel sing fors (hel'sing fōrz), Swedish name of Helsinki. n.

Hel sin ki (hel'sing kē), seaport and capital of Finland. 454,000. See Leningrad for map. n.

hel ter-skel ter (hel'tər skel'tər), 1. with headlong, disorderly haste: The children ran helter-skelter when the dog rushed at them. 2. noisy and disorderly haste, confusion, etc. 3. carelessly hurried; disorderly; confused. 1 adv., 2 n., 3 adj.

helve (helv), Esp. Brit. handle of an ax, hammer, etc. n.

hem¹ (hem), 1. border or edge on a garment; edge made by folding over the cloth and sewing it down. 2. fold over and sew down the edge of (cloth): Amy hemmed six napkins. 3. border; edge. 1,3 n., 2 v., hemmed, hem ming.

hem in, around, or about, 1. surround on all sides. 2. keep from getting away or moving freely.

hem² (hem), 1. sound like clearing the throat, used to attract attention or show doubt or hesitation. 2. make a sound like clearing the throat. 3. hesitate in speaking. 1 interj., n., 2,3 v., hemmed, hem ming.

hem a tite (hem'ə tīt or hē'mə tīt), an important iron ore that is reddish-brown when powdered. n.

hemi-, prefix meaning: half, as in hemisphere.

he mip ter ous (hi mip'tər əs), belonging to a large group of insects that have pointed beaks for piercing and sucking, usually two pairs of wings, and have young differing little from adults. Bedbugs, chinch bugs, lice, and aphids belong to this group. adj.

hemisphere (hem'ə sfr), 1. half of a sphere or globe. 2. half of the earth's surface. North America and South America are in the Western Hemisphere. Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia are in the Eastern Hemisphere. All countries north of the equator are in the Northern Hemisphere. n.

hemispherical (hem'ə sfer'ə kl), 1. shaped like a hemisphere. 2. of a hemisphere. adj.

hemistich (hem'ə stik), 1. half a line of verse, especially the part of a verse preceding or following the caesura. 2. an incomplete line or line of verse having less than the usual length. n.

hemlock (hem'lok), 1. Esp. Brit. a poisonous plant with spotted stems, finely divided leaves, and small white flowers. It belongs to the same family as the carrot. 2. poison made from it. 3. U.S. an evergreen tree of the same family as the pine, with small cones and drooping branches. Bark from hemlocks is used in tanning. 4. its wood. n.

hemoglobin (hē'mə glō'bən or hem'ə glō'bən), the protein matter in the red corpuscles of the blood that carries oxygen from the lungs to the tissues, and carbon dioxide from the tissues to the lungs. n.

hemophilia (hē'mə fil'ē ə or hem'ə fil'ē ə), an inherited condition in which the blood does not clot normally, resulting in excessive bleeding after the slightest cut. n.

hemorrhage (hem'ə rij), discharge of blood. A nosebleed is a mild hemorrhage. n.

hemorrhoids (hem'ə roizd), painful swellings formed by the dilation of blood vessels near the anus; piles. n.pl.

hemp (hemp), 1. a tall Asiatic plant whose tough fibers are made into heavy string, rope, coarse cloth, etc. 2. the tough fibers of this plant. 3. hashish or other drug obtained from some kinds of hemp. n.

hempen (hem'pən), 1. made of hemp. 2. like hemp. adj.

hemstitch (hem'stich'), 1. hem along a line from which threads have been drawn out, gathering the cross threads into a series of little groups. 2. the stitch used. 3. ornamental needlework made by hemstitching. 1 v., 2, 3 n.

Hemstitching

hen (hen), 1. a female domestic fowl: a hen and her chickens. 2. female of other birds: a hen sparrow. n. —hen'like', adj.

henbane (hen'bān'), a coarse, bad-smelling plant with sticky, hairy leaves and clusters of yellowish-brown flowers. It is poisonous to fowls. n.

hence (hens), 1. as a result of this; therefore: It is very late, hence you must go to bed. 2. from now; from this time onward: years hence. 3. from this source or origin. 4. from here. 5. from this world. adv.

hence! go away!

hence with! take away.

henceforth (hens'fōrth'), from this time on; from now on. adv.

henceforward (hens'fōr'wārd), henceforth. adv.

henchman (hench'mən), 1. a trusted attendant or follower. 2. an obedient, unscrupulous follower. n., pl. henchmen.

hen coop (hen'küp'), coop for hens. n.

henequen or henequin (hen'ə kin), 1. a yellow fiber from leaves of an agave of Yucatán, used for making binder twine, ropes, coarse fabrics, etc. 2. plant that yields this fiber. n.

henhouse (hen'hous'), house for poultry. n.

henna (hen'ə), 1. a dark, reddish-orange dye used on the hair. 2. a small thorny tree of Asia and Africa from whose leaves this dye is made. 3. reddish brown. 4. dye or color with henna. 1-3 n., 3 adj., 4 v., hennaed, hennaing.

Hennepin (hen'ə pin), Louis, 1640?-1701?, Belgian Catholic missionary in America who explored the upper Mississippi River. n.

henery (hen'ər ē), place where fowls are kept. n., pl. henneries.

henpeck (hen'pek'), domineer over: He was henpecked by his wife. v.

Henry (hen'rē), 1. Patrick, 1736-1799, American patriot, orator, and statesman. 2. Cape, cape in SE Virginia at the entrance to Chesapeake Bay. n.

henry (hen'rē), unit of inductance. When a current varying at the rate of one ampere per second induces an electromotive force of one volt, the circuit has an inductance of one henry. n., pl. henries or henrys.

Henry IV, 1553-1610, king of France from 1589 to 1610. He was known as "Henry of Navarre."

Henry VIII, 1491-1547, king of England from 1509 to 1547. He established the Church of England with himself as its head.

hepatic (hi pat'ik), 1. of or having to do with the liver. 2. acting on the liver as a medicine. 3. liver-colored. adj.

hepatoca (hi pat'ə kə), a low plant with delicate purple, pink, or white flowers that bloom early in the spring. n.

hepcat (hep'kat'), Slang. 1. performer in a swing band. 2. an informed admirer of swing music. n.

Hephaestus (hi fes'təs), the Greek god of fire and metalworking, identified by the Romans with Vulcan. n.

heptagon (hep'tə gon), a plane figure having seven angles and seven sides. n.

heptagonal (hep tag'ə nl), having the form of a heptagon. adj.

Heptagon

her (hēr; unstressed hēr or ər), 1. the objective case of she: I like her. 2. the possessive form of she: of her; belonging to her; done by her: her look, her book, her work. 1 pron., 2 adj.

Hera (hir'ə), a Greek goddess, wife of Zeus and queen of gods and men, identified by the Romans with Juno. She was the special goddess of women and marriage. n. Also, Here.

Hercules (her'ə klēz), Hercules. n.

herald (her'əld), 1. formerly, an officer who carried messages, made announcements, arranged and supervised tournaments and other public ceremonies, and regulated the use of armorial bearings. 2. messenger; person who carries messages and makes announcements. Herald is often used as the name of a newspaper. 3. bring news of; announce: The newspapers heralded the arrival of the army. 4. forerunner; harbinger: Dawn is the herald of day. 5. go before and announce the coming of. 6. official in Great Britain, etc., who has authority over coats of arms and keeps a record of families that have them. 1, 2, 4, 6 n., 3, 5 v.

heraldic (he ral'dik), of or having to do with heraldry or heralds. adj.

heraldry (her'əld rē), 1. science or art dealing with coats of arms. Heraldry deals with a person's right to use a coat of arms, traces family descent, makes up a coat of arms for a new country, etc. 2. a heraldic device; collection of such devices. 3. coat of arms. 4. ceremony or pomp connected with the life of noble families. n., pl. heraldries.

herb (ərb or hərb), 1. plant whose leaves or stems are used for medicine, seasoning, food, or perfume. Sage, mint, and lavender are herbs. 2. a flowering plant whose stems live only one season. Herbs do not form woody tissue as shrubs and trees do, though their roots may live many years. Peonies, buttercups, corn, wheat, cabbage, lettuce, etc., are herbs. n.

herbaceous (hēr bā'shəs), 1. of an herb; like an herb; having stems that are soft and not woody. 2. like a leaf; green. adj.

herbage (ēr'bij or hēr'bij), 1. herbs collectively. 2. grass. 3. the green leaves and soft stems of plants. n.

herbal (hēr'bl or ēr'bl), 1. of herbs. 2. book about herbs. 1 adj., 2 n.

her bar i um (hēr bār'ē əm), 1. collection of dried plants systematically arranged. 2. room or building where such a collection is kept. n., pl. her bar i ums, her bar i a (-bār'ē ə).

Her bert (hēr'bært), Victor, 1859-1924, American composer of operettas, born in Ireland. n.

her biv o rous (hēr biv'ə rəs), feeding on grass or other plants. Cattle are herbivorous animals. adj.

Her cu la ne um (hēr'kyə lā'nē əm), an ancient city in SW Italy, near Naples. It was buried by an eruption of Mount Vesuvius in 79 A.D. n.

her cu le an or Her cu le an (hēr kū'lē ən), 1. of great strength, courage, or size; very powerful. 2. requiring great strength, courage, or size; very hard to do. adj.

Her cu les (hēr'kyə lēz), 1. in Greek and Roman mythology, a hero famous for his great strength. 2. a northern constellation. n. Also, Heracles.

herd (hērd), 1. number of animals together: a herd of cows, a herd of horses, a herd of elephants. 2. a large number of people. 3. the common people; rabble. 4. join together; flock together. 5. form into a flock, herd, or group. 6. tend or take care of (cattle, sheep, etc.). 7. keeper of a herd, as in cowherd, *goat*herd. 1-3, 7 n., 4-6 v.

herd er (hēr'dər), herdsman. n.

herds man (hērdz'mən), man who takes care of a herd. n., pl. herds men.

here (hir), 1. in this place; at this place: Place it here. Here the speaker paused. 2. to this place: Come here. 3. this place. 4. at this time; now. 5. in this life. 6. this life. 7. Here is used to call attention to some person or thing: My friend here can help you. 1, 2, 4, 5, 7 adv., 3, 6 n. here! answer showing that one is present when roll is called.

here and there, in this place and that; at intervals.

here below, on earth; in this life.

neither here nor there, not to the point; off the subject; unimportant.

He re (hēr'ē), Hera. n.

here a bout (hir'ə bout'), about this place; around here; near here. adv.

here a bouts (hir'ə bouts'), hereabout. adv.

here af ter (hir af'tər), 1. after this; in the future. 2. the future. 3. in life after death. 4. life after death. 1, 3 adv., 2, 4 n.

here at (hir at'), 1. when this happened; at this time. 2. because of this. adv.

here by (hir bī'), by this means; in this way: The license said, "You are hereby given the right to hunt and fish in Dover County." adv.

he red i ta ble (hə red'ə tə bl), that can be inherited. adj.

he red i tar y (hə red'ə ter'ē), 1. coming by inheritance: "Prince" is a hereditary title. 2. holding a position by inheritance: The queen of England is a hereditary ruler. 3. transmitted or caused by heredity: Color blindness is hereditary. 4. having to do with inheritance or heredity. adj.

he red i ty (hə red'ə tē), 1. the fact that one generation of plants and animals produces the next. 2. the transmission of genetic physical or mental characteristics from parent to offspring. 3. qualities that have come to offspring from parents. 4. tendency of offspring to be like the parents. n., pl. he red i ties.

Here ford (hēr'fərd or her'ə fərd), one of a breed of beef cattle having a red body, white face, and white markings under the body. n.

here in (hir in'), 1. in this place. 2. in this matter; in this way. adv.

here in af ter (hir'in af'tər), afterward in this document, statement, etc. adv.

here in be fore (hir'in'bi fôr'), before in this document, statement, etc. adv.

here in to (hir in'tü), 1. into this place. 2. into this matter. adv.

here of (hir ov' or hir uv'), of this; about this. adv.

here on (hir on'), 1. on this. 2. immediately after this. adv.

her e sy (her'ə sē), 1. belief different from the accepted belief of a church, school, profession, etc. 2. the holding of such a belief. n., pl. her e sies.

her e tic (her'ə tik), 1. person who holds a belief that is different from the accepted belief of his church, school, profession, etc. 2. holding such a belief. 1 n., 2 adj.

he ret i cal (hə ret'ə kl), 1. of or having to do with heresy or heretics. 2. containing heresy; characterized by heresy. adj. —he ret'i cal ly, adv.

here to (hir tü'), to this place, thing, etc. adv.

here to fore (hir'tə fôr'), before this time; until now. adv.

here un to (hir'un tü'), to this. adv.

here up on (hir'ə pon'), 1. upon this. 2. immediately after this. adv.

here with (hir wiθ' or hēr with'), 1. with this. 2. by this means; in this way. adv.

her it a ble (her'ə tə bl), 1. capable of being inherited. 2. capable of inheriting. adj.

her it age (her'ə tij), what is or may be handed on to a person from his ancestors; inheritance. n.

her maph ro dite (hēr maf'rə dīt), animal or plant having the reproductive organs of both sexes. n.

hermaphrodite brig, ship with two masts, square-rigged forward and schooner-rigged aft.

Her mes (hēr'mēz), a Greek god who was the messenger of Zeus and the other gods, identified by the Romans with Mercury. He was the god of boundaries and roads, of science and invention, of eloquence, luck, and cunning, and the patron of thieves. n.

her met ic (hēr met'ik), closed tightly so that air cannot get in; airtight. adj. —her-met'i cal ly, adv.

her mit (hēr'mit), person who goes away from other people and lives by himself. He often lives a religious life. n. —her'mit like, adj.

her mit age (hēr'mə tij), 1. home of a hermit. 2. place to live away from other people. n.

hermit crab, a soft-bodied crab that uses the empty shells of snails, whelks, etc., as portable shelters.

hermit thrush, a brown thrush of North America, with spotted breast and reddish tail, noted for its song.

Her mon (hēr'mən), Mount, mountain in SW Syria. 9200 ft. n.

her ni a (hēr'nē ə), protrusion of a part of the intestine or some other organ through a break in its surrounding walls; rupture. n., pl. her-ni as, her ni ae (-nē ē).

he ro (hir'ō), 1. man or boy admired for his bravery, great deeds, or noble qualities: George Washington is one of our great heroes. 2. the most important male person in a story, play, poem, etc. 3. man of more than human qualities, favored by the gods. Hercules and Achilles were heroes. n., pl. he roes.

He ro (hir'ō), in Greek legend, a priestess of Aphrodite. Her lover, Leander, swam the Hellespont nightly to visit her and was drowned. Hero killed herself because of his death. n.

Her od (her'əd), in the Bible, 73?-4 B.C., king of the Jews from 37? to 4 B.C. when Jesus was born. He was called "Herod the Great." n.

Herod An ti pas (an'tə pas), in the Bible, ruler of Galilee from 4 B.C. to 39 A.D., son of Herod the Great.

Hermit crab
(1 to 6 in. long)

Hermit thrush
(about 7 in. long)

He ro di as (hə rō'dē əs), in the Bible, the second wife of Herod Antipas. She caused the death of John the Baptist. Matthew 14:3-11. n.

He rod o tus (hə rōd'ə təs), 484?-425 B.C., Greek historian. He is called the father of history. n.

he ro ic (hi rō'ik), 1. like a hero, his deeds, or his qualities; brave; great; noble. 2. of or about heroes and their deeds: The "Iliad" and the "Odyssey" are heroic poems. 3. unusually daring or bold: Only heroic measures could save the town from the flood. 4. unusually large; larger than life size. 5. a heroic poem. 1-4 adj., 5 n. —he ro'ic al ly, adv.

heroic age, time when the heroes of ancient Greece are supposed to have lived.

he ro i cal (hi rō'ə kl), heroic. adj.

he ro ics (hi rō'iks), 1. high-sounding language. 2. words, feelings, or actions that seem grand or noble, but are only for effect. n.pl.

her o in (her'ō in), a poisonous, habit-forming drug made from morphine. n.

her o ine (her'ō in), 1. woman or girl admired for her bravery, great deeds, or noble qualities. 2. the most important female person in a story, play, poem, etc. n.

her o ism (her'ō iz əm), 1. actions and qualities of a hero or heroine; great bravery; daring courage. 2. a very brave act or quality. n.

her on (her'ən), a wading bird with a long neck, long bill, and long legs. n.

her pes (hēr'pēz), disease of the skin or mucous membrane characterized by clusters of blisters. n.

her pe tol o gy (hēr'pə tol'ə jē), branch of zoology dealing with reptiles. n.

Herr (her), German. 1. Mr.; Sir. 2. gentleman. n., pl. Her ren (her'ən).

her ring (her'ing), a small food fish of the N Atlantic. Herring are bony fish that have spineless fins, the ventral fins back of the pectorals, scaleless heads, and no fleshy fin back of the dorsal fin. n., pl. her rings or (esp. collectively) her ring.

her ring bone (her'ing bōn'),

1. having a zigzag pattern or arrangement. 2. a zigzag pattern or arrangement. 1 adj., 2 n.

H, herringbone masonry.

hers (hērz), 1. of her; belonging to her: This money is hers. 2. the one or ones belonging to her: Your answers are wrong; hers are right. pron.

her self (hēr self'), 1. the emphatic form of she or her: She herself did it. Mary herself bought the book. 2. the reflexive form of her: She hurt herself. 3. her real self: In those fits she is not herself. pron.

he's (hēz; unstressed ēz, iz, or hiz), he is.

hes i tance (hez'ə tans), hesitancy. n.

hes i tan cy (hez'ə tən sē), hesitation; doubt; indecision. n., pl. hes i tan cies.

hes i tant (hez'ə tənt), hesitating; doubtful; undecided. adj. —hes'i tant ly, adv.

hes i tate (hez'ə tāt), 1. fail to act promptly; hold back because one feels doubtful; be undecided; show that one has not yet made up one's mind: I hesitated about taking his side until I knew the whole story. 2. feel that perhaps one should not; be unwilling; not want: I hesitated to ask you; you were so busy. 3. stop for an instant; pause. 4. speak with stops or pauses. v., hes i tat ed, hes i tat ing.

hes i tat ing ly (hez'ə tāt'ing lē), with hesitation. adv.

hes i ta tion (hez'ə tāt'shən), 1. a hesitating; doubt; indecision; unwillingness; delay. 2. a speaking with short stops or pauses. n.

Hes per i des (hes per'ə dēz), in Greek mythology: 1. the four nymphs who guarded the golden apples of Hera. 2. garden where these apples were kept. n.pl.

Great blue heron (about 5 ft. tall)

Hes per us (hes'pər əs), Venus, when it appears as the evening star. n.

Hesse (hes or hes'ə), district in West Germany. n.

Hes sian (hesh'ən), 1. of Hesse or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Hesse. 3. U.S. a German soldier hired by England to fight against the Americans during the American Revolution. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Hessian boots, high boots with tassels, popular in England during the 19th century.

Hessian fly, a small, two-winged insect whose larvae are very destructive to wheat.

het er o dox (het'ər ə doks), rejecting the regularly accepted beliefs or doctrines; differing from an acknowledged standard; not orthodox. adj.

het er o dox y (het'ər ə dok'sē), 1. rejection of regularly accepted beliefs or doctrines; departure from an acknowledged standard; opposite of orthodoxy. 2. belief, doctrine, or opinion not in agreement with what is regularly accepted. n., pl. het er o dox ies.

het er o dyne (het'ər ə dīn), having to do with the production of sounds by combining radio oscillations of slightly different frequencies. adj.

het er o ge ne i ty (het'ər ə jə nē'ə tē), 1. a being heterogeneous; wide dissimilarity. 2. a heterogeneous element or part. n., pl. het er o ge ne i ties.

het er o ge ne ous (het'ər ə jē'nē əs), 1. different in kind; unlike; not at all similar; varied. 2. made up of unlike elements or parts; miscellaneous. adj. —het'er o ge'ne ous ly, adv.

het er o nym (het'ər ə nim'), word spelled the same as another but having a different sound and meaning. Example: lead, to conduct, and lead, a metal. n.

hew (hū), 1. cut with an ax, sword, etc.: He hewed down the tree. 2. cut into shape; form by cutting with an ax, etc.: hew stone for building, hew logs into beams. 3. make or produce with cutting blows: The knight hewed his way through the enemy. v., hewed, hewed or hewn, hew ing.

hew er (hū'ər), person or thing that hews. n.

hewn (hūn), hewed, a pp. of hew. v.

hex (heks), U.S. Informal. 1. practice witchcraft on; bewitch. 2. witch. 3. a magic spell. 1 v., 2,3 n.

hex a gon (hek'sə gon), a plane figure having six angles and six sides. n.

Hexagons

hex a go nal (heks ag'ə nl), 1. of a hexagon. 2. having the form of a hexagon. 3. having a hexagon as base or cross section. adj.

hex a he dral (hek'sə hē'drəl), having six faces. adj.

hex a he dron (hek'sə hē'drən), a solid figure having six faces. n., pl. hex a he drons, hex a he dra (-drə).

hex am e ter (heks am'ə tər), 1. of poetry, consisting of six feet or measures. 2. poetry having six feet or measures in each line. Example: "This is the for'est pri-me/val. The|mur'mur ing|pines and the|hem/locks." 1 adj., 2 n.

hex an gu lar (heks ang'gyə lər), having six angles. adj.

hex a pod (hek'sə pod), a true insect; arthropod having six feet. n.

hey (hā), sound made to attract attention, to express surprise, etc., or to ask a question: "Hey! stop!" interj.

hey day (hā'dā'), period of greatest strength, vigor, spirits, prosperity, etc. n.

Hez e ki ah (hez'ə kī'ə), in the Bible, a king of Judah. II Kings 18-20. n.

Hf., hafnium.

Hg., mercury.

H.I., Hawaiian Islands.

hi a tus (hī ā'təs), 1. an empty space; gap; space that needs to be filled. 2. a slight pause between two vowels that come together in successive syllables or words. There is a hiatus between the e's in preëminent. n., pl.

hi a tus es or hi a tus. Hi a wath a (hī'ə woth'ə or hē'ə woth'ə), young Indian brave who is the hero of Longfellow's poem Hiawatha. n.

hi ber nate (hī/bər nāt), 1. spend the winter in sleep or in an inactive condition, as bears, woodchucks, and some other wild animals do. 2. spend the winter. v., hi ber nate d, hi ber nate ing.

hi ber na tion (hī/bər nā/shən), a hibernating. n.

Hi ber ni a (hī bər/nē ə), Poetic. Ireland. n. —Hi ber/nian, n., adj.

hi bis cus (hə bis/kəs), plant, shrub, or tree of the same family as the mallow, with large, red, pink, or white, bell-shaped flowers. n.

hic cough (hik/up), hiccup. n., v.

hic cup (hik/up), 1. an involuntary catching of the breath. 2. catch the breath in this way. 1 n., 2 v.

hick o ry (hik/ə rē), 1. a North American tree of the same family as the walnut, whose hard nuts are good to eat. 2. its tough, hard wood. n., pl. hick o ries.

hid (hid), pt. and a pp. of hide¹. The dog hid his bone. The money was hid in a safe place. v.

hi dal go (hi dal/gō), a Spanish nobleman of the second class, not so high in rank as a grandee. n., pl. hi dal gos.

hid den (hid/n), 1. concealed; secret; mysterious; obscure: The story is about hidden treasure. 2. a pp. of hide¹. The moon was hidden behind a dark cloud. 1 adj., 2 v.

hide¹ (hīd), 1. put or keep out of sight; conceal: Hide it where no one else will know of it or know where it is. 2. cover up; shut off from sight: Clouds hide the sun. 3. keep secret: She hid her anxiety. 4. conceal oneself: I'll hide, and you find me. v., hid, hid den or hid, hid ing, —hid'er, n.

hide² (hīd), 1. skin of an animal, either raw or tanned. 2. a person's skin. 3. Informal. beat; thrash. 1, 2 n., 3 v., hid ed, hid ing, neither hide nor hair, nothing at all.

hide-and-see k (hid/n sēk/), a children's game in which some hide and others try to find them. n.

hide bound (hid/bound/), 1. with the skin sticking close to the bones. 2. narrow-minded and stubborn: He was too hidebound to accept new ideas even when they were good. adj.

hide ous (hid/ē əs), very ugly; frightful; horrible: a hideous monster. adj. —hid'e ous ly, adv. —hid'e ous ness, n.

hide-out (hid/out/), place for hiding or being alone. n.

hid ing¹ (hid/ing/), 1. being hidden; concealment.

hid ing² (hid/ing/), Informal. a beating; thrashing. n.

hie (hī), hasten; go quickly. v., hied, hie ing or hy ing.

hi er ar chi cal (hī/ər ār/kə kl), of a hierarchy; having to do with or belonging to a hierarchy. adj.

hi er ar chy (hī/ər ār/kē), 1. organization of persons or things that has higher and lower ranks. 2. government by priests. 3. group of church officials of different ranks. The church hierarchy is composed of archbishops, bishops, priests, etc. n., pl. hi er ar chies.

hi er o glyph ic (hī/ər ə glīf/ik), 1. picture of an object standing for a word, idea, or sound; character or symbol standing for a word, idea, or sound. The ancient Egyptians used hieroglyphics instead of an alphabet like ours. 2. of or written in hieroglyphics. 3. any writing that uses hieroglyphics. 4. a secret symbol. 5. symbolical. 6. letter or word that is hard to read. 7. hard to read. 1, 3, 4, 6 n., 2, 5, 7 adj. —hi'er o glyph'i cal ly, adv.

hieroglyphics, writing that is hard to read.

Egyptian hieroglyphics

hi-fi (hī/fī/ for 1, hī/fī/ for 2), Informal. 1. high-fidelity. 2. high-fidelity reproduction of music or the equipment for this. 1 adj., 2 n.

hig gle (hig/1), dispute about terms in a petty way; haggle. v., hig gled, hig gling.

hig gle dy-pig gle dy (hig/1 dē pig/1 dē), 1. in jumbled confusion. 2. jumbled; confused. 3. jumble; confusion. 1 adv., 2 adj., 3 n.

high (hī), 1. of more than usual height; tall: a high building. 2. rising to a specified extent: The mountain is 20,000 feet high. 3. far above the ground or some base: an airplane high in the air. 4. extending to or done from a height: a high leap, a high dive. 5. above others in rank, quality, character, etc.: a high official. 6. greater, stronger, or better than average; great: high temperature. 7. most important; chief; main: the high altar. 8. extreme of its kind: high crimes. 9. costly: Strawberries are high in winter. 10. not low in pitch; shrill; sharp: a high voice. 11. advanced to its peak: high summer. 12. slightly tainted: Game is often eaten after it has become high. 13. haughty: a high manner. 14. at or to a high point, place, rank, amount, degree, price, pitch, etc.: The eagle flies high. 15. something that is high. 16. arrangement of gears to give the greatest speed. 1-13 adj., 14 adv., 15, 16 n.

fly high, have big ideas, plans, hopes, ambitions, etc.

high and dry, 1. up out of water. 2. all alone; without help.

high and low, everywhere.

on high, 1. high above; up in the air. 2. in heaven.

high born (hī/bōrn/), of noble birth. adj.

high boy (hī/boi/), a tall chest of drawers on legs. n.

high bred (hī/bred/), 1. of superior breeding or stock. 2. well-mannered; very refined. adj.

high brow (hī/brou/), Informal. 1. person who claims to care a great deal about knowledge and culture. 2. of or suitable for a highbrow. 1 n., 2 adj.

high-col ored (hī/kul/ərd), 1. having a high color; deep in color. 2. florid; red. adj.

high er-up (hī/ər up/), U.S. Informal. person occupying a superior position. n.

high-fi del i ty (hī/fī del/ə tē or hī/fā del/ə tē), indicating reproduction by a radio or phonograph of the full range of sound, or something approaching this, with a minimum of distortion. adj.

high-flown (hī/flōn/), 1. aspiring; extravagant. 2. attempting to be elegant or eloquent: high-flown compliments. adj.

high-fre quen cy (hī/frē/kwən sē), of a frequency having from 1.5 to 30 megacycles per second. adj.

high-grade (hī/grād/), of fine quality; superior. adj.

high hand, use of bold, arbitrary, domineering, or overbearing ways.

high-hand ed (hī/han/did), arbitrary; domineering; overbearing. adj. —high/-hand'ed ly, adv. —high/-hand'ed ness, n.

high hat, a tall black silk hat; top hat.

high-hat (hī/hat/), U.S. Slang. 1. treat as inferior; snub. 2. stylish; grand. 3. snobbish. 1 v., high-hat ted, high-hat ting; 2, 3 adj.

high jump, an athletic contest or event in which the contestants try to jump as high as possible.

high land (hī/lənd), 1. country or region that is higher and hillier than the neighboring country. 2. of or in such country. 1 n., 2 adj.

High land er (hī/lən dər), 1. native or inhabitant of the Highlands of Scotland. 2. soldier of a regiment from the Highlands of Scotland. n.

Highland fling, a lively dance of the Highlands of Scotland.

Highboy

High lands (hī'ləndz), a mountainous region in N and W Scotland. n. pl.

high light, 1. effect or representation of bright light. 2. part of a painting, photograph, etc., in which light is represented as falling with full force. 3. the most conspicuous or interesting part, event, scene, etc.

high light (hī'līt'), 1. cast a bright light on. 2. make prominent. v., high light ed, high light ing.

high ly (hī'lē), 1. in a high degree; very; very much. 2. favorably; with much approval; with great praise or honor. 3. at a high price. adv.

High Mass, a complete ritual of Mass with music. The priest chants the service, assisted by a deacon and subdeacon.

high-mind ed (hī'mīn'did), 1. having or showing high principles and feelings. 2. proud. adj. —high-mind ed ly, adv. —high-mind ed ness, n.

high ness (hī'nīs), being high; height. n.

High ness (hī'nīs), title of honor given to members of royal families; The Prince of Wales is addressed as "Your Highness" and spoken of as "His Royal Highness." n.

high noon, fully noon.

high-pitched (hī'pīcht'), 1. of high tone or sound; shrill. 2. having a steep slope. adj.

high-pow ered (hī'pou'ərd), having much power: a high-powered car, rifle, etc. adj.

high-pres sure (hī'pres'hər), 1. having or using more than the usual pressure. 2. Informal. using strong, vigorous methods. 3. Informal. use strong, vigorous methods in selling, etc. 1,2 adj., 3 v., high-pres sured, high-pres sur ing.

high priest, 1. a chief priest. 2. head of the ancient Jewish priesthood.

high road (hī'rōd'), 1. a main road; highway. 2. a direct and easy way. n.

high school, school attended after the elementary school —high-school', adj.

high seas, the open ocean. The high seas are outside the authority of any country.

high-sound ing (hī'soun'ding), having an imposing or pretentious sound. adj.

high-spir it ed (hī'spīr'ē tid), 1. proud. 2. courageous. 3. spirited; fiery. adj.

high spirits, happiness; cheerfulness; gaiety.

high-strung (hī'strung'), very sensitive; easily excited; nervous. adj.

high-test (hī'test'), 1. passing very difficult requirements and tests. 2. having a very low boiling point. High-test gasoline is used in automobiles during winter because it forms a vapor in the engine quickly. adj.

high tide, 1. the highest level of the tide. 2. time when the tide is highest. 3. the highest point.

high time, 1. time just before it is too late. 2. Informal. a gay, jolly time at a party, etc.

high-toned (hī'tōnd'), 1. high in tone or pitch. 2. having a high character or high principles; dignified. 3. Informal. fashionable; stylish. adj.

high treason, treason against one's ruler, state, or government.

high water, 1. the highest level of water. 2. high tide.

high-water mark, 1. the highest level reached by a body of water. 2. any highest point.

high way (hī'wā'), 1. a public road. 2. a main road or route. 3. a direct line or way to some end. n.

high way man (hī'wā'mən), man who robs travelers on the public road. n., pl. high way men.

hi jack (hī'jak'), U.S. Informal. rob or take by force, especially goods, liquor, etc., being transported illegally. v.

hi jack er (hī'jak'ər), Informal. robber; especially, one who robs bootleggers of liquor in transit. n.

hike (hīk), Informal. 1. take a long walk; tramp; march. 2. a march or tramp. 3. move, draw, or raise with a jerk. 4. an increase: a hike in prices. 5. raise; increase. 1,3,5 v., hiked, hik ing; 2,4 n. —hik'er, n.

hi lar i ous (hə lār'ē əs), very merry; noisily gay. adj. —hi lar'i ous ly, adv.

hi lar i ty (hə lār'ə tē), great mirth; noisy gaiety. n.

hill (hil), 1. a raised part on the earth's surface, not so big as a mountain. 2. a little heap or pile. Ants and moles make hills. The soil put over and around the roots of a plant is a hill. 3. a plant with a little heap of soil over and around its roots: a hill of corn. 4. put a little heap of soil over and around. 5. form into a little heap. 1-3 n., 4,5 v.

Hill (hil), James Jerome, 1838-1916, American railroad builder. n.

hill bil ly (hil'bil'ē), U.S. Informal. person who lives in the backwoods or a mountain region, especially in the South. n., pl. hill bil lies.

hill ock (hil'ək), a little hill. n.

hill side (hil'sid'), side of a hill. n.

hill top (hil'top'), top of a hill. n.

hill y (hil'ē), 1. having many hills: hilly country. 2. like a hill; steep: a hilly slope. adj., hill i er, hill i est. —hill'i ness, n.

hilt (hilt), handle of a sword, dagger, etc. n.

up to the hilt, thoroughly; completely.

hil lum (hī'ləm), mark or scar on a seed at the point of attachment to the seed vessel. The eye of a bean is a hilum. n., pl. hi la (-lə).

him (him; unstressed im), the objective of he: Take him home. Go to him. pron.

Him a la ya Mountains (him'ə lā'ə or hə māl'yə), Himalayas.

Him a la yan (him'ə lā'ən or hə māl'yən), of or having to do with the Himalayas. adj.

Him a la yas (him'ə lā'əz or hə māl'yəz), a mountain range extending for 1600 miles along the N borders of India and Pakistan. Their highest peak, Mt. Everest, 29,028 feet, is the highest mountain in the world. n. pl.

him self (him self' or, except when following a pause, im self'), 1. the emphatic form of he or him: He him-self did it. 2. the reflexive form of him: He hurt him-self. 3. his real self: He feels like him-self again. pron.

hind' (hind), back; rear. adj., hind er, hind most or hind er most.

hind (hind), a female deer, usually a female red deer after its third year. n., pl. hinds or (esp. collectively) hind.

hind (hind), Archaic or Brit. Dialect. 1. a farm worker. 2. peasant. n.

hind brain (hind'brān'), the back part of the brain. It includes the cerebellum and medulla oblongata. n.

Hin den burg (hin'dən bərg), Paul von, 1847-1934, German general and field marshal, president of Germany from 1925 to 1934. n.

hin der (hin'dər), keep back; hold back; get in the way of; make difficult; stop; prevent: Deep mud hin-dered him. v.

hind er (hind'ər), hind; back; rear. adj.

hind er most (hind'ər mōst), hindmost. adj.

Hin di (hin'dē), 1. an Indo-European vernacular language of N India, comprising various dialects. 2. form of Hindustani. n.

hind most (hind'mōst), nearest the rear; last. adj.

Hin doo (hin'dū), Hindu. n., pl. Hin doos; adj.

hind quar ter (hind'kwōr'tər), the hind leg and loin of a carcass of beef, lamb, etc. n.

hin drance (hin'drans), 1. person or thing that hinders; obstacle: Noise was a hindrance to our studying. 2. act of hindering. n.

hind sight (hind'sīt'), ability to see, after the event is over, what should have been done. n.

Hin du (hin'dū), 1. member of a native race of India. 2. having to do with the Hindu race, its language, or its religion. 3. person who believes in Hinduism. 1,3 n., pl. Hin dus; 2 adj.

Hindu-Arabic numerals, the figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 0. Also, Arabic numerals.

Hin du ism (hin'dü iz em), the religious and social system of the Hindus. n.

Hin du Kush Mountains (hin'dü küsh'), a mountain range in NE Afghanistan. The highest peak is 25,426 feet.

Hin du stan (hin'dü stän' or hin'dü stan'), 1. a Persian name for India. 2. part of India north of the Deccan. 3. a nation largely Hindu, as the Republic of India. n.

Hin du sta ni (hin'dü stä'nē or hin'dü stan'ē), 1. having to do with India, its people, or their languages. 2. the commonest language of India. 1 adj., 2 n.

hinge (hinj), 1. joint on which a door, gate, cover, lid, etc., moves back and forth. 2. a natural joint doing similar work: the hinge of the knee, the hinge of a clam. 3. furnish with hinges; attach by hinges. 4. hang or turn on a hinge. 5. that on which something turns or depends; central principle; critical point. 6. depend: The success of the picnic hinges on the kind of weather we will have. 1,2,5 n., 3,4,6 v., hinged, hinging.

hint (hint), 1. a slight sign; indirect suggestion: A black cloud gave a hint of a coming storm. 2. give a slight sign of; suggest indirectly: Nell hinted that she wanted to go to bed by saying, "Do you often stay up this late?" 1 n., 2 v. —hint'er, n.

hint at, give a hint of; suggest.

hin ter land (hin'tər land'), 1. land or district behind a coast; back country. 2. remote parts; background. n.

hip (hip), 1. the projecting part on a person where the leg joins the body; joint formed by the upper thighbone and pelvis. 2. a similar part in animals where the hind leg joins the body. n. —hip/like', adj. on the hip, at a disadvantage.

hip' (hip), pod containing the ripe seed of a rose bush. n.

hip bone (hip'bōn'), 1. the lower part of the pelvis on either side. See pelvis for diagram. 2. ilium. 3. ischium. n.

Hip poc ra tes (hi pok'rə tēz), 460?-357? B.C., Greek physician, called "the father of medicine." n.

Hip po crat ic (hip'ə krat'ik), of or having to do with Hippocrates. adj.

Hippocratic oath, a famous oath describing the duties and obligations of a physician, usually taken by those about to become physicians.

hip po drome (hip'ə drōm), 1. in ancient Greece and Rome, an oval track for horse races and chariot races, surrounded by tiers of seats for spectators. 2. arena or building for a circus, rodeo, etc. n.

hip po pot a mus (hip'ə pot'ə mäs), a huge, thick-skinned, hairless mammal often weighing as much as four tons, found in and near the rivers of Africa. Hippopotamuses feed on plants and can stay under water for a long time. n., pl. hip po pot-a mus es, hip po pot a mi (-mī).

hir cine (hēr'sin), of or having to do with goats; resembling a goat, especially in odor. adj.

hire (hīr), 1. pay for the use of (a thing) or the work or services of (a person): He hired a car, and a man to drive it. The storekeeper hired ten girls for the Christmas rush. 2. payment for the use of a thing or the work or services of a person: Some men fight for glory; some fight for hire. 3. give the use of (a thing) or the work or services of (a person) in return for payment. 4. a hiring. 1,3 v., hired, hir ing; 2,4 n.

for hire, for use or work in return for payment.

hire out, give one's work in return for payment.

on hire, for use or work in return for payment.

hire ling (hīr'ling), 1. person who works only for money, without interest or pride in the task. 2. person hired to do whatever another orders him to do. 3. to be had for hire; mercenary. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Hir o hi to (hīr'ō hē'tō), born 1901, emperor of Japan since 1926. n.

Hir o shi ma (hīr'ə shē'mə), seaport in W Japan, largely destroyed by the first military use of the atomic bomb on August 6, 1945. 431,000. n.

hir sute (hēr'süt), hairy. adj.

his (hiz; unstressed iz), 1. of him; belonging to him: This is his (pron.). This is his book (adj.). 2. the one or ones belonging to him: The others are not his. 1,2 pron., 1 adj.

His pa ni a (his pā'nē ə), Poetic. Spain. n.

His pan io la (his'pən yō'la), the second largest island in the West Indies, divided into the Dominican Republic and the republic of Haiti. 7,575,000 pop.; 30,046 sq. mi. n. Former name, Haiti.

hiss (his), 1. make a sound like ss: Air or steam rushing out of a small opening hisses. Geese and snakes hiss. 2. a sound like ss: Hisses were heard from many who disliked what the speaker was saying. 3. show disapproval of or scorn for by hissing. 4. force or drive by hissing: They hissed him off the stage. 5. say or show by hissing. 1,3-5 v., 2 n.

hist (hist), be still! listen! interj.

his ta mine (his'tə mēn), a substance released by the body in allergic reactions. It lowers the blood pressure. n.

his tol o gy (his tol'ə jē), science of the tissues of animals and plants; study of the tissues of animals and plants with the microscope. n.

his to ri an (his tō'rē ən), 1. person who writes about history. 2. scholar who is an authority on history. n.

his tor ic (his tōr'ik), 1. famous or important in history: Plymouth Rock and Bunker Hill are historic spots. 2. historical. adj.

his tor i cal (his tōr'ə kl), 1. of history; having to do with history: a historical town. 2. according to history; based on history: a historical novel. 3. known to be real or true; in history, not in legend: historical facts. 4. historic. adj.

his tor i cal ly (his tōr'ik lē), in the manner of history; according to history; as history; by way of narration. adv.

his to ry (his'tə rē), 1. statement of what has happened. 2. story of a man or a nation; systematic written account. 3. a known past: This ship has a history. 4. all past events considered together; course of human affairs. 5. a recording and explaining of past events. 6. study of such records. n., pl. his to ries.

his tri on ic (his'trē on'ik), 1. having to do with actors or acting. 2. theatrical; insincere. adj.

his tri on ics (his'trē on'iks), 1. dramatic representation; theatricals; dramatics. 2. a theatrical or insincere manner, expression, etc. n. sing. or pl.

hit (hit), 1. give a blow; strike; knock: He hit the ball with the bat. He hit his head against the shelf. 2. a blow; stroke. 3. get to (what is aimed at): His second arrow hit the bull's-eye. 4. a getting to what is aimed at. 5. come on; meet with; get to; reach; find: We hit the right road in the dark. 6. have a painful effect on; affect severely: The stockbroker was hard hit by the fall in stocks. 7. attack or criticize sharply: The reviews hit the new play. 8. a sharp attack or criticism. 9. a successful attempt, performance, or production. A play, book, or song that many people like is a hit. 10. a stroke of luck. 11. a clever expression or saying. 12. agree with; suit ex-

Hinge on a door

Rose hip

Hippopotamus (about 13 ft. long)

actly: This hits my fancy. 13. baseball struck so that the batter can get to first base safely, and perhaps further. 1,3,5-7,12 v., hit, hit ting; 2,4,8-11,13 n. hit it off, agree; get along well together. hit off, 1. imitate. 2. represent or describe cleverly. hit on or upon, 1. come on; meet with; get to. 2. find, especially by accident; guess correctly.

hit or miss, whether one succeeds or fails; regardless of results; by chance; at random.

hitch (hich), 1. fasten with a hook, ring, rope, strap, etc.: He hitched his horse to a post. 2. harness to a wagon, carriage, etc.: The farmer hitched up his team and drove to town. 3. become fastened or caught; fasten; catch. 4. a fastening; catch: The hitch joining the plow to the tractor is broken. 5. move or pull with a jerk; move jerkily: He hitched his chair nearer the fire. 6. a short, sudden pull or jerk; jerky movement: The sailor gave his trousers a hitch. 7. limp; hobble. 8. obstacle; hindrance: A hitch in their plans made them miss the train. 9. kind of knot used for temporary fastening. 1-3,5,7 v., 4,6-9 n.

without a hitch, smoothly; successfully.

hitch hike (hich/hik'), Informal. travel by walking and getting free rides from passing automobiles. v., hitch hiked, hitch hik ing. —hitch/hik'er, n.

hith er (hih'n'ər), 1. to this place; toward this place; here. 2. on this side; nearer. 1 adv., 2 adj.

hith er most (hih'n'ər mōst), nearest. adj.

hith er to (hih'n'ər tū'), up to this time; until now. adv.

hith er ward (hih'n'ər wərd), toward this place; hither. adv.

hith er wards (hih'n'ər wərdz), hitherward. adv.

Hit ler (hit'lər), Adolf, 1889-1945, German dictator, born in Austria, chancellor of Germany from 1933 to 1945. He was called "Der Führer," which means "the Leader." n.

Hit ler ism (hit'lər iz əm), program and teachings of the political party founded in Germany by Hitler and others in 1919 and 1920. n.

Hit ler ite (hit'lər it), supporter of Hitler. n.

Hit tite (hit'it), 1. member of an ancient people in Asia Minor and Syria. Their civilization existed from about 2000 B.C. until about 1200 B.C. 2. of or having to do with the Hittites or their language. 3. language of the Hittites. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

hive (hiv), 1. house or box for bees to live in. 2. a large number of bees living together: The whole hive was busy. 3. put (bees) in a hive. 4. enter a hive. 5. store up (honey) in a hive. 6. lay up for future use. 7. a busy, swarming place full of people or animals. 8. a swarming crowd. 9. live close together as bees do. 1,2,7,8 n., 3-6,9 v., hived, hiving.

hives (hivz), disease in which the skin itches and shows patches of red. n.

H.M., 1. His Majesty. 2. Her Majesty.

H.M.S., 1. His Majesty's Ship. 2. Her Majesty's Ship. 3. His Majesty's Service. 4. Her Majesty's Service.

ho (hō), 1. exclamation of scornful laughter, joy, or surprise. 2. exclamation to attract attention. interj.

Ho, holmium.

hoar (hōr), hoary. adj.

hoard (hōrd), 1. save and store away: A squirrel hoards nuts for the winter. The miser hoarded his money. 2. what is saved and stored away; things stored: The squirrel kept his hoard in a tree. 1 v., 2 n. —hoard'er, n.

hoar frost (hōr'frōst'), white frost. n.

hoar hound (hōr'hound'), horehound. n.

hoarse (hōrs), 1. sounding rough and deep: the hoarse sound of the bullfrog. 2. having a rough voice: A bad cold has made him hoarse. adj., hoars er, hoars est. —hoarse/ly, adv. —hoarse/ness, n.

hoar y (hōr'ē), 1. white or gray: hoary hair. 2. white or gray with age. 3. old; ancient. adj., hoar i er, hoar i est. —hoar'i ness, n.

hoar y-head ed (hōr'ē hed'id), having white or gray hair. adj.

hoax (hōks), 1. a mischievous trick; especially, a made-up story: The report of an attack on the earth from Mars was a hoax. 2. play a mischievous trick on; deceive in jest or in malice. 1 n., 2 v. —hoax'er, n.

hob¹ (hob), 1. shelf at the back or side of a fireplace. 2. peg at which quoits, etc., are thrown. n.

hob² (hob), hobgoblin; elf. n.

play hob or raise hob, Informal. cause trouble.

Ho bart (hō'bärt), capital of Tasmania. 111,000. n.

hob ble (hob'l), 1. walk awkwardly; limp: The wounded man hobbled away. 2. cause to walk awkwardly or limp. 3. an awkward walk; limp. 4. move unsteadily. 5. tie the legs of (a horse, etc.) together. 6. rope or strap used to hobble a horse, etc. 7. hinder. 8. an awkward or difficult situation. 1,2,4,5,7 v., hob bled, hob bling; 3,6,8 n.

hob ble de hoy (hob'l dē hoi'), 1. youth between boyhood and manhood. 2. an awkward, clumsy boy. n.

hob by (hob'ē), something a person especially likes to work at or study apart from his main business; any favorite pastime, topic of conversation, etc.: Growing roses is her hobby. n., pl. hob bies.

ride a hobby, give too much time or attention to one's hobby.

hob by horse (hob'ē hōrs'), 1. stick with a horse's head, used as a toy horse by children. 2. rocking horse. n.

hob gob lin (hob'gob'lən), 1. goblin; elf. 2. bogy. n.

hob nail (hob'nāl'), a short nail with a large head to protect the soles of heavy shoes. n. Hobnails hob nob (hob'nob'), 1. associate intimately; talk together on familiar terms. 2. drink together. v., hob-nobbed, hob nob bing.

ho bo (hō'bō), U.S. tramp. n., pl. ho bos or ho boes.

Ho bo ken (hō'bō kən), city in NE New Jersey, near New York City. 48,000. n.

Hob son's choice (hob'sənz), choice of taking the thing offered or nothing.

Ho Chi Minh (hō'chē' min'), born 1892, Vietnamese Communist leader, president of North Vietnam since 1945.

hock¹ (hok), joint in the hind leg of a horse, cow, etc., above the fetlock joint. See fetlock for picture. n. Also, hough.

hock² (hok), U.S. Slang. pawn. v., n.

hock ey (hok'ē), game played by two teams on ice or on a field. The players hit a rubber disk or ball with curved sticks to drive it across a goal. n.

ho cus (hō'kəs), 1. play a trick on; hoax; cheat. 2. stupefy with drugs. 3. put drugs in (alcoholic drink). v., ho cused, ho cus ing or esp. Brit. ho cussed, ho-cus ing.

ho cus-po cus (hō'kəs pō'kəs), 1. form of words used in conjuring. 2. sleight of hand; magic.

3. trickery; deception. n.

hod (hod), 1. trough or tray with a long handle, used for carrying bricks, mortar, etc., on the shoulder. 2. coal scuttle. n.

hodge podge (hoj'poj'), a disorderly mixture; mess; jumble. n.

hoe (hō), 1. tool with a small blade set across the end of a long handle, used to loosen soil and cut weeds. 2. loosen, dig, or cut with a hoe. 3. use a hoe. 1 n., 2,3 v., hoed, hoe ing. —ho'er, n.

hoe cake (hō'kāk'), U.S. kind of bread made of corn meal. n.

hog (hog), 1. pig. 2. a full-grown pig, raised for food. 3. Informal. a selfish, greedy, or dirty person. 4. Slang. take more than one's share of. 1-3 n., 4 v., hogged, hog ging.

Hives for bees

Man carrying a hod of mortar go the whole hog, Slang. go to the limit; do something thoroughly.

hog an (hō'gən), dwelling used by the Navaho Indians. Hogans are mounded over with earth, and have an opening in the top through which smoke from the fire can escape. n.

hog back (hog'bak'), a low, sharp ridge with steep sides. n.

hog gish (hog'ish), 1. like a hog; very selfish; greedy. 2. dirty; filthy. adj. —hog'gish ly, adv. —hog'gish-ness, n.

hog nose snake (hog'nōz'), a harmless North American snake with an upturned snout.

hogs head (hogz'hed), 1. a large barrel that contains from 100 to 140 gallons. 2. a liquid measure equal to 63 gallons. n.

hog wash (hog'wosh'), 1. refuse given to hogs; swill. 2. worthless stuff; nonsense. n.

Hoh en zol lern (hō'ən zol'ərn), the German princely family that includes the kings of Prussia from 1701 to 1918, and the emperors of Germany from 1871 to 1918. n.

hoi pol loi (hoi' pə loi'), ordinary people when considered to be without culture or polish.

hoist (hoist), 1. raise on high; lift up, often with ropes and pulleys: hoist sails, hoist blocks of stone. 2. a hoisting; lift: He gave me a hoist up the wall. 3. elevator or other apparatus for hoisting heavy loads. 1 v., 2,3 n.

hoi ty-toi ty (hoi'tē toi'tē), 1. exclamation showing surprise and some contempt. 2. giddy; flighty. 3. giddy behavior; flightiness. 4. inclined to put on airs; haughty. 5. haughtiness. 1 interj., 2,4 adj., 3,5 n.

Hok kai do (hō'kī'dō), the second largest island in Japan. 4,775,000 pop.; 30,148 sq. mi. See Japan for map. n.

ho kum (hō'kəm), Slang. 1. elements of low comedy or crude humor introduced into a play or the like for the laughs they may bring. 2. sentimental matter similarly introduced merely for effect. 3. humbug; nonsense; bunk. n.

hold (hōld), 1. take in the hands or arms and keep; not let go; keep from getting away: Please hold my hat. Hold my watch while I play this game. 2. act of holding; release one's hold. 3. thing to hold by. 4. thing to hold something else with. 5. keep in some position or condition; force to keep: He will hold the paper steady while you draw. 6. keep from falling; support: He held his head in his hands. 7. not break, loosen, or give way: The dike held during the flood. 8. keep from acting; keep back: Hold your breath. 9. keep by force against an enemy; defend: Hold the fort. 10. keep or have within itself; contain: This theater holds 500 people. 11. have and keep as one's own; possess; occupy: hold an office. 12. have and take part in; carry on together: Shall we hold a meeting of the club? 13. keep or have in mind: hold a belief. 14. think; consider: People once held that the world was flat. 15. remain faithful or firm: He held to his promise. 16. be true; be in force or effect: The rule holds in all cases. 17. keep on; continue: The weather held warm. 18. a controlling force or influence: A habit has a hold on you. 19. decide legally: The court holds him guilty. 20. way of holding one's opponent in wrestling. 21. keep on singing or playing (a musical note). 22. sign for a pause in music. 23. prison. 24. Archaic. fort; stronghold. 1,5-17,19,21 v., held, hold or (Archaic) hold en, holding; 2-4,18,20,22-24 n.

hold back, 1. keep back; keep from acting. 2. avoid telling: He managed to hold back the truth without lying.

hold down, keep down; keep under control.

hold forth, 1. talk; preach (often used disparagingly). 2. offer.

hold in, 1. keep in; keep back. 2. restrain oneself.

hold off, keep at a distance; keep from acting or attacking.

hold on, Informal. 1. keep one's hold. 2. keep on; continue. 3. stop! wait a minute!

hold out, 1. continue; last. 2. keep resisting; not give in. 3. offer.

hold over, 1. keep for future action or consideration. 2. stay in office beyond the regular term.

hold up, 1. keep from falling; support. 2. show; display. 3. continue; last; endure. 4. stop. 5. Informal. stop by force and rob.

hold with, 1. side with. 2. agree with. 3. approve of.

lay or take hold of, 1. seize; grasp. 2. get control or possession.

hold¹ (hōld), interior of a ship below the deck. A ship's cargo is carried in its hold. n.

hold back (hōld'bak'), 1. thing that holds back; restraint; hindrance. 2. iron or strap on the shaft of a wagon, carriage, etc., to which the harness is attached, enabling a horse to hold back or to back the wagon, carriage, etc. n.

hold en (hōld'ən), Archaic. held, a pp. of hold¹. v.

holder (hōl'dər), 1. person who holds something. An owner or possessor of property is a holder. 2. thing to hold something else with. Pads of cloth are used as holders for lifting hot dishes. n.

hold ing (hōl'ding), 1. land; piece of land. 2. property in stocks or bonds. n.

holding company, company that owns stocks or bonds of other companies and often controls them.

hold up (hōld'up'), 1. U.S. Informal. act of stopping by force and robbing. 2. a stopping. n.

hole (hōl), 1. an open place: a hole in a stocking. 2. a hollow place: Rabbits dig holes in the ground to live in. 3. make holes in. 4. a small, dark, dirty place. 5. Informal. flaw; defect. 6. Informal. position hard to get out of; embarrassing position. 7. a small, round, hollow place to hit a golf ball into. 8. part of a golf course leading from a tee to such a place. A regular golf course consists of 18 holes. 9. hit or drive (a golf ball) into a hole. 10. cove; small harbor. 1,2,4-8, 10 n., 3,9 v., holed, hol ing.

burn a hole in one's pocket, make a person want very much to spend it.

hole out, hit a golf ball into a hole.

hole up, go into a hole for the winter.

make a hole in, use up a large amount of.

pick holes in, find fault with; criticize.

hol i day (hol'ə dā), 1. day when one does not work; day for pleasure and enjoyment: Labor Day and the Fourth of July are both holidays as specified by law. 2. Esp. Brit. vacation; period of rest or recreation. 3. suited to a holiday; gay. 4. holy day; religious festival. 1,2,4 n., 3 adj.

ho li ness (hō'lē nis), being holy. n.

Ho li ness (hō'lē nis), title used in speaking to or of the Pope. n.

hol la (hə lā'), hollo. interj., n., v.

Hol land (hol'ənd), the Netherlands, a small country in N Europe, west of Germany and north of Belgium. 11,417,000 pop.; 12,868 sq. mi. Capitals: The Hague and Amsterdam. n.

hol lan daise sauce (hol'ən dāz), a creamy sauce made from egg yolks, butter, lemon juice, and seasoning.

Hol land er (hol'ən dər), native or inhabitant of Holland; Dutchman. n.

Hol lands (hol'əndz), a strong gin made in Holland. n.

hol lo (hə lō'), 1. shout to attract attention. 2. shout of triumph. 3. call of greeting or surprise. 4. shout; call. 1-4 interj., n., pl. hol los; 4 v., hol loed, hol lo ing. Also, holla, hullo.

hol loa (hə lō'), hollo. interj., n., v.

hol low (hol'ō), 1. having nothing, or only air, inside; empty; with a hole inside; not solid: A tube or pipe is hollow. 2. bowl-shaped; cup-shaped: a hollow dish for vegetables. 3. a hollow place; hole: a hollow in the road.

4. make hollow; bend or dig out to a hollow shape: He hollowed a whistle out of a piece of wood. 5. become hollow. 6. valley: Sleepy Hollow. 7. as if coming from something hollow; dull: a hollow voice or groan. 8. not real or sincere; false; worthless: hollow promises, hollow joys. 9. deep and sunken: A starving person has hollow eyes and cheeks. 10. hungry. 11. Informal. thoroughly. 1,2,7-10 adj., 3,6 n., 4,5 v., 11 adv. —hol/low ly, adv. —hol/low ness, n.

beat all hollow, Informal. beat completely.

hollow out, form by hollowing.

hol low-eyed (hōl'ō id'), having eyes set deep in the head. adj.

hol ly (hōl'ē), 1. tree or shrub with shiny, sharp-pointed, green leaves and bright-red berries. 2. the leaves and berries used as Christmas decorations. n., pl. hol lies.

hol ly hock (hōl'ē hok), a tall plant of the same family as the mallow, with clusters of large showy flowers of various colors. n.

Hol ly wood (hōl'ē wūd), section of Los Angeles where many motion pictures are made. n.

holm¹ (hōm), 1. low, flat land by a stream. 2. a small island in a river or lake near a large island or the mainland. n.

holm² (hōm), holm oak. n.

Holmes (hōmz), 1. Oliver Wendell, 1809-1894, American author, humorist, and physician. 2. his son, Oliver Wendell, 1841-1935, American lawyer, an associate justice of the United States Supreme Court from 1902 to 1932. 3. Sherlock, detective with remarkable powers of observation and reasoning in A. Conan Doyle's stories. n.

hol mi um (hōl'mē əm), a rare metallic chemical element belonging to the yttrium group. Symbol: Ho n.

holm oak (hōm), an evergreen oak of southern Europe with leaves that look like holly.

hol o caust (hōl'ə kōst), 1. an offering all of which is burned. 2. complete destruction by fire, especially of animals or human beings. 3. great or wholesale destruction. n.

hol o graph (hōl'ə graf), 1. wholly written in the handwriting of the person in whose name it appears: a holograph will. 2. a holograph manuscript, letter, document, etc. 1 adj., 2 n.

help (hōlp), Archaic. helped, a pt. of help. v.

hol pen (hōl'pən), Archaic. helped, a pp. of help. v.

Hol stein (hōl'stīn or hōl'stēn), one of a breed of large black-and-white dairy cattle. n.

hol ster (hōl'stər), a leather case for a pistol, attached to a belt or a horseman's saddle. n.

ho ly (hō'lē), 1. belonging to God; set apart for God's service; coming from God; sacred: the Holy Bible, Holy Communion. 2. declared sacred by religious use and authority: a holy day. 3. like a saint; spiritually perfect; very good; pure in heart: a holy man. 4. worthy of reverence: The grave of the unknown soldier is a holy place. 5. a holy place. 1-4 adj., ho li er, ho li est; 5 n., pl. ho lies.

Holy City, 1. city considered sacred by the adherents of any religion. Jerusalem, Rome, and Mecca are Holy Cities. 2. heaven.

Holy Communion, 1. a sharing in the Lord's Supper as a part of church worship; a receiving of the Holy Eucharist. 2. celebration of the Lord's Supper.

holy day, a religious festival, especially one not occurring on Sunday. Ash Wednesday and Good Friday are holy days.

Holy Father, a title of the Pope.

Holy Ghost, spirit of God; third person of the Trinity.

Holy Grail, Grail.

Holy Land, Palestine.

holy of holies, 1. the holiest place. 2. the inner shrine of the Jewish tabernacle and temple.

Hol yoke (hōl'yōk), city in S Massachusetts, on the Connecticut River. 53,000. n.

holy orders, 1. the rite or sacrament of ordination.

2. the rank or position of an ordained Christian minister or priest. 3. the three higher ranks or positions in the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches. Bishops, priests, and deacons are members of holy orders.

take holy orders, become ordained as a Christian minister or priest.

Holy Roman Empire, empire in western and central Europe regarded both as the continuation of the Roman Empire and as the temporal form of a universal dominion whose spiritual head was the Pope. It began in 962 A.D., or, according to some, in 800 A.D., and ended in 1806.

Holy Roman Empire
(about 1360 A.D.)

Holy Rood, 1. cross on which Jesus died. 2. representation of it.

Holy Saturday, Saturday before Easter.

Holy Scripture, Bible.

Holy See, 1. position or authority of the Pope. 2. the Pope's court.

Holy Spirit, Holy Ghost.

ho ly stone (hō'lē stōn'), 1. piece of soft sandstone used for scrubbing the wooden decks of ships. 2. scrub with a holystone. 1 n., 2 v., ho ly stoned, ho ly ston ing.

Holy Thursday, Thursday before Easter.

holy water, water blessed by a priest.

Holy Week, week before Easter.

Holy Writ, the Bible; the Scriptures.

hom age (hōm'ij or om'ij), 1. respect; reverence; honor: Everyone paid homage to the great leader. 2. a formal acknowledgment by a vassal that he owed loyalty and service to his lord. 3. thing done or given to show such acknowledgment. n.

hom bre (ōm'brā), Spanish. man. n.

Home (hūm), Sir Alec Douglas. See Douglas-Home. n.

home (hōm), 1. place where a person or family lives; one's own house: Her home is at 25 South Street. 2. place where a person was born or brought up; one's own town or country: His home is New York. 3. place where an animal or plant lives. 4. place where a thing is very common: Alaska is the home of fur seals. 5. place where a person can rest and be safe. 6. place where people who are homeless, poor, old, sick, blind, etc., may live. 7. having to do with one's own home or country: Write me all the home events. 8. at, to, or toward one's own home or country: Go home. 9. goal in many games. 10. home plate in baseball. 11. to the place where it belongs; to the thing aimed at: strike home. 12. to the heart or center; deep in: drive a nail home. 13. effective; reaching its goal. 14. go home. 15. have a home. 16. furnish with a home. 1-6,9,10 n., 7,13 adj., 8, 11,12 adv., 14-16 v., homed, hom ing.

at home, 1. in one's own home or country. 2. in a friendly place or familiar condition; at ease; comfortable. 3. ready to receive visitors.

bring home, make clear, emphatic, or realistic.

see one home, escort to one's home.

home bred (hōm'bred'), 1. bred or reared at home; domestic. 2. not polished or refined; crude. adj.

home economics, science and art that deals with the management of a household.

home land (hōm'land'), country that is one's home; one's native land. n.

Holstein cow (about 51 in.
high at the shoulder)

Holster

home less (hōm'lis), having no home. adj.
home like (hōm'lik'), like home; friendly; familiar; comfortable. adj. —home/like/ness, n.
home ly (hōm'lē), 1. U.S. not good-looking; ugly; plain. 2. suited to home life; simple; everyday: homely pleasures, homely food. 3. of plain manners; unpretending: a simple, homely man. adj., home li er, home li est. —home/li ness, n.
home made (hōm'mād'), made at home. adj.
home mak er (hōm'māk'ər), woman who manages a home and its affairs; housewife. n.
ho me op a thy (hō'mē op'ə thē), method of treating disease by drugs, given in very small doses, which would in large doses produce in a healthy person symptoms similar to those of the disease. n.
home plate, the block or slab beside which a player stands to bat the ball in baseball, and to which he must return, after hitting the ball and rounding the bases, in order to score. See baseball for diagram.
hom er (hōm'ər), Informal. a home run in baseball. n.
Ho mer (hō'mər), 1. the great epic poet of ancient Greece. According to legend, Homer lived about the ninth century B.C. and was the author of the Iliad and the Odyssey. 2. Winslow, 1836-1910, American painter. n.
Ho mer ic (hō mer'ik), 1. by Homer. The Iliad and the Odyssey are the Homeric poems. 2. of or having to do with Homer or his poems. 3. in the style of Homer; having some characteristics of Homer's poems. 4. of or having to do with the age in Greek life from about 1200 to about 800 B.C. adj.
Homeric laughter, loud, hearty laughter.
home rule, management of the affairs of a country, district, or city by its own people; local self-government.
home run, run made by a baseball player on a hit that enables him, without aid from fielding errors of the opponents, to make the entire circuit of the bases without a stop.
home sick (hōm'sik'), ill or depressed because one is away from home; longing for home. adj. —home/-sick/ness, n.
home spun (hōm'spun'), 1. spun or made at home. 2. cloth made of yarn spun at home. 3. a strong, loosely woven cloth similar to it. 4. not polished; plain; simple: homespun manners. 1,4 adj., 2,3 n.
home stead (hōm'stēd), 1. house with its land and other buildings; farm with its buildings. 2. U.S. parcel of 160 acres of public land granted to a settler under certain conditions by the United States government. n.
home stead er (hōm'stēd'ər), 1. person who has a homestead. 2. settler granted a homestead by the United States government. n.
homestead law, 1. law protecting a homestead from seizure or forced sale for debt. 2. law granting each settler 160 acres of public land under certain conditions established by the United States government.
home stretch, 1. part of a track over which the last part of a race is run. 2. the last part.
home ward (hōm'wərd), toward home: We turned homeward (adv.). The ship is on her homeward course (adv.). adv., adj.
home wards (hōm'wərdz), homeward. adv.
home work (hōm'wərk'), 1. work done at home. 2. lesson to be studied or prepared outside the classroom. n.
home y (hōm'ē), Informal. like home; cozy and comfortable. adj., hom i er, hom i est.
hom i cid al (hōm'ə sīd'l), 1. having to do with homicide. 2. murderous. adj.
hom i cide (hōm'ə sīd), a killing of one human being by another. Intentional homicide is murder. n.
hom i ly (hōm'ə lē), 1. sermon, usually on some part of the Bible. 2. a serious moral talk or writing. n., pl. hom i lies.

homing pigeon, pigeon trained to fly home from great distances carrying written messages.
hom i ny (hōm'ə nē), corn hulled and coarsely ground or crushed, usually eaten boiled. n.
ho mo (hō'mō), man. n., pl. hom i nes (hōm'ə nēz).
ho mo ge ne i ty (hō'mə jə nē'ə tē), being homogeneous. n.
ho mo ge ne ous (hō'mə jē'nē əs), 1. of the same kind; similar. 2. composed of similar elements or parts. adj. —ho/mo ge/ne ous ly, adv.
ho mog e nize (hə moj'ə nīz), make homogeneous. In homogenized milk the fat is distributed evenly throughout the milk and does not rise to the top in the form of cream. v., ho mog e nized, ho mog e nizing.
hom o graph (hōm'ə graf), word having the same spelling as another, but a different origin and meaning. Mail, meaning "letters," and mail, meaning "armor," are homographs. n.
ho mol o gous (hō mol'ə gəs), 1. corresponding in position, proportion, value, structure, etc. 2. in biology, corresponding in type of structure and in origin. The wing of a bird and the foreleg of a horse are homologous. adj.
hom o logue (hōm'ə lōg), homologous thing, organ, or part. n.
ho mol o gy (hō mol'ə jē), 1. correspondence in position, proportion, value, structure, etc. 2. in biology, correspondence in type of structure and in origin. n., pl. ho mol o gies.
hom o nym (hōm'ə nim), word having the same pronunciation as another, but a different spelling and meaning. Meat and meet are homonyms. n.
hom o phone (hōm'ə fōn), 1. letter or symbol having the same sound as another. The letters c and k are homophones in the word cork. 2. homonym. n.
ho mop ter ous (hō mop'tər əs), belonging to a group of insects that have mouth parts adapted to sucking and wings of the same texture throughout. Aphids and cicadas are homopterous insects. adj.
Ho mo sa pi ens (hō'mō sā'pē ənz), man; human being; the species including all existing races of mankind.
ho mo sex u al (hō'mə sek'shū əl), 1. having to do with or manifesting sexual feelings for one of the same sex. 2. a homosexual person. 1 adj., 2 n.
Hon., 1. Honorable. 2. Honorary.
Hon du ras (hon dūr'əs or hon dyūr'əs), country in N Central America. 1,950,000 pop.; 43,277 sq. mi. Capital: Tegucigalpa. See Central America for map. n. —Hon du'ran, adj., n. hone (hōn), 1. a fine-grained whetstone on which to sharpen cutting tools, especially razors. 2. sharpen on a hone. 1 n., 2 v., honed, hon ing.
hon est (on'ist), 1. not lying, cheating, or stealing; fair and upright; truthful: an honest man. 2. obtained by fair and upright means; without lying, cheating, or stealing: honest profits. 3. not hiding one's real nature; frank; open: honest opposition. 4. not mixed with something of less value; genuine; pure: honest goods. adj. —hon'est ly, adv.
hon es ty (on'is tē), 1. fairness and uprightness. 2. truthfulness. 3. freedom from deceit or fraud. n.
hon ey (hun'ē), 1. a thick, sweet, yellow liquid, good to eat, that bees make out of the drops they collect from flowers. 2. drop of sweet liquid, found in many flowers, that draws bees to them. 3. sweetness. 4. of or like honey; sweet; dear. 5. darling; dear. 6. sweeten with or as with honey. 7. talk sweetly; flatter. 1-3,5 n., pl. hon eys; 4 adj., 6,7 v., hon eyed or hon ied, hon ey ing. —hon'-ey like', adj.
hon ey bee (hun'ē bē'), bee that makes honey. n.

Honeybee
(life size)

hon ey comb (hun'ē kōm'), 1. a structure of wax containing rows of six-sided cells formed by bees, in which to store honey, pollen, and their eggs. 2. anything like this. 3. like a honeycomb: a honeycomb weave of cloth, a honeycomb pattern in knitting. 4. make like a honeycomb. 5. pierce with many holes: The rock was honeycombed with passages. 6. weaken or harm by spreading through: That city is honeycombed with crime. 1,2 n., 3 adj., 4-6 v.

Honeycomb

hon ey dew (hun'ē dū' or hun'ē dū'), 1. a sweet substance on the leaves of certain plants in hot weather. 2. a sweet substance on leaves and stems, secreted by tiny insects called aphids. 3. honeydew melon. n.

honeydew melon, a variety of melon with sweet, green flesh and a smooth, whitish skin.

hon eyed (hun'ēd), 1. sweetened with honey: honeyed drinks. 2. laden with honey. 3. sweet as honey: honeyed words. adj. Also, honied.

honey locust, a thorny North American tree with long, divided leaves and large, flat pods containing sweet pulp.

hon ey moon (hun'ē mūn'), 1. vacation spent together by a newly married couple. 2. the first month of marriage. 3. spend or have a honeymoon. 1,2 n., 3 v. —hon'ey moon'er, n.

hon ey suck le (hun'ē suk'l), 1. any of various upright or climbing shrubs or vines. Some kinds have fragrant white, yellow, or red tubular flowers. 2. any of various similar plants. n.

Hong Kong or Hong kong (hong' kong'), 1. a British colony adjoining SE China. 2,919,000 pop.; 391 sq. mi. 2. its capital, a seaport; Victoria. 767,000. n.

hon ied (hun'ēd), 1. a pt. and a pp. of honey. 2. honeyed. 1 v., 2 adj.

honk (hongk), 1. cry of the wild goose. 2. any similar sound: the honk of an automobile. 3. make the cry of the wild goose or a similar sound. 1,2 n., 3 v. —honk'er, n.

Hon o lu lu (hon'ə lū'lū), seaport and capital of Hawaii, on the southern part of Oahu. 294,000. n.

hon or (on'ər), 1. glory; fame; renown. 2. credit for acting well; good name: It was greatly to his honor that he refused the reward. 3. source of credit; cause of honor: to be an honor to one's family, school, country, etc. 4. a nice sense of what is right or proper; sticking to action that is right or that is usual and expected. 5. great respect; high regard: held in honor. We pay honor to heroes. 6. act of respect: funeral honors. 7. rank; dignity; distinction: Knighthood is an honor. 8. respect greatly; regard highly. 9. show respect to. 10. confer dignity upon; be an honor to; favor: be honored by a royal visit. 11. chastity; virtue. 12. accept and pay (a bill, draft, note, etc.) when due. 1-7,11 n., 8-10,12 v. Also, esp. Brit. honour.

honors, 1. special favors or courtesies. 2. special mention, grade, or credit given to a student by a school, college, or university for unusually excellent work. 3. ace, king, queen, jack, and ten of trumps, or the four aces in no-trump, in the game of bridge.

do honor to, 1. show honor to; treat with great respect. 2. cause honor to; bring honor to.

do the honors, act as host or hostess.

Hon or (on'ər), title used in speaking to or of a judge, mayor, etc. n.

hon or a ble (on'ər ə bl), 1. having or showing a sense of what is right and proper; honest; upright: It was not honorable of him to cheat. 2. causing honor; bringing honor to the one that has it: honorable wounds. 3. worthy of honor; to be respected; noble: to perform honorable deeds. 4. showing honor or respect. 5. having a title, rank, or position of honor. adj. —hon'or a ble ness, n. —hon'or a bly, adv.

Hon or a ble (on'ər ə bl), title of respect before the names of certain officials and others. adj.

hon o rar i um (on'ə rār'ē əm), fee for professional services on which no fixed price is set. n., pl. hon o rar i ums, hon o rar i a (-rār'ē ə).

hon or ar y (on'ər er'ē), 1. given or done as an honor. 2. as an honor only; without pay or regular duties. Some associations have honorary secretaries, etc., as well as those who do the actual work. adj.

hon or if ic (on'ər if'ik), 1. doing or giving honor. 2. showing respect or deference. adj.

honors of war, special favors or courtesies shown to a brave but defeated enemy.

honor system, system of trusting people in schools and other institutions to obey the rules and do their work without being watched or forced.

hon our (on'ər), Esp. Brit. honor. n., v.

Hon shu (hon'shū), the main island of Japan. 66,000,000 pop.; 88,000 sq. mi. See Japan for map. n.

hood (hūd), 1. a soft covering for the head and neck, either separate or as part of a cloak: My raincoat has a hood. 2. anything like a hood in shape or use. 3. a metal covering over the engine of an automobile. 4. in falconry, a cover for the head of a hawk, used to blind the hawk when not pursuing game. 5. cover with a hood. 6. fold of cloth, banded with distinguishing colors to show what degrees are held, that hangs down over the gown worn by graduates of universities and colleges. 7. Slang. hoodlum. 1-4,6,7 n., 5 v. —hood'less, adj. —hood'like', adj.

Hood (hūd), 1. Mount, mountain in N Oregon. 11,253 ft. 2. Robin, legendary English outlaw of the 12th century. n.

-hood, suffix meaning:

1. state or condition of being, as in boyhood, likelihood.

2. character or nature of, as in manhood, sainthood.

3. group, body of, as in priesthood, a sisterhood of noble women.

hood ed (hūd'id), 1. having a hood. 2. shaped like a hood. adj.

hood lum (hūd'ləm), U.S. Informal. a young rowdy; street ruffian. n.

hoo doo (hū'dū), 1. Negro magic; voodoo. 2. Informal. person or thing that brings bad luck. 3. Informal. bad luck. 4. Informal. bring or cause bad luck to. 1-3 n., pl. hoo doos; 4 v., hoo dooed, hoo doo ing.

hood wink (hūd'wink), 1. mislead by a trick; deceive. 2. blindfold. v. —hood'wink er, n.

hoof (hūf or hūf), 1. a hard, horny covering on the feet of horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, and some other animals. 2. the whole foot of such animals. 3. Humorous. the human foot. 4. Informal. walk. 5. Slang. dance. 1-3 n., pl. hoofs or (Rare) hooves; 4,5 v. —hoof'er, n. —hoof'less, adj. —hoof'like', adj.

on the hoof, alive; not killed and butchered.

hoof beat (hūf'bēt' or hūf'bēt'), sound made by an animal's hoof. n.

hoofed (hūft or hūft), having hoofs. adj.

hook (hūk), 1. piece of metal, wood, or other stiff material, curved or having a sharp angle for catching hold of something or for hanging things on. 2. attach or fasten with a hook or hooks: Will you hook my dress for me? 3. join; fit; be fastened. 4. a curved piece of wire, usually with a barb at the end, for catching fish. 5. catch or take hold of with a hook. 6. catch (fish) with a hook. 7. give the form of a hook to. 8. anything curved or bent like a hook. 9. a large, curved knife for cutting down grass or grain. 10. a sharp bend: a hook in the river. 11. point of land. 12. be curved or bent like a hook. 13. act of hooking. 14. catch by a trick. 15. Informal. steal. 16. throw (a ball) so that it curves. 17. such a throw. 18. hit (a golf ball) widely to the left. 19. such a hit. 20. a short, swinging blow in boxing. 21. hit with such a blow. 22. line on the stem of certain musical notes. 1,4,8-11,13,17,19,20,22 n., 2,3,5-7,12,14-16,18,21 v. —hook'like', adj.

by hook or by crook, in any way at all; by fair means or foul.

hook up, 1. attach or fasten with a hook or hooks.

2. arrange and connect the parts of (a radio set, telephone, etc.).

on one's own hook, Informal. independently.

hook ah or hook a (hūk'ə), a tobacco pipe with a long tube by which the smoke is drawn through water and cooled. Hookahs are used in the Orient. n.

hook and eye, a small hook and loop used as a fastener.

hooked (hūkt'), 1. curved or bent like a hook. 2. having hooks. 3. made with a hook. adj.

hooked rug, U.S. rug made by pulling yarn or strips of cloth through a piece of canvas, burlap, etc.

Hook er (hūk'ər), 1. Joseph, 1814-1879, Union general during the Civil War. 2. Thomas, 1586?-1647, English clergyman, one of the founders of the colony of Connecticut. n.

hook up (hūk'up'), arrangement and connection of the parts of a radio set, telephone, radio-broadcasting facilities, etc. n.

hook worm (hūk'wərm'), 1. worm that gets into the intestines and causes a disease characterized by weakness and apparent laziness. 2. the disease. n.

hook y (hūk'ē). Play hooky means stay away from school without permission. n.

hoo li gan (hū'lə gən), Slang. one of a gang of street ruffians; hoodlum. n.

hoo li gan ism (hū'lə gən iz'əm), rough, noisy behavior; lawless fun. n.

hoop (hūp or hūp), 1. ring or flat band in the form of a circle: a hoop for holding the staves of a barrel. 2. fasten together with hoops. 3. a large wooden or iron circle to be rolled along the ground by a child. 4. a circular frame formerly used to hold a woman's skirt. 5. an iron arch or piece of wire shaped like a $\cap$ used in the game of croquet. 6. anything shaped like a hoop. 1,3-6 n., 2 v. —hoop/like', adj.

hoop skirt, 1. arrangement of flexible hoops connected by tapes, worn to expand a woman's skirt. 2. skirt worn over such a frame.

hoo ray (hū rā'), hurrah. interj., n., v.

Hoo sier (hū'zhər), U.S. native or inhabitant of Indiana. n.

hoot (hūt), 1. sound that an owl makes. 2. make the sound that an owl makes or one like it. 3. shout to show disapproval or scorn. 4. make a shout to show disapproval or scorn. 5. show disapproval of, or scorn for, by hooting: The audience hooted the speaker's plan. 6. force or drive by hooting: They hooted him off the platform. 7. say or show by hooting. 1,3 n., 2,4-7 v. —hoot/er, n.

Hoo ver (hū'vər), Herbert Clark, 1874-1964, the 31st president of the United States, from 1929 to 1933. n.

Hoover Dam, dam on the Colorado River between Arizona and Nevada. Also, Boulder Dam.

hooves (hūvz or hūvz), Rare. a pl. of hoof. n.

hop (hop), 1. spring, or move by springing, on one foot. 2. spring, or move by springing, with all feet at once: Many birds hop. 3. jump over: hop a ditch. 4. Informal. jump on (a train, car, etc.). 5. a hopping; spring. 6. Informal. fly across in an airplane. 7. Informal. flight in an airplane. 8. Informal. a dancing party. 9. Informal. dance. 1-4,6,9 v., hopped, hop-ping; 5,7-9 n.

hop² (hop), 1. vine having flower clusters that look like small, yellow pine cones. 2. pick hops. 3. flavor with hops. 1 n., 2,3 v., hopped, hop ping.

hops, the dried, ripe, flower clusters of the hop vine, used to flavor beer and other malt drinks.

hope (hōp), 1. a feeling that what one desires will

Man smoking a hookah

Hoop skirt

happen: His promise gave me hope. 2. wish and expect: You hope to do well in school this year. 3. person or thing that expectation centers in: He is the hope of the family. 4. thing hoped for. 1,3,4 n., 2 v., hoped, hop ing.

hope against hope, keep on hoping even though there is no good reason to have hope.

hope chest, chest in which a young woman collects articles that will be useful after she marries.

hope ful (hōp'fəl), 1. feeling or showing hope; expecting to receive what one wants. 2. causing hope; giving hope; likely to succeed. adj. —hope/ful ly, adv. —hope/ful ness, n.

young hopeful, boy or girl thought likely to succeed.

hope less (hōp'lis), 1. feeling no hope: He was disappointed so often that he became hopeless. 2. giving no hope: a hopeless illness. adj. —hope/less ly, adv. —hope/less ness, n.

Ho pi (hō'pē), member of a tribe of Pueblo Indians living largely in stone-built towns in N Arizona. n., pl. Ho pis.

hop per (hop'ər), 1. person or thing that hops. 2. grasshopper or other hopping insect. 3. container to hold something and feed it into another part. A hopper is usually larger at the top than at the bottom. n.

hop scotch (hop'skoch'), a children's game in which the players hop over the lines of a figure drawn on the ground. n.

Hor ace (hōr'is), 65-8 B.C., Roman poet and satirist. n.

Ho ra ti us (hə rā'shəs), in Roman legend, a Roman hero who held back the Etruscan army until a bridge behind him was destroyed. n.

horde (hōrd), 1. crowd; swarm: hordes of grasshoppers. 2. a wandering tribe or troop: Hordes of Mongols and Turks invaded Europe in the Middle Ages. n.

Ho reb (hō'reb), Mount Sinai, where, according to the Bible, God gave Moses the Ten Commandments. n.

hore hound (hōr'hound'), 1. plant of the same family as the mint, with woolly, whitish leaves and clusters of small, whitish flowers. 2. a bitter extract made from the leaves of this plant. 3. candy or cough medicine flavored with it. n. Also, hoar-hound.

ho ri zon (hə rī'zn), 1. line where the earth and sky seem to meet. You cannot see beyond the horizon. 2. limit of one's thinking, experience, interest, or outlook. n.

hor i zon tal (hōr'ə zən'tl), 1. parallel to the horizon; at right angles to a vertical line. 2. flat; level. 3. placed, acting, or working wholly or mainly in a horizontal direction. 4. a horizontal line, plane, direction, position, etc. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —hor'i zon'tal ly, adv.

hor mone (hōr'mōn), 1. substance formed in certain parts of the body that enters the blood stream and influences the activity of some organ. Adrenalin and insulin are hormones. 2. substance carried in the sap of plants that acts similarly. n.

horn (hōrn), 1. a hard growth, usually curved and pointed, on the heads of cattle, sheep, goats, and some other animals. 2. one of a pair of branching growths on the head of a deer, which fall off and grow afresh each year. 3. anything that sticks up on the head of an animal: a snail's horns, an insect's horns. 4. the substance or material of horns. 5. thing made, or formerly made, of horn. 6. container made by hollowing out a horn: a drinking horn, a powder horn. 7. made of horn. 8. instrument sounded by blowing into the smaller end: a hunting horn, a French horn, an English horn. 9. device sounded as a warning signal: a foghorn, an automobile

Hopper (def. 3)

horn. 10. anything that projects like a horn or is shaped like a horn: a saddle horn, the horn of a bay. 11. either pointed tip of a new or old moon, or of a crescent. 12. hit or wound with horns; gore. 1-6, 8-11 n., 7 adj., 12 v. —horn/less, adj. —horn/like, adj.
draw or pull in one's horns, 1. restrain oneself. 2. back down; withdraw.

horns of a dilemma, two unpleasant choices, one of which must be taken.

Horn (hörn), Cape, cape on an island at the S tip of South America. n.

horn beam (hörn/bēm'), tree or shrub of the same family as the birch, with very hard wood. n.

horn bill (hörn/bil'), a large bird having a very large bill with a horn or horny lump on it. n.

horn blende (hörn/blend'), a common black, dark-green, or brown mineral found in granite and other rocks. n.

horn book (hörn/buk'), 1. page with the alphabet, etc., on it, covered with a sheet of transparent horn and fastened in a frame with a handle, formerly used in teaching children to read. 2. a primer. n.

horned (hörn'd), having a horn or horns. adj.

horned toad, a small lizard with a broad, flat body, short tail, and many spines.

hornet (hörn/nit), a large wasp that can give a very painful sting. n.

horn of plenty, 1. a horn-shaped container overflowing with fruits, vegetables, and flowers. 2. a horn-shaped container or ornament; cornucopia.

horn pipe (hörn/pip'), 1. a lively dance done by one person, formerly popular among sailors. 2. music for it. 3. a musical wind instrument of olden times, consisting of a wooden pipe with a bell-shaped end. n.

horn pout (hörn/pout'), catfish with a broad head. n.

horn y (hörn/nē), 1. made of horn or a substance like it. 2. hard like a horn: A farmer's hands are horny from work. 3. having a horn or horns. adj., horn i er, horn i est.

horology (hō rol'ə jē), 1. science of measuring time. 2. art of making timepieces. n.

horoscope (hōr'ə skōp), 1. appearance of the heavens with the relative position of the planets at the hour of a person's birth, regarded as influencing his life. 2. diagram of the heavens at given times, used in telling fortunes by the planets and the stars. n.

horrendous (hō ren'dəs), horrible; terrible; frightful. adj. —hor ren/dous ly, adv.

horrible (hōr'ə bl or hōr'ə bl), 1. causing horror; terrible; dreadful; frightful; shocking: a horrible crime, a horrible disease. 2. Informal. extremely unpleasant or amazing: a horrible noise. adj. —hor/ri ble ness, n. —hor/ri bly, adv.

horrid (hōr'id or hōr'id), 1. terrible; frightful. 2. Informal. very unpleasant. adj. —hor/rid ly, adv. —hor/rid ness, n.

horri fy (hōr'ə fī or hōr'ə fī), 1. cause to feel horror. 2. Informal. shock very much: We were horrified by the wreck. v., hor ri fied, hor ri fy ing.

horror (hōr'ər or hōr'ər), 1. a shivering, shaking fear and dislike; terror and disgust caused by something frightful or shocking. 2. a very strong dislike; very great disgust: That little girl has a horror of snakes and spiders. 3. quality of causing horror. 4. cause of horror. 5. Informal. something very bad or unpleasant. n.

hors de combat (ōr də kōn bā'), French. out of the fight; disabled.

hors d'oeuvre (ōr'dèrv'), relish or light food served before the regular courses of a meal. Olives, celery, anchovies, etc., are hors d'oeuvres. pl. hors d'oeuvres (dèrvz').

horse (hōrs), 1. a four-legged animal with solid hoofs and flowing mane and tail, used from very early times to

Indian hornbill
(about 4 ft. long)

Hornet (about
1 in. long)

draw loads, carry riders, etc. 2. a full-grown male horse. 3. soldiers on horses; cavalry. 4. provide with a horse or horses. 5. put or go on horseback. 6. having to do with horses. 7. on horses. 8. piece of gymnasium apparatus to jump or vault over. 9. frame with legs to support something. 10. set or carry on a person's back; carry on one's own back. 1-3, 8, 9 n., pl. hors es or (esp. collectively) horse; 4, 5, 10 v., horsed, hors ing; 6, 7 adj. horse of a different color, something different. to horse! mount horses! get on horseback!

horse back (hōrs/bak'), 1. the back of a horse. 2. on the back of a horse. 1 n., 2 adv.

horse car (hōrs/kār'), U.S. 1. streetcar pulled by a horse or horses. 2. car used for transporting horses. n.

horse chestnut, 1. a shade tree with spreading branches, large leaves, clusters of showy white flowers, and glossy brown nuts. 2. the nut. 3. any tree or shrub of the same family as the horse chestnut.

horse flesh (hōrs/flesh'), 1. horses for riding, driving, and racing. 2. meat from horses. n.

horse fly (hōrs/flī'), fly that bites animals, especially horses. n., pl. horse flies.

horse hair (hōrs/hār'), 1. hair from the mane or tail of a horse. 2. a stiff fabric made of this hair. 3. made of horsehair; covered with material made of horsehair; stuffed with horsehair. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

horse hide (hōrs/hid'), 1. hide of a horse. 2. leather made from this hide. n.

horse latitudes, two regions where there is often very calm weather. They extend around the world at about 30° north and 30° south of the equator.

horse laugh, a loud, boisterous laugh.

horse less (hōrs/lis), 1. without a horse. 2. not requiring a horse; self-propelled: Automobiles used to be called horseless carriages. adj.

horse man (hōrs/mən), 1. man who rides on horseback. 2. man skilled in riding or managing horses. n., pl. horse men.

horse man ship (hōrs/mən ship), skill in riding or managing horses: Jane is proud of her horsemanship. n.

horse pistol, a large pistol that used to be carried by horsemen.

horse play (hōrs/plā'), rough, boisterous fun. n.

horse power (hōrs/pou'ər), unit for measuring the power of engines, motors, etc.; 1 horsepower = 550 foot-pounds per second. A foot-pound equals the work of raising one pound one foot. n.

horse rad ish (hōrs/rad'ish), 1. a tall plant with a white, hot-tasting root that is ground up and used as a relish with meat, oysters, etc. 2. relish made of this root. n.

horse sense, Informal. common sense; plain, practical good sense.

horse shoe (hōrs/shū'), 1. a U-shaped metal plate nailed to a horse's hoof to protect it.

2. put a horseshoe or horseshoes on. 3. thing shaped like a horseshoe. 1, 3 n., 2 v., horse shoed, horse shoe ing.

horseshoes, game in which the players try to throw horseshoes over or near a stake 40 feet away.

horseshoe crab, a crablike sea animal with a body shaped like a horseshoe and a long, spiny tail; king crab.

horse sho er (hōrs/shū'ər), man who puts horseshoes on horses. n.

horse whip (hōrs/hwip'), 1. whip for driving or controlling horses.

2. beat with a horsewhip. 1 n., 2 v., horse whipped, horse whipping.

horse wom an (hōrs/wūm'ən), 1. woman who rides on horseback.

2. woman skilled in riding or managing horses. n., pl. horse-wom en.

hors y (hōr'sē), 1. having to do with horses. 2. fond of horses or horse racing. 3. dressing or talking like people who spend much time with

Horseshoe

Horseshoe crab:
U, upper surface;
L, lower surface.

horses. 4. Slang. large and awkward in appearance. adj., hōrs i er, hōrs i est.

hor ta to ry (hōr'tə tō'rē), serving to urge or encourage; giving advice; exhorting. adj.

hor ti cul tur al (hōr'tə kul'chər əl), having to do with the growing of flowers, fruits, vegetables, plants, etc.: Florists sometimes give a horticultural exhibit in the spring or fall. adj.

hor ti cul ture (hōr'tə kul'chər), 1. science of growing flowers, fruits, vegetables, etc. 2. cultivation of a garden. n.

hor ti cul tur ist (hōr'tə kul'chər ist), person skilled in horticulture. n.

ho san na (hō zan'ə), shout of praise to the Lord. interj., n.

hose (hōz), 1. stockings. 2. a close-fitting outer garment extending from the waist to the toes, formerly worn by men. 3. tube made of rubber, canvas, or other material that will bend, used to carry water or other liquids for short distances. 4. put water on with a hose. 1-3 n., pl. hose, (Archaic) ho sen (hō'zən) for 1 and 2, hos es for 3; 4 v., hosed, hos ing.

Ho se a (hō zē'ə), 1. book of the Old Testament. 2. its author, a Hebrew prophet who lived in the eighth century B.C. n.

ho sier (hō'zhər), person who makes or sells hosiery. n.

ho sier y (hō'zhər ē), 1. hose; stockings. 2. business of a hosiery. n.

hos pice (hōs'pis), house where travelers can lodge. It is often kept by monks: the hospice of the monks of Saint Bernard in the Alps. n.

hos pi ta ble (hōs'pi tə bl or hōs pit'ə bl), 1. giving or liking to give a welcome, food and shelter, and friendly treatment to guests or strangers: a hospitable family, reception, etc. 2. willing and ready to entertain; favorably receptive or open: a person hospitable to new ideas. adj. —hos'pi tā bly, adv.

hos pi tal (hōs'pi tl), 1. place where sick or injured people are cared for: The doctor removed my tonsils at the hospital. 2. a similar place for animals. n.

hos pi tal i ty (hōs'pə tal'ə tē), friendly, generous reception and treatment of guests or strangers. n., pl.

hos pi tal i ties.

hos pi tal ize (hōs'pi tl īz), 1. put in a hospital. 2. accustom to hospital treatment. v., hos pi tal ized, hos pi tal iz ing. —hos'pi tal i za'tion, n.

host (hōst), 1. person who receives another at his house as a guest. 2. keeper of an inn or hotel. 3. plant or animal in or on which a parasite lives: The oak tree is the host of the mistletoe that grows on it. n.

reckon without one's host, overlook the chances of one's plans going wrong.

host (hōst), 1. a large number; multitude: As it grew dark, a few stars appeared, then a host. 2. army. n.

Host (hōst), bread or wafer used in the Mass of the Roman Catholic Church. n.

hos tage (hōs'tij), 1. person given up to another or held by an enemy as a pledge that certain promises, agreements, etc., will be carried out. 2. pledge; security. n.

give hostages to fortune, have persons or things that one may lose.

hos tel (hōs'tl), a lodging place; especially, a supervised lodging place for young people on bicycle trips, hikes, etc.; inn; hotel. n.

hos tel ry (hōs'tl rē), inn; hotel. n., pl. hos tel ries.

host ess (hōs'tis), 1. woman who receives another person as her guest. 2. woman who keeps an inn or hotel, or helps her husband to do so. n.

hos tile (hōs'tl; sometimes hōs'til), 1. of an enemy or enemies: the hostile army. 2. opposed; unfriendly; unfavorable: a hostile look. adj. —hos'tile ly, adv.

hos til i ty (hōs'til'ə tē), 1. feeling as an enemy does; being an enemy; unfriendliness. 2. state of being at war.

3. opposition; resistance: He showed signs of hostility to our plan. n., pl. hos til i ties.

hostilities, acts of war; warfare; fighting.

hos tler (os'lər or hōs'lər), person who takes care of horses at an inn or stable. n. Also, ostler.

hot (hot), 1. much warmer than the body; having much heat: The fire is hot. 2. having a relatively high temperature: The food is too hot to eat. 3. having a sharp, burning taste: Pepper and mustard are hot. 4. full of any strong feeling; passionate, violent, angry, etc.: hot with rage. 5. full of great interest or enthusiasm; very eager.

6. new; fresh: a hot scent or trail. 7. following closely: in hot pursuit. 8. charged (with radioactivity); radioactive: the hot debris left by an atomic explosion. 9. of swing music or jazz, played with variations from the score. 10. in a hot manner. 1-9 adj., hot ter, hot test; 10 adv. —hot'ly, adv. —hot'ness, n.

make it hot for, Informal. make trouble for; make things unpleasant or uncomfortable for.

hot atom, atom whose nucleus is radioactive.

hot bed (hot'bed'), 1. bed of earth covered with glass and kept warm for growing plants. 2. place favorable to rapid growth. n.

hot-blood ed (hot'blud'id), 1. easily excited or angered. 2. rash; reckless. 3. passionate. adj.

hot box (hot'boks'), an overheated bearing on a shaft or axle. n.

hot cake, a griddlecake.

hot dog, Slang. 1. frankfurter. 2. sandwich made of a hot frankfurter enclosed in a roll and usually served with mustard, relish, etc.

ho tel (hō tel'), house or large building that provides lodging, food, etc., to travelers and others. n.

ho tel de ville (ō tel də vėl'), French. city hall; town hall.

hot foot (hot'füt'), Informal. 1. in great haste. 2. go in great haste; hurry. 1 adv., 2 v.

hot head (hot'hed'), a hot-headed person. n.

hot-head ed (hot'hed'id), 1. having a fiery temper; easily angered. 2. impetuous; rash. adj. —hot'head'ed ly, adv. —hot'head'ed-ness, n.

hot house (hot'hous'),

Hothouse

building with a glass roof and sides, kept warm for growing plants; greenhouse. n.

hot laboratory or lab, laboratory exposed to radiations of more than one curie.

hot rod, U.S. Slang. 1. a stripped-down automobile with a supercharged motor. 2. person, especially an adolescent boy, who drives such an automobile.

Hot Springs, city in central Arkansas. Hot Springs National Park, with many natural hot springs, is located near there. 28,000.

hot spur (hot'spēr'), an impetuous or reckless person. n.

hot-tem pered (hot'tem'pərd), having a quick temper; easily angered. adj.

Hot ten tot (hot'n tot'), 1. member of a South African race having a dark, yellowish-brown complexion. 2. their language. 3. of the Hottentots or their language. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

hot war, war involving actual fighting.

hot water, Informal. trouble.

hou dah (hou'də), howdah. n.

hough (hok), hock; joint in the hind leg of a horse, cow, etc. n.

hound (hound), 1. dog of any of various breeds, most of which hunt by scent and have large, drooping ears and short hair. 2. any dog. 3. Slang. person who is very fond of something. 4. hunt; chase. 5. a contemptible person. 6. urge (on). 1-3,5 n., 4,6 v.

follow the hounds or ride to hounds, go hunting on horseback with hounds.

hour (our), 1. 60 minutes; 1/24 of a day. 2. one of the 12 points that measure time from noon to midnight and from midnight to noon. 3. time of day: Some clocks strike the hours and half-hours. 4. a particular or fixed time: Our breakfast hour is at seven o'clock. 5. a short or limited space of time: After his hour of glory, he was soon forgotten. 6. period in a classroom, often less than a full hour. 7. the present time. 8. 15 degrees of longitude. n.

hours, 1. time for work, study, etc. 2. usual time for going to bed and getting up. 3. seven special times of the day for prayer and worship. 4. prayers or services for these times.

in an evil hour, at a bad or unlucky time.

of the hour, of the present time.

hour glass (our'glas'), device for measuring time, requiring just an hour for its contents (sand or mercury) to go from a glass bulb or container on top to one on the bottom. n.

hou ri (hūr'ē), a young, eternally beautiful girl of the Moslem paradise. n., pl. hou ris.

hour ly (our'lē), 1. done, happening, or counted every hour: to give hourly doses of a medicine. 2. coming very often; frequent. 3. every hour; hour by hour: Give two doses hourly. 4. very often; frequently: Messages were coming from the rescue boat hourly. 1,2 adj., 3,4 adv.

Hours (ourz), Greek goddesses of the seasons, orderliness, justice, and peace. n.pl.

house (hous for 1-11; houz for 12-15), 1. building in which people live. 2. people living in a house; household. 3. abode; habitation. 4. building to hold anything: an engine house. 5. assembly for making laws and considering questions of government; lawmaking body: the House of Representatives. 6. building in which such an assembly meets. 7. place of business. 8. a business firm. 9. place of entertainment; theater. 10. audience: A large house heard the singer. 11. family regarded as consisting of ancestors, descendants, and kindred, especially a noble or royal family: He was a prince of the house of David. 12. put or receive into a house; provide with a house: Where can we house all these children? 13. give shelter to; lodge. 14. place in a secure or protected position. 15. take shelter. 1-11 n., pl. hous es (houz'iz); 12-15 v., housed, housing.

bring down the house, Informal. be loudly applauded.

clean house, 1. set a house in order. 2. get rid of bad conditions.

keep house, manage a home and its affairs; do housework.

on the house, free; paid for by the owner of the business.

put or set one's house in order, arrange one's affairs in good order.

house boat (hous'bōt'), boat that can be used as a place to live in. n.

house break er (hous'brāk'ər), person who breaks into a house to steal or commit some other crime. n.

house break ing (hous'brāk'ing), act of breaking into a house to steal or commit some other crime. n.

house bro ken (hous'brō'kən), of a dog, cat, etc., trained to live indoors. adj.

house fly (hous'fli'), a two-winged fly that lives around and in houses, feeding on food, garbage, and filth. Its larvae or maggots develop in decaying organic matter. n., pl. house flies.

house hold (hous'hōld), 1. all the people living in a house; family; family and servants. 2. home and its affairs. 3. a royal household. 4. of a household; having to do with a household; domestic: household expenses, household cares. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

house hold er (hous'hōld'ər), 1. person who owns or lives in a house. 2. head of a family. n.

Hourglass

Housefly: A, adult; B, larva (lines show actual length).

household word, a very familiar word or phrase.

house keep er (hous'kēp'ər), 1. woman who manages a home and its affairs and does the housework. 2. woman who directs the servants that do the housework. n.

house keep ing (hous'kēp'ing), 1. managing a home and its affairs; doing the housework. 2. directing the servants that do the housework. n.

house maid (hous'mād'), a woman servant who does housework. n.

housemaid's knee, inflammation near the knee, usually caused by kneeling.

house moth er (hous'muθ'ər), woman who supervises and takes care of a group of people living together like a family. n.

House of Burgesses, the lower house of the colonial legislature in Virginia or Maryland.

House of Commons, the lower, elective branch of the lawmaking body of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, or of Canada.

house of correction, place of confinement and reform for persons convicted of minor offenses and not regarded as confirmed criminals.

House of Delegates, the lower branch of the legislature in Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia.

House of Lords, the upper, nonelective branch of the lawmaking body of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, composed of nobles and clergymen of high rank.

House of Representatives, 1. the lower branch of the lawmaking body of the United States. 2. the lower branch of the lawmaking body of certain States of the United States. 3. the lower branch of the Parliament of Australia, or of the general assembly of New Zealand.

house party, entertainment of guests in a home or at a college for a few days.

house plant, a small plant in a pot or box, kept inside the house. Ferns are often used as house plants.

house top (hous'top'), top of a house; roof. n.

house warm ing (hous'wōr'ming), a party given when a family moves into a house for the first time. n.

house wife (hous'wif' for 1, 2; huz'if for 3), 1. woman who manages a home and its affairs. 2. woman who is the head of a household. 3. a small case for needles, thread, etc. n., pl. house wives.

house wife ly (hous'wif'lē), of or like a housewife; thrifty or skilled in household affairs. adj.

house wif er y (hous'wif'ər ē), work of a housewife; housekeeping. n.

house work (hous'wērk'), work to be done in housekeeping, such as washing, ironing, cleaning, sweeping, cooking, etc. n.

housing¹ (houz'ing), 1. act of sheltering; providing houses as homes. 2. houses: The housing of that city is inadequate for the number of people who will be there next year. 3. shelter; covering. 4. frame or plate to hold part of a machine in place. n.

housing² (houz'ing), an ornamental covering for a horse: Under the saddle was a housing of red velvet. n.

Hous ton (hūs'tən), 1. Samuel, 1793-1863, American frontier soldier and statesman. He was twice president of Texas before it became a State in 1845. 2. city in SE Texas. 938,000. n.

hove (hōv), a pt. and a pp. of heave. The sailors hove at the ropes. v.

hov el (huv'l), 1. house that is small, mean, and unpleasant to live in. 2. an open shed for sheltering cattle, tools, etc. n.

hov er (huv'ər), 1. stay in or near one place in the air: The two birds hovered over their nest. 2. stay in or near one place; wait nearby: The dogs hovered around the meat truck. 3. be in an uncertain condition; waver: The sick man hovered between life and death. v.

how (hou), 1. in what way; by what means: Tell her how to do it. 2. to what degree, extent, etc.: How long will it take you to do this? 3. at what price: How do you sell these apples? 4. in what state or condition: Tell me how Mrs. Jones is. 5. for what reason; why: How is it you are late? 6. to what effect; with what meaning; by what name: How do you mean? 7. way or manner of doing: She considered all the hows and wherefores. 1-6 adv., 7 n.

How now? What does this mean?

How so? Why is it so?

How then? What does this mean?

Howdah

how be it (hou bē'it), however it may be; nevertheless; however. adv.

how dah (hou'də), seat for persons riding on the back of an elephant. n. Also, houdah.

Howe (hou), 1. Elias, 1819-1867, American who invented the sewing machine. 2. William, 1729-1814, commander in chief of the British army in the American Revolution. n.

how e'er (hou ār'), however. conj., adv.

how ev er (hou ev'ər), 1. nevertheless; yet; in spite of all that: It is his; however, you may borrow it. 2. to whatever degree or amount; no matter how: However you do it, the effect will be the same. 3. in whatever way; by whatever means: However did you manage to get here? 1 conj., 2,3 adv.

how itz er (hou'it sər), a short cannon for firing shells in a high curve. n.

howl (hou), 1. give a long, loud, mournful cry: Dogs and wolves howl. The winter winds howled around our cabin. 2. a long, loud, mournful cry. 3. give a long, loud cry of pain, rage, scorn, etc. 4. a loud cry of pain, rage, etc. 5. yell of scorn, amusement, etc. 6. yell; shout: It was so funny that we howled with laughter (v.). We heard howls of laughter (n.). 7. force or drive by howling: The angry mob howled the speaker off the platform. 1,3,6,7 v., 2,4-6 n.

howl down, drown out the words of by howling.

howler (hou'ər), 1. person or thing that howls. 2. Informal, a ridiculous mistake; stupid blunder. n.

how so ev er (hou'sō ev'ər), 1. to whatever extent, degree, or amount. 2. in whatever way; by whatever means. adv.

hoy den (hoid'n), a boisterous, romping girl; tomboy. n.

hoy den ish (hoid'n ish), of or like a hoyden; boisterous; romping. adj.

Hoyle (hoil), book of rules and instructions for playing card games. n.

according to Hoyle, according to the rules or customs; fair; correct.

HP, H.P., hp., or h.p., horsepower.

H.Q. or h.q., headquarters.

hr., hour; hours. pl., hrs.

H.R., House of Representatives.

H.R.H., 1. His Royal Highness. 2. Her Royal Highness.

ht., height.

hub (hub), 1. the central part of a wheel. See felloe for picture. 2. any center of interest, importance, activity, etc.: London is the hub of English life. n.

hub bub (hub'ub), a noisy tumult; uproar: The crowd of boys was in a hubbub. n.

huck a back (huk'ə bak), a heavy, coarse linen or cotton cloth, used for towels. n.

huck le ber ry (huk'l ber'ē), 1. a small berry like a blueberry, but darker. 2. shrub that it grows on. n., pl.

huck le ber ries.

huck ster (huk'stər), 1. peddler. 2. person who sells small articles. 3. U.S. Informal, person who is in the advertising business. 4. a mean and unfair trader. 5. sell; peddle; haggle. 1-4 n., 5 v.

hud dle (hud'l), 1. crowd close: The sheep huddled to- gether in a corner. 2. nestle in a heap: The cat huddled itself on the cushion. 3. a confused heap, mass, or crowd. 4. put on (clothes) with careless haste. 5. do or finish with careless haste. 6. confusion; slovenly hurry. 7. a grouping of football players behind the line of scrimmage to receive signals. 8. group together behind the line of scrimmage to receive signals. 1,2,4,5,8 v., hud-dled, hud dling; 3,6,7 n.

go into a huddle, Slang, confer secretly.

Hud son (hud'sn), 1. Henry, died 1611, English navigator and explorer in America. Hudson River and Hudson Bay were named for him. 2. William Henry, 1841-1922, English naturalist and writer. 3. river in E New York State, flowing into New York Bay. 315 mi. n.

Hudson Bay, a large bay in central Canada. 850 mi. long; 400,000 sq. mi.

Hudson's Bay Company, a British joint-stock company chartered in 1670 to carry on the fur trade with the Indians of North America. It still has trading posts.

Hudson seal, a muskrat fur that is dyed and plucked to look like seal.

Hudson Strait, strait connecting Hudson Bay with the Atlantic. 450 mi. long.

hue¹ (hū), color; shade; tint: all the hues of the rainbow. n.

hue² (hū), a shouting. n.

hue and cry, shouts of alarm or protest.

huff (huf), 1. fit of anger or peevishness: She has such a bad temper that she gets into a huff about nothing. 2. make angry; offend. 3. Dialect, puff; blow. 1 n., 2,3 v.

huff y (huf'ē), 1. offended; in a huff. 2. easily offended; touchy. adj., huffier, huffiest. —huff'ily, adv. —huff'i ness, n.

hug (hug), 1. put the arms around and hold close, especially in affection: The girl hugs her big doll. 2. a tight clasp with the arms. 3. squeeze tightly with the arms, as a bear does. 4. a tight squeeze with the arms; grip in wrestling. 5. cling firmly or fondly to: hug an opinion. 6. keep close to: The boat hugged the shore. 1,3,5,6 v., hugged, hug ging; 2,4 n.

huge (hūj), extremely large: A whale or an elephant is a huge animal. adj., huge er, huge est. —huge'ly, adv. —huge'ness, n.

hug ger-mug ger (hug'ər mug'ər), 1. confusion; disorder. 2. confused; disorderly. 3. in a confused, disorderly manner. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 adv.

Hughes (hūz), Charles Evans, 1862-1948, American statesman, chief justice of the United States Supreme Court from 1930 to 1941. n.

Hu go (hū'gō), Victor, 1802-1885, French poet, novelist, and dramatist. n.

Hu gue not (hū'gō not), a French Protestant of the 16th and 17th centuries. n.

huh (hu), sound made to express surprise, contempt, etc., or to ask a question. interj.

hu la (hū'lə), hula-hula. n.

hu la-hu la (hū'lə hū'lə), a native Hawaiian dance. n.

hulk (hulk), 1. body of an old or worn-out ship. 2. ship used as a prison. 3. a big, clumsy ship. 4. a big, clumsy person or thing. n.

hulk ing (hul'king), big and clumsy. adj.

hull (hul), 1. body or frame of a ship. Masts, sails, and rigging are not part of the hull. 2. the main body or frame of a seaplane, airship, etc. 3. strike or pierce the hull of (a ship) with a shell, torpedo, etc. 4. the outer covering of a seed. 5. calyx of some fruits. We call the green frill of a strawberry its hull. 6. remove the hull or hulls from. 7. any outer covering. 1,2,4,5,7 n., 3,6 v. —hull'er, n.

hull down, so far away that the hull is below the horizon.

Hull (hul), seaport in E England near the North Sea.

Its official name is Kingston-upon-Hull. 301,000. n.

hul la ba loo (hul'ə bə lū'), a loud noise or disturbance; uproar. n.

hul lo (hə lō'), 1. hollo. 2. hello. interj., n., pl. —los, v., —loed, —lo ing.

hum (hum), 1. make a continuous murmuring sound like that of a bee or of a spinning top: The sewing machine hums busily. 2. a continuous murmuring sound: the hum of the bees, the hum of a city street. 3. make a low sound like the letter m, in hesitation, embarrassment, dissatisfaction, etc. 4. a low sound like that of the letter m, used to express hesitation, disagreement, etc. 5. sing with closed lips, not sounding words: to hum a little tune. 6. a singing in this way. 7. put or bring by humming: The mother hummed her baby to sleep. 8. Informal. be busy and active: The new president made things hum. 1,3,5,7,8 v., hummed, humming; 2,4,6 n., 4 interj. —hum/mer, n.

hu man (hū'mən), 1. of persons; that people have: Selfishness is a human weakness. 2. being a person or persons; having the form or qualities of people: Men, women, and children are human beings. 3. having or showing qualities (good or bad) natural to people: He is a very human person, warm and understanding and not too perfect. 4. having to do with people: human affairs. 5. having to do with people and what they can or cannot do: To know the future is beyond human power. 6. a human being; person. 1-5 adj., 6 n.

hu mane (hū'mān'), 1. kind; merciful; not cruel or brutal: We believe in humane treatment of prisoners. 2. tending to humanize and refine: humane studies. adj. —hu mane/ly, adv. —hu mane/ness, n.

hu man ist (hū'mən ist), 1. follower of any philosophy concerned with human interests and values. 2. student of the humanities or of Latin and Greek culture. n.

hu man i tar i an (hū'man'ə tār'ē ən), 1. helpful to humanity; philanthropic. 2. person who is devoted to the welfare of all human beings. 1 adj., 2 n.

hu man i tar i an ism (hū'man'ə tār'ē ən iz'əm), humanitarian principles or practices. n.

hu man i ty (hū'man'ə tē), 1. human beings taken as a group; people: Advances in science help all humanity. 2. fact of being human; human character or quality: Humanity is a mixture of good and bad qualities. 3. fact of being humane; humane treatment; kindness; mercy: Treat animals with humanity. n., pl. hu man i ties.

the humanities, 1. the Latin and Greek languages and literatures. 2. languages, literatures, philosophies, art, etc. 3. branches of learning concerned with man.

hu man ize (hū'mən iz), 1. make human; give a human character or quality to. 2. make humane; cause to be kind or merciful. v., hu man ized, hu man iz ing.

hu man kind (hū'mən kind'), human beings; people; human race; mankind. n.

hu man ly (hū'mən lē), 1. in a human manner. 2. by human means: We will do all that is humanly possible. 3. according to the feelings, knowledge, or experience of people. adv.

Hum ber (hum'bar), estuary of the Trent and Ouse rivers in E England. 37 mi. long. n.

hum ble (hum'bl), 1. low in position or condition; not important or grand: a humble log cabin. 2. having or showing a feeling that one is unimportant, weak, poor, etc.; modest in spirit; not proud: Defeat makes people humble. 3. deeply or courteously respectful: in my humble opinion. 4. make humble; bring down; make lower in position, condition, or pride. 1-3 adj., hum bler, hum blest; 4 v., hum bled, hum bling. —hum/ble ness, n. —hum/bly, adv.

hum ble bee (hum'bl bē'), bumblebee. n.

humble pie, an inferior pie made of the inward parts of an animal.

eat humble pie, be forced to do something very disagreeable and humiliating; admit one's mistake, and say that one is sorry.

hum bug (hum'bug'), 1. person who pretends to be what he is not; fraud. 2. a cheat; sham. 3. deceive with a sham; cheat. 1,2 n., 3 v., hum bugged, hum bug ging.

hum drum (hum'drum'), 1. without variety; commonplace; dull. 2. humdrum routine. 1 adj., 2 n.

hu mer al (hū'mər əl), 1. of or near the humerus. 2. of or near the shoulder. adj.

hu mer us (hū'mər əs), 1. the long bone in the upper part of the forelimb or arm, from the shoulder to the elbow. 2. the upper part of the forelimb or arm. n., pl. hu mer i (-mər i).

hu mid (hū'mid), moist; damp: The air is very humid near the sea. adj. —hu/mid ness, n.

hu mid i fi ca tion (hū'mid'ə fə kā'shən), a humidifying. n.

hu mid i fi er (hū'mid'ə fī'ər), device for keeping air moist. n.

hu mid i fy (hū'mid'ə fī), make humid, moist, or damp. v., hu mid i fied, hu mid i fy ing.

hu mid i ty (hū'mid'ə tē), 1. moistness; dampness: The humidity today is worse than the heat. 2. amount of moisture in the air. The relative humidity is the ratio between the amount of water vapor present in the air and the greatest amount the air could contain at the same temperature. n.

hu mi dor (hū'mə dōr), 1. box, jar, etc., for keeping tobacco moist. 2. any similar device. n.

hu mil i ate (hū'mil'ē āt), lower the pride, dignity, or self-respect of: We felt humiliated by our failure. That child who behaved badly when guests were present humiliated his parents. v., hu mil i at ed, hu mil i at ing. —hu mil/i at'ing ly, adv.

hu mil i a tion (hū'mil'ē ā'shən), 1. a lowering of pride, dignity, or self-respect. 2. state or feeling of being humiliated. n.

hu mil i ty (hū'mil'ə tē), humbleness of mind; lack of pride; meekness. n., pl. hu mil i ties.

hu mit (hū'mit), unit of measurement used in expressing humiture. If the temperature is 80° and relative humidity is 60%, the humiture is 70 humits. n.

hu mi ture (hū'mə chər), a combined measurement of temperature and humidity arrived at by adding degrees of temperature to percentage of relative humidity and dividing by two. n.

hum ming bird (hum'ing bērd'), a very small, brightly colored American bird with a long narrow bill and narrow wings that move so rapidly they make a humming sound. n.

hum mock (hum'ək), 1. a very small, rounded hill; knoll; hillock. 2. bump or ridge in a field of ice. n.

hu mor (hū'mər), 1. funny or amusing quality: I see no humor in your tricks. 2. ability to see or show the funny or amusing side of things: Mark Twain was famous for his humor. 3. speech, writing, etc., showing this ability. 4. state of mind; mood; disposition: Success puts you in good humor. 5. fancy; whim. 6. give in to the fancies or whims of (a person); indulge: A sick person has to be humored. 7. adapt oneself to; act so as to agree with. 8. any of various body fluids formerly supposed to determine a person's health and disposition. The four humors were blood, phlegm, choler (yellow bile), and melancholy (black bile). 1-5,8 n., 6,7 v. —hu/mor less, adj.

out of humor, angry; displeased; in a bad mood.

hu mor ist (hū'mər ist), 1. person with a strong sense of humor. 2. a humorous talker; writer of jokes and funny stories. n.

hu mor ous (hū'mər əs), full of humor; funny; amusing: Mark Twain was a humorous writer. adj. —hu/mor ous ly, adv. —hu/mor ous ness, n.

hu mour (hū'mər), Esp. Brit. humor. n., v.

Hummingbird
(about 3¼ in. long)

hump (hump), 1. a rounded lump that sticks out: Some camels have two humps on their backs. 2. raise or bend up into a lump: The cat humped her back when she saw the dog. 3. mound. 4. U.S. Slang. exert (oneself). 1,3 n., 2,4 v. —hump/like, adj.

hump back (hump/bak'), 1. hunchback. 2. back having a hump on it. 3. a large whale that has a hump-like dorsal fin. n.

hump backed (hump/bakt'), hunchbacked. adj.

humph (humf), exclamation expressing doubt, disgust, contempt, etc. interj., n.

humpy (hump/ē), 1. full of humps. 2. humplike. adj., humpier, humpiest.

humus (hū/məs), soil made from decayed leaves and other vegetable matter, containing valuable plant foods. n.

Hun (hun), 1. member of a warlike, brutal Asiatic people. Led by their king Attila, the Huns overran eastern and central Europe between about 375 and 453 A.D. 2. a barbarous, destructive person. n.

hunch (hunch), 1. hump. 2. draw, bend, or form into a hump: He sat hunched up with his chin on his knees. 3. move, push, or shove by jerks. 4. U.S. Informal. a vague feeling or suspicion. 5. a thick slice or piece; chunk. 1-3 v., 1,4,5 n.

hunch back (hunch/bak'), 1. person with a hump on his back; humpback. 2. back having a hump on it. n.

hunch backed (hunch/bakt'), having a hump on the back; humpbacked. adj.

hundred (hun/drəd), 1. ten times ten; 100. 2. division of an English county. 3. a similar division in Delaware. 1-3 n., pl. hundreds or (as after a numeral) hundred; 1 adj.

hundred fold (hun/drəd fōld'), a hundred times as much or as many. adj., adv., n.

hundredth (hun/drədth), 1. next after the 99th; last in a series of 100. 2. one of 100 equal parts. adj., n.

hundred weight (hun/drəd wāt'), measure of weight, equal to 100 pounds in the United States or 112 pounds in England. 1 n., pl. hundred weights or (as after a numeral) hundred weight.

hung (hung), a pt. and a pp. of hang. He hung up his cap. A dress has hung here all day. v.

Hungarian (hung gār/ē ən), 1. of Hungary, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Hungary. 3. language of Hungary. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Hungary (hung/gə rē), country in central Europe, formerly a part of Austria-Hungary. 9,977,000 pop.; 35,902 sq. mi. Capital: Budapest. n.

hunger (hung/gar), 1. an uncomfortable or painful feeling or weak condition caused by lack of food. 2. desire or need for food. 3. feel hunger; be hungry. 4. starve. 5. a strong desire: a hunger for kindness. 6. have a strong desire: The lonely girl hungered for friends. 1,2,5 n., 3,4,6 v.

hunger strike, refusal to eat until certain demands are granted.

hungry (hung/grē), 1. feeling a desire or need for food: Mother says that the boys in our family always seem to be hungry. 2. showing hunger: a hungry look. 3. causing hunger. 4. having a strong desire or craving; eager: hungry for books. 5. not rich or fertile: hungry soil. adj., hunrier, hunriest. —hun/gri ly, adv. —hun/gri-ness, n.

hunk (hunk), Informal. a big lump or piece. n.

hunt (hunt), 1. chase (wild animals, game birds, etc.) for food or sport. 2. chase or go out after wild animals or game. 3. search through (a region) in pursuit of game. 4. use (horses or dogs) in the chase. 5. act of hunting. 6. group of persons hunting together. 7. drive (out, away); pursue; harry; persecute. 8. try to find: hunt a clue. 9. look thoroughly; search carefully: hunt through drawers. 10. attempt to find something; thorough look; careful search. 1-4,7-9 v., 5,6,10 n.

hunt down, 1. hunt for until caught or killed. 2. look for until found.

hunt up, 1. look carefully for. 2. find by search.

hunter (hun/tər), 1. person who hunts. 2. horse or dog for hunting. n.

hunting (hun/ting), act of a person or animal that hunts. n.

hunting ground, a place or region for hunting.

hunting horn, horn used in a hunt.

Huntington (hun/ting tən), city in W West Virginia, on the Ohio River. 84,000. n.

huntress (hun/tris), woman who hunts. n.

huntsman (hunts/mən), Esp. Brit. 1. hunter. 2. manager of a hunt. n., pl. huntsmen.

hurdle (hər/dl), 1. barrier for people or horses to jump over in a race. 2. jump over: The horse hurdled both the fence and the ditch. 3. obstacle, difficulty, etc. 4. overcome (an obstacle, difficulty, etc.). 5. frame made of sticks used as a temporary fence. 6. enclose with such frames. 7. a sledlike frame on which traitors used to be dragged to execution. 1,3,5,7 n., 2,4,6 v., hur dled, hur dling.

hurdles, race in which the runners jump over hurdles.

hur dler (hər/dlər), person who jumps over hurdles in a race. n.

hur dy-gur dy (hər/dē gēr/dē), 1. a hand organ or street piano played by turning a handle. 2. formerly, an instrument shaped like a guitar, played by turning a wheel. n., pl. hur dy-gur dies.

hurl (hèrl), 1. throw with much force: The man hurled his spear at one bear, the dogs hurled themselves at the other. 2. a forcible or violent throw. 3. throw forth (words, cries, etc.) violently; utter with vehemence. 1,3 v., 2 n. —hur/er, n.

hurl y-bur ly (hèrl/ē bër/lē), disorder and noise; tumult. n., pl. hurl y-bur lies.

Huron (hyūr/ən), 1. Lake, the second largest of the five Great Lakes, between the United States and Canada. 23,010 sq. mi. See Great Lakes for map. 2. member of a tribe of Iroquois Indians formerly living between Lake Huron and Lake Ontario. n.

hur rah (hə rā/ or hə rô/), 1. shout of joy, approval. 2. shout hurrahs; cheer. 1 interj., n., 2 v. Also, hooray.

hur ray (hə rā/), hurrah. interj., n., v.

hurricane (hèr/ə kăn), 1. a tropical cyclone; storm with violent wind and, usually, very heavy rain. The wind in a hurricane blows from 70 to 100 miles per hour. 2. a sudden, violent outburst. n.

hurried (hèr/ēd), 1. forced to hurry. 2. done or made in a hurry; hasty. adj. —hur/ried ly, adv.

hurry (hèr/ē), 1. drive, carry, send, or move quickly: They hurried the sick child to the doctor. 2. move or act with more than an easy or natural speed: If you hurry, your work may be poor. 3. a hurried movement or action: In her hurry she dropped the eggs. 4. eagerness to have quickly or do quickly: She was in a hurry to see her father. 5. urge to act soon or too soon. 6. urge to great speed or to too great speed: Don't hurry the driver. 7. cause to go on or occur more quickly; hasten: Please

Hunting horn

Hurdles for racing

Man playing a hurdy-gurdy (def. 1). The crank turns a cylinder inside, on which are pegs arranged so as to open certain valves and produce a tune.

hurry dinner. 1,2,5-7 v., hur ried, hur ry ing; 3,4 n., pl. hur ries.

hur ry-scur ry or hur ry-skur ry (hər'ē skər'ē), 1. a hurrying and confusion. 2. hurried and confused. 3. with hurrying and confusion. 1 n., pl. hur ry-scur-ries or hur ry-skur ries; 2 adj., 3 adv.

hurt (hért), 1. cause pain, harm, or damage: My sprained ankle really hurts. 2. cause pain to; give a wound to; injure: The stone hurt his foot badly. 3. pain; injury; wound. 4. suffer pain: My hand hurts. 5. have a bad effect on; do damage or harm to: Will it hurt this hat if it gets wet? 6. a bad effect; damage; harm: It would do no hurt to get the house painted this summer. 1,2,4,5 v., hurt, hurting; 3,6 n.

hurt ful (hért'fəl), causing hurt, harm, or damage; injurious. adj. —hurt'ful ly, adv.

hur tie (hər'tl), 1. dash or drive violently; rush suddenly; come with a crash: Spears hurtled against shields. 2. move with a clatter; rush noisily or violently: The express train hurtled past. 3. dash or drive violently; fling: The impact of the crash hurtled the driver against the windshield of the car. 4. dash against; collide with. 5. act or fact of hurtling; clash; clatter. 1-4 v., hur-tled, hur tling; 5 n.

hus band (huz'bænd), 1. man who has a wife; married man. 2. manage carefully; be saving of: husband one's strength or resources. 3. marry. 4. Archaic. manager. 5. Archaic. till (soil); cultivate (plants). 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v.

hus band man (huz'bænd mən), farmer. n., pl. hus-band men.

hus band ry (huz'bænd rē), 1. farming. 2. management of one's affairs or resources: To let a roof leak would be bad husbandry. 3. careful management; thrift. n.

hush (hush), 1. stop making a noise; make or become silent or quiet: The wind has hushed. Hush your dog. 2. a stopping of noise; silence; quiet. 3. stop the noise! be silent! keep quiet! 4. soothe; calm. 1,4 v., 2 n., 3 interj.

hush up, 1. keep from being told; stop discussion of. 2. Informal. hush!

hush money, money paid to keep a person from telling something.

husk (husk), 1. the dry outer covering of certain seeds or fruits. An ear of corn has a husk. 2. the dry worthless outer covering of anything. 3. remove the husk from: Husk the corn. 1,2 n., 3 v. —husk'er, n.

husk ing (hus'king), husking bee. n.

husking bee, U.S. a gathering of neighbors and friends to husk corn.

husk y¹ (hus'kē), 1. dry in the throat; hoarse; rough of voice: a husky tone. 2. of, like, or having husks: a husky covering. 3. U.S. Informal. big and strong. 4. U.S. Informal. a big, strong person. 1-3 adj., husk-ier, husk iest; 4 n., pl. husk ies. —husk'i ly, adv. —husk'i ness, n.

Husk y or husk y² (hus'kē), Eskimo dog. n., pl. Husk ies or husk ies.

hus sar (hū zār'), a European light-armed cavalry soldier. n.

hus sy (huz'ē), 1. a bad-mannered or pert girl. 2. a worthless woman. n., pl. hus sies.

hus tings (hus'tingz), 1. platform from which candidates for Parliament were formerly nominated and from which they addressed the voters. 2. platform from which speeches are made in a political campaign. 3. proceedings at an election. n.pl. or sing.

hus tie (hus'tl), 1. hurry: Mother hustled baby to bed (v.). It was done with much hustle and bustle (n.). 2. force hurriedly or roughly: The police hustled the tramps out of town. 3. push or shove roughly; jostle rudely: The other boys hustled him along the street. 4. a rough pushing or shoving; rude jostling. 5. Informal. work with tireless energy. 6. Informal. tireless energy. 1-3,5 v., hus tied, hus tling; 1,4,6 n. —hus'tler, n.

hut (hut), a small, roughly built house; small cabin: The boys built a hut in the woods. n. —hut'like', adj.

hutch (huch), 1. pen for rabbits, etc. 2. hut. 3. box; chest; bin. n.

Hux ley (huks'lē), Thomas Henry, 1825-1895, English biologist. n.

huz za (hə-zā'), 1. a loud shout of joy, encouragement, or applause; hurrah. 2. shout huzzas; cheer. 1 interj., n., pl. huz zas; 2 v., huz zaed, huz-za ing.

Hwang Ho or Hwang ho (hwäng'hō'), river flowing from central China into the Yellow Sea. 2700 mi. n. Also, Yellow River.

hy a cinth (hi'ə sinth), 1. plant of the same family as the lily, that grows from a bulb and has a spike of small, fragrant, bell-shaped flowers. 2. a reddish-orange gem; jacinth. n.

hy a lite (hi'ə lit), a colorless variety of opal, sometimes transparent like glass and sometimes whitish and translucent. n.

hy a loid (hi'ə loid), glassy; transparent; crystalline. adj.

hy brid (hi'brid), 1. offspring of two animals or plants of different species, varieties, etc. A loganberry is a hybrid between a raspberry and blackberry. 2. bred from two different species, varieties, etc. A mule is a hybrid animal. 3. anything of mixed origin. A word formed of parts from different languages is a hybrid. 4. of mixed origin. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

hy brid ism (hi'brid iz əm), 1. production of hybrids: 2. hybrid character, nature, or condition. n.

hy brid i za tion (hi'brid ə zā'shən), production of hybrids; crossing of different species. n.

hy brid ize (hi'brid iz), 1. cause to produce hybrids: Botanists hybridize different kinds of plants to get new varieties. 2. produce hybrids. v., hy brid ized, hy brid-iz ing.

Hy der a bad (hi'dər ə bad'), 1. city in S India. 1,086,000. 2. city in W Pakistan, on the Indus River. 242,000. n.

hy dra (hi'drə), 1. any persistent evil; evil that is hard to overcome. 2. kind of freshwater polyp, so called because when the tubelike body is cut into pieces, each piece forms a new individual. n., pl. hy dras, hy drae (-drē).

Hy dra (hi'drə), 1. in Greek mythology, a monstrous serpent having nine heads, each of which was replaced by two heads after being cut off unless the wound was cauterized. The Hydra was slain by Hercules. 2. a southern constellation represented as a serpent. n.

hy dran gea (hi'drānjə), shrub with opposite leaves and large, showy clusters of small white, pink, or blue flowers. n.

hy drant (hi'drənt), an upright cylinder or street fixture with a valve for drawing water directly from a main. Hydrants are used to get water to put out fires, wash the streets, etc. n.

hy drate (hi'drāt), 1. compound produced when certain substances unite with water, represented in formulas as containing molecules of water. Washing soda is a hydrate. 2. become or cause to become a hydrate; combine with water to form a hydrate. Blue vitriol is hydrated copper sulfate. 1 n., 2 v., hy drat ed, hy-drat ing.

hy dra tion (hi'drā'shən), combination with water, usually to form a hydrate. n.

hy drau lic (hi'drō'lik), 1. having to do with water in motion. 2. operated by water: a hydraulic press. 3. hardening under water: hydraulic cement. adj.

hy drau li cal ly (hi'drō'lik lē), by hydraulic power. adv.

Hyacinth

hy drau lies (hī drō'liks), the science dealing with water and other liquids in motion, their uses in engineering, the laws of their actions, etc. n.

hy drid (hī'drid), hydride. n.

hy dride (hī'drid), compound of hydrogen with another element or radical. n.

hydro-, word element meaning:

1. of or having to do with water, as in hydroplane.
2. combined with hydrogen, as in hydrochloric.

hy dro car bon (hī'drō kār'bən), any of a class of compounds containing only hydrogen and carbon. Methane, benzene, and acetylene are hydrocarbons. Gasoline is a mixture of hydrocarbons. n.

hy dro chlo ric (hī'drō klō'rik), containing hydrogen and chlorine. adj.

hydrochloric acid, a clear, colorless gas with a strong, sharp odor.

hy dro cy an ic acid (hī'drō sī an'ik), a deadly poison with an odor like that of bitter almonds; prussic acid.

hy dro dy nam ic (hī'drō dī nam'ik), having to do with the force or motion of fluids, or with hydrodynamics. adj.

hy dro dy nam ics (hī'drō dī nam'iks), branch of physics dealing with the forces that water and other liquids exert. It is often called hydraulics. n.

hy dro e lec tric (hī'drō i lek'trik), of or having to do with the generation of electricity by water power, or by the friction of water or steam. adj.

hy dro e lec tric i ty (hī'drō i lek'tris'ē tē), electricity produced from water power, etc. n.

hy dro flu or ic (hī'drō flū ōr'ik), containing hydrogen and fluorine. adj.

hydrofluoric acid, a colorless, corrosive, volatile liquid used for etching glass.

hy dro gen (hī'drā jən), a very light, colorless gas that burns easily and weighs less than any other known element. Hydrogen combines chemically with oxygen to form water. Symbol: H n.

hy dro gen ate (hī'drā jən āt), combine with hydrogen; treat with hydrogen. v., hy dro gen at ed, hy dro gen at ing.

hy dro gen a tion (hī'drā jən ā'shən), combination with hydrogen. Hydrogenation changes vegetable oils into solid fats. n.

hydrogen bomb, bomb that uses the fusion of atoms to cause an explosion of tremendous force; fusion bomb; superatomic bomb. It is many times more powerful than the atomic bomb. Also, H-bomb.

hy dro gen ize (hī'drā jən īz), hydrogenate. v., hy dro gen ized, hy dro gen iz ing.

hydrogen peroxide, a colorless, unstable liquid often used in dilute solution as an antiseptic, bleaching agent, etc.

hy dro graph ic (hī'drā graf'ik), of or having to do with hydrography. adj.

hy drog ra phy (hī'drog'rā fē), science of the measurement and description of seas, lakes, rivers, etc., with special reference to their use for navigation and commerce. n.

hy drol y sis (hī drol'ē sis), chemical decomposition that changes a compound into other compounds by taking up the elements of water. n., pl. hy drol y ses (-sēz).

hy dro lyze (hī'drā līz), decompose by hydrolysis. v., hy dro lyzed, hy dro lyz ing.

hy drom e ter (hī drom'ē tēr), a graduated instrument for finding the specific gravity of liquids. A hydrometer is used to test the battery of an automobile. n.

hy dro met ric (hī'drā met'rik), 1. of or having to do with hydrometry. 2. of or having to do with a hydrometer. adj.

hy drom e try (hī drom'ē trē), determination of specific gravity, density, purity, etc., by means of a hydrometer. n.

hy dro path ic (hī'drā path'ik), of or using hydropathy. adj.

hy drop a thy (hī drop'ə thē), treatment of disease by using quantities of water externally and internally. n.

hy dro pho bi a (hī'drā fō'bē ə), 1. an infectious disease of dogs and other flesh-eating mammals that causes convulsions, frothing at the mouth, and madness; rabies. The disease can be transmitted to man and other animals by the bite of an infected animal. 2. a morbid dread of water. n.

hy dro plane (hī'drā plān), 1. motorboat that glides on the surface of water. 2. airplane provided with floats or with a boatlike underpart, enabling it to alight upon and ascend from water; seaplane. n.

hy dro pon ics (hī'drā pon'iks), the growing of plants without soil. n.

hy dro sphere (hī'drā sfīr), 1. water on the surface of the globe. 2. the water vapor in the atmosphere. n.

hy dro stat (hī'drā stat), 1. any of various devices for preventing injury to a steam boiler from low water. 2. an electrical device for detecting the presence of water from overflow, leakage, etc. n.

hy dro stat ic (hī'drā stat'ik), of or having to do with hydrostatics. adj.

hy dro stat ics (hī'drā stat'iks), branch of physics that deals with the equilibrium and pressure of water and other liquids. n.

hy dro ther a py (hī'drō ther'ə pē), treatment of disease by means of water; hydropathy. n.

hy drot ro pism (hī drot'rə piz əm), tropism in response to water. Hydrotropism causes roots to grow toward water. n.

hy drous (hī'dras), containing water usually in combination. A hydrous salt is a crystalline compound. adj.

hy drox id (hī drok'id), hydroxide. n.

hy drox ide (hī drok'sid), any compound consisting of an element or radical combined with one or more hydroxyl radicals. Hydroxides of metals are bases; those of non-metals are acids. n.

hy drox yl (hī drok'sl), a univalent radical, —OH. It is in all hydroxides. n.

hy dro zo an (hī'drā zō'ən), any of a group of invertebrate water animals including hydras, polyps, many jellyfishes, etc. n.

hy e na (hī ē'nə), a wolflike, flesh-eating mammal of Africa and Asia. Most hyenas are cowardly, but utter bloodcurdling yells. n.

Hy ge ia (hī jē'ə), the Greek goddess of health. n.

hy giene (hī'jēn), rules of health; science of keeping well. n.

hy gi en ic (hī'jē en'ik), 1. healthful; sanitary. 2. having to do with health or hygiene. adj.

hy gi en ist (hī'jēn ist), person who is trained in hygiene. n.

hy grom e ter (hī grom'ē tēr), instrument for determining the amount of moisture in the air. n.

hy gro met ric (hī'grā met'rik), 1. of or having to do with hygrometry. 2. absorbing moisture readily; sensitive to moisture. adj.

hy grom e try (hī grom'ē trē), science of determining the amount of moisture in the air. n.

hy gro scope (hī'grā skōp), instrument that shows the variations in the humidity of the air. n.

hy gro scop ic (hī'grā skop'ik), 1. having to do with or perceptible by the hygroscope. 2. absorbing or attracting moisture from the air. adj.

hy ing (hī'ing), ppr. of hie. v.

hy la (hī'lə), tree todd. n.

Hy men (hī'mən), the Greek god of marriage. n.

hy men (hī'mən), a fold of mucous membrane extending partly across the opening into the vagina. n.

Striped hyena
(about 2 ft. high
at the shoulder)

hy me ne al (hī'mə nē'əl), 1. having to do with marriage. 2. a wedding song. 1 adj., 2 n.

hy me nop ter ous (hī'mə nɒp'tər əs), belonging to a group of insects including ants, bees, and wasps. Hymenopterous insects have four membranous wings, when winged. adj.

hymn (him), 1. song in praise or honor of God. 2. any song of praise. 3. praise or honor with a hymn. 1, 2 n., 3 v. —hymn/like', adj.

hym nal (him'nəl), book of hymns. n.

hy oid (hī'oid), 1. the U-shaped bone at the root of the tongue in people. 2. a corresponding bone or collection of bones in animals. 3. noting or having to do with this bone. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

hy per a cid i ty (hī'pər əsɪd'ə tē), excessive acidity. n.

hy per bo le (hī'pər'bl ē), exaggeration for effect. Example: Waves high as mountains broke over the reef. n.

hy per bol ic (hī'pər bol'ik), of, like, or using hyperbole; exaggerated; exaggerating. adj.

hy per crit i cal (hī'pər krit'ə kl), too critical. adj. —hy'per crit'i cal ly, adv.

hy per o pi a (hī'pər ō'pē ə), far-sightedness. n.

hy per op ic (hī'pər op'ik), far-sighted. adj.

hy per sen si tive (hī'pər sen'sə tiv), excessively sensitive. adj. —hy'per sen'si tive ness, n.

hy per sen si tiv i ty (hī'pər sen'sə tiv'ə tē), excessive sensitiveness. n.

hy per son ic (hī'pər son'ik), of or having to do with speed five or more times faster than the speed of sound in air (1087 feet per second). adj.

hy per ten sion (hī'pər ten'shən), an abnormally high blood pressure. n.

hy per tro phy (hī'pər'trə fē), 1. enlargement of a part or organ; growing too big. 2. grow too big. 1 n., pl. hy per tro phies; 2 v., hy per tro phied, hy per tro phying.

hy phen (hī'fən), 1. mark (-) used to connect the parts of a compound word, or the parts of a word divided at the end of a line, etc. 2. hyphenate. 1 n., 2 v.

hy phen ate (hī'fən āt), connect by a hyphen; write or print with a hyphen. v., hy phen at ed, hy phen at ing.

hy phen a tion (hī'fən ā'shən), act of connecting by or writing with a hyphen. n.

hyp no sis (hip nō'sis), state resembling deep sleep, but more active, in which a person has little will of his own and little feeling, and acts according to the suggestions of the person who brought about the hypnosis. n., pl. hyp no ses (-sēz).

hyp not ic (hip not'ik), 1. of hypnosis. 2. easily hypnotized. 3. person who is hypnotized or easily hypnotized. 4. causing sleep. 5. drug or other means of causing sleep. 1, 2, 4 adj., 3, 5 n. —hyp not'i cal ly, adv.

hyp no tism (hip'nə tiz əm), 1. the inducing of hypnosis; hypnotizing. 2. science dealing with hypnosis. n.

hyp no tist (hip'nə tist), person who hypnotizes. n.

hyp no tize (hip'nə tiz), 1. put into a hypnotic state; cause hypnosis. 2. Informal. dominate or control the will of by suggestion. v., hyp no tized, hyp no tiz ing. —hyp'no tiz'a ble, adj. —hyp'no tiz'er, n.

hy po (hī'pō), a colorless, crystalline salt, a sodium compound, used as a fixing agent in photography. n., pl. hy pos.

hy po (hī'pō), Informal. hypodermic. n., pl. hy pos.

hy po chlo rite (hī'pə klō'rit), salt of hypochlorous acid. n.

hy po chlo rous acid (hī'pə klō'rəs), a yellow solution with an irritating odor, used as a bleach, disinfectant, etc.

hy po chon dri a (hī'pə kon'drē ə), 1. unnatural anxiety about one's health; imaginary illness. 2. low spirits without any real reason. n.

hy po chon dri ac (hī'pə kon'drē ak), 1. person suffering from hypochondria. 2. suffering from hypochondria. 1 n., 2 adj.

hy poc ri sy (hī pok'rə sē), 1. act or fact of putting on a false appearance of goodness or religion. 2. pretending to be what one is not; pretense. n., pl. hy poc ri sies.

hyp o crite (hip'ə krit), 1. person who puts on a false appearance of goodness or religion. 2. person who pretends to be what he is not; pretender. n.

hyp o crit i cal (hip'ə krit'ə kl), of or like a hypocrite; insincere. adj. —hyp'o crit'i cal ly, adv.

hy po der mic (hī'pə dər'mik), 1. under the skin. 2. injected under the skin: The doctor used a hypodermic needle. 3. dose of medicine injected under the skin: The doctor gave her a hypodermic to make her sleep. 4. syringe used to inject a dose of medicine under the skin. 1, 2 adj., 3, 4 n.

hy po der mi cal ly (hī'pə dər'mik lē), by injection under the skin. adv.

hy po sul fite (hī'pə sul'fit), salt of hyposulfurous acid. n.

hy po sul fur ous (hī'pō sul'fər əs), noting or having to do with an acid used as a reducing and bleaching agent. adj.

hy pot e nuse (hī pot'n ūs or hī pot'n-ūs), side of a right-angled triangle opposite the right angle. n.

hy poth e cate (hī poth'ə kāt), pledge (property, stock, etc.) to a creditor as security for a loan or debt; mortgage. v., hy poth e cat ed, hy poth e cat ing.

hy poth e ca tion (hī poth'ə kā'shən), 1. act or fact of depositing as security. 2. a claim against property deposited as security. n.

hy poth e nuse (hī pot'n ūs or hī pot'n ūs), hypotenuse. n.

hy poth e ses (hī poth'ə sēz), pl. of hypothesis. n.

hy poth e sis (hī poth'ə sis), 1. something assumed because it seems likely to be a true explanation; theory: Let us act on the hypothesis that he is honest. 2. proposition assumed as a basis for reasoning. n., pl. hy poth e ses.

hy poth e size (hī poth'ə siz), 1. make a hypothesis. 2. assume; suppose. v., hy poth e sized, hy poth e siz ing.

hy po thet ic (hī'pə thet'ik), hypothetical. adj.

hy po thet i cal (hī'pə thet'ə kl), 1. of or based on a hypothesis; assumed; supposed. 2. fond of making hypotheses: a hypothetical scientist. adj. —hy'po thet'i cal ly, adv.

hys sop (his'əp), 1. a fragrant, bushy plant of the same family as mint, used for medicine, flavoring, etc. 2. in the Bible, a plant whose twigs were used in certain Jewish ceremonies. Psalms 51:7. n.

hys te ri a (his tī'rē ə or his ter'ē ə), 1. a nervous disorder that causes violent fits of laughing and crying, imaginary illnesses, or general lack of self-control. 2. senseless excitement. n.

hys ter ic (his ter'ik), hysterical. adj.

hys ter i cal (his ter'ə kl), 1. unnaturally excited. 2. showing an unnatural lack of control; unable to stop laughing, crying, etc.; suffering from hysteria. adj. —hys ter'i cal ly, adv.

hys ter ics (his ter'iks), fit of hysterical laughing and crying. n.pl.

Hypodermic needle, being withdrawn after an injection. The "needle" actually consists of a hollow needle, which pierces the skin, a tube for the medicine, and a plunger that forces the medicine through the needle.

I

I or i (i), the ninth letter of the alphabet. n., pl. I's or i's.

I² (i), person who is speaking or writing: John said, "I am ten years old." I like my dog, and he likes me. pron., nom. I, poss. my or mine, obj. me; pl. nom. we, poss. ours or our, obj. us; n., pl. I's.

I³, 1. the Roman numeral for 1. 2. iodine.

i, the Roman numeral for 1.

I., 1. Island; Islands. 2. Isle; Isles.

Ia., Iowa.

-ial, suffix meaning the same as -al, as in adverbial, facial, etc.

i am bic (i am' bik), 1. measure in poetry consisting of two syllables, an unaccented followed by an accented. 2. verse of iambics. 3. of or containing iambic measures. Much English poetry is iambic.

Example: "The sun|that brief|Decem|ber day

Rose cheer|less o|ver hills|of gray."

1,2 n., 3 adj.

-ian, suffix meaning the same as -an, as in Bostonian, Episcopalian, etc.

I be ri a (i bir' ē ə), peninsula in SW Europe, occupied by Spain and Portugal. n.

I be ri an (i bir' ē ən), 1. of or having to do with Iberia or its people. 2. inhabitant of ancient Iberia. The Basques are supposed to be descended from the Iberians. 1 adj., 2 n.

i bex (i' bɛks), a wild goat of Europe, Asia, or Africa. The male has very large horns. n., pl. i bex es, ibices (ib' ə sɛz or i' bə sɛz), or (esp. collectively) i bex.

i bis (i' bis), a long-legged wading bird like a heron. The ancient Egyptians regarded the ibis as sacred. n., pl. i bis es or (esp. collectively) i bis.

-ible, suffix meaning: that can be —ed, as in impressible, perfectible, reducible. It is added to verbs to make adjectives.

ibn-Sa ud (ib' n sə ūd'), Abdul-Aziz, 1880-1953, king of Saudi Arabia 1932-1953. n.

-ic, suffix meaning:

1. of or having to do with, as in atmospheric, Icelandic.

2. having the nature of, as in artistic, heroic.

3. constituting or being, as in bombastic, monolithic.

4. characterized by; containing; made up of, as in alcoholic, iambic.

5. made by; caused by, as in phonographic.

6. like; like that of; characteristic of, as in meteoric, antagonistic, idyllic, sophomoric. Many words ending in -ic have two or more of these meanings (1 to 6).

7. in chemical terms, -ic implies a smaller proportion of the element than -ous implies, as in boric, chloric, ferric, sulfuric.

-ical, suffix meaning:

1. -ic, as in geometrical, parasitical, hysterical.

2. -ic specialized or differentiated in meaning, as in economical.

3. -ical sometimes equals -al added to nouns ending in -ic, as in critical, musical.

-ically, suffix meaning: -ic + -ly. Instead of artistic-ly we write artistically; instead of alphabetic-ly we write alphabetically. In speaking, the suffix is ordinarily pronounced in two syllables (-ik li).

Ic a rus (ik' ə rəs), in Greek legend, the son of Daedalus. Icarus and his father escaped from Crete by using wings that Daedalus had made. Icarus flew so high that the sun melted the wax by which his wings were attached. n.

ICBM, Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, a ballistic missile of extreme range (up to 5000 miles).

ice (is), 1. water made solid by cold; frozen water.

2. layer or surface of ice. 3. of ice; having to do with ice. 4. something that looks or feels like ice. 5. cool with ice; put ice in or around. 6. cover with ice. 7. turn to ice; freeze. 8. a frozen dessert usually made of sweetened fruit juice. 9. cover (cake) with icing. 10. icing.

11. Slang. diamonds. 1,2,4,8,10,11 n., 3 adj., 5-7,9 v., iced, ic ing. —ice/less, adj.

break the ice, 1. make a beginning; start something dangerous or difficult. 2. overcome first difficulties in talking or getting acquainted.

on thin ice, in a dangerous or difficult position.

ice age, 1. any of the times when much of the earth was covered with glaciers. 2. the most recent such time, when most of the Northern Hemisphere was covered with glaciers.

ice berg (is' bɛrg'), a large mass of ice floating in the sea. n.

ice boat (is' bōt'), 1. a triangular frame on runners, fitted with sails for sailing on ice. 2. ice-breaker. n.

ice bound (is' bound'), 1. held fast by ice; frozen in. 2. shut in or obstructed by ice. adj.

ice box (is' bɒks'), an insulated box in which to keep food, liquids, etc., cool with ice, etc. n.

ice breaker (is' brāk' ər), a strong boat used to break a channel through ice. n.

ice cap (is' kap'), a permanent covering of ice over an area, sloping down on all sides from an elevated center. n.

ice cream, a frozen dessert made of cream or custard sweetened and flavored.

iced (ist), 1. cooled with ice; with ice in or around it. 2. covered with icing. adj.

ice field, a large sheet of ice floating in the sea.

ice hockey, game of hockey played on ice.

ice house (is' hous'), building where ice is stored. n.

Ice land (is' lənd), a large island in the N Atlantic, formerly a Danish possession. Iceland has been an independent republic since 1944. 174,000 pop.; 39,758 sq. mi. Capital: Reykjavik. See Faeroe Islands for map. n.

Ice land er (is' lan' dər or is' lən dər), native or inhabitant of Iceland. n.

Ice lan dic (is lan' dik), 1. of or having to do with Iceland, its people, or their language. 2. the language of Iceland. 1 adj., 2 n.

ice man (is' man'), U.S. man who sells, delivers, or handles ice. n., pl. ice men (-men').

ice pack, 1. a large area of masses of ice floating in the sea. 2. bag containing ice for application to the body.

ice sheet, a broad, thick sheet of ice covering a very large area for a long time.

ice-skate (is' skāt'), skate on ice. v., ice-skated, ice-skating.

Ibex (about 3½ ft. high at the shoulder)

Ibis (about 3½ ft. long)

Iceberg

ice skates, a pair of metal runners, usually attached to shoes, for skating on ice.

ice water, 1. water cooled with ice. 2. water from melted ice.

ich neu mon (ik nū'mən or ik-nū'mən), 1. a small brown mammal of Egypt, resembling the weasel. 2. ichneumon fly. n.

ichneumon fly, insect that looks like a wasp but does not sting. Its larvae live as parasites in or on other insects.

ich thy ol o gist (ik'thē ol'ə jist), expert in ichthyology. n.

ich thy ol o gy (ik'thē ol'ə jē), branch of zoology dealing with fishes. n.

ich thy o saur (ik'thē ə sō'r'), an extinct fishlike marine reptile with four paddlelike flippers. n.

ich thy o sau rus (ik'thē ə sō'-rəs), ichthyosaur. n., pl. ich-thy o sau ri (-sō'ri).

i ci cle (i'si kl), a pointed, hanging stick of ice formed by the freezing of dripping water. n.

ic ing (is'ing), mixture of sugar with white of egg or other things, used to cover cakes. n.

i con (i'kon), 1. a sacred picture or image of Christ, an angel, a saint, etc. Icons are venerated in the Greek Orthodox Church. 2. picture; image. n., pl. i cons, i co nes (i'kə nēz). Also, ikon.

i con o clast (i'kon'ə klast), 1. person opposed to worshiping images. 2. person who attacks cherished beliefs or institutions as wrong or foolish. n.

i con o clas tic (i'kon'ə klas'tik), of iconoclasts. adj.

i cy (i'sē), 1. like ice; very cold; slippery. 2. having much ice; covered with ice. 3. of ice. 4. without warm feeling; cold and unfriendly. adj., i ci er, i ci est. —i'ci ly, adv. —i'ci ness, n.

I'd (id), 1. I should. 2. I would. 3. I had. Id., Idaho.

Ida., Idaho.

Ida ho (i'də hō), a Western State of the United States. 667,000 pop.; 83,557 sq. mi. Capital: Boise. Abbrev.: Ida. or Id. n. —I'da ho'an, n., adj.

Idaho Falls, city in SE Idaho. 33,000.

i de a (i'dē'ə), 1. plan, picture, or belief of the mind: have an idea how a thing looks. 2. thought; fancy; opinion: He had no idea that work at high school was so hard. 3. point; purpose: The idea of a vacation is to get a rest. n. —i de'a less, adj.

i de al (i'dē'al), 1. perfect type; model to be imitated; what one would wish to be: Ruth's mother is her ideal. Religion holds up high ideals for us to follow. 2. just as one would wish; perfect: A warm, sunny day is ideal for a picnic. 3. existing only in thought: A point without length, breadth, or thickness is an ideal object. 4. not practical; visionary. 5. having to do with ideas; representing an idea. 1 n., 2-5 adj. —i de'al less, adj.

i de al ism (i'dē'al iz əm), 1. an acting according to one's ideals of what ought to be, regardless of circumstances or of the approval or disapproval of others. 2. a cherishing of fine ideals. 3. in art or literature, representing imagined types rather than an exact copy of any one person, instance, or situation. Idealism is opposed to realism. 4. the philosophical belief that all our knowledge is a knowledge of ideas and that it is impossible to know whether there really is a world of objects on which our ideas are based. Idealism is opposed to materialism, which holds that objects really exist apart from our ideas. n.

i de al ist (i'dē'al ist), 1. person who acts according to his ideals; person who has fine ideals. 2. person who neglects practical matters in following ideals. 3. adherent of idealism in art, literature, or philosophy. n.

i de al is tic (i'dē'al is'tik or i'dē'al is'tik), 1. having high ideals and acting according to them. 2. forgetting or neglecting practical matters in trying to follow out one's ideals; not practical. 3. of idealism or idealists. adj.

Ichneumon
(about 3 ft. long,
including the tail)

Ichthyosaur
(from 4 to 40 ft. long)

i de al i za tion (i'dē'al ə zā'shən), 1. an idealizing. 2. a being idealized. 3. result of idealizing. n.

i de al ize (i'dē'al iz), make ideal; think of or represent as perfect rather than as is actually the case: Mary idealized her older sister and thought that everything she did was right. v., i de al ized, i de al iz ing.

i de al ly (i'dē'al ē), 1. according to an ideal; perfectly. 2. in idea or theory. adv.

i de a tion (i'dē'ā'shən), formation of ideas. n.

i den ti cal (i'den'tə kl), 1. the same: Both events happened on the identical day. 2. exactly alike: 6 feet 2 inches and 74 inches are identical amounts. adj. —i den'ti cal ly, adv. —i den'ti cal ness, n.

identical twins, twins of the same sex and physical appearance who developed from a single fertilized egg cell.

i den ti fi ca tion (i'den'tə fə kā'shən), 1. an identifying. 2. being identified. 3. something used to identify a person or thing: He offered his driver's license as identification. n.

i den ti fy (i'den'tə fi), 1. recognize as being, or show to be, a certain person or thing; prove to be the same: Fred identified the bag as his by telling what it contained.

2. make the same; treat as the same: A good king identifies the interest of his people with his own prosperity.

3. connect closely; link; associate. v., i den ti fied, i den ti fy ing. —i den'ti fi'a ble, adj. —i den'ti fi'er, n.

i den ti ty (i'den'tə tē), 1. individuality; who a person is; what a thing is: The writer concealed his identity under an assumed name. 2. exact likeness; sameness: The identity of the two crimes led the police to think that the same person committed them. 3. state or fact of being the same one: establish the identity of a person seen today with one seen yesterday. n., pl. i den ti ties.

i de ol o gy (i'dē ol'ə jē or id'ē ol'ə jē), 1. set of doctrines; body of opinions. 2. the combined doctrines, assertions, and intentions of a social or political movement. 3. abstract speculation; especially, theorizing or speculation of a visionary or impractical nature. 4. science of ideas. n., pl. i de ol o gies.

ides (idz), in the ancient Roman calendar, the 15th day of March, May, July, and October, and the 13th day of the other months. n.pl.

id i o cy (id'ē ə sē), 1. being an idiot. 2. acting like an idiot. 3. very great stupidity or folly. n., pl. id i o cies.

id i om (id'ē əm), 1. phrase or expression whose meaning cannot be understood from the ordinary meanings of the words in it: "How do you do?" and "I have caught cold" are English idioms. 2. dialect: He spoke in the idiom of the New England countryside. 3. a people's way of expressing themselves: The French idiom can say "of a rapidity" for "rapid". 4. individual manner of expression in music, art, etc. n.

id i o mat ic (id'ē ə mat'ik), 1. using an idiom or idioms. 2. of idioms; concerning idioms. 3. showing the individual character of a language; characteristic of a particular language. adj. —id i o mat'i cal ly, adv.

id i o syn cra sy (id'ē ō sing'krə sē), a personal peculiarity: Eating no meat was Amy's idiosyncrasy. n., pl. id i o syn cra sies.

id i ot (id'ē ət), 1. person born with such slight mental capacities that he can never learn to read or count; born fool. 2. a very stupid or foolish person. n.

id i ot ic (id'ē ət'ik), of or like an idiot; very stupid or foolish. adj. —id i ot'i cal ly, adv.

i dle (i'dl), 1. doing nothing; not busy; not working: idle hands. 2. not willing to do things; lazy: The idle boy would not study. 3. useless; worthless: He wasted his time in idle pleasures. 4. without any good reason, cause, or foundation: idle fears, idle rumors. 5. be idle; do nothing: Are you going to spend your whole vacation just idling? 6. waste (time); spend: She idled away many hours lying in the hammock. 7. run slowly without transmitting power. A motor idles when it is out of gear and running slowly. 1-4 adj., i dler, i dlest; 5-7 v., i dled, i dling. —i'dle ness, n. —i'dly, adv.

i dler (i'dlər), a lazy person. n.

i dol (i'dl), 1. image or other object worshiped as a god. 2. in the Bible, a false god. 3. person or thing worshiped or loved very much; object of extreme devotion: Little Michael was the idol of his family. n.

i dol a ter (i'dl'ə tər), 1. person who worships idols. 2. admirer; adorer; devotee. n.

i dol a tress (i'dl'ə tris), 1. woman who worships idols. 2. adorer; devotee. n.

i dol a trous (i'dl'ə trəs), 1. worshipping idols. 2. having to do with idolatry. 3. blindly adoring. adj. —i dol'a trous ly, adv.

i dol a try (i'dl'ə trē), 1. worship of idols. 2. worship of a person or thing; great love or admiration; extreme devotion: The queen was adored to the point of idolatry. n., pl. i dol a tries.

i dol i za tion (i'dl ə zā'shən), 1. an idolizing. 2. being idolized. n.

i dol iz e (i'dl iz), 1. worship as an idol; make an idol of. 2. love or admire very much; be extremely devoted to. v., i dol ized, i dol iz ing.

i dyl or i dyl (i'dl), 1. a short description in poetry or prose of a simple and charming scene or event, especially one connected with country life. 2. a simple and charming scene or event suitable for such a description. n.

i dyl lic (i'dil'ik), suitable for an idyl; simple and charming. adj.

-ie, suffix meaning: little; darling, as in dearie, lassie.

i.e., that is; that is to say.

if (if), 1. supposing that; on condition that; in case that: If you are going, leave now. 2. whether: I wonder if he will go. 3. Informal. although; even though: If he is little, he is strong. 4. condition; supposition. 1-3 conj., 4 n.

as if, as it would be if.

ig loo (ig'lū), a dome-shaped hut used by Eskimos, often built of blocks of hard snow. n., pl. ig loos.

ig na tius Loy o la (ig nā'shəs loi ō'lə). See Loyola.

ig ne ous (ig'nē əs), 1. of fire; having to do with fire. 2. produced by fire, intense heat, or volcanic action. Granite is an igneous rock. adj.

ig nis fat u us (ig'nis fəch'ū əs), 1. a flitting phosphorescent light seen at night chiefly over marshy ground; will-o'-the-wisp. 2. something deluding or misleading. pl. ig nes fat u i (ig'nēz fəch'ū i).

ig nite (ig'nit'), 1. set on fire: You ignite a match by scratching it. 2. make intensely hot; cause to glow with heat. 3. take fire; begin to burn: Gasoline ignites easily. v., ig nit ed, ig nit ing. —ig nit'er, n.

ig ni tion (ig nish'ən), 1. a setting on fire. 2. a catching on fire. 3. apparatus for igniting the explosive vapor in the cylinders of an internal-combustion engine. A spark plug is a part of the ignition of a gasoline engine. n.

ig no ble (ig nō'bl), 1. mean; base; without honor: To betray a friend is ignoble. 2. of low birth: Some very great men have come from ignoble families. adj. —ig no'ble ness, n. —ig no'bly, adv.

ig no min i ous (ig'nə min'ē əs), 1. shameful; disgraceful; dishonorable; humiliating. 2. contemptible. adj. —ig no min'i ous ly, adv.

ig no min y (ig'nə min'ē), 1. loss of one's good name; public shame and disgrace; dishonor. 2. shameful action or conduct. n., pl. ig no min ies.

ig no ra mus (ig'nə rā'məs), an ignorant person. n., pl. ig no ra mus es.

ig no rance (ig'nə rəns), lack of knowledge; quality or condition of being ignorant. n.

ig no rant (ig'nə rənt), 1. knowing little or nothing; without knowledge. A person who has not had much chance to learn may be ignorant but not stupid:

Igloo

People who live in the city are often ignorant of farm life. 2. caused by lack of knowledge. 3. showing lack of knowledge: an ignorant remark. 4. uninformed; unaware: He was ignorant of the fact that the town had been destroyed. adj. —ig'no rant ly, adv.

ig no re (ig nōr'), pay no attention to; disregard: When you scratch your knee it is better to ignore the pain than to cry. v., ig no red, ig nor ing.

Ig o rot (ig'ə rōt'), 1. member of a Malay tribe of the Philippine Islands. 2. their language. n., pl. Ig o rot or Ig o rots.

Ig or ro te (ig'ə rō tē), Igorot. n., pl. Ig or ro te or Ig or ro tes.

Igraine (i grān'), mother of King Arthur. n.

i gua na (i gwā'nə), a large climbing lizard that has small scales and a fringelike crest of skin along the back, found in tropical America. n.

Iguana (about 5 ft. long)

Iguas sú (ē gwā sū'), 1. river flowing across S Brazil into the Paraná River. 380 mi. 2. falls on this river. 210 ft. n.

IGY, International Geophysical Year.

IHS, first three letters of the name of Jesus in Greek.

I.H.S., 1. Jesus the Savior of men. 2. In this sign thou shalt conquer. 3. In this cross is salvation.

i kon (i'kon), icon. n.

Il, illinium.

il-, prefix meaning: not, as in illegal, illegible. in- becomes il- before l.

Il Du ce (ēl dū'chā), title of Benito Mussolini as head of the Fascists of Italy. It means "the Leader."

il e ac (il'ē ək), of or having to do with the ileum. adj.

il e um (il'ē əm), the lowest part of the small intestine. n.

il i ac (il'ē ək), 1. of or having to do with the ilium; near the ilium. 2. of or having to do with the ileum. adj.

Il i ad (il'ē əd), a long Greek epic poem about the siege of Ilium, or Troy. Homer is supposed to be its author. n.

il i um (il'ē əm), the broad upper portion of the hipbone. n., pl. ilia (il'ē ə).

Il i um (il'ē əm), ancient Troy. n.

ilk (ilk), 1. Archaic. same. 2. Informal. family; kind; sort. 1 adj., 2 n.

of that ilk, Informal. 1. of the same place or name. 2. of that kind or sort.

ill (il), 1. sick; having some disease; not well: ill with a fever. 2. sickness; disease: She told us about all the ills she had had. 3. an evil; a harm; a trouble: Poverty is an ill. 4. bad; evil; harmful: an ill deed. 5. badly; harmfully: work done ill. 6. unfavorable; unfortunate: an ill wind. 7. unfavorably; unfortunately. 8. unkind; harsh; cruel: an ill turn. 9. in an unkind manner; harshly; cruelly. 10. scarcely; with trouble or difficulty: You can ill afford to waste your money. 1,4,6,8 adj., worse, worst; 2,3 n., 5,7,9,10 adv.

ill at ease, uncomfortable.

I'll (il), 1. I shall. 2. I will.

Ill., Illinois.

ill-ad vised (il'əd vizd'), acting or done without enough consideration; unwise. adj.

ill-bred (il'bred'), badly brought up; rude. adj.

ill breeding, bad manners; lack of a good bringing-up; impoliteness; rudeness.

ill-con sid ered (il'kən sid'ərd), not well considered; unwise; unsuitable. adj.

ill-dis posed (il'dis pōzd'), unfriendly; unfavorable. adj.

il le gal (il'ē gl), not lawful; against the law; forbidden by law. adj. —il le'gal ly, adv.

il le gal i ty (il'ē gal'ə tē), 1. unlawfulness. 2. an illegal act; act contrary to law. n., pl. il le gal i ties.

hat, âge, cäre, fär; let, bē, tērm; it, ice; hot, gō, ördér; oil, out; cup, püt, rüle, üse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ð, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

il leg i bil i ty (i lej'ə bil'ə tē), illegible quality or condition. n., pl. il leg i bil i ties.

il leg i ble (i lej'ə bl), very hard or impossible to read: The ink had faded so that many words were illegible. adj. —il leg'i ble ness, n. —il leg'i bly, adv.

il le git i ma cy (il'i jit'ə mə sē), fact or condition of being illegitimate. n., pl. il le git i ma cies.

il le git i mate (il'i jit'ə mit), 1. born of parents who are not married. 2. not according to the law or the rules. 3. not logical; not according to good usage; improper. adj. —il'le git'i mate ly, adv.

ill-fat ed (il'fat'id), 1. sure to have a bad fate or end. 2. bringing bad luck; unlucky. adj.

ill-fa vored (il'fā'vərd), 1. not pleasant to look at; ugly. 2. unpleasant; offensive. adj.

ill-fit ted (il'fit'id), unsuited. adj.

ill-found ed (il'foun'did), without a good reason or sound basis. adj.

ill-got ten (il'got'n), acquired by evil or unfair means; dishonestly obtained. adj.

ill-hu mored (il'hū'mərd), cross; unpleasant. adj.

il lib er al (i lib'ər əl), 1. not liberal; narrow-minded; prejudiced. 2. stingy; miserly. adj.

il lic it (i lis'it), not permitted by law; forbidden; improper. adj. —il lic'it ly, adv. —il lic'it ness, n.

il lim it a ble (i lim'ə tə bl), limitless; boundless; infinite. adj. —il lim'it a bly, adv.

il lin i um (i lin'ē əm), former name of promethium. Symbol: Il n.

Il li nois (il'ə noi' or il'ə noiz'), 1. a Middle Western State of the United States. 10,081,000 pop.; 56,400 sq. mi. Capital: Springfield. Abbrev.: Ill. 2. river flowing from NE Illinois into the Mississippi River. 273 mi. 3. member of an American Indian tribe formerly living between the Mississippi and Wabash rivers. n. —Il'li nois'an, n., adj.

il lit er a cy (i lit'ər ə sē), 1. inability to read or write. 2. lack of education; deficiency in cultural knowledge. 3. error in speaking or writing, caused by a lack of education or knowledge. n., pl. il lit er a cies.

il lit er ate (i lit'ər it), 1. unable to read or write. 2. person unable to read or write. 3. not cultured: He writes in a very illiterate way. 4. person who lacks culture. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n. —il lit'er ate ly, adv. —il lit'er ate ness, n.

ill-judged (il'jujd'), unwise; rash. adj.

ill-man nered (il'man'ərd), having or showing bad manners; impolite. adj. —ill'-man'nered ly, adv.

ill-na tured (il'nā'chərd), cross; disagreeable; spiteful. adj. —ill'-na'tured ly, adv.

ill ness (il'nis), sickness; disease; poor health: Scarlet fever is a serious illness. n.

il log i cal (i loj'ə kl), 1. not logical. 2. not reasonable. adj. —il log'i cal ly, adv. —il log'i cal ness, n.

ill-spent (il'spent'), spent badly; wasted. adj.

ill-starred (il'stārd'), unlucky; unfortunate. adj.

ill-suit ed (il'sūt'id), poorly suited; unsuitable. adj.

ill-tem pered (il'tem'pərd), having or showing a bad temper; cross. adj. —ill'-tem'pered ly, adv.

ill-timed (il'timd'), coming at a bad time; inappropriate. adj.

ill-treat (il'trēt'), treat badly or cruelly; do harm to; abuse. v.

ill treatment, bad or cruel treatment; harm; abuse. *il lume (i lūm'), Poetic. illuminate. *v., il lumed, il-lum ing.

il lu mi nant (i lū'mə nənt), something that gives light. Gas and oil are illuminants. n.

il lu mi nate (i lū'mə nāt), 1. light up; make bright: The room was illuminated by four large lamps. 2. make clear; explain: Our interesting teacher could illuminate almost any subject we studied. 3. decorate with lights: The streets were illuminated for the celebration. 4. decorate with gold, colors, pictures, and designs. Some old books and manuscripts were illuminated. 5. enlighten; inform; instruct. 6. make illustrious. v., il lu mi nat ed, il lu mi nat ing.

il lu mi na tion (i lū'mə nā'shən), 1. an illuminating; a lighting up; a making bright. 2. amount of light; light. 3. a making clear; explanation. 4. decoration with lights. 5. decoration of books and letters with gold, colors, pictures, and designs. 6. enlightenment. *n. il lu mi na tive (i lū'mə nā'tiv), illuminating; tending to illuminate. *adj.

il lu mine (i lū'mēn), make or become bright; illuminate; light up: A smile often illumines a homely face. v., il lu mined, il lu min ing.

illus., 1. illustration. 2. illustrated.

ill-us age (il'ūs'ij), bad, cruel, or unfair treatment. n.

ill-use (il'ūz' for 1; il'ūs' for 2), 1. treat badly, cruelly, or unfairly. 2. bad, cruel, or unfair treatment. 1 v., ill-used, ill-us ing; 2 n.

il lu sion (i lū'zhən), 1. appearance which is not real; misleading appearance: an illusion of reality. 2. a false impression or perception: That slender snow-covered bush at the gate produced the illusion of a woman waiting there. 3. a false idea, notion, or belief. 4. a delicate silk net or gauze, often used for veils and over wedding gowns. n.

il lu sive (i lū'siv), due to an illusion; unreal; misleading; deceptive. adj. —il lu'sive ly, adv. —il lu'sive ness, n.

il lu so ry (i lū'sə rē), illusive. adj.

illus., 1. illustration. 2. illustrated.

il lus trate (il'əs trāt or i lus'trāt), 1. make clear or explain by stories, examples, comparisons, etc.: The way that a pump works is used to illustrate how the heart sends blood around the body. 2. provide with pictures, diagrams, maps, etc., that explain or decorate: This book is well illustrated. v., il lus trat ed, il lus trat ing.

il lus tra tion (il'əs trā'shən), 1. picture, diagram, map, etc., used to explain or decorate something. 2. story, example, comparison, etc., used to make clear or explain something: The teacher cut an apple into four equal pieces as an illustration of what 1/4 means. 3. act or process of illustrating: Illustration is used in teaching children. n.

il lus tra tive (i lus'trə tiv or il'əs trā'tiv), illustrating; used to illustrate; helping to explain: A good teacher uses many illustrative examples to explain hard ideas. adj. —il lus'tra tive ly, adv.

il lus tra tor (il'əs trā'tər), 1. artist who makes pictures to be used as illustrations. 2. person or thing that illustrates. n.

il lus tri ous (i lus'trē əs), very famous; great; outstanding: Washington and Lincoln are illustrious Americans. adj. —il lus'tri ous ly, adv. —il lus'tri ous ness, n.

ill will, unkind or unfriendly feeling; dislike; hate.

Il lyr i a (i lir'ē ə), an ancient country in the region east of the Adriatic. See Gaul for map. n.

I'm (īm), I am.

im-¹, form of *in-*¹ before b, m, p, as in imbalance, immoral, impatient.

im-², form of *in-*² before b, m, p, as in imbibe, immure, impart.

im age (im'ij), 1. likeness; picture; copy: She saw her image in the mirror. She is almost the exact image of her mother. 2. likeness made of stone, wood, etc.; statue: The ancient Greeks and Romans worshiped images of their gods. 3. picture in the mind; idea. Your memory or imagination forms images of people and things that you do not actually see. 4. description or figure of speech that helps the mind to form forceful or beautiful pictures. Poetry often contains images. 5. form an image of, 6. reflect as a mirror does: The clouds were imaged in the still water. 7. picture in one's mind; imagine. 1-4 n., 5-7 v., im aged, im ag ing.

Optical illusion. The verticals appear to converge and diverge under the influence of the cross-pieces.

im age ry (im'ij rē), 1. pictures in the mind; things imagined. 2. descriptions and figures of speech that help the mind to form forceful or beautiful pictures. Poetry often contains imagery. 3. images; statues. n., pl. im age ries.

im mag i na ble (i maj'ə nə bl), that can be imagined; possible. adj. —im'ag'i na bly, adv.

im mag i na ry (i maj'ə nēr'ē), existing only in the imagination; not real: Fairies are imaginary. The equator is an imaginary line around the earth. adj.

im mag i na tion (i maj'ə nā'shən), 1. an imagining; power of forming pictures in the mind of things not present to the senses: The child's imagination filled the woods with strange animals and fairies. 2. ability to create new things or ideas or to combine old ones in new forms: Poets, artists, and inventors need imagination. 3. creation of the mind; fancy. n.

im mag i na tive (i maj'ə nā'tiv), 1. showing imagination: Fairy tales are imaginative. 2. able to imagine well; fond of imagining: The imaginative child made up fairy stories. 3. of imagination. adj. —im'ag'i na'tive ly, adv.

im mag ine (i maj'ən), 1. picture in one's mind; have an idea: We can hardly imagine life without electricity. 2. suppose; guess: I cannot imagine what you mean. 3. think; believe: She imagined someone was watching her. v., i mag ined, i mag in ing.

im ma go (i mā'gō), insect in the final adult, especially winged, stage. n., pl. i ma gos, i mag ines (i maj'ə-nēz).

im balm (im bām' or im bālm'), embalm. v.

im be cile (im'bəsl), 1. person of very weak mind. An imbecile is almost an idiot. 2. very weak in the mind. 3. a very stupid or foolish person. 4. very stupid or foolish. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 adj.

im be cil i ty (im'bəsil'ə tē), 1. feebleness of mind; mental weakness. 2. great stupidity or dullness. 3. a very stupid or foolish action, remark, etc. n., pl. im-be cil i ties.

im bed (im bed'), embed. v., im bed ded, im bed-ding.

im bibe (im bib'), 1. drink; drink in. 2. absorb: The roots of a plant imbibe moisture from the earth. 3. take into one's mind: Children often imbibe superstitions that last all their life. v., im bided, im bib ing. —im bib'er, n.

im bri ca tion (im'brə kā'shən), 1. an overlapping like that of tiles, shingles, etc. 2. a decorative pattern in imitation of this. n.

im bro glio (im brōl'yō), 1. a complicated or difficult situation. 2. a complicated misunderstanding or disagreement. n., pl. im bro glios.

im brue (im brū'), wet; stain: His sword was imbrued with blood. v., im brued, im bru ing.

im bue (im bū'), 1. fill; inspire: He imbued his son's mind with the ambition to succeed. 2. fill with moisture or color. v., im bued, im bu ing.

im i ta ble (im'ə tə bl), that can be imitated. adj.

im i ta te (im'ə tāt), 1. try to be like; follow the example of: The little boy imitated his father. 2. make or do something like; copy: A parrot imitates the sounds it hears. 3. act like: John amused us by imitating a baby, an old man, and a bear. 4. be like; look like; resemble: wood painted to imitate stone. v., im i tat ed, im i tat ing.

im i ta tion (im'ə tā'shən), 1. an imitating: We learn many things by imitation. 2. a copy: Give as good an imitation as you can of a rooster crowing. 3. not real: You can buy imitation pearls. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

in imitation of, in order to be like or look like.

im i ta tive (im'ə tā'tiv), 1. fond of imitating; likely or inclined to imitate others: Monkeys are imitative. 2. imitating; showing imitation: "Bang" and "whiz" are imitative words. 3. not real. adj. —im'i ta'tive ly, adv. —im'i ta'tive ness, n.

im i ta tor (im'ə tā'tər), person or animal that imitates. n.

im mac u late (i mak'yə lit), 1. without a spot or stain; absolutely clean. 2. without sin; pure. adj. —im mac'u late ly, adv. —im mac'u late ness, n.

im ma nence (im'ə nəns), state of being immanent. n.

im ma nent (im'ə nənt), remaining within. adj.

Im man u el (im'an'yū əl), Christ. n. Also, Emman-uel.

im ma te ri al (im'ə tir'ē əl), 1. not important; insignificant. 2. not material; spiritual rather than physical. adj. —im'ma te'ri al ly, adv. —im'ma te'ri al ness, n.

im ma ture (im'ə chūr', im'ə tūr', or im'ə tyūr'), not mature; not ripe; not full-grown; not fully developed. adj. —im'ma ture'ly, adv.

im ma tu ri ty (im'ə chūr'ə tē, im'ə tūr'ə tē, or im'ə tyūr'ə tē), a being immature. n.

im meas ur a ble (i mezh'ər ə bl), too vast to be measured; boundless; without limits. adj.

im meas ur a bly (i mezh'ər ə blē), beyond measure; to an immeasurable extent or degree. adv.

im me di a cy (i mē'dē ə sē), a being immediate. n.

im me di ate (i mē'dē it), 1. coming at once; without delay: an immediate reply. 2. with nothing between: in immediate contact. 3. direct: the immediate result. 4. closest; nearest: my immediate neighbor. 5. close; near: the immediate neighborhood. 6. having to do with the present: our immediate plans. adj. —im me'di ate ness, n.

im me di ate ly (i mē'dē it lē), 1. at once; without delay: I answered his letter immediately. 2. with nothing between. 3. next. 4. directly. adv.

im me mo ri al (im'ə mō'rē əl), extending back beyond the bounds of memory; extremely old. adj. —im'me mo'ri al ly, adv.

im mense (i mens'), 1. very big; huge; vast: An ocean is an immense body of water. 2. Slang. very good; fine; excellent. adj. —im mense'ness, n.

im mense ly (i mens'lē), very greatly. adv.

im men si ty (i men'sə tē), 1. very great or boundless extent; vastness: the ocean's immensity. 2. infinite space or existence. n., pl. im men si ties.

im mer se (i mērs'), 1. plunge into a liquid. 2. baptize by dipping (a person) under water. 3. involve deeply; absorb: immersed in business affairs, immersed in debts. v., im mersed, im mers ing.

im mer sion (i mēr'zhən or i mēr'shən), 1. an immersing. 2. a being immersed. 3. baptism by dipping a person under water. n.

im mi grant (im'ə grənt), 1. person who comes into a foreign country or region to live: Canada has many immigrants from Europe. California has many immigrants from other States. 2. immigrating. 1 n., 2 adj.

im mi grate (im'ə grāt), come into a foreign country or region to live. v., im mi grat ed, im mi grat ing.

im mi gra tion (im'ə grā'shən), 1. a coming into a foreign country or region to live: There has been immigration to America from all the countries of Europe. 2. immigrants: The immigration of 1918 included many Italians. n.

im mi nence (im'ə nəns), 1. state or fact of being imminent. 2. thing that is imminent; evil or danger about to occur. n.

im mi nent (im'ə nənt), likely to happen soon; about to occur: The black clouds, thunder, and lightning show that a storm is imminent. adj. —im'mi nent ly, adv.

im mo bile (i mō'bl), 1. not movable; firmly fixed. 2. not moving; not changing; motionless. adj.

im mo bil i ty (im'ō bil'ə tē), a being immobile. n.

im mo bi lize (i mō'bl iz), make immobile. v., im-mo bi lized, im mo bi liz ing.

Imbrication
of tiles

immoderate (i mod'ə r it), not moderate; too much; going too far; extreme; more than is right or proper. adj. —immoderately, adv. —immoderate ness, n.

immodest (i mod'ist), 1. not modest; bold and rude. 2. indecent; improper. adj. —immodestly, adv.

immodesty (i mod'is tē), 1. lack of modesty; boldness and rudeness. 2. lack of decency; improper behavior. n.

immolate (im'ə lāt), 1. kill as a sacrifice. 2. sacrifice. v., immo lat ed, immo lat ing.

immolation (im'ə lā'shən), sacrifice. n.

immoral (i mōr'əl), 1. morally wrong; wicked; Lying and stealing are immoral. 2. lewd; unchaste. adj. —immorally, adv.

immorality (im'ə ral'ə tē), 1. wickedness; wrongdoing; vice. 2. lewdness; unchastity. 3. an immoral act. n., pl. immo ral i ties.

immortal (i mōr'tl), 1. living forever; never dying; everlasting: A man's body dies, but his soul may be immortal. 2. an immortal being. 3. one of the gods of ancient Greek and Roman mythology. 4. of or having to do with immortal beings or immortality; divine. 5. remembered or famous forever: Shakespeare is one of the immortals. 1,4,5 adj., 2,3,6 n. —immortally, adv.

immortality (im'ōr tal'ə tē), 1. endless life; living forever. 2. fame that lasts forever. n.

immortalize (i mōr'tl iz), 1. make immortal. 2. give everlasting fame to: Great authors are immortalized by their works. v., immo tal ized, immo tal iz ing.

immortelle (im'ōr tel'), plant whose flowers keep their shape and color for a long time after it has entirely dried. n.

immovable (i mūv'ə bil'ə tē), a being immovable. n.

immovable (i mūv'ə bl), 1. that cannot be moved; firmly fixed. 2. not moving; not changing position; motionless: immovable mountains. 3. firm; steadfast; unyielding: an immovable purpose. 4. unfeeling; impassive. adj. —immovably, adv.

immovables, land, buildings, and other property that cannot be carried from one place to another.

immune (i mūn'), 1. protected from disease; not susceptible; inoculated: Some persons are immune to poison ivy. 2. exempt: immune from taxes. adj.

immunity (i mū'nə tē), 1. resistance to disease, poison, etc.: One attack of measles usually gives a person immunity to that disease for a number of years. 2. freedom; protection: The law gives schools and churches immunity from taxation. n., pl. im mu ni ties.

immunize (im'yə nīz), give immunity to; make immune: Vaccination immunizes people against smallpox. v., im mu nized, im mu niz ing. —im mu ni za tion, n.

immunology (im'yə nol'ə jē), science of the nature and causation of immunity from diseases. n.

imure (i myūr'), 1. imprison. 2. confine closely. v., im mured, im mur ing. —im murement, n.

immutable (i mū'tə bil'ə tē), a being immutable. n.

immutable (i mū'tə bl), never changing; unchangeable. adj. —immutably, adv.

imp (imp), 1. a young or small devil or demon. 2. a mischievous child. n.

imp., imperative.

impact (im'pakt), a striking (of one thing against another); collision: The impact of the two swords broke both of them. n.

impacted (im pak'tid), 1. firmly wedged in place. 2. of a tooth, pressed between the jawbone and another tooth. 3. closely packed. adj.

impair (im pār'), make worse; damage; weaken: Poor food impaired his health. v.

impairment (im pār'mənt), 1. an impairing. 2. a being impaired. 3. injury; damage. n.

impale (im pāl'), 1. pierce through with anything pointed; fasten upon anything pointed: The butterflies were impaled on small pins stuck in a sheet of cork.

2. torture or punish by thrusting upon a pointed stake. v., im paled, im pal ing. —im pale ment, n.

impalpable (im pal'pə bl), 1. that cannot be perceived by the sense of touch: Sunbeams are impalpable. 2. very hard for the mind to grasp: impalpable distinctions. adj. —impalpably, adv.

impanel (im pan'el), 1. put on a list for duty on a jury. 2. select (a jury) from the list. v., im pan eled, im pan el ing or esp. Brit. im pan elled, im pan el ling. Also, empanel.

impart (im pärt'), 1. give a share in; give: The furnishings imparted an air of elegance to the room. 2. communicate; tell: I will impart a secret to you. v.

impartial (im pār'shəl), showing no more favor to one side than to the other; fair; just: A judge should be impartial. adj. —impartially, adv.

impartiality (im'pär shē al'ə tē), fairness; justice. n.

impassable (im pas'ə bil'ə tē), being impassable. n.

impassable (im pas'ə bl), not passable; so that one cannot go through or across: Deep mud made the road impassable. adj. —impassably, adv.

impassé (im pas' or im'pas), 1. position from which there is no escape; deadlock. 2. road or way closed at one end. n.

impassible (im pas'ə bl), 1. unable to suffer or feel pain. 2. that cannot be harmed. 3. without feeling; impassive. adj.

impassioned (im pash'ənd), full of strong feeling; ardent; emotional: The general made an impassioned speech to his soldiers. adj.

impassive (im pas'iv), 1. without feeling or emotion; unmoved: He listened with an impassive face. 2. not feeling pain or injury; insensible: The soldier lay as impassive as if he were dead. 3. incapable of being injured. adj. —impassively, adv.

impassivity (im'pa siv'ə tē), being impassive. n.

impatience (im pā'shəns), 1. lack of patience; being impatient. 2. uneasiness and eagerness. n.

impatient (im pā'shənt), 1. not patient; not willing to bear delay, opposition, pain, bother, etc.: Jim is impatient with his little sister. 2. restless: The horses were impatient to start in the race. 3. showing lack of patience: an impatient answer. adj. —impatiently, adv. —impatient ness, n.

impatient of, unwilling to endure.

impeach (im pēch'), 1. call in question: impeach a person's honor or accuracy. 2. charge with wrongdoing; accuse. 3. accuse (a public officer) of wrong conduct during office before a competent tribunal: The judge was impeached for taking a bribe. v.

impeachable (im pēch'ə bl), 1. liable to be impeached. 2. likely to cause impeachment: an impeachable offense. adj.

impeachment (im pēch'mənt), 1. an impeaching: The impeachment of the President resulted in a verdict of "Not Guilty." 2. a being impeached. n.

impeccable (im pek'ə bil'ə tē), impeccable quality; faultlessness. n.

impeccable (im pek'ə bl), 1. faultless. 2. sinless. adj. —impeccably, adv.

impediment (im pēd'ə mēnt), 1. hindrance; obstruction. 2. defect in speech. n.

impediment (im pēd'ə mēnt), 1. traveling equipment; baggage. 2. the military supplies carried along with an army. n.

impel (im pel'), 1. drive; force; cause: Hunger impelled the lazy man to work. 2. cause to move, drive forward; push along: The wind impelled the boat to shore. v., im pelled, im pel ling. —impeller, n.

im pend (im pend'), 1. be likely to happen soon; be ready to occur; be near: When war impends, wise men try to prevent it. 2. hang; hang threateningly. v.

im pend ing (im pen/ding), 1. likely to happen soon; threatening; about to occur. 2. overhanging: Above him were impending cliffs. adj.

im pen e tra bil i ty (im pen'ə trə bil'ə tē), being impenetrable. n.

im pen e tra ble (im pen'ə trə bl), 1. that cannot be entered, pierced, or passed: A thick sheet of steel is impenetrable by an ordinary bullet. 2. not open to ideas, influences, etc.: an impenetrable mind. 3. impossible for the mind to understand; inscrutable: an impenetrable secret. adj. —im pen'e tra bly, adv.

im pen i tence (im pen'ə tans), lack of any sorrow or regret for doing wrong. n.

im pen i tent (im pen'ə tənt), not penitent; feeling no sorrow or regret for having done wrong. adj. —im pen'i tent ly, adv.

imper., imperative.

im per a tive (im per'ə tiv), 1. not to be avoided; urgent; necessary: It is imperative that a very sick child stay in bed. 2. a command: The great imperative is "Love thy neighbor as thyself." 3. expressing a command. "Go!" and "Stop, look, listen!" are in the imperative mood. 4. the imperative mood. 5. a verb form in this mood. 1,3 adj., 2,4,5 n. —im per'a tive ly, adv. —im per'a tive ness, n.

im per cep ti ble (im'pər sep'tə bl), 1. very slight; gradual. 2. that cannot be perceived or felt. adj. —im'per cep'ti bly, adv.

imperf., imperfect.

im per fect (im pər'fikt), 1. not perfect; having some defect or fault: A crack in the cup made it imperfect. 2. not complete; lacking some part. 3. in grammar, expressing continued or customary action in the past. 4. the imperfect tense or verb form. English has no imperfect, but such forms as was studying and used to study are like the imperfect in other languages. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —im per'fect ly, adv. —im per'fect ness, n.

im per fec tion (im'pər fek'shən), 1. lack of perfection; imperfect condition or character. 2. fault; defect. n.

im pe ri al (im pir'ē əl), 1. of or having to do with an empire or its ruler. 2. of or having to do with the rule or authority of one country over other countries and colonies. 3. having the rank of an emperor. 4. supreme; majestic; magnificent. 5. of larger size or better quality. 6. a very small beard left growing beneath the lower lip. 7. according to the British standard of weights and measures. 8. size of paper, 23 by 31 inches (in England 22 by 30 inches). 1-5,7 adj., 6,8 n. —im pe'ri al ly, adv.

imperial gallon, British gallon, equal to about 1½ United States gallons.

im pe ri al ism (im pir'ē əl iz'əm), 1. policy of extending the rule or authority of one country over other countries and colonies. 2. an imperial system of government. n.

im pe ri al ist (im pir'ē əl ist), 1. person who favors imperialism. 2. imperialistic. 1 n., 2 adj.

im pe ri al is tic (im pir'ē əl is'tik), 1. of imperialism or imperialists. 2. favoring imperialism. adj. —im pe'ri al is'ti cal ly, adv.

Imperial Valley, a flat irrigated region in S California.

im per il (im per'əl), put in danger: The weakness of the dam imperiled the village below. v., im per iled, im per il ing or esp. Brit. im per illed, im per il ling.

im pe ri ous (im pir'ē əs), 1. haughty; arrogant; domineering; overbearing. 2. imperative; necessary; urgent. adj. —im pe'ri ous ly, adv. —im pe'ri ous ness, n.

Imperial (def. 6)

im per ish a bil i ty (im per'ish ə bil'ə tē), being imperishable; enduring quality. n.

im per ish a ble (im per'ish ə bl), everlasting; not perishable; indestructible. adj. —im per'ish a bly, adv.

im per me a bil i ty (im pər'mē ə bil'ə tē), impermeable quality or condition. n.

im per me a ble (im pər'mē ə bl), 1. that cannot be permeated; impassable. 2. not permitting the passage of fluid through the pores, interstices, etc. adj.

impers., impersonal.

im per son al (im pər'sn l), 1. referring to all or any persons, not to any special one: "First come, first served" is an impersonal remark. 2. having no existence as a person: Electricity is an impersonal force. 3. of a verb, having nothing but an indefinite it for a subject. Example: rained in "It rained yesterday." adj.

im per son al i ty (im pər'sn əl'ə tē), 1. impersonal character; absence of personal quality. 2. an impersonal thing, force, etc. n., pl. im per son al i ties.

im per son al ly (im pər'sn l ē), in an impersonal manner; without personal reference or connection. adv.

im per son ate (im pər'sn āt), 1. act the part of: impersonate Hamlet on the stage. 2. pretend to be; mimic the voice, appearance, and manners of: impersonate a well-known news commentator. 3. represent in personal form; personify; typify: To many people George Washington impersonates the ideal American. v., im per son ated, im per son at ing.

im per son a tion (im pər'sn ā'shən), 1. an impersonating. 2. a being impersonated. 3. personification; type. n.

im per son a tor (im pər'sn ā'tər), 1. one who impersonates. 2. actor who impersonates particular persons or types; professional mimic. n.

im per ti nence (im pər'tə nəns), 1. impertinent quality; impudence; insolence. 2. an impertinent act or speech. 3. lack of pertinence; irrelevance. n.

im per ti nen cy (im pər'tə nən sē), impertinence. n., pl. im per ti nen cies.

im per ti nent (im pər'tə nənt), 1. saucy; impudent; insolent; rude: Talking back to older people is impertinent. 2. not pertinent; not to the point; out of place. adj. —im per'ti nent ly, adv.

im per turb a bil i ty (im'pər tər'bə bil'ə tē), a being imperturbable; calmness. n.

im per turb a ble (im'pər tər'bə bl), 1. not capable of being excited or disturbed. 2. not easily excited; calm. adj. —im'per turb'a bly, adv.

im per vi ous (im pər'vē əs), 1. not letting things pass through; not allowing passage: Rubber cloth is impervious to moisture. 2. not open to argument, suggestions, etc.: She is impervious to all the gossip about her. adj. —im per'vi ous ness, n.

im pe ti go (im'pə ti'gō), an infectious skin disease causing pimples filled with pus. n.

im pet u os i ty (im pech'ū əs'ə tē), sudden or rash energy; violence; ardor: The impetuosity of the speaker stirred the audience. n., pl. im pet u os i ties.

im pet u ous (im pech'ū əs), 1. moving with great force or speed: the impetuous rush of water over Niagara Falls. 2. acting hastily, rashly, or with sudden feeling: Boys are more impetuous than old men. adj. —im pet'u ous ly, adv. —im pet'u ous ness, n.

im pe tus (im'pə tās), 1. force with which a moving body tends to maintain its velocity and overcome resistance: the impetus of a cannon ball. 2. a driving force; incentive: Ambition is an impetus to work for success. n.

im pi e ty (im pī'ə tē), 1. lack of piety or reverence for God; wickedness. 2. lack of dutifulness or respect. 3. an impious act. n., pl. im pi e ties.

im ping e (im pinj'), 1. hit; strike: Rays of light impinge on the eye. 2. encroach; infringe. v., im pinged, im ping ing.

im ping e ment (im pinj'mənt), an impinging. n.

im pi ous (im'pē əs), not pious; not having or not showing reverence for God; wicked; profane. adj.
—im'pi ous ly, adv. —im'pi ous ness, n.
imp ish (imp'ish), 1. of an imp; like an imp. 2. mischievous. adj. —imp'ish ly, adv. —imp'ish ness, n.
im pla ca bil i ty (im plā'kə bil'ə tē or im plak'ə bil'ə tē), a being implacable. n.
im pla ca ble (im plā'kə bl or im plak'ə bl), that cannot be placated, pacified, or appeased; relentless. adj. —im pla'ca bly, adv.
im plant (im plant'), 1. instill; fix deeply: A good teacher implants high ideals in children. 2. insert: Teeth are implanted in the jaw. 3. plant. v.
im ple ment (im'plə mēnt for 1; im'plə mēt for 2-4), 1. a useful article of equipment; tool; instrument; utensil. A plow, an ax, a shovel, and a broom are implements. 2. provide with implements or other means. 3. provide the power and authority necessary to accomplish or put (something) into effect: implement an order. 4. carry out; get done: Do not undertake a project unless you can implement it. 1 n., 2-4 v.
im pli cate (im'plə kāt), 1. show to have a part or to be connected; involve: The thief's confession implicated two other men. 2. imply. 3. entangle; fold or twist together. v., im pli cat ed, im pli cat ing.
im pli ca tion (im'plə kā'shən), 1. an implying or being implied. 2. something implied; indirect suggestion; hint: There was no implication of dishonesty in his failure in business. 3. an implicating or being implicated. n.
im plie it (im plis'it), 1. without doubting, hesitating, or asking questions; absolute: A soldier must give implicit obedience to his officers. 2. meant, but not clearly expressed or distinctly stated; implied: Her silence gave implicit consent. 3. involved as a necessary part or condition. adj.
im plie it ly (im plis'it lē), 1. unquestioningly. 2. by implication. adv.
im plied (im plid'), involved, indicated, suggested, or understood without express statement: an implied contract, an implied rebuke. adj.
im pli ed ly (im plī'd lē), by implication. adv.
im plore (im plōr'), 1. beg earnestly for: The prisoner implored pardon. 2. beg (a person to do some act): He implored the judge to spare his life. v., im plored, im ploring. —im plor'er, n. —im plor'ing ly, adv.
im ply (im pli'), 1. indicate without saying outright; express indirectly; suggest: Silence often implies consent. Her smile implied that she had forgiven us. 2. involve as a necessary part or condition: Speech implies a speaker. 3. signify; mean. v., im plied, im ply ing.
im po lite (im'pə lit'), not polite; having or showing bad manners; rude. adj. —im'po lite'ly, adv. —im'po lite'ness, n.
im pol i tic (im pol'ə tik), not politic; not expedient; not judicious; unwise: It is impolitic to offend people who can help you. adj.
im pon der a ble (im pon'dər ə bl), 1. without weight that can be felt or measured: Faith and love are imponderable forces. 2. something imponderable. 1 adj., 2 n. —im pon'der a bly, adv.
im port (im pōrt' or im'pōrt for 1,4,7; im'pōrt for 2,3,5,6), 1. bring in from a foreign country for sale or use: The United States imports coffee. 2. thing imported: Rubber is a useful import. 3. an importing; importation: The import of diseased animals was forbidden. 4. mean; signify: Tell me what your remark imports. 5. meaning: What is the import of your remark? 6. importance. 7. be of importance or consequence; be significant. 1,4,7 v., 2,3,5,6 n.
im portance (im pōrt'ns), being important; consequence; significance: Anybody can see the importance of good health. n.
im por tant (im pōrt'nt), 1. meaning much; worth noticing or considering; having value or significance: important business, an important occasion. 2. having social position or influence: Mr. Harris is an important man in our town. 3. acting as if important; seeming to be important: An important little man rushed around giving orders. adj. —im por'tant ly, adv.

im por ta tion (im'pōr tā'shən), 1. act of importing. 2. something imported: Her shawl is a recent importation from Mexico. n.
im port er (im pōr'tər or im'pōr tər), person or company whose business is importing goods. n.
im por tu nate (im pōr'cha nit), asking repeatedly; annoyingly persistent; urgent. adj. —im por'tu nate'ly, adv.
im por tune (im'pōr tūn' or im'pōr tūn'), ask urgently or repeatedly; trouble with demands: The boy importuned the teacher to raise his mark. v., im por tuned, im por tun ing.
im por tu ni ty (im'pōr tū'nə tē or im'pōr tū'nə tē), persistence in asking; act of demanding again and again. n., pl. im por tu ni ties.
im pose (im pōz'), 1. put (a burden, tax, punishment, etc.) on: The judge imposed a fine of $500 on the guilty man. 2. force or thrust one's or its authority or influence on another or others. 3. force or thrust (oneself or one's company) on another or others; obtrude; presume. 4. pass off (a thing upon a person) to deceive. 5. lay on (hands) in confirmation or ordination. 6. arrange (pages of type) for printing. v., im posed, im pos ing. —im pos'er, n.
im pose on or upon, 1. take advantage of; use for selfish purposes. 2. deceive; cheat; trick.
im pos ing (im pōz'ing), impressive because of size, appearance, dignity, etc.: The Capitol at Washington is an imposing building. adj. —im pos'ing ly, adv.
im po si tion (im'pə zish'ən), 1. act or fact of imposing: A war requires the imposition of heavy taxes. 2. tax, duty, task, burden, etc. 3. an unfair tax, etc. 4. an imposing upon a person by taking advantage of his good nature: Would it be an imposition to ask you to mail this parcel? 5. deception; fraud; trick. 6. a ceremonial laying on of hands, as in confirmation. n.
im pos si bil i ty (im pos'ə bil'ə tē), 1. quality of being impossible: We all realize the impossibility of living long without food. 2. something impossible. n., pl. im pos si bil i ties.
im pos si ble (im pos'ə bl), 1. that cannot be or happen: It is impossible for two and two to make six. 2. not possible to use; not to be done: Few things are impossible. 3. that cannot be true: An impossible rumor. 4. not possible to endure; very objectionable: an impossible person. adj. —im pos'si bly, adv.
im post (im'pōst), 1. tax on goods brought into a country; customs duty: There is an impost on wool imported from other countries. 2. tax; tribute. n.
im pos tor (im pos'tər), 1. person who assumes a false name or character. 2. deceiver; cheat. n.
im pos ture (im pos'char), deception; fraud. n.
im po tence (im'pə tēns), lack of power; helplessness; condition or quality of being impotent. n.
im po ten cy (im'pə tən sē), impotence. n.
im po tent (im'pə tēnt), not having power; helpless: Without guns and ammunition the soldiers were impotent. The cripple fell back in an impotent rage. adj. —im po tent ly, adv.
im pound (im pound'), 1. shut up in a pen or pound: impound stray animals. 2. shut up; enclose; confine: A dam impounds water. 3. put in the custody of a law court: The court impounded the documents to use as evidence. v. —im pound'er, n.
im pov er ish (im pov'ər ish), 1. make very poor. 2. exhaust the strength, richness, or resources of: impoverish the soil. v. —im pov'er ish er, n.
im pov er ished (im pov'ər isht), very poor. adj.
im pov er ish ment (im pov'ər ish mēnt), 1. an impoverishing. 2. a being impoverished. 3. thing that impoverishes. n.
im pow er (im pow'ər), empower. v.
im prac ti ca bil i ty (im prak'tə kə bil'ə tē), 1. a being impracticable. 2. something impracticable. n., pl. im prac ti ca bil i ties.

imprac ti ca ble (im prak'tə kə bl), 1. not working well in practice: impracticable suggestions. 2. very hard to manage: an impracticable person. 3. that cannot be used: an impracticable road. adj. —im prac'ti ca bly, adv.

imprac ti cal (im prak'tə kl), not practical. adj. —im prac'ti cal ly, adv.

impre cate (im'prə kāt), call down (curses, evil, etc.): The prophet imprecated ruin on his enemies. v., im pre cat ed, im pre cat ing. —im'pre ca'tor, n.

impre ca tion (im'prə kə'shən), 1. act of calling down curses, evil, etc. 2. a curse. n.

impre g na bil i ty (im preg'nə bil'ə tē), a being impregnable. n.

impre g na ble (im preg'nə bl), that cannot be overthrown by force; able to resist attack: an impregnable fortress, an impregnable argument. adj. —im preg'na bly, adv.

impre g nate (im preg'nāt), 1. make pregnant; fertilize. 2. fill (with); saturate: Sea water is impregnated with salt. 3. instill into (the mind); inspire; imbue: A great book impregnates the mind with new ideas. 4. impregnated. 1-3 v., im pre g nat ed, im pre g nat ing; 4 adj. —im preg'na tor, n.

impre g na tion (im'preg nā'shən), 1. an impregnating or being impregnated. 2. thing, influence, etc., with which anything is impregnated. n.

impre sa ri o (im'prə sār'ē ō), organizer or manager of an opera or concert company. n., pl. im pre sa ri os.

impress (im pres' for 1,2,4,5; im'pres for 3,6), 1. have a strong effect on the mind or feelings of: A hero impresses us with his courage. 2. fix in the mind: She repeated the words to impress them in her memory. 3. impression; mark; stamp: An author leaves the impress of his personality on what he writes. 4. make marks by pressing or stamping: impress wax with a seal. 5. imprint; stamp. 6. act of impressing. 1,2,4,5 v., im pressed or (Archaic) im prest, im press ing; 3,6 n. —im press'er, n.

impress (im pres'), 1. seize by force for public use: The police impressed our car in order to pursue the escaping robbers. 2. force (men) to serve in the navy or army. 3. bring in and use. v., im pressed or (Archaic) im prest, im press ing.

impre s sion (im presh'ən), 1. effect produced on a person: Punishment seemed to make little impression on the child. 2. idea; notion: I have a vague impression that I left the house unlocked. 3. something produced by pressure; mark, stamp, print, etc.: The thief had left an impression of his foot in the garden. 4. act of impressing. 5. state of being impressed. 6. the total number of copies of a book made at one time. 7. a printed copy. n.

impre s sion a bil i ty (im presh'ən ə bil'ə tē), impressionable quality or condition. n.

impre s sion a ble (im presh'ər ə bl), sensitive to impressions; easily impressed or influenced: Children are more impressionable than adults. adj.

impre s sion is tic (im presh'ən is'tik), giving only a general or hasty impression. adj.

impre s sive (im pres'iv), able to impress the mind, feelings, conscience, etc.: an impressive sermon, an impressive storm, an impressive ceremony. adj. —im pres'sive ly, adv. —im pres'sive ness, n.

impress ment (im pres'mənt), act or practice of impressing men or property for public service or use. n.

imprest (im prest'), Archaic. a pt. and a pp. of impress. v.

im pri ma tur (im'pri mā'tər), 1. an official license to print or publish a book, etc., now usually a work sanctioned by the Roman Catholic Church. 2. sanction; approval. n.

im print (im'print for 1-3; im print' for 4,5), 1. mark made by pressure; print: the imprint of a foot in the sand. 2. impression; mark: Suffering left its imprint on her face. 3. a publisher's name, with the place and date of publication, on the title page or at the end of a book; printer's name and address as printed on his work. 4. mark by pressing or stamping; print: imprint a postmark on an envelope, imprint a letter with a postmark. 5. press or impress: imprint a kiss on someone's cheek, a scene imprinted on my memory. 1-3 n., 4,5 v. —im print'er, n.

im pris on (im priz'n), 1. put in prison; keep in prison. 2. confine closely; restrain. v.

im pris on ment (im priz'n mənt), 1. a putting or keeping in prison. 2. a being put or kept in prison. 3. close confinement; restraint. n.

im prob a bil i ty (im prob'ə bil'ə tē), 1. a being improbable; unlikelihood. 2. something improbable. n., pl. im prob a bil i ties.

im prob a ble (im prob'ə bl), not probable; not likely to happen; not likely to be true. adj.

im prob a bly (im prob'ə blē), with little or no probability. adv.

im prompt u (im prompt'ü or im prompt'tü), 1. without previous thought or preparation; offhand: a speech made impromptu (adv.), an impromptu speech, an impromptu party (adj.). 2. something impromptu; improvisation. 1 adv., adj., 2 n.

im prop er (im prop'ər), 1. not in accordance with accepted standards: "We ain't" is an improper usage. 2. not suitable: That bright dress is improper for a funeral. 3. not decent. adj. —im prop'er ly, adv.

improper fraction, a fraction that is equal to or greater than 1. Examples: $\frac{3}{2}$, $\frac{4}{3}$, $\frac{7}{4}$, $\frac{8}{5}$, $\frac{2}{1}$, $\frac{1}{1}$.

im pro pri e ty (im'prə pri'ə tē), 1. lack of propriety; quality of being improper. 2. improper conduct. 3. an improper act, expression, etc.: Using "learn" to mean "teach" is an impropriety. n., pl. im pro pri e ties.

im prove (im pruv'), 1. make better: You could improve your handwriting if you tried. 2. become better: His health is improving. 3. increase the value of (land or property). 4. use well; make good use of: Improve your time by studying. v., im proved, im prov ing. —im prov'a ble, adj. —im prov'er, n.

improve on, make better; do better than.

im prove ment (im pruv'mənt), 1. a making better or becoming better: Will's schoolwork shows much improvement since last term. 2. increase in value. 3. change or addition that increases value: An old house can be modernized by making improvements. 4. better condition; thing that is better than another; advance: Automobiles are an improvement over horses. 5. good use. n.

im prov i dence (im prov'ə dəns), lack of foresight; failure to look ahead; carelessness in providing for the future; lack of thrift. n.

im prov i dent (im prov'ə dənt), lacking foresight; not looking ahead; not careful in providing for the future; not thrifty. adj. —im prov'i dent ly, adv.

im pro vi sa tion (im'prə vī zā'shən), 1. an improvising. 2. something improvised. n.

im pro vise (im'prə vīz), 1. compose or utter (verse, music, etc.) without preparation: Fred improvised a new stanza for the school song at the football game. 2. prepare or provide offhand; extemporize: The boys improvised a tent out of two blankets and some long poles. v., im pro vis ed, im pro vis ing. —im'pro vis'er, n.

im pru dence (im prū'dəns), lack of prudence; imprudent behavior. n.

im pru dent (im prū'dənt), not prudent; rash; not discreet. adj. —im pru'dent ly, adv.

im pu dence (im'pyə dəns), lack of shame or modesty; rude boldness. n.

im pu dent (im'pyə dənt), without shame or modesty; forward; rudely bold: The impudent boy made faces at the teacher. adj. —im'pu dent ly, adv.

im pugn (im pūn'), call in question; attack by words or arguments; challenge as false: Do not impugn the umpire's fairness. v. —im pugn'a ble, adj.

im pulse (im'puls), 1. a sudden, driving force or influence; thrust; push: the impulse of a wave, the impulse of hunger. 2. effect of a sudden, driving force or influence. 3. a sudden inclination or tendency to act. 4. the stimulating force of desire or emotion: An angry mob is influenced more by impulse than by reason. 5. a change in living matter that is transmitted, especially by nerve cells, and influences action in the muscle, gland, or other nerve cells that it reaches. n.

im pul sion (im pul'shən), 1. an impelling; driving force: The impulse of hunger drove the man to steal. 2. impulse. 3. impetus. n.

im pul sive (im pul'siv), 1. acting upon impulse; easily moved: The impulsive child gave all his money to the beggar. 2. driving onward; impelling; pushing. adj. —im pul'sive ly, adv. —im pul'sive ness, n.

im pu ni ty (im pū'nə tē), freedom from punishment, injury, or other bad consequences: If laws are not enforced, crimes are committed with impunity. n.

im pure (im pyūr'), 1. not pure; dirty; filthy; unclean: Avoid impure talk, acts, and people. The air in cities is often impure. 2. mixed with something of lower value; adulterated: The salt we use is slightly impure. 3. not of one color, style, etc.; mixed. 4. forbidden by religion as unclean. adj. —im pure'ly, adv. —im-pure'ness, n.

im pu ri ty (im pyūr'ə tē), 1. lack of purity; being impure. 2. impure thing or element; thing that makes something else impure: Filtering the water removed some of its impurities. n., pl. im pu ri ties.

im pu ta tion (im'pyū tā'shən), 1. an imputing. 2. charge or hint of wrongdoing: No imputation has ever been made against his good name. n.

im pute (im pūt'), consider as belonging; attribute; charge (a fault, etc.) to a person; blame: I impute his failure to laziness. v., im put ed, im put ing. —im-put'a ble, adj.

in (in), In expresses inclusion, situation, presence, existence, position, and action within limits of space, time, state, circumstances, etc. 1. inside; within: in the box. 2. into: Go in the house. 3. with; having; by: cover a letter in an envelope. 4. of; made of; using: a dress in silk. 5. from among; out of: one in a hundred. 6. because of; for: act in self-defense. 7. about; concerning: a book in American history. 8. at; during; after: in the present time. 9. while; when: in crossing the street. 10. in or into some place, position, condition, etc.: come in. 11. present, especially in one's home or office: The doctor is not in today. 12. that is in; being in. 13. coming or going in. 1-9 prep., 10,11 adv., 12,13 adj.

in for, unable to avoid; sure to get or have.

ins, people in office; political party in power.

ins and outs, 1. turns and twists; nooks and corners. 2. different parts; details.

in that, because.

in with, 1. friendly with. 2. partners with.

In, indium.

in-1, prefix meaning: not; the opposite of; the absence of, as in inexpensive, inattention, inconvenient. Also: im-, before b, m, p; ir-, before r.

in-2, prefix meaning:

1. in; into; on; upon, as in inhale, inscribe.

2. in- is also used to strengthen a meaning or change an intransitive verb to a transitive, or with little change in meaning. Also: im-, before b, m, p; ir-, before r.

in-3, prefix meaning: in; within; into; toward, as in inborn, indoors, inland.

in., inch; inches.

in a bil i ty (in'ə bil'ə tē), lack of ability, power, or means; being unable. n.

in ab sen tia (in ab sen'shə), Latin. while absent.

in ac ces si bil i ty (in'ək ses'ə bil'ə tē), lack of accessibility; being inaccessible. n.

in ac ces si ble (in'ək ses'ə bl), 1. not accessible; that cannot be reached or entered. 2. hard to get at; hard to reach or enter: The fort on top of the steep hill is inaccessible. 3. that cannot be obtained; hard to obtain. adj. —in'ac ces'si bly, adv.

in ac cu ra cy (in ak'yə rə sē), 1. lack of accuracy; being inaccurate. 2. error; mistake. n., pl. in ac cu ra cies.

in ac cu rate (in ak'yə rit), not accurate; not exact; containing mistakes. adj. —in ac'cu rate ly, adv.

in ac tion (in ak'shən), absence of action; idleness. n.

in ac tive (in ak'tiv), not active; idle; sluggish. adj. —in ac'tive ly, adv.

in ac tiv i ty (in'ak tiv'ə tē), absence of activity; idleness; sluggishness. n.

in ad e qua cy (in ad'ə kwə sē), being inadequate. n.

in ad e quate (in ad'ə kwit), not adequate; not enough; not as much as is required: inadequate preparation for an examination. adj. —in ad'e quate ly, adv.

in ad mis si bil i ty (in'əd mis'ə bil'ə tē), being inadmissible. n.

in ad mis si ble (in'əd mis'ə bl), 1. not allowable. 2. not to be admitted. adj. —in'ad mis'si bly, adv.

in ad vert ence (in'əd vērt'ns), 1. lack of attention; carelessness. 2. oversight; mistake. n.

in ad vert ent (in'əd vērt'nt), 1. not attentive; heedless; negligent. 2. not done on purpose; caused by oversight: Dan's blunder was inadvertent, and we forgave it. adj. —in'ad vert'ent ly, adv.

in ad vis a ble (in'əd viz'ə bl), not advisable; unwise; not prudent. adj. —in'ad vis'a bly, adv.

in al ien a ble (in āl'yən'ə bl), that cannot be given away or taken away: Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness have been called the inalienable rights of man. adj. —in āl'ien a bly, adv.

in ane (in ān'), 1. silly; senseless. 2. empty. adj. —in ane'ly, adv.

in an i mate (in an'ə mit), 1. lifeless: inanimate stones. 2. seeming to be lifeless; unconscious: The life-guard pulled her inanimate body out of the pool. 3. dull: an inanimate face. adj. —in an'i mate ly, adv. —in-an'i mate ness, n.

in a ni tion (in'ə nish'ən), 1. emptiness. 2. weakness from lack of food. n.

in an i ty (in an'ə tē), 1. silliness; lack of sense. 2. a silly or senseless act, practice, remark, etc. 3. emptiness. n., pl. in an i ties.

in ap pli ca bil i ty (in ap'lə kə bil'ə tē or in'ə plik'ə bil'ə tē), being inapplicable. n.

in ap pli ca ble (in ap'lə kə bl or in'ə plik'ə bl), not applicable; not appropriate; not suitable: The name Tiny is inapplicable to that big dog. adj. —in ap'pli ca bly, adv.

in ap po site (in ap'ə zit), not pertinent; not suitable; inappropriate. adj. —in ap'po site ly, adv.

in ap pre ci a ble (in'ə prē'shē ə bl), too small to be noticed or felt; very slight. adj. —in'ap pre'ci a bly, adv.

in ap pro pri ate (in'ə prō'prē it), not appropriate; not suitable; not fitting. adj. —in'ap pro'pri ate ly, adv. —in'ap pro'pri ate ness, n.

in apt (in apt'), 1. not apt; not suitable; unfit. 2. unskillful; awkward. adj. —in apt'ly, adv. —in apt'-ness, n.

in ap ti tude (in ap'tə tūd or in ap'tə tūd), 1. unfitness. 2. lack of skill. n.

in ar tic u late (in'ār tik'yə lit), 1. not distinct; not like regular speech: an inarticulate mutter or groan. 2. unable to speak in words; unable to say what one thinks; dumb: Cats and dogs are inarticulate. 3. not jointed: A jellyfish's body is inarticulate. adj. —in'ar tic'u late ly, adv. —in'ar tic'u late ness, n.

in ar tis tic (in'ār tis'tik), not artistic; lacking good taste. adj. —in'ar tis'ti cal ly, adv.

in as much as (in'əz much'), 1. because: Tim was given a head start in the race, inasmuch as he was smaller than the others. 2. insofar as.

in at ten tion (in'ə ten'shən), lack of attention; heedlessness; negligence: That boy lost his job through inattention. n.

in at ten tive (in'ə ten'tiv), not attentive; careless; heedless; negligent. adj. —in'at ten'tive ly, adv. —in'at ten'tive ness, n.

in au di ble (in ô'də bl), that cannot be heard. adj.

—in au'di bly, adv.

in au gu ral (in ô'gyə rəl), 1. of or for an inauguration: The President gave an inaugural address when he took office. 2. an inaugural address or speech. 1 adj., 2 n.

in au gu rate (in ô'gyə rāt), 1. install in office with a ceremony: A President of the United States is inaugurated every four years. 2. make a formal beginning of; begin: The invention of the airplane inaugurated a new era in transportation. 3. begin public use of with a ceremony or celebration. v., in au gu rat ed, in au gu rat ing. —in au'gu ra'tor, n.

in au gu ra tion (in ô'gyə rā'shən), 1. act or ceremony of installing a person in office. 2. a formal beginning; beginning. 3. opening for public use with a ceremony or celebration. n.

in aus pi cious (in'ôs pish'əs), with signs of failure; unfavorable; unlucky. adj. —in'aus pi'cious ly, adv. —in'aus pi'cious ness, n.

in board (in'bôrd'), inside the hull of a ship; in or toward the middle of a ship. adv., adj.

in born (in'bôrn'), born in a person; instinctive; natural: an inborn love of rhythm. adj.

in bound (in'bound'), inward bound. adj.

in bred (in'bred'), 1. inborn; natural: an inbred courtesy. 2. bred for generations from ancestors closely related: an inbred strain of horses. adj.

in breed (in'brēd' or in brēd'), 1. breed from closely related animals or plants. 2. produce or develop within. v., in bred, in breed ing.

in breed ing (in'brēd'ing), breeding from closely related persons, animals, or plants. n.

inc., incorporated.

In ca (ing/kə), 1. member of the race of South American Indians who ruled Peru before the Spanish conquest. 2. ruler of this race. n. —In'can, n., adj.

in cal cu la ble (in kal'kyə lə bl), 1. too great in number to be counted; numerous: The sands of the beach are incalculable. 2. not to be reckoned beforehand: A flood in the valley would cause incalculable losses. 3. not to be relied on; uncertain. adj. —in cal'cu la bly, adv.

in can des cence (in'kən des'ns), red-hot or white-hot condition. n.

in can des cent (in'kən des'nt),

1. glowing with heat; red-hot or white-hot. 2. intensely bright; brilliant. 3. having to do with or containing a material that gives light by incandescence. An incandescent lamp is an electric lamp with a filament of very fine wire that becomes white-hot when current flows through it. adj.

in can ta tion (in'kan tā'shən), 1. set of words spoken as a magic charm or to cast a magic spell: "Double, double, toil and trouble, Fire burn and caldron bubble," is an incantation. 2. use of such words. n.

in ca pa bil i ty (in'kā pə bil'ə tē), incapacity. n.

in ca pa ble (in kā'pə bl), without ordinary ability; not efficient; not competent: An employer cannot afford to hire incapable workers. adj.

incapable of, 1. without the ability, power, or fitness for: His honesty made him incapable of lying. 2. not legally qualified for: A foreigner is incapable of becoming President of the United States. 3. not susceptible to; not capable of receiving or admitting: incapable of exact measurement.

in ca pac i tate (in'kā pas'ə tāt), 1. deprive of ability, power, or fitness; disable: The man's injury incapacitated him for working. 2. legally disqualify. v., in ca pac i tat ed, in ca pac i tat ing. —in'ca pac'i ta'tion, n.

in ca pac i ty (in'kā pas'ə tē), 1. lack of ability, power, or fitness; disability. 2. legal disqualification. n., pl. in ca pac i ties.

in car cer ate (in kār'sər āt), imprison. v., in car cer at ed, in car cer at ing.

in car cer a tion (in kār'sər ā'shən), imprisonment. n.

in car na dine (in kār'nə dīn or in kār'nə dīn), 1. blood-red. 2. flesh-colored. 3. make blood-red or flesh-colored. 1,2 adj., 3 v., in car na dined, in car na dīn ing.

in car nate (in kār'nīt or in kār'nāt for 1; in kār'nāt for 2-4), 1. embodied in flesh, especially in human form: The villain was a fiend incarnate. 2. make incarnate; embody. 3. put into an actual form; realize: The sculptor incarnated his vision in a beautiful statue. 4. be the living embodiment of: She incarnates all womanly virtues in her own person. 1 adj., 2-4 v., in car nat ed, in car nat ing.

in car na tion (in'kār nā'shən), 1. a taking on of human form by a divine being. 2. embodiment. 3. person or thing that represents some quality or idea: A miser is an incarnation of greed. n.

the Incarnation, the union of divine nature and human nature in the person of Jesus Christ; assumption of human form by the son of God.

in case (in kās'), 1. put into a case. 2. cover completely; enclose: Armor incased the knight's body. v., in cased, in cas ing. Also, encase.

in cau tious (in kō'shəs), not cautious; heedless; reckless; rash. adj. —in cau'tious ly, adv. —in cau'tious ness, n.

in cen di a rism (in sen'dē ə riz'əm), 1. crime of setting fire to property. 2. the deliberate stirring up of strife or rebellion. n.

in cen di ar y (in sen'dē er'ē), 1. having to do with the setting of property on fire maliciously. 2. person who maliciously sets fire to property. 3. causing fires; used to start a fire: The enemy town was set on fire with incendiary shells and bombs. 4. deliberately stirring up strife or rebellion: The agitator was arrested for making incendiary speeches. 5. person who deliberately stirs up strife or rebellion. 6. shell or bomb containing chemical agents which cause fire. 1,3,4 adj., 2,5,6 n., pl. in cen di ar ies.

in cense (in'sens), 1. substance giving off a sweet smell when burned. 2. perfume or smoke from it. 3. something sweet like incense, such as the perfume of flowers, flattery, or praise. n.

in cense (in'sens'), make very angry; fill with rage. v., in censed, in cens ing.

in cen tive (in sen'tiv), thing that urges a person on; cause of action or effort; motive; stimulus: The fun of playing the game was a greater incentive than the prize. n.

in cep tion (in sep'shən), a beginning; commencement. n.

in ces sant (in ses'nt), never stopping; continued or repeated without interruption: The roar of Niagara Falls is incessant. The incessant noise of whistles kept me awake all night. adj. —in ces'sant ly, adv.

in cest (in'sest), crime of sexual intercourse between persons so closely related that their marriage is prohibited by law. n.

in ces tu ous (in ses'chū əs), 1. involving incest. 2. guilty of incest. adj. —in ces'tu ous ly, adv. —in ces'tu ous ness, n.

inch (inch), 1. measure of length, 1/12 of a foot. An inch of rainfall is the amount of water that would cover a surface to the depth of one inch. 2. the smallest part, amount, or degree; very little bit. 3. move slowly or little by little: The worm inched along. 1,2 n., 3 v. by inches, slowly; little by little.

every inch, in every way; completely.

inch by inch, slowly; little by little.

within an inch of, very near; very close to.

in cho ate (in kō'it), just begun; in an early stage; incomplete; undeveloped. adj. —in cho'ate ly, adv. —in cho'ate ness, n.

inch worm (inch/'wɜrm/), a measuring worm; larva of a geometrid. n.

in ci dence (in/'sə dəns), 1. range of occurrence or influence; extent of effects; way of falling on or affecting: In an epidemic the incidence of a disease is widespread. The incidence of a tax is limited if only a few people must pay the tax. 2. a falling on; a striking. 3. direction in which one thing falls on or strikes another. n.

angle of incidence, the angle between a ray of light falling upon a surface and a line perpendicular to that surface.

in ci dent (in/'sə dənt), 1. a happening; event. 2. event that helps or adds to something else. 3. a distinct piece of action in a story, play, or poem. 4. liable to happen; belonging: Hardships are incident to the life of an explorer. 5. falling or striking (upon): rays of light incident upon a mirror. 1-3 n., 4, 5 adj.

in ci den tal (in/'sə dən'tl), 1. happening or likely to happen along with something else more important: Certain discomforts are incidental to camping out. 2. occurring by chance: an incidental encounter of an old friend on the street. 3. something incidental: On our trip we spent $52 for meals, room, and railroad fare, and $1.50 for incidentals, such as candy, magazines, and stamps. 1, 2 adj., 3 n.

in ci den tal ly (in/'sə dən'tl ē), as an incident along with something else; accidentally: Fred said, incidentally, that he had had no dinner. adv.

in cin er ate (in sin/'ər āt), burn to ashes. v., in cin er at ed, in cin er at ing. — in cin'er a'tion, n.

in cin er a tor (in sin/'ər ā'tər), furnace or other arrangement for burning things. n.

in cip i ence (in sip/'ē əns), very beginning; early stage. n.

in cip i ent (in sip/'ē ənt), just beginning; in an early stage: The medicine stopped David's incipient cold. adj. — in cip'i ent ly, adv.

in cise (in siz/'), 1. cut into. 2. carve; engrave. v., in cised, in cis ing.

in cised (in sizd/'), 1. cut into. 2. carved; engraved. 3. having notches around the edge: an incised leaf. adj.

in ci sion (in sizh/'ən), 1. cut made in something; gash: The doctor made an incision to take out the splinter in my hand. 2. act of incising. 3. incisive quality. n.

in ci sive (in si/'siv), sharp; penetrating; piercing; keen: an incisive criticism. adj. — in ci'sive ly, adv. — in ci'sive ness, n.

in ci sor (in si/'zər), tooth having a sharp edge for cutting; one of the front teeth between the canine teeth in either jaw. Man has eight incisors. n.

in ci ta tion (in'si tā'shən), an inciting. n.

in cite (in sit/'), urge on; stir up; rouse: Their captain's example incited the men to bravery. v., in cit ed, in cit ing. — in cit'er, n.

in cite ment (in sit/'mənt), 1. thing that urges on, stirs up, or rouses: Selfishness is an incitement to crime. 2. act of urging on, stirring up, or rousing. n.

in ci vil i ty (in'sə vil'ə tē), 1. rudeness; lack of courtesy; impoliteness. 2. a rude or impolite act. n., pl. in ci vil i ties.

incl., 1. inclosure. 2. including. 3. inclusive.

in clem en cy (in klem/'ən sē), severity; harshness: The inclemency of the weather kept us at home. n., pl. in clem en cies.

in clem ent (in klem/'ənt), 1. rough; stormy: We had inclement weather throughout our vacation. 2. severe; harsh: an inclement ruler. adj. — in clem'ent ly, adv.

in cli na tion (in'klə nā'shən), 1. tendency: an inclination to become fat. 2. preference; liking: a strong inclination for sports. 3. a leaning; bending; bowing: A nod is an inclination of the head. 4. slope; slant: the inclination of a roof. 5. difference of direction of two lines, especially as measured by the angle between them. n.

in cline (in klīn/ for 1-3, 5; in'klīn or in klīn/ for 3, 4), 1. be favorable or willing; tend: Dogs incline to eat meat as a food. 2. make favorable or willing; influence: Incline your hearts to obey God's laws. 3. slope; slant. 4. a sloping surface. 5. lean; bend; bow. 1-3, 5 v., in clined, in clin ing; 3, 4 n. incline one's ear, listen favorably.

in clined (in klīnd/), 1. favorable; willing; tending. 2. sloping; slanting. adj.

inclined plane, plank or other plane surface put at an oblique angle with a horizontal surface.

Man pushing a wheelbarrow up an inclined plane in close (in klōz/), enclose. v., in closed, in clos ing.

in clo sure (in klō'zhər), enclosure. n.

in clude (in klüd/'), 1. put, hold, or enclose within limits: The price includes both house and furniture. 2. contain; comprise: The farm includes 160 acres. 3. put in a total, a class, or the like; reckon in a count: All on board the ship were lost, including the captain. v., in clud ed, in clud ing. — in clud'a ble, adj.

in clu sion (in klü'zhən), 1. an including. 2. being included. 3. thing included. n.

in clu sive (in klü'siv), 1. including in consideration; including; comprising: "Read pages 10 to 20 inclusive" means "Begin with page 10 and read through page 20." 2. including much; including everything concerned: Make an inclusive list of your expenses. adj. — in clu'sive ly, adv. — in clu'sive ness, n.

inclusive of, including; taking in; counting on.

in cog ni to (in kog/'nə tō), 1. with one's name, character, rank, etc., concealed: The prince traveled incognito to avoid crowds and ceremonies. 2. person who is incognito. 3. a disguised state or condition. 1 adj., adv., 2, 3 n., pl. in cog ni tos.

in co her ence (in'kō hir'əns), 1. failure to stick together; looseness. 2. lack of logical connection. 3. disconnected thought or speech: the incoherence of a madman. n.

in co her en cy (in'kō hir'ən sē), incoherence. n.

in co her ent (in'kō hir'ənt), 1. not sticking together. 2. disconnected; confused. adj. — in'co her'ent ly, adv.

in com bus ti ble (in'kəm bus'tə bl), 1. that cannot be burned; fireproof. 2. an incombustible substance. 1 adj., 2 n.

in come (in'kum), what comes in from property, business, labor, etc.; receipts; returns: The grocer's store brings in an income of $5000. n.

income tax, a government tax on a person's income.

in com ing (in'kum'ing), 1. coming in: The incoming tenant will pay a higher rent. 2. a coming in: the incoming of the tide. 1 adj., 2 n.

in com men su ra ble (in'kə men'shə rə bl), 1. that cannot be compared because not measurable in the same units or by the same scale: Furniture and human life are incommensurable. 2. having no common integral divisor except 1: 8, 17 and 11 are incommensurable numbers. adj. — in'com men'su ra bly, adv.

in com men su rate (in'kə men'shə rit), 1. not in proportion; not adequate: strength incommensurate to a task. 2. having no common measure; incommensurable. adj. — in'com men'su rate ly, adv.

in com mode (in'kə mōd/'), inconvenience; trouble. v., in com mod ed, in com mod ing.

in com mu ni ca ble (in'kə mū'nə kə bl), not capable of being communicated or told. adj.

Teeth: M, molars; B, bicuspids; C, canine; I, incisors.

in com mu ni ca do (in'kə mū'nə kă'dō), deprived of communication with others: The prisoner was being held incommunicado. adj.

in com pa ra ble (in kom'pə rə bl), 1. without equal; matchless: Helen of Troy had incomparable beauty. 2. not to be compared; unsuitable for comparison. adj. —in com'pa rə bly, adv.

in com pat i bil i ty (in'kəm pat'ə bil'ə tē), 1. quality of being incompatible; lack of harmony. 2. an incompatible thing, quality, etc. n., pl. in com pat i bil i ties.

in com pat i ble (in'kəm pat'ə bl), 1. not able to live or act together peaceably; opposed in character: My cats and dogs are incompatible. 2. inconsistent: Late hours are incompatible with health. adj. —in'com pat'i bly, adv.

in com pe tence (in kom'pə təns), 1. lack of ability, power, or fitness: The workman was discharged for incompetence. 2. lack of legal qualification. n.

in com pe ten cy (in kom'pə tən sē), incompetence. n.

in com pe tent (in kom'pə tənt), 1. not competent; lacking ability, power, or fitness. 2. not legally qualified. 3. an incompetent person. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —in'com'pe tent ly, adv.

in com plete (in'kəm plēt'), not complete; lacking some part; unfinished. adj. —in'com plete'ness, n.

in com plete ly (in'kəm plēt'lē), not fully; imperfectly. adv.

in com pre hen si bil i ty (in'kom pri hen'sə bil'ə tē), fact or quality of being incomprehensible. n.

in com pre hen si ble (in'kom pri hen'sə bl), impossible to understand. adj. —in'com pre hen'si bly, adv.

im com press i ble (in'kəm pres'ə bl), not capable of being squeezed into a smaller size. adj.

in con ceiv a bil i ty (in'kən sēv'ə bil'ə tē), being inconceivable. n.

in con ceiv a ble (in'kən sēv'ə bl), impossible to imagine; unthinkable; incredible: A circle without a center is inconceivable. adj.

in con ceiv a bly (in'kən sēv'ə blē), 1. in an inconceivable manner. 2. to an inconceivable degree. adv.

in con clu sive (in'kən klū'siv), not convincing; not settling or deciding something doubtful: The jury found the evidence against the prisoner inconclusive and acquitted him. adj. —in'con clu'sive ly, adv. —in'con clu'sive ness, n.

in con gru i ty (in'kən grū'ə tē), 1. unfitness; inappropriateness; being out of place. 2. lack of agreement or harmony; inconsistency. 3. something that is incongruous. n., pl. in con gru i ties.

in con gru ous (in kong'grū əs), 1. out of keeping; not appropriate; out of place: Heavy walking shoes would be incongruous with a party dress. 2. lacking in agreement or harmony; not consistent. adj. —in con'gru ous ly, adv. —in con'gru ous ness, n.

in con se quence (in kon'sə kwəns), lack of logic or logical sequence; irrelevance; being inconsequent. n.

in con se quent (in kon'sə kwənt), 1. not logical; not logically connected: an inconsequent argument. 2. not to the point; off the subject: an inconsequent remark. 3. apt to think or talk without logical connection. adj. —in con'se quent ly, adv.

in con se quen tial (in kon'sə kwən'shal), 1. unimportant; trifling. 2. inconsequent. adj.

in con sid er a ble (in'kən sid'ər ə bl), not worthy of consideration; not important. adj. —in'con sid'ər a bly, adv.

in con sid er ate (in'kən sid'ər it), 1. not thoughtful of the rights and feelings of others. 2. thoughtless; heedless. adj. —in'con sid'ər ate ly, adv. —in'con sid'ər ate ness, n.

in con sist ency (in'kən sis'tən sē), 1. lack of agreement or harmony; variance. 2. failure to keep to the same principles, course of action, etc.; changeableness.

3. thing, act, etc., that is inconsistent. n., pl. in consist encies.

in con sist ent (in'kən sis'tənt), 1. lacking in agreement or harmony; at variance: The policeman's failure to arrest the criminal was inconsistent with his duty. 2. lacking harmony between its different parts; not uniform. 3. failing to keep to the same principles, course of action, etc.; changeable: An inconsistent person's opinions change frequently without reason. adj. —in'con sist'ent ly, adv.

in con sol a ble (in'kən sōl'ə bl), not to be comforted; broken-hearted: May was inconsolable at the loss of her kitten. adj. —in'con sol'a bly, adv.

in con so nant (in kon'sə nənt), not harmonious; not in agreement or accord. adj. —in con'so nant ly, adv.

in con spic u ous (in'kən spik'yū əs), not conspicuous; attracting little or no attention: The woman's dress was an inconspicuous gray. adj. —in'con spic'u ous ly, adv. —in'con spic'u ous ness, n.

in con stan cy (in kon'stən sē), lack of constancy; changeableness; fickleness. n.

in con stant (in kon'stənt), not constant; changeable; fickle. adj. —in con'stant ly, adv.

in con test a ble (in'kən tes'tə bl), not to be disputed; unquestionable. adj. —in'con test'a bly, adv.

in con ti nence (in kon'tə nəns), 1. lack of self-restraint. 2. lack of chastity. n.

in con ti nent (in kon'tə nənt), 1. without self-restraint. 2. not chaste; licentious. adj. —in con'ti nent ly, adv.

in con tro vert i ble (in'kən trə vēr'tə bl), that cannot be disputed; too clear or certain to be argued about; unquestionable. adj. —in'con tro vert'i bly, adv.

in con ven ience (in'kən vən'yəns), 1. lack of convenience or ease; trouble; bother. 2. cause of trouble, difficulty, or bother. 3. cause trouble, difficulty, etc., to: Will it inconvenience you to carry this package for me? 1,2 n., 3 v., in con ven ienced, in con ven ienc ing.

in con ven ient (in'kən vən'yənt), not convenient; troublesome; causing bother, difficulty, or discomfort. adj. —in'con ven'i ent ly, adv.

in con vert i bil i ty (in'kən vēr'tə bil'ə tē), being inconvertible. n.

in con vert i ble (in'kən vēr'tə bl), not convertible; incapable of being converted or exchanged. Paper money is inconvertible when it cannot be exchanged for gold or silver. adj.

in cor po rate (in kōr'pə rāt for 1-5; in kōr'pə rit for 6), 1. make (something) a part of something else; join or combine (something) with something else: We will incorporate your suggestion in this new plan. 2. form into a corporation: When Mr. Smith's business became large, he incorporated it. 3. form a corporation. 4. unite or combine so as to form one body. 5. embody; give material form to: incorporate one's thoughts in an article. 6. united; combined; incorporated. 1-5 v., in cor por ated, in cor po rat ing; 6 adj.

in cor po ra tion (in kōr'pə rā'shən), 1. an incorporating: The incorporation of air bubbles in the glass spoiled it. 2. a being incorporated. Incorporation gives a company the power to act as one person. n.

in cor po re al (in'kōr pō'rē əl), not made of any material substance; spiritual. adj. —in'cor po're al ly, adv.

in cor rect (in'kə rekt'), 1. not correct; wrong; faulty. 2. not proper. adj. —in'cor rect'ly, adv. —in'cor rect'ness, n.

in cor ri gi bil i ty (in kōr'ə jə bil'ə tē), a being incorrigible. n.

in cor ri gi ble (in kōr'ə jə bl), 1. so firmly fixed (in bad ways, a bad habit, etc.) that nothing else can be expected: an incorrigible liar. 2. so fixed that it cannot be changed or cured: an incorrigible habit of wrinkling one's nose. 3. an incorrigible person. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —in cor'ri gi bly, adv.

in cor rupt i ble (in'kə rup'tə bl), 1. not to be corrupted; honest: The incorruptible man could not be bribed. 2. not capable of decay: Diamonds are incorruptible. adj. —in'cor rupt'i bly, adv.

in crease (in krēs' for 1,2; in'krēs for 3-5), 1. make greater or more numerous; make richer, more prosperous, or more powerful: The driver increased the speed of the car. 2. become greater; grow in numbers, especially by propagation; advance in quality, success, power, etc.: These flowers will increase every year. 3. gain in size, numbers, etc.; growth; multiplication by propagation: an increase in our family. There has been a great increase in student enrollment during the past year. 4. addition; result of increasing; increased product. 5. offspring. 1,2 v., in creased, in creas ing; 3-5 n. on the increase, increasing.

in creas ing ly (in krēs'ing lē), more and more: As we traveled south, it became increasingly harder to keep cool. adv.

in cred i bil i ty (in kred'ə bil'ə tē), a being incredible. n.

in cred i ble (in kred'ə bl), seeming too extraordinary to be possible; unbelievable: The hero fought with incredible bravery. adj. —in cred'i bly, adv.

in cre du li ty (in'krə dū'lə tē or in'krə dū'lə tē), lack of belief; doubt. n.

in cred u lous (in krej'ə ləs), 1. not ready to believe; not credulous; doubting: People nowadays are incredulous about ghosts and witches. 2. showing a lack of belief. adj. —in cred'u lous ly, adv.

in cre ment (in'krə mēnt or ing'krə mēnt), 1. increase; growth. 2. amount by which something increases: The wages are $40 a week with an increment of $5 for each year of service. n.

in crim i nate (in krim'ə nāt), accuse of a crime; show to be guilty: In his confession the thief incriminated two others who helped him steal. v., in crim i nat ed, in crim i nat ing. —in crim'i na'tion, n.

in crim i na to ry (in krim'ə nə tō'rē), tending to incriminate. adj.

in crust (in krust'), 1. cover with a crust or hard coating: The inside of the kettle is incrustated with lime. 2. form a crust; form into a crust: The extremely cold weather during the night had incrustated the snow so that next morning it would bear our weight. 3. decorate with a layer of costly material: The gold crown was incrustated with precious gems. v. Also, encrust.

in crust a tion (in'krus tā'shən), 1. an incrusting. 2. a being incrustated. 3. crust or hard coating. 4. a decorative layer of costly material. n.

in cu bate (in'kyə bāt or ing'kyə bāt), 1. sit on (eggs) in order to hatch them; brood. 2. keep (eggs, etc.) warm so that they will hatch or grow. v., in cu bat ed, in cu bat ing.

in cu ba tion (in'kyə bā'shən or ing'kyə bā'shən), 1. an incubating. 2. being incubated. 3. stage of a disease from the time of infection until the appearance of the first symptoms. n.

in cu ba tor (in'kyə bā'tər or ing'kyə bā'tər), 1. apparatus for keeping eggs warm so that they will hatch. It has a box or chamber that can be kept at a certain temperature. 2. a similar apparatus for rearing children born prematurely. 3. apparatus in which bacterial cultures are developed. n.

in cu bus (in'kyə bəs or ing'kyə bəs), 1. an evil spirit supposed to descend upon sleeping persons. 2. nightmare. 3. an oppressive or burdensome thing: This debt will be an incubus until I have paid it. n., pl. in cu bi (-bi) or in cu bus es.

in cu des (in kū'dēz), pl. of incus. n.

in cul cate (in kul'kāt), impress by repetition; teach persistently: Week after week she inculcated good manners in her pupils. v., in cul cat ed, in cul cat ing. —in cul'ca tor, n.

in cul ca tion (in'kul kā'shən), act or process of impressing principles, etc., on the mind by persistent urging or teaching. n.

in cul pate (in kul'pāt), 1. blame; accuse. 2. involve in responsibility for wrongdoing; incriminate. v., in cul pat ed, in cul pat ing.

in cum ben cy (in kum'bən sē), a holding of an office, position, etc., and performance of its duties; term of office: During his incumbency as governor the State prospered. n., pl. in cum ben cies.

in cum bent (in kum'bənt), 1. lying, leaning, or pressing (on). 2. resting (on a person) as a duty: She felt it incumbent upon her to answer the letter at once. 3. Poetic. overhanging. 4. person holding an office, position, church living, etc. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

in cum ber (in kum'bər), encumber. v.

in cum brance (in kum'brəns), encumbrance. n.

in cur (in kēr'), run or fall into (something unpleasant); bring (blame, punishment, danger, etc.) on oneself: The hunter incurred great danger in killing the tiger. v., in curred, in cur ring.

in cur a bil i ty (in kyūr'ə bil'ə tē), a being incurable. n.

in cur a ble (in kyūr'ə bl), 1. not capable of being cured or remedied: an incurable invalid. 2. person having an incurable disease: That building is a home for incurables. 1 adj., 2 n. —in cur'a bly, adv.

in cur sion (in kēr'zhən), 1. invasion; raid; sudden attack: The pirates made incursions along the coast. 2. a running or flowing in: Dikes protected the lowland from incursions of the sea. n.

in cur sive (in kēr'siv), making incursions. adj.

in curve (in'kērv'), baseball that curves toward the batter. n.

in cus (ing'kəs), the middle one of a chain of three small bones in the middle ear of man and other animals. It is shaped somewhat like an anvil. n., pl. in cu des.

Ind (ind), Poetic. 1. India. 2. Indies. n.

Ind., 1. Indiana. 2. India. 3. Indian.

in debt ed (in det'id), in debt; obliged; owing money or gratitude: We are indebted to men of science for many of our comforts. adj.

in debt ed ness (in det'id nis), 1. condition of being in debt. 2. amount owed; debts. n.

in de cen cy (in dē'sn sē), 1. lack of decency; being indecent. 2. an indecent act or word. n., pl. in de cen cies.

in de cent (in dē'snt), 1. not decent; in very bad taste; improper: an indecent lack of gratitude to the man who saved his life. 2. not modest; morally bad; disgusting; obscene. adj. —in de'cent ly, adv.

in de ci pher a ble (in'di sif'ər ə bl), incapable of being deciphered; illegible. adj.

in de ci sion (in'di sizh'ən), lack of decision; tendency to delay or to hesitate; tendency to put off deciding or to change one's mind. n.

in de ci sive (in'di si'siv), 1. having the habit of hesitating and putting off decisions. 2. not deciding or settling the matter: an indecisive battle, an indecisive answer. adj. —in/de ci'sive ly, adv. —in/de ci'sive-ness, n.

in de clin a ble (in'di klīn'ə bl), not changing its spelling for changes in grammatical use. None is an indeclinable pronoun. adj.

in dec o rous (in dek'ə rəs or in'di kō'rəs), not suitable; improper; unseemly. adj. —in dec'o rous ly, adv. —in dec'o rous ness, n.

in de co rum (in'di kō'rəm), 1. lack of decorum. 2. improper behavior, speech, dress, etc. n.

in deed (in dēd'), 1. in fact; really; truly; surely: She is hungry; indeed, she is almost starving. War is indeed terrible. 2. expression of surprise, incredulity, irony, or contempt: Indeed! I would not have done it. 1 adv., 2 interj.

indef., indefinite.

in de fat i ga bil i ty (in'di fat'ə gə bil'ə tē), a being indefatigable; tirelessness. n.

in de fat i ga ble (in'di fat'ə gə bl), never getting tired or giving up; tireless. adj. —in/de fat'i ga bly, adv.

in de fea si ble (in'di fē'zə bl), not to be annulled or made void: Kings used to think that they had an indefeasible right to rule. adj. —in'de fea'si bly, adv.

in de fen si ble (in'di fən'sə bl), 1. that cannot be defended: an indefensible island. 2. not justifiable: an indefensible lie. adj. —in'de fən'si bly, adv.

in de fin a ble (in'di fin'ə bl), that cannot be defined. adj. —in'de fin'ə bly, adv.

in def i nite (in def'ə nit), 1. not clearly defined; not precise; vague: "Maybe" is a very indefinite answer. 2. not limited: We have an indefinite time to finish this work. 3. not specifying precisely. An indefinite adjective, pronoun, etc., does not determine the person, thing, time, etc., to which it refers. Some, many, and few are often indefinite pronouns. adj. —in def'i nite ly, adv. —in def'i nite ness, n.

indefinite article, a or an.

in de his cent (in'di his'nt), not opening at maturity. Acorns are indehiscent fruits. adj.

in del i bil i ty (in del'ə bil'ə tē), a being indelible; permanence. n.

in del i ble (in del'ə bl), 1. that cannot be erased or removed; permanent: indelible ink, an indelible disgrace. 2. making an indelible mark: an indelible pencil. adj. —in del'i bly, adv.

in del i ca cy (in del'ə kə sē), lack of delicacy; being indelicate. n., pl. in del i ca cies.

in del i cate (in del'ə kit), 1. not delicate; coarse; crude. 2. improper; immodest. adj. —in del'i cate ly, adv.

in dem ni fi ca tion (in dem'nə fə kā'shən), 1. an indemnifying. 2. being indemnified. 3. compensation; recompense. n.

in dem ni fy (in dem'nə fi), 1. repay; make good; compensate for damage, loss, or expense incurred: He promised to indemnify me for my losses. 2. secure against damage or loss; insure. v., in dem ni fied, in dem ni fy ing.

in dem ni ty (in dem'nə tē), 1. payment for damage, loss, or expense incurred. Money demanded by a victorious nation at the end of a war as a condition of peace is an indemnity. 2. security against damage or loss; insurance. n., pl. in dem ni ties.

in dent¹ (in dent' for 1-3,5; in'dent or in dent' for 4), 1. cut (an edge) so that it looks like a row of teeth; notch. 2. form deep notches or bays in. 3. form a notch or recess. 4. a notch; indentation. 5. begin (a line) farther from the edge than the other lines: We usually indent the first line of a paragraph. 1-3,5 v., 4 n.

in dent² (in dent'), 1. make a dent in; mark with a dent. 2. press in; stamp. v.

in den ta tion (in'den tā'shən), 1. an indenting or being indented. 2. dent; notch; cut. 3. indentation. n.

in den tion (in den'shən), 1. a beginning of a line farther from the edge than the other lines. 2. the blank space left by doing this. 3. indentation. n.

in den ture (in den'chər), 1. a written agreement. 2. contract by which a person is bound to serve someone else. 3. bind by a contract to serve someone else: Many persons came to the colonies indentured for several years. 4. indentation. 1,2,4 n., 3 v., in den tured, in den tur ing.

in de pend ence (in'di pen'dəns), 1. freedom from the control, influence, support, or help of another: The American colonies won independence from England. 2. enough to live on. n.

In de pend ence (in'di pen'dəns), city in W Missouri. It was one of the terminals of the Santa Fe Trail. 62,000. n.

Independence Day, U.S. the Fourth of July, a holiday in the United States, celebrating the adoption of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776.

Indented molding

in de pend en cy (in'di pen'dən sē), 1. independence. 2. an independent country. n., pl. in de pend en cies.

in de pend ent (in'di pen'dənt), 1. needing, wishing, or getting no help from others: independent work, independent thinking. 2. acting, working, or especially, voting by one's own ideas, not as the crowd does. 3. guiding, ruling, or governing oneself; not under another's rule: The United States is an independent country. 4. not depending on others: Miss Jones has an independent fortune. 5. not resulting from another thing; not controlled or influenced by something else; separate; distinct. 6. person who is independent in thought or behavior. 7. person who votes without regard to party. 1-5 adj., 6,7 n.

independent of, apart from; without regard to.

in de pend ent ly (in'di pen'dənt lē), in an independent manner. adv.

independently of, apart from; without regard to.

in de scrib a ble (in'di skrib'ə bl), that cannot be described; beyond description. adj. —in'de skrib'ə bly, adv.

in de struct i bil i ty (in'di struk'tə bil'ə tē), a being indestructible. n.

in de struct i ble (in'di struk'tə bl), that cannot be destroyed. adj. —in'de struk'ti bly, adv.

in de ter mi na ble (in'di tēr'mə nə bl), 1. not capable of being settled or decided. 2. not capable of being found out exactly. adj. —in'de tēr'mi nā bly, adv.

in de ter mi nate (in'di tēr'mə nit), not determined; not fixed; indefinite; vague. adj. —in'de tēr'mi nate ly, adv.

in de ter mi na tion (in'di tēr'mə nā'shən), 1. lack of determination. 2. an unsettled state. n.

in dex (in'deks), 1. list of what is in a book, telling on what pages to find topics, names, etc., usually put at the end of the book and arranged in alphabetical order. 2. provide with an index; make an index of. 3. enter in an index. 4. thing that points out or shows; sign: A person's face is often an index of his mood. 5. index finger. 6. pointer. A dial or scale usually has an index. 7. in printing, a sign (☞) used to point out a particular note, paragraph, etc. 8. number or formula expressing some property, ratio, etc., in science. 9. Brit. in mathematics, an exponent. 10. the number indicating the root: In 3√764 the index is 3. 1,4-10 n., pl. in dex es or in di ces; 2,3 v.

index finger, finger next to the thumb; forefinger.

In di a (in'dē ə), 1. region and former country in S Asia. Until August 15, 1947, most of India was under British rule. It is now chiefly divided between the republic of India and Pakistan, both self-governing affiliated units of the British Commonwealth of Nations. 2. country in S Asia, since 1950 an independent republic within the British Commonwealth. 438,000,000 pop.; 1,259,797 sq. mi. Capital: New Delhi. n.

India ink, 1. a black pigment consisting of lamp-black mixed with a binding material and molded into sticks or cakes. India ink is made chiefly in China and Japan. 2. a liquid ink prepared from this pigment.

In di an (in'dē ən), 1. member of the so-called red race living in America before the Europeans came; an American Indian. 2. of or having to do with American Indians: Indian blankets, Indian sign language. 3. any one of the languages of the American Indians. 4. made of Indian corn or maize: Indian pudding. 5. of, living in, or belonging to India or the East Indies: Indian elephants, Indian temples. 6. native of India or the East Indies. 1,3,6 n., 2,4,5 adj.

In di an a (in'dē an'ə), a Middle Western State of the United States. 4,662,000 pop.; 36,291 sq. mi. Capital: Indianapolis. Abbrev.: Ind. n.

—In'di an'i an, n.

In di an a po lis (in'dē ən ap'l-is), capital of Indiana, near the center of the State. 476,000. n.

Indian club, a bottle-shaped wooden club swung for exercise.

Indian corn, 1. grain that grows on large ears; maize. 2. plant that it grows on. It is a cereal grass which Europeans found in use in the United States among the Indians.

Indian Empire, parts of India formerly under British control.

Indian file, single file.

Indian giver, U.S. Informal. person who takes back a gift after having bestowed it.

Indian Ocean, ocean south of Asia, east of Africa, and west of Australia. 28,350,000 sq. mi.

Indian pipe, a leafless plant with a solitary flower that looks like a tobacco pipe.

Indian summer, time of mild, dry, hazy weather in late October or early November, after the first frosts of autumn.

Indian Territory, a former territory of the United States, now part of Oklahoma. 31,000 sq. mi.

Indian tobacco, weed with small blue flowers and swollen capsules, used in medicine.

India paper, 1. a thin, tough paper, used for Bibles, prayer books, etc. 2. a thin, soft paper, used for the first or finest impressions of engravings, etc.

India rubber or india rubber, substance of great elasticity obtained from the coagulated, milky juice of various tropical plants; rubber.

indic., indicative.

in di cate (in'də kāt), 1. point out; point to: The arrow on the sign indicates the right way to go. 2. show; make known: A thermometer indicates temperature. 3. be a sign or hint of: Fever indicates sickness. 4. give a sign or hint of. 5. show to be needed as a remedy or treatment. v., in di cat ed, in di cat ing.

in di ca tion (in'də kā'shən), 1. an indicating. 2. thing that indicates; sign. 3. amount or degree indicated: The speedometer indication was 45 miles. n.

in dic a tive (in dik'ə tiv), 1. pointing out; showing; being a sign (of); suggestive: A headache is sometimes indicative of eyestrain. 2. of a verb, expressing or denoting a state, act, or happening as actual; asking a question of simple fact. In "I go," and "Did I go?" the verbs are in the indicative mood. 3. the indicative mood. 4. a verb form in this mood. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n. —in dic'a tive ly, adv.

in di ca tor (in'də kā'tər), 1. person or thing that indicates. 2. pointer on the dial of an instrument that measures something. 3. a measuring or recording instrument. 4. substance used to indicate chemical conditions or changes. Litmus paper is an indicator. n.

in di ces (in'də sēz), a pl. of index. n.

in dict (in dīt'), 1. charge with an offense or crime; accuse. 2. find enough evidence against (an accused person) so that a trial is necessary. v. —in dict'er, in dict'or, n.

in dict ment (in dīt'mənt), 1. a formal accusation; especially, the legal accusation presented by a grand jury. 2. accusation. n.

In dies (in'dēz), 1. East Indies, India, and Indochina. 2. the East Indies. 3. the West Indies. n.pl.

in dif fer ence (in dif'ər əns), 1. lack of interest or attention: The boy's indifference to his homework worried his parents. 2. lack of importance: Where we ate was a matter of indifference. n.

in dif fer ent (in dif'ər ənt), 1. having no feeling for or against: indifferent to an admirer. 2. impartial; neutral; without preference: an indifferent decision. 3. unimportant; not mattering much: The time for starting is indifferent to me. 4. neither good nor bad; just fair: an indifferent ballplayer. 5. rather bad. adj.

in dif fer ent ly (in dif'ər ənt lē), 1. with indifference. 2. without distinction; equally. 3. moderately; tolerably; passably. 4. poorly; badly. adv.

in di gence (in'də jəns), poverty. n.

in di ge nous (in dij'ə nəs), 1. originating in the region or country where found; native: Lions are indigenous to Africa. 2. innate; inherent. adj. —in dig'e nous ly, adv.

in di gent (in'də jənt), poor; needy. adj. —in-di gent ly, adv.

in di gest i bil i ty (in'də jes'tə bil'ə tē), indigestible nature or quality. n.

in di gest i ble (in'də jes'tə bl), that cannot be digested; hard to digest. adj.

in di ges tion (in'də jes'chən), inability to digest food; difficulty in digesting food: Several of us ate too much rich food at the picnic, and we have been suffering from indigestion as a result. n.

in dig nant (in dig'nənt), angry at something unworthy, unjust, or mean. adj. —in dig'nant ly, adv.

in dig na tion (in'dig nā'shən), anger at something unworthy, unjust, or mean; anger mixed with scorn; righteous anger: Cruelty to animals arouses indignation. n.

in dig ni ty (in dig'nə tē), injury to dignity; an insult; a slight. n., pl. in dig ni ties.

in di go (in'də gō), 1. a blue dyestuff that can be obtained from certain plants, but is now usually made artificially. 2. plant from which indigo is obtained. 3. deep violet-blue. 1-3 n., pl. in di gos or in di goes; 3 adj.

indigo bunting, a small American finch, the male of which is a deep violet-blue. The female is brown.

in di rect (in'də rekt'), 1. not direct; not straight: an indirect route.

2. not directly connected; secondary: Happiness is an indirect consequence of doing one's work well.

3. not straightforward and to the point: The witness gave an indirect answer to the lawyer's question instead of a frank "Yes" or "No." 4. dishonest; deceitful: indirect methods. adj. —in'di rect'ly, adv. —in'di rect'ness, n.

indirect discourse, repetition of the substance of a person's speech without directly quoting it. Example: "He said that he would come," instead of "He said, 'I will come.'" in di rec tion (in'də rek'shən), 1. a roundabout act, means, or method. 2. dishonesty; deceit. n.

indirect object, person or thing that is indirectly affected by the action of the verb. The indirect object usually comes before the direct object and shows to whom or for whom something is done. In "I gave John a book," John is the indirect object and book is the direct object.

in dis cern i ble (in'də zér'nə bl), not discernible; imperceptible. adj.

in dis creet (in'dis krēt'), not discreet; not wise and judicious; imprudent: The indiscreet girl often talked with strangers. adj. —in'dis creet'ly, adv. —in'dis creet'ness, n.

in dis cre tion (in'dis kresh'ən), 1. lack of good judgment; imprudence. 2. an indiscreet act. n.

in dis crim i nate (in'dis krim'ə nit), 1. confused: He tipped everything out of his suitcase in an indiscriminate mass. 2. not discriminating; with no feeling for differences: He is an indiscriminate reader and likes

Indian club

Indigo bunting
(about 5 in. long)

both good books and bad ones. adj. —in'dis crim'i-nate ly, adv.

in dis pen sa bil i ty (in'dis pen'sə bil'ə tē), being indispensable; absolute necessity. n.

in dis pen sa ble (in'dis pen'sə bl), absolutely necessary: Air is indispensable to life. adj.

in dis pen sa bly (in'dis pen'sə blē), to an indispensable degree; necessarily. adv.

in dis pose (in'dis pōz'), 1. make unwilling; make averse: Hot weather indisposes a person to work hard. 2. make slightly ill. 3. make unfit or unable. v., in-disposed, in dis pos ing.

in dis posed (in'dis pōzd'), 1. slightly ill. 2. unwilling; without inclination; averse. adj.

in dis po si tion (in'dis pə zish'ən), 1. disturbance of health; slight illness. 2. unwillingness; disinclination. n.

in dis put a bil i ty (in'dis pūt'ə bil'ə tē or in dis'pyū tə bil'ə tē), being indisputable. n.

in dis put a ble (in'dis pūt'ə bl or in dis'pyū tə bl), not to be disputed; undoubtedly true; unquestionable. adj. —in'dis put'ə bly, adv.

in dis sol u bil i ty (in'di sol'yə bil'ə tē), a being indissoluble; stability. n.

in dis sol u ble (in'di sol'yə bl), not capable of being dissolved, undone, or destroyed; lasting; firm. adj. —in'dis sol'u bly, adv.

in dis tinct (in'dis tingkt'), not distinct; not clear to the eye, ear, or mind; confused: an indistinct picture, an indistinct roar from the distant ocean. adj. —in'dis-tinct'ly, adv. —in'dis tinct'ness, n.

in dis tin guish a ble (in'dis ting'gwish ə bl), that cannot be distinguished. adj.

in dite (in dīt'), put in words or writing; compose: indite a letter. v., in dit ed, in dit ing.

in di um (in'dē əm), a rare metallic element that is soft, white, malleable, and easily fusible. Symbol: In. n.

in di vid u al (in'də vij'ū əl), 1. person: Robert is a tall individual. 2. one person, animal, or thing: We saw a herd of giraffes containing 30 individuals. 3. single; particular; separate: an individual question. 4. for one only: We use individual saltcellars. 5. having to do with or peculiar to one person or thing: individual tastes. 6. marking off one person or thing specially: Alice has an individual style of arranging her hair. 1,2 n., 3-6 adj.

in di vid u al ism (in'də vij'ū əl iz'əm), 1. theory that individual freedom is as important as the welfare of the community or group as a whole. 2. any ethical, economic, or political theory that emphasizes the importance of individuals. 3. each for himself; absence of cooperation; wanting a separate existence for oneself. 4. individuality. n.

in di vid u al ist (in'də vij'ū əl ist), 1. one who lives his own life for himself and does not try to cooperate with others. 2. supporter of individualism. n.

in di vid u al is tic (in'də vij'ū əl is'tik), of individualism or individualists. adj.

in di vid u al i ty (in'də vij'ū əl'ə tē), 1. individual character; sum of the qualities that make a person himself, not someone else. 2. state of being individual; existence as an individual. 3. an individual person or thing. n., pl. in di vid u al i ties.

in di vid u al ize (in'də vij'ū əl iz), 1. make individual; cause to be different from others; give a distinctive character to. 2. consider as individuals; list one by one; specify. v., in di vid u al ized, in di vid u al iz ing.

in di vid u al ly (in'də vij'ū əl ē), 1. personally; one at a time; as individuals: The teacher helps us individually. 2. each from the others: People differ individually. adv.

in di vis i bil i ty (in'də viz'ə bil'ə tē), state or quality of being indivisible. n.

in di vis i ble (in'də viz'ə bl), 1. not capable of being divided. 2. not capable of being divided without a remainder. adj. —in'di vis'i bly, adv.

In do chi na (in'dō chī'nə), 1. the SE peninsula of Asia comprising Burma, Cambodia, Laos, Malaya, Singapore, Thailand, North Vietnam, and South Vietnam. 2. countries in the E part of this peninsula formerly comprising French Indochina; Cambodia, Laos, North Vietnam, and South Vietnam. n.

In do chi nese (in'dō chī-nēz'), of or having to do with Indochina, the Mongoloid peoples living there, or their languages. adj.

in doc tri nate (in dok'trə nāt), 1. teach a doctrine, belief, or principle to. 2. teach. v., in doc tri nat ed, in doc tri nat ing. —in doc'tri na'tion, n.

In do-Eu rope an (in'dō-yūr'ə pē'ən), 1. of India and Europe. 2. of or having to do with a group of related languages spoken in India, western Asia, and Europe. English, German, Latin, Greek, Persian, and Sanskrit are some of the Indo-European languages. adj.

in do lence (in'dl əns), laziness; dislike of work. n.

in do lent (in'dl ənt), lazy; disliking work. adj.

—in'do lent ly, adv.

in dom i ta ble (in dom'ə tə bl), unconquerable; unyielding. adj. —in dom'i tā bly, adv.

In do ne sia (in'dō nē'zhə), 1. republic in the East Indies that includes Java, Sumatra, Celebes, parts of Borneo and New Guinea, and over 3000 smaller islands formerly belonging to the Netherlands. 97,085,000 pop.; 575,893 sq. mi. Capital: Djakarta. 2. Malay Archipelago. n.

In do ne sian (in'dō nē'zhən), 1. of or having to do with the Republic of Indonesia or its people. 2. of or having to do with the Malay Archipelago or its people. 3. native or inhabitant of Indonesia. 4. inhabitant of the Malay Archipelago. 5. member of a race supposed to have been dominant on the Malay Archipelago before the Malays. 1,2 adj., 3-5 n.

in door (in'dōr'), done, used, etc., in a house or building: indoor tennis. adj.

in doors (in'dōrz'), in or into a house or building: go indoors. adv.

in dorse (in dōrs'), endorse. v., in dorsed, in dors ing.

in dor see (in'dōr sē'), endorsee. n.

in dorse ment (in dōrs'mənt), endorsement. n.

in draft (in'draft'), 1. a drawing in. 2. an inward flow or current of water, air, etc. n.

in du bi ta ble (in dū'bə tə bl or in dū'bə tə bl), not to be doubted; certain. adj. —in du'bi tā bly, adv.

in duce (in dūs' or in dūs'), 1. lead on; influence; persuade: Advertising induces people to buy. 2. cause; bring about: Some drugs induce sleep. 3. produce (an electric current, electric charge, or magnetic change) without direct contact. 4. infer by reasoning from particular facts to a general rule. v., in duced, in duc ing.

in duce ment (in dūs'mənt or in dūs'mənt), something that influences or persuades; incentive: Prizes are inducements to work. n.

in duct (in dukt'), 1. bring in; introduce (into a place,

Indochina (def. 1)

Indonesia (def. 1) seat, position, office, etc.). 2. put formally in possession (of an office, etc.): Mr. Gage was inducted into the office of governor. 3. U.S. enroll in military service. 4. initiate. v.

in duct ance (in duk'təns), property of an electrical conductor or circuit that makes induction possible. n.

in duct tee (in duk'tē), person who is soon to be inducted, especially in the army, navy, etc. n.

in duct ion (in duk'shən), 1. process by which an object having electrical or magnetic properties produces similar properties in a nearby object, without direct contact. 2. reasoning from particular facts to a general rule or principle. 3. conclusion reached in this way. 4. act of inducting; act or ceremony of installing a person in office. n.

Magnetic induction. Nails are sticking to the nail and to each other because of induced magnetism.

induction coil, device for producing a high, pulsating voltage from a current of low, steady voltage, such as from a battery.

in duct ive (in duk'tiv), 1. of or using induction; reasoning by induction. 2. having to do with electrical or magnetic induction. adj. —in duct'ive ly, adv.

in duct iv i ty (in'duk tiv'ə tē), inductive property; capacity for induction. n., pl. in duct iv i ties.

in duct or (in duk'tər), 1. person who inducts another into office. 2. part of an electrical apparatus that works or is worked by induction. n.

in due (in dū' or in dū'), endue. v., in dued, in du ing.

in dulse (in dulʃ'), 1. yield to the wishes of; humor: We often indulge a sick person. 2. give way to: We do not indulge all our desires. 3. give way to one's pleasures; give oneself up to; allow oneself something desired: He indulges in tobacco. v., in dulged, in dulging. —in dul'ging ly, adv.

in dul gence (in dul'jəns), 1. an indulging. 2. thing indulged in. 3. favor; privilege. 4. in the Roman Catholic Church, remission of the punishment still due to sin after the guilt has been forgiven. n.

in dul gent (in dul'jənt), 1. indulging; kind; almost too kind: The indulgent mother bought her boy everything he wanted. 2. lenient; making allowances; not critical: Our indulgent teacher praised every poem we wrote. adj. —in dul'gent ly, adv.

in du rate (in'du rāt or in'dyu rāt for 1,3; in'du rit or in'dyu rit for 2,4), 1. harden. 2. hardened. 3. make or become unfeeling. 4. unfeeling. 1,3 v., in du rat ed, in du rat ing; 2,4 adj.

In dus (in'dəs), river flowing from NW India through Pakistan into the Arabian Sea. 2000 mi. n.

in dus tri al (in dus'trē əl), 1. of or resulting from industry or productive labor. 2. having to do with or connected with the industries, trades, or manufactures: an industrial exhibition, industrial workers. 3. of or having to do with the workers in industries: industrial insurance. adj. —in dus'tri al ly, adv.

in dus tri al ism (in dus'trē əl iz'əm), system of social and economic organization in which large industries are very important and industrial activities or interests prevail. n.

in dus tri al ist (in dus'trē əl ist), 1. person who conducts or owns an industrial enterprise. 2. an industrial worker. n.

in dus tri al i za tion (in dus'trē əl ə zā'shən), development of large industries as an important feature in a country or a social or economic system. n.

in dus tri al ize (in dus'trē əl iz'), 1. make industrial. 2. organize as an industry. v., in dus tri al ized, in dus tri al iz ing.

Industrial Revolution, the change from an agricultural to an industrial civilization that took place in England from about the middle of the 18th century to the middle of the 19th century.

in dus tri ous (in dus'trē əs), hard-working. adj. —in dus'tri ous ly, adv. —in dus'tri ous ness, n.

in dus try (in'dəs trē), 1. any branch of business, trade, or manufacture: the steel industry, the automobile industry. 2. systematic work or labor. 3. steady effort; busy application: Industry and thrift favor success. n., pl. in dus tries.

in dwell ing (in'dwel'ing), dwelling within. adj.

in e bri ate (in ē'brē āt for 1; in ē'brē it for 2,3), 1. make drunk; intoxicate. 2. a habitual drunkard; intoxicated person. 3. intoxicated; drunk. 1 v., in e bri at ed, in e bri at ing; 2 n., 3 adj.

in e bri a tion (in ē'brē ā'shən), drunkenness; intoxication. n.

in e bri e ty (in'i brī'ə tē), drunkenness. n.

in ed i ble (in ed'ə bl), not fit to eat. adj.

in ef fa ble (in ef'ə bl), not to be expressed in words; too great to be described in words: the ineffable beauty of a sunset. adj. —in ef'fa bly, adv.

in ef face a ble (in'ə fās'ə bl), that cannot be rubbed out or wiped out. adj. —in ef face'a bly, adv.

in ef fec tive (in'ə fek'tiv), 1. not producing the desired effect; of little use. 2. unfit for work; incapable. adj. —in ef fec'tive ly, adv. —in ef fec'tive ness, n.

in ef fec tu al (in'ə fek'chū əl), 1. without effect; useless: The searchlights were ineffectual in the fog. 2. not able to produce the effect wanted. adj. —in ef fec'tu al ly, adv.

in ef fi ca cious (in'ef ə kā'shəs), not efficacious; not able to produce the effect wanted. adj.

in ef fi ca cy (in ef'ə kə sē), lack of efficacy; inability to produce the effect wanted. n.

in ef fi cien cy (in'ə fish'an sē), lack of efficiency; inability to get things done. n.

in ef fi cient (in'ə fish'ənt), 1. not efficient; not able to produce an effect without waste of time, energy, etc.: A machine that uses too much power is inefficient. 2. incapable; not able to get things done. adj. —in ef fi'cient ly, adv.

in e las tic (in'i las'tik), not elastic; stiff; inflexible; unyielding. adj.

in e las tic i ty (in'i las tis'ə tē), lack of elasticity. n.

in el e gance (in el'ə gəns), 1. lack of elegance; lack of good taste. 2. something that is not elegant or graceful. n.

in el e gant (in el'ə gənt), not elegant; not in good taste; crude; vulgar. adj. —in el'e gant ly, adv.

in el i gi bil i ty (in el'ə jə bil'ə tē), lack of eligibility; being ineligible. n.

in el i gi ble (in el'ə jə bl), 1. not suitable; not qualified: A foreign-born citizen of the United States is ineligible for the Presidency. 2. person who is not suitable or not qualified. 1 adj., 2 n. —in el'i gi bly, adv.

in ept (in ept'), 1. not suitable; out of place. 2. absurd; foolish. adj. —in ept'ly, adv. —in ept'ness, n.

in ept i tude (in ep'tə tūd or in ep'tə tūd), 1. unfitness; foolishness. 2. a silly or inappropriate act or remark. n.

in e qual i ty (in'i kwol'ə tē), 1. lack of equality; a being unequal in amount, size, value, rank, etc.: the inequality between the salaries of a bank president and an office boy. 2. lack of evenness, regularity, or uniformity. 3. a mathematical expression showing that two quantities are unequal, like $a > b$ or $c < d$. n., pl. in e qual i ties.

in eq ui ta ble (in ek'wə tə bl), unfair; unjust. adj. —in eq'ui ta bly, adv.

in eq ui ty (in ek'wə tē), unfairness; injustice. n., pl. in eq ui ties.

in e rad i ca ble (in'i rad'ə kə bl), that cannot be rooted out or got rid of. adj. —in e rad'i ca bly, adv.

in ert (in ert'), 1. having no power to move or act; lifeless: A stone is an inert mass of matter. 2. inactive; slow; sluggish. 3. with few or no active properties: Helium and neon are inert gases. adj. —in ert'ly, adv. —in ert'ness, n.

in er tia (in ər'shə), 1. tendency to remain in the state one is in and not start changes. 2. tendency of all objects and matter in the universe to stay still if still, or if moving, to go on moving in the same direction unless acted on by some outside force. n.

in es cap a ble (in'es kăp'ə bl), that cannot be escaped or avoided. adj. —in'es cap'a bly, adv.

in es ti ma ble (in es'tə mə bl), too good, great, valuable, etc., to be measured or estimated: Freedom is an inestimable privilege. adj.

in es ti ma bly (in es'tə mə blē), so as to be inestimable. adv.

in ev i ta bil i ty (in ev'ə tə bil'ə tē), a being inevitable. n.

in ev i ta ble (in ev'ə tə bl), not avoidable; sure to happen; certain to come: Death is inevitable. adj. —in-ev'i ta bly, adv.

in ex act (in'eg zakt'), not exact; not accurate. adj. —in'ex act'ly, adv. —in'ex act'ness, n.

in ex cus a ble (in'eks kŭz'ə bl), that ought not to be excused; that cannot be justified: Lulu's failure to thank her hostess when the party ended was inexcusable. adj. —in'ex cus'a bly, adv.

in ex haust i bil i ty (in'eg zôs'tə bil'ə tē), inexhaustible nature or quality. n.

in ex haust i ble (in'eg zôs'tə bl), 1. that cannot be exhausted; very abundant: The wealth of our country seems inexhaustible to many people abroad. 2. tireless. adj. —in'ex haust'i bly, adv.

in ex o ra bil i ty (in ek'sə rə bil'ə tē), inexorable nature or quality. n.

in ex o ra ble (in ek'sə rə bl), relentless; unyielding; not influenced by prayers or entreaties: The forces of nature are inexorable. adj. —in'ex o ra bly, adv.

in ex pe di en cy (in'eks pē'dē ən sē), lack of expediency; being inexpedient. n.

in ex pe di ent (in'eks pē'dē ənt), not expedient; not practicable, suitable, or wise. adj.

in ex pen sive (in'eks pen'siv), not expensive; cheap; low-priced. adj. —in'ex pen'sive ly, adv. —in'ex pen'sive ness, n.

in ex pe ri ence (in'eks pir'ē əns), lack of experience; lack of practice; lack of skill or wisdom gained from experience. n.

in ex pe ri enced (in'eks pir'ē ənst), not experienced; without practice; lacking the skill and wisdom gained by experience. adj.

in ex pert (in'eks pērt' or in'eks'pērt), not expert; unskilled. adj. —in'ex pert'ly, adv. —in'ex pert'ness, n.

in ex pi a ble (in eks'pē ə bl), that cannot be atoned for: Murder is an inexpiable crime. adj.

in ex pli ca bil i ty (in eks'plə kə bil'ə tē or in'eks-plik'ə bil'ə tē), unexplainable nature or quality. n.

in ex pli ca ble (in eks'plə kə bl or in'eks plik'ə bl), impossible to explain or understand; mysterious. adj. —in'ex pli ca bly, adv.

in ex press i ble (in'eks pres'ə bl), that cannot be expressed; beyond expression. adj.

in ex press i bly (in'eks pres'ə blē), beyond expression; indescribably. adv.

in ex pres sive (in'eks pres'iv), not expressive; lacking in expression. adj.

in ex tin guish a ble (in'eks ting'gwish ə bl), that cannot be put out or stopped: An inextinguishable fire keeps on burning. adj. —in'ex tin'guish a bly, adv.

in ex tri ca ble (in eks'trə kə bl), 1. that one cannot get out of. 2. that cannot be disentangled or solved. adj. —in'ex tri ca bly, adv.

in fal li bil i ty (in fal'ə bil'ə tē), absolute freedom from error. The infallibility of the Pope when speaking officially on matters of faith and morals was proclaimed by the Vatican Council in 1870. n.

in fal li ble (in fal'ə bl), 1. free from error; that cannot be mistaken: an infallible rule. 2. absolutely reliable; sure: infallible obedience. adj. —in fal'li bly, adv.

in fa mous (in'fə məs), 1. deserving or causing a very bad reputation; shamefully bad; extremely wicked: an infamous betrayal of his country. 2. having a very bad reputation; in public disgrace: A traitor's name is infamous. adj. —in'fa mous ly, adv.

in fa my (in'fə mē), 1. very bad reputation; public disgrace: Traitors are held in infamy. 2. shameful badness; extreme wickedness. n., pl. in fa mies.

in fan cy (in'fən sē), 1. condition or time of being an infant; babyhood; early childhood. 2. early stage; beginning of development: Space travel is still in its infancy. n., pl. in fan cies.

in fant (in'fənt), 1. baby; very young child. 2. of or for an infant: an infant dress, infant food. 3. in an early stage; just beginning to develop: an infant industry. 4. person under the legal age of responsibility; a minor. 1,4 n., 2,3 adj.

in fan ti cide (in fan'tə sīd), the killing of a baby. n.

in fan tile (in'fən tīl), 1. of an infant or infants; having to do with infants. 2. like an infant; babyish; childish. 3. in an early stage; just beginning to develop. adj.

infantile paralysis, an acute infectious disease that destroys tissue in the brain and spinal cord, causing fever, paralysis of various muscles, and often death; poliomyelitis. It attacks children especially, often leaving them crippled.

in fan ti lism (in fan'tə liz əm), an abnormal persistence or appearance of childish traits in adults. n.

in fan tine (in'fən tīn), infantile; babyish; childish. adj.

in fan try (in'fən trē), soldiers trained, equipped, and organized to fight on foot. n., pl. in fan tries.

in fan try man (in'fən trē mən), soldier who fights on foot. n., pl. in fan try men.

in fat u ate (in fach'ū āt for 1,2; in fach'ū it or in fach'ū āt for 3), 1. make foolish. 2. inspire with a foolish or extreme passion. 3. infatuated. 1,2 v., in fat u at ed, in fat u at ing; 3 adj.

in fat u at ed (in fach'ū āt'id), extremely adoring; foolishly in love. adj.

in fat u a tion (in fach'ū ā'shən), 1. an infatuating. 2. being infatuated. 3. foolish love; unreasoning fondness. n.

in fect (in fekt'), 1. cause disease in by introducing germs: Dirt infects an open cut. Anyone with a bad cold may infect the people around him. 2. influence in a bad way: One bad boy may infect a whole class. 3. influence by spreading from one to another: The captain's courage infected his soldiers. v.

in fec tion (in fēk'shən), 1. a causing of disease in people, animals, and plants by the introduction of germs. Air, water, clothing, and insects are all means of infection. 2. disease caused in this way: Measles is an infection that spreads from one person to another. 3. influence, feeling, or idea spreading from one to another. 4. fact or state of being infected. n.

in fec tious (in fēk'shəs), 1. spread by infection: Measles is an infectious disease. 2. causing infection. 3. apt to spread: an infectious laugh. adj. —in fec'tious ly, adv. —in fec'tious ness, n.

in fec tive (in fēk'tiv), infectious. adj.

in fe lic i tous (in'fə lis'ə təs), 1. unsuitable; not appropriate. 2. unfortunate; unhappy. adj.

in fe lic i ty (in'fə lis'ə tē), 1. unsuitability; inappropriateness. 2. misfortune; unhappiness. 3. something unsuitable; inappropriate word, remark, etc. n., pl. in fe lic i ties.

in fer (in fēr'), 1. find out by reasoning; conclude: People inferred that so able a governor would make a good President. 2. indicate; imply: Ragged clothing infers poverty. 3. draw inferences. v., in ferred, in fer ring.

in fer ence (in'fər əns), 1. process of inferring. 2. that which is inferred; conclusion: What inference do you draw from smelling smoke? n.

in fer en tial (in'fər en'shəl), having to do with inference; depending on inference. adj.

in fe ri or (in fir'ē or), 1. lower in position or rank: an inferior officer. 2. not so good; lower in quality; worse: His grades are inferior this semester. 3. below average: an inferior mind, an inferior grade of coffee. 4. person who is lower in rank or station: A good leader gets on well with inferiors. 5. an inferior thing. 1-3 adj., 4, 5 n.

inferior to, 1. below; lower than: A lieutenant is inferior to a captain. 2. not so good or so great as; worse than: This cloth is inferior to real silk.

in fe ri or i ty (in fir'ē or'ə tē), inferior condition or quality. n.

inferiority complex, an abnormal or morbid feeling of being inferior to other people.

in fer nal (in fər'nəl), 1. of hell; having to do with the lower world. 2. hellish; diabolical: The heartless conqueror showed infernal cruelty. 3. Informal. abominable; outrageous. adj. —in fer'nal ly, adv.

infernal machine, a disguised bomb or other explosive apparatus for maliciously destroying life and property.

in fer no (in fər'nō), 1. hell. 2. a hell-like place or thing: Firemen fought their way through a roaring inferno of flames. n., pl. in fer nos.

in fer tile (in fər'tl), not fertile; not fruitful; sterile. adj.

in fer til i ty (in'fər til'ə tē), lack of fertility; being infertile. n.

in fest (in fest'), trouble or disturb frequently or in large numbers: Mosquitoes infest swamps. The mountains were infested by robbers. v.

in fes ta tion (in'fes tā'shən), 1. an infesting. 2. being infested. n.

in fi del (in'fə dl), 1. person who does not believe in religion. 2. not believing in religion. 3. person who does not accept a particular faith. Moslems call Christians infidels. 4. person who does not accept Christianity. 1, 3, 4 n., 2 adj.

in fi del i ty (in'fə del'ə tē), 1. lack of religious faith. 2. unbelief in Christianity. 3. unfaithfulness, especially of husband or wife; disloyalty. 4. an unfaithful or disloyal act. n., pl. in fi del i ties.

in field (in'fēld'), 1. a baseball diamond. 2. first, second, and third basemen and shortstop of a baseball team. 3. the part of farm lands nearest the buildings. n.

in field er (in'fēl'dər), a baseball player of the infield. n.

in fil trate (in fil'trāt), 1. pass into or through by, or as by, filtering: Enemy troops infiltrated the front lines. 2. filter into or through; permeate. v., in fil trat ed, in fil trat ing.

in fil tra tion (in'fil trā'shən), 1. an infiltrating or being infiltrated. 2. thing that infiltrates. 3. method of attack in which small groups of men penetrate the enemy's lines at various weak points. n.

infin., infinitive.

in fi nite (in'fə nit), 1. without limits or bounds; endless. 2. extremely great: Teaching little children takes infinite patience. 3. that which is infinite. 1, 2 adj., 3 n. —in'fi nite ness, n.
the Infinite, God.

in fi nite ly (in'fə nit lē), to an infinite degree: "I am infinitely pleased to see you," he said. adv.

in fi ni tes i mal (in'fi nə tes'ə ml), 1. so small as to be almost nothing: A millionth of an inch is an infinitesimal length. 2. an infinitesimal amount. 1 adj., 2 n.

in fi ni tes i mal ly (in'fi nə tes'ə ml ē), to an infinitesimal degree. adv.

in fin i tive (in fin'ə tiv), a form of a verb not limited by person and number, often preceded by to. Examples: Let him go. We want to go now. Infinitives are used as nouns: To swim across the English Channel is his ambition; as adjectives: He had money to burn; as adverbs: He went home to get his hat. n.

in fin i tude (in fin'ə tūd or in fin'ə tūd), 1. a being infinite. 2. an infinite extent, amount, or number. n.

in fin i ty (in fin'ə tē), 1. state of being infinite. 2. an infinite distance, space, time, or quantity. 3. an infinite extent, amount, or number: the infinity of God's mercy. n., pl. in fin i ties.

to infinity, without limits or bounds; endlessly.

in firm (in fərm'), 1. weak; feeble: Grandmother was old and infirm. 2. weak in will or character; not steadfast: The boy was infirm in his ambitions. 3. not firm; not stable. adj. —in firm'ly, adv. —in firm'ness, n.

in fir ma ry (in fər'mə rē), 1. place for the care of the infirm, sick, or injured; hospital in a school or institution. 2. hospital. n., pl. in fir ma ries.

in fir mi ty (in fər'mə tē), 1. weakness; feebleness. 2. sickness; illness. 3. a moral weakness or failing. n., pl. in fir mi ties.

in flame (in flām'), 1. excite; make more violent: His stirring speech inflamed the crowd. 2. become excited with intense feeling. 3. make unnaturally hot, red, sore, or swollen: The smoke had inflamed the fireman's eyes. 4. become red or hot from disease, etc. v., in flamed, in flam ing.

in flam ma bil i ty (in flam'ə bil'ə tē), inflammable quality or condition. n.

in flam ma ble (in flam'ə bl), 1. easily set on fire: Paper is inflammable. 2. easily excited or aroused: an inflammable temper. 3. something inflammable. 1, 2 adj., 3 n. —in flam'ma bly, adv.

in flam ma tion (in'flā mā'shən), 1. a diseased condition of some part of the body, marked by heat, redness, swelling, and pain. 2. an inflaming. 3. being inflamed. n.

in flam ma to ry (in flam'ə tō'rē), 1. tending to excite or arouse: The leader of the mob made an inflammatory speech attacking the government. 2. of, causing, or accompanied by inflammation: an inflammatory condition of the tonsils. adj.

in flate (in flat'), 1. blow out or swell with air or gas: inflate a balloon. 2. swell or puff out: inflate with pride. 3. increase (prices or currency) beyond the normal amount. v., in flat ed, in flat ing. —in flat'a ble, adj. —in flat'er, in fla'tor, n.

in fla tion (in flā'shən), 1. a swelling (with air, gas, pride, etc.). 2. a swollen state; too great expansion. 3. increase of the currency of a country by issuing much paper money. 4. a sharp and sudden rise of prices resulting from a too great expansion in paper money or bank credit. n.

in fla tion ar y (in flā'shən er'ē), of or having to do with inflation; tending to inflate. adj.

in fla tion ist (in flā'shən ist), person who favors inflation. n.

in flect (in flekt'), 1. change the tone or pitch of (the voice). 2. vary the form of (a word) to show case, number, gender, person, tense, mood, comparison, etc. By inflecting who we have whose and whom. 3. bend; curve. v.

in flec tion (in flek'shən), 1. change in the tone or pitch of the voice: We usually end questions with a rising inflection. 2. a variation in the form of a word to show case, number, gender, person, tense, mood, or comparison. 3. bending; curving. 4. bend; curve. n.

in flec tion al (in flek'shən l), of, having to do with, or showing grammatical inflection. adj.

in flex i bil i ty (in flek'sə bil'ə tē), lack of flexibility; being inflexible. n.

in flex i ble (in flek'sə bl), 1. firm; unyielding; steadfast: Neither threats nor promises could change his inflexible determination. 2. that cannot be changed; unalterable. 3. not easily bent; stiff; rigid. adj. —in flex'i bly, adv.

in flex ion (in flek'shən), Esp. Brit. inflection. n.
in flict (in flikt'), 1. give or cause (a blow, wound, pain, etc.). 2. impose (a burden, suffering, anything unwelcome, etc.): Disagreeable Mrs. Jones inflicted herself on her relatives for a long visit. v.

in flic tion (in flik'shən), 1. act of inflicting: The cruel emperor delighted in the infliction of pain. 2. something inflicted; pain; suffering; burden; punishment: The Bible tells how Job endured many inflictions with patience. n.

in flo res cence (in'flō-res-nəs), 1. flowering stage. 2. arrangement of flowers on the stem or axis. 3. a flower cluster. n.

in flo res cent (in'flō res'nənt), showing inflorescence; flowering. adj.

in flow (in'flō'), 1. a flowing in or into: The discovery of gold in Alaska caused an inflow of people. 2. that which flows in. n.

in flu ence (in'flū əns), 1. power of persons or things to act on others: Use your influence to persuade your friends to join our club. 2. power to produce an effect without using coercion: A person may have influence by his ability, personality, position, or wealth. 3. person or thing that has such power: His thoughtfulness for others made the captain of our football team a good influence throughout the school. 4. have power over; change the nature or behavior of: The moon influences the tides. 1-3 n., 4 v., in flu enc ed, in flu enc ing.

in flu en tial (in'flū en'shəl), 1. having much influence; having influence: Influential friends helped him to get a job. 2. using influence; producing results. adj.

in flu en za (in'flū en'zə), an acute contagious disease, like a very bad cold in its symptoms, but much more dangerous and exhausting; flu. n.

in flux (in'fluks), a flowing in; steady flow: the influx of immigrants into a country. n.

in fold (in'föld'), 1. fold in; wrap up: The old lady was infolded in a shawl. 2. embrace; clasp: The mother infolded her baby in her arms. v. Also, enfold.

in form (in'förm'), 1. supply with knowledge, facts, or news; tell: Please inform us how to find Dr. Grant's house. 2. make an accusation or complaint: One thief informed against the others. 3. inspire; animate: God informed their hearts with pity. v.

in for mal (in'förməl), 1. not formal; not in the regular or prescribed manner. 2. done without ceremony: an informal party. 3. used in everyday, common talk, but not used in formal talking or writing. Such an expression as funny for queer is informal. adj. —in for-mal ly, adv.

in for mal i ty (in'förməl'ə tē), 1. a being informal; lack of ceremony. 2. an informal act. n., pl. in for-mal i ties.

in form ant (in'förmənt), person who gives information to another: My informant saw it happen. n.

in for ma tion (in'förmä'shən), 1. knowledge; facts; news: A dictionary gives information about words. The general sent the people information of his victory. 2. an informing: A guidebook is for the information of travelers. 3. accusation or complaint against a person. n.

in for ma tion al (in'förmä'shən l), giving information; instructive. adj.

in form a tive (in'förmə tiv), giving information; instructive. adj.

in form er (in'förmər), 1. person who makes an accusation or complaint against others: An informer told the police that the store was selling stolen goods. 2. informant. n.

in frac tion (in'frak'shən), a breaking of a law or obligation; violation: Reckless driving is an infraction of the law. n.

in fra red (in'frə red'), of the invisible part of the spectrum whose rays have wave lengths longer than those of the red part of the visible spectrum. Most of the Common types of inflorescence: R, raceme; U, umbel; S, spike.

heat from sunlight, incandescent lamps, carbon arcs, resistance wires, etc., is from infrared rays. adj.

in fre quence (in frē'kwəns), infrequency. n.

in fre quen cy (in frē'kwən sē), scarcity; rarity. n.

in fre quent (in frē'kwənt), not frequent; occurring seldom or far apart; scarce; rare. adj. —in fre-quently, adv.

in fringe (in frinj'), 1. violate: A false label infringes the food and drug law. 2. trespass; encroach: infringe upon the rights of another. v., in fringed, in fring ing. —in fring'er, n.

in fringe ment (in frinj'mənt), 1. violation. 2. a trespassing; encroachment. n.

in fu ri ate (in fyūr'ē āt), put into a fury; make furious; enrage. v., in fu ri at ed, in fu ri at ing. —in fu-ri at ing ly, adv. —in fu ri a'tion, n.

in fuse (in füz'), 1. pour in; put in: The captain infused his own courage into his soldiers. 2. inspire: The soldiers were infused with his courage. 3. steep or soak in a liquid to get something out: infuse tea leaves in hot water to make tea. v., in fused, in fus ing.

in fu si ble (in fū'zə bl), that cannot be fused or melted. adj.

in fu sion (in fū'zhən), 1. act or process of infusing. 2. something poured in or mingled; infused element. 3. a liquid extract obtained by steeping or soaking. n.

-ing', suffix meaning:

1. action, result, product, material, etc., of some verb, as in hard thinking, the art of painting, a beautiful drawing, fine sewing, a blue lining, rich trimming.

2. action, result, product, material, etc., of some other part of speech, as in lobstering, offing, shirting.

3. of one that—; of those that —, as in smoking habit, printing trade, drinking song.

-ing', 1. suffix that forms the present participle. 2. suffix meaning: that —, as in seeing eye, lasting happiness, growing child.

in gen ious (in jən'yəs), 1. clever; skillful in making; good at inventing: The ingenious boy made a radio set for himself. 2. cleverly planned and made: This mousetrap is an ingenious device. adj. —in gen'ious ly, adv. —in gen'ious ness, n.

in gé nue (an'zhə nü), 1. a simple, innocent girl or young woman, especially as represented on the stage. 2. actress who plays such a part. n., pl. in gé nues.

in ge nu i ty (in'jə nü'ə tē or in'jə nü'ə tē), skill in planning, inventing, etc.; cleverness: The boy showed ingenuity in making toys. n., pl. in ge nu i ties.

in gen u ous (in jen'yü əs), 1. frank; open; sincere: The ingenious boy gave an ingenious account of his acts, concealing nothing. 2. simple; natural; innocent. adj. —in gen'u ous ly, adv. —in gen'u ous ness, n.

in gest (in jest'), take (food, etc.) into the body for digestion. v.

in ges tion (in jes'chən), act of taking food, etc., into the body for digesting. n.

inglenook (ing'gl nük'), corner by the fire. n.

in glo ri ous (in glō'rē əs), 1. bringing no glory; shameful; disgraceful. 2. having no glory; not famous. adj. —in glo'-ri ous ly, adv. —in glo'-ri ous ness, n.

in got (ing'gət), mass of metal, such as gold, silver, or steel, cast into a convenient shape in a mold. n.

in graft (in graft'), engraft. v.

in grain (in grān' for 1; in'grān' for 2-4), 1. dye in the fiber before manufacture. 2. dyed before manufacture. 3. yarn, wool, etc., dyed before manufacture. 4. made of yarn dyed before weaving: an ingrain rug. 1 v., 2, 4 adj., 3 n.

Inglenook

in grained (in grānd'), deeply and firmly fixed; thoroughly imbued: ingrained honesty. adj.

in grate (in'grāt), 1. an ungrateful person. 2. Archaic. ungrateful. 1 n., 2 adj.

in gra ti ate (in grā'shē āt), bring (oneself) into favor: He tried to ingratiate himself with the teacher by giving her presents. v., in gra ti at ed, in gra ti at ing. —in gra-ti at'ing ly, adv.

in grat i tude (in grat'ə tūd or in grat'ə tūd), lack of gratitude; being ungrateful. n.

in gre di ent (in grē'dē ənt), one of the parts of a mixture: The ingredients of a cake usually include eggs, sugar, flour, and flavoring. n.

in gress (in'gres), 1. a going in: A high fence prevented ingress to the field. 2. way in; entrance. 3. right to go in. n.

in grow ing (in'grō'ing), 1. growing within; growing inward. 2. growing into the flesh: an ingrowing toenail. adj.

in grown (in'grōn'), 1. grown within; grown inward. 2. grown into the flesh. adj.

in gulf (in gulf'), engulf. v.

in hab it (in hab'it), 1. live in (a place, region, house, cave, tree, etc.): Fish inhabit the sea. Thoughts inhabit the mind. 2. Archaic. live; dwell. v.

in hab it a ble (in hab'ə tə bl), 1. capable of being inhabited. 2. fit to live in; habitable. adj.

in hab it ant (in hab'ə tənt), person or animal that lives in a place. n.

in hab it ed (in hab'ə tid), lived in: an inhabited house. adj.

in hal ant (in hāl'ənt), 1. medicine to be inhaled. 2. apparatus for inhaling it. 3. used for inhaling. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

in ha la tion (in'hā lā'shən), 1. act of inhaling. 2. medicine to be inhaled. n.

in hale (in hāl'), draw into the lungs; breathe in (air, gas, fragrance, tobacco smoke, etc.). v., in haled, in hal ing.

in haler (in hāl'ər), 1. apparatus used in inhaling medicine. 2. person who inhales. n.

in har mo ni ous (in'hār mō'nē əs), not harmonious; discordant; disagreeing. adj. —in'hār mō'ni ous ly, adv.

in here (in hir'), exist; belong to as a quality or attribute: Greed inheres in human nature. Power inheres in that ruler. v., in her ed, in her ing.

in her ence (in hir'əns), a being inherent. n.

in her ent (in hir'ənt), existing; abiding; belonging to (a person or thing) as a quality or attribute: In spite of flattery, she kept her inherent modesty. adj.

in her ent ly (in hir'ənt lē), by its own nature; essentially. adv.

in her it (in her'it), 1. receive as an heir: Mr. Jones's widow inherited the farm. 2. get or possess from one's ancestors: Mary inherits her father's blue eyes. v.

in her it a ble (in her'ə tə bl), 1. capable of being inherited. 2. capable of inheriting; qualified to inherit. adj.

in her it ance (in her'ə təns), 1. act of inheriting: He obtained his house by inheritance from an aunt. 2. right of inheriting. 3. anything inherited: Good health is a fine inheritance. n.

inheritance tax, U.S. tax on inherited property.

in her i tor (in her'ə tər), one who inherits; heir. n.

in hib it (in hib'it), 1. check; restrain; hinder by obstruction or restriction: The soldier's sense of duty inhibited his impulse to run away. 2. prohibit; forbid. v.

in hi bi tion (in'ə bish'ən or in'hi bish'ən), 1. act of inhibiting. 2. state of being inhibited. 3. idea, emotion, attitude, habit, or other inner force that restrains natural impulses. n.

in hib i tive (in hib'ə tiv), inhibitory. adj.

in hib i to ry (in hib'ə tō'rē), inhibiting; tending to inhibit. adj.

in hos pi ta ble (in hos'pi tə bl or in'hos pit'ə bl), 1. not hospitable; not making visitors comfortable: The inhospitable savages would not give us food. 2. providing no shelter; barren: The Pilgrims encountered a rocky, inhospitable shore. adj. —in hos'pi tə bly, adv.

in hos pi tal i ty (in hos'pə tal'ə tē), lack of hospitality; inhospitable behavior. n.

in hu man (in hū'mən), 1. unfeeling; hard-hearted; brutal; cruel. 2. not human; not having the qualities natural to a human being. adj. —in hu'man ly, adv.

in hu mane (in'hū măn'), not humane; lacking in compassion, humanity, or kindness. adj. —in'hu-mane'ly, adv.

in hu man i ty (in'hū man'ə tē), 1. inhuman quality; lack of feeling; cruelty; brutality. 2. an inhuman, cruel, or brutal act. n., pl. in hu man i ties.

in im i cal (in im'ə kl), 1. unfriendly; hostile. 2. adverse; unfavorable; harmful: Lack of ambition is inimical to success. adj. —in im'i cal ly, adv.

in im i ta ble (in im'ə tə bl), that cannot be imitated or copied; matchless. adj. —in im'i tā bly, adv.

in iq ui tous (in ik'wə təs), very unjust; wicked. adj.

in iq'ui tous ly, adv. —in iq'ui tous ness, n.

in iq ui ty (in ik'wə tē), 1. very great injustice; wickedness. 2. a wicked or unjust act. n., pl. in iq ui ties.

i ni tial (i nish'əl), 1. occurring at the beginning; first; earliest: Tom's initial effort at skating was a failure. 2. the first letter of a word: The initials U.S. stand for United States. 3. mark or sign with initials: John Allen Smith initialed the note J.A.S. 1 adj., 2 n., 3 v.

i ni tial ed, i ni tial ing or esp. Brit. i ni tial led, i ni tial ling.

i ni tial ly (i nish'əl ē), at the beginning. adv.

i ni ti ate (i nish'ē āt for 1-3; i nish'ē it or i nish'ē āt for 4, 5), 1. be the one to start; begin: This year we shall initiate a series of free concerts. 2. admit (a person) by special forms or ceremonies (into mysteries, secret knowledge, or a society). 3. introduce into the knowledge of some art or subject: initiate a person into business methods. 4. person who is initiated. 5. initiated. 1-3 v.

i ni ti at ed, i ni ti at ing; 4 n., 5 adj. —i ni'ti a'tor, n.

i ni ti a tion (i nish'ē ā'shən), 1. an initiating. 2. a being initiated. 3. formal admission into a group or society. 4. ceremonies by which one is admitted to a group or society. n.

i ni ti a tive (i nish'ē ə tiv), 1. active part in taking the first steps in any undertaking; the lead: A shy person does not like to take the initiative in making acquaintances. 2. readiness and ability to be the one to start a course of action: A leader must have initiative. 3. right to be the first to act, legislate, etc. 4. right of citizens outside the legislature to introduce or enact a new law by vote. n.

i ni ti a to ry (i nish'ē ə tō'rē), 1. first; beginning; introductory. 2. of initiation. adj.

in ject (in jekt'), 1. force (liquid) into a passage, cavity, or tissue: inject a drug into the body. 2. fill (a cavity, etc.) with fluid forced in. 3. throw in: inject a remark into the conversation. v. —in jec'tor, n.

in jec tion (in jek'shən), 1. act or process of injecting: Drugs are given by injection as well as through the mouth. 2. liquid injected. n.

in ju di ci ous (in'jū dish'əs), showing lack of judgment; unwise; not prudent. adj. —in'ju di'cious ly, adv. —in'ju di'cious ness, n.

in junc tion (in jungk'shən), 1. command; order: Injunctions of secrecy did not prevent the news from leaking out. 2. a formal order issued by a law court ordering a person or group to do, or refrain from doing, something. n.

in jure (in'jər), 1. do damage to; harm; hurt: Do not break or injure the bushes in the park. Dishonesty injures a business. 2. be unfair to; do wrong to. v., in jured, in jur ing.

in ju ri ous (in jūr'ē əs), 1. causing injury; harmful. 2. unfair; unjust; wrongful. adj. —in ju'ri ous ness, n.

in ju ri ous ly (in jūr'ē əs lē), harmfully. adv.

in ju ry (in'jər ē), 1. damage; harm; hurt. 2. unfairness; wrong. n., pl. in ju ries.

in jus tice (in jus'tis), 1. lack of justice; being unjust. 2. an unjust act. n.

ink (ɪŋk), 1. liquid used for writing or printing. 2. a dark liquid thrown out for protection by cuttlefish, squids, etc. 3. put ink on; mark or stain with ink. 1,2 n., 3 v. —ink'er, n. —ink/like', adj.

ink horn (ɪŋk/'hɔrn), a small container formerly used to hold ink, often made of horn. n.

ink ling (ɪŋk/'lɪŋ), a slight suggestion; vague notion; hint. n.

ink stand (ɪŋk/'stænd), 1. stand to hold ink and pens. 2. container used to hold ink. n.

ink well (ɪŋk/'wel), container used to hold ink on a desk or table. n.

ink y (ɪŋk/'ē), 1. like ink; dark; black. 2. covered with ink; marked or stained with ink. 3. of ink. adj., ink i er, ink i est. —ink/i ness, n.

in laid (ɪn/'læd), 1. set in the surface as a decoration or design: The desk had an inlaid design of light wood in dark. 2. decorated with a design or material set in the surface: The box had an inlaid cover. 3. pt. and pp. of inlay. 1,2 adj., 3 v.

in land (ɪn/'lənd for 1,4; ɪn/'lənd or ɪn/'lənd for 2,3), 1. away from the coast or the border; situated in the interior: an inland sea. 2. interior of a country; land away from the border or the coast. 3. in or toward the interior. 4. domestic; not foreign: inland trade. 1,4 adj., 2 n., 3 adv.

Inland Sea, sea or strait formed by the three large islands of W Japan. 240 mi. long.

in-law (ɪn/'lə), Informal. relative by marriage. n.

in lay (ɪn/'lā), 1. set in the surface as a decoration or design: inlay strips of gold. 2. decorate with something set in the surface: inlay a wooden box with silver. 3. an inlaid decoration, design, or material. 4. a shaped piece of gold, porcelain, etc., cemented in a tooth as a filling. 1,2 v., in laid, in lay ing; 3,4 n.

in let (ɪn/'let), 1. a narrow strip of water extending from a larger body of water into the land or between islands: The fishing village was on a small inlet of the sea. 2. entrance. n.

in mate (ɪn/'māt), 1. person confined in a prison, asylum, hospital, etc. 2. occupant; inhabitant. n.

in me mo ri am (ɪn mə mō'rē əm), Latin. in memory (of); to the memory (of).

in most (ɪn/'mōst), 1. farthest in; deepest within: We went to the inmost depths of the mine. 2. most private; most secret: Her inmost desire was to be an actress. adj.

inn (ɪn), 1. a public house for lodging and caring for travelers. Hotels have largely taken the place of the old inns. 2. tavern. n.

in nate (ɪn'nat/ or ɪn'āt), natural; inborn: an innate talent for drawing. adj. —in nate/ly, adv.

in ner (ɪn'ər), 1. farther in; inside: A closet is usually an inner room. 2. more private; more secret: She kept her inner thoughts to herself. 3. of the mind or soul: a person's inner life. adj.

inner ear, cavity behind the three bones of the middle ear. In man, it contains the semicircular canals, the cochlea, and part of the auditory nerve.

in ner most (ɪn'ər mōst), farthest in; inmost: the innermost parts. adj.

in ning (ɪn/'ɪŋ), 1. time when each team is at bat in turn in baseball. 2. turn of one side in a game; chance to play. 3. time a person or party is in power: When our party lost the election, the other side had its inning. n.

in nings (ɪn/'ɪŋz), Brit. an inning. n.

inn keep er (ɪn/'kēp'ər), person who owns, manages, or keeps an inn. n.

in no cence (ɪn'ə ns), 1. freedom from sin, wrong, or guilt: The accused man proved his innocence of the

Inkhorn

Design made by inlaying black in white crime. 2. simplicity: the innocence of a little child. 3. a tiny, blue flower; bluet. n.

in no cent (ɪn'ə snt), 1. doing no wrong; free from sin or wrong; not guilty: The policeman shot at the murderer, but hit an innocent man. 2. without knowledge of evil: A baby is innocent. 3. without evil effects; harmless: innocent amusements. 4. an innocent person. 5. simple; artless. 6. idiot; fool. 1-3,5 adj., 4,6 n. —in/no cent ly, adv.

in noc u ous (ɪ nok'yū əs), harmless. adj.

in no vate (ɪn'ə vāt), make changes; bring in something new or new ways of doing things. v., in no vat ed, in no vat ing.

in no va tion (ɪn'ə vā'shən), 1. change made in the established way of doing things: The new teacher made many innovations. 2. making changes; bringing in new things or new ways of doing things. n.

in no va tor (ɪn'ə vā'tər), person who makes changes or introduces new methods. n.

in nu en do (ɪn'yū en'dō), 1. an indirect hint or reference. 2. an indirect suggestion against somebody: spread scandal by innuendo. n., pl. in nu en does.

in nu mer a ble (ɪ nū'mər ə bl or ɪ nū'mər ə bl), too many to count; very many. adj. —in nu/mer a ble ness, n.

in nu mer a bly (ɪ nū'mər ə blē or ɪ nū'mər ə blē), countless; in very great numbers. adv.

in oc u late (ɪn ok'yə lāt), 1. infect (a person or animal) with germs that will cause a very mild form of a disease so that thereafter the individual will not contract that disease. 2. use disease germs to prevent or cure diseases. 3. put bacteria, serums, etc., into. Farmers inoculate the soil with bacteria that will take nitrogen from the air and change it so it can be used by plants. 4. fill (a person's mind). v., in oc u lat ed, in oc u lat ing. —in oc/u la'tor, n.

in oc u la tion (ɪn ok'yə lā'shən), 1. an inoculating; the introduction of a mild form of a disease into a person or animal to prevent his taking the regular disease: Inoculation has greatly reduced the number of deaths from diphtheria and typhoid fever. 2. filling the mind: a thorough inoculation with patriotism. n.

in of fen sive (ɪn'ə fen'siv), not offensive; harmless; not arousing objections. adj. —in/of fen/sive ly, adv. —in/of fen/sive ness, n.

in op er a tive (ɪn op'ər ā'tiv), not operative; not working; without effect. adj.

in op por tune (ɪn op'ər tūn/ or ɪn op'ər tūn'), not opportune; coming at a bad time; unsuitable. adj. —in op'por tune/ly, adv. —in op'por tune/ness, n.

in or di nate (ɪn ōrd'n it), much too great; excessive; unrestrained. adj. —in or/di nate ly, adv.

in or gan ic (ɪn'ər gan'ik), 1. not having the organized physical structure of animals and plants. Minerals are inorganic. 2. not produced by animal or plant activities. adj. —in/or gan/i cal ly, adv.

inorganic chemistry, branch of chemistry dealing with all compounds except the organic compounds.

in put (ɪn/'pūt), 1. what is put in or taken in. 2. power supplied to a machine. 3. information put into the storage unit of a computer. n.

in quest (ɪn/'kwɛst), a legal inquiry, especially before a jury. An inquest is held to determine the cause of a death that may possibly have been the result of a crime. n.

in quire (ɪn kwɪr'), 1. try to find out by questions; ask: inquire a person's name, inquire about a room. 2. make a search for information, knowledge, or truth; make an examination of facts or principles: The criminal was terrified when he learned that the FBI was inquiring into his past. v., in quired, in quir ing. Also, enquire. —in quir'er n. —in quir'ing ly, adv.

in quir y (ɪn kwɪr'ē or ɪn'kwə rē), 1. an inquiring; an asking. 2. question. 3. search for information, knowledge, or truth; examination of facts or principles. n., pl. in quiri es. Also, enquiry.

in qui si tion (in'kwə zish'ən), 1. a thorough investigation; searching inquiry. 2. an official investigation; judicial inquiry. n.

In qui si tion (in'kwə zish'ən), 1. court appointed by the Roman Catholic Church to discover and suppress heresy and to punish heretics. 2. activities of this court. n.

in quis i tive (in kwiz'ə tiv), 1. curious; asking many questions. 2. too curious; prying into other people's affairs. adj. —in quis'i tive ly, adv. —in quis'i tive-ness, n.

in quis i tor (in kwiz'ə tər), person who makes an inquisition; official investigator; judicial inquirer. n.

In quis i tor (in kwiz'ə tər), member of the Inquisition. n.

in quis i to ri al (in kwiz'ə tō'rē əl), 1. of an inquisitor or inquisition. 2. making searching inquiry; thorough. 3. unduly curious. adj.

I.N.R.I., Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews.

in road (in'rōd'), 1. attack; raid. 2. forcible encroachment: The expenses of her illness made inroads upon the money that she had saved. n.

in rush (in'rush'), rushing in; inflow: The intrush of water soon filled the pool. n.

ins., 1. inches. 2. insurance.

in sane (in sän'), 1. not sane; mentally deranged; crazy. 2. for insane people: an insane asylum. 3. extremely foolish; completely lacking in common sense. adj. —in sane'ly, adv.

in san i tar y (in san'ə ter'ē), unhealthful. adj. —in san'i tar'i ness, n.

in san i ty (in san'ə tē), 1. state of being insane; madness; mental disease. 2. extreme folly. n., pl. in-san i ties.

in sa tia ble (in sã'shə bl), that cannot be satisfied; extremely greedy. adj. —in sa'tia bly, adv.

in sa ti ate (in sã'shē it), never satisfied: an insatiate desire for praise. adj.

in scribe (in skrib'), 1. write, engrave, or mark (words, letters, etc.) on paper, metal, stone, etc.: What shall we inscribe on the watch? Please inscribe my initials on it. 2. mark or engrave (with words, letters, etc.): His tombstone was inscribed with his name and the date of his death. 3. address or dedicate (a book, etc.) informally to a person. 4. impress deeply: My father's words are inscribed in my memory. 5. put in a list; enroll. v., in scribed, in scrib ing. —in scrib'er, n.

in scription (in skrip'shən), 1. something inscribed; words, letters, etc., written or engraved on stone, metal, paper, etc. A monument or a coin has an inscription on it. 2. an informal dedication in a book, on a picture, etc. n.

in scru ta bil i ty (in skrüt'ə bil'ə tē), 1. a being inscrutable. 2. something inscrutable. n.

in scru ta ble (in skrüt'ə bl), that cannot be understood; so mysterious or obscure that one cannot make out its meaning; incomprehensible. adj. —in-scru'ta bly, adv.

in sect (in'sekt), 1. any of a group of small invertebrate animals with the body divided into three parts (head, thorax, and abdomen), with three pairs of legs, and usually two pairs of wings. Flies, mosquitoes, grasshoppers, and beetles are insects. 2. any similar small animal with its body divided into several parts, with several pairs of legs. Spiders, centipedes, mites, and ticks are often called insects. n.

in sec ti cide (in sek'tə sīd), substance for killing insects. n.

in sec ti vore (in sek'tə vōr),

1. any animal or plant that feeds mainly on insects. 2. any of a group of small mammals including moles and hedgehogs. n.

in sec tiv o rous (in'sek tiv'ə rəs), 1. insect-eating; feeding mainly on insects. 2. of or belonging to the insectivores. adj.

in se cure (in'si kyūr'), 1. not secure; unsafe. 2. liable to give way; not firm: an insecure lock. adj. —in'se-cure'ly, adv.

in se cu ri ty (in'si kyūr'ə tē), 1. lack of security; being insecure; unsafe condition. 2. something insecure. n., pl. in se cu ri ties.

in sen sate (in sen'sāt), 1. without sensation. 2. unfeeling: insensate cruelty. 3. senseless; stupid: insensate folly. adj. —in sen'sate ly, adv.

in sen si bil i ty (in sen'sə bil'ə tē), 1. lack of feeling. 2. lack of consciousness. n., pl. in sen si bil i ties.

in sen si ble (in sen'sə bl), 1. not sensitive; not able to feel or observe: A blind man is insensible to colors. A lifetime as a soldier had not made him insensible to the suffering and sorrow of war. 2. not aware: The boys in the boat were insensible of the danger. 3. not able to feel anything; unconscious: The man hit by the truck was insensible for four hours. 4. not easily felt: The room grew cold by insensible degrees. adj.

in sen si bly (in sen'sə blē), by imperceptible degrees; little by little. adv.

in sen si tive (in sen'sə tiv), 1. not sensitive; having little or no power to feel or notice. 2. slow to feel or notice. adj. —in sen'si tive ness, n.

in sep a ra bil i ty (in sep'ə rə bil'ə tē), being inseparable. n.

in sep a ra ble (in sep'ə rə bl), that cannot be separated. adj. —in sep'a ra bly, adv.

inseparables, inseparable persons or things.

in sert (in sɜrt' for 1; in'sɜrt for 2), 1. put in; set in: insert a key into a lock or a letter into a word. 2. something set in or to be set in: The newspaper had an insert of several pages of pictures. 1 v., 2 n.

in ser tion (in sɜr'shən), 1. an inserting. 2. thing inserted. 3. band of lace or embroidery to be sewed at each edge between parts of other material. n.

in set (in set' for 1; in'set' for 2,3), 1. set in; insert. 2. something inserted.

3. influx; inflow. 1 v., in set, in set ting; 2,3 n.

in shore (in'shōr'), 1. near the shore. 2. in toward the shore. 1 adj., 2 adv.

in side (in'sīd for 1-3, 7-9; in'sīd' for 4-6, 10), 1. the part within; the inner surface: The inside of the box was lined with colored paper. 2. the contents: The inside of the book was more interesting than the cover. 3. being on the inside: an inside seat. 4. on or to the inside; within. 5. within; in the inner part: Please step inside. 6. in: The nut is inside the shell. 7. private; secret; done or known by those inside: The police thought that the theft was an inside job and suspected the maid. 8. Slang. working within a group or company as an emissary or spy: an inside man. 9. indoor. 10. indoors. 1,2 n., 3,7-9 adj., 4,5,10 adv., 6 prep.

insides, Informal. parts inside the body; stomach and bowels.

inside of, in; within the limits of: He'll be back inside of an hour.

inside out, so that what should be inside is outside; with the inside showing.

in sid er (in'sīd'ər), 1. person who is inside some place, society, organization, etc. 2. Informal. person who is so situated as to understand the actual conditions or facts of a case. n.

in sid i ous (in sīd'ē əs), 1. wily; sly; crafty; tricky; treacherous. 2. working secretly or subtly: an insidious disease. adj. —in sīd'i ous ly, adv. —in sīd'i ous-ness, n.

in sight (in'sīt'), 1. a viewing of the inside or inner parts (of something) with understanding: Take the machine apart and get an insight into how it works. 2. wisdom and understanding in dealing with people or with facts: We study science to gain insight into natural laws. n.

in sig ni a (in sig'nē ə), emblems, badges, or other distinguishing marks of a high position, honor, military order, etc.: The crown and the scepter are the insignia of kings. n. pl. of in sig nē (in sig'nē).

in sig nif i cance (in'sig nif'ə kəns), 1. unimportance. 2. meaninglessness. n.

in sig nif i cant (in'sig nif'ə kənt), 1. having little use or importance: an insignificant-looking person. A tenth of a cent is an insignificant amount of money. 2. meaningless: insignificant chatter. adj. —in'sig-nif'i cant ly, adv.

in sin cere (in'sin sir'), not sincere; not honest or candid; deceitful. adj. —in'sin cere/ly, adv.

in sin cer i ty (in'sin ser'ə tē), lack of sincerity; hypocrisy. n., pl. in sin cer i ties.

in sin u ate (in sin'yū āt), 1. suggest indirectly; hint: To say "Fred can't do it; no coward can" is to insinuate that Fred is a coward. 2. push in or get in by an indirect, twisting way: The spy insinuated himself into the confidence of important army officers. v., in sin u at ed, in-sin u at ing.

in sin u a tion (in sin'yū ā'shən), 1. an insinuating. 2. an indirect suggestion against someone. 3. hint; suggestion. 4. act or speech to gain favor. n.

in sip id (in sip'id), 1. without much taste: A mixture of milk and water is an insipid drink. 2. dull; uninteresting; colorless; weak. adj. —in sip'id ly, adv. —in-sip'id ness, n.

in sip id i ty (in'sə pid'ə tē), 1. lack of flavor; lack of interest. 2. something insipid. n., pl. in si pid i ties.

in sist (in sist'), keep firmly to some demand, some statement, or some position. v.

in sist ence (in sis'təns), 1. act of insisting. 2. quality of being insistent. n.

in sist ency (in sis'tən sē), insistence. n.

in sist ent (in sis'tənt), 1. insisting; continuing to make a strong, firm demand or statement: In spite of the rain he was insistent on going out. 2. compelling attention or notice; pressing; urgent: There was an insistent knocking on my door. adj. —in sist'ent ly, adv.

in snare (in snār'), ensnare. v., in snared, in snar ing.

in so bri e ty (in'sə brī'ə tē), intemperance; drunkenness. n.

in so far (in'sō fār'), to such an extent or degree. adv.

in sole (in'sōl'), 1. the inner sole of a shoe or boot. 2. thickness of warm or waterproof material laid on the sole inside a shoe or boot. n.

in so lence (in'sə ləns), bold rudeness; insulting behavior or speech. n.

in so lent (in'sə lənt), boldly rude; insulting: "Shut up!" the insolent boy said to his father. adj. —in'so-lent ly, adv.

in sol u bil i ty (in sol'yə bil'ə tē), being insoluble. n.

in sol u ble (in sol'yə bl), 1. that cannot be dissolved: Diamonds are insoluble. 2. that cannot be solved: an insoluble mystery. adj. —in sol'u bly, adv.

in solv a ble (in sol'və bl), that cannot be solved. adj.

in sol ven cy (in sol'vən sē), condition of not being able to pay one's debts; bankruptcy. n., pl. in sol ven cies.

in sol vent (in sol'vənt), 1. not able to pay one's debts; bankrupt. 2. an insolvent person. 1 adj., 2 n.

in som ni a (in som'nē ə), inability to sleep; sleeplessness. n.

in so much (in'sō much'), to such an extent or degree; so. adv.

in sou ci ance (in sü'sē əns), freedom from care or anxiety; carefree feeling. n.

in sou ci ant (in sü'sē ənt), free from care or anxiety. adj.

in spect (in spekt'), 1. look over carefully; examine: A dentist inspects my teeth twice a year. 2. examine officially: Mines are inspected by government officials. v.

in spec tion (in spekt'shən), 1. an inspecting: An inspection of the roof showed no leaks. 2. a formal or official examination: The soldiers lined up for their daily inspection by their officers. n.

in spec tor (in spekt'ər), 1. person who inspects. 2. officer appointed to inspect. 3. a police officer ranking next below a superintendent. n.

in spi ra tion (in'spə rā'shən), 1. influence of thought and strong feelings on actions, especially on good actions: Some people get inspiration from sermons, some from nature. 2. any influence that arouses effort to do well: The captain was an inspiration to his men. 3. idea that is inspired. 4. suggestion to another; act of causing something to be told or written by another. 5. a divine influence directly and immediately exerted upon the mind or soul of man. 6. a breathing in; a drawing of air into the lungs. n.

in spi ra tion al (in'spə rā'shən l), 1. inspiring: The sermon was both instructive and inspirational. 2. inspired. 3. of or having to do with inspiration. adj.

in spire (in spir'), 1. put thought, feeling, life, force, etc., into: The speaker inspired the crowd. 2. cause (thought or feeling): The leader's courage inspired confidence in others. 3. affect; influence with a thought or feeling: His sly ways inspire me with distrust. 4. arouse or influence by a divine force. 5. suggest; cause to be told or written: His enemies inspired false stories about him. 6. breathe in; breathe in air. v., in spired, in spir ing. —in spir'er, n. —in spir'ing ly, adv.

in spir it (in spir'it), put spirit into; encourage. v.

inst., instant. "The 10th inst." means "the tenth day of the present month."

in sta bil i ty (in'stə bil'ə tē), lack of firmness; liability to fall, give way, or change. n.

in stall (in stōl'), 1. place (a person) in office with ceremonies: The new judge was installed without delay. 2. establish in a place: The cat installed itself in an easy chair. 3. put in position for use: install a telephone. v. —in stall'er, n.

in stal la tion (in'stə lā'shən), 1. an installing or being installed. 2. thing installed. n.

in stall ment¹ or in stal ment¹ (in stōl'mənt), 1. part of a sum of money or of a debt to be paid at certain regular times: The table cost $100; we paid for it in two installments of $50 each. 2. any of several parts furnished or issued at successive times: This magazine has a serial story in six installments. n.

in stall ment² or in stal ment² (in stōl'mənt), 1. an installing: the installment of electric lights in a house. 2. being installed: our installment in our new home. n.

installment plan, U.S. system of paying for goods in installments.

in stance (in'stəns), 1. example; case: Lincoln is an instance of a poor boy who became famous. 2. refer to as an example: He instanced the fly as a dirty insect. 3. exemplify. 4. stage or step in an action; occasion: I went in the first instance because I was asked to go. 5. request; suggestion; urging: He came at our instance. 1,4,5 n., 2,3 v., in stanced, in stanc ing.

for instance, as an example.

in stant (in'stənt), 1. particular moment: Stop talking this instant! 2. moment of time: He paused for an instant. 3. immediate; without delay: The medicine gave instant relief from pain. 4. pressing; urgent: When there is a fire, there is an instant need for action. 5. of the present month; present: "The 10th instant" means "the tenth day of the present month." 6. prepared beforehand and requiring little or no cooking, mixing, or additional ingredients: instant coffee, instant pudding. 1,2 n., 3-6 adj.

the instant, just as soon as.

in stan ta ne ous (in'stən tā'nē əs), occurring, done, or made in an instant: an instantaneous photograph. adj. —in'stan tā'ne ous ly, adv. —in'stan tā'ne ous ness, n.

in stant ly (in'stənt lē), in an instant; at once; immediately. adv.

in stead (in sted'), 1. in place (of): Instead of studying, she read a book. 2. in one's or its place: If you cannot go, let him go instead. adv.

in step (in'step), 1. the upper surface of the human foot between the toes and the ankle. 2. part of a shoe, stocking, etc., over the instep. n.

in sti gate (in'stə gāt), urge on; stir up: Foreign agents instigated a rebellion. v., in sti gat ed, in sti gat ing.

in sti ga tion (in'stə gā'shən), act of instigating. n. at the instigation of, instigated by.

in sti ga tor (in'stə gā'tər), person who instigates; person who stirs up evil or trouble. n.

in still or in stil (in stil'), 1. put in little by little; impart gradually: Reading good books instills a love for really fine literature. 2. put in drop by drop. v., in stilled, in still ing.

in still la tion (in'stə lā'shən), 1. an instilling. 2. something instilled. n.

in stinct (in'stingkt), 1. natural feeling, knowledge, or power, such as guides animals; unlearned tendency: An instinct leads birds to fly. 2. a natural bent, tendency, or gift; talent: Dorothy has such an instinct for color that she will study art. n.

in stinct (in'stingkt'), charged or filled with something: The picture is instinct with life and beauty. adj.

in stinc tive (in'stingk'tiv), of or having to do with instinct; caused or done by instinct; born in an animal or person, not learned: Climbing is instinctive in monkeys. adj. —in stinc'tive ly, adv.

in sti tute (in'stə tūt or in'stə tūt), 1. set up; establish; begin: The Pilgrims instituted Thanksgiving. The police instituted an inquiry into the causes of the accident. 2. an established principle, law, custom, organization, or society. 3. organization or society for some special purpose. An art institute teaches or displays art. A technical school is often called an institute. 4. building used by such an organization or society: We spent the afternoon in the Art Institute. 1 v., in sti tut ed, in sti tut ing; 2-4 n.

in sti tu tion (in'stə tū'shən or in'stə tū'shən), 1. organization or society for some public or social purpose. A church, school, college, hospital, asylum, or prison is an institution. 2. building used by such an organization or society. 3. an established law, custom, organization, or society: Giving presents on Christmas is an institution. 4. setting up; establishing; beginning: Wise men favor the institution of a savings bank in every large city. n.

in sti tu tion al (in'stə tū'shən l or in'stə tū'shən l), 1. of or like an institution. 2. promoting reputation and establishing good will for a business rather than aiming at immediate sales: institutional advertising. adj.

in struct (in'strukt'), 1. teach; train; educate. 2. give directions or orders to; direct; order: The owner instructed his agent to sell his property. 3. inform; tell: My lawyer instructs me that your last payment is due March first. v.

in struc tion (in'struk'shən), a teaching; knowledge; education. n.

instructions, directions; orders.

in struc tion al (in'struk'shən l), of or for instruction; educational. adj.

in struc tive (in'struk'tiv), useful for instruction; instructing; giving knowledge or information: A trip around the world is an instructive experience. adj. —in struc'tive ly, adv. —in struc'tive ness, n.

in struc tor (in'struk'tər), 1. teacher. 2. teacher ranking below an assistant professor in American colleges and universities. n.

in struc tress (in'struk'tris), a woman instructor or teacher. n.

in stru ment (in'strə mēnt), 1. thing with or by which something is done; a person so made use of; means: The master criminal used many men and women as instruments in his crimes. 2. tool or mechanical device: a dentist's instruments. 3. device for producing musical sounds: wind instruments, stringed instruments. 4. a formal legal document, such as a contract, deed, or grant. n.

in stru men tal (in'strə mēn'tl), 1. acting or serving as a means; useful; helpful: My uncle was instrumental in getting me a job. 2. played on or written for musical instruments: An orchestra provided instrumental music to accompany the singing. 3. of an instrument; made by a device or tool. adj. —in'stru mēn'tal ly, adv.

in stru men tal ist (in'strə mēn'tl ist), person who plays on a musical instrument. n.

in stru men tal i ty (in'strə mēn'tl'ə tē), helpfulness; agency; means. n., pl. in stru mēn tal i ties.

in stru men ta tion (in'strə mēn tā'shən), 1. arrangement or composition of music for instruments. 2. use of instruments; work done with instruments. n.

instrument board, board with instruments showing how the parts of a machine, etc., are working.

instrument flying, directing an airplane by instruments only.

in sub or di nate (in'sə bōr'də nit), resisting authority; disobedient; unruly. adj.

in sub or di na tion (in'sə bōr'də nā'shən), resistance to authority; disobedience; unruly behavior. n.

in sub stan tial (in'səb stan'shəl), 1. frail; flimsy; weak: A cobweb is very insubstantial. 2. unreal; not actual; imaginary: Dreams and ghosts are insubstantial. adj.

in suf fer a ble (in'suf'ər ə bl), intolerable; unbearable: insufferable insolence. adj. —in suf'fer a ble ness, n. —in suf'fer a bly, adv.

in suf fi cien cy (in'sə fish'ən sē), too small an amount; lack; deficiency. n.

in suf fi cient (in'sə fish'ənt), not enough. adj. —in'suf fi'cient ly, adv.

in su lar (in'sə lər), 1. of or having to do with islands or islanders. 2. living or situated on an island. 3. forming an island; standing alone like an island. 4. narrow-minded; prejudiced. adj.

in su lar i ty (in'sə lər'ə tē), 1. condition of being an island or of living on an island. 2. narrow-mindedness; prejudice. n.

in su late (in'sə lāt), 1. keep from losing or transferring electricity, heat, sound, etc., especially by covering or surrounding with a nonconducting material. Wires are often insulated by a covering of rubber. 2. set apart; separate from others; isolate. v., in su lat ed, in su lat ing.

in su la tion (in'sə lā'shən), 1. an insulating. 2. a being insulated. 3. material used in insulating. n.

in su la tor (in'sə lā'tər), that which insulates; something that prevents the passage of electricity or heat; non-conductor. n.

in su lin (in'sə lin), hormone secreted by the pancreas that enables the body to use sugar and other carbohydrates. n.

In su lin (in'sə lin), Trademark. extract containing insulin, used in treating diabetes. Insulin is obtained from the pancreas of slaughtered animals. n.

in sult (in'sult' for 1; in'sult for 2), 1. treat with scorn, abuse, or great rudeness: The rebels insulted the flag by throwing mud on it. 2. an insulting speech or action: Stamping on the flag is an insult. 1 v., 2 n. —in-sult'ing ly, adv.

in su per a ble (in'sū'pər ə bl), that cannot be passed over or overcome: an insuperable barrier. adj. —in su'per a bly, adv.

in sup port a ble (in'sə pōr'tə bl), unbearable; intolerable. adj.

in sur a ble (in'shūr'ə bl), capable of being insured; fit to be insured. adj.

in sur ance (in'shūr'əns), 1. an insuring of property, person, or life. Fire insurance, burglary insurance, accident insurance, life insurance, and health insurance are some of the many kinds. 2. the business of insuring

Glass insulator for electric wires. By means of these, the wires can be fastened to poles without any loss of current.

property, life, etc. 3. amount of money for which a person or thing is insured: He has $10,000 insurance, which his wife will receive when he dies. 4. amount of money paid for insurance; premium: His insurance is $300 a year. n.

in sure (in shūr'), 1. arrange for money payment in case of loss of (property, profit, etc.) or accident or death to (a person). An insurance company will insure your property, person, or life if you pay a certain amount of money. 2. make safe from financial loss by accident, death, etc., by paying money to an insurance company: He insured his car against accident, theft, and fire. 3. make sure; ensure: Check your work to insure its accuracy. 4. make safe; protect; ensure: More care will insure you against making so many mistakes. v., in sured, in sur ing.

in sured (in shūrd'), one who is insured. n.

in sur er (in shūr'ər), 1. person who insures. 2. something that insures or protects. n.

in sur gence (in sēr'jəns), a rising in revolt; rebellion. n.

in sur gent (in sēr'jənt), 1. person who rises in revolt; rebel. 2. rising in revolt; rebellious: The insurgent slaves burned their masters' houses. 3. U.S. rebel within a political party. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

in sur mount a ble (in'sər moun'tə bl), that cannot be overcome. adj. —in'sur mount'a bly, adv.

in sur rec tion (in'sər rek'shən), a rising against established authority; revolt. n.

in sur rec tion ar y (in'sər rek'shən ər'ē), 1. having a tendency to revolt. 2. having to do with revolt. adj.

in sur rec tion ist (in'sər rek'shən ist), person who takes part in or favors an insurrection; rebel. n.

in sus cep ti bil i ty (in'sə sep'tə bil'ə tē), fact or quality of being insusceptible. n.

in sus cep ti ble (in'sə sep'tə bl), not susceptible; not easily influenced. adj.

int., 1. interest. 2. international.

in tact (in takt'), with no part missing; untouched; uninjured; whole: dishes left intact after a fall. adj.

in take (in'tāk'), 1. place where water, air, gas, etc., enters a channel, pipe, or other narrow opening. 2. a taking in. 3. amount or thing taken in. n.

in tan gi bil i ty (in tan'jə bil'ə tē), a being intangible. n.

in tan gi ble (in tan'jə bl), 1. not capable of being touched: Sound and light are intangible. 2. not easily grasped by the mind; vague: She had that intangible something called charm. 3. something intangible. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —in tan'gi bly, adv.

in te ger (in'tə jər), 1. a whole number. 1, 2, 3, 15, 106, etc., are integers. 2. thing complete in itself; something whole. n.

in te gral (in'tə grəl), 1. necessary to the completeness of the whole; essential: Steel is an integral part of a modern skyscraper. 2. entire; complete. 3. having to do with whole numbers; not fractional. 4. a whole; a whole number. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

in te grate (in'tə grāt), 1. make into a whole; complete. 2. bring together (parts) into a whole: The committee will try to integrate the different plans. 3. U.S. make all schools, parks, etc., available to white and Negro citizens on an equal basis. v., in te grat ed, in te grat ing. —in'te gra'tor, n.

in te gra tion (in'tə grā'shən), an integrating. n.

in teg ri ty (in teg'rə tē), 1. honesty; sincerity; uprightness: A man of integrity is respected. 2. wholeness; completeness: Soldiers defend the integrity of their country against those who want part of it. 3. perfect condition; soundness. n.

in teg u ment (in teg'yə mēnt), a natural outer covering. The skin or shell of an animal is its integument. n.

in tel lect (in'tə lekt), 1. power of knowing; understanding. A man's actions are influenced by his intellect, will, and feelings. 2. great intelligence; high mental ability: Isaac Newton was a man of intellect. 3. person having high mental ability: He was one of the greatest intellects of his time. n.

in tel lec tu al (in'tə lek'chü əl), 1. of the intellect. 2. needing or using intelligence: Teaching is a more intellectual occupation than sweeping. 3. possessing or showing intelligence: an intellectual face. 4. person who is well informed and intelligent. 5. directed or inclined toward things that involve the intellect: intellectual tastes. 1-3,5 adj., 4 n.

in tel lec tu al ly (in'tə lek'chü əl ē), 1. in an intellectual way. 2. so far as intellect is concerned. adv.

in tel li gence (in tel'ə jəns), 1. ability to learn and know; understanding; mind: A dog has more intelligence than a worm. 2. knowledge; news; information: The general had secret intelligence of the plans of the enemy. 3. getting or distributing information, especially secret information. 4. group engaged in obtaining secret information. n.

intelligence department, branch of the government that collects and studies information that will help its army and navy.

intelligence quotient, number used to measure a person's intelligence. It is 100 times the mental age shown in tests, divided by the actual age.

intelligence test, test used to measure mental development.

in tel li gent (in tel'ə jənt), having or showing intelligence; able to learn and know; quick at learning: Elephants are intelligent. adj. —in tel'li gent ly, adv.

in tel li gent si a (in tel'ə jənt'si ə), persons representing, or claiming to represent, the superior intelligence or enlightened opinion of a country; the intellectuals. n.pl.

in tel li gi bil i ty (in tel'ə jə bil'ə tē), fact or quality of being intelligible. n.

in tel li gi ble (in tel'ə jə bl), capable of being understood; comprehensible. adj. —in tel'li gi bly, adv.

in tem per ance (in tem'pər əns), 1. lack of moderation or self-control; excess. 2. the excessive use of intoxicating liquor. n.

in tem per ate (in tem'pər it), 1. not moderate; lacking in self-control; excessive. 2. drinking too much intoxicating liquor. 3. not temperate; severe: an intemperate winter. adj. —in tem'per ate ly, adv.

in tend (in tend'), 1. have in mind as a purpose; plan: We intend to go home soon. 2. mean for a particular purpose or use: That gift was intended for you. 3. Archaic. direct: intend one's course. v. —in tend'er, n.

in tend ed (in ten'did), 1. meant; planned: The medicine did not have the intended effect. 2. prospective; a woman's intended husband. 3. Informal. a prospective husband or wife. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

in tense (in tens'), 1. very much; very great; very strong: intense happiness, intense pain, intense light. 2. full of vigorous activity, strong feelings, etc.: An intense life is crowded with action, interests, etc. 3. having or showing strong feeling: an intense person, an intense face. adj.

in tense ly (in tens'lē), 1. in an intense manner. 2. exceedingly; extremely. adv.

in ten si fy (in ten'sə fi), make or become intense or more intense; strengthen; increase: Blowing on a fire intensifies the heat. v., in ten si fied, in ten si fy ing. —in ten'si fi ca'tion, n. —in ten'si fi'er, n.

in ten si ty (in ten'sə tē), 1. a being intense; great strength; extreme degree. 2. great strength or violence of feeling. 3. amount or degree of strength of electricity, heat, light, sound, etc., per unit of area, volume, etc. n., pl. in ten si ties.

in ten sive (in ten'siv), 1. deep and thorough: An intensive study of a few books is more valuable than much careless reading. 2. something that makes intense. 3. of a word, prefix, etc., giving force or emphasis; expressing intensity. In "He himself said it," himself is an intensive pronoun. 4. an intensive word, prefix, etc. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n. —in ten'sive ly, adv.

in tent¹ (in tɛnt'), 1. purpose; intention: The thief shot with intent to kill. 2. meaning; significance: What is the intent of that sentence? n.

to all intents and purposes, in almost every way; practically.

in tent² (in tɛnt'), 1. very attentive; having the eyes or thoughts earnestly fixed on something; earnest: An intent look. 2. earnestly engaged; much interested: He is intent on making money. adj. —in ten'tly, adv.

in ten tion (in tɛn'shən), 1. purpose; design; plan: Good acts are better than good intentions. Tom hurt his sister's feelings without intention. 2. meaning. n.

intentions, Informal, purposes with respect to marrying. in ten tion al (in tɛn'shən l), done on purpose; meant; planned; intended: His insult was intentional; he wanted to hurt your feelings. adj.

in ten tion al ly (in tɛn'shən l ē), with intention; on purpose. adv.

in ter (in tɛr'), put (a dead body) into a grave or tomb; bury. v., in terred, in ter ring.

inter-, prefix meaning:

1. together; one with the other: Intercommunicate = communicate with each other.

2. between: Interpose = put between.

3. among a group: Interscholastic = between or among schools.

in ter act (in tɛr akt'), act on each other. v.

in ter ac tion (in tɛr akt'shən), action on each other. n.

in ter breed (in tɛr brɛd'), breed by the mating of different kinds; breed by using different varieties or species of animals or plants. v., in ter bred, in ter breed-ing.

in ter cede (in tɛr sɛd'), 1. plead or beg in another's behalf: Friends of the condemned man interceded with the governor for a pardon. 2. interfere in order to bring about an agreement. v., in ter ced ed, in ter ced ing.

in ter cel lu lar (in tɛr sɛl'yə lər), situated between or among cells. adj.

in ter cept (in tɛr sɛpt'), 1. take or seize on the way from one place to another: Intercept a letter or a messenger. 2. cut off (light, water, etc.). 3. check; stop: Intercept the flight of a criminal. 4. mark off between two points or lines. v. —in ter cep'tion, n.

in ter cep tor (in tɛr sɛp'tər), one that intercepts. n.

in ter ces sion (in tɛr sɛsh'ən), act or fact of interceding: Only the President's intercession could save the spy's life. n.

in ter ces sor (in tɛr sɛs'ər), person who intercedes. n.

in ter ces so ry (in tɛr sɛs'ə rē), making or relating to intercession; interceding. adj.

in ter change (in tɛr tʃɑŋj' for 1,3,5; in tɛr tʃɑŋj' for 2,4,6,7), 1. put each of (two or more persons or things) in place of the other: Mary and Alice interchanged hats. 2. a putting each of two or more persons or things in the other's place: The word "team" becomes "meal" by the interchange of the end letters. 3. give and take; exchange: Interchange gifts. 4. a giving and taking; exchanging. 5. cause to happen by turns; alternate: Interchange severity with indulgence. 6. alternation; alternate succession: An interchange of hard work with rest. 7. point at which a highway, especially an express highway, connects with another main traffic route. 1,3,5 v., in ter changed, in ter chang ing; 2,4,6,7 n.

in ter change a bil i ty (in tɛr tʃɑŋjə bil'ə tē), a being interchangeable. n.

in ter change a ble (in tɛr tʃɑŋjə bl), 1. capable of being used in place of each other. 2. able to change places. adj. —in ter change'a bly, adv.

in ter class (in tɛr klas'), between classes: interclass swimming meets. adj.

in ter col le giate (in tɛr kə lɛ'jit), between colleges or universities: intercollegiate football games. adj. in ter co lo ni al (in tɛr kə lō'nē əl), between colonies: intercolonial trade. adj.

in ter com (in tɛr kom'), Slang, a telephone apparatus with which members of the crew of an airplane, tank, ship, etc., can talk to each other. n.

in ter com mu ni cate (in tɛr kə mū'nə kāt), communicate with each other. v., in ter com mu ni cat ed, in ter com mu ni cat ing. —in ter com mu'ni ca'tion, n.

in ter con nect (in tɛr kə nek't'), connect with each other. v. —in ter con nec'tion, n.

in ter con ti nen tal (in tɛr kon'tə nen'tl), 1. for use between continents. 2. of more than one continent. adj.

in ter course (in tɛr kōrs), communication; dealings between people; exchange of thoughts, services, feelings, etc.: Airplanes, good roads, and telephones make intercourse with different parts of the country far easier than it was 50 years ago. n.

in ter de nom i na tion al (in tɛr di nom'ə nā'shən-l), between or involving different religious denominations. adj.

in ter de part men tal (in tɛr dɛ'pärt men'tl), between departments. adj.

in ter de pend ence (in tɛr di pen'dəns), dependence on each other; mutual dependence. n.

in ter de pend ent (in tɛr di pen'dənt), dependent each upon the other. adj. —in ter de pend'ent ly, adv.

in ter dict (in tɛr dikt' for 1, 2, 4; in tɛr dikt for 3, 5), 1. prohibit; forbid. 2. restrain. 3. prohibition based on authority; formal order forbidding something. 4. cut off from certain church privileges. 5. a cutting off from certain church privileges. 1,2,4 v., 3,5 n.

in ter dic tion (in tɛr dik'shən), 1. an interdicting. 2. a being interdicted. n.

in ter est (in tɛr ist), 1. a feeling of wanting to know, see, do, own, share in, or take part in: Boys usually have an interest in sports. 2. power of arousing such a feeling: A dull book lacks interest. 3. arouse the attention, curiosity, etc., of: An exciting story interests you. 4. share; part: He bought a half interest in the farm. 5. cause (a person) to take a share or interest in something: The agent tried to interest us in buying a car. 6. thing in which a person has an interest, share, or part. Any business, activity, or pastime can be an interest. 7. group of people having the same business, activity, etc.: the business interests of the town. 8. advantage; benefit: Each person should look after his own interest. 9. money paid for the use of money. If you borrow money from a bank, you must pay interest on the loan. 10. something extra given in return: She returned our favor with interest. 1,2,4,6-10 n., 3,5 v.

in the interest of, for; to help.

in ter est ed (in tɛr ist id or in tɛr es'tid), 1. feeling or showing interest. 2. having an interest or share. 3. influenced by personal considerations; prejudiced: We distrusted the statements of the interested persons. adj. —in ter est ed ly, adv. —in ter est ed ness, n.

in ter est ing (in tɛr ist ing or in tɛr es'ting), arousing interest; holding one's attention: an interesting book. adj. —in ter est ing ly, adv.

in ter fere (in tɛr fir'), 1. come into opposition; clash: The two plans interfere; one must be changed. Come on Saturday if nothing interferes. 2. disturb the affairs of others; meddle: That woman is always interfering in other people's affairs. 3. take part for a purpose: The police interfered to stop the riot. 4. obstruct the action of an opposing player in a way barred by the rules. 5. in physics, of waves, act one upon another. v., in ter fered, in ter fer ing.

interfere with, hinder. in ter fer ence (in tɛr fir'əns), 1. act or fact of interfering: Her interference spoiled our game. 2. in physics, the reciprocal action of waves by which they reinforce or neutralize one another. 3. interruption or scrambling of a desired radio signal by other signals. 4. signals thus interfering. n.

in ter fold (in'tər fōld'), fold one within another; fold together. v.

in ter fuse (in'tər fūz'), 1. be diffused through; permeate. 2. fuse together; blend. v., in ter fused, in ter fusing. —in'tər fū'sion, n.

in ter im (in'tər im), 1. meantime; time between. 2. for the meantime; temporary. 1 n., 2 adj.

in te ri or (in tī'rē ər), 1. inside; inner surface or part: The interior of the house was beautifully decorated. 2. inner; on the inside. 3. part of a region or country away from the coast or border. 4. away from the coast or border. 5. affairs within a country: The United States has a Department of the Interior. 6. having to do with such affairs; domestic. 7. private; secret. 8. picture of the inside of a room, house, etc. 1,3,5,8 n., 2,4,6,7 adj.

interj., interjection.

in ter ject (in'tər jekt'), throw in between other things; insert abruptly: Every now and then the speaker interjected some witty remark. v.

in ter jec tion (in'tər jek'shən), 1. exclamation regarded as a part of speech. Oh! ah! alas! and hurrah! are interjections. 2. an interjecting. 3. something interjected; remark; exclamation. n.

in ter jec tion al (in'tər jek'shən l), 1. of an interjection; used as an interjection. 2. containing an interjection. 3. interjected. adj.

in ter lace (in'tər lās'), 1. cross over and under each other; weave together; intertwine: Baskets are made by interlacing reeds or fibers. 2. cross in an intricate manner: roads and streams that interlace. v., in ter laced, in ter lac ing.

in ter leaf (in'tər lēf'), leaf of paper put between others. n., pl. in ter leaves.

in ter leave (in'tər lēv'), insert a leaf or leaves of paper between the pages of. v., in ter leaved, in ter leave ing.

in ter line (in'tər līn'), insert an extra lining between the outer cloth and the ordinary lining of (a garment). v., in ter lined, in ter lin ing.

in ter line (in'tər līn'), 1. insert (words, etc.) between the lines of. 2. write, print, or mark between the lines: The teacher interlined corrections on the students' themes. v., in ter lined, in ter lin ing.

in ter lin e ar (in'tər līn'ē ər), inserted between the lines. adj.

in ter link (in'tər līnk'), link together. v.

in ter lock (in'tər lok'), lock or join with one another: The two stags interlocked their horns. v.

in ter loc u tor (in'tər lok'yə tōr), person who takes part in a conversation or dialogue. n.

in ter loc u to ry (in'tər lok'yə tō'rē), 1. of or in conversation or dialogue. 2. made during a lawsuit or other action; not final. adj.

in ter lop er (in'tər lōp'ər), intruder. n.

in ter lude (in'tər lūd), 1. anything thought of as filling the time between two things; interval: There were only a few interludes of fair weather during the rainy season. 2. piece of music played between the parts of a song, church service, play, etc. 3. entertainment between the acts of a play. n.

in ter lu nar (in'tər lū'nər), between the old moon and the new moon. adj.

in ter mar riage (in'tər mar'ij), marriage between (members of different families, tribes, castes, etc.). n.

in ter mar ry (in'tər mar'ē), become connected by marriage: The people of this old town have intermarried for generations. v., in ter mar ried, in ter mar ry ing.

in ter me di ar y (in'tər mē'dē'ərē), 1. person who acts for one person with another; go-between: John Alden acted as intermediary for Miles Standish with Priscilla. 2. acting between. 3. being between; intermediate: A cocoon is an intermediary stage between cater- pillar and butterfly. 1 n., pl. in ter me di aries; 2,3 adj.

Interlaced decoration

in ter me di ate (in'tər mē'dē it), 1. being or occurring between: Gray is intermediate between black and white. 2. something in between. 3. person who acts between others to bring about an agreement; mediator. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

in ter ment (in'tər mənt), act of putting a dead body into a grave or tomb; burial. n.

in ter mez zo (in'tər met'sō), 1. a short musical composition between the main divisions of an extended musical work. 2. an independent musical composition of similar character. n., pl. in ter mez zos, in ter mez zi (-met'sē).

in ter mi na ble (in tər'mə nə bl), endless; so long as to seem endless. adj.

in ter mi na bly (in tər'mə nə blē), without end. adv.

in ter min gle (in'tər ming'gl), mix together; mingle. v., in ter min gled, in ter min gling.

in ter mis sion (in'tər mish'ən), 1. time between periods of activity; pause: The band played from eight to twelve with a short intermission at ten. 2. stopping for a time; interruption: The rain continued all day without intermission. n.

in ter mit (in'tər mit'), stop for a time. v., in ter mit ted, in ter mit ting.

in ter mit tent (in'tər mit'nt), stopping and beginning again; pausing at intervals: The intermittent noise of the railroad trains kept me awake. adj. —in'tər mit'-tent ly, adv.

in ter mix (in'tər miks'), mix together; blend: Oil and water do not intermix. v.

in ter mix ture (in'tər miks'chər), 1. a mixing together. 2. a mass of ingredients mixed together. n.

in tern (in tēr'n'), confine within a country; force to stay in a certain place. Soldiers who enter a neutral country in war are interned there until the war is over. v.

in tern (in tēr'n), 1. doctor acting as a resident assistant in a hospital; interne. 2. act as an intern. 1 n., 2 v.

in ter nal (in tēr'nl), 1. inner; on the inside: internal injuries. 2. to be taken inside the body: internal remedies. 3. entirely inside; coming from within: Internal evidence of a book's date is evidence obtained from the book itself. 4. having to do with affairs within a country; domestic: internal disturbances. adj.

internal-combustion engine, engine in which the pressure is produced by gas or vapor exploding inside the cylinder and against the piston. Automobiles and some airplanes have internal-combustion engines.

in ter nal ly (in tēr'nl ē), 1. inside. 2. inside the body: This ointment must not be taken internally. adv.

in ter na tion al (in'tər nash'ən l), 1. between or among nations: A treaty is an international agreement. 2. having to do with the relations between nations: international law. adj.

in ter na tion al (in'tər nash'ən l), one of several international socialist or communist organizations. n.

international candle, unit for measuring the intensity of light.

International Date Line, date line (def. 1).

International Geophysical Year, an eighteen-month study of the features of the earth and the forces that produce them by the scientists of many countries working together. It lasted from July 1, 1957 to December 31, 1958. Abbrev.: IGY.

in ter na tion al ism (in'tər nash'ən l iz'əm), principle of international coöperation for the good of all nations. n.

in ter na tion al ist (in'tər nash'ən l ist), person who favors internationalism. n.

in ter na tion al ize (in'tər nash'ən l iz), make international; bring (territory) under the control of several nations. v., in ter na tion al ized, in ter na tion al iz ing.

in ter na tion al ly (in'tər nash'ən l ē), in an international manner; between or among nations. adv.

in ter ne (in'tər'n), intern. n.

in ter ne cine (in'tər nē'sən), 1. destructive to both sides. 2. deadly; destructive. adj.

in tern ee (in'tər nē'), person interned. Prisoners of war, enemy aliens, etc., may be internees. n.

in tern ment (in'tər'mənt), 1. an interning. 2. a being interned. n.

in tern ship (in'tər'n ship), position or service as an intern. n.

in ter o ce an ic (in'tər ō'shē an'ik), between oceans. adj.

in ter pel late (in'tər pel'āt), ask formally in a legislature for an explanation of official action or government policy. v., in ter pel lat ed, in ter pel lat ing.

in ter pel la tion (in'tər pə'lā'shən), a formal request made in a legislature for an explanation of official action or government policy. n.

in ter pen e trate (in'tər pen'ə trāt), penetrate thoroughly; permeate. v., in ter pen e trat ed, in ter pen e trat ing. —in'tər pen'e tra'tion, n.

in ter plan e tar y (in'tər plan'ə ter'ē), 1. situated between planets; in the region of the planets. 2. within the solar system, but not within the atmosphere of the sun or any planet. adj.

in ter play (in'tər plā'), action or influence on each other: the interplay of light and shadow. n.

in ter po late (in'tər pə'lāt), 1. alter (a book, passage, etc.) by putting in new words or groups of words. 2. put in (new words, passages, etc.). v., in ter po lat ed, in ter po lat ing.

in ter po la tion (in'tər pə'lā'shən), 1. an interpolating. 2. something interpolated: an old manuscript with many interpolations of later date. n.

in ter pose (in'tər pōz'), 1. put between; insert. 2. come between other things; be between other things. 3. interrupt. 4. interfere in order to help; intervene: Mother interposed in the dispute. 5. put in as an interference or interruption: He interposed an objection at this point. v., in ter posed, in ter pos ing. —in'tər pos'er, n.

in ter po si tion (in'tər pə'zish'ən), 1. an interposing. 2. thing interposed. n.

in ter pret (in'tər'prit), 1. explain the meaning of: interpret a hard passage in a book, interpret a dream. 2. bring out the meaning of: interpret a part in a play. 3. understand: We interpret your silence as consent. 4. serve as an interpreter; translate. v.

in ter pre ta tion (in'tər'prə tā'shən), 1. an interpreting; explanation: different interpretations of the same facts. 2. a bringing out the meaning of a dramatic part, music, etc.: The newspapers praised the actor's interpretation of Hamlet. 3. translation. n.

in ter pre ta tive (in'tər'prə tā'tiv), used for interpreting; explanatory. adj.

in ter pret er (in'tər'prə tər), 1. person who interprets. 2. person whose business is translating from a foreign language. n.

in ter pre tive (in'tər'prə tiv), interpretative. adj.

in ter ra cial (in'tər rā'shəl), between or involving different races. adj.

in ter reg num (in'tər reg'nəm), 1. time between the end of one ruler's reign and the beginning of the next one. 2. any time during which a nation is without its usual ruler. 3. period of inactivity; pause. n., pl. in ter reg num s, in ter reg na (-nə).

in ter re lat ed (in'tər ri lāt'id), closely connected with each other; mutually related. adj.

in ter re la tion (in'tər ri lā'shən), close connection with each other; mutual relationship. n.

in ter ro gate (in'tər'ə gāt), 1. question thoroughly; examine by asking questions: The lawyer took two hours to interrogate the witness. 2. ask a series of questions. v., in ter ro gat ed, in ter ro gat ing.

in ter ro ga tion (in'tər'ə gā'shən), 1. a questioning. The formal examination of a witness by asking questions is an interrogation. 2. a question. n.

interrogation mark or point, question mark(?).

in ter rog a tive (in'tə rog'ə tiv), 1. asking a question; having the form of a question: an interrogative sentence, an interrogative look or tone of voice. 2. a word used in asking a question. Who, why, and what are interrogatives. 1 adj., 2 n.

in ter ro ga tor (in'tər'ə gā'tər), questioner. n.

in ter rog a to ry (in'tər rog'ə tō'rē), 1. questioning. 2. a formal question or set of questions. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. in ter rog a to ries.

in ter rupt (in'tə rupt'), 1. break in upon (talk, work, rest, a person speaking, etc.); hinder; stop: A fire drill interrupted the lesson. 2. make a break in: A building interrupts the view from our window. 3. cause a break; break in: It is not polite to interrupt when someone is talking. v. —in'tər rupt'er, n.

in ter rup tion (in'tə rup'shən), 1. an interrupting. 2. a being interrupted: The rain continued without interruption all day. 3. thing that interrupts. 4. intermission. n.

in ter scho las tic (in'tər skə las'tik), between schools: interscholastic competition. adj.

in ter sect (in'tər sekt'), 1. cut or divide by passing through or crossing: A path intersects the field. 2. cross each other: Streets usually intersect at right angles. v.

in ter sec tion (in'tər sek'shən), 1. an intersecting: Bridges are used to avoid the intersection of a railroad and a highway. 2. point or line where one thing crosses another. In the diagram, there are two intersections where the line AB crosses the parallel lines. n.

in ter spere (in'tər spēr'), 1. vary with something put here and there: The grass was interspersed with beds of flowers. 2. scatter here and there among other things: Bushes were interspersed among trees. v., in ter spersed, in ter spers ing.

in ter sper sion (in'tər spēr'zhən), an interspersing or being interspersed. n.

in ter state (in'tər stāt'), between States: The federal government regulates interstate commerce. adj.

in ter stel lar (in'tər stel'ər), among the stars. adj.

in ter stice (in'tər'stis), a small or narrow space between things or parts; chink. n., pl. in ter sti ces (-stə siz).

in ter trib al (in'tər trib'l), between tribes. adj.

in ter twine (in'tər twin'), twine, one with another: Two vines intertwined on the wall. v., in ter twined, in ter twin ing.

in ter twist (in'tər twist'), twist, one with another. v.

in ter ur ban (in'tər'ər'bən), between cities or towns: an interurban railway. adj.

in ter val (in'tər vl), 1. time or space between: an interval of a week, intervals of freedom from pain. There are trees at intervals of twenty feet. 2. the difference in pitch between two musical tones. n.

at intervals, 1. now and then. 2. here and there.

in ter vene (in'tər vēr'), 1. come between; be between: A week intervenes between Christmas and New Year's. 2. come in to help settle a dispute: The President was asked to intervene in the coal strike. v., in ter vened, in ter ven ing. —in'tər ven'er, n.

in ter ven tion (in'tər ven'shən), 1. an intervening: The strike was settled by the intervention of the President. 2. interference by one nation in the affairs of another. n.

in ter view (in'tər vü), 1. a meeting, generally of persons face to face, to talk over something special: Father had an interview with the teacher about John's work. 2. a meeting between a reporter and a person from whom information is sought for publication. 3. newspaper or magazine article containing the information given at such a meeting. 4. have an interview with; meet and talk with: Reporters interviewed the returning explorers. 1-3 n., 4 v. —in'tər view'er, n.

in ter weave (in'tər wēv'), 1. weave together. 2. in-termingle; connect closely. v., in ter wove or in ter wove, in ter wov en or in ter wove or in ter weaved, in ter weav ing.

in ter wove (in'tər wōv'), a pt. and a pp. of interweave. v.

in ter wo ven (in'tər wō'vən), 1. woven together. 2. intermingled. 3. a pp. of interweave. 1,2 adj., 3 v.

in tes tate (in tes'tāt), 1. having made no will. 2. person who has died without making a will. 3. not disposed of by a will. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

in tes ti nal (in tes'tə nl), of or in the intestines. adj. —in tes'ti nally, adv.

in tes tine (in tes'tən), 1. part of the alimentary canal that extends from the stomach to the anus. Food from the stomach passes into the intestine for further digestion and for absorption. In grown people, the small intestine is about twenty feet long; the large intestine is about five feet long. 2. within a country; internal: Intestine strife is civil war. 1 n., 2 adj.

intestines, the intestine; the bowels.

in thrall (in thrōl'), enthrall. v.

in throne (in thrōn'), enthroned. v., in throne, in thron ing.

in ti ma cy (in'tə mē sē), 1. a being intimate; close acquaintance. 2. a familiar or intimate act. n., pl. in ti ma cies.

in ti mate¹ (in'tə mit), 1. very familiar; known very well; closely acquainted. 2. close: an intimate connection, intimate knowledge of a matter. 3. very personal; most private: A diary is a very intimate book. 4. a close friend. 5. far within; inmost. 1-3,5 adj., 4 n. —in'ti mate ly, adv.

in ti mate² (in'tə māt), 1. suggest indirectly; hint. 2. announce; notify. v., in ti mated, in ti mat ing. —in'ti mat'er, n.

in ti ma tion (in'tə mā'shən), 1. indirect suggestion; hint: A frown is often an intimation of disapproval. 2. announcement; notice. n.

in tim i date (in tim'ə dāt), 1. frighten; make afraid. 2. influence or force by fear. v., in tim i dat ed, in tim i dat ing. —in tim'i da'tion, n. —in tim'i da'tor, n.

in ti tle (in tī'tl), entitle. v., in ti tled, in ti tling.

in to (in'tū; before consonants often in'tə), 1. to the inside of; toward the inside; within: go into the house. We drove into the city. I will look into the matter. 2. to the condition of; to the form of: a house divided into ten rooms. Divide the apple into three parts. Cold weather turns water into ice. prep.

in tol er a bil i ty (in tol'ər ə bil'ə tē), being intolerable. n.

in tol er a ble (in tol'ər ə bl), unbearable; too much, too painful, etc., to be endured: The pain from the toothache was intolerable. adj.

in tol er a bly (in tol'ər ə blē), unbearably; beyond endurance. adv.

in tol er ance (in tol'ər əns), 1. lack of tolerance; unwillingness to let others do and think as they choose, especially in matters of religion: The Pilgrims came to this country because of intolerance and persecution. 2. inability to endure; unwillingness to endure. n.

in tol er ant (in tol'ər ənt), not tolerant; unwilling to let others do and think as they choose, especially in matters of religion. adj. —in tol'er ant ly, adv.

intolerant of, not able to endure; unwilling to endure.

in tomb (in tūm'), entomb. v.

in to na tion (in'tō nā'shən), 1. act of intoning: the intonation of a psalm. 2. production of musical notes. 3. manner of sounding words. n.

in tone (in tōn'), 1. read or recite in a singing voice; chant: A priest intones part of the service. 2. utter with a particular tone. v., in toned, in ton ing.

in to to (in tō'tō), Latin, as a whole; completely. in tox i cant (in tok'sə kənt), 1. alcoholic liquor. 2. any drug that intoxicates. 3. intoxicating. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

in tox i cate (in tok'sə kāt), 1. make drunk: Alcohol intoxicates people. 2. excite beyond self-control: The joy of victory so intoxicated the team that they jumped and sang and behaved like crazy men. v., in tox i cat ed, in tox i cat ing. —in tox'i cat'ing ly, adv.

in tox i cat ed (in tok'sə kāt'id), 1. drunk. 2. excited beyond self-control. adj.

in tox i ca tion (in tok'sə kā'shən), 1. drunkenness. 2. great excitement. 3. in medicine, poisoning. n.

intr., intransitive.

in trac ta bil i ty (in trak'tə bil'ə tē), a being intractable; stubbornness. n.

in trac ta ble (in trak'tə bl), hard to manage; stubborn. adj. —in trac'ta bly, adv.

in tra mu ral (in'trə myūr'əl), within the walls; inside. In intramural games all the players belong to the same school. adj.

intrans., intransitive.

in tran si gence (in tran'sə jəns), a being intransigent; uncompromising hostility. n.

in tran si gen cy (in tran'sə jən sē), intransigence. n.

in tran si gent (in tran'sə jənt), 1. unwilling to agree or compromise. 2. person who is unwilling to agree or compromise. 1 adj., 2 n. —in tran'si gent ly, adv.

in tran si tive (in tran'sə tiv), not taking a direct object. The verbs belong, go, and seem are intransitive. adj. —in tran'si tive ly, adv.

in tra state (in'trə stāt'), within a State. adj.

in tra ve nous (in'trə vē'nəs), 1. within a vein or the veins. 2. into a vein: an intravenous injection. adj. —in'tra vē'nous ly, adv.

in treat (in trēt'), entreat. v.

in trench (in trench'), entrench. v.

in trench ment (in trench'mənt), entrenchment. n.

in trep id (in trep'id), fearless; dauntless; courageous; very brave: A policeman or soldier must be intrepid. adj. —in trep'id ly, adv.

in tre pid i ty (in'trə pid'ə tē), fearlessness; dauntless courage; great bravery. n.

in tri ca cy (in'trə kə sē), 1. a being intricate; complexity: The intricacy of the plan made it hard to understand. 2. complication; something involved; intricate proceedings: The plan was full of intricacies. n., pl. in tri ca cies.

in tri cate (in'trə kit), 1. with many twists and turns; perplexing, entangled, or complicated: an intricate knot, an intricate maze, an intricate plot. 2. very hard to understand: an intricate design, an intricate piece of machinery, intricate directions. adj. —in'tri cate ly, adv. —in'tri cate ness, n.

in trig ue (in trēg' or in'trēg for 1, 2, 5; in trēg' for 3, 4, 6), 1. underhand planning; secret scheming; plotting: The royal palace was filled with intrigue. 2. a crafty plot; secret scheme. 3. carry on an underhand plan; scheme secretly; plot. 4. excite the curiosity and interest of: The book's unusual title intrigued me. 5. a secret love affair. 6. have a secret love affair. 1,2,5 n., 3,4,6 v., in trigued, in tri guing. —in tri'guing ly, adv.

in trin sic (in trin'sik), belonging to a thing by its very nature; essential; inherent: The intrinsic value of a dollar bill is only that of a piece of paper. adj.

in trin si cal (in trin'sə kl), intrinsic. adj.

in trin si cal ly (in trin'sik lē), by its very nature; essentially; inherently. adv.

in tro duce (in'trə dūs' or in'trə dūs'), 1. bring in: introduce a story into the conversation. 2. put in; insert: The doctor introduced a long tube into the sick man's throat. 3. bring into use, notice, knowledge, etc.: intro- duce a new word. 4. make known: The chairman introduced the speaker to the audience. 5. bring to acquaintance with something: I introduced my country cousin to the city by showing him the sights. 6. bring forward: introduce a question for debate. 7. begin: Relative pronouns introduce adjective clauses. v., in tro duced, in tro duc ing. —in'tro duc'er, n.

in tro duc tion (in'trə duk'shən), 1. an introducing: The introduction of steel made tall buildings easy to build. 2. a being introduced: She was shy at her introduction to so many strangers. 3. thing that introduces; first part of a book, speech, piece of music, etc., leading up to the main part. 4. a first book for beginners. 5. thing introduced; thing brought into use: Radios are a later introduction than telephones. n.

in tro duc to ry (in'trə duk'tə rē), used to introduce; serving as an introduction; preliminary. adj.

in tro spec tion (in'trə spek'shən), examination of one's own thoughts and feelings. n.

in tro spec tive (in'trə spek'tiv), inclined to examine one's own thoughts and feelings. adj. —in'tro spec'tive ly, adv.

in tro ver sion (in'trə vēr'zhən), tendency to be more interested in one's own thoughts and feelings than in what is going on around one. n.

in tro vert (in'trə vèrt'), person more interested in his own thoughts and feelings than in what is going on around him; person tending to think rather than act. n.

in trude (in trūd'), 1. thrust oneself in; come unasked and unwanted: Would I intrude if I were to come tomorrow? 2. thrust in; force in: Do not intrude your opinions upon others. v., in trud ed, in trud ing. —in trud'er, n.

in tru sion (in trū'zhən), act of intruding; coming unasked and unwanted. n.

in tru sive (in trū'siv), intruding; coming unasked and unwanted. adj. —in tru'sive ly, adv.

in trust (in trust'), entrust. v.

in tu i tion (in'tū ish'ən or in'tyū ish'ən), 1. perception of truths, facts, etc., without reasoning: By experience with all kinds of people Mr. Jones had developed great powers of intuition. 2. something so perceived. n.

in tu i tion al (in'tū ish'ənəl or in'tyū ish'ənəl), of, having to do with, or characterized by, intuition; based on intuition. adj.

in tu i tive (in'tū'ə tiv or in'tyū'ə tiv), 1. perceiving by intuition: intuitive power. 2. acquired by intuition: intuitive knowledge. adj. —in tu'i tive ly, adv.

in un date (in'un dāt), overflow; flood. v., in un dated, in un dat ing.

in un da tion (in'un dā'shən), an overflowing; flood. n.

in ure (in yūr'), 1. toughen or harden; accustom; habituate: Poverty had inured the beggar to hardships. 2. have effect; be useful: The agreement inures to the benefit of the employees. v., in ured, in ur ing. —in-ure'ment, n.

in vade (in vād'), 1. enter with force or as an enemy; attack: Soldiers invaded the country. Grasshoppers invade fields and eat the crops. Disease invades the body. 2. enter as if to take possession: Tourists invaded the city. Night invades the sky. 3. interfere with; encroach upon; violate: The law punishes people who invade the rights of others. v., in vad ed, in vad ing. —in-vad'er, n.

in va lid (in'və lid), 1. a sick, weak person not able to get about and do things. 2. not well; weak and sick. 3. of or for an invalid or invalids: an invalid chair. 4. make weak or sick; disable. 5. remove from active service because of sickness or injury: The wounded soldier was invalidated and sent home. 1 n., 2,3 adj., 4,5 v.

in val id (in val'id), not valid; without force or effect; worthless: Unless a will is signed, it is invalid. adj. —in val'id ly, adv.

in val i date (in val'ə dāt), make valueless; deprive of force or effect: A contract is invalidated if only one party signs it. v., in val i dat ed, in val i dat ing. —in val'i da'tion, n.

in va lid ism (in'və lid iz'm), condition of being an invalid; prolonged ill health. n.

in va lid i ty (in'və lid'ə tē), lack of validity, force, or effect; worthlessness. n.

in val u a ble (in val'yū ə bl), priceless; very precious; valuable beyond measure. adj. —in val'u-a bly, adv. —in val'u a ble ness, n.

in var i a bil i ty (in vār'ē ə bil'ə tē), unchangeableness; constancy; uniformity. n.

in var i a ble (in vār'ē ə bl), always the same; unchangeable; unchanging. adj.

in var i a bly (in vār'ē ə blē), in an invariable manner; without change; without exception: Spring invariably follows winter. adv.

in va sion (in vā'zhən), 1. an invading; an attack. 2. interference; encroachment; violation. n.

in vec tive (in vek'tiv), violent attack in words; abusive language. n.

in veigh (in vā'), make a violent attack in words. v.

in vei gle (in vē'gl or in vā'gl), mislead by trickery; entice; allure: The saleswoman inveigled the poor girl into buying four hats. v., in vei gled, in vei gling. —in vei'gler, n.

in vent (in vent'), 1. make or think out (something new): Bell invented the telephone. 2. make up; think up: invent an excuse. v.

in ven tion (in ven'shən), 1. a making something new: the invention of gunpowder. 2. thing invented.

3 power of inventing: To write good stories a person needs invention. 4. a made-up story; false statement. n.

in ven tive (in ven'tiv), 1. good at inventing: An inventive person thinks up ways to save time, money, and work. 2. of invention. 3. showing power of inventing. adj. —in ven'tive ly, adv. —in ven'tive ness, n.

in ven tor (in ven'tər), person who invents: Edison was a great inventor. n.

in ven to ry (in'vən tō'rē), 1. a detailed list of articles with their estimated value. 2. collection of articles that are or may be so listed; stock: A storekeeper has a sale to reduce his inventory.

3. make a detailed list of; enter in a list: Some stores inventory their stock once a month. 1,2 n., pl. in ven to ries; 3 v., in ven to ried, in ven to ry ing.

in ver ness (in'vər nes'), overcoat with a long removable cape. n.

in verse (in vērs' or in'vərs), 1. reversed in position, direction, or tendency; inverted: DCBA is the inverse order of ABCD. 2. something reversed: The inverse of $\frac{3}{4}$ is $\frac{4}{3}$. 3. direct opposite: Evil is the inverse of good. 1 adj., 2,3 n. —in verse'ly, adv.

in ver sion (in vēr'zhən), 1. an inverting. 2. being inverted. 3. something inverted. n.

in vert (in vērt'), 1. turn upside down: invert a glass. 2. turn around or reverse in position, direction, order, etc. If you invert "I can," you have "Can I?" v.

in ver te brate (in vēr'tə brit or in vēr'tə brāt), 1. without a backbone. 2. of or having to do with invertebrates. 3. animal without a backbone. All animals except fishes, amphibians, reptiles, birds, and mammals are invertebrates. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

in vest (in vest'), 1. use (money) to buy something that is expected to produce a profit, or income, or both: He invested his money in stocks, bonds, and land. 2. invest money: Learn to invest wisely. 3. clothe; cover; surround: Darkness invests the earth at night. 4. give power, authority, or right to: He invested his lawyer with complete power to act for him. 5. install in office with a ceremony: A king is invested by crowning him. 6. surround with soldiers or ships; besiege: The enemy invested the city and cut it off from our army. v.

in ves ti gate (in ves'tə gāt), search into; examine closely: Detectives investigate crimes. Scientists investigate nature. v., in ves ti gat ed, in ves ti gat ing.

in ves ti ga tion (in ves'tə gā'shən), careful search; detailed or careful examination. n.

Inverness cape

in ves ti ga tor (in ves'tə gā'tər), person who investigates. n.

in ves ti ture (in ves'tə chūr), 1. a formal investing of a person with an office, dignity, power, right, etc. 2. clothing; covering. n.

in vest ment (in vest'mənt), 1. an investing; a laying out of money: Getting an education was a wise investment of time and money. 2. amount of money invested: His investments amount to thousands of dollars. 3. something that is expected to yield money as income or profit or both: United States bonds are a safe investment. 4. a surrounding with soldiers or ships; siege. 5. investiture. n.

in ves tor (in ves'tər), person who invests money. n.

in vet er a cy (in vet'ər ə sē), settled, fixed condition; habitualness. n.

in vet er ate (in vet'ər it), 1. confirmed in a habit, practice, feeling, etc.; habitual: an inveterate smoker. 2. long and firmly established: Cats have an inveterate dislike of dogs. adj. —in vet'ər ate ly, adv.

in vid i ous (in vid'ē əs), likely to arouse ill will or resentment; giving offense because unfair or unjust: Wise teachers avoid invidious rules. adj. —in vid'ī ous ly, adv. —in vid'ī ous ness, n.

in vig or ate (in vig'ər āt), give vigor to; fill with life and energy. v., in vig'ər at ed, in vig'ər at ing. —in vig'ər at ing ly, adv.

in vig or a tion (in vig'ər ə'shən), an invigorating or being invigorated. n.

in vin ci bil i ty (in vin'sə bil'ə tē), a being invincible. n.

in vin ci ble (in vin'sə bl), not to be overcome; unconquerable. adj. —in vin'ci bly, adv.

in vi o la bil i ty (in vī'ə lə bil'ə tē), a being inviolable. n.

in vi o la ble (in vī'ə lə bl), 1. that must not be violated or injured; sacred: an inviolable vow, an inviolable sanctuary. 2. that cannot be violated or injured: The gods are inviolable. adj. —in vī'ə la bly, adv.

in vi o late (in vī'ə lit or in vī'ə lāt), not violated; uninjured; unbroken; not profaned. adj.

in vis i bil i ty (in viz'ə bil'ə tē), a being invisible. n.

in vis i ble (in viz'ə bl), not visible; not capable of being seen: Thought is invisible. The queen kept herself invisible in her palace. Germs are invisible to the naked eye. adj.

the invisible, the unseen world.

in vis i bly (in viz'ə blē), without being seen; so as not to be seen. adv.

in vi ta tion (in vā'tā'shən), 1. request to come to some place or to do something. Formal invitations are written or printed. 2. act of inviting. n.

in vite (in vit' for 1-4; in vit' for 5), 1. ask (someone) politely to come to some place or to do something: We invited her to join our club. 2. make a polite request for: Alice invited our opinion of her story. 3. give occasion for: The letter invites some questions. 4. attract; tempt; encourage: The calm water invited us to swim. 5. Informal invitation. 1-4 v., in vit'ed, in vit'ing; 5 n.

in vit ing (in vit'ing), attractive; tempting. adj. —in vit'ing ly, adv.

in vo ca tion (in vā'kā'shən), 1. act of calling upon in prayer; appeal for help or protection: A church service often begins with an invocation to God. 2. a calling forth of spirits by magic. 3. set of magic words used to call forth spirits. n.

in voice (in'vois), 1. list of goods sent to a purchaser showing prices, amounts, shipping charges, etc. 2. make an invoice of; enter on an invoice. 3. shipment of invoiced goods. 1,3 n., 2 v., in voic'ed, in voic'ing.

in vo ke (in vōk'), 1. call on in prayer; appeal to for help or protection: The Pilgrims invoked God's help in their undertaking. 2. ask earnestly for; beg for: The con- demned criminal invoked the judge's mercy. 3. call forth by magic: Aladdin invoked the powerful spirit. v., in vok'ed, in vok'ing.

in vo lu cre (in vā'lū'kər), circle of small leaves around a flower or flower cluster. n.

INVOLUCRE

in vol un tar y (in vol'un tar'ē), 1. not voluntary; not done of one's own free will; unwilling:

John was threatened until he gave involuntary consent to the plan. 2. not done on purpose; not intended: an involuntary injury. 3. not controlled by the will: Breathing is mainly involuntary. adj. —in vol'un tar'ī ly, adv. —in vol'un tar'ī ness, n.

in vol ve (in volv'), 1. have as a necessary part, condition, or result; take in; include: Housekeeping involves cooking, washing dishes, sweeping, and cleaning. 2. have an effect on; affect: These changes in the business involve the interests of all the owners. 3. cause to be unpleasantly concerned; bring (into difficulty, danger, etc.): One foolish mistake can involve you in a good deal of trouble. 4. entangle; complicate: A sentence that is involved is often hard to understand. 5. take up the attention of; occupy: She was involved in working out a puzzle. 6. wrap; enfold; envelop: Clouds involved the mountain top. The outcome of the war is involved in doubt. 7. wind spirally; coil: The serpent involved his scaly folds. v., in volved, in volv'ing. —in volv'er, n.

in vol ve ment (in volv'mənt), 1. an involving. 2. being involved. n.

in vul ner a bil i ty (in vul'nər ə bil'ə tē), a being invulnerable. n.

in vul ner a ble (in vul'nər ə bl), that cannot be wounded or injured; proof against attack: Achilles was invulnerable except for his heel. adj. —in vul'ner-a bly, adv.

in ward (in'wərd), 1. toward the inside: a passage leading inward. 2. placed within; internal: the inward parts of the body. 3. directed toward the inside: an inward slant of the eyes. 4. into the mind or soul: Turn your thoughts inward. 5. in mind or soul: inward peace. 1,4 adv., 2,3,5 adj.

in ward ly (in'wərd lē), 1. on the inside; within. 2. toward the inside. 3. in the mind or soul. 4. not aloud or openly. adv.

in ward ness (in'wərd nis), 1. inner nature or meaning. 2. spirituality. 3. earnestness. n.

in wards (in'wərdz for 1; in'wərdz or in'ərdz for 2), 1. inward. 2. parts inside the body; stomach and intestines. 1 adv., 2 n.pl.

in weave (in wēv'), weave in; weave together; interweave. v., in wove or in weaved, in wo ven or in wove or in weaved, in weav'ing.

in wove (in wōv'), a pt. and a pp. of inweave. v.

in wo ven (in wō'vən), a pp. of inweave. v.

in wrap (in rap'), enwrap. v., in wrapped, in wrap-ping.

in wreath e (in rēth'), enwreath e. v., in wreathed, in wreath ing.

in wrought (in rōt'), 1. having a decoration worked in. 2. worked in. 3. mixed together; closely blended. adj.

Io, ionium.

io did (ī'ə did), iodide. n.

io dide (ī'ə did), compound of iodine with another element or radical. n.

io din (ī'ə din), iodine. n.

io dine (ī'ə dīn), 1. a nonmetallic element consisting of blackish crystals that give off a dense, violet-colored vapor with an irritating odor. Iodine is used in medicine, in making dyes, in photography, etc. Symbol: I 2. a brown liquid, tincture of iodine, used as an antiseptic. n.

io do form (ī'ō'də fōrm), a crystalline compound of iodine, used as an antiseptic. n.

i on (i'ən), 1. either of the two substances into which a compound is broken up by the action of an electric current. Positive ions (cations) are formed in electrolysis by the loss of electrons. Negative ions (anions) are formed by the gain of electrons. 2. an electrically charged particle formed in a gas. n.

-ion, suffix meaning:

1. act of —ing, as in attraction, calculation.
2. condition or state of being —ed, as in adoption, fascination.
3. result of —ing, as in abbreviation, collection, connection.

I on i a (i'ō'nē ə), an ancient region on the W coast of Asia Minor, with nearby islands. The Greeks colonized Ionia in very early times. n.

I o n i a n (i'ō'nē ən), 1. of or having to do with Ionia or its people. 2. having to do with one of the main branches of the ancient Greek race. The Athenians were of Ionian descent. 3. Greek of this branch. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

Ionian Islands, islands along the W coast of Greece. 229,000 pop.; 751 sq. mi.

Ionian Sea, part of the Mediterranean Sea between Greece and S Italy.

I on ic (i'ɒn'ik), 1. of or having to do with the order of Greek architecture having scrolls in the capitals of the columns. 2. of Ionia or its people. adj.

ion ic (i'ɒn'ik), having to do with ions. adj.

i o n i u m (i'ō'nē əm), a radioactive element formed from disintegrating uranium. Symbol: Io n.

i o n i z a t i o n (i'ɒn ə zā'shən), separation into ions; dissociation; formation of ions. n.

i on ize (i'ən iz), separate into ions; produce ions in. Acids, bases, and salts ionize in solution. The gas in a neon light must be ionized before it can conduct an electric current. v., i on ized, i on izing. —i'ɒn-iz'er, n.

i on o sphere (i'ɒn ə sfɪr), a region of ionized layers of air beginning about 18 to 28 miles above the earth's surface. n.

i o t a (i'ɒ'tə), a very small quantity: There is not an iota of truth in the prisoner's story. n.

I.O.U. or I O U (i'ɒ'ū'), 1. I owe you. 2. an informal note showing a debt: Write me your I.O.U. for ten dollars.

I o w a (i'ə wə), 1. a Middle Western State of the United States. 2,758,000 pop.; 56,280 sq. mi. Capital: Des Moines. Abbrev.: Ia. 2. river flowing from N Iowa into the Mississippi River. 291 mi. n. —I'ow an, n.

ip e cac (ip'ə kak), 1. medicine made from the dried roots of a South American vine, used as an emetic or purgative. 2. the dried roots. 3. the vine. n.

ip so fac to (ip'sō fak'tō), Latin. by that very fact; by the fact itself.

Ips wich (ips'wich), city in SE England. 116,000. n.

IQ or I.Q., intelligence quotient.

Ir, iridium.

ir⁻¹, form of in⁻¹ before r, as in irrational.

ir⁻², form of in⁻² before r, as in irrigate.

Iran (i'rən' or i'rān'), kingdom in SW Asia, south of the Caspian Sea. 21,000,000 pop.; 628,000 sq. mi. Capital: Teheran. Formerly called Persia. n.

Ira n i a n (i'rā'nē ən), 1. of or having to do with Iran, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Iran. 3. language of Iran. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Iraq (i'ɾək' or ɛ'rāk'), country in SW Asia, north of Arabia. 6,950,000 pop.; 116,600 sq. mi. Capital: Baghdad. n.

i ras ci bil i ty (i'rəs'ə bil'ə tē), quickness of temper; irritability. n.

i ras ci ble (i'rəs'ə bl), 1. easily made angry; irritable. 2. showing anger. adj. —i'rəs'ci bly, adv.

i rate (i'rāt or i'rāt'), angry. adj. —i'rate ly, adv.

IRBM, Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile, a ballistic missile of great range (up to 1500 miles).

ire (ir), anger; wrath. n.

Ire., Ireland.

ire ful (ir'fəl), angry; wrathful. adj. —ire'fully, adv.

Ire land (ir'lənd),

1. one of the British Isles, divided into the Irish Republic (or Republic of Ireland) and Northern Ireland. 4,250,000 pop.; 32,450 sq. mi. 2. Republic of, the Irish Republic. n.

ir i des cence (ir'ə des'ns), a changing or play of colors, as in mother-of-pearl. n.

ir i des cent (ir'ə des'nt), 1. displaying colors like those of the rainbow. 2. changing colors according to position. adj. —ir'i des'cent ly, adv.

ir id i um (irid'ē əm), a rare metallic element that resembles platinum. Symbol: Ir n.

iris (i'ris), 1. plant with sword-shaped leaves and large flowers with three upright petals and three drooping petallike sepals. 2. the flower. 3. the colored part around the pupil of the eye. See eye for diagram. 4. rainbow. n.

Irish (i'rish), 1. of or having to do with Ireland, its people, or their language. 2. people of Ireland. 3. the Celtic language spoken in part of Ireland; Gaelic. 4. English as spoken by the Irish. 1 adj., 2 n. pl., 3,4 n. sing.

Irish Free State, former name of the Irish Republic.

Irish man (i'rish mən), man of Irish birth or descent. n., pl.

Irish men.

Irish potato, the common white potato.

Irish Republic, an independent republic in central and S Ireland. 2,846,000 pop.; 27,000 sq. mi. Capital: Dublin. See the map above. Also, Eire, Republic of Ireland; formerly, Irish Free State.

Irish Sea, part of the Atlantic between Ireland and England.

Irish setter, a hunting dog with long, silky, reddish-brown hair.

Irish terrier, a small dog with brown wiry hair, somewhat like a small Airedale.

Irish wolfhound, a very large and powerful dog, formerly used in hunting wolves.

Irish wom an (i'rish wum'ən), woman of Irish birth or Irish descent. n., pl. Irish women.

irk (ɛrk), weary; disgust; annoy; trouble; bore: It irks us to wait for people who are late. v.

irk some (ɛrk'səm), tiresome; tedious: Washing dishes all day would be an irksome task. adj. —irk'some ly, adv. —irk'some ness, n.

Ir kutsk (ir'kütšk'), city in SE Soviet Union. 365,000. n.

i ron (i'ərn), 1. the commonest and most useful metal, from which tools, machinery, etc., are made. It is a very hard, strong silver-white chemical element. Symbol: Fe 2. made of iron; having to do with

Ionic capital

Ireland

Irish setter (about 24 in. high
at the shoulder)

Irish terrier (about 18 in. high
at the shoulder)

Irish wolfhound
(about 31 in. high
at the shoulder)

iron: an iron fence. 3. tool, instrument, or weapon made from this metal. 4. like iron; hard or strong; unyielding: an iron will. 5. great hardness and strength; firmness: men of iron. 6. harsh or cruel: the iron hand of fate. 7. tool with a flat surface for smoothing cloth or pressing clothes. 8. smooth or press (cloth, etc.) with a heated iron. 9. furnish or cover with iron. 10. a golf club with an iron or steel head. 1,3,5,7,10 n., 2,4,6 adj., 8,9 v.

irons, chains or bands of iron; handcuffs; shackles. have too many irons in the fire, try to do too many things at once.

strike while the iron is hot, act while conditions are favorable.

Iron Age, period after the Bronze Age, when people used iron tools, weapons, etc.

iron bound (i'ərn baund'), 1. bound with iron. 2. hard; firm; rigid; unyielding. 3. rocky. adj.

iron clad (i'ərn kləd'), 1. protected with iron plates. 2. warship protected with iron plates. 3. very hard to change or get out of: An ironclad agreement must be kept. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

Iron Cross, a German medal given for services in war.

Iron Curtain, an imaginary wall or dividing line separating the Soviet Union and the nations under Soviet control or influence from the rest of the world, behind which strict censorship and secrecy are enforced.

iron hand, a firm, strict manner.

iron ic (i'ron'ik), ironical. adj.

iron ic al (i'ron'ə kl), 1. expressing one thing and meaning the opposite: "Speedy" would be an ironical name for a snail. 2. contrary to what would naturally be expected: It was ironical that the man was run over by his own automobile. adj. —iron'ic al ly, adv.

iron lung, device to give artificial respiration.

iron monger (i'ərn mung'gər), Esp. Brit. dealer in ironware or hardware. n.

iron pyrites, mineral that looks somewhat like gold; fool's gold.

iron sides (i'ərn sidz'), a name given in praise of strength. Oliver Cromwell's soldiers were called Iron-sides. The old United States frigate Constitution is called Old Ironsides. n.

iron stone (i'ərn stōn'), any iron ore with clay or other impurities in it. n.

iron ware (i'ərn wār'), articles made of iron, such as pots, kettles, tools, etc.; hardware. n.

iron weed (i'ərn wēd'), plant of the same family as the aster, with flat-topped clusters of small tubular flowers, usually purple or red. n.

iron-willed (i'ərn wild'), having a firm will. adj.

iron wood (i'ərn wūd'), 1. any of various trees with hard heavy wood. 2. the wood itself. n.

iron work (i'ərn wērk'), things made of iron. n.

iron work er (i'ərn wēr'kər), 1. person whose work is making iron or iron articles. 2. person whose work is building the framework of bridges, skyscrapers, etc. n.

iron works (i'ərn wērks'), place where iron is made or worked into iron articles. n. pl. or sing.

iron y (i'rə nē), 1. method of expression in which the ordinary meaning of the words is the opposite of the thought in the speaker's mind: The boys called the very thin boy "Fatty" in irony. 2. event contrary to what would naturally be expected: It was the irony of fate that the great cancer doctor died of cancer himself. n., pl. i ro nies.

Ir o quo is (ir'ə kwoi), member of a powerful group of American Indian tribes called the Five Nations, formerly living mostly in New York State. n. sing. and pl.

ir ra di ate (i rā'dē āt), 1. shine upon; make bright; illuminate. 2. shine. 3. radiate; give out. 4. treat with ultraviolet rays. v., ir ra di at ed, ir ra di at ing. —ir ra'di a'tion, n.

ir ra tion al (i rash'ən l), 1. not rational; unreasonable: It is irrational to be afraid of the number 13. 2. unable to think and reason clearly. adj. —ir ra'tion al ly, adv.

ir ra tion al i ty (i rash'ən al'ə tē), 1. a being irrational. 2. something irrational; absurdity. n., pl. ir ra tion al i ties.

Ir ra waddy (ir'ə wod'ē), river in E Asia, flowing through Burma into the Bay of Bengal. 1300 mi. n.

ir re claim a ble (ir'ī klām'ə bl), that cannot be reclaimed. adj. —ir're claim'a bly, adv.

ir rec on cil a ble (i rek'ən sil'ə bl or i rek'ən sil'ə bl), 1. that cannot be reconciled; that cannot be made to agree; opposed: irreconcilable enemies. 2. person who persists in opposing. 1 adj., 2 n. —ir rec'on cil'a bly, adv.

ir re cov er a ble (ir'ī kuv'ər ə bl), 1. that cannot be regained or got back: Wasted time is irrecoverable. 2. that cannot be remedied: irrecoverable sorrow. adj. —ir're cov'er a bly, adv.

ir re deem a ble (ir'ī dēm'ə bl), 1. that cannot be bought back. 2. that cannot be exchanged for coin: irredeemable paper money. 3. beyond remedy; hopeless: an irredeemable misfortune. adj. —ir're deem'a bly, adv.

ir re duc i ble (ir'ī dūs'ə bl or ir'ī dūs'ə bl), that cannot be reduced. adj. —ir're duc'i bly, adv.

ir ref ra ga ble (i ref'rə gə bl), that cannot be refuted; unanswerable; undeniable. adj. —ir ref'ra ga bly, adv.

ir ref u ta ble (i ref'yə tə bl or ir'ī fūt'ə bl), that cannot be refuted or disproved: irrefutable arguments. adj. —ir ref'u ta bly, adv.

ir reg u lar (i reg'yə lər), 1. not regular; not according to rule; out of the usual order or natural way: irregular breathing. 2. not even; not smooth; not straight; without symmetry: irregular features, an irregular pattern. 3. not according to law or morals: irregular behavior. 4. not in the regular army. 5. soldier not in the regular army. 6. of a word, not inflected in the usual way. Be is an irregular verb. 1-4,6 adj., 5 n. —ir reg'u lar ly, adv.

ir reg u lar i ty (i reg'yə lar'ə tē), 1. lack of regularity; being irregular. 2. something irregular. n., pl. ir reg u lar i ties.

ir re le vance (i rel'ə vəns), 1. a being irrelevant. 2. something irrelevant. n.

ir re le van cy (i rel'ə vən sē), irrelevance. n.

ir re le vant (i rel'ə vənt), not to the point; off the subject: A question about arithmetic is irrelevant in a music lesson. adj. —ir rel'e vant ly, adv.

ir re li gion (ir'ī lij'ən), 1. lack of religion. 2. hostility to religion; disregard of religion. n.

ir re li gious (ir'ī lij'əs), 1. not religious; indifferent to religion. 2. contrary to religious principles; impious. adj. —ir're li'gious ly, adv.

ir re me di a ble (ir'ī mē'dē ə bl), that cannot be remedied; incurable. adj. —ir're me'di a bly, adv.

ir re mov a ble (ir'ī mūv'ə bl), that cannot be removed. adj. —ir're mov'a bly, adv.

ir rep a ra ble (i rep'ə rə bl), that cannot be repaired or made good: Losing a leg is an irreparable injury. adj. —ir rep'a ra bly, adv.

ir re place a ble (ir'ī plās'ə bl), not replaceable; impossible to replace with another. adj.

ir re press i bil i ty (ir'ī pres'ə bil'ə tē), being irrepressible. n.

ir re press i ble (ir'ī pres'ə bl), that cannot be repressed or restrained. adj.

ir re press i bly (ir'ī pres'ə blē), in an irrepressible manner; uncontrollably. adv.

ir re proach a ble (ir'ī prōch'ə bl), free from blame; faultless. adj. —ir're proach'a bly, adv.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

ir re sist i ble (ir'ī zis'tə bl), that cannot be resisted; too great to be withstood. adj. —ir' re sist' i bly, adv.

ir res o lute (irez'ə lüt), not resolute; unable to make up one's mind; not sure of what one wants; hesitating: Irresolute persons make poor leaders. adj. —ir res' o lute ly, adv. —ir res' o lute ness, n.

ir res o lu tion (irez'ə lü'shən), lack of resolution; being irresolute; hesitation. n.

ir re spec tive (ir'ī spek'tiv), regardless: Any person, irrespective of age, may join the club. adj.

ir re spon si bil i ty (ir'ī spon'sə bil'ə tē), lack of responsibility; a being irresponsible. n.

ir re spon si ble (ir'ī spon'sə bl), 1. not responsible; that cannot be called to account: A dictator is an irresponsible ruler. 2. without a sense of responsibility. adj. —ir' re spon' si bly, adv.

ir re triev a ble (ir'ī trēv'ə bl), that cannot be retrieved or recovered; that cannot be recalled or restored to its former condition. adj. —ir' re triev' a bly, adv.

ir rev er ence (i rev'ər əns), 1. lack of reverence; disrespect. 2. act showing irreverence. n.

ir rev er ent (i rev'ər ənt), not reverent; disrespectful. adj. —ir rev' er ent ly, adv.

ir re vers i ble (ir'ī vēr'sə bl), not capable of being reversed. adj. —ir' re vers' i bly, adv.

ir rev o ca bil i ty (i rev'ə kə bil'ə tē), a being irrevocable. n.

ir rev o ca ble (i rev'ə kə bl), not to be recalled, withdrawn, or annulled: an irrevocable decision. adj. —ir rev' o ca bly, adv.

ir ri gate (ir'ə gāt), 1. supply (land) with water by using ditches. 2. supply (a wound, cavity in the body, etc.) with a continuous flow of some liquid: The doctor showed Amy how to irrigate her nose and throat with hot water. 3. supply land, wounds, etc., thus: Is it time to irrigate? v., ir ri gat ed, ir ri gat ing.

ir ri ga tion (ir'ə gā'shən), 1. an irrigating. 2. being irrigated. n.

ir ri ta bil i ty (ir'ə tə bil'ə tē), 1. a being irritable; impatience. 2. an unnatural sensitiveness (of an organ or part of the body). n., pl. ir ri ta bil i ties.

ir ri ta ble (ir'ə tə bl), 1. easily made angry; impatient: She has been so irritable lately that I think she must be sick. 2. unnaturally sensitive or sore. adj. —ir' ri ta ble ness, n. —ir' ri ta bly, adv.

ir ri tant (ir'ə tənt), 1. thing that causes irritation: A mustard plaster is an irritant. 2. causing irritation. 1 n., 2 adj.

ir ri tate (ir'ə tāt), 1. arouse to impatience or anger; annoy; provoke; vex: The boy's foolish questions irritated his father. Flies irritate horses. 2. make unnaturally sensitive or sore: Sunburn irritates the skin. v., ir ri tat ed, ir ri tat ing. —ir' ri tat' ing ly, adv. —ir' ri ta' tor, n.

ir ri ta tion (ir'ə tā'shən), 1. act or process of irritating; annoyance; vexation. 2. irritated condition: Irritation of John's nose made him sneeze. n.

ir rup tion (i rup'shən), a breaking or bursting in; violent invasion: The irruption of barbarians was one cause of the downfall of the Roman Empire. n.

Ir ving (ēr'ving), Washington, 1783-1859, American writer, author of Rip Van Winkle. n.

Ir ving ton (ēr'ving tən), city in New Jersey. 59,000. n.

is (iz), 3rd person singular, present indicative, of be. He is, she is, it is: The earth is round. He is at school. A child is loved by its mother. v.

as is, as it is now; in its present condition.

I saac (ī'zək), in the Bible, the son of Abraham and Sarah, and father of Jacob and Esau. Genesis 21:3. n.

I sa bel la I (iz'ə bel'ə), 1451-1504, queen of Castile and León. She and her husband Ferdinand were patrons of Columbus. n.

I sai ah (ī zā'ə), 1. the greatest of the Hebrew prophets. 2. book of the Old Testament. n.

Is car i ot (is kar'ē ət), 1. surname of Judas, the disciple who betrayed Christ for money. 2. a traitor. n.

is chi um (is'kē əm), the lowest bone of the three bones forming either half of the pelvis. n., pl. is chi a (is'kē ə).

Is fa han (is'fə hən'), city in W Iran. 255,000. In the 17th century Isfahan was the capital of Persia. n.

-ish, suffix meaning:

1. somewhat, as in ishish, sweetish.

2. resembling; like, as in a childish man.

3. like that of; having the characteristics of, as in a childish idea.

4. of or having to do with; belonging to, as in British, Spanish, Turkish.

5. tending to; inclined to, as in bookish, thievish.

6. near, but usually somewhat past, as in fortyish.

Ish ma el (ish'mē əl), 1. in the Bible, the son of Abraham and Hagar, driven into the wilderness by Sarah. Genesis 16. 2. outcast. n.

Ish ma el ite (ish'mē əl ĩt), 1. descendant of Ishmael. 2. outcast. n.

i sin glass (ī'zing glas'), 1. kind of gelatin obtained from air bladders of sturgeon, cod, and similar fishes, used for making glue, clearing liquors, etc. 2. mica, a mineral that divides into thin semitransparent layers. n.

I sis (ī'sis), the Egyptian goddess of fertility. n.

Is lam (is'lām or is lām'), 1. the Moslem religion. 2. Moslems as a group. 3. the countries under Moslem rule. n.

Is lam ic (is lam'ik or is lām'ik), Moslem. adj.

Is lam ism (is'lām iz əm), the Moslem religion. n.

Is lam ite (is'lām ĩt), Moslem. n., adj.

is land (ī'lənd), 1. body of land surrounded by water: Cuba is a very large island. To reach the island you go on a boat. 2. something resembling this. Platforms in the middle of busy streets are called safety islands. 3. superstructure, especially of a battleship or aircraft carrier. 4. make into an island. 1-3 n., 4 v. —is'land like', adj.

is land er (ī'lən dər), native or inhabitant of an island. n.

isle (īl), 1. a small island. 2. island. n.

is let (ī'lit), a little island. n.

ism (iz'əm), distinctive doctrine, theory, system, or practice: Capitalism, Socialism, Communism, and Fascism are well-known isms. n.

-ism, suffix meaning:

1. action; practice, as in baptism, criticism.

2. doctrine; system; principle, as in communism, socialism.

3. quality; characteristic; state; condition, as in heroism, paganism, Americanism.

4. illustration; case; instance, as in colloquialism, witticism.

5. unhealthy condition caused by, as in alcoholism, morphinism.

is n't (iz'nt), is not.

i so bar (ī'sə bār), line on a weather map connecting places having the same average atmospheric pressure (after allowance for height above sea level). n.

i soch ro nous

(ī sok'rə nəs),

1. equal in time.

2. performed in equal times. adj.

i so late (ī'slāt or is'lāt), 1. place apart; separate from others: People with contagious diseases should be isolated. 2. obtain (a substance) in a pure or uncombined form: A chemist can isolate the oxygen from the hydrogen in water. v., i so lat ed, i so lat ing.

Isobars (the dark lines) showing atmospheric pressure in inches. The location and movements of areas of high and low pressure are used in forecasting weather.

i so la tion (i'sə lā'shən or is'ə lā'shən), 1. an isolating. 2. a being isolated. n.

i so la tion ism (i'sə lā'shən iz əm), principles or practice of isolationists. n.

i so la tion ist (i'sə lā'shən ist), 1. one who objects to his country's participation in international affairs. 2. person who favored keeping the United States out of the first or second World War. n.

i so met rics (i'sə met'riks), physical exercises done without athletic activity, as by pressing one part of the body against another or against an object. n.pl.

i sos ce les (i'sos'ə lēz), of a triangle, having two sides equal. adj.

i so therm (i'sə thərm), line connecting places having the same average temperature. n.

i so ther mal (i'sə thər'ml), 1. indicating equality of temperatures. 2. having to do with isotherms. adj.

i so tope (i'sə tōp), any of two or more elements that have the same chemical properties and the same atomic number, but different atomic weights or radioactive behavior. Chlorine, whose atomic weight is 35.5, is a mixture of two isotopes, one having an atomic weight of 37, the other, 35. Hydrogen and heavy hydrogen are isotopes. n.

Is ra el (iz'rē əl), 1. in the Bible, a name given to Jacob after he had wrestled with the angel. Genesis 32:28. 2. name given to his descendants; the Jews; the Hebrews. 3. ancient kingdom in N Palestine. See Philistia for map. 4. republic including the major part of Palestine, declared a Jewish state May 15, 1948. 2,150,000 pop.; 7992 sq. mi. Capital: Jerusalem. n.

Is rae li (iz'rā'lē), 1. citizen or inhabitant of Israel. 2. of or having to do with Israel. 1 n., pl. Is rae lis; 2 adj.

Is ra el ite (iz'rē əl'it), 1. Jew; Hebrew; descendant of Israel. 2. of or having to do with Israel or the Jews. 1 n., 2 adj.

Is sei (ēs'sā'), a Japanese immigrant living in the United States or Canada. n., pl. Is sei.

is su ance (ish'ū əns), an issuing; issue. n.

is sue (ish'ū), 1. send out; put forth: The government issues money and stamps. 2. something sent out; quantity (of bonds, stamps, copies of a magazine, etc.) sent out at one time: Did you read the last issue of our weekly paper? 3. a sending out; a putting forth. 4. come out; go out; proceed from: Smoke issues from the chimney. 5. be published. 6. publish; put into public circulation: to issue a new edition of a book. 7. a coming forth; a flowing out; a discharge: Nosebleed is an issue of blood from the nose. 8. way out; outlet; exit. 9. that which comes out. 10. profit; product. 11. emerge. 12. result; outcome: the issue of the battle. 13. to result or end (in): The game issued in a tie. 14. to result (from). 15. point to be debated; problem: the issues of a political campaign. 16. child or children; offspring. 17. be born; be descended; be derived. 1,4-6,11,13,14,17 v., is sued, is su ing; 2,3,7-10,12,15,16 n. —is'su a ble, adj. —is'su er, n.

at issue, in question; to be considered or decided.

face the issue, admit the facts and do what must be done.

join issue, take opposite sides in an argument.

take issue, disagree: I must take issue with you on that point.

-ist, suffix meaning:

1. a person who does or makes, as in theorist, tourist.
2. one who knows about or has skill with, as in biologist, flutist.
3. one engaged in or busy with, as in horticulturist, machinist.

Isosceles triangles

4. one who believes in; adherent of, as in abolitionist, idealist.

Is tan bul (is'tän bül'), city in European Turkey. 1,215,000. See Dardanelles for map. Formerly called Constantinople. n.

isth mi an (is'mē ən), of or having to do with an isthmus. adj.

Isth mi an (is'mē ən), 1. of or having to do with the Isthmus of Panama. 2. of or having to do with the Isthmus of Corinth in Greece. The Isthmian games were national festivals of ancient Greece. adj.

Isthmus of Panama

isth mus (is'məs), a narrow strip of land, having water on either side, connecting two larger bodies of land: The Isthmus of Panama connects North America and South America. n., pl. isth mus es.

it (it), 1. thing, part, animal, or person spoken about. 2. subject of an impersonal verb: It rains. 3. an apparent subject of a clause when the logical subject comes later: It is hard to believe that he is dead. 4. antecedent to any relative pronoun when separated by the predicate: It was a blue car that passed. 5. object without definite force: He lorded it over us. pron., nom. it, poss. its or (Obsolete or Dialect) it, obj. it; pl. nom. they, poss. their or theirs, obj. them.

It., 1. Italy. 2. Italian.

Ital., 1. Italy. 2. Italian.

ital., italic.

Italian (i'tal'yən), 1. of Italy, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Italy. 3. language of Italy. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Italian East Africa, a former Italian colony in E Africa now included in Ethiopia and Somalia.

Italian ize (i'tal'yən iz), make Italian. v., Italian ized, Italian iz ing.

Italian Somaliland, a former Italian colony in E Africa, now part of Somalia.

ital ic (i'tal'ik), 1. of or in type whose letters slant to the right: These words are in italic type. 2. an italic type, letter, or number. 1 adj., 2 n.

italics, type whose letters slant to the right.

Ital ic (i'tal'ik), of ancient Italy, its peoples, or their languages. adj.

ital i cize (i'tal'ə siz), 1. print in type in which the letters slant to the right: This sentence is italicized. 2. underline with a single line to indicate italics. 3. use italics. v., ital i cized, ital i ciz ing.

It a ly (it'lē), country in S Europe on the Mediterranean. Sicily and Sardinia are parts of Italy. 49,500,000 pop.; 116,225 sq. mi. Capital: Rome. n.

It as ca (i'tas'kə), Lake, lake in N Minnesota, a source of the Mississippi River. n.

itch (ich), 1. a tickly, prickling feeling in the skin that makes one want to scratch. 2. cause an itching feeling: Mosquito bites itch. 3. have an itching feeling. 4. a restless, uneasy feeling, longing, or desire for anything: an itch to get away and explore. 5. have an uneasy desire: He itched to know our secret. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v.

the itch, a contagious disease of the skin caused by a tiny mite, accompanied by an itching feeling.

itch y (ich'ē), itching; like the itch. adj., itch ier, itch iest. —itch'iness, n.

i tem (i'təm), 1. a separate thing or article: The list contains twelve items. 2. piece of news; bit of information: There were several interesting items in today's paper. 3. also; likewise (in introducing each item of an enumeration). 1,2 n., 3 adv.

i tem ize (i'təm iz), give each item of; list by items: itemize the cost of a house. v., i tem ized, i tem iz ing.

it er ate (it'ər āt), repeat. v., it er at ed, it er at ing.

it er a tion (it'ər ā'shən), repetition. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

it er a tive (it'ər ā'tiv), repeating. adj.
lth a ca (lth'ə kə), a small island W of Greece, the home of Odysseus. n.
i tin er ant (i tin'ər ənt), 1. traveling from place to place. 2. person who travels from place to place. 1 adj., 2 n. —i tin'er ant ly, adv.
i tin er ar y (i tin'ər er'ē), 1. route of travel; plan of travel. 2. record of travel. 3. guidebook for travelers. 4. of traveling or routes of travel. 5. itinerant. 1-3 n., pl. i tin'er aries; 4,5 adj.
-itis, suffix meaning: inflammation of; inflammatory disease of, as in appendicitis, bronchitis, tonsillitis.
its (its), of it; belonging to it: The dog wagged its tail. pron., adj.
it's (its), 1. it is. 2. it has.
it self (it self'), 1. emphatic form of it: The land itself is worth more than the old house. 2. reflexive form of it: The horse tripped and hurt itself. pron.
-ity, suffix meaning: condition or quality of being, as in absurdity, brutality, cordiality, activity, sincerity.
I've (iv), I have.
-ive, suffix meaning:
 1. of or having to do with, as in captive.
 2. tending to; likely to, as in imitative.
i vied (i'vəd), covered or overgrown with ivy. adj.
i vo ry (i'və rē), 1. a hard white substance composing the tusks of elephants, walruses, etc. Ivory is used for piano keys, billiard balls, combs, ornaments, etc. 2. substance like ivory. 3. made of ivory. 4. of or like ivory. 5. creamy white. 1,2,5 n., pl. i vo ries; 3-5 adj.

Ivory Coast, republic in W Africa on the Atlantic. 3,214,100 pop.; 124,503 sq. mi. Capital: Abidjan.
ivy tower, place or condition of withdrawal from the world of action into a world of ideas and dreams.
i vy (i'vē), 1. a climbing plant with smooth, shiny, evergreen leaves, also called English ivy. 2. any of various other climbing plants that resemble the English ivy, such as American ivy, Boston ivy, Japanese ivy, poison ivy. n., pl. i vies.
I wo Ji ma (ē'wō jē'mə), a small island in the N Pacific, formerly held by the Japanese, captured by United States forces in February and March of 1945.
I.W.W., Industrial Workers of the World.
-ize, suffix meaning:
 1. make, as in legalize, centralize.
 2. become, as in crystallize, materialize.
 3. engage in; be busy with; use, as in apologize, theorize.
 4. treat with, as in circularize, macadamize.
 5. other meanings, as in alphabetize, colonize, criticize.
Iz mir (iz'mir), seaport in W Turkey, on the Aegean Sea. 371,000. n. Also, Smyrna. iz zard (iz'ərd), Archaic or Dialect. the letter Z. n. from A to izzard, from beginning to end; completely.

Ivy:
A, English ivy;
B, poison ivy.

J

J or j (jā), the tenth letter of the alphabet. n., pl. J's or j's.
jab (jab), thrust with something pointed; poke: He jabbed his fork into the potato. v., jabbed, jabbing, n.
jab ber (jab'ər), 1. talk very fast in a confused, senseless way; chatter. 2. very fast, confused, or senseless talk; chatter. 1 v., 2 n. —jab'ber er, n.
ja bot (zha bō' or zhab'ō), ruffle or frill of lace, worn at the throat or down the front of a woman's dress or, formerly, on a man's shirt. n.
jack (jak), 1. man; boy; fellow. 2. sailor. 3. tool or machine for lifting or pushing up heavy weights a short distance. 4. lift or push up with a jack. 5. U.S. a playing card with a picture of a court page on it; knave. 6. jackstone; pebble or piece of metal tossed up and caught in a child's game. 7. Brit. a small ball for players to aim at in bowling. 8. a small flag used on a ship to show nationality or as a signal. 9. device to turn roasting meat. 10. a male donkey. 11. jack rabbit. 12. an electrical device to receive a plug. 1-3, 5-12 n., 4 v.
every man jack, everyone.
jacks, jackstones; a child's game in which pebbles or pieces of metal are tossed up and caught or picked up in various ways.
jack up, 1. lift up with a jack. 2. Informal. raise (prices, wages, etc.).
Jack (jak), 1. nickname for John. 2. sailor. n.
jack al (jak'əl or jak'əl), 1. a wild dog of Asia and Africa. It was supposed to hunt prey for the lion and eat what the lion left. 2. person who does drudgery for another. n.
jack a napes (jak'ə nāps), a pert, presuming fellow. n.
jack ass (jak'as'), 1. a male donkey. 2. a very stupid person; fool. n.

A jack raising an automobile by its bumper

Jackal (about 15 in. high at the shoulder) jack boot (jak'büt'), a large strong boot reaching above the knee. n.

jack daw (jak'dō'), a European crow. n.
jack et (jak'it), 1. a short coat. 2. an outer covering. The paper cover for a book, the casing around a steam pipe, and the skin of a potato are jackets. 3. put a jacket on; cover with a jacket. 1,2 n., 3 v. —jack'et less, adj.
Jack Frost, frost or freezing cold weather thought of as a person.
jack-in-a-box (jak'in ə boks'), a jack-in-the-box. n.
jack-in-the-box (jak'in tʰə boks'), a toy figure that springs up from a box when the lid is unfastened. n.
jack-in-the-pulpit (jak'in tʰə pʌl'pit), plant with a greenish, petallike sheath arched over the flower stalk. n.
jack knife (jak'nif'), U.S. 1. a large strong pocket-knife. 2. kind of dive in which the diver touches his feet with his hands before entering the water. n., pl. jack knives.
jack of all trades, person who can do many different kinds of work fairly well.
jack-o'-lan tern (jak'ə lan'tərn), 1. pumpkin hollowed out and cut to look like a face, used as a lantern at Halloween. 2. will-o'-the-wisp; a moving light appearing at night over marshy places. n.
jack pot, stakes that accumulate in a poker game until some player wins with a pair of jacks or something better.
jack rabbit, a large hare of W North America, having very long legs and ears. See hare for picture.
jack screw (jak'skrū'), tool or machine for lifting heavy weights short distances, operated by a screw. n.
Jack son (jak'sən), 1. Andrew, 1767-1845, the seventh president of the United States, from 1829 to 1837. He was a general in the War of 1812. 2. Thomas Jonathan, 1824-1863, American Confederate general. He was called "Stonewall" Jackson. 3. capital of Mississippi, in the central part. 144,000. 4. city in S Michigan. 51,000. n.

Jackboot

Jack so ni an (jak sō'nē ən), 1. of or like Andrew Jackson or his principles. 2. follower of Andrew Jackson. 1 adj., 2 n.

Jack son ville (jak'sən vil), city in NE Florida. 201,000. n.

jack stone (jak'stōn'), pebble or piece of metal tossed up and caught in a child's game. n.

jackstones, a child's game in which pebbles or pieces of metal are tossed up and caught or picked up in various ways; jacks.

jack straw (jak'strō'), straw, strip of wood, bone, etc., used in a game. n.

jackstraws, game played with a set of these thrown down in a confused pile and picked up one at a time without moving any of the rest of the pile.

Jack Tar or jack tar, sailor.

Ja cob (jā'kəb), the son of Isaac, and younger twin brother of Esau. From Jacob's 12 sons the 12 tribes of Israel traced their descent. Genesis 25-50. n.

Jacob's ladder, 1. a ladder to heaven that Jacob saw in a dream. Genesis 28:12. 2. a rope ladder used on ships.

Ja cob's-lad der (jā'kəbz lad'ər), a common garden plant with ladderlike leaves. n.

jade¹ (jād), 1. a hard stone used for jewels and ornaments. Most jade is green, but some is whitish. 2. green. 1,2 n., 2 adj.

jade² (jād), 1. an inferior or worn-out horse. 2. (used contemptuously or playfully) woman. 3. wear out; tire; weary. 4. dull by continual use; surfeit; satiate. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., jad ed, jad ing.

jaded (jād'id), 1. worn out; tired; weary. 2. dulled from continual use; surfeited; satiated: a jaded appetite. adj.

jae ger or jä ger (yā'gər), a sea bird like a gull, that pursues weaker birds and makes them disgorge their prey. n.

Jaf fa (jaf'ə), seaport in W Israel, adjoining Tel Aviv. In ancient times it was called Joppa. 102,000. n.

jag (jag), 1. a sharp point sticking out; pointed projection: a jag of rock. 2. make notches in. 3. cut or tear unevenly. 1 n., 2,3 v., jag ged, jag ging.

jag ged (jag'id), with sharp points sticking out; notched; unevenly cut or torn: We cut our bare feet on the jagged rocks. adj. —jag'ged-ly, adv.

jag uar (jag'wär), a fierce animal much like a leopard, but more heavily built. It lives in forests in the warmer parts of America. n.

jail (jāl), 1. prison. 2. prison for people awaiting trial or being punished for minor offenses. 3. put in jail; keep in jail. 1,2 n., 3 v. Also, Brit. gaol. —jail'-like', adj.

break jail, escape from jail.

jail bird (jāl'bērd'), 1. prisoner in jail. 2. person who has been in jail many times. n.

jail break (jāl'brāk'), Informal. escape from jail or prison. n.

jail delivery, 1. escape from jail or prison. 2. clearing a jail of prisoners by bringing them to trial.

jail er or jail or (jāl'ər), 1. keeper of a jail. 2. person who keeps someone or something confined. n. Also, Brit. gaoler.

Jai pur (jā'pūr), city in central India. 291,000. n.

Ja kar ta (jā'kār'tə), Djakarta. n.

ja lop y (jə'lop'ē), Informal. an old automobile or airplane in bad condition. n., pl. ja lop ies.

jal ou sie (zhāl'ū zē'), 1. a window shade or shutter made of horizontal slats set at an angle; Venetian blind. Jalousies let in light and air, but keep out sun and rain. 2. a ventilating window made of adjustable horizontal strips of glass. n.

Jaguar (about 6 ft. long, including the tail) jam¹ (jam), 1. press; squeeze: The ship was jammed between two rocks. 2. crush; bruise: jam your fingers in the door. 3. push; shove: jam a fist into a person's face. 4. fill up; block up: The river was jammed with logs. 5. stick or catch so that it cannot be worked: The window has jammed; I can't open it. 6. cause to stick or catch. 7. mass of people or things crowded together so that they cannot move freely: a traffic jam. 8. a jamming. 9. being jammed. 10. Informal. a difficulty or tight spot. 11. make (radio signals, etc.) unintelligible by sending out others of approximately the same frequency. 1-6,11 v., jammed, jam ming; 7-10 n.

jam² (jam), fruit boiled with sugar until thick. n. —jam'like', adj.

Ja mai ca (jə mā'kə), 1. an island country in the West Indies, south of Cuba, a member of the British Commonwealth. 1,607,000 pop.; 4411 sq. mi. Capital: Kingston. 2. kind of rum made there. n. —Ja-mai'can, adj., n.

jamb or jambe (jam), the upright piece forming the side of a doorway, window, fireplace, etc. n.

jam bo ree (jam'bō rē'), 1. a large rally or gathering of Boy Scouts. 2. U.S. Slang. a noisy party; lively entertainment. n.

James (jāmz), 1. the name of two of Christ's apostles. 2. book of the New Testament. 3. river flowing from W Virginia into Chesapeake Bay. 340 mi. n.

James Bay, the southern part of Hudson Bay, in SE Canada. 350 mi. long.

James town (jāmz'toun), a ruined village in SE Virginia. The first successful English settlement in North America was made there in 1607. n.

jam-packed (jam'pakt'), Informal. filled to absolute capacity; packed tightly. adj.

jam session, Slang. gathering at which musicians play popular compositions with lively improvisations. Jan., January.

jan gle (jang'gl), 1. sound harshly. 2. cause to sound harshly: The boys jangled cowbells. 3. a harsh sound. 4. quarrel; dispute. 1,2,4 v., jan gled, jan gling; 3,4 n. —jan'gler, n.

jan i tor (jan'ə tər), 1. person hired to take care of a building, offices, etc. 2. doorman. n.

jan i tress (jan'ə tris), a woman janitor. n.

Jan u ar y (jan'yū er'ē), the first month of the year. It has 31 days. n., pl. Jan u ar ies.

Ja nus (jā'nəs), the Roman god of gates and doors, and of beginnings and endings, represented with two faces, one looking forward and the other looking backward. n.

Ja nus-faced (jā'nəs fāst'), two-faced; double-dealing; deceitful. adj.

Ja pan (jə pan'),

1. an island empire in the Pacific, east of Asia. 90,500,000 pop.; 142,275 sq. mi. Capital: Tokyo. Also, Nippon. 2. Sea of, part of the Pacific between Japan and Asia. 405,000 sq. mi. n.

ja pan (jə pan'), 1. a hard, glossy varnish. Black japan is used on wood or metal. 2. put japan on. 3. articles varnished and decorated in the Japanese manner. 4. liquid used to make paint dry faster. 1,3,4 n., 2 v., ja panned, ja pan ning.

Japan current, a warm current in the Pacific.

Jap a nese (jap'ə nēz'), 1. of Japan, its people, or their language: Japanese art, Japanese writings, Japanese customs. 2. native of Japan. 3. language of Japan. 1 adj., 2, 3 n., pl. Jap a nese.

Japanese beetle, a small green-and-brown beetle that eats fruits, leaves, and grasses. It was accidentally brought from Japan to the United States where it has done much damage to crops.

jape (jāp), 1. joke; jest. 2. trick. n., v., japed, japing. —jap'er, n.

ja pon i ca (jə pon'ə kə), 1. camellia. 2. shrub with showy red, pink, or white flowers. n.

jar (jār), 1. a deep container made of glass, earthenware, etc., with a wide mouth. 2. amount that it holds: George claims he can eat a whole jar of jelly at breakfast. n.

jar (jār), 1. shake; rattle: Your heavy footsteps jar my table. 2. a shake; rattle. 3. make a harsh, grating noise. 4. a harsh, grating noise. 5. have a harsh, unpleasant effect on; shock: The children's screams jar my nerves. 6. a harsh, unpleasant effect; shock. 7. clash; quarrel: Our opinions jar. 8. a clash; quarrel. 1, 3, 5, 7 v., jarred, jar ring; 2, 4, 6, 8 n.

jar di niere (jārd'n ir'), an ornamental pot or stand for flowers or plants. n.

jargon (jār'gən), 1. confused, meaningless talk or writing. 2. language that is not understood. 3. language of a special group, profession, etc. Doctors, actors, and sailors have jargons. 4. mixture of languages. 5. talk jargon. 6. chatter. 1-4 n., 5, 6 v.

Jas., James.

jas mine or jas min (jas'mən), shrub or vine with clusters of fragrant flowers. There are yellow, white, and red jasmynes. n. Also, jessamine.

Ja son (jā'sn), in Greek legend, the Greek hero who led the expedition of the Argonauts and secured the Golden Fleece. n.

jas per (jas'pər), 1. a colored quartz, usually red or brown. 2. a green precious stone of ancient times. n.

ja to (jā'tō), in aeronautics, a unit consisting of one or more jet engines, used to provide auxiliary propulsion for speeding up the take-off of an airplane. n.

jaun dice (jōn'dis), 1. disease that causes yellowness of the skin, eyes, and body fluids, and disturbed vision. 2. cause jaundice in. 3. a disturbed or unnaturally sour mental outlook, due to envy, jealousy, etc. 4. prejudice the mind and judgment of, by envy, discontent, etc.; sour the temper of. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v., jaun diced, jaundicing.

jaunt (jōnt), 1. a short pleasure trip or excursion. 2. take a short pleasure trip or excursion. 1 n., 2 v.

jaunting car, light cart having two seats back to back, used in Ireland.

jaun ty (jōn'tē), 1. easy and lively; sprightly; carefree: The happy boy walked with jaunty steps. 2. smart; stylish: She wore a jaunty little hat. adj., jaun ti er, jaun ti est. —jaun'ti ly, adv. —jaun'ti ness, n.

Ja va (jā'və or jāv'ə), 1. a large island southeast of Asia. It is the most important island of Indonesia. 55,000,000 pop.; 48,800 sq. mi. See Indonesia for map. 2. kind of coffee obtained from Java and nearby islands. 3. U.S. Slang. coffee. n.

Jav a nese (jav'ə nēz'), 1. of Java, its people, or their language. 2. native of Java. 3. language of Java. 1 adj., 2, 3 n., pl. Jav a nese.

jave lin (jav'lən), a light spear thrown by hand. n. jaw (jō), 1. either of the two bones, or sets of bones, that form the framework of the mouth. The lower jaw is movable. 2. either of the parts in a tool or machine that grip and hold. A vise has jaws. 3. Slang. talk; gossip. 4. find fault; scold. 1-3 n., 3, 4 v. —jaw'less, adj.

jaws, 1. mouth with its jawbones and teeth. 2. a narrow entrance to a valley, mountain pass, channel, etc.

jaw bone (jō'bōn'), 1. bone of either jaw. 2. bone of the lower jaw. n.

jay (jā), 1. a noisy American bird with blue feathers; bluejay. 2. a noisy European bird with a crest. 3. any of various birds of the same family as these two. n.

Jay (jā), John, 1745-1829, American statesman, the first chief justice of the United States Supreme Court, from 1789 to 1795. n.

Jay hawk er (jā'hōk'ər), native or inhabitant of Kansas. n.

jay walk (jā'wōk'), Informal. walk across a street without paying attention to traffic rules. v. —jay'walk'er, n.

jazz (jaz), 1. music with the accents falling at unusual places; syncopated music. The players slide from tone to tone, introduce dissonances, independent tones, long-drawn wavering or wailing sounds, etc. 2. of or like jazz: a jazz band. 3. play (music) as jazz. 4. Slang. liveliness. 5. Slang. make lively. 1, 4 n., 2 adj., 3, 5 v.

JCS, Joint Chiefs of Staff.

jct., junction.

Je., June.

jeal ous (jel'əs), 1. fearful that a person one loves may love someone else better or may prefer someone else. One may be jealous of the person loved or of the rival. 2. full of envy; envious: He is jealous of John and of John's marks. 3. requiring complete loyalty or faithfulness: "The Lord thy God is a jealous God." 4. watchful in keeping or guarding something; careful: Our city is jealous of its rights within the State. 5. close; watchful; suspicious: The dog was a jealous guardian of the child. adj. —jeal'ous ly, adv. —jeal'ous ness, n.

jeal ous y (jel'əs ē), jealous condition or feeling. n., pl. jeal ous ies.

jean (jēn), a strong twilled cotton cloth, used for overalls, etc. n.

jeans, overalls; trousers.

Jeanne d'Arc (zhān' dār'k'), French. Joan of Arc.

Jeb el Mu sa (jeb'əl mū'sā), mountain in N Morocco, opposite Gibraltar. 2800 ft.

jeep (jēp), 1. a small, but powerful, general-purpose automobile with a four-wheel drive. It was originally designed for use by the United States Army and holds a quarter of a ton. 2. any of certain automobiles for civilian use based on this. n.

jeer (jir), 1. make fun rudely or unkindly; mock; scoff: Do not jeer at the mistakes or misfortunes of others. 2. a jeering remark; rude, sarcastic comment. 1 v., 2 n.

jeer ing ly (jir'ing lē), in a jeering manner; with derision. adv.

Jef fer son (jef'ər sən), Thomas, 1743-1826, American statesman, third president of the United States, from 1801 to 1809. He drafted the Declaration of Independence. n.

Jefferson City, capital of Missouri. 28,000.

Jef fer so ni an (jef'ər sō'nē ən), 1. of or like Thomas Jefferson or his political principles; democratic. 2. follower of Thomas Jefferson. 1 adj., 2 n.

Je ho vah (ji hō'və), one of the names of God in the Old Testament. n.

je hu (jē'hū), Informal. 1. a fast driver. 2. coachman. n.

je june (ji jūn'), 1. lacking nourishing qualities. 2. flat and uninteresting. adj.

je ju num (ji jū'nəm), the middle portion of the small intestine, between the duodenum and the ileum. n.

jell (jel), Informal. 1. become jelly. 2. jelly. 1 v., 2 n. jel lied (jel'id), 1. turned into jelly; having the consistency of jelly. 2. spread with jelly. adj.

jel ly (jel'ē), 1. a food, soft when hot, but somewhat firm and partly transparent when cold. Jelly can be made by boiling fruit juice and sugar together, by cooking bones and meat juice, or by using some stiffening preparation like gelatin. 2. a jellylike substance. 3. become jelly; turn into jelly. 1,2 n., pl. jel lies; 3 v., jellied, jelly ing. —jel'ly-like', adj.

Jaunting car

jel ly fish (jel'ē fish'), any of a group of invertebrate sea animals with a body formed of a mass of jellylike tissue that is often transparent. Most jellyfish have long trailing tentacles that may bear stinging hairs or feelers. n., pl. jelly fish es or (esp. collectively) jelly fish.

Jellyfish. It moves through the water by opening and shutting like an umbrella. The tentacles convey food into the mouth (the dark oval in the center).

Jen ner (jen'ər), Edward, 1749-1823, English physician who discovered vaccination for smallpox. n.

jen net (jen'it), a small Spanish horse. n.

jen ny (jen'ē), 1. spinning jenny. 2. female of certain animals: jenny wren. n., pl. jen nies.

jeop ard ize (jep'ər diz), risk; endanger; imperil: Soldiers jeopardize their lives in war. v., jeop ard ized, jeop ard iz ing.

jeop ard y (jep'ər dē), risk; danger; peril: His life was in jeopardy when the tree fell. n.

Jeph thah (jef'thə), in the Bible, a judge of Israel who sacrificed his only daughter to fulfill a rash vow. Judges 11:30-40. n.

jer bo a (jər bō'ə), a small, jumping, mouselike mammal of Asia and N Africa. n.

jer e mi ad (jer'ə mī'ad), a mournful complaint; lamentation. n.

Jer e mi ah (jer'ə mī'ə), 1. a Hebrew prophet who denounced, and lamented the evils of his time. 2. book of the Old Testament. n.

Jerboa (about 15 in. long, including the tail)

Jer i cho (jer'ə kō), 1. an ancient city in Palestine. According to the Bible, its walls fell down at the noise made by the trumpets of Joshua's attacking army. See Nazareth for map. 2. an out-of-the-way place. n., pl. Jer i chos.

jerk (jərk), 1. a sudden, sharp pull, twist, or start: His old car started with a jerk. 2. pull or twist of the muscles that one cannot control; twitch. 3. pull or twist suddenly: If the water is unexpectedly hot, you jerk your hand out. 4. throw with a movement that stops suddenly. 5. move with a jerk: The old wagon jerked along. 6. speak or say abruptly. 1,2 n., 3-6 v.

jerk'y (jərk'), preserve (meat) by cutting it into long thin slices and drying it in the sun. The early settlers in America used to jerk beef. v.

jer kin (jər'kən), a short coat or jacket, with or without sleeves. Men wore tight leather jerkins in the 16th and 17th centuries. n.

jerk wa ter (jərk'wō'tər), U.S. Informal. 1. train on a branch railway. 2. not on the main line. 3. insignificant. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

jerk y (jərk'ē), with sudden starts and stops; with jerks. adj., jerk i er, jerk i est. —jerk'i ly, adv. —jerk'i ness, n.

Je rome (jə rōm'), Saint, 340?-420 A.D., monk and scholar, author of the Latin translation of the Old Testament known as the Vulgate. n.

jer ry-built (jer'ē bilt'), built quickly and cheaply of poor materials; flimsy. adj.

Jer sey (jər'zē), 1. one of a group of British islands, near the coast of France. 55,000 pop.; 45 sq. mi. See Channel Islands for map. 2. one of a breed of small, fawn-colored cattle that came from this island. Jerseys give very rich milk. 3. New Jersey. n., pl. Jer seys.

jer sey (jər'zē), 1. a close-fitting sweater that is pulled on over the head. 2. a woman's close-fitting knitted undergarment. 3. a machine-knitted cloth. n., pl. jer seys.

Jersey City, seaport in NE New Jersey. 276,000.

Je ru sa lem (jə rū'sl əm), capital of Israel and formerly of Palestine, in the E part. It is a holy city to Jews, Christians, and Moslems. 160,000. See Nazareth for map. n.

jess (jes), 1. a short strap fastened around a falcon's leg. A leash could be attached to it. 2. put the jesses on. 1 n., 2 v.

jes sa mine (jes'ə min), jasmine. n.

Jes se (jē'sē), in the Bible, the father of David. n.

Jes sel ton (jes'l tən), capital of Sabah. 21,000. n.

jest (jest), 1. joke. 2. poke fun (at); make fun. 3. act of poking fun; mockery. 4. thing to be mocked or laughed at. 1,3,4 n., 1,2 v. —jest'ing ly, adv.

in jest, in fun; not seriously.

jest er (jēs'tər), person who jests. In the Middle Ages kings often had jesters to amuse them. n.

Je su (jē'zū), Poetic. Jesus. n.

Jes u it (jēzh'ū it or jēz'yū it), member of a Roman Catholic religious order called the Society of Jesus, founded by Saint Ignatius Loyola in 1534. Some of the first explorers of North America were Jesuits. n.

Je sus (jē'zəs), founder of the Christian religion. n.

Jesus Christ, Jesus.

jet (jet), 1. a stream of water, steam, gas, or any liquid, sent with force, especially from a small opening: A fountain sends up a jet of water. 2. a spout or nozzle for sending out a jet. 3. gush out; shoot forth in a jet or forceful stream. 4. a jet plane. 1,2,4 n., 3 v., jet ted, jet ting.
jet' (jet'), 1. a hard black mineral, glossy when polished, used for making beads, buttons, etc. It is a kind of lignite. 2. made of jet. 3. deep glossy black. 1,3 n., 2,3 adj.

jet-black (jet'blak'), very black. adj.

jet engine, an engine using jet propulsion.

jet pilot, one who operates a jet plane.

jet plane, airplane that is driven by jet propulsion.

jet-pro pelled (jet'prə peld'), propelled in one direction by means of a jet of air, gas, etc., that is forced in the opposite direction. adj.

jet propulsion, propulsion in one direction by a jet of air, gas, etc., forced in the opposite direction.

jet sam (jet'səm), 1. goods thrown overboard to lighten a ship in distress and often afterwards washed ashore. 2. thing tossed aside as useless. n.

jet stream, current of air traveling at very high speed (up to 350 miles per hour or more) from west to east at high altitudes (six to eight miles). Jet streams are often used by airplane pilots to gain extra speed when traveling in an easterly direction.

jet ti son (jet'ə sn), 1. throw (goods) overboard to lighten a ship in distress. 2. act of throwing goods overboard to lighten a ship in distress. 3. goods thrown overboard; jetsam. 4. throw away; discard. 1,4 v., 2,3 n.

jet ty (jet'ē), 1. structure built out into the water to protect a harbor or influence the current; breakwater. 2. a landing place; pier. n., pl. jet ties.

Jew (jū), 1. member of a people that formerly lived in Palestine, but now live in many countries. 2. person whose religion is Judaism; Hebrew. 3. Jewish. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

jew el (jū'əl), 1. a precious stone; gem. 2. a valuable ornament to be worn, set with precious stones. 3. person or thing that is very precious. 4. gem or some substitute used as a bearing in a watch. 5. set or adorn with jewels or with things like jewels: God has jeweled the sky with stars. 1-4 n., 5 v., jew eled, jew el ing or esp. Brit. jew elled, jew el ling. —jew'el like', adj.

jewel case, box or case to hold jewelry.

jeweler (jū'əl ər), person who makes, sells, or repairs jewelry, jeweled ornaments, watches, etc. n.

jeweller (jū'əl ər), Esp. Brit. jeweler. n.

jewellery (jū'əl rē), Esp. Brit. jewelry. n.

jewelry (jū'əl rē), jewelry. n.

jewel weed (jū'əl wēd'), plant with yellow or orange-yellow flowers. n.

Jewess (jū'is), a Jewish woman or girl. n.

Jewish (jū'ish), 1. of the Jews; belonging to the Jews; characteristic of the Jews: Jewish customs. 2. Yiddish. 1 adj., 2 n.

Jewry (jū'rē), 1. Jews as a group; Jewish people. 2. Obsolete. district where Jews live; ghetto. 3. Judea. n., pl. Jewries.

jews'-harp or jew's-harp (jūz'hārp'), a simple musical instrument, held between the teeth and played by striking the free end of a flexible piece of metal with a finger. n.

Jews'-harp. Various tones are produced by changing the position of the lips.

Jezabel (jez'ə bl), 1. in the Bible, the wicked wife of Ahab, king of Israel. I Kings 21, II Kings 9:30-37. 2. a shameless, immoral woman. n.

jr or j.g., junior grade.

jib (jib), a triangular sail in front of the foremast. n.

cut of one's jib, Informal. one's outward appearance.

jib² (jib), jibe. v., jibbed, jibbing.

jib³ (jib), move sideways or backward instead of forward; refuse to go ahead. v., jibbed, jibbing.

jib⁴ (jib), the projecting arm of a crane or derrick. n.

jib boom, spar extending out from a ship's bowsprit. On a large sailing ship the jib is fastened to it.

jibe (jib), 1. shift (a sail) from one side of a ship to the other when sailing before the wind. 2. shift itself in this way: Be careful or your mainsail will jibe. 3. change the course of a ship so that the sails shift in this way. v., jibed, jibing. Also, jib.

jibe² (jib), gibe. v., jibed, jibing, n. —jib'er, n.

jibe³ (jib), U.S. Informal. be in harmony; agree. v., jibed, jibing.

jiffy (jif'ē), Informal. a very short time; moment. n., pl. jiffies.

jig (jig), 1. a lively dance, often in triple time. 2. music for it. 3. dance a jig. 4. move jerkily; jerk up and down or back and forth. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., jigged, jigging.

The jig is up, Slang. It's all over; there's no more chance.

jig² (jig), 1. a fishhook, or set of fishhooks, loaded with a bright metal or having a spoon-shaped piece of bone attached, for drawing through the water. 2. any of various mechanical contrivances or devices; especially, a guide in using a drill, file, etc. n.

jigger (jig'ər), Informal. some device, article, or part that one cannot name more precisely; gadget; contraption. n.

jiggle (jig'gl), 1. shake or jerk slightly. 2. a slight shake; light jerk. 1 v., jig gled, jig gling; 2 n.

jig saw (jig'sō'), a narrow saw mounted in a frame and worked with an up-and-down motion, used to cut curves or irregular lines. n.

jigsaw puzzle, picture sawed into irregular pieces that can be fitted together again.

jill or Jill (jil), 1. woman; girl. 2. sweetheart; wife. n.

jilt (jilt), 1. cast off (a lover or sweetheart) after giving encouragement. 2. woman who casts off a lover after encouraging him. 1 v., 2 n. —jilt'er, n.

Jim Crow (jim'krō'), U.S. 1. Unfriendly Slang. Negro. 2. discrimination against Negroes.

jim mv (jim'v), 1. a short crowbar used especially by

JIB BOOM
BOWSPRIT
FORWARD PART OF SHIP

burglars to force windows, doors, etc., open. 2. force open with a jimmy. 1 n., pl. jim mies; 2 v., jim mied, jim my ing.

Jimson weed or Jimson weed (jim'sn), a tall, coarse, bad-smelling weed with white flowers and poisonous, narcotic leaves.

jingle (jing'gl), 1. sound like that of little bells, or of coins or keys striking together. 2. make a jingling sound: The sleigh bells jingle as we ride. 3. cause to jingle: jingle one's money. 4. verse or music that has a jingling sound: Mother Goose rhymes are jingles. 5. make jingling verses. 6. be full of simple rhymes and repetitions. 1,4 n., 2,3,5,6 v., jin gled, jingling.

jingly (jing'glē), like a jingle. adj.

jingo (jing'gō), 1. person who favors an aggressive foreign policy that might lead to war with other nations. 2. of jingoes; like that of jingoes. 1 n., pl. jin goes; 2 adj.

jingoism (jing'gō iz əm), attitude of mind, policy, or practices of jingoes. n.

jingoistic (jing'gō is'tik), of jingoes; like that of jingoes. adj.

jinn (jin), in Moslem mythology: 1. spirits that can appear in human or animal form and do good or harm to people. 2. one of these spirits; jinni: The jinn turned the stone into gold. 1 n. pl. of jinni; 2 n. sing., pl. jinns.

jin ni or jin nee (ji nē'), one of the jinn. n., pl. jinn.

jin rik i sha or jin rick sha (jin rik'shə), a small, two-wheeled, hooded carriage pulled by one or more men, used in Japan, China, etc. n. Also, rickshaw, ricksha.

Jinrikisha

jinx (jingsks), Slang. 1. person or thing that brings bad luck. 2. bring bad luck to. 1 n., 2 v.

jitney (jit'nē), U.S. Slang. 1. automobile that carries passengers for a small fare. It usually travels along a regular route. 2. a five-cent piece; nickel. n., pl. jitneys.

jit ter bug (jit'ər bug'), Informal. 1. person who is very fond of swing music and excited by it to lively dance movements and gestures. 2. dance in such a way. 1 n., 2 v., jit ter bugged, jit ter bug ging.

jit ters (jit'ərz), U.S. Slang. extreme nervousness. n. pl.

jit ter y (jit'ər ē), U.S. Slang. nervous. adj.

jiu jit su or jiu jut su (jū jit'sū), jujitsu. n.

jive (juv), Slang. 1. swing music. 2. perform swing music. 3. dancing to swing music. 4. the talk of swing enthusiasts. 1,3,4 n., 2 v., jived, jiving.

Joan of Arc (jōn' əv ər'k), 1412-1431, French heroine who led armies against the invading English and saved the city of Orléans. She was condemned as a witch and burned to death. In 1920 she was made a saint. Also French, Jeanne d'Arc.

job (job), 1. piece of work: Dick had the job of painting the boat. 2. a definite piece of work undertaken for a fixed price: If you want your house painted, Mr. Jones will do the job for $500. 3. done by the job; hired for a particular piece of work. 4. U.S. Informal. work; employment: Mary's brother is hunting for a job. 5. anything one has to do: I'm not going to wash the dishes; that's your job. 6. Informal. affair; matter. 7. manage a public job for private gain in a dishonest way. 8. piece of public or official business managed dishonestly for private gain. 9. buy (goods) from manufacturers in large quantities and sell to dealers in smaller lots. 10. let out (work) to different contractors, workmen, etc. 11. work at odd jobs. 1,2,4-6,8 n., 3 adj., 7,9-11 v., jobbed, jobbing. —job'less, adj.

Job (jōb), 1. a very patient man in the Bible who kept his faith in God in spite of many troubles. 2. book of the Old Testament. n.

jobber (job'ər), 1. person who buys goods from manufacturers in large quantities and sells to retailers in smaller quantities. 2. person who manages public business dishonestly for private gain. 3. person who works by the job; pieceworker. n.

job hold er (jɒb'hɒl'dər), 1. person regularly employed. 2. employee of the United States government. n.

job lot, quantity of goods bought or sold together, often containing several different kinds of things.

jock ey (jɒk'ē), 1. boy or man whose occupation is riding horses in races. 2. ride (a horse) in a race. 3. trick; cheat: Swindlers jockeyed Mr. Smith into buying some worthless land. 4. maneuver to get advantage: The crews were jockeying their boats to get into the best position for the race. 1 n., pl. jock eys; 2-4 v., jock eyed, jock ey ing.

jo cose (jō kōs'), jesting; humorous; playful. adj. —jo cose/ly, adv.

jo cos i ty (jō kos'ə tē), 1. jocose quality. 2. a joking. 3. joke. n., pl. jo cos i ties.

joc u lar (jɒk'yə lər), funny; joking. adj. —joc/u lar ly, adv.

joc u lar i ty (jɒk'yə lər'ə tē), 1. jocular quality. 2. jocular talk or behavior. 3. a jocular remark or act. n., pl. joc u lar i ties.

joc und (jɒk'ʌnd), cheerful; merry; gay. adj. —joc/und ly, adv.

jo cun di ty (jō kun'də tē), cheerfulness; merriment; gaiety. n.

jodh purs (jɒd'pərz), breeches for horseback riding, loose above the knees and fitting closely below. n.pl.

Jo el (jō'el), 1. a Hebrew prophet of the fifth century B.C. 2. book of the Old Testament. n.

jog¹ (jɒg), 1. shake with a push or jerk: You may jog a person's elbow to get his attention. 2. a shake, push, or nudge. 3. stir up (one's own or another person's memory). 4. an urge; a hint or reminder: give one's memory a jog. 5. move up or down with a jerk or a shaking motion: The old horse jogged along, and jogged me up and down on his back. 6. go forward heavily and slowly. 7. a slow walk or trot. 1,3,5,6 v., jogged, jog ging; 2,4,7 n. —jog/ger, n.

jog² (jɒg), Chiefly U.S. Informal. part that sticks out or in; unevenness in a line or surface: a jog in a wall. n.

jog gle¹ (jɒg'l), 1. shake slightly. 2. a slight shake. 1 v., jog gled, jog ging; 2 n.

jog gle² (jɒg'l), 1. projection on one of two joining surfaces, or notch on the other, to prevent slipping. 2. joint made in this way. 3. join or fasten with a joggle. 1,2 n., 3 v., jog gled, jog gling.

jog trot, 1. a slow, regular trot. 2. a routine or humdrum way of doing things.

Jo han nes burg (jō han'is bɜrg), the largest city in the Republic of South Africa, noted for its gold mines. 1,053,000. n.

John (jɒn), 1. one of Christ's Apostles. He may be the author of the Gospel of Saint John, the three epistles of John, and Revelation. 2. the fourth book of the New Testament. 3. John the Baptist. 4. 1167?-1216, king of England from 1199 to 1216. He signed the Magna Charta in 1215. n.

John XXIII, 1881-1963, pope from 1958 to 1963.

John Bull, 1. the typical Englishman. 2. the English nation.

John Doe, a fictitious name used in legal forms or proceedings for the name of an unknown person.

John Do ry (dɒ'rē), an edible sea fish that has a high, flat body, spiny fins, and a large, black, yellow-ringed spot on each side. pl. John Do rys.

John Han cock (han'kok), U.S. a person's signature.

john ny cake (jɒn'ē kāk'), U.S. corn bread in the form of a flat cake. It is cooked on a board before an open fire, on a griddle, or in a pan in an oven. n.

Girl wearing jodhpurs

John ny-jump-up (jɒn'ē jump'ʌp'), U.S. 1. a popular name for the wild pansy. 2. any of various American violets. n.

John son (jɒn'sən), 1. Andrew, 1808-1875, the 17th president of the United States, from 1865 to 1869. 2. Lyndon B., born 1908, vice-president of the United States 1961-1963; the 36th president of the United States, since 1963. 3. Samuel, 1709-1784, English author, dictionary maker, and literary leader. n.

John son ese (jɒn'sə nēz'), a pompous, learned literary style, resembling that of Samuel Johnson. n.

John ston (jɒn'stən), 1. Albert Sidney, 1803-1862, Confederate general. 2. Joseph Eggleston, 1807-1891, Confederate general. n.

Johns town (jɒnz'taʊn), city in SW Pennsylvania. A serious flood occurred there in 1889. 54,000. n.

John the Baptist, man in the Bible who foretold the coming of Christ and baptized Him. Matthew 3.

join (join), 1. bring or put together; connect; fasten: join hands, join an island to the mainland by a bridge. 2. come together; meet: The two roads join here. 3. meet and unite with: The brook joins the river. 4. make or become one; combine; unite: join in marriage. 5. take part with others: join in a song. 6. become a member of: join a church. 7. come into the company of: Go now, and I'll join you later. 8. take or return to one's place in: After a few days on shore the sailor joined his ship. 9. adjoin: His farm joins mine. 10. place or line of joining; seam. 1-9 v., 10 n.

join er (join'ər), 1. person or thing that joins. 2. a skilled workman who makes woodwork and furniture. n.

join er y (join'ər ē), 1. skill or trade of a joiner. 2. woodwork or furniture made by a joiner. n.

joint (joint), 1. place at which two things or parts are joined together. 2. the way parts are joined: a perfect joint. 3. connect by a joint or joints. 4. in an animal, the parts where two bones move on one another, and the way those parts are put together. 5. one of the parts of which a jointed thing is made up: the middle joint of the finger. 6. part of the stem from which a leaf or branch grows. 7. piece of meat cut for cooking. 8. divide at the joints: Please joint this chicken before sending it. 9. owned together; owned by, held by, or done by two or more persons: By our joint efforts we managed to push the car back on the road. 10. sharing: My brother and I are joint owners of this dog. 1,2,4-7 n., 3,8, v., 9,10 adj. —joint'er, n.

out of joint, 1. out of place at the joint. 2. out of order; in bad condition.

joint ly (joint'lē), together; in common: The two boys owned the newsstand jointly. adv.

join ture (join'chər), property given to a woman at the time of her marriage. n.

joist (joist), one of the parallel pieces of timber to which the boards of a floor or ceiling are fastened. n.

joke (jɒk), 1. something said or done to make somebody laugh; remark that is clever and amusing; something amusing: This was a good joke on me. 2. make jokes; say or do something as a joke. 3. person or thing laughed at. 4. something that is not in earnest or actually meant. 5. laugh at; make fun of; tease. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v., joked, jok ing. —jok/ing ly, adv.

no joke, a serious matter.

jok er (jɒk'ər), 1. person who jokes. 2. U.S. phrase or sentence hidden away in a law, contract, etc., to defeat its apparent purpose. 3. an extra playing card used in some games. 4. trick for getting the better of someone. n.

Finger joints: J, joints; K, knuckles and their joints.

FLOOR BOARDS JOISTS

Jo li et (jō'lē et), 1. Louis, 1645-1700, French explorer of the Mississippi River. 2. city in NE Illinois. 67,000. n.

jol li fi ca tion (jō'lē fē kā'shən), gay entertainment; merrymaking. n.

jol li ty (jō'lē tē), fun; merriment; festivity; gaiety. n., pl. jol li ties.

jol ly (jō'lē), 1. full of fun; merry. 2. Esp. Brit. Informal. pleasant; agreeable; delightful. 3. Esp. Brit. Informal. extremely; very. 4. Informal. flatter (a person) to make him feel good or agreeable. 1,2 adj., jol li er, jol li est; 3 adv., 4 v., jol lied, jol ly ing. —jol'li ly, adv. —jol'li ness, n.

Jolly Rog er (roj'ər), a pirates' black flag with a skull and crossbones on it.

jolt (jōlt), 1. move with a shock or jerk; jar; shake up: The wagon jolted us when the wheel went over a rock. 2. jar; shock; jerk: He put his brakes on suddenly and the car stopped with a jolt. 1 v., 2 n.

jolt y (jōlt'ē), jolting. adj.

Jo nah (jō'nə), 1. in the Bible, a Hebrew prophet who was thrown overboard during a storm, swallowed by a large fish, and later cast up on land. 2. book of the Old Testament. 3. person whose presence is supposed to bring bad luck. n.

Jon a than (jon'ə thən), in the Bible, the son of Saul, and a devoted friend of David. I Samuel 19:1-10. n.

Jones (jōnz), John Paul, 1747-1792, American naval commander in the American Revolution. n.

jon gleur (jong'glər), a wandering minstrel or entertainer in the Middle Ages. n.

jon quil (jong'kwəl), 1. plant with yellow or white flowers and long slender leaves. It is a kind of narcissus that is much like a daffodil. 2. the flower. n.

Jop pa (jop'ə), an ancient name of Jaffa. n.

Jor dan (jōr'dn), 1. river between Israel and Jordan, flowing into the Dead Sea. 200 mi. 2. country in SW Asia, officially called the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan. 1,658,000 pop.; 37,300 sq. mi. Capital: Amman. Formerly, Transjordan. n.

Jo seph (jō'zəf), 1. in the Bible, the favorite son of Jacob. His jealous brothers sold him into slavery in Egypt, where he finally became governor. Genesis 37:39-41. 2. the husband of Mary, the mother of Jesus. n.

jō seph (jō'zəf), a long riding cloak with a cape, worn by women in the 18th century. n.

Joseph of Ar i ma the a (ar'ə mə thē'ə), in the Bible, a rich man who put the body of Jesus in his own tomb. Matthew 27:57-60.

josh (josh), U.S. Slang. make good-natured fun of; tease fully; banter. v. —josh'er, n.

Josh u a (josh'ü ə), 1. in the Bible, the successor of Moses who led the children of Israel into the Promised Land. 2. book of the Old Testament. n.

joss (jos), image of a Chinese god; Chinese idol. n.

joss house, a Chinese temple.

joss stick, a slender stick of dried fragrant paste, burned by the Chinese as incense.

jost le (jōst'l), 1. crowd, strike, or push against; elbow roughly: We were jostled by the big crowd at the entrance to the circus. 2. a jostling; push; knock. 1 v., jost led, jost ling; 2 n. Also, justle. —jost'ler, n.

jot (jot), 1. a little bit; very small amount: I do not care a jot. 2. write briefly or in haste: The clerk jotted down the order. 1 n., 2 v., jot ted, jot ting. —jot'ter, n.

joule (jou), a unit of work or energy, equal to ten million ergs. n.

ounce (jouns), bounce; bump; jolt. v., jounced, jounce ing, n.

jour nal (jēr'nl), 1. a daily record. 2. account of what happens or of what one thinks, feels, or notices, such as a diary, a ship's log, or the written account of what happens at each meeting of a society or town meeting. 3. newspaper; magazine. 4. in bookkeeping, a book in which every item of business is written down so that the item can be entered under the proper account. 5. part of a shaft or axle that turns on a bearing. n.

jour nal ese (jēr'nl ēz'), a careless style of writing such as is sometimes used in newspapers. n.

jour nal ism (jēr'nl iz əm), 1. work of writing for, editing, managing, or producing a newspaper or magazine. 2. newspapers and magazines as a group. n.

jour nal ist (jēr'nl ist), person engaged in journalism. Editors and reporters are journalists. n.

jour nal is tic (jēr'nl is'tik), of or like journalism or journalists. adj.

jour ney (jēr'nē), 1. travel; trip: a journey around the world. 2. take a trip; travel: to journey to Europe. 1 n., pl. jour neys; 2 v., jour neyed, jour ney ing.

jour ney man (jēr'nē mən), a workman who knows his trade. n., pl. jour ney-men.

joust (just, joust, or jüst),

1. combat between two knights on horseback, armed with lances. 2. fight with lances on horseback.

Knights used to joust with each other for sport. 1 n., 2 v. —joust'er, n.

jousts, a tournament.

Jove (jöv), 1. the Roman god Jupiter. 2. Poetic. the planet Jupiter. n.

by Jove, exclamation of surprise, pleasure, etc.

jo vi al (jō'vē əl), good-hearted and full of fun; good-humored and merry. adj. —jo'vi ally, adv. —jo'vi al ness, n.

jo vi al i ty (jō'vē əl'ə tē), jollity; merriment. n.

Jo vi an (jō'vē ən), 1. of or like the god Jove. 2. of the planet Jupiter. adj.

jowl (jou), 1. part under the jaw; jaw. 2. cheek. n.

jowl (jou), fold of flesh hanging from the jaw. n.

joy (joi), 1. a strong feeling of pleasure; gladness; happiness: Mary showed joy at being promoted. 2. something that causes gladness or happiness: "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." 3. expression of happiness; outward rejoicing. 4. be joyful. 1-3 n., 4 v.

joy ful (joi'fəl), 1. glad; happy: a joyful heart. 2. causing joy: joyful news. 3. showing joy: a joyful look. adj.

—joy'ful ly, adv. —joy'ful ness, n.

joy less (joi'lis), 1. without joy; sad; dismal. 2. not causing joy: a joyless prospect. adj.

joy ous (joi'əs), joyful; glad; gay. adj. —joy'ous-ly, adv. —joy'ous ness, n.

joy ride, Informal. a ride in an automobile for pleasure, especially when the car is driven recklessly or used without the owner's permission.

joy-ride (joi'rid'), Informal. take a joy ride. v., joy-rode, joy-rid den, joy-rid ing. —joy'rid'er, n.

J.P., Justice of the Peace.

Jr. or jr., Junior.

Juan de Fu ca Strait (hwän də fū'kā), strait between Vancouver Island and NW Washington. 100 mi. long.

Ju ba (jü'bə), river flowing from E Africa into the Indian Ocean. 1000 mi. n.

ju bi lance (jü'bl əns), a rejoicing; great joy. n.

ju bi lant (jü'bl ənt), 1. rejoicing; exulting. 2. expressing or showing joy. adj. —ju'bi lant ly, adv.

ju bi la tion (jü'bl ə'shən), 1. a rejoicing. 2. a joyful celebration. n.

ju bi lee (jü'bl ē), 1. time of rejoicing or great joy: to hold a jubilee over victory. 2. rejoicing; great joy: a day of jubilee. 3. a 25th or 50th anniversary. 4. in the Roman Catholic Church, a year in which punishment for sin is remitted, after repentance and the performance of certain acts. n.

Ju dae a (jü də'ə), Judea. n.

Joust

Ju dah (jü/də), 1. son of Jacob and ancestor of the tribe of Judah. 2. the most powerful of the twelve tribes of Israel. 3. an ancient Hebrew kingdom in S Palestine, consisting of the tribes of Judah and Benjamin. n.

Ju da ic (jü dā'ik), of the Jews; Jewish. adj.

Ju da ism (jü dā iz əm), 1. religion of the Jews. 2. the following of Jewish rules and customs. n.

Ju da ize (jü dā iz), conform to Jewish usages or ideas. v., Ju da ized, Ju da iz ing.

Ju das (jü/dəs), 1. in the Bible, Judas Iscariot, the disciple who betrayed Christ for money. 2. an utter traitor; person treacherous enough to betray a friend. 3. in the Bible, Jude, one of the Apostles (not Iscariot). Luke 6:13-16. n.

Judas tree, tree that has red, pink, or purplish flowers before the leaves come out.

Ju de a (jü dē'ə), the S part of Palestine when it was a province of the Roman Empire. See Nazareth for map. n.

Ju de an (jü dē'an), 1. of Judea. 2. of the Jews. 3. a Jew. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

judge (juj), 1. a government official appointed or elected to hear and decide cases in a law court. 2. hear and decide in a law court. 3. person chosen to settle a dispute or decide who wins. 4. settle (a dispute); decide who wins (a race, contest, etc.). 5. person qualified to form an opinion: a good judge of cattle, a poor judge of poetry. 6. make up one's mind about; form an opinion or estimate (of): judge the merits of a book. 7. think; suppose; consider: I judged that you had forgotten to come. 8. criticize; condemn: Who can judge another? 9. ruler in ancient Israel before the time of the kings. 1,3,5,9 n., 2,4,6-8 v., judged, judg ing. —judg'er, n.

judge advocate, officer who acts as a prosecutor at a court-martial.

judge ment (juj'mənt), Esp. Brit. judgment. n.

Judg es (juj'iz), book of the Old Testament dealing with the period in Hebrew history between Joshua and the birth of Samuel. n.

judge ship (juj'ship), position, duties, or term of office of a judge. n.

judg ment (juj'mənt), 1. act of judging. 2. decision, decree, or sentence given by a judge or court. 3. debt arising from a judge's decision. 4. opinion: It was a bad plan in his judgment. 5. ability to form sound opinions; good sense: Solomon was a man of judgment. 6. criticism; condemnation: Do not pass judgment on your neighbors. 7. misfortune considered as a punishment from God: The neighbors considered his broken leg a judgment on him for staying away from church. n.

the Judgment, judgment day.

judgment day, day of God's final judgment of mankind at the end of the world.

ju di ca to ry (jü dā kə tō'rē), 1. of the administration of justice. 2. administration of justice. 3. court of justice. 1 adj., 2,3 n., pl. ju di ca to ries.

ju di cial (jü dish'əl), 1. of or having to do with courts, judges, or the administration of justice. 2. ordered, permitted, or enforced by a judge or a court: Mrs. Barnes got a judicial separation from her husband. 3. of or suitable for a judge; impartial; fair: A judicial mind considers both sides of a dispute fairly before making a decision. adj. —ju di'cial ly, adv.

ju di ci ar y (jü dish'ē er'ē), 1. branch of government that administers justice; system of courts of justice of a country. 2. judges of a country, State, or city. 3. of or having to do with courts, judges, or the administration of justice. 1,2 n., pl. ju di ci ar ies; 3 adj.

ju di cious (jü dish'əs), having, using, or showing good judgment; wise; sensible: A judicious historian selects and considers facts carefully and critically. adj. —ju di'cious ly, adv.

Ju dith (jü/dith), a Hebrew woman who saved her countrymen by killing an Assyrian general. n.

ju do (jü/dō), jujitsu. n.

Ju dy (jü/dē), wife of Punch in the puppet show of Punch and Judy. n.

jug (jug), 1. container for liquids. A jug usually has a spout or a narrow neck and a handle. 2. Slang. jail. 1,2 n., 2 v., jugged, jug ging.

Jug ger naut (jug'ər nōt), something to which a person blindly devotes himself or is cruelly sacrificed. n.

jug gle (jug'glē), 1. do tricks that require skill of hand or eye. 2. do such tricks with: He can juggle three balls, keeping them in the air at one time. 3. a juggling. 4. change by trickery: The bookkeeper juggled the company's accounts to hide his thefts. 5. trick; deception; fraud. 1,2,4 v., jug gled, jug gling; 3,5 n.

jug gler (jug'lər), 1. person who can do juggling tricks. 2. person who uses tricks, deception, or fraud. n.

jug gler y (jug'lər ē), 1. skill or tricks of a juggler; sleight of hand. 2. trickery; deception; fraud. n., pl. jug gler ies.

Ju go slav or Ju go-Slav (ü'gō slāv'), Yugoslav. n., adj.

Ju go sla vi a or Ju go-Sla vi a (ü'gō slā'v ē), Yugoslavia. n. —Ju'go sla'vi an, Ju'go-Sla'vi an, adj., n.

jug u lar (jug'yə lər), 1. of the neck or throat. 2. of the jugular vein. 3. jugular vein. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

jugular vein, one of the two large veins in the neck that return blood from the head to the heart.

juice (jüs), 1. liquid in fruits, vegetables, and meats: the juice of a lemon, meat juice. 2. liquid in the body. The gastric juices of the stomach help to digest food. n. —juice'less, adj.

juic i ness (jüs'ē nis), being juicy. n.

juicy (jüs'ē), 1. full of juice; having much juice. 2. full of interest; lively. adj., juic i er, juic i est. —juic'i ly, adv.

ju jüt su (jü jüt'sü), a Japanese method of wrestling or fighting without weapons that uses the strength and weight of an opponent to his disadvantage. n. Also, jujitsu, jujutsu, judo.

ju jube (jü'jüb), 1. lozenge or small tablet of gummy candy. 2. an edible datelike fruit of a shrub or tree, used to flavor this candy. n.

ju jut su (jü jüt'sü), jujitsu. n.

juke box (jök), U.S. Slang. an automatic phonograph that plays one record for each coin deposited in the slot.

ju lep (jü'ləp), drink made of whiskey or brandy, sugar, crushed ice, and fresh mint. n.

Julian (jül'yən), of Julius Caesar. adj.

Ju li an a (jü'lē an'ə), (in full, Juliana Louise Emma Marie Wilhelmina) born 1909, queen of the Netherlands since 1948. n.

Julian calendar, calendar in which the average length of a year was 365¼ days. It was introduced by Julius Caesar in 46 B.C.

ju li enne (jü'lē en'), 1. cut in thin strips or small pieces. Julienne potatoes are cut in thin strips and fried. 2. a clear soup containing vegetables cut into thin strips or small pieces. 1 adj., 2 n.

Ju li et (jü'lē et), the young heroine of Shakespeare's play Romeo and Juliet. n.

Julius Caesar (jül'yas sē'zər). See Caesar.

Ju ly (jü lī'), the seventh month of the year. It has 31 days. n., pl. Ju lies.

jum ble (jum'bl), 1. mix; confuse: It is easy to jumble up everything in your drawer when you are hunting for something. 2. a confused mixture. 1 v., jum bled, jum bling; 2 n.

jum bo (jum'bō), Informal. 1. a big, clumsy person, animal, or thing; something unusually large of its kind. 2. very big. 1 n., pl. jum bos; 2 adj.

Jum na (jum'nə), river flowing from N India into the Ganges River. 860 mi. n.

jump (jump), 1. spring from the ground; leap; bound: jump up and down. 2. a spring from the ground; leap; bound. 3. leap over: jump a stream. 4. cause to jump: jump a horse over a fence. 5. thing to be jumped over. 6. distance jumped. 7. contest in jumping: Who won the broad jump? 8. give a sudden start or jerk: You made me jump. 9. a sudden nervous start or jerk. 10. rise suddenly: prices jumped. 11. a sudden rise: a jump in the cost of living. 12. move in the game of checkers made to capture an opponent's piece. 13. in checkers, pass over and capture (an opponent's piece). 14. Slang. evade by running away: jump bail. 15. U.S. Slang. get aboard (a train) by jumping. 1,3,4,8,10, 13-15 v., 2,5-7,9,11,12 n.

jump a claim, seize a piece of land claimed by another.

jump at, accept eagerly and quickly.

jump the track, leave the rails suddenly.

jump area, locality assigned for the landing of parachute troops, usually behind enemy lines.

jump er (jump'ər), one that jumps. n.

jump er (jump'ər), 1. a loose jacket. Workmen and sailors often wear jumpers to protect their clothes. 2. a loose blouse reaching to the hips. 3. a one-piece dress without sleeves, worn over a blouse. n.

jumpers, rompers.

jump mas ter (jump'mas'tər), officer who controls the dropping of parachute troops and their equipment from an aircraft. n.

jump y (jump'ē), 1. moving by jumps; making sudden, sharp jerks. 2. easily excited or frightened; nervous. adj., jump i er, jump i est. —jump'i ness, n.

jun co (jung'kō), any of several small North American finches often seen in flocks during the winter; snowbird. n., pl. jun cos.

junction (jungk'shan), 1. a joining or being joined: the junction of two rivers. 2. place where things join. 3. place where railroad lines meet or cross. n.

junc ture (jungk'chər), 1. point of time. 2. state of affairs. 3. crisis. 4. joint. 5. a joining. 6. being joined. n.

June (jün), the sixth month of the year. It has 30 days. n.

Ju neau (jü'nō), capital of Alaska, in the SE part. 7000. n.

June beetle, June bug.

June bug, a large brown beetle of the N United States that appears in June.

Jung frau (yung'frou'), mountain in the Alps of S Switzerland. 13,668 ft. n.

jun gle (jung'gl), 1. wild land thickly overgrown with bushes, vines, trees, etc. 2. a tangled mass. 3. U.S. Slang. camp for tramps. n.

jungle fowl, any of several wild birds of southern Asia and the East Indies that are much like domestic fowl.

jun ior (jün'yər), 1. the younger: John Parker, Junior, is the son of John Parker, Senior. 2. a younger person: Tom is his brother's junior by two years. 3. of lower position, rank, or standing; of more recent appointment: a junior officer, a junior partner. 4. person of lower position, rank, or standing; person of more recent appointment. 5. student in the third year of high school or college. 6. of or having to do with these students: Are you going to the Junior Prom? 7. of later date. 8. of or for younger people: a junior chair. 1,3,6,7,8 adj., 2,4,5 n.

junior college, school giving only the first two years of a regular four-year college course.

junior high school, school consisting of grades 7, 8, and 9; any school intermediate between elementary school and senior high school.

ju ni per (jü'nə pər), an evergreen shrub or tree of the same family as the pine, with small berrylike cones. n.

Junco (about 6 in. long)

NORTHERN SOUTHERN
June bugs

junk¹ (jungk), 1. old metal, paper, rags, etc. 2. Slang. rubbish; trash. 3. Slang. throw away or discard as junk. 4. hard salted meat eaten by sailors. 5. old rope used for making mats, oakum, etc. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 v.

junk² (jungk), a Chinese sailing ship. n.

Jun ker or jun ker (yung'kar), member of the aristocratic, formerly privileged class in Prussia. n.

jun ket (jung'kit), 1. curdled milk, sweetened and flavored. 2. feast; picnic. 3. a pleasure trip. 4. go on a pleasure trip. 5. Used disparagingly. trip taken by an American official at the expense of the government. 1-3,5 n., 2,4 v. —jun'ket er, n.

junk man (jungk'man'), man who buys and sells old metal, paper, rags, etc. n., pl. junk men.

Ju no (jü'nō), 1. the Roman goddess of marriage, wife of Jupiter and queen of the gods, identified with the Greek goddess Hera. 2. a stately, majestic woman. n., pl. Ju nos.

jun ta (jun'tə), 1. a Spanish council for deliberation or administration. 2. junto. n.

jun to (jun'tō), a political faction; group of plotters or partisans. n., pl. jun tos.

Ju pi ter (jü'pə tər), 1. a Roman god, the ruler of the gods and men, identified with the Greek god Zeus. 2. the largest planet. n.

jural (jür'əl), 1. of law; legal. 2. having to do with rights and obligations. adj.

Ju ra Mountains (jür'ə), a mountain range in France and Switzerland. The highest peak is 5654 feet.

ju rid i cal (jü rid'ə kl), 1. having to do with the administration of justice. 2. of law; legal. adj. —ju rid'i cal ly, adv.

ju ris con sult (jür'is kən sult' or jür'is kon'sult), jurist. n.

ju ris dic tion (jür'is dik'shan), 1. right or power of administering law or justice. 2. authority; power; control. 3. extent of authority: The judge ruled that the case was not within his jurisdiction. 4. territory over which authority extends. n.

ju ris prudence (jür'is prü'dns), 1. science or philosophy of law. 2. system of laws. 3. branch of laws. Medical jurisprudence deals with the application of medical knowledge to certain questions of law. n.

ju rist (jür'ist), 1. expert in law. 2. a learned writer on law. n.

ju ris tik (jür'is'tik), of or having to do with jurists or jurisprudence; relating to law. adj.

ju ror (jür'ər), member of a jury. n.

ju ry¹ (jür'ē), 1. group of persons selected to hear evidence in a law court and sworn to give a decision in accordance with the evidence presented to them. See also grand jury and petty jury. 2. group of persons chosen to give a judgment or to decide a contest and award prizes: The jury gave Helen's poem the first prize. n., pl. ju ries.

ju ry² (jür'ē), for temporary use on a ship; makeshift. adj.

ju ry man (jür'ē mən), member of a jury; juror. n., pl. ju ry men.

just¹ (just), 1. right; fair: a just price. 2. righteous: a just life. 3. deserved; merited: a just reward. 4. having good grounds; well-founded: just anger. 5. lawful: a just claim. 6. in accordance with standards or requirements; proper: just proportions. 7. true; correct: a just description. 8. exact: just weights. 9. exactly: just a pound. 10. almost exactly: I saw him just now. 11. a very little while ago: He has just gone. 12. barely: The shot just missed the mark. 13. only; merely: He is just an ordinary man. 14. Informal. quite; truly; positively: The weather is just glorious. 1-8 adj., 9-14 adv. —just'ness, n.

just² (just), joust. v., n.

Junk

jus tice (jus'tis), 1. just conduct; fair dealing: have a sense of justice. 2. a being just; fairness; rightness; correctness: uphold the justice of our cause. 3. rightfulness; lawfulness; well-founded reason: He complained with justice of the bad treatment he had received. 4. just treatment; deserved reward or punishment. 5. exercise of power and authority to maintain what is just and right. 6. administration of law; trial and judgment by process of law: a court of justice. 7. judge. The Supreme Court of the United States consists of nine justices. 8. justice of the peace. n.
bring a person to justice, do what is necessary in order that a person shall be legally punished for his crime or crimes.
do justice to, 1. treat fairly. 2. show proper appreciation for.
do oneself justice, do as well as one really can do.
justice of the peace, a local magistrate who tries minor cases, administers oaths, performs civil marriages, etc.
jus tice ship (jus'tis ship), position, duties, or term of office of a justice. n.
jus ti fi a bil i ty (jus'ti fī'ə bil'ə tē), being justifiable. n.
jus ti fi a ble (jus'ti fī'ə bl), capable of being justified; that can be shown to be just and right; defensible: An act is justifiable if it can be shown to be just or right. adj. —jus'ti fī'ə bly, adv.
jus ti fi ca tion (jus'ti fē kā'shən), 1. a justifying. 2. being justified. 3. fact or circumstance that justifies; good reason: What is your justification for being late? 4. a freeing or being freed from the guilt or penalty of sin. n.
jus ti fy (jus'ti fī), 1. show to be just or right; give a good reason for: The fine quality of the cloth justifies its high price. 2. clear of blame or guilt: You are justified in shooting a man in self-defense. v., jus ti fied, jus ti fy ing. —jus'ti fī'ər, n.

jus tle (jus'tl), jostle. v., jus tled, jus tling, n.
just ly (just'lē), 1. in a just manner. 2. rightly. adv.
jut (jut), 1. stick out; project: The pier juts out from the shore into the water. 2. part that sticks out; projection. 1 v., jut ted, jut ting; 2 n.
jute (jüt), a strong fiber used for making coarse sacks, burlap, rope, etc. Jute is obtained from two tropical plants. n.
Jute (jüt), member of a Germanic tribe. Some of the Jutes invaded and settled in SE England in the fifth century A.D. n.
Jut land (jut'lənd), peninsula of Denmark. The British and the Germans fought a naval battle near there in 1916. n.
ju ve nes cence (jü'və nes'ns), renewal of youth; youthfulness. n.
ju ve nes cent (jü'və nes'nt), growing young again; youthful. adj.
ju ve nile (jü'və nl or jü'və nīl), 1. young; youthful. 2. a young person. 3. of or for young people: juvenile delinquency, juvenile books. 4. book for young people. 5. actor who plays youthful parts. 1,3 adj., 2,4,5 n.
juvenile court, a law court where cases involving boys and girls are heard.
ju ve nil i ty (jü'və nīl'ə tē), juvenile quality, condition, or manner. n.
jux ta pose (juks'tə pōz'), put close together; place side by side. v., jux ta posed, jux ta pos ing.
jux ta po si tion (juks'tə pə zish'ən), 1. a putting close together; a placing side by side. 2. position close together or side by side. n.

K

K or k (kā), the 11th letter of the alphabet. n., pl. K's or k's.

K, potassium.

Kaa ba (kā'bə), the sacred shrine of the Moslems. The Kaaba is a small structure, containing a black stone, in a mosque at Mecca. n. Also, Caaba.

Ka bul (kā'būl), capital of Afghanistan. 310,000. n.

Kae song (kā'sōng' or ka'sung'), city in W North Korea. 89,000. n.

Kafir (kā'fər), 1. member of a Negroid race in South Africa. 2. their language. n.

kafir corn (kā'fər), a sorghum grown for grain and forage in dry regions.

kai ak (kī'ak), kayak. n.

Kaiser or kaiser (kī'zər), 1. title of the rulers of Germany from 1871 to 1918. 2. title of the rulers of Austria from 1804 to 1918. 3. title of the rulers of the Holy Roman Empire from 962 A.D. to 1806. n.

kai ser (kī'zər), emperor. n.

Ka la ha ri (kā'lā hā'rē), a large desert and plateau region in S Africa. 350,000 sq. mi. n.

Ka la ma zoo (kal'ə mə zū'), city in SW Michigan. 82,000. n.

kale (kāl), any of various kinds of cabbage that have loose leaves instead of a compact head. Kale looks somewhat like spinach. n.

ka lei do scope (kā lī'də skōp), 1. tube containing bits of colored glass and two mirrors. As it is turned, it reflects continually changing patterns. 2. anything that changes continually; a changing pattern. n.

ka lei do scop ic (kā lī'də skop'ik), of or like a kaleidoscope; continually changing. adj.

kal ends (kal'əndz), calends. n.pl.

Ka li man tan (kā'lē măn'tān), part of the Republic of Indonesia comprising the greater part of Borneo. 4,000,000 pop., 208,288 sq. mi. n.

Ka li nin grad (kā lē'nin grad), city in W Soviet Union, formerly in Germany. 202,000. n.

kal mi a (kal'mē ə), mountain laurel, or any similar evergreen shrub with clusters of cup-shaped flowers. n.

Kal muck or Kal muk (kal'muk), 1. member of a group of Mongol tribes living in W China and SE Soviet Union. 2. their language. n.

kal so mine (kal'sə min), calcimine. n., v., kal so mined, kal so min ing.

Kam chat ka (kam chat'kə), peninsula of NE Asia between the Sea of Okhotsk and Bering Sea. 750 mi. long; 104,260 sq. mi. n.

ka mi ka ze (kā'mē kā'zē), a pilot who dives an airplane loaded with explosives into the target he seeks to destroy. n.

Kam pa la (kām pā'lə), capital of Uganda, in the southern part. 43,000. n.

Kan. or Kans., Kansas.

Ka nak a (kā nak'ə), 1. native of Hawaii. 2. a South Sea islander. n.

Kan dy (kän'dē), city in central Ceylon, famous for its Buddhist temples. 57,000. n.

kan ga roo (kang'gə rū'), mammal of Australia and New Guinea having small forelegs and very strong hind legs, which give it great leaping power. The female kangaroo has a pouch in front in which she carries her young. n., pl. kan ga roos or (esp. collectively) kan ga roo. —kan'gə roo'like', adj.

Kangaroo (about 8 ft. long, including the tail) kangaroo rat, a small, burrowing rodent of the desert regions of the United States and Mexico.

Kan pur (kän'pür), city in N India, on the Ganges River. 880,000. n. Formerly, Cawnpore.

Kan sas (kan'zäs), 1. a Middle Western State of the United States. 2,179,000 pop.; 82,276 sq. mi. Capital: Topeka. Abbrev.: Kans. or Kan. 2. river flowing from NE Kansas into the Missouri River. 169 mi. n. —Kan'san, adj., n.

Kansas City, 1. city in W Missouri, on the Missouri River. 476,000. 2. city in NE Kansas adjoining it. 122,000 ka o lin or ka o line (kā'ə lin), a fine white clay, used in making porcelain. n.

ka pok (kā'pok), the silky fibers around the seeds of a tropical tree, used for stuffing pillows and mattresses. n.

Ka ra chi (kā'rā'chē), city in Pakistan, in the W part. 1,126,000. n.

kar a kul (kar'ə kl), 1. variety of Russian or Asiatic sheep. 2. fur with flat, loose curls; caracul. n.

kar at (kar'ət), carat. n.

ka ra te (kā'rā'tē), a Japanese method of fighting without weapons by striking with the hands or feet at vulnerable parts of the opponent's body. n.

Ka re li a (kā'rē'lē ə), a republic in NW Soviet Union. 651,000 pop.; 69,720 sq. mi. Capital: Petrozavodsk. n.

Karls ruhe (käriz'rū'ə), city in S West Germany. 235,000. n.

Kar nak (kär'nak), village in Egypt on the Nile River. The northern part of ancient Thebes was located there. n.

Kash mir (kash mir'), district in N India. n.

Ka tah din (kā'tād'n), Mount, the highest mountain in Maine. 5268 ft. n.

Kat man du (kāt'män dü'), capital of Nepal. 195,000. n.

Kat rine (kat'rin), Loch, a beautiful lake in central Scotland. 8 mi. long. n.

Kat te gat (kat'ə gat), arm of the North Sea between Denmark and Sweden. 150 mi. long; 40-70 mi. wide. n.

ka ty did (kā'tē did), a large green insect somewhat like a grasshopper. The male makes a shrill noise sounding like "Katy did, Katy didn't." n.

Kau nas (kou'näs), a city in W Soviet Union. 214,000. n. Also, Russian Kovno.

kau ri (kou'rē), 1. a tall pine tree that grows in New Zealand. 2. a resin obtained from it, used in varnish. n., pl. kau ris.

kay ak (kai'ak), an Eskimo canoe made of skins stretched over a light frame of wood or bone with an opening in the middle for a person. n. Also, kaiak.

Ka zakh (kā'zāk'), a Soviet republic in central Asia. 9,301,000 pop.; 1,063,200 sq. mi. Capital: Alma-Ata. n.

Ka zan (kā'zän'), city in NW Soviet Union, near the Volga River. 643,000. n.

kc., kilocycle; kilocycles.

ke a (kā'ə or kē'ə), a large, greenish parrot of New Zealand, that kills sheep to feed upon their fat. n.

Keats (kēts), John, 1795-1821, English poet. n.

ked ge (kej), 1. move (a ship, etc.) by pulling on a rope attached to an anchor that has been dropped some distance away. 2. a small anchor used in kedging a boat, etc. 1 v., kedged, kedging; 2 n.

keel (kēl), 1. the main timber or steel piece that extends the whole length of the bottom of a ship or boat. 2. Poetic. ship. 3. part in an airplane or airship resembling a ship's keel. 4. turn upside down; upset. 1-3 n., 4 v. on an even keel, horizontal.

keel over, 1. turn over or upside down; upset. 2. fall over suddenly. 3. Informal. faint.

keel haul (kēl'hōl'), haul (a person) under the keel of a ship for punishment. v.

Keeling Islands (kē'ling), Cocos Islands.

keel son (kēl'sən or kēl'san), beam or line of timbers or iron plates fastened along the top of a ship's keel to strengthen it. n.

keen (kēn), 1. so shaped as to cut well: a keen blade. 2. sharp; piercing; cutting: keen wind, keen hunger, keen wit, keen pain. 3. strong; vivid: keen competition. 4. able to do its work quickly and accurately: a keen mind, a keen sense of smell. 5. Informal. full of enthusiasm; eager: Tom is keen about sailing. adj. —keen'-ly, adv.

keen (kēn), Irish. 1. a wailing lament for the dead. 2. wail; lament. 1 n., 2 v. —keen'er, n.

keen ness (kēn'nis), keen or cutting quality; sharpness. n.

keep (kēp), 1. have for a long time or forever: You may keep this book. 2. have and not let go (of): keep a secret. 3. have and take care of: She keeps chickens. My aunt keeps two boarders. 4. take care of and protect: The bank keeps money for people. 5. have; hold: keep a thing in mind. 6. hold back; prevent: What is keeping her from coming? 7. restrain oneself; refrain: The little boy couldn't keep from crying when he fell down. 8. maintain in good condition; maintain: keep a garden. 9. stay in good condition: The butter kept in the icebox. 10. stay the same; continue: Keep along this road for two miles. 11. cause to continue in some stated place, condition, etc.: keep a light burning, keep a student after school. 12. do the right thing with; celebrate: keep Christmas as a holiday. 13. be faithful to: keep a promise. 14. provide for; support: He is not able to keep himself, much less a family. 15. food and a place to sleep: He works for his keep. 16. the strongest part of a castle or fort. 17. have habitually for sale: That store keeps canned goods. 1-14, 17 v., kept, keep ing; 15, 16 n.

for keeps, 1. for the winner to keep his winnings. 2. Informal. forever.

keep in with, Informal. keep acquaintance or friendship with.

keep on, continue; go.

keep time, go correctly; move at the right rate.

keep up, 1. continue; prevent from ending. 2. maintain in good condition. 3. not fall behind.

keep up with, not fall behind; go or move as fast as.

keep er (kēp'ər), 1. person or thing that keeps. 2. guard; watchman. 3. guardian; protector: Am I my brother's keeper? n.

keep ing (kēp'ing), 1. care; charge; maintenance: The keeping of the orphaned children was paid for by their uncle. 2. celebration; observance: The keeping of Thanksgiving Day is an old American custom. 3. agreement; harmony: A good man's actions are in keeping with his promises. 4. preservation for future use. n.

keep sake (kēp'sāk'), thing kept in memory of the giver: She kept my picture as a keepsake when I moved. n.

keg (keg), 1. a small barrel, usually holding less than 10 gallons. 2. 100 pounds of nails. n.

Kel ler (kel'ər), Helen, born 1880, American writer and lecturer. She was deaf, dumb, and blind from babyhood, but was taught to read and speak, and graduated from college. n.

kelp (kelp), 1. a large, tough, brown seaweed. 2. ashes of seaweed. Kelp contains iodine. n.

kel pie or kel py (kel'pē), a water spirit, usually in the form of a horse, supposed to drown people or warn them of drowning. n., pl. kel pies.

Kelt (kelt), Celt. n.

Katydid (about 1¼ in. long from forehead to tips of folded wings)

Kayak. The paddle has a blade at each end; first one blade is dipped in the water, then the other.

KEEL

KEEP

Keep (def. 16)

Kelt ic (kel'tik), Celtic. adj., n.

Kel vin (kel/vən), Lord, 1824-1907, William Thomson, British physicist and mathematician. n.

ken (ken), 1. range of sight. 2. range of knowledge: What happens on Mars is beyond our ken. 3. Scottish. know. 1,2 n., 3 v., kenned or kent (kent), ken ning. Ken., Kentucky.

Ken il worth (ken'l wërth), a ruined castle in central England. n.

Ken ne bec (ken'ə bek), river flowing from W Maine into the Atlantic. 164 mi. n.

Ken ne dy (ken'ə dē), John F., 1917-1963, the 35th president of the United States, 1961-1963. n.

ken nel (ken'l), 1. house for a dog or dogs. 2. place where dogs are bred. 3. put or keep in a kennel. 4. take shelter or lodge in a kennel. 5. pack of dogs. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., ken neled, ken nel ing or esp. Brit. ken nelled, ken nel ling.

Ke no sha (kə nō'shə), city in SE Wisconsin, on Lake Michigan. 68,000. n.

Ken sing ton (ken'zing tən), borough in the W part of London, England. n.

Kent (kent), 1. county in SE England. 2. an early English kingdom. n.

Kent ish (ken'tish), of Kent or its people. adj.

Ken tuck i an (kən tuk'ē ən), 1. of Kentucky or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Kentucky. 1 adj., 2 n.

Ken tuck y (kən tuk'ē), 1. a Southern State of the United States. 3,038,000 pop.; 40,395 sq. mi. Capital: Frankfort. Abbrev.: Ky. or Ken. 2. river flowing from E Kentucky into the Ohio River. 259 mi. n.

Ken ya (ken'yə or kēn'yə), a country in E Africa, a member of the British Commonwealth. 6,450,000 pop.; 219,730 sq. mi. Capital: Nairobi. n.

kep i (kep'ē), cap with a round, flat top, worn by French soldiers. n., pl. kep is.

Kep ler (kep'lər), Johann, 1571-1630, German astronomer. n.

kept (kept), pt. and pp. of keep. I gave him the book and he kept it. The milk was kept in bottles. v.

ker a tin (ker'ə tin), a complex protein, the chief constituent of horn, nails, hair, feathers, etc. n.

kerb (kərb), Brit. curb (of a pavement). n.

ker chief (kər'chif), 1. piece of cloth worn over the head or around the neck. 2. handkerchief. n.

kerf (kərf), 1. cut made by an ax, saw, etc. 2. piece cut off. n.

ker mis or ker mess (kər'mis), 1. fair with games and merrymaking, held in the Netherlands, Belgium, and adjacent regions. 2. any fair or entertainment, usually to raise money for charity. n.

ker nel (kər'nəl), 1. the softer part inside the hard shell of a nut or inside the stone of a fruit. 2. grain or seed like wheat or corn. 3. the central or most important part. n.

ker o sene (ker'ə sēn), a thin oil, a mixture of hydrocarbons, usually produced by distilling petroleum; coal oil. It is used in lamps and stoves. n.

ker sey (kər'zē), a coarse, ribbed, woolen cloth with a cotton warp. n., pl. ker seys.

kerseys, trousers made of kersey.

kes trel (kes'trəl), a small European falcon. n.

ketch (kech), 1. a fore-and-aft-rigged sailing ship with a large mainmast toward the bow and a smaller mast toward the stern. 2. formerly, a sturdy sailing vessel with two masts. n.

ketch up (kech'əp), catchup; sauce to use with meat, fish, etc. n.

ket tle (ket'l), 1. a metal container for boiling liquids, cooking fruit, etc. 2. tea-kettle. n.

kettle of fish, awkward state of affairs; mess; muddle.

ket tle drum (ket'l drum'), drum consisting of a hollow brass or copper hemisphere and a parchment top. n.

key¹ (kē), 1. instrument that locks and unlocks; thing that turns or opens: key to a door. 2. lock. 3. thing that explains or answers: the key to a puzzle. The key to an arithmetic book gives the answers to all the problems. 4. place that commands or gives control of a sea, a district, etc., because of its position: Gibraltar is the key to the Mediterranean. 5. controlling; very important: the key industries of a nation. 6. an important or essential person, thing, etc. 7. pin, bolt, wedge, or other piece put in a hole or space to hold parts together. 8. fasten or adjust with a key. 9. device to turn a bolt or nut. Watches used to be wound with keys. 10. one of a set of parts pressed in playing a piano, in typewriting, and in operating other instruments. 11. scale or system of notes in music related to one another in a special way and based on a particular note: a song written in the key of B flat. 12. tone of voice; style of thought or expression: The poet wrote in a melancholy key. 13. regulate the pitch of: key a piano up to concert pitch. 14. adjust (a speech, etc.) as if to a particular key: a letter keyed to a tone of defiance. 1,3,4,6,7,9-12 n., pl. keys; 2,8,13,14 v., keyed, key ing; 5 adj. —key/less, adj.

key up, raise the courage or nerve of (to the point of doing something): The coach keyed up the team for the big game.

key² (kē), a low island; reef. There are keys south of Florida. n., pl. keys.

Key (kē), Francis Scott, 1779-1843, American lawyer, author of "The Star-Spangled Banner." n.

key board (kē'bōrd'), set of keys in a piano, organ, typewriter, etc. n.

keyed (kēd), 1. having keys: a keyed flute or trombone. 2. set or pitched in a particular key. 3. fastened or strengthened with a key. 4. constructed with a key-stone. adj.

key hole (kē'hōl'), opening in a lock through which a key is inserted to turn the lock. n.

key note (kē'nōt'), 1. note on which a scale or system of tones in music is based. 2. main idea; guiding principle: World peace was the keynote of his speech. 3. give the keynote speech of. 1,2 n., 3 v., key not ed, key not ing.

keynote speech, speech, usually at a political gathering, that presents the principal issues in which those present are interested.

key signature, sharps or flats placed after the clef at the beginning of a staff of music to indicate the key.

key stone (kē'stōn'), 1. the middle stone at the top of an arch, holding the other stones or pieces in place. 2. part on which other associated parts depend; essential principle. n.

Key West, 1. island off the coast of SW Florida. 2. seaport on this island. 34,000.

kg., kilogram; kilograms.

khak i (kak'ē or kă/kē), 1. dull yellowish-brown. 2. a stout twilled cloth of this color, used for soldiers' uniforms. 3. uniform or uniforms made of this cloth. 1 adj., 1-3 n., pl. khak is.

kha lif (kā'lif or kal'if), caliph. n.

Man playing a kettle drum

Man wearing a kepi

Kestrel (about 1 ft. long)

KEYSTONE

khan¹ (kän), 1. title of a ruler among Tartar or Mongol tribes, or of the emperor of China during the Middle Ages. 2. title of dignity in Iran, Afghanistan, India, etc. n.

khan² (kän), in Turkey and near-by countries, an inn without furnishings. n.

khan ate (kän'ät), 1. territory ruled by a khan. 2. position or authority of a khan. n.

Khar kov (kär'kof), city in SW Soviet Union. 930,000. n.

Khar toum or Khar tum (kär-tüm'), capital of Sudan, on the Nile. 93,000. n.

khe dive (kə dəv'), title of the Turkish viceroys who ruled Egypt between 1867 and 1914. n.

Khrushchev (krüş'chef or krüş'chov), Nikita S., born 1894, Soviet statesman, secretary of the Russian Communist Party from 1953 to 1964, and head of the Soviet government from 1958 to 1964. n.

Khu fu (kü'fü), Cheops. n.

Khy ber Pass (ki'bər), an important mountain pass between W Pakistan and Afghanistan. 33 mi. long; 3500 ft. high.

kibe (kīb), a chapped or ulcerated sore, inflammation, or swelling on the heel caused by exposure to cold. n.

kib itz (kīb'its), Slang. look on as an outsider and offer unwanted advice. v.

kib itz er (kīb'it sər), Informal. person who gives unwanted advice; meddler. n.

kick (kik), 1. strike out with the foot: That horse kicks when anyone comes near him. 2. strike with the foot: The horse kicked the boy. 3. drive, force, or move by kicking: kick a ball. 4. act of kicking. 5. win by a kick: kick a goal in football. 6. spring back when fired: This shotgun kicks. 7. recoil of a gun. 8. Informal. complain; object; grumble. 9. Slang. complaint; objection. 10. Slang. excitement; thrill. 11. Slang. the intoxicating effect of alcohol in a drink. 1-3,5,6,8 v., 4,7,9-11 n.

kick back, Informal. 1. spring back suddenly and unexpectedly. 2. return (a stolen item) to its owner. 3. return a portion of money received as a fee.

kick off, put a football in play with a kick.

kick back (kik'bak'), Informal. 1. amount or portion returned, especially as a fee. If you were paid $150 a month and paid back $50 a month to your employer, the $50 would be a kickback. 2. a returning of stolen goods. n.

kick er (kik'ər), one that kicks. n.

kick off (kik'ɔf'), kick that puts a football in play. n.

kick shaw (kik'shə'), 1. a fancy article of food; delicacy. 2. trifle; trinket. n.

kid¹ (kid), 1. a young goat. 2. its flesh, used as food. 3. its skin, used as fur. 4. leather made from the skin of young goats, used for gloves and shoes. 5. Informal. child. n.

kids, gloves or shoes made of kid.

kid² (kid), Slang. 1. tease playfully; talk jokingly; banter. 2. humbug; fool. v., kid ded, kid ding. —kid/-der, n.

kid nap (kid'nap), steal (a child); carry off (a person) by force; seize and hold (a person) against his will by force or by fraud: Four men kidnapped Mr. Lane's son, but the police soon caught them and rescued him. v., kid naped, kid naping or esp. Brit. kid napped, kid nap ping. —kid/nap er, esp. Brit. kid/nap per, n.

kid ney (kid'nē), 1. one of the pair of organs in the body that separate waste matter and water from the blood and pass them off through the bladder as urine. 2. kidney or kidneys of an animal, cooked for food. 3. nature; disposition. 4. kind; sort: We don't like cowards, sneaks, tattletales, or

Khan²

K, kidneys of a human being any persons of that kidney. n., pl. kid neys. —kid/ney-like, adj.

Kiel (kēl), seaport in N West Germany, on the Baltic Sea. 269,000. n.

Kiel Canal, a ship canal in N West Germany from the North Sea to the Baltic Sea. 61 mi. long.

Kie sing er (kē'zing ər), Kurt-Georg, born 1904, German statesman, chancellor of West Germany since 1966. n.

Ki ev (kē'ef), capital of the Ukraine, in SW Soviet Union. 1,102,000. n.

Ki ga li (ki gā'lē), capital of Rwanda. 2000. n.

Ki lau e a (kē'lou ā'ə), crater on the volcano Mauna Loa, in Hawaii. 4040 ft. high. n.

Kil i man ja ro (kil'ə mən jā'rō), Mount, the highest mountain in Africa, in Tanzania. 19,321 ft. n.

kill (kil), 1. put to death; cause the death of: The blow killed him. 2. cause death: "Thou shalt not kill." 3. act of killing. 4. animal killed. 5. put an end to; destroy: kill odors, kill faith. 6. cancel (a word, paragraph, item, etc.). 7. defeat or veto (a legislative bill). 8. destroy or neutralize the active qualities of: kill land in farming. 9. spoil the effect of: One color may kill another near it. 10. use up (time). 11. Informal. overcome completely: It was funny enough to kill anybody. 1,2,5-11 v., 3,4 n.

kill (kil), U.S. Dialect. stream; creek; river. n.

Kil lar ney (kə lār'nē), 1. town in the SW part of the Irish Republic. 6000. 2. Lakes of, three beautiful lakes near there. n.

kill dee (kil'dē'), killdeer. n., pl. kill dees or (esp. collectively) kill-dee.

kill deer (kil'dir'), a small wading bird that has a loud, shrill cry, the largest and commonest plover of North America. n., pl. kill-deers or (esp. collectively) kill deer.

kill er (kil'ər), 1. person, animal, or thing that kills. 2. Slang. criminal who recklessly or wantonly kills others. n.

killer whale, dolphin that kills and eats large fish, seals, and even whales.

kill ing (kil'ing), 1. deadly; destructive; fatal: a killing frost. 2. overpowering; exhausting: ride at a killing pace. 3. Informal. extremely funny. 4. Informal. a sudden great financial success: make a killing in stocks. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —kill/ing ly, adv.

kill-joy (kil'joi'), person who spoils other people's fun. n.

kiln (kil or kiln), 1. furnace or oven for burning, baking, or drying something. Limestone is burned in a kiln to make lime. Bricks are baked in a kiln. 2. burn, bake, or dry in a kiln. 1 n., 2 v.

ki lo (kē'lō or kil'ō), 1. kilogram. 2. kilometer. n., pl. ki los.

kilo-, prefix meaning: one thousand, as in kilogram, kilometer, kilowatt.

kil o cal o rie (kil'ə kal'ə rē), a large calorie. See calorie. n.

kil o cy cle (kil'ə sī'kl), 1. 1000 cycles. 2. 1000 cycles per second. The kilocycle is used especially in radio for measuring the frequency of electric waves. n.

kil o gram or kil o gram me (kil'ə gram), unit of mass and weight equal to 1000 grams, or 2.2046 pounds avoirdupois. n.

kil o gram-me ter or kil o gram-me tre (kil'ə gram mē'tər), unit used in measuring work, equal to 7.2334 foot-pounds. It is the amount of work done in lifting one kilogram one meter. n.

kil o li ter or kil o li tre (kil'ə lē'tər), unit of capacity equal to 1000 liters, or one cubic meter; 264.17 United States gallons, or 1.308 cubic yards. n.

kil o me ter or kil o me tre (kil'ə mē'tər or kə lom'ə tər), distance equal to 1000 meters, or 3280.8 feet. n.

Killdeer (about 10 in. long)

Diagram of an open fire pottery kiln: A, chamber for pottery; B, coal.

kil o met ric (kil'ə met'rik), 1. of a kilometer.

2. measured in kilometers. adj.

kil o ton (kil'ə tun), a measure of atomic power equivalent to the energy released by one thousand tons of high explosive, specifically TNT. n.

kil o watt (kil'ə wot'), unit of electrical power equal to 1000 watts. n.

kil o watt-hour (kil'ə wot'our'), unit of electrical energy equal to the work done by one kilowatt acting for one hour. n.

kilt (kilt), 1. a pleated skirt reaching to the knees, worn by men in the Scottish Highlands. 2. Scottish. tuck up; fasten up. 1 n., 2 v. —kilt/like, adj.

kil ter (kil'tər), Informal. good condition; order: Our radio is out of killer. n.

Kim ber ley (kim'bar lē), city in the central part of the Republic of South Africa. The world's largest diamond mines are near it. 77,000. n.

ki mo no (kə mō'nə), 1. a loose outer garment held in place by a sash, worn by Japanese men and women. 2. a woman's loose dressing gown. n., pl. ki mo nos.

kin (kin), 1. family or relatives; kindred: All our kin came to the family reunion. 2. family relationship; connection by birth or marriage: What kin is she to you? 3. related: My cousin Ann is kin to me. 1, 2 n., 3 adj. —kin/less, adj.

near of kin, closely related.

kind: (kind), 1. friendly; doing good: kind words. 2. gentle: Be kind to animals. 3. showing or characterized by kindness: a kind master. adj.

kind: (kind), 1. class; sort; variety: many kinds of candy. 2. natural group; race: Snakes belong to the serpent kind. n.

after one's or its kind, Archaic. according to one's or its own nature.

in kind, 1. in goods or produce, not in money. 2. in something of the same sort. 3. in characteristic quality: difference in kind not merely in degree.

kind of, Informal. nearly; almost; somewhat; rather.

of a kind, 1. of the same kind; alike. 2. of a poor or mediocre quality: Two boxes and a plank make a table of a kind.

kin der gar ten (kin'dər gärt'n), school that educates children from 3 to 6 years old by games, toys, and pleasant occupations. n.

kin der gart ner or kin der gar ten er (kin'dər-gärt'nər), 1. child who goes to kindergarten. 2. teacher in a kindergarten. n.

kind-heart ed (kīnd'hār'tid), having or showing a kind heart; kindly; sympathetic. adj. —kind'-heart/-ed ly, adv. —kind'-heart/-ed ness, n.

kin dle (kin'dl), 1. set on fire; light: Light the paper with a match to kindle the wood. 2. catch fire; begin to burn: This damp wood will never kindle. 3. arouse; stir up: His cruelty kindled our anger. 4. become stirred up or aroused. 5. light up; brighten: The boy's face kindled as he told about the circus. v., kin dled, kin dling.

kind li ness (kīnd'lē nis), 1. kindly feeling or quality. 2. a kindly act. n.

kin dling (kin'dling), small pieces of wood for starting a fire. n.

kind ly (kīnd'lē), 1. kind; friendly: kindly faces. 2. in a kind or friendly way. 3. pleasant; agreeable: a kindly shower. 4. pleasantly; agreeably: He does not take kindly to criticism. 1, 3 adj., kind li er, kind li est; 2, 4 adv.

kind ness (kīnd'nis), 1. quality of being kind; kind nature: We admire his kindness. 2. kind treatment:

Man wearing a kilt

Japanese woman wearing a kimono

Thank you for your kindness. 3. a kind act: He showed me many kindnesses. n.

kin dred (kin'drid), 1. family or relatives. 2. family relationship; connection by birth or marriage: Does he claim kindred with you? 3. related: kindred tribes. 4. likeness; resemblance. 5. like; similar: We are studying about dew, frost, and kindred facts of nature. 1, 2, 4 n., 3, 5 adj.

kine (kin), Archaic or Dialect. cows; cattle. n.pl.

kin e scope (kin'ə skōp), Trademark. in television, a cathode-ray tube that has a screen at one end on which images are reproduced. n.

kin e scope (kin'ə skōp), record on film of a television show or other entertainment that may be rebroadcast. n.

kin es the sia (kin'əs thē'zhə), the sensation of movement in the muscles and joints. n.

kin es thet ic (kin'əs thet'ik), having to do with sensations from the muscles and joints. adj.

ki net ic (ki net'ik), 1. of motion. 2. caused by motion. adj.

ki net ics (ki net'iks), branch of physics that deals with the effects of forces in causing or changing the motion of objects. n.

kin folk (kin'fōk'), Dialect. kinsfolk. n.pl.

king (king), 1. the male ruler of a nation; male sovereign, either with absolute or limited power: Richard the Lion-hearted was king of England. The kings of England really do not rule England now. 2. Informal. man supreme in a certain sphere: a baseball king. 3. something best in its class: the king of the beasts. 4. the chief piece in chess. 5. piece that has moved entirely across the board in checkers. 6. a playing card bearing a picture of a king. n. —king/less, adj.

King (king), (William Lyon) Mackenzie, 1874-1950, leader of the Liberal Party in Canada and prime minister from 1921 to June 1926, September 1926 to 1930, and 1935 to 1948. n.

King Arthur, hero in a group of legends about the knights of the Round Table.

king bird (king'bērd'), a quarrelsome bird that catches and eats insects as it flies. n.

king crab, horseshoe crab.

king craft (king'kraft'), art of ruling; royal statesmanship. n.

king dom (king'dəm), 1. country that is governed by a king or a queen. 2. realm; domain; province: The mind is the kingdom of thought. 3. one of the three divisions of the natural world; the animal kingdom, the vegetable kingdom, or the mineral kingdom. n.

king fish (king'fish'), any of several large food fishes of the Atlantic or Pacific coast. n., pl. king fish es or (esp. collectively) king fish.

king fish er (king'fish'ər), a bright-colored bird with a large head and a strong beak. The American kingfishers eat fish; some of the European kinds eat insects. n.

king let (king'lit), 1. a petty king; ruler over a small country. 2. any of various small greenish songbirds. n.

king ly (king'lē), 1. of a king or kings; of royal rank. 2. fit for a king: a kingly crown. 3. like a king; royal; noble. 4. as a king does. 1-3 adj., king li er, king li est; 4 adv. —king/li ness, n.

Kings (kingz), 1. in the Protestant Old Testament, either of two books (I Kings or II Kings) containing the history of the reigns of the Hebrew kings after David. 2. in the Roman Catholic Old Testament, one of four books that include I and II Samuel and I and II Kings. n.

Belted kingfisher (about 1 ft. long) king's English, correct English.

king's evil, scrofula, a disease that was supposed to be cured by the touch of a king.

king ship (king/'ship), 1. position, rank, or dignity of a king. 2. rule of a king; government by a king. n.

king-size (king/'siz'), Informal. large or long for its kind: a king-size cigarette. adj.

king snake, a large, harmless snake that lives in the S United States. It eats mice and rats and other snakes.

king's ransom, a very large amount of money.

Kings ton (king/'stən), capital and chief seaport of Jamaica. 126,000. n.

Kings ton-up-on-Hull (king/'stən ə pon/'hul'), the official name of Hull, a seaport in E England. 301,000. n.

Kings town (kingz/'toun), capital of St. Vincent. 20,600. n.

kink (kingk), 1. a twist or curl in thread, rope, hair, etc. 2. form a kink; make kinks in. 3. pain or stiffness in the muscles of the neck, back, etc.; crick. 4. Informal. a mental twist; queer idea; eccentricity; whim. 1,3,4 n., 2 v.

kin ka jou (king/'kə jü), a yellowish-brown mammal of Central and South America. It resembles a raccoon, but has a long prehensile tail. n.

Kinkajou
(about 2½ ft. long,
including the tail)

kink y (kingk/'ē), full of kinks; twisted; curly. adj., kink ier, kink i est. —kink'i ness, n.

kins folk (kinz/'fōk'), family; relatives; kin. n.pl. Also, Dialect kinfolk.

Kin sha sa (kin shā/'sə), capital of the Democratic Republic of the Congo. 390,000. n. Formerly, Léopoldville.

kin ship (kin/'ship), 1. family relationship: Sam's kinship with the owner of the factory helped him to get a job. 2. relationship. 3. resemblance. n.

kins man (kinz/'mən), a male relative. n., pl. kinsmen.

kins wom an (kinz/'wum'ən), a female relative. n., pl. kins wom en.

ki osk (kē'osk'), 1. a small building with one or more sides open, used as a newsstand, a bandstand, or an opening to a subway. 2. summerhouse in Turkey or Iran. n.

kip (kip), hide of a young or undersized animal. n.

Kip ling (kip/'ling), Rudyard, 1865-1936, English writer of stories, novels, and poems. n.

kip per (kip/'ər), 1. salt and dry or smoke (herring, salmon, etc.). 2. herring, salmon, etc., that has been kippered. 3. the male salmon or sea trout during or after the spawning season. 1 v., 2,3 n.

Kir ghiz (kir gēz'), 1. a member of a Mongolian people widely scattered over the western part of central Asia. 2. their language. 3. a Soviet republic in central Asia. 2,063,000 pop.; 76,000 sq. mi. Capital: Frunze. n., pl. Kir ghiz or Kir ghiz es.

kirk (kērk), Scottish. church. n.

the Kirk, the national church of Scotland; the Presbyterian Church of Scotland.

kir tle (kēr/'tl), Archaic. 1. skirt or dress. 2. a man's short coat. n.

Kish i nev (kish/'ə nef), capital of Moldavia, in SW Soviet Union. 214,000. n.

kis met (kiz/'met), fate; destiny. n.

kiss (kis), 1. touch with the lips as a sign of love, greeting, or respect. 2. touch gently: A soft wind kissed the treetops. 3. a gentle touch. 4. put, bring, take, etc., by kissing: kiss away tears. 5. piece of candy containing coconut, nuts, or the like. 6. a fancy cake made of white of egg and powdered sugar. 1,2,4 v., 1,3,5,6 n. —kiss'a ble, adj. —kiss'er, n.

kit (kit), 1. equipment that a soldier carries with him. 2. any person's equipment packed for traveling. 3. outfit of tools: a shoemaker's kit. 4. bag, case, knapsack, etc., for carrying such equipment or such an outfit. 5. Informal. lot; set. 6. a small wooden tub or pail. n.

kitch en (kich/'ən), 1. room where food is cooked.

2. the cooking department. 3. outfit for cooking. n.

kitch en ette or kitch en et (kich/'ə net'), 1. a very small, compactly arranged kitchen. 2. part of a room fitted up as a kitchen. n.

kitchen midden, mound of shells, bones, and other refuse at a place where prehistoric people lived.

kitchen police, an army duty of helping the cook prepare and serve the food, wash the dishes, and clean up the kitchen. Abbrev.: K.P.

kitch en ware (kich/'ən wār'), kitchen utensils. Pots, kettles, and pans are kitchenware. n.

kite (kit), 1. a light wooden frame covered with paper or cloth. Kites are flown in the air on the end of a long string.

2. Informal. fly like a kite; move rapidly and easily. 3. hawk with long pointed wings. 1,3 n., 2 v., kit ed, kit ing.

kit and kin (kit/'ənd kin'), 1. friends and relatives. 2. kin.

kit ten (kit/'n), a young cat. n.

kit ten ish (kit/'n ish), 1. like a kitten. 2. coquettish. adj.

kit ti wake (kit/'ē wāk), kind of sea gull. Its hind toe is very short or rudimentary. n.

kit ty (kit/'ē), 1. kitten. 2. a pet name for a cat. n., pl. kit-ties.

kit ty (kit/'ē), 1. stakes in a poker game. 2. money pooled by the players in other games for some special purpose. n., pl. kit ties.

Kitty Hawk, village in NE North Carolina. Wilbur and Orville Wright made the first successful airplane flight there in 1903.

Kiu shu (kyū/'shū), Kyushu. n.

ki wi (kē/'wē), bird of New Zealand that cannot fly; apteryx. n., pl. ki wis.

K.K.K. or KKK, Ku Klux Klan.

kl., kiloliter.

Klan (klan), Ku Klux Klan. n.

Klans man (klanz/'mən), member of the Ku Klux Klan. n., pl. Klans men.

klep to ma ni a (klep/'tə mā/'nē ə), an insane impulse to steal. n.

klep to ma ni ac (klep/'tə mā/'nē ak), person who has insane impulses to steal. n.

klieg light (klēg), a bright, hot arc light used in taking motion pictures.

Kling sor (kling/'sôr), the chief enemy of the knights of the Holy Grail. n.

Klon dike (klon/'dīk), region in NW Canada, along the Yukon River, famous for its gold fields. n.

km., 1. kilometer; kilometers. 2. kingdom.

knack (nak), 1. special skill; power to do something easily: That clown has the knack of saying very funny things. 2. trick; habit. n.

knap sack (nap/'sak'), a canvas or leather bag for carrying clothes, equipment, etc., on the back. n.

knap weed (nap/'wēd'), a perennial weed with light-purple flowers. n.

knave (nāv), 1. a tricky, dishonest person; rogue; rascal. 2. the jack, a playing card with a picture of a servant or soldier on it. 3. Archaic. a male servant; man of humble birth or position. n.

knave ry (nāv/'ər ē), 1. behavior characteristic of a knave. 2. a tricky, dishonest act. n., pl. knave ries.

Swallow-tailed kite (about 2 ft.
long)

Kittiwake
(about 1½ ft. long)

Kiwi (about 27 in. long)

Boy carrying a knapsack

knavish (nāv'ish), tricky; dishonest. adj. —knavishly, adv. —knavishness, n.

knead (nēd), 1. mix (dough, clay, etc.) by pressing and squeezing, usually with one's hands: A baker kneads dough. 2. press and squeeze with the hands; massage: Kneading the muscles in a stiff shoulder will take away the stiffness. 3. make or shape by kneading. v.

knee (nē), 1. the joint between the thigh and the lower leg. 2. any joint corresponding to the human knee or elbow. 3. anything like a bent knee in shape or position. 4. part of a garment covering the knee. n. bring to one's knees, force to yield.

knee breeches, breeches reaching to or just below the knees.

knee cap (nē'kap'), 1. the flat, movable bone at the front of the knee; patella. See fibula for picture. 2. covering to protect the knee. n.

kneel (nēl), 1. go down on one's knee or knees: She knelt down to pull a weed from the flower bed. 2. remain in this position: They knelt in prayer for half an hour. v. knelt or kneeled, kneeling. —kneel'er, n.

knee pad (nē'pad'), pad worn around the knee for protection. n.

knee pan (nē'pan'), kneecap; the patella. n.

knell (nel), 1. sound of a bell rung slowly after a death or at a funeral. 2. ring slowly. 3. a warning sign of death, failure, etc.: Their refusal rang the knell of our hopes. 4. give such a warning sign. 5. a mournful sound. 6. make a mournful sound. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,6 v. knelt (nelt), a pt. and a pp. of kneel. She knelt and prayed. v.

knew (nū or nū), pt. of know. Jean knew the right answer. v.

Knickerbocker (nik'ər bok'ər), 1. person descended from the early Dutch settlers of New York. 2. person living in New York. n.

knickerbockers (nik'ər bok'ərz), knickers. n.pl.

knickerbocks (nik'ərz), short loose-fitting trousers gathered in at or just below the knee. n.pl.

knickknack (nik'nak'), a pleasing trifle; ornament; trinket. n. Also, nicknack.

knife (nif), 1. a cutting tool with a sharp-edged blade and handle. 2. a cutting blade in a tool or machine: The knives of a lawn mower cut grass. 3. cut or stab with a knife. 1,2 n., pl. knives; 3 v., knifed, knifing. —knife/like', adj.

under the knife, Informal. undergoing a surgical operation.

knight (nit), 1. in the Middle Ages, a man raised to an honorable military rank and pledged to do good deeds. After serving as a page and squire, a man was made a knight by the king or a lord. 2. in modern times, a man raised to an honorable rank because of personal achievement or because he has won distinction in some way. A knight has the title Sir before his name. 3. raise to the rank of knight: He was knighted by the queen. 4. man devoted to the service or protection of a lady. 5. piece in the game of chess. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 v.

knight-er rant (nit'er'ənt), knight traveling in search of adventure. n., pl. knight-ers-rant.

knight-er rant ry (nit'er'ən trē), 1. conduct or action characteristic of a knight-errant. 2. quixotic conduct or action. n., pl. knight-er rant ries.

knight hood (nit'hüd), 1. rank or dignity of a knight. 2. profession or occupation of a knight. 3. character or qualities of a knight. 4. knights as a group or class: All the knighthood of France came to the aid of the king. n.

knightly (nit'lē), 1. of a knight; brave; generous; courteous; chivalrous. 2. as a knight should do; bravely; generously; courteously. 1 adj., 2 adv. —knight/lyness, n.

knit (nit), 1. make (cloth or an article of clothing) by looping yarn or thread together with long needles: Helen is knitting a sweater. 2. make an article or fabric by looping yarn or thread together: She knits all day. 3. form (cloth or an article of clothing) by looping stitches, not by weaving: Jersey is cloth knitted by machine. 4. join closely and firmly together. 5. grow together; be joined closely and firmly: A broken bone knits. 6. draw (the brows) together in wrinkles. v., knit ted or knit, knit ting. —knit/ter, n.

knit ting (nit'ing), knitted work. n.

knitting needle, one of a pair of long needles used in knitting.

knives (nivz), pl. of knife. n.

knob (nob), 1. a rounded lump. 2. handle of a door, drawer, etc. 3. a rounded hill or mountain. n.

knob by (nob'bē), 1. covered with knobs. 2. rounded like a knob. adj., knob bi er, knob bi est. —knob/-bi ness, n.

knock (nok), 1. hit; strike a blow with the fist, knuckles, or anything hard: He knocked him on the head. 2. a hit. 3. hit and cause to fall: Bill ran against another boy and knocked him down. 4. hit with a noise: knock on a door. 5. a hit with a noise. 6. make a noise, especially a rattling or pounding noise: The engine is knocking. 7. U.S. Slang. criticize; find fault. 8. act of knocking. 9. sound of knocking: She did not hear the knock at the door. 10. sound caused by loose parts: a knock in the engine. 1,3,4,6,7 v., 2,5,8-10 n.

knock about, Informal. wander from place to place.

knock down, 1. sell (an article) to the highest bidder at an auction. 2. take apart. 3. strike down.

knock off, Informal. 1. take off; deduct: knock off 10 cents from the price. 2. stop work.

knock out, hit so hard as to make helpless or unconscious.

knock together, make or put together hastily.

knock a bout (nok'ə bout'), 1. a small, easily handled sailboat having one mast, a mainsail, and a jib, but no bowsprit. 2. suitable for rough use. 1 n., 2 adj.

knocker (nok'ər), 1. person or thing that knocks. 2. knob, ring, etc., fastened on a door for use in knocking. n.

knock-kneed (nok'nēd'), having legs bent inward at the knees. adj.

knock out (nok'out'), 1. act of knocking out. 2. condition of being knocked out. 3. blow that knocks out. 4. U.S. Slang. a very attractive person; overwhelming or striking thing. 5. Slang. that knocks out: a knockout blow. 1-4 n., 5 adj.

knoll (nōl), a small rounded hill; mound. n.

Knos sos (nos'əs), the ancient capital of Crete. n.

knot (not), 1. a fastening made by tying or twining together pieces of rope, cord, string, etc.: a square knot, a slip knot. 2. tie or twine together in a knot. 3. tangle in knots. 4. make knots for (fringe). 5. make (fringe) by tying knots. 6. bow of ribbon, etc., worn as an ornament: a shoulder knot. 7. group; cluster: A knot of people stood talking outside the door. 8. a hard mass of wood formed where a branch grows out from a tree, which shows as a roundish, cross-grained piece in a board. 9. a hard lump. A knot sometimes forms in a tired muscle. 10. form into a hard lump. 11. joint where leaves grow out on the stem of a plant. 12. unit of speed used on ships; one nautical mile per hour: The ship averaged 12 knots. 13. nautical mile, 6080.27 feet. 14. difficulty; problem. 15. unite closely or intricately. 16. thing that unites closely or intricately. 1,6-9,11-14,16 n., 2-5,10,15 v., knot ted, knot ting. —knot/less, adj.

Knocker

Knots: A, overhand; B, figure of eight; C, square; D, slip.

knot² (not), a small, arctic sandpiper. n.
knot grass (not/'gras'), weed whose stems have large joints. n.
knot hole (not/'hōl'), hole in a board where a knot has fallen out. n.
knot ted (not/'id), having a knot or knots; knotty. adj.
knot ty (not/'ē), 1. full of knots: knotty wood. 2. difficult; puzzling: a knotty problem. adj., knot ti er, knot ti est. —knot/ti ness, n. knout (nout), 1. whip formerly used in Russia to inflict punishment. 2. flog with a knout. 1 n., 2 v.
know (nō), 1. be sure of; have true information about: He knows the facts of the case. 2. have firmly in the mind or memory: know a lesson. 3. be aware of; have seen or heard; have information about: know a person's name. 4. be sure; have information: He does not have to guess, he knows. 5. be acquainted with; be familiar with: I know her. 6. have an understanding of; have experience with; be skilled in: He knows literature. 7. recognize; identify: You would hardly know him since his illness. 8. be able to tell apart from others; distinguish: You will know his house by the red roof. v., knew, known, know ing. —know'er, n.
in the know, Informal. having inside information.
know what's what, Informal. be well informed.
know a ble (nō/'ə bl), capable of being known. adj.
know-how (nō/'hou'), Informal. ability to do something. n.
know ing (nō/'ing), 1. having knowledge; well-informed. 2. clever; shrewd. 3. suggesting shrewd or secret understanding of matters: His only answer was a knowing look. adj.
know ing ly (nō/'ing lē), 1. in a knowing way. 2. with knowledge; if one knew it; on purpose: He would not knowingly hurt anyone. adv.
knowledge (nol/'ij), 1. what one knows: His knowledge of the subject is limited. 2. all that is known or can be learned: Science is a part of knowledge. 3. fact of knowing: The knowledge of our victory caused great joy. 4. act of knowing. n.
knowledge a ble (nol/'ij ə bl), Informal. well-informed, especially about a particular subject. adj.
known (nōn), pp. of know. Washington is known as a general. v.
know-noth ing (nō/'nuth'ing), an ignorant person. n.
Know-Noth ing (nō/'nuth'ing), 1. an American political party prominent from 1853 to 1856. It aimed to keep control of the government in the hands of native-born citizens. 2. member of this party. n.
Knox ville (noks/'vil), city in E Tennessee, on the Tennessee River. 112,000. n.
knuck le (nuk/'l), 1. finger joint; joint between a finger and the rest of the hand. 2. put the knuckles on the ground in playing marbles. 3. knee or hock joint of an animal used as food: boiled pigs' knuckles. 1,3 n., 2 v., knuck led, knuck ling.
knuckles, pieces of metal worn over the knuckles as a weapon.
knuckle down, 1. submit; yield. 2. Informal. apply oneself earnestly; work hard.
knuckle under, submit; yield.
knurl (nērl), 1. knot; knob. 2. a small ridge, such as on the edge of a coin or round nut. n.
k.o. or K.O., knockout. ko a la (kō ā/'lā), a gray, furry mammal of Australia that carries its young in a pouch. Koalas live in trees. n.
Ko be (kō/'bē), seaport in W Japan. 1,114,000. n.
ko dak (kō/'dak), 1. a small camera with rolls of film on which photographs are taken. 2. take photographs with a kodak. 1 n., 2 v., ko daked, ko dak ing.
Ko dak (kō/'dak), Trademark. a small camera made by the Eastman Kodak Company. n.
Ko di ak (kō/'dē ak), island in the N Pacific near Alaska. 100 mi. long. n.

Koala (2 ft. long)

Koh i noor (kō/'ə nūr), a very large and famous diamond that is now one of the British crown jewels. n.
kohl ra bi (kōl/'rā'bē), vegetable that looks somewhat like a turnip, but is a kind of cabbage. n., pl. kohl ra bies.
ko la (kō/'lā), 1. kola nut. 2. stimulant or tonic made from kola nuts. n.
kola nut, a bitter brownish nut of a tropical tree. It contains about 3 per cent of caffeine.
koo doo (kü/'dū), kudu. n., pl. koo doos.
kook a bur ra (kūk/'ə bē'r'ə), the laughing jackass, a bird of Australia and New Guinea. n.
ko peck or ko pek (kō/'pek), a Russian copper or bronze coin. 100 kopeks = 1 ruble. n.
Ko ran (kō rān/' or kō ran/'), the sacred book of the Moslems. It consists of reports of revelations to the prophet Mohammed. n.
Ko re a (kō rē/'ā), a peninsula in E Asia divided at the 38th parallel between two countries. North Korea, 8,000,000 pop.; 46,814 sq. mi. Capital: Pyongyang. South Korea, 22,974,000 pop.; 38,452 sq. mi. Capital: Seoul. n. Also, Japanese Chosen.
Ko re an (kō rē/'ən), 1. of Korea, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Korea. 3. language of Korea. 1 adj., 2,3 n.
Korea Strait, strait between Korea and Japan, joining the Sea of Japan to the Yellow Sea.
Kos ci us ko (kos/'ē us/'kō), Thaddeus, 1746-1817, Polish general who served in the American army during the American Revolution. n.
ko sher (kō/'shēr), 1. right or clean according to Jewish ritualistic law. 2. prepare (food) according to the Jewish law. 3. U.S. Slang. all right; fine; legitimate: It's not kosher to change the rules while you are playing the game. 1,3 adj., 2 v.
Kos suth (kos/'ūth), Louis, 1802-1894, Hungarian patriot. n.
Ko sy gin (ko sē/'gin), Aleksei, born 1904, Russian statesman, premier of the Soviet Union since 1964. n.
Kov no (kōv/'nō), Russian. Kaunas. n.
kow tow (kou/'tou'), 1. kneel and touch the ground with the forehead to show deep respect, submission, or worship. 2. show slavish respect or obedience. 3. act of kowtowing. 1,2 v., 3 n. —kow'tow'er, n.
K.P., kitchen police.
Kr, krypton.
kraal (krāl), 1. village of South African natives, protected by a fence. 2. pen for cattle or sheep in South Africa. n.
Krak ów (krak/'ou), Polish. Cracow. n.
Kras no dar (krās/'nō dār), city in SW Soviet Union, near the Black Sea. 312,000. n.
K-ra tion (kā/'rash'ən or kā/'rā'shən), U.S. one of the emergency army field rations used when other rations are not available. n.
Kreis ler (krīs/'lēr), Fritz, 1875-1962, American violinist and composer, born in Austria. n.
Krem lin (krem/'lən), citadel of Moscow. The chief offices of the Soviet government are in the Kremlin. n.
kreut zer (kroit/'sər), a former German or Austrian copper coin, worth about half a cent. n.
kris (krēs), creese. n.
Krish na (krish/'nā), one of the most important Hindu gods, one of the incarnations of Vishnu. n.
Kriss Kringle (krīs/'kring'gl), Santa Claus.
kro na (krō/'nā), 1. Swedish silver coin worth about 20 cents in 1964. 2. Icelandic coin worth 2.6 cents in 1964. n., pl. kro nor (-nōr).
kro ne (krō/'nā), a Danish or Norwegian silver coin worth about 14 cents in 1964. n., pl. kro ner (-nər).

krone (krō'nə), 1. a former German gold coin, worth about $2.38. 2. a former Austrian silver coin, worth about 20 cents. n., pl. krone (-nən).

kruller (krul'ər), cruller. n.

kryp ton (krip'ton), a rare inert gas, one of the chemical elements. Symbol: Kr n.

Kua la Lum pur (kwā'lə lūm'pūr'), capital of the Federation of Malaysia. 316,000.

Ku ching (kü'ching), capital of Sarawak. 38,000. n.

ku dos (kū'dos), Informal. glory; fame. n.

ku du (kü'dü), a large, grayish-brown African antelope with white stripes. n. Also, koodoo.

Kui by shev (kwē'bə shef), city in NW Soviet Union, on the Volga River. 806,000. Formerly, Samara. n.

Ku-Klux or Ku klux (kü'klus' or kū'klus'), Ku Klux Klan. n.

Ku Klux Klan (kü'klus' klan' or kū'klus' klan'), 1. a secret society of white people in the S United States formed after the Civil War to regain and maintain their control. 2. a secret society founded in 1915 in the United States, opposed to Negroes, Jews, Catholics, and foreigners. n.

Greater kudu (body about 5 ft.
long, 4 ft. high
at the shoulder)

ku miss (kü'mis), 1. fermented mare's or camel's milk used as a drink by Asian nomads. 2. drink made from cow's milk, used in special diets. n.

kum quat (kum'kwot), 1. a yellow fruit somewhat like a small orange. It has a sour pulp and a sweet rind, and is used in preserves and candy. 2. tree that it grows on. n. Also, cumquat.

Kuo min tang (kwō'min tang'), a Chinese nationalist party organized by Sun Yat-sen in 1912. n.

Kurd (kərd), member of a nomadic and warlike Moslem people living chiefly in Kurdistan. n.

Kur di stan (kər'də stan), an extensive plateau and mountainous region in SW Asia now divided among Turkey, Iran, and Iraq. n.

Kur ile Islands or Kur il Islands (kyūr'əl), chain of 31 small islands N of Japan, returned to the Soviet Union after World War II. 6159 sq. mi.

Ku wait (kü wit'), 1. country in E Arabia, on the Persian Gulf. 206,000 pop.; 5800 sq. mi. 2. its capital. 80,000. n.

kw., kilowatt.

Ky., Kentucky.

Kyo to (kyō'tō), city in central Japan. It was formerly the capital. 1,285,000. n.

Kyu shu (kyū'shū), a large island at the SW end of Japan. 12,937,000 pop.; 16,247 sq. mi. See Japan for map. n. Also, Kiushu.

L

L or l (el), 1. the 12th letter of the alphabet. 2. the Roman numeral for 50. n., pl. L's or l's.

L (el), thing shaped like an L; extension to a building at right angles with the main part. n., pl. L's.

la (lə), the sixth tone of the musical scale. See do for diagram. n.

la (lə), exclamation of surprise. interj.

La, lanthanum.

La., Louisiana.

lab (lab), Informal. laboratory. n.

la bel (lā'bl), 1. slip of paper or other material attached to anything and marked to show what or whose it is, or where it is to go: Can you read the label on the box? 2. put or write a label on: The bottle is labeled "Poison." 3. a short phrase used to describe some person, thing, or idea. 4. put in a class; call; name: label a man a liar. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., la beled, la bel ing or esp. Brit. la bel led, la bel ling. —la'bel er, esp. Brit. la'bel ler, n.

la bi al (lā'bē əl), 1. of the lips. 2. made by closing, nearly closing, or rounding the lips. 3. a sound made in this way. B, p, and m are labials. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

la bi um (lā'bē əm), lip or liplike part. n., pl. la-bia (-bē ə).

la bor (lā'bər), 1. work; toil. 2. piece of work; task. 3. work done by skilled and unskilled workers who are not clerks, managers, professional workers, or owners. 4. skilled and unskilled workers as a group: Labor favors a seven-hour day. 5. do work; work hard. 6. elaborate with effort or in detail: The speaker labored the point so that we lost interest. 7. move slowly and heavily: The ship labored in the high waves. The old car labored as it climbed the steep hill. 8. be burdened, troubled, or distressed: labor under a mistake. 9. childbirth. 10. be in childbirth. 1-4,9 n., 1,5-8,10 v.

lab o ra to ry (lab'ə rə tō'rē), 1. place where scientific work is done; room or building fitted with apparatus for conducting scientific investigations, experiments, tests, etc.: a chemical laboratory. 2. place fitted up for manufacturing chemicals, medicines, explosives, etc. n., pl. lab o ra to ries.

Labor Day, the first Monday in September, a legal holiday in most States of the United States in honor of labor and laborers.

la bored (lā'bərd), done with effort; forced; not easy or natural. adj.

la bor er (lā'bər ər), 1. worker. 2. person who does work requiring strength rather than skill or training. n.

la bo ri ous (lə bō'rē əs), 1. requiring much work; requiring hard work: Climbing a mountain is laborious. 2. hard-working; industrious: Bees and ants are laborious insects. 3. showing signs of effort; not easy. adj.

—la bō ri ous ly, adv.

La bor ite (lā'bər it), member of a labor party. n.

labor party, any political party organized to protect and promote the interests of workers.

la bor-sav ing (lā'bər sāv'ing), that takes the place of or lessens labor: a labor-saving device. adj.

labor turnover, 1. number of new workers hired by an employer in place of workers who have quit. 2. proportion of new workers hired (per year, month, etc.) in place of others to the average number of workers an employer has working for him.

labor union, association of workers to protect and promote their interests, and for dealing collectively with employers.

la bour (lā'bər), Esp. Brit. labor. n., v.

La bour ite (lā'bər it), member of the British Labour Party. n.

Labour Party, a British political party that claims especially to protect and advance the interests of working people. It was founded by the trade unions.

Lab ra dor (lab'rə dōr), 1. peninsula in NE North America, between Hudson Bay and the Atlantic.

2. the eastern part of this peninsula, part of the Canadian province of Newfoundland. 11,000 pop.; 118,455 sq. mi. n.

la bur num (lə bər'nəm), a small tree or shrub with hanging clusters of yellow flowers. n.

lab y rinth (lab'ə rinth), 1. a place through which it is hard to find one's way; maze. 2. a confusing, complicated arrangement. 3. a confusing, complicated state of affairs. 4. the internal ear. n.

Lab y rinth (lab'ə rinth), in Greek mythology, the maze built by Daedalus for King Minos of Crete. The Minotaur was kept there. n.

lab y rin thine (lab'ə rin'thən), 1. of a labyrinth; forming a labyrinth. 2. intricate; confusing; complicated. adj.

lac (lak), a resinous substance deposited on trees in S Asia by certain insects. Lac is used in making sealing wax, varnish, red dye, etc. n.

lac (lak), in India: 1. 100,000. 2. any large number; great amount. n. Also, lakh.

lace (lās), 1. an open weaving or net of fine thread in an ornamental pattern. 2. trim with lace. 3. cord, string, leather strip, etc., for pulling or holding together: These shoes need new laces. 4. put laces through; pull or hold together with a lace or laces. 5. be laced: These shoes lace easily. 6. gold or silver braid used for trimming. Some uniforms have lace on them. 7. adorn or trim with narrow braid: His uniform was laced with gold. 8. interlace; intertwine. 9. mark with streaks; streak: a white petunia laced with purple. 10. Informal. lash; beat; thrash. 11. mix (coffee, etc.) with liquor. 12. squeeze in the waist by a tight corset: In olden times, it was fashionable among women to lace. 1,3,6 n., 2,4,5,7-12 v., laced, lac ing. —lace/like', adj.

lace into, 1. attack. 2. criticize severely.

Lace dae mon (las'ə də'mən), Sparta. n.

Lace dae mo ni an (las'ə di mō'nē ən), Spartan. adj., n.

lac er ate (las'er āt), 1. tear roughly; mangle: The bear's claws lacerated his flesh. 2. wound; hurt (the feelings, etc.): Sharp words lacerate the soul. v., lac er at ed, lac er at ing.

lac er a tion (las'er ā'shən), 1. a lacerating. 2. a rough tear; mangled place; wound. n.

lace wing (lās'wīŋ'), insect that has four lacelike wings. n.

lace work (lās'wèrk'), 1. lace. 2. openwork like lace. n.

lach ry mal (lak'rə ml), 1. of tears; producing tears. 2. for tears. adj. Also, lacri mal.

lachrymals, glands that produce tears.

lach ry mose (lak'rə mōs), tearful; mournful. adj.

—lach'ry mose ly, adv.

lac ing (lās'ing), 1. lace, string, etc., for pulling or holding something together. 2. gold or silver braid used for trimming. 3. lashing; beating; thrashing. n.

lack (lak), 1. have not enough; need: A desert lacks water. 2. shortage; not having enough: Lack of rest made her tired. 3. be without; have no: A homeless person lacks a home. 4. be absent or missing. 5. fact or condition of being without: Lack of a fire made him cold. 6. thing needed: If you are cold, your lack is heat. 1,3,4 v., 2,5,6 n.

supply the lack, supply what is needed.

lack a dai si cal (lak'ə dā'zə kl), languid; listless; dreamy; weakly sentimental. adj. —lack'a dai'si cal ly, adv.

lack a day (lak'ə dā'), alas. interj.

lack ey (lak'ē), 1. a male servant; footman. 2. a slavish follower. 3. wait on. 4. be slavish to. 1,2 n., pl. lack eys; 3,4 v., lack eyed, lack ey ing.

lack ing (lak'ing), 1. not having enough; deficient:

Diagram of a labyrinth (def. 1), designed to puzzle a person or animal trying to find the way through.

A weak person is lacking in strength. 2. absent; not here: Water is lacking because the pipe is broken. 3. without; not having: Lacking anything better, use what you have. 1,2 adj., 3 prep.

lack lus ter or lack lus tre (lak'lus'tər), not shining or bright; dull. adj.

La co ni a (lə kō'nē ə), an ancient country in S Greece. Sparta was its capital. n. —La co'ni an, adj., n.

la con ic (lə kon'ik), using few words; brief in speech or expression; concise. adj.

la con i cal ly (lə kon'ik lē), in few words; briefly; concisely. adv.

lac o nism (lak'ə niz əm), 1. laconic brevity. 2. a laconic speech or expression. n.

lac quer (lak'ər), 1. varnish consisting of shellac dissolved in alcohol, used for coating brass. 2. varnish made from the resin of a sumac tree of SE Asia. It gives a very high polish on wood. 3. wooden articles coated with such varnish. 4. coat with lacquer. 1-3 n., 4 v. —lac'quer er, n.

lac ri mal (lak'rə ml), lachrymal. adj.

la crosse (lə krōs'), game played with a ball and long-handled rackets by two teams of 10 players each. The players try to send the ball through a goal. n.

lac tate (lak'tāt), any salt of lactic acid. n.

lac ta tion (lak tā'shən), 1. act of suckling a baby. 2. time during which a mother gives milk. 3. secretion or formation of milk. n.

lac te al (lak'tē əl), 1. of milk; like milk; milky. 2. carrying chyle, a milky liquid formed from digested food. 3. any of the tiny vessels that carry chyle to be mixed with the blood. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

lac te ous (lak'tē əs), milky. adj.

lac tic (lak'tik), of milk; from milk. adj.

lactic acid, a colorless, odorless acid formed in sour milk, the fermentation of vegetable juices, etc.

lac to fla vin (lak'tō flā'vən), riboflavin. n.

lac tose (lak'tōs), a crystalline sugar present in milk; milk sugar. n.

la cu na (lə kū'nə), 1. an empty space; gap; blank: There were several lacunas in her letter where words had been erased. 2. a tiny cavity in bones or tissues. n., pl. la cu nas, la cu nae (-nē).

la cus trine (lə kus'trin), 1. of lakes. 2. in lakes. adj. lac y (lās'ē), 1. of lace. 2. like lace; having an open pattern. adj., lac i er, lac i est. —lac'i ness, n.

lad (lad), 1. boy; young man. 2. Informal. man. n.

lad der (lad'ər), 1. set of rungs or steps fastened to two long sidepieces, for use in climbing. 2. means of climbing higher: Hard work is a ladder to success. n.

—lad'der like, adj.

lad die (lad'ē), Scottish. 1. a young boy. 2. man. n.

lade (lād), 1. put a burden on; load. 2. dip; scoop; ladle. 3. take on cargo. v., lad ed, lad en or lad ed, lad ing.

lad en (lād'n), 1. loaded; burdened: The camels were laden with bundles of silk. 2. a pp. of lade. 1 adj., 2 v.

lad ing (lād'ing), 1. act of loading. 2. load; freight; cargo. n.

la dle (lā'dl), 1. a large cup-shaped spoon with a long handle, for dipping out liquids. 2. dip out. 3. carry in a ladle. 1 n., 2,3 v., la dled, la dling. —la'dler, n.

La dō ga (lā'dō gə), Lake, lake in NW Soviet Union. It is the largest lake in Europe. Ladle 7000 sq. mi. n.

La drone Islands (lə drōn'), Marianas Islands.

la dy (lā'dē), 1. woman who has the rights or authority of a lord; mistress of a household. 2. noblewoman; woman who has the title of Lady. 3. a well-bred woman; woman of high social position. 4. any woman.

Girls playing lacrosse

5. woman whom a man loves or is devoted to. 6. wife. n., pl. la dies.

la dy (lā'dē), title given to women of certain ranks in the British Commonwealth. n., pl. Ladies.

la dy bird (lā'dē bērd'), ladybug. n.

la dy bug (lā'dē bug'), a small round beetle with black spots, that eats other insects. n.

Lady Day, March 25, the day when the angel told Mary that she would be the mother of Jesus.

la dy fin ger (lā'dē fing'gər), a small sponge cake shaped somewhat like a finger. n.

lady in waiting, lady who is an attendant of a queen or princess.

la dy like (lā'dē līk'), 1. like a lady. 2. suitable for a lady. adj.

la dy ship (lā'dē ship), 1. rank or position of a lady. 2. Brit. title used in speaking to or of a woman having the rank of Lady: "your Ladyship," "her Ladyship." n.

la dy-slip per (lā'dē slip'ər), lady's-slipper. n.

la dy's-slip per (lā'dēz slip'ər), a wild orchid whose flower looks somewhat like a slipper. n.

La er tes (lā'ēr'tēz), in Greek legend, the father of Odysseus. n.

La fa yette (laf'ē et' or lā'fē et'), Marquis de, 1757-1834, French general and statesman. He commanded the French army that helped the Americans during the American Revolution. n.

lag (lag), 1. move too slowly; fall behind: The child lagged because he was tired. 2. a lagging. 3. amount by which a person or thing lags. 1 v., lagged, lag ging; 2,3 n.

la ger (lā'gər), a beer which is slowly fermented at a low temperature and stored from six weeks to six months before being used. n.

lag gard (lag'ərd), 1. person who moves too slowly or falls behind; backward person. 2. slow; falling behind; backward. 1 n., 2 adj. —lag'gard ly, adv.

la gnappe or la gnappe (lan yap'), something given to a customer with a purchase. n.

la goon (lə'gūn'), 1. pond or small lake connected with a larger body of water. 2. shallow water separated from the sea by low sandbanks. 3. water within a ring-shaped coral island. n.

La gos (lā'gōs), capital of Nigeria. 364,000. n.

La Guar di a Airport (lə gwār'dē ə), a major domestic and international airport, in the Borough of Queens in New York City.

La hore (lə hōr'), a city in W Pakistan. 849,000. n.

laid (lād), 1. pt. and pp. of lay. He laid down the heavy bundle. 2. marked with close parallel lines or watermarks: laid paper. 1 v., 2 adj.

laid up, 1. stored up; put away for future use. 2. forced to stay indoors or in bed by illness. 3. dismantled and put in dock.

lain (lān), pp. of lie. The snow has lain on the ground a week. v.

lair (lār), den or resting place of a wild animal. n.

laird (lārd), Scottish. owner of land. n.

lais sez faire or lais ser faire (les'ā fār'), 1. principle of letting people do as they please. 2. absence of regulation and interference by a government in trade, business, industry, etc.

lais sez-faire (les'ā fār'), of or based on laissez faire. adj.

la i ty (lā'ē tē), laymen; the people as distinguished from the clergy or from a professional class: Doctors use many words that the laity do not understand. n., pl. la i ties.

LARVA PUPA ADULT
Ladybug. Line shows actual length of adult.

Lady's-slipper

La ius (lā'əs), in Greek legend, the king of Thebes and father of Oedipus. n.

lake¹ (lāk), 1. a large body of water entirely or nearly surrounded by land. 2. a wide place in a river. n.

lake² (lāk), 1. a deep-red or purplish-red coloring matter. 2. an insoluble colored compound formed from animal, vegetable, or coal tar coloring matters and metallic oxides. n.

Lake District or Lake Country, region of beautiful mountains and lakes in NW England, associated with Wordsworth, Coleridge, and other English poets.

lake dweller, person who lived in a house built on piles over a lake in prehistoric times.

lake dwelling, house built on piles over a lake in prehistoric times.

lake trout, a large gray trout of the lakes of North America.

Lake wood (lāk'wūd), a residential suburb of Cleveland, Ohio, on Lake Erie. 66,000. n.

lakh (lak), lac². n.

lam (lam), Slang. On the lam means: 1. escaping. 2. in hiding. n.

la ma (lā'mə), a Buddhist priest or monk in Tibet and Mongolia. n.

La ma ism (lā'mə iz əm), the religious system of the lamas in Tibet and Mongolia, a form of Buddhism. n.

la ma ser y (lā'mə ser'ē), in Tibet and Mongolia, a monastery of lamas. n., pl. la ma ser ies.

lamb (lam), 1. a young sheep. 2. meat from a lamb: roast lamb. 3. lambskin. 4. give birth to a lamb or lambs. 5. a young, dear, or innocent person. 1-3,5 n., 4 v. —lamb'like', adj.

like a lamb, 1. meekly; timidly. 2. easily fooled.

the Lamb, Christ. John 1:29 and 36.

Lamb (lam), Charles, 1775-1834, English writer. n.

lam baste (lam bāst'), Slang. 1. beat; thrash. 2. scold roughly. v., lam bast ed, lam bast ing.

lam ben cy (lam'bən sē), lambent quality or condition. n.

lam bent (lam'bənt), 1. moving lightly over a surface: a lambent flame. 2. playing lightly and brilliantly over a subject: a lambent wit. 3. softly bright: Moonlight is lambent. adj.

lamb kin (lam'kin), 1. a little lamb. 2. a young or dear person. n.

lam bre quin (lam'brə kin), drapery covering the top of a window or door, or hanging from a shelf. n.

lamb skin (lam'skin'), 1. skin of a lamb, especially with the wool on it. 2. leather made from the skin of a lamb. 3. parchment. n.

lame (lām), 1. not able to walk properly; having an injured leg or foot; crippled. 2. stiff and sore: His arm is lame from playing ball. 3. make lame; cripple: The accident lamed him for life. 4. become lame; go lame.

5. poor; weak; unsatisfactory: Sleeping too long is a lame excuse for being late. 1,2,5 adj., lam er, lam est; 3,4 v., lamed, lam ing. —lame'ly, adv. —lame'ness, n.

la mé (la mā'), a rich fabric made, wholly or partly, of metal threads. n.

lame duck, 1. U.S. Congressman who has been defeated for reelection and is serving the last part of his term. 2. a disabled or helpless person or thing.

la mel la (lə mel'ə), a thin plate, scale, or layer, especially of flesh or bone. n., pl. la mel las, la mel lae (-mel'ē).

la mel lar (lə mel'ər), having, consisting of, or arranged in lamellas. adj.

la ment (lə ment'), 1. express grief for; mourn for: lament the dead. 2. express grief; mourn; weep: Why does she lament? 3. expression of grief; wail. 4. poem, song, or tune that expresses grief. 5. regret: We lamented his absence. 6. a regret. 1,2,5 v., 3,4,6 n. —la ment'er, n. —la ment'ing ly, adv.

lam en ta ble (lam'ən tə bl), 1. to be regretted or pitied: a lamentable accident, a lamentable failure. 2. sorrowful; mournful: It was a lamentable day when our dog died. adj. —lam'en ta bly, adv.

lam en ta tion (lam'ən tā'shən), loud grief; mourning; wailing; cries of sorrow. n.

Lam en ta tions (lam'ən tā'shənz), book of the Old Testament. It is said to have been written by Jeremiah. n.

lam i na (lam'ə nə), 1. a thin plate, scale, or layer. 2. the flat wide part of a leaf. n., pl. lam i nae (-nē) or lam i nas.

lam i nar (lam'ə nər), having, consisting of, or arranged in thin layers, plates, or scales. adj.

lam i nate (lam'ə nāt for 1-4; lam'ə nāt or lam'ə nit for 5,6), 1. split into thin layers. 2. make by putting layer on layer. 3. beat or roll (metal) into a thin plate. 4. cover with thin plates. 5. laminated; laminar. 6. a laminated plastic. 1-4 v., lam i nat ed, lam i nat ing; 5 adj., 6 n.

lam i na tion (lam'ə nā'shən), 1. a laminating. 2. a being laminated. 3. laminated structure; arrangement in thin layers. 4. a thin layer. n.

lamp (lamp), 1. thing that gives light. There are oil lamps, gas lamps, and electric lamps. 2. something that suggests the light of a lamp. 3. Slang. eye. n.

lamp black (lamp'blak'), a fine black soot consisting of almost pure carbon that is deposited when oil, gas, etc., burn incompletely. Lampblack is used as a coloring matter in paint and ink. n.

lamp light (lamp'lit'), light from a lamp. n.

lamp light er (lamp'lit'ər), 1. person who lights street lamps. 2. torch, twisted paper, etc., used to light lamps. n.

lam poon (lam pūn'), 1. piece of writing that attacks and ridicules a person in a malicious or abusive way. 2. attack in a lampoon. 1 n., 2 v. —lam poon'er, n.

lam poon ist (lam pūn'ist), person who writes lampoons. n.

lamp post (lamp'pōst'), post used to support a street lamp. n.

lam prey (lam'prē), a water animal having a body like an eel, gill slits like a fish, no jaws, and a large, round mouth. Some species live on the blood of fish they attach themselves to. n., pl. lam preys.

Lan ca shire (lang'kə shir), county in northwestern England. n.

Lan cas ter (lang'kəs tər for 1 and 2; lang'kəs tər or lang'kas'tər for 3), 1. the English royal house from 1399 to 1461. Its emblem was a red rose. 2. Lancashire. 3. city in SE Pennsylvania. 61,000. n.

Lan cas tri an (lang kas'trē ən), 1. of the English royal house of Lancaster. 2. supporter or member of the house of Lancaster. 1 adj., 2 n.

lance (lans), 1. a long wooden spear with a sharp iron or steel head. Knights carried lances. 2. soldier armed with a lance. 3. pierce with a lance. 4. any instrument like a soldier's lance. 5. lancet. 6. cut open with a lancet: The dentist lanced the gum so that the new tooth could come through. 1,2,4,5 n., 3,6 v., lanced, lanc ing.

lance corporal, in the British army, a private acting temporarily as a corporal, without increase of pay.

Lan ce lot (lan'sə lot), bravest of King Arthur's knights of the Round Table. n.

lanc er (lan'sər), a mounted soldier armed with a lance. n.

lanc ers (lan'sərz), 1. form of square dance. 2. music for it. n.pl.

Lamprey (grows to length of 2 or 3 ft.)

Knight carrying a lance

lance sergeant, in the British army, a corporal appointed to act temporarily as sergeant.

lan cet (lan'sit), a small, sharp-pointed surgical knife, usually having two sharp edges. Doctors use lancets for opening boils, abscesses, etc. n.

lance wood (lans'wud'), 1. a tough, straight-grained, springy wood, used for fishing rods, carriage shafts, cabinetwork, etc. 2. the tropical American tree that yields it. n.

land (land), 1. the solid part of the earth's surface: dry land. 2. ground; soil: This is good land for a garden.

3. landed property; real estate. 4. country; region: mountainous land. 5. people of a country; nation. 6. come to land; bring to land: The ship landed at the pier. 7. put on land; set ashore: The ship landed its passengers. 8. go ashore: The passengers landed. 9. arrive; cause to arrive: The thief landed in jail. 10. Informal. catch; get: land a job. 1-5 n., 6-10 v.

how the land lies, what the state of affairs is.

lan dau (lan'dō or lan'dou), 1. a four-wheeled carriage with two seats and a top made in two parts that can be folded back. 2. automobile with a similar top. n.

Landau (def. 1)

lan dau let or lan dau lette (lan'dō let'), 1. a small landau. 2. automobile with a folding top. n.

land breeze, breeze blowing from the land toward the sea.

land ed (lan'did), 1. owning land: landed nobles. 2. consisting of land. Landed property is real estate. adj.

land fall (lan'dfōl'), 1. approach to land from the sea or air; landing. 2. sighting land. 3. land sighted or reached. n.

land grant, grant of land; gift of land by the government for colleges, railroads, etc.

land hold er (lan'dhōl'dər), person who owns or occupies land. n.

land hold ing (lan'dhōl'ding), 1. that owns or occupies land. 2. an owning or occupying of land. 1 adj., 2 n.

land ing (lan'ding), 1. a coming to land: the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth. 2. place where persons or goods are landed from a ship: the steamboat landing. 3. platform between flights of stairs. n.

landing craft, U.S. any of various kinds of boats or ships used for landing troops or equipment on a shore, especially during an assault.

landing field, field large enough and smooth enough for airplanes to land in and take off from safely.

landing gear, wheels, pontoons, etc., under an aircraft. When on land or water an aircraft rests on its landing gear.

landing net, a small net for landing fish.

landing stage, a floating platform used for loading and unloading people and goods.

landing strip, a long, narrow runway for airplanes to take off from and land on.

land la dy (lan'dlā'dē), 1. woman who owns buildings or land that she rents to others. 2. mistress of an inn, lodging house, or boarding house. n., pl. land-ladies.

land less (lan'dlis), without land; owning no land. adj.

land locked (lan'dlokt'), 1. shut in, or nearly shut in, by land: a landlocked harbor. 2. living in waters shut off from the sea: landlocked salmon. adj.

land lord (lan'dlōrd'), 1. person who owns buildings or land that he rents to others. 2. keeper of an inn, lodging house, or boarding house. n.

land lub ber (lan'dlub'ər), person not used to being on ships; person clumsy on ships. Sailors call landsmen landlubbers in scorn. n.

land mark (land/'märk'), 1. something familiar or easily seen, used as a guide: That tall tower makes a good landmark. 2. an important fact or event; happening that stands out above others: The printing press, the telephone, the telegraph, and the radio are landmarks in the progress of communications. 3. stone or other object that marks the boundary of a piece of land. n.

land mine, container filled with explosives or chemicals, placed on the ground or lightly covered. It is usually set off by the weight of vehicles or troops passing over it.

land office, a government office that takes care of the business connected with public lands, and records sales, transfers, etc.

land own er (land/'ön'är), person who owns land. n.

land-poor (land/'pür'), 1. owning much land but needing ready money. 2. poor because of taxes, etc., on one's land. adj.

land scape (land/'skāp), 1. view of scenery on land: The two hills with the valley formed a beautiful landscape. 2. picture showing a land scene. 3. make (land) more pleasant to look at by arranging trees, shrubs, flowers, etc.: The park is landscaped. 1,2 n., 3 v., land scaped, land scap ing.

landscape gardener, person whose business is landscape gardening.

landscape gardening, arrangement of trees, shrubs, flowers, etc., to give a pleasing appearance to grounds, parks, etc.

Land's End, the southwestern tip of England.

land slide (land/'slid'), 1. a sliding down of a mass of soil or rock on a steep slope. 2. mass that slides down. 3. an overwhelming majority of votes for one political party or candidate. n.

land slip (land/'slip'), Brit. landslide (defs. 1,2). n.

lands man (landz/'män), 1. man who lives or works on land. 2. an inexperienced seaman. n., pl. lands-men.

land ward (land/'wärd), toward the land. adv., adj.

land wards (land/'wärdz), landward. adv.

land wind, wind blowing from the land toward the sea.

lane (lān), 1. a narrow way between hedges, walls, or fences; narrow country road. 2. any narrow way: The six generals walked down a lane formed by two lines of soldiers and sailors. A highway is often marked off in lanes for lines of traffic. 3. alley between buildings. 4. course or route used by ships or airplanes going in the same direction. n.

lang., language.

lang syne (lang/'sīn' or lang/'zīn'), Scottish. long since; long ago.

lan guage (lang/'gwij), 1. human speech, spoken or written. 2. speech of one nation or race: the French language. 3. form, style, or kind of language: bad language, Shakespeare's language, the language of chemistry. 4. wording; words: in the language of the Lord's Prayer. 5. any means of expressing thoughts or feelings: A dog's language is made up of barks, looks, and actions. n.

lan guid (lang/'gwid), 1. drooping; weak; weary; without energy: A hot, sticky day makes a person feel languid. 2. without interest or enthusiasm; indifferent. 3. sluggish; dull; not brisk or lively. adj. —lan'-guid ly, adv. —lan'-guid ness, n.

lan guish (lang/'gwish), 1. become weak or weary; lose energy; droop: The flowers languished from lack of water. 2. suffer under any unfavorable conditions: He languished in prison for twenty years. 3. grow dull, slack, or less intense: His vigilance never languished. 4. long; pine (for): She languished for home. 5. assume a soft, tender look for effect. v. —lan'-guish er, n.

lan guish ing (lang/'gwish ing), 1. drooping; pining; longing. 2. tender; sentimental; loving. 3. lasting; lingering. adj. —lan'-guish ing ly, adv.

lan guish ment (lang/'gwish mēnt), 1. a languishing; drooping, pining condition. 2. a languishing look or manner. n.

lan guor (lang/'gär), 1. lack of energy; weakness; weariness: A long illness causes languor. 2. lack of interest or enthusiasm; indifference. 3. softness or tenderness of mood. 4. quietness; stillness: the languor of a summer afternoon. 5. lack of activity; sluggishness. n.

lan guor ous (lang/'gär əs), 1. languid. 2. causing languor. adj. —lan'-guor ous ly, adv.

lan gur (lung gür'), a large, long-tailed, slender monkey of S Asia. n.

lan iard (lan/'yärđ), lanyard. n.

lank (langk), 1. long and thin; slender; lean: a lank boy. 2. straight and flat; not curly or wavy: lank hair. adj. —lank'/ly, adv. —lank'/ness, n.

lank i ly (langk'ī ē), in a lanky condition or form. adv.

lank y (langk'ē), awkwardly long and thin; tall and ungraceful. adj., lank i er, lank i est. —lank'/i ness, n.

lan o lin or lan o line (lan'ə lin), fat or grease obtained from wool, used in ointments. n.

La n sing (lan/'sing), capital of Michigan, in the S part. 108,000. n.

lan tern (lan/'tərn), 1. case to protect a light from wind, rain, etc. It has sides of glass or some other material through which the light can shine. 2. magic lantern. n.

lan tha num (lan/'thə nəm), a rare metallic element belonging to the same group of chemical elements as cerium. Symbol: La n.

lan yard (lan/'yärđ), a short rope or cord used on ships to fasten rigging. Sailors sometimes use a lanyard to hang a knife around their necks. n.

La oc o ön (lä ok'ō on), in Greek legend, a priest of Apollo at Troy who warned the Trojans against the wooden horse, and who was killed together with his two sons by two serpents sent by Athena. n.

La os (lä'os or lä'ös), country in SE Asia, in Indochina, formerly under French influence. 1,690,000 pop.; 89,320 sq. mi. Capital: Vientiane. n.

lap¹ (lap), 1. the front part from the waist to the knees of a person sitting down, with the clothing that covers it: Mother holds baby on her lap. 2. place where anything rests or is cared for: the lap of the gods, the lap of luxury. 3. a loosely hanging edge of clothing; flap. n.

lap² (lap), 1. lay or lie together, one partly over or beside another: Shingles on a roof lap. 2. lapping over. 3. amount of lapping over. 4. part that laps over. 5. extend out beyond a limit: The reign of Queen Elizabeth (from 1558 to 1603) lapped over into the seventeenth century. 6. wind or wrap (around); fold (over or about): He lapped the blanket around him. 7. enwrap; wrap up (in): He lapped himself in a warm blanket. 8. surround; envelop. 9. one time around a race track. 10. in a race, get a lap or more ahead of (other racers). 1.5-8,10 v., lapped, lap ping; 2-4,9 n.

lap³ (lap), 1. drink by lifting up with the tongue: Cats and dogs lap up water. 2. move or beat gently with a lapping sound; splash gently: Little waves lapped against the boat. 3. act of lapping: one lap of the tongue. 4. sound of lapping: the lap of the waves against my boat. 1,2 v., lapped, lap ping; 3,4 n. —lap'/per, n.

La Paz (lä päz'), one of the two capitals of Bolivia, in the W part. 321,000.

lap dog, a small pet dog.

la pel (lä pel'), part of the front of a coat folded back just below the collar. n.

lap ful (lap/'fül), as much as a lap can hold. n., pl. lap fuls.

lap i dary (lap'ä der'ē), 1. person who cuts, polishes, or engraves precious stones. 2. having to do with cutting or engraving precious stones.

3. engraved on stone. 1 n., pl. lapidaries; 2,3 adj.

lap in (lap'an), 1. rabbit. 2. rabbit fur. n.

lap is lazuli (lap'is laz-yə li), 1. a deep-blue, opaque semiprecious stone used for an ornament. 2. deep blue.

Lapland (lap'land), region in northern Norway, Sweden, and Finland, and northwestern Soviet Union. n.

Laplander (lap'lan dər), Lapp (def. 1). n.

La Plata (lä plä'tə), seaport in E Argentina. 350,000.

Lapp (lap), 1. member of a Mongoloid race living in Lapland. The Lapps are small and have short, broad heads. 2. language of the Lapps. n.

lap pet (lap'it), 1. a small flap or fold. 2. a loose fold of flesh or membrane. 3. lobe of the ear. n.

lap robe, blanket, fur robe, etc., used to keep the lap and legs warm when riding in an automobile, carriage, etc.

lapse (laps), 1. slight mistake or error. A slip of the tongue, pen, or memory is a lapse. 2. make a slight mistake or error. 3. a slipping or falling away from what is right: a moral lapse. 4. slip or fall away from what is right. 5. a slipping back; sinking down; slipping into a lower condition: a lapse into savage ways. 6. slip back; sink down: The house lapsed into ruin. 7. a slipping by; a passing away: A minute is a short lapse of time. 8. slip by; pass away: The boy's interest soon lapsed. 9. ending of a right or privilege because it was not renewed, not used, or otherwise neglected. 10. end in this way. If a legal claim is not enforced, it lapses after a certain number of years. 1,3,5,7,9 n., 2,4,6,8,10 v., lapsed, lapsing.

lap wing (lap'wing'), a crested plover of Europe, Asia, and N Africa that has a slow, irregular flight and a peculiar, wailing cry. n.

Laramie (lar'ə mē), city in SE Wyoming. 18,000. n.

lar board (lär'bård or lär'bôrd), 1. side of a ship to the left of a person looking from the stern toward the bow; port. 2. on this side of a ship. 1 n., 2 adj.

lar ce nous (lär'sə nə), 1. of or like larceny; characterized by larceny. 2. thievish; guilty of larceny. adj.

lar ce ny (lär'sə nē), 1. theft. 2. the unlawful taking, carrying away, and using of the personal property belonging to another person without his consent. n., pl. lar ce nies.

larch (lärch), 1. tree of the same family as the pine, with small woody cones and needles that fall off in the autumn. 2. its strong, tough wood. n.

lard (lär'd), 1. fat of pigs and hogs, melted down and made clear. It is used in cooking. 2. insert strips of bacon or salt pork in (meat) before cooking. 3. put lard on or in; grease: Lard the pan well. 4. give variety to; enrich: lard a long speech with stories. 1 n., 2-4 v.

lar der (lär'dər), 1. pantry; place where food is kept. 2. stock of food. n.

La re do (lə rä'dō), city in S Texas. 61,000. n.

la res and pe na tes (lär'ez ənd pə nā'tēz), 1. the household gods of the ancient Romans. 2. the cherished possessions of a family or household.

large (lärj), 1. of great size, amount, or number; big: a large crowd, a large sum of money, a large animal. 2. of great scope or range; extensive; broad: a man of large experience. 3. on a great scale: a large employer of labor. adj., larg er, larg est. —large/ness, n.

at large, 1. at liberty; free: Is the prisoner at large? 2. fully; in detail. 3. as a whole; altogether. 4. representing the whole of a State or district, not merely one division of it: a congressman at large.

in large or in the large, on a big scale.

Lapwing
(about
1 ft. long)

large intestine, the lower part of the intestines, between the small intestine and the anus.

large ly (lärj'lē), 1. in great quantity; much. 2. to a great extent; mainly. adv.

large-scale (lärj'skäl'), 1. wide; extensive; involving many persons or things: a large-scale disaster. 2. made or drawn to a large scale. adj.

lar gess or lar gesse (lär'jis), 1. generous giving. 2. a generous gift or gifts. n.

larg ish (lär'jish), rather large. adj.

lar go (lär'gō), in music: 1. slow and dignified; stately. 2. a slow, stately passage or piece of music. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. lar gos.

lar i at (lar'ē ət), U.S. 1. a long rope with a running noose at one end; lasso. A cowboy throws a lariat at horses or cattle to catch them. See lasso for picture. 2. rope for fastening horses, mules, etc., to a stake while they are grazing. n.

lark¹ (lärk), 1. a small songbird of Europe, Asia, and N Africa with brown feathers and long hind claws. One kind, the skylark, sings while soaring in the air. 2. meadow lark, titlark, or any of several similar songbirds. n.

lark² (lärk), Informal. 1. a merry adventure; frolic; prank. 2. have fun; play pranks. 1 n., 2 v.

lark spur (lärk'spér), plant whose flowers have a petallike sepal shaped like a spur. Most larkspurs have clusters of blue flowers on tall stalks. n.

lar va (lär'və), the early form of an insect from the time it leaves the egg until it becomes a pupa. A caterpillar is the larva of a butterfly or moth. A grub is the larva of a beetle. Maggots are the larvae of flies. See pupa for picture. n., pl. lar vae.

lar vae (lär've), pl. of larva. n.

lar val (lär'vl), 1. of or having to do with larvae. 2. characteristic of larvae. 3. in the form of a larva. adj.

la ryn ge al (lə rin'jē əl), 1. of or having to do with the larynx. 2. in the larynx. 3. used on the larynx. adj.

lar yn gi tis (lär'an jī'tis), inflammation of the larynx. A person with laryngitis has a very sore throat and can hardly talk. n.

lar ynx (lär'ings), 1. cavity at the upper end of the human windpipe, containing the vocal cords and acting as an organ of voice. 2. a similar organ in other mammals, or corresponding structure in other animals. n., pl. la ryn ges (lə rin'jēz) or lar ynx es.

La Salle (lə sal'), René Robert Cavelier de, 1643-1687, Frenchman who explored the Mississippi and Ohio rivers.

las car (las'kər), a native sailor of the East Indies. n.

las civ i ous (lə siv'ē əs), 1. feeling lust. 2. showing lust. 3. causing lust. adj. —las civ'i ous ly, adv.

la ser (lä'zər), device which produces and increases the intensity of a narrow and very concentrated beam of light. n.

lash¹ (lash), 1. the part of a whip that is not the handle. 2. a stroke or blow with a whip, etc. 3. beat or drive with a whip, etc.: The driver of the team lashed his horses on. 4. a sudden, swift movement. 5. wave or beat back and forth: The lion lashed his tail. The wind lashes the sails. 6. pour; rush violently: The rain lashed against the windows. 7. anything that hurts as a blow from a whip does. 8. attack severely in words; hurt severely. 9. eyelash. 1,2,4,7,9 n., 3,5,6,8 v. —lash'er, n.

lash out, 1. hit; attack; strike. 2. attack severely in words; scold vigorously.

lash² (lash), tie or fasten with a rope, cord, etc.: The boys lashed logs together to make a raft. v.

lash ing¹ (lash'ing), 1. act of one that lashes. 2. a severe attack in words; sharp scolding. n.

Horned lark
(about 7 in. long)

LARYNX
WINDPIPE

lash ing² (lash'ing), rope, cord, etc., used in tying or fastening. n.

Lash io (lash'yō), town in E Burma. It is the southern terminus of the Burma Road. 5000. n.

Las Pal mas (lās pāl'mās), the largest city in the Canary Islands. 178,000.

La Spe zia (lə spāt'syā), seaport in NW Italy. 114,000.

lass (las), 1. girl; young woman. 2. sweetheart. n.

Lassen Peak (las'n), a volcano in N California. 10,465 ft. high.

lassie (las'ē), girl. n.

las si tude (las'ə tūd or las'ə tūd), lack of energy; weakness; weariness. n.

las so (las'ō, las'ū, or la sü'), 1. a long rope with a running noose at one end; lariat. 2. catch with a lasso. 1 n., pl. las sos or las soes; 2 v., las soed, las so ing.

last¹ (last), 1. coming after all others; being at the end; final: the last page of the book. 2. after all others; at the end; finally: He arrived last. 3. latest; most recent: I saw him last week. 4. on the latest or most recent occasion: When did you last see him? 5. most unlikely; least suitable: That is the last thing one would expect. 6. very great; extreme: a paper of last importance. 7. that remains: He spent his last dollar. 8. person or thing that is last: the last in the row. 9. end: faithful to the last. 1,3,5-7 adj., 2,4 adv., 8,9 n.

at last, at the end; after a long time; finally.

breathe one's last, die.

see the last of, not see again.

last² (last), 1. go on; hold out; continue to be; endure: The storm lasted three days. 2. continue in good condition, force, etc.: I hope these shoes last a year. 3. be enough (for): while our money lasts. v.

last³ (last), 1. block shaped like a person's foot, on which shoes and boots are formed or repaired. 2. form (shoes and boots) on a last. 1 n., 2 v.

stick to one's last, pay attention to one's own work; mind one's own business.

last ing (las'ting), that lasts a long time; that lasts; that will last; permanent; durable: The experience had a lasting effect on him. adj. —last'ing ly, adv.

Last Judgment, God's final judgment of all mankind at the end of the world.

last ly (last'lē), finally; in conclusion. adv.

last offices, prayers for a dead person.

last quarter, period between second half moon and new moon; phase of moon represented by the half moon after full moon.

last straw, last of a series of troublesome things that finally causes a collapse, outburst, etc.

Last Supper, supper of Jesus and His disciples on the evening before He was crucified.

last word, 1. last thing said. 2. Informal, the latest thing; most up-to-date style. 3. Informal, thing that cannot be improved.

Las Vegas (lās vā'gās), city in SE Nevada. 64,000.

latch (lach), 1. catch for fastening a door, gate, or window, with a movable piece of metal or wood that fits into a notch, opening, etc. 2. fasten with a latch. 1 n., 2 v.

on the latch, not locked; fastened only with a latch.

latch et (lach'it), Archaic, strap or lace for fastening a shoe or sandal. n.

latch key (lach'kē'), key used to draw back or unfasten the latch on a door. n.

Cowboy using a lasso. He whirled the loop over his head so that it will be open when he throws it.

latch string (lach'string'), string used to unfasten the latch of a door. n.

late (lāt), 1. happening, coming, etc., after the usual or proper time: We had a late dinner last night. 2. after the usual or proper time: He worked late. 3. happening, coming, etc., at an advanced time: success late in life. 4. at an advanced time: It rained late in the afternoon. 5. recent: The late storm did much harm. 6. recently dead or gone out of office: the late professor. 7. recently. 8. recently but no longer: John Smith, late of Boston. 1,3,5,6 adj., later or lat er, latest or last; 2,4,7,8 adv., late r, late st or last. —late'ness, n.

of late, lately; a short time ago; recently.

la teen (la tēn'), having a lateen sail. adj.

la teen-rigged (la tēn'rigd'), having a lateen sail. adj.

lateen sail, a triangular sail held up by a long yard on a short mast.

late ly (lāt'lē), a short time ago; recently. adv.

la ten cy (lā'tn sē), latent condition or quality. n.

la tent (lāt'nt), present but not active; hidden: latent disease germs, latent ability. adj. —la'tent ly, adv.

lat er al (lat'ər əl), 1. of the side; at the side; from the side; toward the side. A lateral branch of a family is a branch not in the direct line of descent. 2. a lateral part or outgrowth. 1 adj., 2 n.

lat er al ly (lat'ər əl ē), 1. in a lateral direction; at the side; sideways. 2. from a lateral branch. adv.

la tex (lā'teks), a milky liquid in certain plants, such as milkweed, poppies, and plants yielding rubber. n., pl. lat i ces (lat'ə sēz), la tex es (lā'tek siz).

lath (lath), 1. one of the thin, narrow strips of wood used to form a support for plaster or to make a lattice. 2. a wire cloth or sheet metal with holes in it, used in place of laths. 3. lining made of laths; laths. The walls of a frame house are usually built with lath and plaster. 4. cover or line with laths. 1-3 n., pl. laths (lathz or laths); 4 v.

lathe (lāth), machine for holding articles of wood, metal, etc., and turning them against a cutting tool used to shape them. n.

lath er¹ (lath'ər), 1. foam made from soap and water. 2. put lather on: He lathers his face before shaving. 3. form a lather: This soap lathers well. 4. foam formed in sweating. 5. become covered with such foam. 6. Informal, beat; flog. 1,4 n., 2,3,5,6 v.

lath er² (lath'ər), workman who puts laths on walls, ceilings, etc. n.

lath ing (lath'ing), 1. laths collectively. 2. work of putting laths on walls, etc. n.

lath work (lath'wērk'), lathing. n.

Lat in (lat'n), 1. language of the ancient Romans, considered classical in the form acquired during the 2nd and 1st centuries B.C. 2. of Latin; in Latin: Latin poetry, Latin grammar, a Latin scholar. 3. member of any of the peoples whose languages came from Latin. The Italians, French, Spanish, Portuguese, and Romanians are Latins. 4. of these peoples. 5. Roman Catholic. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,5 adj.

Latin America, South America, where Spanish and Portuguese are spoken; Central America and Mexico, where Spanish is spoken; and the parts of the West Indies where Spanish and French are spoken.

Lat in-A mer i can (lat'n ə mer'ə kən), of or having to do with Latin America. adj.

Latin American, native or inhabitant of Latin America.

Latin cross, cross shaped like this †.

Latin Quarter, district in Paris, south of the Seine River. Many students and artists live there.

lat ish (lāt'ish), rather late. adj., adv.

Boat with lateen sails

Latch

lat i tude (lat'ə tūd or lat'ə tūd), 1. distance north or south of the equator, measured in degrees. 2. place or region having a certain latitude: Polar bears live in the cold latitudes. 3. room to act; scope; freedom from narrow rules: An artist is allowed more latitude than a bricklayer. n.

lat i tu di nal (lat'ə tū'də nəl or lat'ə tū'də nəl), of or relating to latitude. adj.

la trine (lə trēn'), toilet in a camp, factory, etc.; privy. n.

lat ter (lat'ər), 1. second of two: Canada and the United States are in North America; the former lies north of the latter. 2. later; more recent; nearer the end: Friday comes in the latter part of the week. adj.

Latter-day Saint, Mormon.

lat ter ly (lat'ər lē), lately; recently. adv.

lat tice (lat'is), 1. structure of crossed wooden or metal strips with open spaces between them. 2. window, gate, etc., having a lattice. 3. form into a lattice; make like a lattice. 4. furnish with a lattice. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., lat ticed, lat tic ing. —lat'tice like', adj.

lat tice work (lat'is wēr'k'), 1. lattice. 2. lattices. n.

Lat vi a (lat'vē ə), Soviet republic in N Europe, on the Baltic Sea. 2,094,000 pop.; 25,395 sq. mi. Capital: Riga. See Lithuania for map. n.

—Lat'vi an, adj., n.

laud (lōd), 1. praise. 2. song or hymn of praise. 1 v., 1,2 n.

lauds or Lauds, 1. a morning church service with psalms of praise to God. 2. in Roman Catholic use, a prescribed devotional service for priests and religious, forming, with matins, the first of the seven canonical hours.

laud a bil i ty (lōd'ə bil'ə tē), praiseworthiness. n.

laud a ble (lōd'ə bl), worthy of praise; commendable: Unselfishness is laudable. adj. —laud'a bly, adv.

lau da num (lō'də nəm), solution of opium in alcohol, used to lessen pain. n.

lau da tion (lō dā'shən), praise. n.

laud a to ry (lōd'ə tō'rē), expressing praise. adj.

laugh (laf), 1. make the sounds and movements of the face and body that show mirth, amusement, scorn, etc. 2. express with laughter: laugh a reply. 3. drive, put, bring, etc., by or with laughing: laugh one's tears away. 4. suggest the feeling of joy; be lively. 5. act or sound of laughing. 1-4 v., 5 n. —laugh'er, n.

laugh at, make fun of.

laugh off, pass off or dismiss with a laugh.

laugh on the other side or wrong side of one's mouth, Informal. be annoyed; be made sorry.

laugh a ble (laf'ə bl), such as to cause laughter; amusing. adj. —laugh'a ble ness, n. —laugh'a bly, adv.

laugh ing (laf'ing), 1. that laughs or seems to laugh: the laughing brook. 2. accompanied by laughter. 3. laughter. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —laugh'ing ly, adv. no laughing matter, matter that is serious.

laughing gas, nitrous oxide, a colorless gas that makes one insensible to pain. This gas makes some people laugh and become excited.

laughing jackass, an Australian bird with a harsh cackling voice.

laugh ing stock (laf'ing stōk'), object of ridicule; person or thing that is made fun of. n.

laugh ter (laf'tər), 1. action of laughing. 2. sound of laughing. n.

launch (lōnch), 1. the largest boat carried by a warship. 2. a more or less open motorboat used for pleasure trips, etc. n.

Circles of latitude

Lattice

launch (lōnch), 1. cause to slide into the water; set afloat: A new ship is launched from the supports on which it was built. 2. movement of a boat or ship from the land into the water. 3. push out or put forth on the water or into the air: launch a plane from an aircraft carrier. 4. start; set going; set out: His friends launched him in business by lending him money. He used the money to launch into a new business. 5. throw; hurl; send out: An angry person launches threats against enemies. A bow launches arrows into the air. 6. burst; plunge: The rebel launched into a violent attack on the government. 1,3-6 v., 2 n. —launch'er, n.

launch out, begin; start.

launching pad, the raised level surface on which a rocket or missile is prepared for launching and from which it is shot into the air.

launder (lōn'dər), 1. wash and iron (clothes, etc.). 2. be able to be washed; stand washing. v. —launder'er, n.

launder dress (lōn'dris), woman whose work is washing and ironing clothes, etc. n.

launder dry (lōn'drē), 1. room or building where clothes, etc., are washed and ironed. 2. clothes, etc., washed or to be washed. 3. Rare. the washing and ironing of clothes. n., pl. launder dries.

launder dry man (lōn'drē mən), 1. man who works in a laundry. 2. man who collects and delivers laundry. n., pl. launder dry men.

launder dry woman (lōn'drē wūm'ən), laundress. n., pl. launder dry women.

laureate (lō'rē it), 1. crowned with a laurel wreath as a mark of honor. 2. honored; distinguished. 3. poet laureate. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

laurel (lō'rəl), 1. a small evergreen tree with smooth, shiny leaves; bay tree. 2. the leaves. The ancient Greeks and Romans crowned victors with wreaths of laurel. 3. any tree or shrub of the same family as the bay tree. 4. an American evergreen shrub, the mountain laurel. Its flower is the state flower of Connecticut. n.

laurels, 1. honor; fame. 2. victory.

look to one's laurels, guard one's reputation or record from rivals.

rest on one's laurels, be satisfied with the honors that one has already won.

lau reled (lō'rēld), 1. crowned with a laurel wreath. 2. honored. adj.

lau relled (lō'rēld), Esp. Brit. laureled. adj.

Lau ren tian Mountains (lō ren'shən), a low mountain range in Canada, between Hudson Bay and the St. Lawrence River.

Lau ri er (lō'rē ā), Sir Wilfrid, 1841-1919, Canadian statesman and premier of Canada from 1896 to 1911. n.

Lau sanne (lō zan'), city in W Switzerland, on Lake Geneva. 120,000. n.

la va (lā'və), 1. the molten rock flowing from a volcano or fissure in the earth. 2. rock formed by the cooling of this molten rock. Some lavas are hard and glassy; others are light and porous. n.

lav a liere, lav a lier, or lav al liere (lav'ə lir'), ornament hanging from a small chain, worn around the neck by women. n.

lav a to ry (lav'ə tō'rē), 1. room where a person can wash his hands and face. 2. bowl or basin to wash in. 3. bathroom; toilet. n., pl. lav a to ries.

lave (lāv), Poetic. 1. wash; bathe. 2. wash or flow against: The stream laves its banks. v., laved, lav ing.

lav en der (lav'ən dər), 1. pale purple. 2. a small shrub with spikes of fragrant pale-purple flowers, yielding an oil much used in perfumes. 3. its dried flowers, leaves, and stalks, used to perfume or preserve linens, clothes, etc. 1-3 n., 1 adj.

lav ish (lav'ish), 1. very free or too free in giving or spending; prodigal: A very rich person can be lavish with money. 2. very abundant; more than enough; given or spent too freely: lavish gifts. 3. give or spend very freely or too freely: It is a mistake to lavish kindness on ungrateful people. 1,2 adj., 3 v. —lav'ish er, n.

—lav'ish ly, adv. —lav'ish ness, n.

law (lô), 1. body of rules recognized by a state or a community as binding on its members: English law is different from French law. 2. one of these rules: Good citizens obey the laws. There is a law against spitting in buses. 3. controlling influence of these rules, or the condition of society brought about by their observance: maintain law and order. 4. law as a system: courts of law. 5. department of knowledge or study concerned with these rules; jurisprudence: study law. 6. body of such rules concerned with a particular subject or derived from a particular source: commercial law, criminal law. 7. legal profession: enter the law. 8. legal action. 9. any act passed upon by the highest legislative body of a State or nation: a congressional law. 10. any rule or principle that must be obeyed: the laws of hospitality, a law of grammar. 11. statement of a relation or sequence of phenomena invariable under the same conditions: the law of gravitation, Ohm's law. 12. a divine rule or commandment. 13. a mathematical rule on which the construction of a curve, a series, etc., depends. n. go to law, appeal to law courts; take legal action.

lay down the law, 1. give orders that must be obeyed. 2. give a scolding.

read law, study to be a lawyer.

take the law into one's own hands, protect one's rights or punish a crime without appealing to law courts.

the Law, 1. the books of the Old Testament that contain the Mosaic law. 2. the Old Testament.

law-a bid ing (lô'ə bîd'ing), obedient to the law; peaceful and orderly. adj.

law breaker (lô'brāk'ər), person who breaks the law. n.

law break ing (lô'brāk'ing), a breaking of the law. n.
law court, place where justice is administered; court of law.

law ful (lô'fl), 1. according to law; done as the law directs: lawful arrest. 2. allowed by law; rightful: lawful demands. adj. —law'ful ly, adv. —law'ful ness, n.

law giv er (lô'giv'ər), man who prepares and puts into effect a system of laws for a people; lawmaker. n.

law less (lô'lis), 1. paying no attention to the law; breaking the law. 2. hard to control; unruly. 3. having no laws. adj. —law'less ly, adv. —law'less ness, n.

law mak er (lô'māk'ər), person who helps to make laws; member of a legislature, congress, or parliament; legislator. n.

law mak ing (lô'māk'ing), 1. that makes laws; legislative. 2. a making of laws; legislation. 1 adj., 2 n.
lawn¹ (lôn), land covered with grass kept closely cut, especially near or around a house. n.

lawn² (lôn), a thin, sheer linen or cotton cloth. n.
lawn mower, machine with revolving blades for cutting the grass on a lawn.

lawn tennis, tennis.

Law rence (lô'rəns), city in NE Massachusetts. 71,000. n.

law ren ci um (lô ren'sē əm), a radioactive, artificial chemical element produced from californium. Symbol: Lw. n.

law suit (lô'sût'), case in a law court; application to a court for justice. n.

law yer (lô'yər), person whose profession is giving advice about the laws or acting for others in a law court. n.

lax (laks), 1. not firm or tight; loose; slack: a lax cord. 2. not strict; careless: Don't let yourself become lax about the schedule you have set for doing your homework. 3. loose in morals: People sometimes become lax when they go away from home. 4. not exact; vague. adj. —lax'ly, adv. —lax'ness, n.

lax a tive (lak'sə tiv), 1. a medicine that makes the bowels move. 2. making the bowels move. 1 n., 2 adj.

lax i ty (lak'sə tē), lax condition or quality. n.

lay¹ (lā), 1. bring down; beat down: A storm laid the crops low. 2. put down; keep down: Lay your hat on the table. A shower has laid the dust. 3. make quiet or make disappear: lay a ghost. 4. smooth down: lay the nap of cloth. 5. place in a lying-down position or a position of rest: Lay the baby down gently. 6. place, set, or cause to be in a particular situation or condition; place; put; set: She lays great emphasis on good manners. The scene of the story is laid in New York. 7. place in proper position or in orderly fashion: lay bricks. 8. devise; arrange: lay plans. 9. put down as a bet; wager: I lay five dollars that he will not come. 10. impose a burden, penalty, etc.: lay a tax on tea. 11. present; bring forward: lay claim to an estate. 12. impute; attribute: The theft was laid to him. 13. of a hen, produce (an egg or eggs). 14. lay eggs. 15. apply oneself vigorously: The men laid to their oars. 16. way or position in which a thing is laid or lies: the lay of the ground. 1-15 v., laid, lay ing; 16 n.

lay about, hit out on all sides.

lay aside, away, or by, put away for future use; save. lay down, 1. declare; state. 2. give; sacrifice. 3. Slang. quit; resign. 4. store away for future use. 5. bet.

lay for, Informal. lie in wait for.

lay in, provide; save; put aside for the future.

lay into, 1. beat; thrash. 2. Slang. scold.

lay off, 1. put aside. 2. Slang. stop for a time; stop; desist. 3. put out of work. 4. mark off.

lay on, 1. apply. 2. supply. 3. strike; inflict.

lay oneself out, Informal. make a big effort; take great pains.

lay out, 1. spread out. 2. prepare (a dead body) for burial. 3. arrange; plan. 4. Slang. spend.

lay to, 1. blame on; accuse of. 2. head into the wind and stand still.

lay up, 1. put away for future use; save. 2. cause to stay in bed or indoors because of illness or injury. 3. put (a ship) in dock.

lay² (lā), pt. of lie². After a long walk I lay down for a rest. v.

lay³ (lā), 1. of ordinary people; not of the clergy. A lay sermon is one preached by a person who is not a clergyman. 2. of ordinary people; not of lawyers, doctors, or those learned in the profession in question: The lay mind understands little of the causes of diseases. adj.

lay⁴ (lā), 1. a short poem to be sung; poem. 2. song; tune: The blackbird whistles his lay. n.

lay er (lā'ər), 1. one that lays: a bricklayer. 2. one thickness or fold. A cake is often made of two or more layers put together. n.

lay ette (lā'et'), set of clothes, bedding, etc., for a newborn baby. n.

lay man (lā'mən), person outside of any particular profession, especially one not belonging to the clergy. n., pl. lay men.

lay off (lā'ōf'), 1. a dismissing of workmen temporarily. 2. time during which the workmen are out of work. n.

lay out (lā'out'), 1. act of laying out. 2. arrangement; plan: This map shows the layout of the camp. 3. plan or design for an advertisement, book, etc. 4. thing laid out or spread out; display. 5. outfit; supply; set. n.

lay o ver (lā'ōvər), a stopping for a time in a place. n.

laz a ret or laz a rette (laz'ə ret'), lazaretto. n.

laz a ret to (laz'ə ret'ō), 1. hospital for people having contagious or loathsome diseases; pesthouse. 2. building or ship used for quarantine purposes. 3. place in some merchant ships, near the stern, in which supplies are kept. n., pl. laz a ret tos.

Laz a rus (laz'ə rəs), in the Bible: 1. the brother of Mary and Martha, whom Jesus raised from the dead.

John 11:1-44. 2. a beggar in the parable who suffered on earth but went to heaven. Luke 16:19-25. n.

laze (lāz), be lazy or idle. v., lazed, laz ing.

la zi ness (lā'zē nis), dislike of work; unwillingness to work or be active; being lazy. n.

la zy (lā'zē), 1. not willing to work or be active. 2. moving slowly; not very active. adj., la zi er, la zi est. —la'zi ly, adv.

lb., pound; pounds. pl. lbs.

l.c., 1. lower case; in small letters, not capital letters. 2. in the place cited.

l.c.m. or L.C.M., least common multiple.

lea (lē), a grassy field; meadow; pasture. n.

leach (lēch), 1. run (water, etc.) through slowly; filter. 2. dissolve out by running water through slowly: Polash is leached from wood ashes. 3. dissolve out soluble parts from (ashes, etc.) by running water through slowly. 4. lose soluble parts when water passes through. 5. container for use in leaching. 1-4 v., 5 n.

lead¹ (lēd), 1. show the way by going along with or in front of: He leads the horses to water. 2. be first among: She leads the class in spelling. 3. be a way or road: Hard work leads to success. 4. pass or spend (time) in some special way: He leads a quiet life in the country. 5. go first; begin a game: You may lead this time. 6. place of leader; place in front: He always takes the lead when we plan to do anything. 7. right to play first: It is your lead this time. 8. amount that one is ahead: He had a lead of 3 yards in the race. 1-5 v., led, lead ing; 6-8 n.

lead off, begin; start.

lead up to, prepare the way for.

lead² (led), 1. a heavy, easily melted, bluish-gray metal, used to make pipe, etc. Lead is a chemical element. Symbol: Pb 2. something made of this metal or one of its alloys. 3. made of lead. 4. weight on a line used to find out the depth of water; plummet. 5. bullets; shot: a hail of lead. 6. a long, thin piece of graphite as used in pencils. 7. a metal strip for widening the space between lines in printing. 8. insert leads between the lines of (print). 9. cover, frame, or weight with lead. 1,2,4-7 n., 3 adj., 8 v.

leads, 1. strips of lead used to cover roofs. 2. frames of lead in which panes of glass are set.

lead en (led'n), 1. made of lead: a leaden coffin. 2. heavy; hard to lift or move: leaden arms tired from working. 3. oppressive: leaden air. 4. dull; gloomy. 5. bluish-gray: leaden clouds. adj.

lead er (lēd'ər), 1. person or thing that leads: an orchestra leader. 2. person who is well fitted to lead. 3. horse harnessed at the front of a team. 4. an important or leading article or editorial in a newspaper. 5. a short length of transparent material attaching the lure to a fish line. 6. article offered at a low price to attract customers. n. —lead'er less, adj.

leaders, row of dots or dashes to guide the eye across a printed page.

lead er ship (lēd'ər ship), 1. being a leader. 2. ability to lead. n.

lead ing (lēd'ing), 1. act of one who or that which leads; guidance; direction. 2. guiding; directing. 3. most important; chief; principal: the leading lady in a play. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

leading question (lēd'ing), question so worded that it suggests the answer desired.

lead pencil (led), pencil having a graphite lead; ordinary pencil.

leaf (lēf), 1. one of the thin, flat, green parts that grow on the stem of a tree or other plant. 2. put forth leaves: The trees leaf out in the spring. 3. petal of a flower: a rose leaf. 4. a sheet of paper. Each side of a leaf is called a page. 5. turn the pages of. 6. a very thin sheet of metal, etc.: gold leaf. 7. a flat movable piece in the top of a table. 8. the sliding, hinged, or movable part of a door, shutter, etc. 1,3,4,6-8 n., pl. leaves; 2,5 v. —leaf'like, adj.

take a leaf from one's book, follow one's example; copy one's conduct.

turn over a new leaf, start all over again; try to do or be better in the future.

leaf age (lēf'ij), leaves; foliage. n.

leaf i ness (lēf'i nis), leafy condition. n.

leaf less (lēf'lis), having no leaves. adj.

leaf let (lēf'lit), 1. a small or young leaf. 2. one of the separate blades or divisions of a compound leaf.

3. a small, flat or folded sheet of printed matter: leaflets containing Sunday-school lessons, advertising leaflets. n.

leaf stalk (lēf'stōk'), stalk by which a leaf is attached to a stem; petiole. n.

leaf y (lēf'ē), having many leaves; covered with leaves. adj., leaf i er, leaf i est.

league¹ (lēg), 1. association of persons, parties, or countries formed to help one another. 2. persons, parties, or countries associated in a league. 3. associate in a league; form a league. 4. an association of baseball clubs. 1,2,4 n., 3 v., leagued, lea guing.

in league, association by agreement; associated.

the League, the League of Nations.

league² (lēg), measure of distance, usually about 3 miles. n.

League of Nations, association of many countries, formed in 1919 and dissolved in April 1946, to promote peace and cooperation among nations. Its representatives met in Geneva, Switzerland.

lea guer (lē'gər), member of a league. n.

Le ah (lē'ə), in the Bible, Jacob's first wife, Rachel's older sister. Genesis 29:16. n.

leak (lēk), 1. hole or crack not meant to be there that lets something in or out: a leak in a paper bag that lets the sugar run out, a leak in the roof. 2. go in or out through a hole or crack not meant to be there. 3. let something in which should be kept out; let something out which should be kept in: His boat leaks. Her teakettle leaks. 4. let (something) pass in or out: That pipe leaks gas. 5. leakage. 6. means of escape. 7. the escape itself. 8. become known gradually: The secret leaked out. 1,5-7 n., 2-4,8 v.

leak age (lēk'ij), 1. a leaking; a going in or out through a leak. 2. that which leaks in or out. 3. amount of leaking. n.

leak y (lēk'ē), leaking; having a leak or leaks. adj., leak i er, leak i est. —leak'i ness, n.

leal (lē), Archaic or Scottish. loyal. adj.

lean¹ (lēn), 1. stand slanting, not upright; bend: A small tree leans over in the wind. 2. rest sloping or slanting: Lean against me. 3. set or put in a leaning position: Lean the picture against the wall till I am ready for it. 4. act of leaning; inclination. 5. depend; rely: lean on a friend's advice. 6. bend or turn a little: lean toward mercy. 1-3,5,6 v., leaned or (esp. Brit.) leant, lean ing; 4 n.

lean over backward, Informal. be excessive in one direction so as to more than balance a tendency in the opposite direction.

lean² (lēn), 1. with little or no fat. 2. meat having little fat. 3. producing little; scant: a lean harvest, a lean diet. 1,3 adj., 2 n. —lean'ness, n.

Le an der (lē an'dər), in Greek legend, a lover who swam the Hellespont nightly to visit his sweetheart, Hero. n.

lean ing (lēn'ing), tendency; inclination. n.

leant (lent), leaned, a pt. and a pp. of lean¹. v.

lean-to (lēn'tū'), 1. building attached to another, toward which its supports or roof slants. 2. having supports pitched against or leaning on an adjoining wall or building: a lean-to roof. 3. a crude shelter built against a tree or post. It is usually open on one side. 1,3 n., pl. lean-tos; 2 adj.

leap (lēp), 1. a jump or spring. 2. thing to be jumped. 3. distance covered by a jump. 4. jump: A frog leaps. 5. jump over: leap a fence. 1-3 n., 4,5 v., leaped or leapt, leap ing.

Lean-to (def. 1)
on a barn

by leaps and bounds, very fast and very much; swiftly.
leap in the dark, thing done without knowing what its results will be.

leap frog (lēp'frog'), game in which one player jumps over another who is bending over. n.

leapt (lept or lēpt), leaped, a pt. and a pp. of leap. v.

leap year, year having 366 days. The extra day is February 29. A year is a leap year if its number can be divided exactly by four, except years at the end of a century, which must be exactly divisible by 400. The years 1952 and 2000 are leap years; 1953 and 1900 are not.

Lear (lir), aged British king, the chief character in Shakespeare's play King Lear, who has three daughters, two of them very ungrateful. n.

learn (lēr'n), 1. gain knowledge of (a subject) or skill in (an art, trade, etc.) by study, instruction, or experience: learn French. 2. acquire knowledge, skill, etc.: He learns easily. 3. memorize: learn a poem by heart. 4. find out; come to know: learn the details of the train wreck. 5. become informed; hear. v., learned or learnt, learn ing. —learn-a-ble, adj.

learn ed (lēr'nid), having, showing, or requiring much knowledge; scholarly. adj. —learn'ed ly, adv.

learner (lēr'nər), 1. person who is learning. 2. beginner. n.

learn ing (lēr'ning), 1. the gaining of knowledge or skill. 2. possession of knowledge gained by study; scholarship. 3. knowledge. n.

learnt (lērnt), learned, a pt. and a pp. of learn. v.

lease (lēs), 1. contract, usually in the form of a written agreement, giving the right to use property for a certain length of time, usually by paying rent. 2. length of time for which such an agreement is made. 3. give a lease on. 4. to rent: We have leased an apartment for one year. 5. be leased. 1,2 n., 3-5 v., leased, lease ing.

new lease on life, chance to live longer, better, or happier.

lease hold (lēs'hōld'), 1. a holding by a lease. 2. real estate held by a lease. n.

leash (lēsh), 1. strap, chain, etc., for holding a dog or other animal in check. 2. fasten or hold in with a leash; control. 3. group of three. 1,3 n., 2 v. hold in leash, control.

least (lēst), 1. less than any other; smallest; slightest: The least bit of dirt in a watch may make it stop. 2. least amount or degree: That is the least you can do. 3. to the least extent, amount, or degree: He liked that book least of all. 1 adj., 2 n., 3 adv.

at least or at the least, 1. at the lowest estimate. 2. at any rate; in any case.

not in the least, not at all.

least common multiple, the least quantity that contains two or more given quantities exactly. 12 is the least common multiple of 3 and 4 and 6.

least ways (lēst'wāz'), Informal. leastwise. adv.

least wise (lēst'wīz'), Informal. at least; at any rate. adv.

leath er (lēth'ər), 1. material made from the skin of animals by removing the hair and then tanning it. 2. article made of leather. 3. made of leather: leather gloves. 4. furnish or cover with leather. 5. Informal. beat with a strap; thrash. 1,2 n., 3 adj., 4,5 v.

leath er ette (lēth'ər et'), imitation leather. n.

leath ern (lēth'ərən), 1. made of leather. 2. like leather. adj.

leath er neck (lēth'ər nek'), Slang. a United States marine. n.

leath er y (lēth'ər ē), like leather; tough. adj. —leath'er i ness, n.

leave (lēv), 1. go away: We leave tonight. 2. go away from: He left the house. 3. stop living in, belonging to, or working at or for: leave the country. leave a club, leave a job. 4. go without taking; let remain: I left a book on the table. 5. go away and let remain in a particular condition: leave a window open. 6. let remain when one dies; bequeath: He left a large fortune. 7. give to be kept; deposit; give: I left my suitcase in the station while I walked around the town. 8. let (a person, etc.) alone to do something; let be: Leave me to settle the matter. 9. let remain for someone to do: Leave the matter to me. 10. let remain uneaten, unused, unremoved, etc.: There is some coal left. v., left, leav ing.

leave off, stop.

leave out, fail to do, say, or put in; omit.

leave (lēv), 1. permission; consent: They gave him leave to go. 2. permission to be absent from duty. 3. length of time that this lasts: Our annual leave is thirty days. n.

leave of absence, 1. permission to stay away (from the army, navy, one's work, school, etc.). 2. length of time that this lasts.

on leave, absent from duty with permission.

take leave of, say good-by to.

leave (lēv), put forth leaves: Trees leave in the spring. v., leaved, leav ing.

leav en (lev'ən), 1. any substance, such as yeast, that will cause fermentation and raise dough. 2. a small amount of fermenting dough kept for this purpose. 3. raise with a leaven; make (dough) light or lighter. 4. influence that, spreading silently and strongly, changes conditions or opinions. 5. spread through and transform. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v.

leav en ing (lev'ən ing), thing that leavens. n.

leaves (lēvz) pl. of leaf. n.

leave-tak ing (lēv-tāk'ing), act of taking leave: saying good-by. n.

leav ings (lēv'ingz), leftovers; remnants. n.pl.

Leb a non (leb'ə-nən), republic at the eastern end of the Mediterranean, north of Israel. 1,550,000 pop.; 4015 sq. mi. Capital: Beirut. n.

Lebanon Mountains, a mountain range in SW Syria. The highest peak is 10,050 feet.

lech er (lech'ər), man who indulges in lechery. n.

lech er ous (lech'ər əs), lewd; lustful. adj.

lech er y (lech'ər ē), lewdness; gross indulgence of lust. n.

lec tern (lek'tərən), a reading desk in a church; especially, the desk from which the lessons are read at daily prayer. n.

lec ture (lek'chər), 1. speech; planned talk on a chosen subject; such a talk written down or printed. 2. give a lecture. 3. instruct or entertain by a lecture. 4. a scolding: My mother gives me a lecture when I come home late. 5. scold; reprove. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v., lec tured, lec tur ing.

lec tur er (lek'chər ər), person who gives a lecture or lectures. n.

led (led), pt. and pp. of lead. The policeman led the child across the street. That blind man is led by his dog. v.

ledge (lej), 1. a narrow shelf; a window ledge. 2. shelf or ridge of rock. 3. layer or mass of metal-bearing rock. n.

ledg er (lej'ər), book of accounts in which a business keeps a record of all money transactions. n.

lee (lē), 1. shelter. 2. side or part sheltered from the wind: The wind was so fierce that we ran to the lee of the house. 3. sheltered from the wind: the lee side of a ship. 4. side away from the wind. 5. on the side away from the wind. 6. direction toward which the wind is blowing. 7. in the direction toward which the wind is blowing. 1,2,4,6 n., 3,5,7 adj.

Lectern

Lee (lē), 1. Charles, 1731-1782, American general in the American Revolution. 2. Fitzhugh, 1835-1905, Confederate general in the Civil War and an American general in the Spanish-American War. 3. Henry, 1756-1818, American general in the American Revolution. He was called "Light-Horse Harry." 4. Richard Henry, 1732-1794, American statesman. 5. Robert E., 1807-1870, the most famous Confederate general in the Civil War. n.

lee board (lē'bôrd'), a large, flat board lowered into the water on the lee side of a sailboat to keep the boat from drifting sideways. n.

leech (lēch), 1. worm living in ponds and streams that sucks the blood of animals. Doctors formerly used leeches to suck blood from sick people. 2. person who tries persistently to get what he can out of others. 3. Archaic. doctor. 4. Archaic. cure; heal. 1-3 n., 4 v.

leech (lēch), edge of a sail not fastened to a rope or spar. n.

Leeds (lēdz), city in N England. 510,000. n.

leek (lēk), vegetable somewhat like an onion, but with larger leaves, a smaller bulb shaped like a cylinder, and a milder flavor. n.

leer (lir), 1. a sly sidelong look; evil glance. 2. give a sly sidelong look; glance evilly. 1 n., 2 v. —leer'-ing ly, adv.

leer y (lir'ē), Slang. 1. sly. 2. suspicious. adj.

lees (lēz), dregs; sediment. n.pl.

lee shore, shore toward which the wind is blowing.

lee ward (lē'wôrd or lū'ôrd), 1. on the side away from the wind. 2. side away from the wind. 3. in the direction toward which the wind is blowing. 1,3 adj., adv., 2 n.

Lee ward Islands (lē'wôrd), 1. the northern part of the Lesser Antilles in the West Indies. See West Indies for map. 2. the part of the Leeward Islands belonging to the British Commonwealth. 130,000 pop.; 422 sq. mi. Capital: St. Johns.

lee way (lē'wâ'), 1. the side movement of a ship to leeward, out of its course. 2. extra space at the side; time, money, etc., more than is needed; margin of safety: If you have $10 more than you need on a trip, you are allowing yourself a leeway of $10. 3. convenient room or scope for action. n.

left (left), 1. belonging to the side of the less used hand (in most people); having this relation to the front of any object: the left wing of an army. 2. situated nearer the observer's or speaker's left hand than his right. 3. on or to the left side: turn left. 4. the left side or hand: He sat at my left. 5. part of a lawmaking body consisting of the more radical groups. 1,2 adj., 3 adv., 4,5 n.

left (left), pt. and pp. of leave. He left his hat in the hall. v.

left face, turn to the left.

left-hand (left'hând'), 1. on or to the left. 2. of, for, or with the left hand. adj.

left-handed (left'hân'did), 1. using the left hand more easily and readily than the right. 2. done with the left hand. 3. made to be used with the left hand. 4. turning from right to left: a left-handed screw. 5. clumsy; awkward. A left-handed compliment is one that is very awkward or really not a compliment at all. Example: "You must have made that dress yourself." 6. doubtful; insincere. adj. —left/hand'ed ly, adv. —left'-hand'ed ness, n.

left ist (lef'tist), 1. person who has radical ideas. 2. member of a radical or extreme organization. 3. Informal. having radical ideas. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

left o ver (left'ô vər), 1. thing that is left. Scraps of food from a meal are leftovers. 2. that is left; remaining. 1 n., 2 adj.

left wing, the radical members, especially of a political party.

leg (leg), 1. one of the limbs on which men and animals support themselves and walk. 2. part of a garment that covers a leg. 3. anything shaped or used like a leg: a table leg. 4. one of the distinct portions or stages of any course: the last leg of a trip. 5. Informal. walk; run: We could not get a ride, so we had to leg it. 6. side of a triangle that is not the base or hypotenuse. 7. course or run made by a sailing vessel on one tack. 1-4,6,7 n., 5 v., legged, leg ging. —leg'less, adj.

give a leg up, help.

have not a leg to stand on, Informal. have no defense or reason.

on one's last legs, about to fail, collapse, die, etc.

pull one's leg, Informal. fool, trick, or make fun of him.

stretch one's legs, take a walk.

leg a cy (leg'ə sē), 1. money or other property left to a person by a will. 2. something that has been handed down from an ancestor or predecessor. n., pl. leg a cies.

le gal (lē'gl), 1. of law: legal knowledge. 2. of lawyers: legal advice. 3. according to law; lawful: Hunting is legal only during certain seasons. 4. recognized by law rather than by equity. adj.

le gal ism (lē'gl iz əm), strict adherence to law or prescription. n.

le gal ist (lē'gl ist), 1. person who adheres strictly to laws or rules. 2. expert in law. n.

le gal is tic (lē'gl is'tik), adhering strictly to law or prescription. adj.

le gal i ty (li gal'ə tē), accordance with law; lawfulness. n., pl. le gal i ties.

le gal ize (lē'gl iz), make legal; authorize by law; sanction. v., le gal ized, le gal iz ing. —le'gal i za'-tion, n.

le gal ly (lē'gl ē), 1. in a legal manner. 2. according to law: He is legally responsible for his wife's debts. adv.

legal tender, money that must, by law, be accepted in payment of debts.

leg ate (leg'it), 1. a representative of the Pope. 2. ambassador; representative; messenger. n.

leg a tee (leg'ə tē'), person to whom a legacy is left. n.

le ga tion (li gā'shən), 1. the diplomatic representative of a country and his staff of assistants. A legation ranks next below an embassy. 2. the official residence, offices, etc., of such a representative in a foreign country. 3. office, position, or dignity of a legate. n.

le ga to (li gā'tō), in music, smooth and connected; without breaks between successive tones. adj., adv.

leg end (lej'ənd), 1. story coming down from the past, which many people have believed: The stories about King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table are legends, not history. 2. such stories as a group. 3. inscription on a coin or medal. 4. words, etc., accompanying a picture or diagram; caption. n.

leg end ar y (lej'ən der'ē), of a legend or legends; like a legend; not historical: Robin Hood is a legendary person. adj.

leg er de main (lej'ər də mān'), 1. sleight of hand; jugglery: A common trick of legerdemain is to take rabbits from an apparently empty hat. 2. trickery. n.

legged (legd or leg'id), having a leg or legs: two-legged. adj.

leg gings (leg'ingz), extra outer coverings of cloth or leather for the legs, for use out of doors. n.pl.

leg gy (leg'ē), 1. having long legs. 2. having awkwardly long legs. adj.

leg horn (leg'hörn or leg'ərn), hat made of flat, yellow braided straw. n.

Leg horn (leg'hörn for 1; leg'hörn or leg'ərn for 2), 1. seaport in W Italy. 146,000. 2. a rather small kind of domestic fowl. n.

leg i bil i ty (lej'ə bil'ə tē), legible condition or quality; clearness of print or writing. n.

legible (lej'ə bl), 1. that can be read. 2. easy to read; plain and clear: Her handwriting is both beautiful and legible. adj.

legibly (lej'ə blē), clearly. adv.

legion (lē'jən), 1. body of soldiers; army. 2. body of soldiers in the ancient Roman army consisting of 3000 to 6000 foot soldiers and 300 to 700 cavalymen. 3. a great many; very large number: a legion of difficulties, a legion of supporters. n.

legionary (lē'jən er'ē), 1. of or belonging to a legion. 2. soldier of a legion. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. legionaries.

legionnaire (lē'jən ār'), 1. member of the American Legion. 2. soldier of a legion. n.

Legion of Honor, an honorary society founded by Napoleon in 1802. Membership is given as a reward for great services to France.

legislate (lej'is lāt), 1. make laws: Congress legislates for the United States. 2. force by legislation: The council legislated him out of office. v., legislated, legislating.

legislation (lej'is lā'shən), 1. the making of laws: Congress has the power of legislation. 2. the laws made: Important legislation is reported in today's newspaper. n.

legislative (lej'is lā'tiv), 1. having to do with making laws: legislative reforms. 2. having the duty and power of making laws: Congress is a legislative body. 3. ordered by law. adj. —legislatively, adv.

legislator (lej'is lā'tər), lawmaker; member of a legislative body. n.

legislature (lej'is lā'chər), group of persons that has the duty and power of making laws for a State or country. n.

legitimate (lə jīt'ə mə sē), being legitimate or lawful; being recognized as lawful or proper. n.

legitimate (lə jīt'ə mit for 1-3,5,6; lə jīt'ə māt for 4), 1. rightful; lawful; allowed: Sickness is a legitimate reason for a child's being absent from school. 2. conforming to accepted standards. The legitimate drama means the body of plays of recognized merit. 3. born of parents who are married. 4. make or declare lawful. 5. resting on, or ruling by, the principle of hereditary right: the legitimate title to a throne, a legitimate sovereign. 6. logical: a legitimate conclusion. 1-3,5,6 adj., 4 v., legitimately, legitimizing. —legitimately, adv.

legitimate stage, drama acted on the stage as opposed to motion pictures.

legitimist (lə jīt'ə mist), supporter of legitimate authority, especially of claims to rule based on direct descent. n.

legitimize (lə jīt'ə mīz), make or declare to be legitimate. v., legitimized, legitimizing. —legitimize, mi za'tion, n.

leg-of-mutton (leg'əv mut'n), having the shape of a leg of mutton; wide at one end and narrow at the other: a leg-of-mutton sleeve. adj.

legume (leg'ūm or li gūm'), 1. plant having a number of seeds in a pod, such as beans, peas, etc. Many legumes can absorb nitrogen from the air. 2. the seed pod of such a plant. n.

leguminous (li gū'mə nə s), 1. of or bearing legumes. 2. of the same group of plants as beans and peas. adj.

Le Havre (lə hä'vər or lə hä'vrə), seaport in N France. 140,000. Also, Havre.

lehua (lā hū'ä), a hardwood tree of Hawaii, Samoa, etc., that has clusters of bright-red flowers. n.

lei (lä), wreath of flowers, leaves, etc. n., pl. leis.

Leicester (les'tər), city in central England. 281,000. n.

Leipzig (līp'sig), city in East Germany. 593,000. n.

Girl wearing a lei

leisure (lē'zhər), 1. time free from required work in which a person may rest, amuse himself, and do the things he likes to do: A busy man hasn't much leisure to read. 2. free; not busy: leisure hours. 3. having leisure. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

at leisure, 1. free; not busy. 2. without hurry; taking plenty of time.

at one's leisure, when one has leisure; at one's convenience.

leisured (lē'zhərd), 1. having leisure. 2. leisurely. adj.

leisurely (lē'zhər lē), without hurry; taking plenty of time: He walked leisurely across the street. adj., adv.

—leisureliness, n.

leitmotif or leitmotiv (līt'mō tēf'), a short passage in a musical composition, associated throughout the work with a certain person, situation, or idea. n.

lemming (lem'ing), a small, mouse-like arctic animal, having a short tail and furry feet. n.

lem on (lem'ən), 1. a sour, light-yellow citrus fruit growing in warm climates. 2. a thorny tree that bears this fruit. 3. pale yellow.

4. Slang. something disagreeable, unpleasant, or worthless. 1-4 n., 3 adj.

lemonade (lem'ən ād'), drink made of lemon juice, sugar, and water. n.

lemur (lē'mər), animal somewhat like a monkey, but having a foxlike face and woolly fur, found mainly in Madagascar. n.

Le na (lē'nə), river in E Soviet Union, flowing into the Arctic Ocean. 2800 mi. n.

lend (lend), 1. let another have or use for a time: Will you lend me your bicycle for an hour?

2. give the use of (money) for a fixed or specified amount of payment: Banks lend money and charge interest. 3. make a loan or loans: Nell often lends to Kate. A person who borrows should be willing to lend. 4. give for a time; give: A becoming dress lends charm to a girl. The Red Cross is quick to lend aid in time of disaster. v., lent, lending. —lender, n.

lend itself or oneself to, help or be suitable for.

lend-lease (lend'lēs'), 1. policy of making a loan to an allied country of certain equipment in which the lender is superior, and of receiving some service or material in return. 2. send as a loan. 1 n., 2 v., lend-leased, lend-leasing.

length (length or length), 1. how long a thing is; thing's measurement from end to end; longest way a thing can be measured: the length of a rope. 2. distance a thing extends. 3. extent in time: length of an hour. 4. a long stretch or extent. 5. piece or portion of given length: a length of rope. n.

at full length, with the body stretched out flat.

at length, 1. at last; finally. 2. in full; with all the details.

go to any length, do everything possible.

keep at arm's length, keep from being too familiar.

lengthen (length'n or length'n), 1. make longer: A tailor can lengthen your trousers. 2. become or grow longer: Your legs have lengthened a great deal since you were 5 years old. v.

lengthways (length'wāz' or length'wāz'), lengthwise. adv., adj.

lengthwise (length'wīz' or length'wīz'), in the direction of the length: He cut the cloth lengthwise. adv., adj.

lengthy (length'thē or length'thē), long; too long. adj.

lengthier, lengthiest.

lenience (lēn'yəns), leniency. n.

Lemming (about 6 in. long)

Lemur (about 3 ft. long, including the tail) len ien cy (lən'yən sē), mildness; gentleness; mercy. n.

len ient (lən'yənt), mild; gentle; merciful: a lenient conqueror. adj. —len'ient ly, adv.

Len in (lən'an), Nikolay, 1870-1924, Russian leader, the founder of the Soviet government and its head from 1917 to 1924. n.

Len in grad (lən'an grad), seaport in NW Soviet Union, on the Gulf of Finland. 2,888,000. Formerly called St. Petersburg and later Petrograd. n.

len i ty (lən'ə tē), mildness; gentleness; mercifulness. n., pl. len i ties.

lens (lenz), piece of glass, or something like glass, that brings closer together or sends wider apart the rays of light passing through it. The lens of the eye and the lens of a camera form images. The lenses of a telescope make things look larger and nearer. n., pl. lens es.

lent (lent), pt. and pp. of lend. I lent you my pencils. He had lent me his eraser. v.

Lent (lent), the forty weekdays before Easter, kept as a time for fasting and repenting of sins. n.

Lent en or lent en (lent'n), of Lent; during Lent; suitable for Lent. adj.

len til (len'til), 1. plant whose pods contain two seeds shaped like double-convex lenses, growing mostly in S Europe and Asia. 2. seed of this plant. Lentils are eaten like peas. n.

l'en voi or l'en voy (len'voi), a short stanza ending a poem. n.

Le o (lē'ō), a northern constellation that was thought of as arranged in the shape of a lion. n.

Le on (lā'on'), 1. province in NW Spain, formerly a kingdom. 2. city in central Mexico, NW of Mexico City. 123,000. n.

Le on ar do da Vin ci (lā'ə nār'dō də vin'chē). See da Vinci.

le o nine (lē'ə nīn), of or like a lion. adj.

leopard (lep'ərd), 1. a fierce mammal of Africa and Asia that has a dull-yellowish skin spotted with black. It belongs to the cat family. 2. jaguar or American leopard. n.

leopard ess (lep'ə-rdis), a female leopard. n.

Lé o pold ville (lē'ə-pöld vil'), former name of Kinshasa, Democratic Republic of the Congo. 390,000. n.

Le pan to (li pan'tō),

Strait of, strait leading into the Gulf of Corinth in S Greece. An important naval battle was fought here in 1571 when the sea power of Turkey was destroyed by a group of Italian states. n.

lep er (lep'ər), person who has leprosy. n.

lep i dop ter ous (lep'ə dop'tər əs), belonging to the group of insects including butterflies and moths. The larvae are wormlike; the adults have four broad wings more or less covered with small scales. adj.

lep re chaun (lep'rə kōn), in Irish legend, a sprite or goblin resembling a little old man. n.

lep ro sy (lep'rə sē), an infectious disease, characterized by ulcers and white scaly scabs. n.

lep rous (lep'rəs), 1. having leprosy: a leprous person. 2. of or like leprosy: white leprous scales. adj. —lep'rous ly, adv.

Les bos (lez'bos), Mytilene. n.

lese-maj es ty (lēz'maj'is tē), crime or offense against the sovereign power in a state; treason. n.

Leopard (in front) and leopardsess (length of leopard about 7 ft. tip of tail) le sion (lē'zhən), 1. injury; hurt. 2. a diseased condition. n.

Le so tho (lə sō'tō), a country in S Africa. 975,000 pop.; 11,716 sq. mi. Capital: Maseru. n. Formerly, Basutoland.

less (les), 1. smaller: of less width, less importance. 2. not so much; not so much of: to have less rain, to put on less butter, to eat less meat. 3. lower in age, rank, or importance: no less a person than the President. 4. a smaller amount or quantity: He refused to take less than $5. 5. to a smaller extent or degree: less known, less important. 6. lacking; without; minus: a year less two days. 1-3 adj., 4 n., 5 adv., 6 prep.

—less, suffix meaning:

1. without; that has no: Homeless = without a home.
 2. that does not: Ceaseless = that does not cease.
 3. that cannot be —ed: Countless = that cannot be counted.

les see (les ē'), person to whom a lease is granted. n.

less en (les'n), 1. grow less. 2. make less; decrease.

3. represent as less; minimize; belittle. v.

less er (les'ər), 1. less; smaller. 2. less important of two. adj.

Lesser Antilles, chain of small islands in the West Indies, southeast of Puerto Rico. It consists of the Leeward Islands, the Windward Islands, and the islands north of Venezuela. See West Indies for map.

les son (les'n), 1. something learned or studied: Children study many different lessons in school. 2. unit of learning or teaching; what is to be studied or practiced at one time: a music lesson. 3. an instructive experience, serving to encourage or warn. 4. give a lesson to. 5. selection from the Bible, read as part of a church service. 6. rebuke; lecture. 1-3,5,6 n., 4,6 v.

les sor (les'ôr), person who grants a lease. n.

lest (lest), 1. for fear that; that — not; in order that — not: Be careful lest you fall from that tree. 2. that: I was afraid lest he should come too late to save us. conj.

let (let), 1. allow; permit: Let the dog have a bone.

2. allow to pass, go, or come: let a person on board a ship.

3. allow to run out: Doctors used to let blood from people to lessen a fever. 4. rent; hire out: let a boat by the hour.

5. be rented: That house lets for $80 a month. 6. Let is used in giving suggestions or giving commands: "Let's go home," means "I suggest that we go home." 7. suppose; assume: Let the two lines be parallel. v., let, let ting.

let down, 1. lower. 2. slow up. 3. disappoint.

let in, admit; permit to enter.

let off, allow to go free.

let on, Informal. 1. allow to be known; reveal one's knowledge of. 2. pretend; make believe.

let out, 1. permit to go out. 2. make larger. 3. rent.

4. Informal. dismiss or be dismissed. 5. make known.

let up, Informal. stop; pause.

let (let), 1. Archaic. prevent; hinder; obstruct. 2. prevention; hindrance; obstruction. 3. interference with the ball in tennis and similar games. The ball or point must be played over again. 1 v., let ted or let, let ting; 2,3 n.

without let or hindrance, with nothing to prevent, hinder, or obstruct.

—let, suffix meaning:

1. little, as in booklet, streamlet, wavelet.

2. thing worn as a band on, as in anklet, armlet, wristlet.

3. other meanings, as in couplet, gauntlet, ringle.

let down (let'doun'), 1. a slowing up. 2. Informal. disappointment. n.

le thal (lē'thəl), causing death; deadly: lethal weapons, a lethal dose. adj.

le thar gic (lē thär'jik), 1. unnaturally drowsy; sluggish; dull: A hot, humid day produces a lethargic condition. 2. producing lethargy. adj.

leth ar gy (leth'ər jē), 1. drowsy dullness; lack of energy. 2. an unnatural sleep. n., pl. leth ar gies.

Le the (lē'thē), 1. in Greek mythology, a river in Hades. Drinking its water caused forgetfulness of the past. 2. forgetfulness; oblivion. n.

let's (lets), let us.

Lett (let), 1. member of a group of people living in Latvia. 2. their language. n.

let ter (let'ər), 1. mark or sign (on paper, etc.) that stands for any one of the sounds that make up words. 2. mark with letters. 3. inscribe (something) in letters. 4. make letters. 5. a written or printed message. 6. an official document granting some right or privilege. 7. exact wording; actual terms: He kept the letter of the law but not the spirit. 8. bit of metal type bearing a letter, used in printing. 1,5-8 n., 2-4 v. —let/ter er, n. letters, 1. literature. 2. knowledge of literature; literary culture. 3. profession of an author.

to the letter, very exactly; just as one has been told.

letter carrier, mailman; postman.

lettered (let'ərd), 1. marked with letters. 2. able to read and write; educated. 3. knowing literature; having literary culture. adj.

let ter head (let'ər hed'), 1. words printed at the top of a sheet of paper, usually a name and address. 2. sheet of paper so printed. n.

let ter ing (let'ər ing), 1. letters drawn, painted, stamped, etc. 2. making letters. n.

let ter-perfect (let'ər pər'fikt), 1. knowing one's law but less perfectly. 2. correct in every detail. adj.

letters patent, an official document giving a person authority from a government to do some act or to have some right.

let tuce (let'is), 1. the large, crisp, green leaves of a garden plant of the same family as the chicory, much used in salad. 2. the plant. n.

let up (let'up'), Informal. stop; pause. n.

leu co cyte (lū'kə sit), a white blood corpuscle; one of the tiny white cells in the blood that destroy disease germs. n.

leu ke mi a (lū kē'mē ə), a rare, and usually fatal, disease characterized by a large excess of white corpuscles in the blood. n.

Lev., Leviticus.

Levant (lə vant'), countries on the Mediterranean Sea, east of Italy. n.

Le van tine (lə van'tən or lev'ən tin), 1. of the Levant. 2. person or ship of the Levant. 1 adj., 2 n.

lev ee (lev'ē), 1. U.S. bank built to keep a river from overflowing. There are levees along the lower Mississippi River. 2. a landing place for boats. n.

lev ee or lev ēe (lev'ē), reception. French kings used to hold levees in the morning while they were getting up and dressing. n.

lev el (lev'l), 1. flat; even; having the same height everywhere: a level floor. 2. of equal height, importance, etc.: The table is level with the edge of the window. 3. even; uniform; steady: a calm and level tone. 4. something that is level. 5. instrument for showing whether a surface is level. 6. measuring of differences in height with such an instrument. 7. level position or condition. 8. make level; put on the same level. 9. bring to a level. 10. lay low; bring to the level of the ground. 11. raise and hold level for shooting; aim. 12. aim or direct (words, intentions, etc.). 13. height: The flood rose to a level of 60 feet.

Levant (the shaded parts)

Level in use (def. 5). It contains a glass tube in which is a liquid with an air bubble in it. If the surface is level, the bubble stays at the center; if not, it moves to one side.

14. position or standard from a social, moral, or intellectual point of view. 15. remove or reduce (differences, etc.). 16. Informal. well-balanced; sensible. 1-3,16 adj., 4-7,13,14 n., 8-12,15 v., lev eled, lev eling or esp. Brit. lev elled, lev eling. —lev/el er, esp. Brit. lev/el ler, n. —lev/el ly, adv. —lev/el ness, n.

find one's or its level, arrive at the natural or proper level.

one's level best, Informal. one's very best; as well as one can do.

lev el-head ed (lev'l-hed'id), having good common sense or good judgment; sensible. adj.

lev er (lev'ər or lē'vər), 1. bar for raising or moving a weight at one end by pushing down at the other end. It must be supported at a point in between. See fulcrum for picture. 2. any bar working on an axis or support. 3. move with a lever. 4. use a lever. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

lev er age (lev'ər ij or lē'vər ij), 1. action of a lever. 2. advantage or power gained by using a lever. 3. increased power of action. n.

lev er et (lev'ər it), a young hare. n.

Le vi (lē'vī), in the Bible, a son of Jacob and ancestor of the Levites. n.

le vi a than (lə vī'ə thən), 1. in the Bible, a huge sea animal. 2. a huge ship. 3. any great and powerful person or thing. n.

lev i tate (lev'ə tāt), 1. rise or float in the air. 2. cause to rise or float in the air. v., lev i tated, lev i tating.

lev i ta tion (lev'ə tā'shən), a levitating. n.

Le vite (lē'vīt), member of the tribe of Levi, from which assistants to the Jewish priests were chosen. n.

Le vit i cal (lə vīt'ə kl), 1. of the Levites. 2. of Leviticus or the law contained in it. adj.

Le vit i cus (lə vit'ə kəs), the third book of the Old Testament, containing the laws for the priests and Levites and the ritual for Jewish rites and ceremonies. n.

lev i ty (lev'ə tē), lightness of mind, character, or behavior; lack of proper seriousness or earnestness. n., pl. lev i ties.

lev u lose (lev'yə lōs), form of sugar in honey, fruits, etc.; fruit sugar. n.

lev y (lev'ē), 1. order to be paid: The government levies taxes to pay its expenses. 2. money collected by authority or force. 3. collect (men) for an army: levy troops in time of war. 4. men collected for an army. 5. seize by law for unpaid debts: They levied on his property for unpaid rent. 6. a levying. 1,3,5 v., lev ied, lev ying; 2,4,6 n., pl. lev ies.

levy war on, make war on; start a war against.

lewd (lūd), not decent; lustful. adj. —lewd/ly, adv. —lewd/ness, n.

Lew is (lū'is), 1. John L.(ewellyn), born 1880, American labor leader. 2. Meriwether, 1774-1809, American explorer in the Lewis and Clark expedition to Oregon. 3. Sinclair, 1885-1951, American novelist. n.

lew is ite (lū'is it), a colorless gas that causes extreme injury to skin and lungs, used in warfare. n.

Lew is ton (lū'is tən), city in SW Maine. 41,000. n.

lex (leks), Latin. law. n., pl. le ges (lē'jēz).

lex i cog ra pher (lek'sə kog'rə fər), dictionary maker. n.

lex i co graph ic (lek'sə kə graf'ik), lexicographical. adj.

lex i co graph i cal (lek'sə kə graf'ə kl), of or having to do with lexicography. adj. —lex'i co graph'i cal ly, adv.

lex i cog ra phy (lek'sə kog'rə fē), dictionary making. n.

lex i con (lek'sə kən), dictionary, especially of Greek, Latin, or Hebrew. n.

Lex ing ton (lek'sing tən), 1. town in E Massachusetts. The first battle of the American Revolution was hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, ice; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ꞥ, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

fought there on April 19, 1775. 28,000. 2. city in N Kentucky. 63,000. n.

Leyden jar (lĭd'ən), device for accumulating frictional electricity, consisting essentially of a glass jar lined inside and outside, for most of its height, with tin foil.

Ley te (lā'tē), island in the central Philippine Islands. 1,007,000 pop.; 3080 sq. mi. n.

Lha sa (lā'sə), capital of Tibet. 20,000. n.

Li, lithium.

L.I., Long Island.

li a bil i ty (lĭ'ā bil'ə tē), 1. state of being susceptible: liability to disease. 2. state of being under obligation: liability for a debt. 3. debt. 4. thing to one's disadvantage: Poor handwriting is a liability in getting a job. n., pl. li a bil i ties.

li a ble (lĭ'ə bl), 1. likely; unpleasantly likely: Glass is liable to break. One is liable to slip on ice. 2. in danger of having, doing, etc.: We are all liable to diseases. 3. responsible; bound by law to pay: The Post Office Department is not liable for damage to a parcel sent by mail unless it is insured. 4. under obligation; subject: Citizens are liable to jury duty. adj.

li ai son (lē'ā zon' or lē'ā'zon), connection between parts of an army to secure proper cooperation. n.

liaison officer, a military officer whose duty is to secure proper cooperation between parts of an army or between allied armies.

li a na (lē'ā'nə), a climbing vine with a woody stem. Giant lianas wind around the trunks and climb from tree to tree in jungles. n.

Liao tung (lyou'dūng'), peninsula in southern Manchuria. n.

li ar (lĭ'ər), person who tells lies; person who says what is not true. n.

li ba tion (lĭ bā'shən), 1. a pouring out of wine, water, etc., as an offering to a god. 2. wine, water, etc., offered in this way. n.

li bel (lĭ'bl), 1. a written or printed statement tending to damage a person's reputation. 2. write or print a libel about. 3. crime of writing or printing a libel. 4. any false or damaging statement about a person. 5. make false or damaging statements about. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v., li beled, li bel ing or esp. Brit. li belled, li bel ling.

li bel er or li bel ler (lĭ'bl'ər), person who libels another. n.

li bel ous or li bel ous (lĭ'bl'əs), 1. containing a libel. 2. spreading libels: a libelous tongue. adj.

lib er al (lib'ər əl), 1. generous: a liberal donation. 2. plentiful; abundant: He put in a liberal supply of coal for the winter. 3. broad-minded; not narrow in one's ideas: a liberal thinker. 4. favoring progress and reforms. 5. person favorable to progress and reforms. 6. giving the general thought, not a word-for-word rendering: a liberal translation. 1-4,6 adj., 5 n. —lib'er al ly, adv. —lib'er al ness, n.

Lib er al (lib'ər əl), member of a Liberal Party. n.

lib eral arts, subjects studied for culture rather than for immediate practical use. Literature, languages, history, and philosophy are some of the liberal arts.

lib eral education, education for culture rather than as a preparation for a business or profession.

lib er alism (lib'ər əl iz'əm), liberal principles and ideas; belief in progress and reforms. n.

lib er al ist (lib'ər əl ist), person who holds liberal principles and ideas; believer in progress and reforms. n.

lib er al i ty (lib'ər əl'ə tē), 1. generosity. 2. a gift. 3. broad-mindedness. n., pl. lib er al i ties.

lib er al ize (lib'ər əl iz), make or become liberal. v., lib er al ized, lib er al iz ing. —lib'er al i za'tion, n.

Liberal Party, a political party that favors progress and reforms.

lib er ate (lib'ər āt), set free: Lincoln liberated the slaves. v., lib er at ed, lib er at ing. —lib'er a'tor, n.

lib er a tion (lib'ər ā'shən), 1. a setting free. 2. a being set free. n.

Li be ri a (lĭ bir'ē ə), country in W Africa, founded by freed American Negro slaves in 1847. 1,500,000 pop.; 43,000 sq. mi. Capital: Monrovia. n. —Li be'ri an, adj., n.

lib er tine (lib'ər tēn), 1. person without moral restraints; man who does not respect women. 2. without moral restraints; dissolute; licentious. 1 n., 2 adj.

lib er tin ism (lib'ər tēn iz'əm), behavior of a libertine. n.

lib er ty (lib'ər tē), 1. freedom: Lincoln granted liberty to slaves. The American colonies won their liberty. 2. right or power to do as one pleases; power or opportunity to do something: liberty of speech or action. 3. leave granted to a sailor to go ashore. 4. right of being in, using, etc.: We give our dog the liberty of the yard. 5. privilege or right granted by a government. 6. too great freedom; setting aside rules and manners: to take liberties with mother's sewing basket. n., pl. lib er ties.

at liberty, 1. free. 2. allowed; permitted: You are at liberty to make any choice you please. 3. not busy: Mr. Brown will see us as soon as he is at liberty.

take liberties, be too familiar.

Liberty Bell, bell that was rung at Philadelphia on July 4, 1776, when the Continental Congress passed the Declaration of Independence. It is regarded as a symbol of liberty.

liberty cap, kind of cap worn as a symbol of liberty.

li bi do (lə bē'dō), 1. sexual desire or instinct. 2. instinct generally; vital impulse; the force motivating mental life. n.

Li bra (lĭ'brā), a southern constellation that was thought of as arranged in the shape of a pair of scales. n.

li brar i an (lĭ brār'ē ən), 1. person in charge of a library or part of a library. 2. person trained for work in a library. n.

li brar y (lĭ'brer'ē), 1. collection of books. 2. room or building where a collection of books is kept. n., pl. li brar ies.

li bret to (lə bret'tō), 1. words of an opera or other long musical composition. 2. book containing the words. n., pl. li bret tos.

Li bre ville (lē'brə vil), capital of the republic of Gabon, in the NW part. 22,000. n.

Lib y a (lib'ē ə), 1. country in N Africa west of Egypt, formerly an Italian colony. 1,200,000 pop.; 679,358 sq. mi. Capitals: Tripoli and Benghazi. See Egypt for map. 2. an ancient Greek and Roman name for that part of Africa west of Egypt. n. —Lib'y an, adj., n.

Lib y an Desert (lib'ē ən), part of the Sahara Desert, west of the Nile.

lice (līs), pl. of louse. n.

li cence (lĭ'sns), license. n., v., li cenced, li cenc ing.

li cense (lĭ'sns), 1. permission given by law to do something. 2. paper, card, plate, etc., showing such permission: The policeman asked the reckless driver for his license. 3. give a license to; permit by law: A doctor is licensed to practice medicine. 4. fact or condition of being permitted to do something. 5. freedom of action, speech, thought, etc., that is permitted or conceded. Poetic license is the freedom from rules that is permitted in poetry and art. 6. too much liberty; disregard of what is right and proper; abuse of liberty. 1,2,4-6 n., 3 v., li censed, li cens ing. —li'cens er, n.

li cen see (lĭ'sn sē'), person to whom a license is given. n.

li cen ti ate (lĭ sen'shē it or lĭ sen'shē āt), person who has a license or permit to practice an art or profession: An attorney is a licentiate in law. n.

li cen tious (lĭ sen'shəs), 1. disregarding commonly accepted rules or principles. 2. lawless; immoral. 3. lewd. adj. —li cen'tious ly, adv. —li cen'tiousness, n.

li chee (lē'chē), litchi. n.

li chen (lī'kən), plant that looks somewhat like moss and grows in patches on trees, rocks, etc. A lichen consists of a fungus and an alga growing together so that they look like one plant. n.

lich gate (lich), a roofed gate to a churchyard. Also, lych gate.

lick (lik), 1. pass the tongue over: lick a stamp. 2. lap up with the tongue. 3. make or bring by using the tongue: The cat licked the plate clean. 4. stroke of the tongue over something. 5. pass about or play over like a tongue: The flames were licking the roof. 6. place where natural salt is found and where animals go to lick it up. 7. Informal. a blow. 8. Informal. beat; thrash. 9. Informal. defeat in a fight, etc.; conquer. 10. a small quantity. 11. Informal. a brief stroke of activity or effort. 12. Informal. speed. 1-3,5,8,9 v., 4,6,7,10-12 n.

lick into shape, Informal. make presentable or usable. lick er ish (lik'ər ish), 1. fond of choice food. 2. greedy. 3. lecherous. adj.

lick spit tle (lik'spit'l), a contemptible flatterer. n.

lic o rice (lik'ə ris or lik'ə rish), 1. a sweet, black gummy extract obtained from the roots of a European plant, used as a flavoring. 2. plant that yields this. 3. its root. 4. candy flavored with this extract. n. Also, liquorice.

lic tor (lik'tor), attendant on a public official in ancient Rome who punished offenders at his orders. n.

lid (lid), 1. a movable cover; top: the lid of a box. 2. cover of skin that is moved in opening and shutting the eye; eyelid. 3. Slang. hat; cap. n.

lid less (lid'lis), 1. having no lid. 2. having no eyelids. 3. Poetic. watchful. adj.

lie (lī), 1. a false statement, known to be false by the person who makes it: Saying his friend stole it was a lie. 2. something intended to give a false impression. 3. tell lies. 4. get, bring, put, etc., by lying: lie oneself out of a difficulty. 5. a false statement. 6. make a false statement. 1,2,5 n., 3,4,6 v., lied, lying.

give the lie to, 1. call a liar; accuse of lying. 2. show to be false.

lie (lī), 1. have one's body in a flat position along the ground or other surface: lie on the grass. 2. assume such a position: lie down on the couch. 3. be in a horizontal or flat position: The book was lying on the table. 4. be kept or stay in a given position, state, etc.: lie idle. 5. be; be placed: The ship lies to the south of us. 6. exist; be; have its place; belong: The cure lies in education. 7. be in the grave; be buried: His body lies in Plymouth. 8. manner, position, or direction in which something lies. 9. Archaic. spend the night; lodge. 1-7,9 v., lay, lain, lying; 8 n.

lie in, be confined in childbirth.

lie off, of a ship, etc., stay not far from.

lie over, be left waiting until a later time.

lie to, of a ship, etc., come almost to a stop, facing the wind.

Liech ten stein (lih'tən sthīn), country between W Austria and NE Switzerland. 16,000 pop.; 62 sq. mi. Capital: Vaduz. n.

lied (lid), pt. and pp. of lie. That boy lied about his work. He has lied before. v.

lief (lēf), willingly. adv. Also, lieve.

liege (lēj), 1. lord having a right to the homage and loyal service of his vassals. 2. having a right to the homage and loyal service of vassals. 3. vassal obliged to give homage and loyal service to his lord. 4. obliged to give homage and loyal service to a lord. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

liege lord, a feudal lord.

Li ége (lī'āzh'), city in E Belgium. 157,000. n.

Lich gate

liege man (lēj'mən), 1. vassal. 2. a faithful follower. n., pl. liege men.

lien (lēn), a legal claim on the property of another for payment of a debt: The garage owner has a lien upon my automobile until I pay his bill. n.

lieu (lü), place; stead. n.

in lieu of, in place of; instead of.

Lieut., Lieutenant.

lieu ten an cy (lü ten'an sē), rank, commission, or authority of a lieutenant. n., pl. lieu ten an cies.

lieu ten ant (lü ten'ant; in general British usage, except in the navy, lef ten'ant), 1. person who acts in the place of someone above him in authority. 2. a commissioned army officer ranking next below a captain. 3. a commissioned naval officer ranking next below a lieutenant commander. n.

lieutenant colonel, a commissioned army officer ranking next below a colonel and next above a major.

lieutenant commander, a commissioned naval officer ranking next below a commander and next above a lieutenant.

lieutenant general, a commissioned army officer ranking next below a general and next above a major general.

lieutenant governor, 1. in the United States, an officer next in rank to the governor of a State. In case of the governor's absence or death, the lieutenant governor takes his place. 2. official who acts in place of the governor general in a district or province.

lieve (lēv), lief. adv.

life (lif), 1. living; being alive; quality that people, animals, and plants have and that rocks, dirt, and metals lack. 2. time of being alive: a short life. 3. time of existence or action of inanimate things: a machine's life, a lease's life. 4. a living being; person: Five lives were lost. 5. living beings considered together: The desert island had almost no animal or vegetable life. 6. way of living: a dull life. 7. account of a person's life: a life of Lincoln. 8. spirit; vigor: Put more life into your work. 9. source of activity or liveliness. 10. existence in the world of affairs or society: The life of that government was very short. n., pl. lives.

as big as life, 1. as big as the living person or thing. 2. in person.

for life, 1. during the rest of one's life. 2. to save one's life.

for the life of me, Informal. if my life depended on it.

from life, using a living model.

see life, get experience, especially of the exciting features of human activities.

take life, kill.

take one's own life, kill oneself.

to the life, like the model; exactly; perfectly.

true to life, true to reality; as in real life.

life belt, a life preserver made like a belt.

life blood (lif'blud'), 1. blood necessary to life. 2. source of strength and energy. n.

life boat (lif'bōt'), a strong boat specially built for saving lives at sea or along the coast. n.

life buoy, life preserver.

life guard (lif'gärd'), U.S. man employed on a bathing beach or at a swimming pool to help in case of accident or danger to bathers. n.

life insurance, 1. system by which a person pays a small sum regularly to have a large sum paid to his family or heirs at his death. 2. sum paid by the insurance company at death. 3. payments made to the insurance company.

life less (lif'lis), 1. without life: a lifeless planet. 2. dead: lifeless bodies on the battlefield. 3. dull: a lifeless performance. adj. —life/less ly, adv. —life/less-ness, n.

life like (lif'lik'), like life; looking as if alive; like the real thing. adj. —life/like/ness, n.

life line, rope for saving life, such as one thrown to a ship from shore.

life long (lif'long'), lasting all one's life: a lifelong companion. adj.

life net, a strong net or sheet of canvas, used to catch people jumping from burning buildings.

life preserver, 1. a wide belt, jacket, or circular tube, usually made of cloth and cork, to keep a person afloat in the water; something to keep a person afloat until rescued.

Man using a life preserver life saver (lif'sāv'ər), 1. person who saves people from drowning. 2. lifeguard. 3. Informal. one that saves someone from trouble, discomfort, embarrassment, etc. n.

life saving (lif'sāv'ing), 1. saving people's lives; keeping people from drowning. 2. designed or used to save people's lives. 1,2 adj., 1 n.

life-size (lif'siz'), as big as the living person, animal, etc.: a life-size statue. adj.

life time (lif'tim'), 1. time of being alive; time during which a life lasts. 2. for life. 1 n., 2 adj.

life work (lif'wërk'), work that takes or lasts a whole lifetime; main work in life. n.

lift (lit), 1. raise; take up; raise into a higher position: lift a chair. 2. hold up; display on high. 3. raise in rank, condition, estimation, etc.; elevate; exalt. 4. an elevating influence. 5. rise and go; go away: The darkness lifts. 6. go up; yield to an effort to raise something: This window will not lift. 7. pull or tug upward. 8. act of lifting. 9. distance through which a thing is lifted. 10. a helping hand: Give me a lift with this job. 11. ride in a vehicle given to a traveler on foot; free ride. 12. send up loudly: lift a voice or cry. 13. rise to view above the horizon. 14. Informal. pick or take up; steal: lift things from a store. 15. U.S. pay off: lift a mortgage. 16. Esp. Brit. elevator. 17. one of the layers of leather in the heel of a shoe. 18. a rise in ground. 1-3,5-7,12-15 v., 4,8-11,16-18 n.

lifter (lif'tər), 1. person or thing that lifts. 2. thing used for lifting. n.

lift-off (lif'ɒf'), the firing or launching of a rocket. n.

lig a ment (lig'ə mənt), 1. band of strong tissue that connects bones or holds parts of the body in place. 2. tie; bond. n.

lig a ture (lig'ə chūr or lig'ə chər), 1. anything used to bind or tie up; bandage, cord, etc. 2. thread, string, etc., used to tie up a bleeding artery or vein. 3. a binding or tying up. 4. a slur or a group of musical notes connected by a slur. 5. two or three letters joined in printing. Æ and ff are ligatures. n.

Ligature (def. 4)

light (lit), 1. that by which we see; form of radiant energy that acts on the retina of the eye: The sun gives light to the earth. 2. having light. 3. thing that gives light. The sun, a lamp, or a lighthouse is called a light. 4. supply of light: A tall building cuts off our light. 5. cause to give light: She lighted the lamp. 6. give light to; provide with light: The room is lighted by six windows. 7. bright; clear: It is as light as day. 8. brightness; clearness; illumination; particular case of this: a strong or dim light. 9. a bright part: light and shade. 10. make bright: Her face was lighted by a smile. 11. become light: The sky lights up at sunset. 12. daytime: The workman gets up before light. 13. dawn. 14. pale in color; whitish: light hair, light blue. 15. something to let light in, such as a window or a windowpane. 16. thing with which to start something burning. 17. set fire to: She lighted the candles. 18. take fire. 19. knowledge; information; illumination of mind: We need more light on this subject. 20. public knowledge; open view. 21. aspect in which a thing is viewed: He put the matter in the right light. 22. shining figure; model; example: George Washington is one of the lights of history. 23. favor; approval: the light of his countenance. 1,3,4,8,9,12,13,15,16,19-23 n., 2,7,14 adj., 5,6,10,11,17,18 v., light ed or lit, light ing.

according to one's lights, following one's own ideas, intelligence, etc., in the best way that one knows.

bring to light, reveal; expose: The reformer brought to light graft in the city government.

come to light, be revealed or exposed.

see the light, or see the light of day, 1. be born. 2. be made public. 3. get the right idea.

shed or throw light on, explain; make clear.

light (lit), 1. easy to carry; not heavy: a light load.

2. of little weight for its size: a light metal. 3. of less than usual weight: light clothing. 4. less than usual in amount, force, etc.: a light sleep, a light rain. 5. easy to do or bear; not hard or severe: light punishment, a light task. 6. not looking heavy; graceful; delicate: a light bridge, light carving. 7. moving easily; nimble: light on one's feet. 8. happy; gay; cheerfully careless: a light laugh. 9. not serious enough; fickle: a light mind, light of purpose.

10. aiming to entertain; not serious: light reading.

11. not important: light losses. 12. careless in morals.

13. not dense: a light fog. 14. porous; sandy: a light soil.

15. containing little alcohol. 16. lightly armed or equipped: light cavalry, in light marching order. 17. lightly. 1-16 adj., 17 adv.

light in the head, 1. dizzy. 2. silly; foolish. 3. crazy; out of one's head.

make light of, treat as of little importance.

light (lit), 1. come down to the ground; alight: He lighted from his horse. 2. come down from flight: A bird lighted on the branch. 3. come by chance: His eye lighted upon a sentence. 4. fall suddenly: The blow lit on his head. v., light ed or lit, light ing.

light en (lit'n), 1. make light; grow light: Dawn lightens the sky. 2. brighten: Her face lightened. 3. flash with lightning: It thundered and lightened outside. v.

light en (lit'n), 1. reduce the load of (a ship); have the load reduced. 2. make or become less of a burden: lighten taxes. 3. make or become more cheerful. v.

light er (lit'ər), thing or person that starts something burning. n.

light er (lit'ər), 1. a flat-bottomed barge used for loading and unloading ships. 2. carry (goods) in a flat-bottomed barge. 1 n., 2 v.

light-fin gered (lit'fing'gərd), thievish; skillful at picking pockets. adj.

light-foot ed (lit'fūt'id), stepping lightly. adj.

light-head ed (lit'hed'id), 1. dizzy. 2. delirious. 3. frivolous; flighty. adj.

light-heart ed (lit'hār'tid), carefree; cheerful; gay. adj. —light-/heart-/ed ly, adv. —light-/heart-/ed ness, n.

light heavyweight, boxer who weighs between 161 and 175 pounds.

light horse, cavalry that carries light weapons and equipment.

light house (lit'hous'), tower or framework with a bright light that shines far over the water. It is often located at a dangerous place to warn and guide ships. n.

light ing (lit'ing), 1. giving of light; providing with light. 2. way in which lights are arranged. 3. a starting to burn. n.

light ly (lit'le), 1. with little weight, force, etc.: rest lightly on a thing. 2. to a small degree or extent: lightly clad. 3. in an airy way: flags floating lightly. 4. quickly; easily: jump lightly aside. 5. cheerfully: take bad news lightly. 6. indifferently; slightly: speak lightly of a person. 7. thoughtlessly; carelessly: behave lightly. adv.

light-mind ed (lit'min'did), empty-headed; thoughtless; frivolous. adj. —light-/mind-/ed ly, adv.

Lighthouse. Some have flashing lights, regulated by a revolving lens, part of which is black. Seamen can tell where a lighthouse is by its particular pattern of flashes and dark periods.

light ness¹ (līt/nis), 1. brightness; clearness. 2. paleness; whitishness. 3. amount of light: The lightness of the sky showed that the rain was really over. n.

light ness² (līt/nis), 1. a being light; not being heavy: The lightness of this load is a relief after the heavy one I was carrying. 2. not being hard or severe. 3. gracefulness; delicacy. 4. being gay or cheerful: lightness of spirits. 5. lack of proper seriousness: Such lightness of conduct is not to be permitted in church. n.

light ning (līt/ning), discharge or flash of electricity in the sky. n.

lightning bug, U.S. firefly.

lightning rod, a metal rod fixed on a building or ship to conduct lightning into the earth or water.

light ship (līt/ship/), ship with a bright light that shines far over the water, anchored at a dangerous place to warn and guide ships. n.

light some (līt/səm), 1. nimble; lively: lightsome feet. 2. happy; gay; cheerful: a lightsome heart. 3. frivolous. adj.

light weight (līt/wāt/), 1. person or thing of less than average weight. 2. boxer who weighs less than 135 pounds. 3. Informal. person who has little intelligence or importance. n.

light-year (līt/yir/), distance that light travels in one year; about 6,000,000,000,000 miles. n.

lig ne ous (lig/nē əs), of or like wood; woody. adj.

lig nite (lig/nīt), a dark-brown kind of coal in which the texture of the wood can be seen. n.

lig num vi tae (lig/nəm vī/tē), 1. an extremely heavy and hard wood, used for making pulleys, rulers, etc. 2. the tropical tree from which it comes.

lik a ble (lik/ə bl), having qualities that win good will or friendship; popular. adj. —lik/a ble ness, n.

like¹ (līk), 1. similar; similar to; resembling something or each other: John's uncle promised him $10 if he could earn a like sum (adj.). She sings like a bird (prep.). 2. characteristic of: Isn't that just like a boy? 3. in the right state or frame of mind for: I feel like working. 4. giving promise or indicative of: It looks like rain. 5. Archaic. likely: The king is sick and like to die. 6. Informal. probably: Like enough it will rain. 7. person or thing like another; match; counterpart or equal: We shall not see his like again. 8. in like manner. 9. Archaic. to a like extent or degree. 10. in like manner with; similarly to: She works like a beaver. 11. Informal. like as; as. 12. Obsolete. compare. 13. Dialect. come near. 1-5 adj., Poetic lik er, lik est; 1-3, 11 prep., 6, 8-10 adv., 7 n., 11 conj., 12, 13 v., liked, lik ing.

and the like, 1. and so forth: He studied music, painting, and the like. 2. and other like things: We went to the zoo and saw tigers, lions, bears, and the like.

nothing like, not nearly.

something like, about; almost.

like² (līk), 1. be pleased with; be satisfied with. 2. wish for; wish. 3. liking; preference. 1, 2 v., liked, lik ing; 3 n.

-like, suffix meaning:

1. like: Wolflike = like a wolf.

2. like that of; characteristic of: Childlike = like that of a child.

3. suited to; fit or proper for: Businesslike = suited to business.

like a ble (līk/ə bl), likable. adj. —like/a ble ness, n.

like li hood (līk/lē hūd), probability: Is there any great likelihood of rain this afternoon? n.

like ly (līk/lē), 1. probable: One likely result of this heavy rain is the rising of the river. 2. probably: I shall very likely be home all day. 3. to be expected: It is likely to be hot in August. 4. suitable: Is there a likely place to fish? 5. promising: a likely boy. 1, 3-5 adj., like li er, like li est; 2 adv.

lik en (līk/ən), compare; represent as like. v.

like ness (līk/nis), 1. a resembling; a being alike: a boy's likeness to his father. 2. something that is like; copy; picture: have one's likeness painted. 3. appearance; shape: assume the likeness of a swan. n.

like wise (līk/wīz/), 1. the same: Go and do likewise. 2. also; moreover; too: Mary must go home now, and Nell likewise. adv.

lik ing (līk/ing), 1. preference; fondness; kindly feeling: a liking for apples. 2. taste; pleasure: food to your liking. n.

li lac (lī/læk), 1. shrub with clusters of tiny fragrant flowers. 2. the cluster of flowers. Most lilacs are pale pinkish-purple or white. 3. pale pinkish-purple. 1-3 n., 3 adj.

Lille (lēl), city in N France. 195,000. n. Also, Lisle.

lilt (lilt), 1. sing or play (a tune) in a light, tripping manner. 2.

a lively song or tune with a swing.

3. a lively, springing movement.

1 v., 2, 3 n.

lil y (lil/ē), 1. plant that grows from a bulb. Its beautiful flowers are usually shaped like a bell or funnel. 2. the flower. It is a symbol of whiteness or purity. 3. the bulb. 4. like a lily; white; pale; pure; lovely; delicate. 5. any of various related or similar plants, such as the calla lily or water lily. 6. design on the royal coat of arms of France; fleur-de-lis. 1-3, 5, 6 n., pl. lilies; 4 adj. —lil/y like, adj.

Tiger lily (flower 3 to 5 in. in diam.)

lily family, group of herbs, shrubs, and trees that usually have flowers with six parts, grow from root-stocks or bulbs, and have stemless leaves. Tulips, hyacinths, onions, asparagus, and smilax belong to the lily family.

lily of the valley, plant having tiny, fragrant, bell-shaped, white flowers arranged up and down a single stem. pl. lilies of the valley.

Li ma (lē/mə for 1; lī/mə for 2), 1. capital of Peru. 1,186,000. 2. city in NW Ohio. 51,000. n.

Li ma bean (lī/mə), 1. a broad, flat bean used for food. 2. plant that it grows on.

limb (lim), 1. leg, arm, or wing. 2. a large branch of a tree. 3. part that projects: the four limbs of a cross. 4. person or thing thought of as a branch or offshoot: I call that rascal a limb of Salan. 5. a mischievous child; scamp. n. —limb/less, adj.

limb from limb, completely apart; entirely to pieces.

lim ber¹ (lim/bər), 1. bending easily; flexible: A piano player should have limber fingers. 2. make or become limber: Tom is stiff when he begins to skate, but limbers up easily. 1 adj., 2 v. —lim/ber ness, n.

lim ber² (lim/bər), the detachable front part of the carriage of a field gun. n.

lim bo (lim/bō), 1. in Catholic theology, a place for those who have not received the grace of Christ while living, and yet have not deserved the punishments of willful and impenitent sinners. 2. place for people and things forgotten, cast aside, or out of date: The belief that the earth is flat belongs to the limbo of outworn ideas. 3. prison; jail; confinement. n.

Lim burg er (lim/bər gər), a soft cheese having a strong smell. n.

lime¹ (lim), 1. a white substance obtained by burning limestone, shells, bones, etc.; calcium oxide; quicklime. Lime is used in making mortar and on fields to improve the soil. 2. put lime on: He drained the land and limed it. 3. birdlime. 4. smear (branches, etc.) with birdlime. 5. catch (birds) with birdlime. 1, 3 n., 2, 4, 5 v., limed, lim ing.

lime² (lim), 1. a greenish-yellow citrus fruit much like a lemon, but smaller and sourer. Its juice is used as a flavoring and in medicine. 2. tree that it grows on. n.

lime^s (līm), linden tree, often used for shade. n.
lime kiln (līm'kil' or līm'kiln'), furnace for making lime by burning limestone, shells, etc. n.
lime light (līm'lit'), 1. a strong light thrown upon the stage of a theater to light up certain persons or objects and draw attention to them. 2. center of public attention and interest. n.
lim er ick (līm'ər ik), kind of humorous verse of five lines. n. Example:

"There was a young lady from Lynn Who was so exceedingly thin
 That when she essayed
 To drink lemonade
 She slid down the straw and fell in."

lime stone (līm'stōn'), rock consisting mostly of calcium carbonate, used for building and for making lime. Marble is a kind of limestone. n.

lime water (līm'wō'tər), solution of slaked lime in water. It is used to counteract an acid condition. n.

lim it (līm'it), 1. farthest edge or boundary; where something ends or must end: Keep within the limits of the school grounds. I have reached the limit of my patience. 2. set a limit to; restrict: We must limit the expense to $10. Her food was limited to bread and water. 1 n., 2 v.

the limit, Slang, as much as, or more than, one can stand. —lim'it a ble, adj. —lim'it er, n.
 —lim'it a ble, adj. —lim'it er, n.

lim i ta tion (līm'ə tā'shən), 1. a limiting. 2. limited condition. 3. thing that limits; limiting rule or circumstance; restriction. 4. period of time, set by law, after which a claim cannot be enforced. n.

lim it ed (līm'ə tid), 1. kept within limits; restricted. 2. traveling fast and making only a few stops: a limited train, bus, etc. 3. U.S. train, bus, etc., that travels fast and makes only a few stops. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

limited monarchy, monarchy in which the ruler's powers are limited by the laws of the nation.

lim it less (līm'it lis), without limits; boundless; infinite. adj.

limn (līm), 1. paint (a picture). 2. portray in words. v.

Li moges (li mōzh'), 1. city in central France. 108,000. 2. porcelain made at Limoges. n.

lim ou sine (līm'ə zēn' or līm'ə zēn'), a closed automobile, seating from three to five passengers inside, with a driver's seat outside under the same roof. n.

limp¹ (līmp), 1. a lame step or walk. 2. walk with a limp. 1 n., 2 v. —limp'er, n.

limp² (līmp), lacking stiffness or firmness: A starched collar soon gets limp in hot weather. I feel as limp as a rag. adj. —limp'ly, adv. —limp'ness, n.

lim pet (līm'pit), a small shellfish that sticks to rocks, used for bait and sometimes for food. n.

lim pid (līm'pid), clear; transparent: limpid water, limpid eyes. adj. —lim'pid ly, adv.

lim pid i ty (līm pid'ə tē), limpid quality or condition. n.

Lim po po (līm pō'pō), river in SE Africa. 1000 mi. n.

lim y (līm'ē), 1. of, containing, or resembling lime. 2. smeared with birdlime. adj., lim i er, lim i est.

linch pin (linch'pin'), pin inserted through a hole in the end of an axle to keep the wheel on. n.

Lin coln (līng'kōn), 1. Abraham, 1809-1865, the 16th president of the United States, from 1861 to 1865. 2. capital of Nebraska, in the SE part. 129,000. n.

Lind bergh (līnd'bērg), Charles Augustus, born 1902, American aviator who was the first to fly alone from New York to Paris, in 1927. n.

lin den (līn'dən), a shade tree with heart-shaped leaves and clusters of small, fragrant, yellowish flowers. n.

line¹ (līn), 1. piece of rope, cord, or wire. 2. cord for measuring, making level, etc. 3. cord with a hook for catching fish. 4. a long narrow mark: Draw two lines along the margin. 5. anything like such a mark: the lines in your face. 6. mark with lines on paper, etc. 7. cover with lines: a face lined by age. 8. a straight line: The lower edges of the two pictures are about on a line. 9. in mathematics, the path or track a point may be imagined to leave as it moves. 10. use of lines in drawing: clearness of line in an artist's work. 11. outline; contour: a ship of fine lines. 12. plan of construction: two books written on the same lines. 13. edge; limit; boundary: the line between Texas and Mexico. 14. row of persons or things: a line of trees. 15. arrange in a line or row; align: Line your shoes along the edge of the shelf. 16. arrange a line along; form a line along: Cars lined the road for a mile. 17. row of words on a page or in a column: a column of 40 lines. 18. a short letter; note: Drop me a line. 19. a connected series of persons or things following one another in time: The Stuarts were a line of English kings. 20. family or lineage: of noble line. 21. course; track; direction: the line of march of an army. 22. course of action, conduct, or thought: a line of policy. 23. in warfare, front row of trenches or other defenses. 24. double row (front and rear rank) of soldiers. 25. troops or ships arranged abreast. 26. arrangement of an army or fleet for battle. 27. take a position in a line; form a line; range. 28. wire or wires connecting points or stations in a telegraph or telephone system. 29. the system itself. 30. any rope, wire, pipe, hose, etc., running from one point to another. 31. a single track of railroad. 32. one branch of a system of transportation: the main line of a railroad. 33. a whole system of transportation or conveyance: the Grand Trunk Line. 34. branch of business; kind of activity: the dry-goods line. 35. kind or branch of goods: a good line of hardware. 36. a single verse of poetry. 37. one of the horizontal lines that make a staff in music. 1-5,8-14,17-26,28-37 n., 6,7,15,16,27 v., lined, lin ing.

lines, 1. poetry; verse. 2. words that an actor speaks in a play. 3. one's fate; one's lot in life. 4. reins.

all along the line, at every point; everywhere.

bring into line, cause to agree or conform.

come into line, agree; conform.

get or have a line on, Informal. get or have information about.

in line, 1. in alignment. 2. in agreement. 3. ready.

line up, form a line; form into a line: Cars were lined up along the road for a mile.

on a line, even; level.

on the line, in between; neither one thing nor the other.

out of line, in disagreement.

read between the lines, get more from the words than they say; find a hidden meaning.

the line, 1. the equator. 2. the regular army or navy; the soldiers or ships that do all the fighting.

line² (līn), 1. put a layer inside of. 2. fill: line one's pockets with money. 3. serve as a lining for: This piece of silk would line your coat very nicely. v., lined, lin ing.

lin e age (līn'ē ij), 1. descent in a direct line from an ancestor. 2. family; race. n.

lin e al (līn'ē əl), 1. in the direct line of descent: A grandson is a lineal descendant of his grandfather. 2. having to do with such descent; hereditary. 3. linear. adj.

lin e al ly (līn'ē əl ē), in the direct line of descent: A grandson is descended lineally from his grandfather. adv.

lin e a ment (līn'ē ə mēnt), part or feature; part or feature of a face with attention to its outline. n.

lin e ar (līn'ē ə r), 1. of a line or lines: linear designs. 2. made of lines; making use of lines. 3. in a line or lines: a linear series. 4. of length: linear measure.

5. like a line; long and narrow: A pine tree has linear leaves. adj.

linear measure, 1. measure of length. 2. system for measuring length.

12 inches = 1 foot

3 feet = 1 yard

5½ yards = 1 rod

40 rods = 1 furlong

8 furlongs (1760 yards or 5280 feet) = 1 mile.

line man (līn'mən), 1. man who sets up or repairs telegraph, telephone, or electric wires. 2. center, guard, tackle, or end in football. 3. man who inspects railroad tracks. 4. man who carries the line in surveying. n., pl. line men.

lin en (līn'ən), 1. cloth or thread made from flax. 2. articles made of linen or some substitute. Tablecloths, napkins, sheets, towels, shirts, and collars are all called linen. 3. made of linen. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

line of battle, soldiers or ships in battle formation.

line of fire, path of a bullet, shell, etc.

line of force, line in a field of electrical or magnetic force that indicates the direction in which the force is acting.

lin er (līn'ər), 1. ship or airplane belonging to a transportation system. 2. one who makes lines. 3. a baseball hit so that it travels not far above the ground. n.

lines man (līnz'mən), 1. lineman. 2. in certain games, person who watches the lines which mark out the field, court, etc., and assists the umpire. 3. in football, one of the forwards; center, guard, tackle, or end. n., pl. lines men.

line-up or line up (līn'up'), 1. formation of persons or things into a line: a police line-up. 2. arrangement of the players in football, baseball, etc., before a play begins. n.

ling (līng), fish of N Europe and Greenland, used for food. n., pl. ling or lings.

lin ger (līng'gər), stay on; go slowly, as if unwilling to leave: Daylight lingers long in the summertime. She lingered after the others had left. v.

lin ge rie (lan'zhə rē' or lān'zhə rā'), women's underwear. n.

lin go (līng'gō), Used humorously or in contempt. 1. language. 2. any speech regarded as outlandish or queer: Writers about baseball use a strange lingo. n., pl. lin goes.

lin gual (līng'gwəl), 1. of the tongue: a lingual defect. 2. formed with the aid of the tongue. 3. a sound formed with the aid of the tongue. D and t are linguals. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

lin guist (līng'gwist), 1. person skilled in a number of languages besides his own. 2. person who studies the history and structure of language; philologist. n.

lin guis tic (līng'gwis'tik), having to do with language or the study of languages. adj. —lin guis'ti-cally, adv.

lin guis tics (līng'gwis'tiks), science of language; comparative study of languages. n.

lin i ment (līn'ə mēnt), liquid for rubbing on the skin to relieve soreness, sprains, bruises, etc. n.

lin ing (līn'ing), layer of material covering the inner surface of something: the lining of a coat, the lining of a stove. n.

link¹ (līnk), 1. one ring or loop of a chain. 2. anything that joins as a link joins. 3. fact or thought that connects others: a link in a chain of evidence. 4. join as a link does; unite or connect. 5. link of a surveying chain used as a measure; 7.92 inches. 1-3,5 n., 4 v.

link² (līnk), torch. n.

link age (līnk'ij), 1. a linking. 2. being linked. 3. arrangement or system of links. n.

linking verb, a verb with little or no meaning of its own that connects a subject with a predicate adjective or noun.

links (līngks), golf course. n.pl.

lin net (līn'it), a small songbird of Europe, Asia, and Africa. n.

li no le um (lə nō'lē əm), 1. a floor covering made by putting a hard surface of ground cork mixed with oxidized linseed oil on a canvas back. 2. any similar floor covering. n.

Linnet (about 6 in. long) li no type (lī'nə tīp), a typesetting machine that is operated like a typewriter and that casts each line of type in one piece. n.

lin seed (līn'sēd'), seed of flax. n.

linseed oil, a yellowish oil pressed from linseed, used in making paints, printing inks, and linoleum.

lin sey (līn'zi), linsey-woolsey. n., pl. lin seys.

lin sey-wool sey (līn'zē wūl'zē), a strong coarse fabric made of linen and wool or of cotton and wool. n., pl. lin sey-wool seys.

lint (līnt), 1. a soft down or fleecy material obtained by scraping linen. Lint was formerly much used as a dressing for wounds. 2. tiny bits of thread. n.

lin tel (līn'tl), a horizontal beam or stone over a door, window, etc., to support the structure above it. n.

li on (lī'ən), 1. a large, strong, tawny, carnivorous mammal of the cat family, found in Africa and S Asia. The male has a full, flowing mane of coarse hair. 2. a very brave or strong person. 3. a famous person. n.

—li on'like', adj.

beard the lion in his den, defy a person in his own home, office, etc.

put one's head in the lion's mouth, put oneself in a dangerous position.

li on ess (lī'ən is), a female lion. n.

li on-heart ed (lī'ən hār'tid), brave. adj.

li on ize (lī'ən iz), treat as very important. v., li on ized, li on iz ing. —li'on-iz'a'tion, n.

lion's share, the biggest or best part.

lip (līp), 1. either of the two fleshy movable edges of the mouth. 2. touch with the lips. 3. a folding or bent-out edge of any opening: the lip of a pitcher. 4. mouth-piece of a musical instrument. 5. use the lips in playing a wind instrument. 6. not heartfelt or deep, but just on the surface: lip worship. 7. murmur. 8. Slang. impudent talk. 1,3,4,8 n., 2,5,7 v., lipped, lip ping; 6 adj. —lip'like', adj.

lips, mouth.

hang on the lips of, listen to with great attentiveness and admiration.

keep a stiff upper lip, be brave and firm; show no fear or discouragement.

li pase (lī'pās), enzyme occurring in the pancreatic juice, certain seeds, etc., that can change fats into fatty acids and glycerin. n.

lip-read (līp'rēd'), understand speech by watching the movements of the speaker's lips. v. —lip reader.

lip reading, understanding of speech by watching the movements of the speaker's lips.

lip stick (līp'stik'), a small stick of rouge, etc., used for coloring the lips. n.

li que fac tion (lī'wə fak'shən), 1. process of changing into a liquid. 2. liquefied condition. n.

li que fy (lī'wə fi), change into a liquid: Liquefied air is extremely cold. v., li que fied, li que fy ing. —li'ue fi'a ble, adj. —li'ue fi'er, n.

li ques cence (lī kwes'ns), licescent condition. n.

li ques cent (lī kwes'nt), becoming liquid. adj.

li queur (lī kyūr'), a strong, sweet, highly flavored alcoholic liquor. n.

li quid (līk'wid), 1. substance that is neither a solid nor a gas; substance that flows freely like water. 2. in the form of a liquid; melted: liquid soap. 3. clear and bright like water. 4. clear and smooth-flowing in sound: the liquid notes of a bird. 5. easily turned into cash: United States bonds are a liquid investment. 1 n., 2-5 adj.

Lion (standing) and lioness (about 3 ft. high at the shoulder) liquid air, the intensely cold, transparent liquid formed when air is very greatly compressed and then cooled.

liq uid date (lik'wə dāt), 1. pay (a debt). 2. settle the accounts of (a business, etc.); clear up the affairs of (a bankrupt). 3. get rid of (an undesirable person or thing): The Russian Revolution liquidated the nobility. 4. kill ruthlessly; exterminate. v., liq uid dat ed, liq uid dat ing. —liq uid da'tion, n.

liquid fire, flaming oil or chemical usually hurled from flame throwers, used against fortified emplacements, tanks, etc.

li quid i ty (li kwid'ə tē), liquid condition or quality. n.

liquid measure, 1. measurement of liquids. 2. system for measuring liquids.

4 gills = 1 pint

2 pints = 1 quart

4 quarts = 1 gallon

31½ gallons = 1 barrel

2 barrels (63 gallons) = 1 hogshead.

liq uor (lik'ər), 1. an alcoholic drink, especially brandy, gin, rum, or whiskey. 2. any liquid: Pickles are put up in a salty liquor. n.

liq uo rice (lik'ə ris or lik'ə rish), licorice. n.

li ra (lir'ə), 1. unit of money in Italy. 2. coin worth a lira. n., pl. li re (lir'ā) or li ras.

Lis bon (liz'bən), capital of Portugal. 790,000. n.

lis le (lil), 1. a fine, strong, linen or cotton thread, used for making stockings, gloves, etc. 2. made of lisle. 1 n., 2 adj.

Lisle (lil; French lēl), Lille. n.

lisp (lisp), 1. use the sound of th in thin and then, instead of the sound of s or the sound of z in speaking: She lisped and said, "Thing a thong" for "Sing a song." 2. speak imperfectly. 3. act, habit, or sound of lisp-ing. 1, 2 v., 3 n. —lisp'er, n.

lis some or lis som (lis'əm), 1. lithe; limber; supple. 2. nimble; active. adj.

list¹ (list), 1. series of names, numbers, words, etc.: a shopping list. 2. make a list of; enter in a list: I shall list my errands on a card. 3. enlist. 1 n., 2, 3 v.

list² (list), the woven edge of cloth, where the material is a little different; selva-ge. n.

list³ (list), 1. a tipping to one side; tilt: the list of a ship. 2. tip to one side; tilt. 1 n., 2 v.

list⁴ (list), Archaic. 1. be pleasing to; please: Me lists not to speak. 2. like; wish: The wind bloweth where it listeth. v.

list⁵ (list), Archaic and Poetic. 1. listen. 2. listen to. v.

lis ten (lis'n), 1. try to hear; attend closely for the purpose of hearing: The mother listens for her baby's cry. I like to listen to music. 2. give heed (to advice, temptation, etc.); pay attention. v. —lis'ten er, n.

listen in, 1. listen to others talking on a telephone. 2. listen to the radio.

list er (lis'tər), plow that throws the dirt to both sides of the furrow. Some kinds plant and cover seeds at the same time. n.

list less (list'lis), seeming too tired to care about anything; not interested in things; not caring to be active. adj. —list/less ly, adv. —list/less ness, n.

list price, price given in a catalogue or list. Discounts are figured from it.

lists (lists), 1. place where knights fought in tournaments. 2. barriers enclosing such a field. 3. any place or scene of combat. n.pl.

enter the lists, join in a contest; take part in a fight, argument, etc.

lit (lit), a pt. and a pp. of light¹ and light². She lit the lamp. His eye lit upon a sentence. v.

lit a ny (lit'n ē), 1. series of prayers by the minister with responses by the congregation. 2. a repeated series. n., pl. lit a nies.

li tchi (lē'chē), 1. a nut-shaped fruit with a hard, rough skin. 2. the Chinese tree that it grows on. n., pl. li tchis. Also, lichee.

li ter (lē'tər), the common measure of capacity in France, Germany, and other countries which use the metric system. One liter equals 1.0567 qt. liquid measure, or .908 qt. dry measure. n. Also, esp. Brit. litre.

lit er a cy (lit'ər ə sē), ability to read and write. n.

lit er al (lit'ər ə l), 1. following the exact words of the original: a literal translation. 2. taking words in their usual meaning, without exaggeration or imagination; matter-of-fact: the literal meaning of a word, a literal type of mind. 3. true to fact: a literal account. 4. of the letters of the alphabet; expressed by letters. adj.

lit er al ism (lit'ər ə l iz'əm), a keeping to the literal meaning in translation or interpretation. n.

lit er al ly (lit'ər ə l ē), word for word; without exaggeration or imagination. adv.

lit er ar y (lit'ər ə r'ē), 1. having to do with literature. 2. knowing much about literature. 3. engaged in literature as a profession. adj.

lit er ate (lit'ər it), 1. able to read and write. 2. person who can read and write. 3. acquainted with literature; educated. 4. an educated person. 1, 3 adj., 2, 4 n.

lit e ra ti (lit'ə rā'tē), scholarly or literary people. n. pl.

lit er a ture (lit'ər ə chūr or lit'ər ə chər), 1. writings of a period or of a country, especially those kept alive by their beauty of style or thought: Shakespeare is a great name in English literature. 2. all the books and articles on a subject: the literature of stamp collecting. 3. profession of a writer. 4. the study of literature: I shall take literature and mathematics this spring. 5. Informal. printed matter of any kind. n.

lith ar ge (lith'ärj), a yellow oxide of lead, used in making glass, glazes for pottery, and driers for paints and varnishes. n.

lithe (līth), bending easily; supple. adj. —lithe/ly, adv. —lithe/ness, n.

lithe some (līth'səm), lithe. adj.

lith i a (lith'ē ə), a white oxide of lithium. n.

lith i um (lith'ē əm), a soft silver-white metallic element similar to sodium. Lithium is the lightest of all metals. Symbol: Li n.

lith o graph (lith'ə graf), 1. picture, print, etc., made from a flat, specially prepared stone or a metal plate. 2. print from a stone or plate. 1 n., 2 v.

li thog ra pher (li thog'rə fər), person who lithographs or practices lithography. n.

lith o graph ic (lith'ə graf'ik), 1. of a lithograph. 2. of or made by lithography. adj.

li thog ra phy (li thog'rə fē), art or process of making lithographs. n.

lith o sphere (lith'ə sfēr), crust of the earth. n.

Lith u a ni a (lith'ū ā'nē ə), Soviet republic in N Europe, on the Baltic Sea, 2,713,000 pop.; 25,500 sq. mi. Capital: Vilna. n. —Lith'u ā'ni an, adj., n.

lit i gant (lit'ə gənt), 1. person engaged in a lawsuit. 2. engaging in a lawsuit. 3. inclined to go to law. 1 n., 2, 3 adj.

lit i gate (lit'ə gāt), 1. engage in a lawsuit. 2. contest in a lawsuit. v., lit i gat ed, lit i gat ing. —lit'i gā'tor, n.

lit i ga tion (lit'ə gā'shən), 1. a carrying on a lawsuit. 2. a going to law. n.

lit i gious (lə tij'əs), 1. having the habit of going to law. 2. offering material for a lawsuit; that can be disputed in a court of law. 3. of lawsuits. adj.

lit mus (lit'məs), a blue coloring matter, obtained from certain plants. n.

litmus paper, paper treated with litmus. It turns red when put into acid and back to blue when put into alkali.

li tre (lē'tər), Esp. Brit. liter. n.

lit ter (lit'ər), 1. scattered rubbish; things scattered about or left in disorder: Children must pick up their own litter. 2. leave odds and ends lying around; scatter things about. 3. disorder; untidiness. 4. make disorderly or untidy: He littered his room with books and papers, and his yard with bottles and cans. 5. young animals produced at one time: a litter of puppies. 6. give birth to (young animals). 7. straw, hay, etc., used as bedding for animals. 8. make a bed for (an animal) with straw, hay, etc. 9. stretcher for carrying a sick or wounded person. 10. framework to be carried on men's shoulders or by beasts of burden, with a couch usually enclosed by curtains. 1,3,5,7,9,10 n., 2,4,6,8 v.

Litter (def. 10)

lit tle (lit'l), 1. not great or big; small: A grain of sand is little. 2. not much; small in number, amount, degree, or importance: little money, little hope, a little army. 3. in a small amount or degree; slightly: They lived in a little known town. 4. a small amount, quantity, or degree: add a little. 5. short; brief: She took a little walk. 6. a short time or distance: move a little to the left. 7. not at all: He little knows what will happen. 8. mean; narrow-minded: little thoughts. 1,2,5,8 adj., less or less er, least; or lit tler, lit tlest; 3,7 adv., less, least; 4,6 n. —lit'tle ness, n.

in little, on a small scale.

little by little, slowly; gradually; by a small amount at a time.

make little of, treat or represent as of little importance. not a little, much; very.

think little of, 1. not value much; consider as unimportant or worthless. 2. not hesitate about.

Little America, camp of Admiral Byrd and his men near the South Pole in 1929, 1934, 1939, and 1955. See Antarctica for map.

Little Assembly, Informal. the interim committee of the United Nations General Assembly.

Little Bear, Little Dipper.

Little Dipper, group of stars in the constellation of Ursa Minor (the Little Bear).

Little Rock, capital of Arkansas, in the central part. 108,000.

Little Russia, region in SW Soviet Union that includes the Ukraine and regions near it.

little theatre, a small theater that produces experimental plays.

lit to ral (lit'ə rəl), 1. of a shore. 2. on the shore. 3. region along the shore. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

li tur gic (lə tər'jɪk), liturgical. adj.

li tur gi cal (lə tər'jə kl), 1. of liturgies. 2. used in liturgies. 3. of or having to do with the Communion service. adj. —li tur'gi cal ly, adv.

lit ur gy (lit'ər jē), form of public worship. Different churches use different liturgies. n., pl. lit ur gies.

liv a ble (liv'ə bl), 1. fit to live in: a livable house. 2. easy to live with: a livable person. 3. worth living; endurable. adj.

live (liv), 1. have life; be alive; exist: All creatures have an equal right to live. 2. remain alive; last; endure: if I live till May. 3. keep up life: live on one's income. 4. feed or subsist: The Chinese live largely on rice. 5. pass (life): live in peace, live a life of ease. 6. dwell: live in the country. Who lives in this house? 7. carry out or show in life: live one's ideals. 8. have a rich and full life. v., lived, liv ing.

live down, live so worthily that (some fault or sin) is overlooked or forgotten.

live out, stay alive through; last through.

live up to, act according to; do (what is expected or promised).

live (liv), 1. having life; alive: a live dog. 2. burning or glowing: live coals. 3. full of energy or activity: a live person. 4. Informal. up-to-date: live ideas. 5. Esp. U.S. of present interest: a live question. 6. moving or imparting motion: live wheels, a live axle. 7. still in use or to be used: live steam. 8. carrying an electric current: a live wire. 9. loaded: a live cartridge. 10. in the native state; not mined or quarried: live metal, live rocks. 11. not recorded on tape or film: a live television show. adj.

live a ble (liv'ə bl), livable. adj.

live li hood (liv'lē hüd), means of keeping alive; support: write for a livelihood. Paul earns his livelihood by working for a farmer. n.

live long (liv'lōng'), whole length of; whole; entire: She is busy the livelong day. adj.

live ly (liv'lē), 1. full of life; active; vigorous; spirited: A good night's sleep made us all lively again. 2. exciting: We had a lively time during the hurricane. 3. bright; vivid: lively colors. 4. cheerful; gay: a lively conversation. 5. bounding back quickly: a lively baseball. 6. in a lively manner. 1-5 adj., live li er, live li est; 6 adv. —live/li ness, n.

live en (liv'ən), make or become more lively; brighten. v.

liv er (liv'ər), 1. a large, reddish-brown organ in vertebrate animals that secretes bile and helps in the absorption of food. A person's liver was once thought to be the source of his emotions. 2. the liver of an animal used as food. n.

liv er (liv'ər), person who lives. n.

liv er ied (liv'ər ēd), clothed in a livery. adj.

Liv er pool (liv'ər pül), seaport in western England. 769,000. n.

liv er wort (liv'ər wért'), 1. any of various plants that grow mostly on damp ground, the trunks of trees, etc. Liverworts are somewhat like mosses. 2. hepatica. n.

liv er wurst (liv'ər wérs'), sausage consisting largely of liver. n.

liv ery (liv'ər ē), 1. any special uniform provided for the servants of a household, or adopted by any group or profession: A nurse's livery is often white. 2. any characteristic dress, garb, or outward appearance. 3. the feeding, stabling, and care of horses for pay; the hiring out of horses and carriages. 4. the keeping of cars, boats, bicycles, etc., for hire. 5. U.S. livery stable. n., pl. liv er ies.

liv ery man (liv'ər ē mən), 1. person who works in or keeps a livery stable. 2. person wearing livery. n., pl. liv ery men.

livery stable, stable engaged in the livery business.

lives (livz), pl. of life. n.

live stock (liv'stok'), farm animals. Cows, horses, sheep, and pigs are livestock. n.

live wire, 1. wire in which electric current is flowing. 2. Informal. an energetic, wide-awake person.

liv id (liv'id), 1. having a dull-bluish or leaden color: the livid face of a dead man. 2. discolored by a bruise: the livid marks of blows on his arm. adj.

liv ing (liv'ing), 1. having life; being alive: a living plant. 2. act or condition of one that lives. 3. means of obtaining what is needed to support life; livelihood: Mr. Meyer earned his living as a grocer. 4. manner of life: the importance of right living. 5. full of life; vigorous; strong; active: a living faith. 6. in actual existence; still in use: a living language. 7. true to life; vivid; lifelike: a living picture. 8. of life; for living in: good living conditions. 9. sufficient to live on: a living wage. 10. position in the church with the income attached; benefice. 1,5-9 adj., 2-4,10 n.

living quarters, place to live.

living room, U.S. room for general family use.

Liver of a human being

Livingston (liv'ing stən), Robert, 1746-1813, American jurist and statesman. n.

Livingstone (liv'ing stən), David, 1813-1873, Scottish missionary and explorer in Africa. n.

living wage, sufficient pay to buy the necessities of life.

Liv'y (liv'ē), 59 B.C.-17 A.D., Roman historian. n.

liz'ard (liz'ərd), any of a large group of reptiles, most of which are small and have long bodies with four legs and a long tail. Chameleons, horned toads, and glass snakes are lizards. Some lizards without limbs look much like snakes, but have movable eyelids. n. —liz'ard like', adj.

European green lizard
(about 11 in. long)

lla ma (lä'mə), a cud-chewing, woolly-haired South American mammal somewhat like a camel, but smaller and without a hump. Llamas are used as beasts of burden. n., pl.

lla mas or (esp. collectively) lla ma.

lla no (lä'nō), a broad treeless plain. n., pl. lla nos.

LL.D., Doctor of Laws.

lo (lō), look! see! behold! interj.

loach (lōch), a small European fresh-water fish. n.

Llama (about 3 ft.
high at the shoulder)

load (lōd), 1. what one is carrying; burden: The cart has a load of hay. The nurse bears a load of anxiety. 2. quantity that can be or usually is carried; such quantity taken as a unit of measure or weight: Send us four loads of sand. 3. place on or in something for conveyance; heap or pile on: load grain. 4. put a load in or on: load a car, ship, horse, basket, etc. 5. take on a load. 6. burden; oppress. 7. supply amply or in excess: They loaded her with compliments. 8. in mechanics, the weight supported by a structure or part. 9. the external resistance overcome by an engine, dynamo, or the like, under a given condition, measured by the power required. 10. add weight to: load dice. 11. one charge of powder and shot for a gun. 12. put a charge in (a gun). 1,2,8,9,11 n., 3-7,10,12 v. —load'er, n.

loads, Informal. great quantity or number.

load ed (lōd'id), 1. carrying a load. 2. with a charge in it. 3. weighted. adj.

load star (lōd'stär'), lodestar. n.

load stone (lōd'stōn'), 1. stone that attracts iron as a magnet does. 2. something that attracts: Gold was the loadstone that drew men to Alaska. n. Also, lodestone.

loaf¹ (lōf), 1. bread shaped and baked as one piece: The loaf came apart easily from the loaves it was baked with. 2. a rather large cake, often baked in the shape of a loaf of bread. 3. food shaped like a loaf of bread: Veal loaf is veal chopped and mixed with egg and then baked. 4. a cone-shaped mass of sugar. n., pl. loaves.

loaf² (lōf), spend time idly; do nothing: I can loaf all day Saturday. v.

loaf er (lōf'ər), 1. one who loafs. 2. shoe resembling a moccasin, but with sole and heel stitched to the upper. n.

loam (lōm), 1. rich, fertile earth; earth in which much humus is mixed with clay and sand. 2. mixture of clay, sand, and straw used to make molds for large metal castings, and also to plaster walls, stop holes, etc. 3. cover or fill with loam. 1,2 n., 3 v.

loam y (lōm'ē), of or like loam. adj.

loan (lōn), 1. a lending. 2. money lent. 3. anything lent. 4. make a loan; lend. 1-3 n., 4 v. —loan'er, n.

loan shark, Informal. person who lends money at an extremely high or unlawful rate of interest.

loan word, a foreign word that has been Anglicized. Examples: khaki, intelligentsia.

loath (lōth), unwilling; reluctant: The little girl was loath to leave her mother. adj. Also, loth. nothing loath, willing; willingly.

loathe (lōth), feel strong dislike and disgust for; abhor; hate: We loathe rotten food. v., loathed, loath ing.

loath ing (lōth'ing), strong dislike and disgust; intense aversion. n.

loath some (lōth'səm), disgusting; sickening: a loathsome odor. adj. —loath'some ly, adv. —loath'some-ness, n.

loaves (lōvz), *pl. of loaf*¹. n.

lob (lob), 1. a tennis ball hit high to the back of the opponent's court. 2. hit (a tennis ball) high to the back of an opponent's court. 3. a slow underhand throw in cricket. 4. throw (a cricket ball) with a slow underhand movement. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., lobbed, lob bing.

lo bar (lō'bär), of or having to do with a lobe or lobes. adj.

lob by (lob'ē), 1. entrance hall; passageway: the lobby of a theater. A hotel lobby usually has chairs and couches to sit on. 2. Esp. U.S. person or group that tries to influence legislators. 3. Esp. U.S. try to influence legislators; get or try to get (a bill) passed by lobbying. 1,2 n., pl. lob bies; 3 v., lob bied, lob by ing.

lob by ist (lob'ē ist), Esp. U.S. person who tries to influence legislators. n.

lobe (lōb), a rounded projecting part. The lobe of the ear is the lower rounded end. n.

lobed (lōbd), having a lobe or lobes. adj.

lo bel ia (lō bēl'yə), any of various plants, both wild and cultivated, with blue, red, yellow, or white flowers. n.

lob lol ly (lob'lol'ē), 1. a long-leaved pine tree that grows in swampy soils in the S United States. It has thick bark and long needles. 2. its coarse, inferior wood. 3. thick mud; swamp. n., pl. lob lol lies.

lob ster (lob'stər), an edible crustacean with two big claws in front and eight legs. n.

lobster pot, trap for lobsters.

lo cal (lō'kl), 1. of place: New Jersey is a local name.

2. having to do with a certain place or places: the local doctor, local self-government, local news.

3. of just one part of the body: a local pain, local disease, local application of a remedy.

4. making all, or almost all, stops: a local train. 5. train, bus, etc., that makes all, or almost all, stops. 6. branch or chapter of a labor union, fraternity, etc. 7. a newspaper item of interest to a particular place. 1-4 adj., 5-7 n.

local color, customs, peculiarities, etc., of a certain place or period, used in stories and plays to make them seem more real.

lo cale (lō'kal'), place, especially with reference to events or circumstances connected with it: The locale of "Don Quixote" is Spain in the 17th century. n.

local government, 1. administration of local affairs in a town, city, etc., by its own people. 2. group elected for this purpose.

lo cal ism (lō'kl iz əm), 1. local expression, custom, etc. 2. provincialism. 3. attachment to a certain place. n.

lo cal i ty (lō'kal'ə tē), place; region; one place and the places near it. A sense of locality enables one to find one's way. n., pl. lo cal i ties.

lo cal ize (lō'kl īz), make local; fix in, assign, or limit to a particular place or locality: The infection seemed to be localized in the foot. v., lo cal ized, lo cal iz ing. —lo'cal i za'tion, n.

lo cal ly (lō'kl ē), 1. in a local manner or respect; with regard to place: to be separated locally. 2. in a particular place or particular places; not everywhere: Outbreaks of the disease occurred locally. adv.

local option, right of choice exercised by a minor political division, such as a county or city, especially as to whether the sale of liquor shall be permitted within its limits.

Lobed oak leaf

Lobster (about
1 ft. long,
including claws)

lo cate (lō'kā't), 1. establish in a place: He located his new store on Main Street. 2. Esp. U.S. establish oneself in a place: Early settlers located where there was water. 3. find out the exact position of: The general tried to locate the enemy's camp. 4. state or show the position of: locate Boston on the map. v., lo cat ed, lo cat ing. —lo'ca tor, n.

be located, be situated: Albany is located on the Hudson. lo ca tion (lō kā'shən), 1. a locating: The scouts disputed about the location of the camp. 2. being located. 3. position; place. 4. plot of ground marked out by boundaries; lot. 5. a place outside of the studio used in making all or part of a motion picture. n.

loch (lok or loh), Scottish. 1. lake: Loch Lomond. 2. arm of the sea partly shut in by land. n.

Loch Lomond. See Lo-mond.

lo ci (lō'sī), pl. of locus. n.

lock¹ (lok), 1. means of fastening doors, boxes, etc., usually needing a key of special shape to open it. 2. fasten with a lock. 3. shut (something in or out or up): We lock up jewels in a safe. 4. hold fast: The ship was locked in ice. The secret was locked in her heart. 5. part of a canal, dock, etc., in which the level of the water can be changed by letting water in or out to raise or lower ships. 6. go or pass by means of a lock; move (a ship) by means of a lock. 7. part of a gun by which the charge is fired. 8. device to keep a wheel from turning. A lock is used when a vehicle is going downhill. 9. join, fit, jam, or link together: The girls locked arms. 10. become locked: Two cars locked together in passing. 11. an airtight chamber admitting to a compartment in which there is compressed air. 12. a kind of hold in wrestling. 1,5,7,8, 11,12 n., 2-4,6,9,10 v.

Locks in a canal (def. 5). They enable ships to go where there were formerly waterfalls, or to go around a dam. If the ship enters from below, the gates are closed, the water level is raised (by means of pipes) to equal the level above the lock, then the upper gates are opened. If the ship is coming downstream, the process is reversed.

lock out, refuse to give work to workers until they accept the employer's terms.

lock, stock, and barrel, Informal. completely; entirely.

under lock and key, lock up; in a place that is locked.

lock² (lok), 1. curl of hair. 2. portion of wool, flax, etc. n.

locks, the hair of the head.

lock er (lok'ər), 1. person or thing that locks. 2. chest, drawer, closet, or cupboard that can be locked. 3. a refrigerated compartment for storing frozen foods. n. lock et (lok'it), a small ornamental case of gold, silver, etc., for holding a picture of someone or a lock of hair. It is usually worn around the neck on a necklace. n.

lock jaw (lok'jō'), blood poisoning in which the jaws become firmly closed. Tetanus is another name for lockjaw. n.

lock out (lok'out'), refusal to give work to workers until they accept the employer's terms. n.

lock smith (lok'smith'), man who makes or repairs locks and keys. n.

lock step, way of marching in step very close together.

lock stitch, a sewing-machine stitch in which two threads are fastened together at short intervals.

lock up (lok'up'), jail. n.

lo co (lō'kō), U.S. 1. locoweed. 2. disease caused by eating this weed. 3. poison with this weed. 4. Slang. crazy. 1,2 n., pl. lo cos; 3 v., lo coed, lo co ing; 4 adj.

lo co mo tion (lō'kə mō'shən), act or power of moving from place to place. Walking and flying are common forms of locomotion. n.

lo co mo tive (lō'kə mō'tiv), 1. a railroad engine. 2. any engine that goes from place to place on its own power. 3. moving from place to place: locomotive bacteria. 4. having to do with the power to move from place to place. 1,2 n., 3,4 adj.

lo co weed (lō'kō wēd'), plant of W United States that affects the brains of horses, sheep, etc., that eat it. n. Also, loco.

lo cus (lō'kəs), place. n., pl. lo ci.

lo cust (lō'kəst), 1. any of the grasshoppers with short antennae, certain kinds of which migrate in great swarms, destroying crops. 2. cicada. 3. tree with small rounded leaflets and clusters of sweet-smelling white flowers. 4. its wood, hard and resisting decay. n.

Locust (1 1/4 to 3 in. long) lo cu tion (lō kū'shən), 1. style of speech. 2. form of expression. n.

lode (lōd), vein of metal ore: The miners struck a rich lode of copper. n.

lode star (lōd'stār'), 1. star that shows the way. 2. polestar; North Star. 3. guiding principle; center of attraction. n. Also, loadstar.

lode stone (lōd'stōn'), loadstone. n.

lodge (lodj), 1. live in a place for a time. 2. provide with a place to live in or sleep in for a time. 3. place to live in; small or temporary house; house. 4. live in a rented room in another's house: We are merely lodging at present. 5. rent a room or rooms to. 6. get caught or stay in a place: The kite lodged in the top of a tree. 7. put or send into a place: The hunter lodged a bullet in the lion's heart. 8. put for safekeeping. 9. put before some authority: We lodged a complaint with the police. 10. put (power, authority, etc.) in a person or thing. 11. branch of a secret society. 12. place where it meets. 13. den of a beaver or otter. 1,2,4-10 v., lodged, lodg-ing; 3,11-13 n.

Lodge (lodj), Henry Cabot, 1850-1924, United States senator and writer on history and politics. n.

lodg er (lodj'ər), person who lives in a rented room in another's house. n.

lodg ing (lodj'ing), place to live in for a time. n. lodgings, a rented room or rooms in a house, not in a hotel.

lodging house, house in which rooms are rented.

lodg ment (lodj'mənt), 1. a lodging. 2. being lodged: the lodgment of a claim against a company. 3. something lodged or deposited: a lodgment of earth on a ledge of rock. 4. position gained; foothold. n.

Lódz (luj), city in central Poland. 698,000. n.

lo ess (lō'is), a yellowish-brown loam, usually deposited by the wind. n.

Lo fo ten (lō fō'tən), group of islands northwest of, and belonging to, Norway. n.

loft (lōft), 1. attic. 2. room under the roof of a barn. 3. gallery in a church or hall. 4. U.S. an upper floor of a business building or warehouse. 5. the backward slope of the face of a golf club. 6. stroke that drives a golf ball upward. 7. hit (a golf ball) high up. 1-6 n., 7 v.

Loft (def. 5). A ball hit with this club will go upward as well as forward.

loft y (lōf'tē), 1. very high: lofty mountains. 2. exalted; dignified; grand: lofty aims. 3. proud; haughty: He had a lofty contempt for others. adj., loft-i er, loft i est. —loft'i ly, adv. —loft'i ness, n.

log (lōg), 1. length of wood just as it comes from the tree. 2. made of logs: a log house. 3. cut down trees, cut them into logs, and get them out of the forest. 4. cut (trees) into logs. 5. cut down trees on (land). 6. the daily record of a ship's voyage. 7. enter in a ship's log. 8. enter name and offense of (a sailor) in a ship's log. 9. record of an airplane trip, performance of an engine, etc. 10. float for measuring the speed of a ship. 1.6,9,10 n., 2 adj., 3-5,7,8 v., logged, logging. —log/like', adj.

Lo gan (lō'gən), Mount, mountain in W Canada, the second highest mountain in North America. 19,850 ft. n.

lo gan ber ry (lō'gən ber'ē), a large, purplish-red fruit of a bramble developed from a cross between a blackberry and a red raspberry. n., pl. lo gan ber ries.

log a rithm (lōg'ə rīth əm), 1. exponent of the power to which a fixed number (usually 10) must be raised in order to produce a given number. If the fixed number is 10, the logarithm of 1000 is 3; the logarithm of 10,000 is 4; the logarithm of 100,000 is 5. 2. one of a system of such exponents used to shorten calculations in mathematics. n.

log a rith mic (lōg'ə rīth'mik), of or having to do with a logarithm or logarithms. adj.

log a rith mi cal (lōg'ə rīth'mə kl), logarithmic. adj.

log book (lōg'būk'), 1. book in which a daily record of a ship's voyage is kept. 2. a book for records of an airplane's trip. 3. a journal of travel. n.

loge (lōzh), box in a theater or opera house. n.

log ger (lōg'ər), 1. person whose work is logging. 2. machine for loading or hauling logs. n.

log ger head (lōg'ər hed'), 1. a stupid person. 2. a large-headed marine turtle of the Atlantic. n.

at loggerheads, disputing; at enmity.

log gia (lōj'ə; Italian lōd'jā), gallery or arcade open to the air on at least one side. n., pl. log gias, Ital. log gie (lōd'jā).

log ging (lōg'ing), work of cutting down trees, cutting them into logs, and getting them out from the forest. n.

log ic (lōj'ik), 1. science of proof. 2. science of reasoning. 3. book on logic. 4. reasoning; use of argument. 5. reason; sound sense. n.

log i cal (lōj'ə kl), 1. having to do with logic; according to the principles of logic. 2. reasonable; reasonably expected. 3. reasoning correctly. adj. —log-i-cal-ly, adv.

lo gi cian (lō jish'ən), expert in logic. n.

lo gis tic (lō jis'tik), of or having to do with logistics. adj.

lo gis tics (lō jis'tiks), art of planning and carrying out military movement, evacuation, and supply. n.

log roll (lōg'rōl'), Informal. 1. get (a bill) passed by logrolling. 2. take part in logrolling. v. —log/roll'er, n.

log roll ing (lōg'rōl'ing), Chiefly U.S. 1. giving of political aid in return for a like favor. 2. act of rolling logs, especially by treading on them. n.

log wood (lōg'wud'), 1. the heavy brownish-red wood of a tropical American tree, used in dyeing. 2. the tree. n.

lo gy (lō'gē), U.S. heavy; sluggish; dull. adj., lo gi-er, lo gi-est.

-logy, word element meaning:

1. account, doctrine, or science of, as in biology, theology.
2. speaking; discussion, as in eulogy.
3. special meanings, as in analogy, anthology.

loin (loin), 1. part of the body between the ribs and the hipbones. The loins are on both sides of the backbone. 2. piece of meat from this part. See beef for diagram. n. gird up one's loins, get ready for action.

loin cloth (loin'klōth'), piece of cloth worn around the hips and between the thighs by natives of warm countries. n.

Loire (lwär), river flowing from S France into the Bay of Biscay. It is the longest river in France. 625 mi. n.

loi ter (loi'tər), 1. linger idly; stop and play along the way: Mary loitered along the street, looking into all the shopwindows. 2. spend (time) idly: loiter the hours away. v. —loi/ter er, n.

Lo ki (lō'kē), the Norse god of destruction. n.

loll (lol), 1. recline or lean in a lazy manner: loll on a sofa. 2. hang loosely or droop: A dog's tongue lolls out in hot weather. 3. allow to hang or droop: A dog lolls out his tongue. 4. a lolling. 1-3 v., 4 n.

lol li pop or lol ly pop (lol'ē pop), piece of hard candy, usually on the end of a small stick. n.

Lom bard (lom'bärd), 1. member of a German tribe which in the sixth century A.D. conquered the part of N Italy since known as Lombardy. 2. native or inhabitant of Lombardy. n.

Lom bard y (lom'bar dē), district in N Italy. n.

Lombardy poplar, a slender variety of poplar whose branches curve upward.

Lo mé (lō mǎ'), capital of the republic of Togo, in the SW part. 65,000. n.

Lo mond (lō'mənd), Loch, lake in W Scotland. 23 mi. long; 27 sq. mi. n.

Lon don (lun'dən), 1. capital of Great Britain and the British Commonwealth, in SE England on the Thames River. City with suburbs, 8,250,000. See Thames for map. 2. city in SE Canada. 167,000. 3. Jack, 1876-1916, American author. n.

Lon don er (lun'dən ər), native or inhabitant of London, England. n.

lone (lōn), 1. alone; solitary: The lone traveler was cheered by the news that a friend would travel with him. 2. lonesome; lonely: a lone life. 3. Humorous. single or widowed. 4. standing apart; isolated: a lone house. adj.

lone ly (lōn'lē), 1. feeling oneself alone and longing for company or friends. She was lonely when among strangers. 2. without many people: a lonely road. 3. alone: a lonely tree. adj., lone li er, lone li est. —lone/li ness, n.

lone some (lōn'səm), 1. feeling lonely. 2. making one feel lonely. adj., lone som er, lone som est.

long¹ (lōng), 1. measuring much or more than usual, from end to end in space or time: a long distance, a long speech. 2. having a specified length in space or time: five feet long, two hours long. 3. far-reaching; extending to a great distance in space or time: a long memory, a long sight. 4. throughout the whole length of: all night long. 5. for a long time: a reform long advocated. 6. a long time: for long. 7. at a point of time far distant from the time indicated: long before, long since. 8. of vowels or syllables, taking a comparatively long time to speak. 9. a long sound. 10. well supplied (with some commodity or stock); depending on a rise in prices for profit. 1-3,8,10 adj., long er (lōng'ər), long est (lōng'gist); 4,5,7 adv., 6,9 n.

as long as or so long as, provided that.

before long, soon; in a short time.

long² (lōng), wish very much; have a strong desire: He longed for his mother. She longed to see him. v.

long., longitude.

Long Beach, a seaside resort in SW California, near Los Angeles. 344,000.

long boat (lōng'bōt'), the largest and strongest boat carried by a sailing ship. n.

long bow (lōng'bō'), bow drawn by hand and discharging a long, feathered arrow (distinguished from crossbow). See bowman for picture. n.

draw the longbow, tell exaggerated stories.

long-dis tance (lōng'dis'təns), U.S. 1. of or having to do with telephone service to another town, city, etc. 2. operator or exchange that takes care of long-distance calls. 1 adj., 2 n.

long-drawn (lōng'drōn'), lasting a long time; prolonged to great length. adj.

lon gev i ty (lon jev'ə tē), long life: Good habits promote longevity. n.

Long fel low (lōng'fel'ō), Henry Wadsworth, 1807-1882, American poet. n.

Loggia

long hand (lông/'hand'), ordinary writing, not short-hand or typewriting. n.
long-head ed (lông/'hed'id), 1. having a long head. 2. shrewd; far-sighted. adj.
long horn (lông/'hörn'), one of a breed of cattle that has very long horns. n.
long ing (lông/'ing), 1. earnest desire: a longing for home. 2. having or showing earnest desire: a child's longing look at a window full of toys. 1 n., 2 adj. —long/ing ly, adv.
long ish (lông/'ish), somewhat long. adj.
Long Island, island south of Connecticut. It is part of New York State. 118 mi. long; 1682 sq. mi.
Long Island Sound, a long, narrow strip of water between Connecticut and Long Island. 110 mi. long.
lon gi tude (lon/'jə tüd or lon/'jə tüd), 1. distance east or west on the earth's surface, measured in degrees from a certain meridian. Usually the meridian through Greenwich, England, is used. 2. Humorous. length. n.
lon gi tu di nal (lon/'jə tü'dä nl or lon/'jə tü'dä nl), 1. of length; in length. 2. running lengthwise: Our flag has longitudinal stripes. 3. of longitude: The longitudinal difference between New York and Seattle is about 50 degrees. adj.
lon gi tu di nal ly (lon/'jə tü'dä nl ē or lon/'jə tü'dä nl ē), 1. lengthwise. 2. according to longitude. adv.
long-lived (lông/'līvd' or lÔNG/'līvd'), living or lasting a long time. adj.
long measure, linear measure.
long-playing (lông/'plā'ing), of a phonograph record, playing at a speed slower than 78 r.p.m., especially at 33½ r.p.m. adj.
long-range (lông/'rānj'), looking ahead; future: long-range plans. adj.
long shore man (lông/'shōr'mən), man whose work is loading and unloading ships. n., pl. long shore men.
long-sight ed (lông/'sit'id), 1. far-sighted; focusing at more than the right distance. 2. having foresight; wise. adj. —long/-sight/ed ness, n. long-stand ing (lông/'stan'ding), having lasted for a long time: a long-standing feud. adj.
Long street (lông/'strēt), James, 1821-1904, Confederate general in the Civil War. n. long-suf fer ing (lông/'suf'ər ing), 1. enduring trouble, pain, or injury long and patiently. 2. long and patient endurance of trouble, pain, or injury. 1 adj., 2 n.
long suit, 1. suit in which one has most cards. 2. strong point.
long ton, the British ton, 2240 pounds. long-tongued (lông/'tungd'), 1. having a long tongue. 2. talking much or too much. adj.
long ways (lông/'wāz'), lengthwise; in the direction of the length. adv.
long-wind ed (lông/'win'did), 1. capable of long effort without getting out of breath: A long-distance runner must be long-winded. 2. talking or writing at great lengths; tiresome: a long-winded speaker. adj. —long/-wind/ed ly, adv. —long/-wind/ed ness, n.
long wise (lông/'wīz'), lengthwise. adv.
look (lük), 1. see; try to see; direct the eyes: He looked this way. 2. act of looking. 3. search: I looked through the drawer to see if I could find my keys. 4. a search. 5. examine; pay attention: You must look at all the facts. 6. seem; appear: She looks pale. 7. appearance; aspect: A deserted house has a desolate look. 8. face; have a view: Our house looks upon a garden. 9. express or suggest by looks: He said nothing, but looked his disappointment. 1,3,5,6,8,9 v., 2,4,7 n. —look'er, n.

Circles of longitude looks, personal appearance: Good looks means a good appearance.

look after, attend to; take care of.
look alive, hurry.
look back, recollect; think about the past.
look down on, despise; scorn.
look for, expect.
look forward to, expect with pleasure; be eager for.
look in, make a short visit.
look into, examine; inspect.
look on, 1. watch without taking part. 2. regard; consider.
look oneself, seem like oneself; seem well.
look out, be careful; watch out.
look over, examine; inspect: look over papers.
look to, 1. attend to; take care of. 2. turn to for help.
look up, 1. find; refer to. 2. Informal. call on; visit. 3. Informal. get better; improve.
look up to, respect; admire.
look er-on (lük'ər on'), person who watches without taking part; spectator. n., pl. look ers-on.
looking glass, mirror.
look out (lük'out'), 1. a careful watch for someone to come or for something to happen: Keep a good lookout for Mother. 2. person or group that keeps such a watch. 3. place from which to watch. 4. what is seen ahead; outlook: See those clouds! A poor lookout for our picnic. 5. Informal. thing to be cared for or worried about. n.
Lookout Mountain, 1. range of low mountains in Georgia, Tennessee, and Alabama. The highest is 2126 ft. 2. an important battle of the Civil War, fought near Chattanooga in 1863. loom (lüm), machine for weaving cloth. n.
loom (lüm), 1. appear indistinctly: A large iceberg loomed through the fog. 2. appear in a vague, unusually large, or threatening shape: War loomed ahead. v.
loon (lün), a large, web-footed diving bird that has a loud wild cry. n.
loony (lün), a worthless or stupid person. n.
loon y (lün'ē), Slang. 1. crazy. 2. a crazy person; lunatic. 1 adj., loon i er, loon i est; 2 n., pl. loon ies.
loop (lüp), 1. the shape of a curved string, ribbon, bent wire, etc., that crosses itself. In writing, b and g and h and l have loops. 2. thing, bend, course, or motion shaped like this: The road makes a wide loop around the lake. 3. a fastening or ornament formed of cord, etc., bent and crossed. 4. make a loop of. 5. make loops in. 6. fasten with a loop. 7. encircle with a loop. 8. form a loop or loops. 9. a complete vertical turn or revolution; especially, one made by an airplane. 1-3,9 n., 4-8 v.
loop the loop, turn over and over; make a loop in the air.
loop hole (lüp'höl'), 1. a small opening in a wall to shoot through, look through, or let in light and air. 2. means of escape: The lawyer found a loophole in the law to save his client. n.
loose (lüs), 1. not fastened: a loose thread. 2. not tight: loose clothing. 3. not firmly set or fastened in: a loose tooth. 4. not bound together: loose papers. 5. not Loom¹: The weaver makes cloth by passing the threads of the wool under and over those of the warp. Many looms are run by machinery.

Loon¹ (about 32 in. long)

Loops (def. 1)

Loophole (def. 1)

hat, äge, cäre, fär; let, bē, tērm; it, Ice; hot, gō, ôrder; oil, out; cup, püt, rüle, üse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒ, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

put up in a box, can, etc.: loose coffee. 6. free; not shut in or up: The dog has been loose all night. 7. not pressed close together: loose earth, cloth with a loose weave. 8. not strict, close, or exact: a loose translation from another language, loose thinking. 9. moving too freely: a loose tongue. 10. careless about morals or conduct: a loose character. 11. set free; let go. 12. shoot (an arrow, gun, etc.). 13. make loose; untie; unfasten. 14. relax. 15. in a loose manner. 1-10 adj., loos er, loos est; 11-14 v., loosed, loos ing; 15 adv. —loose/ly, adv. —loose/-ness, n.

cast loose, unfasten; separate.

cut loose, 1. separate from anything; break a connection or relation. 2. run away; free oneself. 3. Informal. go on a spree.

let loose, set free; release; let go.

on the loose, 1. free; without restraint. 2. Informal. on a spree.

set or turn loose, set free; release; let go.

loose-joint ed (lūs'join'tid), 1. having loose joints; loosely built. 2. able to move very freely. adj.

loose-leaf (lūs'lēf'), having pages or sheets that can be taken out and replaced. adj.

loos en (lūs'n), 1. make loose or looser; untie; unfasten. 2. become loose or looser. v. —loos/en er, n.

loose strife (lūs'strif'), a tall downy weed, with large purple flowers. n.

loot (lüt), 1. spoils; plunder; booty: loot taken by soldiers from a captured town, burglar's loot. 2. plunder; rob. 1 n., 2 v. —loot/er, n.

lop¹ (lop), 1. cut; cut off. 2. cut branches, twigs, etc., from. v., lopped, lop ping.

lop² (lop), 1. hang loosely; droop. 2. flop. v., lopped, lop ping.

lope (lop), 1. run with a long, easy stride. 2. a long, easy stride. 1 v., loped, lop ing; 2 n. —lop/er, n.

lop-eared (lop'ird'), having ears that hang loosely or droop. adj.

lop sid ed (lop'sid'id), larger or heavier on one side than the other; unevenly balanced; leaning to one side. adj. —lop/sid'ed ly, adv. —lop/sid'ed ness, n.

lo qua cious (lō kwā'shəs), talking much; fond of talking. adj. —lo qua'cious ly, adv.

lo quac i ty (lō kwā'shē tē), inclination to talk a great deal; talkativeness. n.

lo quat (lō'kwot), 1. a small evergreen tree with small, yellow, edible, plumlike fruit, native in China and Japan. 2. the fruit. n.

Lo rain (lə rān'), city in N Ohio. 69,000. n.

lo ran (lō'rān), device by which a navigator can determine his geographical position by utilizing signals sent out from two radio stations. n.

lord (lōrd), 1. owner, ruler, or master; one who has the power. 2. rule; domineer; behave like a lord. 3. a feudal superior. 4. in Great Britain, a man of rank; peer of the realm; person entitled by courtesy to the title of Lord. 5. raise to the rank of lord. 6. Poetic or Humorous. husband. 1,3,4,6 n., 2,5 v.

lord it over, domineer over.

Lord (lōrd), 1. God. 2. Christ. 3. in Great Britain, a titled nobleman or peer of the realm belonging to the House of Lords, the upper of the two branches of the British Parliament. 4. title used in Great Britain in speaking to or of noblemen of certain ranks: Lord Tennyson. 5. title given by courtesy in Great Britain to men holding certain positions: Lord Chief Justice. n. the Lords, the House of Lords; the upper house of the British Parliament.

lord ling (lōrd'ling), a little or unimportant lord. n. lord ly (lōrd'lē), 1. like a lord; suitable for a lord; grand; magnificent. 2. haughty; insolent; scornful: Sam's lordly airs annoyed his country cousins. 3. in a lordly manner. 1,2 adj., lord li er, lord li est; 3 adv. —lord/li ness, n.

Lord Mayor, title of the mayors of London and some other large cities.

Lord's Day, Sunday.

lord ship (lōrd'ship), 1. rank or position of a lord. 2. Brit. title used in speaking to or of a lord: your Lordship, his Lordship. 3. rule; ownership: His lordship over these lands is not questioned. n.

Lord's Prayer, in the Bible, a prayer given by Jesus to His disciples. Matthew 6:9-13.

Lord's Supper, 1. Jesus' last supper with His disciples. 2. the church service in memory of this; Holy Communion.

lore (lôr), 1. facts and stories about a certain subject: fairy lore, bird lore, Irish lore. 2. learning; knowledge. n.

lor gnette (lôr nyet'), 1. eyeglasses mounted on a handle. 2. opera glass. n.

lorn (lörn), 1. forsaken; forlorn. 2. Archaic. lost; ruined. adj.

Lor raine (lə rān'), an important mining region in W Europe, now chiefly in NE France. See Alsace-Lorraine for map. n.

lor ry (lô'rē), 1. Brit. automobile truck. 2. a long, flat wagon without sides. n., pl.

lor ries.

lo ry (lô'rē), a small, brightly-colored parrot of Australia and nearby islands. n., pl. lo ries.

Los Al a mos (lōs al'ə mōs), town in N New Mexico, a center for atomic research. 13,000.

Los An ge les (lōs an'jə lēs or lōs an'jə lēz), city in SW California. 2,479,000.

lose (lüz), 1. not have any longer; have taken away from one by accident, carelessness, parting, death, etc.: lose one's life. 2. be unable to find: lose a book. 3. fail to keep, preserve, or maintain; cease to have: lose patience, lose all fear. 4. fail to follow with eye, hearing, mind, etc.: lose words here and there in a speech. 5. fail to have, get, catch, etc.: lose a sale. 6. fail to win: lose the prize. 7. be defeated: Our team lost. 8. bring to destruction; ruin: The ship and its crew were lost. 9. let pass without use or profit; waste: lose an opportunity, lose time. The hint was not lost on him. 10. suffer loss: lose on a contract. 11. cause the loss of: Delay lost the battle. 12. cause to lose: That one act lost him his job. v., lost, los ing. —los/er, n.

lose oneself, 1. let oneself go astray; become bewildered. 2. become absorbed.

los ing (lüz'ing), that cannot win: You are playing a losing game if you are not careful crossing streets. adj.

los ings (lüz'ingz), losses. n.pl.

loss (lōs), 1. a losing or being lost: The loss of health is serious but the loss of a pencil is not. 2. person or thing lost. 3. amount lost. 4. harm or disadvantage caused by losing something: Our losses by the fire amounted to $2500. n.

at a loss, puzzled; uncertain; in difficulty.

at a loss to, unable to.

lost (lōst), 1. pt. and pp. of lose: I lost my new pen. My glasses are lost, too. 2. no longer possessed or retained: lost friends. 3. no longer to be found; missing: lost articles. 4. attended with defeat: a lost battle. 5. not used to good purpose; wasted: lost time. 6. having gone astray. 7. destroyed or ruined: a lost soul. 8. bewildered. 1 v., 2-8 adj.

lost in, completely absorbed or interested in.

lost to, 1. no longer possible or open to. 2. no longer belonging to. 3. insensible to: The deserting soldier was lost to all sense of duty to his country.

lost sheep, person who has strayed from the right sort of conduct or religious belief.

lot (lot), 1. object used to decide something by chance: We drew lots to decide who should be captain. 2. such a method of deciding: divide property by lot. 3. choice made in this way: The lot fell to me. 4. what one gets by lot; share or portion. 5. fate; fortune: a happy lot.

Woman using a lorgnette (def. 1)

Lorry (def. 2)

6. plot of ground: Fred's house is between two empty lots. 7. place where motion pictures are made. 8. a distinct portion or parcel of anything: He divided the fruit into ten lots. 9. number of persons or things considered as a group; a collection: a fine lot of boys. 10. divide into lots. 11. Informal. a great many; a great deal: a lot of books, lots of money. 12. a great deal; much: I feel a lot better. 13. Informal. person of a certain kind: He is a bad lot. 1-9, 11, 13 n., 10 v., lot ted, lot ting; 12 adv. cast or draw lots, use lots to decide something. cast or throw in one's lot with, share the fate of; become a partner with.

Lot (lot'), in the Bible, a righteous man who was allowed to escape from Sodom before God destroyed it. His wife looked back and was changed into a pillar of salt. Genesis 19:1-26. n.

loth (lōth), loath. adj.

lo tion (lō'shan), liquid containing medicine, used on the skin to soothe, heal, or cleanse. n.

lo tos (lō'tas), lotus. n.

lot ter y (lot'ər ē), scheme for distributing prizes by lot or chance. In a lottery a large number of tickets are sold, some of which draw prizes. n., pl. lot ter ies.

lottery wheel, wheel used for shuffling the numbers on lottery tickets.

lot to (lot'ō), game played by drawing numbered disks from a bag or box and covering the corresponding numbers on cards. n.

lo tus (lō'tas), 1. water lily that grows in Egypt and Asia. 2. plant with red, pink, or white flowers, of the same family as the pea. 3. plant whose fruit was supposed to cause a dreamy and contented forgetfulness in those who ate it. n.

lo tus-eat er (lō'tas ēt'ər), person who leads a life of dreamy, indolent ease. n.

loud (loud), 1. making a noise; not quiet or soft: a loud voice. 2. resounding; noisy: loud music. 3. clamorous; insistent: be loud in demands. 4. Informal. showy or flashy: loud clothes. 5. Informal. obtrusive; somewhat vulgar. 6. in a loud manner. 1-5 adj., 6 adv. —loud'-ly, adv. —loud'-ness, n.

loud ish (loud'ish), somewhat loud. adj.

loud speak er (loud'spēk'ər), device for amplifying the sound of a speaker's voice, music, etc., especially in a radio. n.

lough (loh), Irish. 1. lake. 2. arm of the sea. n.

Louis XVI (lū'ē or lū'is), 1754-1793, king of France from 1774 to 1792. He was guillotined in the French Revolution.

louis d'or (lū'ē dōr'), 1. an old French gold coin, worth from about $4 to about $4.60. 2. a later French gold coin worth 20 francs.

Louise (lū'ēz'), Lake, a beautiful lake in the Canadian Rockies. 5670 ft. above sea level. n.

Lou i si an a (lū'ēz'ē an'ə), a Southern State of the United States. 3,257,000 pop. 48,522 sq. mi. Capital: Baton Rouge. Abbr.: La. n. —Lou i'si an'i an, Lou i'si an'an, adj., n.

Louisiana Purchase, an extensive region that the United States bought from France, in 1803. It extended from the Mississippi River to the Rocky Mountains and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Louisiana Purchase, showing what it included of the States as they are now.

Lou is ville (lū'ē vil), city in N Kentucky, on the Ohi. River. 391,000. n.

lounge (lounj), 1. stand, stroll, sit, or lie at ease and lazily. 2. act or state of lounging. 3. a comfortable and informal room in which one can lounge, smoke, and be at ease. 4. couch; sofa. 1 v., lounge d, lounge ing; 2-4 n. —lounge' er, n.

lour (lour), 1. look dark and threatening. 2. a dark and threatening look. 3. frown; scowl. 1, 3 v., 2, 3 n. Also, lower.

Lou ren ço Marques (lō ren'sō mār'kəs), capital of Mozambique. 93,000.

louse (lous), 1. a small, wingless insect that infests the hair or skin of people and animals, causing great irritation. 2. any of various other insects that are parasitic on animals or plants. n., pl. lice.

lous y (louz'ē), 1. infested with lice. 2. Slang. dirty; disgusting. 3. Slang. well supplied. adj., lous i er, lous i est. —lous'i ly, adv. —lous'i ness, n.

lout (lout), an awkward, stupid fellow; boor. n.

lout ish (lout'ish), awkward and stupid; boorish. adj.

lou ver (lū'vər), 1. window or other opening covered with louver boards. 2. a ventilating slit. n.

louver boards, horizontal strips of wood set slanting in a window or other opening, so as to keep out rain, but provide ventilation.

Lou vre (lū'vrə), a famous museum in Paris, formerly a palace of the kings of France. n.

lov a ble (luv'ə bl), deserving love; endearing: She was a most lovable person, always kind and thoughtful. adj. —lov'a ble ness, n. —lov'a bly, adv.

love (luv), 1. strong or passionate affection for a person of the opposite sex. 2. instance of such feeling. 3. this feeling as a subject for books, or as a personified influence. 4. be in love with. 5. be in love; fall in love. 6. a loved one; sweetheart. 7. a warm liking; fond or tender feeling. 8. a strong liking: a love of books. 9. like very much; take great pleasure in: Most children love ice cream. 10. Informal. something charming or delightful. 11. be fond of; hold dear. 12. have affection: He can hate but cannot love. 13. the kindly feeling of God for his creatures, or the reverent devotion due from them to God, or the kindly affection they should have for each other. 14. no score in tennis and certain other games. 1-3, 6-8, 10, 13, 14 n., 4, 5, 9, 11, 12 v., loved, lov ing.

fall in love, begin to love; come to feel love.

for love, 1. for nothing; without pay. 2. for pleasure; not for money.

for the love of, for the sake of; because of.

in love, feeling love.

make love, do as lovers do; woo.

not for love or money, not on any terms.

love apple, an old name for the tomato.

love bird (luv'bērd'), a small parrot that shows great affection for its mate; parakeet. n.

love feast, 1. meal eaten together by the early Christians as a symbol of brotherly love. 2. a religious ceremony imitating this. 3. banquet or other gathering to promote good feeling.

love knot, an ornamental knot or bow of ribbon as a token of love.

love less (luv'lis), 1. not loving. 2. not loved. adj. love-lies-bleed ing (luv'liz blēd'ing), a kind of amaranth having spikes of crimson flowers. n.

love li ness (luv'lē nis), beauty. n.

love lorn (luv'lōrn'), suffering because of love; forsaken by the person whom one loves. adj.

love ly (luv'lē), 1. beautiful in mind or character; beautiful. 2. Informal. very pleasing; delightful. adj., love li er, love li est.

lov er (luv'ər), 1. person who loves. 2. man who is in love with a woman. 3. person having a strong liking: a lover of books. n. —lov'er like, adj.

lovers, man and woman who are in love with each other.

love seat, seat or small sofa for two persons.
love sick (luv/sik'), languishing because of love. adj.
lov ing (luv/ing), feeling or showing love; affectionate; fond. adj. —lov'ing ly, adv.
loving cup, a large cup with handles, passed around for all to drink from.
lov ing-kind ness (luv/ing kind/nis), kindness coming from love: the loving-kindness of God's mercies. n.
low¹ (lō), 1. not high or tall: low walls. 2. rising but slightly from a surface: low relief. 3. of less than ordinary height, depth, or quantity: The well is getting low. 4. near the ground, floor, or base: a low shelf (adj.); fly low (adv.). 5. lying or being below the general level: low ground. 6. small in amount, degree, force, value, etc.: a low price. 7. in, at, or to a low portion, point, degree, condition, price, etc.: The sun sank low. Supplies are running low. 8. not loud; soft: a low whisper. 9. at low pitch; softly: speak low. 10. not advanced in civilization, organization, etc.: Bacteria are low organisms. 11. lacking in dignity or elevation: low thoughts. 12. humble: low birth. 13. humbly; meanly. 14. affording little strength; feeble; weak: a low state of health. 15. unfavorable; poor: I have a low opinion of his abilities. 16. depressed or dejected: low spirits. 17. mean or base; coarse; vulgar; degraded: low company. 18. near the horizon. 19. near the equator. 20. prostrate or dead: lay one low. 21. deep: a low bow. 22. not high in the musical scale: a low note. 23. lately. 24. that which is low. 25. arrangement of the gears used for the lowest speed in an automobile and similar machines. 26. an area of low barometric pressure. 1-6,8,10-12,14-22 adj., 4,7,9,13,18,19,23 adv., 24-26 n. —low'ness, n.
lay low, 1. knock down. 2. kill. lie low, Informal. stay hidden; keep still.
low² (lō), 1. make the sound of a cow; moo. 2. sound a cow makes; mooing. 1 v., 2 n.
low born (lō'bōrn'), of humble birth. adj.
low boy (lō'boi'), a low chest of drawers. n.
low bred (lō'bred'), coarse; vulgar. adj.
low brow (lō'brou'), Slang. 1. person lacking in appreciation of intellectual or artistic things. 2. being a lowbrow; incapable of culture. 3. fit for lowbrows. 1 n., 2,3 adj.
Low Countries, Netherlands, Belgium, and Luxembourg. low-coun try (lō'kun'trē), of the Low Countries. adj.
low-down (lō'doun' for 1; lō'doun' for 2), Chiefly U.S. 1. Slang. actual facts or truth. 2. Informal. low; mean; contemptible. 1 n., 2 adj.
Low ell (lō'el), 1. James Russell, 1819-1891, American poet, essayist, and diplomat. 2. city in NE Massachusetts. 92,000. n.
low er¹ (lō'ər), 1. let down or haul down: lower the flag. 2. make lower: lower the volume of a radio. 3. sink; become lower: The sun lowered slowly. 4. comparative of low. Prices were lower last year than this. 1-3 v., 4 adj., adv.
low er² (lou'ər), 1. look dark and threatening. 2. a dark and threatening look. 3. frown; scowl. 1,3 v., 2,3 n. Also, lour.
Lower California, a narrow peninsula in NW Mexico, south of California. 760 mi. long; 55,654 sq. mi.
Lower Canada, former name of the province of Quebec.
lower case, small letters, not capital.
low er-case (lō'ər kās'), in small letters, not capitals. adj.
Lower House or lower house, the more representative branch of a legislature that has two branches.
low er ing (lou'ər ing), 1. dark and threatening. 2. frowning; scowling. adj. —low'er ing ly, adv.
low er most (lō'ər mōst), lowest. adj.
lower regions, hell; Hades.
lower world, 1. hell; Hades. 2. earth.

Lowboy

low land (lō'lənd), 1. land that is lower and flatter than the neighboring country. 2. of or in the lowlands. 1 n., 2 adj.
Low land er (lō'lən dər), native of the Lowlands of Scotland. n.
Low lands (lō'ləndz), a low, flat region in S and E Scotland. n.pl.
low ly (lō'lē), 1. low in rank, station, position, or development: a lowly corporal, a lowly occupation. 2. modest in feeling, behavior, or condition; humble; meek: He held a lowly opinion of himself. 3. humbly; meekly. 1,2 adj., low li er, low li est; 3 adv. —low'li ness, n.
Low Mass, a simplified form of High Mass, conducted by one priest assisted by altar boys. Low Mass is usually read, not sung. low-minded (lō'min'did), mean; vulgar. adj.
low-pitched (lō'picht'), 1. of low tone or sound; deep. 2. having little slope. adj.
low-pres sure (lō'presh'ər), having or using less than the usual pressure. adj.
low-spir it ed (lō'spir'əd id), sad; depressed. adj.
low spirits, sadness; depression.
low tide, 1. the lowest level of the tide. 2. time when the tide is lowest. 3. the lowest point.
low water, 1. the lowest level of water. 2. low tide.
loy al (loi'əl), 1. faithful to love, promise, or duty. 2. faithful to one's king, one's government, or one's country. adj. —loy'al ly, adv.
loy al ist (loi'əl ist), person who supports his king or the existing government, especially in time of revolt. n.
Loy al ist (loi'əl ist), 1. American who favored England at the time of the American Revolution. 2. person loyal to the Republic during the civil war in Spain from 1936 to 1939. n.
loy al ty (loi'əl tē), loyal feeling or behavior; faithfulness. n., pl. loy al ties.
Loy o la (loi'ō'lə), Ignatius, 1491-1556, Spanish soldier, priest, and saint, founder of the Jesuit order. n.
loz enge (loz'inj), 1. design or figure shaped like this ◊. 2. a small tablet of medicine or piece of candy. Cough drops are sometimes called lozenges. n.
LP, Trademark. identification of the long-playing microgroove records made by Columbia Records, Inc.
LSD, drug that produces hallucinations and temporary symptoms of schizophrenia.
L.S.D. or l.s.d., pounds, shillings, and pence.
Lt., Lieutenant.
Ltd. or ltd., Esp. Brit. limited.
Lu, lutetium.
Lu an da (lū ān'də), capital of Angola. 142,000. n.
lu an ber (lub'ər), 1. a big, clumsy, stupid fellow. 2. a clumsy sailor. n.
lub ber ly (lub'ər lē), 1. loutish; clumsy; stupid. 2. awkward in the work of a sailor. 3. in a lubberly manner. 1,2 adj., 3 adv.
Lub bock (lub'ək), city in NW Texas. 129,000. n.
Lü beck (ly'bek), seaport in West Germany. 232,000. n.
lu bri cant (lū'brə kənt), 1. oil, grease, etc., for putting on parts of machines that slide or move against one another, to make them work smoothly and easily. 2. lubricating. 1 n., 2 adj.
lu bri cate (lū'brə kāt), 1. make (machinery) smooth and easy to work by putting on oil, grease, etc. 2. make slippery or smooth. v., lu bri cat ed, lu bri cat ing. —lu'br i ca'tion, n.
lu bri ca tor (lū'brə kā'tər), 1. person or thing that lubricates. 2. device for lubricating machinery. n.
lu bric i ty (lū bris'ə tē), 1. oily smoothness; slipperiness. 2. shiftiness. 3. lewdness. n., pl. lu bric i ties.
lu cent (lū'snt), 1. shining; luminous. 2. letting the light through; clear. adj. —lu'cent ly, adv.
lu cerne (lū sern'), Esp. Brit. alfalfa. n.
Lu cerne (lū sern'), Lake of, lake in central Switzerland. 24 mi. long; 44 sq. mi. n.

lu cid (lū'sid), 1. easy to understand: a lucid explanation. 2. shining; bright. 3. sane: An insane person sometimes has lucid intervals. 4. clear; transparent: a lucid stream. adj. —lu'cid ly, adv.

lu cid i ty (lū sid'ə tē), lucid quality or condition. n.
Lu ci fer (lū'sə fər), 1. the chief rebel angel who was cast out of heaven; Satan; the Devil. 2. planet Venus when it is the morning star. n.

lu ci fer (lū'sə fər), match that lights by friction. n.

luck (luk), 1. that which seems to happen or come to one by chance; chance: Luck favored me, and I won. 2. good luck: She gave me a penny for luck. n.

down on one's luck, Informal. having bad luck; unlucky.

in luck, having good luck; lucky: I am in luck today; I found a nickel.

out of luck, having bad luck; unlucky.

try one's luck, see what one can do.

worse luck, unfortunately.

luck i ly (luk'ə lē), by good luck; fortunately. adv.

luck less (luk'lis), having or bringing bad luck; unlucky. adj. —luck'less ness, n.

Luck now (luk'nou), city in central India. 497,000. n.

luck y (luk'ē), having or bringing good luck. adj.

luck i er, luck i est. —luck'i ness, n.

lu cra tive (lū'krə tiv), bringing in money; profitable.

adj. —lu'cra tive ly, adv.

lu cre (lū'kər), money considered as a bad influence. n.

Lu cre ti us (lū krē'shəs), 99?-55 B.C., Roman poet. n.

lu cu bra tion (lū'kyū brā'shən), 1. study carried on late at night. 2. laborious study. 3. a learned or carefully written production, especially one that is labored and dull. n.

lu di crous (lū'də krəs), amusingly absurd; ridiculous. adj. —lu'di crous ly, adv.

luff (luf), 1. turn the bow of a ship toward the wind.

2. turning the bow of a ship toward the wind. 3. the forward edge of a fore-and-aft sail. 1 v., 2,3 n.

luff the helm, move the helm so that the bow of the ship turns toward the wind.

Luft waf fe (lūft'vāf'ə), German. the German air force, especially under the Nazis in World War II. n.

lug¹ (lug), pull along or carry with effort; drag: The children lugged home a big Christmas tree. v., lugged, lug ging.

lug² (lug), a projecting part used to hold or grip something. n.

lug³ (lug), lugsail. n.

lug gage (lug'ij), baggage. n.

lug ger (lug'ər), boat with lugsails. n.

Lugger

lug sail (lug'sāl'; Nautical lug'səl), a four-cornered sail held by a yard that slants across the mast. n.

lu gu bri ous (lū gū'brē əs or lū gū'brē əs), sad; mournful: the lugubrious howl of a dog. adj. —lu gu' bri ous ly, adv.

lug worm (lug'wərm'), kind of worm that burrows in sand along the seashore. n.

Luke (lūk), 1. in the Bible, a physician who was the companion of the Apostle Paul. 2. the third book of the New Testament. It tells the story of the life of Christ. n.

lu ke warm (lūk'wərm'), 1. neither hot nor cold. 2. showing little enthusiasm; half-hearted. adj. —luke'warm'ness, n.

lull (lul), 1. hush to sleep: The mother lulled the crying baby. 2. quiet: lull one's suspicions. 3. become calm or more nearly calm: The wind lulled. 4. period of less noise or violence; brief calm: a lull in a storm. 1-3 v., 4 n.

lul la by (lul'ə bī), song to put a baby to sleep. n., pl. lul la bies.

lum ba go (lum bā'gō), pain in the muscles of the small of the back and in the loins. n.

lum bar (lum'bər), 1. of the loin or loins: the lumbar region. 2. a lumbar vertebra, artery, nerve, etc. 1 adj., 2 n.

lum ber¹ (lum'bər), 1. U.S. timber, logs, beams, boards, etc., roughly cut and prepared for use. 2. U.S. cut and prepare lumber. 3. household articles no longer in use; old furniture, etc., that takes up room. 4. U.S. fill up or obstruct by taking space that is wanted for something else. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

lum ber² (lum'bər), move along heavily and noisily: The old stagecoach lumbered down the road. v. —lum'ber ing ly, adv.

lum ber ing (lum'bər ing), business of cutting and preparing timber for use. n.

lum ber jack (lum'bər jak'), U.S. man whose work is cutting down trees and getting out the logs. n.

lum ber man (lum'bər mən), 1. lumberjack. 2. man whose work is cutting and preparing timber for use. 3. man whose business is buying and selling timber or lumber. n., pl. lum ber men.

lum ber yard (lum'bər yārd'), place where lumber is stored and sold. n.

lu mi nar y (lū'mə ner'ē), 1. the sun, moon, or other light-giving body. 2. a famous person. n., pl. lu mi nar ies.

lu mi nes cence (lū'mə nes'ns), emission of light occurring at a temperature below that of incandescent bodies. Luminescence includes phosphorescence and fluorescence. n.

lu mi nes cent (lū'mə nes'nt), giving out light without being much heated. adj.

lu mi nos i ty (lū'mə nos'ə ti), 1. luminous quality or condition. 2. something luminous. n., pl. lu mi nos i ties.

lu mi nous (lū'mə nəs), 1. shining by its own light: The sun and stars are luminous bodies. 2. full of light; bright: a luminous sunset. 3. easily understood; clear; enlightening. adj. —lu'mi nous ly, adv. —lu'mi nous ness, n.

lum mox (lum'əks), Informal. an awkward, stupid person. n.

lump¹ (lump), 1. a solid mass of no particular shape: a lump of coal. 2. swelling; bump: a lump on the head. 3. make lumps of, on, or in. 4. form into a lump or lumps: The cornstarch lumped because we cooked it too fast. 5. in lumps; in a lump. 6. put together; deal with in a mass or as a whole: We will lump all our expenses. 7. including a number of items: The girls were given a lump sum of $10 to pay all their expenses. 8. lot; mass. 9. Informal. a stupid person. 1,2,8,9 n., 3,4,6 v., 5,7 adj.

lump² (lump), Informal. put up with; endure: If you don't like it, you can lump it. v.

lump ish (lump'ish), 1. like a lump; heavy and clumsy. 2. stolid; stupid. adj.

lump y (lump'ē), 1. full of lumps: lumpy gravy. 2. covered with lumps: lumpy ground. 3. heavy and clumsy: a lumpy animal. 4. rough: lumpy water. adj., lump i er, lump i est. —lump'i ly, adv. —lump'i ness, n.

Luna (lū'nə), 1. the Roman goddess of the moon. 2. moon. n.

lu na cy (lū'nə sē), 1. insanity. 2. extreme folly. n., pl. lu na cies.

luna moth or Luna Moth, a large American moth with light-green wings having crescent-shaped spots.

lu nar (lū'nər), 1. of the moon: a lunar eclipse. 2. like the moon. adj.

lunar month, interval between one new moon and the next, about 29½ days.

lu nate (lū'nāt), crescent-shaped. adj.

lu na tic (lū'nə tik), 1. an insane person. 2. insane. 3. for insane people. 4. extremely foolish. 5. an extremely foolish person. 1,5 n., 2-4 adj.

lunch (lunch), 1. a light meal between breakfast and dinner, or breakfast and supper. 2. a light meal. 3. eat lunch. 1,2 n., 3 v. —lunch'er, n.

lunch eon (lun'chən), 1. lunch. 2. a formal lunch. 3. eat lunch. 1,2 n., 3 v.

lunch eon ette (lun'chən et'), restaurant that serves lunches. n.

lune (lün), 1. anything shaped like a crescent or a half moon. 2. a crescent-shaped plane figure bounded by two arcs of circles; a figure formed on a sphere by two arcs of circles that enclose a space. n.

ABCD is a lune (def. 2).

lunette (lū net'), 1. a crescent-shaped opening or space in a vaulted ceiling, dome, wall, etc. 2. an arched or rounded opening, window, etc. 3. a projecting part of a rampart, shaped like this $\wedge$. n.

lung (lung), in vertebrates that breathe air, one of the pair of organs by means of which the blood receives oxygen and is relieved of carbon dioxide. n.

Lungs of a human being lunge (lunj), 1. any sudden forward movement; thrust. 2. move suddenly forward; thrust. 1 n., 2 v., lunged, lunging. —lung'er, n.

lung fish (lung'fish'), fish that can obtain oxygen by gulping air through the mouth as well as by passing water through its gills. Lungfishes are found in Australia, Africa, and South America. n., pl. lung fish es or (esp. collectively) lung fish.

lung wort (lung'wert'), a European plant of the same family as borage, with blue flowers and spotted leaves. n.

lu pine¹ (lū'pən), any of several plants of the same family as peas and beans, that have long spikes of flowers, radiating clusters of grayish, hairy leaflets, and flat pods with bean-shaped seeds. n.

lu pine² (lū'pīn), 1. wolflike; fierce. 2. related to the wolf. adj.

lurch¹ (lérch), 1. a sudden leaning or roll to one side: The car gave a lurch and upset. 2. make a lurch; stagger: The wounded man lurched forward. 1 n., 2 v.

lurch² (lérch), Leave in the lurch means leave in a helpless condition or difficult situation. n.

lurch er (lér'chər), 1. prowler; petty thief; poacher. 2. a kind of crossbred hunting dog much used by poachers. n.

lure (lür), 1. attraction: the lure of the sea. 2. lead away or into something by arousing desire; attract; tempt: Bees are lured by the scent of flowers. 3. decoy; bait. 4. attract with a bait. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., lured, luring. —lur'er, n.

lu rid (lür'id), 1. lighted up with a red or fiery glare: The sky was lurid with the flames of the burning city. 2. terrible; sensational; startling: lurid crimes. adj.

lurk (lérk), 1. stay about without arousing attention; wait out of sight: A tiger was lurking in the jungle. 2. be hidden. v.

Lu sa ka (lū sä'kə), capital of Zambia. 114,000. n.

lus cious (lush'əs), 1. delicious; richly sweet: a luscious peach. 2. very pleasing to taste, smell, hear, see, or feel. adj. —lus'cious ly, adv. —lus'cious ness, n.

lush (lush), 1. tender and juicy; growing thick and green: Lush grass grows along the river banks. 2. characterized by abundant growth. 3. abundant. adj. —lush'ly, adv. —lush'ness, n.

lust (lust), 1. strong desire. 2. bad desire or appetite. 3. desire for indulgence of sex. 4. have a strong desire: A miser lusts after gold. 1-3 n., 4 v.

luster (lus'tər), 1. bright shine on the surface: the luster of pearls. 2. brightness: Her eyes lost their luster. 3. fame; glory; brilliance. 4. kind of china or pottery that has a lustrous metallic, often iridescent, surface. 5. a thin fabric of cotton and wool that has a lustrous surface. n.

lust ful (lust'fəl), 1. desiring indulgence of sex; sensual; lewd. 2. Archaic. lusty. adj. —lust'ful ly, adv. —lust'ful ness, n.

lus tral (lus'trəl), 1. of or used in ceremonial purification. 2. occurring every five years. adj.

lus trate (lus'trät), purify by a propitiatory offering; purify by any ceremonial method. v., lus trat ed, lus-trat ing.

lus tra tion (lus trā'shən), ceremonial washing or purification. n.

lus tre (lus'tər), Esp. Brit. luster. n.

lus trous (lus'trəs), having luster; shining; glossy: lustrous satin. adj. —lus'trous ly, adv.

lust y (lus'tē), strong and healthy; full of vigor: a lusty boy. adj., lust i er, lust i est. —lust'ily, adv. —lust'iness, n.

lute (lüt), a stringed musical instrument, formerly much used, having a long neck and a hollow resonant body, played with the fingers of one hand or with a plectrum. n.

Lute player

lu te ti um (lū tē'shē əm), a rare metallic element. Symbol: Lu n.

Lu ther (lū'thər), Martin, 1483-1546, leader of the Protestant Reformation in Germany. n.

Lu ther an (lū'thər ən), 1. having to do with Luther or the church that was named for him. 2. member of the Lutheran Church. 1 adj., 2 n.

Lu ther an ism (lū'thər ən iz'əm), doctrine, organization, and manner of worship of the Lutheran Church. n.

Lux em bourg (luk'səm bərg), 1. a small country surrounded by Germany, France, and Belgium. 325,000 pop.; 999 sq. mi. 2. its capital. 70,000. 3. an art museum in Paris, where the Senate of France meets. It was formerly a palace, and its gardens are now a park. n.

Lux or (luk'sör), town in E Egypt on the site of part of ancient Thebes. 15,000. n.

lux u ri ance (lug zhūr'ē əns or luk shūr'ē əns), luxuriant growth or productivity; rich abundance. n.

lux u ri ant (lug zhūr'ē ənt or luk shūr'ē ənt), 1. growing thick and green. 2. producing abundantly. 3. rich in ornament. adj. —lux u'ri ant ly, adv.

lux u ri ate (lug zhūr'ē āt or luk shūr'ē āt), 1. indulge in luxury. 2. take great delight: The explorer planned to luxuriate in hot baths and clean clothes when he came home. 3. grow very abundantly. v., lux u ri at ed, lux-u'ri at ing.

lux u ri ous (lug zhūr'ē əs or luk shūr'ē əs), 1. fond of luxury; tending toward luxury; self-indulgent. 2. giving luxury; very comfortable and beautiful. adj. —lux-u'ri ous ly, adv. —lux u'ri ous ness, n.

lux u ry (luk'shə rē or lug'zhə rē), 1. comforts and beauties of life beyond what is really necessary: Even very poor people today live in what would have been considered luxury 1000 years ago. 2. use of the best and most costly food, clothes, houses, furniture, and amusements: The movie star soon became accustomed to luxury. 3. thing that one enjoys, usually something choice and costly: He saves some money for luxuries such as fine paintings. 4. thing pleasant but not necessary: Candy is a luxury. n., pl. lux u ries.

Lu zon (lū zon'), the chief island of the Philippines. 11,800,000 pop.; 40,420 sq. mi. See Philippines for map. n.

Lvov (lə vōf'), city in SW Soviet Union, formerly in Poland. 410,000. n.

Lw, lawrencium.

Lwów (lə vūf'), Polish. Lvov. n.

-ly¹, suffix forming adverbs having the following patterns of meaning:

1. in a ____ manner: Cheerfully = in a cheerful manner.
2. in ____ ways or respects: Financially = in financial respects.
3. to a ____ degree or extent: Greatly = to a great degree.
4. in, to, or from a ____ direction: Northwardly = to or from the north.
5. in a ____ place: Thirdly = in the third place.
6. at a ____ time: Recently = at a recent time.

-ly², suffix forming adjectives having the following patterns of meaning:

1. like a ____ : A ghostly form = a form like a ghost.
2. like that of a ____; characteristic of a ____ : A brotherly kiss = a kiss like that of a brother.
3. suited to a ____; fit or proper for a ____ : Womanly kindness = kindness suited to a woman.
4. of each or every ____; occurring once per ____ : Daily = of every day.
5. being a ____; that is a ____ : A heavenly home = a home that is a heaven.

ly cée (lē sā'), a French secondary school. n.

ly ce um (lī sē'am or lī'sē am), 1. lecture hall; place where lectures are given. 2. U.S. association for instruction and entertainment through lectures, debates, and concerts. 3. lycée. n.

Ly ce um (lī sē'am or lī'sē am), a grove and gymnasium near Athens, where Aristotle taught. n.

lych gate (lich), lich gate.

ly co po di um (lī'kə pō'dē am), 1. any of a group of plants that are either erect or creeping, usually mosslike, and have evergreen leaves. Club moss is a lycopodium. 2. a fine yellow powder made from the spores of certain lycopodiums. n.

lydd ite (lid'it), a high explosive, consisting chiefly of picric acid. n.

Lyd i a (lid'ē ə), an ancient country in W Asia Minor, famous for its wealth and luxury. n. —Lyd'i an, adj., n.

lye (lī), any strong alkaline solution. Lye is used in making soap and in cleaning. Sodium hydroxide and potassium hydroxide are kinds of lye. n.

ly ing¹ (lī'ing), 1. telling a lie; habit of telling lies. 2. false; untruthful. 3. ppr. of lie. I was not lying; I told the truth. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v.

ly ing² (lī'ing), ppr. of lie. He was lying on the ground. v.

lymph (limf), a nearly colorless liquid in the tissues of the body, somewhat like blood without the red corpuscles. n.

lymph at ic (lim fat'ik), 1. of lymph; carrying lymph. 2. vessel that contains or carries lymph. 3. sluggish; lacking energy. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

M or m (em), 1. the 13th letter of the alphabet. 2. the Roman numeral for 1000. n., pl. M's or m's.

M', prefix meaning: Mac or Mc, as in M' Donald.

ma (mä), Informal. mamma; mother. n.

Ma, masurium.

M.A., Master of Arts. Also, A.M.

ma'am (mam), Informal. madam. n.

Mac (mak), prefix meaning: son of, used in Scottish and Irish family names.

ma ca ber (mə kă'bər), macabre. adj.

ma ca bre (mə kă'brə or mə kă'bər), gruesome; horrible; ghastly. adj.

ma ca co (mə kă'kō), a black short-tailed lemur of Asia and Africa. n., pl. ma ca cos.

Macaco

lymph gland or lymphatic gland, any of the glandlike bodies occurring in the course of the lymphatic vessels, and supposed to be a source of leucocytes.

lym pho cyte (lim'fə sīt), one of the colorless cells of lymph. n.

lynch (linch), put (an accused person) to death without a lawful trial. v. —lynch'er, n.

lynch law, putting an accused person to death without a lawful trial.

Lynn (lin), city in E Massachusetts. 94,000. n.

lynx (lingks), wildcat of the Northern Hemisphere that has a short tail and rather long legs. n., pl. lynxes or (esp. collectively) lynx. —lynx'like', adj.

lynx-eyed (lingks'id'), having sharp eyes; sharp-sighted. adj.

Ly on (lī'an), Mary, 1797-1849, American pioneer in the education of women. n.

ly on naise (lī'ə nāz'), fried with pieces of onions: lyonnaise potatoes. adj.

Ly ons (lī'ənz; French lyôn), city in E France, on the Rhone River. 471,000. n.

Ly ra (lī'rə), a small northern constellation that was thought of as arranged in the shape of a lyre. It contains the star Vega. n.

ly rate (lī'rāt), shaped like a lyre. adj.

lyre (līr), an ancient stringed musical instrument somewhat like a small harp. n.

lyre bird (līr'bērd'), an Australian bird. The male has a long tail that is lyre-shaped when spread. n.

lyr ic (līr'ik), 1. a short poem expressing personal emotion. A love poem, a patriotic song, a lament, and a hymn might all be lyrics. 2. having to do with lyric poems: a lyric poet. 3. characterized by a spontaneous expression of feeling. 4. of or suitable for singing. 5. Informal. words for a song. 1.5 n., 2-4 adj.

lyr i cal (līr'ə kl), 1. emotional; poetic. 2. lyric. adj. —lyr'i cal-ly, adv.

ly sin (lī'sn), any of a class of substances which are developed in blood serum, and which are capable of causing the dissolution or destruction of bacteria, blood corpuscles, and other cellular elements. n.

Lynx (about 3 ft. long, including the tail)

Lyre player

Lyrebird (about 3 ft. long including the tail)

M

mac ad am (mə kad'am), 1. small, broken stones. Layers of macadam are rolled until solid and smooth to make roads. 2. road made of this. n.

mac ad am ize (mə kad'am iz), make or cover (a road) with macadam. v., mac ad am ized, mac ad am-iz ing.

Ma cao (mə kou'), 1. seaport situated on a peninsula on the S coast of China. 167,000. 2. a Portuguese colony that includes this peninsula and two small islands nearby. 188,000 pop.; 6 sq. mi. n.

ma caque (mə kāk'), any of several kinds of monkeys of Asia, the East Indies, and Africa. n.

Macaque (1 to 1½ ft. long from neck to rump) hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ƧH, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

mac a ro ni (mak'ə rō'nē), 1. flour paste dried, usually in the form of hollow tubes, to be cooked for food. 2. a fashionable English dandy of the 18th century. n., pl. mac a ro nis or mac a ro nies.

mac a roon (mak'ə rūn'), a very sweet cooky made of whites of eggs, sugar, and ground almonds or coconut. n.

Mac Arthur (mək ār'thər), Douglas, 1880-1964, American general. n.

Ma cau lay (mə kō'lē), Thomas Babington, Baron, 1800-1859, English essayist, historian, poet, and statesman. n.

ma caw (mə kō'), any of several large parrots of South and Central America, characterized by long tails, brilliant feathers, and harsh voices. n.

Macaw (total length about 3 ft.)

Mac beth (mək beth'), 1. play by Shakespeare. 2. its principal character, who murders his king and becomes king himself. n.

Mac Don ald (mək don'ld), James Ramsay, 1866-1937, British labor leader and statesman, prime minister in 1924 and from 1929 to 1935. n.

Mac Dow ell (mək dou'el), Edward A., 1861-1908, American pianist and composer. n.

mace (mās), 1. a war club used in the Middle Ages. 2. staff used as a symbol of authority. n.

Maces:
A, def. 1;
B, def. 2.

mace (mās), spice made from the dried outer covering of nutmegs. n.

mac é doine (mas'ā dwān'), mixture of vegetables or fruits, sometimes in jelly. n.

Mac e don (mas'ə don), Macedonia. n.

Mac e do ni a (mas'ə dō'nē ə), an ancient country in Europe, north of Greece. Macedonia now forms parts of Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, and Greece. n. —Mac'e do'-ni an, adj., n.

mac er ate (mas'ər āt), 1. soften by soaking for some time. Flowers are macerated to extract their perfume. 2. cause to grow thin. 3. become thin; waste away. v., mac er at ed, mac er at ing. —mac'er a'tion, n.

ma chet e (mə shet'ē or mā chā'tā), a large heavy knife, used as a tool and weapon in South America, Central America, and the West Indies. n.

Mach i a velli (mak'ē ə vel'ē), 1469-1527, Italian statesman and writer. He advised rulers to use craftiness and deceit to maintain their authority. n.

Mach i a velli an (mak'ē ə vel'ē ən), 1. of Machiavelli or his political theory. 2. characterized by subtle or unscrupulous cunning; crafty; wily; astute. 3. follower of the crafty political methods of Machiavelli. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

ma chic o la tion (mə-chik'ə lā'shən), an opening in the floor of a projecting gallery or parapet, or in the roof of an entrance, through which missiles, hot liquids, etc., might be cast upon attackers. Machicolations were much used in medieval fortified structures. n.

Machicolations

mach i nate (mak'ə nāt), contrive or devise artfully or with evil purpose; plot; intrigue. v., mach i nat ed, mach i nat ing. —mach'i na'tor, n.

mach i na tion (mak'ə nā'shən), 1. evil or artful plotting; scheming against authority. 2. an evil plot; secret or cunning scheme: He could not have been elected without the machinations of his gang. n.

ma chine (mə shēn'), 1. arrangement of fixed and moving parts for doing work, each part having some special thing to do: Sewing machines and washing machines make housework easier. 2. make or finish with a machine. 3. device for applying power or changing its direction. Levers and pulleys are simple machines. 4. automobile. 5. airplane. 6. person or group that acts without thinking. 7. group of people controlling a political organization: the Democratic machine. 1,3-7 n., 2 v., ma chined, ma chin ing.

Machine gun. The firing of one shell activates the mechanism that fires the next.

machine gun, gun that fires small arms ammunition automatically and can keep up a rapid fire of bullets.

ma chine-gun (mə shēn'gun'), fire at with a machine gun. v., ma chine-gunned, ma chine-gun ning.

ma chin er y (mə shēn'ər ē), 1. machines: A factory contains much machinery. 2. the parts or works of a machine: Machinery is oiled to keep it running smoothly. 3. any combination of persons or things by which something is kept going or something is done: Policemen, judges, courts, and prisons are legal machinery. n., pl. ma chin er ies.

machine shop, workshop where men make or repair machines or parts of machines.

machine tool, tool or machine worked by power, with little or no human direction, such as an electric drill or lathe.

ma chin ist (mə shēn'ist), 1. a skilled worker with machine tools. 2. person who runs a machine. 3. man who makes and repairs machinery. n.

Mach One (mok'wun'), in aeronautics, the speed of sound.

Mac ken zie (mək ken'zē), 1. river flowing from W Canada into the Arctic. 900 mi. 2. William Lyon, 1795-1861, Canadian political leader. n.

mack er el (mak'ər əl), a saltwater fish of the N Atlantic, much used for food. n., pl. mack er el or (in reference to different species) mack er els.

mackerel sky, sky spotted with small, white, fleecy clouds.

Mack i nac (mak'ə-nō), 1. Straits of, strait connecting Lake Michigan and Lake Huron. 4 mi. wide. 2. island in Lake Huron, near this strait. 3 mi long. n.

mack i naw (mak'ə nō), 1. kind of short coat made of heavy woolen cloth. 2. kind of thick woolen blanket, often with bars of color, used in N and W United States by Indians, lumbermen, etc. n.

mack in tosh (mak'ən tosh), 1. a waterproof coat; raincoat. 2. waterproof cloth. n.

Mac mil lan (mək mil'ən), Harold, born 1894, English statesman, prime minister from 1957 to 1963. n.

Ma con (mā'kən), city in central Georgia. 70,000. n.

mac ro cosm (mak'ə koz əm), the universe. n.

ma cron (mā'kron), a straight, horizontal line (—) placed over a vowel to show its sound. Examples: cāme, bē. n.

mad (mad), 1. out of one's head; crazy; insane: A man must be mad to do a mad thing like cutting himself on purpose. 2. much excited; wild: The dog made mad efforts to catch up with the automobile. 3. foolish; unwise. 4. blindly and unreasonably fond: Some girls are mad about going to dances. 5. informal, very angry: The insult made him mad. 6. having rabies or hydrophobia. A mad dog foams at the mouth and may bite people. adj., mad der, mad dest.

like mad, furiously; very hard, fast, etc.

Mad a gas car (mad'ə gas/kər), the Malagasy Republic, a large island in the Indian Ocean, opposite SE Africa. n.

mad am (mad'əm), a polite title used in speaking to or of a lady: Madam, will you take my seat? n., pl. mad ams or mes dames (mā dām').

mad ame (mad'əm; French mā dām'), 1. French title for a married woman; Mrs. 2. title often used by women singers, artists, etc. n., pl. mes dames (mā dām').

mad cap (mad'kap'), 1. a very impulsive person. 2. impulsive; hasty; wild. 1 n., 2 adj.

mad den (mad'n), 1. make crazy. 2. make very angry or excited; irritate greatly. v.

mad der (mad'ər), 1. vine with small yellowish flowers. 2. its red root. 3. a red dye made from these roots. 4. red; crimson. n.

made (mād), 1. pt. and pp. of make. The cook made the cake. It was made of flour, milk, butter, eggs, and sugar. 2. built; formed.

3. specially prepared. 4. artificially produced: made land. 5. invented. 6. certain of success; successful. 1 v., 2-6 adj.

Ma dei ra (mə-dir-ə), 1. group of five Portuguese islands that are northwest of Africa. 270,000 pop.; 308 sq. mi. 2. kind of wine made there. 3. a large river flowing from W Brazil into the Amazon. 1046 mi. n.

mad e moi selle (mad'ə mə zel'), French title for an unmarried woman; Miss. Abbrev.: Mlle. n., pl. mes demoiselles (mād mwä zel').

made-to-or der (mād'tū ör'dər), made according to the buyer's wishes. adj.

made-up (mād'up'), 1. put together. 2. invented; untrue. 3. painted, powdered, etc.: made-up lips. adj.

mad house (mad'hous'), 1. asylum for insane people. 2. place of uproar and confusion. n.

Mad i son (mad'ə sn), 1. James, 1751-1836, the fourth president of the United States, from 1809 to 1817. He had an important part in drawing up the Constitution of the United States. 2. his wife, Dolly, 1772-1849. 3. capital of Wisconsin, in the S part. 127,000. n.

mad ly (mad'lē), 1. insanely. 2. furiously. 3. foolishly. adv.

mad man (mad'man'), an insane man; crazy person. n., pl. mad men.

mad ness (mad'nis), 1. being crazy; loss of one's mind. 2. great rage; fury: In his madness he tried to kill his best friend. 3. folly: It would be madness to try to sail a boat in this storm. n.

Ma don na (mə don'ə), 1. Mary, the mother of Jesus. 2. picture or statue of her. n.

mad ras (mad'rəs or mə dras'), a closely woven cotton cloth, used for shirts, dresses, etc. n.

Ma dras (mə dras'), seaport in SE India. 1,416,000. n.

mad re pore (mad'rə pōr), a tropical genus of stony corals that often form reefs. n.

Ma drid (mə drid'), capital of Spain. 1,975,000. n.

mad ri gal (mad'rə gl), 1. a short poem, often about love, that can be set to music. 2. song with parts for several voices, sung without instrumental accompaniment. 3. any song. n.

Ma du ra (mə dūr'ə), island NE of Java, a part of Indonesia. 1,962,000 pop.; 2112 sq. mi. n.

mael strom (māl'strəm), 1. a great or turbulent whirlpool. 2. a violent confusion of feelings, ideas, or conditions. n.

Mael strom (māl'strəm), a dangerous whirlpool off NW Norway. n.

mae nad (mē'nad), 1. a woman attendant of Bacchus. 2. a woman extremely excited or in a frenzy. n.

maes tro (mīs'trō; Italian mā es'trō), 1. a great composer, teacher, or conductor of music. 2. master of any art. n., pl. maes tros, Italian ma es tri (mā es'trē).

Ma e West (mā' west'), an inflatable vest worn as a life preserver by an aviator when flying over water.

mag., magazine.

mag a zine (mag'ə zēn' or mag'ə zēn), 1. publication appearing regularly and containing stories, articles, etc., by various writers. Most magazines are published either weekly or monthly. 2. room in a fort or warship for storing gunpowder and other explosives. 3. a building for storing gunpowder, guns, food, or other military supplies. 4. place for cartridges in a repeating gun. 5. place for film in a camera, fuel in a stove, etc. n.

Mag da len (mag'dl ən), Magdalene. n.

Mag da le na (māg'thā lā'nā), river flowing from SW Colombia into the Caribbean Sea. 1060 mi. n.

Mag da lene (mag'də lēn). See Mary Magdalene. n.

mag da lene (mag'də lēn), a woman who has reformed from a sinful life; repentant prostitute. n.

Mag de burg (mag'də bērg), city in East Germany, on the Elbe River. 261,000. n.

Ma gel lan (mə jel'ən), 1. Ferdinand, 1480?-1521, Portuguese navigator. His ship was the first to sail around the world, though he himself was killed soon after he had discovered the Philippine Islands. 2. Strait of, strait at the S tip of South America. 360 mi. long; 2½-17 mi. wide. n.

ma gen ta (mə jen'tə), 1. a purplish-red dye. 2. purplish red. 1,2 n., 2 adj.

Mag gio re (mādjō'rā),

Lake, lake between Italy and Switzerland. 40 mi. long; 83 sq. mi. n.

mag got (mag'ət), 1. legless larva of any of various kinds of flies, often living in decaying matter. 2. a queer notion; whim. n.

Maggot and adult of the housefly. Lines show actual length.

Ma gi (mā'jī), 1. in the Bible, the Three Wise Men who followed the star to Bethlehem and brought gifts to the infant Jesus. Matthew 2:1 and 2:7-13. 2. priests of ancient Persia. n.pl.

magic (maj'ik), 1. the pretended or supposed art of making things happen by secret charms and sayings: The fairy's magic changed the brothers into swans. 2. done by magic or as if by magic: A magic palace stood in place of their hut. 3. magical. 4. something that produces results as if by magic; mysterious influence; unexplained power: the magic of music. 1,4 n., 2,3 adj.

mag i cal (maj'ə kl),

1. of magic; used in magic; done by magic. 2. like magic; mysterious; unexplained. adj. —mag'i-cally, adv.

ma gi cian (mə jish'ən),

1. person skilled in the use of magic: The wicked magician cast a spell over the princess. 2. person skilled in sleight of hand. n.

magic lantern, device with a lamp and lenses for throwing a picture upon a screen, in magnified form, from a glass slide.

Magic lantern

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rülle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

mag is te ri al (maj'is tī'ē əl), 1. of a magistrate; suited to a magistrate: A judge has magisterial rank. 2. showing authority: The captain spoke with a magisterial voice. 3. imperious; domineering; overbearing. adj. —mag'is tē'ri əl ly, adv.

mag is tra cy (maj'is trə sē), 1. position, rank, or duties of a magistrate. 2. magistrates as a group. 3. district under a magistrate. n., pl. mag is tra cies.

mag is trate (maj'is trāt), 1. officer of the government who has power to apply the law and put it in force. The President is the chief magistrate of the United States. 2. judge. A justice of the peace is a magistrate. n.

Mag na Char ta or Mag na Car ta (mag'nə kār'tə), 1. the great charter guaranteeing the personal and political liberties of the people of England, forcibly secured from King John by the English barons at Runnymede on June 15, 1215. 2. any fundamental constitution guaranteeing civil and political rights.

mag na cum laude (mag'nə kum lou'də), with high honors.

mag na nim i ty (mag'nə nim'ə tē), 1. magnanimous nature or quality; nobility of soul or mind: The soldiers showed magnanimity by treating their prisoners well. 2. a magnanimous act. n., pl. mag na nim i ties.

mag nan i mous (mag'nə nī'ə mäs), 1. noble in soul or mind; generous in forgiving; free from mean or petty feelings or acts. 2. showing or arising from a generous spirit: a magnanimous attitude toward a conquered enemy. adj. —mag'nan'i mous ly, adv.

mag nate (mag'nāt), a great man; important person. n.

mag ne sia (mag nē'shə), 1. magnesium oxide, a white tasteless powder, used as a laxative. 2. magnesium. n.

mag ne si um (mag nē'shē əm), a light, silver-white metallic element that burns with a dazzling white light. Symbol: Mg n.

mag net (mag'nit), 1. piece of iron, steel, etc., that has the property of attracting iron or steel. 2. anything that attracts: The rabbits in our back yard were a magnet that attracted all the children in the neighborhood. n.

Magnet attracting nails mag net ic (mag net'ik), 1. having the properties of a magnet: the magnetic needle of a compass. 2. of magnetism; producing magnetism. 3. of the earth's magnetism: the magnetic meridian. 4. capable of being magnetized or of being attracted by a magnet. 5. attractive: a magnetic personality. adj. —mag'net'i cal ly, adv.

magnetic field, space around a magnet in which it exerts appreciable magnetic force.

magnetic mine, an underwater mine which is exploded by the action of the metal parts of an approaching ship upon a magnetic needle.

magnetic needle, a slender bar of magnetized steel. When mounted so that it turns easily, it points approximately north and south toward the earth's Magnetic Poles.

North Magnetic Pole

magnetic pole, one of the two poles of a magnet. Magnetic Pole, point on the earth's surface toward which a magnetic needle points. The North Magnetic Pole is approximately in 71° N. latitude and 95° West longitude. The South Magnetic Pole is approximately in 72° S. latitude and 154° East longitude.

mag net ism (mag'nə tiz əm), 1. properties of a magnet; manifestation of magnetic properties. 2. branch of physics dealing with magnets and magnetic properties. 3. power to attract or charm: A person with magnetism has many friends and admirers. n.

mag net ite (mag'nə ĭt), an important iron ore that is strongly attracted by a magnet; black iron oxide. n.

mag net ize (mag'nə tīz), 1. give the properties of a magnet to. An electric current in a coil around a bar of iron will magnetize the bar. 2. attract or influence (a person): Her beautiful voice magnetized the audience. v., mag net ized, mag net iz ing. —mag'net iz'ə ble, adj. —mag'net i za'tion, n. —mag'net iz'er, n.

mag ne to (mag nē'tō), a small machine for producing electricity. In some gasoline engines, a magneto supplies an electric spark to explode the vapor. n., pl. mag ne tos.

mag ne to e lec tric (mag nē'tō i lek'trik), of electricity produced by magnets. adj.

Mag nif i cat (mag nif'ə kat), 1. hymn of the Virgin Mary beginning "My soul doth magnify the Lord." Luke 1:46-55. 2. music for this hymn. n.

mag nif i ca tion (mag'nə fə kə'shən), 1. act of magnifying. 2. magnified condition. 3. power to magnify. 4. a magnified copy, model, or picture. n.

mag nif i cence (mag nif'ə sns), richness of material, color, and ornament; grand beauty; splendor. n.

mag nif i cent (mag nif'ə snt), richly colored or decorated; splendid; grand; stately: the magnificent palace of a king, the magnificent jewels of a queen. adj. —mag'nis'cent ly, adv.

mag nif i co (mag nif'ə kō), 1. a Venetian nobleman. 2. an important person. n., pl. mag nif i coes.

mag ni fier (mag'nə fī'ər), 1. one that magnifies. 2. lens that magnifies things; magnifying glass. n.

mag ni fy (mag'nə fī), 1. cause to look larger than the real size; increase the apparent size of an object: A microscope is a magnifying glass. 2. make too much of; go beyond the truth in telling: Lulu not only tells tales on her brother, but she magnifies them. 3. Archaic. praise highly. v., mag ni fied, mag ni fy ing.

magnifying glass, lens or combination of lenses that causes things to look larger than they really are.

mag nil o quence (mag nil'ə kwəns), 1. high-flown, lofty style of speaking or writing; use of big and unusual words, elaborate phrases, etc. 2. boastfulness. n.

mag nil o quent (mag nil'ə kwənt), 1. using big and unusual words; in high-flown language. 2. boastful. adj. —mag'nil'o quent ly, adv.

Mag ni to gorsk (mag nē'tō gōrsk), city in W central Soviet Union. It is an important iron and steel center. 311,000. n.

mag ni tude (mag'nə tūd or mag'nə tūd), 1. size. 2. importance: The war brought new problems of very great magnitude to many nations. 3. degree of brightness of a star. Stars of the first magnitude are the brightest. n.

Magnolia blossom mag no lia (mag nōl'yə), 1. tree with large white, pink, or purplish flowers that come out in the spring. 2. the flower. n.

mag num o pus (mag'nəm ō'pəs), 1. a great work of literature or art. 2. person's greatest work.

mag pie (mag'pī), 1. a noisy bird, black and white with a long tail and short wings, related to the jays. 2. person who chatters. n.

Mag say say (māg sī'sī), Ramón, 1907-1957, president of the Philippines from 1953 to 1957. n.

mag uey (mag'wā), plant with fleshy leaves, growing in tropical America and SW United States. A century plant or agave is a maguey. n.

Mag yar (mag'yär; Hungarian mod'yor), 1. member of the chief race living in Hungary. 2. their language; Hungarian. 3. of the Magyars or their language; Hungarian. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

ma ha ra ja or ma ha ra jah (mā'hə rā'jə), title of certain great ruling princes in India. n.

ma ha ra nee or ma ha ra ni (mā'hə rā'nē), wife of a maharaja. n.

American magpie (15 to 20 in. long) ma hat ma (mə hăt'mə), in India, a wise and holy person who has extraordinary powers. n.

Mah di (mä'dē), 1. leader expected by Moslems to come and establish a reign of righteousness. 2. person claiming to be this leader. n., pl. Mah dis.

mah-jongg or mah-jong (mä'jŏng'), game of Chinese origin played with 144 dominolike pieces. Each player tries to form winning combinations by drawing or discarding. n.

ma hog a ny (mə hog'ə nē), 1. a hard reddish-brown wood of a large evergreen tree growing in tropical America. It is much used for furniture. 2. the tree itself. 3. made of mahogany. 4. dark reddish-brown. 1, 2, 4 n., pl. ma hog a nies; 3, 4 adj.

Ma hom et (mə hom'it), Mohammed. n.

Ma hom et an (mə hom'ə tən), Mohammedan. adj., n.

ma hout (mə hout'), in the East Indies, the keeper and driver of an elephant. n.

maid (mād), 1. a young unmarried woman; girl. 2. an unmarried woman. 3. a woman servant. n.

maid en (mād'n), 1. a young unmarried woman; girl. 2. of a maiden: maiden grace. 3. unmarried; virgin: a maiden aunt. 4. new; fresh; untried; unused: maiden ground. 5. first: A ship's maiden voyage is its first voyage. 1 n., 2-5 adj.

maid en hair (mād'n hār'), fern with very slender stalks and delicate, finely divided fronds. n.

maid en hood (mād'n hüd), 1. condition of being a maiden. 2. time when one is a maiden. n.

maid en ly (mād'n lē), 1. of a maiden. 2. like a maiden; gentle; modest. 3. suited to a maiden: maidenly reserve. adj. —maid'en li ness, n.

maiden name, a woman's surname before her marriage.

maid in waiting, an unmarried noble lady who attends a queen or princess. pl. maids in waiting.

maid of honor, 1. an unmarried woman who is the chief attendant of the bride at a wedding. 2. an unmarried noble lady who attends a queen or princess.

Maid of Orléans, Joan of Arc.

maid serv ant (mād'sēr'vent), a woman servant. n.

mail (māl), 1. letters, postcards, papers, parcels, etc., sent by post. 2. system by which such mail is sent, managed by the Post Office Department: You can pay most bills by mail. 3. train, boat, etc., that carries mail. 4. send by mail; put in a mailbox. 5. of mail. 1-3 n., 4 v., 5 adj.

mail (māl), 1. armor made of metal rings, or small loops of chain, linked together. 2. armor; protective covering. 3. cover or protect with mail. 1, 2 n., 3 v.

mail box (māl'boks'), 1. a public box from which mail is collected. 2. a private box to which mail is delivered. n.

mailed (māld), covered or protected with mail. adj.

mail man (māl'man'), man who carries or delivers mail; postman. n., pl. mail men.

mail order, order for goods sent by mail.

maim (mām), cut off or make useless an arm, leg, ear, etc., of; cripple; disable: Automobile accidents maim thousands of people each year. v.

main (mān), 1. most important; largest: the main street of a town. 2. a large pipe for water, gas, etc. 3. Poetic. the open sea; ocean. 4. Archaic. mainland. 1 adj., 2-4 n.

by main force or strength, by using full strength.

in the main, for the most part; chiefly; mostly.

with might and main, with all one's force.

Main (mān; German min), river flowing through West Germany into the Rhine. 305 mi. n.

Maine (mān), 1. a New England State of the United States. 969,000 pop.; 32,562 sq. mi. Capital: Augusta Abbrev.: Me. 2. a United States battleship blown up in the harbor of Havana, Cuba, on February 15, 1898. n.

main land (mān'land'), the larger part of a continent; land that is not a small island or peninsula. n.

main ly (mān'lē), for the most part; chiefly; mostly: He is interested mainly in sports and neglects his schoolwork. adv.

main mast (mān'mast'), Nautical mān'məst), the principal mast of a ship. n.

main sail (mān'sāl'; Nautical mān'sl), the largest sail of a ship. n.

main sheet (mān'shēt'), rope that controls the angle at which the mainsail is set. n.

main spring (mān'spring'), 1. the principal spring in a clock, watch, etc. 2. the main cause, motive, or influence. n.

main stay (mān'stā'), 1. rope supporting the mainmast. 2. main support: Loyal friends are a person's mainstay in time of trouble. n.

main tain (mān'tān'), 1. keep; keep up; carry on: maintain a business, maintain a family. 2. support; uphold: maintain an opinion. 3. declare to be true: He maintained that he was innocent. 4. affirm; assert against opposition: He maintains his innocence. v. —main-tain'er, n.

main te nance (mān'tə nəns), 1. a maintaining: Maintenance of quiet is necessary in a hospital. 2. a being maintained; support: A government collects taxes to pay for its maintenance. 3. enough to support life; means of living: His small farm provides a maintenance, but not much more. n.

main top (mān'top'), platform on the mainmast. n.

main top gal lant (mān'top/gal'ənt; Nautical mān'tə gal'ənt), mast, sail, or yard above the maintopmast. n.

main top mast (mān'top'mast'; Nautical mān'top'məst), the second section of the mainmast above the deck. n.

main top sail (mān'top'sāl'; Nautical mān'top'sl), sail above the mainsail. n.

main yard, beam or pole fastened across the mainmast, used to support the mainsail.

mai tre d'hô tel (me'trə dô tel'), 1. butler; steward. 2. a hotel manager. 3. headwaiter. 4. with a sauce of melted butter, chopped parsley, and lemon juice.

maize (māz), 1. a kind of grain that grows on large ears; corn; Indian corn. 2. plant that it grows on. 3. the color of ripe corn; yellow. n.

Maj., Major.

ma jes tic (mə jes'tik), grand; noble; dignified; stately. adj. —ma jes'ti cal ly, adv.

ma jes ti cal (mə jes'tə kl), majes-tic. adj.

maj es ty (maj'is tē), 1. grandeur; nobility; dignity; stateliness: The majesty of the starry heavens is displayed above the most wretched shanty. 2. supreme power or authority: Policemen and judges uphold the majesty of the law. n., pl. maj es ties.

Maj es ty (maj'is tē), title used in speaking to or of a king, queen, emperor, empress, etc.: Your Majesty, His Majesty, Her Majesty. n., pl. Maj es ties.

ma jol i ca (mə jol'ə kə), kind of enameled Italian pottery richly decorated in colors. n.

ma jor (mā'jər), 1. larger; greater; more important: Take the major share of the profits. 2. an army officer ranking next below a lieutenant colonel and next above

Man wearing a coat of mail (def. 1)

Maize

a captain. 3. of legal age. 4. person of the legal age of responsibility. 5. subject or course of study to which a student gives most of his time and attention. 6. U.S. of a student, give much time and attention to a subject or course of study: major in mathematics. 7. one of two sets of musical intervals, chords, scales, or keys: The scale of C major has neither sharps nor flats. 1,3 adj., 2,4,5,7 n., 6 v.

Ma jor ca (mə jôr'kə), a Spanish island in the W Mediterranean Sea. It is the largest of the Balearic Islands. 327,000 pop.; 1405 sq. mi. n. Also, Spanish Mallorca.

ma jor-do mo (mə jər dō'mō), 1. man in charge of a royal or noble household. 2. butler; steward. n., pl. ma jor-do mos.

major general, an army officer ranking next below a lieutenant general and next above a brigadier general.

ma jor i ty (mə jôr'ə tē), 1. the larger number; greater number; more than half: A majority of the children chose red covers for the books they had made. 2. a larger number of votes than all the rest. If Smith received 12,000 votes, Adams 7000, and White 3000, Smith had a majority of 2000 and a plurality of 5000. 3. the legal age of responsibility. A person 21 years old has reached his majority and may manage his own affairs. 4. rank or position of an army major. n., pl. ma jor i ties.

major league, either of the two chief leagues in American professional baseball.

major scale, a musical scale having eight notes, with half steps instead of whole steps after the third and seventh notes.

make (māk), 1. bring into being; put together; build; form; shape: make a new dress, make a boat, make jelly. 2. way in which a thing is made; style; fashion: Do you like the make of that coat? 3. kind; brand: What make of car is this? 4. nature; character. 5. act of making. 6. amount made. 7. have the qualities needed for: Wood makes a good fire. 8. cause; bring about: make trouble, make a noise. 9. cause to; force to: He made me go. 10. cause to be or become; cause oneself to be: make a room warm, make a fool of oneself. 11. turn out to be; become: He will make a good legislator. 12. get ready for use; arrange: make a bed. 13. get; obtain; acquire; earn: make a fortune, make one's living. 14. do; perform: make an attempt, make a mistake. 15. amount to; add up to; count as: Two and two make four. 16. think of as; figure to be: I make the distance across the room 15 feet. 17. reach; arrive at: The ship made port. 18. go; travel: Some airplanes can make 200 miles an hour. 19. cause the success of: One big deal made the young businessman. 20. Informal. get on; get a place on: He made the football team. 21. in card games, win (a trick); state (the trump, or bid). 22. close (an electric circuit). 1,7-22 v., made, mak ing; 2-6 n.

make after, follow; chase; pursue.

make as if, pretend that; act as if.

make away with, 1. get rid of. 2. kill. 3. steal.

make believe, pretend.

make for, 1. go toward. 2. rush at; attack. 3. help bring about; favor.

make good, 1. succeed. 2. prove: Can you make your claims good?

make off, run away.

make off with, steal.

make or break, cause to succeed or fail.

make out, 1. write out. 2. show to be; prove. 3. try to prove; declare to be. 4. understand. 5. see with difficulty: I can barely make out three ships near the horizon. 6. complete; fill out: We need two more eggs to make out a dozen. 7. U.S. Informal. get along; manage: We must try to make out with what we have.

make over, 1. alter; make different. 2. hand over; transfer ownership of.

make time, go with speed.

make up, 1. put together: make up cloth into a dress. 2. invent: make up a story. 3. make satisfactory.

4. pay for; give or do in place of: make up for lost time.

5. become friends again after a quarrel. 6. put paint, powder, etc., on the face. 7. arrange (type, pictures, etc.) in the pages of a book, paper, or magazine: make up a page of type. 8. decide: make up one's mind.

make up to, try to get the friendship of; flatter.

on the make, Informal. trying for success, profit, etc.

make-be lieve (māk'bi lēv'), 1. pretense: the land of make-believe. 2. pretender. 3. pretended: Children often have make-believe playmates. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

mak er (māk'ər), one that makes. n.

Mak er (māk'ər), God. n.

make shift (māk'shift'), 1. something used for a time instead of the right thing; temporary substitute: When the fuse blew, we used candles as a makeshift. 2. used for a time instead of the right thing. 1 n., 2 adj.

make-up (māk'up'), 1. way of being put together. 2. nature; disposition: a nervous make-up. 3. way in which an actor is dressed and painted to look his part.

4. paint, powder, etc., put on the face. 5. arrangement of type, pictures, etc., in a book, paper, or magazine. n.

mak ing (māk'ing), 1. cause of a person's success; means of advancement: Early hardships were the making of him. 2. material needed. 3. qualities needed: I see in him the making of a hero. 4. something made. 5. amount made at one time. n.

in the making, in the process of being made; not yet fully developed.

Mal a bar Coast (mal'ə bär), region along the SW coast of India.

Ma lac ca (mə lak'ə), 1. a former British settlement on the Malay Peninsula, now part of the Federation of Malaya. 2. Strait of, strait between the Malay Peninsula and Sumatra. 35-185 mi. wide. n.

Mal a chi (mal'ə kī), 1. Hebrew prophet who lived about 450 B.C. He was the last of the minor prophets. 2. last book of the Old Testament. n.

mal a chite (mal'ə kit), a green mineral used for ornamental articles. n.

mal ad just ed (mal'ə jus'tid), badly adjusted; not in a healthy relation with one's environment. adj.

mal ad just ment (mal'ə just'mənt), bad adjustment. n.

mal ad min is ter (mal'əd min'is tər), administer badly; manage inefficiently or dishonestly. v.

mal ad min is tra tion (mal'əd min'is trā'shən), bad administration; inefficient or dishonest management. n.

mal a droit (mal'ə droi't'), unskillful; awkward; clumsy. adj. —mal'a droit/ness, n.

mal a dy (mal'ə dē), sickness; illness; disease. n., pl. mal a dies.

Mäl a ga (mal'ə gə), seaport in S Spain. 279,000. n.

Mal a ga (mal'ə gə), 1. kind of large, oval, firm, white grape. 2. kind of white wine. n.

Mal a gas y Republic (mal ə gas'ē), a republic on Madagascar, a member of the French Community. 5,200,000 pop.; 227,800 sq. mi. Capital: Tananarive.

ma laise (mə lāz'), vague bodily discomfort. n.

mal a pert (mal'ə pèrt), Archaic. too bold. adj.

mal a prop ism (mal'ə prop iz'm), 1. a ridiculous misuse of words; confusing words that sound somewhat alike. 2. a misused word. n.

ma lar i a (mə lār'ē ə), 1. disease characterized by periodic chills followed by fever and sweating. Malaria is caused by minute parasitic animals in the red blood corpuscles, and is transmitted by the bite of anopheles mosquitoes which have bitten infected persons. 2. unwholesome or poisonous air, especially of marshes. n.

ma lar i al (mə lār'ē əl), 1. having malaria. 2. of or like malaria. adj.

Ma la wi (mə lä'wē), country in SE Africa, a member of the British Commonwealth. 3,900,000 pop.; 48,479 sq. mi. Capital: Zomba. n. Formerly, Nyasaland.

Ma lay (mə'lā), 1. member of the brown race living in the Malay Peninsula and nearby islands. 2. their language. 3. of the Malays, their country, or their language. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Ma lay a (mə lā'ə), 1. Malay Peninsula. 2. Federation of, a former country on the Malay Peninsula, now part of the Federation of Malaysia. 6,815,000 pop.; 50,680 sq. mi. Capital: Kuala Lumpur. n.

Malay Archipelago, group of islands between SE Asia and Australia; East Indies. See East Indies for map.

Malay Peninsula, peninsula in SE Asia.

Ma lay sia (mə lā'zhə), 1. Federation of, federation in the British Commonwealth, consisting of Sabah, Sarawak, and the Federation of Malaya. 8,046,000 pop.; 128,318 sq. mi. Capital: Kuala Lumpur.

2. Malay Archipelago. n. —Ma lay'sian, adj., n. mal con tent (mal'kən tent'), 1. discontented; rebellious. 2. a discontented person; rebellious person. 1 adj., 2 n.

Mal den (môld'n), city in E Massachusetts. 58,000. n. Mal dive Islands (mal'div), a sultanate consisting of a group of atolls in the Indian Ocean SW of Ceylon. 90,000 pop.; 115 sq. mi. Capital: Male.

male (māl), 1. man; boy; he-animal. 2. belonging to the sex that includes men, boys, and he-animals. 3. of men, boys, or he-animals: male love of fighting. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

Ma le (māl'ē), capital of the Maldives Islands. 8000. n.

mal e dic tion (mal'ə dik'shən), a curse. n.

mal e fac tion (mal'ə fak'shən), crime; evil deed. n.

mal e fac tor (mal'ə fak'tər), criminal; evildoer. n.

ma lef i cence (mə lef'ə sns), harm; evil. n.

ma le fi cent (mə lef'ə sent), harmful; evil. adj.

ma lev o lence (mə lev'l əns), the wish that evil may happen to others; ill will; spite. n.

ma lev o lent (mə lev'l ənt), wishing evil to happen to others; showing ill will; spiteful. adj. —ma lev'o-lent ly, adv.

mal fea sance (mal fē'zns), official misconduct; violation of a public trust or duty: A judge is guilty of malfeasance if he accepts a bribe. n.

mal for ma tion (mal'fôr mǎ'shən), distorted or abnormal shape; faulty structure: A hunchback has a malformation of the spine. n.

mal formed (mal fôrmd'), badly shaped; having a faulty structure. adj.

Ma li (mā'lē), Republic of, a republic in W Africa south of Algeria. 4,300,000 pop.; 464,873 sq. mi. Capital: Bamako. n.

mal ic acid (mal'ik), an acid found in apples and numerous other fruits.

mal ice (mal'is), active ill will; wish to hurt others; spite: Lincoln asked the people of the North to act "with malice toward none, with charity for all." n.

ma li cious (mə lish'əs), showing active ill will; wishing to hurt others; spiteful: a malicious tell-tale, malicious gossip. adj. —ma li'cious ly, adv.

ma lign (mə lîn'), 1. speak evil of; slander: You malign a generous person when you call him stingy. 2. evil; injurious: Gambling often has a malign influence. 3. hateful; malicious. 4. very harmful; threatening to be fatal. 1 v., 2-4 adj. —ma lign'er, n.

ma lign ance (mə lîg'nəns), malignancy. n.

ma lign nan cy (mə lîg'nən sē), malignant quality or tendency. n.

ma lign nant (mə lîg'nənt), 1. very evil; very hateful; very malicious. 2. very harmful. 3. very infectious; very dangerous; causing death: Cancer is a malignant growth. adj. —ma lign'nant ly, adv.

ma lign i ty (mə lîg'nə tē), 1. great malice; extreme hate. 2. great harmfulness; dangerous quality; deadli-ness. 3. a malignant feeling or act. n., pl. ma lig ni ties. ma lin ger (mə lîng'gər), pretend to be sick in order to escape work or duty; shirk. v. —ma lin'ger er, n. mall (môl), a shaded walk; public walk or promenade. n. mal lard (mal'ərd), kind of wild duck. The male has a greenish-black head and a white band around his neck. n., pl. mal lards or (esp. col-lectively) mal lard.

mal le a bil i ty (mal'ē ə-bil'ə tē), malleable quality or condition. n.

mal le a ble (mal'ē ə bl), 1. capable of being hammered or pressed into various shapes without being broken. Gold, silver, copper, and tin are malleable; they can be beaten into thin sheets. 2. adaptable; yielding. adj.

mal let (mal'it), a wooden hammer. Specially shaped mallets are used to play croquet and polo. n.

mal le us (mal'ē əs), the outermost of three small bones in the middle ear, shaped like a hammer. See ear for picture. n., pl. mal le i (mal'ē i).

Mal lor ca (mā yôr'kă), Spanish name of Majorca. n.

mal low (mal'ô), an ornamental plant with purple, pink, or white flowers, and hairy leaves and stems. n.

Malm ö (malmö'œ'), seaport in S Sweden. 226,000. n.

malm sey (mām'zē), kind of strong, sweet wine. n.

mal nu tri tion (mal'nū trish'ən or mal'nū trish'ən), poor nourishment; lack of nourishment. Improper food can cause malnutrition. n.

mal o dor ous (mal'ô'dər əs), smelling bad. adj. —mal'ô'dor ous ly, adv.

mal prac tice (mal prak'tis), 1. criminal neglect or unprofessional treatment of a patient by a doctor. 2. wrong practice or conduct in any official or professional position. n.

malt (môlt), 1. barley or other grain soaked in water until it sprouts and tastes sweet. Malt is used in brewing and distilling alcoholic liquors. 2. change into malt. 3. prepare with malt. 4. beer or ale. 1,4 n., 2,3 v.

Mal ta (môl'tə), 1. an island in the Mediterranean, south of Sicily. 285,000 pop.; 95 sq. mi.

2. a country including Malta and smaller islands nearby, a member of the British Commonwealth. 329,000 pop.; 122 sq. mi. Capital: Valletta. n.

Mal tese (môl tēz'), 1. native of Malta. 2. the native language of Malta. It contains many Arabic and Italian words. 3. of Malta, its people, or their language. 1,2 n., pl. Mal tese; 3 adj.

Maltese cat, kind of bluish-gray cat.

Maltese cross, a kind of cross. See the picture.

malt ose (môl'tōs), a white crystalline sugar made by the action of diastase on starch. n.

mal treat (mal trēt'), treat roughly or cruelly; abuse: Only very vicious persons maltreat animals. v.

mal treat ment (mal trēt'mənt), rough or cruel treatment; abuse. n.

malt sugar, maltose.

ma ma (mā'mə), mother. n.

mam ma' (mā'mə), mother. n.

mam ma' (mām'ə), a milk-giving gland in female mammals. n., pl. mam mae (mām'ē).

mam mal (mam'l), a vertebrate animal that gives milk to its young. Human beings, horses, dogs, lions, rats, and whales are all mammals. n.

Mallard (1¾ to 2 ft. long)

Maltese cross

mam ma li an (ma mā'lē ən), 1. of mammals. 2. mammal. 1 adj., 2 n. mam ma ry (mam'ə rē), of the mammae. The mammary glands give milk. adj.
Mam mon or mam mon (mam'ən), riches thought of as an evil; greed for wealth. n.
mam moth (mam'ə θ), 1. a very large, extinct kind of elephant with a hairy skin and long, curved tusks. 2. huge; gigantic: Digging the Panama Canal was a mammoth undertaking. 1 n., 2 adj.

Mammoth (about 9 ft. tall)

Mammoth Cave, a huge limestone cave in central Kentucky. man (man), 1. an adult male person. 2. person; human being. 3. the human race: Man has existed for thousands of years. 4. a male follower, servant, or employee: Robin Hood and his merry men. 5. husband. 6. one of the pieces used in games such as chess and checkers. 7. supply with men: Sailors man a ship. 8. serve or operate; get ready to operate: Man the guns. 9. make strong; brace: The captive manned himself to endure torture. 10. person characterized by manly qualities: He was every inch a man. 1-6, 10 n., pl. men; 7-9 v., manned, man ning.

act the man, to be courageous.
as a man, from a human point of view.
as one man, with complete agreement; unanimously.
be one's own man, 1. be free to do as one pleases. 2. have complete control of oneself.

man and boy, from boyhood on.
to a man, without an exception; all.

Man (man), Isle of, a small island west of northern England in the Irish Sea; one of the British Isles. 55,000 pop.; 221 sq. mi. n.

Man., Manitoba.
man about town, man who spends much of his time in clubs, theaters, etc.

man a cle (man'ə kl), 1. handcuff; fetter for the hands. See handcuff for picture. 2. put manacles on: The pirates manacled their prisoners. 3. restrain. 4. restraint. 1, 4 n., 2, 3 v., man a cled, man a cling.

man age (man'ij), 1. control; conduct; handle; direct: manage a business, manage a horse. 2. conduct affairs. 3. succeed in accomplishing; contrive; arrange: I shall manage to keep warm. 4. get along: manage on one's income. 5. make use of. 6. get one's way with (a person) by craft or by flattering. v., man aged, man-aging.

man age a bil i ty (man'ij ə bil'ə tē), condition or quality of being manageable. n.

man age a ble (man'ij ə bl), that can be managed. adj. —man'age a ble ness, n. —man'age a bly, adv.
managed currency, currency whose purchasing power is regulated by the government. Some European countries have managed currencies.

man age ment (man'ij mənt), 1. control; handling; direction: Bad management caused the failure. 2. persons that manage a business or an institution: The management of the store decided to use red wrapping paper at Christmas time. n.

man ager (man'ij ər), person who manages. n.
man age ri al (man'ə jir'ē əl), of a manager; having to do with management. adj.

Ma na gua (mə nā'gwə), capital of Nicaragua. 109,000. n.

Ma na ma (mə nā'mə), capital of Bahrain. 62,000. n.
ma ña na (mä nyā'nā), in the southwestern United States, tomorrow; some time. n., adv.

Ma nas sas (mə nas'əs), town in NE Virginia. The Confederate forces won the two battles of Manassas, also called the battles of Bull Run, in 1861 and 1862. n.

man-at-arms (man'ət-ärmz'), 1. soldier. 2. a heavily armed soldier on horseback. n., pl. men-at-arms.

man a tee (man'ə tē'), sea cow, a large sea mammal with two flippers and a flat, oval tail, living in warm shallow water near coasts. n.

Manatee (7 to 13 ft. long)

Man ches ter (man'ches'tər), 1. an important textile-manufacturing city in W England. 682,000. 2. city in S New Hampshire. 88,000. n.

Man chu (man'chū), 1. member of a Mongolian people living in Manchuria, who conquered China in 1644 and ruled it until 1912. 2. their language. 3. of the Manchus, their country, or their language. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

Man chu kuo or Man-chou kuo (man'chū-kwō'), a former Japanese state (1931-1945) in E Asia, north of China, now a part of China. n.

Man chu ri a (man'chū-rē ə), region in E Asia, including several provinces of China. n. —Man'chū'ri an, adj., *n.

man ci ple (man'sə pl), person who buys provisions for a college or other institution; steward. n.

Man da lay (man'də lā'), city in central Burma. 186,000. n.

man da mus (man'dā'məs), a written order from a higher court to a lower court, an official, a city, a corporation, etc., directing that a certain thing be done. n.

man da rin (man'də rin), 1. under the Chinese empire, an official of high rank. 2. kind of small, sweet, spicy orange with a very loose peel; tangerine. n.

Man da rin (man'də rin), the main dialect of the Chinese language, spoken by officials and educated people. n.

man date (man'dāt), 1. command; order. 2. order from a higher court or official to a lower one. 3. the expressed will of voters to their representative. 4. commission given to one nation by a group of nations to administer the government and affairs of a territory, etc. 5. put (a territory, etc.) under the administration of another nation. 6. a mandated territory, etc. 1-4, 6 n., 5 v., man dat ed, man dat ing.

man da to ry (man'də tō'rē), 1. of or like a mandate; giving a command or order. 2. required by a command or order. adj.

man di ble (man'də bl), 1. jaw; especially the lower jaw. 2. either part of a bird's beak. 3. organ in insects for seizing and biting. n.

man do lin (man'dl in), a musical instrument with a pear-shaped body, having metal strings, played with a plectrum. n.

man drag o ra (man drag'ə rə), mandrake. n.

man drake (man'drāk), 1. plant with a very short stem and a thick root, used in medicine. 2. May apple. n.

man drel or man dril (man'drəl), 1. spindle or bar of a lathe that supports the material being turned. 2. rod or core around which metal is shaped. n.

Mandibles (def. 3)

Man playing a mandolin man drill (man/drəl), a large, fierce baboon of W Africa. The face of the male mandrill is marked with blue and scarlet. n.

mane (mān), the long, heavy hair on the back of the neck of a horse, lion, etc. n.

ma nège (mə nezʰ/), 1. art of training or riding horses; horsemanship. 2. movements of a trained horse. 3. a riding school. n.

ma neu ver (mə nü/vər), 1. a planned movement of troops or warships: Every year the army and navy hold maneuvers for practice. 2. perform maneuvers. 3. cause to perform maneuvers. 4. a skillful plan; clever trick: When we refused to use his idea, he tried to force it on us by a series of maneuvers. 5. plan skillfully; use clever tricks: A scheming person is always maneuvering for some advantage. 6. force by skillful plans; get by clever tricks: She maneuvered her lazy brother out of bed. 1,4 n., 2,3,5,6 v., ma neu vered, ma neu vering. Also, manoeuvre. —ma neu'ver a-ble, adj.

man Friday, a faithful servant; servile follower.

man ful (man/fəl), manly; brave; resolute. adj. —man/ful ly, adv. —man/ful ness, n.

man ga nese (mang/gə nēs), a hard, brittle, grayish-white metallic element. Substances containing manganese are used in making glass, paints, and medicines. Symbol: Mn n.

mange (mānj), a skin disease of animals, caused by parasitic mites, and marked by scabs and loss of hair. n.

man gel-wur zel (mang/gl wér/zl), a large, coarse variety of beet, used as a food for cattle. n.

man ger (mān/jər), box or trough in which hay or other food can be placed for horses or cows to eat. n.

man gle¹ (mang/gl), 1. cut or tear (the flesh) roughly: The two cats bit and clawed until both were much mangled. 2. spoil; ruin: The music was too difficult for the child to play and she mangled it badly. v., man gled, man gling.

man gle² (mang/gl), 1. machine with rollers for pressing and smoothing sheets and other flat things. 2. make smooth in a mangle. 1 n., 2 v., man gled, man gling.

man go (mang/gō), 1. a slightly sour, juicy fruit with a thick, yellowish-red rind. Mangoes are eaten ripe or pickled when green. 2. the tropical tree that it grows on. n., pl. man goes or man gos.

man go steen (mang/gə stēn), 1. a juicy edible fruit with a thick reddish-brown rind. 2. tree of the East Indies that it grows on. n.

man grove (mang/grōv), a tropical tree that sends down many branches that take root and form new trunks. Mangroves grow in swamps along the banks of rivers. n.

man gy (mān/jē), 1. having the mane; with the hair falling out. 2. shabby and dirty. 3. Informal. mean; contemptible. adj., man-gi er, man gi est. —man-gi ness, n.

man han dle (man/han/dl), 1. treat roughly; pull or push about. 2. move by human strength without me-

Mandrill
(about 3 ft. long)

Two stalls with mangers

Mangrove (10 to 20 ft. high) chanical appliances. v., man han dled, man han dling.

Man hat tan (man hat/n), 1. island on which the chief business section of New York City is located. 1,698,000 pop.; 22 sq. mi. 2. borough of New York City that consists of the island of Manhattan. n.

man hole (man/hōl/), hole through which a workman can enter a sewer, steam boiler, etc., to inspect or repair it. n.

man hood (man/hūd), 1. condition or time of being a man. 2. courage; manliness. 3. men as a group: the manhood of the United States. n.

man-hour (man/our/), hour of work by one man, used as a time unit in industry. n.

ma ni a (mā/nē ə), 1. kind of insanity characterized by great excitement and sometimes violence. 2. unusual fondness; craze: a mania for dancing. n.

ma ni ac (mā/nē ak), 1. an insane person; raving lunatic. 2. insane; raving. 1 n., 2 adj.

ma ni a cal (mə ni/ə kl), insane; raving. adj. —ma ni'a cal ly, adv.

ma nic (mā/nik or man/ik), 1. of or like mania. 2. suffering from mania. adj.

man ic-de pres sive (man/ik di pres/iv), having alternating attacks of mania and depression: manic-depressive insanity. adj.

man i cure (man/ə kyūr), 1. care for (the fingernails and hands); trim, clean, and polish (the fingernails). 2. care of the hands; trimming, cleaning, and polishing of fingernails. 3. manicurist. 1 v., man i cured, man i cur ing; 2,3 n.

man i cur ist (man/ə kyūr/ist), person whose work is manicuring. n.

man i fest (man/ə fest), 1. apparent to the eye or to the mind; plain; clear. 2. show plainly; reveal; display. 3. prove; put beyond doubt. 4. list of a ship's cargo. 1 adj., 2,3 v., 4 n. —man/i fest ly, adv.

man i fes ta tion (man/ə fes tā/shən), 1. a manifestation. 2. being manifested. 3. thing that manifests: A brave deed is a manifestation of courage. 4. a public demonstration. n.

man i fes to (man/ə fes/tō), a public declaration of intentions, purposes, or motives by an important person or group; proclamation. n., pl. man i fes toes.

man i fold (man/ə fōld), 1. of many kinds; many and various. 2. having many parts or forms. 3. doing many things at the same time. 4. pipe with several openings for connection with other pipes. 5. one of many copies. 6. make many copies. 1-3 adj., 4,5 n., 6 v.

man i kin (man/ə kin), 1. a little man; dwarf. 2. mannequin. n. Also, mannikin.

Ma nil a (mə nil/ə), the largest city and former capital of the Philippines. 1,200,000. See Philippines for map. n.

ma nil a or ma nil la (mə nil/ə), 1. Manila hemp. 2. Manila paper. n.

Manila Bay, a large bay at Manila. The American fleet under Admiral Dewey defeated the Spanish fleet there in 1898.

Manila hemp, a strong fiber made from the leaves of a Philippine banana plant, used for making ropes and fabrics.

Manila paper, a strong brown or brownish-yellow wrapping paper.

Manila rope, a strong rope made from Manila hemp.

man in the street, the average person.

man i oc (man/ē ok), cassava. n.

ma nip u late (mə nip/yə lāt), 1. handle or treat skillfully; handle: The driver of an automobile manipulates the levers and pedals. 2. manage by clever use of personal influence, especially unfair influence: He so manipulated the ball team that he was elected captain. 3. change for one's own purpose or advantage: The bookkeeper manipu- lated the company's accounts to conceal his theft. v., ma-nip u lat ed, ma nip u lat ing. —ma nip/u la'tor, n. ma nip u la tion (mə nip'yə lā'shən), 1. skillful handling or treatment. 2. clever use of influence. 3. change made for one's own purpose or advantage. n.

ma nip u la tive (mə nip'yə lā'tiv), 1. of or having to do with manipulation. 2. done by manipulation. adj. man i to (man'ə tō), spirit worshiped by Algonquian Indians as a force of nature. The Manito is the Great Spirit. n., pl. man i tos.

Man i to ba (man'ə tō'bə), 1. province in S Canada. 899,000 pop.; 246,512 sq. mi. Capital: Winnipeg. Abbrev.: Man. 2. Lake, lake in S Canada. 120 mi. long; 1817 sq. mi. n.

man i tou (man'ə tū), manito. n.

man kind' (man'kind' for 1; man'kind' for 2), 1. the human race; all human beings. 2. men; the male sex: Mankind and womankind both like praise. n.

man like (man'lik'), 1. like a man. 2. suitable for a man. adj.

man ly (man'lē), 1. like a man; as a man should be; strong, frank, brave, noble, independent, and honorable. 2. suitable for a man; masculine. adj., man li er, man li est. —man/li ness, n.

Mann (man), Horace, 1796-1859, American educator. He established the first normal school in the United States. n.

man na (man'ə), 1. in the Bible, the food miraculously supplied to the Israelites in the wilderness. Exodus 16:14-36. 2. food for the soul. 3. a much needed thing that is unexpectedly supplied. n.

man ne quin (man'ə kin), 1. woman whose work is wearing new clothes to show them to potential customers. 2. figure of a person used by tailors, artists, stores, etc. n. Also, manikin.

man ner (man'ər), 1. way of doing, being done, or happening: The trouble arose in this manner. 2. way of acting or behaving: a kind manner. 3. kind or kinds: We saw all manner of birds in the forest. n.

manners, 1. ways of behaving: good manners, bad manners. 2. polite ways of behaving. 3. customs. by all manner of means, most certainly. by no manner of means, not at all; under no circumstances.

in a manner of speaking, as one might say. to the manner born, accustomed since birth to some way or condition.

man nered (man'ərd), 1. having manners of a certain kind, as in well-mannered. 2. affected; artificial; having many mannerisms. adj.

man ner ism (man'ər iz əm), 1. too much use of some manner in speaking, writing, or behaving. 2. an odd little trick; queer habit; peculiar way of acting. n. man ner less (man'ər lis), without good manners. adj.

man ner ly (man'ər lē), 1. having or showing good manners; polite. 2. politely. 1 adj., 2 adv. —man/ner li ness, n.

Mann heim (män'hīm), city in West Germany, on the Rhine. 306,000. n.

man ni kin (man'ə kin), manikin. n.

man nish (man'ish), 1. characteristic of a man: a mannish way of holding a baby. 2. imitating a man: a mannish style of dress. adj. —man/nish ly, adv.

ma noe u vre (mə nü'vər), maneuver. n., v., ma-noeu vred, ma noeu vring.

Man of Galilee, Jesus.

man of God, 1. a saint or prophet. 2. clergyman. man of letters, 1. writer. 2. person who has a wide knowledge of literature.

man of the world, man who knows people and customs, and is tolerant of both.

man-of-war (man'əv wôr'), warship. n., pl. men-of-war.

ma nom e ter (mə nom'ə tər), instrument for measuring the pressure of gases or vapors. n.

man or (man'ər), a feudal estate, part of which was set aside for the lord and the rest divided among his peasants, who paid the owner rent in goods, services, or money. In the Middle Ages, if the lord sold his manor, the peasants or serfs were sold with it. n.

ma no ri al (mə nō'rē əl), 1. of a manor. 2. forming a manor. adj.

man power or man pow er (man'pou'ər), 1. power supplied by the physical work of men. 2. strength thought of in terms of the number of men needed or available. n.

man sard (man'särd), 1. roof with two slopes on each side. 2. the story under such a roof. n.

manse (mans), a minister's house; parsonage. n.

man serv ant (man'sər'vant), a male servant. n., pl. men serv ants.

man sion (man'shən), a large house; stately residence. n.

man slaugh ter (man'slō'tər), 1. killing a human being. 2. in law, killing a person unlawfully but without deliberate intent. n.

man tel (man'tl), 1. shelf above a fireplace with its supports. 2. the shelf. n.

man tel piece (man'tl pēs'), man-tel (def. 2). n.

man til la (man til'ə), 1. a lace or silk veil or scarf covering the hair and falling down over the shoulders. Spanish and Mexican women often wear mantillas. 2. a short mantle or cape. n.

man tis (man'tis), insect that holds its forelegs doubled up as if praying. It eats other insects. n.

man tis sa (man tis'ə), the decimal part of a logarithm. In the logarithm 2.95424, the characteristic is 2 and the mantissa is .95424. n.

man tle (man'tl), 1. a loose cloak without sleeves. 2. anything that covers like a mantle: The ground had a mantle of snow. 3. cover with a mantle. 4. cover; conceal. 5. redden: Her cheek mantled. 6. a lacelike tube around a flame that gets so hot it glows and gives light. 7. become covered with a coating or scum: The pond has mantled. 1,2,6 n., 3-5,7 v., man tled, man tling.

Man tu a (man'chü ə), city in N Italy. Vergil was born there. 55,000. n. —Man/tu an, adj., n.

man u al (man'yü əl), 1. of the hands; done with the hands: manual labor. 2. a small book that is easy to understand and use. A cookbook is a manual. 3. a small book that explains how to use another book. 4. drill in handling a rifle or other weapons. 5. an organ keyboard played with the hands. 1 adj., 2-5 n.

man u al ly (man'yü əl ē), 1. by hand; with the hands. 2. with respect to hand-work. adv.

manual training, training in work done with the hands; practice in various arts and crafts, especially in making things out of wood.

man u fac to ry (man'yə fak'tə rē), factory. n., pl. man u fac to ries.

man u fac ture (man'yə fak'chər), 1. make by hand or by machine. A big factory manufactures goods in large quantities by using machines and dividing the work up among many people. 2. act of manufacturing. 3. thing manufactured. 4. make into something useful. 5. invent; make up: The dishonest lawyer manufactured evidence. 1,4,5 v., man u fac tured, man u fac tur ing; 2,3 n.

Mansard roof

Mantilla (def. 1)

Mantis (about 2½ in. long)

Man wearing a mantle man u fac tur er (man'yə fak'tʃər ə), person whose business is manufacturing; owner of a factory. n.

man u mis sion (man'yə mish'ən), 1. a freeing from slavery. 2. a being freed from slavery. n.
man u mit (man'yə mit'), set free from slavery. v., man u mit ted, man u mit ting.
ma nure (mə nūr' or mə nūr'), 1. substance put in or on the soil as fertilizer. Refuse from stables is manure. 2. put manure in or on. 1 n., 2 v., ma nured, ma nuring.
man u script (man'yə skript), 1. book or paper written by hand or with a typewriter. Before printing was invented, all books and papers were manuscripts. 2. written by hand or with a typewriter. 1 n., 2 adj.
Manx (mangks), 1. of the Isle of Man, its people, or their language. 2. people of the Isle of Man. 3. their language, a Celtic tongue. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.
Manx cat, kind of cat that has no tail.
man y (men'ē), 1. consisting of a great number; numerous: many people, many years ago. 2. a great number: Did many come? 3. many people or things: There were many at the dance. 1 adj., more, most; 2, 3 n., pron.
a good many, a fairly large number.
a great many, a very large number.
one too many for, more than a match for.
the many, 1. most people. 2. the common people.
man y plies (men'ē pliz), the third stomach of a cow or other ruminant; omasum. n.
man y-sid ed (men'ē sid'id), 1. having many sides. 2. having many interests or abilities. adj.
Ma o ri (mā'ō rē), 1. member of the native brown race of New Zealand. 2. their language. 3. of the Maoris or their language. 1, 2 n., pl. Ma o ris; 3 adj.
Mao Tse-tung (mou' tse'tŭng'), born 1893, chairman of the Chinese Communist Party since 1945.
map (map), 1. drawing representing the earth's surface or part of it, usually showing countries, cities, rivers, seas, lakes, and mountains. 2. drawing representing part of the sky, showing the position of the stars. 3. make a map of; show on a map. 4. plan; arrange in detail: map out the week's work. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 v., mapped, map ping.
ma ple (mā'pl), 1. tree grown for its shade, its wood, or its sap. There are many kinds of maples, but all have dry fruits with two wings and opposite leaves without stipules. 2. its hard, light-colored wood. 3. flavor of maple sugar or maple syrup. n. —ma'ple like', adj.
maple sugar, sugar made from the sap of one variety of maple.
maple syrup, syrup made from the sap of one variety of maple.
mar (mār), spoil the beauty of; damage; injure: The nails in the workmen's shoes have marred our newly finished floors. v., marred, mar ring.
Mar., March.
mar a bou (mar'ə bū), 1. kind of large stork common in Africa and the East Indies. 2. a furlike trimming made from its soft, downy feathers. n.
Mar a cai bo (mar'ə kī'bō), 1. seaport in NW Venezuela. 350,000. 2. Lake, lake in NW Venezuela. 130 mi. long; 60 mi. wide. n.
mar a schi no (mar'ə skē'nō), a strong, sweet alcoholic drink made from a kind of small black cherry. n.
Mar a thon (mar'ə thon), plain in Greece about 20 miles northeast of Athens. After the Athenians defeated the Persians there in 490 B.C., a runner ran all the way to Athens with the news of the victory. n.
mar a thon (mar'ə thon), 1. a foot race of 26 miles, 385 yards. 2. any long race or contest. n.
ma raud (mə rōd'), go about in search of plunder; make raids on for booty. v. —ma raud'er, n.
ma raud ing (mə rōd'ing), going about in search of plunder; making raids for booty: The marauding Indians stole many horses. adj.

mar a ve di (mar'ə vā'dē), 1. a gold coin used by the Moors in Spain during the 11th and 12th centuries. 2. an old Spanish copper coin worth about one third of a cent. n.
mar ble (mār'bl), 1. a hard limestone, white or colored, capable of taking a beautiful polish. 2. made of marble. 3. like marble; white, hard, cold, or unfeeling. 4. color in imitation of the patterns in marble: Binders marble the edges of some books. 5. a small ball of clay, glass, stone, etc., used in games. 1, 5 n., 2, 3 adj., 4 v., mar bled, mar bling. —mar'ble like', adj.
marbles, 1. game played with marbles. 2. collection of sculptures.
mar ca site (mār'kə sīt), a native iron disulfide, white iron pyrites, similar to and of the same composition as ordinary pyrites. n.
mar cel (mār sel'), 1. series of regular waves put in the hair. 2. put a series of regular waves in (the hair). 1 n., 2 v., mar celled, mar cel ling.
march (mārch), 1. walk as soldiers do, in time and with steps of the same length. 2. walk or proceed steadily: The spy marched bravely to his death. 3. cause to march or go: The policeman marched the thief off to jail. 4. act or fact of marching. 5. music for marching. 6. distance marched. 7. a long, hard walk. 8. advance; progress: History records the march of events. 1-3 v., 4-8 n. —march'er, n.
steal a march, gain an advantage without being noticed.
march (mārch), land along the border of a country; frontier. n.
the Marches, the districts along the border between England and Scotland, or between England and Wales.
March (mārch), the third month of the year. It has 31 days. n.
mar chion ess (mār'shən is), 1. wife or widow of a marquis. 2. lady equal in rank to a marquis. n.
march pane (mārch'pān'), marzipan. n.
Mar co ni (mār kō'nē), Guglielmo, 1874-1937, Italian inventor who perfected the wireless telegraph. n.
mar co ni gram (mār kō'nē gram), a wireless telegram. n.
Mar co Po lo (mār'kō pō'lō), 1254?-1324?, Italian merchant who wrote about his travels in Asia.
Mardi gras (mār'dē grā'), the last day before Lent; Shrove Tuesday. It is celebrated in New Orleans and other cities with parades and festivities. mare (mār), a female horse, donkey, etc. n.
mare's-nest (mār'z'nest'), something supposed to be a great discovery that turns out to be a mistake or joke. n.
mare's-tail (mār'z'tāl'), 1. a water plant with many circles of narrow, hairlike leaves around the stems. 2. a high, white, filmy cloud, shaped somewhat like a horse's tail. n.
mar ga rin (mār'jə rin), margarine. n.
mar ga rine (mār'jə rin or mār'jə rēn), substitute for butter consisting mainly of vegetable fat derived from cottonseed and soybean oils and to a lesser extent from corn and peanut oils; oleomargarine. n.
margin (mār'jən), 1. edge; border: the margin of a lake. 2. the blank space around the writing or printing on a page. 3. an extra amount; amount beyond what is necessary; difference: We allow a margin of 15 minutes in catching a train. 4. difference between the cost and selling price of stocks, etc. 5. money or security deposited with a broker to protect him from loss on contracts undertaken for the real buyer or seller. 6. provide with a margin. 1-5 n., 6 v.
margin al (mār'jə nəl), 1. written or printed in a margin. 2. of a margin. 3. on or near the margin: Marginal land is barely fit for farming. adj.
margin al ly (mār'jə nəl ē), in the margin. adv.
mar grave (mār'grāv), 1. title of certain German princes. 2. formerly, a German military governor of a border province. n.

mar gue rite (mār'gə rēt'), kind of daisy with white petals and a yellow center. n.

Mar i an a Islands (mar'ē an'ə), group of 15 small islands in the Pacific, east of the Philippine Islands. The largest island, Guam, belongs to the United States; the other 14 islands, formerly under Japanese supervision, are now under United States trusteeship. 65,000 pop.; 451 sq. mi. See Micronesia for map. Also, Ladrone Islands.

mar i gold (mar'ə gōld), 1. plant of the same family as the aster, with yellow, orange, or red flowers. 2. the flower. n.

mar i jua na or mar i hua na (mar'ə wā'nə), 1. kind of hemp.

2. a poisonous drug made from its dried leaves and flowers. n.

ma rim ba (mə rim'bə), a musical instrument somewhat like a xylophone. n.

ma ri na (mə rē'nə), dock where moorings and supplies are available for small boats. n.

mar i nade (mar'ə nād' for 1, 2; mar'ə nād for 3), 1. a spiced vinegar or wine used to pickle meat or fish. 2. meat or fish pickled in this. 3. marinate. 1, 2 n., 3 v., mar i nad ed, mar i nad ing.

mar i nate (mar'ə nāt), 1. soak in brine or marinade. 2. soak in oil and vinegar. v., mar i nat ed, mar i nat ing.

ma rine (mə rē'n'), 1. of the sea; found in the sea; produced by the sea: Whales are marine animals. 2. of shipping; of the navy; for use at sea: marine supplies. 3. shipping; fleet: our merchant marine. 4. soldier formerly serving only at sea, now also participating in land and air action. 5. picture showing a sea scene. 1, 2 adj., 3-5 n.

mar i ner (mar'ə nər), sailor; seaman; one who navigates a ship. n.

Mar i on (mar'ē ən), Francis, 1732-1795, American general in the American Revolution. n.

mar i o nette (mar'ē ə net'), a small doll made to imitate persons or animals and moved by strings or the hands. A marionette show is often given on a miniature stage. n.

Mar i po sa lily (mar'ə pō'sə), 1. plant with tuliplike flowers that grows in the W United States and Mexico. 2. the flower.

mar ish (mar'ish), Archaic or Poetic.

1. marsh. 2. marshy. 1 n., 2 adj.

mar i tal (mar'ə tl), 1. of marriage; having to do with marriage: A man and woman take marital vows when they marry. 2. of a husband: Providing for one's wife is a marital obligation. adj. —mar'i tally, adv.

mar i time (mar'ə ūm), 1. on or near the sea: Boston is a maritime city. 2. living near the sea: Many maritime peoples are fishermen. 3. of the sea; having to do with shipping and sailing:

Ships and sailors are governed by maritime law. adj. Maritime Provinces, part of Canada along the Atlantic coast; New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island.

mar jo ram (mār'jə rəm), a fragrant plant of the same family as mint. n.

mark (märk), 1. trace or impression made by some object on the surface of another. A line, dot, spot, stain, or scar is a mark. 2. line, dot, etc., to show position. The line where a race starts is the mark. 3. something that shows what or whose a thing is; sign; indication: Courtesy is a mark of good breeding. 4. written or printed Marimba. The pipes underneath give a rich quality to the tones.

Marionette. One set of strings moves his legs, the other his arms, head, and body. The operator stays out of sight of the audience, behind or above the stage.

stroke or sign: punctuation marks. 5. grade or rating: My mark in arithmetic was B. 6. cross made by a person who cannot write his name: Make your mark here. 7. make a mark or marks; put a mark or marks on. 8. trace or form by marks or as if by marks. 9. show by a mark or marks. 10. show clearly; manifest: A frown marked her displeasure. 11. something to be aimed at; target; goal. 12. what is usual, proper, or expected; standard: A tired person does not feel up to the mark. 13. influence; impression: A great man leaves his mark on whatever he does. 14. distinguish; set off: Many important inventions mark the last 150 years. 15. pay attention to; notice; observe: Mark well my words; his plan will fail. 16. keep (the score); record. 17. tag with a mark on it: Remove the price mark from your new suit. 18. put a price mark on; tag. 19. Archaic. border or frontier. 20. tract of land held in common by a medieval community. 1-6, 11-13, 17, 19, 20 n., 7-10, 14-16, 18 v.

beside the mark, 1. not hitting the thing aimed at. 2. not to the point; not relevant.

hit the mark, 1. succeed in doing what one tried to do. 2. be exactly right.

make one's mark, succeed; become famous.

mark down, 1. write down; note down. 2. mark for sale at a lower price.

mark off or out, make lines, etc., to show the position of or to separate.

mark out for, set aside for; select for.

mark time, 1. move the feet as in marching, but without advancing. 2. suspend progress temporarily. 3. go through motions without accomplishing anything.

mark up, mark for sale at a higher price.

miss the mark, 1. fail to do what one tried to do. 2. be not exactly right.

of mark, important; famous.

wide of the mark, 1. missing the thing aimed at by a considerable margin. 2. irrelevant.

mark (märk), 1. a unit of money of West Germany, worth 25 cents (1964). 2. coin or paper note equal to the mark. 3. an old weight for gold and silver, equal to 8 ounces. n.

Mark (märk), 1. one of the four Evangelists, a fellow worker with the Apostle Paul and the Apostle Peter. 2. the second book of the New Testament. It tells the story of the life of Christ. n.

marked (märkt), 1. having a mark or marks on it. 2. very noticeable; very clear; easily recognized: There is a marked difference between grapes and oranges. adj.

mark ed ly (mär'kid lē), in a marked manner or degree; conspicuously; noticeably; plainly. adv.

marked man, person watched as an object of suspicion, hatred, or vengeance.

mark er (mär'kər), 1. one that marks. 2. person or thing that keeps the score in a game. 3. bookmark. n.

mar ket (mär'kit), 1. a meeting of people for buying and selling. 2. the people so gathered. 3. space or building in which provisions, cattle, etc., are shown for sale. 4. buy or sell in a market. 5. sell: He cannot market the goods he makes. 6. carry or send to market. 7. store for the sale of provisions: a meat market.

8. trade, especially as regards a particular article: the cotton market. 9. opportunity to sell or buy: lose one's market. 10. demand (for something); price offered. 11. region where goods can be sold: Africa is a new market for many products. 1-3, 7-11 n., 4-6 v. —mar'ket er, n. be in the market for, be a possible buyer of.

play the market, speculate on the stock exchange.

mar ket a bil i ty (mär'kit ə bil'ə tē), quality of being marketable. n.

mar ket a ble (mär'kit ə bl), that can be sold; salable. adj.

market place, place where a market is held.

mark ing (mär'king), 1. mark or marks. 2. arrangement of marks. n.

marks man (märks'mən), person who shoots; person who shoots well. n., pl. marks men.

marks man ship (märks'mən ship), skill in shooting. n.

marl (märl), 1. soil containing clay and calcium carbonate, used in making cement and as a fertilizer. 2. Poetic. earth. n.

Marlborough (märl'bër'ō), Duke of, 1650-1722, John Churchill, English general who defeated the French in 1704. n.

marlin (märl'lon), a large sea fish like a sailfish. n.

mar line (märl'lon), a small cord which sailors wind around the ends of a rope to keep it from fraying. n.

mar line spike or mar line-spike (märl'lon spik'), a pointed iron implement used by sailors to separate strands of rope in splicing, etc. n.

MARLINESPIKE

Marlowe (märl'ō), Christopher, 1564-1593, English dramatist and poet. n.

mar ma lade (märl'mläd), preserve like jam, made of oranges or of other fruit. The peel is usually sliced up and boiled with the fruit. n.

Mar mara or Mar mora (märl'mə rə), Sea of, a small sea between Europe and Asia Minor. It is connected with the Aegean Sea by the Dardanelles and with the Black Sea by the Bosphorus. 170 mi. long; 50 mi. wide; 4500 sq. mi. n.

mar more al (märl'mō'rē əl), 1. of marble. 2. like marble; cold; smooth; white. adj.

mar mo set (märl'mə zet), a very small monkey with soft, thick fur, living in South America and Central America. n.

mar mot (märl'mət), rodent with a thick body and a bushy tail. Woodchucks and prairie dogs are marmots. See picture below. n.

Marne (märl'n), river flowing from NE France into the Seine River. 325 mi. n.

ma roon¹ (mə rün'), very dark brownish-red. n., adj.

ma roon² (mə rün'), 1. put (a person) ashore in a lonely place and leave him. 2. leave in a lonely, helpless position. 3. descendant of escaped Negro slaves living in the West Indies and Surinam. 1,2 v., 3 n.

mar plot (märl'plot'), person who spoils some plan by meddling or blundering. n.

marque (märk), official permission from a government to capture enemy merchant ships. n.

mar quee (mär kē'), 1. a large tent, often one put up for some outdoor entertainment. 2. a rooflike shelter over an entrance. n.

Mar que sas Islands (mär-kā'səs), group of thirteen islands in the S Pacific. They are part of French Polynesia. 3000 pop.; 480 sq. mi.

mar quess (mär'kwis), a British nobleman ranking below a duke and above an earl; marquis. n.

Mar quette (mär ket'), Father, 1637-1675, French missionary who explored part of the Mississippi River and its valley. n.

mar quis (mär kē'), nobleman ranking below a duke and above an earl or count. In Britain a man of this rank is called a marquess. n., pl. mar quis.

Marmoset (length, including the tail, 16 in.)

Marmot (length, including the tail, 2½ ft.)

mar quise (mär kēz'), 1. wife or widow of a marquis. 2. woman equal in rank to a marquis. n.

mar qui sette (mär'kə zet'), a very thin fabric with square meshes, made of cotton, silk, or rayon and often used for window draperies. n.

Mar ra kech (mä rä'kesh), city in W Morocco. 242,000. n. Also, Morocco.

mar riage (mar'ij), 1. a living together as husband and wife; married life. 2. ceremony of being married; a marrying; a wedding. 3. a close union. n.

mar riage a bil i ty (mar'ij ə bil'ə tē), being marriageable. n.

mar riage a ble (mar'ij ə bl), fit for marriage; old enough to marry: of marriageable age. adj.

marriage portion, dowry.

mar ried (mar'fēd), 1. living together as husband and wife. 2. having a husband or wife. 3. of marriage; of husbands and wives: Married life has many duties. 4. closely united. adj.

mar row (mar'ō), 1. the soft tissue that fills the cavities of most bones. 2. the inmost or essential part: The icy wind chilled me to the marrow. n.

mar row bone (mar'ō bōn'), bone containing marrow. n.

marrowbones, 1. knees. 2. crossbones.

mar row fat (mar'ō fat'), kind of pea that has a large seed. n.

mar ry¹ (mar'ē), 1. join as husband and wife: The minister married them. 2. take as husband or wife: John married Grace. 3. become married; take a husband or wife: She married late in life. 4. give in marriage: She has married all her daughters. 5. unite closely. v., mar ried, mar ry ing.

mar ry² (mar'ē), Archaic. exclamation showing surprise, indignation, etc. interj.

Mars (märlz), 1. the Roman god of war, identified with the Greek god Ares. 2. war. 3. planet next beyond the earth. It is the fourth in order from the sun. n.

Mar seil laise (mär'sə lāz'), French national song, written in 1792 during the French Revolution. n.

Mar seilles (mär sā' or mär sālz'), seaport in SE France, on the Mediterranean Sea. 661,000. n.

marsh (märlsh), low land covered at times by water; soft, wet land; swamp. n.

mar shal (mär'shəl), 1. officer of various kinds, especially a police officer. A United States marshal is an officer of a Federal court whose duties are like those of a sheriff. 2. a high officer in an army. A Marshal of France is a general of the highest rank in the French Army. 3. person arranging the order of march in a parade. 4. arrange in order: He marshaled his facts well. 5. person in charge of events or ceremonies. 6. conduct with ceremony: We were marshaled before the king. 1-3,5 n., 4,6 v., mar shaled, mar shal ing or esp. Brit. mar shalled, mar shal ling.

Mar shall (mär'shəl), 1. George Catlett, 1880-1959, American general, secretary of state from 1947 to 1949, secretary of defense from 1950 to 1951. 2. John, 1755-1835, chief justice of the United States Supreme Court from 1801 to 1835. n.

Marshall Islands, group of islands in the N Pacific, near the equator, formerly under Japanese supervision, now under United States trusteeship. 15,000 pop.; 160 sq. mi. See Micronesia for map.

marsh gas, methane.

marsh mal low (märlsh'mal'ō or märlsh'mel'ō), a soft, white, spongy candy, covered with powdered sugar. n.

marsh mallow, plant with pink flowers that grows in marshy places.

marsh marigold, cowslip.

marsh y (mär'shē), 1. soft and wet like a marsh. 2. having many marshes. 3. of marshes. adj., marsh-ier, marsh-i est. —marsh'i ness, n.

mar su pi al (mär sü'pē əl), 1. animal that carries its young in a pouch. Kangaroos and opossums are marsupials. 2. of marsupials. 3. having a pouch for carrying the young. 1 n., 2, 3 adj.

mar su pi um (mär sü'pē əm), pouch or fold of skin on the abdomen of a female marsupial for carrying the young. n., pl. mar su pi a (-pē ə).

mart (mārt), market; center of trade: New York and London are the great marts of the world. n.

mar ten (mārt'n), 1. a slender carnivorous mammal like a weasel, but larger. 2. its valuable fur. n., pl. mar tens or (esp. collectively) mar ten.

Marten (length, including the tail, about 2½ ft.)

Mar tha (mār'thə), in the Bible, the sister of Lazarus and Mary. Luke 10:38-42. n.

Martha's Vineyard, island southeast of Massachusetts. 20 mi. long; 9½ mi. wide.

mar tial (mār'shəl), 1. of war; suitable for war: martial music. 2. fond of fighting; warlike; brave: a boy of martial spirit. adj. —mar'tial ly, adv.

martial law, rule by the army or militia with special military courts instead of by the usual civil authorities. Martial law is declared during a time of trouble or war.

Mar tian (mār'shən), 1. of the planet Mars. 2. a supposed inhabitant of the planet Mars. 1 adj., 2 n.

Purple martin (about 8 in. long) mar tin (mārt'n), swallow with a short beak and a forked or square tail. n.

Mar tin (mārt'n), Saint, 316?-400? A.D., French bishop who divided his cloak with a beggar. n.

mar ti net (mārt'n et'), person who enforces very strict discipline. n.

mar tin gale (mārt'n gāl), 1. strap of a horse's harness that prevents the horse from rising on its hind legs or throwing back its head. 2. rope or spar that steadies the jib boom on a ship. n.

Mar ti nique (mārt'n ēk'), island in the West Indies, since 1946 an overseas department of France. 267,000 pop.; 385 sq. mi. Capital: Fort-de-France. n.

Mar tin mas (mārt'n mäs), November 11, a church festival in honor of Saint Martin. n.

mar tyr (mār'tər), 1. person who chooses to die or suffer rather than renounce his faith; person who is put to death or made to suffer greatly for his religion or other beliefs. Many of the early Christians were martyrs. 2. put (a person) to death or torture because of his religion or other beliefs. 3. person who suffers great pain or anguish. 4. cause to suffer greatly; torture. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v. —mar'tyr like, adj.

mar tyr dom (mār'tər dəm), 1. death or suffering of a martyr. 2. great suffering; torment. n.

mar vel (mār'vl), 1. something wonderful; astonishing thing: the marvels of science. 2. be filled with wonder; be astonished. 1 n., 2 v., mar veled, mar vel ing or esp. Brit. mar velled, mar vel ling.

mar vel ous or mar vel lous (mār'vl əs), 1. wonderful; extraordinary. 2. improbable: Children like tales of marvelous things, like that of Aladdin and his lamp. adj. —mar'vel ous ly, adv. —mar'vel ous ness, n.

Marx (mārk's), Karl, 1818-1883, famous German writer on economics and advocate of socialism. n.

Marx ian (mārk'sē ən), 1. of Marx or his theories. 2. follower of Marx; believer in his theories. 1 adj., 2 n.

Marx ism (mārk'siz əm), theories of Karl Marx. n.

Marx ist (mārk'sist), Marxian. n., adj.

Mar y (mār'ē), 1. the mother of Jesus. Matthew 1:18-25. 2. the sister of Lazarus and Martha. Luke 10:38-42. 3. 1867-1953, queen of George V of England. n.

Mar y land (mer'ə lənd), an Eastern State of the United States. 3,101,000 pop.; 10,577 sq. mi. Capital: Annapolis. Abbrev.: Md. n. —Mar'y land er, n.

Mary Magdalene, in the Bible, a woman from whom Jesus cast out seven devils. Luke 8:2. She is commonly supposed to be the repentant sinner forgiven by Jesus. Luke 7:37-50.

Mary, Queen of Scots, or Mary Stuart, 1542-1587, queen of Scotland from 1542 to 1567. She was beheaded by order of her cousin, Queen Elizabeth I.

mar zi pan (mār'zə pan), ground almonds and sugar molded into various forms. n. Also, marchpane.

masc., masculine.

mas car a (mas kar'ə), preparation used for coloring the eyelashes. n.

mas cot (mas'kot), animal, person, or thing supposed to bring good luck: The school mascot is a goat. n.

mas cu line (mas'kyə lin), 1. of men; male. 2. like a man; manly; strong; vigorous. 3. having qualities suited to a man; mannish. 4. in grammar, of the gender of male names. Actor, king, ram, and bull are masculine nouns. 5. masculine gender. 6. word or form in the masculine gender. 1-4 adj., 5, 6 n. —mas'cu line ly, adv.

mas cu lin i ty (mas'kyə lin'ə tē), masculine quality or condition. n.

ma ser (mā'zər), a device which generates or amplifies electromagnetic waves. n.

Mas e ru (maz'ə rū), capital of Lesotho. 6000. n.

mash (mash), 1. a soft mixture; soft mass. 2. beat into a soft mass; crush to a uniform mass. 3. a warm mixture of bran or meal and water for horses and other animals. 4. crushed malt or meal soaked in hot water for making beer. 5. mix (crushed malt or meal) with hot water in brewing. 1, 3, 4 n., 2, 5 v. —mash'er, n.

mash ie or mash y (mash'ē), a golf club with a short sloping face made of steel. n., pl. mash ies.

mask (mask), 1. a covering to hide or protect the face. 2. cover (the face) with a mask. 3. a false face worn for amusement. 4. a masked person. 5. thing that hides or disguises: He hid his evil plans under a mask of friendship. 6. hide; disguise: A smile masked his disappointment. 7. clay, wax, or plaster likeness of a person's face. 1, 3-5 n., 2, 6 v. —mask'er, n.

masked ball, dance at which masks are worn.

ma son (mā'sn), man whose work is building with stone or brick. n.

Ma son (mā'sn), member of the world-wide secret society of Freemasons. n.

Ma son-Dix on line (mā'sn dik'sən), boundary between Pennsylvania and Maryland, formerly thought of as separating the North and the South of the United States.

ma son ic or Ma son ic (mə sən'ik), of the Masons; of or having to do with the Freemasons or Freemasonry. adj.

ma son ry (mā'sn rē), 1. work built by a mason; stonework; brickwork. 2. trade or skill of a mason. n., pl. ma son ries.

mas que (mask), 1. an amateur dramatic entertainment in which fine costumes, scenery, music, and dancing are more important than the story. Masques were much given in England in the 16th and 17th centuries, at court and at the homes of nobles. 2. play written for such entertainment. 3. masked ball; masquerade. n.

mas quer ade (mas'kər əd'), 1. party or dance at which masks and fancy costumes are worn. 2. take part in a masquerade. 3. false pretense; disguise. 4. disguise oneself; go about under false pretenses: The king masqueraded as a beggar to find out if his people really liked him. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v., mas quer ad ed, mas quer ad ing, —mas'quer ad'er, n.

mass' (mas), 1. lump: a mass of dough. 2. large quantity together: a mass of treasure. 3. form or collect into a mass; assemble: It would look better to mass the peonies behind the roses than to mix them. 4. majority; greater part: The great mass of men consider themselves healthy.

5. bulk; size. 6. in physics, a measure of the quantity of matter a body contains: The mass of a piece of lead is not changed by melting it. 1,2,4-6 n., 3 v.

in the mass, as a whole; without distinguishing parts or individuals.

the masses, the common people; the working classes; the lower classes.

Mass or mass² (mas), 1. the central service of worship in the Roman Catholic Church and some other churches; Holy Eucharist as a sacrifice. The ritual of the Mass consists of various prayers and ceremonies. 2. music written for certain parts of it. n.

Mass., Massachusetts.

Massachusetts (mas'ə chū'sits), a New England State of the United States. 5,149,000 pop.; 8257 sq. mi. Capital: Boston. Abbrev.: Mass. n.

Massachusetts Bay, bay off the Massachusetts coast.

Massachusetts Bay Colony, a small settlement that was established at Salem, Massachusetts, in 1628 by a group of Puritans led by John Endicott.

mas sa cre (mas'ə kər), 1. wholesale, pitiless slaughter of people or animals. 2. kill (many people or animals) needlessly or cruelly; slaughter in large numbers. 1 n., 2 v., mas sa cred, mas sa cring.

mas sage (mə sähz'), 1. a rubbing and kneading of the muscles and joints to make them work better and to increase the circulation of blood. A thorough massage relaxes tired muscles. 2. give a massage to. 1 n., 2 v., mas saged, mas saging.

Mas sa soit (mas'ə soit), 1580?-1661, American Indian chief who was friendly to the Pilgrims. n.

mas seur (ma sœr'), man whose work is massaging people. n.

mas seuse (ma sœz'), woman whose work is massaging people. n.

mas sive (mas'iv), 1. big and heavy; large and solid; bulky. 2. imposing; impressive. adj. —mas'sive-ly, adv. —mas'sive ness, n.

mass meeting, a large public gathering of people to hear or discuss some matter of common interest: The school held a mass meeting to plan for a field day.

mass production, making of goods in large quantities by machinery.

mass y (mas'ē), massive. adj., mass ier, mass iest. —mass'i ness, n.

mast¹ (mast), 1. a long pole of wood or steel set upright on a ship to support the sails and rigging. 2. any upright pole. n. —mast'less, adj. —mast'like, adj.

before the mast, as a common sailor.

mast² (mast), acorns, chestnuts, beechnuts, etc., on the ground. Pigs eat mast. n.

mas ter (mas'tər), 1. person who has power or authority; one in control; employer; owner. 2. man at the head of a household. 3. captain of a merchant ship. 4. Esp. Brit. a male teacher. 5. a great artist. 6. picture or painting by a great artist. 7. person who knows all about his work; expert. 8. a skilled worker; craftsman in business for himself. 9. title of respect for a boy: Master Henry Adams. 10. being master of; of a master. 11. main; controlling. 12. become master of; conquer: Learn to master your temper. 13. become expert in; become skillful at: He has mastered long division. 14. victor. 15. a court officer appointed to assist the judge. 1-9,14,15 n., 10,11 adj., 12,13 v.

the Master, Christ.

Mas ter (mas'tər), 1. Master of Arts. 2. Master of Science. n.

mas ter-at-arms (mas'tər at ārmz'), a police officer in the navy who keeps order on a ship and takes charge of prisoners. n., pl. mas ters-at-arms.

master builder, 1. person skilled in planning buildings; architect. 2. person who directs the construction of buildings; contractor.

mas ter dom (mas'tər dəm), mastery; control. n.
mas ter ful (mas'tər fəl), 1. fond of power or authority; domineering. 2. expert; skillful. adj. —mas'ter-fully, adv.

master key, key that opens all the different locks of a set.

mas ter ly (mas'tər lē), 1. expert; skillful. 2. expertly; skillfully. 1 adj., 2 adv. —mas'ter li ness, n.

Master of Arts, 1. degree given by a college or university to a person who has completed an advanced course of study, or as an honor. Abbrev.: M.A. or A.M. 2. person who has this degree.

master of ceremonies, person in charge of a ceremony or entertainment who makes sure that all parts of it take place in the proper order.

Master of Science, 1. degree given by a college or university to a person who has completed an advanced course of study in science, or as an honor. Abbrev.: M.S. or M.Sc. 2. person who has this degree.

mas ter piece (mas'tər pēs'), 1. anything done or made with wonderful skill; perfect piece of art or workmanship. 2. person's greatest work. n.

master sergeant, the highest ranking noncommissioned officer in the United States Army.

mas ter ship (mas'tər ship), 1. position of a master. 2. position of a teacher in a school. 3. power; rule; control. 4. great skill; expert knowledge. n.

master stroke, a very skillful act or achievement.

mas ter y (mas'tər ē), 1. power such as a master has; rule; control. 2. the upper hand; victory. 3. great skill; expert knowledge. n., pl.

mas ter ies.

mast head (mast'hed'), top of a ship's mast. A crow's-nest near the masthead of the lower mast is used as a lookout. n.

mas tic (mas'tik), 1. a yellowish resin used in making varnish, chewing gum, and incense, and as an astrigent. 2. any of various cements or mortars. n.

mas ti cate (mas'tə kāt), chew. v., mas ti cat ed, mas ti cat ing. —mas'ti ca'tion, n.

mas ti ca tor (mas'tə kā'tər),

1. animal or organ that chews.

2. machine for cutting things into small pieces. n.

mas ti ca to ry (mas'tə kə-tō'rē), 1. of chewing; used in chewing. 2. substance chewed to increase the flow of saliva. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. mas ti ca to ries.

mas tiff (mas'tif), a large, strong dog with drooping ears and hanging lips. n.

mas to don (mas'tə don), a very large extinct animal much like an elephant, but with a furry coat. n.

mas toid (mas'toid), projection of bone behind the ear. n.

mas toid i tis (mas'toid i'tis), inflammation of the mastoid. n.

ma su ri um (mə sūr'ē əm), technetium. Symbol: Ma n.

mat¹ (mat), 1. piece of coarse fabric like a rug, made

Mastiff (about 28 in. high at the shoulder)

Mastodon (about 9 ft. high at the shoulder) of woven grass, straw, rope, etc. 2. piece of material to put under a dish, vase, lamp, etc. 3. cover with mats. 4. anything packed or tangled thickly together: a mat of weeds. 5. pack or tangle thickly together: The swimmer's wet hair was matted together. 6. a large thick pad used to protect wrestlers or gymnasts. 1,2,4,6 n., 3,5 v., mated, mating.

mat² (mat), border or background for a picture, between it and the frame. n.

mat³ (mat), 1. dull; not shiny. 2. a dull surface or finish. 3. give a dull finish to. 1 adj., 2 n., 3 v., mated, mating.

mat a dor (mat'ə dōr), man appointed to kill the bull in bullfights. n.

match¹ (mach), 1. a short, slender piece of wood, pasteboard, etc., tipped with a mixture that takes fire when rubbed on a rough or specially prepared surface. 2. cord prepared to burn at a uniform rate, for firing guns and cannon. n.

match² (mach), 1. person or thing equal to another: A boy is not a match for a man. 2. be equal to; be a match for: No one could match the unknown archer. 3. person or thing like another. 4. two persons or things that are alike or go well together. 5. be alike; go well together: The rugs and the wallpaper match. 6. be the same as. 7. find one like; get a match for. 8. make like; fit together. 9. game; contest: a baseball match. 10. put in opposition; oppose: Tom matched his strength against Dick's. 11. marriage: James and Ida made a match of it. 12. marry: The duke matched his daughter with the king's son. 13. person considered as a possible husband or wife: That young man is a good match. 1,3,4,9,11,13 n., 2,5-8,10,12 v. —match'er, n.

match less (mach'lis), so great or wonderful that it cannot be equaled. adj. —match'lessly, adv.

match lock (mach'lok'), an old form of gun fired by lighting the powder with a wick or cord. n.

match mak er¹ (mach'māk'ər), 1. person who arranges, or tries to arrange, marriages for others. 2. person who arranges contests, prize fights, races, etc. n.

match mak er² (mach'māk'ər), person who makes matches for burning. n.

match mak ing (mach'māk'ing), 1. business of making matches. 2. practice of trying to arrange marriages. 3. having to do with matchmakers or matchmaking. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

match wood (mach'wūd'), 1. wood for making matches. 2. splinters; tiny pieces. n.

mate¹ (māt), 1. one of a pair: The eagle mourned his dead mate. Where is the mate to this glove? 2. join in a pair: Birds mate in the spring. 3. husband or wife. 4. marry. 5. a ship's officer next below the captain. 6. assistant: cook's mate. 7. companion; fellow worker: Hand me a hammer, mate. 1,3,5-7 n., 2,4 v., mated, mating.

mate² (māt), checkmate; defeat in the game of chess. n., v., mated, mating.

ma té or ma té³ (mā'tā), 1. kind of tea made from the dried leaves of a South American plant. 2. the plant. 3. its leaves. *n.

ma ter (mā'tər), Brit. Informal. mother. n.

ma te ri al (mə tir'ē əl), 1. what a thing is made from: dress material, building materials. 2. having to do with whatever occupies space; of matter; physical: the material world. 3. of the body: Food and shelter are material comforts. 4. caring too much for the things of this world and neglecting spiritual needs: a material point of view. 5. that matters; important: Hard work is a material factor in success. 1 n., 2-5 adj.

ma te ri al ism (mə tir'ē əl iz'm), 1. belief that all action, thought, and feeling can be explained by the movements and changes of matter. 2. tendency to care too much for the things of this world and neglect spiritual needs. n.

ma te ri al ist (mə tir'ē əl ist), 1. believer in materialism. 2. person who cares too much for the things of this world and neglects spiritual needs. n.

ma te ri al is tic (mə tir'ē əl is'tik), of materialism; of materialists. adj. —ma te ri al is'ti cal ly, adv.

ma te ri al ize (mə tir'ē əl iz), 1. become an actual fact; be realized: Our plans were good, but they did not materialize. 2. give material form to: An inventor materializes his ideas by building a model. 3. appear in bodily form: A spirit materialized from the smoke of the magician's fire. 4. cause to appear in bodily form. v., ma te ri al ized, ma te ri al iz ing. —ma te ri al i za'tion, n.

ma te ri al ly (mə tir'ē əl ē), 1. with regard to material things; physically: The nation got better materially but worse spiritually. 2. considerably; greatly. 3. in matter or substance; not in form. adv.

ma te ri a me di ca (mə tir'ē ə med'ə kə), 1. drugs or other substances used in medicine. 2. branch of medical science dealing with these drugs and substances.

ma té ri el (mə tir'ē əl'), everything used by an army, organization, undertaking, etc.; equipment. n.

ma ter nal (mə tər'nəl), 1. of or like a mother; motherly. 2. related on the mother's side of the family: Everyone has two maternal grandparents and two paternal grandparents. 3. received or inherited from a mother. adj. —ma ter'nal ly, adv.

ma ter ni ty (mə tər'nə tē), 1. motherhood; being a mother. 2. motherliness; qualities of a mother. 3. for a woman soon to have a baby. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

maternity hospital, hospital for women giving birth to children.

math., mathematics.

math e ma ti cal (math'ə mat'ə kl), 1. of mathematics; having to do with mathematics: mathematical problems. 2. exact; accurate. adj.

math e ma ti cal ly (math'ə mat'ik lē), 1. according to mathematics. 2. exactly; accurately; in a mathematical manner. adv.

math e ma ti cian (math'ə mə tish'ən), person skilled in mathematics. n.

math e mat ics (math'ə mat'iks), science dealing with the measurement, properties, and relationships of quantities. Mathematics includes arithmetic, algebra, geometry, calculus, etc. n.

Math er (ma'th'ər), 1. Cotton, 1663-1728, American clergyman and author. 2. his father, Increase, 1639-1723, American clergyman. n.

ma ti née or ma ti nee (mat'n ā'), a dramatic or musical performance held in the afternoon. n.

ma tins (mat'ənz), 1. first of the seven canonical hours in the breviary. 2. morning prayers in the Church of England. 3. Poetic. morning song. n.pl.

ma tri arch (mā'trē ārk), 1. mother who is the ruler of a family or tribe. 2. a venerable old woman. n.

ma tri ar chal (mā'trē ār'kl), 1. of a matriarch or matriarchy. 2. suitable for a matriarch. adj.

ma tri ar chy (mā'trē ār'kē), form of social organization in which the mother is the ruler of a family or tribe, descent being traced through the mother. n., pl. ma tri ar chies.

ma tri ces (mā'trē sēz or mat'rō sēz), pl. of matrix. n.

ma tri cid al (mā'trē sīd'l or mat'rō sīd'l), killing or tending to kill one's mother. adj.

ma tri cide (mā'trē sīd or mat'rō sīd), act of killing one's mother. n.

ma tric u late (mə trik'yə lāt), 1. enroll as a student in a college or university. 2. enroll as a candidate for a degree. v., ma tric u lat ed, ma tric u lat ing. —ma tric'u la'tion, n.

mat ri mo ni al (mat'rō mō'nē əl), of marriage; having to do with marriage. adj.

mat ri mo ni al ly (mat'rō mō'nē əl ē), 1. according to the custom or laws of matrimony. 2. with regard to matrimony. 3. by matrimony. adv.

mat ri mo ny (mat'rō mō'nē), 1. married life. 2. act of marrying; rite or ceremony of marriage. 3. relation between married persons. n., pl. mat ri mo nies.

ma trix (mā'triks or mat'riks), 1. that which gives origin or form to something enclosed within it. A mold for a casting or the rock in which gems are embedded is called a matrix. 2. womb. n., pl. matrices or ma trices.

ma tron (mā'trən), 1. wife or widow, especially one who is fairly old. 2. woman who manages the household affairs or supervises the inmates of a school, hospital, or other institution. A police matron has charge of the women in a jail. n.

ma tron ly (mā'trən lē), like a matron; suitable for a matron; dignified. adj. —ma'tron li ness, n.

ma tron of honor, a married woman who is the chief attendant of the bride at a wedding.

Matt., Matthew.

mat ted¹ (mat'id), formed into a mat; entangled in a thick mass: a matted growth of shrubs. adj.

mat ted² (mat'id), having a dull finish. adj.

mat ter (mat'er), 1. what things are made of; material; substance. Matter occupies space. 2. substance of the material world; the opposite of mind or spirit. 3. affair: business matters, a matter of life and death.

4. what is said or written, thought of apart from the way in which it is said or written. 5. grounds; occasion; cause: a matter for complaint. 6. thing; things: a matter of fact, a matter of record, a matter of accident. 7. amount; quantity: a matter of 20 miles. 8. importance; significance: Let it go since it is of no matter. 9. be of importance. 10. mail: Letters are first-class matter. 11. pus. 12. form pus; discharge pus; suppurate. 1-8, 10, 11 n., 9, 12 v.

as a matter of fact, actually; in reality.

for that matter, so far as that is concerned.

no matter, 1. it is not important; let it go. 2. regardless of.

What is the matter? What is the trouble?

Mat ter horn (mat'er hōrn), a mountain peak in the Alps, between Switzerland and Italy. 14,780 ft. n.

mat ter-of-fact (mat'er əv fakt'), dealing with facts; not fanciful; unimaginative. adj.

Mat thew (math'ū), 1. one of the four Evangelists, a customs official who was a follower of Christ. He was one of the twelve disciples chosen by Jesus as His Apostles. 2. the first book of the New Testament. It tells the story of the life of Christ. n.

mat ting (mat'ing), fabric of grass, straw, hemp, or other fiber, for covering floors, for mats, for wrapping material, etc. n.

mat tock (mat'ək), tool like a pickax, but having a flat blade on one side or flat blades on both sides, used for loosening soil and cutting roots. n.

Mattock

mat tress (mat'ris), a covering of strong cloth stuffed with hair, cotton, straw, etc., used on a bed or as a bed. A spring mattress contains wire springs. n.

mat u rate (mach'ū rāt), 1. discharge pus; suppurate. 2. ripen; mature. v., mat u rated, mat u rating.

mat u ra tion (mach'ū rā'shən), 1. a discharge of pus; suppurate. 2. a ripening; a maturing. n.

ma ture (mə chūr', mə tūr', or mə tyūr'), 1. ripe; full-grown: Fifty is a mature age. 2. ripen; come to full growth: These apples are maturing fast. 3. bring to full growth. 4. fully worked out; carefully thought out; fully developed: mature plans. 5. work out carefully: He matured his plans for the long trip. 6. due; payable. 7. fall due: This note to the bank matured yesterday. 1, 4, 6 adj., 2, 3, 5, 7 v., ma tured, ma tur ing. —ma ture'ly, adv.

ma tu ri ty (mə chūr'ə tē, mə tūr'ə tē, or mə tyūr'ə tē), 1. full development; ripeness: He reached maturity at twenty years. 2. a being completed or ready. 3. a falling due; time a debt is payable. n.

ma tu ti nal (mə tūt'n l or mə tūt'n l), occurring in the morning; early in the day; having to do with the morning. adj.

mat zos (māt'sōs), matzoth. n.pl.

mat zoth (māt'sōth), thin pieces of unleavened bread, eaten by Jews during the Passover. n.pl.

maud lin (mōd'lən), 1. sentimental in a weak, silly way: Sympathy for criminals is often maudlin. 2. sentimental and tearful because of drunkenness or excitement. adj.

mau gre or mau ger (mō'gər), Archaic. in spite of; notwithstanding. prep.

Mau i (mou'ē), the second largest island of Hawaii. 43,000 pop.; 728 sq. mi. See Hawaiian Islands for map. n.

maul (mōl), 1. a very heavy hammer or mallet. 2. beat and pull about; handle roughly: The lion mauled its keeper badly. 1 n., 2 v.

Mau Mau (mou' mou'), a society active during the 1950's, consisting chiefly of African tribesmen sworn to expel Europeans from Kenya by violent means.

Mauna Loa (mou'nə lō'ə), an active volcano in Hawaii. 13,675 ft.

maun der (mōn'dər), 1. talk in a rambling, foolish way: People who maun der talk much but say little. 2. move or act in an aimless, confused manner: The injured man maundered about in a daze. v.

Maun dy Thursday (mōn'dē), the Thursday before Easter.

Mau re ta ni a (mō'rə tā'nē ə), an ancient kingdom in NW Africa, south of Spain. n.

Mau ri ta ni a (mō'rə tā'nē ə or mō'rə tān'yə), a republic in W Africa on the Atlantic. 624,000 pop.; 450,000 sq. mi. Capital: Nouakchott. n.

Mau ri ti us (mō rish'əs), a British island in the Indian Ocean, east of Madagascar. 631,000 pop.; 720 sq. mi. Capital: Port Louis. n.

Mau ser (mou'zər), Trademark. a kind of powerful repeating rifle or pistol. n.

mau so le um (mō'sə lē'əm), a large, magnificent tomb. n., pl. mau so le ums, mau so le a (-lē'ə).

Mau so le um (mō'sə lē'əm), a magnificent tomb in SW Asia Minor. It was one of the seven wonders of the ancient world. n.

mauve (mōv), delicate, pale purple. n., adj.

mav er ick (mav'er ik), U.S. 1. calf or other animal not marked with an owner's brand. 2. Informal. one who refuses to affiliate with a regular political party. n.

ma vis (mā'vis), the European song thrush. n.

maw (mō), 1. mouth. 2. throat. 3. stomach. n.

maw k ish (mōk'ish), 1. sickening. 2. sickly sentimental; weakly emotional. adj. —maw k'ish ly, adv.

—maw k'ish ness, n.

max., maximum.

max il la (mak sil'ə), 1. jaw; jawbone; upper jawbone. 2. either of a pair of appendages just behind the mandibles of insects, crabs, etc. See mandible for picture. n., pl. max il lae (mak sil'ē).

max il lar y (mak'sə ler'ē), 1. of or having to do with the jaw or jawbone. 2. maxilla. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. max il lar ies.

max im (mak'səm), a short rule of conduct; proverb; statement of a general truth: "Look before you leap" is a maxim. n.

max i ma (mak'sə mə), a pl. of maximum. n.

Max i mil ian (mak'sə mil'yən), 1832-1867, archduke of Austria, emperor of Mexico from 1864 to 1867. n.

max i mum (mak'sə məm), 1. the largest or highest amount; greatest possible amount: The speed limit is 40 miles an hour; drivers must not exceed this maximum. 2. largest; highest; greatest possible: The maximum score on the test is 100. 1 n., pl. max i mums or max i ma; 2 adj.

may (mā), an auxiliary or helping verb used to express: 1. permission, opportunity, or possibility: You may go now. You may if you can. He may have been the one. 2. wish or prayer: May you be very happy. 3. contingency, especially in clauses expressing condition, concession, purpose, result, etc.: I write that you may know my plans. 4. ability or power (more commonly can). v., pl. might.

May (mā), the fifth month of the year. It has 31 days. n.

Maya (mā'yā), 1. member of a race of Indians living in Central America. The Mayas had a high degree of civilization when America was discovered. 2. their language. n.

Mayan (mā'yən), 1. of the Mayas or their language. 2. one of the Mayas. 3. language of the Mayas. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

May apple, 1. an American plant with a large, white flower. 2. its yellowish, egg-shaped fruit, sometimes eaten.

may be (mā'bē), possibly; perhaps. adv.

May Day, May 1. It is often celebrated by crowning the May queen and dancing around the Maypole. In some parts of the world, labor parades and meetings are held on May Day.

May flower (mā'flou'ər), 1. ship on which the Pilgrims came to America in 1620. 2. plant whose flowers blossom in May; trailing arbutus (in the United States); hawthorn or cowslip (in England). n.

May fly, a slender insect, having the forewings much larger than the hind wings, that dies soon after reaching the adult stage; ephemerid.

may hap (mā'hap'), Archaic. perhaps. adv.

may hem (mā'hēm), crime of intentionally maiming a person or injuring him so that he is less able to defend himself. n.

Maying (mā'ing), celebration of May Day; taking part in May festivities. n.

may n't (mā'ənt), may not.

may on naise (mā'ə nāz'), a salad dressing made of egg yolks, olive oil, vinegar or lemon juice, and seasoning, beaten together until thick. n.

may or (mā'ər), the chief official of a city or town. n.

may or al ty (mā'ər əl tē or mār'əl tē), 1. position of mayor. 2. mayor's term of office. n., pl. may or al ties.

May pole or may pole (mā'pōl'), a high pole decorated with flowers or ribbons, around which merry-makers dance on May Day. n.

May queen, girl crowned with flowers and honored as queen on May Day.

mayst (māst), Archaic. may. "Thou mayst" means "you may." v.

May time (mā'tīm'), month of May. n.

maze (māz), 1. network of paths through which it is hard to find one's way: A guide led us through a maze of caves. 2. state of confusion; muddled condition: He was in such a maze he couldn't speak. n.

ma zur ka or ma zour ka (mā zēr'kə or mā zūr'kə), 1. a lively Polish dance. 2. music for it. n.

maz y (māz'ē), like a maze; intricate. adj., maz i er, maz i est. —maz'i ness, n.

M.C., 1. Member of Congress. 2. Master of Ceremonies.

McClellan (mə klē'lən), George B., 1826-1885, Union general in the United States Civil War. n.

McCor mick (mə kōr'mik), Cyrus Hall, 1809-1884, American inventor of harvesting machinery. n.

McHen ry (mək hen'rē), Fort, a former American fort at the entrance to Baltimore harbor. n.

McKees port (mə kēz'pōrt), city in SW Pennsylvania, near Pittsburgh. 45,000. n.

McKin ley (mə kin'lē), 1. William, 1843-1901, the 25th president of the United States, from 1897 to 1901. 2. Mount, mountain in central Alaska, the highest peak in North America. 20,300 ft. n.

Md., mendelevium.

Md., Maryland.

M.D., Doctor of Medicine.

mdse., merchandise.

me (mē; unstressed mi), the objective, or accusative, case of I: The dog bit me. Give me a bandage. pron.

Me., Maine.

M.E., 1. Methodist Episcopal. 2. Mechanical Engineer.

mead (mēd), Poetic. meadow. n.

mead (mēd), an alcoholic drink made from fermented honey and water. n.

Mead (mēd), Lake, lake formed by Hoover Dam in the Colorado River, between Arizona and Nevada. 115 mi. long; 227 sq. mi. n.

Meade (mēd), George Gordon, 1815-1872, Union general in the United States Civil War. n.

meadow (med'ō), 1. piece of grassy land; field where hay is grown. 2. low, grassy land near a stream. n.

meadow lark, an American songbird about as big as a robin, with a black crescent on a yellow breast.

meadow sweet (med'ō swēt'), shrub of the same family as the rose, with dense clusters of small, fragrant pink or white flowers. n.

meadow y (med'ō ē), 1. like a meadow. 2. of meadows. adj.

meager or meagre (mē'gər),

1. poor; scanty: a meager meal. 2. thin; lean: a meager face. adj. —mea'ger ness, mea'gre ness, n.

meal (mēl), 1. breakfast, lunch, dinner, supper, or tea. 2. food served or eaten at one time. n.

meal (mēl), 1. ground grain, especially corn meal. 2. anything ground to a powder. n.

meal time (mēl'tīm'), the usual time for eating a meal. n.

meal y (mēl'ē), 1. like meal; dry and powdery: meal y potatoes. 2. of meal. 3. covered with meal: the miller's meal y hands. 4. pale. 5. meal y-mouthed. adj., meal i er, meal i est. —meal'i ness, n.

meal y-mouthed (mēl'ē mout'hd' or mēl'ē mout'h'), unwilling to tell the straight truth in plain words; using soft words insincerely. adj.

mean (mēn), 1. signify; import; denote: What does this word mean? 2. intend to express or indicate: "Keep out; that means you." 3. have as a purpose; have in mind; intend: I do not mean to go. v., meant, mean ing.

mean well by, have kindly feelings toward.

mean (mēn), 1. low in quality or grade; poor: "He is no mean scholar" means "he is a good scholar." 2. low in social position or rank; humble: A peasant is of mean birth; a king is of noble birth. 3. of little importance or value: the meanest flower. 4. of poor appearance; shabby: a mean house. 5. small-minded; ignoble: mean thoughts. 6. stingy: mean about money. 7. Informal. humiliated; ashamed: feel mean. 8. Informal. hard to manage; troublesome; bad-tempered: a mean horse. 9. Informal. in poor physical condition; unwell: I feel mean today. adj. —mean'ly, adv.

no mean, very good.

mean (mēn), 1. halfway between two extremes: Six is the mean number between three and nine. 2. intermediate in kind, quality, or degree. 3. condition, quality, or course of action halfway between two extremes: a happy mean between extravagance and stinginess. 4. in mathematics, quantity having a value intermediate between the values of other quantities, especially the average obtained by dividing the sum of several quantities by their number. 5. either the second or third term of a mathematical proportion of four terms. 6. See also means. 1, 2 adj., 3-6 n.

meander (mē an'dər), 1. follow a winding course: A brook meanders through the meadow. 2. a winding course. 3. wander aimlessly: We meandered through the park. 4. aimless wandering. 1, 3 v., 2, 4 n.

mean ing (mēn'ing), 1. what is meant or intended; significance: The meaning of the sentence is clear. 2. that means something; expressive: a meaning look. 1 n., 2 adj. —mean'ing ly, adv.

mean ing ful (mēn'ing fəl), full of meaning; having much meaning; significant. adj. —mean'ing ful ly, adv.

Meadow lark
(about 10 in. long)

mean ing less (mēn'ing lis), without meaning; not making sense; not significant. adj. —mean'ing-less ly, adv.

mean ness (mēn'nis), 1. being mean in grade or quality; poorness. 2. being selfish in small things; stinginess. 3. a mean act. n.

means (mēnz), 1. what a thing is done by; agency; method: by fair means. 2. wealth. n.pl. by all means, certainly; without fail.

by any means, at all; in any possible way; at any cost.

by means of, by the use of; through; with.

by no means, certainly not; not at all; under no circumstances.

means to an end, way of getting or doing something.

meant (ment), pt. and pp. of mean¹. He explained what he meant. That sign was meant as a warning. v.

mean time (mēn'tīm'), 1. time between. 2. in the time between. 3. at the same time. 1 n., 2, 3 adv.

mean while (mēn'hwīl'), meantime. n., adv.

meas les (mē'zls), 1. an infectious disease characterized by a bad cold, fever, and a breaking out of small red spots on the skin. 2. a similar but much less severe disease, called German measles. n.

meas sly (mē'zle), 1. of or like measles. 2. having measles. 3. Slang. scanty; meager. adj., meas sli er, meas sli est.

meas ur a ble (mez'hər ə bl or mǎ'zhər ə bl), capable of being measured. adj.

meas ur a bly (mez'hər ə blē or mǎ'zhər ə blē), to an amount or degree that can be measured; perceptibly. adv.

measure (mez'hər or mǎ'zhər), 1. find out the extent, size, quantity, capacity, etc., of (something); estimate by some standard: measure a room. 2. act or process of finding extent, size, quantity, capacity, etc., of something, especially by comparison with a standard. 3. size, dimensions, quantity, etc., thus ascertained: His waist measure is 30 inches. Short measure means less than it should be; full measure means all it should be. 4. be of a certain size or amount: This brick measures 2 x 4 x 8 inches. 5. instrument for measuring: a pint measure. 6. system of measuring: liquid measure, dry measure, square measure. 7. unit or standard of measuring. Inch, quart, pound, and hour are common measures. 8. any standard of comparison, estimation, or judgment. 9. get or take by measuring; mark off or out (in inches, feet, quarts, etc.): Measure off 2 yards of silk. Measure out a bushel of potatoes. 10. take measurements; find out sizes or amounts. 11. admit of measurement. 12. serve as a measure of. 13. compare: The soldier measured his strength with that of his enemy in a hand-to-hand fight. 14. adj.: measure one's behavior by the company one is in. 15. quantity or degree that should not be exceeded; reasonable limit: angry beyond measure. 16. quantity; degree; proportion: Sickness is in great measure preventable. 17. rhythm in poetry or music: the stately measures of blank verse. 18. a metrical unit; foot of poetry. 19. bar of music. 20. dance or dance movement. 21. course of action; procedure: take measures to relieve suffering. 22. a legislative enactment. 23. in mathematics, a quantity contained in another some number of times without remainder. 24. a definite quantity measured out: drink a measure. 25. Poetic. travel over; traverse. 1,4,9-14,25 v., measured, meas ur ing; 2,3,5-8,15-24 n. —meas'ur er, n. beyond measure, greatly; exceedingly.

in a measure, to some degree; partly.

measure one's length, fail, be thrown, or lie flat on the ground.

measure out, 1. distribute by measuring. 2. distribute carefully.

measure swords, 1. fight with swords. 2. take part in a duel, battle, debate, etc.

measure up, have the necessary qualifications.

take measures, do something; act.

take one's measure, judge one's character.

tread a measure, dance.

meas ured (mez'hərd or mǎ'zhərd), 1. regular; uniform: the measured march of soldiers. 2. rhythmical. 3. written in poetry, not in prose. 4. deliberate and restrained; not hasty or careless. adj.

meas ure less (mez'hər lis or mǎ'zhər lis), too great to be measured; unlimited; vast: the measureless ocean. adj.

meas ure ment (mez'hər mənt or mǎ'zhər mənt), 1. way of measuring; way of finding the size, quantity, or amount: Clocks give us a measurement of time. 2. act or fact of measuring: The measurement of length by a yardstick is easy. 3. size or amount found by measuring: The measurements of the room are 10 by 15 feet. 4. system of measuring or of measures. n.

measuring worm, larva of any geometrid moth. It moves by bringing the rear end of its body forward, forming a loop, and then advancing the front end.

Measuring worm (actual length) meat (mēt), 1. animal flesh used as food. Fish and poultry are not usually called meat. 2. food of any kind: meat and drink. 3. part that can be eaten: meat of a nut. 4. meal: Say grace before meat. 5. substance; food for thought. n. —meat'less, adj.

meat packing, the business of slaughtering animals and preparing their meat for transportation and sale.

meat y (mēt'ē), 1. of meat; having the flavor of meat. 2. like meat. 3. full of meat. 4. full of substance; giving food for thought:

The speech was very meaty; it contained many valuable ideas. adj., meat i er, meat i est.

Mec ca (mek'ə),

1. one of the two capitals of Saudi Arabia, in the W part. Because Mohammed was born there, Moslems turn toward Mecca when praying and go there on pilgrimages. 200,000. 2. place that many people visit. 3. place that a person longs to visit. 4. goal of one's desires or ambitions. n.

me chan ic (mə kan'ik), 1. worker skilled with tools. 2. worker who repairs machinery. n.

me chan i cal (mə kan'ə kl), 1. having to do with machinery: Mechanical problems are usually more interesting to boys than to girls. 2. made or worked by machinery. 3. like a machine; like that of a machine; automatic; without expression: Her reading is very mechanical. 4. of, having to do with, or in accordance with, the science of mechanics. adj.

mechanical drawing, drawing done with the help of rulers, scales, compasses, etc.

me chan i cal ly (mə kan'ik lē), 1. in a mechanical manner: He greeted us mechanically. 2. in mechanical respects: That new engine is mechanically perfect. 3. toward mechanics: Boys are more mechanically inclined than girls. adv.

mech a ni cian (mek'ə nish'ən), worker skilled in making and repairing machines. n.

me chan ics (mə kan'iks), 1. branch of physics dealing with the action of forces on bodies and with motion. Mechanics includes kinetics, statics, and kinematics. 2. knowledge dealing with machinery. 3. mechanical part; technique: the mechanics of playing the piano. n.

mech a nism (mek'ə niz əm), 1. means or way by which something is done; machinery: Father said something must be wrong with the mechanism of our refrigerator. 2. system of parts working together as the parts of a machine do: The bones and muscles are parts of the mechanism of the body. 3. mechanical part; technique. n.

mech a nist (mek'ə nist), mechanician. n.

mech a nist ic (mek'ə nis'tik), of or having to do with mechanism, mechanics, or mechanical theories. adj.

mech a nī za tion (mek'ə nē zā'shən), 1. a mechanizing. 2. being mechanized. n.

mech a nize (mek'ə niz), 1. make mechanical. 2. do by machinery, rather than by hand: Much housework can be mechanized. 3. replace men or animals by machinery in (a business, etc.). 4. equip (a military unit) with armored vehicles, tanks, and other machines. v.

mech a nized, mech a nizing.

med al (med'l), a flat piece of metal with a design or words stamped on it. Medals are intended to be worn or exhibited, and are often given to persons who have done something great. Sometimes medals are made to celebrate an important event. n.

med al ist (med'l ist), 1. person who designs or makes medals. 2. person who has won a medal. n.

med al lion (mə dai'lyən), 1. a large medal. 2. design, ornament, etc., shaped like a medal. A design on a book or a pattern in lace may be called a medallion. n.

Lace medallion

med dle (med'l), busy oneself with other people's things or affairs without being asked or needed: Don't meddle with my books or my toys. That busybody has been meddling in my business. v.

med dler (med'lər), person who interferes or meddles. n.

med dle some (med'l səm), fond of meddling in other people's affairs; meddling. adj.

Mede (mēd), native or inhabitant of Media. n.

Me de a (mī dē'ə), in Greek mythology, an enchantress who helped Jason get the Golden Fleece. n.

Me del lín (med'l ēn'; Spanish mā'thā yēn'), city in W Colombia. 546,000. n.

Med ford (med'fərd), city in E Massachusetts, near Boston. 65,000. n.

me di a (mē'dē ə), pl. of medium. Newspapers, magazines, billboards, and radio are important media for advertising. n.

Me di a (mē'dē ə), an ancient country in SW Asia, south of the Caspian Sea. n.

me di ae val (mē'dē ə'vl or mē'dē ə'vl), mediaeval. adj.

me di al (mē'dē əl), 1. in the middle. 2. average; ordinary. adj.

me di al ly (mē'dē əl ē), in the middle; in a medial position. adv.

me di an (mē'dē ən), 1. middle. 2. the middle number of a series: The median of 1,3,4,8,9 is 4. 3. measurement so chosen that half the numbers in the series are above it and half are below it: The median of 1,3,4,8,9, 10 is 6. 4. line or point in the middle. 1 adj., 2-4 n.

me di ate (mē'dē ət for 1-4; mē'dē it for 5,6), 1. be a go-between; act in order to bring about an agreement between persons or sides: The mayor tried to mediate between the bus company and its employees. 2. effect by intervening; settle by intervening. 3. be a connecting link between. 4. be the medium for effecting (a result), for conveying (a gift), or for communicating (knowledge). 5. connected, but not directly; connected through some other person or thing: A vassal's relation to his king was mediate through the lord on whose estate he lived. 6. intermediate. 1-4 v., me di at ed, me di at ing; 5,6 adj.

me di a tion (mē'dē ə'shən), a mediating; effecting an agreement; friendly interference. n.

me di a tor (mē'dē ə'tər), one who mediates: Mother acts as a mediator when John and Jim quarrel. n.

me di a to ry (mē'dē ə'tō'rē), mediating; having to do with mediation. adj.

med ic (med'ik), 1. physician. 2. Informal. medical student. n.

med i ca ble (med'ə kə bl), capable of being cured or relieved by medical treatment. adj.

med i cal (med'ə kl), of or having to do with the science or practice of medicine: medical advice, medical schools, medical treatment. adj. —med'i cal ly, adv.

me dic a ment (mə dik'ə mənt), substance used to cure or heal; medicine. n.

med i care (med'ə kār'), a government-sponsored program of medical care and hospital services for elderly people. n.

med i cate (med'ə kāt), 1. treat with medicine. 2. put medicine on or in. v., med i cat ed, med i cat ing.

med i ca tion (med'ə kā'shən), 1. treatment with medicine. 2. putting medicine on or in. n.

Med i ci (med'ə chē), a rich, famous, and powerful family of Florence, Italy, during the 15th and 16th centuries. n.

me dic i nal (mə dis'ə nl), having value as medicine; healing; helping; relieving. adj.

me dic i nal ly (mə dis'ə nl ē), as medicine. adv.

med i cine (med'ə sn), 1. substance, drug, or means used to cure disease or improve health. 2. science of curing disease or improving health; skill in healing; doctor's art; treatment of diseases. 3. magic power that savages believe certain men have over disease, evil spirits, and other things. n.

take one's medicine, do what one must; do something one dislikes to do.

medicine ball, a large, heavy leather ball tossed from one person to another for exercise.

medicine man, man believed by North American Indians and other primitive peoples to have magic power over diseases, evil spirits, and other things.

me di e val (mē'dē ə'vl or mē'dē ə'vl), 1. belonging to or having to do with the Middle Ages (the years from about 500 A.D. to about 1450 A.D.). 2. like that of the Middle Ages. adj. Also, mediaeval.

Me di na (mə dē'nə), city in W Saudi Arabia. Mohammed's tomb is there. 50,000. n.

me di o cre (mē'dē ə'kər or mē'dē ə'kər), neither good nor bad; average; ordinary. adj.

me di oc ri ty (mē'dē ə'krə tē), 1. mediocre quality. 2. mediocre ability or accomplishment. 3. a mediocre person. n., pl. me di oc ri ties.

med i tate (med'ə tāt), 1. think; reflect: Monks and nuns meditate on holy things for hours at a time. 2. think about; consider; plan; intend: Our general was meditating an attack. v., med i tat ed, med i tat ing.

med i ta tion (med'ə tā'shən), continued thought; reflection, especially on sacred or solemn subjects. n.

med i ta tive (med'ə tā'tiv), 1. fond of meditating. 2. expressing meditation. adj. —med'i ta tive ly, adv.

Med i ter ra ne an (med'ə tə rā'nē ən), 1. a large sea between Europe and Africa. 2330 mi. long; 1,145,000 sq. mi. 2. of this sea or the lands around it. 1 n., 2 adj.

me di um (mē'dē əm), 1. having a middle position; moderate: Eggs can be cooked hard, soft, or medium. Five feet eight inches is a medium height for a man. 2. that which is in the middle; neither one extreme nor the other; middle condition. 3. substance or agent through which anything acts; a means: Radio is a medium of communication. 4. substance in which something can live; environment: Water is the medium in which fish live. 5. liquid with which paints are mixed. 6. person through whom supposed messages from the world of spirits are sent. 1 adj., 2-6 n., pl. me di ums or me di a.

me di um-sized (mē'dē əm sīzd'), neither large nor small of its kind. adj.

med iar (med'lār), 1. fruit that looks like a small brown apple. It is eaten when partly decayed. 2. the small, bushy tree, of the same family as the rose, that it grows on. n.

med ley (med'lē), 1. mixture of things that ordinarily do not belong together. 2. piece of music made up of parts from other pieces. 3. made up of parts that are not alike; mixed. 1,2 n., pl. med leys; 3 adj.

me dul la (mi dul'ə), 1. medulla oblongata. 2. marrow of bones. 3. the inner substance of an organ or structure. 4. the pith of plants. n., pl. me dul lae (mi dul'ē).

me dul la ob lon ga ta (mi dul'ə ob'long gā'tə), the lowest part of the brain, at the top end of the spinal cord. See brain for diagram.

med ul lar y (med'ə ler'ē), of or like medulla or the medulla oblongata. adj.

Me du sa (mə dū'sə or mə dū'sā), in Greek legend, a horrible monster, one of the three Gorgons. She had snakes for hair, and anyone who looked upon her was turned to stone. n., pl. Me du sas.

me du sa (mə dū'sə or mə dū'sā), a jellyfish. n., pl. me du sas, me du sae (-sē).

meed (mēd), Poetic, what one deserves; reward. n.

meek (mēk), 1. patient; not easily angered; mild; forbearing. 2. submitting tamely when ordered about or injured by others; yielding: The boy was meek as a lamb when he was reprov'd. adj. —meek'ly, adv. —meek'ness, n.

meer schaum (mir'shām or mir'shōm), 1. a very soft, light stone used to make tobacco pipes. 2. a tobacco pipe made of this material. n.

meet¹ (mēt), 1. come face to face; come face to face with: Their cars met on the narrow road. 2. come together; come into contact or connection with: Sword met sword in battle. 3. join: where the two streets meet. 4. be united; join in harmony: His is a nature in which courage and caution meet. 5. come into company with; be together: The hosts met their guests at the restaurant. 6. keep an appointment with: Meet me at 1:00. 7. be introduced to; become acquainted: Have you met my sister? 8. be present at the arrival of: meet a boat. 9. satisfy: meet obligations, objections, etc. 10. pay: meet bills, debts, etc. 11. fight with; oppose; deal with. 12. fight. 13. face directly: He met her glance with a smile. 14. experience: He met open scorn before he won fame. 15. assemble: Congress will meet next month. 16. a meeting; a gathering: an athletic meet. 17. people at a meeting. 18. place of meeting. 1-15 v., met, meeting; 16-18 n.

meet the eye or the ear, be seen or heard.

meet with, have; get: The plan met with approval.

meet² (mēt), suitable; proper; fitting: It is meet that you should help your friends. adj.

meet ing (mēt'ing), 1. a coming together. 2. a coming together of a group of people to discuss or arrange business or action: The club held a meeting. 3. a coming together of people for worship. 4. place where things meet; junction. 5. duel. n.

meeting house, building used for worship; church.

meet ly (mēt'lē), suitably; properly. adv.

meg a cy cle (meg'ə sī'kl), a million cycles in radio. n.

meg a death (meg'ə deth), the death of one million persons. n.

meg a lith (meg'ə lith), stone of great size, especially in ancient constructive work or in monuments left by primitive people. n.

meg a lo ma ni a (meg'ə lō mā'nē ə), insanity marked by delusions of greatness, wealth, etc. n.

meg a lo ma ni ac (meg'ə lō mā'nē ak), person who has megalomania. n.

Megaliths

meg a phone (meg'ə fōn), a large, funnel-shaped horn used to increase the loudness of the voice or the distance at which it can be heard. n.

meg a ton (meg'ə tun), a measure of atomic power equivalent to the energy released by one million tons of high explosive, specifically TNT. n.

meg ohm (meg'ōm'), a million ohms. n.

Me kong (mā'kong'), river flowing from E Tibet through Indochina. 2600 mi. n.

mel an cho li a (mel'an kō'lē ə), a mental disorder characterized by great depression of spirits and gloomy fears. n.

mel an chol ic (mel'an kol'ik), 1. melancholy; gloomy. 2. suffering from melancholia. adj.

mel an chol y (mel'an kol'ē), 1. sadness; low spirits; tendency to be sad. 2. sad; gloomy. 3. causing sadness; depressing: a melancholy scene. 4. sober thoughtfulness; pensiveness. 5. soberly thoughtful; pensive. 1,4 n., pl. mel-ancholies; 2,3,5 adj.

Mel a ne sia (mel'ə-nē'zhə), group of islands in the Pacific, northeast of Australia. n.

Mel a ne si an (mel'ə-nē'zhən), 1. a member of any of the dark-skinned peoples living in Melanesia. 2. the languages of Melanesia. 3. of Melanesia or its people, or their languages. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

mé lange (mā lānz'h'), mixture; medley. n.

Mel ba toast (mel'bə), very thin, crisp toast.

Mel bourne (mel'bərn), seaport in SE Australia. 1,778,000. n.

meld (meld), 1. announce and show (cards for a score) in canasta, pinochle, etc. 2. act of melding. 3. cards which can be melded. 1 v., 2,3 n.

Mel e a ger (mel'ē ā'jər), in Greek legend, the hero who killed the Calydonian boar. He was one of the Argonauts. n.

me lee or mē lée (mā'lā or mel'ā), a confused fight; hand-to-hand fight among a number of fighters. n.

mel i nite (mel'ə nīt), a powerful explosive containing picric acid. n.

mel io rate (mēl'yə rāt), improve. v., mel io rat ed, mel io rating. —mel'io ra'tion, n.

mel io ra tive (mēl'yə rā'tiv), tending to improve. adj.

mel lif lu ence (mə lif'lū əns), sweet sound; smooth flow. n.

mel lif lu ent (mə lif'lū ənt), mellifluous. adj. —mel lif'lū ent ly, adv.

mel lif lu ous (mə lif'lū əs), sweetly or smoothly flowing: a mellifluous speech. adj. —mel lif'lū ous ly, adv.

mel low (mel'ō), 1. soft and full-flavored from ripeness; sweet and juicy: a mellow apple. 2. fully matured: mellow wine. 3. soft and rich: a violin with a mellow tone, a mellow light in a picture, a mellow color. 4. rich; loamy: mellow soil. 5. softened and made wise by age and experience. 6. make or become mellow: The apples mellowed after we picked them. 1-5 adj., 6 v. —mel'low ly, adv. —mel'low ness, n.

me lo de on (mə lō'dē ən), a small reed organ. n.

me lod ic (mə lod'ik), 1. having to do with melody. 2. melodious. adj. —me lod'i cal ly, adv.

me lo di ous (mə lō'dē əs), 1. sweet-sounding; pleasing to the ear; musical. 2. producing melody. adj. —me lo'di ous ly, adv. —me lo'di ous ness, n.

Cheer leader using a megaphone mel o dra ma (mel'ə drā'mə or mel'ə dram'ə), 1. a sensational drama with exaggerated appeal to the emotions and, usually, a happy ending: Shakespeare's play "The Merchant of Venice" is really a melodrama. 2. any sensational writing, speech, or action with exaggerated appeal to the emotions. n.

Melanesia

mel o dra mat ic (mel'ə drə mat'ik), of, like, or suitable for melodrama; sensational and exaggerated. adj. —mel'ə dra mat'ic ally, adv.

mel o dy (mel'ə dē), 1. sweet music; any sweet sound. 2. succession of single tones in music; tune. Music has melody, harmony, and rhythm. 3. the main tune in harmonized music; air. n., pl. mel o dies.

mel on (mel'ən), a large juicy fruit that grows on a vine. Watermelons, cantaloupes or muskmelons, and honeydew melons are different kinds. n.
cut a melon, Slang. divide extra profits.

Mel pom e ne (mel pom'ə nē), in Greek mythology, the Muse of tragedy. n.

melt (melt), 1. change from solid to liquid: Great heat melts iron. 2. dissolve: Sugar melts in water. 3. disappear or cause to disappear gradually: The clouds melted away, and the sun came out. 4. change very gradually: In the rainbow, the green melts into blue, the blue into violet. 5. soften: Pity melted her heart. v., melted, melted or mol ten, melt ing. —melt'er, n.

melting point, degree of temperature at which a solid substance melts.

melting pot, country or city thought of as a place in which various races or sorts of people are assimilated. America is often called a melting pot.

mel ton (melt'n), a smooth, heavy woolen cloth. Overcoats are often made of melton. n.

Mel ville (mel'vil), Herman, 1819-1891, American author of sea stories. n.

mem ber (mem'bər), 1. one belonging to a group: a member of Congress. 2. constituent part of a whole: a member of an equation. 3. part of a plant, animal, or human body; especially, a leg or arm. n.

mem ber ship (mem'bər ship), 1. fact or state of being a member. 2. members: The whole membership of the class was present. 3. number of members. n.

mem brane (mem'brān), 1. a thin, soft sheet or layer of animal tissue lining or covering some part of the body. 2. a similar layer of vegetable tissue. n.

mem bra nous (mem'brə nəs), 1. of or like membrane. 2. characterized by the formation of a membrane. In membranous croup, a membrane forms in the throat and hinders breathing. adj.

me men to (mə men'tō), thing serving as a reminder, warning, or remembrance: These post cards are mementos of our trip abroad. n., pl. me men tos or me men toes.

mem o (mem'ō), Informal. memorandum. n., pl. mem os.

mem oir (mem'wār), 1. biography. 2. report of a scientific or scholarly study. n.

mem oirs (mem'wārz), 1. record of facts and events written from personal knowledge or special information. 2. record of a person's own experiences; autobiography: The retired general wrote his memoirs. n.pl.

mem o ra bil i a (mem'ə rə bil'ē ə), things or events worth remembering. n.pl.

mem o ra ble (mem'ə rə bl), worth remembering; not to be forgotten; notable. adj. —mem'ə ra bly, adv.

mem o ran da (mem'ə ran'də), a pl. of memorandum. n.

mem o ran dum (mem'ə ran'dəm), 1. a short written statement for future use; note to aid one's memory: Mother made a memorandum of the groceries needed. 2. an informal letter, note, or report. n., pl. mem o ran dums or mem o ran da.

me mo ri al (mə mō'rē əl), 1. something that is a reminder of some event or person, such as a statue, an arch or column, a book, or a holiday. 2. helping people to remember: memorial services. 3. statement sent to a government or person in authority, usually giving facts and asking that some wrong be corrected. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

Memorial Day, U.S. day for honoring dead soldiers and sailors. In most States it falls on May 30.

me mo ri al ize (mə mō'rē əl iz), 1. preserve the memory of; commemorate. 2. submit a memorial to; petition. v., me mo ri al ized, me mo ri al izing.

mem o rize (mem'ə rīz), commit to memory; learn by heart: memorize the alphabet. v., mem o rized, mem o rizing. —mem'ə rī za'tion, n. —mem'ə rīz'er, n.

mem o ry (mem'ə rē), 1. ability to remember. 2. act of remembering: That vacation lives in her memory.

3. all that a person remembers. 4. person, thing, or event that is remembered: His mother died when he was small; she is only a memory to him now. 5. length of time during which the past is remembered: This has been the hottest summer within my memory. 6. reputation after death. 7. system of storing information in an electronic computer on magnetic tape, coded cards, etc. n., pl. mem o ries.

in memory of, to help in remembering; as a reminder of: I sent this card in memory of our summer together.

Mem phis (mem'fis), 1. city in SW Tennessee, on the Mississippi. 498,000. 2. city in ancient Egypt, near the mouth of the Nile. n.

mem sa hib (mem'sā'ib), in India, a native's term of respect for a European lady. n.

men (men), human beings; people in general. n.pl. of man.

men ace (men'is), 1. threat: In dry weather forest fires are a great menace. 2. threaten: Floods menaced the valley with destruction. 1 n., 2 v., men aced, men ac ing. —men'ac ing ly, adv.

mé nage or me nage (mā nāzh'), 1. a household; domestic establishment. 2. housekeeping; management of a household. n.

me nag er ie (mə naj'ər ē), 1. collection of wild animals kept in cages for exhibition. 2. place where such animals are kept. n.

mend (mend), 1. put in good condition again; make whole; repair: She mended the broken cup with cement. 2. set right; improve: He should mend his manners. 3. place that has been mended: The mend in your dress scarcely shows. 4. get back one's health: The child will soon mend if she has enough to eat. 5. a mending; improvement. 1,2,4 v., 3,5 n.

on the mend, 1. improving. 2. getting well.

men da cious (men dā'shəs), 1. lying; untruthful. 2. false; untrue. adj. —men da'cious ly, adv.

men dac i ty (men das'ə tē), 1. habit of telling lies; untruthfulness. 2. a lie. n., pl. men dac i ties.

Men del (men'dl), Gregor, 1822-1884, Austrian monk and biologist. His investigations of heredity laid the foundations for the science of genetics. n.

men de le vi um (men'də lā'vē əm), a rare, radioactive, artificial element, produced as a by-product of nuclear fission. Symbol: Mv or Md n.

Men de li an (men dē'lē ən), 1. of Mendel. 2. inherited in accordance with Mendel's laws. adj.

Mendel's laws, laws describing the inheritance of many characteristics in animals and plants.

Men dels sohn (men'dl sən or men'dl sōn), Felix, 1809-1847, German composer of music. n.

men di can cy (men'də kən sē), act of begging; state of being a beggar. n.

men di cant (men'də kənt), 1. begging: Mendicant friars ask alms for charity. 2. beggar: We were surrounded by mendicants asking for money. 3. a mendicant friar. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Men e la us (men'ə lā'əs), in Greek legend, a king of Sparta, husband of Helen, and brother of Agamemnon. n.

men folk (men'fōk'), 1. men. 2. the male members of a family or other group. n.pl.

men ha den (men hād'n), a sea fish common along the E coast of the United States, used for making oil and fertilizer. n., pl. men ha den.

me ni al (mə'nē əl), 1. belonging to or suited to a servant; low; mean: Cinderella had to do menial tasks.

2. servant who does the humblest and most unpleasant tasks. 1 adj., 2 n. —me'nially, adv.

me'nin'ges (mə'nin'jēz), the three membranes that surround the brain and spinal cord. n.pl. of me'ninx (mē'ningks).

men in gi'tis (men'in jī'tis), a very serious disease in which the membranes surrounding the brain or spinal cord are inflamed. n.

me'nis'cus (mə'nis'kəs), 1. the curved upper surface of a column of liquid. 2. lens that is convex on one side and concave on the other. See the picture below. 3. crescent; crescent-shaped body. n., pl. me'nis'cus es, me'nis'ci (-nis'ī).

Men non'ite (men'nən'it), member of a Christian church opposed to infant baptism, taking oaths, holding public office, and military service. The Mennonites wear very plain clothes. n.

Men she'vik (men'shə'vik), member of a Russian liberal political party opposed to the more radical Bolsheviks from 1903 to 1917. n., pl. Men she'viks, Men she'vi ki (men'shə vē'kē).

men stru'ate (men'strū'āt), have a discharge of blood from the uterus, normally at intervals of four weeks. v., men stru'ated, men stru'ating.

men stru'a'tion (men'strū ā'shən), act or period of menstruating. n.

men stru'um (men'strū'əm), liquid that dissolves solids; a solvent. n., pl. men stru'ums, men stru'a (-strū ə).

men su'ra bil'i ty (men'shə rə bil'ə tē), the property of being mensurable. n.

men su'ra ble (men'shə rə bl), measurable. adj.

men su'ra tion (men'shə rā'shən), 1. act, art, or process of measuring. 2. branch of mathematics that deals with finding lengths, areas, and volumes. n.

-ment, suffix forming nouns from verbs or the stems of verbs and meaning:

1. act or state or fact of —ing, as in enjoyment, management.
2. state or condition or fact of being —ed, as in amazement, astonishment.
3. product or result of —ing, as in pavement.
4. means or instrument for —ing, as in inducement.
5. two or more of these meanings, as in improvement, measurement, settlement.
6. other meanings, as in ailment, basement.

men tal (men'tl), 1. of the mind: a mental test, a mental disease. 2. for the mind; done by the mind: mental arithmetic. 3. having a mental disease or weakness. 4. for insane people. adj.

men tal'i ty (men tal'ə tē), mental capacity; mind: An idiot has a very low mentality. n., pl. men tal'i ties.

men tal ly (men'tl ē), 1. in the mind; with the mind. 2. with regard to the mind. adv.

mental reservation, an unexpressed qualification of a statement.

mental telepathy, extrasensory perception.

men thol (men'thol), a white, crystalline substance obtained from oil of peppermint, used in medicine. n.

men tho lat ed (men'thə lāt'ed), containing menthol. adj.

men tion (men'shən), 1. speak about; refer to: Do not mention the accident before the children. 2. a short statement (about); reference (to): There was mention of the school party in the newspaper. 1 v., 2 n.

make mention of, speak of; refer to: He made mention of a tiger he had shot.

not to mention, not even considering; besides.

Men tor (men'tər), in Greek legend, a faithful friend of Ulysses. He was the teacher and adviser of Ulysses' son Telemachus. n.

men tor (men'tər), a wise and trusted adviser. n.

men u (men'ū), 1. list of the food served at a meal; bill of fare. 2. the food served. n.

me ow (mē ou'), 1. sound made by a cat. 2. make this sound. 1 n., 2 v. Also, miao'ou, miaou.

Meph i stoph'e les (mef'ə stof'ə lēz), 1. the devil of the Faust legend. 2. a powerful evil spirit; crafty devil. n.

Meph is to phe li an (mef'is tə fē'lē ən), 1. like Mephistopheles; wicked and crafty; sardonic; scoffing. 2. of or having to do with Mephistopheles. adj.

me phit'ic (mi fit'ik), 1. having a nasty smell. 2. noxious; poisonous; pestilential. adj.

me phi'tis (mi fi'tis), 1. a foul or nasty smell. 2. a poisonous or nasty vapor arising from the earth. n.

mer can tile (mēr'kən til), of merchants or trade; commercial: a mercantile firm, mercantile law. adj.

mercantile system, mercantilism.

mer can til ism (mēr'kən til iz'əm), system which favored a balance of exports of commodities over imports, and regulated a nation's agriculture, industry, and trade with that end in view. n.

mer can til ist (mēr'kən til ist), person who favors mercantilism. n.

Mer ca tor (mēr kā'tər), 1512-1594, Flemish map maker. n.

Mercator's projection, method of drawing maps with straight instead of curved lines for latitude and longitude.

mer ce nar y (mēr'sə ner'ē), 1. working for money only; acting with money as the motive. 2. done for money or gain. 3. soldier serving for pay in a foreign army.

1, 2 adj., 3 n., pl. mer ce nar ies.

mer cer (mēr'sər), Brit. dealer in cloth. n.

mer cer ize (mēr'sər iz), treat (cotton thread or cloth) with a chemical solution that strengthens it and makes it hold dyes better. Mercerizing cotton gives it a silky luster. v., mer cer ized, mer cer iz ing.

mer chan dise (mēr'chən dīz or mēr'chən dīs), 1. goods for sale; wares; articles bought and sold. 2. buy and sell; trade. 1 n., 2 v., mer chan dis ed, mer chan dis ing. —mer'chan dis'er, n.

mer chant (mēr'chənt), 1. person who buys and sells: The business of some merchants is mostly with foreign countries. 2. storekeeper. 3. trading; having to do with trade: merchant ships. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

mer chant man (mēr'chənt mən), ship used in commerce. n., pl. mer chant men.

merchant marine, 1. ships used in commerce. 2. sailors who work on such ships, thought of as a group: John's brother is in the merchant marine.

merchant vessel, ship used in commerce.

mer ci ful (mēr'si fəl), having mercy; showing or feeling mercy; full of mercy. adj. —mer'ci ful ly, adv.

—mer'ci ful ness, n.

mer ci less (mēr'si lis), without mercy; having no mercy; showing no mercy. adj. —mer'ci less ly, adv.

—mer'ci less ness, n.

mer cu ri al (mər kyūr'ē əl), 1. sprightly; quick. 2. changeable; fickle. 3. caused by the use of mercury: mercurial poisoning. 4. containing mercury: a mercurial ointment. 5. drug containing mercury. 1-4 adj., 5 n.

—mer cu'ri al ly, adv.

mer cu ric (mər kyūr'ik), of compounds, containing mercury with a valence of two. adj.

Mer cu ro chrome (mər kyūr'ə krōm'), Trademark. a red liquid used as an antiseptic. n.

mer cu rous (mər kyūr'əs), of compounds, containing mercury with a valence of one. adj.

Meniscus of column of liquid: A, concave; B, convex.

Meniscus lens

Mercator's projection

mer cu ry (mēr'kyə rē), 1. a heavy, silver-white metallic element that is liquid at ordinary temperatures. Symbol: Hg 2. column of mercury in a thermometer or barometer. n., pl. mer cu ries.

Mer cu ry (mēr'kyə rē), 1. in Roman mythology, the messenger of the gods, the god of commerce, of skill of hands, quickness of wit, and eloquence. 2. planet nearest the sun. n.

mer cy (mēr'sē), 1. more kindness than justice requires; kindness beyond what can be claimed or expected: The guard showed mercy to the prisoners. 2. kindly treatment; pity. 3. something to be thankful for; blessing: We thank the Lord for all his mercies. n., pl. mer cies.

at the mercy of, in the power of.

mercy seat, 1. the gold covering on the Ark of the Covenant, regarded as the resting place of God. 2. throne of God.

mere¹ (mir), nothing else than; only; simple: The cut was the merest scratch. adj., superl. mer est.

mere² (mir), Poetic or Dialect. lake; pond. n.

Mer e dith (mēr'ə dith), George, 1828-1909, English novelist and poet. n.

mere ly (mir'lē), simply; only; and nothing more; and that is all. adv.

mer e tri cious (mēr'ə trish'əs), attractive in a showy way; alluring by false charms: A wooden building painted to look like marble is meretricious. adj. —mer' e tri' cious ly, adv. —mer' e tri' cious ness, n.

mer gan ser (mār gan'sər), any of several kinds of large ducks that have long, slender bills. The male has a crested head. n., pl. mer gan sers or (esp. collectively) mer gan ser.

merge (mērj), 1. swallow up; absorb; combine and absorb; combine: The steel trusts merged various small businesses. 2. become swallowed up or absorbed in something else: The twilight merges into darkness. v., merged, merging.

mer ger (mēr'jər), a merging; absorption; combination: One big company was formed by the merger of four small ones. n.

Mé ri da (mā'rē dā), city in south-eastern Mexico. 177,000. n.

me rid i an (mə rid'ē ən), 1. circle passing through any place on the earth's surface and through the North and South Poles. 2. the half of such a circle from pole to pole. All the places on the same meridian have the same longitude. 3. the highest point that the sun or a star reaches in the sky. 4. the highest point: The meridian of life is the prime of life. 5. highest; greatest. 1-4 n., 5 adj.

Me rid i an (mə rid'ē ən), city in eastern Mississippi. 49,000. n.

me rid i o nal (mə rid'ē ə nl), 1. southern; southerly; characteristic of the south or people living there, especially of southern France. 2. inhabitant of the south, especially the south of France. 3. of, having to do with, or resembling a meridian. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

me ringue (mə rang'), 1. mixture made of egg whites beaten stiff and sweetened with sugar. Meringue is often spread on pies, puddings, etc., and lightly browned in the oven. 2. a small cake, etc., made of this mixture. n.

me ri no (mə rē'nō),

1. kind of sheep with long, fine wool. 2. wool of this sheep. 3. a soft woolen yarn made from it. 4. a thin, soft woolen cloth made from this yarn or some substitute. 5. made of this wool, yarn, or cloth. 1-4 n., pl. me ri nos; 5 adj.

mer it (mēr'it), 1. goodness; worth; value. 2. thing that deserves praise or reward: Each child will get a mark according to the merit of his work. 3. deserve: A hard-working boy merits praise. 4. real fact or quality, whether good or bad: The judge will consider the case on its merits. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

mer i to rious (mēr'ə tō'rē əs), deserving reward or praise; having merit; worthy. adj. —mer'i to'ri ous ly, adv. —mer'i to'ri ous ness, n.

merle or merl (mèrl), Poetic. the common European blackbird. n.

Mer lin (mēr'lən), magician who helped King Arthur. n.

mer lon (mēr'lən), the solid part between two openings in a battlement. n.

mer maid (mēr'mād'),

1. maiden in fairy tales having the form of a fish from the waist down. 2. an expert woman swimmer. n.

mer man (mēr'man'),

1. man in fairy tales having the shape of a fish from the waist down. 2. an expert swimmer. n., pl. mer men.

mer ri ly (mēr'ə lē), in a merry manner; laughing and gay. adv.

Mer ri mac (mēr'ə mak), a United States frigate rebuilt with iron armor by the Confederates and renamed the Virginia. The Merrimac was the first armored warship. n.

Mer ri mack (mēr'ə mak), river flowing from central New Hampshire through NE Massachusetts into the Atlantic. 110 mi. n.

mer ri ment (mēr'ē mēnt), laughter and gaiety; fun; mirth; merry enjoyment. n.

mer ri ness (mēr'ē nis), being merry; laughter; fun. n.

mer ry (mēr'ē), 1. laughing and gay; full of fun. 2. gay; joyful: a merry holiday. 3. Archaic. pleasant; delightful. adj., mer ri er, mer ri est.

make merry, laugh and be gay; have fun.

mer ry-an drew (mēr'ē ən'drū), clown; buffoon. n.

mer ry-go-round (mēr'ē gō'round'), 1. set of animals and seats on a platform that goes round and round by machinery. 2. any whirl or rapid round: The holidays were a merry-go-round of parties. n.

mer ry mak er (mēr'ē māk'ər), person who is being merry; person engaged in merrymaking. n.

mer ry mak ing (mēr'ē māk'ing), 1. laughter and gaiety; fun. 2. gay festival; merry entertainment. 3. gay and full of fun; engaged in merrymaking. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

me sa (mā'sə), a small, high plateau with steep sides. n.

Me sa (mā'sə), city in central Arizona. 34,000. n.

mé sal li ance (mā zal'ē əns; French mā zā lyāns'), French. misalliance; marriage with a person of lower social position. n.

Me sa Verde (mā'sə vèrd'), a national park in SW Colorado. 80 sq. mi.

mes cal (mes kal'), 1. an alcoholic drink made from the fermented juice of an agave plant. 2. the plant itself. 3. a small cactus whose buttonlike tops are dried and chewed as a stimulant by the Indians. n.

mes dames (mā dām'), pl. of madame. n.

mes de moi selles (mād mwā zel'), pl. of made-moiselle. n.

me seems (mi sēmz'), Archaic. it seems to me. v., pl. me seemed.

mesh (mesh), 1. open space of a net or sieve: This net has half-inch meshes. 2. catch or be caught in a net.

Merle (about 10 in. long)

Meridians of longitude

Mesa

Merino (about 2 ft. high at the shoulder)

3. engage or become engaged. The teeth of a small gear mesh with the teeth of a larger one. See engage for picture. 1 n., 2, 3 v.
meshes, 1. network. 2. snares.
 in mesh, in gear; fitted together.

mes mer ic (mes mer'ik), hypnotic. adj.

mes mer ism (mes'mər iz əm), hypnotism. n.

mes mer ist (mes'mər ist), hypnotist. n.

mes mer ize (mes'mər iz), hypnotize. v., mes mer ized, mes mer iz ing. —mes'mər iz'er, n.

mes on (mes'on), a highly unstable heavy electron found in cosmic rays; particle having the same electric charge as an electron, but much greater mass. Theoretically, mesons exert nuclear forces of attraction. n.

Mes o po ta mi a (mes'ə pə tā'mēə), an ancient country in SW Asia, between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. n. —Mes'o po tā'mi an, adj., n.

mes o ton (mes'ə ton), meson. n.

mes o tron (mes'ə tron), meson. n.

mes quite (mes kēt'), a deep-rooted shrublike tree that often grows in dense clumps or thickets. It is found in SW United States and in Mexico. Cattle eat mesquite pods. n.

mess (mes), 1. a dirty or untidy mass or group of things; dirty or untidy condition: Look what a mess you have made of your dress, playing in that dirt. 2. make dirty or untidy. 3. confusion; difficulty. 4. make a failure of; confuse; spoil. 5. an unpleasant or unsuccessful affair or state of affairs. 6. group of people who take meals together regularly; especially, such a group in the army or navy. 7. meal of such a group: The officers are at mess now. 8. take one's meals (with). 9. portion of food; portion of soft food: He caught a mess of fish. 10. food that does not look or taste good. 1, 3, 5-7, 9, 10 n., 2, 4, 8 v.

mess about or mess around, be busy without really accomplishing anything; putter around.

mes sage (mes'ij), 1. words sent from one person to another. 2. an official speech or writing: the President's message to Congress. 3. inspired words: the message of a prophet. n.

mes sa line (mes'ə lēn'), a thin, soft silk cloth with a surface like satin. n.

mes sen ger (mes'ən jər), 1. person who carries a message or goes on an errand. 2. any animal or thing thought of as carrying a message: Each bullet was a messenger of death. 3. sign that something is coming; forerunner; herald: Dawn is the messenger of day. n.

mess hall, place where a group of people eat together regularly.

Mes si ah (mə sī'ə), 1. the expected deliverer of the Jewish people. 2. in Christian use, Jesus. 3. any savior. n.

Mes si an ic (mes'ē an'ik), 1. of the Messiah. 2. of a savior. adj.

mes sieurs (mes'ərz; French mā syœ'), pl. of monsieur. gentlemen. n.

Mes si na (mə sē'nə), 1. seaport in northeastern Sicily. 242,000. 2. Strait of, a narrow, dangerous strait between Italy and Sicily. 2½ to 12 mi. wide. n.

mess mate (mes'māt'), one of a group of people who eat together regularly. n.

Messrs. (mes'ərz), messieurs, used before names as the plural of Mr.: Messrs. Smith and Jones. n.

mess y (mes'ē), in a mess; like a mess; untidy; in disorder; dirty. adj., mess ier, mess iest. —mess'i-ness, n.

mes ti zo (mes tē'zō), person of mixed blood; especially, the child of a Spaniard and an American Indian. n., pl. mes ti zos or mes ti zoes.

met (met), pt. and pp. of meet. My father met us this morning at ten. We were met at the gate by our dog. v.

met a bol ic (met'ə bōl'ik), having to do with metabolism. adj.

me tab o lism (mə tab'ə liz əm), processes of building up food into living matter and using living matter until it is broken down into simpler substances or waste matter, giving off energy. n.

met a car pal (met'ə kār'pl), 1. of the metacarpus. 2. bone of the metacarpus. 1 adj., 2 n.

met a car pus (met'ə kār'pəs), 1. part of a hand between the wrist and the fingers. 2. part of a forefoot between the carpus and the phalanges. n., pl. met a car pi (-pī).

met al (met'l), 1. substance such as iron, gold, silver, copper, lead, tin, aluminum, steel, bronze, and brass. 2. made of metal. 3. any chemical element whose atoms tend to lend electrons, or any mixture of such elements. 4. broken stone, cinders, etc., used for roads and roadbeds. 5. the melted material that becomes glass or pottery. 6. material; substance: Cowards are not made of the same metal as heroes. 1, 3-6 n., 2 adj.

me tal lic (mə tal'ik), 1. of, containing, or consisting of metal. 2. like metal; characteristic of metal; that suggests metal: a metallic luster, a metallic voice. adj.

met al lif er ous (met'l if'er əs), containing or yielding metal: metalliferous rocks. adj.

met al lur gic (met'l ər'jik), metallurgical. adj.

met al lur gi cal (met'l ər'jə kl), of or having to do with metallurgy. adj.

met al lur gist (met'l ər'jist), person who is trained in metallurgy. n.

met al lur gy (met'l ər'jē), science or art of separating metals from their ores and refining them for use. n.

met al work (met'l wèrk'), 1. things made out of metal. 2. making things out of metal. n.

met al work er (met'l wèr'kər), person who makes things out of metal. n.

met al work ing (met'l wèr'king), act of making things out of metal. n.

met a mor phic (met'ə mōr'fik), characterized by change of form; having to do with change of form. adj.

met a mor phism (met'ə mōr'fiz əm), 1. change of form. 2. change in the structure of a rock caused by pressure, heat, etc. n.

met a mor phose (met'ə mōr'fōz), change in form; transform: The witch metamorphosed people into animals. v., met a mor phosed, met a mor phos ing.

met a mor pho sis (met'ə mōr'fə sis), 1. change of form. Tadpoles become frogs by metamorphosis; they lose their tails and grow legs. 2. the changed form. 3. a noticeable or complete change of character, appearance, or condition. n., pl. met a mor pho ses (-sēz).

met a phor (met'ə fər or met'ə fōr), an implied comparison between two different things; figure of speech in which a word or phrase that ordinarily means one thing is used of another thing in order to suggest a likeness between the two: "A copper sky" and "a heart of stone" are metaphors. n.

mix metaphors, confuse two or more metaphors in the same expression.

met a phor i cal (met'ə fōr'ə kl), using metaphors; figurative. adj. —met'a phor'i cal ly, adv.

met a phys i cal (met'ə fiz'ə kl), 1. of metaphysics; about the real nature of things. 2. highly abstract; hard to understand. adj. —met'a phys'i cal ly, adv.

Metamorphosis of a beetle. Between the egg and the adult it changes form three times.

metaphysician (met'ə fəzish'ən), person skilled in or familiar with metaphysics. n.

metaphysics (met'ə fiz'iks), branch of philosophy that tries to explain reality and knowledge; the philosophical study of the real nature of the universe. n.

metatarsal (met'ə tär'sl), 1. of the metatarsus. 2. bone of the metatarsus. 1 adj., 2 n.

metatarsus (met'ə tär'səs), 1. part of a foot between the ankle and the toes. 2. part (or bony part) of a hind foot between the tarsus and the phalanges. n., pl. metatarsi (-sī).

Metazoa (met'ə zō'ə), a large zoological division comprising all animals which are composed of more than one cell. n.pl.

mete (mēt), 1. give to each a share of; distribute; allot: The judges will mete out praise and blame. 2. Poetic measure. v., meted, meting.

metempsychosis (met'əm sī kō'sis), the passing of the soul at death into a new body. Some Oriental philosophies teach that by metempsychosis a person's soul lives again in an animal's body. n., pl. metempsychoses (-sēz).

meteor (mē'tē ə), mass of stone or metal that comes toward the earth from outer space with enormous speed; shooting star. Meteors become so hot from rushing through the air that they glow and often burn up. n.

meteoric (mē'tē ə'rik), 1. of meteors: a meteoric shower. 2. flashing like a meteor; brilliant and soon ended; swift: a man's meteoric rise to fame. 3. of the atmosphere: Wind and rain are meteoric phenomena. adj.

meteorite (mē'tē ə'it), mass of stone or metal that has fallen to the earth from outer space; a fallen meteor. n.

meteorologic (mē'tē ə ə'loj'ik), meteorological. adj.

meteorologic (mē'tē ə ə'loj'ə kl), having to do with the atmosphere and weather; having to do with meteorology. adj.

meteorologically (mē'tē ə ə'loj'ik lē), in meteorological respects; by meteorology; according to meteorology. adv.

meteorologist (mē'tē ə ə'loj'ist), person trained in meteorology. n.

meteorology (mē'tē ə ə'loj'ə jē), science of the atmosphere and weather. n.

meter¹ (mē'tər), 1. unit of length in the metric system; 39.37 inches. 2. any kind of poetic rhythm; the arrangement of beats or accents in a line of poetry: The meter of "Jack and Jill went up the hill" is not the meter of "One, two, buckle my shoe." 3. musical rhythm; the arrangement of beats in music: Three-fourths meter is waltz time. n. Also, esp. Brit. metre.

meter² (mē'tər), 1. device for measuring. 2. device for measuring and recording the amount of gas, water, electricity, etc., used. 3. measure with a meter. 1, 2 n., 3 v. Also, esp. Brit. metre.

methane (meth'än), a colorless, odorless, inflammable gas, the simplest of the hydrocarbons. Methane comes from marshes, petroleum wells, volcanoes, and coal mines. n.

me thinks (mi think's), Archaic. it seems to me. v., pl. me thought.

method (meth'əd), 1. way of doing something: a method of teaching music. Roasting is one method of cooking meat. 2. system in doing things; order in thinking: If you used more method, you wouldn't waste so much time. n.

method in one's madness, system and sense in apparent folly.

methodical (mə thod'ik), methodical. adj.

methodical (mə thod'ə kl), according to a method; systematic; orderly. adj. —methodically, adv. —methodicalness, n.

Methodism (meth'əd iz əm), doctrine, organization, and manner of worship of the Methodist Church. n.

Methodist (meth'əd ist), 1. member of a church that had its origin in the teachings and work of John Wesley. 2. of the Methodists or Methodism. 1 n., 2 adj.

methodize (meth'əd iz), reduce to a method; arrange with method. v., methodized, methodizing. me thought (mi thôt'), it seemed to me. v., pt. of methinks.

Methuselah (mə thū'sə lə), 1. in the Bible, a man said to have lived 969 years. Genesis 5:27. 2. a very old man. n.

methy alcohol (meth'əl), wood alcohol.

meticulous (mə tik'yə ləs), extremely or excessively careful about small details. adj. —meticulously, adv.

métier (mā tyā'), 1. trade; profession. 2. kind of work for which one has special ability. n.

metonymy (mə ton'ə mē), use of the name of one thing for that of another which it naturally suggests. Example: The pen (power of literature) is mightier than the sword (force). n.

metre (mē'tər), Esp. Brit. meter. n.

metric (met'rik), 1. of the meter or the system of measurement based on it. 2. metrical. adj.

metrical (met'rə kl), 1. of meter; having a regular arrangement of accents; written in verse, not in prose: a metrical translation of Homer. 2. of, having to do with, or used in, measurement. adj.

metrically (met'rik lē), in meter; according to meter. adv.

metric system, a decimal system of measurement that uses the meter (39.37 in.) as its unit of length. The gram (.0022046 pound) is the unit of mass or weight, and the liter (61.024 cubic inches or 1 cubic decimeter) is the unit of volume. A cubic centimeter of water weighs approximately one gram. The measures of length and weight are:

1 millimeter = 1/1000 meter	1 milligram = 1/1000 gram
1 centimeter = 1/100 meter	1 centigram = 1/100 gram
1 decimeter = 1/10 meter	1 decigram = 1/10 gram
1 decimeter = 10 meters	1 decagram = 10 grams
1 hectometer = 100 meters	1 hectogram = 100 grams
1 kilometer = 1000 meters	1 kilogram = 1000 grams metric ton, measure of weight, 1000 kilograms or 2204.62 avoirdupois pounds.

metronome (met'rə nōm), a clocklike device with a pendulum that can be adjusted to tick at different speeds. Children practicing piano lessons sometimes use a metronome to help them keep time. n.

metronomic (met'rə nōm'ik), of, having to do with, or like a metronome. adj.

metropolis (mə trop'is), 1. the most important city of a country or region: New York is the metropolis of the United States. 2. a large city; important center: Chicago is a busy metropolis. 3. the chief diocese of a church province. n.

metropolitan (met'rə pol'ə tn), 1. of a large city; belonging to large cities: metropolitan newspapers. 2. person who lives in a large city and knows its ways. 3. bishop who has authority over the bishops of a church province. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

Metternich (met'ər nik), Prince von, 1773-1859, Austrian diplomat and statesman. n.

mettle (met'l), disposition; spirit; courage. n.

on one's mettle, ready to do one's best.

mettlesome (met'l səm), full of mettle; spirited; courageous. adj.

Meuse (müz; French mœz), river flowing from NE France through Belgium and the Netherlands into the Rhine near its mouth. 575 mi. n.

Mev (mev), million electron volts. n.

mew¹ (mū), 1. sound made by a cat. 2. make this sound. 1 n., 2 v.

mew² (mū), a sea gull; gull. See gull for picture. n. mew³ (mū), 1. cage. 2. shut up in a cage; conceal; confine. 1 n., 2 v.

Metronome

mewl (mūl), cry like a baby; whimper. v.

mews (mūz), Esp. Brit. stables built around a court or alley. n.

Mex., 1. Mexico. 2. Mexican.

Mexican (mek'sə kən), 1. of Mexico or its people.

2. native or inhabitant of Mexico. 1 adj., 2 n.

Mexican War, war between the United States and Mexico from 1846 to 1848.

Mexico (mek'sə kō), 1. country in North America, just south of W United States. 34,625,000 pop.; 760,375 sq. mi. Capital: Mexico City. 2. Gulf of, gulf of the Atlantic, south of the United States and east of Mexico. 716,000 sq. mi. n.

Mexico City, capital of Mexico, in the southern part. 2,698,000.

mez za nine (mez'n-ēn), a story with a low ceiling, usually extending above just a part of the main floor to form a balcony. In a theater the lowest balcony is often called a mezzanine. In a hotel the upper part of the lobby is often surrounded by a mezzanine. n.

mez zo-so pran o (met'sō sə pran'ō), 1. voice between soprano and contralto. 2. singer having such a voice. n., pl. mez zo-so pran os.

mez zo tint (met'sō tint' or mez'ō tint'), 1. picture engraved on copper or steel by polishing and scraping away parts of a roughened surface. 2. this method of engraving. 3. engrave in mezzotint. 1,2 n., 3 v.

mfg., manufacturing.

Mg, magnesium.

mg., milligram; milligrams.

Mgr., 1. Manager. 2. Monseigneur. 3. Monsignor.

mī (mē), the third tone of the musical scale. See do for diagram. n.

mi., mile; miles.

Mi am i (mī am'ē), city in SE Florida, famous as a winter resort. 292,000. n.

mi aow or mi aou (mē ou'), meow. n., v.

mi as ma (mī az'mə), poisonous vapor rising from the earth and infecting the air. The miasma of swamps was formerly supposed to cause disease. n., pl. mi as-mas, mi as ma ta (-mə tə).

mi ca (mī'kə), mineral that divides into thin, partly transparent layers; isinglass. Mica is sometimes used where heat might break glass, as in electric fuses. n.

Mi cah (mī'kə), 1. a Hebrew prophet who lived in the eighth century B.C. 2. book of the Old Testament. n.

mice (mīs), pl. of mouse. n.

Mich., 1. Michigan. 2. Michaelmas.

Michael (mī'kl), Saint, the archangel who led the loyal angels in defeating the revolt of Lucifer. n.

Mich ael mas (mik'l məs), Esp. Brit. September 29, church festival in honor of the archangel Michael. n.

Mich el an ge lo (mī'kəl an'jə lō), 1475-1564, Italian sculptor, painter, architect, and poet. n.

Mich i gan (mish'ə gən), 1. a Middle Western State of the United States. 7,823,000 pop.; 58,216 sq. mi. Capital: Lansing. Abbrev.: Mich. 2. Lake, the one of the five Great Lakes entirely in the United States. 22,400 sq. mi. See Great Lakes for map. n.

mick le (mik'l), Archaic or Dialect. much. adj., adv., n.

mī crobe (mī'krōb), 1. a microscopic organism, usually one of vegetable nature; germ. 2. a bacterium, especially one causing disease. n.

mī cro bi ol o gy (mī'krō bī ol'ə jē), biology of microorganisms. n.

mī cro coc cus (mī'krō kok'əs), a spherical or egg-shaped bacterium. Certain micrococci cause disease; others produce fermentation. n., pl. mī cro coc ci (-kok'si).

Mezzanine in a theater

mī cro copy (mī'krō kop'ē), a copy made on microfilm. n., pl. mī cro cop ies.

mī cro cosm (mī'krō koz əm), 1. a little world; universe in miniature. 2. man thought of as a miniature representation of the universe. n.

mī cro far ad (mī'krō far'əd), unit of electrical capacity; one millionth of a farad. n.

mī cro film (mī'krō fīlm'), 1. film for making very small photographs of pages of a book, newspapers, records, etc., to preserve them in a very small space. 2. photograph on microfilm. 1 n., 2 v.

mī cro groove (mī'krō grūv'), a narrow groove used on long-playing phonograph records. n.

mī crom e ter (mī'krom'ə tər), instrument for measuring very small distances, angles, objects, etc. Certain kinds are used with a microscope or telescope. n.

micrometer caliper, caliper having a screw with a very fine thread, used for very accurate measurement.

mī cron (mī'kron), one millionth of a meter. Symbol: μ n., pl. mī crons, mī cra (mī'krə).

Micrometer caliper

Micronesia

Mi cro ne sia (mī'krō nē'zhə), group of small islands in the Pacific, east of the Philippines. n. —Mi'cro-ne'sian, adj., n.

mī cro ōr gan ism (mī'krō ōr'gən iz əm), animal or vegetable organism too small to be seen except with a microscope. Bacteria are microorganisms. n.

mī cro phone (mī'krə fōn), instrument for magnifying small sounds or for transmitting sounds. Microphones that are used in radio broadcasting change sound waves into variations of an electric current. n.

mī cro scope (mī'krə skōp), instrument with a lens or combination of lenses for magnifying objects so that one can see clearly things not visible to, or not clearly visible to, the naked eye. n.

mī cro scop ic (mī'krə skop'ik), 1. that cannot be seen without using a microscope; tiny. 2. like a microscope; suggesting a microscope: a microscopic eye for mistakes. 3. of a microscope; with a microscope: Jean made a microscopic examination of a fly's wing. adj.

mī cro scop i cal (mī'krə skop'ə-kl), microscopic. adj.

mī cro scop i cal ly (mī'krə skop'ik lē), 1. by the use of a microscope. 2. as if with a microscope; in great detail. adv.

mī cros co py (mī'kros'kə pē).

use of a microscope; microscopic investigation. n.

Microscope: 1, screws to adjust focus; 2, eyepiece; 3, objective; 4, platform to hold objects; 5, mirror. There are magnifying lenses in the eyepiece and objective. The mirror reflects light up through the platform, which has an opening in it or is made of glass.

micro wave (mī'krō wāv'), an electromagnetic wave, usually having a wave length of less than ten meters. n.

mid¹ (mid), in the middle of; middle. adj.

mid² or mid (mid), Poetic. amid. prep.

mid-, prefix meaning:

1. the middle point or part of.

2. of, in, or near the middle of.

Midas (mī'das), in Greek legend, a king whose touch turned everything to gold. n. —Mi'das like', adj.

mid brain (mid'brān'), the middle part of the brain. n.

mid chan nel (mid'chan'l), the middle part of a channel. n.

mid day (mid'dā'), 1. middle of the day; noon. 2. of midday. 1 n., 2 adj.

mid den (mid'n), 1. kitchen midden. 2. Dialect. dunghill; refuse heap. n.

mid dle (mid'l), 1. halfway between; in the center; at the same distance from either end or side: the middle house in the row. 2. point or part that is the same distance from each end or side or other limit; the central part: the middle of the road. 3. the middle part of a person's body; waist. 4. in between; medium: a man of middle size. 5. intermediate. 6. between old and modern: Middle English. 1,4-6 adj., 2,3 n.

middle age, time of life between youth and old age.

mid dle-aged (mid'l ājd'), between youth and old age. adj.

Middle Ages, period of European history between ancient and modern times, from about 500 A.D. to about 1450 A.D.

middle C, the musical note on the first added line below the treble staff and the first above the bass staff.

middle class, people between the aristocracy or the very wealthy and the working class.

middle ear, cavity between the eardrum and the inner ear; tympanum. In man it contains three bones: the malleus, incus, and stapes.

Middle East, region from the E Mediterranean to India. The term has no exact geographical limits, but is usually taken to include the Near East.

Middle English, 1. period in the development of the English language between Old English and Modern English, lasting from about 1100 to about 1500. 2. language of this period. Chaucer wrote in Middle English.

mid dle man (mid'l man'), trader or merchant who buys goods from the producer and sells them to a retailer or directly to the consumer. n., pl. mid dle men.

mid dle most (mid'l mōst), in the exact middle; nearest the middle; midmost. adj.

Mid dle sex (mid'l seks), county in SE England. n.

mid dle weight (mid'l wāt'), 1. one of average weight. 2. boxer or wrestler who weighs more than 147 pounds and less than 160 pounds. n.

Middle West, part of the United States west of the Appalachian Mountains, east of the Rocky Mountains, and north of the Ohio River and the southern boundaries of Missouri and Kansas. Also, Midwest.

Middle Western, of or having to do with the Middle West.

Middle Westerner, native or inhabitant of the Middle West.

mid dling (mid'ling), 1. medium in size, quality, grade, etc. 2. Informal or Dialect. moderately; fairly. 1 adj., 2 adv.

mid dlings (mid'lingz), 1. products of medium size, quality, grade, or price. 2. coarse particles of ground wheat mixed with bran. n.pl.

mid dy (mid'ē), 1. Informal. midshipman. 2. middy blouse. n., pl. mid dies.

middy blouse, a loose blouse like a sailor's.

Mid gard (mid'gärd), in Norse mythology, the earth. n.

mid ge (mij), 1. a kind of very small insect; gnat. 2. a very small person. n.

mid g et (mij'it), a very small person; dwarf. n.

Mi di (mē dē'), southern France. n.

mid i ron (mid'ī'ərn), a golf club with a steel or iron head having a face of medium slope. n.

mid land (mid'lənd), 1. the middle part of a country; the interior. 2. in or of the midland. 1 n., 2 adj.

Mid lands (mid'ləndz), the central part of England. n.pl.

mid most (mid'mōst), in the exact middle; nearest the middle. adj.

mid night (mid'nīt'), 1. twelve o'clock at night; the middle of the night. 2. of or like midnight. 1 n., 2 adj.

burn the midnight oil, study or work late at night.

midnight sun, sun seen at midnight in the arctic and antarctic regions during summer.

mid rib (mid'rib'), the central vein of a leaf. n.

mid riff (mid'rif), the muscular wall separating the chest cavity from the abdomen; diaphragm. n.

mid ship (mid'ship'), in or of the middle of a ship. adj.

mid ship man (mid'ship'mən), 1. student at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. 2. graduate of the British naval schools until he is made sublieutenant; officer of the same rank as such a graduate. 3. formerly, a boy or young man who assisted the officers of a ship. n., pl. mid ship men.

mid ships (mid'ships'), amidships. adv.

midst¹ (midst), middle. n.

in the midst of, in the middle of; among; surrounded by.

midst² or 'midst (midst), amidst; amid. prep.

mid stream (mid'strēm'), middle of a stream. n.

mid sum mer (mid'sum'ər), 1. middle of summer. 2. time around June 21. 3. in the middle of summer. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

mid-Vic to ri an (mid'vik tō'rē ən), 1. of the middle period of Queen Victoria's reign in Great Britain, or from about 1850 to 1890. 2. person who lived during this period. 3. like this period; old-fashioned; strict in morals. 4. person with mid-Victorian ideas and tastes. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

mid way (mid'wā'), 1. halfway; in the middle. 2. a middle way or course. 3. place for side shows and other amusements at a fair. 1 adv., adj., 2,3 n.

Midway Islands, group of small islands in the Pacific, belonging to the United States. They are about halfway between the United States and the Philippines. 437 pop.; 2 sq. mi.

mid week (mid'wēk'), 1. the middle of the week. 2. in the middle of the week. 1 n., 2 adj.

Mid week (mid'wēk'), Wednesday. It is so called by the Quakers. n.

Mid west (mid'west'), U.S. Middle West. n.

Mid west ern (mid'wes'tərn), Middle Western. adj.

Mid west ern er (mid'wes'tər nər), Middle Westerner. n.

mid wife (mid'wif'), woman who helps women in childbirth. n., pl. mid wives.

mid wife ry (mid'wif'ə rē), the helping of women in childbirth. n.

mid win ter (mid'win'tər), 1. middle of winter. 2. the time around December 21. 3. in the middle of winter. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

mid year (mid'yir'), happening in the middle of the year. adj.

midyears, Informal. midyear examinations.

mien (mēn), manner of holding the head and body; way of acting and looking: George Washington had the mien of a soldier. n.

miff (mif), Informal. 1. a peevish fit; petty quarrel. 2. be offended; have a petty quarrel. 1 n., 2 v.

MIG or Mig (mig), a Russian-designed jet fighter plane. n.

might¹ (mit), pt. of may. Mother said that we might play in the barn. He might have done it when you were not looking. v.

might (mīt), great power; strength: Work with all your might. n.

with might and main, with all one's strength.

mightily (mīt'ə lē), 1. in a mighty manner; powerfully; vigorously: Samson strove mightily and pulled the pillars down. 2. very much; greatly: We were mightily pleased at winning. adv.

mightiness (mīt'ē nis), power; strength. n.

mighty (mīt'ē), 1. showing strength or power; powerful; strong: a mighty ruler, mighty force. 2. very great: a mighty famine. 3. Informal. very. 1, 2 adj., mightier, mightiest; 3 adv.

miñon (min'yon), small and pretty; dainty. adj.

miñonette (min'yən et'), plant with long, pointed clusters of small, fragrant, greenish-white flowers. n.

miñgraine (mī'grān), a severe headache, usually on one side only. n. migrant (mī'grənt), 1. person, animal, bird, or plant that migrates. 2. migrating. 1 n., 2 adj.

migrate (mī'grāt), 1. move from one place to settle in another: Pioneers from New England migrated to all parts of the United States. 2. go from one region to another with the change in the seasons: Most birds migrate to warmer countries in the winter. v., migrat ed, migrat ing.

migration (mī grā'shən), 1. a migrating. 2. number of people or animals migrating together. n.

migratory (mī'grə tō'rē), 1. migrating; that migrates: migratory laborers, migratory birds. 2. of migration. 3. wandering: a migratory pain. adj.

mikado or Mikado (mə kă'dō), title of the emperor of Japan. The Japanese seldom use this title except in poetry. n., pl. mikados or Mikados.

mike (mik), Slang. microphone. n.

mil (mil), unit of length, .001 of an inch, used in measuring the diameter of wires. n.

milady or milady (mī lă'dē), Used by continental Europeans in speaking to or of an English lady. 1. my lady. 2. an English lady. n., pl. miladies.

Milan (mi lan'), city in N Italy. 1,385,000. n.

milch (milch), giving milk; kept for the milk it gives: a milch cow. adj.

mild (mild), 1. gentle; kind: a mild old gentleman. 2. warm; temperate; moderate; not harsh or severe: a mild climate, a mild winter. 3. soft or sweet to the senses; not sharp, sour, bitter, or strong in taste: mild cheese, a mild cigar. adj. —mild'ly, adv. —mild'ness, n.

mil dew (mil'dū or mil'dū), 1. kind of fungus that appears on plants or on paper, clothes, leather, etc., during damp weather. 2. cover or become covered with mildew. 1 n., 2 v.

mile (mil), unit of measure equal to 5280 feet (a statute mile). n.

mileage (mīl'ij), 1. miles covered or traveled: The mileage of our car last year was 10,000 miles. 2. length, extent, or distance in miles: The mileage of a railroad is its total number of miles of roadbed. 3. allowance for traveling expenses at so much a mile: Congressmen are given mileage between their homes and Washington, D.C. n.

mile post (mīl'pōst'), post set up to show the distance in miles to a certain place. n.

mile stone (mīl'stōn'), 1. stone set up to show the distance in miles to a certain place. 2. an important event: The invention of printing was a milestone in progress. n.

Miletus (mī lē'təs), an ancient ruined Greek city in W Asia Minor. n.

milfoil (mil'foil), yarrow, a plant. n.

milieu (mē lyce') surroundings; environment. n.

militaney (mil'ə tən sē), warlike behavior or tendency; militant spirit or policy. n.

militant (mil'ə tənt), 1. aggressive; fighting; warlike. 2. a militant person. 1 adj., 2 n. —militant'ly, adv.

militarism (mil'ə tər'iz'm), 1. policy of making military organization and power very strong. 2. military spirit and ideals. n.

militarist (mil'ə tər'ist), 1. person who believes in a very powerful military organization. 2. expert in warfare and military matters. n.

militaristic (mil'ə tər'is'tik), of or having to do with militarists or militarism. adj.

militarize (mil'ə tər'iz), 1. make the military organization of (a country) very powerful. 2. fill with military spirit and ideals. v., militarized, militarizing. —militarization, n.

military (mil'ə ter'ē), 1. of soldiers or war: military training, military history. 2. done by soldiers: military maneuvers. 3. fit for soldiers: military discipline. 4. suitable for war; warlike. 5. belonging to the army. 6. the army; soldiers. 1-5 adj., 6 n. —militarily, adv.

military police, soldiers that act as police for the army. Abbrev.: M.P. or M.P.

militate (mil'ə tāt), act; work; operate (against or in favor of): Bad weather militated against the success of the picnic. v., militat ed, militat ing.

militia (mə lish'ə), military force; army of citizens trained for war or any other emergency. Every State has a militia called the National Guard. n.

militiaman (mə lish'ə mən), soldier in the militia. n., pl. militiamen.

milk (milk), 1. the white liquid secreted by female mammals for the nourishment of their young, especially that from cows, which we drink and use in cooking. 2. any kind of liquid resembling this: the milk of a coconut. 3. draw milk from (a cow, goat, etc.). 4. yield or produce milk. 5. extract as if by milking; drain contents, strength, information, wealth, etc., from: The dishonest treasurer milked the club treasury. 6. draw juice, poison, etc., from: milk a snake. 1, 2 n., 3-6 v.

cry over spilt milk, waste sorrow or regret on what has happened and cannot be remedied.

milker (mil'kar), 1. person who milks. 2. machine that milks. 3. cow, goat, etc., that gives milk. n.

milking (mil'king), amount of milk obtained at one time. n.

milk leg, a painful swelling of the leg caused by clots in the veins.

milk maid (milk'mād'), 1. woman who milks cows. 2. woman who works in a dairy. n.

milk man (milk'man'), man who sells or delivers milk. n., pl. milk men.

milk of human kindness, natural sympathy and affection.

milk of magnesia, a milky white medicine in water, used as a laxative and to counteract acidity.

milk snake, a small, harmless, gray snake.

milk sop (milk'sop'), an unmanly fellow; coward. n.

milk sugar, lactose.

milk tooth, one of the first set of teeth; temporary tooth of a young child or animal.

milk weed (milk'wēd'), weed with white juice that looks like milk. n.

milk-white (milk'hwīt'), white as milk. adj.

milk y (mil'kē), 1. like milk; white as milk; whitish. 2. of milk; containing milk. 3. mild; weak; timid. adj., milkier, milkiest. —milkiness, n.

Milky Way, a broad band of faint light that stretches across the sky at night. It is made up of countless stars too far away to be seen separately without a telescope.

mill (mil), 1. a machine for grinding grain into flour or meal. 2. a building containing such a machine. 3. grind (grain) into flour or meal. 4. any machine for crushing or grinding: a coffee mill. 5. grind into powder

Milkweed
(2 to 3 ft.
high)

or pulp. 6. building where manufacturing is done: Cotton cloth is made in a cotton mill. 7. manufacture. 8. cut a series of fine notches or ridges on the edge of (a coin): A dime is milled. 9. move around in confusion: The frightened cattle began to mill. 1,2,4,6 n., 3,5,7-9 v. go through the mill, Informal. 1. get a thorough training or experience. 2. learn by hard or painful experience.

put through the mill, Informal. 1. test; examine; try out. 2. teach by hard or painful experience.

mill (mil), \$.001, or $\frac{1}{10}$ of a cent. Mills are used in figuring, but not as coins. n.

Mill (mil), John Stuart, 1806-1873, English economist and philosopher. n.

Mil lais (mil'ā), Sir John Everett, 1829-1896, English painter. n.

Mil lay (mə lā'), Edna St. Vincent, 1892-1950, American poet. n.

mill dam (mil'dam'), 1. dam built in a stream to supply water power for a mill. 2. pond made by such a dam. n.

mil len ni al (mə len'ē əl), 1. of a thousand years. 2. like that of a millennium; fit for the millennium. adj.

mil len ni um (mə len'ē əm), 1. period of a thousand years: The world is many millenniums old. 2. the period of a thousand years during which, according to the Bible, Christ is expected to reign on earth. Revelation 20:1-7. 3. a period of righteousness and happiness. n., pl. mil len ni ums, mil len ni a (mə len'ē ə).

mil le pede (mil'ə pēd), a small, wormlike arthropod that has two pairs of legs apiece for most of its segments. n. Also, millepede.

mill er (mil'ər), 1. one who owns or runs a mill, especially a flour mill. 2. moth whose wings look as if they were powdered with flour. n. Mill er (mil'ər), Joaquin, 1841-1913, American poet. n. mill er's-thumb (mil'ərz thumb'), a small freshwater fish with spiny fins. n.

mil les i mal (mə les'ə ml), 1. thousandth. 2. consisting of thousandth parts. 3. a thousandth part. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

mil let (mil'it), 1. a very small grain used for food in Asia and Africa. 2. the plant that it grows on. In the United States and Europe, millet is used for hay. n.

Mil let (mə lā'), Jean François, 1814-1875, French painter. n.

mil li am pere (mil'ē əm'pir), one thousandth of an ampere. n.

mill iard (mil'yərd), a thousand millions; 1,000,000,000. n.

mil li gram or mil li gramme (mil'ə gram), one thousandth of a gram, equal to .0154 of a grain, or about two millionths of a pound. n.

Mil li kan (mil'ə kən), Robert A., 1868-1953, American physicist. n.

mil li li ter or mil li li tre (mil'ə lē'tər), one thousandth of a liter, equal to 1.000027 cubic centimeters or .061 cubic inch. n.

mil li me ter or mil li me tre (mil'ə mē'tər), one thousandth of a meter, or .03937 inch. n.

mil li ner (mil'ə nər), person who makes, trims, or sells women's hats. n.

mil li ner y (mil'ə nər'ē), 1. women's hats. 2. business of making, trimming, or selling women's hats. n.

mill ing (mil'ing), 1. business of grinding grain in a mill. 2. manufacturing. 3. cutting notches or ridges on the edge of a coin. 4. such notches or ridges. n.

mil lion (mil'yən), 1. one thousand thousand; 1,000,000. 2. very large number; very many: Lulu can always think of a million reasons for not helping with the dishes. n., adj.

MILLDAM

Millepede
(about 1 in. long)

mil lion aire (mil'yən ār'), 1. person who has a million or more dollars, pounds, francs, etc. 2. a very wealthy person. n.

mil lion fold (mil'yən fōld'), a million times as much or as many. adv., adj.

mil lionth (mil'yənth), 1. last in a series of a million. 2. one of a million equal parts. adj., n.

mil li pede (mil'ə pēd), millepede. n.

mill pond (mil'pond'), pond supplying water to drive a mill wheel. n.

mill race (mil'rās'), 1. current of water that drives a mill wheel. 2. channel in which it flows to the mill. n.

mill stone (mil'stōn'), 1. either of a pair of round flat stones for grinding corn, wheat, etc. 2. a heavy burden. 3. anything that grinds or crushes. n.

mill stream (mil'strēm'), the stream in a millrace. n.

mill wheel, wheel that supplies power for a mill.

mill work (mil'wērk'), 1. doors, windows, moldings, and other things made in a planing mill. 2. work done in a mill. n.

mill wright (mil'rīt'), 1. person who designs, builds, or sets up mills or machinery for mills. 2. mechanic who sets up and takes care of the machinery in a factory, etc. n.

mi lord (mi lôrd'), Used by continental Europeans in speaking to or of an English lord or gentleman. 1. my lord. 2. an English gentleman. n.

mil que toast (milk'tōst'), an extremely timid person. n.

mil reis (mil'rās'), 1. a former Brazilian silver coin and monetary unit. 2. an old Portuguese gold coin, worth about $1.08. n., pl. mil reis.

milt (milt), 1. the sperm cells of male fishes with the milky fluid containing them. 2. the reproductive gland in male fishes. n.

Mil ti a des (mil tī'ə dēz), died 488? B.C., Athenian general who defeated the Persians at Marathon. n.

Mil ton (mil'tn), John, 1608-1674, English poet who wrote Paradise Lost. n.

Mil wau kee (mil wō'kē), city in SE Wisconsin, on Lake Michigan. 741,000. n.

mime (mim), 1. jester; clown. 2. imitate; mimic. 3. a coarse farce among the ancient Greeks and Romans, using funny actions and gestures. 4. actor in such a farce. 5. act in a mime; act without using words. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v., mimed, mim ing. —mim'er, n.

Mim e o graph (mim'ē ə graf'), Trademark. machine for making copies of written or typewritten material. n.

mim e o graph (mim'ē ə graf'), make (copies) with a Mimeograph. v.

mi met ic (mi met'ik), 1. imitative: mimetic gestures. 2. mimic or make-believe. 3. having to do with or exhibiting protective mimicry. adj.

mim ic (mim'ik), 1. make fun of by imitating. 2. person or thing that imitates. 3. copy closely; imitate: A parrot can mimic a person's voice. 4. resemble closely: Some insects mimic leaves. 5. not real, but imitated or pretended for some purpose: a mimic battle. 6. imitative. 1,3,4 v., mim icked, mim ick ing; 2 n., 5,6 adj.

mim ic ry (mim'ik rē), a mimicking. n., pl. mim-ic ries.

mi mo sa (mi mō'sə), tree, shrub, or plant growing in Women using millstones to grind cornButterfly that mimics dead leaves. Its shape, markings, and brown color make it look very much like the leaf at left.

tropical or warm regions, and usually having fernlike leaves, and heads or spikes of small flowers. The acacia and sensitive plant are mimosas. n.

min., 1. minute; minutes. 2. minimum.

mina (mī'nə), unit of weight and value used by the ancient Greeks, Egyptians, and others. n., pl. mi nae (mī'nē) or mi nas.

min a ret (mīn'ə ret'), a slender, high tower of a Moslem mosque with one or more projecting balconies, from which a crier calls the people to prayer. n.

mince (mins), 1. chop up into very small pieces. 2. meat cut up into very small pieces. 3. mince meat. 4. speak or do in an affectedly polite or elegant manner. 5. walk with little short steps. 1,4,5 v., minced, mincing; 2,3 n.

not to mince matters, to speak plainly and frankly.

mince meat (mins/mēt'), mixture of chopped meat, apples, suet, raisins, currants, spices, etc., used as a filling for pies. n.

mincing (mīn/sing), 1. too polite; too nice. 2. walking with little short steps. adj. —mincingly, adv.

mind (mind), 1. that which thinks, feels, and wills. 2. intellect: To learn arithmetic easily you must have a good mind. 3. person who has intelligence. 4. reason; sanity: be out of one's mind. 5. way of thinking and feeling: change one's mind. 6. desire, purpose, intention, or will. 7. remembrance or recollection; memory. 8. bear in mind; give heed to: Mind my words! 9. take notice; observe. 10. be careful concerning: Mind the step. 11. be careful. 12. look after; take care of; tend: Mind the baby. 13. obey: Mind your father and mother. 14. feel concern about; object to: mind parting from a friend. 15. feel concern; object. 16. Archaic or Dialect. remember. 17. Archaic or Dialect. remind. 1-7 n., 8-17 v.

be of one mind, agree.

call to mind, 1. recall. 2. remember.

have a mind to, intend to; think of favorably.

have half a mind, be somewhat inclined.

have in mind, 1. remember. 2. think of; consider. 3. intend; plan.

know one's mind, know what one really thinks, wishes, or intends.

make up one's mind, decide; resolve.

on one's mind, in one's thoughts; troubling one.

pass out of mind, be forgotten.

put in mind, remind.

set one's mind on, want very much.

speak one's mind, give one's frank opinion.

to one's mind, in one's opinion; to one's way of thinking.

Mindanao (mīn'də nā'ō), the second largest island in the Philippines. 2,703,000 pop.; 36,537 sq. mi. See Philippines for map. n.

mind ed (mīn'did), 1. having a certain kind of mind: high-minded, strong-minded. 2. inclined; disposed. adj.

mind ful (mīnd'fəl), 1. having in mind: Mindful of your advice, I went slowly. 2. taking thought; careful: We had to be mindful of every step we took on the slippery sidewalk. adj. —mind/ful ly, adv. —mind/ful ness, n.

mind less (mīnd'lis), 1. without intelligence; stupid. 2. not taking thought; careless. adj. —mind/less ly, adv.

Mindoro (mīn dô'rō), island in the central Philippines. 168,000 pop.; 3760 sq. mi. See Philippines for map. n.

mind reader, person who can guess the thoughts of others.

mine¹ (mīn), 1. belonging to me: This book is mine. 2. the one or ones belonging to me: Your shoes are black; mine are brown. 3. Archaic. my (used only before a vowel or h, or after a noun): mine eyes, mine heart, sister mine. 1,2 pron., 3 adj.

of mine, that belongs to me.

mine² (mīn), 1. a large hole or space dug in the earth to get out something valuable: a coal mine, a gold mine. 2. dig a mine; make a hole, space, passage, etc., below the earth. 3. dig into (the earth, a hill, etc.) for coal, ore, etc. 4. get (metal, etc.) from a mine. 5. rich or plentiful source: a mine of information. 6. an underground passage in which an explosive is placed to blow up the enemy's forts, etc. 7. dig in; make (passages, etc.) by digging. 8. container holding an explosive charge put under water, laid on the ground, or shallowly buried to blow up enemy forces. 9. put explosive mines in or under; lay explosive mines. 10. destroy secretly; ruin slowly; undermine. 1,5,6,8 n., 2-4,7,9,10 v., mined, min ing.

mine field, 1. area throughout which explosive mines have been laid. 2. pattern of mines in such an area.

min er (mīn'ər), 1. man who works in a mine. 2. soldier who digs an underground passage beneath the enemy's forts, etc., to lay mines that will blow them up. n.

min er al (mīn'ər əl), 1. substance obtained by mining. Coal is a mineral. 2. any substance that is neither plant nor animal. 3. of minerals. 4. like a mineral. 5. containing minerals: mineral water. 1,2 n., 3-5 adj.

min er al ize (mīn'ər əl'īz), 1. convert into mineral substance; transform (metal) into an ore. 2. impregnate or supply with mineral substances. 3. search for minerals. v., min er al ized, min er al iz ing. —min' er al i za'tion, n.

min er a log i cal (mīn'ər ə loj'ə kəl), of mineralogy. adj.

min er a log i cal ly (mīn'ər ə loj'ik lē), according to mineralogy; with reference to mineralogy. adv.

min er al o gist (mīn'ər əl'ə jist), person who is skilled in mineralogy. n.

min er al o gy (mīn'ər əl'ə jē), science of minerals. n.

mineral oil, 1. oil obtained from the earth. Kerosene is a mineral oil. 2. a colorless, odorless, tasteless oil obtained from petroleum, used as a laxative.

mineral water, water containing mineral salts or gases. People drink mineral waters for their health.

Minerva (mān'ər və), the Roman goddess of wisdom, the arts, and defensive war, identified with the Greek goddess Athena. n.

min e stro ne (mīn'ə strō'nē), a thick soup containing vegetables, vermicelli, etc. n.

mine sweeper, ship used for dragging a harbor, the sea, etc., to remove mines laid by an enemy.

Ming (ming), 1. the ruling Chinese dynasty from 1368 to 1644. 2. fine china made during this period. n.

min gle (mīng'gl), 1. mix: Two rivers that join mingle their waters. 2. associate: mingle with important people. v., min gled, min gling. —min'gler, n.

min i a ture (mīn'ē ə chūr or mīn'ē ə chər), 1. anything represented on a small scale: In the museum there is a miniature of the ship "Mayflower." 2. done or made on a very small scale; tiny: She had miniature furniture for her little doll house. 3. a very small painting, usually a portrait. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

in miniature, on a small scale; reduced in size.

miniature camera, camera using narrow film (35 mm. or less).

min i a tur ize (mīn'ē ə chər īz or mīn'ə chər īz), reduce to a very small size: miniaturized electronic devices. v., min i a tur ized, min i a tur iz ing.

min im (mīn'əm), 1. the smallest liquid measure, one sixtieth of a dram, or about a drop. 2. a very small amount. 3. something very small or insignificant. n.

min i ma (mīn'ə mə), a pl. of minimum. n.

min i mal (mīn'ə ml), least possible; very small; having to do with a minimum. adj.

Minaret

min i mize (min'ə mīz), 1. reduce to the least possible amount or degree: The polar explorers took every precaution to minimize the dangers of their trip. 2. state at the lowest possible estimate; make the least of: An ungrateful person minimizes the help others have given him. v., min i mized, min i miz ing. —min'i mi zə'tion, n. —min'i miz'er, n.

min i mum (min'ə məm), 1. the least possible amount; lowest amount: Eight hours' sleep is the minimum that children should have. 2. least possible: Twenty-one is the minimum age for voting. 3. lowest: minimum rate. 1 n., pl. min i mums or min i ma; 2,3 adj.

minimum wage, wage agreed upon or fixed by law as the lowest payable to certain employees.

min ing (min'ing), 1. working mines for ores, coal, etc. 2. business of digging coal or ores from mines. 3. laying explosive mines. n.

min ion (min'yən), 1. servant or follower willing to do whatever he is ordered. 2. Contemptuous. darling; favorite. n.

min is ter (min'is tər), 1. clergyman serving a church; spiritual guide; pastor. 2. act as a servant or nurse; be of service: She ministers to the sick man's wants. 3. be helpful; give aid; contribute. 4. person who is given charge of a department of the government: the Minister of War. 5. person sent to a foreign country to represent his own government: the United States Minister to Switzerland. 6. person or thing employed in carrying out (purpose, will, etc.): The storm which killed the murderer seemed the minister of God's vengeance. 7. Archaic. servant. 8. Archaic. furnish; supply. 1,4-7 n., 2,3,8 v.

min is te ri al (min'is tir'ē əl), 1. of a minister. 2. of the ministry. 3. suitable for a clergyman. 4. executive; administrative. 5. acting as an agent; subordinate; helping. adj. —min'is te'ri al ly, adv.

minister plenipotentiary, plenipotentiary. pl. ministers plenipotentiary.

min is trant (min'is trənt), 1. ministering. 2. one who ministers. 1 adj., 2 n.

min is tra tion (min'is trā'shən), 1. service as a minister of a church. 2. help; aid: give ministration to the poor. n.

min is try (min'is trē), 1. office, duties, or time of service of a minister. 2. ministers of a church. 3. ministers of a government. 4. in England and in Europe, a government department under a minister. 5. offices of such a department. 6. a ministering or serving. n., pl. min is tries.

min i ver (min'ə vər), fur or combination of furs formerly much used for lining and trimming garments. Miniver included spotted white and gray fur, white fur symmetrically adorned with bits of dark fur, plain white fur, and winter ermine. n.

mink (mingk), 1. a weasel-like mammal that lives in water part of the time. 2. its valuable brown fur. n. —mink'like', adj.

Mink (length, including the tail, about 2 ft.)

Minn., Minnesota.

Min ne ap o lis (min'ē əp'ə līs), city in SE Minnesota. 483,000. n.

Min ne so ta (min'ə sō'tə), a Middle Western State of the United States. 3,414,000 pop.; 84,068 sq. mi. Capital: St. Paul. Abbrev.: Minn. n. —Min'ne so'tan, adj., n.

min now (min'ō), 1. a very small fresh-water fish. 2. any very tiny fish. n.

Mi no an (mī nō'ən), of or having to do with the civilization of Crete from 3400 to 1200 B.C. adj.

mi nor (mī'nər), 1. smaller; lesser; less important: a minor fault, a minor poet. 2. person under the legal age of responsibility. You cannot vote while you are still a minor. 3. under legal age. 4. in music, less by a half step than the corresponding major interval. 5. noting a musical scale, mode, or key whose third tone is minor in relation to the fundamental tone. 6. U.S. subject or course of study to which a student gives much time and attention, but less than to his major subject. 1,3-5 adj., 2,6 n.

minor in, Informal. take as a minor subject of study.

Minor ca (mə nōr'kə), 1. one of the Balearic Islands in the W Mediterranean, belonging to Spain. 43,000 pop.; 271 sq. mi. 2. kind of fowl. n.

mi nor i ty (mə nōr'ə tē or mī nōr'ə tē), 1. smaller number or part; less than half: The minority must often do what the majority decides to do. 2. condition or time of being under the legal age of responsibility. n., pl. mi nor i ties.

minor league, U.S. any professional sports league or association, especially in baseball, other than the major leagues.

minor scale, a musical scale having eight notes with half steps instead of whole steps after the 2nd and 5th notes.

Mi nos (mī'nəs), in Greek legend: 1. a king and law-giver of Crete who became a judge in Hades. 2. his grandson, who built the Labyrinth at Crete and kept the Minotaur in it. n.

Mi not (mī'nət), city in N North Dakota. 31,000. n.

Min o taur (min'ə tōr), in Greek legend, a monster with a bull's head and a man's body, kept in the Labyrinth at Crete and fed with human flesh. Theseus killed the Minotaur. n.

Minsk (mīnsk), city in W Soviet Union, capital of Byelorussia. 509,000. n.

min ster (min'stər), Esp. Brit. 1. church of a monastery. 2. a large or important church; cathedral. n.

min strel (min'strəl), 1. singer or musician in the household of a lord in the Middle Ages. 2. singer or musician who went about and sang or recited poems, often of his own making. 3. member of a company of actors, usually white men made up as Negroes, giving songs, music, and jokes supposed to have come from the Negroes. n.

min strel sy (min'strəl sē), 1. art or practice of a minstrel. 2. collection of songs and ballads. 3. company of minstrels. n., pl. min strel sies.

mint (mint), 1. a sweet-smelling plant used for flavoring. Peppermint and spearmint are kinds of mint. 2. piece of candy flavored with mint. n.

mint (mint), 1. place where money is coined by public authority. 2. coin (money). 3. a large amount: A million dollars is a mint of money. 4. place where anything is made or fabricated. 5. make or fabricate; originate. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v.

mint age (min'tij), 1. a minting; coinage. 2. product of minting; output of a mint. 3. charge for coining; cost of coining. 4. stamp or character impressed. n.

min u end (min'yū end), number or quantity from which another is to be subtracted: In 100 - 23 = 77, the minuend is 100. n.

min u et (min'yū et'), 1. a slow, stately dance. 2. music for it. n.

mi nus (mī'nəs), 1. less; decreased by: 5 minus 2 leaves 3. 2. Informal. lacking: a book minus its cover. 3. less than: A mark of B minus is not so high as B. 4. sign (—) meaning that the quantity following it is to be subtracted. 5. showing subtraction: The minus sign is —. 6. less than zero: If you have no money, and owe someone 3 cents, you have -3¢. 1,2 prep., 3,5,6 adj., 4 n.

min ute (min'it), 1. sixty seconds; one sixtieth of an hour. 2. a short time; instant: I'll be there in a minute. 3. point of time: Come here this minute. 4. one sixtieth of a degree. 10°10' means ten degrees and ten minutes. n.

minutes, written summary; official record of proceedings of a society, board, committee, etc.

up to the minute, up-to-date.

Couple dancing the minuet mi nute (mī nūt' or mī nūt'), 1. very small. 2. going into or concerned with very small details: a minute observer, minute instructions. adj.

min ute hand (min'it), hand on a clock or watch that indicates minutes. It moves around the whole dial once in an hour.

mi nute ly (mī nūt'lē or mī nūt'lē), in minute manner, form, degree, or detail. adv.

min ute man (min'it man'), member of the American militia just before and during the Revolution, who were ready for military service at very short notice. n., pl. min ute men.

mi nute ness (mī nūt'nīs or mī nūt'nīs), 1. extreme smallness. 2. attention to very small details. n.

mi nu ti ae (mī nū'shī ē or mī nū'shī ē), very small matters; trifling details. n.pl.

minx (mingks), a pert girl. n.

Mir a beau (mir'ə bō), 1749-1791, French statesman and orator. n.

mir a cle (mir'ə kl), 1. a wonderful happening that is contrary to or independent of the known laws of nature: It would be a miracle if the sun should stand still in the heavens for an hour. 2. something marvelous; a wonder. 3. a remarkable example: A mother must be a miracle of patience to answer all the questions that children ask. 4. miracle play. n.

miracle play, play based on Bible stories or on legends of the saints, produced during the Middle Ages.

mi rac u lous (mā rak'yə ləs), 1. contrary to or independent of the known laws of nature. 2. wonderful; marvelous. adj. —mi rac'u lous ly, adv. —mi rac'u lous ness, n.

mi rage (mā rāzh'), 1. a misleading appearance, usually in the desert or at sea, resulting from a reflection of some distant scene in such a way as to give the impression that it is near. Often the objects reflected are inverted. Travelers on the desert may see a mirage of palm trees and water. 2. illusion; thing that does not exist. n.

mire (mir), 1. soft, deep mud; slush. 2. bog; swamp. 3. get stuck in mire: He mired his horses and had to go for help. 4. stick in mire. 5. soil with mud or mire. 6. involve in difficulties. 1,2 n., 3-6 v., mired, miring.

mirk (mērk), murk. n.

mir ror (mir'ər), 1. a looking glass; surface that reflects light. 2. reflect as a mirror does: The still water mirrored the trees along the bank. 3. whatever reflects or gives a true description: This book is a mirror of Washington's life. 4. model; example: That knight was a mirror of chivalry. 1,3,4 n., 2 v. —mir'ror like, adj.

mirth (mērth), merry fun; being joyous or gay; laughter. n.

mirth ful (mērth'fəl), merry; gay; laughing. adj. —mirth/ful ly, adv. —mirth/ful ness, n.

mirth less (mērth'lis), without mirth; joyless; gloomy. adj. —mirth/less ly, adv. —mirth/less ness, n.

mir y (mīr'ē), 1. muddy; swampy. 2. dirty; filthy. adj., mirier, mīr'iest. —mīr'i ness, n.

mis-, prefix meaning:

1. bad, as in misgovernment.

2. badly, as in misbehave, mismanage.

3. wrong, as in mispronunciation.

4. wrongly, as in misapply, misunderstand.

mis ad ven ture (mis'əd ven'chər), an unfortunate accident; bad luck; mishap. n.

mis al li ance (mis'ə lī'əns), an unsuitable alliance or association, especially in marriage. n.

mis an thro pe (mis'ən thrōp), hater of mankind; person who dislikes or distrusts human beings. n.

mis an thro pic (mis'ən thrōp'ik), of or like a misanthrope. adj.

mis an thro pist (mis'an thrə pist), misanthrope. n.

mis an thro py (mis'an thrə pē), hatred, dislike, or distrust of human beings. n.

mis ap pli ca tion (mis'ap lə kā'shən), wrong application; misapplying or being misapplied. n.

mis ap plied (mis'ə plīd'), put to a wrong use; applied wrongly. adj.

mis ap ply (mis'ə plī'), apply wrongly; make a wrong application or use of. v., mis ap plied, mis ap ply ing.

mis ap pre hend (mis'ap ri hend'), misunderstand. v.

mis ap pre hen sion (mis'ap ri hen'shən), a misunderstanding; wrong idea. n.

mis ap pro pri ate (mis'ə prō'prē āt), 1. put to a wrong use. 2. use dishonestly as one's own: The treasurer had misappropriated the club funds. v., mis ap propri ated, mis ap pro pri at ing.

mis ap pro pri a tion (mis'ə prō'prē ā'shən), 1. dishonest use as one's own. 2. any act of putting to a wrong use. n.

mis be came (mis'bi kām'), pt. of misbecome. v.

mis be come (mis'bi kum'), be unbecoming to. v., mis be came, mis be come, mis be com ing.

mis be got ten (mis'bi got'n), begotten unlawfully; illegitimate. adj.

mis be have (mis'bi hāv'), behave badly. v., mis be haved, mis be hav ing.

mis be hav ior (mis'bi hāv'yər), bad behavior. n.

mis be lief (mis'bi lēf'), a wrong or erroneous belief. n.

misc., 1. miscellaneous. 2. miscellany.

mis cal cu late (mis kal'kyə lāt), calculate wrongly. v., mis cal cu lat ed, mis cal cu lat ing. —mis'cal cu la'tion, n.

mis call (mis kōl'), call by a wrong name. v.

mis car riage (mis kar'ij), 1. failure: Because the judge was unfair, that trial resulted in a miscarriage of justice. 2. failure to arrive: the miscarriage of a letter. 3. birth of a baby before it is able to live. n.

mis car ry (mis kar'ē), 1. go wrong: John's plans miscarried, and he could not come. 2. fail to arrive. 3. have a miscarriage. v., mis car ried, mis car ry ing.

mis ce ge na tion (mis'ə jə nā'shən), an interbreeding between different races. n.

mis cel la ne ous (mis'l ā'nē əs), 1. not all of one kind or nature: He had a miscellaneous collection of stones, butterflies, marbles, stamps, birds' nests, and many other things. 2. many-sided: a miscellaneous writer. adj. —mis'cel la'ne ous ly, adv. —mis'cel la'ne ous ness, n.

mis cel la nies (mis'l ā'nēz), collection of miscellaneous articles in one book. n.pl.

mis cel la ny (mis'l ā'nē), a miscellaneous collection; mixture. n., pl. mis cel la nies.

mis chance (mis chans'), misfortune; bad luck: By some mischance he didn't receive my telegram. n.

mis chief (mis'chif), 1. injury, usually done by some person; harm: Go away, or I'll do you a mischief. 2. conduct that causes harm or trouble, often without meaning it: A child's mischief may cause a serious fire. 3. one who does harm, often just in fun: You little mischief! you have untied my apron. 4. merry teasing: Her eyes were full of mischief. n.

mis chie vous (mis'chə vəs), 1. harmful: a mischievous belief. 2. full of mischief; naughty. 3. full of pranks and teasing fun: mischievous children. adj. —mis'chie vous ly, adv. —mis'chie vous ness, n.

mis ci ble (mis'ə bl), capable of being mixed. adj.

mis con ceive (mis'kən sēv'), have wrong ideas about; misunderstand. v., mis con ceived, mis con ceiv ing.

mis con cep tion (mis'kən sep'shən), a mistaken idea or notion; wrong conception. n.

mis con duct (mis kon'dukt for 1, 3; mis'kən dukt' for 2, 4), 1. bad behavior. 2. behave badly. 3. bad management: Misconduct of the business resulted in a loss. 4. manage badly. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

mis construction (mis'kən struk'shən), mistaken meaning; misunderstanding: What you said was open to misconstruction. n.

mis construe (mis'kən strü'), take in a wrong sense; misunderstand: Ethel's shyness was sometimes misconstrued as rudeness. v. mis con strued, mis con stru ing.

mis count (mis kount' for 1; mis'kount for 2), 1. count wrongly. 2. a wrong count. 1 v., 2 n.

mis cre ant (mis'krē ant), 1. having very bad morals; base. 2. villain. 3. Archaic. unbeliever; heretic. 4. Archaic. unbelieving; heretical. 1,4 adj., 2,3 n.

mis cue (mis kû'), 1. a bad stroke in billiards that does not hit the ball squarely. 2. make a miscue. 3. miss one's cue; respond to a wrong cue. 1 n., 2,3 v., mis cued, mis cu ing.

mis date (mis dāt'), 1. date wrongly; assign or affix a wrong date to. 2. a wrong date. 1 v., mis dat ed, mis dat ing; 2 n.

mis deal (mis dēl' for 1; mis'dēl' for 2), 1. deal wrongly at cards. 2. a wrong deal. 1 v., mis dealt, mis deal ing; 2 n.

mis dealt (mis delt'), pt. and pp. of misdeal. v.

mis deed (mis dēd'), a bad act; wicked deed. n.

mis de mean or (mis'di mēn'ər), 1. a breaking of the law, not so serious as a felony. Disturbing the peace and breaking traffic laws are misdemeanors. 2. a wrong deed. 3. bad behavior. n.

mis did (mis did'), pt. of misdo. v.

mis di rect (mis'də rekt'), direct wrongly. v.

mis di rec tion (mis'də rek'shən), a wrong direction. n.

mis do (mis dü'), do wrongly. v., mis did, mis done, mis do ing. —mis do'er, n.

mis do ing (mis dü'ing), wrongdoing. n.

mis done (mis dun'), pp. of misdo. v.

mis doubt (mis dout'), Archaic. 1. have doubts about; suspect; distrust. 2. suspicion; distrust; doubt. 3. fear. 1,3 v., 2 n.

mis em ploy (mis'em ploi'), use wrongly or improperly. v. —mis'em ploy'ment, n.

mis er (mī'zər), person who loves money for its own sake; one who lives poorly in order to save money and keep it. A miser dislikes to spend money for anything, except to gain more money. n.

mis er a ble (miz'ər ə bl), 1. unhappy: A sick child is often miserable. 2. causing trouble or unhappiness: a miserable cold. 3. poor; mean; wretched: They live in miserable surroundings. adj. —mis'er a ble ness, n. —mis'er a bly, adv.

Mis e re re (miz'ə rār'ē), 1. the 51st Psalm. 2. music for it. n.

mis er ly (mī'zər lē), of, like, or suited to a miser; stingy. adj. —mis'er li ness, n.

mis er y (miz'ər ē), 1. a miserable, unhappy state of mind: Think of the misery of having no home or friends. 2. poor, mean, miserable circumstances: the misery of poverty. n., pl. mis er ies.

mis fea sance (mis fē'zns), 1. the wrongful performance of a lawful act; wrongful and injurious exercise of lawful authority. 2. any wrong done. n.

mis fire (mis fir'), 1. fail to be fired or exploded properly. 2. instance of misfiring. 1 v., mis fired, mis fir ing; 2 n.

mis fit (mis'fit' for 1,3; mis fit' for 2), 1. a bad fit. 2. fit badly. 3. a maladjusted individual. 1,3 n., 2 v., mis fit ted, mis fit ting.

mis for tune (mis fōr'chən), 1. bad luck: She had the misfortune to break her arm. 2. piece of bad luck; unlucky accident. n.

mis give (mis giv'), cause to feel doubt, suspicion, or anxiety. v., mis gave, mis giv en, mis giv ing.

mis giv en (mis giv'en), pp. of misgive. v.

mis giv ing (mis giv'ing), a feeling of doubt, suspicion, or anxiety: We started off through the storm with some misgivings. n.

mis gov ern (mis guv'ərən), govern or manage badly. v. —mis gov'ern ment, n.

mis guid ance (mis gīd'ns), bad or wrong guidance. n.

mis guide (mis gīd'), lead into mistakes or wrongdoing; mislead. v., mis guid ed, mis guid ing.

mis guid ed (mis gīd'id), misled; led into mistakes or wrongdoing: The misguided boy joined a gang of thieves. adj.

mis han dle (mis han'dl), handle badly; maltreat. v., mis han dled, mis han dling.

mis hap (mis'hap), an unlucky accident. n.

Mish na or Mish nah (mish'nə), collection of the interpretations and discussions of the law of Moses by the Jewish rabbis, completed in 200 A.D.; oral law of the Hebrews. The Mishna is a part of the Talmud. n.

mis in form (mis'in fōrm'), give wrong or misleading information to. v.

mis in for ma tion (mis'in fər mā'shən), wrong, inaccurate, or misleading information. n.

mis in ter pret (mis'in tēr'prit), interpret wrongly; explain wrongly; misunderstand. v.

mis in ter pre ta tion (mis'in tēr'prə tā'shən), wrong interpretation; wrong explanation; misunderstanding. n.

mis judge (mis juj'), judge wrongly or unjustly. v., mis judged, mis judg ing.

mis judg ment or mis judge ment (mis juj'mənt), wrong or unjust judgment. n.

mis laid (mis lād'), pt. and pp. of mislay. The boy mislaid my books. I have mislaid my pen. v.

mis lay (mis lā'), 1. put in the wrong place. 2. put in a place and then forget where it is. v., mis laid, mis lay ing.

mis lead (mis lēd'), 1. lead astray; cause to go in the wrong direction: Our guide misled us in the woods, and we got lost. 2. cause to do wrong; lead into wrongdoing: He is a good boy, but bad companions misled him. 3. lead to think what is not so; deceive: Sometimes advertisements are so exaggerated that they mislead people. v., mis led, mis lead ing. —mis lead'er, n.

mis lead ing (mis lēd'ing), causing error or wrongdoing. adj.

mis led (mis led'), pt. and pp. of mislead. The boy was misled by bad companions. v.

mis man age (mis man'ij), manage badly. v., mis-man aged, mis man ag ing.

mis man age ment (mis man'ij mənt), bad management. n.

mis match (mis mach'), 1. match badly or unsuitably. 2. a bad or unsuitable match. 1 v., 2 n.

mis mate (mis māt'), mate unsuitably. v., mis mated, mis mat ing.

mis name (mis nām'), call by a wrong name. v., mis-named, mis nam ing.

mis no mer (mis nō'mər), 1. name that describes wrongly: "Lightning" is a misnomer for that slow, old horse. 2. error in naming. n.

mi sog a mist (mi sog'ə mist), person who hates marriage. n.

mi sog a my (mi sog'ə mē), hatred of marriage. n.

mi sog y nist (mi soj'ə nist), hater of women. n.

mi sog y ny (mi soj'ə nē), hatred of women. n.

mis place (mis plās'), 1. put in the wrong place. 2. Informal. put in a place and then forget where it is. 3. give (one's love or trust) to the wrong person. v., mis placed, mis plac ing. —mis place'ment, n.

mis play (mis plā'), 1. a wrong play. 2. play wrongly. 1 n., 2 v.

mis print (mis'print' for 1; mis print' for 2), 1. mistake in printing. 2. print wrongly. 1 n., 2 v.

mis pro nounce (mis'prə nouns'), pronounce incorrectly. v., mis pro nounced, mis pro nounce ing.

mis pro nun ci a tion (mis'prə nun'sē ā'shən), an incorrect pronunciation. n.

mis quo ta tion (mis'kwō tā'shən), an incorrect quotation. n.

mis quote (mis kwōt'), quote incorrectly. v., mis-quoted, mis quot ing.

mis read¹ (mis rēd'), 1. read wrongly. 2. misunderstand; interpret wrongly. v., mis read, mis read ing.
mis read² (mis red'), pt. and pp. of misread. v.
mis rep re sent (mis'rep ri zent'), represent falsely; give a wrong idea of: He misrepresented this automobile when he said it was in good running order. v.
mis rep re sen ta tion (mis'rep ri zen tā'shən), 1. a false representation: He obtained the position by misrepresentation. 2. an incorrect story or explanation. n.
mis rule (mis rül'), 1. bad or unwise rule. 2. rule badly. 3. disorder. 1,3 n., 2 v., mis ruled, mis rul ing.
miss¹ (mis), 1. fail to hit: John hammers away, but half the time he misses the nail. He fired twice, but both shots missed. 2. fail to find, get, meet, attend, use, catch, hear, read, do, solve, etc.: miss a train. 3. failure to hit, attain, etc. 4. let slip by; not seize: I missed my chance. 5. escape or avoid: barely miss being hit. 6. notice the absence of; feel keenly the absence of: I did not miss my purse till I got home. I miss my mother when she goes away. 1,2,4-6 v., 3 n.
A miss is as good as a mile. A close miss has the same effect as a wide miss.
miss fire, 1. of guns, fail to go off. 2. fail.
miss² (mis), girl; young woman. n., pl. miss es.
Miss (mis), title put before a girl's or unmarried woman's name: Miss Brown, the Misses Brown, the Miss Browns. n., pl. Miss es.
Miss., Mississippi.
mis sal (mis'l), book containing the prayers, etc., for celebrating Mass throughout the year. n.
mis shape (mis shāp'), shape badly; deform; make in the wrong shape. v., mis shaped, mis shaped or mis-shap en, mis shap ing.
mis shap en (mis shāp'ən), 1. badly shaped; deformed. 2. a pp. of misshape. 1 adj., 2 v.
mis sile (mis'l), 1. object that is thrown or shot, such as a stone, an arrow, or a bullet. 2. a self-propelled bomb or rocket. n.
mis sile man (mis'l mən), person who works with missiles and rockets. n., pl. mis sile men.
miss ing (mis'ing), lacking; wanting; absent; not found; gone: One book is missing. adj.
mis sion (mish'ən), 1. sending or being sent on some special work; errand. An operation, by one or more aircraft, against the enemy, is called a mission. 2. group sent on some special business: He was one of a mission sent by our government to France. 3. business on which a mission is sent. 4. station or headquarters of a religious mission. 5. district assigned to a priest or pastor from a neighboring parish. 6. business or purpose in life; calling: It seemed to be her mission to care for her brother's children. n.
missions, an organized effort to spread Christianity.
mis sion ar y (mish'ən er'ē), 1. person sent on a religious mission: The missionary went to India to convert people to Christianity. 2. person who works to advance some cause or idea. 3. of missions or missionaries. 1,2 n., pl. mis sion aries; 3 adj.
mis sis or mis sus (mis'iz), Dialect. 1. wife. 2. mistress of a household. n.
Mis sis sip pi (mis'ə sip'ē), 1. the largest river in North America, flowing south through the United States from N Minnesota into the Gulf of Mexico. 2470 mi. 2. a Southern State of the United States. 2,178,000 pop.; 47,716 sq. mi. Capital: Jackson. Abbrev.: Miss. n. — Mis'sis sip'pi an, adj., n.

mis sive (mis'iv), a written message; letter. n.
Mis sou ri (mə zūr'ē or mə zūr'ə), 1. the longest river in the United States, flowing from SW Montana into the Mississippi. 2475 mi. See Mississippi for map. 2. a Middle Western State of the United States. 4,320,000 pop.; 69,674 sq. mi. Capital: Jefferson City. Abbrev.: Mo. n.
from Missouri, Slang. not convinced until shown clear proof; skeptical; doubtful.
Mis sou ri an (mə zūr'ē ən), 1. of Missouri or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Missouri. 1 adj., 2 n.
mis speak (mis spēk'), speak, utter, or pronounce wrongly or incorrectly. v., mis spoke, mis spo ken, mis speak ing.
mis spell (mis spel'), spell incorrectly. v., mis-spelled or mis spelt, mis spell ing.
mis spell ing (mis spel'ing), an incorrect spelling. n.
mis spelt (mis spelt'), 1. misspelled. 2. a pt. and a pp. of misspell. 1 adj., 2 v.
mis spend (mis spend'), spend foolishly or wrongly; waste. v., mis spent, mis spend ing.
mis spent (mis spent'), 1. spent foolishly or wrongly; wasted. 2. pt. and pp. of misspend. 1 adj., 2 v.
mis spoke (mis spēk'), pt. of misspeak. v.
mis spo ken (mis spēk'ən), pp. of misspeak. v.
mis state (mis stāt'), make wrong or misleading statements about. v., mis stat ed, mis stat ing.
mis state ment (mis stāt'mənt), a wrong or erroneous statement. n.
mis step (mis step'), 1. a wrong step. 2. error or slip in conduct. n.
miss y (mis'ē), Informal. little miss; miss. n., pl. miss ies.
mist (mist), 1. cloud of very fine drops of water in the air; fog. 2. come down in mist; rain in very fine drops. 3. anything that dims, blurs, or obscures: A mist of prejudice spoiled his judgment. 4. haze before the eyes due to illness or tears. 5. be covered with mist; become dim. 6. cover with a mist; put a mist before; make dim: Tears misted her eyes. 1,3,4 n., 2,5,6 v.
mis take (mis tāk'), 1. error; blunder; misunderstanding: I used your towel by mistake. 2. misunderstand (what is seen or heard). 3. take wrongly; take (to be some other person or thing): I mistook that stick for a snake. 4. make a mistake. 1 n., 2-4 v., mis took, mis tak en, mis tak ing.
and no mistake, without a doubt; surely.
mis tak en (mis tāk'ən), 1. wrong in opinion; having made a mistake: A mistaken person should admit his error. 2. wrong; wrongly judged; misplaced: It was a mistaken kindness to give that boy more candy; it will make him sick. 3. pp. of mistake. 1,2 adj., 3 v.
mis tak en ly (mis tāk'ən lē), by mistake; wrongly. adv.
Mis ter (mis'tər), Mr., a title put before a man's name or the name of his office: Mr. Smith, Mr. President. n.
mis ter (mis'tər), Informal. 1. sir: Good morning, mister. 2. address as "mister." 1 n., 2 v.
mis time (mis tīm'), 1. say or do at the wrong time. 2. misstate the time of. v., mis timed, mis tim ing.
mis tle toe (mis'tlō), 1. plant with small, waxy, white berries and yellow flowers, that grows as a parasite on certain trees. 2. sprig of mistletoe, often used as a Christmas decoration. n.
mis took (mis tük'), pt. of mistake. I mistook you for your sister yesterday. v.
mis tral (mis'trəl or mis träl'), a cold, dry, northerly wind common in S France and neighboring regions. n.

Mistletoe growing on a tree mis trans late (mis'trans lāt' or mis trans'lāt), translate incorrectly. v., mis trans lat ed, mis trans lat ing. mis trans la tion (mis'trans lā'shən), an incorrect translation. n.

mis treat (mis trēt'), treat badly. v.
mis treat ment (mis trēt'mənt), ill treatment. n.

mis tress (mis'tris), 1. the woman who is at the head of a household. 2. woman or country that is in control or can rule: Great Britain is sometimes called mistress of the seas. 3. woman who has a thorough knowledge or mastery. 4. Brit. a woman teaching in a school, or at the head of a school, or giving lessons in a special subject: the dancing mistress. 5. Poetic. woman loved and courted by a man. 6. woman who improperly occupies the place of a wife. 7. Archaic or Dialect.
Mrs., Madam, or Miss. n.

Mis tress (mis'tris), title of courtesy for a married woman, usually abbreviated in writing to Mrs. and pronounced mis'iz. n.

mis tri al (mis tri'əl), 1. trial having no effect in law because of some error in the proceedings. 2. Informal.
an inconclusive trial. n.

mis trust (mis trust'), 1. feel no confidence in; doubt:
She mistrusted her ability to learn to swim. 2. lack of trust or confidence. 1 v., 2 n.

mis trust ful (mis trust'fəl), lacking confidence; dis-trusting; doubting; suspicious. adj.

mist y (mis'tē), 1. of mist. 2. characterized by mist; covered with mist. 3. not clearly seen or outlined.
4. as if seen through a mist; vague; indistinct: a misty notion. adj., mist ier, mist iest. —mist'ily, adv.
—mist'i ness, n.

mis un der stand (mis'un dər stand'), 1. understand wrongly. 2. take in a wrong sense; give the wrong meaning to. v., mis un der stood, mis un der stand ing.

mis un der stand ing (mis'un dər stan'ding),
1. wrong understanding; failure to understand. 2. disagreement. n.

mis un der stood (mis'un dər stūd'), 1. pt. and pp.
of misunderstand. Kate misunderstood what the teacher said and so did the wrong thing. 2. not understood; not properly appreciated. 1 v., 2 adj.

mis us age (mis ūs'ij), 1. a wrong or improper usage.
2. ill usage; bad treatment. n.

mis use (mis ūz' for 1, 2; mis ūs' for 3), 1. use for the wrong purpose: He misuses his knife at the table by lifting food with it. 2. abuse; ill-treat: He misuses his horses by giving them loads that are too heavy. 3. a wrong use: I notice a misuse of the word "who" in your letter.
1, 2 v., mis used, mis us ing; 3 n.

Mitch ell (mich'əl), Mount, peak in W North Carolina, the highest of the Appalachians. 6684 ft. n.

mite¹ (mīt), any of various tiny animals that belong to the same class as spiders and live in foods, on plants, or on other animals. n.

mite² (mīt), 1. anything very small; little bit: Though poor, she gave her mite to charity.
2. coin of slight value. 3. a very small child: What a mite Dorothy is! n.

mit er (mī'tər), 1. a tall, pointed, folded cap worn by bishops during sacred ceremonies. 2. bestow a miter on; make a bishop. 3. the official headdress of the ancient Jewish high priest. 4. kind of joint or corner where two pieces of wood are fitted together at right angles with the ends cut slanting, as at the corners of a picture frame. 5. join thus; prepare (ends of wood) for joining in a miter joint. 6. the bevel on either of the pieces in a miter joint. 1, 3, 4, 6 n., 2, 5 v.

mit ered (mī'tərd), 1. having a miter joint. 2. wearing a bishop's miter. adj.

mit er joint, a right-angled joint made by cutting the ends of two pieces of wood on equal slants.

Mith ri da tes (mith'rə dā'tēz), 131?- 63 B.C., king of Pontus from 120? to 63 B.C. and enemy of Rome. He is said to have become immune to poisons by taking gradually increasing doses of them. n.

mit i gate (mit'ə gāt), make or become mild; make or become milder; soften. Anger, grief, pain, punishments, heat, cold, and many other conditions may be mitigated. v., mit i gat ed, mit i gat ing.

mit i ga tion (mit'ə gā'shən), 1. a mitigating. 2. a being mitigated. 3. something that mitigates: The breeze was a welcome mitigation of the heat. n.

mit re (mī'tər), Esp. Brit. miter.
n., v., mi tred, mi tring.

mitt (mit), 1. kind of long glove without fingers, or with very short fingers. 2. a baseball glove with a big pad over the palm and fingers. 3. mitten. n.

Mitts (def. 1)

mit ten (mit'n), kind of winter glove covering the four fingers together and the thumb separately. n.

mix (miks), 1. put together; stir well together: mix ingredients to make a cake. 2. prepare by putting different things together: mix a cake. 3. join: mix business and pleasure. 4. be mixed: Milk and water mix. 5. associate together; get along together: People mix well in a group like ours. 6. mixture. 7. Informal. mixed condition; mess. 1-5 v., mixed or mixt, mix ing; 6, 7 n.

mix up, 1. confuse. 2. involve; concern.

mixed (mikt), 1. put together or formed by mixing; composed of different parts or elements; of different kinds combined: mixed candies, mixed emotions. 2. of different classes, kinds, etc.; not exclusive: a mixed company. 3. of or for persons of both sexes: a mixed chorus.
4. Informal. mentally confused. adj.

mixed number, number consisting of a whole number and a fraction, such as 1½, 16%, 25%.

mix er (mik'sər), 1. thing that mixes: a bread mixer.
2. one who mixes. A person who gets along well with others is called a good mixer. n.

mix ture (miks'chər), 1. a mixing. 2. a being mixed.
3. what has been mixed. n.

mix-up (miks'up'), Informal. 1. confusion;
mess. 2. a confused
fight. n.

Miz pah (miz/pə),
word used to recall these words: "The Lord watch between me and thee, when we are absent one from another."
Genesis 31:49. n.

miz zen (miz'n), 1. a fore-and-aft sail on the mizzen-mast. 2. mizzenmast. n.

miz zen mast (miz'n mast'), Nautical miz'n mōst), mast nearest the stern in a two-masted or three-masted ship. n.

Mile., Mademoiselle. pl. Miles.

mm., millimeter; millimeters.

Mme., Madame. pl. Mmes.

Mn, manganese.

mne mon ic (ni mon'ik), 1. aiding the memory. 2. intended to aid memory. 3. of or having to do with memory. adj.

Mne mos y ne (ni mos'ə nē), the Greek goddess of memory, and mother of the Muses. n.

Mo, molybdenum.

Mo., Missouri.

mo., month; months.

mo a (mō'ə), a large extinct bird of New Zealand, somewhat like an ostrich. n.

Moa (10 to 14 ft. tall)

Mite

Miter
(def. 1)

Mo ab (mō'ab), an ancient kingdom in Syria, east of the Dead Sea and the river Jordan. n.

Mo ab ite (mō'əb īt),
1. inhabitant of Moab. 2. of Moab or its people. 1 n., 2 adj.

moan (mōn), 1. a long, low sound of suffering. 2. any similar sound: the moan of the wind. 3. make moans. 4. utter with a moan. 5. complain; grieve. 6. complain about; grieve for. 1,2 n., 3-6 v. —moan/-ing ly, adv.

moat (mōt), 1. a deep, wide ditch dug around a castle or town as a protection against enemies. Moats were usually kept filled with water. 2. surround with a moat. 1 n., 2 v.

mob (mob), 1. a large number of people, usually crowded closely together. 2. the common mass of people. 3. a lawless crowd, easily moved to act without thinking. 4. crowd around in curiosity, anger, etc.: The eager children mobbed the candy man the moment he appeared. 5. attack with violence, as a mob does. 1-3 n., 4,5 v., mobbed, mobbing.

mo bile¹ (mō'bl), 1. movable; easy to move: The tongue is mobile. 2. moving easily; changing easily: A mobile mind is one that is easily moved by ideas or feeling. adj.

mo bile² (mō'bēl), pieces of metal, wood, paper, etc., suspended on wires or threads and so balanced as to move in a slight breeze, used decoratively. n.

Mo bile (mō'bēl'), seaport in SW Alabama, on Mobile Bay. 203,000. n.

Mo bile Bay (mō'bēl), part of the Gulf of Mexico that extends into SW Alabama. 30 mi. long; 8-18 mi. wide.

mo bil i ty (mō bil'ə tē), being mobile; ability or readiness to move or be moved. n.

mo bi li za tion (mō'bl ə zā'shən), 1. a mobilizing; calling troops, ships, etc., into active military service. 2. being mobilized. n.

mo bi lize (mō'bl īz), 1. call (troops, warships, etc.) into active military service; organize for war. 2. assemble and prepare for war: The troops mobilized quickly. 3. put into motion or active use: mobilize the wealth of a country. v., mo bi lized, mo bi lizing. —mo'bi liz'a ble, adj.

moc ca sin (mōk'ə sn), 1. a soft leather shoe or sandal. Moccasins were worn by North American Indians. 2. a poisonous snake found in the S United States. n.

Moccasin (def. 1) moccasin flower, a pink or white orchid shaped somewhat like a slipper.

Mo cha (mō'kə), 1. seaport in SW Arabia near the mouth of the Red Sea. 5000. 2. a choice variety of coffee originally coming from Arabia. n.

mo cha (mō'kə), flavored with coffee, or with chocolate and coffee. adj.

mo chi la (mō chē'lə), a leather flap that covers a saddletree. n.

mock (mok), 1. laugh at; make fun of. 2. make fun of by copying or imitating: The thoughtless children mocked the queer speech of the new boy. 3. imitate; copy. 4. not real; copying; sham; imitation: a mock battle. 5. an action or speech that mocks. 6. person or thing scorned or deserving scorn. 7. scoff. 8. make light of; pay no attention to. 9. deceive; disappoint. 1-3,7-9 v., 4 adj., 5,6 n. —mock'er, n.

mock er y (mōk'ər ē), 1. a making fun; ridicule. 2. person or thing to be made fun of: Through his foolish- ness he became a mockery in the village. 3. a bad copy or imitation. 4. a disregarding; a setting at naught: The unfair trial was a mockery of justice. n., pl. mock er ies. mock-he ro ic (mōk'hi rō'ik), 1. imitating or burlesquing what is heroic: Pope's "Rape of the Lock" is a mock-heroic poem. 2. imitation or burlesque of what is heroic. 1 adj., 2 n.

mock ing (mōk'ing), that mocks; deriding; mimicking; deluding. adj. —mock'ing ly, adv.

mock ing bird (mōk'ing bērd'), songbird of the S United States that imitates the notes of other birds. n.

mock-up (mōk'up'), a full-sized model of an airplane, machine, etc., used for teaching purposes. n.

mo dal (mō'dl), of or having to do with mode, manner, or form. adj.

modal auxiliary, word like may, can, must, would, and should, that indicates the mood of the verb with which it is used.

mode¹ (mōd), 1. manner or way in which a thing is done: Riding on a donkey is a slow mode of travel. 2. form of a verb that shows whether the act or state is thought of as a fact, command, etc.; mood: the indicative mode, the imperative mode. 3. any of various arrangements of the tones of an octave. 4. either of the two classes of keys in music. n.

mode² (mōd), style, fashion, or custom that prevails; the way most people are doing: Bobbed hair became the mode about 1920. n.

mod el (mod'l), 1. a small copy: a model of a ship. 2. figure in clay or wax that is to be copied in marble, bronze, etc.: a model for a statue. 3. make; shape; fashion; design; plan: model a bird's nest in clay. 4. make models; design: model in clay. 5. way in which a thing is made; style: I want a dress like yours, for that model is becoming to me. 6. thing or person to be copied or imitated: Make your father your model, and you will become a fine man. 7. follow as a model; form (something) after a particular model: Model yourself on your father. 8. just right or perfect, especially in conduct: a model child. 9. person who poses for artists, photographers, etc. 10. woman in a clothing store who puts on garments in order to show customers how they look. 11. be a model. 1,2,5,6,9,10 n., 3,4,7,11 v., mod eled, mod el ing or esp. Brit. mod elled, mod el ling; 8 adj.

mod el ing (mod'l ing), 1. act or art of one who models. 2. production of designs in some plastic material, as for reproduction in a more durable material. 3. the representation of solid form, as in sculpture. n.

mod el ling (mod'l ing), Esp. Brit. modeling. n. mod er ate (mod'ər it for 1,2,5,6; mod'ər āt for 3,4,7), 1. kept or keeping within proper bounds; not extreme: moderate expenses, moderate styles. 2. person who holds moderate opinions. 3. make less violent. 4. become less extreme or violent: The wind is moderating. 5. not violent; calm: moderate in speech or opinion. 6. fair; medium; not very large or good: a moderate profit. 7. act as moderator; preside (over). 1,5,6 adj., 2 n., 3,4,7 v., mod er at ed, mod er at ing. —mod'er ate ly, adv.

mod er a tion (mod'ər ā'shən), 1. a moderating. 2. freedom from excess; proper restraint; temperance: It is all right to eat candy in moderation. 3. calmness; lack of violence. n.

in moderation, within limits; not going to extremes.

mod er a tor (mod'ər ā'tər), 1. a presiding officer; chairman: the moderator of a town meeting, the moderator of a church assembly. 2. arbitrator; mediator. 3. material used in a reactor to slow down nuclear fission. n.

mod ern (mod'ər n), 1. of the present time; of times not long past: Television is a modern invention. 2. per-

Mockingbird (about 10 in. long) son of modern times. 3. up-to-date; not old-fashioned. 4. person who has modern ideas and tastes. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n. —mod'ern ness, n.

Modern English, 1. period in the development of the English language from about 1500 through the present. 2. language of this period.

modern history, history from about 1450 to the present time.

mod ern ism (mod'ər niz əm), 1. modern attitudes or methods; sympathy with what is modern. 2. a modern word or phrase. n.

mod ern ist (mod'ər nist), person who holds modern views or uses modern methods. n.

mod ern is tic (mod'ər nis'tik), 1. modern. 2. having modern attitudes, methods, or style. adj.

mo der ni ty (mə dər'nə tē), 1. a being modern. 2. something modern. n., pl. mo der ni ties.

mod ern i za tion (mod'ər nə zā'shən), a modernizing or being modernized; bringing up to present ways or standards. n.

mod ern ize (mod'ər niz), 1. make modern; bring up to present ways or standards. 2. become modern. v., mod ern ized, mod ern iz ing.

mod est (mod'ist), 1. not thinking too highly of oneself; not vain; humble: In spite of the honors he received, the scientist remained a modest man. 2. bashful; not bold; shy; held back by a sense of what is fit and proper: a modest girl. 3. not calling attention to one's body; decent. 4. not too great; not asking too much: a modest request. 5. not gaudy; humble in appearance; quiet: a modest little house. adj. —mod'est ly, adv.

mod es ty (mod'is tē), 1. freedom from vanity; being modest or humble. 2. shyness; bashfulness. 3. being decent. n., pl. mod es ties.

mod i cum (mod'ə kəm), a small or moderate quantity: Fred is so bright that even with a modicum of effort he does excellent work. n.

mod i fi ca tion (mod'ə fə kā'shən), 1. partial alteration or change: The teacher recommended six modifications in my essay. 2. a modifying or being modified; a toning down: The modification of his anger made him able to think clearly again. 3. limitation of meaning. 4. modified form; variety. n.

mod i fi er (mod'ə fī'ər), 1. word or group of words that limits another word or group of words. In "a very tight coat," the adjective tight is a modifier of coat, and the adverb very is a modifier of tight. 2. person or thing that modifies. n.

mod i fy (mod'ə fī), 1. change somewhat: modify the terms of a lease. 2. make less; tone down; make less severe or strong: modify one's demands. 3. limit the meaning of; qualify. Adverbs modify verbs and adjectives. v., mod i fied, mod i fy ing. —mod'i fī'a ble, adj.

mod ish (mōd'ish), fashionable; stylish. adj. —mod'ish ly, adv. —mod'ish ness, n.

mo diste (mō dēst'), maker of or dealer in women's gowns, hats, etc.; dressmaker. n.

Mo dred (mō'drəd), King Arthur's treacherous nephew. n.

mod u late (moj'ə lāt), 1. regulate; adjust; vary; soften; tone down. 2. alter (the voice) for expression. 3. change from one musical key or note to another. 4. vary the frequency of (electrical waves). 5. change (a radio current) by adding sound waves to it. v., mod u lat ed, mod u lat ing.

mod u la tion (moj'ə lā'shən), 1. a modulating or being modulated. 2. change from one key to another in the course of a piece of music. 3. in electronics, a varying of high-frequency waves. n.

mod u la tor (moj'ə lā'tər), 1. person or thing that modulates. 2. device for changing a radio current by adding sound waves to it. n.

mod ule (moj'ül), 1. a standard or unit for measuring. 2. the size of some part taken as a unit of measure. n.

mod u lus (moj'ə ləs), in science, a quantity expressing the measure of some function, property, or the like, especially under conditions where the measure is unity. n., pl. mod u li (-li).

mo dus o pe ran di (mō'dəs op'ə ran'di), Latin. method or manner of working.

mo dus vi ven di (mō'dəs vi ven'di), Latin. mode of living; way of getting along.

Mog a di scio (mog'ə dē'shō), capital of Somalia, in the SE part. 87,000. n.

Mo gul (mō'gul), 1. Mongolian. 2. one of the Mongol conquerors of India in the 16th century or one of their descendants. n.

mo gul (mō'gul), an important person. n.

mo hair (mō'hār), 1. cloth made from the long, silky hair of the Angora goat. 2. a similar cloth made of wool and cotton or rayon. n.

Mo ham med (mō ham'id), 570?-632 A.D., founder and prophet of Islam, a religion widely accepted in Asia and Africa. n. Also, Mahomet, Muhammad.

Mo ham med an (mō ham'ə dən), 1. of Mohammed or the religion founded by him; Moslem. 2. follower of Mohammed; believer in the religion founded by him; Moslem. 1 adj., 2 n. Also, Mahometan.

Mo ham med an ism (mō ham'ə dən iz'əm), the religion of the Moslems. n. Also, Mahometanism.

Mo ha ve (mō hä've), 1. member of a tribe of American Indians dwelling chiefly on the east side of the Colorado River. 2. Mojave. n.

Mo hawk (mō'hök), 1. member of a tribe of American Indians formerly living in central New York State. 2. river flowing from central New York State into the Hudson. 148 mi. n., pl. (for 1) Mo hawk or Mo-hawks.

Mo hi can (mō hē'kən), member of a tribe of American Indians formerly living in the upper Hudson valley and in Connecticut. n.

moi e ty (moi'ə tē), 1. half. 2. part: Only a small moiety of high school graduates go to college. n., pl. moi e ties.

moil (moil), 1. work hard; drudge. 2. hard work; drudgery. 3. trouble; confusion. 1 v., 2,3 n.

moire (mwär or mwä rä'), fabric having a wavelike pattern; watered fabric. n.

moi ré (mwä rä'), 1. moire. 2. having a wavelike pattern; watered: moiré silk. 1 n., 2 adj.

moist (moist), 1. slightly wet; damp. 2. rainy. adj. —moist'ly, adv. —moist'ness, n.

moist en (moi'sn), 1. make moist. 2. become moist. v.

mois ture (mois'chər), slight wetness; water or other liquid spread in very small drops in the air or on a surface. n.

Mo ja ve (mō hä've), 1. desert in S California. 15,000 sq. mi. 2. Mohave. n.

mo lar (mō'lər), 1. tooth with a broad surface for grinding. A person's back teeth are molars. See incisor for diagram. 2. adapted for grinding. 3. of the molar teeth. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

mo las ses (mə las'iz), a sweet syrup obtained in making sugar from sugar cane. n.

mold¹ (möld), 1. a hollow shape in which anything is formed or cast: Melted metal is poured into a mold to harden into shape. 2. the shape or form which is given by a mold: The molds of ice cream were turkeys and pumpkins. 3. model according to which anything is shaped. 4. form; shape: We mold statues out of clay. 5. something shaped in a mold: a mold of pudding. 6. make or form into shape: We mold wax into candles. Our characters are molded by our conduct. 7. nature; character. 8. shape or frame on or about which something is made. 1-3,5,7,8 n., 4,6 v. Also, esp. Brit. mould.

mold² (möld), 1. a woolly or furry fungous growth, often greenish in color, that appears on food and other animal or vegetable substances when they are left too long in a warm, moist place. 2. become covered with mold. 3. cover with mold. 1 n., 2,3 v. Also, esp. Brit. mould.

mold³ (möld), 1. loose earth; fine, soft, rich soil. 2. Archaic. ground; earth. n. Also, esp. Brit. mould.

Moldavia (mɒl dā'və ə), 1. division of NE Romania. 2. a Soviet republic in SW Soviet Union. 2,700,000 pop.; 13,680 sq. mi. Capital: Kishinev.

mold board (mɒld'bɔ:d'), a curved metal plate in a plow that turns over the earth from the furrow. See plow for picture. n.

molder (mɒl'dər), turn into dust by natural decay; crumble; waste away. v. Also, esp. Brit. moulder.

molder (mɒl'dər), one who shapes something. n. Also, esp. Brit. moulder.

molding (mɒl'dɪŋ), 1. act of shaping: the molding of dishes from clay. 2. something molded. 3. strip, usually of wood, around the upper walls of a room, used to support pictures, to cover electric wires, etc. n. Also, esp. Brit. moulding.

moldy (mɒl'deɪ), 1. covered with mold: a moldy crust of bread, moldy cheese. 2. musty; stale: a moldy smell. adj., moldier, moldiest.

Also, esp. Brit. mouldy.

—moldiness, n.

mole (mɒl), a congenital spot on the skin, usually brown. n.

mole (mɒl), a small mammal that lives underground most of the time.

Mole? (about 7 in. long, including the tail)

Moles have velvety fur and very small eyes that cannot see well. n. —molelike, adj.

mole (mɒl), 1. barrier built of stone to break the force of the waves; breakwater. 2. harbor formed by it. n.

molecule (mə'lek'yə'lər), having to do with, caused by, or consisting of molecules. adj.

molecule (mɒl'ə'kyl), 1. the smallest particle into which a substance can be divided without chemical change. A molecule of an element consists of one or more atoms. A molecule of a compound consists of two or more atoms. 2. a very small particle. n.

molehill (mɒl'hɪl), 1. a small mound or ridge of earth raised up by moles burrowing under the ground. 2. something insignificant. n.

molest (mə'lest'), meddle with and injure; interfere with and trouble; disturb: We did not molest the big dog, because we were afraid of him. v. —molest'er, n.

molestation (mɒl'es'tā'shən), a molesting or being molested; annoying interference. n.

Molière (mə'lyär'), 1622-1673, French writer of comedies. n.

mollify (mɒl'ə'fi), soften; appease; mitigate: mollify a person or his wrath. v., mollified, mollifying. —mollification, n.

mollusc (mɒl'əsk), Esp. Brit. mollusk. n.

mollusk (mɒl'əsk), any of a large group of animals having soft bodies not composed of segments, and usually covered with a hard shell. Snails, mussels, oysters, and clams are mollusks. n.

mollycoddle (mɒl'ē'kɒd'l), 1. boy or man accustomed to being fussed over and pampered; milksop. 2. coddle; pamper. 1 n., 2 v., mollycoddled, mollycoddling. n.

Moloch (mɒ'lɒk), 1. a Semitic deity whose worship was marked by the sacrifice of children by their parents. 2. anything thought of as requiring frightful sacrifice: War is a Moloch. n.

Molokai (mə'lo'kai'), the fifth largest island of Hawaii. 5000 pop.; 260 sq. mi. See Hawaiian Islands for map. n.

Molotov (mə'lə'tɒf), Viacheslav Mikhailovich, born 1890, Soviet foreign minister 1939-49 and 1953-56. n.

molt (mɒlt), 1. shed the feathers, skin, etc., before a new growth. Birds and snakes molt. 2. shed (feathers, etc.): We saw the snake molt its skin. 3. act or time of molting. 1,2 v., 3 n. Also, esp. Brit. moult.

molt (mɒl'tn), 1. melted. 2. made by melting and casting: a molten image. 3. a pp. of melt. 1,2 adj., 3 v.

Moluccas (mə'luk'əz), group of islands in Indonesia, between Celebes and New Guinea. 700,000 pop.; 32,300 sq. mi. n.pl. Also, Spice Islands.

moly (mɒ'lē), 1. a fab-1500-ulous herb with a milk-white flower and a black root, having magic properties. Hermes gave Odysseus moly to counteract the spells of Circe. 2. wild garlic. n., pl. mo lies.

molybdenite (mə'lib'də'nīt), a soft, graphitelike native sulfide of molybdenum, a valuable ore. n.

molybdenum (mə'lib'də'nəm), a silver-white metallic element of the chromium group. Symbol: Mo. n.

moment (mɒ'mənt), 1. a very short space of time; instant: In a moment, all was changed. 2. a present or other particular point of time: We both arrived at the same moment. 3. importance: a matter of moment. 4. tendency to cause rotation around a point or axis. n.

momentarily (mɒ'mən'tər'ə'lē or mɒ'mən'tär'ə'lē), 1. for a moment: hesitate momentarily. 2. at every moment; from moment to moment: danger momentarily increasing. 3. at any moment: We expect him to arrive momentarily. adv.

momentary (mɒ'mən'tər'ē), lasting only a moment: momentary hesitation. adj. —momentariness, n.

momently (mɒ'mənt'lē), 1. every moment; from moment to moment. 2. at any moment. 3. for a moment. adv.

momentous (mɒ'men'təs), very important: Choosing between peace and war is a momentous decision. adj. —momentousness, n.

momentously (mɒ'men'təs'lē), with important effect or influence. adv.

momentum (mɒ'men'təm), 1. force with which a body moves, the product of its mass and its velocity: A falling object gains momentum as it falls. 2. impetus resulting from movement. n., pl. momentums, momenta (-tə).

Mon., Monday.

Monaco (mə'nə'kō or mə'nək'ō), 1. a very small country on the SE coast of France, on the Mediterranean Sea. 20,000 pop.; 1/2 sq. mi. 2. its capital. 2000. n.

Monalisa (mə'nə'lē'zə), a famous portrait by Leonardo da Vinci.

monarch (mə'nər'ək), 1. king, queen, emperor, etc.; ruler. 2. person or thing like a monarch: The lion has been called the monarch of the beasts. 3. a very large orange-and-black butterfly. n.

monarchal (mə'nər'kl),

1. of or having to do with a monarch. 2. characteristic of a monarch. 3. suitable for a monarch. adj. —monarchally, adv.

monarchial (mə'nər'kē'əl), monarchal. adj.

monarchic (mə'nər'kik), monarchial. adj.

monarchical (mə'nər'kə'kl), 1. of a monarch or monarchy. 2. favoring a monarchy. adj.

monarchism (mə'nər'kiz'əm), 1. principles of monarchy. 2. advocacy of monarchical principles. n.

monarchist (mə'nər'kist), person who supports or favors government by a monarch. n.

monarchy (mə'nər'kē), 1. government by a monarch. 2. nation governed by a monarch. n., pl. monarchies.

mon as te ri al (mon'əs tir'ē əl), 1. of a monastery. 2. characteristic of a monastery. adj.

mon as ter y (mon'əs ter'ē), building where monks or nuns live a contemplative life according to fixed rules and under religious vows. n., pl. mon as ter ies.

mo nas tic (mə nas'tik), 1. of monks or nuns: monastic vows. 2. of monasteries. 3. like that of monks or nuns. 4. monk. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —mo nas'ti cal ly, adv.

mo nas ti cal (mə nas'tə kl), monastic. adj.

mo nas ti cism (mə nas'tə siz əm), system or condition of living according to fixed rules, in groups shut off from the world, and devoted to religion. n.

Mon day (mun'dē or mun'dā), the second day of the week, following Sunday. n.

Mon el metal (mō nel'), Trademark. a silver-colored metal made from copper and nickel. It does not rust, and is used in making bullets, golf clubs, etc.

mon e tar y (mon'ə ter'ē), 1. of the money of a country: The monetary unit in the United States is the dollar. 2. of money: a monetary reward. adj.

mon e ti za tion (mon'ə tə zā'shən), a monetizing. n.

mon e tize (mon'ə tīz), 1. legalize as money. 2. coin into money. v., mon e tized, mon e tiz ing.

mon ey (mun'ē), 1. current coin; gold, silver, or other metal made into coins; bank notes, etc., representing gold or silver; any medium of exchange. 2. a particular form or denomination of money. 3. wealth. n., pl. mon eys. —mon'ey less, adj.

make money, 1. get money. 2. become rich.

mon ey chang er (mun'ē chān'jər), person whose business is to exchange money, usually that of one country for that of another. n.

mon eyed (mun'ēd), 1. having money; wealthy. 2. consisting of or representing money: moneyed resources. adj.

mon ey lend er (mun'ē len'dər), one whose business is lending money at interest. n.

money of account, a monetary denomination used in reckoning, especially one not issued as a coin. In the United States, the mill is a money of account but not a coin. The nickel is a coin, but not a money of account.

money order, order for the payment of money. You can buy a money order at the post office and send it to a person in another city, who can get the money at the post office there.

Mon gol (mong'gl), 1. member of the Asiatic race now inhabiting Mongolia and nearby parts of China and Siberia. 2. of this race. 3. Mongolian. 1,3 n., 2,3 adj.

Mon go li a (mong gō'lē ə), a vast region in Asia, including part of northern China and the Mongolian People's Republic. n.

Mon go li an (mong gō'lē ən), 1. member of the yellow race of Asia. Mongolians have slanting eyes, prominent cheekbones, short broad noses, and straight black hair. The Chinese are Mongolians. 2. their language or languages. 3. of Mongolia, the Mongolians, or their languages. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Mongolian People's Republic, country in central Asia, north of China and south of Siberia. 1,000,000 pop.; 600,000 sq. mi. Capital: Ulan Bator. Also, Outer Mongolia.

Mon gol oid (mong'gl oid), 1. resembling the Mongols; having characteristics of the Mongolian race. 2. person of Mongolian race. 1 adj., 2 n.

mon goose or mon goos (mong'gūs), a slender, ferret-like carnivorous mammal of India, used for destroying rats, and noted for its ability to kill certain poisonous snakes without being harmed. n., pl. mon goos es.

mon grel (mung'grəl or mong'grəl), 1. animal or plant of mixed breed, especially a dog. 2. of mixed breed, race, origin, nature, etc.: a mongrel speech that is half Spanish and half Indian. 1 n., 2 adj.

mon ies (mun'ēz), sums of money. n.pl.

Mongoose (length, including the tail, about 2 ft.)

mon ism (mon'iz əm), doctrine that the universe can be explained by one substance or principle. n.

mon ist (mon'ist), person who believes in monism. n.

mo nis tic (mō nis'tik), of or having to do with monism. adj.

mo ni tion (mō nish'ən), 1. admonition; warning. 2. an official or legal notice: The bishop sent a monition to three clergymen. n.

mon i tor (mon'ə tər), 1. pupil in school with special duties, such as helping to keep order and taking attendance. 2. person who gives advice or warning. 3. a low armored warship having one or more turrets for guns. 4. a large lizard of Africa, Australia, and S Asia. 5. a receiver used for checking radio or television transmissions. 6. check (a radio or television transmission) by listening in with a receiver. 1-5 n., 6 v.

Monitor (mon'ə tər), a Union ironclad warship with a low hull topped by a revolving turret for the guns. n.

mon i to ri al (mon'ə tō'rē əl), 1. of or having to do with a monitor. 2. using monitors. 3. serving to admonish or warn. adj.

mon i tor ship (mon'ə tər ship'), office, work, or period of service of a monitor. n.

mon i to ry (mon'ə tō'rē), 1. admonishing; warning. 2. letter containing admonition. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. mon i to ries.

monk (mungk), man who gives up everything else for religion and enters a monastery to live. n.

mon key (mung'kē), 1. one of the group of mammals most closely resembling man. 2. one of the smaller mammals in this group, not a chimpanzee, gorilla, or other large ape. 3. person, especially a child, who is full of mischief. 4. Informal. play; fool; trifle. 1-3 n., pl. mon keys; 4 v., mon keyed, mon key ing. —mon'key like', adj.

mon key shine (mung'kē shīn'), monkey wrench, wrench with a movable jaw that can be adjusted to fit different sizes of nuts.

U.S. Slang. a mischievous trick; clownish joke. n.

monk ish (mungk'ish),

Unfriendly use. 1. of a monk; having to do with monks. 2. like a monk; characteristic of a monk. 3. like monks or their way of life. adj.

monks hood (mungsk's-hūd'), a kind of aconite, so called from its hooded flowers. n.

mon o chro mat ic (mon'ə krō mat'ik), 1. of one color only. 2. consisting of light of one wave length. 3. producing such light. adj.

mon o chrome (mon'ə krōm), a painting, drawing, print, etc., in a single color or shades of a single color. n.

mon o cle (mon'ə kl), eyeglass for one eye. n.

mon o cled (mon'ə kld), wearing a monocle. adj.

mon o cot y le don (mon'ə kot'ē dən), plant with only one cotyledon. n.

mon o cu lar (mə nok'yə lər), 1. having only one eye. 2. having to do with or intended for use by one eye only. adj.

mon o dy (mon'ə dē), 1. a mournful song. 2. plaintive poem in which one person laments another's death. n., pl. mon o dies.

Monitor (def. 4) (total length about 4 ft.)

Small monkey (about 2 ft. long, including the tail)

Using a monkey wrench to tighten a nut. The jaw is moved by means of the screw next to the handle.

Monocle. It rests on the cheekbone and is held in place by the eyebrow muscle.

mo nog a mist (mə nɒg'ə mɪst), person who practices or believes in monogamy. n.

mo nog a mous (mə nɒg'ə məs), 1. practicing or advocating monogamy. 2. having to do with monogamy. adj.

mo nog a my (mə nɒg'ə mē), 1. practice or condition of being married to only one person at a time. 2. habit of having only one mate. n.

mon o gram (mon'ə gram), a person's initials combined in one design. Monograms are used on note paper, table linen, clothing, jewelry, etc. n.

mon o graph (mon'ə graf), book or article written on a particular subject. n.

mon o lith (mon'ə lith), 1. a single large block of stone. 2. monument, column, statue, etc., formed of a single large block of stone. n.

mon o lith ic (mon'ə lith'ik), of a monolith; being a monolith. adj.

mon o log ist or mon o logu ist (mon'ə lɒg'ist), 1. one who talks or acts in monologue, or delivers monologues. 2. one who monopolizes conversation. n.

mon o logue or mon o log (mon'ə lɒg), 1. a long speech by one person in a group. 2. entertainment by a single speaker. 3. play for a single actor. 4. part of a play in which a single actor speaks alone. n.

mon o ma ni a (mon'ə mā'nē ə), 1. insanity in which the person is insane on one subject only. 2. interest or tendency so strong as to seem almost insane. n.

mon o ma ni ac (mon'ə mā'nē ək), 1. person insane on one subject only. 2. person having a craze for some one thing. n.

mo no mi al (mō nō'mē əl), 1. consisting of a single word or term. 2. name consisting of a single word.

3. expression consisting of a single term. z, a^b, and $\frac{m}{d}$ are monomials. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

Mo non ga he la (mə nɒng'gə hē'lə), river flowing from N West Virginia into the Ohio River at Pittsburgh. 128 mi. n.

mon o plane (mon'ə plān), airplane with only one pair of wings. n.

Monoplane

mo nop o list (mə nɒp'ɪ list), 1. person who has a monopoly. 2. person who favors monopoly. n.

mo nop o lis tic (mə nɒp'əl is'tik), 1. that monopolizes. 2. having to do with monopolies or monopolists. adj.

mo nop o lize (mə nɒp'ɪ lɪz), 1. have or get exclusive possession or control of: This firm practically monopolizes the production of linen thread. 2. occupy wholly; keep entirely to oneself. v., mo nop o lized, mo nop o lizing. —mo nop o liz'er, n.

mo nop o ly (mə nɒp'ɪ ē), 1. exclusive control of a commodity or service: The only milk company in town has a monopoly on milk delivery. 2. such control granted by a government: An inventor has a monopoly on his invention for a certain number of years. 3. control that, though not exclusive, enables the person or company to fix prices. 4. a commercial product or service that is exclusively controlled or nearly so. 5. person or company that has a monopoly on some commodity or service. 6. the exclusive possession or control of something: No one person has a monopoly of virtue. n., pl. mo nop o lies.

mon o rail (mon'ə rāl'), 1. a single rail serving as a complete track. 2. railway in which cars run on a single rail. n.

mon o syl lab ic (mon'ə sə lab'ik), 1. having only one syllable. 2. consisting of a word or words of one syllable: "No, not now," is a monosyllabic reply. adj.

Monogram

mon o syl la ble (mon'ə sil'ə bl), word of one syllable. Yes and no are monosyllables. n.

mon o the ism (mon'ə thē'iz əm), doctrine or belief that there is only one God. n.

mon o the ist (mon'ə thē'ist), believer in only one God. n.

mon o the is tic (mon'ə thē is'tik), 1. believing in only one God. 2. having to do with belief in only one God. adj.

mon o tone (mon'ə tɒn), 1. sameness of tone, style of writing, color, etc.: Don't read in a monotone; use expression. 2. continuing on one tone; of one tone, style, or color. 1 n., 2 adj.

mo not o nous (mə nɒt'ə nəs), 1. continuing in the same tone. 2. not varying; without change. 3. wearying because of its sameness. adj. —mo not o nous ly, adv.

mo not o ny (mə nɒt'ə nē), 1. sameness of tone or pitch. 2. lack of variety. 3. wearisome sameness. n.

mon o tre me (mon'ə trēm), one of the lowest order of mammals. Duckbills and echidnas are monotremes. n.

Mon o type (mon'ə tɪp), Trademark. a set of two machines (keyboard machine and casting machine) for setting and making type in separate letters. n.

mon o type (mon'ə tɪp), set with a Monotype machine. v., mon o typed, mon o typ ing.

mon o va lent (mon'ə vā'lənt), having a valence of one. adj.

mon ox ide (mon ok'sɪd), oxide containing one oxygen atom in each molecule. n.

Mon roe (mən rō'), James, 1758-1831, the fifth president of the United States, from 1817 to 1825. He first stated the Monroe Doctrine. n.

Monroe Doctrine, doctrine that European nations should not interfere with American nations or try to acquire more territory in America.

Mon ro vi a (mon rō'vē ə), capital of Liberia. 42,000. n.

Mon sei gneur or mon sei gneur (mɒn se nyɔər'), 1. a French title of honor given to princes, bishops, and other persons of importance. 2. person bearing this title. n., pl. Mes sei gneurs or mes sei gneurs (mə se nyɔər').

mon sieur (mə syɔər'), Mr.; sir. n., pl. mes sieurs (mes'ɔrz; French mə syɔər').

Mon si gnor or mon si gnor (mon sɛn'yɔər; Italian mɒn'sɛ nyɔər'), 1. title given to certain dignitaries in the Roman Catholic Church. 2. person having this title. n., pl. Mon si gnors or mon si gnors; Mon si gno ri or mon si gno ri (mɒn'sɛ nyɔ'rē).

mon soon (mon sūn'), 1. a seasonal wind of the Indian Ocean and S Asia, blowing from the southwest from April to October and from the northeast during the rest of the year. 2. a rainy season during which this wind blows from the southwest. n.

mon ster (mon'stər), 1. any animal or plant that is out of the usual course of nature. A cow with two heads is a monster. Centaurs, sphinxes, and griffins are imaginary monsters. 2. a huge creature or thing. 3. huge. 4. person too wicked to be human: He is a monster of cruelty. 1, 2, 4 n., 3 adj.

mon stros i ty (mon stros'ə tē), 1. monster. 2. state or character of being monstrous. n., pl. mon stros i ties.

mon strous (mon'strəs), 1. huge; enormous. 2. wrongly formed or shaped; like a monster. 3. so wrong or absurd as to be almost unheard of. 4. shocking; horrible; dreadful. 5. Informal. very; extremely. 1-4 adj., 5 adv. —mon'strous ly, adv. —mon'strous ness, n.

Mont., Montana.

mon tage (mon tæzh'), 1. the combination of several distinct pictures to make a composite picture. 2. a composite picture so made. 3. in motion pictures, the use of a rapid succession of pictures, especially to suggest a train of thought. n.

Mon taigne (mon tãñ'), 1533-1592, French essayist. n.

Mon tan a (mon tan'ə), a Western State of the United States. 675,000 pop.; 147,138 sq. mi. Capital: Helena. Abbrev.: Mont. n. —Mon tan'an, adj., n.

Mont Blanc (French mɔ̃ blãñ'; English mont blangk'), the highest mountain in the Alps, between France and Italy. 15,781 ft.

Mont calm (mont kãm'), 1712-1759, French general defeated by the English at Quebec. n.

mon te (mon'tē), a Spanish and Spanish American gambling game at cards. n.

Mon te Car lo (mon'tē kâr'lô), town in Monaco, noted as a gambling resort. 11,000.

Mon te ne grin (mon'tā nē'grin), 1. of or having to do with Montenegro or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Montenegro. 1 adj., 2 n.

Mon te ne gro (mon'tā nē'grô), a former kingdom in S Europe, on the Adriatic Sea. After World War I it became a part of Yugoslavia. n.

Mon te rey (mon'tā rā'), town on the coast of California. It was the capital of California until 1849. 23,000. n.

Mon ter rey (mon'tā rā'), city in northeast Mexico. 601,000. n.

Mon tes so ri (mon'tā sô'rē), Maria, 1870-1952, Italian educator. n.

Mon te vi de o (mon'tā vi dā'ô), capital of Uruguay, on the Plata River. 811,000. n.

Mon te zu ma II (mon'tā zū'mā), 1466?-1520, Aztec emperor of Mexico, from 1502 to 1520, defeated by Cortés.

Mont gom er y (mont gum'ər ē), capital of Alabama, in the central part. 134,000. n.

month (munt), 1. one of the 12 parts into which the year is divided. 2. time from any day of one month to the corresponding day of the next month. n.

month ly (munt'h/lē), 1. of a month; for a month; lasting a month: a monthly supply, a monthly salary. 2. done, happening, payable, etc., once a month. 3. once a month; every month: Some magazines come monthly. 4. magazine published once a month. 1,2 adj., 3 adv., 4 n., pl. month lies.

Mon ti cel lo (mon'tā sel'ô or mon'tā chel'ô), home of Thomas Jefferson, near Charlottesville, Virginia. n.

Mont mar tre (mɔ̃ mâr'trə), section of Paris, noted for its night life. n.

Mont pel ier (mont pēl'yər), capital of Vermont, in the central part. 9000. n.

Mont re al (mont'rē ôl'), seaport in Quebec, on the St. Lawrence River. 1,155,000. n.

Mont St. Mi chel (mɔ̃ sãn mē shel'), a small island off the NW coast of France, famous for its abbey and fortress.

mon u ment (mon'yə mēnt), 1. something set up to keep a person or an event from being forgotten. A monument may be a building, pillar, arch, statue, tomb, or stone. 2. anything that keeps alive the memory of a person or an event. 3. an enduring or prominent instance: The professor's researches were monuments of learning. 4. something set up to mark a boundary. n.

mon u men tal (mon'yə mēn'tl), 1. of a monument. 2. serving as a monument. 3. like a monument. 4. weighty and lasting; important: The Constitution of the United States is a monumental document. 5. very great: monumental ignorance. adj. —mon'u men-tal ly, adv.

moo (mü), 1. sound made by a cow. 2. make this sound. 1 n., pl. moos; 2 v., mooed, moo ing.

mood (müd), state of mind or feeling: I am in the mood to play just now; I don't want to study. n. moods, fits of depression or bad temper.

mood (müd), form of a verb that shows whether the act or state is thought of as a fact, a command, etc.: the indicative mood, the imperative mood. n. Also, mode.

mood i ness (müd'ē nis), moody condition. n.

mood y (müd'ē), 1. likely to have changes of mood. 2. often having gloomy moods: She has been moody ever since she lost her job. 3. sunk in sadness; gloomy; sullen: Maud sat in moodily silence. adj., mood i er, mood i est. —mood'i ly, adv.

moon (mün), 1. a heavenly body that revolves around the earth once in approximately 28 days. The moon looks bright because it reflects the sun's light. 2. moon at a certain period of time: new moon (visible as slender crescent), half moon (visible as half circle), full moon (visible as circle), old moon (waning). 3. a lunar month; month. 4. moonlight. 5. something shaped like the moon in any of its appearances. 6. satellite of any planet: the moons of Jupiter. 7. artificial earth satellite. 8. wander about or gaze idly or listlessly. 1-7 n., 8 v. —moon'less, adj. —moon'like, adj.

moon beam (mün'bēm'), ray of moonlight. n.

moon calf (mün'kaf'), idiot; a born fool. n.

moon light (mün'lit'), 1. light of the moon.

2. having the light of the moon: a moonlight night. 3. while the moon is shining; by night: a moonlight swim. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

moon lit (mün'lit'), lighted by the moon. adj.

moon shine (mün'shīn'), 1. moonlight. 2. empty talk; empty show; nonsense. 3. U.S. Informal. intoxicating liquor made unlawfully, or smuggled. n.

moon shin er (mün'shīn'ər), U.S. Informal. person who makes intoxicating liquor contrary to law. n.

moon stone (mün'stōn'), a whitish gem with a pearly luster. Moonstone is a variety of feldspar. n.

moon struck (mün'struk'), dazed; crazed. adj.

moor (mür), 1. put or keep (a ship, etc.) in place by means of ropes or chains fastened to the shore or to anchors. 2. moor a ship. 3. be made secure by ropes, anchors, etc. v.

moor (mür), Brit. open waste land, especially if heather grows on it. n.

Moor (mür), member of a race related to the Arabs, living in NW Africa. In the eighth century A.D. the Moors invaded and conquered Spain. They were finally driven out in 1492. n.

moor cock, the male red grouse.

Moore (mür or môr), Thomas, 1779-1852, Irish poet. n.

mooring mast, mast to which an airship is moored.

moor ings (mür'ingz), 1. ropes, cables, anchors, etc., by which a ship is fastened. 2. place where a ship is moored. n.pl.

Moor ish (mür'ish), 1. of the Moors. 2. in the style of the Moors. adj.

moor land (mür'land'), land covered with heather; moor. n.

moose (müs), a large mammal of the same family as the deer, living in Canada and the N United States. n., pl. moose.

moot (müt), 1. debatable; doubtful: a moot point. 2. argue. 3. bring forward (a point, subject, case, etc.) for discussion. 4. assembly. 1 adj., 2,3 v., 4 n.

moot court, mock court held in a law school to give students practice.

mop (mop), 1. bundle of coarse yarn, rags, or cloth fastened at the end of a stick, for cleaning floors, etc. 2. wash or wipe up; clean with a mop: to mop up the floor. 3. wipe: to mop one's brow with one's handkerchief. 4. a thick head of hair like a mop. 1,4 n., 2,3 v., mopped, mop ping.

mop up, finish.

mop (mop), grimace. v., mopped, mop ping; n.

mop and mow, make faces.

NEW MOON

HALF MOON

FULL MOON

OLD MOON

Phases of the moon

Moose
(about 6 ft. high
at the shoulder)

mope (mōp), 1. be indifferent and silent; be gloomy and sad. 2. person who mopes. 1 v., moped, mop ing; 2 n.
mop pet (mop'it), Archaic. child. n.
mo raine (mə rān'), mass of rocks, dirt, etc., deposited at the side or end of a glacier. n.
mor al (môr'al), 1. good in character or conduct; virtuous according to civilized standards of right and wrong; right; just: a moral act, a moral man. 2. capable of understanding right and wrong: A little baby is not a moral being. 3. having to do with character or with the difference between right and wrong: a moral question. 4. lesson, inner meaning, or teaching of a fable, a story, or an event: The moral of the story was "Look before you leap." 5. teaching a good lesson; having a good influence. 1-3, 5 adj., 4 n.
morals, 1. behavior in matters of right and wrong. 2. character. 3. principles in regard to conduct.
moral certainty, probability so great that it might just as well be a certainty.
mo rale (mə ral'), moral or mental condition as regards courage, confidence, enthusiasm, etc.: the morale of troops. n.
mor al ist (môr'al ist), 1. person who thinks much about moral duties, sees the moral side of things, and leads a moral life. 2. person who teaches, studies, or writes about morals. n.
mor al is tic (môr'al is'tik), 1. moralizing; teaching the difference between right and wrong. 2. of or having to do with a moralist or moral teaching. adj.
mo ral i ty (mə ral'ə tē), 1. right or wrong of an action: They argued about the morality of dancing on Sunday. 2. doing right; virtue. 3. system of morals; set of rules or principles of conduct. 4. moral instruction; moral lesson or precept. 5. morality play. n., pl. moralities.
morality play, drama popular during the 15th and 16th centuries, in which vices and virtues appear as real people.
mor al ize (môr'al iz), 1. think, talk, or write about questions of right and wrong. 2. point out the lesson or inner meaning of. 3. improve the morals of. v., mor al ized, mor al iz ing. —mor'al i za'tion, n. —mor'al iz'er, n.
mor al ly (môr'al ē), 1. in a moral manner. 2. in morals; as to morals: The king was a good man morally but too stupid for a position of importance. 3. from a moral point of view; ethically. 4. practically: I am morally sure that I locked the door. adv.
moral support, approval but not active help.
moral victory, defeat that has the effect on the mind that a victory would have.
mo rass (mə ras'), 1. piece of low, soft, wet ground; swamp. 2. a difficult situation; puzzling mess. n.
mor a to ri um (môr'ə tô'rē əm), 1. a legal authorization to delay payments of money due. 2. period during which such authorization is in effect. n., pl. mor a to ri ums, mor a to ri a (-rē ə).
Mo ra vi a (mô rā'vē ə), region in central Czechoslovakia. n.
Mo ra vi an (mô rā'vē ən), 1. having to do with Moravia, or its Slavic inhabitants. 2. native or inhabitant of Moravia. 3. of or having to do with the Protestant church founded by John Huss (1369?-1415), a Bohemian religious reformer and martyr. 4. member of the Moravian church. 1, 3 adj., 2, 4 n.
mo ray (mô'rā), a fierce, often brilliantly colored eel of tropical seas. n.
mor bid (môr'bid), 1. unhealthy; not wholesome: A liking for horrors is morbid. 2. caused by disease; characteristic of disease; diseased: Cancer is a morbid growth. adj. —mor'bid ly, adv. —mor'bid ness, n.
mor bid i ty (môr'bid'ə tē), 1. morbid state or quality. 2. proportion of sickness. n.
mor dan cy (môrd'n sē), mordant quality. n.

mor dant (môrd'nt), 1. biting; cutting; sarcastic: The mordant criticism hurt his feelings. 2. substance that fixes colors in dyeing. 3. that fixes colors in dyeing. 4. acid that eats into metal. 1, 3 adj., 2, 4 n.
more (môr), 1. greater in number, quantity, amount, degree, or importance: more men, more help. 2. a greater number, quantity, amount, or degree: The more they have, the more they want. 3. in or to a greater extent or degree: That hurts more. 4. further; additional: Take more time. 5. an additional amount: Tell me more. 6. in addition; further; longer; again: Sing once more. 1, 4 adj. (used as comparative of much and many, with the superlative most); 2, 5 n., 3, 6 adv.
be no more, be dead.
more or less, 1. somewhat: Most people are more or less selfish. 2. nearly; approximately: five miles more or less.
Mor e (môr), Sir Thomas, 1478-1535, English statesman and author, canonized in 1935. n.
mo reen (mə rēn'), a heavy fabric of wool, or wool and cotton, usually with a watered finish. n.
mo rel (mə rel'), a small, edible fungus. n.
more o ver (môr ô'vər), also; besides; in addition to that: His power is absolute and, moreover, hereditary. adv.
mo res (môr'rēz), traditional rules; customs. n.pl.
Mor gan (môr'gən), 1. Daniel, 1736-1802, American Revolutionary general. 2. Sir Henry, 1635?-1688, English buccaneer. 3. John Hunt, 1825-1864, American Confederate general. 4. John Pierpont, 1837-1913, American financier and art collector. 5. his son, John Pierpont, 1867-1943, American financier. 6. one of a superior breed of American trotting horses. n.
mor ga nat ic (môr'gə nat'ik), designating or having to do with a form of marriage in which a man of high rank marries a woman of lower rank with an agreement that neither she nor her children shall have any claim to his rank or property. adj.
Mor gan le Fay (môr'gən lə fā'), King Arthur's half sister, a fairy, usually represented as harming him whenever she could.
morgue (môrg), 1. place in which the bodies of unknown persons found dead are kept until they can be identified and taken away by their family or friends. 2. in a newspaper office, the reference library. n.
mor i bund (môr'ə bund), dying. adj.
mo ri on (mô'rē on), helmet without a visor, shaped somewhat like a hat. n.
Mor mon (môr'mən), 1. member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, founded in 1830 by Joseph Smith. 2. of or having to do with the Mormons or their religion. 1 n., 2 adj.
The Book of Mormon, a sacred book of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.
Mor mon ism (môr'mən iz əm), the religious system of the Mormons. n.
morn (môrn), Poetic. morning. n.
morn ing (môr'ning), 1. the early part of the day, ending at noon. 2. the first or early part of anything: the morning of life. 3. of or in the morning. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.
morn ing-glo ry (môr'ning glô'rē), a vine with heart-shaped leaves and funnel-shaped blue, lavender, pink, or white flowers. n., pl. morn ing-glo ries.
morning star, planet, especially Venus, seen in the eastern sky before sunrise.
Mo ro (mô'rō), 1. member of any of various tribes of Moslem Malays in the S Philippine Islands. 2. language of these people. n., pl. Mo ros.
Mo roc can (mə rok'ən), 1. of or having to do with Morocco or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Morocco. 1 adj., 2 n.
Mo roc co (mə rok'ō), 1. country in northwest Africa, formerly partly under French, partly under Spanish control; it became independent in 1956. 11,598,000 pop.;

MORION

172,104 sq. mi. Capital: Rabat. 2. Marrakech. n.
mo roc co (mə rōk'ō), 1. a fine leather made from goatskin. n., pl. mo roc cos. mo ron (mō'ron), 1. person of 20 years or more who has the same intelligence as an ordinary child from 8 to 12 years old. 2. Informal. a feeble-minded person. n.
mo rose (mə rōs'), gloomy; sullen; ill-humored. adj.
—mo rose'ly, adv. —mo rose'ness, n.

Mor phe us (mōr'fē əs or mōr'fūs), the Greek god of dreams; popularly, the god of sleep. n.
mor phi a (mōr'fē ə), morphine. n.
mor phine (mōr'fēn), drug made from opium, used to dull pain and to cause sleep. n.
mor pho log ic (mōr'fə lōj'ik), morphological. adj.
mor pho log i cal (mōr'fə lōj'ə kl), of or having to do with morphology; relating to form; structural. adj.
mor phol o gy (mōr'fə lə jē), 1. branch of biology that deals with the forms and structure of animals and plants. 2. branch of the science of language that deals with the form of words, including inflection and derivation. n.

Mor ris (mōr'is), 1. Gouverneur, 1752-1816, American statesman. 2. Robert, 1734-1806, American patriot and financier. 3. William, 1834-1896, English poet, artist, and socialist writer. n.
mor ris (mōr'is), morris dance. n.
Morris chair or morris chair, armchair with an adjustable back.
morris dance, an old English dance performed by people in fancy costumes. n.

Morris chair. The back rests against a bar, which can be moved to any of the grooves in the extensions of the arms.

mor row (mōr'ō or mor'ō), 1. the following day or time. 2. Archaic. morning. n.
Morse (mōrs), Samuel F. B., 1791-1872, American inventor who made the first telegraph instrument. The Morse code is named after him. n.
Morse code or morse code, a system by which letters, numbers, etc., are expressed by dots, dashes, and spaces, used in telegraphy, signaling, etc.

mor sel (mōr'sl), 1. a small bite; mouthful. 2. piece; fragment. n.

mor tal (mōr'tl), 1. sure to die sometime. 2. a being that is sure to die sometime. All living creatures are mortals. 3. of man; of mortals: Mortal flesh has many pains and diseases. 4. man; human being: No mortal should strive against God. 5. of death. 6. causing death of the soul: mortal sin. 7. causing death: a mortal wound. 8. to the death: a mortal enemy. 9. very great; deadly: mortal terror. 1,3,5-9 adj., 2,4 n.

mor tal i ty (mōr'tal'ə tē), 1. mortal nature; being sure to die sometime. 2. loss of life on a large scale: The mortality from automobile accidents is very serious. 3. death rate; number of deaths per thousand cases of a disease, or per thousand persons in the population: The mortality from typhoid fever is decreasing. n.

mor tal ly (mōr'tl ē), 1. in a mortal manner. 2. fatally; so as to cause death: mortally wounded. 3. very greatly; bitterly; grievously: mortally offended. adv.

mortal sin, sin so bad that it causes the death of the soul.

mor tar (mōr'tər), 1. mixture of lime, sand, and water, or of cement, sand, and water, for holding bricks or stones together. 2. plaster with mortar; fix with mortar. 1 n., 2 v.

mor tar (mōr'tər), 1. bowl of very hard material, in which substances may be pounded to a powder. 2. a very short cannon for shooting shells or fireworks at high angles. n.

Mortar and pestle mor tar board (mōr'tər bōrd'), 1. board used by masons to hold mortar. 2. cap with a close-fitting crown topped by a stiff, flat, cloth-covered square piece, worn by teachers and students in some schools and colleges on some occasions. n.

mort gage (mōr'gij), 1. claim on property, given to a person who has loaned money in case the money is not repaid when due. 2. document that gives such a claim. 3. give a lender a claim to (one's property) in case a debt is not paid when due. 4. put under some obligation; pledge: Faust mortgaged his soul to the devil. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., mort gaged, mort gag ing.

mort ga gee (mōr'gi jē'), one to whom property is mortgaged. n.

mort gag er or mort ga gor (mōr'gi jər), one who mortgages his property. n.

mort tice (mōr'tis), mortise. n., v., mor ticed, mor tic ing.

mor ti cian (mōr tish'ən), undertaker. n.

mor ti fi ca tion (mōr'tə fə kə'shən), 1. shame; humiliation: mortification at having spilled food on the table. 2. cause of shame or humiliation. 3. a mortifying or being mortified: the mortification of the body by fasting. 4. death of one part of the body while the rest is alive: His leg was amputated because mortification had set in. n.

mor ti fy (mōr'tə fi), 1. make ashamed; humiliate: A mother is mortified when her child behaves badly. 2. overcome (bodily desires and feelings) by pain and self-denial: The saint mortified his body. 3. die; decay: The injured foot has mortified and must be cut off. v., mor ti fied, mor ti fy ing. —mor'ti fi'er, n.

mort ise (mōr'tis), 1. hole in one piece of wood cut to receive a projection on another piece (called the tenon) so as to form a joint (mortise and tenon joint). 2. fasten by a mortise: Good furniture is mortised together, not nailed. 1 n., 2 v., mor tised, mor tis ing.

Mortise and tenon joint mor tu ar y (mōr'chū er'ē), 1. building where dead bodies are kept until burial. 2. morgue. 3. of death or burial. 1,2 n., pl. mor tu a ries; 3 adj.

mos., months.

mo sa ic (mō zā'ik), 1. small pieces of stone, glass, wood, etc., of different colors inlaid to form a picture or design. 2. formed by, having to do with, or resembling such work. 3. such a picture or design. Mosaics are used in the floors, walls, or ceilings of some fine buildings. 4. anything like a mosaic. 1,3,4 n., 2 adj.

Mosaic design

Mo sa ic (mō zā'ik), of Moses or of writings ascribed to him. adj.

mosaic disease, a plant disease caused by a virus, which mottles the leaves with small brownish spots.

Mosaic law, 1. the ancient law of the Hebrews, ascribed to Moses. 2. part of the Bible where these laws are stated.

Mos cow (mos'kou or mos'kō), capital of the Soviet Union and of the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic, in the central part of Russia. 5,032,000. n.

Mo selle (mō zel'), 1. river flowing from NE France into the Rhine in West Germany. 320 mi. 2. kind of white wine. n.

Mo ses (mō'ziz or mō'zis), in the Bible, the great leader and lawgiver of the Israelites, who led them out of Egypt. n.

mo sey (mō'zē), U.S. Slang. 1. shuffle along. 2. saunter; amble. v., mo seyd, mo sey ing.

Mos lem (moz'ləm), 1. of Mohammed or the religion founded by him. 2. follower of Mohammed; believer in the religion founded by him. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. Mos lems or Mos lem. Also, Muslem, Muslim.

mosque (mosk), a Moslem place of worship. n.

mos qui to (məs kē'tō), a small, slender insect. The female gives a bite that itches. There are many kinds of mosquitoes; some kinds transmit malaria; some transmit yellow fever. n., pl. mos qui toes or mosqui tos.

Mosque

mosquito boat, a fast motorboat, carrying a gun or torpedo; PT boat.

moss (môs), 1. any of various very small, soft, green or brown plants that grow close together like a carpet on the ground, on rocks, on trees, etc. 2. any of various similar plants. n. —moss/like, adj.

moss back (môs/bak'), U.S. Slang. person whose ideas are out of date. n.

moss rose, a cultivated rose with a mosslike growth on the calyx and stem.

mossy (môs/ē), 1. covered with moss: a mossy bank. 2. like moss: mossy green. adj., mossier, mossiest. —moss/iness, n.

most (mōst), 1. the greatest quantity, amount, measure, degree, or number of: The winner gets the most money. 2. the greatest quantity, amount, degree, or number: He did most of the work. 3. almost all: Most children like candy. 4. in or to the greatest extent or degree: Which hurt most? 5. Informal. almost; nearly. 1,3 adj. (used as superlative of much and many, with the comparative more); 2 n., 4,5 adv.

at most or at the most, not more than.

for the most part, mainly; usually.

make the most of, make the best use of.

-most, suffix forming superlatives, as in foremost, inmost, topmost, utmost.

most ly (mōst/lē) almost all; for the most part; mainly; chiefly. adv.

Mo sul (mō sūl'), city in N Iraq. 180,000. n.

mote (mōt), speck of dust. n.

mo tel (mō tel'), U.S. a hotel or group of cottages which provides sleeping, and often eating, accommodations for motorists. n.

moth (mōth), 1. a small, winged insect that lays eggs in cloth, fur, etc. Its larvae eat holes in the material. 2. a broad-winged insect very much like a butterfly, but flying mostly at night. n., pl. moths (mōthz or mōths).

Moth (def. 2)

moth ball, ball of naphthalene, used to keep moths away from wool, silk, fur, etc.

moth-eat en (mōth/ēt'n), 1. eaten by moths; having holes made by moths. 2. worn-out; out-of-date. adj.

moth er (mōth/ər), 1. a female parent. 2. be mother of; act as mother to: Ruth mothers her baby sister. 3. acknowledge oneself mother of or assume as one's own. 4. cause; source. 5. head of a female religious community. 6. woman exercising control and responsibility like that of a mother. 7. a familiar name for an old woman. 8. that is a mother: the mother church. 9. like a mother. 10. of a mother. 11. native: our mother tongue. 1,4-7 n., 2,3 v., 8-11 adj. —moth/er less, adj.

moth er (mōth/ər), a stringy, sticky substance, consisting of bacteria, formed in vinegar or on the surface of liquids that are turning to vinegar. n.

mother church, church from which or by which others have been formed.

mother country, 1. country where a person was born. 2. country in relation to its colonies or its natives.

Mother Goose, alleged author of certain old fairy tales and nursery rhymes.

moth er hood (mōth/ər hūd), 1. state of being a mother: The young wife was proud of her motherhood. 2. qualities of a mother. 3. mothers. n.

moth er-in-law (mōth/ər in lō'), mother of one's husband or wife. n., pl. mothers-in-law.

moth er land (mōth/ər land'), 1. one's native country. 2. land of one's ancestors. n.

Mosquito. Line shows actual length.

mother lode, the main vein of ore in a mine.

moth er ly (mōth/ər lē), 1. of a mother. 2. like a mother; like a mother's; kindly. adj. —moth/er li-ness, n.

moth er-of-pearl (mōth/ər əv pērl'), the hard, rainbow-colored lining of certain shells. It is used to make buttons and ornaments. n.

Mother's Day, U.S. the second Sunday of May, set apart in the United States in honor of mothers.

mother superior, woman who is the head of a convent of nuns.

mother tongue, 1. one's native language. 2. language to which other languages owe their origin.

mother wit, natural intelligence; common sense.

moth y (mōth/ē), containing moths; moth-eaten. adj., moth ier, moth iest.

mo tif (mō tēf'), 1. subject for development or treatment in art, literature, or music; a principal idea or feature; motive: This opera contains a love motif. 2. a distinctive figure in a design. n.

mo tile (mō'tl), in biology, able to move by itself. adj.

mo til i ty (mō til'ə tē), motile quality. n.

mo tion (mō'shən), 1. change of position or place; movement; moving: the motion of a ship, the motion of one's hand in writing. 2. make a movement, as of the hand or head, to show one's meaning: He motioned to show us the way. 3. show (a person) what to do by such a motion: He motioned me out. 4. a formal suggestion made in a meeting or law court: The motion to adjourn was carried. 1,4 n., 2,3 v.

in motion, moving; going.

mo tion less (mō'shən lis), not moving. adj. —mo/-tion less ly, adv.

motion picture, 1. series of pictures shown on a screen in which people and things seem to move. 2. story or drama told by means of this. Also, moving picture.

mo ti vate (mō'tə vāt), provide with a motive; act upon as a motive. v., mo ti vat ed, mo ti vat ing.

mo ti va tion (mō'tə vā'shən), act or process of furnishing with an incentive or inducement to action. n.

mo tive (mō'tiv), 1. thought or feeling that makes one act: His motive in going away was a wish to travel. 2. that makes something move: motive power of steam or electricity. 3. motif. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

motive power, 1. power used to impart motion; source of mechanical energy: The motive power of trains is usually steam or electricity. 2. all the locomotives of a railroad collectively.

mot juste (mō zhyst'), French. word or phrase that exactly fits the case.

mot ley (mōt/lē), 1. suit of more than one color worn by clowns. 2. of different colors like a clown's suit.

3. mixture of things that are different.

4. made up of units not alike: a motley collection. 1,3 n., pl. mot leys; 2,4 adj.

mo tor (mō'tər), 1. engine that makes a machine go: an electric motor. 2. a dynamo.

3. an internal-combustion engine. 4. run by a motor. 5. automobile. 6. travel by automobile. 7. having to do with motion.

Motor nerves arouse muscles to action.

8. that which causes motion. 1-3,5,8 n., 4,7 adj., 6 v.

mo tor boat (mō'tər bōt'), boat that is run by a motor. n.

mo tor bus (mō'tər bus'), bus run by a motor. n.

mo tor cade (mō'tər kād), procession or long line of automobiles. n.

mo tor car (mō'tər kār'), automobile. n.

motor coach, motor bus.

motor court, U.S. group of small buildings providing accommodations for travelers by automobile.

Clown wearing a motley costume mo tor cy cle (mō'tər sī'kl), a self-propelled, two-wheeled vehicle. n.

mo tor cy clist (mō'tər sī'klist), person who rides a motorcycle. n.

motor generator, apparatus consisting of a combination of motor and dynamo, used to lower voltage, etc.

mo tor ist (mō'tər ist), person who travels by automobile, especially one who does it a great deal. n.

mo tor ize (mō'tər iz), 1. furnish with a motor. 2. supply with motor-driven vehicles in place of horses and horse-drawn vehicles. v., mo tor ized, mo tor izing. —mo'tor i za'tion, n.

mo tor man (mō'tər mən), 1. man who runs an electric streetcar or train. 2. man who runs a motor. n., pl. mo tor men.

motor truck, truck with an engine and chassis made for carrying heavy loads.

mot tle (mō'tl), 1. mark with spots or streaks of different colors. 2. a mottled coloring or pattern. 1 v., mot tled, mot tling; 2 n.

mot to (mō'tō), 1. a brief sentence adopted as a rule of conduct: "Think before you speak" is a good motto. 2. sentence, word, or phrase written or engraved on some object. n., pl. mot toes or mot tos.

mouf lon or mouf lon (müf'lon), 1. a wild sheep of the mountainous regions of Sardinia, Corsica, etc. 2. its wool, used for fur. n.

mould (mōld), Esp. Brit. mold. n., v.

moulder (mōl'dər), Esp. Brit. molder. v., n.

mould ing (mōl'ding), Esp. Brit. molding. n.

mould y (mōl'dē), Esp. Brit. moldy. adj., mould i er, mould i est. —mould'i ness, n.

moult (mōlt), Esp. Brit. molt. v., n.

mound (maund), 1. bank or heap of earth or stones. 2. enclose with a mound. 3. heap up. 4. a small hill. 5. the slightly elevated ground from which a baseball pitcher pitches. 1,4,5 n., 2,3 v.

mount¹ (maunt), 1. go up; ascend: mount stairs. 2. move or proceed upwards: A flush mounts to the brow. 3. rise; increase; rise in amount: The cost of living mounts steadily. 4. get up on: mount a platform. 5. get on a horse; get up on something: mount and ride away. 6. put on a horse; furnish with a horse: Many policemen in this city are mounted. 7. horse provided for riding: The general had an excellent mount. 8. put in proper position or order for use: mount specimens on slides. 9. fix in a setting, backing, support, etc.: mount a picture on cardboard. 10. a setting; backing; support: the mount for a picture. 11. have or carry (guns) as a fortress or ship does: The ship mounts eight guns. 12. provide (a play) with scenery and costumes. 13. go (on guard) as a sentry or watch does. 1-6,8,9,11-13 v., 7,10 n.

mount² (maunt), mountain; high hill. Mount is often used before the names of mountains: Mount Rainier. n.

mount ain (maunt'n), 1. a very high hill. 2. of or having to do with mountains. 3. living, growing, or found on mountains. 4. something like a high hill: a mountain of rubbish. 5. a huge amount. 6. resembling or suggesting a mountain. 1,4,5 n., 2,3,6 adj.

mountains, a series of very high hills.

mountain chain, a connected series of mountains.

mountain eer (maunt'n ir'),

1. person who lives in the mountains. 2. person skilled in mountain climbing. 3. climb mountains. 1,2 n., 3 v.

mountain goat, the white antelope of the Rocky Mountains.

mountain laurel, an evergreen shrub with glossy leaves and pale-pink or white flowers.

mountain lion, cougar.

mountain ous (maunt'n əs), 1. covered with mountain ranges: mountainous country. 2. huge: a mountainous wave. adj.

Mountain goat (about 3 ft. high at the shoulder) mountain range, row of mountains; series of mountains.

Mount Desert Island (dez'ərt or di zèrt'), island off the coast of Maine. 14 mi. long; 8 mi. wide.

mount te bank (maunt'tə bangk), 1. person who sells quick medicines in public, appealing to his audience by tricks, stories, jokes, etc. 2. anybody who tries to deceive people by tricks, stories, and jokes. n.

mount ed (maunt'id), 1. on horseback. 2. in a position for use: a mounted gun. 3. on a support; in a setting: a mounted diamond. adj.

mount ing (maunt'ing), support, setting, or the like. The mounting of a photograph is the paper or cardboard on which it is pasted. n.

Mount Ver non (vèr'nən), 1. home of George Washington in Virginia, on the Potomac River near Washington, D.C. 2. city in SE New York. 76,000.

mourn (mōrn), 1. grieve. 2. feel or show sorrow over: Mary mourned her lost doll. v.

mourn er (mōr'nər), 1. person who mourns, especially at a funeral. 2. sinner who repents and seeks salvation at a religious revival. n.

mourn ful (mōrn'fəl), 1. full of grief; sad; sorrowful: a mournful voice. 2. gloomy; dreary: a mournful occasion. adj. —mourn'ful ly, adv. —mourn'ful ness, n.

mourn ing (mōr'ning), 1. sorrowing; lamentation. 2. the wearing of black or some other color (white in the Orient), to show sorrow for a person's death. 3. a draping of buildings, hanging flags at half-mast, etc., as outward signs of such sorrow. 4. clothes, draperies, etc., to show such sorrow. 5. of mourning; used in mourning. 1-4 n., 5 adj.

mourning dove, a wild dove of North America that makes a mournful sound.

mouse (mous for 1,4; mouz for 2,3), 1. a small, gray, gnawing rodent. 2. hunt for mice; catch mice for food. 3. search as a cat does; move about as if searching. 4. a shy, timid person. 1,4 n., pl. mice; 2,3 v., moused, mous ing. —mouse'like', adj.

mous er (mouz'ər), animal that catches mice. n.

mous ing (mouz'ing), several turns of small rope or the like uniting the shank and point of a hook. n.

mouse trap (mous'trap'), trap for catching mice. n.

mousse (müis), a fancy food made with whipped cream, either frozen or stiffened with gelatin: chocolate mousse, tomato mousse. n.

mous tache (mus'tash or mäs tash'), Esp. Brit. mustache. n.

mous y (mous'ē), 1. resembling or suggesting a mouse in color, odor, behavior, etc. 2. quiet as a mouse. 3. infested with mice. adj., mous i er, mous i est.

mouth (mouth for 1,2,4,7; mouθ for 3,5,6,7), 1. opening through which an animal takes in food; space containing tongue and teeth. 2. opening suggesting a mouth: the mouth of a cave. 3. seize or rub with the mouth. 4. a part of a river or the like where its waters are emptied into some other body of water: the mouth of the Ohio River. 5. utter (words) in an affected or pompous way: I dislike actors who mouth their speeches. 6. speak oratorically. 7. grimace: The foolish boy made mouths at us. 1,2,4,7 n., pl. mouths (mouθz); 3,5-7 v.

mouth er (mouθ'ər), a long-winded talker. n.

mouth ful (mouth'fəl), 1. amount the mouth can easily hold. 2. what is taken into the mouth at one time. 3. a small amount. n., pl. mouth fuls.

mouth less (mouth'lis), having no mouth or opening. adj.

mouth organ, harmonica.

mouth piece (mouth'pēs'), 1. the part of a pipe, horn, etc., that is placed in or against a person's mouth. 2. the part of a bit that goes in a horse's mouth. 3. piece placed at the mouth of something or forming its mouth. 4. person, newspaper, etc., that speaks for others. n.

Mousing used to keep a loop from slipping off a hook mouth y (mouθH/ē), loud-mouthed; ranting; bombastic. adj., mouth i er, mouth i est.

mov a ble (müv'ə bl), 1. that can be moved: Our fingers are movable. 2. that can be carried from place to place as personal possessions can. 3. changing from one date to another in different years: Easter is a movable holy day. 4. piece of furniture that is not a fixture but can be moved to another house. 1-3 adj., 4 n. movables, personal property.

move (müv), 1. change the place or position of: Do not move your hand. Move your chair to the other side of the table. 2. change place or position: The child moved in his sleep. 3. change one's abode: We move to the country next week. 4. right or time to move in a game: It's your move now. 5. make a move in a game; be moved in a game: move a pawn in chess. 6. put or keep in motion: The wind moves the leaves. 7. act of moving; movement. 8. cause to act: Castor oil moves the bowels. 9. act: God moves in a mysterious way. 10. action taken to bring about some result: a move to disconcert his opponents. 11. impel; rouse; excite: What moved you to do this? 12. affect with emotion; excite to tender feeling: The sad story moved her to tears. 13. make a formal request, application, or proposal; propose: Mr. Chairman, I move that we adjourn. 14. sell or be sold: These pink dresses are moving slowly. 15. make progress: The train moved slowly. 16. exist; be active: move in the best society. 17. turn; swing; operate: Most doors move on a hinge. 1-3,5,6,8,9,11-17 v., moved, mov ing; 4,7,10 n. on the move, moving about.

move a ble (müv'ə bl), movable. adj.

move ment (müv'mənt), 1. act or fact of moving: We run by movements of the legs. 2. change in the placing of troops or ships. 3. the moving parts of a machine; special group of parts that move on each other. The movement of a watch consists of many little wheels. 4. the kind of rhythm a musical piece has, its speed, etc.: The movement of a waltz is very different from the movement of a march. 5. one division of a long musical selection: the second movement of a symphony. 6. efforts and results of a group of people working together to bring about some one thing: the movement for a safe and sane Fourth of July. 7. an emptying of the bowels. n.

mov er (müv'ər), 1. one that moves. 2. person whose occupation is moving furniture, etc., from one house, etc., to another. n.

movie (müv'ē), U.S. Informal. a motion picture. n.

mov ing (müv'ing), 1. that moves: moving pictures. 2. causing motion; actuating: John was the moving spirit of the undertaking. 3. touching; pathetic: a moving story. adj. —mov'ing ly, adv.

moving picture, motion picture.

mow¹ (mō), 1. cut down with a machine or a scythe: to mow overgrown grass. 2. cut down the grass or grain from: to mow a field. 3. cut down grass, etc.: The men are mowing today. 4. destroy at a sweep or in large numbers, as if by mowing: The firing of the enemy mowed down our men like grass. v., mowed, mowed or mown, mow ing.

mow² (mou), 1. place in a barn where hay, grain, or the like is piled or stored. 2. pile or stack of hay, grain, etc., in a barn. n.

mow³ (mō or mou), grimace. v., n.

mow er (mō'ər), person or thing that mows: a lawn mower. n.

mow ing (mō'ing), 1. cutting grass with a scythe or machine. 2. meadowland. 3. hay mowed at one time. n. mown (mōn), a pp. of mow¹. New-mown hay is hay that has just been cut. v.

Mo zam bique (mō'zəm bēk'), a Portuguese colony in SE Africa; Portuguese East Africa. 6,234,000 pop.; 297,731 sq. mi. Capital: Lourenço Marques. n.

Mo zart (mō'tsärt), Wolfgang Amadeus, 1756-1791, Austrian musical composer. n.

M.P. or MP, 1. Member of Parliament. 2. Military Police. 3. Mounted Police. 4. Metropolitan Police.

mph or m.p.h., miles per hour.

Mr. or Mr (mis'tər), mister, title put in front of a man's name or the name of his position: Mr. Jackson, Mr. President. pl. Messrs.

Mrs. (mis'iz), title put in front of a married woman's name: Mrs. Jackson. pl. Mmes.

Ms. or MS. or ms., manuscript.

M.S. or M.Sc., Master of Science.

Msgr., Monsignor.

m'sieur (mə syœ'), monsieur. n.

Mss. or MSS. or mss., manuscripts.

M.S.T., Mountain Standard Time.

Mt., Mount: Mt. Everest, Mt. Whitney.

mt. or mtn., mountain.

mts., mountains.

much (much), 1. in great quantity, amount, or degree: much money, much time. 2. to a great extent or degree: much pleased. 3. nearly; about: This is much the same as the others. 4. a great deal: Much of this is not true. 5. a great, important, or notable thing or matter: The rain did not amount to much. 1 adj., more, most; 2,3 adv., more, most; 4,5 n.

make much of, treat, represent, or consider as of great importance.

much of a size, height, etc., nearly the same size, height, etc.

much ness (much'nis), greatness; magnitude. n.

much of a muchness, much alike; nearly equivalent.

mu ci lage (mü'sl ij), 1. a sticky, gummy substance used to make things stick together. 2. substance like glue or gelatin in plants. n.

mu ci lag i nous (mü'sə laj'ə nə), 1. sticky; gummy. 2. containing mucilage. adj.

muck (muk), 1. dirt; filth. 2. anything filthy, dirty, or disgusting. 3. soil or make dirty. 4. moist farmyard manure. 5. put muck on. 6. Informal. mess; untidy condition. 1,2,4,6 n., 3,5 v.

muck rake (muk'rāk'), hunt for and expose corruption. v., muck raked, muck rak ing. —muck'rak'er, n.

mu cous (mü'kəs), 1. of or like mucus. 2. containing or secreting mucus. adj.

mucous membrane, lining of the nose, throat, and other cavities of the body that are open to the air.

mu cus (mü'kəs), a slimy substance that moistens the linings of the body. A cold in the head causes a discharge of mucus. n.

mud (mud), soft, sticky, wet earth: mud on the ground after rain, mud at the bottom of a pond. n.

mud dle (mud'l), 1. mix up; bring (things) into a mess: to muddle a piece of work. 2. make confused or stupid or slightly drunk: The more you talk, the more you muddle me. 3. think or act in a confused, blundering way: to muddle over a problem, to muddle through a difficulty. 4. mess; disorder; confusion. 1-3 v., muddled, mud dling; 4 n. —mud'dler, n.

mud dle-head ed (mud'l hed'əd), stupid; confused. adj.

mud dy (mud'ē), 1. of or like mud. 2. having much mud; covered with mud. 3. clouded with mud; dull; not pure: muddy water, a muddy color. 4. confused; not clear: Muddy writing is usually careless writing. 5. make muddy. 6. become muddy. 1-4 adj..

mud di er, mud di est; 5,6 v., mud died, mud dy ing.

mud hen, water bird that looks like a large chicken. It lives in marshes.

mud puppy, salamander that lives in water.

mud turtle, any of various fresh-water turtles of the United States.

Mud hen (about 1 ft. long) mu ez zin (mū ez'z'n), crier who, at certain hours, calls Moslems to prayer. n.

muff (muf), 1. a covering of fur or other material for keeping both hands warm. One hand is put in at each end. 2. fail to catch (a ball) when it comes into one's hands. 3. a clumsy failure to catch a ball that comes into one's hands: The catcher's muff allowed the runner to score. 4. handle awkwardly; bungle. 5. awkward handling; bungling. 1,3,5 n., 2,4 v.

Muff

muffin (muf'ən), a small, round cake made of wheat flour, corn meal, or the like, eaten with butter and usually served hot. n.

muffle (muf'l), 1. wrap or cover up in order to keep warm and dry: She muffled her throat in a warm scarf. 2. wrap oneself in garments, etc. 3. wrap up the head of (a person) in order to keep him from speaking. 4. wrap in something in order to soften or stop the sound: A bell can be muffled with cloth. 5. dull or deaden (a sound). 6. a muffled sound. 7. thing that muffles. 1-5 v., muf fled, muf fling; 6,7 n.

muffler (muf'lər), 1. wrap or scarf worn around the neck for warmth. 2. thing used to deaden sound. An automobile engine has a muffler attached to the exhaust. n.

muf ti (muf'tē), ordinary clothes, not a uniform: The retired general appeared in muf ti. n.

Mug (def. 1)

mug (mug), 1. a heavy earthenware or metal drinking cup with a handle. 2. amount a mug holds: to drink a mug of milk. 3. Slang. face. 4. Slang. mouth. 5. Slang. attack (a person) from behind by locking the forearm around the neck and choking. 1-4 n., 5 v., mugged, mug ging.

muggy (mug'ē), warm and humid; damp and close: The weather was muggy. adj., mug gi er, mug gi est. —mug'gi ness, n.

mug wump (mug'wump'), U.S. 1. an independent in politics. 2. Republican who refused to support the party candidate for President in 1884. n.

Mu ham mad (mū ham'əd), Mohammed. n.

Muir (myūr), John, 1838-1914, Scottish-American naturalist and writer. n.

mu jik (mū zhik'), muzhik. n.

Muk den (muk'den'), city in Manchuria, NE China. 2,300,000. n. Also, Shenyang.

mu lat to (mə lat'ō or myū lat'ō), person having one white and one Negro parent. n., pl. mu lat toes.

mul ber ry (mul'ber'ē), 1. any of various trees such as the American mulberry, that yields a berrylike fruit, or the white mulberry, whose leaves are used for feeding silkworms. 2. the berrylike fruit of any of these trees. 3. dark purplish red. n., pl. mul ber ries.

mulch (mulch), 1. straw, leaves, loose earth, etc., spread on the ground around trees or plants. Mulch is used to protect the roots from cold or heat, to prevent evaporation of moisture from the soil, or to keep the fruit clean. 2. cover with straw, leaves, etc. 1 n., 2 v.

mulct (mulkt), 1. deprive of something; deprive: He was mulcted of his money by a shrewd trick. 2. punish by a fine. 3. fine; penalty. 1,2 v., 3 n.

mule (mül), 1. offspring of the ass and horse, especially of a male ass and a mare. It has the form and size of a horse, but the large ears, small hoofs, and tufted tail of a donkey. 2. Informal. a stubborn person. 3. kind of spinning machine. n.

Mule (about 5 ft. high at the shoulder) mule (mül), kind of slipper that leaves the heel uncovered. n.

mule deer, deer of W North America that has very long ears and a white tail with a black tip.

mu le teer (mū'lə tir'), driver of mules. n.

mul ish (mul'ish), like a mule; stubborn; obstinate. adj. —mul'ish ly, adv. —mul'ish ness, n.

mull (mul), U.S. Informal. think (about) without making much progress. v.

mull (mul), make (wine, beer, etc.) into a warm drink, with sugar, spices, etc. v.

mul lah (mul'ə), in Moslem countries, a title of respect for one who is learned in the sacred law. n.

mul lein or mul len (mul'ən), weed with coarse, woolly leaves and spikes of yellow flowers. n.

mul let (mul'it), kind of edible fish. There are red mullets and gray mullets. n., pl. mul lets or (esp. collectively) mul let.

mul lion (mul'yən), 1. a vertical bar between the panes of a window, the panels in the wall of a room, or the like. 2. a radiating bar in a round window. n.

mul lioned (mul'yənd), having mul lions. adj.

mul ti cel lu lar (mul'ti sel'yə lər), having more than one cell. adj.

mul ti col ored (mul'ti kul'ərd), having many colors. adj.

mul ti far i ous (mul'tə fār'ē əs), 1. having many different parts, elements, forms, etc. 2. many and various. adj. —mul'ti far'i ous ly, adv. —mul'ti far'i ous ness, n.

mul ti form (mul'tə fōrm), having many different shapes, forms, or kinds. adj.

Mul ti graph (mul'tə graf), Trademark. machine for printing circulars, letters, etc., that has type like a typewriter's. n.

mul ti graph (mul'tə graf), make copies (of) by a Multigraph. v.

mul ti lat er al (mul'ti lat'ər əl), 1. having many sides. 2. involving two or more nations. adj.

mul ti mil lion aire (mul'ti mil'yən ār'), person who owns property worth several millions (of dollars, pounds, francs, etc.). n.

mul ti ple (mul'tə pl), 1. of, having, or involving many parts, elements, relations, etc.: a man of multiple interests. 2. number that contains another number a certain number of times without a remainder: 12 is a multiple of 3. 1 adj., 2 n.

multiple sclerosis, disease which cripples and can destroy vital parts of the nervous system.

mul ti plex (mul'tə pleks), manifold; multiple. Multiplex telegraphy is a system for sending more than two messages in opposite directions over the same wire at the same time. adj.

mul ti pli cand (mul'tə plə kənd'), number or quantity to be multiplied by another: In 5 times 497, the multiplicand is 497. n.

mul ti pli ca tion (mul'tə plə kə'shən), 1. a multiplying. 2. a being multiplied. n.

mul ti pli c i ty (mul'tə plis'ə tē), a manifold variety; great many: a multiplicity of interests. n., pl. mul ti pli c i ties.

mul ti pli er (mul'tə plī'ər), 1. number by which another number is to be multiplied: In 5 times 83, the multiplier is 5. 2. one that multiplies. n.

mul ti ply (mul'tə pli), 1. increase in number or amount: As we climbed up the mountain the dangers and difficulties multiplied. 2. take (a number or quantity) a given number of times: To multiply 16 by 3 means to take 16 three times, making 48. v., mul ti plied, mul ti ply ing.

mul ti stage or mul ti-stage (mul'ti stāj'), of a rocket, missile, etc., having several sections each of

Mule deer (about 3 1/2 ft. high at the shoulder)

M M M
M, mullion (def. 1)

which lifts the rest of the rocket or missile to a greater height before burning out and usually disengaging. adj.

mul ti tude (mul'tə tūd or mul'tə tūd), a great many; crowd. n.

the multitude, the common people.

mul ti tu di nous (mul'tə tū'də nəs or mul'tə tū'də nəs), 1. forming a multitude; very numerous. 2. including many parts, elements, items, or features. adj. —mul'ti tu'di nous ly, adv. —mul'ti tu'di nous ness, n.

mul ti va lence (mul'ti vā'ləns), multivalent quality. n.

mul ti va lent (mul'ti vā'lənt), 1. having a valence of three or more. 2. having more than one degree of valence. adj.

mum (mum), 1. silent; saying nothing: Keep mum about this; tell no one. 2. be silent! say nothing! 1 adj., 2 interj.

mum ble (mum'bl), 1. speak indistinctly, as a person does when his lips are partly closed. 2. chew as a person does who has no teeth. 3. a mumbler. 1,2 v., mum bled, mum bling; 3 n. —mum'bler, n.

Mum bo Jum bo or mum bo jum bo (mum'bō jum'bō), boggy; object foolishly worshiped or feared.

mum mer (mum'ər), 1. person who wears a mask, fancy costume, or disguise for fun: Six mummies acted in a play at Christmas. 2. actor. n.

mum mer y (mum'ər ē), 1. performance of mummies. 2. any useless or silly show or ceremony. n., pl. mum mer ies.

mum mi fy (mum'ə fi), 1. make (a dead body) into a mummy; make like a mummy. 2. dry or shrivel up. v., mum-mi fied, mum mi fy ing.

mum my (mum'ē), a dead body preserved from decay. Egyptian mummies have lasted more than 3000 years. n., pl. mum mies.

mumps (mumps), a contagious disease marked by swelling of the face and difficulty in swallowing. n.pl.

munch (munch), chew vigorously and steadily; chew noisily: A horse munches its oats. v.

Mun chau sen (mun'chō zən or mun'-chou zən), Baron, 1720-1797, supposed author of a book of incredible tales. n.

Mun cie (mun'sē), city in E Indiana. 69,000. n.

mun dane (mun'dān), 1. of this world, not of heaven; earthly. 2. of the universe; of the world. adj.

Munich (mū'nik), city in S West Germany. 1,065,000. n.

Munich Pact, pact signed September 29, 1938, at Munich by Germany, France, Great Britain, and Italy, by which the Sudetenland was given over to Germany.

mu nic i pal (mū nis'ə pl), 1. of or having to do with the affairs of a city, town, or other municipality: The state police assisted the municipal police. 2. run by a city, town, etc. 3. having local self-government. adj.

mu nic i pal i ty (mū nis'ə pal'ə tē), city, town, or other district having local self-government. n., pl. mu nic i pal i ties.

mu nic i pal ly (mū nis'ip lē), by a city or town; with regard to a city or town or to municipal affairs. adv.

mu nif i cence (mū nif'ə sns), very great generosity. n.

mu nif i cent (mū nif'ə snt), extremely generous. adj. —mu nif'i cent ly, adv.

mu ni ment (mū'nə mənt), defense; protection. n.

mu ni tion (mū nish'ən), 1. material used in war. Munitions are military supplies, such as guns, powder, or bombs. 2. having to do with military supplies: A munition plant is a factory for making munitions. 3. provide with military supplies: munition a fort. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v.

Egyptian mummy and coffin. The body was treated with chemicals, then wrapped in linen.

Mün ster (myn'stər), city in N West Germany. 156,000. n.

mu ral (myr'əl), 1. on a wall. A mural painting is painted on a wall of a building. 2. picture painted on a wall. 3. of a wall; having to do with walls; like a wall. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

mur der (mēr'dər), 1. the unlawful killing of a human being when it is planned beforehand. 2. kill a human being intentionally. 3. spoil; do very badly: She murdered the song by poor singing. 1 n., 2,3 v.

murder will out, 1. murder cannot be hidden. 2. any great wrong will be found out.

mur der er (mēr'dər ər), person guilty of murder. n.

mur der ess (mēr'dər is), woman who murders somebody. n.

mur der ous (mēr'dər əs), 1. able to kill: a murderous blow. 2. ready to murder: a murderous villain. 3. causing murder: a murderous plot. adj. —mur'-der ous ly, adv.

mu ri at ic acid (myūr'ē at'ik), hydrochloric acid.

murk (mèrk), 1. darkness; gloom. 2. Poetic. dark; gloomy. 1 n., 2 adj. Also, mirk.

murk y (mèr'kē), dark; gloomy. adj., murk ier, murk iest. —murk'i ly, adv. —murk'i ness, n.

Mur mansk (mèr mansk'), seaport and railroad terminus in NW Soviet Union. 226,000. n.

mur mur (mèr'mər), 1. a soft, low, indistinct sound that rises and falls a little and goes on without breaks: the murmur of a stream, of little waves, or of voices in another room. 2. make a soft, low, indistinct sound. 3. a sound in the heart or lungs, especially an abnormal sound due to a leaky valve in the heart. 4. a softly spoken word or speech. 5. utter in a murmur: Shy Amy murmured her thanks. 6. complaint made under the breath, not aloud. 7. complain under the breath; grumble. 1,3,4,6 n., 2,5,7 v. —mur'mur ing ly, adv.

mur rain (mèr'ən), an infectious disease of cattle. n.

Mur ray (mèr'ē), river in SE Australia. 1150 mi. n.

mus., 1. music. 2. museum.

mus cat (mus'kat), 1. a light-colored grape with the flavor or odor of musk. 2. muscatel wine. n.

Mus cat (mus'kat), capital of Muscat and Oman. 6000. n.

Muscat and Oman (ō mǎn'), country in SE Arabia on the Arabian Sea. 550,000 pop.; 82,000 sq. mi. Capitol: Muscat.

mus ca tel (mus'kə tel'), 1. a strong, sweet wine made from muscat grapes. 2. the muscat grape. n.

mus cle (mus'l), 1. bundle of special tissue that can be tightened or loosened to move a part of the body. 2. this tissue. 3. strength. n. not move a muscle, keep perfectly still.

mus cle-bound (mus'l bound'), having some of the muscles stiff or tight, usually as a result of too much exercise. adj.

Mus cle Shoals (mus'l shōlz'), rapids of the Tennessee River in NW Alabama. Wilson Dam and other dams were built there to improve navigation, control floods, and produce electricity.

Mus co vite (mus'kə vīt), Russian. n., adj.

mus co vite (mus'kə vīt), a light-colored variety of mica. n.

Mus co vy (mus'kə vē), Archaic. Russia. n.

Muscovy duck, a large duck, originally native from Mexico to South America, but now widely domesticated.

mus cu lar (mus'kyə lər), 1. of the muscles; influencing the muscles: a muscular strain. 2. having well-developed muscles; strong: a muscular arm. 3. consisting of muscle. adj.

muscular dys tro phy (dis'trə fē), a disease in which the muscles gradually waste away and weaken.

Muscovy duck (about 2 3/4 ft. long, bill to tail) mus cu lar i ty (mus'kyə lar'ə tē), muscular development or strength. n.

mus cu la ture (mus'kyə lə chūr), system or arrangement of muscles. n.

muse¹ (müz), 1. think in a dreamy way; think; meditate: The boy spent the whole afternoon in musing. 2. look thoughtfully. 3. say thoughtfully. v., mused, musing. —mus'er, n.

muse² (müz), spirit that inspires a poet or composer. n.

Muse (müz), 1. one of the nine Greek goddesses of the fine arts and sciences. 2. spirit that inspires a poet or composer. n.

mu se um (mū zē'əm), building or rooms where a collection of objects illustrating science, art, ancient life, or other subjects is kept. n.

mush¹ (mush), 1. U.S. corn meal boiled in water. 2. a soft, thick mass: After the heavy rain the old dirt road was a mush. 3. Informal. weak sentiment; silly talk. n.

mush² (mush), journey on foot, usually with a dog sled across snow. n., v. —mush'er, n.

mush room (mush'rūm), 1. a small fungus, shaped like an umbrella, that grows very fast. Some mushrooms are good to eat; some are poisonous. 2. anything shaped or growing like a mushroom. 3. of or like a mushroom. 4. of very rapid growth. 5. grow very fast: The little town mushroomed into a city. 6. flatten at one end: A bullet sometimes mushrooms when it hits a very hard object. 1,2 n., 3,4 adj., 5,6 v.

mush y (mush'ē), 1. like mush; pulpy. 2. Informal. weakly sentimental. adj., mushier, mushiest. —mush'i ness, n.

mu sic (mū'zik), 1. art of putting sounds together in beautiful or pleasing arrangements. 2. beautiful or pleasing arrangements of sounds. 3. a pleasant sound: the music of streams, the music of the wind. 4. written or printed signs for tones: Can you read music? 5. appreciation of, or responsiveness to, musical sounds. n.

face the music, Informal. meet trouble boldly or bravely.

set to music, provide (the words of a song) with music.

mu si cal (mū'zə kl), 1. of music; musical instruments. 2. sounding beautiful or pleasing; like music: a musical voice. 3. set to music; accompanied by music: a musical comedy. 4. fond of music. 5. skilled in music. adj.

musical comedy, a gay and amusing play in which plot and characterization are less important than singing, dancing, and costumes.

mu si cale (mū'zə kal'), a social gathering to enjoy music. n.

musical instrument, piano, violin, or other instrument for producing music.

mu si cal ly (mū'zik lē), 1. in a musical manner. 2. in music: She is well educated musically. adv.

music box, box or case containing apparatus for producing music mechanically.

music hall, 1. hall for musical entertainments. 2. Esp. Brit. theater for vaudeville.

mu si cian (mū zish'ən), 1. person skilled in music. 2. person who sings or who plays on a musical instrument, especially one who does so for pay: An orchestra is composed of many musicians. 3. composer of music. n.

mus ing (müz'ing), dreamy; meditative; absorbed in thought. adj.

musk (musk), 1. substance with a strong and lasting odor, used in making perfumes. Musk is found in a special gland in the male musk deer. 2. odor of musk. n.

musk deer, a small, hornless deer of central Asia, the male of which has a gland containing musk.

Mus ke gon (mus kē'gən), city in SW Michigan. 46,000. n.

mus kel lunge (mus'kə lunj), a large American pike. It is a very hard fish to catch. n., pl. mus kel lunge.

mus ket (mus'kit), kind of old gun. Soldiers used muskets before rifles were invented. n.

mus ket eer (mus'kə tir'), soldier armed with a musket. n.

mus ket ry (mus'kit rē), 1. muskets. 2. shooting with muskets or rifles. 3. soldiers armed with muskets. n.

musk mel on (musk'mel'ən), kind of sweet, edible, juicy melon; cantaloupe. n.

Mus ko gee (mus kō'gē), city in E Oklahoma. 38,000. n.

musk ox, an arctic mammal, somewhat like an ox and even more like a sheep, that has a musky smell.

musk rat (musk'rat'), 1. a water rodent of North America, like a rat, but larger. 2. its valuable dark-brown fur. n., pl.

musk rats or (esp. collectively) musk rat.

musk y (mus'kē), of musk; like musk; like that of musk: a musky odor. adj., muskier, muskiest.

Mus lem or Mus lim (muz'ləm), Moslem. n., adj.

mus lin (muz'lən), 1. a thin, fine cotton cloth, used for dresses, curtains, etc. 2. a heavier cotton cloth, used for sheets, undergarments, etc. 3. made of muslin. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

muss (mus), U.S. Informal. 1. put into disorder; rumple: The child's dress was mussed. 2. disorder; mess. 1 v., 2 n.

mus sel (mus'l), 1. an edible salt-water mollusk that looks like a small clam, with black shells. 2. a fresh-water mollusk whose shells are used in making buttons. 3. any mollusk of the same family as these. n.

Mus so li ni (mūs'ə lē'nē), Benito, 1883-1945, leader of the Italian Fascists and prime minister of Italy from 1922 to 1943. The Italians called him "Il Duce," which means "the Leader." n.

Mus sul man (mus'l mən), Moslem. n., pl. Mus-sul mans.

muss y (mus'ē), Informal. untidy; messy; rumpled. adj., mussier, mussiest.

must¹ (must; unstressed məst), 1. be obliged to; be forced to: Man must eat to live. 2. ought to; should: I must go home soon. 3. be certain to (be, do, etc.): I must seem very rude. 4. be supposed or expected to: You must have that book. 5. Must is sometimes used with its verb omitted: We must to horse, We must away. 6. something necessary; obligation: This rule is a must. 7. Informal. demanding attention or doing; necessary: a must item, must legislation. 1-5 auxiliary verb, pl. must; 6 n., 7 adj.

must² (must), the unfermented juice of the grape; new wine. n.

mus tache (mus'tash or məs tash'), 1. hair growing on a man's upper lip. 2. hairs or bristles growing near the mouth of an animal. n. Also, esp. Brit. mous-tache.

mus ta chio (məs tä'shō), mustache. n., pl. mus-tachios.

mus tang (mus'tang), a small, wild or half-wild horse of the American plains. n.

mus tard (mus'tərd), 1. a yellow powder or paste used as seasoning to give a pungent taste. 2. plant from whose seeds it is made. n.

mustard gas, a poison gas that causes burns, blindness, and death.

mustard plaster, poultice made of mustard and water, or of mustard, flour, and water.

mustard seed, seed of the mustard plant.

Musk ox (about 5 ft. high at the shoulder)

Muskrat (length, including the tail, about 20 in.)

Mushrooms (stalk 2 to 5 in. high) must (mus'tər), 1. assemble; gather together; collect. 2. assembly; collection. 3. summon: muster up courage. 4. bringing together of men or troops for review or service. 5. list of those mustered. 6. the number mustered. 1,3 v., 2,4-6 n.

muster in, enlist.

muster out, discharge.

pass muster, be inspected and approved; come up to the required standards.

must n't (mus'n't), must not.

musty (mus'tē), 1. having a smell or taste suggesting mold or damp; moldy: a musty room, musty crackers. 2. stale; out-of-date: musty laws. adj., mus ti er, mustiest. —mus'ti ness, n.

mu ta bil i ty (mū'tə bil'ə tē), 1. tendency to change. 2. fickleness. n.

mu ta ble (mū'tə bl), 1. liable to change: mutable customs. 2. fickle: a mutable person. adj.

mu tant (mūt'nt), a new variety of plant or animal resulting from mutation. n.

mu tate (mū'tāt), 1. change. 2. produce mutations. 3. change by u/mlaut. v., mu tat ed, mu tat ing.

mu ta tion (mū tā'shən), 1. change; alteration. 2. a new feature that appears suddenly in animals or plants and can be inherited. 3. a new variety of animal or plant formed in this way. 4. u/mlaut. n.

mute (mūt), 1. silent; not making any sound: The little girl stood mute. 2. dumb; unable to speak. 3. person who cannot speak. 4. clip or pad put on a musical instrument to soften the sound. 5. put such a clip or pad on: He played the violin with muted strings. 6. not pronounced. The e in mute is mute. 7. silent letter. 8. produced by completely closing the air passage for a moment. T, p, k, d, b, g are mute consonants. 9. consonant so produced. 1,2,6,8 adj., 3,4,7,9 n., 5 v.

mu ti late (mū'tl āt), 1. cut, tear, or break off a part of; injure seriously by cutting, tearing, or breaking off some part: The victims of the accident were badly mutilated; some lost arms, some lost legs. 2. make (a story, song, etc.) imperfect by removing parts. v., mu til at ed, mu til at ing.

mu ti la tion (mū'tə lā'shən), 1. a mutilating. 2. being mutilated. n.

mu ti la tor (mū'tə lā'tər), one that mutilates. n.

mu ti neer (mūt'n ir'), person who takes part in a mutiny. n.

mu ti nous (mūt'n əs), rebellious. adj. —mu'ti-nous ly, adv.

mu ti ny (mūt'n ē), 1. open rebellion against lawful authority, especially by sailors or soldiers against their officers. 2. take part in a mutiny; rebel. 1 n., pl. mu ti nies; 2 v., mu ti nied, mu ti y ing.

mutt (mut), Slang. 1. dog, especially a mongrel. 2. a stupid person. n.

mut ter (mut'ər), 1. utter (words) low and indistinctly with lips partly closed. 2. complain; grumble. 3. act of muttering. 4. muttered words. 1,2 v., 3,4 n.

mut ton (mut'n), meat from a sheep. n.

mutton chop, 1. a small piece of mutton, usually from the ribs or loin, for broiling or frying. 2. patch of whiskers on each side of the face, shaped somewhat like a chop.

mu tu al (mū'chū əl), 1. done, said, felt, etc., by each toward the other; given and received: mutual promises, mutual dislike. 2. each to the other: mutual enemies. 3. Informal. belonging to each of several: our mutual friend. adj. —mu'tu al ly, adv.

mutual fund, a financial organization that pools the money of its members to invest it in a variety of securities.

mu zhik or mu zjik (mü zhik'), a Russian peasant. n. Also, mujik.

muz zle (muz'l), 1. nose, mouth, and jaws of a four-footed animal. 2. cover of straps or wires to put over an animal's head to keep it from biting or eating. 3. put a muzzle on. 4. compel (a person) to keep silent about something: Fear that he might betray his friends muzzled Dick. 5. the open front end of a gun, pistol, etc. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., muz zled, muz zling. —muz'zler, n.

muz zle load ing (muz'l lōd'ing), of firearms, loaded by putting gunpowder in through the open front end and ramming it down. adj.

Mv, mendelevium.

my (mī), 1. of me; belonging to me: My house is around the corner. 2. Informal. exclamation of surprise. 1 pron., 2 interj.

my ce li um (mī sē'lē əm), the main part of a fungus, consisting of interwoven fibers. n., pl. my ce li a (-lē ə).

My ce nae (mī sē'nē), a very ancient city in Greece. n.

my co lo gy (mī kol'ə jē), branch of botany that deals with fungi. n.

Myn heer (mīn hār'), Sir; Mr. n.

myn heer (mīn hār'), a Dutchman. n.

my o pi a (mī ō'pē ə), near-sightedness. n.

my op ic (mī ō'pik), near-sighted. adj.

myr i ad (mīr'ē əd), 1. ten thousand. 2. a very great number: the myriads of stars. 3. countless. 1,2 n., 1,3 adj.

myr i a pod (mīr'ē ə pod'), arthropod having a worm-like body with many segments and many legs. Centipedes and millepedes are myriapods. n.

Myr mi don (mēr'mə don), in Greek mythology, a member of a warlike people of ancient Thessaly who accompanied Achilles, their king, to the Trojan War. n.

myr mi don (mēr'mə don), an obedient and unquestioning follower. n.

myrrh (mér), a fragrant, gummy substance with a bitter taste, used in medicines, perfumes, and incense. It is obtained from a shrub that grows in Arabia and E Africa. n.

myr tle (mēr'tl), 1. an evergreen shrub of S Europe with shiny leaves, fragrant white flowers, and black berries. 2. U.S. a low, creeping evergreen vine with blue flowers; periwinkle. n.

my self (mī self'), 1. the emphatic form of me or I: I myself will go. 2. reflexive form of me: I hurt myself. 3. my real self; my normal self: I am not myself today. pron., pl. ourselves.

My sore (mī sōr'), city in southern India. 244,000. n.

mys te ri ous (mis tir'ē əs), 1. full of mystery; hard to explain or understand; secret; hidden. 2. suggesting mystery. adj. —mys te'ri ous ly, adv. —mys te'ri ous ness, n.

mys ter y (mis'tər ē), 1. secret; something that is hidden or unknown. 2. secrecy; obscurity. 3. something that is not explained or understood: the mystery of God's love. 4. a religious conception or doctrine that human reason cannot understand. 5. a secret religious rite to which only initiated persons are admitted. 6. mystery play. n., pl. mys ter ies.

mystery play, play based on the Bible.

mys tic (mis'tik), 1. mystical. 2. person who believes that truth or God can be known through spiritual insight. 1 adj., 2 n.

mys ti cal (mis'tə kl), 1. having some secret meaning; beyond human understanding; mysterious. 2. spiritually symbolic: The lamb and the dove are mystical symbols of the Christian religion. 3. of or concerned with mystics or mysticism. 4. of or having to do with secret rites open only to the initiated. adj. —mys'ti cal ly, adv. —mys'ti cal ness, n.

mys ti cism (mis'tə siz əm), 1. beliefs or mode of thought of mystics. 2. doctrine that truth or God may be known through spiritual insight, independent of the mind. n.

mys ti fi ca tion (mis'tə fə kā'shən), 1. a mystifying or being mystified; bewilderment; perplexity. 2. something that mystifies or is designed to mystify. n.

Mutton chop whiskers mystify (mis'tə fi), 1. bewilder purposely; puzzle; perplex: The magician's tricks mystified the audience. 2. make mysterious; involve in mystery. v., mystified, mystifying.

myth (mith), 1. legend or story, usually attempting to account for something in nature: The myth of Persephone is the ancient Greek explanation of summer and winter. 2. any invented story. 3. an imaginary person or thing: Her wealthy uncle was a myth invented to impress others. n.
mythical (mith'ə kl), 1. of myths; like a myth; in myths: a mythical interpretation of nature, mythical monsters. 2. not real; made-up; imaginary: Their great wealth is merely mythical. adj. —mythically, adv.

mythology (mith'ə loj'ə kl), of mythology. adj.
mythologist (mith'ə loj'ik lē), according to mythology. adv. mythologist (mi thol'ə jist), 1. writer of myths. 2. person who knows much about mythology. n.
mythology (mi thol'ə jē), 1. myths collectively: Greek mythology. 2. study of myths. n., pl. mythologies.
Mytilene (mit'ə lē'nē), a Greek island in the Aegean Sea. 155,000 pop.; 630 sq. mi. n. Also, Lesbos.

N

N or n (en), the 14th letter of the alphabet. n., pl. N's or n's.

N, 1. nitrogen. 2. North. 3. Northern.

n, in algebra, an indefinite number.

N., 1. North. 2. Northern. 3. November.

n., 1. noun. 2. north. 3. northern.

Na, sodium.

N.A., North America.

N.A.A.C.P., National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

nab (nab), Slang. 1. catch or seize suddenly; grab. 2. arrest. v., nabbed, nabbing.

na bob (nā'bob), 1. nawab; a native ruler in India under the Mogul empire. 2. a very rich man. n.

na celle (nā sel'), the enclosed part of an aircraft which contains the motors and in which passengers are carried. n.

na cre (nā'kər), mother-of-pearl. n.

na dir (nā'dər), 1. the point in the heavens directly beneath the place where one stands; the point opposite the zenith. 2. the lowest point. n.

nae (nā), Scottish. no. adj., adv.

nag (nag), 1. irritate or annoy by peevish complaints; scold; find fault with (a person) all the time. v., nagged, nagging.

nag (nag), 1. a small riding horse. 2. Informal. a horse. 3. an inferior horse. n.

Na ga sa ki (nā'gə sā'kē), seaport in W Japan; the second military use of the atomic bomb, Aug. 9, 1945. 344,000. n.

Na go ya (nā gō'yə), city in central Japan. 1,592,000. n.

Nag pur (nāg'pūr), city in central India. 449,000. n.

Na hua tl (nā'wā tl), language of the Aztecs, Toltecs, and other American Indian tribes of central Mexico and parts of Central America. n.

Na hum (nā'həm or nā'həm), 1. a Hebrew prophet. 2. book of the Old Testament containing his prophecies. n.

nai ad or Nai ad (nā'ad), 1. in Greek and Roman mythology, a nymph guarding a stream or spring. 2. a girl swimmer. n., pl. nai ads, nai a des (-ə dēz).

nail (nāl), 1. a slender piece of metal to be hammered into or through wood to hold separate pieces together or to be used as a peg. 2. fasten with a nail or nails. 3. hold or keep fixed: Nail him down to what he promised. 4. Informal. catch; seize. 5. a thin, horny plate on the upper side of the end of a finger or toe. 1.5 n., 2-4 v. —nail'er, n.

hit the nail on the head, guess or understand correctly; say or do something just right.

on the nail, at once; immediately; without delay.

nail set (nāl'set'), tool for driving nails beneath the surface. n.

nain sook (nān'sūk), a very soft, fine cotton cloth. n.

Nai ro bi (nā rō'bē), capital of Kenya. 250,000. n.

na ive or na ive (nā ēv'), simple in nature; like a child; artless; not sophisticated. adj. —na ive'ly, na ive'ly, adv.

na ive té or na ive te (nā ēv'tā'), 1. quality of being naïve; unspoiled freshness. 2. a naïve action, remark, etc. n.

na ked (nā'kid), 1. with no clothes on; bare: A bare-foot boy has naked feet. 2. not covered; stripped: naked fields. 3. not protected; exposed. 4. without addition of anything else; plain: the naked truth. adj. —na'ked-ly, adv. —na'ked ness, n.

naked eye, eye not helped by a glass, telescope, or microscope.

NAM or N.A.M., National Association of Manufacturers.

nam a ble (nām'ə bl), that can be named. adj.

nam by-pam by (nām'bē pam'bē), 1. weakly simple or sentimental; insipid: Valentines are often namby-pamby. 2. namby-pamby talk or writing. 3. a namby-pamby person. 1 adj., 2,3 n., pl. nam by-pam bies.

name (nām), 1. word or words by which a person, animal, place, or thing is spoken of or to: Our dog's name is Jack. Mary knows all her chickens by name. 2. give a name to: name a newborn baby. 3. call by name; mention by name: Three persons were named in the report. 4. give the right name for: Can you name these flowers? 5. word or words applied descriptively; appellation, title, or epithet: the name of a friend. 6. persons grouped under one name; family; clan; tribe. 7. reputation; fame: An honest man has a good name. 8. mention; speak of; state: name several reasons. 9. specify or fix: name a price. 10. choose for some duty or office; nominate: John was named for class president. 1.5-7 n., 2-4,8-10 v., named, nam ing.

call names, call bad names; swear at; curse.

in name only, supposed to be, but not really so.

in the name of, 1. with appeal to the name of. 2. acting for.

know only by name, know only by hearing about.

to one's name, belonging to one.

name less (nām'lis), 1. having no name: a nameless grave. 2. that cannot be named or described: a strange, nameless longing. 3. not fit to be mentioned. 4. not named: a nameless author. 5. unknown to fame; obscure. adj. —name'less ly, adv. —name'less ness, n.

name ly (nām'lē), that is to say: The railroad connects two cities—namely, New York and Chicago. adv.

name sake (nām'sāk'), one having the same name as another; especially, one named after another: Theodore, namesake of President Theodore Roosevelt. n.

Nan chang (nān'chāng'), city in SE China. 268,000. n.

Nan cy (nān'sē), city in NE France. 125,000. n.
nan keen or nan kin (nān kēn'), a firm, yellow or buff cloth. n.

nankeens, trousers made of nankeen.

Nan king (nān'king'), city in E China, on the Yangtze River. It was the capital of China from 1928 to 1937 and from 1946 to 1949. 1,091,000. n.

nan ny goat (nān'ē), Informal. a female goat.

Nan sen (năn'sn), Fridtjof, 1861-1930, Norwegian arctic explorer, scientist, author, and diplomat. n.

Nantes (nants; French nănt), seaport in W France, on the Loire River. 223,000. n.

Nan tuck et (nan tuk'it), island off Massachusetts, south of Cape Cod. 15 mi. long. n.

Na o mi (nă ô'mē), in the Bible, Ruth's mother-in-law, from whom she refused to part. Ruth I. n.

nap¹ (nap), 1. a short sleep: Baby takes a nap after his dinner. 2. take a short sleep: Grandfather naps in his armchair. 3. be off guard; be unprepared: The teacher caught me napping. 1 n., 2, 3 v., napped, nap ping.

nap² (nap), the soft, short, woolly threads or hairs on the surface of cloth: the nap on velvet or flannelette. n. —nap'less, adj.

na palm (nă'păm'), 1. a chemical substance used to thicken gasoline for use in certain military weapons. 2. the thickened gasoline. n.

nape (năp or nap), the back of the neck. n.

na per y (nă'păr ē), tablecloths, napkins, and doilies. n.

naph tha (nap'thə or naf'thə), a liquid made from petroleum, coal tar, etc., used as fuel and to take spots from clothing. n.

naph tha lene or naph tha line (naf'thə lēn or nap'thə lēn), a white, crystalline hydrocarbon, usually prepared from coal tar, used in making moth balls, dyes, disinfectants, etc. n.

naph tha lin (naf'thə lin or nap'thə lin), naphthalene. n.

naph thol (naf'thōl or nap'thōl), a colorless crystalline substance obtained from naphthalene, used in making dyes, as an antiseptic, etc. n.

Na pier (nă'pīr), John, 1550-1617, Scottish mathematician who invented logarithms. n.

nap kin (nap'kin), 1. piece of cloth used at meals for protecting the clothing or for wiping the lips or fingers. 2. any similar piece, such as a baby's diaper or a small towel. n.

Nap les (nă'plz), seaport on the SW coast of Italy, famous for its beautiful bay. 1,059,000. n.

na po le on (nă pō'lē ən), 1. a former French gold coin worth 20 francs, or about $3.86. 2. kind of pastry with a cream or jam filling. n.

Na po le on I (nă pō'lē ən), 1769-1821, Napoleon Bonaparte, general of the French army who made himself emperor of the French in 1804. He conquered a large part of Europe, but was defeated at Waterloo in 1815, and exiled to the island of St. Helena.

Napoleon III, 1808-1873, Louis Napoleon, nephew of Napoleon I, president of France from 1848 to 1852 and emperor of France from 1852 to 1870.

Na po le on ic (nă pō'lē on'ik), of, having to do with, or resembling Napoleon I. adj.

nar cis sus (năr sis'əs), 1. a spring plant with yellow or white flowers and long, slender leaves. It grows from a bulb. 2. the flower. n., pl. nar cis sus es, nar cis si (-sis'ī).

Nar cis sus (năr sis'əs), in Greek mythology, a beautiful youth who fell in love with his reflection in a spring. He pined away and was changed into the flower narcissus. n.

nar co sis (năr kō'sis), 1. stupor; insensibility. 2. action or effect of narcotics. n.

nar cot ic (năr kot'ik), 1. drug that produces drowsiness, sleep, dullness, or an insensible condition, and lessens pain by dulling the nerves. Opium is a powerful narcotic. 2. having the properties and effects of a narcotic. 1 n., 2 adj.

nar es (năr'ēz), nostrils; nasal passages. n.pl. of nar is (năr'is).

nar ghi le or nar gi le (năr'gə lē), an Oriental tobacco pipe in which the smoke is drawn through water. See hookah for picture. n.

Nar ra gan sett (nar'ə gan'sit), member of an American Indian tribe formerly living near Narragansett Bay. n.

Narragansett Bay, bay of the Atlantic, in E Rhode Island. 28 mi. long; 3-12 mi. wide.

nar rate (na rāt' or nar'āt), 1. tell (a story, etc.) of. 2. tell stories, etc. v., nar rated, nar rating.

nar ra tion (na rā'shən), 1. act of telling. 2. the form of composition that relates an event or a story. Novels, short stories, histories, and biographies are forms of narration. 3. story; account. n.

nar ra tive (nar'ə tiv), 1. story. 2. narration; storytelling. 3. that narrates: "Evangeline" is a narrative poem. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

nar ra tor (na rā'tər), one who tells a story. n.

nar row (nar'ō), 1. not wide; having little width; of less than the specified, understood, or usual width: narrow cloth. A path a foot wide is narrow. 2. limited in extent, space, amount, range, scope, opportunity, etc.: He had only a narrow circle of a few friends. 3. make or become narrower; decrease in breadth, extent, etc.; limit: The road narrows above the bend. 4. with little margin: a narrow escape. 5. lacking breadth of view or sympathy; not liberal; prejudiced: a narrow mind. 6. close; careful; minute: a narrow scrutiny. 7. with barely enough to live on: live in narrow circumstances. 1, 2, 4-7 adj., 3 v. —nar'row ly, adv. —nar'row ness, n.

narrows, the narrow part of a river, strait, sound, valley, pass, etc.

nar row-gauge (nar'ō gāj'), 1. having railroad tracks less than 56½ inches apart. 2. narrow-minded. adj.

nar row-mind ed (nar'ō mīn'did), lacking breadth of view or sympathy; prejudiced. adj. —nar'row-mind'ed ly, adv. —nar'row-mind'ed ness, n.

nar whal (năr'hwəl), kind of arctic whale whose body is about 16 feet long. The male has a long tusk extending forward from the upper jaw. n.

na sal (nă'zl), 1. of, in, or from the nose: nasal catarrh, a nasal discharge. 2. requiring the nose passage to be open; spoken through the nose. M, n, and ng represent nasal sounds. 3. a nasal sound. 1, 2 adj., 3 n. —na'sal ly, adv.

na sal ity (nă zal'ə tē), nasal quality. n.

na sal ize (nă'zl iz), utter or speak with a nasal sound. v., na sal ized, na sal iz ing.

nas cent (nas'nt or nă'snt), in the process of coming into existence; just beginning to exist, grow, or develop. adj.

Nash ua (nash'ü ə), city in New Hampshire. 39,000. n.

Nash ville (nash'vil), capital of Tennessee, in the central part. 171,000. n.

Nas sau (nas'ō), capital of the Bahamas. 50,000. n.

Nas ser (năs'ər), Gamal, born 1917, chief executive of the Egyptian republic since April, 1954, and United Arab Republic since 1958. n.

nas ti ness (nas'tē nis), 1. disgusting dirtiness; filth. 2. moral filth; villainess. 3. extreme unpleasantness. n.

na stur tium (nă stēr'shəm), 1. plant with yellow, orange, and red flowers, and sharp-tasting seeds and leaves. 2. the flower. n.

nas ty (nas'tē), 1. disgustingly dirty; filthy: a nasty room, a nasty person. 2. morally filthy; vile: a nasty word, a nasty mind. 3. very unpleasant: nasty weather, nasty medicines, a nasty cut, a nasty temper. adj., nas-ti er, nas ti est. —nas'ti ly, adv.

nat., 1. national. 2. native. 3. natural.

na tal (nă'tl), 1. of one's birth: One's natal day is his birthday. 2. Poetic. native. adj.

Narwhal (about 24 ft. long including the tusk) na tant (nā'tnt), swimming; floating; represented as swimming. adj.

na ta to ri al (nā'tə tō'rē əl), having to do with, adapted for, or characterized by swimming. Ducks are natatorial birds. adj.

na ta to ri um (nā'tə tō'rē əm), a swimming pool. n., pl. na ta to ri ums, na ta to ri a (-rē ə).

na ta to ry (nā'tə tō'rē), natatorial. adj.

na the less (nāth'lis), Archaic. 1. nevertheless. 2. notwithstanding. 1 adv., 2 prep.

na tion (nā'shən), 1. people occupying the same country, united under the same government, and mostly speaking the same language: the English nation. 2. a people, race, or tribe; those having the same descent, language, and history: the Scottish nation. n.

na tion al (nash'ən l), 1. of a nation; belonging to a whole nation: national laws, a national disaster. 2. citizen of a nation: nationals of Canada. 1 adj., 2 n.

national bank, bank that has a charter from the national government. In the United States, the national banks are members of the Federal Reserve System.

National Guard, the reserve militia of the individual States of the United States, that may be called or ordered to serve the Federal government in time of war or national emergency.

na tion al ism (nash'ən l iz'əm), 1. patriotic feelings or efforts. 2. desire and plans for national independence. 3. form of socialism that advocates government ownership and control of all industries. n.

na tion al ist (nash'ən l ist), 1. upholder of nationalism; person who believes in nationalism. 2. nationalistic. 1 n., 2 adj.

na tion al is tic (nash'ən l is'tik), of nationalism or nationalists. adj.

na tion al i ty (nash'ən əl'ə tē), 1. nation. 2. condition of belonging to a nation. Citizens of the same country have the same nationality. 3. condition of being a nation: After the American Revolution the colonies attained nationality. n., pl. na tion al i ties.

na tion al ize (nash'ən l iz), 1. make national. 2. bring (land, industries, railroads, etc.) under the control or ownership of a nation. 3. make into a nation. v., na tion al ized, na tion al iz ing. —na'tion əl i za'tion, n.

na tion al ly (nash'ən l ē), in a national manner; as a nation; throughout the nation. adv.

national park, land kept by the national government for people to enjoy because of its beautiful scenery, historical interest, etc.

National Socialist Party, political party led by Adolf Hitler that controlled Germany from 1933 to 1945.

na tion wide (nā'shən wīd'), extending throughout the nation: a nation-wide election. adj.

na tive (nā'tiv), 1. person born in a certain place or country. The natives are the people living in a place, not visitors or foreigners. 2. born in a certain place or country: People born in New York are native sons and daughters of New York. 3. belonging to one because of his birth: one's native land. 4. belonging to one because of his country or the nation to which he belongs: one's native language. 5. born in a person; natural: native ability, native courtesy. 6. one of the original inhabitants of a place, as contrasted with conquerors, settlers, visitors, etc.; especially, a member of a less civilized race. 7. of or having to do with the original inhabitants, especially those not white: native customs, native huts. 8. member of a less civilized race, usually not white. 9. animal or plant that originated in a place. 10. originating, grown, or produced in a certain place: Tobacco is native to America. 11. found pure in nature: native copper. 12. found in nature; not produced: Native salt is refined for use. 1,6,8,9 n., 2-5,7,10-12 adj. —na'tive ly, adv. —na'tive ness, n.

go native, live as the less civilized natives do.

na tive-born (nā'tiv bōrn'), born in the place or country indicated: a native-born American. adj.

na tiv i ty (nə tiv'ə tē), 1. birth. 2. horoscope. n., pl. na tiv i ties.

Na tiv i ty (nə tiv'ə tē), 1. birth of Christ. 2. picture of this. 3. Christmas; December 25. n.

natl., national.

NATO, North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

na tron (nā'tron), native sodium carbonate. n.

nat ty (nat'ē), trim and tidy; neatly smart in dress or appearance: a natty uniform, a natty young officer. adj., nat ti er, nat ti est. —nat'ti ly, adv.

na tural (nach'ə rəl), 1. produced by nature; based on some state of things in nature: Scenery has natural beauty. 2. not artificial: Coal and oil are natural products.

3. instinctive; inborn: natural ability. It is natural for ducks to swim. 4. coming in the ordinary course of events; normal: a natural death. 5. in accordance with the nature of things or the circumstances of the case: a natural response. 6. instinctively felt to be right and fair: natural law, natural rights. 7. like nature; true to nature: The picture looked natural. 8. free from affectation or restraint: a natural manner. 9. of or having to do with nature: the natural sciences. 10. concerned with natural science. 11. based on what is learned from nature: natural religion. 12. that which is natural.

13. in music, neither sharp nor flat; without sharps and flats. 14. neither sharpened nor flattened: C natural. 15. in music, a natural tone or note. 16. sign (♮) used to cancel the effect of a preceding sharp or flat. 17. having the pitch affected by the natural sign. 18. a white key on the piano. 19. a half-witted person. 20. by birth merely and not legally recognized; illegitimate: a natural son. 1-11,13,14,17,20 adj., 12,15,16,18,19 n.

—nat'u ral ness, n.

Natural Bridge, a limestone arch near Lexington, Virginia. 215 ft. high; 90 ft. span.

natural gas, a combustible gas formed naturally in the earth, consisting of methane with hydrogen and other gases.

natural history, the study of animals, plants, minerals, and other things in nature.

nat u ral ist (nach'ə rəl ist), 1. person who makes a study of animals and plants. 2. writer or artist who represents life exactly as it is; extreme realist. n.

nat u ral is tic (nach'ə rəl is'tik), 1. of natural history or naturalists. 2. of or in accordance with nature. adj.

nat u ral ize (nach'ə rəl iz), 1. admit (a foreigner) to citizenship. After living in the United States for a certain number of years, an immigrant can be naturalized if he passes a test. 2. adopt (a foreign word or custom): "Chaufeur" is a French word that has been naturalized in English. 3. introduce and make at home in another country: The English oak has become naturalized in parts of Massachusetts. 4. make natural; free from conventional characteristics. 5. regard or explain as natural rather than supernatural. 6. become like a native. v., nat u ral ized, nat u ral iz ing. —nat'u ral i za'tion, n.

nat u ral ly (nach'ə rəl ē), 1. in a natural way: speak naturally. 2. by nature: a naturally obedient child. 3. as might be expected; of course: She offered me some candy; naturally, I took it. adv.

natural magnet, piece of magnetite; loadstone.

natural resources, materials supplied by nature. Minerals and water power are natural resources.

natural science, science of nature. Zoology, botany, and geology are natural sciences.

natural selection, the process by which animals and plants best adapted to their environment tend to survive.

natural year, astronomical year.

na ture (nā'chər), 1. the world; all things except those made by man. 2. sum total of the forces at work throughout the universe: the laws of nature. 3. the instincts or inherent tendencies directing conduct: It is against nature for a mother to kill her child. 4. reality: true to nature. 5. primitive, wild condition; condition of human beings before social organization. 6. what a thing really is; quality; character: It is the nature of robins to fly and to build nests. Women have kinder natures than men. 7. sort; kind: Books of a scientific nature do not interest Helen. 8. person of a particular character: She is a gentle nature. 9. physical being; vital powers: food sufficient to sustain nature. 10. moral nature unaffected by grace. n.

by nature, because of the essential character of the person or thing.

of or in the nature of, having the nature of; being; being a kind of.

Na ture (nā'chər), the personification of all natural facts and forces. n.

nature study, study of animals, plants, and other things and events in nature.

naught (nôt), 1. nothing. 2. zero; 0. n. Also, nought.

naught i ness (nô'tē nis), badness; disobedience; mischief. n.

naught y (nô'tē), 1. bad; not obedient. 2. somewhat improper. adj., naught i er, naught i est. —naught i ly, adv.

nausea (nô'shə or nô'sē ə), 1. the feeling that one has when about to vomit. 2. seasickness. 3. extreme disgust; loathing. n.

nauseate (nô'shē āt or nô'sē āt), 1. cause nausea in; make sick. 2. feel nauseas; become sick. 3. cause to feel loathing. v., nauseat ed, nauseat ing.

nauseous (nô'shəs or nô'sē əs), 1. causing nausea; sickening. 2. disgusting; loathsome: The animal's bloody entrails were nauseous. adj. —nauseous ly, adv.

Nausiclā (nô sik'ā ə), in Greek legend, the maiden who aided Odysseus when he was shipwrecked by bringing him to her father's court. n.

nautilal (nô'təl), of or having to do with ships, sailors, or navigation. adj. —nautilal ly, adv.

nautilal measure, system of measurement used in navigation.

nautilal mile, about 6080 feet.

nautilus (nô'tl əs), either of two kinds of cephalopod. The pearly nautilus has a spiral shell, pearly inside. The paper nautilus has saillike arms and a very thin shell. n., pl. nautilus es, nautilus (-li).

Navaho or Navajo (nav'ə-hō), member of a tribe of American Indians living in New Mexico, Arizona, and Utah. The Navahos are noted for their skill in weaving blankets and rugs with bright patterns. n., pl. Navahos, Navajos.

naval (nā'vl), 1. of or for warships or the navy: a naval officer, naval supplies. 2. having a navy: the naval powers. adj. —navally, adv.

naval academy, school for training seamen. The United States Naval Academy is a school at Annapolis, Maryland, for training naval officers, founded in 1845.

Navarre (nā vār'), a former kingdom including parts of SW France and N Spain. See Castile for map. n.

nave (nāv), the main part of a church or cathedral between the side aisles. The nave extends from the main entrance to the transepts. See apse for diagram. n.

navel (nā'vl), 1. the mark or scar in the middle of the surface of the abdomen. 2. center; middle. n.

navel orange, a seedless orange with a small growth at one end shaped somewhat like a navel.

navigability (nav'ə gə bil'ə tē), a being navigable. n.

navigable (nav'ə gə bl), 1. that ships can travel on: The Mississippi River is deep enough to be navigable. 2. seaworthy. 3. that can be steered: Without a rudder the ship was not navigable. adj.

Pearly nautilus

Paper nautilus

navigate (nav'ə gāt), 1. sail, manage, or steer (a ship, airplane, etc.). 2. sail on or over (a sea or river). 3. travel by water; sail. 4. convey (goods) by water. 5. sail through (the air) in an aircraft, etc. 6. manage a ship or aircraft. v., navigat ed, navigat ing.

navigation (nav'ə gā'shən), 1. act or process of navigating. 2. art or science of finding a ship's or an aircraft's position and course. n.

navigator (nav'ə gā'tər), 1. one who sails the seas. 2. one who has charge of the navigating of a ship or who is skilled in navigating. 3. explorer of the seas: The navigator set out on his long voyage. 4. one who finds the position and course of an aircraft. 5. Brit. navy. n.

navvy (nav'ē), Brit. an unskilled laborer who works on canals, railways, roads, etc. n., pl. navvies.

navy (nā'vē), 1. all the ships of war of a country, with their men and the department that manages them. 2. officers and men of the navy. 3. Archaic or Poetic. fleet of ships. 4. a dark blue. n., pl. navies.

navy bean, the common white bean, dried for use.

navy blue, a dark blue.

navy yard, a government dockyard where naval vessels are built, repaired, and fitted out, and where naval stores and munitions of war are kept.

na wab (nə wōb'), 1. a native ruler in India under the Mogul empire. 2. a title given to important Moslems in India. 3. nabob; a very rich man. n.

nay (nā), 1. Archaic. no. 2. not only that, but also: We are willing, nay, eager to go. 3. no; a denial or refusal. 4. a negative vote or voter. 1,2 adv., 3,4 n.

Nazarene (naz'ə rēn'),

1. person born or living in Nazareth. Jesus is often called "the Nazarene." 2. an early Christian. 3. of or having to do with the Nazarenes or with Nazareth. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Nazareth (naz'ə rēth), town in N Israel where Jesus lived during His boyhood. n.

Nazarene (naz'ə rēn'),

1. among the ancient Hebrews, a Jew who had taken certain strict religious vows. Numbers 6. 2. native of Nazareth. n.

Nazi (nā'tsē or nat'sē), 1. member or supporter of the National Socialist Party in Germany, organized under the leadership of Adolf Hitler. 2. of or having to do with the Nazis. 1 n., pl. Nazis; 2 adj.

Nazism (nā'tsē iz əm or nat'sē iz əm), the Nazi doctrine including totalitarian government and state control of industry, but opposition to communism. n.

Nb, niobium.

N.B., 1. note well; observe carefully. 2. New Brunswick.

n.b., note well; observe carefully.

N.C., North Carolina.

N.C.O., noncommissioned officer.

Nd, neodymium.

N. Dak. or N.D., North Dakota.

Ne, neon.

NE, 1. northeast. 2. northeastern.

N.E., 1. northeast. 2. northeastern. 3. New England.

n.e., 1. northeast. 2. northeastern.

Neanderthal man (nē an'dər täl), an extinct race, widespread in Europe in the early Stone Age.

neap (nēp), 1. designating those tides which attain the least height. 2. neap tide. 1 adj., 2 n.

Neapolitan (nē'ə pol'ə tən), 1. of or having to do with Naples. 2. native of Naples. 3. having layers of different colors and flavors: Neapolitan ice cream. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

neap tide, tide that occurs when the difference in height between high and low tide is least; lowest level of high tide. Neap tide comes twice a month.

near (nir), 1. to or at a short distance; not far: Christmas is drawing near. 2. closely: tribes near allied. 3. close by; not distant; less distant: The post office is quite near. 4. close to in space, time, condition, etc.: Our house is near the river. 5. come or draw near; approach: The ship neared the land. 6. intimate; familiar: a near friend. 7. closely related: a near relative. 8. Informal. all but; almost: The war lasted near a year. 9. approximating or resembling closely: near silk, near beer. 10. left (opposed to off or right): The near horse and the off horse make a team. 11. short; direct: Go by the nearest route. 12. stingy. 13. by a close margin: a near escape. 1,2,8 adv., 3,6,7,9-13 adj., 4 prep., 5 v. —near/-ness, n.

come near doing, almost do: I came near forgetting my glasses.

near at hand, 1. within easy reach. 2. not far in the future.

near by (nir/'bī for adj.; nir/'bī for adv.), near; close at hand: a nearby house (adj.). They went nearby to visit (adv.).

Near East, 1. U.S. the Balkans and the countries of SW Asia. 2. Brit. the Balkans.

near ly (nir/'lē), 1. almost: I nearly missed the train. 2. closely: a matter that concerns you very nearly. adv.

near-sight ed (nir/'sīt'id), not able to see far; seeing distinctly at a short distance only. adj. —near/-sight/ed ly, adv. —near/-sight/ed ness, n.

neat (nēt), 1. clean and in order: a neat desk, a neat room, a neat dress. 2. able and willing to keep things in order: a neat child. 3. well-formed; in proportion: a neat design. 4. skillful; clever: a neat trick. 5. Esp. Brit. without anything mixed in it: He took a drink of brandy neat. adj. —neat/ly, adv. —neat/ness, n.

neat (nēt), Archaic. cattle; oxen. n.pl. or sing.

neath or 'neath (nēth), Poetic. beneath. prep.

neat's-foot oil (nēts/'fūt), an oil obtained from the feet and shinbones of cattle by boiling. It is used to soften leather.

Ne bo (nē'bō), Mount, the mountain where Moses looked down upon Canaan, the Promised Land. Deuteronomy 34:1-4. n. Also, Pisgah.

Nebr. or Neb., Nebraska.

Ne bras ka (nə bras/'kə), a Middle Western State of the United States. 1,411,000 pop.; 77,237 sq. mi. Capital: Lincoln. Abbrev.: Nebr. or Neb. n. —Ne-bras/kan, adj., n.

Neb u chad nez zar (neb/'yʌ kəd nez/'ər), died 562 B.C., king of Babylon from 604? to 562 B.C. He captured Jerusalem. Daniel 1-4. n.

neb u la (neb/'yʌ lə), a bright spot like a small, bright cloud, visible in the sky at night. A nebula may be either a mass of luminous gas or a cluster of stars very far away from our sun and its planets. n., pl. neb u lae (-lē) or neb u las.

neb u lar (neb/'yʌ lər), of or concerning a nebula or nebulae. adj.

nebular hypothesis, theory that the sun and planets developed from a luminous mass of gas.

neb u los i ty (neb/'yʌ los/'ə tē), 1. cloudlike quality; mistiness; nebulous state. 2. cloudlike matter; nebula. n., pl. neb u los i ties.

neb u lus (neb/'yʌ ləs), 1. hazy; vague; confused. 2. cloudlike. 3. of or like a nebula or nebulae. adj. —neb/u lous ly, adv.

nec es sar i ly (nes/'ə ser/'ə lē or nes/'ə sār/'ə lē), 1. because of necessity: Leaves are not necessarily green. 2. as a necessary result: War necessarily causes misery and waste. adv.

nec es sar y (nes/'ə ser/'ē), 1. that must be, be had, or be done; inevitable; required; indispensable: Death is a necessary end. 2. thing impossible to do without: Food, clothing, and shelter are necessities of life. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. nec es sar ies.

ne ces si tate (nə ses/'ə tāt), 1. make necessary: His broken leg necessitated an operation. 2. compel; force. v., ne ces si tat ed, ne ces si tat ing.

ne ces si tous (nə ses/'ə təs), very poor; needy. adj. ne ces si ty (nə ses/'ə tē), 1. fact of being necessary; extreme need: We understand the necessity of eating. 2. quality of being necessary. 3. that which cannot be done without: Water is a necessity. 4. that which forces one to act in a certain way: Necessity often drives people to do disagreeable things. 5. that which is inevitable: Night follows day as a necessity. 6. need; poverty: This poor family is in great necessity. n., pl. ne ces si ties. of necessity, because it must be.

neck (nek), 1. part of the body that connects the head with the shoulders. 2. part of a garment that fits the neck. 3. any narrow part like a neck. 4. a narrow strip of land. 5. the slender part of a bottle, flask, retort, or other container. 6. the lowest part of the capital of a column. 7. part of a tooth between the crown and the root. 8. in racing, the length of the neck of a horse or other animal as a measure. 9. U.S. Slang. embrace; hug. 1-8 n., 9 v.

neck and neck, 1. abreast. 2. even in a race or contest.

neck or nothing, venturing all.

neck er chief (nek/'ər chif), cloth worn around the neck. n.

neck lace (nek/'lis), string of jewels, gold, silver, beads, etc., worn around the neck as an ornament. n.

neck piece (nek/'pēs'), a fur scarf. n.

neck tie (nek/'tī'), a narrow band or a tie worn around the neck and tied in front. n.

neck wear (nek/'wār'), collars, ties, and other articles that are worn around the neck. n.

ne crol o gy (ne krol/'ə jē), 1. list of persons who have died. 2. notice of a person's death. n., pl. ne crol o gies.

nec ro man cer (nek/'rə man/'sər), magician; wizard; person who is supposed to foretell the future by communicating with the dead. n.

nec ro man cy (nek/'rə man/'sē), magic; a foretelling of the future by communicating with the dead. n.

ne crop o lis (ne krop/'l is), cemetery. n., pl. ne-crop o lis es.

ne cro sis (ne krō/'sis), death or decay (of a part of an animal or plant). n., pl. ne cro ses (-sēz).

nec tar (nek/'tər), 1. in Greek mythology, the drink of the gods. 2. any delicious drink. 3. a sweet liquid found in many flowers. Bees gather nectar and make it into honey. n. —nec/tar like, adj.

nec tar ine (nek/'tər ēn'), a kind of peach having no down on its skin. n.

nec ta ry (nek/'tə rē), the part of a flower that secretes nectar. n., pl. nec ta ries.

née or nee (nā), born. Née is placed after the name of a married woman to show her maiden name: Mrs. Smith, née Adams. adj.

need (nēd), 1. lack of a useful or desired thing: His writing showed need of grammar. 2. a useful or desired thing that is lacking: In the jungle their need was fresh water. 3. have need of; want; require: need money. 4. necessity: There is no need to hurry. 5. be necessary: The rope cuts his hands more than needs. 6. must; should; have to; ought to: He need not go. Need she go? 7. a situation or time of difficulty: a friend in need. 8. extreme poverty: This family's need was so great the children did not have shoes. 9. be in want: Give to those that need. 1,2,4,7,8 n., 3,5,6,9 v. —need/er, n.

have need to, must; should; have to; ought to. if need be, if it has to be.

need ful (nēd/'fəl), needed; necessary. adj. —need/-ful ly, adv.

nee dle (nē'dl), 1. a very slender tool, sharp at one end and with a hole or eye to pass a thread through, used in sewing. 2. a slender rod used in knitting. 3. rod with a hook at one end used in crocheting, etc. 4. a thin steel pointer on a compass or on electrical machinery. 5. end of a syringe used for injecting something below the skin: The doctor jabbed the needle into my arm. 6. instrument somewhat like a needle, used in etching and engraving. 7. a phonograph needle. 8. a slender, needle-shaped rod that controls the opening of a valve. 9. the needle-shaped leaf of a fir tree or pine tree. 10. pillar; obelisk: Cleopatra's needle. 11. vex by repeated sharp prods, gibes, etc.; goad or incite. 1-10 n., 11 v., nee dled, nee dling.

nee dle ful (nē'dl fūl), a suitable length of thread for using at one time with a needle. n., pl. nee dle fuls.

need less (nēd'lis), not needed; unnecessary. adj. —need/less ly, adv. —need/less ness, n.

needle valve, valve whose very small opening is controlled by a slender, needle-shaped rod.

nee dle wom an (nē'dl wūm'ən), 1. woman who is a skillful sewer: My sister is a very good needlewoman. 2. woman who earns her living by sewing. n., pl. nee dle wom en.

nee dle work (nē'dl wēr'k), work done with a needle; sewing; embroidery. n.

need n't (nēd'nt), need not.

needs (nēdz), because of necessity; necessarily: A soldier needs must go where duty calls. adv.

need y (nēd'ē), very poor; not having enough to live on: a needy family. adj., need i er, need i est. —need/i ness, n.

ne'er (ner), Poetic. never. adv.

ne'er-do-well (ner'dū wel'), 1. a worthless fellow; good-for-nothing person. 2. worthless; good-for-nothing. 1 n., 2 adj.

ne far i ous (ni fār'ē əs), very wicked; villainous. adj. —ne far/i ous ly, adv.

ne gate (ni gāt'), deny; nullify. v., ne gat ed, ne gating.

ne ga tion (ni gā'shən), 1. a denying; denial: Shaking the head is a sign of negation. 2. absence or opposite of some positive thing or quality: Darkness is the negation of light. n.

neg a tive (neg'ə tiv), 1. saying no: His answer was negative. 2. word or statement that says no or denies: "I won't" is a negative. 3. say no to; deny; vote against: Father negated our plan. 4. the side that says no or denies in an argument. 5. disprove. 6. not positive; consisting in the lack of the opposite: Negative kindness means not being unkind. 7. negative quality or characteristic. 8. minus; counting down from zero: Three below zero is a negative quantity. 9. minus quantity. 10. kind of electricity produced on resin when it is rubbed with silk. 11. of the kind of electricity produced on resin when it is rubbed with silk. 12. the negative element in an electric cell. See electrode for diagram. 13. showing the lights and shadows reversed: the negative image on a photographic plate. 14. a photographic image in which the lights and shadows are reversed. Prints are made from it. 15. make useless; counteract; neutralize. 16. right of veto. 17. showing an absence of the germs, symptoms, etc., of an illness. 1,6,8,11,13,17 adj., 2,4,7,9,10,12,14,16 n., 3,5,15 v., neg a tived, neg a tiv ing. —neg/a tive ly, adv.

in the negative, 1. in favor of denying (a request, suggestion, etc.). 2. saying no; denying.

neg a tiv ism (neg'ə tiv iz'əm), tendency to say or do the opposite of what is suggested. n.

neg lect (ni glekt'), 1. give too little care or attention to: neglect one's health. 2. leave undone; not attend to: The maid neglected her work. 3. omit; fail: Don't neglect to water the plants. 4. act of neglecting; disregard. 5. want of attention to what should be done: That car has been ruined by neglect. 6. being neglected. 1-3 v., 4-6 n. —neg lect'er, n.

neg lect ful (ni glekt'fəl), careless; negligent: A man who does not vote is neglectful of his duty. adj. —neglect/ful ly, adv.

neg li gee (neg'lə zhā'), 1. a woman's loose dressing gown. 2. easy, informal dress or attire. n.

neg li gence (neg'lə jəns), 1. lack of proper care or attention; neglect: Negligence was the cause of the accident. 2. carelessness; indifference. n.

neg li gent (neg'lə jənt), 1. neglectful; given to neglect; showing neglect. 2. careless; indifferent. adj. —neg/li gent ly, adv.

neg li gi ble (neg'lə jə bl), that can be disregarded: In buying a suit, a difference of ten cents in prices is negligible. adj.

ne go tia bil i ty (ni gō'shə bil'ə tē), a being negotiable. n.

ne go tia ble (ni gō'shə bl), 1. capable of being negotiated or sold; whose ownership can be transferred. 2. that can be got past or over. adj.

ne go ti ate (ni gō'shē āt), 1. talk over and arrange terms; parley; confer; consult: The colonists negotiated for peace with the Indians. 2. arrange for: They finally negotiated a peace treaty. 3. sell. 4. Informal. get past or over: The car negotiated the sharp curve by slowing down. v., ne go ti at ed, ne go ti at ing. —ne go'ti a'tor, n.

ne go ti a tion (ni gō'shē ā'shən), a negotiating; arrangement: Negotiations for the new school are finished. n.

Ne gress (nē'gris), a Negro woman or girl. n.

Ne gri to (ni grē'tō), member of certain dwarfish Negroid peoples of SE Asia and of Africa, especially of the Philippine Islands and East Indies. n., pl. Ne gri tos or Ne gri toes.

Ne gro (nē'grō), 1. person belonging to any of the black races of Africa. 2. a colored person having some black ancestors. 3. of or having to do with Negroes. 1,2 n., pl. Ne groes; 3 adj.

Ne groid (nē'grōid), 1. resembling Negroes; akin to the Negro race; of a Negro type. 2. person of a Negroid race. 1 adj., 2 n.

Ne gros (nā'grōs), one of the Philippine Islands, located near the center of that group. 1,482,000 pop.; 4,905 sq. mi. n.

Ne he mi ah (nē'ə mī'ə), 1. a Hebrew leader who rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem about 445 B.C. 2. book of the Old Testament describing his achievements. n.

Neh ru (nā'rū), Jawaharlal, 1889-1964, prime minister of India from 1947 to 1964. n.

neigh (nā), 1. sound that a horse makes. 2. make this sound. 1 n., 2 v.

neigh bor (nā'bər), 1. one who lives near another. 2. person or thing that is near another: The big tree brought down several of its smaller neighbors as it fell. 3. live or be near (to). 4. adjoin; border on. 5. living or situated near to another. 6. a fellow human being. 7. be friendly (with). 1,2,6 n., 3,4,7 v., 5 adj.

neigh bor hood (nā'bər hūd), 1. region near some place or thing: She lives in the neighborhood of the mill. 2. place; district: Is North Street a good neighborhood? 3. people living near one another; people of a place: The whole neighborhood came to the big party. 4. neighborly feeling or conduct. 5. of or having to do with a neighborhood: a neighborhood newspaper. 6. nearness. 1-4,6 n., 5 adj.

in the neighborhood of, Informal. somewhere near; about.

neigh bor ing (nā'bər ing), living or being near; bordering; adjoining; near: The bird calls from the neighboring woods. adj.

neigh bor ly (nā'bər lē), kindly; friendly; sociable. adj. —neigh'bor li ness, n.

neigh bour (nā'bər), Esp. Brit. neighbor. n., v., adj.

nei ther (nē'f̥hər or nī'f̥hər), 1. not either: Neither you nor I will go (conj.). Neither statement is true (adj.). Neither of the statements is true (pron.). 2. nor yet: "They toil not, neither do they spin." 1,2 conj., 1 adj., 1 pron.

Nejd (nejd), a region and former country in central Arabia, since 1932 part of Saudi Arabia. Capital: Riyadh. n.

Nel son (nel'sən), 1. Viscount Horatio, 1758-1805, English admiral, noted for victories over Napoleon I. 2. river flowing north from Lake Winnipeg in S Canada into Hudson Bay. 390 mi. n.

nem a tode (nem'ə tōd), 1. belonging to a class or group of worms characterized by an elongated, unsegmented, cylindrical body. 2. such a worm. Hookworms, pinworms, and trichinae are nematodes. 1 adj., 2 n.

Ne me an games (ni mē'an or nē'mē an), festival held every two years by the ancient Greeks.

Nemean lion, lion killed by Hercules as one of his twelve tasks.

Nem e sis (nem'ə sis), the Greek goddess of vengeance. n.

nem e sis (nem'ə sis), 1. just punishment for evil deeds. 2. person who punishes another for evil deeds: The courageous policeman was the bandit's nemesis. n., pl. nem e ses (-sēz).

neo-, prefix meaning: new; recent, as in neologism, neophyte.

ne o dym i um (nē'ō dim'ē əm), a rare metallic element found in certain rare minerals. Symbol: Nd. n.

ne o lith ic (nē'ə lith'ik), of the later Stone Age, when polished stone weapons and tools were made and used: neolithic man. adj.

ne ol o gism (nē ol'ə jiz əm), a new word. n.

ne o my cin (nē'ō mi'sn), an antibiotic drug obtained from the soil. n.

ne on (nē'on), an element that is a colorless, odorless gas, forming a very small part of the air. Tubes containing neon are used in electric signs and television sets. Symbol: Ne. n.

ne o-Na zi ism (nē'ō nā'tsē iz əm or nē'ō nat'sē iz əm), movement to restore the former principles and beliefs of Nazism. n.

ne o phyte (nē'ə fīt), 1. a new convert; one recently admitted to a religious body. 2. beginner; novice. n.

ne o prene (nē'ə prēn), a synthetic rubber made from chloroprene. n.

Ne pal (nə pōl'), country between India and Tibet. 9,044,000 pop.; 54,000 sq. mi. Capital: Katmandu. n.

ne pen the (ni pen'thē), 1. drug supposed to bring forgetfulness of sorrow or trouble, according to old legend. 2. anything that does this. n.

neph ew (nēf'ū), son of one's brother or sister; son of one's brother-in-law or sister-in-law. n.

ne phrit ic (ni frit'ik), 1. of, having to do with, or affected with kidney disease. 2. used against kidney disease. adj.

ne phri tis (ni frī'tis), inflammation of the kidneys; especially, Bright's disease. n.

ne plus ultra (nē plus ul'trə), Latin. highest or furthest point attainable; height of excellence or achievement; culmination.

